Local and Other Matters

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY DET. I7.

Organic.-An inquest man-iscer is grouting out tunes from a band organized in the city. The inquest man of the preceding passenger on the train from Salt Lake City.

The New Foundry.—The work on the new machine shop of Davis, Hallock & Co. is fast progressing. Ceilings and walls of the first story are up, and the roof covering of the second laid.

Practical Christianity.—Now is the season for christians to do,-to exercise a little practical Christianity, in the shape of substantial donations to the poor. They may be in a position to join in a general relieving that is supposed to specialize locally to the holiday season.

The Hadel and Zadly Society.—We learn that the above society have in contemplation the reproduction of Hande's "Mendail" which was rendered by them in June last with great success. The Theatre has been secured for Sunday evening, the 26th inst., and the programme promises a musical treat. The reputation of the society has been already established by their successful efforts to introduce this work of the old masters.

"Cherry and Fair Star."—The beautiful fairy piece "Cherry and Fair Star," will be reproduced at the Theatre. It will be performed on Christmas afternoon, and every chide which attends will receive a present of a book or value of the price of admission. The programme will consist of toys, which Mr. Halls recently purchased in New York, at wholesale, for the purpose indicated. He is prepared with presents for 2,000 children.

Can't Get Her Papers.—The following came in to-day.

LAKE CITY, Utah, December 16.

"Editor Deseret News:

Please see the postmaster of your city, why he can't send me any papers. We have not had a paper for a few weeks. Yours truly,

CAROLINE JOHNSTON.

Our subscriber's paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

Attempted Jail Breaking.—Seven of the prisoners at the iron ribs in the County jail made an attempt to escape last night, and were captured early by sight o'clock. Mr. Neuman, the jailer, gave them their supper, locked up securely and went home to get his own. It appeared, from subsequent events, that no sooner had he left the building than the men piled their bedding together and set to work cutting through the ceiling into the room above with large jack-knives, which must have been handed to them by persons from the outside. Fortunately they were heard by the night watch, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Telford, who soon arrived, and arrested a man an eligible pos-

TROTTER JORNIG.

Our subscribers' paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

THE TELEGRAM.

December 16.

"Editor Deseret News:

Please see the postmaster of your city, why he can't send me any papers. We have not had a paper for a few weeks. Yours truly,

CAROLINE JOHNSTON.

Our subscriber's paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

Attempted Jail Breaking.—Seven of the prisoners at the iron ribs in the County jail made an attempt to escape last night, and were captured early by sight o'clock. Mr. Neuman, the jailer, gave them their supper, locked up securely and went home to get his own. It appeared, from subsequent events, that no sooner had he left the building than the men piled their bedding together and set to work cutting through the ceiling into the room above with large jack-knives, which must have been handed to them by persons from the outside. Fortunately they were heard by the night watch, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Telford, who soon arrived, and arrested a man an eligible pos-

TROTTER JORNIG.

Our subscribers' paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

December 16.

"Editor Deseret News:

Please see the postmaster of your city, why he can't send me any papers. We have not had a paper for a few weeks. Yours truly,

CAROLINE JOHNSTON.

Our subscriber's paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

Attempted Jail Breaking.—Seven of the prisoners at the iron ribs in the County jail made an attempt to escape last night, and were captured early by sight o'clock. Mr. Neuman, the jailer, gave them their supper, locked up securely and went home to get his own. It appeared, from subsequent events, that no sooner had he left the building than the men piled their bedding together and set to work cutting through the ceiling into the room above with large jack-knives, which must have been handed to them by persons from the outside. Fortunately they were heard by the night watch, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Telford, who soon arrived, and arrested a man an eligible possi-

TROTTER JORNIG.

Our subscribers' paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

December 16.

"Editor Deseret News:

Please see the postmaster of your city, why he can't send me any papers. We have not had a paper for a few weeks. Yours truly,

CAROLINE JOHNSTON.

Our subscriber's paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

Attempted Jail Breaking.—Seven of the prisoners at the iron ribs in the County jail made an attempt to escape last night, and were captured early by sight o'clock. Mr. Neuman, the jailer, gave them their supper, locked up securely and went home to get his own. It appeared, from subsequent events, that no sooner had he left the building than the men piled their bedding together and set to work cutting through the ceiling into the room above with large jack-knives, which must have been handed to them by persons from the outside. Fortunately they were heard by the night watch, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Telford, who soon arrived, and arrested a man an eligible possi-

TROTTER JORNIG.

Our subscribers' paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

December 16.

"Editor Deseret News:

Please see the postmaster of your city, why he can't send me any papers. We have not had a paper for a few weeks. Yours truly,

CAROLINE JOHNSTON.

Our subscriber's paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

Attempted Jail Breaking.—Seven of the prisoners at the iron ribs in the County jail made an attempt to escape last night, and were captured early by sight o'clock. Mr. Neuman, the jailer, gave them their supper, locked up securely and went home to get his own. It appeared, from subsequent events, that no sooner had he left the building than the men piled their bedding together and set to work cutting through the ceiling into the room above with large jack-knives, which must have been handed to them by persons from the outside. Fortunately they were heard by the night watch, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Telford, who soon arrived, and arrested a man an eligible possi-

TROTTER JORNIG.

Our subscribers' paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

December 16.

"Editor Deseret News:

Please see the postmaster of your city, why he can't send me any papers. We have not had a paper for a few weeks. Yours truly,

CAROLINE JOHNSTON.

Our subscriber's paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.

Attempted Jail Breaking.—Seven of the prisoners at the iron ribs in the County jail made an attempt to escape last night, and were captured early by sight o'clock. Mr. Neuman, the jailer, gave them their supper, locked up securely and went home to get his own. It appeared, from subsequent events, that no sooner had he left the building than the men piled their bedding together and set to work cutting through the ceiling into the room above with large jack-knives, which must have been handed to them by persons from the outside. Fortunately they were heard by the night watch, who immediately communicated with Sheriff Telford, who soon arrived, and arrested a man an eligible possi-

TROTTER JORNIG.

Our subscribers' paper is mailed regularly every day of publication, so that the fault lies elsewhere than in this office.