Mr. Editor—

Sir—In the "Herald" of yesterday morning, I notice an article headed "Meeting of the Mormons last evening," in which your reporter says, "that on the subject of the spiritual wife system" it was expected that Bishop Parry would have details, &c., &c., fully. Now from the information I have received from several individuals present, I judge the reporter was not there so as to hear more than one half of the lecture, and, therefore, could give but an imperfect account of it. In the forepart of the lecture, all the detail necessary for the occasion was given; there were but two or three present, except the members of the church, and on the existence of the pernicious system above referred to as a subject that has been much agitated among them of late, and the manner in which it has been propagated understood, there was no necessity for me to particularize it.

Now, sir, in justice to myself, allow me to say, that when I embraced what in called the Mormon faith, notwithstanding the distinguished peculiaries of the sect with regard to immediate revelation from heaven, literal fulfillment of prophecy, &c., &c., which a great portion of the Christian community regard as absurdities, I had no idea that any thing contrary to the principles of morality and virtue, would be advocated by any of the leading men of the society; neither do I now believe that any thing of that kind transpired (with the exception of a few refusals) to the weakness of the heart or the feet of the church up to the year 1844, at which time this flagitious doctrine of polygamy was introduced into the church. It was at first privately inaugurated among a few, and in a private capacity I opposed it, and as it became more general, I more publicly avowed my opposition to it; however, its most alarming features have never been made known by its advocates to the most unlettered portion of the society, only when circumstances were such that they could not successfully keep it from them. I confess that I am perfectly satisfied with the idea, that it has fallen to my lot to be so unfortunate as to associate with a set of men that have concocted a scheme so horrible in its effects upon society; but, thank heaven, I have had nothing to do with it so far, only to oppose it. The object I have in view in taking the course I do, is to deounce this corruption, and warn the members of the church against it, for I believe there are thousands of honest and virtuous persons in the society, and I do not feel satisfied to sit down and quietly see them led like the unresisting lamb to the slaughter, without doing what is in my power to make known to them the true condition of their church, and the road by which they are to continue in it. Hence, I am writing, for the sake of my friends, and as S. Rigdon advocates the principles of virtue and righteousness, and calls upon the people to separate themselves from corrupt men and measures, I approve of his course. And I now leave the public to judge whether or not my object is a good one.

Some time since I delivered a lecture in Philadelphia to expose the "Spiritual Wife System," during which I had occasion to refer to the acts and doings of G. J. Adams, a self-styled "big gun of Mormonism," in connection with this system; for this reason he has commenced a suit against me for libel, and on the 10th inst. the case was heard and the verdict rendered against us; and now the opinion of the court is in favor of the defendant some days since—but mark, he has no Navarro charter to fly to as a substitute, or to succumb behind, justice will be done to both sides in Philadelphia; therefore, I fear him not. I expect the trial will be one of considerable interest, as it will be the means of legally exposing the evil practices of a certain clique in the society.

New York, Nov. 8th, 1834.

B. WINCHESTER.