Pioneer Lamp Exhibit at State Capitol

Heart Throbs of the West, Kate B. Carter, Vol.5, p.449

Our interesting and unusual collection of lamp, candle and lantern relics in the exhibit of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers at the State Capitol Building, has been brought from all parts of the world by our pioneers. We are grateful they found space among their belongings to bring them on to Utah.

Heart Throbs of the West, Kate B. Carter, Vol.5, p.450

No. 1 is a brown crock oil lamp, about 4 inches high and is one of our most valuable relics. It is called a "Bitch" lamp. It is typical candle stick style with a saucer base and a plump stand for the grease container into which the wick was placed. Note the wick at the side, similar to a heavy twine. The handle is on the side of the stem. This lamp was brought from Edinburgh, Scotland, to Nauvoo, Illinois, by Annie Ballantyne Taylor and then across the plains in 1847. It was donated by Jean Hyde, May 24, 1913.
