Died, in the 17th Ward of this city, on Sunday the 18th Dec., 1875, JOHN SNYDER, who was born on the 11th Feb., 1806, in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, but removed with his father's family to what was then called Upper Canada. He was of respectable parentage, who resided some six or eight miles from Toronto. His father died in an early day, but his mother—a very respectable, intelligent and honorable lady—lived to the ripe age of 100 years.

Before receiving the Gospel he, his mother and others of his family were connected with the Episcopal Methodist Church. In the year 1833, a party in the Methodist connexion, and some others in the city of Toronto, associated themselves together for the purpose of searching the Scriptures and making themselves acquainted with the principles contained therein; the result of which inquiry was a conviction that the present existing churches (Methodist, included) were not in accord with the principles laid down in the Scriptures, neither in doctrines, nor in ordinances. They believed, therefore, in the apostasy of the churches, and their departure from the true faith as taught by our Saviour. They considered that there ought to be apostles, evangelists, pastors, teachers and evangelists, and that these should be inspired men set apart to deliver his messages, and that the gifts of faith, wisdom, tongues, healing, prophecy, and the various manifestations that existed in former days in the primitive church should be in existence now. As one of their number said in a meeting—"We have neither apostles, prophets, angels, revelations, gifts, tongues, orordances; nor a Christian ministry." (See autobiography of Parley P. Pratt, page 104.)

These converts with Church history well known that Heber C. Kimball delivered a prophecy to Parley P. Pratt, in the year 1834, and among other things told Parley that there were people in Upper Canada who were searching after the truth and that man of them would believe and obey the Gospel. These were that people to whom Parley was led. He baptized a number of them, among whom was the subject of this memoir—John Snyder; his mother, his wife, and some other members of the family being also baptized.

Soon afterwards Brother Snyder was ordained to the priesthood, and after visiting Kirkland, O., he, Joseph Fielding, John D. Lee and James Russell, who were of the aforementioned brethren, accompanied Heber C. Kimball, Oscar Hyde and William Richards in the first mission to England. In June, 1837, they returned to England, and remained with them until their return the following year.

He gathered to Far West, Mo., in 1838, and was with the Saints when driven out of Missouri.

On January 10th, 1841, a revelation was given to Joseph Smith in regard to the building of the Nauvoo House. In which Brother Snyder was named as one of a committee. (See Doc. and Cor., Sec. 103.) In pursuance of that revelation, and from instruction received, he went across to England, where he visited the brethren, and laid before them the object of his mission and then returned.

He also held a commission, bearing date of 9th March, 1844, from Thomas Carlin, Governor of Illinois, as aid-de-camp to Gen. Joseph Smith, of the Nauvoo Legion.

He gathered to Utah in 1851, where he has since continued a steadfast, faithful and honorable member of the Church. Apparently in good health, he was attacked with shortness of breath and died peacefully within half an hour of the first attack. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn his loss.

Having been well acquainted with him for upwards of forty years, I thought it proper to give the above short statement:
