INTRODUCTION OF PLURAL MARRIAGE AT NAUVOO

Just previous to my father's starting upon his last mission but one, to the eastern states, he taught me the principle of celestial marriage, and having a great desire to be connected with the Prophet Joseph, he offered me to him; this I afterwards learned from the Prophet's own mouth. My father had but one cow lam, but willingly laid her upon the altar. How cruel this seemed to me when heartstrings were already stretched until they were ready to snap asunder, for he had taken Sarah soon to wife and she thought she had made sufficient sacrifice, but the Lord required more. I will pass over the temptations which I had during the twenty-four hours after my father introduced me to this principle and asked me if I would be sealed to Joseph, who soon next morning called my parents and read them the principle of celestial marriage, after which he said to me, "If you will take this step, it will insure your eternal salvation and exaltation and that of your father's household and all of your kindred." This promise was so great that I willingly gave myself to purchase so glorious a reward. Some but God and his words could see my mother's bleeding heart when Joseph asked her if she was willing, she replied, "If Helen is willing, I have nothing more to say."

Having been on a mission in the East for some time, Brutus Snow returned to Nauvoo in the spring of 1843, arriving shortly after the April Conference. Of this period of his life, he wrote:

"I had a very enjoyable visit for about a month with the Prophet and my kindred and brethren. It was during this visit that the Prophet told me what the Lord had revealed to him touching upon baptism for the dead and marriage for eternity, and requiring his chosen and proved servants to take unto themselves wives and introduced several of those who had been sealed to himself and others of the first elders of the Church. Foremost among the latter was my wife's sister Louisa, those integrity, devotions and purity of soul was known to all her acquaintances."
