Description of the Record:

This book is a copy made about 1870 from the original manuscript records kept by the recorders at the Nauvoo Temple, as well as at Winter Quarters and Salt Lake City prior to the opening of the Endowment House in 1855. The bulk of the book is in the same handwriting. Some notes of cancellations of sealings were made in the 1890's by George Reynolds. Some marks were made by indexers, probably at a later time. An index to adoptions, arranged both by fathers and by persons adopted precedes the book on film. An index to sealings of couples appear on GS serial no.
25163, pt 3.

In making the copy of the record the scribe placed all names beginning with the letter "A" together, etc., leaving many blank pages between those actually written upon. Sealing pages are headed "sealings in the Temple at Nauvoo Illinois, Hancock county, Illinois," for the living couples or "Proxy Sealings" where one member of the couple was dead. Generally the wife was the one who had died, but there are some cases where wives were sealed to dead husbands.

Adoptions pages are entitled "Adoptions and Sealings in the Temple at Nauvoo, Hancock County, Illinois." Adoptions pages following the sealing of couples pages assigned to the same letter of the alphabet.
