tempered and wisely directed, instead of pursuing the opposite course, and it will conquer in the cause of right. Break not the spirit of any person, but guide it to feel that it is its greatest delight and highest ambition to be controlled by the revelations of Jesus Christ; then the will of man becomes Godlike in overcoming the evil that is sown in the flesh, until God shall reign within us to will and do of his good pleasure.

Let all persons be fervent in prayer, until they know the things of God for themselves and become certain that they are walking in the path that leads to everlasting life; then will envy, the child of ignorance, vanish, and there will be no disposition in any man to place himself above another; for such a feeling meets no countenance in the order of heaven. Jesus Christ never wanted to be different from his father: they were and are one. If a people are led by the revelations of Jesus Christ, and they are cognizant of the fact through their faithfulness, there is no fear but they will be one in Christ Jesus, and see eye to eye.

We shall not be entirely free from sin for some time yet; but so long as it is in a state of perfect subjection, we are so far sanctified to keep up this warfare against the power of sin until we have obtained a perfect mastery over the evil that is within our organisms, and are able to control it constantly until death shall end the struggle: then shall we be prepared for a glorious resurrection.

I would like to close with a prophecy of Heber C. Kimball. Brother Guy read this to us a month or so ago, and it has instructions along the line in which I have been speaking here.

...said Brother Heber, "We think we are secure here in the chambers of these everlasting hills, where we can close the doors of the canyons against mobs and persecutors. The wicked and the vile will always beset us with violence and robbery, but I want to say to you, my brethren, the time is coming when we will be mixed up in these now peaceful valleys to that extent that it will be difficult to tell the face of a saint from the face of an enemy against the people of God."

"Then is the time to look out for the great sieve. There will be a great sifting time, and many will fall, for I say unto you, there is a test, a test, a test coming."
He further said:

This church has before it many close places through which it will have to pass before the work of God is crowned with glory. The difficulties will be of such a character that the man or woman who does not possess a personal knowledge or witness will fall.

And that is obtained by the Spirit of revelation.

If you have not got this testimony, you must live right and call upon the Lord, and cease not until you obtain it. Remember these things. The time will come when no man or woman will be able to endure on borrowed light. Each will have to be guided by the light within himself. If you do not have the knowledge that Jesus is the Christ, how can you stand?"

So it always gets down to the final exhortation that Joseph Smith gave to Brigham Young in a dream in Winter Quarters: "Tell the people to get and keep the Spirit of God, and they will be and do just right." I think it would be worthwhile to read the pertinent parts of this to you. Brigham Young said on an occasion when he revealed the Adam-God Doctrine:

The Holy Ghost is the Spirit of the Lord, and issues forth from Himself, and may properly be called God's minister to execute His will in immensity; being called to govern by His influence and power. But He is not a person of tabernacle as we are and as our Father in Heaven and Jesus Christ are.

In this dream:

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said: "Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the Kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; Peace and joy! The Holy Ghost is a Spirit of peace, it is calm, it is serene.

whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the kingdom of God. Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in heaven before they came into the world. Our Father in heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion."

That is where we find ourselves today. Let us get the key involved here, and remember the Holy Ghost is the power of the holy Priesthood. The holy Priesthood is that which God has given us to guide and direct us. I pray that we may follow the right course, and continue to implore the Lord to give us this great gift by being obedient and humble, and becoming pure, and become vessels of God, that the Holy Ghost may dwell in us continually.

Section 121 tells us how this is. I find in it the greatest help that I can conceive of.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Which I pray may be our lot and our condition, and our progress in this work, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I feel greatly honored in being asked to contribute to this sacred occasion in accompaniment with my brethren, and I desire the Spirit of God to be with me. I am grateful for the life and labors of the father of this child and this beautiful mother who have entered into the holy Celestial Law, the Family Order of Heaven. Through this union the pure spirit has entered into a pure body, filled his time, and gone on. I am not inexperienced in this type of thing. I have seen six of my infant children go over. I have found in the words of Joseph Smith, Jun., who certainly had the visions of eternity to know about the conditions and the beautiful outcome of this sojourn and going onto the other side; and I feel like reading those words of Joseph for the consolation and comfort and strength of the parents and family of this dear little child.

DHC 4:553

President Smith read the 14th chapter of Revelation, and said -- We have again the warning voice sounded in our midst, which shows the uncertainty of human life; and in my leisure moments I have meditated upon the subject, and asked the question, why it is that infants, innocent children, are taken away from us, especially those that seem to be the most intelligent and interesting. The strongest reasons that present themselves to my mind are these: This world is a very wicked world; and it is a proverb that the "world grows weaker and wiser;" if that is the case, the world grows more wicked and corrupt. In the earlier ages of the world a righteous man, and a man of God and of intelligence, had a better chance to do good, to be believed and received than at the present day: but in these days such a man is much opposed and persecuted by most of the inhabitants of the earth, and he has much sorrow to pass through here. The Lord takes many away, even in infancy, that they may escape the envy of man, and the sorrows and evils of this present world; they were too pure, too lovely, to live on earth; therefore, if rightly considered, instead of mourning we have reason to rejoice as they are delivered from evil, and we shall soon have them again.

All children are redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and the moment that children leave this world, they are taken to the bosom of Abraham. I am sure he is speaking particularly of the covenant children coming under the covenant of Abraham.

The only difference between the old and young dying is, one lives longer in heaven and eternal light and glory than the other, and is freed a little sooner from this miserable, wicked world. Notwithstanding all this glory, we for a moment lose sight of it, and mourn the loss, but we do not mourn as those without hope.

In order for you to receive your children to yourselves you must have a promise -- some ordinance; some blessing, in order to ascend above principalities, or else it may be an angel. They must rise just as they died; we can there hail our lovely infants with the same glory -- the same loveliness in the celestial glory, where they all enjoy alike. They differ in stature, in size, the same glorious spirit gives them the likeness of glory and bloom; the old man with his silvery hairs will glory in bloom and beauty. No man can describe it to you -- no man can write it.

And this glorious revelation:

The heavens were opened upon us, and I beheld the celestial kingdom of God, and the glory thereof, whether in the body or out I cannot tell. I saw the transcendent beauty of the gate through which the heirs of that kingdom will enter, which was like unto circling flames of fire; also the blazing throne of God, whereon was seated the Father and the Son. I saw the beautiful streets of that kingdom, which had the appearance of being paved with gold. I saw Father Adam and Abraham; and my father and my mother; my brother Alvin, that has long since slept; and marveled how it was that he had obtained an inheritance in that kingdom, seeing that he had departed this life before the Lord had set his hand to gather Israel the second time, and had not been baptized for the remission of sins.

Thus came the voice of the Lord unto me, saying --
All who have died without a knowledge of this Gospel, who would have received it if they had been permitted to tarry, shall be heirs of the celestial kingdom of God; also all that shall die henceforth without a knowledge of it, who would have received it with all their hearts, shall be heirs of that kingdom; for I, the Lord, will judge all men according to their works, according to the desire of their hearts. And I also beheld that all children who die before they arrive at the years of accountability are saved in the celestial kingdom of heaven.

I am sure that Brother Allen understands these things. There is no spirit of death, but of life unto life; and that this is an experience that will help him along the way in bowing to the will of God in behalf of his children. We are all brothers and sisters, children of our Father in heaven, and we are given these lovely children to be stewards over them, account to God for them as His children. I am sure that God's will has been done in this matter and in this great experience in the life of Brother Allen and his family. I pray God to bless and comfort and strengthen them in this sacred and holy experience, and the ordinances Brother Guy has mentioned, of graduating this child over to the other side, to the bosom of Abraham; and pray God to bless them and all of us together, that we may learn more perfectly to keep the commandments of God and labor together to accomplish His purposes in us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are in the Midst of a Division;
Dream of Brigham Young Concerning the Spirit of God;
Discern the Spirits

I hope, dear brothers and sisters, that there will be not too great expectations. I appreciate the remarks of President Hammon. All I want to be is a humble instrument in the hands of God; and whatever intelligence may have come to me is a gift of God. Whatever good I can do for this people and this work, that is what I desire with all my heart above everything else; besides, of course, abiding the Celestial Law. Unless I do that, I cannot have the other, I am quite well aware. The Holy Ghost comes upon those who are meek and lowly of heart, and who have come to know that their course is pleasing to God. That is when faith becomes perfect. So I ask for your faith and prayers as I fulfill this assignment which President Hammon has given me. And I approach it with fear and trembling, fearing to offend God, and trembling under His power.

Some would ask why that phrase: "We should serve God in fear and trembling." President Johnson and all who have gone before him have been able to say they fear no man, but they fear to offend God. And this gives me great confidence in President Johnson and all who follow in his wake. I have confidence in my brethren of the Council. I know they desire only to serve God and keep His commandments, and to serve this people. Jesus said, "He who would be the greatest of all, be the servant of all." And that spirit of meekness and lowliness of heart begets the Spirit of God, and we should now be, above all, in all times and conditions, striving to obtain a fullness of it and have it continually, as has been demonstrated can be done, even in our own time. President Johnson is the prime example.

And so, my dear brothers and sisters, I feel that the greatest need now in these times of -- let us call it by its right name. Brother Hammon told about it last night -- we are in the midst of a time of sifting, of a great sifting mentioned by Heber C. Kimball, and of division.

I cannot think of any grander, more perfect instructions that could be given than those given by Joseph Smith to Brigham Young. Joseph came to Brigham in a dream on the 17th of February, 1847, while the saints were there in Winter Quarters, on their way out West, whence Joseph purposed to come and bring those who would be faithful and true to him. But he had to go back and face what he long lived to be -- the great martyrdom, sealing his testimony with his blood, and accomplishing his mission in the last dispensation, similar to that of Christ in the meridian dispensation, the central event of all of our creation upon the earth. I will not read the preliminaries.

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:

"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the Priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful
There is the grand prerequisite.
...and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright.
Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go. It will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits --

Now note this very carefully:
...it will whisper peace and joy to their souls;
Peace and joy.
...it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts,

It must have been those things had caused the saints in Zion to lose the Spirit of God, for it is by them, as the Lord told them in Section 101. Joseph knew not why the saints were driven from their homes, from the place that had been dedicated for the redemption of Zion and the building of the holy Temple. And the Lord answered Joseph in this revelation of December 1833, after the saints had been driven out into the cold, from Zion in the fall, early winter of the year. He said there were jarrings, and strifes, and contentions, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires. By these things they polluted their inheritances. By these things they lost the Spirit of God. And so the Lord could not help them. There were many faithful among them, but as a people, as a community of saints, they were guilty of these things. So in order to have the Spirit of God, and in having it:

...it will take malice, hatred, strife, and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the Kingdom of God. Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord;
He keeps repeating it.
...and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in Heaven before they came into the world. That was the question that was asked, how they were organized and how they will be organized when Zion is redeemed.

Our Father in Heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion." Shall we say that is where we are today as a people? Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning. He saw where the Priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity.

Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people.

When I got up and was dressed and sat down to read the Doctrine and Covenants in the front room over there, and I asked the Lord to turn me to His word that I might speak upon it here today, and I turned to Section 50. I like the preambles that we have in the late editions to give the background and the purpose for the revelation.

D. & C. 50

Revelation given through Joseph the Prophet, at Kirtland, Ohio, May, 1831. The Prophet states that some of the Elders present did not understand the manifestations of different spirits abroad in the earth, and that this revelation was given in response to his special inquiry on the matter. So-called spiritual phenomena were not uncommon among the members, some of whom claimed to be receiving visions and revelations.

1. Hearken, O ye elders of my church, and give ear to the voice of the living God; and attend to the words of wisdom which shall be given unto you, according as ye have asked and are agreed as touching the church, and the spirits which have gone abroad in the earth.

The Church is the vehicle to which the Priesthood is carrying on the work of teaching and preaching the Gospel and protecting the saints. In effect we have a church, though not a formal one. It is the purpose of the Lord to bring us up to the Church of the Firstborn. I like to think of that when we think of the Church in this case where the Church has gone astray. The Priesthood presides over all, as Brother Hammon has spoken to us this morning so beautifully.

1. Hearken, O ye elders of my church, and give ear to the voice of the living God; and attend to the words of wisdom which shall be given unto you, according as ye have asked and are agreed as touching the church, and the spirits which have gone abroad in the earth.

Speaking of being agreed, I was reading in the life of Joseph Smith here the other evening in a family class, the grand principle that was exhibited to the Elders with Joseph Smith in Liberty Jail. They had been incarcerated in there for nearly six months. And Joseph approached the Lord in mighty prayer and asked that they might be released. On this date, Joseph announced to the brethren -- I think there were some seven or eight with him -- "If you brethren are agreed with me perfectly, as touching our getting out of this prison, the way will be opened by the Lord God this night. If you are not, we won't."

Lyman Wight spoke up and said, "I am afraid we cannot do it." One link in the chain was missing. The guard came and made it impossible for them to go. And Joseph told them that great lesson: Had they been united as touching this matter, God would have heard their prayers and granted them their request. And so they were stopped that night in their attempt. They were placed under heavier guard. The time did come later on, however, when they were agreed and they were released, and the guards helped them. So this is why the Lord says, "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine. I cannot do anything for you." That is, in effect, what He is saying.

2. Behold, verily I say unto you, that there are many spirits which are false spirits, which have gone forth in the earth, deceiving the world.

3. And also Satan hath sought to deceive you, that he might overthrow you.

4. Behold, I, the Lord, have looked upon you, and have seen abominations in the church that profess my name.

5. But blessed are they who are faithful and endure, whether in life or in death, for they shall inherit eternal life.

6. But wo unto them that are deceivers and hypocrites, for, thus saith the Lord, I will bring them to judgment.

7. Behold, verily I say unto you, there are hypocrites among you, who have deceived some, which has given the adversary power; but behold such shall be reclaimed;

8. But the hypocrites shall be detected and shall be cut off, either in life or in death, even as I will; and wo unto them who are cut off from my church, for the same are overcome of the world.
9. Wherefore, let every man beware lest he do that which is not in truth and righteousness before me.

10. And now come, saith the Lord, by the Spirit, unto the elders of his church, and let us reason together, that ye may understand;
11. Let us reason even as a man reasoneth one with another face to face.

12. Now, when a man reasoneth he is understood of man, because he reasoneth as a man; even so will I, the Lord, reason with you that you may understand.
13. Wherefore, I the Lord ask you this question -- unto what were ye ordained?

14. To preach my gospel by the Spirit, even the Comforter which was sent forth to teach the truth.
15. And then received ye spirits which ye could not understand, and received them to be of God; and in this are ye justified?

16. Behold ye shall answer this question yourselves; nevertheless, I will be merciful unto you; he that is weak among you hereafter shall be made strong.

17. Verily I say unto you, he that is ordained of me and sent forth to preach the word of truth by the Comforter, in the Spirit of truth, doth he preach it by the Spirit of truth or some other way?

18. And if it be by some other way it is not of God.

19. And again, he that receiveth the word of truth, doth he receive it by the Spirit of truth or some other way?

20. If it be some other way it is not of God.

21. Therefore, why is it that ye cannot understand and know, that he that receiveth the word by the Spirit of truth receiveth it as it is preached by the Spirit of truth?

22. Wherefore, he that preacheth and he that receiveth, understand one another, and both are edified and rejoice together.
They thus are made one.

23. And that which doth not edify is not of God, and is darkness.
24. That which is of God is light; and he that receiveth light, and continueth in God, receiveth more light; and that light groweth brighter and brighter until the perfect day.

25. And again, verily I say unto you, and I say it that you may know the truth, that you may chase darkness from among you;
26. He that is ordained of God and sent forth, the same is appointed to be the greatest, notwithstanding he is the least and the servant of all.

27. Wherefore, he is possessor of all things; for all things are subject unto him, both in heaven and on the earth, the life and the light, the Spirit and the power, sent forth by the will of the Father through Jesus Christ, his Son.
28. But no man is possessor of all things except he be purified and cleansed from all sin.

29. And if ye are purified and cleansed from all sin, ye shall ask whatsoever you will in the name of Jesus and it shall be done.
30. But know this, it shall be given you what you shall ask; and as ye are appointed to the head, the spirits shall be subject unto you.

31. Wherefore, it shall come to pass, that if you behold a spirit manifested that you cannot understand, and you receive not that spirit, ye shall ask of the Father in the name of Jesus; and if he give not unto you that spirit, then you may know that it is not of God.

So we need to call upon God to manifest the truth to us as to these spirits that are abroad.

32. And it shall be given unto you, power over that spirit; and you shall proclaim against that spirit with a loud voice that it is not of God --
33. Not with railing accusation, that ye be not overcome, neither with boasting nor rejoicing, lest you be seized therewith.

There is a principle here about railing accusation. In Jude, next to the last book in the New Testament, he spoke of how Michael contended with Lucifer over the body of Moses. We do not know what it was, but Lucifer must have had a case, but not necessarily the right one. But it says He, Michael, durst not bring a railing accusation against Lucifer. Just keep that in... mind, dear brethren. Railing accusations. Let me read this again.

32. And it shall be given unto you, power over that spirit; and you shall proclaim against that spirit with a loud voice that it is not of God --
33. Not with a railing accusation,

Remember in Section 121, it says we rebuke by the power of the Priesthood when moved upon by the Holy Ghost. And that can be done in very firm tones; but afterwards showing forth much love, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy.

Funeral of Albert Schultz
At the Larkin Mortuary

I consider it an honor to be asked to participate in this sacred occasion, and I pray for the Spirit of God to bless me in the remarks I make, which will consist largely of the words of Joseph Smith, Jun., on an occasion similar to this. I find a great deal of comfort and strength in what is said here and I felt that it would be of similar importance to the family of this faithful man.

TPJS Page 294

Almost all who have fallen in these last days in the Church have fallen in a strange land.

This is the funeral of Lorin Jody Barnes in Nauvoo.

This is a strange land to those who have come from a distance. We should cultivate sympathy for the afflicted among us. If there is a place on earth where men should cultivate the spirit and pour in the oil and wine in the bosoms of the afflicted, it is in this place; and this spirit is manifest here; and although a stranger and afflicted when he arrives, he finds a brother and a friend ready to administer to his necessities.

I would esteem it one of the greatest blessings, if I am to be afflicted in this world, to have my lot cast where I can find brothers and friends all around me. But this is not the thing I referred to: it is to have the privilege of having our dead buried on the land where God has appointed to gather His Saints together, and where there will be none but Saints, where they may have the privilege of laying their bodies where the Son of Man will make His appearance, and where they may hear the sound of the trump that shall call them forth to behold Him, that in the morn of the resurrection they may come forth in a body, and come up out of their graves and strike hands immediately in eternal glory and felicity, rather than be scattered thousands of miles apart. There is something good and sacred to me in this thing. The place where a man is buried is sacred to me. This subject is made mention of in the Book of Mormon and other scriptures. Even to the aborigines of this land, the burying places of their fathers are more sacred than anything else.

When I heard of the death of our beloved Brother Barnes, it would not have affected me so much, if I had the opportunity of burying him in the land of Zion.

I believe those who have buried their friends here, their condition is enviable. Look at Jacob and Joseph in Egypt, how they required their friends to bury them in the tomb of their fathers. See the expense which attended the embalming and the going up of the great company to the burial.

It has always been considered a great calamity not to obtain an honorable burial: and one of the greatest curses the ancient prophets could put on any man, was that he should go without a burial.

I have said, Father, I desire to die here among the Saints. But if this is not Thy will, and I go hence and die, wilt thou find some kind friend to bring my body back, and gather my friends who have fallen in foreign lands, and bring them up hither, that we may all lie together.

I will tell you what I want. If tomorrow I shall be called to lie in yonder tomb, in the morning of the resurrection let me strike hands with my father, and cry, "My father," and he will say, "My son, my son," as soon as the rock rends and before we come out of our graves.

And may we contemplate these things so? Yes, if we learn how to live and how to die. When we lie down we contemplate how we may rise in the morning; and it is pleasing for friends to lie down together, locked in the arms of love, to sleep and wake in each other's embrace and renew their conversation.
Would you think it strange if I relate what I have seen in vision in relation to this interesting theme? Those who have died in Jesus Christ may expect to enter into all that fruition of joy when they come forth, which they possessed or anticipated here.

So plain was the vision, that I actually saw men, before they had ascended from the tomb, as though they were getting up slowly. They took each other by the hand and said to each other, "My father, my son, my mother, my daughter, my brother, my sister." And when the voice calls for the dead to arise, suppose I am laid by the side of my father, what would be the first joy of my heart? To meet my father, my mother, my brother, my sister; and when they are by my side, I embrace them and they me.

It is my meditation all the day, and more than my meat and drink, to know how I shall make the Saints of God comprehend the visions that roll like an overflowing surge before my mind.

All your losses will be made up to you in the resurrection, provided you continue faithful. By the vision of the Almighty I have seen it.

More painful to me are the thoughts of annihilation than death. If I have no expectation of seeing my father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends again, my heart would burst in a moment, and I should go down to my grave.

The expectation of seeing my friends in the morning of the resurrection cheers my soul and makes me bear up against the evils of life. It is like their taking a long journey, and on their return we meet them with increased joy.

God has revealed His Son from the heavens and the doctrine of the resurrection also; and we have a knowledge that those we bury here God will bring up again, clothed upon and quickened by the Spirit of the great God; and what mattereth it whether we lay them down, or we lay down with them, when we can keep them no longer? Let these truths sink down in our hearts, that we may even here begin to enjoy that which shall be in full hereafter.

Hosanna, hosanna, hosanna to Almighty God, that rays of light begin to burst forth upon us even now. I cannot find words in which to express myself. I am not learned, but I have as good feelings as any man.

O that I had the language of the archangel to express my feelings once to my friends! But I never expect to in this life. When others rejoice, I rejoice; when they mourn, I mourn.

To Marcellus Bates let me administer comfort. You shall soon have the company of your companion in a world of glory, and the friends of Brother Barnes and all the Saints who are mourning. This has been a warning voice to us all to be sober and diligent and lay aside mirth vanity and folly, and to be prepared to die tomorrow.

I think that is a wonderful message for all of us, brothers and sisters. These kind of services are really for the living. Brother Schultz has been faithful and true. He has died in the faith in full fellowship with the Priesthood. He has offered all in sacrifice and desired with all his heart to obey and abide the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, and the Lord will surely grant his desires in righteousness according to his faith. All things will be made up to him before the resurrection and in the resurrection. Thank God for the great work for the dead and the great work of the Millennium, that is going to bind up all of the faithful from Adam down until the present.

I am grateful to have known and been acquainted with Brother Schultz and his wife. I pray God to bless and comfort all who are associated with them, and grant every needful thing. May God bless us all that we may have the righteous desires of our hearts in this life and in the life to come, I pray in the name Jesus Christ, amen.

Must Know, Through the Spirit of God, That We Are Being Led Right

Along these same lines, my dear brothers and sisters, I feel impressed to read the words of Brigham Young. I pray for the Spirit of God to help me to read it with that Spirit.

JD 9:149  Brigham Young  January 12, 1862  SLC

I will say a few words in regard to your belief in being led, guided, and directed by one man. Brother Jackman has said that our enemies hate the fact of our being led by one man.

That is what the enemy was trying to do in Far West, Missouri -- if they could destroy Joseph they would be able to destroy the work. Of course, he informed the saints that even if he should be taken, the work of God would carry on. God is at the helm.

Thousands of times my soul has been lifted to God the Father, in the name of Jesus, to make that verily true in every sense of the word, that we may be led by the man Jesus Christ, through Joseph Smith the Prophet.

And may we add -- his successor in times after.

You may inquire how we are to know that we are so led. I refer you to the exhortation you have heard so frequently from me. Do not be deceived, any of you; if you are deceived, it is because you deceive yourselves. You may know whether you are led right or wrong, as well as you know the way home; for every principle God has revealed carries its own convictions of its truth to the human mind, and there is no calling of God to man on earth but what brings with it the evidences of its authenticity. Let us take a course that leads to the perpetuity of the natural life which God has given us, and honour it.

Should we pursue this course faithfully, and never bestow one thought for the life that is to come, we are just as sure of that immortal life as we are of the life we now possess.

If we perfect ourselves in this life we may be sure of receiving an exaltation in the Celestial Kingdom in the life to come.

This, in fact, is the only way in which we can be prepared to inherit that more glorious life.

What a pity it would be if we were led by one man to utter destruction! Are you afraid of this? I am more afraid that this people have so much confidence in their leaders that they will not inquire for themselves of God whether they are led by Him. I am fearful they settle down in a state of blind self-security, trusting their eternal destiny in the hands of their leaders with a reckless confidence that in itself would thwart the purposes of God in their salvation, and weaken that influence they could give to their leaders, did they know for themselves, by the revelations of Jesus,
By the revelations of Jesus, and the Holy Spirit,

...that they are led in the right way. Let every man and woman Let every man and woman know for themselves, by the revelations of Jesus, that they are led in the right way.

Let every man and woman know, by the whispering of the Spirit of God to themselves, whether their leaders are walking in the path the Lord dictates, or not. This has been my exhortation continually.

Brother Joseph W. Young remarked this morning that he wished the persons to receive the word of the Lord through his servants, be dictated by them, and have no will of their own. I would express it in this wise: God has placed within us a will, and we should be satisfied to have it controlled by the will of the Almighty.

By getting and keeping the Spirit of God.

Let the human will be indomitable for right. It has been the custom of parents to break the will until it is weakened, and the noble, Godlike powers of the child are reduced to a comparative state of imbecility and cowardice.

Are we raising our children in this wise?

Let that heaven-born property of human agents be properly tempered and wisely directed, instead of pursuing the opposite course, and it will conquer in the cause of right. Break not the spirit of any person, but guide it to feel that it is its greatest delight and highest ambition to be controlled by the revelations of Jesus Christ; then the will of man becomes Godlike in overcoming the evil that is sown in the flesh, until God shall reign within us to will and do of his good pleasure.

Let all persons be fervent in prayer,

Prayer is the exertion of the mind, by which faith operates.

Let all persons be fervent in prayer, until they know the things of God for themselves and become certain that they are walking in the path that leads to everlasting life; then will envy, the child of ignorance, vanish, and there will be no disposition in any man to place himself above another; for such a feeling meets no countenance in the order of heaven. Jesus Christ never wanted to be different from his father: they were and are one. If a people are led by the revelations of Jesus Christ, and they are cognizant of the fact through their faithfulness, there is no fear but they will be one in Christ Jesus, and see eye to eye.

We shall not be entirely free from sin for some time yet; but so long as it is in a state of perfect subjection, we are so far sanctified to keep up this warfare against the power of sin until we have obtained a perfect mastery over the evil that is within our organisms, and are able to control it constantly until death shall end the struggle: then shall we be prepared for a glorious resurrection.

Which I pray we may receive through our faithfulness unto the end, through the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I pray that God will bless me with His Spirit to tell you the truth, for the Spirit of God is the Spirit of truth; and this is the means that God has given us that we may discern good from evil, and enable us to do good and act in righteousness before Him. I was just reading, trying to find out about this subject of truth, and hearkened back to where, in the Gospel of John, according to St. John, as it has here:

John 8

26. I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.
27. They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.
28. Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29. And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.

30. As he spake these words, many believed on him.

31. Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;

32. And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.

33. They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

34. Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.

35. And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.

36. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37. I know that ye are Abraham's seed; but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38. I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39. They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40. But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

Jesus stood before Pilate, and He was asked then, "What is truth?" And He answered them not. But we have revealed to us now by Joseph Smith the Prophet, the true meaning and definition of truth:

D.& C. 93

24. And truth is knowledge of things as they are, and as they were, and as they are to come;

And I think it is well to ponder these things, brothers and sisters. I want to read some words of Joseph.

TPJS Page 216

Joseph the Seer arose in the power of God; reproved and rebuked wickedness before the people, in the name of the Lord God. He wished to say a few words to suit the condition of the general mass, and then said: I shall speak with authority of the Priesthood in the name of the Lord God, which shall prove a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death. Notwithstanding this congregation profess to be Saints, yet I stand in the midst of all [kinds of] characters and classes of men.

So does President Johnson.

If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil.

There is truth that stands before us daily.

Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people. Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

Said the Prophet of God in his humanity. But he was in the office of the Holy Ghost, and he knew the hearts of men by the power of it. The grandest lesson I know of is couched in these words that I so often read, and I want to just leave them with you again, the seventh chapter of Moroni. We speak of faith, hope, and charity. These are the fundamental laws of God, the great laws of God by which we are to magnify our knowledge of the Gospel, and the exercise of the holy Priesthood; the means by which we shall operate under them. And they are also given in the last verses of Section 121.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

There is the foundation, brothers and sisters -- by our getting and keeping the Spirit of God. We cannot have it in any other way. By it, we have it and we keep it. When we grieve the Spirit of God, which I will read a little more about later, it is withdrawn, and then we have a very hard time getting it back again. The grand principle of repentance enables us to do it, but we have to learn the Spirit of God, as Joseph Smith said -- the Spirit of revelation. And it has been shown us by the life of Joseph Smith in our time, and of men like Heber C. Kimball, that they can have it all the time.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

Charity is the pure love of Christ. It is the love of God. It is the Spirit of God. God is love, and His Spirit centers in Himself and issues forth from Himself throughout all His dominions. He so loved the world and His children that He gave His Only Begotten Son as a great sacrifice for us, that we may come back into His presence and become like Him. Now, if you do not believe that charity is the Spirit of God, let me tell you, or have Moroni tell us, what it is and what it is not.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own,

It is not proud. It is not selfish. It is meek and lowly of heart; it:

45. ...is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth,

We have to have the truth in order to have the Spirit of God.

45. ...beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity The Spirit of God,

46. ...never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

And this is how:

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

The power of faith; the exertion of the mind and heart to approach God.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;

That is the gift of the Holy Ghost, isn't it?

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Section 121, and this is the grand proof that we have that this Holy Spirit is the power of the Priesthood. Joseph Smith said that the messenger of God is the Holy Spirit, which governs and controls in all of these Priesthoods.

D. & C. 121

34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?
35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson --
36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.
37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.
38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.
39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.
40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

And now, here is how we are encouraged and blessed, brothers and sisters; and President Johnson has tried all through his life to encourage and help the saints, and he has pointed out the way.

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned; Meekness and lowliness of heart.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --
43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;
Not in anger, or a fit of temper. You lose the Spirit if you do.

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
Isn't that a beautiful way to govern and control children; and brethren, your wives, in the exercise of your Priesthood?

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, Especially the household of faith.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly;
We must become pure even has He is pure.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
He will have confidence in us as we act and exercise the Priesthood in this way, by giving us the Holy Ghost.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

Because we have become like God. We must come to the point where we can see Him as He is, after we have complied with all of the commandments, the ordinances of the holy Priesthood. Now, I pray we may be humble indeed, go to God with broken hearts and contrite spirits, and repent of all our sins, and prepare against the day of visitation, for it is at our doors. God bless us, and help us to do right, and to keep all of His commandments, and walk in holiness before God; going down the road, as President Johnson so often says, with him. God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I feel impressed, dear brothers and sisters, to also read the word of the Lord. I pray for the Spirit of God to direct me as I do. [He then read the entire Section 121.]

God bless you, amen.

Humility; Priesthood Training From the Prophet Joseph Smith

I am very happy to be with you here today, brothers and sisters, and desire but to be an instrument in the hands of the Lord to bring light and truth into our understandings, that we may go forward to accomplish the purposes and the will of God concerning us and this great work in which we are engaged. We are at a very crucial point in the work of God, and we need to, above all things, get and keep the Spirit of God. There is one thing that has impressed itself so much upon my mind of late, and I keep repeating it in my mind. We cannot have the Spirit of God except we be meek and lowly of heart -- (this was Jesus Christ, the great Prototype; He was meek and lowly of heart, as was Joseph Smith in this dispensation, I should say) -- acknowledging the hand of God in all things, and coming to know that our course is pleasing to God through the sacrifice of all earthly things, the sacrifice of our personal feelings in favor of the work of God, and raising up and saving those that the Lord has given us in this Family Order of Heaven. The spirit of discernment is one of the great gifts of the Spirit of God. It is what is needed. We need all of the attributes of the Holy Spirit: faith, hope, and love, or charity, which is the pure love of Christ. Now this I take to be the Spirit of God, and I commend to us all a continual reading of the last verses of the seventh chapter of Moroni, to enable us to lay hold upon this great gift.

The spirit of humility is brought out in a very beautiful way by the Prophet Joseph Smith in his address to the Twelve, July 2, 1839. It is in the Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith on page 155, and it is in the History of the Church, volume 3, page 383. It says a great deal about humility, as well as giving encouragement and strength to the brethren looking forward to the last days, and brings it right down to our time, and is applicable to us. This was after Thomas B. Marsh had been handled, and others of the Twelve had fallen. I do not know whether you understand it or not, but because of the apostasy of Thomas B. Marsh and the part he played among the saints in Far West, and in his bitterness, he wrote a letter to Governor Boggs giving information concerning the saints, which were lies, and was very instrumental in bringing down upon the saints the Extermination Order, exterminating the saints from the state of Missouri.

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

That is a great character that can do that, a truly humble person.

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good.

Love our neighbor as ourself.

And pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother. Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, and say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost,

Which is the power of the Priesthood.

...that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints!

All saints.

...profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in the Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

The sin which is unforgivable is brought about through being a traitor to Jesus Christ, and denying the Holy Ghost. They become the sons of perdition.

I will give you one of the Keys of the mysteries of the Kingdom. It is an eternal principle, that has existed with God from all eternity: That man who rises up to condemn others, finding fault with the Church, saying that they are out of the way, while he himself is righteous, then know assuredly, that that man is in the high road to apostasy; and if he does not repent, will apostatize, as God lives. The principle is as correct as the one that Jesus put forth in saying that he who seeketh a sign is an adulterous person; and that principle is eternal, undeviating, and firm as the pillars of heaven; for whenever you see a man seeking after a sign, you may set it down that he is an adulterous man.

About this time, in reply to many inquiries, I also gave an explanation of the Priesthood, and many principles connected therewith, of which the following is a brief synopsis:

You see, this was written from the record written by Joseph Smith as the history of the Priesthood and Church.

The Priesthood was first given to Adam; he obtained the First Presidency, and held the keys of it from generation to generation. He obtained it in the Creation, before the world was formed, as in Gen. 1: 26, 27, 28. He had dominion given him over every living creature. He is Michael the Archangel, spoken of in the Scriptures. Then to Noah, who is Gabriel; he stands next in authority to Adam in the Priesthood; he was called of God to this office, and was the father of all living in his day, and to him was given the dominion. These men held keys first on earth, and then in heaven.

The Priesthood is an everlasting principle, and existed with God from eternity, and will to eternity, without beginning of days or end of years. The keys have to be brought from heaven whenever the Gospel is sent. When they are revealed from heaven, it is by Adam's authority. Daniel in his seventh chapter speaks of the Ancient of Days; he means the oldest man, our Father Adam, Michael,

We might be better informed if we read the quotation from Daniel.

Daniel 7

9. I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10. A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.

13. I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.
14. And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

...Michael, he will call his children together and hold a council with them to prepare them for the coming of the Son of Man. He (Adam) is the father of the human family, and presides over the spirits of all men, and all that have had the keys must stand before him in this grand council.
This may take place before some of us leave this stage of action.
It has to be fairly soon.

The Son of Man stands before him, and there is given him glory and dominion. Adam delivers up his stewardship to Christ, that which was delivered to him as holding the keys of the universe, but retains his standing as head of the human family.

The spirit of man is not a created being; it existed from eternity, and will exist to eternity. Anything created cannot be eternal; and earth, water, etc., had their existence in an elementary state, from eternity. Our Savior speaks of children and says, Their angels always stand before my Father.
That is beautiful.

The Father called all spirits before Him at the creation of man, and organized them. He (Adam) is the head, and was told to multiply. The keys were first given to him, and by him to others. He will have to give an account of his stewardship, and they to him.

The Priesthood is everlasting. The Savior, Moses, and Elias, gave the keys to Peter, James and John, on the mount when they were transfigured before him.

Elias in this actual case was Elijah. Elias and Elijah were synonymous in the scripture history.

The Priesthood is everlasting -- without beginning of days or end of years; without father, mother, etc. If there is no change of ordinances, there is no change of Priesthood. Wherever the ordinances of the Gospel are administered, there is the Priesthood.

How have we come at the Priesthood in the last days? It came down, down, in regular succession. Peter, James, and John had it given to them and they gave it to others. Christ is the Great High Priest; Adam next. Paul speaks of the Church coming to an innumerable company of angels - - to God the Judge of all -- the spirits of just men made perfect; to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant. -- (Hebrews 12:22-24.)

I saw Adam in the valley of Adam-ondi-Ahman. He called together his children and blessed them with a patriarchal blessing. The Lord appeared in their midst, and he (Adam) blessed them all, and foretold what should befall them to the latest generation.

That is in Section 107 referred to.

This is why Adam blessed his posterity; he wanted to bring them into the presence of God. They looked for a city, etc., "whose builder and maker is God." -- (Hebrews 11:10.) Moses sought to bring the children of Israel into the presence of God, through the power of the Priesthood, but he could not. In the first ages of the world they tried to establish the same thing; and there were Eliases raised up who tried to restore these very glories, but did not obtain them; but they prophesied of a day when this glory would be revealed. Paul spoke of the dispensation of the fullness of times, when God would gather together all things in one, etc.; and those men to whom these keys have been given, will have to be there; and they without us cannot be made perfect.

These men are in heaven, but their children are on the earth. Their bowels yearn over us. God sends down men for this reason. "And the Son of Man shall send forth His angels, and they shall gather out of His kingdom all things that give offense and them that do iniquity." -- (Matthew 13:41). All these authoritative characters will come down and join hand in hand in bringing about this work.

The Kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed. The mustard seed is small, but brings forth a large tree, and the fowls lodge in the branches. The fowls are the angels. Thus angels come down, combine together to gather their children, and gather them. We cannot be made perfect without them, nor they without us; when these things are done, the Son of Man will descend, the Ancient of Days sit; we may come to an innumerable company of angels, have communion with and receive instructions from them. Paul told about Moses' proceedings; spoke of the children of Israel being baptized. -- (I Cor. 10:1-4.) He knew this, and that all the ordinances and blessings were in the Church. Paul had these things, and we may have the fowls of heaven lodge in the branches, etc.

The "Horn" made war with the Saints and overcame them, until the Ancient of Days came; judgment was given to the Saints of the Most High from the Ancient of Days; the time came that the Saints possessed the Kingdom. This not only makes us ministers here, but in eternity.

And those are the great days of the Millennium.

Salvation cannot come without revelation; it is in vain for anyone to minister without it. No man is a minister of Jesus Christ without being a Prophet. No man can be a minister of Jesus Christ except he has the testimony of Jesus; and this is the spirit of prophecy. Whenever salvation has been administered, it has been by testimony. Men of the present time testify of heaven and hell, and have never seen either; and I will say that no man knows these things without this.

Men profess to prophesy. I will prophesy that the signs of the coming of the Son of Man are already commenced.

That is something of a new revelation.

One pestilence will desolate after another. We shall soon have war and bloodshed. The moon will be turned into blood. I testify of these things, and that the coming of the Son of Man is nigh, even at your doors. If our souls and our bodies are not looking forth for the coming of the Son of Man; and after we are dead, if we are not looking forth, we shall be among those who are calling for the rocks to fall upon them.

The hearts of the children of men will have to be turned to the fathers, and the fathers to the children, living or dead, to prepare them for the coming of the Son of Man. If Elijah did not come, the whole earth would be smitten.

There will be here and there a Stake [of Zion] for the gathering of the Saints. Some may have cried peace, but the Saints and the world will have little peace from henceforth. Let this not hinder us from going to the Stakes; for God has told us to flee, not dallying, or we shall be scattered, one here, and another there. There your children shall be blessed, and you in the midst of friends where you may be blessed. The Gospel net gathers of every kind.
I prophesy, that that man who tarries after he has an opportunity of going, will be afflicted by the devil. Wars are at hand; we must not delay; but are not required to sacrifice. We ought to have the building up of Zion as our greatest object. When wars come, we shall have to flee to Zion. The cry is to make haste. The last revelation says, Ye shall not have time to have gone over the earth, until these things come. It will come as did the cholera, war, fires, and earthquakes; one pestilence after another, until the Ancient of Days comes, then judgment will be given to the Saints.

Whatever you may hear about me or Kirtland, take no notice of it, for if it be a place of refuge, the devil will use his greatest efforts to trap the Saints. You must make yourselves acquainted with those men who like Daniel pray three times a day toward the House of the Lord. Look to the Presidency and receive instruction. Every man who is afraid, covetous, will be taken in a snare.

Fear is the opposite of faith. Those who fear are covetous, and will be taken in a snare.

The time is soon coming, when no man will have any peace but in Zion and her stakes.

I saw men hunting the lives of their own sons, and brother murdering brother, women killing their own daughters, and daughters seeking the lives of their mothers. I saw armies arrayed against armies. I saw blood, desolation, fires. The Son of Man has said that the mother shall be against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother. These things are at our doors. They will follow the Saints of God from city to city. Satan will rage, and the spirit of the devil is now enraged. I know not how soon these things will take place; but with a view of them, shall I cry peace? No, I will lift up my voice and testify of them. How long you will have good crops, and the famine be kept off, I do not know; when the fig tree leaves, know then that the summer is nigh at hand.

Does this not sound familiar? -- the sermons of President Johnson all through the past.

We may look for angels and receive their ministrations, but we are to try the spirits and prove them, for it is often the case that men make a mistake in regard to these things. God has so ordained that when He has communicated, no vision is to be taken but what you see by the seeing of the eye, or what you hear by the hearing of the ear. When you see a vision, pray for the interpretation; if you get not this, shut it up; there must be certainty in this matter. An open vision will manifest that which is more important. Lying spirits are going forth in the earth. There will be great manifestations of spirits, both false and true.

Being born again, comes by the spirit of God through ordinances. An angel of God never has wings. Some will say that they have seen a spirit; that he offered them his hand, but they did not touch it. This is a lie. First, it is contrary to the plan of God: a spirit cannot come but in glory; an angel has flesh and bones; we see not their glory. The devil may appear as an angel of light. Ask God to reveal it; if it be of the devil, he will flee from you: if of God, He will manifest Himself, or make it manifest. We may come to Jesus and ask Him; He will know all about it; if He comes to a little child, He will adapt himself to the language and capacity of a little child.

Regarding these things, I think we might be instructed by knowing the keys that Joseph Smith gave, Section 129.

D.& C. 129

1. There are two kinds of beings in heaven, namely: Angels, who are resurrected personages, having bodies of flesh and bones --
2. For instance, Jesus said: Handle me and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.
3. Secondly: the spirits of just men made perfect, they who are not resurrected, but inherit the same glory.

They are retained for a special work.

4. When a messenger comes saying he has a message from God, offer him your hand and request him to shake hands with you.
5. If he be an angel he will do so, and you will feel his hand. He is embodied.

6. If he be the spirit of a just man made perfect he will come in his glory;
And that is appearing in fire.
6. ...for that is the only way he can appear --
7. Ask him to shake hands with you, but he will not move, because it is contrary to the order of heaven for a just man to deceive; but he will still deliver his message.
8. If it be the devil as an angel of light, when you ask him to shake hands he will offer you his hand, and you will not feel anything; you may therefore detect him.

9. These are three grand keys whereby you may know whether any administration is from God.

We are told that satan is to be revealed in this time.

DHC 3:392 (TPJS Page 162)

Every spirit, or vision, or singing, is not of God. The devil is an orator; he is powerful; he took our Savior on to a pinnacle of the Temple, and kept Him in the wilderness for forty days. The gift of discerning spirits will be given to the Presiding Elder.

Mark that!

Pray for him that he may have this gift. Speak not in the gift of tongues without understanding it, or without interpretation. The devil can speak in tongues; the adversary will come with his work; he can tempt all classes; can speak in English or Dutch. Let no one speak in tongues unless he interpret, except by the consent of the one who is placed to preside; then he may discern or interpret, or another may. Let us seek for the glory of Abraham, Noah, Adam, the Apostles, who have communion with [knowledge of] these things, and then we shall be among that number when Christ comes.

Which I pray may be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

At the Confirmation of Members of His Family

The Holy Ghost is the greatest gift God gives to us next to life itself. The Holy Ghost is the Spirit of God. First, it is the Spirit that centers in the Father, our Heavenly Father, and issues forth from Himself to control all of His dominions, and by His command, accomplishes all things. So this great gift is yours, will be, after we lay hands on your head. This Spirit is to guide and protect and help you through life, that you may learn the will of God, and keep it, keep His commandments. It is the Spirit of truth. It is pure intelligence. So, when you pray to Father in faith, it is by the Holy Ghost that He answers your prayers, by His Spirit.

You must always seek to keep this Spirit with you, and you can if you are always obedient. You lose it through disobedience. You can call it down upon you at your need, and the Lord will answer it upon you if you have been obedient. Do you understand this? You cannot see this Spirit. None of us can. But it is a power and a substance that exists, the purest and most refined that there is. It may come upon you, it may leave. You must learn the Spirit of God. When you have it, you are warm, you feel calm, you are at peace.

I am grateful for this righteous posterity. Engaged in the Patriarchal Law of Abraham, the Patriarchal Law, are blessings of the fathers given to Adam, sent down upon us in the patriarchal lines. This is the thing that we are striving for, that we will build up during the work of the great Millennium, clear back to Father Adam. I, as a Patriarch, invoke the Lord's choicest blessings upon you, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

[After remarking that each family must keep their own records, and that they would be gathered in, he said:] We are seeking to become members of the Church of the Firstborn. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is a nursing mother to teach us and train us up. Then, when we are worthy, we can become members of the Church of the Firstborn, and have our names in the Lamb's Book of Life.

The Prophet Joseph was very strong about the matter of keeping records of ordinances, and it will certainly have to be for the work for the dead, which will be done in the temple. It will automatically be taken care of there. For our own family, we should get a binder and keep all of these sheets to record the important work and ordinances and progress through life.

Draw Near to the Prophet Joseph Smith;
Joseph Smith Has Been Working Through the Keyholders All These Years

I am grateful to be here with you today in this meeting appointed by President Johnson, and I desire to be led by the Spirit of God in what I shall say. It seems that I have, through my experiences over the years, been led to speak and teach from the word of God. President Johnson has instructed us all through the years to follow the teachings of the "Three-in-One", as he denominates it -- the Book of Mormon, the Doctrine and Covenants, and the Pearl of Great Price; which are, in the main, those things which have been received through Joseph Smith the Prophet, that great man who followed the example of the Lord Jesus Christ and followed in His footsteps; and who is the Witness and Testator, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost, a member of the Godhead.

He is indeed the One Mighty and Strong. And he came with Jesus Christ to John Taylor, September 26-27, 1886. On that occasion there resulted that visit of the One Mighty and Strong, Joseph Smith, Jun., which constituted the beginning of the setting in order of the House of God. That is where it commenced. Joseph Smith was told, as we have it in his Teachings, that if he lived to the age of eighty-five, he would live to see the Lord Jesus Christ. Well, he was taken, but he came with Jesus Christ on that glorious occasion which the Lord set up as the commencement of a special dispensation within the Dispensation of the Fullness of Times, under Joseph Smith, Jun., and he under the Lord Jesus Christ.

I am grateful for the great work that he did in behalf of the saints of God in this last dispensation, which was a fulfillment of the promises of God through all the holy Prophets from the beginning. Adam and Enoch foretold all that should come to pass down to the latest day, and this was a great part of that which they saw and declared to those who were in their dispensation.

So, brothers and sisters, we need to draw near to Joseph Smith, Jun., for I love his memory, and would consider it a glorious thing to be brought into his presence through those who might recommend me; those who have known me and I have known them -- the mouthpieces of God and to this people. Brother Joseph used to say to us, "When you stand and speak to the saints, if you lack anything to talk about at first, testify of Joseph Smith, Jun., the Prophet of God, and you will draw him nearer to you, and you to him," which is what we need.

I am satisfied in my spirit and feelings that Joseph Smith, Jun., has continued in the process of the setting in order the House of God by working through the keyholder, those who have stood in the same position he did to the people in his day. Joseph Smith, Jun., stands as the head of this dispensation and holds the keys of Priesthood over the whole of it; but it has been given to those who have followed him as his legal successors. I am satisfied, from the testimonies that have been given us, and the testimony of the Spirit to me, that Joseph Smith, Jun., has been laboring with his legal successors down to this day in the keyholder position as the mouthpiece of God, and the fountainhead, through whom we are to receive our blessings and administrations.

As Joseph Smith, Jun., was to the saints in his day, Leroy Sunderland Johnson stands in the same position with the saints in this day. And I am grateful for this testimony; and I testify of it to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Overcome Confusion by Following the Revelations Through Joseph Smith;
All Must Follow the One Man;
President Johnson Is Able to Lead This People

I am glad to be here with you, brothers and sisters, assigned here by President Johnson, with President Musser, and I desire with all my heart to tell you the truth, inspired and directed by the Spirit of God. I have appreciated these things that President Musser has given us here today. Let us apply them to ourselves. The great tendency has been, through all the many years that we have been coming together: "I am all right, according to that," and accuse our brother and sister, apply it to someone else.

I love the truth. I love the Prophet Joseph Smith and the grand truths and revelations that were restored through him to the earth for the last time, the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel and of the holy Priesthood. I am grateful for these things, and that we have a man at our head today who is the worthy successor to the Prophet Joseph Smith in our time, President Johnson.

I think one of the grandest introductions we can have in the consideration of this work and Priesthood, is the revelation given through Joseph Smith the Prophet to his father, which sets forth the qualifications for the labors of the ministry and for all men. We desire to enter into and do the work of God, do the will of God.

D. & C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

There is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, to love our neighbor as ourselves.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;

But we have to enter in at the gate through faith, repentance, baptism, and the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, the greatest gift of God to man, to His children, those who desire, who have righteous desires to serve Him and to keep His commandments. And as it says in the last here, we must ask for it, with faith, nothing wavering, and He will answer our prayers, our faith in our prayers, upon our heads.

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;

5. And faith, hope, charity and love,
The pure love of Christ, as described by Moroni,

5. ...with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.

6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.

7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Amen.

So, brothers and sisters, if we want to know the truth, we are going to have to ask for it. There is a great deal being said and done that is causing great confusion in the minds of the people. Why don't you ask to know the truth, and go to the fountainhead? I have read this down south, and I have read it here, from the word of God. And I would like to repeat again what President Johnson has said to us, holding this Three-in-One, as he calls it, up to us saying that we are to follow these revelations of God to Joseph Smith the Prophet, the Book of Mormon, and the Pearl of Great Price. We are to search the scripture, for in them ye think ye have eternal life. We have a right to know for ourselves. I am told that Lorin Woolley said the same thing: "If there is anything that we say and do that does not square with this book, these books, you need not give heed to them."

In September 1830, Oliver Cowdery got mixed up with one Hiram Page who had a seer stone. He was beginning to believe some of the false revelations that were given through that means. I will read to you all of Section 28:

D. & C. 28

1. Behold, I say unto thee, Oliver, that it shall be given unto thee that thou shalt be heard by the church in all things whatsoever thou shalt teach them by the Comforter, concerning the revelations and commandments which I have given.

Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery were ordained to the same Priesthood in June of 1829, the holy Apostleship. But they were designated first, Joseph Smith as the First Elder, and Oliver Cowdery the Second Elder. They held the same Priesthood.

2. But, behold, verily, verily, I say unto thee, no one shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church excepting my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., for he receiveth them even as Moses.

Think of the preeminent position of Moses to the children of Israel. And he organized a Sanhedron, of which he was the grand head.

3. And thou

Speaking to Oliver,

3. ...shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron,

And I understand from the writings of John Taylor, that Aaron had the same order of Priesthood as Moses, for he was able to see the face of God. He communicated with Him, as did Moses. I just say that to show that he had the Priesthood as did Moses.

3. And thou shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron, to declare faithfully the commandments and the revelations, with power and authority unto the church.

The commandments and revelations that were given to Joseph Smith.

4. And if thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by the way of commandment unto the church, thou mayest do it.

5. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom;
Which is what Aaron did for Moses, and which all have been doing, or supposed to be doing since.

6. And thou shalt not command him who is at thy head, and at the head of the church;
7. For I have given him the keys of the mysteries, and the revelations which are sealed, until I shall appoint unto them another in his stead.
In his stead -- remember that.

8. And now, behold, I say unto you that you shall go unto the Lamanites and preach my gospel unto them; and inasmuch as they receive thy teachings thou shalt cause my church to be established among them; and thou shalt have revelations, but write them not by way of commandment.

9. And now, behold, I say unto you that it is not revealed, and no man knoweth where the city Zion shall be built, but it shall be given hereafter.
Behold, I say unto you that it shall be on the borders by the Lamanites.
Oliver had been given a mission to the Lamanites at this time.

10. Thou shalt not leave this place until after the conference; and my servant Joseph shall be appointed to preside over the conference by the voice of it, and what he saith to thee thou shalt tell.
11. And again, thou shalt take thy brother, Hiram Page, between him and thee alone, and tell him that those things which he hath written from that stone are not of me and that Satan deceiveth him;

12. For, behold, these things have not been appointed unto him, neither shall anything be appointed unto any of this church contrary to the church covenants.
13. For all things must be done in order, and by common consent in the church, by the prayer of faith.

14. And thou shalt assist to settle all these things, according to the covenants of the church, before thou shalt take thy journey among the Lamanites.
15. And it shall be given thee from the time thou shalt go, until the time thou shalt return, what thou shalt do.
16. And thou must open thy mouth at all times, declaring my gospel with the sound of rejoicing. Amen.

There was another time, in February 1831, when some of the members of the Church were disturbed by people making false claims as revelators.

D.& C. 43

1. O hearken, ye elders of my church, and give ear to the words which I shall speak unto you.
2. For behold, verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye have received a commandment for a law unto my church, through him whom I have appointed unto you to receive commandments and revelations from my hand.
3. And this ye shall know assuredly -- that there is none other appointed unto you to receive commandments and revelations until he be taken, if he abide in me.
4. But verily, verily, I say unto you, that none else shall be appointed unto this gift except it be through him; for if it be taken from him he shall not have power except to appoint another in his stead.
5. And this shall be a law unto you, that ye receive not the teachings of any that shall come before you as revelations or commandments;
6. And this I give unto you that you may not be deceived, that you may know they are not of me.
7. For verily I say unto you, that he that is ordained of me shall come in at the gate and be ordained as I have told you before, to teach those revelations which you have received and shall receive through him whom I have appointed.
8. And now, behold, I give unto you a commandment, that when ye are assembled together ye shall instruct and edify each other, that ye may know how to act and direct my church, how to act upon the points of my law and commandments, which I have given.
9. And thus ye shall become instructed in the law of my church, and be sanctified by that which ye have received, and ye shall bind yourselves to act in all holiness before me --
10. That inasmuch as ye do this, glory shall be added to the kingdom which ye have received. Inasmuch as ye do it not, it shall be taken, even that which ye have received.

Blessings offered and rejected become cursings.
11. Purge ye out the iniquity which is among you; sanctify yourselves before me;
How President Johnson has been calling upon us to do just that!

12. And if ye desire the glories of the kingdom, appoint ye my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and uphold him before me by the prayer of faith.

13. And again, I say unto you, that if ye desire the mysteries of the kingdom, provide for him food and raiment, and whatsoever thing he needeth to accomplish the work wherewith I have commanded him;

14. And if ye do it not he shall remain unto them that have received him, that I may reserve unto myself a pure people before me.

15. Again I say, hearken ye elders of my church, whom I have appointed: Ye are not sent forth to be taught, but to teach the children of men the things which I have put into your hands by the power of my Spirit;

16. And ye are to be taught from on high. Sanctify yourselves and ye shall be endowed with power, that ye may give even as I have spoken.

17. Hearken ye, for, behold, the great day of the Lord is nigh at hand.

18. For the day cometh that the Lord shall utter his voice out of heaven; the heavens shall shake and the earth shall tremble, and the trump of God shall sound both long and loud, and shall say to the sleeping nations: Ye saints arise and live; ye sinners stay and sleep until I shall call again.

19. Wherefore gird up your loins lest ye be found among the wicked.

20. Lift up your voices and spare not. Call upon the nations to repent, both old and young, both bond and free, saying: Prepare yourselves for the great day of the Lord;

If you want to know about judgments and the signs of the coming of the Son of Man, read Sections 45 and 133. I will read the forepart of Section 132:

D.& C. 132

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord unto you my servant Joseph, that inasmuch as you have inquired of my hand to know and understand wherein I, the Lord, justified my servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as also Moses, David and Solomon, my servants, as touching the principle and doctrine of their having many wives and concubines --

2. Behold, and lo, I am the Lord thy God, and will answer thee as touching this matter.

3. Therefore, prepare thy heart to receive and obey the instructions which I am about to give unto you; for all those who have this law revealed unto them must obey the same.

4. For behold, I reveal unto you a new and an everlasting covenant; and if ye abide not that covenant, then are ye damned;

We are mostly engaged in this holy law, but I am afraid living at it.

4. ...for no one can reject this covenant and be permitted to enter into my glory.

5. For all who will have a blessing at my hands shall abide the law which was appointed for that blessing, and the conditions thereof, as were instituted from before the foundation of the world.

6. And as pertaining to the new and everlasting covenant, it was instituted for the fulness of my glory; and he that receiveth a fulness thereof must and shall abide the law, or he shall be damned, saith the Lord God.

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

8. Behold, mine house is a house of order, saith the Lord God, and not a house of confusion.

There is the word of God. I would like to conclude by reading from a sermon of Joseph F. Smith in 1883.

JD 24:192-193   Joseph F. Smith  June 21, 1883  Ogden

When Joseph received the keys of the Priesthood he alone on the earth held them; that is, he was the first, he stood at the head. It was promised that he should not lose them or be removed out of his place, so long as he was faithful.

That is what Section 43 said.
And when he died President Young was chosen by the voice of the people, and sanctioned by the voice of God. He held the Priesthood which was after the order of the Son of God, with the keys which pertain to the presidency of that Priesthood upon earth. He received it from the hands of Joseph, directly from him or by his authority; and he held it until his death. When he died that mantle fell upon John Taylor, and while he lives he will hold that authority inasmuch as he is faithful. So it was with President Brigham Young, he held it on condition of his faithfulness. If any man in that position should become unfaithful, God would remove him out of his place. I testify in the name of Israel's God that He will not suffer the head of the Church, him whom He has chosen to stand at the head, to transgress His laws and apostatize; the moment he should take a course that would in time lead to it, God would take him away. Why? Because to suffer a wicked man to occupy that position, would be to allow, as it were, the fountain to become corrupted, which is something He will never permit. And why will He not suffer it? Because it is not the work of Joseph Smith; it is not the work of Brigham Young or of John Taylor.

It is not the work of Leroy Johnson.

President Johnson is coming along agreeable to the will of God in his illness. I had the privilege -- and I am telling you now what I told people in the south, on the 6th of May last -- I had the privilege on the 5th day of May to administer to President Johnson, in association with John Johnson and Truman Barlow. I had the testimony as I did this, that President Johnson would come through this illness stronger than ever to complete a greater and a more mightier work. I have been quite close to him. As far as I am concerned, brothers and sisters, like Rich Jessop said on more than one occasion, I belong to him, body, boots, and britches. And he has been true and faithful. I would like to say more, but I forebear. President Johnson's mind is keen and clear as crystal. He is not senile. And I say not these things, brothers and sisters, in a spirit of contention or argument or debate. I tell you the truth. God bless you, amen.
Brother Johnson always brought this Three-in-One to the podium with him. I pray that the Spirit of God will actuate my remarks that I may tell the truth, and the name of God be glorified.

These things that have been recounted to us here we all believe in and love, this glorious principle of Celestial and Plural Marriage, and the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, which includes the Holy United Order. We have vouchsafed to us these holy things by our fathers after the restoration that was given through the Prophet Joseph Smith. It is because, as the Lord said in Section 84:

52. And whoso receiveth not my voice is not acquainted with my voice, and is not of me.
53. And by this you may know the righteous from the wicked, and that the whole world groaneth under sin and darkness even now.
54. And your minds in times past have been darkened because of unbelief, and because you have treated lightly the things you have received --
55. Which vanity and unbelief have brought the whole church under condemnation.
56. And this condemnation resteth upon the children of Zion, even all.

Way back in 1832. They hadn't received the law of Celestial Marriage then, but they had received the law of the Holy United Order, which, it appears, must be received and obeyed before the Family Order of Heaven could be given. But it had to be given by the Prophet Joseph Smith, which came later; although we understand the law was revealed to Joseph Smith as early as 1832, which is the date of this great revelation on Priesthood.

57. And they shall remain under this condemnation until they repent and remember the new covenant, even the Book of Mormon and the former commandments which I have given them, not only to say, but to do according to that which I have written --
58. That they may bring forth fruit meet for their Father's kingdom; otherwise there remaineth a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.
59. For shall the children of the kingdom pollute my holy land? Verily, I say unto you, Nay.

And so, there remaineth this judgment and these judgments to be brought about, brothers and sisters:

D. & C. 112
23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

Now where do we stand? -- because we have been given so much and have done so little about it, this people, since Joseph's day.

25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;
26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

We seem to blame all these things onto the Church. But the Lord's House is where the fullness of His Priesthood is. So, brothers and sisters, where do we stand? The judgments of God are to commence at the House of God, and they did verily when the House of God was cut off from the ordinances of the House of God, which has already happened. It began way back there in the 1890's. And so they must have commenced then. They are continuing, and I am satisfied that we are now suffering under some of them.

What are these things that President Johnson has told us about, preparing a people against the day of visitation? President Johnson has continually told us that there is going to be a choice people come out of the heart's core of this people. There are many who came out from the Church, yes. But now this applies to this people who profess to be the people of God, and do indeed have the Priesthood of God to govern and guide and direct us. So we have before us, still, a continuation of those judgments. We need to repent, as Section 84 said, and obey all the laws as contained in the revelations from God and the Book of Mormon. I feel to now recount to us what we are facing, as the Lord gave us in Section 45.

D.& C. 45

26. And in that day shall be heard of wars and rumors of wars, and the whole earth shall be in commotion, and men's hearts shall fail them, and they shall say that Christ delayeth his coming until the end of the earth.

27. And the love of men shall wax cold, and iniquity shall abound.

That is happening among our people.

28. And when the times of the Gentiles is come in, a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness, and it shall be the fulness of my gospel; These are the words said by the Savior to His Twelve. They are recounted in Section 45.

29. But they receive it not; for they perceive not the light, and they turn their hearts from me because of the precepts of men.

30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled. Brother Johnson has told me, at least, that was fulfilled in the 1890's. The Gospel now is to the House of Israel, and is going to go to the Jews.

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, Here is the way for the righteous, the obedient, and the humble, and the contrite.

32. ...and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.

35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.
36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you --

37. Ye look and behold the figtrees, and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;

38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.

39. And it shall come to pass that he that feareth me shall be looking forth for the great day of the Lord to come, even for the signs of the coming of the Son of Man.

40. And they shall see signs and wonders, for they shall be shown forth in the heavens above, and in the earth beneath.

41. And they shall behold blood, and fire, and vapors of smoke.

42. And before the day of the Lord shall come, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon be turned into blood, and the stars fall from heaven.

43. And the remnant shall be gathered unto this place;

44. And then they shall look for me, and, behold, I will come;

There is only going to be a remnant; and they will be gathering together under the Holy One of Israel.

44. ...and they shall see me in the clouds of heaven, clothed with power and great glory; with all the holy angels; and he that watches not for me shall be cut off.

45. But before the arm of the Lord shall fall, an angel shall sound his trump, and the saints that have slept shall come forth to meet me in the cloud.

46. Wherefore, if ye have slept in peace blessed are you;

That is those who have died in the Lord.

46. ...for as you now behold me and know that I am, even so shall ye come unto me and your souls shall live, and your redemption shall be perfected; and the saints shall come forth from the four quarters of the earth.

Section 133 is called the Appendix to the Doctrine and Covenants, given at the same time as the Preface to the Doctrine and Covenants, which is Section 1.

D. & C. 133

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the Lord your God, and hear the word of the Lord concerning you --

2. The Lord who shall suddenly come to his temple; the Lord who shall come down upon the world with a curse to judgment; yea, upon all the nations that forget God, and upon all the ungodly among you.

3. For he shall make bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of their God.

4. Wherefore, prepare ye, prepare ye, O my people; sanctify yourselves; gather ye together, O ye people of my church, upon the land of Zion, all you that have not been commanded to tarry.

5. Go ye out from Babylon. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.

6. Call your solemn assemblies, and speak often one to another. And let every man call upon the name of the Lord.

7. Yea, verily I say unto you again, the time has come when the voice of the Lord is unto you: Go ye out of Babylon; gather ye out from among the nations, from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

8. Send forth the elders of my church unto the nations which are afar off; unto the islands of the sea; send forth unto foreign lands; call upon all nations, first upon the Gentiles, and then upon the Jews.

9. And behold, and lo, this shall be their cry, and the voice of the Lord unto all people: Go ye forth unto the land of Zion, that the borders of my people may be enlarged, and that her stakes may be strengthened, and that Zion may go forth unto the regions round about.

10. Yea, let the cry go forth among all people: Awake and arise and go forth to meet the Bridegroom; behold and lo, the Bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Prepare yourselves for the great day of the Lord.

11. Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour.

12. Let them, therefore, who are among the Gentiles flee unto Zion.

13. And let them who be of Judah flee unto Jerusalem, unto the mountains of the Lord's house.

14. Go ye out from among the nations, even from Babylon, from the midst of wickedness, which is spiritual Babylon.

15. But verily, thus saith the Lord, let not your flight be in haste, but let all things be prepared before you; and he that goeth, let him not look back lest sudden destruction shall come upon him.
16. Hearken and hear, O ye inhabitants of the earth. Listen, ye elders of my church together, and hear the voice of the Lord; for he calleth upon all men, and he commandeth all men everywhere to repent.

17. For behold, the Lord God hath sent forth the angel crying through the midst of heaven, saying: Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his paths straight, for the hour of his coming is nigh --

18. When the Lamb shall stand upon Mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty-four thousand, having his Father's name written on their foreheads.

19. Wherefore, prepare ye for the coming of the Bridegroom; go ye, go ye out to meet him.

20. For behold, he shall stand upon the mount of Olivet, Old Jerusalem.

20. ...and upon the mighty ocean, even the great deep, and upon the islands of the sea, and upon the land of Zion.

21. And he shall utter his voice out of Zion, and he shall speak from Jerusalem, and his voice shall be heard among all people;

22. And it shall be a voice as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder, which shall break down the mountains, and the valleys shall not be found.

23. He shall command the great deep, and it shall be driven back into the north countries, and the islands shall become one land;

24. And the land of Jerusalem and the land of Zion shall be turned back into their own place, and the earth shall be like as it was in the days before it was divided.

25. And the Lord, even the Savior, shall stand in the midst of his people, and shall reign over all flesh.

26. And they who are in the north countries shall come in remembrance before the Lord; and their prophets shall hear his voice, and shall no longer stay themselves; and they shall smite the rocks, and the ice shall flow down at their presence.

27. And an highway shall be cast up in the midst of the great deep.

28. Their enemies shall become a prey unto them,

29. And in the barren deserts there shall come forth pools of living water; and the parched ground shall no longer be a thirsty land.
30. And they shall bring forth their rich treasures unto the children of Ephraim, my servants.

31. And the boundaries of the everlasting hills shall tremble at their presence.
32. And there shall they fall down and be crowned with glory, even in Zion, by the hands of the servants of the Lord, even the children of Ephraim.

33. And they shall be filled with songs of everlasting joy.
34. Behold, this is the blessing of the everlasting God upon the tribes of Israel, and the richer blessing upon the head of Ephraim and his fellows.

35. And they also of the tribe of Judah, after their pain, shall be sanctified in holiness before the Lord, to dwell in his presence day and night, forever and ever.
36. And now, verily saith the Lord, that these things might be known among you, O inhabitants of the earth, I have sent forth mine angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel, who hath appeared unto some and hath committed it unto man, who shall appear unto many that dwell on the earth.

37. And this gospel shall be preached unto every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people.

The glorious picture that is brought before us here, I think is worth bringing before us here on this occasion.

38. And the servants of God shall go forth, saying with a loud voice: Fear God and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgment is come;

39. And worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters --
40. Calling upon the name of the Lord day and night, saying: O that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence.

41. And it shall be answered upon their heads; for the presence of the Lord shall be as the melting fire that burneth, and as the fire which causeth the waters to boil.
42. O Lord, thou shalt come down to make thy name known to thine adversaries, and all nations shall tremble at thy presence --
43. When thou doest terrible things, things they look not for;
44. Yea, when thou comest down, and the mountains flow down at thy presence, thou shalt meet him who rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, who remembereth thee in thy ways.

45. For since the beginning of the world have not men heard nor perceived by the ear, neither hath any eye seen, O God, besides thee, how great things thou hast prepared for him that waiteth for thee.
46. And it shall be said: Who is this that cometh down from God in heaven with dyed garments; yea, from the regions which are not known, clothed in his glorious apparel, traveling in the greatness of his strength?

47. And he shall say: I am he who spake in righteousness, mighty to save.
48. And the Lord shall be red in his apparel, and his garments like him that treadeth in the wine-vat.

49. And so great shall be the glory of his presence that the sun shall hide his face in shame, and the moon shall withhold its light, and the stars shall be hurled from their places.
50. And his voice shall be heard: I have trodden the wine-press alone, and have brought judgment upon all people; and none were with me;

51. And I have trampled them in my fury, and I did tread upon them in mine anger, and their blood have I sprinkled upon my garments, and stained all my raiment; for this was the day of vengeance which was in my heart.

52. And now the year of my redeemed is come; and they shall mention the loving kindness of their Lord, and all that he has bestowed upon them according to his goodness, and according to his loving kindness, forever and ever.

53. In all their afflictions he was afflicted. And the angel of his presence saved them; and in his love, and in his pity, he redeemed them, and bore them, and carried them all the days of old;
54. Yea, and Enoch also, and they who were with him; the prophets who were before him; and Noah also, and they who were before him; and Moses also, and they who were before him;

55. And from Moses to Elijah, and from Elijah to John, who were with Christ in his resurrection, and the holy apostles, with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, shall be in the presence of the Lamb.

56. And the graves of the saints shall be opened; and they shall come forth and stand on the right hand of the Lamb, when he shall stand upon Mount Zion, and upon the holy city, the New Jerusalem; and they shall sing the song of the Lamb, day and night forever and ever.

57. And for this cause, that men might be made partakers of the glories which were to be revealed, the Lord sent forth the fulness of his gospel, his everlasting covenant, reasoning in plainness and simplicity --

58. To prepare the weak for those things which are coming on the earth, and for the Lord's errand in the day when the weak shall confound the wise, and the little one become a strong nation, and two shall put their tens of thousands to flight.

59. And by the weak things of the earth the Lord shall thrash the nations by the power of his Spirit.

60. And for this cause these commandments were given; they were commanded to be kept from the world in the day that they were given, but now are to go forth unto all flesh --

61. And this according to the mind and will of the Lord, who ruleth over all flesh.

62. And unto him that repenteth and sanctifieth himself before the Lord shall be given eternal life.

63. And upon them that hearken not to the voice of the Lord shall be fulfilled that which was written by the prophet Moses, that they should be cut off from among the people.

64. And also that which was written by the prophet Malachi: For, behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

65. Wherefore, this shall be the answer of the Lord unto them:

66. In that day when I came unto mine own, no man among you received me, and you were driven out.

67. When I called again there was none of you to answer; yet my arm was not shortened at all that I could not redeem, neither my power to deliver.

68. Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea. I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stink, and die for thirst.

69. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and make sackcloth their covering.

70. And this shall ye have of my hand -- ye shall lie down in sorrow.

71. Behold, and lo, there are none to deliver you; for ye obeyed not my voice when I called to you out of the heavens; ye believed not my servants, and when they were sent unto you ye received them not.

72. Wherefore, they sealed up the testimony and bound up the law, and ye were delivered over unto darkness.

73. These shall go away into outer darkness, where there is weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth.

74. Behold the Lord your God hath spoken it. Amen.

In a sequence of events, and the things that Joseph Smith brought to the attention of those in his day -- this was in January 1833, while the saints were still trying to redeem Zion -- he said:

The Book of Mormon is a record of the forefathers of our western tribes of Indians; having been found through the ministration of an holy angel, and translated into our own language by the gift and power of God, after having been hid up in the earth for the last fourteen hundred years, containing the word of God which was delivered unto them. By it we learn that our western tribes of Indians are descendants from that Joseph who was sold into Egypt, and that the land of America is a promised land unto them, and unto it all the tribes of Israel will come, with as many of the Gentiles as shall comply with the requisitions of the new covenant.

Do you know the gentiles, if they comply, can have their blood changed to the blood of Israel, of Abraham?

But the tribe of Judah will return to old Jerusalem.

Section 133 said that.

The city of Zion spoken of by David, in the one hundred and second Psalm, will be built upon the land of America, "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads." (Isaiah xxxv:10); and then they will be delivered from the overflowing scourge that shall pass through the land. But Judah shall obtain deliverance at Jerusalem. See Joel ii:32; Isaiah xxvi:20 and 21;
Jeremiah xxxi:12; Psalms 1:5; Ezekiel xxxiv:11, 12 and 13. These are testimonies that the Good Shepherd will put forth His own sheep, and lead them out from all nations where they have been scattered in a cloudy and dark day, to Zion, and to Jerusalem; besides many more testimonies which might be brought.

And now I am prepared to say by the authority of Jesus Christ, that not many years shall pass away before the United States shall present such a scene of bloodshed as has not a parallel in the history of our nation; pestilence, hail, famine, and earthquake will sweep the wicked of this generation from off the face of the land, that is the overflowing scourge.

...to open and prepare the way for the return of the lost tribes of Israel from the north country. The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, which is in the state of Missouri; we have yet to go back there, the faithful and the righteous, and those who will hear the word of God and obey them.

....therefore I declare unto you the warning which the Lord has commanded me to declare unto this generation, remembering that the eyes of my Maker are upon me, and that to Him I am accountable for every word I say, wishing nothing worse to my fellow-men than their eternal salvation; therefore, "Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come." Repent ye, repent ye, and embrace the everlasting covenant, and flee to Zion, before the overflowing scourge overtake you, for there are those now living upon the earth whose eyes shall not be closed in death until they see all these things, which I have spoken, fulfilled. Remember these things; call upon the Lord while He is near, and seek Him while He may be found, is the exhortation of your unworthy servant.

(signed) JOSEPH SMITH, JUN.

Which is the same exhortation that our beloved President, Leroy S. Johnson has been bringing to bear and is being delivered to us, trying to prepare a people against the day of visitation, which are these things which I read about. Let us be humble and contrite, and come forth with the fruits of repentance, and obey our Father and our God through His servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and his servant Leroy S. Johnson, I pray in the name of Jesus.

President Johnson Is the Most Christlike Man;
Pray Night and Day for Deliverance;
Prophecies Concerning the Judgments and the Millennium;
Deliverance Will Come After Much Tribulation;
How to Become Like God

I am glad to be with you here today thinking and acting under the direction of President Johnson. I am grateful for my association with him and my brethren of the Council. I am grateful for the family that the Lord has given me, and for my association with my friends and brethren in this work.

President Johnson loves this people and his brethren, and I do, too. I consider him to be the greatest example for me to follow in this life because he is the most Christlike of any man I have ever known. And I love him more than life itself, because of the grand character that he has, even like unto that of the Lord.

I have felt, brothers and sisters, that you would like to hear from him again, if I read the sermon he gave nearly a year ago here. He has been long from the pulpit, doing his work, and laboring under the Lord and Joseph Smith, Jun. I thought you might like to hear some more of those words of encouragement that were mentioned here, and I pray the Lord to direct me as I read it. It was on February 18, 1979.

Once more, I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for the blessings of the Lord upon all of us — especially upon myself, for He has blessed me with wonderful health and strength and with continued power of speech. All this, I am grateful for, and I hope that He can continue to bless all of us that we might continue to come out and be instructed through the mouths of His servants. I trust that He will put words in my mouth this afternoon that we might be instructed from on high,

That was always his great desire in speaking to the saints.
....for I want nothing to go over this pulpit only the words of God to us to help us continue our preparation of repentance of our sins and preparing ourselves for His great work ahead.

Inasmuch as He has promised to all the holy prophets that He would redeem His people -- Israel, we are now living in the consummation of this great and glorious day of the redemption of Israel. Not all of the blood of Israel has been gathered out from among the nations of the earth yet. But the word has gone forth that Joseph Smith the Prophet saw the Father and the Son and was instructed to deliver this great message to the world. But the world at large has so far rejected his testimony. Even those who are being converted today to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints do not believe in the fundamental principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ as they were given to the Prophet Joseph Smith.

This was borne out in one respect by what was read us here today. Those last words spoken in that speech were devastating, and we need to be of the same mind regarding our sins of omission and commission. Remember, brothers and sisters, there are sins of omission. We are required to be valiant and diligent in obeying all of the laws of God given to us by the mouths of His servants.

So, we can rest assured, my dear brothers and sisters, that we are greatly blessed to have these principles taught to us from Sunday to Sunday, from month to month. We have been greatly blessed because we have this Doctrine & Covenants, the Book of Mormon and the Pearl of Great Price to refer to as the word of God to the generation in which we live. For it is the word of God to us, and if we will study it and adhere to its teachings, it will bring us eternal life. For the Lord has said so.

We are living in a day when great tribulation covers the earth, from one end of the earth to the other; all the nations are disturbed in their feelings. For the hour of the reign of unrighteousness is fast coming to an end, at least upon the land of Joseph. We want to remember that North and South America was given to the descendants of Joseph, who was sold into Egypt, for an inheritance. This is the land upon which the Millennium will start. This is the land upon which a cloud will hang over it by day and a pillar of fire by night; and all nations will stand afar off and see what is being done and will say that it is the workings of great men, and "Let us not go up to battle against Zion for the armies of Zion are terrible." The armies of Zion will not be armed with powder and lead, and guns to fire it with. But they will be armed with the breastwork of the Gospel of Jesus Christ; and their banners will be "The Kingdom of God or Nothing." This will put fear in the hearts of men.

Let us remember that the wicked are yet to be swept off from the face of this land. Do we understand the import of it? We had just a little forecast of what is to come now, as it occurred with the sons of Lehi in the meridian of time, when the wicked were swept off the face of the land, sinking in the sea, cities dropping beneath the earth, wind, hailstorms and all things destructive. The more righteous were spared because of their righteousness, some twenty-five hundred of them out of millions. They remembered to keep the words of Christ for one hundred sixty-five years. Then, after turning against them, they were swept off the face of the land, and only a few Lamanites were left, who degenerated and degenerated, until we find the aborigines of this continent when the Lord began to open up the way for the restoration of the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ for the last time.

Let us not wait any longer, my dear brothers and sisters. Let us labor night and day with ourselves. Let us commence to pray night and day for deliverance. Deliverance from what? From the evil powers that possess the hearts of men today. Let us get the Coming Crisis and How to Meet It, and read it.

How many of you have read it carefully? It was designed to guide us for our immediate problems.

Then let us begin to fear and tremble because of our condition; and let us get the Spirit of God and keep it with us, that we might have peace in our minds and be able to walk down the road with our heads up, in the face of all opposition that might come our way. We are going to have to have it.

It has been read to us today by Brother Musser what is going to happen (The White Horse Vision by Joseph Smith), and it is going to happen upon this continent, for the Lord has said, "In my House shall it begin."

That is in Section 112.

This book tells us that Christ told the Nephite people that after the city of the New Jerusalem was built, the great missionary work will begin in carrying the fullness of the everlasting Gospel to the nations of the earth. Why? Because the Gentile nation would not receive the testimony of Joseph Smith the Prophet. The conditions will be such that the rest of the world will sit up and take notice and they dare not persecute further the servants of God when they go through preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ. And all nations will sit up and take notice. And all who will believe will accept the Gospel -- but not all will accept the Gospel. The Lord has said that when Christ comes, every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that Jesus is the Christ. But will they all believe that this is the only way to eternal life? No. Never. But they will come under the protection of the Kingdom of God; and they will seek for knowledge concerning the Kingdom of God and its righteousness. Brigham Young tells us that we will live in despair of ever seeing everybody accept the Gospel of Jesus Christ, although they confess that Jesus is the Christ and that He came as the great deliverer of His people -- Israel. But all who will repent and be baptized by water and have hands laid upon them for the gifts of the Holy Ghost and will keep the commandments of God, will be ushered in and numbered among the children of Israel.

The great blessing given to the great Prophet Abraham is about to be fulfilled in this last dispensation of the fullness of times. The Lord said that He took six days to create the earth and He rested on the seventh.
And He will give His spirits that He has created an opportunity for six thousand years to come to the earth and prepare themselves to be saved during the seventh thousand years. So, all who can be saved will be saved during that period of time.

That is the time of the great work in the temples of our God for the dead -- and the living, of course -- and sealing up all things back to Father Adam.

What a golden opportunity you have, my brothers and sisters, of calling upon God night and day for deliverance -- from this very hour on until deliverance comes. For you heard today that deliverance would finally come after much tribulation. We are not out of the woods yet. The servants of God, the saints of God, those who have purified their lives and are living according to the commandments that the Lord has given us for our eternal salvation, must continue their preparation, must dedicate themselves to the building up and establishing the Kingdom of God in the earth and be ready to be used when that One Mighty and Strong comes forth and makes his call again for a great army to go out and build the city and the temple. And from that place, it will spread to all the House of Israel.

I hope, my brothers and sisters, that we can hasten our preparation. The great charge to the Prophet Joseph Smith was to teach nothing but repentance and preparation to this generation in which we live, this generation of Gentiles; for the Gospel is about to be taken away from them and go into the House of Israel again. And missionaries will be called after the work of redemption begins, and all who will come to Zion will be ushered in and they will be numbered among the House of Israel. We want to remember that there are twelve tribes in that great House and they will have to come to Zion for their blessings. And they will go back to their own lands, the lands of their own inheritances, and they will operate under the direction of each tribe as the Lord has said.

Let us hasten our preparation! Let us not waste anymore time, but let us teach our children correct principles that they might not go down with the wicked. I see a lot of our young people who are not listening to the counsels of their fathers and the Priesthood. And it makes our hearts ache because we know they are the children of our Father. Most of them have come through the new and everlasting covenant; I hope that all who are here today are numbered among that body of people who have been born and raised under the new and everlasting covenant, that we might lay some claim upon the blessings of God.

Let us hasten our preparation, that we might be found worthy of the blessings of eternal life, that the Lord will be justified in protecting us in the day and hour when we are called upon to endure great tribulation. Let us be prepared against that day! He says, "Try me, and see if I won't pour out blessings that you cannot contain." So, let us put Him to the test this once and see what He will do for us. We have had a little touch already of what He can do for us and we don't have to fight -- He says, "If you will keep my commandments, I will fight your battles." Let us have confidence in what He says! We have tried Him out a little and we have found He can do it. Let us get down to business and keep the commandments of God, and let us hasten our preparation because we only have a few years left from what this book tells us. This book will tell you, if you will read it, what the Lord says about the great preparation that we have got to make and what the condition will be if we will keep the commandments of God. So, let us keep the commandments of God -- we who have been into the waters of baptism and had hands laid upon us for the gifts of the Holy Ghost.

I pray the blessings of God to be upon us, each and everyone, that we might hasten our preparation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

He speaks to us again about getting the Spirit of God. If ever a people needed the Spirit of God, we do. And one of the greatest gifts of that Spirit, that holy influence which issues forth from the Father and goes forth to all His dominions, is that we might know and do His will.

I find very great comfort in this that I have read to you several times, and I thought might help us in living with one another in our families, in our efforts to set our families and our houses in order, and in discerning what is going before us. Without going into the setting that was involved, President Young saw Joseph in a dream and said:

Truth 10:221

The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it.

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their hearts open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls;

It is calm and peaceful and joyful. President Johnson has it, all the time that I have known him. He is at peace with God, and he is at peace with his brethren, and with all of you, for he has left us without excuse.

...it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts,

Remember the Lord said to Joseph, after the saints had been driven out of Jackson County, when he inquired the reason for their having been driven out from the land of their inheritance:

D. & C. 101
6. Behold, I say unto you, there were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and strifes, and lustful and covetous desires among them; Lustful and covetous desires.

6. ...therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.

By these things we pollute our homes when they are dedicated, and we had better remember it. If not the City of Zion, why not our homes, where we are supposed to be living the United Order, or the spirit of it, as families?

Truth 10:221 (cont'd)

....it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the Kingdom of God. Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in heaven before they came into the world. That is how they were organized, by all being full of the Holy Ghost. They were one.

So, brothers and sisters, we have a great deal to be thankful for, and there is a terrible responsibility upon us, having gone into the waters of baptism, having hands laid upon us for the gift of the Holy Ghost, receiving the holy Priesthood, and having been sealed in the holy order of matrimony, the Celestial Law. All the tools and the means have been given us. We are under condemnation because we have treated them lightly, and been disobedient. But there is time left for us to repent and come unto God. I would like to read some more of the words of Joseph.

If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil.

There is no neutral ground. There is no room for fence-sitters. The Lord Jesus Christ said, in His teachings upon the Mount, "If you are not for Me, you are against Me." He went on to say, or one of the Prophets did, "The lukewarm, neither hot nor cold, the Lord spews out of His mouth."
Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people. Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

The devil has no power over us only as we permit him. The moment we revolt at anything which comes from God, the devil takes power. We are going towards God or the devil. Revolting at anything which comes from God is a very, very serious thing. I want to close my remarks by reading again from Moroni.

Moroni 7
47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,
It is the Holy Spirit, as I read this.
47. ...and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.
48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

That to me, brothers and sisters, is sanctification, to become like God, and pure as He is pure. Just a little more on that subject is found beautifully in Section 88.

D. & C. 88
63. Draw near unto me and I will draw near unto you; seek me diligently and ye shall find me; ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.
God will be inquired of. Let us remember the admonition of James, "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not, and it shall be given him. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering."

64. Whatsoever ye ask the Father in my name it shall be given unto you, that is expedient for you;
65. And if ye ask anything that is not expedient for you, it shall turn unto your condemnation.
66. Behold, that which you hear is as the voice of one crying in the wilderness -- in the wilderness, because you cannot see him -- my voice, because my voice is Spirit; my Spirit is truth; truth abideth and hath no end; and if it be in you it shall abound.
67. And if your eye be single to my glory, your whole bodies shall be filled with light, and there shall be no darkness in you; and that body which is filled with light comprehendeth all things.
68. Therefore, sanctify yourselves that your minds become single to God, and the days will come that you shall see him; for he will unveil his face unto you, and it shall be in his own time, and in his own way, and according to his own will.
69. Remember the great and last promise which I have made unto you; cast away your idle thoughts and your excess of laughter far from you.

74. And I give unto you, who are the first laborers in this last kingdom, a commandment that you assemble yourselves together, and organize yourselves, and prepare yourselves, and sanctify yourselves; yea, purify your hearts, and cleanse your hands and your feet before me, that I may make you clean;
75. That I may testify unto your Father, and your God, and my God, that you are clean from the blood of this wicked generation; that I may fulfil this promise, this great and last promise, which I have made unto you, when I will.
76. Also, I give unto you a commandment that ye shall continue in prayer and fasting from this time forth.

Brothers and sisters, the great need, then, is to obtain and keep the Spirit of God with us always, that it may be our constant guide and companion. It will lead us into all truth. It will purify us and make us like God, because the attributes of the Holy Spirit are the attributes of God. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son. And except we have it abundantly to enable us to meet every need, every crisis, every problem, we cannot get through. God bless us that we may have the spirit of discernment, that we may be filled with this love, this pure love of Christ, charity; and in all things, seek to perfect ourselves.

I want to assure you, brothers and sisters, none of us can live in opposition to President Johnson, the fountainhead, and have and keep the Spirit of God. We have got to learn to become one with him, that we may be led as a people by the power and the might of our Father and our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, Jun., our head in this dispensation. God bless us to be able to receive these blessings and the Spirit of God abundantly, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Preparation; No Neutral Ground;
Faith, Hope, and Charity

I appreciate the great truths that have been given us here today by these brethren. And I hope and pray that I may be able to add something for our edification and growth and progress in the work of God.

President Johnson has enjoined upon us the great work of preparation, and reminds us constantly that the work of this Priesthood -- and that is the work that he has been doing -- is to preach repentance and preparation. There is an item that was published in the Deseret News in 1873 that I like to read to remind myself how I need to draw near to God and be governed by the Spirit of God. The "sensitive" Spirit is what I like to describe it as.

JD 16:41  Brigham Young  May 18, 1873  Ogden
A declaratory statement is sufficient for those who are prepared to receive the spirit of revelation for themselves, but with the most of the human family we have to reason and explain. A really pure person is very scarce; but when the heart is truly pure, the Lord can write upon it, and the truth is received without argument, or doubt, or disputation.

Such a one is one who has the Spirit of God as his constant companion, so that the Lord can write upon our hearts. And we have the gift of the Spirit of revelation to discern truth and error and obey the truth.

Obedience is the first law of heaven. To be truly obedient we must first sacrifice all things. I think that great truth can be summarized in what Brother Johnson has enjoined upon us: "We must offer in sacrifice, the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit;" and truly, as a result of this, be prepared to receive the word of God and obey it with all our heart, might, mind, and strength -- seeking to glorify God; and to love our neighbor as ourselves.

We are in a great difficulty, brothers and sisters, when we realize the grand truth that the Lord has given us: "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine." The Lord cannot write upon our hearts, or help us, or direct us, unless we are willing to offer continually the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit.

I love these words of Joseph Smith; and I see, as he did then, President Johnson doing the same today.

Joseph the Seer arose in the power of God; reproved and rebuked wickedness before the people, in the name of the Lord God. He wished to say a few words to suit the condition of the general mass, and then said: I shall speak with authority of the Priesthood in the name of the Lord God, which shall prove a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death.

We are at the crossroads of salvation, laying hold upon it or losing it, when we contemplate these words.

Notwithstanding this congregation profess to be Saints, yet I stand in the midst of all kinds of characters and classes of men. If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil.

There is no neutral ground. There is no standing still, or marking time, if you please, although it seems like that has been the case with so many. Looking upon this people as a whole, President Johnson said not too long ago that we have not progressed any further in thirty years than we were back then. So, what a job to get a prepared people. But the Lord has a way of getting a united people, and He is going to do it. Joseph said:

Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.

And then in his great humility:

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

That was said in 1842. I think, brothers and sisters, we need to begin at the beginning, and this is it. Faith, of course, is the first great and grand principle of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the plan of salvation -- faith in God, in His Son Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost. Next is repentance, finding ourselves in need of overcoming. This is the great work we have to do, is to overcome death, hell, and the devil. After having spoken of the grand principle of faith, Moroni, in chapter 7 said:

Moroni 7

33. And Christ hath said: If ye will have faith in me ye shall have power to do whatsoever thing is expedient in me.
34. And he hath said: Repent all ye ends of the earth, and come unto me, and be baptized in my name, and have faith in me, that ye may be saved.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; This is what I want to dwell on, brothers and sisters. I need it for myself, above all.
39. ...for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope? And Brother Johnson preaches constantly the Gospel of encouragement, and hope, and faith, and repentance.

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.
42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

President Johnson, to me, exemplifies this grand attribute of God, his meekness and lowliness of heart, a wonderful example to us all, brothers and sisters. And yet he has, by reason of his great faith, and his submission to God, power in the Priesthood to govern and direct this people. But it is because of his meekness before God.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

We ought to memorize these verses, brothers and sisters. I think they would be the greatest help, from any source that we have, to overcome and to become like God, being filled with this love, this pure love of Christ, which to me is the Holy Spirit. Here is what charity is and what it is not:

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, The pure in heart, in other words.

45. ...and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

The saints in Missouri must not have had this charity, or they would not have been driven out. On the contrary, He gives us the reasons for their having been driven out from the land of their inheritance. There were jarrings, and strifes, and contentions, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires. All these things are covered here, what we should not do and what we should. But then He adds the terrible judgment: "By these things they polluted their inheritances." And I say, and feel with all my heart, that these conditions that the Lord enumerates, being in our homes and families, are what are keeping us from enjoying greater blessings and going forth in greater progress. They are what keep us from setting in order our houses, brethren. And they actually pollute our dedicated homes, if you please. If the saints polluted their inheritances in Zion, won't they pollute our homes, where Zion is supposed to be, in our hearts? So I feel to accentuate the positive. What shall we do to be saved? What must we do to be saved?

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever;
The Holy Spirit.

47. ...and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
That is faith in action, the exertion of the mind and the heart.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is;

That is exaltation.

48. ...that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

We are enjoined to become perfect, as He, God, is perfect, and Jesus Christ whom He has sent. We are not without examples, brothers and sisters, in this day and time and dispensation, starting with Joseph Smith, Jun., and the Lord's anointed and keyholder from him down to the present. We are left without excuse. I wonder if we realize this.

So, let us get this great work done of getting and keeping the Spirit of God, that it may be our constant companion. We have wonderful promises in Section 121:

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood,

Brethren,

41. ...only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

Pure love.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

If we could govern our children this way, brothers and sisters, we would draw them after Christ; and brethren, governing our wives, our families.

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
How does this come about? By our knowing that our course is pleasing to Him. When we have done as He has commanded, then we can call upon Him in perfect faith, and He will be bound to answer us and give it to us in righteousness.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

Without the Spirit of God and this power of the Priesthood, which is the Spirit of God, we cannot do these things.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

God help us to do these things, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Charity;
Obtain the Spirit of God Through Humility

The greatest thing we have in life, the greatest gift next to life itself, brothers and sisters, is the Holy Ghost, the gift of the Holy Ghost. And I read you again from Moroni:

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

By the power of the Holy Ghost,

44. ...he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.
45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all.

Charity is another word, to me, for the Holy Ghost.

46. ...for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,

That is the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of it.

47. ...and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

Filled with it.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

I read a wonderful sermon of Heber C. Kimball. He said, "The more of the Holy Ghost one has, the more composed is he." It is calm and serene. So says President Johnson. So say I. We cannot obtain the Holy Ghost except we be meek and lowly of heart, and come to God with a broken heart and a contrite spirit, that sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit, which I pray we may have, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Arvilla Harris Nielsen
At the Larkin Mortuary

I feel very grateful and honored to be a part of this sacred service, in memory of a faithful wife and mother. I am grateful for the great cause that brings us together on these occasions -- the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the Priesthood of God. And I am grateful for the life of this dear sister, Sister Arvilla Nielsen. I pray for the Spirit of God to actuate me in my remarks here this day.

The thing that runs through my mind on occasions like this is the grand truth: "By their fruits ye shall know them," by the fruits of our loins, as we bring forth children under the holy Celestial Law. Upon us rests the terrible responsibility of raising our children up in light and truth. Brigham Young said on several occasions in his sermons that the primary responsibility of raising up children rests upon the mother. She has them in their tender years, their impressionable years when they may be directed, hopefully always by the Spirit of God.

I have always loved this poem, "The Teacher's Prayer". A mother is a teacher, as well as nurturing, and loving, and sustaining her children.

The Teacher's Prayer

Lord, who am I to teach the way
To little children day by day.
So prone myself, to go astray?
I teach them knowledge, but I know
How faint the flicker and how low
The candles of my knowledge glow.
I teach them power to will and do --
But only now I learn anew,
My own great weakness through and through.
I teach them love for all mankind;
And all God's creatures, but I find
My love comes lagging still behind.
Lord, if their guide I still must be,
O let the little children see,
The teacher leaning hard on Thee.

So, I feel very grateful on this occasion to see how this dear lady has striven with her might to teach her children righteousness and truth and the way of life, and then turn the children to the father to finish them off, along with her, for the great work and mission in life, according as the Lord shall will.

I am constrained to speak of principle here today, but I am sure I know this dear lady by the fruits, by the fruits of the Spirit. The Lord gave the marvelous revelation to Joseph Smith, Jun., on the Holy Spirit, and dwelt considerably on the subjects of light and truth, which forsake that evil one.

D.& C. 93

38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.
40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

There is the great command given by the Lord to fathers and mothers. Then the Lord was constrained to call upon His servants Joseph Smith, Jun., Frederick G. Williams, Sidney Rigdon. And, regarding Joseph Smith, Jun.:

47. And now, verily I say unto Joseph Smith, Jun. -- You have not kept the commandments, and must needs stand rebuked before the Lord.

The Prophet of God admitted his weaknesses, and the need to be more perfect in obedience.

48. Your family must needs repent and forsake some things, and give more earnest heed unto your sayings, or be removed out of their place.
49. What I say unto one I say unto all; pray always lest that wicked one have power in you and remove you out of your place.

So this injunction is upon all -- priest and people. I am grateful to have been associated with Elroy Nielsen and some of his children. And as I say, "By their fruits ye shall know them." I find some very choice fruit coming forth from this dear lady and her righteous husband, who desires to serve God and keep all of His commandments, and is striving with his might to abide the holy Celestial Law.

This good woman chose the better part. It is a wonderful thing to say of a woman, as is said of one of the wives of Jesus Christ. She chose the better part, and desired in righteousness to do her part.

Now we engage in these services, brothers and sisters, I think, to bring to our attention correct principles and holy laws of God; to enable us to follow in the footsteps of the righteous who have gone on. We have the grand example of the Lord Jesus Christ, and of Joseph Smith, Jun., in this dispensation of time. I now desire to ask the Lord to bless the living, those who remain, that they may follow in the footsteps of their righteous mother, and their living father, to accomplish the Lord's will and purposes concerning them; and pray the Lord to bless us all, that we may serve God and keep His commandments, and do His will in all things, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I desire with the help of the Lord, to read the word of the Lord to us, and of Joseph. The first few verses of Section 132:

D. & C. 132

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord unto you my servant Joseph, that inasmuch as you have inquired of my hand to know and understand wherein I, the Lord, justified my servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as also Moses, David and Solomon, my servants, as touching the principle and doctrine of their having many wives and concubines --

2. Behold, and lo, I am the Lord thy God, and will answer thee as touching this matter.

3. Therefore, prepare thy heart to receive and obey the instructions which I am about to give unto you; for all those who have this law revealed unto them must obey the same.

4. For behold, I reveal unto you a new and an everlasting covenant; and if ye abide not that covenant, then are ye damned; for no one can reject this covenant and be permitted to enter into my glory.

5. For all who will have a blessing at my hands shall abide the law which was appointed for that blessing, and the conditions thereof, as were instituted from before the foundation of the world.

6. And as pertaining to the new and everlasting covenant, it was instituted for the fulness of my glory; and he that receiveth a fulness thereof must and shall abide the law, or he shall be damned, saith the Lord God.

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days,
Over the whole dispensation.

7. ...and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

8. Behold, mine house is a house of order, saith the Lord God, and not a house of confusion.

That was given July 12, 1843. On October 5, 1843, four months later, Joseph wrote in his journal, and that becomes a part of our history.

In the afternoon, rode to the prairie to show some of the brethren some land. Evening, at home, and walked up and down the streets with my scribe. Gave instructions to try those persons who were preaching, teaching, or practicing the doctrine of plurality of wives: for, according to the law, I hold the keys of this power in the last days; for there is never but one on earth at a time on whom the power and its keys are conferred; and I have constantly said no man shall have but one wife at a time, unless the Lord directs otherwise.

We have some revelations given to John Taylor, June 25th and 26th, in which John asked the Lord, "Is the law of Celestial Marriage a law given to this nation or to the world?" And in that answer, he repeats verse 7. It is further written speaking of Celestial Marriage:

D.& C. 132

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

And he adds, "This law is a Celestial Law and pertains to the Celestial Kingdom." I ran across something from Heber C. Kimball regarding this matter, as to entering into this holy law.

JD 1:207  Heber C. Kimball  October 8, 1852  SLC

As President Young has said, this is the household of faith, this is his house, and this is his people, and he is our leader, our Governor, he is our Prophet, and he is our Priest. As I have said in other places and in other meetings, when speaking to the Elders, when they are sent from this place, they are sent forth by the shepherd that God has stationed here; he is the head shepherd that is visible on earth, under the direction of Joseph, and he sends forth the Elders as shepherds to gather up the lost sheep of the house of Israel, and bring them home to put them into the fold. I have said that you have no business to make a selection of any of these sheep, or to make a choice of them, or make any covenant with them, until they are brought home and placed in the fold, and then if you want a sheep or two, ask the shepherd for them, and if you choose a sheep without taking this course you will get your fingers burnt. Why? Because they are his sheep -- mark it. How would you like it, were I to go and take one of your sheep without permission, would you ever think of such a thing? One is just as right as the other. You will learn these things by and by. I would rather have my head laid upon a block, and severed from my shoulders, than ever make a proposal to any woman living upon the earth and marry her, unless I had permission from the chief shepherd. That tells it. I do not know that you can all understand me, but those who have their eyes open understand it. I only hint at these things, that you may be careful of the course you take.

That is the position of Leroy Sunderland Johnson today, the same as Brigham in that day. We have a beautiful statement of George Q. Cannon regarding his relationship to Brigham Young in his day:

To describe my feelings upon the death of this man of God, whom I loved so much, and who had always treated me with such kindness and affection is impossible...

I have endeavored to appreciate these manifestations of affection and love and now that he has gone I feel exceedingly thankful that I had these to the last -- that nothing occurred to alienate his feelings from me. On my part, he was in my eyes as perfect a man as I ever knew. I never desired... to see his faults; I closed my eyes to them.
This is how Brigham felt toward Joseph Smith.

To me he was a Prophet of God, the head of the dispensation on the earth, holding the keys under the Prophet Joseph, and in my mind there clustered about him, holding this position, everything holy and sacred and to be revered.

Some, I am satisfied, now as I write this in Washington, Jan. 17, 1878, have thought that I carried this feeling too far; but I know this, that in revering him as the Prophet of the Lord, in obeying him, in being governed by his counsel, in bearing testimony to his teachings and his character I have been blessed of the Lord. Peace has been in my heart, light has rested upon me, and the Lord has borne witness to me that my course was pleasing to him.

Now that Brother Brigham has gone, I rejoice in this. I never criticized or found fault with his conduct, his counsel or his teachings at any time, in my heart, much less in my words or actions. This is a pleasure to me now. The thought that ever was with me was: If I criticize or find fault with or judge Brother Brigham, how far shall I go; if I commence, where shall I stop? I dared not to trust myself in such a course. I know that apostasy frequently resulted from the indulgence of the spirit of criticizing and faultfinding. Others, of greater strength, wisdom, and experience than myself, might do many things and escape evil consequences which I dare not do.

Some of the brethren, as I have learned since the death of President Brigham Young, did have feelings concerning his course. They did not approve of it, and felt oppressed, and yet they dare not exhibit their feelings to him, he ruled with so strong and stiff a hand, and they felt that it would be of no use. In a few words, the feeling seems to be that he transcended the bounds of the authority which he legitimately held. I have been greatly surprised to find so much dissatisfaction in such quarters. It is felt that the funds of the Church have been used with a freedom not warranted by the authority which he held, and some even feel that in the promulgation of doctrine he took liberties beyond those to which he was legitimately entitled. I shall have more to say upon these points hereafter.

And I don't know but what I ought to read what Brigham felt regarding
It is folly in the extreme for persons to say that they love God, when they do not love their brethren; and it is of no use for them to say that they have confidence in God, when they have none in righteous men, for they do not know anything about God. It is reasonable for the Elders of Israel to be very sanguine and strenuous on this point. And were I to be asked whether I have any experience in this matter, I can tell the people that once in my life I felt a want of confidence in brother Joseph Smith, soon after I became acquainted with him. It was not concerning religious matters -- it was not about his revelations -- but it was in relation to his financiering -- to his managing the temporal affairs which he undertook. A feeling came over me that Joseph was not right in his financial management, though I presume the feeling did not last sixty seconds, and perhaps not thirty. But that feeling came on me once and once only, from the time I first knew him to the day of his death. It gave me sorrow of heart, and I clearly saw and understood, by the spirit of revelation manifested to me, that if I was to harbor a thought in my heart that Joseph could be wrong in anything, I would begin to lose confidence in him, and that feeling would grow from step to step, and from one degree to another, until at last I would have the same lack of confidence in his being the mouthpiece for the Almighty, and I would be left, as brother Hooper observed, upon the brink of the precipice, ready to plunge into what we may call the gulf of infidelity, ready to believe neither in God nor His servants, and to say that there is no God, or, if there is, we do not know anything about Him; that we are here, and by and bye shall go from here, and that is all we shall know. Such persons are like those to whom the Apostle calls "As natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed." Though I admitted in my feelings and knew all the time that Joseph was a human being and subject to err, still it was none of my business to look after his faults.

I repented of my unbelief, and that too, very suddenly; I repented about as quickly as I committed the error. It was not for me to question whether Joseph was dictated by the Lord at all times and under all circumstances or not. I never had the feeling for one moment, to believe that any man or set of men or beings upon the face of the whole earth had anything to do with him, for he was superior to them all, and held the keys of salvation.
over them. Had I not thoroughly understood this and believed it, I much doubt whether I should ever have embraced what is called "Mormonism." He was called of God; God dictated him, and if He had a mind to leave him to himself and let him commit an error, that was no business of mine. And it was not for me to question it, if the Lord was disposed to let Joseph lead the people astray, for He had called him and instructed him to gather Israel and restore the Priesthood and kingdom to them.

It was not my prerogative to call him in question with regard to any act of his life. He was God's servant, and not mine. He did not belong to the people but to the Lord, and was doing the work of the Lord, and if He should suffer him to lead the people astray, it would be because they ought to be led astray. If He should suffer them to be chastised, and some of them destroyed, it would be because they deserved it, or to accomplish some righteous purpose. That was my faith, and it is my faith still.

We are given to understand that the Lord's anointed would not be permitted to lead the people astray, because He would take him first, as in Section 43. Joseph F. Smith said this, as you will find it on page 192 of volume 24 of the Journal of Discourses. That describes it exactly. God bless us, brothers and sisters, and help us to learn and know the truth, that it will indeed make us free and keep us on the right road, to eternal life, under the direction of our head, our Prophet and our leader, President Leroy Sunderland Johnson, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Charity;
Become Like God Through Being Filled With the Holy Spirit

I am grateful, my dear brothers and sisters, to be here with you today enjoying health and strength, and acknowledge the hand of God in all of my affairs. The blessings that have been poured out upon me, I feel to acknowledge before you to Him. I am grateful for my family. I am glad to hear this admonition of Brother Wall. That applies to me and mine.

I ask the Lord to be with me as I seek to get a message over to you here today which the Lord wants us to have. And that is again: Get and keep the Holy Spirit of God. That is the key to all of the things that have been said here today. It cannot be realized without that great and glorious gift which God has vouchsafed to us. I cannot help coming to the thing that I have stressed so much, a message from Moroni which I think helps us to understand how to do this. It is obtained through faith, and hope, and charity, the pure love of Christ.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.
45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --
47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.
48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is faith. The exertion of the mind and the energy of the heart is how we work by faith, as the Prophet tells us in the Lectures on Faith. All things righteous are possible through faith.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
I dare say, dear brothers and sisters, to be filled with this love is to be filled with the Holy Spirit of God. That is what we are talking about.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

We become the sons of God by becoming full of the Holy Ghost, having a fullness of it. I want to prove it by the Lectures on Faith, if it needs any proof -- the Fifth Lecture. Let us first consider the attributes of God. They are knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, truth, and love. God is love. These attributes are acquired by having and keeping the Holy Spirit of God, for they are the attributes of that Spirit, which centers in God and issues forth from Himself. The Holy Spirit of God is the power of the holy Priesthood. Through faith all things were done and accomplished by God to bring Him where He is now. Let us talk about the Godhead in its fullness.

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who would believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins.

Now note these:

2. ...And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, having overcome; notice that.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness — filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind,

We are talking about the saints.

2. ...being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ;

That which I have borne down on rather strongly of late.

3. ...by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Thus, through the Spirit we become like Him, or Them.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father,
We cannot become one people, families cannot be one, and we cannot please God except we seek to become like Him, through the Spirit; which I pray we may obtain to guide us and direct us, and that it may be our constant guide and companion, that we may obtain that glorious thing spoken of in Section 121. Knowing that the Holy Spirit is the power of the Priesthood, let us read this:

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;
The same characteristic spoken of in Moroni.
42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --
43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;
Even that must be done by the Holy Ghost, and is most effective when done so. Otherwise, it is the spirit of the devil.
43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
I recommend this treatment by parents with their children and with each other, and that the saints be so with each other in all of their communication and associations.
44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.
45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, Particularly to the household of faith.
45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly;
Pure in heart. We cannot have the Holy Ghost except we be pure in heart.
45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.
46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth;
Even like unto God.

46. ...and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Prophecies of the Judgments of God

I desire, above all things, to speak of the truths of heaven. President Johnson has continually, through the years, spoken of how we are to preach repentance and preparation, and preparing against the day of visitation. I am sure that he had in mind, when he said the day of visitation, the judgments of God, and the preparation for the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, that great visitation when He shall come as King of kings and Lord of lords, to preside over the great Millennium.

Jesus was talking to his Apostles, and they asked Him what were the signs of His coming. This is how He answered them; and I feel that it is timely for us to keep these things in mind, brothers and sisters:

D.& C. 45

24. And this I have told you concerning Jerusalem; and when that day shall come, shall a remnant be scattered among all nations;
25. But they shall be gathered again; but they shall remain until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.
26. And in that day shall be heard of wars and rumors of wars, and the whole earth shall be in commotion, and men's hearts shall fail them, and they shall say that Christ delayeth his coming until the end of the earth.
27. And the love of men shall wax cold, and iniquity shall abound.
28. And when the times of the Gentiles is come in, a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness, and it shall be the fulness of my gospel;
29. But they receive it not; for they perceive not the light, and they turn their hearts from me because of the precepts of men.
30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

And President Johnson has told us that this has been accomplished.
31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.
32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, That is what we should be preparing.
32. ...and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.
33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.
34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.
35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.
36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you --
37. Ye look and behold the figtrees, and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;
38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.
39. And it shall come to pass that he that feareth me shall be looking forth for the great day of the Lord to come, even for the signs of the coming of the Son of Man.
40. And they shall see signs and wonders, for they shall be shown forth in the heavens above, and in the earth beneath.
41. And they shall behold blood, and fire, and vapors of smoke.
42. And before the day of the Lord shall come, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon be turned into blood, and the stars fall from heaven.
43. And the remnant shall be gathered unto this place;
44. And then they shall look for me, and, behold, I will come; and they shall see me in the clouds of heaven, clothed with power and great glory; with all the holy angels; and he that watches not for me shall be cut off.
45. But before the arm of the Lord shall fall, an angel shall sound his trump, and the saints that have slept shall come forth to meet me in the cloud.

46. Wherefore, if ye have slept in peace blessed are you; for as you now behold me and know that I am, even so shall ye come unto me and your souls shall live, and your redemption shall be perfected; and the saints shall come forth from the four quarters of the earth.

47. Then shall the arm of the Lord fall upon the nations.

48. And then shall the Lord set his foot upon this mount, and it shall cleave in twain, and the earth shall tremble, and reel to and fro, and the heavens also shall shake.

49. And the Lord shall utter his voice, and all the ends of the earth shall hear it; and the nations of the earth shall mourn, and they that have laughed shall see their folly.

50. And calamity shall cover the mocker, and the scorners shall be consumed; and they that have watched for iniquity shall be hewn down and cast into the fire.

51. And then shall the Jews look upon me and say: What are these wounds in thine hands and in thy feet?

52. Then shall they know that I am the Lord; for I will say unto them: These wounds are the wounds with which I was wounded in the house of my friends. I am he who was lifted up. I am Jesus that was crucified. I am the Son of God.

53. And then shall they weep because of their iniquities; then shall they lament because they persecuted their king.

54. And then shall the heathen nations be redeemed, and they that knew no law shall have part in the first resurrection; and it shall be tolerable for them.

55. And Satan shall be bound, that he shall have no place in the hearts of the children of men.

56. And at that day, when I shall come in my glory, shall the parable be fulfilled which I spake concerning the ten virgins.

57. For they that are wise and have received the truth, and have taken the Holy Spirit for their guide, and have not been deceived -- verily I say unto you, they shall not be hewn down and cast into the fire, but shall abide the day.

58. And the earth shall be given unto them for an inheritance; and they shall multiply and wax strong, and their children shall grow up without sin unto salvation.

59. For the Lord shall be in their midst, and his glory shall be upon them, and he will be their king and their lawgiver.

60. And now, behold, I say unto you, it shall not be given unto you to know any further concerning this chapter, until the New Testament be translated, and in it all these things shall be made known;

He was translating the scriptures.

61. Wherefore I give unto you that ye may now translate it, that ye may be prepared for the things to come.

62. For verily I say unto you, that great things await you;

63. Ye hear of wars in foreign lands; but, behold, I say unto you, they are nigh, even at your doors, and not many years hence ye shall hear of wars in your own lands.

64. Wherefore I, the Lord, have said, gather ye out from the eastern lands, assemble ye yourselves together ye elders of my church; go ye forth into the western countries, call upon the inhabitants to repent, and inasmuch as they do repent, build up churches unto me.

65. And with one heart and with one mind, gather up your riches that ye may purchase an inheritance which shall hereafter be appointed unto you.

They were being prepared to go to Zion.

66. And it shall be called the New Jerusalem, a land of peace, a city of refuge, a place of safety for the saints of the Most High God;

67. And the glory of the Lord shall be there, and the terror of the Lord also shall be there, insomuch that the wicked will not come unto it, and it shall be called Zion.

68. And it shall come to pass among the wicked, that every man that will not take his sword against his neighbor must needs flee unto Zion for safety.

69. And there shall be gathered unto it out of every nation under heaven; and it shall be the only people that shall not be at war one with another.

70. And it shall be said among the wicked: Let us not go up to battle against Zion, for the inhabitants of Zion are terrible; wherefore we cannot stand.

71. And it shall come to pass that the righteous shall be gathered out from among all nations, and shall come to Zion, singing with songs of everlasting joy.

72. And now I say unto you, keep these things from going abroad unto the world until it is expedient in me, that ye may accomplish this work in the eyes of the people, and in the eyes of your enemies, that they may not know your works until ye have accomplished the thing which I have commanded you;

73. That when they shall know it, that they may consider these things.

74. For when the Lord shall appear he shall be terrible unto them, that fear may seize upon them, and they shall stand afar off and tremble.

75. And all nations shall be afraid because of the terror of the Lord, and the power of his might. Even so. Amen.

God help us and bless us that we may be prepared against this day of visitation, when the wicked shall be swept off from the face of this land. That is what is in store, for Zion shall be redeemed. And I pray God that we may stand behind our head, our Moses, our Enoch, in preparing and building up a people and preparing to go to Zion to redeem it, I ask in Jesus' name, amen.

Only the Prophet Can Teach New Doctrine

I appreciate the truths we have heard here, brothers and sisters, and I want to just leave you something from John Taylor, writing in the Millennial Star in his day.

John Taylor  Millennial Star 40:236

The nature of the work of the Lord, the spirit and genius of his Church, founded upon the rock of his revealed word, compels us to admonish the brethren to have great care, lest in giving expression to their private opinions they advance theories opposed to the revealed word and will of the Lord. In this is no man justified. No man is authorized to teach to the Church new or advanced doctrines except the Presidency thereof. Light comes from the head, and to that point must the members of the Church look for knowledge and wisdom and doctrine and principle. Did every man holding a portion of the Priesthood have the right to advance doctrines for the acceptance of the Church, it would bring chaos, our name would be Babylon, and it could no longer be said that "God's house is a house of Order;" we should be like the rest of the world, one man's opinion would be as good as that of another; there would be no rallying point, no recognized authority, no head; on the contrary we should be weak indeed. Then let us not stray from well defined landmarks. If, in the providence of God, and the growth, increase and development of his kingdom, we need further light and intelligence on doctrine, it will be given to us, and it will come through the proper and duly appointed authority.

God help us to understand this, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Get and Keep the Spirit of God;
Judge by the Spirit

I appreciate the truths that have been outlined to us here today, and I trust and pray that we will apply them into our lives, and to those who lead us.

I desire to call upon us today, you and me, to get and keep the Spirit of God, which Joseph Smith so strongly admonished Brigham Young to do, in a dream in instructing the saints. I would like to couch my remarks entirely by the word of God, as given in the Book of Moroni, the seventh chapter. After having spoken of the great principles of faith and hope, Moroni wrote thus:

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

We cannot get the Spirit of God save we be meek and lowly in heart. There must be no pride, no self-righteousness; but we must be as the Savior was, and as Joseph Smith was, meek and lowly in heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing;

And going forward a little:

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

As I have often said, this grand attribute and character of God, called "charity", the pure love of Christ, is, to me, the Spirit of God, the Holy Ghost, which has all of the attributes of God, being the mind of the Father and the Son. All of these things mentioned here are involved.

44. ...for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth.

Charity or love. God is love, and one possessed of the Holy Ghost. He is in possession of that glorious attribute of God.

46. ...Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is faith in action.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;

That is the way to become the sons of God.

48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

I find great comfort and strength in the final verses of Section 121 along this line, which gives us a promise of eternal life in the presence of God, and a dominion under Him.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness,

There is meekness again.

41. ...and by love unfeigned;

True love, which is not feigned.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

That is how to govern by the Priesthood, brethren. There can be no beatings of children and of wives, and nothing of the sort. But if we reprove and correct by the Holy Ghost, then we afterwards show forth love toward him whom we have reproved.

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men,

Charity.

45. ...and to the household of faith,

Those of our brothers and sisters in our families, more especially.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly;

That there be clean hands and pure hearts, as President Johnson has so often counseled us and directed us. Clean up your minds and be pure in heart.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;

Why? Because our course is pleasing to Him; and coming to know this, we have power with God, in meekness and lowliness of heart, to do His will and become perfect.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

So if we have this Holy Ghost to be our constant companion, being the mind of the Father and the Son, we become one with Him, and only by that means. And a sufficient group of saints of the Most High God, so united, we will be able to redeem Zion.

So, brothers and sisters, as we go through these vicissitudes, these trials and tribulations and siftings, as we are spoken of going through now, let us be sure we have the Spirit of God, and then make our final judgment, which we have a right to do, to judge by the Spirit and the fruits of the Spirit, or the lack of the Spirit of God, that we may know which way to go. God bless us that we may find the true way unto eternal life, in His presence, and follow our head, President Leroy S. Johnson, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Holy Spirit

I have had come to my attention, brothers and sisters, a very choice dissertation on the Holy Spirit of God, which is probably one of the most favorite subjects of the Gospel of Jesus Christ that I can contemplate. As we listen to this, which comes from the Millennial Star, I think we will understand my feelings regarding this great subject. Let us pray for that Spirit to be with me as I read these things:

Henry W. Naisbitt (Assistant Editor) Millennial Star 40:232

This is an absorbing and fruitful theme for the consideration of the Latter-day Saints -- to understand its nature and character, its necessity and use, its office and power, its workings and effects, its claims and blessings, is worthy of intense and life long study; to be in harmony with it, to be subject to its control, to enjoy its sweet companionship is one of the highest and greatest privileges pertaining to human experience; it is the messenger of the Almighty, it is the power of God, it is the promised Comforter; it is the great medium by which truth is communicated, the one teacher, the sure authority; it never prevaricates, never misleads, never betrays; it is the friend of progress, the power of increase, the secret of life; it comprehends all things, yet by man is not fully comprehended; it is a guide in very small matters, yet it "searcheth all things, even the deep things of God;" it is the minister of the Father, the promise of the Son, the benefactor of man; in all ages the same great agent, in all lands the same supreme intelligence, and in all conditions "a very present help;" it is the light, the life, of both eternity and time; Omniscient, Omniscient, and Infinite, "Whither shall I go from thy spirit? Whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven thou art there; if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there; if I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea, even there shall thy hand lead me, and my right hand shall hold me.

"This spirit is the great fountain of intelligence, "it lighteth every man that cometh into the world; "by it he can find the word of the Lord,

Then quoting from Section 84:
"The word of the Lord is truth, and whatsoever is truth is light, and whatsoever is light is Spirit, even the Spirit of Jesus Christ, and the Spirit giveth light to every man that cometh into the world; and the Spirit enlighteneth every man throughout the world who hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit, and every one who hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit cometh unto God, even the Father." (Doc.& Cov. sec. iv, 7.) This is in beautiful harmony with the Scriptures which sayeth, "There is a measure of the Spirit given to every man to profit withal," and explains how it is that when the Gentiles "which have not the law do by nature the things contained in the law, these having not the law are a law unto themselves," for "in every nation he that feareth God and worketh righteousness is accepted of God."

This is a result of obedience to that general diffusion of the Spirit by which the Almighty, while "in times past he suffered all nations to walk in their own ways, nevertheless he left not himself without a witness in that he did good." But there is a special sense in which to his own covenant people he has given ministrations of the Spirit; it was the inspiration of Joseph in Egypt, of Moses, and of the first Seventy whom he ordained; Joshua, Elijah and Elisha, Balaam, Azariah and Amasai, Samuel and David and Job, and the Prophets and Seers of old were made glad by the power and Spirit from on high; but under the Gospel dispensation, its manifestations were of a more vitalizing and decided character, its rich outpourings seems to have been curtailed under the law and the Prophets, being reserved as the crowning glory and force of the Messianic dispensation, and the one great gift and qualification under the diviner rule of the Gospel; this seems to give the glow and the luster of the heavens to the Savior, and when we are told that to him was given the Spirit "without measure," we see how his intelligence, how his power, how his general character towering high above his brethren and even before the Gentiles, led one to exclaim, "Verily this man was the Son of God;" it was the secret of his "disputing with the doctors," and of the comment, "Surely never a man spake like this man," and the question, "Whence had this man this wisdom?" for "no man was able to answer him a word!"

The full endowment and power of this Spirit was not known to the disciples during the life of the Savior, although its influence was felt by them, although their Master had breathed upon them and said, "Receive ye the Holy Ghost," although by it they had after his resurrection been compelled to say, "Did not our hearts burn within us while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures?" Yet this was not the full realization of the promised "Comforter," of that "baptism" to which, no doubt, they looked forward with intense anxiety; "Ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence;" "ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come, and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in Judea, and Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth!" The ever memorable day of Pentecost stands out in grand relief in the history of apostolic and religious life -- here the Prophets and the promise of the Messiah met a grand fulfillment, and from thence in all directions radiated perpetual testimony to the truth and power of the risen Savior, and testimony also to that higher order of his Gospel which abolished for ever the authority of "the law of carnal commandments."

The receiving of this Spirit by the primitive Apostles, disciples, and Church, and its continued and abiding transmission by the ordinance of "the laying on of hands," is familiar to every reader of the sacred history - it was to them a revealer and dispenser of gifts and blessings; "The Holy Ghost whom the Father will send in my name, shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you;" "The Spirit of truth will guide you into all truth....and show you things to come;" thus was to be fulfilled the saying, "the testimony of Jesus is the Spirit of prophecy."

This Spirit possesses a wonderful grasp in regard to the necessities of man, and also a wonderful ability of adaptation to those necessities, "the Spirit helpeth our infirmities;" and Paul experimentally remarks, "Now concerning Spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant, there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit....to one is given by the word of wisdom, to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit, to another faith by the same Spirit, to another the gift of healing by the same Spirit, to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another discerning of Spirits, to another kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues; but all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will;" and we read that "the fruits of the Spirit" are "love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance;" and that he who "soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting." Indeed, to quote and dilate upon the office, work, and results of the Spirit, is to give the life of the obedient and the faithful in all things.

There is something wonderful, heavenly, Godlike, in a system and order which comprehends and secures these grand results, and an ordinance by which this is realized should be cherished as among the most precious things of the Gospel. The authority which can thus confer blessings is an authority to be desired. "Joshua was full of the Spirit of wisdom, for Moses had laid his hands upon him." (Deut. xxxix 9.) They of Samaria received the Holy Ghost by the laying on of the hands of Peter and John. Paul laid his hands upon the baptized of Ephesus, when the Holy Ghost came upon them, and they spake with tongues and prophesied; laying on of hands was one of the principles of the doctrine of Christ (Heb. vi, 1, 2), and when men repudiate this they become possessed of other spirits, they depart "from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits," whereas the old believers were exhorted not to "believe every spirit," but to "try the spirits whether they be of God."
And this is what Joseph Smith exhorted us to do.

"With the apostacy this Spirit was grieved. "My Spirit shall not always strive with man" saith the Lord, but "in the dispensation of the fullness of times" God will "gather together all things in one which are in Christ, both which are in heaven and which are on earth;" ordinances, endowments, and authorities which in the ages of the past may have been rejected of men, and so returned to the heavens; ordinances, principles, truths which may have remained among men, isolated, probably, or in connection with all sects, parties, and organizations of men, being component and essential particles of the Gospel, will again be gathered together; the restoration of "the fullness of the Gospel" will include the whole; every key, power, ordinance, spiritual gift and doctrine, shall find again its proper place and sphere, and by these will man once more be "thoroughly furnished unto every good word and work;" the manifestation of the Spirit, the organization of the Church, the power of revelation, will all aid in bringing the believers to "the unity of the faith and to the stature of men in Christ;" we shall no more be "tossed about by every wind of doctrine, whereby men lay in wait to deceive," for the fruits of the Spirit is in all things goodness, righteousness and truth."

Among those who have participated in this restoration, can any say the promises are unfulfilled? Has not the Spirit been to us light, intelligence, wisdom? Have not the eyes of our understanding been opened, has not our reason been informed, our judgment corrected, our souls enlarged? Have we not in ignorance received wisdom, in weakness strength, in darkness light? Have we not had peace in a world of strife, comfort in seasons of sorrow, quiet in times of perplexity? Have we not seen and been participators in all the gifts which marked the Apostolic times? Are we not witnesses that God lives, that Jesus was and is "the author of eternal salvation to all them that obey him?" Can we not say that "the Gospel came to us not in word only, but in power and demonstration of the Holy Ghost?" Do we not know that "the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy?" Have we not touched, tasted, and handled of the "good words of eternal life?" Have we not proved the promises, the prophecies, and the Priesthood? All this we testify, and we can say as John said, "Hereby know we the Spirit of truth," "Hereby know we that we dwell in Him and He in us, because He hath given us His Spirit." "It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth."

Thousands and tens of thousands can testify to the power of this Spirit, given according to promise after faith, repentance, and baptism; by it they know that Joseph Smith was called and sent of God; this is the official sanction -- the heaven-given testimony, which none can "gainsay or resist:" it is testimony also to the official character of his successors -- proof that the authority of the Holy Priesthood is perpetuated in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. God hath made us also "able ministers of the Spirit," even the "Holy Spirit of God!"

So we can see how all-important this great thing is and why Joseph, in a dream to Brigham Young, kept repeating for him to tell the saints, "Tell the brethren to get the Spirit of God and keep it." And we must judge of ourselves by a possession of this Spirit, light from error, light from darkness, truth from error; which may God help us to do, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Simeon Cawley

I feel honored, my brothers and sisters, in being called upon to have a part in this sacred occasion, in honoring this boy whom the Lord has taken on the other side. I ask for the blessings of God on me as I speak here in this sacred occasion.

I was not personally acquainted with Simeon. My wife, Elba, who sends her love and condolences, was well-acquainted with him and speaks very highly of his character and spirit. Brothers and sisters, it is not for us to judge as to why and how the Lord chooses to take whom He will over to the other side. It is in His wisdom, and I am sure in His interest, in the interest of this boy, that he should be taken at this time. We have had many occasions in our experience among this people, divergent means by which these souls are taken over after they have completed their work. Our days are numbered. Our mission is given to us particularly when we have been diligent in carrying out the things that we were sent to accomplish. So, in the tender years of this boy’s life, the Lord has called him home to carry on, on the other side. He has come through the channels of the New and Everlasting Covenant and was sent here according to covenant to accomplish this mission that he has fulfilled.

I like to call upon the words of Joseph Smith for consolation under these conditions. This that I read is connected with the case of infancy where children are taken. I have had my share of experience regarding these things. This boy was born under the New and Everlasting Covenant, grew up to be baptized, and received the gift of the Holy Ghost. I am sure he bore the Aaronic Priesthood.

President Smith read the 14th chapter of Revelation, and said -- We have again the warning voice sounded in our midst, which shows the uncertainty of human life; and in my leisure moments I have meditated upon the subject, and asked the question, why it is that infants, innocent children, are taken away from us, especially those that seem to be the most intelligent and interesting. The strongest reasons that present themselves to my mind are these: This world is a very wicked world; and it is a proverb that the "world grows weaker and wiser"; if that is the case, the world grows more wicked and corrupt. In the earlier ages of the world a righteous man, and a man of God and of intelligence, had a better chance to do good, to be believed and received than at the present day; but in these days such a man is much opposed and persecuted by most of the inhabitants of the earth, and he has much sorrow to pass through here. The Lord takes many away even in infancy, that they may escape the envy of man, and the sorrows and evils of this present world; they were too pure, too lovely, to live on earth; therefore, if rightly considered, instead of mourning we have reason to rejoice as they are delivered from evil, and we shall soon have them again. ***

All children are redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and the moment that children leave this world, they are taken to the bosom of Abraham. The only difference between the old and young dying is, one lives longer in heaven and eternal light and glory than the other, and is freed a little sooner from this miserable wicked world. Notwithstanding all this glory, we for a moment lose sight of it, and mourn the loss, but we do not mourn as those without hope.
In another place he said:

In order for you to receive your children to yourselves you must have a promise -- some ordinance; some blessing, in order to ascend above principalities, or else it may be an angel. They must rise just as they died; we can there hail our lovely infants with the same glory -- the same loveliness in the celestial glory, where they all enjoy alike. They differ in stature, in size, the same glorious spirit gives them the likeness of glory and bloom; the old man with his silvery hairs will glory in bloom and beauty. No man can describe it to you -- no man can write it.

So, we can take great comfort and consolation in these words of the Prophet Joseph. Our time is short, brothers and sisters, for making the preparation that is necessary for the purposes for which we have been sent here. God will have a people. I pray that we may have a part in this great work of redemption, and in the accomplishment of the purposes of God in building up the Kingdom of God with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength. May we follow after righteousness, become pure and holy and sanctified, for such a people only will the Lord call out to redeem Zion. God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Go to the Fountainhead for Truth;
D.& C. 82

I just want to, by the Spirit of God, read some of the words of the Lord that would help us in this day. These word from Galatians are similar to the revelation given through Joseph Smith the Prophet to his father:

D. & C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

That is the first and great commandment.
3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;
4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.
6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.
7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

Which brings to mind the marvelous words of James:

5. If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.
6. But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering.

Let us remember that to obtain the truth, we go to the fountainhead, asking in faith of the Lord. Here are the words of the Lord to Joseph and to the saints as they were seeking to live the United Order in Zion, and a foundation for the same:

D.& C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.
If we would only remember this, brothers and sisters. We have got to forgive one another if we expect or hope the Lord to forgive us, so that we can stand clean through repentance and faith.

2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads.
3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required;
And the Lord knows we have been given much.
3. ...and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.
Joseph Smith said in this connection:

_The moment we revolt at anything which comes from God, the devil takes power._

We must understand that the things of God are by the Spirit of God. The things of the devil are by the spirit of the devil, as Joseph says in another place.

_D.& C. 82 (cont’d)_

4. _...and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law._

5. _Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all:_

It is a beautiful thing regarding these revelations that the Lord gave through the Prophet for the benefit of those who are laboring with and under him. In giving these principles he said, "What I give unto one, I give unto all," and are therefore applicable down through the eons of time. We are talking about principles which God gives us.

5. _...Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;_

6. _And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way._

Yes, all have sinned, but that is what the glorious principles of faith and repentance are for, that we may be forgiven and become clean every whit, that we may be pure before God.

7. _And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God._

8. _And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;_

New, yet ageless as eternity -- new to them.

9. _Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation._

10. _I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise._

14. _For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged; her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you,
Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.
That is the great work of preparation which President Johnson has given us, and which is his great work and mission, and the preparation of a people.

15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.

16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships,
The United Order is a system of consecrations and stewardships.

17. ...every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just --

18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

19. Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

20. This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.

21. And the soul that sins against this covenant, and hardeneth his heart against it, shall be dealt with according to the laws of my church, and shall be delivered over to the buffetings of Satan until the day of redemption.

Those are the conditions under which the saints enter into the Holy United Order, which must be done and will be done by that people who will indeed come out of heart's core of this people.

Now I pray that we will be sensitive to the whisperings of the Spirit of God.
Get and keep the Spirit of God above all things. We cannot judge for ourselves the truth or the error that may be presented to us, which is constantly before us as we go through life, but by the Holy Ghost. The Spirit of God is the Spirit of peace. It is calm and serene, and we must ever remember this and live by every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God, through His mouthpiece, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Keep the Spirit of God to Become Like God;
What Enoch Taught His People

I pray for the Spirit of God to direct me in the things that need to be said and done at this time. I appreciate these truths that have been said, and we need to be about our Father’s business. I have a little item in my black quote book that I felt to speak about.

The secret of success consists not in the habit of making numerous resolutions about various faults and sins, but in one great, absorbing, controlling purpose to serve God and do His will! If this be the controlling motive of life, all other motives will be swept into the force of its mighty current and guided aright.

It is given in the seventh chapter of Moroni, that in order to accomplish this we must have the pure love of Christ, the grand principle of charity, or love, that we might become like God. The only way that we are going to become like God is to have the Spirit of God and truly make it a part of our lives that we will have it continuously, let it be our constant guide and companion; because the Holy Spirit is the attributes and the character of God. After all, we understand that the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and of the Son.

In the book of Moses, the sixth chapter, we have the record of Enoch, that great character who had a special dispensation unto terrestrial bodies, and who brought a people together who were able to follow him in preparing a pure and a holy people to build a holy city unto God. We have these words that I think are helpful to us in accomplishing this thing, in following the Prophet of God and carrying on in accomplishing the will and purposes of God:

Moses 6

26. And it came to pass that Enoch journeyed in the land, among the people; and as he journeyed, the Spirit of God descended out of heaven, and abode upon him.
27. And he heard a voice from heaven, saying: Enoch, my son, prophesy unto this people, and say unto them Repent, for thus saith the Lord: I am angry with this people, and my fierce anger is kindled against them; for their hearts have waxed hard, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes cannot see afar off;

28. And for these many generations, ever since the day that I created them, have they gone astray, and have denied me, and have sought their own counsels in the dark; and in their own abominations have they devised murder, and have not kept the commandments, which I gave unto their father, Adam.

29. Wherefore, they have foreworn themselves, and, by their oaths, they have brought upon themselves death; and a hell I have prepared for them, if they repent not;

30. And this is a decree, which I have sent forth in the beginning of the world, from my own mouth, from the foundation thereof, and by the mouths of my servants, thy fathers, have I decreed it, even as it shall be sent forth in the world, unto the ends thereof.

31. And when Enoch had heard these words, he bowed himself to the earth, before the Lord, and spake before the Lord, saying: Why is it that I have found favor in thy sight, and am but a lad, and all the people hate me; for I am slow of speech; wherefore am I thy servant?

32. And the Lord said unto Enoch: Go forth and do as I have commanded thee, and no man shall pierce thee. Open thy mouth, and it shall be filled, and I will give thee utterance, for all flesh is in my hands, and I will do as seemeth me good.

33. Say unto this people: Choose ye this day, to serve the Lord God who made you.

In the days of Joshua, after they had settled in the land of Canaan, the promised land, he brought the people together and called upon them to "choose that day whom ye would serve; as for me I will serve God, and keep His commandments." And they went forthwith and did a faithful work for some years.

34. Behold my Spirit is upon you, wherefore all thy words will I justify; and the mountains shall flee before you, and the rivers shall turn from their course; and thou shalt abide in me, and I in you; therefore walk with 35. And the Lord spake unto Enoch, and said unto him: Anoint thine eyes with clay, and wash them, and thou shalt see. And he did so.

36. And he beheld the spirits that God had created; and he beheld also things which were not visible to the natural eye; and from thenceforth came the saying abroad in the land: A seer hath the Lord raised up unto his people.

37. And it came to pass that Enoch went forth in the land, among the people, standing upon the hills and the high places, and cried with a loud voice, testifying against their works; and all men were offended because of him.

38. And they came forth to hear him, upon the high places, saying unto the tent-keepers: Tarry ye here and keep the tents, while we go yonder to behold the seer, for he prophesieth, and there is a strange thing in the land; a wild man hath come among us.

39. And it came to pass when they heard him, no man laid hands on him; for fear came on all them that heard him; for he walked with God.

So, brothers and sisters, we have been called upon, lo, these many, many years, to repent and prepare and be prepared to redeem Zion. We are engaged in a work very similar to that which Enoch was called upon to perform, in gathering a people to redeem Zion. I wish that we could keep this long-range view in mind before us, that we resolve to serve God and to keep all His commandments with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. That is how we show that we love Him.

Let us get behind our Prophet and head, and go down the road in the accomplishment of this great work that he has been called to perform; and all together as saints of God become one, as the people of Enoch had to become, that they might redeem a Zion, prepare a Zion, which has been taken up, and which will come down and meet the Zion that is prepared here, with Jesus Christ coming in His glory. May we prepare for that day, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I am grateful to be here, brothers and sisters, realizing that we are here by appointment, through President Johnson, to receive instruction; and that by the Spirit of God. If only we could obtain that one great and glorious gift, the gift of the Holy Ghost, and particularly the gift of revelation, the Spirit of revelation, which would accompany all instructions that may be given of the Lord.

The Holy Ghost is the mind of the Father and of the Son. It centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself, this Holy Spirit. I, too, have an item that I felt should be given here, and is also from George Q. Cannon, given in 1883, and is found in Journal 24, page 362:

Now, there is only one way in which the commandments of God can be revealed unto us. God has not left this in doubt. He has not left us to grope in the dark respecting His methods of revealing His mind and will unto His children. In the very beginning of the work of God in these last days, to remove all doubt upon this subject, God gave revelations unto this Church in exceeding great plainness, and there was one principle that was emphatically dwelt upon and enforced, namely, that there was but one channel, one channel alone, through which the word of God and the commandments of God should come to this people. The word of God was not to come from the people up. It was not vox populi, vox dei, but it was to be vox dei, vox populi -- that is, the voice of God and then the voice of the people -- from God downward through the channel that He should appoint; by the means that He should institute, that word should come to the people, and when obeyed by the people would bring the union and the love and the strength consequent upon union and love.

And this has been the peculiarity and the excellence of this work of God thus far in the earth. Its excellence has consisted in this. Its power, its glory, the glory that we have as a people, the glory that belongs to the Church of God consists in this peculiar feature, that the word of God to us comes from God and not from the people. It is received by the people, accepted by the people, submitted to by the people, and this has produced the union and the love, as I have said, that have characterized the work thus far in its progress in the earth. Take away from it this feature and it becomes weak as water that is unconfined. There is no strength to it. There is nothing to be feared about it. There is nothing to excite animosity or hatred. But give it this feature and it becomes a power in the earth. Even if there were only six men it would be a power. Let there be twelve and it is twice the power, and you go on doubling it, and it increases in a proportionate ratio, and it will do so, as long as that principle is maintained and lived up to. God revealed that principle in the beginning. Oliver Cowdery -- a representation of whose ordination is given to us on this sealing received at the same time that the Prophet Joseph did the Aaronic Priesthood. John the Baptist, who last held the keys of the Aaronic Priesthood in the flesh upon the earth, laid his hands upon Joseph, the Prophet, and him at the same time. He afterwards received, in common with Joseph, the administration of those who had held the keys of the Apostleship in the flesh on the earth -- that is, Peter, James, and John. They administered unto him at the same time that they administered unto Joseph, upon the same occasion, and he became an Apostle with Joseph, being the second Apostle in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

He has reference, I am sure, to Section 28 in the Doctrine and Covenants.

Now, it might be thought that a man thus favored, favored to receive the Aaronic Priesthood, favored to receive the Melchisedec Priesthood and Apostleship at the same time with the Prophet, favored with the privilege of baptizing the Prophet of God, and of sealing upon him the gift of the Holy Ghost; it might be thought, I say, that a man thus favored would have stood alongside of the Prophet and been of equal authority in giving the word of God in writing unto the people. But no. God drew a distinction and plainly told Oliver Cowdery that that which he wrote to this Church should not be by way of commandment to the Church, but by wisdom. The Lord said to him, "If thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by way of commandment unto the Church, thou mayest do it. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom.

That is a direct quote.

It was only one man's privilege, one man's authority to stand pre-eminent in the earth at one time holding the keys and giving the commandments of God -- or rather the Lord giving His commandments through him in writing to the Church.

In the early days there was a man that was a witness to the Book of Mormon, who had been selected by the Lord to handle the plates, to heft them, and then to write his testimony concerning that which he had seen and felt. He obtained possession of a seer stone -- or as it is called sometimes, a peep-stone. Through this peep-stone he professed to obtain revelations, which he wrote. And the Lord gave a commandment upon the subject, and Oliver Cowdery was commanded to take Hiram Page by himself, and talk to him upon the subject. He was instructed to tell him that that which he had received through that stone was not of God, and that Satan deceived him. He was told that this power was not given to him, and "neither shall anything be appointed unto any of this Church contrary to the Church covenants." That is, there was only one man upon the earth who had a right to give to the Church commandments concerning the word of God, and the conduct of the word of God, and that was the man whom He had selected. Thus plainly in the very beginning of this work, the very threshold of it, there was no doubt left upon the minds of those who received the revelations of God concerning the policy of the Lord in the building up of this work upon the earth. You can see, readily, if you will reflect for a few moments upon the subject how necessary it is that this should be the case. Invest two men with that power, and what is the result? Why, there is an opportunity for division. Invest twelve men with it, and you have the same result to an increased extent. Invest the whole body of the people with it, and what would be the result? You can understand this by a very little reflection. It is not God's way of doing. It is not God's manner of building up His kingdom. It is not the way that He has founded His Church, neither in this day nor in any other day when He had a church upon the earth. It is through this source that commandments must come to the people of God. It is through this source that the word of God has come to this people during the 53 years that have now elapsed. The prosperity of this people, their success, and the triumphs that have attended this work are due to this, that God has chosen one man, and through him has given His word unto His people, and by listening to His counsel, by obeying the manifestations of God through him, they have been led in this career of prosperity upon which we have entered, and in which we are now traveling. I wish to impress this with all the power of which I am capable upon the minds of my brethren and sisters who are here to-day, and upon this entire Church. I wish them to understand it. I bear testimony, as a servant of God, that this is the way, God having revealed it unto me to my perfect knowledge, to my perfect satisfaction and understanding. There can be no two channels; there is but one; God having chosen but one. Now, as long as we keep this in mind we are in no danger as a people -- that is if we keep it in mind and obey it. I am willing to stake my reputation -- I never claim to be much of a prophet; I do not talk much about prophecy -- but as a servant of God I am willing to stake my reputation in making this statement, that if you will listen to the voice of God as manifested through His servant who stands at our head, you never will, from this time forward until eternity dawns upon you -- you never will be overcome by your enemies, or by the enemies of God's kingdom.

I leave this with you, brothers and sisters, those who have ears to hear and the spirit to discern, that we may be led aright, and go down the road, as has been expressed, with our President Leroy Sunderland Johnson in building up this Kingdom and preparing a people for the redemption of Zion; which I pray for in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Follow the Word of God; D.& C. 133

I appreciate being here, brothers and sisters, and feel the best thing I can do is to go to the scripture and the word of the Lord. I pray that the Spirit of God will dictate my reading. It seems I have done so much of this in the many years I have been associated with this work: "Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternal life." President Johnson has held up his Triple Combination to us and told us that this is the foundation of our faith and our life. He has said, too, as well as Lorin Woolley, "If what we say or teach to you does not square with this foundation, the word of God, ye may give it no heed." Joseph Smith said much the same thing.

Brother Johnson has indicated to some of us, I do not know if he has said it to all, we have twenty years before the close of the six thousand years in preparing for the redemption of Zion and all of the things that must occur in the meantime. They are delineated in this Section 133, which was given to the Prophet Joseph Smith November 3, 1831, and was designated the Appendix. President Johnson has read, so often, from the Preface to the Doctrine and Covenants, Section 1. Those two Sections or revelations were given within two days of each other. One was to be at the beginning and one at the end.

D.& C. 133

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the Lord your God, and hear the word of the Lord concerning you --
2. The Lord who shall suddenly come to his temple; the Lord who shall come down upon the world with a curse to judgment; yea, upon all the nations that forget God, and upon all the ungodly among you.
3. For he shall make bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of their God.
4. Wherefore, prepare ye, prepare ye, O my people; sanctify yourselves; gather ye together, O ye people of my church, upon the land of Zion, all you that have not been commanded to tarry.

The saints have removed to these valleys of the mountains. We still have our eyes on the City of Zion and are to be gathered there even yet, and that is the great work in which President Johnson is engaged. Prepare ye.

5. Go ye out from Babylon. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.
6. Call your solemn assemblies, and speak often one to another. And let every man call upon the name of the Lord.

7. Yea, verily I say unto you again, the time has come when the voice of the Lord is unto you: Go ye out of Babylon; gather ye out from among the nations, from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.
8. Send forth the elders of my church unto the nations which are afar off; unto the islands of the sea; send forth unto foreign lands; call upon all nations, first upon the Gentiles, and then upon the Jews.

9. And behold, and lo, this shall be their cry, and the voice of the Lord unto all people: Go ye forth unto the land of Zion, that the borders of my people may be enlarged, and that her stakes may be strengthened, and that Zion may go forth unto the regions round about.
10. Yea, let the cry go forth among all people: Awake and arise and go forth to meet the Bridegroom; behold and lo, the Bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Prepare yourselves for the great day of the Lord.

11. Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour.
12. Let them, therefore, who are among the Gentiles flee unto Zion.
13. And let them who be of Judah flee unto Jerusalem, unto the mountains of the Lord's house.

The great proselyting work has been done, the times of the gentiles have been fulfilled, and now, from the mountains of the Lord's House we are looking forward to the redemption of Zion.

14. Go ye out from among the nations, even from Babylon, from the midst of wickedness, which is spiritual Babylon.
15. But verily, thus saith the Lord, let not your flight be in haste, but let all things be prepared before you; and he that goeth, let him not look back lest sudden destruction shall come upon him.

16. Hearken and hear, O ye inhabitants of the earth. Listen, ye elders of my church together, and hear the voice of the Lord; for he calleth upon all men, and he commandeth all men everywhere to repent.
17. For behold, the Lord God hath sent forth the angel crying through the midst of heaven, saying: Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his paths straight, for the hour of his coming is nigh --

18. When the Lamb shall stand upon Mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty-four thousand, having his Father's name written on their foreheads.
19. Wherefore, prepare ye for the coming of the Bridegroom; go ye, go ye out to meet him.

20. For behold, he shall stand upon the mount of Olivet, and upon the mighty ocean, even the great deep, and upon the islands of the sea, and upon the land of Zion.
21. And he shall utter his voice out of Zion, and he shall speak from Jerusalem, and his voice shall be heard among all people;
22. And it shall be a voice as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder, which shall break down the mountains, and the valleys shall not be found.
23. He shall command the great deep, and it shall be driven back into the north countries, and the islands shall become one land;

24. And the land of Jerusalem and the land of Zion shall be turned back into their own place, and the earth shall be like as it was in the days before it was divided.
25. And the Lord, even the Savior, shall stand in the midst of his people, and shall reign over all flesh.

26. And they who are in the north countries shall come in remembrance before the Lord; and their prophets shall hear his voice, and shall no longer stay themselves; and they shall smite the rocks, and the ice shall flow down at their presence.

27. And an highway shall be cast up in the midst of the great deep.

28. Their enemies shall become a prey unto them,
29. And in the barren deserts there shall come forth pools of living water; and the parched ground shall no longer be a thirsty land.

30. And they shall bring forth their rich treasures unto the children of Ephraim, my servants.

31. And the boundaries of the everlasting hills shall tremble at their presence.

32. And there shall they fall down and be crowned with glory, even in Zion, by the hands of the servants of the Lord, even the children of Ephraim.

Ephraim has the keys of the Priesthood down to the latest generation.

33. And they shall be filled with songs of everlasting joy.

34. Behold, this is the blessing of the everlasting God upon the tribes of Israel, and the richer blessing upon the head of Ephraim and his fellows.

35. And they also of the tribe of Judah, after their pain, shall be sanctified in holiness before the Lord, to dwell in his presence day and night, forever and ever.

36. And now, verily saith the Lord, that these things might be known among you, O inhabitants of the earth, I have sent forth mine angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel, who hath appeared unto some and hath committed it unto man, who shall appear unto many that dwell on the earth.

37. And this gospel shall be preached unto every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people.

38. And the servants of God shall go forth, saying with a loud voice: Fear God and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgment is come;

39. And worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters --

40. Calling upon the name of the Lord day and night, saying: O that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence.

41. And it shall be answered upon their heads; for the presence of the Lord shall be as the melting fire that burneth, and as the fire which causeth the waters to boil.

42. O Lord, thou shalt come down to make thy name known to thine adversaries, and all nations shall tremble at thy presence --

43. When thou doest terrible things, things they look not for;

44. Yea, when thou comest down, and the mountains flow down at thy presence, thou shalt meet him who rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, who remembereth thee in thy ways.

45. For since the beginning of the world have not men heard nor perceived by the ear, neither hath any eye seen, O God, besides thee, how great things thou hast prepared for him that waiteth for thee.

46. And it shall be said: Who is this that cometh down from God in heaven with dyed garments; yea, from the regions which are not known, clothed in his glorious apparel, traveling in the greatness of his strength?

47. And he shall say: I am he who spake in righteousness, mighty to save.

48. And the Lord shall be red in his apparel, and his garments like him that treadeth in the wine-vat.

49. And so great shall be the glory of his presence that the sun shall hide his face in shame, and the moon shall withhold its light, and the stars shall be hurled from their places.

50. And his voice shall be heard: I have trodden the wine-press alone, and have brought judgment upon all people; and none were with me;

51. And I have trampled them in my fury, and I did tread upon them in mine anger, and their blood have I sprinkled upon my garments, and stained all my raiment; for this was the day of vengeance which was in my heart.
52. And now the year of my redeemed is come; and they shall mention the loving kindness of their Lord, and all that he has bestowed upon them according to his goodness, and according to his loving kindness, forever and ever.

53. In all their afflictions he was afflicted. And the angel of his presence saved them; and in his love, and in his pity, he redeemed them, and bore them, and carried them all the days of old;
54. Yea, and Enoch also, and they who were with him; the prophets who were before him; and Noah also, and they who were before him; and Moses also, and they who were before him;

55. And from Moses to Elijah, and from Elijah to John, who were with Christ in his resurrection, and the holy apostles, with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, shall be in the presence of the Lamb.
56. And the graves of the saints shall be opened; and they shall come forth and stand on the right hand of the Lamb, when he shall stand upon Mount Zion, and upon the holy city, the New Jerusalem; and they shall sing the song of the Lamb, day and night forever and ever.

57. And for this cause, that men might be made partakers of the glories which were to be revealed, the Lord sent forth the fulness of his gospel, his everlasting covenant, reasoning in plainness and simplicity --
58. To prepare the weak for those things which are coming on the earth, and for the Lord's errand in the day when the weak shall confound the wise, and the little one become a strong nation, and two shall put their tens of thousands to flight.

59. And by the weak things of the earth the Lord shall thrash the nations by the power of his Spirit.
60. And for this cause these commandments were given; they were commanded to be kept from the world in the day that they were given, but now are to go forth unto all flesh --
61. And this according to the mind and will of the Lord, who ruleth over all flesh.
62. And unto him that repenteth and sanctifieth himself before the Lord shall be given eternal life.

63. And upon them that hearken not to the voice of the Lord shall be fulfilled that which was written by the prophet Moses, that they should be cut off from among the people.

64. And also that which was written by the prophet Malachi: For, behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

65. Wherefore, this shall be the answer of the Lord unto them:
66. In that day when I came unto mine own, no man among you received me, and you were driven out.

67. When I called again there was none of you to answer; yet my arm was not shortened at all that I could not redeem, neither my power to deliver.
68. Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea. I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stink, and die for thirst.
69. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and make sackcloth their covering.
70. And this shall ye have of my hand -- ye shall lie down in sorrow.
71. Behold, and lo, there are none to deliver you; for ye obeyed not my voice when I called to you out of the heavens; ye believed not my servants, and when they were sent unto you ye received them not.
72. Wherefore, they sealed up the testimony and bound up the law, and ye were delivered over unto darkness.
73. These shall go away into outer darkness, where there is weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth.
74. Behold the Lord your God hath spoken it. Amen.

So these are the things that are going to take place, brothers and sisters. The Ten Tribes will come from the north, the City of Zion and the temple built, the remnant of Jacob called forth. There is the time of the gathering still, and the times when a people be prepared to live the Law of Enoch and go forth as with Enoch. And as I have said before, I feel that we need to look to President Johnson as our Enoch and Moses -- the gathering of Israel, abiding the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ -- to prepare a people for the redemption of Zion, which I pray we may do and have a part in, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I felt strongly, if I should be called upon today, that I should read this sermon of President Johnson's, which would be of great help to us if we would heed; given February 18, 1979. I ask the same spirit to be upon me as it was upon him at the time.

I am glad to respond at this time, desiring that the Spirit of God will accompany these words of Joseph Smith, Jun., in his address to the Twelve, July 2, 1839:

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

What a wonderful principle for us to live together under the holy Celestial Law of Marriage in our family affairs.

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother. Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffettings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, and say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

I will give you one of the Keys of the mysteries of the Kingdom. It is an eternal principle, that has existed with God from all eternity: That man who rises up to condemn others, finding fault with the Church, saying that they are out of the way, while he himself is righteous, then know assuredly, that that man is in the high road to apostasy; and if he does not repent, will apostatize, as God lives. The principle is as correct as the one that Jesus put forth in saying that he who seeketh a sign is an adulterous person; and that principle is eternal, undeviating, and firm as the pillars of heaven; for whenever you see a man seeking after a sign, you may set it down that he is an adulterous man.

And then he goes on to give some wonderful doctrine on Priesthood. I just desire to leave these thoughts with us. I was struck by some interesting words here of the Prophet Joseph as he spoke to the Relief Society:

President Smith continued by speaking of the difficulties he had to surmount ever since the commencement of the work, in consequence of aspiring men. "Great big Elders," as he called them, who caused him much trouble; to whom he had taught the things of the kingdom in private councils, they would then go forth into the world and proclaim the things he had taught them, as their own revelations; said the same aspiring disposition will be in this Society, and must be guarded against; that every person should stand, and act in the place appointed, and thus sanctify the Society and get it pure. He said he had been trampled under foot by aspiring Elders, for all were infected with that spirit; for instance, John E. Page One of the Twelve.

...and others had been aspiring; they could not be exalted, but must run away as though the care and authority of the Church were vested with them. He said he had a subtle devil to deal with, and could only curb him by being humble.

Which I submit is the spirit of President Leroy S. Johnson as he continues to lead this work and this people. God bless him, and bless us all to labor together to accomplish the great work that lies before us, and preparation for the building up of the Kingdom of God, and Zion in our hearts, that we might redeem Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Humility; Faith of the Brother of Jared

I am grateful, brothers and sisters, to be able to read something from the Book of Mormon, which I think of a great deal. I think one of the greatest examples of humility that we have in holy writ is the sermon that King Benjamin delivered from the tower as he addressed his people. And he reminds me of President Leroy Johnson.

Mosiah 2

18. Behold, ye have called me your king; and if I, whom ye call your king, do labor to serve you, then ought not ye to labor to serve one another?

19. And behold also, if I, whom ye call your king, who has spent his days in your service, and yet has been in the service of God, do merit any thanks from you, O how you ought to thank your heavenly King!

20. I say unto you, my brethren, that if you should render all the thanks and praise which your whole soul has power to possess, to that God who has created you, and has kept and preserved you, and has caused that ye should rejoice, and has granted that ye should live in peace one with another --

21. I say unto you that if ye should serve him who has created you from the beginning, and is preserving you from day to day, by lending you breath, that ye may live and move and do according to your own will, and even supporting you from one moment to another -- I say, if ye should serve him with all your whole souls yet ye would be unprofitable servants.

22. And behold, all that he requires of you is to keep his commandments; and he has promised you that if ye would keep his commandments ye should prosper in the land; and he never doth vary from that which he hath said; therefore, if ye do keep his commandments he doth bless you and prosper you.

23. And now, in the first place, he hath created you, and granted unto you your lives, for which ye are indebted unto him.

24. And secondly, he doth require that ye should do as he hath commanded you; for which if ye do, he doth immediately bless you; and therefore he hath paid you. And ye are still indebted unto him, and are, and will be, forever and ever; therefore, of what have ye to boast?

25. And now I ask, can ye say aught of yourselves? I answer you, Nay. Ye cannot say that ye are even as much as the dust of the earth; yet ye were created of the dust of the earth; but behold, it belongeth to him who created you.

Of what have we to be proud? Another wonderful lesson that I always think of is this story of the brother of Jared, the greatest example I know of in holy writ of the power of faith, which tells us of all the elements that are involved as we have them expressed in the Lectures on Faith. The basis of all of this is also humility and submission to God.

Ether 3
1. And it came to pass that the brother of Jared, (now the number of the vessels which had been prepared was eight) went forth unto the mount, which they called the mount Shelem, because of its exceeding height, and did molten out of a rock sixteen small stones; and they were white and clear, even as transparent glass; and he did carry them in his hands upon the top of the mount, and cried again unto the Lord, saying:

2. O Lord, thou hast said that we must be encompassed about by the floods. Now behold, O Lord, and do not be angry with thy servant because of his weakness before thee; for we know that thou art holy and dwellest in the heavens, and that we are unworthy before thee; because of the fall our natures have become evil continually; nevertheless, O Lord, thou hast given us a commandment that we must call upon thee, that from thee we may receive according to our desires.

3. Behold, O Lord, thou hast smitten us because of our iniquity, and hast driven us forth, and for these many years we have been in the wilderness; nevertheless, thou hast been merciful unto us. O Lord, look upon me in pity, and turn away thine anger from this thy people, and suffer not that they shall go forth across this raging deep in darkness; but behold these things which I have molten out of the rock.

4. And I know, O Lord, that thou hast all power, and can do whatsoever thou wilt for the benefit of man; therefore touch these stones, O Lord, with thy finger, and prepare them that they may shine forth in darkness; and they shall shine forth unto us in the vessels which we have prepared, that we may have light while we shall cross the sea.

5. Behold, O Lord, thou canst do this. We know that thou art able to show forth great power, which looks small unto the understanding of men.

6. And it came to pass that when the brother of Jared had said these words, behold, the Lord stretched forth his hand and touched the stones one by one with his finger. And the veil was taken from off the eyes of the brother of Jared, and he saw the finger of the Lord; and it was as the finger of a man, like unto flesh and blood; and the brother of Jared fell down before the Lord, for he was struck with fear.

7. And the Lord saw that the brother of Jared had fallen to the earth; and the Lord said unto him: Arise, why hast thou fallen?
8. And he saith unto the Lord: I saw the finger of the Lord, and I feared lest he should smite me; for I knew not that the Lord had flesh and blood.
9. And the Lord said unto him: Because of thy faith thou hast seen that I shall take upon me flesh and blood; and never has man come before me with such exceeding faith as thou hast; for were it not so ye could not have seen my finger. Sawest thou more than this?
10. And he answered: Nay; Lord, show thyself unto me.
11. And the Lord said unto him: Believest thou the words which I shall speak?
12. And he answered: Yea, Lord, I know that thou speakest the truth, for thou art a God of truth, and canst not lie.
13. And when he had said these words, behold, the Lord showed himself unto him, and said: Because thou knowest these things ye are redeemed from the fall; therefore ye are brought back into my presence; therefore I show myself unto you.
14. Behold, I am he who was prepared from the foundation of the world to redeem my people. Behold, I am Jesus Christ. I am the Father and the Son. In me shall all mankind have light, and that eternally, even they who shall believe on my name; and they shall become my sons and my daughters.
15. And never have I showed myself unto man whom I have created, for never has man believed in me as thou hast. Seest thou that ye are created after mine own image? Yea, even all men were created in the beginning after mine own image.
16. Behold, this body, which ye now behold, is the body of my spirit; and man have I created after the body of my spirit; and even as I appear unto thee to be in the spirit will I appear unto my people in the flesh.

Now Moroni speaks:
17. And now, as I, Moroni, said I could not make a full account of these things which are written therefore it sufficeth me to say that Jesus showed himself unto this man in the spirit, even after the manner and in the likeness of the same body even as he showed himself unto the Nephites.
18. And he ministered unto him even as he ministered unto the Nephites; and all this, that this man might know that he was God, because of the many great works which the Lord had showed unto him.
And I would like to close by reading from Mosiah 15, which explains why Jesus Christ is called the Father and the Son.

1. And now Abinadi said unto them: I would that ye should understand that God himself shall come down among the children of men, and shall redeem his people.

2. And because he dwelleth in flesh he shall be called the Son of God, and having subjected the flesh to the will of the Father, being the Father and the Son --

3. The Father, because he was conceived by the power of God; and the Son, because of the flesh; thus becoming the Father and Son --

4. And they are one God, yea, the very Eternal Father of heaven and of earth.

5. And thus the flesh becoming subject to the Spirit, or the Son to the Father, being one God, suffereth temptation, and yieldeth not to the temptation, but suffereth himself to be mocked, and scourged, and cast out, and disowned by his people.

6. And after all this, after working many mighty miracles among the children of men, he shall be led, yea, even as Isaiah said, as a sheep before the shearer is dumb, so he opened not his mouth.

7. Yea, even so he shall be led, crucified, and slain, the flesh becoming subject even unto death, the will of the Son being swallowed up in the will of the Father.

8. And thus God breaketh the bands of death, having gained the victory over death; giving the Son power to make intercession for the children of men --

9. Having ascended into heaven, having the bowels of mercy; being filled with compassion towards the children of men; standing betwixt them and justice; having broken the bands of death, taken upon himself their iniquity and their transgressions, having redeemed them, and satisfied the demands of justice.

Jesus Christ is the great Prototype, as well as the Father. It is our great object in coming into this earth, being called up in the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the Priesthood of the Son of the living God, to serve Him and to keep His commandments, obeying all things whatsoever He should speak. Let us become perfect, as He is perfect, that we may be like Him when He appears, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Charity; The Saints Under Condemnation

I desire, brothers and sisters, to speak of the greatest of all, the Holy Ghost, or charity, the pure love of Christ. After having spoken of faith, Moroni said:

Moroni 7

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

I have rejoiced over these many years, brothers and sisters, in the instructions, the sermons of President Johnson, in that he has always encouraged and expressed his love for the people. I know he, like Joseph Smith, desires only the salvation of this people. He has that great love for all mankind that Joseph did, and which Jesus Christ had in having made the great sacrifice, the atonement and the redemption for each and every one of us.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

The saints were gathered in Zion, beginning in August of 1831. They went there to redeem Zion, to build a temple, a holy city. By December of 1833, they were driven out of that place, which had been dedicated to God for a City of Zion and a temple unto Him. Joseph Smith called upon the Lord to know why this had been and it was revealed to him. He said there were jarrings, strifes, contentions, and envyings, and lustful, and covetous, or selfish, desires among them. By these things they polluted their inheritances. This being the case, then as a people they had not the Spirit of God. One cannot have those conditions existing in their bosom and have the Spirit of God. It is impossible. They had not charity.

Let us read the instructions that were given to the people in Zion as late as April 26, 1832. After having forgiven their sins and made known to them the conditions under which they were going to have to abide in the Holy United Order, he said:

D. & C. 82

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;
9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.
10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

14. For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged; her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.
15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.
16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just --
And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

Or people. Now here is the key:

Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.

So, having mentioned these things by which they polluted their inheritances, they had broken this law. It was in the following September, September 1832, that the Lord told the people why, that they were under condemnation. Let us read that.

D. & C. 84

And your minds in times past have been darkened because of unbelief, and because you have treated lightly the things you have received --

Which vanity and unbelief have brought the whole church under condemnation.

And this condemnation resteth upon the children of Zion, even all.

There were righteous among them; but as a people, this is what the Lord told them, that they were all under condemnation, having come under a broken law. They were living then under a broken law.

And they shall remain under this condemnation until they repent and remember the new covenant, even the Book of Mormon and the former commandments which I have given them, not only to say, but to do according to that which I have written.

That they may bring forth fruit meet for their Father's kingdom; otherwise there remaineth a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.

Which came about for the reasons previously mentioned. So on the whole, the Spirit of God, the Holy Ghost, had not rested upon them in sufficient abundance for them to continue under that broken law.

We have had stated here now what charity or the pure love of Christ is, and is not. Here is the positive side:

Moroni 7
45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, into quarrels.

45. ...thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing.

If ye have not the Holy Ghost ye are nothing.

46. ...for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, Faith, with faith in your prayers.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;

There is the promise.

48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him,

We have been instructed to become like Him. The burden of President Johnson's message is to prepare to meet God.

48. ...for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

God help us to do this, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Edson Porter Jessop

I pray that the Lord will bless me as I express my heartfelt feelings regarding this faithful servant of God. I have known this faithful man from among the earliest days of my coming into this work. I came to a knowledge of this work in September of 1938, when my father made me acquainted with the work of Joseph W. Musser, who ministered to me and brought me along in the work, and for this I am most grateful. Brother Edson was in a Sunday School with his father Lyman Jessop on Highland Drive. That is where I first became acquainted with him.

In early 1943, Brother Edson was brought into this community. President Barlow had directed President Hammon to come down into this community and bring about a work that would accomplish the purposes of the United Effort Plan. I was a part of that organization; and Edson came into this community as a faithful servant of the Lord, receiving direction and a commission to accomplish a great work, which he did to the last days of his life. The things that he was given to do, he did with full diligence and purpose of heart. And he was an integral part of this community and has touched the lives of hundreds; yea, thousands.

His life has been a great example to us as a people, and more particularly to his family. And through all the vicissitudes of sufferings and persecutions of this people, under the iron hand of persecution, he has been a noble example laboring under President Johnson. I do not need to recall the things involved in the raid on this community. We all know he was faithful and true through all of those great and momentous events. Regardless of all personal affairs, this man, Edson Jessop, sought to obey God and keep His commandments, and obey every word that proceeded forth from the mouth of God through His servant.

The work that was engaged in, in this community in the early years of the 1940's, involved the holy Celestial Law and the United Order, and I would like to trace in the life of this man, how he has kept the law. Brigham Young said that the fullness of the Gospel consisted of the Holy United Order and the Celestial Law of Marriage, Celestial and Plural Law of Marriage. Section 82 of the Doctrine and Covenants sets out the law in brief of the Holy United Order. The Lord, after telling the Prophet Joseph regarding the Order of Enoch, said this after having forgiven them of their sins, for all had sinned, and they were able to start out with a clean slate; and this in April 1832.

D.& C. 82

7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.
8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.

10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say;

There is the great power of faith, coming to know that our course is pleasing to God and that we have obeyed every word that proceedeth forth from His mouth through His servant.

10. ...but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise. ***

14. For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged; her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.

That is what President Johnson is laboring with this people to accomplish.

15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.

16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just --

18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

Now here is the key, brothers and sisters:

19. Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

20. This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.

I feel that Edson Jessop had the spirit, as far as he was able to labor, of this Order, an order of the holy Priesthood. The other holy law mentioned is the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage.

D.& C. 132

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord unto you my servant Joseph, that inasmuch as you have inquired of my hand to know and understand wherein I, the Lord, justified my servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as also Moses, David and Solomon, my servants, as touching the principle and doctrine of their having many wives and concubines --

2. Behold, and lo, I am the Lord thy God, and will answer thee as touching this matter.

3. Therefore, prepare thy heart to receive and obey the instructions which I am about to give unto you; for all those who have this law revealed unto them must obey the same.

There is the premise.

4. For behold, I reveal unto you a new and an everlasting covenant; and if ye abide not that covenant, then are ye damned; for no one can reject this covenant and be permitted to enter into my glory.

5. For all who will have a blessing at my hands shall abide the law which was appointed for that blessing, and the conditions thereof, as were instituted from before the foundation of the world.

6. And as pertaining to the new and everlasting covenant, it was instituted for the fulness of my glory; and he that receiveth a fulness thereof must and shall abide the law, or he shall be damned, saith the Lord God.

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

8. Behold, mine house is a house of order, saith the Lord God, and not a house of confusion.

9. Will I accept of an offering, saith the Lord, that is not made in my name?

10. Or will I receive at your hands that which I have not appointed?
11. And will I appoint unto you, saith the Lord, except it be by law, even as I and my Father ordained unto you, before the world was?
12. I am the Lord thy God; and I give unto you this commandment -- that no man shall come unto the Father but by me or by my word, which is my law, saith the Lord.

I feel with all my heart that Edson Jessop abided that law by and through the Lord's anointed. And I feel that Edson accomplished this by the means set out by Moroni in the seventh chapter.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Please remember that premise:
43. ...save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart;

44. ...none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

And I have noticed these things in the character of Edson, as to what charity is and is not, for he truly had charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, Edson was totally unselfish, meek and lowly in heart. He did not criticize or judge.

45. ...is not easily provoked,
I never knew him to have a temper or lose control.

45. ...thinketh no evil,
Being busily engaged in the work of God, he had no time to.

45. ...and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth,
He loved the truth, he taught the truth, and he lived it with his family.

45. ...beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
He that endureth to the end, the same shall be saved. It seems we are engaged in an endurance contest.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing,

I cannot conceive of this treatise without thinking that what he is speaking of is the Holy Spirit of God, which includes all of the attributes of God, the love of God.

46. ...for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, Isn't that the attributes of God?

47. ...and it endureth forever;

The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son. It is the power of the holy Priesthood, the mind of God and His Son, Jesus Christ.

47. ...and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is faith in action.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

To be full of the Holy Ghost, in other words.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him,

If we are full of the Holy Ghost we shall be like Him.

48. ...for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

I feel that Edson Jessop has qualified for a glorious resurrection, which I hope and pray that the family of this man may follow as an example, and that we all will. In closing I would like to cite, if I can remember it correctly, the last words of Edson Jessop as he was driving down the highway on the way to Cedar City behind the ambulance which had in it his daughter going to the hospital for treatment of complications of childbirth. He said to those in the car with him, his wife Evelyn and Ronald Darger's wife Colleen, "Keep all of the commandments of God as revealed through President Johnson, whom I call upon you to serve and follow. God is at the helm." What more can we ask? God bless you, amen.

Prophecies Concerning Judgments of God;
Why the Saints Were Driven from Jackson County

I, too, desire the Spirit of God to actuate me in what I may say. I pray that we may all be edified. As I have been sitting here contemplating the many messages President Johnson has given us over the years -- I have read many of the sermons that are put out for us to enjoy -- the great burden that he has given as a message to us is that of repentance and obedience; obedience, the first law of heaven. So repentance is what he keeps telling us we should preach about.

I have been impressed with these words that come from the 24th chapter of Matthew, translated anew by the Prophet Joseph, under the writings of Joseph Smith.

Joseph Smith 1

37. And whoso treasureth up my word, shall not be deceived, for the Son of Man shall come, and he shall send his angels before him with the great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together the remainder of his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

38. Now learn a parable of the fig-tree -- When its branches are yet tender, and it begins to put forth leaves, you know that summer is nigh at hand;

39. So likewise, mine elect, when they shall see all these things, they shall know that he is near, even at the doors;

40. But of that day, and hour, no one knoweth; no, not the angels of God in heaven, but my Father only.

41. But as it was in the days of Noah, so it shall be also at the coming of the Son of Man;

42. For it shall be with them, as it was in the days which were before the flood; for until the day that Noah entered into the ark they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage;

43. And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be.

44. Then shall be fulfilled that which is written, that in the last days, two shall be in the field, the one shall be taken, and the other left;

45. Two shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken, and the other left;

46. And what I say unto one, I say unto all men; watch, therefore, for you know not at what hour your Lord doth come.

So we have the great burden, and that has been the burden of the message of President Johnson, that of repentance, as Noah cried repentance for one hundred twenty years before the Flood came. I don't think we take these facts seriously enough. Joseph Smith, in writing a letter to Editor Seaton, gave these warnings and a call to repentance:

The time has at last arrived when the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, has set his hand again the second time to recover the remnants of his people, which have been left from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea, and with them to bring in the fulness of the Gentiles, and establish that covenant with them, which was promised when their sins should be taken away.  This covenant has never been established with the house of Israel, nor with the house of Judah, for it requires two parties to make a covenant, and those two parties must be agreed, or no covenant can be made.

Christ, in the days of His flesh, proposed to make a covenant with them, but they rejected Him and His proposals, and in consequence thereof, they were broken off, and no covenant was made with them at that time. But their unbelief has not rendered the promise of God of none effect: no, for there was another day limited in David, which was the day of His power; and then His people, Israel, should be a willing people; -- and He would write His law in their hearts, and print it in their thoughts; their sins and their iniquities He would remember no more.

Thus after this chosen family had rejected Christ and His proposals, the heralds of salvation said to them, "Lo we turn unto the Gentiles," and the Gentiles received the covenant, and were grafted in from whence the chosen family were broken off; but the Gentiles have not continued in the goodness of God, but have departed from the faith that was once delivered to the Saints, and have broken the covenant in which their fathers were established (see Isaiah xxiv:5); and have become high-minded, and have not feared; therefore, but few of them will be gathered with the chosen family. Have not the pride, high-mindedness, and unbelief of the Gentiles, provoked the Holy One of Israel to withdraw His Holy Spirit from them, and send forth His judgments to scourge them for their wickedness? This is certainly the case.

The plain fact is this, the power of God begins to fall upon the nations, and the light of the latter-day glory begins to break forth through the dark atmosphere of sectarian wickedness, and their iniquity rolls up into view, and the nations of the Gentiles are like the waves of the sea, casting up mire and dirt, or all in commotion, and they are hastily preparing to act the part allotted them, when the Lord rebukes the nations, ***

And now what remains to be done, under circumstances like these? I will proceed to tell you what the Lord requires of all people, high and low, rich and poor, male and female, ministers and people, professors of religion and non-professors, in order that they may enjoy the Holy Spirit of God to a fullness, and escape the judgments of God, which are almost ready to burst upon the nations of the earth. Repent of all your sins, and be baptized in water for the remission of them, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, and receive the ordinance of the laying on of the hands of him who is ordained and sealed unto this power, that ye may receive the Holy Spirit of God; and this is according to the Holy Scriptures, and the Book of Mormon; and the only way that man can enter into the celestial kingdom. These are the requirements of the new covenant, or first principles of the Gospel of Christ: then "Add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; and to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, charity [or love]; for if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful, in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The Book of Mormon is a record of the forefathers of our western tribes of Indians; having been found through the ministration of an holy angel, and translated into our own language by the gift and power of God, after having been hid up in the earth for the last fourteen hundred years, containing the word of God which was delivered unto them. By it we learn that our western tribes of Indians are descendants from that Joseph who was sold into Egypt, and that the land of America is a promised land unto them, and unto it all the tribes of Israel will come, with as many of the Gentiles as shall comply with the requisitions of the new covenant. But the tribe of Judah will return to old Jerusalem. The city of Zion spoken of by David, in the one hundred and second Psalm, will be built upon the land of America, "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads." (Isaiah xxxv:10); and then they will be delivered from the overflowing scourge that shall pass through the land.

Those are the great judgments.

But Judah shall obtain deliverance at Jerusalem.  These are testimonies that the Good Shepherd will put forth His own sheep, and lead them out from all nations where they have been scattered in a cloudy and dark day, to Zion, and to Jerusalem; besides many more testimonies which might be brought.

And now I am prepared to say by the authority of Jesus Christ, that not many years shall pass away before the United States shall present such a scene of bloodshed as has not a parallel in the history of our nation; pestilence, hail, famine, and earthquake will sweep the wicked of this generation from off the face of the land. That is a lot of people.

...to open and prepare the way for the return of the lost tribes of Israel from the north country.

I am reminded of what was done to those descendants of Joseph who were upon the land at the time Christ was crucified. According to the seventeenth chapter of Third Nephi, there were only about twenty-five hundred left.

...to open and prepare the way for the return of the lost tribes of Israel from the north country. The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, which is in the state of Missouri; therefore I declare unto you the warning which the Lord has commanded me to declare unto this generation, remembering that the eyes of my Maker are upon me, and that to Him I am accountable for every word I say, wishing nothing worse to my fellow-men than their eternal salvation; therefore, "Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come." Repent ye, repent ye, and embrace the everlasting covenant, and flee to Zion, before the overflowing scourge overtake you, for there are those now living upon the earth whose eyes shall not be closed in death until they see all these things, which I have spoken, fulfilled. Remember these things; call upon the Lord while He is near, and seek Him while He may be found, is the exhortation of your unworthy servant.

(Signed) JOSEPH SMITH, JUN.

In that effort of gathering to Zion, they failed and had to be driven out. I would like to read from the word of the Lord, Section 101, the reason for their having been driven out and the great promises that are yet before us. His people, Israel, shall be gathered and Zion redeemed and built up.

D.& C. 101

1. Verily I say unto you, concerning your brethren who have been afflicted, and persecuted, and cast out from the land of their inheritance --

2. I, the Lord, have suffered the affliction to come upon them, wherewith they have been afflicted, in consequence of their transgressions;

3. Yet I will own them, and they shall be mine in that day when I shall come to make up my jewels.

4. Therefore, they must needs be chastened and tried, even as Abraham, who was commanded to offer up his only son.

And this he obeyed until the Lord provided the ram in the thicket. What a test!

5. For all those who will not endure chastening, but deny me, cannot be sanctified.

6. Behold, I say unto you, there were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and strifes, and lustful and covetous desires among them; therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.

That is how we pollute ours, as we are trying to live the United Order and the holy Celestial Law, the Family Order of Heaven.

7. They were slow to hearken unto the voice of the Lord their God; therefore, the Lord their God is slow to hearken unto their prayers, to answer them in the day of their trouble.
8. In the day of their peace they esteemed lightly my counsel; but, in the day of their trouble, of necessity they feel after me.

9. Verily I say unto you, notwithstanding their sins, my bowels are filled with compassion towards them. I will not utterly cast them off; and in the day of wrath I will remember mercy.

10. I have sworn, and the decree hath gone forth by a former commandment which I have given unto you, that I would let fall the sword of mine indignation in behalf of my people; and even as I have said, it shall come to pass.

11. Mine indignation is soon to be poured out without measure upon all nations; and this will I do when the cup of their iniquity is full.

12. And in that day all who are found upon the watch-tower, or in other words, all mine Israel, shall be saved.

13. And they that have been scattered shall be gathered.

14. And all they who have mourned shall be comforted.

15. And all they who have given their lives for my name shall be crowned.

16. Therefore, let your hearts be comforted concerning Zion; for all flesh is in mine hands; be still and know that I am God.

For He is at the helm.

17. Zion shall not be moved out of her place, notwithstanding her children are scattered.

18. They that remain, and are pure in heart, shall return, and come to their inheritances, they and their children, with songs of everlasting joy, to build up the waste places of Zion --

19. And all these things that the prophets might be fulfilled.

20. And, behold, there is none other place appointed than that which I have appointed; neither shall there be any other place appointed than that which I have appointed, for the work of the gathering of my saints --

21. Until the day cometh when there is found no more room for them; and then I have other places which I will appoint unto them, and they shall be called stakes, for the curtains or the strength of Zion.

22. Behold, it is my will, that all they who call on my name, and worship me according to mine everlasting gospel, should gather together, and stand in holy places;
23. And prepare for the revelation which is to come, when the veil of the covering of my temple, in my tabernacle, which hideth the earth, shall be taken off, and all flesh shall see me together.

24. And every corruptible thing, both of man, or of the beasts of the field, or of the fowls of the heavens, or of the fish of the sea, that dwells upon all the face of the earth, shall be consumed;

25. And also that of element shall melt with fervent heat; and all things shall become new, that my knowledge and glory may dwell upon all the earth.

26. And in that day the enmity of man, and the enmity of beasts, yea, the enmity of all flesh, shall cease from before my face.

27. And in that day whatsoever any man shall ask, it shall be given unto him.

28. And in that day Satan shall not have power to tempt any man.

Then are given the conditions of the great Millennium. So I pray, brothers and sisters, that we may stand in holy places. We cannot make a place, a dwelling holy except by our sanctification, our righteousness. That is how we sanctify it, by our righteousness, and make it holy by our perfect obedience and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and in God the Father with the unspeakable gift of the Holy Ghost. God help us to do these things, and follow in the wake of our head and President, Leroy S. Johnson, as he seeks to redeem and prepare a people, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 5:147  October 19, 1980  Sandy

I just feel, brothers and sisters, like giving Joseph Zitting an assist by reading an item he tried to find which is one of my favorite passages of scripture, and I will go back a little bit to Section 121.

D.& C. 121

34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?

35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson -- 36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.

37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or domination or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

Proving to us that the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of the Lord, is the power of the Priesthood.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.
39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.
40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.
41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;
42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --
43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.
45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
Knowing that our course is pleasing to Him.
45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.
46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Keyholder Will Never Be Led Astray;
His Testimony of President Johnson

I am grateful to be here with you, brothers and sisters, and desire that the Spirit of God will actuate my remarks to our mutual edification. Heber C.
Kimball was like unto Aaron with Brigham Young. He was one with Brigham, and he often expressed himself in that light. Joseph F. Smith said:

JD 24:192  Joseph F. Smith  June 21, 1883  Ogden

When Joseph received the keys of the Priesthood he alone on the earth held them; that is, he was the first, he stood at the head. It was promised that he should not lose them or be removed out of his place, so long as he was faithful. And when he died President Young was chosen by the voice of the people, and sanctioned by the voice of God.

But Brigham Young succeeded because of a designation, and his following after Joseph and Hyrum. When it came to Sidney Rigdon claiming the guardianship of the Church, Brigham Young was able to say, "I have the means of obtaining the mind and will of God concerning these things."

He held the Priesthood which was after the order of the Son of God, with the keys which pertain to the presidency of that Priesthood upon earth.
He received it from the hands of Joseph, directly from him or by his authority; and he held it until his death. When he died that mantle fell upon John Taylor, and while he lives he will hold that authority inasmuch as he is faithful. So it was with President Brigham Young, he held it on condition of his faithfulness. If any man in that position should become unfaithful, God would remove him out of his place. I testify in the name of Israel's God that He will not suffer the head of the Church, him whom He has chosen to stand at the head, to transgress His laws and apostatize; the moment he should take a course that would in time lead to it, God would take him away. Why? Because to suffer a wicked man to occupy that position, would be to allow, as it were, the fountain to become corrupted, which is something He will never permit. And why will he not suffer it? Because it is not the work of Joseph Smith; it is not the work of Brigham Young or of John Taylor. It is not the work of man but of God Almighty; and it is His business.

God's business,

...to see that the men who occupy this position are men after His own heart, men that will receive instructions from Him, and that will carry out the same according to the counsels of His will. You may depend that he will see to it, and risk nothing upon this head. Hence you will have no reason to find fault or to rise up in judgment upon President Taylor or upon President Young, or upon the Prophet Joseph Smith, or upon the Twelve Apostles.

I am just going to read some of the word of God to us.

D. & C. 28

1. Behold, I say unto thee, Oliver, that it shall be given unto thee that thou shalt be heard by the church in all things whatsoever thou shalt teach them by the Comforter, concerning the revelations and commandments which I have given.

2. But, behold, verily, verily, I say unto thee, no one shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church excepting my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., for he receiveth them even as Moses. One man.

3. And thou shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron, to declare faithfully the commandments and the revelations, with power and authority unto the church.

4. And if thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by the way of commandment unto the church, thou mayest do it.

5. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom;

6. And thou shalt not command him who is at thy head, and at the head of the church;

7. For I have given him the keys of the mysteries, and the revelations which are sealed, until I shall appoint unto them another in his stead.
Regarding the things that were spoken by Joseph F. Smith in 1883:

D.& C. 43

1. O hearken, ye elders of my church, and give ear to the words which I shall speak unto you.
2. For behold, verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye have received a commandment for a law unto my church, through him whom I have appointed unto you to receive commandments and revelations from my hand.

3. And this ye shall know assuredly that there is none other appointed unto you to receive commandments and revelations until he be taken, if he abide in me.
4. But verily, verily, I say unto you, that none else shall be appointed unto this gift except it be through him; for if it be taken from him he shall not have power except to appoint another in his stead.

5. And this shall be a law unto you, that ye receive not the teachings of any that shall come before you as revelations or commandments;
6. And this I give unto you that you may not be deceived, that you may know they are not of me.

7. For verily I say unto you, that he that is ordained of me shall come in at the gate and be ordained as I have told you before, to teach those revelations which you have received and shall receive through him whom I have appointed.
8. And now, behold, I give unto you a commandment, that when ye are assembled together ye shall instruct and edify each other, that ye may know how to act and direct my church, how to act upon the points of my law and commandments, which I have given.

9. And thus ye shall become instructed in the law of my church, and be sanctified by that which ye have received, and ye shall bind yourselves to act in all holiness before me --
10. That inasmuch as ye do this, glory shall be added to the kingdom which ye have received. Inasmuch as ye do it not, it shall be taken, even that which ye have received.

11. Purge ye out the iniquity which is among you; sanctify yourselves before me;
12. And if ye desire the glories of the kingdom, appoint ye my servant
Joseph Smith, Jun., and uphold him before me by the prayer of faith.

13. And again, I say unto you, that if ye desire the mysteries of the kingdom, provide for him food and raiment, and whatsoever thing he needeth to accomplish the work wherewith I have commanded him;
14. And if ye do it not he shall remain unto them that have received him, that I may reserve unto myself a pure people before me.

I want to testify unto you that President Leroy S. Johnson is that one man. Heber C. Kimball spoke of the time when Brigham Young presided over him. He said, "President Young has a bundle of keys, so heavy, none of you could carry them," figurative, of course. "But when he wants something done, he must give a key to Heber. And when he gives that key to Heber to accomplish a work, it is the same as if Brigham Young had done it." And he mentioned the same thing concerning the others whom Brigham Young presided over. When they received a key from Brigham, then they had the authority to accomplish it, a delegation if you please.

President Johnson is coming along fine. He is going to be renewed. He will yet be healed to accomplish a greater and mightier work. And I pray for him, and that we will all become one with him to accomplish the work which God has in mind for this people; that we may go on to redeem Zion, build up the holy city and the temple, and be prepared to accomplish the work which God has in store for us, if we are faithful and true unto the end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Preparation; President Jessop's Testimony of President Johnson

I pray, dear brothers and sisters, that the same Spirit which actuated these remarks of President Leroy S. Johnson, April 2, 1978, will be with me as I read it to you.

LSJ Vol. 4:1539 April 2, 1978 CCA

Again, I want to say that I am happy to be here. I am glad that you are all here to hear what has been said today.
While the brethren have been talking, my mind went back to the old Prophet Enoch when he was laboring so hard to purify a people. We don't know how many people he took with him when he left, but we do know a little about the time that he spent trying to purify them. He spent something like three hundred and twenty years to prepare them enough to satisfy the Lord. We have been a hundred and fifty-five years trying to do the same thing in our day. We have still got to continue to labor day and night to purify a people that will satisfy the Lord sufficiently to redeem His work, and our time is running out. According to our reckoning, from what the Lord has told us, we only have a few years left -- only time to make the majority of this audience today come under the purview of the middle-aged; remembering that the Lord has said that He would take the young and the middle-aged and redeem His work. So you young people are the ones that we are counting upon -- the offspring of the servants of God who have been born under the new and everlasting Covenant. You are the ones that God is depending upon to purify your lives. It is you that we are talking to. Every man, the Lord says, that will repent of his sins and purify his life will be numbered among the saints of God. So this Gospel is unto all men, both old and young and middle-aged. And all who will make the preparation, repent and come unto our Father can come under the purview of the saints who will be called upon to administer the blessings to the tribes of Israel that have been led away.

This is a day of preparation. It has been a day of preparation since the Prophet Joseph Smith received his first vision of the Father and the Son. It has been a day of preparation to all who have lived and understood and had the testimony borne to them that this is the truth. The Lord has said, "Seek for truth and the truth will make you free." So don't be afraid to speak the truth! Don't be afraid to acknowledge God daily. We don't have to get up on the mountains, upon the housetops, or anywhere else and pray to God openly and loud that He might hear us, because He can hear the whisper of the heart, or the mind to the heart that we would like to have the Lord bless us in the condition that we find ourselves in and have Him deliver us from the evils around us. We can do it. He is not very far away. He can answer our prayers.

Read the story of Elijah and Elisha; the story of Alma in the Book of Mormon. There is plenty of reading that we can go to to substantiate the words of the servants of God today. And we can prepare ourselves daily in our own homes, in our work. If our work calls us among the Gentiles, we can ask the Lord to protect us from the evils we find ourselves in, and we will find that it goes a long way to help us to get the Spirit of God and keep it.

Let us go to now and continue our preparation. That, not only this body of people that I am speaking to today that are under the sound of my voice, but all the honest in heart throughout the world, might continue their preparation through righteous living; that when the word goes out that we need men and women to assist in the building of the great temple that the Lord has spoken of that must be built, they will come and participate in that great work. For the call will go out to all the honest in heart throughout the world to come and participate in the building of that New Jerusalem. As the scriptures said, Christ said to the Nephite people that the call will go out and all who will come can come and participate in the building up of that part of Zion, or in the redemption of this work.

The One Mighty and Strong has got to have an army, a great army of men and women who have purified their lives. Let us commence today, because today is the day of our preparation. It is the day of our salvation, to prepare to meet our God. Let us take advantage of it and complete it while it is yet the day in our lives. For as long as we have life and health and strength, we have the opportunity to repent of our sins.

Now, I don't wish to keep you longer, but I want to say, "God bless you, each and everyone." You who have come from afar, I invoke the blessings of God upon you that you might travel in peace. You that have provided for the comfort of these people, don't think for a moment that the Lord doesn't recognize what we are doing from one moment to another. And let us do all that we can to promote the spirit of peace among us. Let us learn to love our neighbor as ourselves, that we might not be found wanting at the hour when the call comes.

May God bless you, I humbly pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

And I would like to hear again the words of President Richard S. Jessop, April 30, 1978, at Colorado City.

Richard S. Jessop  Colorado City, Arizona  April 30, 1978

I have been very much interested, my dear brothers and sisters and friends, at what I have been listening to. I hope what I say will be inspired by the Spirit of God that I will advance something in the shape of the doctrine of eternal truth that will be of value to all of us.

I have sat here thinking of the condition we are in as compared with the world, the revelation of heaven to our minds and lives to the effect that there is one man on the earth at a time on whom the keys of the eternal Priesthood are conferred. I sat here thinking on the condition of the world with regard to that sacred vessel of the Lord. If I don't have access to that instrument, that man, that character, whoever he is, how do we expect to ever attain to eternal life when this man holds the keys to it? Without the ability to apply ourselves to cooperation with that character? It has been my privilege, as I have oftentimes said -- the close, intimate, personal association with the man a good portion of my life, that I have had close association with that man; I don't know how to appreciate enough. I do appreciate it but not quite enough. If that man whom we acknowledge and recognize as holding the key position, and in case somebody should conclude that that is not the case, is not the character of the man, then pray tell who, where can such a character be found?

Many of us continuously bear witness that we know under the revelation of the Spirit of God who that character is and we do have personal association with him. So I continually come back to the question -- "Many an individual may think, 'Well, that man has certain faults and failings I don't approve of, how can I sustain him?'' But if he isn't a man whom you can sustain, where will you find such a character? I have observed far and wide in my bit of experience in this life prominent men always finding fault with truth raised up because of conduct. I am convinced, it is my testimony, my conviction and my attitude is that we have access to that character; and that his wisdom, association, his grace, his conduct and his spiritual influence over us is within reach of every person within this building and all the rest that are in association with him. What more shall I ask? One thing I must ask, and that is to prevail on the Lord to extend to me the power and influence and spirit of repentance, because I can get the benefits of that blessing through that man. I don't know of any other character in my experience of whom I can look for guidance and direction to the degree I can by associating with President Johnson. In the life of Jesus, two thousand years ago, there was one man on the earth at a time who held a certain position. And that position is conveyed upon another man today, and has been through the ages and will continue to be until the winding up scene of this old mother earth on which we dwell.

I don't know how to be thankful enough for the sacred privilege I have of being so intimately acquainted with God's servants, the prophets, and have access to His Servant on the earth in this day and time and dispensation. And again and again and again I ask the continuance and interrogation as, if this is not the man whom we claim it is, where will you find such a being? As far as anybody among us can tell, there is no other character that occupies that same position. Others, growing weary, striving to have the same association with these characters, but they miss the mark until they concentrate their devotion where the Lord places His. That is my witness and my testimony.

I hope and pray, dear brothers and sisters and friends, that we can improve as a body of people, as individuals, until we are ready and willing to receive the testimony of these prophetic characters. Because there is still one man on the earth at a time during each man's administration that occupies that position. The Lord knows their integrity and weaknesses and imperfections and He knows all about us. And if we want to be godlike in our nature and disposition, here is one example it is pretty safe to follow. Where can you find his equal? He is a man devoted entirely to the service of the Lord God Almighty. That is my witness that he has principle, integrity, devotion and character the quality of Leroy Sunderland Johnson. Help us, dear Father, that we will not miss the boat by going off astray into by and forbidden paths till we miss the way to get back Home. That is my mission, intent and desire and prayer for us all. Let us hold up and sustain and maintain our devotion and integrity and our whole ambition to sustaining the Lord. In the place where He (The Lord) devotes His confidence is the place for me to put mine. That is my conviction, my dear brothers and sisters and friends, and I hope the same for each one.

The Gospel is true and we know it is true. We know the Priesthood of God is conveyed to men on the earth and repose in the hands of mortal men in this day and dispensation and will continue to be so until the winding up scene, as we call it. So here we are; here stands the challenge, so let us go to, uphold and sustain one another in everything that is right and correct. If everything that is right and correct was white and everything that is error were black, we wouldn't have much difficulty in distinguishing between right and wrong. But the mixtures, mixed right and wrong in such a field -- grey, black and white mixed together oftentimes, the people are in difficulty to determine between the right and the wrong. There is so much error in the best of us and so much good in the worst of us, it ill becomes any of us to criticize the rest of us.

Let us bring ourselves to the unity, my dear brothers and sisters, unite ourselves in the same type of advancement and integrity and devotion. My conviction is that President Leroy Sunderland Johnson is the key man bearing witness and testimonies of the Prophets before him. So let us press on continuously and everlastingly maintaining our devotion to the truth, being thankful and grateful -- how grateful we need to be. What a debt of gratitude we owe to the Lord and to His servants for the privileges and opportunities that are ours. May the Lord bless and prosper all of them to the accomplishment of their most earnest desires is my humble prayer for each one, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Be Careful How We Treat the Lord's Anointed; Dream of Brigham Young -- Keep the Spirit of God

I ask the Lord to bless me with His Spirit as I read an item or two. This item was reported in the conference report from a sermon of Wilford Woodruff regarding Zion's Camp.

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1898, Page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together.

You will remember that the brethren were under a covenant to go and follow Joseph, go to redeem Zion and succor the saints there, and to go without murmuring and sustain Joseph Smith. They had not got to the Mississippi River until Sylvester Smith, Lyman Wight, and a good many others began murmuring and complaining against Joseph Smith the Prophet.

He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us.

He got up on the back of a wagon and called them together and told them:
He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us. He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. You have not realized my position before the Lord. But there is a chastisement before this camp." He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels. In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here, ***

Then was recounted how the cholera took fourteen lives; and Joseph Smith, desiring with a great charity and love that he had for his brethren, had put forth his hand to stay the cholera which had come upon them.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand to stay it, and I came very near falling by it myself."

So we had better be very careful, brothers and sisters, how we think of and follow the Lord's anointed. I never tire of reading the instructions that Brigham Young gave, or as he recounted the dream he had at Winter Quarters in 1847.

Truth 10:221

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time. President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed him many times, and said to him:

"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be? You have been from us a long time; we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him. Joseph said:

"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be bye and bye, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:

"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the Priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:

"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the Kingdom of God. Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in Heaven before they came into the world. Our Father in Heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion."

Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning. He saw where the priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity. Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people. From it we can learn how important it is to keep the Spirit of the Lord. No man or people can prosper who do not have it as their guide.

I would just like to add, brothers and sisters, in order to have the Spirit of God, as Joseph said here, we must be humble and contrite. We must be at peace with God and ourselves and with our brethren. The grand principle of charity, or love, the love of God, must be our constant companion, because that is a very great part of the Holy Spirit. I can't think of anything that would be a greater guide and a blessing to us by way of scripture than the seventh chapter of Moroni, the latter part.

So, brothers and sisters, as we go through these days of trial, let us remember, "By their fruits shall ye know them." By the fruits of the Holy Spirit shall ye know that the spirit of truth has been told, and whether it be of God. By their fruits of the spirit shall they be known. Let us all keep this in mind, and may God add His blessings and help us to be humble and contrite, and faithful and true to the truth, and to follow the Lord's anointed through all the days of our lives, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Humility; Must Be One With the Head

It is good to meet with you again, dear brothers and sisters. It is a wonderful privilege to be enlightened by the Spirit of God. This we need above all other things, each and every one of us, the spirit of discernment.

I am grateful for my association with President Johnson. I desire to go on in following and receiving instruction from him. I am grateful for the holy Priesthood and the blessings of the Priesthood. We should be anxiously engaged, brethren and sisters, in magnifying these blessings that God has bestowed upon us. The great object of our lives is to become like God, and the only way we can do this, brethren and sisters, is to get and keep the Spirit of God, which is the attributes and the mind of God. This Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son. The great need for us is to be humble and meek and lowly of heart, that we may obtain this Spirit as we find here in Section 67.

D.& C. 67

10. And again, verily I say unto you that it is your privilege, and a promise I give unto you that have been ordained unto this ministry, that inasmuch as you strip yourselves from jealousies and fears, and humble yourselves before me, for ye are not sufficiently humble, the veil shall be rent and you shall see me and know that I am -- not with the carnal neither natural mind, but with the spiritual.
11. For no man has seen God at any time in the flesh, except quickened by the Spirit of God.

12. Neither can any natural man abide the presence of God, neither after the carnal mind.
13. Ye are not able to abide the presence of God now, neither the ministering of angels; wherefore, continue in patience until ye are perfected.
14. Let not your minds turn back; and when ye are worthy, in mine own due time, ye shall see and know that which was conferred upon you by the hands of my servant Joseph Smith, Jun. Amen.

D.& C. 136
31. My people must be tried in all things, that they may be prepared to receive the glory that I have for them, even the glory of Zion; and he that will not bear chastisement is not worthy of my kingdom.
32. Let him that is ignorant learn wisdom by humbling himself and calling upon the Lord his God, that his eyes may be opened that he may see, and his ears opened that he may hear;
33. For my spirit is sent forth into the world to enlighten the humble and contrite, and to the condemnation of the ungodly.
34. Thy brethren have rejected you and your testimony, even the nation that has driven you out;
35. And now cometh the day of their calamity, even the days of sorrow, like a woman that is taken in travail; and their sorrow shall be great unless they speedily repent, yea, very speedily.
36. For they killed the prophets, and them that were sent unto them; and they have shed innocent blood, which crieth from the ground against them.
37. Therefore, marvel not at these things, for ye are not yet pure; ye can not yet bear my glory; but ye shall behold it if ye are faithful in keeping all my words that I have given you, from the days of Adam to Abraham, from Abraham to Moses, from Moses to Jesus and his apostles, and from Jesus and his apostles to Joseph Smith, whom I did call upon by mine angels, my ministering servants, and by mine own voice out of the heavens, to bring forth my work;
38. Which foundation he did lay, and was faithful; and I took him to myself.

39. Many have marveled because of his death; but it was needful that he should seal his testimony with his blood, that he might be honored and the wicked might be condemned.

40. Have I not delivered you from your enemies, only in that I have left a witness of my name?

41. Now, therefore, hearken, O ye people of my church; and ye elders listen together; you have received my kingdom.

42. Be diligent in keeping all my commandments, lest judgments come upon you, and your faith fail you, and your enemies triumph over you. So no more at present. Amen and Amen.

Those are the last verses of Section 136. The great message that we have, brothers and sisters, is that we need to repent. President Johnson's great message has been to this people to repent, and we are to preach nothing but repentance and preparation to the end that we may become like God.

Are we anxiously engaged in this great work, brothers and sisters? Do we want the truth, and do we want to live the truth? Or are we governed by tradition? Section 93 makes it very clear how we stand on these things.

D.& C. 93

1. Verily thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

There is the Gospel and the work of God in one verse, you might say.

26. The Spirit of truth is of God. I am the Spirit of truth, and John bore record of me, saying: He received a fulness of truth, yea, even of all truth; 27. And no man receiveth a fulness unless he keepeth his commandments. Repent and keep His commandments.

28. He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things.

29. Man was also in the beginning with God. Intelligence, or the light of truth, was not created or made, neither indeed can be.

30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.
31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.
32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.
33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.
35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.
36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

Then follows that which Brother Naylor brought to our attention. We have been commanded to bring up our children in light and truth. This is the great work that lies before us. These families have been given to us by the grace of God and through our desires in righteousness, but are we abiding in the law? Are we obedient to the conditions of the law? Perfect love casteth out all fear.

Now here is what our great duty is, brothers and sisters, if I may repeat again the great requirement that is made of us if we would become like God.

Moroni 7
42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity;

The pure love of Christ.

44. ...for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

Is there this pure love of Christ in our families? Or is there that condition that the Lord gave as the reason for the saints having been driven from Zion, the land of their inheritances?

D.& C. 101

6. There were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and striifes, and lustful and covetous desires among them; therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.

The Spirit of God cannot dwell in conditions of that kind. This pure love of Christ, charity, is the means by which those terrible calamities are overcome.

Calamities that have come upon the people of God have been because of their unbelief and treating lightly the things that God has given us and offered us that we might be saved.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, That to me is to be filled with the Holy Ghost, which has all of the attributes and the character of God. After all, it is the mind of God.

47. ...whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the
So, there is where we are, brothers and sisters. Are we obedient? If so, then we will get the Spirit of God. Are we meek and lowly of heart? If so, we will get the Spirit of God. Are we humble and contrite and repentant? If so, we will obtain the Spirit of God, which will be our guide and constant companion.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;
42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --
43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.
45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

Heber C. Kimball once gave a wonderful truth when he brought out the grand truth, "How will you get the Spirit of God except through the head?" And he was speaking of Brigham Young at that time. He said in 1857:

JD 6:66  Heber C. Kimball  November 22, 1857  SLC

I am telling what I am going to do: I have heard our leader talk so. Then I will do as he says. I would not give a dime for a man that would not.
Get out of my way, you poor stinking curses that would pursue a course contrary to the word of the living God! I am at war with such spirits. I want to know how we can be one, unless we are one with the head? When the head speaks, let every man and woman listen and obey.

I do not care so much about the women obeying as I do the men. I am not talking about them, but you, Elders of Israel, that have the Priesthood. Women have not a particle of Priesthood, only what they hold in connection with their husbands; neither have the men, except that which they hold in connection with those who hold the keys of the kingdom at head-quarters. Do not step out on one side and say you have Priesthood independent. You have not a particle in that way. I was ordained to be an Apostle under the hands of Oliver, and David, and Martin; and then it was confirmed by Joseph of the First Presidency. Now, I want to know what authority of Priesthood I have, only as I act in concert with those who gave it to me? They are God's agents and had power to ordain me.

Brother Brigham is my head; therefore that power is all in him. I act in oneness with him in all things, and sanction his purposes; and in so doing I sanction the purposes of God, of angels, and all heavenly beings. But, let me turn away and be independent of him, and where is my Priesthood, or where is my authority?

Wilford Woodruff said in 1857 (These are in volume 6 of the Journals):

JD 6:118 Wilford Woodruff December 6, 1857 SLC

I feel as brother Taylor said to-day: it matters not to me what the Lord designs of us; we should be passive in his hands.

You may take the smartest men that talent and learning ever made, and put them in the Church of God, and they never can get ahead of their leader. Their wisdom would be turned into folly. Why? Because they are not called to lead. If a man has never learned a letter of a book, if the Lord calls upon him to lead the Church and kingdom of God, he will give him power to do it. We have had these lessons laid before us day after day, calling upon us to be united, and our hearts to become as the heart of one man, that our prayers and works may be centred to one point in carrying out the counsel of our head.

The Lord will lead President Young where he wants him to go. We know God is with him and has led him all the time; and he led Joseph while he lived. The Quorum of the Twelve may exhaust their talent and acquirements in exhibiting principle upon any matter which belongs to the head to reveal, and yet the Prophet has to point out the error and set us right. The whole Church may unite to carry out any point that ought to come through the head, and we could not effect it. It requires brother Brigham to tell us what is right and what is wrong in many things, because that is his place and calling. There is a perfect channel existing between the Lord and him, through which he obtains wisdom, which is diffused through other channels to the people. That we know. We have got to learn to bring this knowledge into practice.

So that is where we are today. We cannot get the Spirit of God and we cannot go forward in the fulfillment of our obligations under the Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ except we be one with the head. We must be one with President Johnson today. And I want to tell you, you won't get the Spirit of God unless you acknowledge him before God and become one with him. I am speaking mainly to the Elders. They draw their families after them in the same channel. God will always honor the one He chooses, and upon whom He confers the keys of the holy Priesthood and the sealing powers. It comes down from Him, and Him alone and those whom He confers or delegates that authority and power.

There is never but one man on earth at a time upon whom God confers this Priesthood and power, says Section 132. God confers that upon him. And we are not going to get anywhere in this work until we come to that grand truth and the source of our blessings and the powers of God, as they may be given through him to us.

God help us to remain true and faithful to the knowledge that God has bestowed upon us by the wisdom and light and knowledge God has given through His head. We cannot obtain a clear and pure drink of water except we go to the fountainhead. The fountainhead. So let us drink deep there that we may have the Spirit of God and the powers of the Priesthood through the instrumentality of that one man, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Must Have Faith in the Godhead
For my part, brothers and sisters, I feel very strongly to act as proxy for President Johnson here today, and bring you his words spoken in Colorado City, December 24, 1978. And I ask the Spirit of God to be upon me as it was upon him as he delivered this message.

I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for this opportunity again to speak under the direction of the Spirit of God; for I know and realize that we are all in the hands of our Father. I hope that the few moments I speak that the Lord will bless me with words that I might please Him here this afternoon.

I wonder how many there are among us who know what faith is -- faith in God the Father and in His Son Jesus Christ and in the Holy Ghost.

The first principle of the Gospel.

This is considered the first principle of our religion. Joseph Smith said that the first principle of our religion is to know who God is and how to become like Him, which entails the faith of every individual. They should be taught these things before they go into the waters of baptism. They should be able to recite the Articles of Faith, the Ten Commandments, and other principles of eternal salvation that they can understand at that age. If this thing was conducted in every home where children are born and raised under the new and everlasting covenant, this would be a different world to live in.

The reason for the great commotion that is taking place today among the nations of the earth is simply because they do not have faith in a God that can do something for us. They have rejected the testimony of Jesus and tried to find another way of creation. The only way that we can find any inroad to the knowledge that God requires us to obtain is through faith in Him and a willingness within ourselves to do the will of God and apply it to our lives. If we would do what the Prophet Joseph tried to get us to do, there would be no need for chastisement and for a reformation of our people -- reforming from doing evil and turning to doing that which tends to build us up and give us hope in a hereafter.
So, let us get down to business and find out how important it is to have faith in a God in this day and hour in which we live, and how important it is to have faith in His Son, Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost.

When the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was set up, the charge to the elders of Israel was to teach nothing but repentance in this day to the people. That is all that has been taught or was taught by the elders until they arrived at a point where the old revelations were old and there was no need for them. They said, "Let's get rid of the old and apply to our lives the more saving principles of the Gospel." I have a little book in my possession that is called Revelations of More Enduring Value. It was supposed to take the place of the Doctrine & Covenants that we have at the present time. Some of the revelations that we have in the Doctrine & Covenants today were torn to pieces and certain words taken out of them. This little book was framed by James E. Talmage, one of the most learned, I guess, of any of the Apostles of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He attempted to take the present edition of the Doctrine & Covenants off the market and put this little book called Revelations of More Enduring Value in its place. But there was only one edition made. There was a time when you could not buy the present Doctrine & Covenants that we have.

I was on a mission to Britain when that came out.

I bought one of those little books. I sure put a great value on the old Doctrine & Covenants that I had.

During the '44 raid, they had once more put on the shelves of the Church bookstores a new edition of the Doctrine & Covenants as we have it today. The people wouldn't stand for what they tried to put over, so they had to go back to it. During that time when we had to answer to the court and show cause why we shouldn't be prosecuted for sending lewd and obscene literature through the mails (by sending the TRUTH Magazine out to the people to try to keep the faith of the people alive), Brother Musser sent his son, Guy, down to the bookstore to buy a Doctrine & Covenants. He bought the book; and to carry out the counsel of his father, he turned the corner of the leaf down on Section 132. He had the bookstore wrap the book in their wrapper and tie it up well, then he brought it down to the courthouse. Our attorney had it entered as evidence that we weren't the only ones that were sending that kind of literature through the mail. The result was that you couldn't find a Doctrine & Covenants on any of the shelves of the bookstores within twenty-four hours after that book was put in as evidence. That is what won the case for us in the '44 raid, for that one case -- the conspiracy case -- conspiring to send lewd and obscene literature through the mail. Today, there is nothing but lewd and Lasciviousness, ...obscene literature going through the mails. That is how our faith has dwindled in the state that the Lord gave to the Latter-day Saints.

We have a body of people who have gathered around the servants of God. The One Mighty and Strong came to the Prophet John Taylor and set up an order of things to keep alive the Gospel of the Kingdom that it might not go down; and when the angel laid his hands upon Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery and ordained them to the Aaronic Priesthood, he said, "This Gospel of the Kingdom will never be taken away or given to another people." So, the Lord provided a way whereby faith might continue in the earth.

Now, my dear brothers and sisters, there is a question I want to ask. Are we going to fail through not teaching our children correct principles while they are growing up? It has been told to you today that Joseph Smith was nigh unto cursing one time because he hadn't taught his children correctly. I want to tell you, it is a mighty serious thing to have a child born under the new and everlasting covenant of marriage. That is what it is for.

Whether you only have one wife or whether you have a dozen, it is the same. You were married in the temples of our Father, and they were sealed to you for time and all eternity -- you who were sealed in the temples. You who were sealed under the hands of this Priesthood were sealed by the same authority, and you can't get away from it. The marriage covenant is as valid as any of the words you have ever had read to you. It is a great opportunity, my dear brothers and sisters, for us to prove our worthiness before the Lord. We make a covenant that we will live all the laws, rites, and ordinances pertaining to this holy bond of matrimony in the new and everlasting covenant. Then follows the endowment.
How many of us are being prepared under the new and everlasting covenant to bring ourselves out from under the condemnation that God placed upon us in 1832?

Let us look at this thing in the light that we should look at it. Let us go down the road, my dear brothers and sisters, and repent.

The Lord says He will forgive all who will repent and apply to their lives the Gospel of Jesus Christ as it has been given to us through the mouths of the prophets. Now, all who will prepare themselves to become saints, the Lord will put a protection around us in this great hour of tribulation that covers this land; because He is going to fulfill His promises to the ancient prophets. He has said that He would bring about a period of peace for a thousand years. That time is right upon us. It is right at our doors.

Every person that does not prepare himself for a glorious resurrection will have to be wiped off this earth, and that is what the Lord means. He has done it before. He wiped this land clean of its inhabitants after He told the brother of Jared that those who would dwell upon this land that He was going to lead him to would be a God-fearing people and serve the God of the land or when they were ripened in iniquity, He would have to destroy them. He destroyed the Jaredite nation because they would not keep the commandments of God as they were taught by those ancient prophets, Jared and his brother. Now, He has got to do the same thing again.

When Christ visited this continent, the record tells us that all were killed except the more righteous.

Chapter 17 of Third Nephi tells us that there were about twenty-five hundred left, consisting of men, women, and children, after the great destructions at the time of the crucifixion of Christ.

Then, after a while, after faithfully teaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ, they were all converted to the fact that Jesus was the Christ. The record tells us that for two hundred years they had all things in common; they had perfect confidence in one another. Then they began to fall away again. We all know the record. We have it, and we can read it.

But what are we going to do? Are we going to keep on sliding along in our slip-shod ways and instead of teaching our children correct principles teach them doctrine that will damn them and send them to hell? What is the matter with us?! Don't we have any faith at all?!

When you go home from this meeting, you ought to call your children around you and begin teaching them faith in God, the Eternal Father, and in His Son, Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost; and go from there and teach them who God is and how to become like Him. Then analyze these words. The Lord tells us plainly in the Doctrine & Covenants that Zion cannot be redeemed only upon the principles of the Celestial Kingdom. And in Joseph Smith's Teachings, he tells us that we are not worthy of one endowment until we are clean every whit.

He told that to the Twelve Apostles in preparation for the dedication of the Kirtland Temple, and the endowment that they expected to receive at that time.

How can we be clean every whit if we have to fill our brains with the evils of this world and then try to repent of our sins and shortcomings? We haven't got time! The Lord has promised the Seventh Period of time as a period of peace. He says He is a man of his word, and His word is sharper than a two-edged sword. And that means what it says -- He will cut us off if we don't prepare ourselves.

So, "Preparation" is the word. Prepare ourselves for a glorious resurrection. Every young man and every young woman should have no other thought in mind.

Are you listening, young men and women?

And our teachers should not have anything else in mind for the students that they teach, only to bring them up and to make saints out of them.

The Lord says, "I will protect my saints in the latter days if I have to send fire from heaven to do so." We know He can do that, because the record tells us He can. He has ways of destroying this people in a moment's notice, and there is nothing that could stay His hand if we don't repent of our sins; because we have received more than any other people upon the earth today. Where much is given, much is required. Very much is required of this people. We are required to overcome all evil and cast it aside.

Brother Zitting told us, one time when he was talking to us, that this place ...talking in this Colorado City district, talking to the people, he said, "The Millennium can start right here if we will let it." If we are going to be prepared to go back and do anything in assisting in the building of the New Jerusalem, we are going to have to do a whole lot of repenting and a whole lot of hard work night and day. You don't need to ask for another job from the Priesthood. You have one cut out for you, and you just as well get down to business and do the job. Every young man that has had a wife placed by the side of him by this Priesthood, should never go to bed at night without kneeling down and invoking the blessings of God upon them. When they arise in the morning, they should never go out of the house until they have invoked the blessings of God upon them. Their children should never see anything but good transpire between the father and the mother. If a man is in the habit of scolding his wife, he shouldn't do it in front of his children.

There is a lot of work to be done, my dear brothers and sisters, and this is the doctrine that I am going to keep on pounding at as long as the Lord will bless my voice that I might be heard. I don't care who it hurts or who it builds up in their determination to serve God and keep His commandments -- I hope it does everyone in this room today.

My love for this people is greater than you think it is. Some think I am over-burdened with the determination to do good, Imagine that.

...but as long as the Lord burns me to the point where I can still speak and speak His word to us, which is the word of repentance and preparation, I am going to keep hollering.

I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and that we will hasten to prepare ourselves against the day of visitation, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Johnson's voice has been stilled for a purpose which God has in mind for us. And he is suffering for us, this people, who have not heeded his words. He is suffering for his brethren. But that voice is going to be made as a voice of thunder when the Lord brings him back into the pulpit. For he is going to be restored, renewed to accomplish the great and a mighty work in leading this people in preparation for the redemption of Zion, which I testify to you of this, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Family Oneness;
The Lord Has Perfect Confidence in His Keyholder

I thought, brothers and sisters, if were called upon I would like to read a very choice item that Lorenzo Snow gave in his time. We have had it before, but I think it enlarges upon the things that our attention was called to in a sermon of President Johnson, which I read last Sunday regarding our families, our wives and children, the terrible responsibility that we have. We have the greatest calling and work that God can give in our having entered into this holy order or matrimony, the Family Order of Heaven; and I think this points out some pure principles that we should be reminded of from time to time.

JD 4:155  Lorenzo Snow  January 4, 1857  SLC

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breath a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children. But it is otherwise than this now; the man is full of tradition, and has not got rid of that which was taught him in the Gentile world, he has not become one with his file leader, as brother Kimball frequently remarks.

That principle which I spoke of last Sunday, in regard to a man becoming his own daddy is correct, for a man that feels so has not subjected himself to the Priesthood, but is disposed to become his own leader and his own head, and it is the case with many in this Church, they have not become one with their file leader, and therefore the Spirit is not transmitted to their wife or wives, and not having learned true obedience themselves, the wife cannot receive that which the husband has not got to impart. How can it be expected that the wife can obtain that which the husband has not received.

When a man is full of sin he is not capable of lifting his voice to teach his family. How does a man expect he can be a Patriarch to a large family when he is going on in sin and darkness, and is becoming more blind to the things of the kingdom? He goes forward and gathers other wives and increases his family, but how does he expect to teach them when he is not susceptible of instruction himself? I tell you he will see the day when he will be too late and will have to stand out of the way. A man has to look well at the foundation upon which he builds; a man has to look to the Lord for strength, he has to be purified and sanctified, and he has to purify those that are around him, and among that number will be his one wife, if she is worthy of salvation, and if she is susceptible of being saved. He must have sufficient in him of the saving principle to impart to her, and inasmuch as she can conform to that, she can thereby become sanctified, and be prepared for an exaltation; but if he cannot get faith enough to receive the principles of life and salvation, so that he can communicate those truths to others, he may get one wife, and then he may get another, and after that another, and still another, and then he is worse off than before, and is no nearer to the kingdom of God, but much farther off.

Men who wish to retain their standing before God in the Holy Priesthood, must have the spirit of prophecy, and be qualified to administer life and salvation to the people:

Prophecy is teaching.

...and if they cannot do it to the world, they must do it at home, in their families, in their shops, and in the streets, that their hearts may be inspired with words of life at their firesides, in teaching the Gospel to their children, and to their neighbors, as much so as when they are speaking to their brethren from this stand. This having a little of the Spirit when before the people and then laying it aside, will not do. Some men will speak to the people and then go home and be just as dry as molding stock, and instead of having the words of life in them, they become perfectly dry and dead, but this will not do any longer.

JD 4:155  Lorenzo Snow  January 4, 1857  SLC
In regard to being one I will say that if ever there was a day when it was necessary for us to be one, now is the time, now is the day and the hour that we are called upon to be one, as Jesus and His Father are one; it is for us to be one together, as brother Brigham and brother Kimball are one, that we may be one indeed.

So we see that we have to get and impart the truths and the Spirit of God from the fountainhead. This is found in a letter William Clayton wrote to George Q. Cannon, and this is quoted from Millennial Star, volume 23, page 59, about 1860.

William Clayton  Millennial Star 23:59
To me, from the first time I received a knowledge of the principles of life and salvation, as revealed through our martyred Prophet Joseph, I have never seen, nor heard, nor read, nor felt, nor thought of anything to cast a doubt on the truths of the everlasting Gospel as taught by this the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, neither on the authority, integrity, nor purity and nobleness of intention of those who have been our leaders. To suppose that the man whom God exalts to the position of leader of his kingdom in this last dispensation could lead the people astray, to my mind is an insult to our Father in heaven. God has commenced a work and a kingdom which is to stand for ever,  The words of Daniel, "it shall stand for ever," are true and faithful; and to suppose for one moment that with such a kingdom to establish -- so vast a work to accomplish, the Lord would select a man to lead it in whom he had not the most perfect confidence, when he had the inhabitants of the whole earth to choose from, is preposterous; and the natural inference is, if God has confidence sufficient in a man to place him at the head of so great and glorious a kingdom, I surely should have confidence enough in such a man to be implicitly led by him.

So we may have that confidence that President Richard S. Jessop spoke of, that I have read several times -- he places his confidence where God places
His; to go on down the road to life and salvation, the building up of the Kingdom of God and the establishment of this great work in the earth; which I pray we may all seek to do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

One Man Rule;
The Keyholder Will Never Lead the People Astray;
All Attacks of the Adversary Are Centered Against the One Man

I am grateful to be here with you, brethren and sisters. I trust that I have the Spirit of God as I read some words which I feel will be very instructive to us, that we will always -- what has been said here before -- hold to those principles which Joseph Smith the Prophet gave us. Never deviate. God is unchangeable and we should hang to the iron rod of truth, until we mend the ends that we are here for. President Johnson has held steadily to the truth, has never deviated, as we read in his sermons.

When Joseph received the keys of the Priesthood he alone on the earth held them; that is, he was the first, he stood at the head. It was promised that he should not lose them or be removed out of his place, so long as he was faithful.

And when he died President Young was chosen by the voice of the people, and sanctioned by the voice of God. He held the Priesthood which was after the order of the Son of God, with the keys which pertain to the presidency of that Priesthood upon earth. He received it from the hands of Joseph, directly from him or by his authority; and he held it until his death. When he died that mantle fell upon John Taylor, and while he lives he will hold that authority inasmuch as he is faithful. So it was with President Brigham Young, he held it on condition of his faithfulness. If any man in that position should become unfaithful, God would remove him out of his place. I testify in the name of Israel's God that He will not suffer the head of the Church, him whom He has chosen to stand at the head, to transgress His laws and apostatize; the moment he should take a course that would in time lead to it, God would take him away. Why? Because to suffer a wicked man to occupy that position, would be to allow, as it were, the fountain to become corrupted, which is something He will never permit. Because it is not the work of Joseph Smith; it is not the work of Brigham Young or of John Taylor. It is not the work of man but of God Almighty; and it is His business to see that the men who occupy this position are men after His own heart, men that will receive instructions from Him, and that will carry out the same according to the counsels of His will. You may depend that he will see to it, and risk nothing upon his head.

President Johnson has been faithful and true and taught the same doctrine and teachings from the beginning until now. If he had deviated and said or done anything that would lead this people astray, the Lord would have taken him. That was Joseph F. Smith. You will find it at page 192 of Journal 24.

There is none but this one man, who is designated by the Lord to receive revelation for the people, as we have it set out so perfectly in Section 28 of the Doctrine and Covenants. Let us hear what George Q. Cannon says upon this subject.

Now, there is only one way in which the commandments of God can be revealed unto us. God has not left this in doubt. He has not left us to grope in the dark respecting His methods of revealing His mind and will unto His children. In the very beginning of the work of God in these last days, to remove all doubt upon this subject, God gave revelations unto this Church in exceeding great plainness, and there was one principle that was emphatically dwelt upon and enforced, namely, that there was but one channel, one channel alone, through which the word of God and the commandments of God should come to this people. The word of God was not to come from the people up. It was not vox populi, vox dei, That all the voice of the people is the voice of God.

...but it was to be vox dei, vox populi --

The voice of God is the voice of the people.

...that is, the voice of God and then the voice of the people -- from God downward through the channel that He should appoint; by the means that He should institute, that word should come to the people, and when obeyed by the people would bring the union and the love and the strength consequent upon union and love. And this has been the peculiarity and the excellence of this work of God thus far in the earth. Its excellence has consisted in this. Its power, its glory, the glory that we have as a people, the glory that belongs to the Church of God consists in this peculiar feature, that the word of God to us comes from God and not from the people. It is received by the people, accepted by the people, submitted to by the people, and this has produced the union and the love, as I have said, that have characterized the work thus far in its progress in the earth. Take away from it this feature and it becomes weak as water that is unconfined. There is no strength to it. There is nothing to be feared about it. There is nothing to excite animosity or hatred. But give it this feature and it becomes a power in the earth. Even if there were only six men it would be a power. Let there be twelve and it is twice the power, and you go on doubling it, and it increases in a proportionate ratio, and it will do so, as long as that principle is maintained and lived up to. God revealed that principle in the beginning. Oliver Cowdery, -- a representation of whose ordination is given to us on this sealing -- received at the same time that the Prophet Joseph did the Aaronic Priesthood. John the Baptist, who last held the keys of the Aaronic Priesthood in the flesh upon the earth, laid his hands upon Joseph, the Prophet, and him at the same time. He afterwards received, in common with Joseph, the administration of those who had held the keys of the Apostleship in the flesh on the earth -- that is, Peter, James, and John. They administered unto him at the same time that they administered unto Joseph, upon the same occasion, and he became an Apostle with Joseph, being the second Apostle in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Now, it might be thought that a man thus favored, favored to receive the Aaronic Priesthood, favored to receive the Melchisedec Priesthood and Apostleship at the same time with the Prophet, favored with the privilege of baptizing the Prophet of God, and of sealing upon him the gift of the Holy Ghost; it might be thought, I say, that a man thus favored would have stood alongside of the Prophet and been of equal authority in giving the word of God in writing unto the people. But no. God drew a distinction and plainly told Oliver Cowdery that that which he wrote to this Church should not be by way of commandment to the Church, but by wisdom. The Lord said to him, "If thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by way of commandment unto the Church, thou mayest do it. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom." It was only one man's privilege, one man's authority to stand pre-eminent in the earth at one time holding the keys and giving the commandments of God -- or rather the Lord giving His commandments through him in writing to the Church.

Or the people.

In the early days there was a man that was a witness to the Book of Mormon, who had been selected by the Lord to handle the plates, to heft them, and then to write his testimony concerning that which he had seen and felt. He obtained possession of a seer stone -- or as it is called sometimes, a peep-stone. Through this peep-stone he professed to obtain revelations, which he wrote. And the Lord gave a commandment upon the subject, and Oliver Cowdery was commanded to take Hiram Page by himself, and talk to him upon the subject.

This was all recounted in Section 28.

He was instructed to tell him that that which he had received through that stone was not of God, and that Satan deceived him. He was told that this power was not given to him, and "neither shall anything be appointed unto any of this Church contrary to the Church covenants." That is, there was only one man upon the earth who had a right to give to the Church commandments concerning the word of God, and the conduct of the word of God, and that was the man whom He had selected. Thus plainly in the very beginning of this work, the very threshold of it, there was no doubt left upon the minds of those who received the revelations of God concerning the policy of the Lord in the building up of this work upon the earth. You can see, readily, if you will reflect for a few moments upon the subject how necessary it is that this should be the case. Invest two men with that power, and what is the result? Why, there is an opportunity for division. Invest twelve men with it, and you have the same result to an increased extent. Invest the whole body of the people with it, and what would be the result? You can understand this by very little reflection. It is not God's way of doing. It is not God's manner of building up His kingdom. It is not the way that He has founded His Church, neither in this day nor in any other day when He had a church upon the earth. It is through this source that commandments must come to the people of God. It is through this source that the word of God has come to this people during the 53 years that have now elapsed. The prosperity of this people, their success, and the triumphs that have attended this work are due to this, that God has chosen one man, and through him has given His word unto His people, and by listening to His counsel, by obeying the manifestations of God through him, they have been led in this career of prosperity upon which we have entered, and in which we are now traveling. I wish to impress this with all the power of which I am capable upon the minds of my brethren and sisters who are here to-day, and upon this entire Church. I wish them to understand it. I bear testimony, as a servant of God, that this is the way, God having revealed it unto me to my perfect knowledge, to my perfect satisfaction and understanding. There can be no two channels; there is but one; God having chosen but one. Now, as long as we keep this in mind we are in no danger as a people -- that is if we keep it in mind and obey it. I am willing to stake my reputation -- I never claim to be much of a prophet; I do not talk much about prophecy -- but as a servant of God I am willing to stake my reputation in making this statement, that if you will listen to the voice of God as manifested through His servant who stands at our head, you never will, from this time forward until eternity dawns upon you -- you never will be overcome by your enemies, or by the enemies of God's kingdom.

These were sentiments given in 1883, three years after 1880. Now I want to add another. This one is also George Q. Cannon. That other, by the way, is at page 362 of Journal 24. This is 274, about the one-man power.

But there is an authority in the Church to whom God has given the right to counsel in the affairs of the children of men in regard to temporal affairs. When Joseph Smith lived upon the earth it was his prerogative to do that. He stood as God's ambassador -- not clothed with the attributes of God, for he was a mortal man; but he stood as the representative of God upon the earth, holding the keys of the kingdom of God upon the earth, with the power to bind on earth and it should be bound in heaven. He occupied that position when he lived, and on his departure another took his place upon the earth and stood in precisely the same capacity to us as a people that Joseph Smith did. That was Brigham Young. When he passed away another stepped forward and took the same position, and holds the same keys and exercises the same authority and stands precisely in the same position to us that the Prophet Joseph did, or that the Prophet Brigham did, when he lived upon the earth. Now, was not Joseph Smith a mortal man? Yes. A fallible man? Yes. Had he not weaknesses? Yes, he acknowledged them himself, and did not fail to put the revelations on record in this book (the Doctrine and Covenants) wherein God reproved him. His weaknesses were not concealed from the people. He was willing that people should know that he was mortal, and had failings. And so with Brigham Young. Was not he a mortal man, a man who had weaknesses? He was not a God. And yet when he spoke by the power of God, it was the word of God to this people. When he sealed a man up to eternal life, he bestowed upon him the blessings pertaining to eternity, and to the Godhead, or when he delegated others to do it in his stead, God in the eternal world recorded the act; the blessings that were sealed upon that man or that woman, they were sealed to be binding in this life, and in that life which is to come; they became part of the records of eternity, and would be fulfilled to the very letter upon the heads of those upon whom they were pronounced, provided they were faithful before God, and fulfilled their part of the covenant. There is no doubt about it. And so it is to-day. There is but one man, (as you have often heard), at a time on the earth, who holds this authority. There may be others who have this authority also; and I thank God there are many who hold this authority -- that is the authority of the Apostleship; but they hold it subordinate to the man who holds the keys, they cannot exercise this authority only as he shall consent or delegate or authorize them to do so.

He delegates that authority, the sealing powers.

There is but one man who has the power to exercise this authority, to stand, as it were, in God's stead, to be His voice unto the people, and that is the man who stands at the head and who is President, and who holds the keys by virtue of the appointment of God. God places him there. It is not man's act. It is God's providence. God knows the hearts of the children of men. By His overruling Providence He brings this man to the front, or He keeps him in the rear, just as it pleases Him. I believe that His providence is over all of us, and He can kill or remove as He pleases, or He can preserve in life as seemeth good to Him. And he has done so.

The revelation, Section 132 verse 7, in brackets says that "there is never but one man on the earth at a time upon whom the keys of this Priesthood and power are conferred." I was asked once, "What does that word 'conferred' mean? Is there an ordinance?" No. God Himself confers it, as I read right
When the Prophet Joseph was slain, God, by His overruling Providence, brought the man to the front who was His choice to succeed His servant. David Patten was slain at Crooked River, who was the senior of Brigham Young. Thomas B. Marsh lost the faith, also the senior of Brigham Young; but Brigham Young was preserved in the providence of God, and when His Prophet was slain He stepped forward clothed with the eternal Priesthood of God, full of the fire of the Holy Ghost and the power of God, and the whole people felt that they stood in the presence of the man whom God had chosen and whom God had endowed for the position. God qualified him and made him equal to every emergency from that hour until the hour of his death. God was his unfailing friend. He blessed every one who listened to the counsel of His servant. He blessed this entire people, and He blessed this land under his (President Young's) administration. And we know by the outpouring of the power and gifts and graces of God upon us individually as well as an entire people, that he was God's servant, chosen by the Almighty to stand at the head of His Church. Could I not trust that man with anything I had? Why, I would have been an unworthy servant of God, if I could not have done so; I would have been recreant to every principle that I believe in, if I could not have done so.

That sounds like the words of Richard S. Jessop.

Now, watch the providence of God in the selection of our present President. At the time Joseph and Hyrum were slain, according to all human appearances he was as unlikely to live almost as they were who were already dead. In the hottest of summer he was shot to pieces. The men who waited upon him had no idea that he would live. But he did. God brought him through. But who thought then that he would be the senior Apostle who would preside over this Church? There were a number his seniors. In consequence of a misunderstanding and his being senior in age, Brother Woodruff's name stood above Brother Taylor's. Brother Woodruff recognized all the time that he and Willard Richards were not his seniors in ordination. President Taylor had been ordained to the Apostleship before them, and when this matter was brought before the President of the Church (President Young) the names were put in proper order. Brother Woodruff recognized this as being correct, and if Willard Richards had lived, doubtless he would have had the same feeling. But then there stood Orson Hyde and Orson Pratt, as seniors in the quorum. Their names preceded his. But had their names the right to stand in that position? No, they had not, for reasons I need not dwell upon here, which ought to be familiar to every Elder in this Church. Therefore, I will merely say this: that President John Taylor, Wilford Woodruff, and George A. Smith were bearers of the apostleship at a time when Orson Hyde and Orson Pratt did not hold that power.

They were dropped from the quorum and lost their Apostleship in the days of Nauvoo.

Therefore, they were by right their seniors; and President Young providentially, prompted by the Spirit of God, made a ruling which the Twelve accepted -- every man knowing the true state of the case -- as correct, and placed the names in their order some time before his death, making John Taylor, Wilford Woodruff, and George A. Smith, seniors of Orson Hyde and of Orson Pratt. In this manner God has brought forward to the front the man whom He chose to be President of the Church.

Or as we would say now, President of Priesthood. The Church and the Priesthood government were together then.

It is His privilege to choose whom He pleases. The man whom He wants preserved is preserved.

The worthy senior, then, is decided upon by God Himself.

When the Prophets of God were slain, Brother Taylor's life, by the wonderful providence of God, was preserved, and he has lived among us until this day. He now stands in his place as the President of the Church, holding the keys and the authority as such to manage all the affairs of the Church according to God's mind and will. And shall one who knows this, who knows that God has honored him, that God has chosen him, that God has endowed him, that God has blessed him -- shall such a one raise his voice against him, and say that it is not the will of God that he shall control the affairs of this Church? God forbid! God forbid that I or any other man in this Church should do anything of the kind! On the contrary, let us be obedient to the voice of God, and to the will of God. If God, through him, says unto us we must consecrate our property, we must hold everything we have subject to the will of God, if He through him dictates any course of policy, I say it is my duty as a servant of God to submit: ***
He requires on our part obedience to His will, as it is made manifest through the man whom He has chosen.

Now, this is a great point. I look upon it as one of the most vital points connected with our existence in these mountains. I look upon it as a test. It may be said that it will test the Latter-day Saints as they never have been tested -- this vital doctrine of obedience to the Priesthood of the Son of God. There is no point today against which so many assaults are directed by the wicked. They make it the main object of their attacks. They would like to destroy confidence in your hearts in the Priesthood of the Son of God. If they could weaken your confidence; if they could undermine your faith; if they could by any power or means in their possession wean you from the Church, and sow the seeds of distrust and suspicion in your minds concerning the Priesthood, or those who bear it, they would attain the object that they have in view. The man who holds the keys is always the object of assault. His life is the life that is most sought after. He is the man they would strike down, if they had the power. They seek to weaken the confidence of the people in him, by all manner of slanders, and by every sort of falsification. It is the main object of our enemies to sow the seeds of distrust and suspicion in the midst of the Latter-day Saints, and to accomplish this they relate all manner of falsehoods concerning those who bear the Priesthood of the Son of God. They contort every act. They misrepresent every word and every counsel that is given. They endeavor to put everything in a false light. And those who read those things continually, begin to believe by degrees, that there is foundation for them, that there is something wrong, that this man or the other man is not to be trusted, and that they are doing wrong in yielding obedience to the counsels of the Priesthood, and in submitting to its control. You are aware these attacks are constantly directed against the Priesthood, and it is, as I say, the vital point to-day.

So it is today. God bless you, amen.

D.& C. 121 and 122;
How to Labor in the Priesthood
With the help of the Lord I would like to read from my favorite text, that which has been given by God to Joseph Smith the Prophet. I think we need to be reminded of some things from time to time, which I pray will serve a good purpose at this time.

D.& C. 121

1. O God, where art thou? And where is the pavilion that covereth thy hiding place?
2. How long shall thy hand be stayed, and thine eye, yea thy pure eye, behold from the eternal heavens the wrongs of thy people and of thy servants, and thine ear be penetrated with their cries?
3. Yea, O Lord, how long shall they suffer these wrongs and unlawful oppressions, before thine heart shall be softened towards them, and thy bowels be moved with compassion toward them?
4. O Lord God Almighty, maker of heaven, earth, and seas, and of all things that in them are, and who controllest and subjectest the devil, and the dark and benighted dominion of Sheol -- stretch forth thy hand; let thine eye pierce; let thy pavilion be taken up; let thy hiding place no longer be covered; let thine ear be inclined; let thine heart be softened, and thy bowels moved with compassion toward us.
5. Let thine anger be kindled against our enemies; and, in the fury of thine heart, with thy sword avenge us of our wrongs.
6. Remember thy suffering saints, O our God; and thy servants will rejoice in thy name forever.

The Lord answers:

7. My son, peace be unto thy soul; thine adversity and thine afflictions shall be but a small moment;
8. And then, if thou endure it well, God shall exalt thee on high; thou shalt triumph over all thy foes.
9. Thy friends do stand by thee, and they shall hail thee again with warm hearts and friendly hands.
10. Thou art not yet as Job; thy friends do not contend against thee, neither charge thee with transgressions, as they did Job.
11. And they who do charge thee with transgression, their hope shall be blasted, and their prospects shall melt away as the hoar frost melteth before the burning rays of the rising sun;
12. And also that God hath set his hand and seal to change the times and seasons, and to blind their minds, that they may not understand his marvelous workings; that he may prove them also and take them in their own craftiness;
13. Also because their hearts are corrupted, and the things which they are willing to bring upon others, and love to have others suffer, may come upon themselves to the very uttermost;
14. That they may be disappointed also, and their hopes may be cut off;
15. And not many years hence, that they and their posterity shall be swept from under heaven, saith God, that not one of them is left to stand by the wall.
16. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them.
17. But those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin, and are the children of disobedience themselves.
18. And those who swear falsely against my servants, that they might bring them into bondage and death --
19. Wo unto them; because they have offended my little ones they shall be severed from the ordinances of mine house.
20. Their basket shall not be full, their houses and their barns shall perish, and they themselves shall be despised by those that flattered them.
21. They shall not have right to the priesthood, nor their posterity after them from generation to generation.
22. It had been better for them that a millstone had been hanged about their necks, and they drowned in the depth of the sea.
23. Wo unto all those that discomfort my people, and drive, and murder, and testify against them, saith the Lord of Hosts; a generation of vipers shall not escape the damnation of hell.
24. Behold, mine eyes see and know all their works, and I have in reserve a swift judgment in the season thereof, for them all;
25. For there is a time appointed for every man, according as his works shall be.
26. God shall give unto you knowledge by his holy Spirit, yea, by the unspeakable gift of the Holy Ghost, that has not been revealed since the world was until now;
27. Which our forefathers have awaited with anxious expectation to be revealed in the last times, which their minds were pointed to by the angels, as held in reserve for the fulness of their glory;
28. A time to come in the which nothing shall be withheld, whether there be one God or many gods, they shall be manifest.
29. All thrones and dominions, principalities and powers, shall be revealed and set forth upon all who have endured valiantly for the gospel of Jesus Christ.
30. And also, if there be bounds set to the heavens or to the seas, or to the dry land, or to the sun, moon, or stars --
31. All the times of their revolutions; all the appointed days, months, and years, and all the days of their days, months, and years, and all their glories, laws, and set times, shall be revealed in the days of the dispensation of the fulness of times --
32. According to that which was ordained in the midst of the Council of the Eternal God of all other gods before this world was, that should be reserved unto the finishing and the end thereof, when every man shall enter into his eternal presence and into his immortal rest.
33. How long can rolling waters remain impure? What power shall stay the heavens? As well might man stretch forth his puny arm to stop the Missouri river in its decreed course, or to turn it up stream, as to hinder the Almighty from pouring down knowledge from heaven upon the heads of the Latter-day Saints.
34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?
35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson --
36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.
37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins; or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.

39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.

40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

Here is how we should govern ourselves and our families, in connection with him who presides over us, who has the keys and the powers to dispense to those who are faithful and true:

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

So has President Johnson governed over this people, with meekness and lowliness of heart, and with love unfeigned.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

And I see a parallel with President Johnson in Section 122.

D. & C. 122

1. The ends of the earth shall inquire after thy name, and fools shall have thee in derision, and hell shall rage against thee;

2. While the pure in heart, and the wise, and the noble, and the virtuous, shall seek counsel, and authority, and blessings constantly from under thy hand.

And as I read this I consider President Johnson standing in the same office and authority and power as Joseph Smith did then, and he to us.

3. And thy people shall never be turned against thee by the testimony of traitors.

4. And although their influence shall cast thee into trouble, and into bars and walls, thou shalt be had in honor; and but for a small moment and thy voice shall be more terrible in the midst of thine enemies than the fierce lion, because of thy righteousness; and thy God shall stand by thee forever and ever.

5. If thou art called to pass through tribulation; if thou art in perils among false brethren; if thou art in perils among robbers; if thou art in perils by land or by sea;

6. If thou art accused with all manner of false accusations; if thine enemies fall upon thee; if they tear thee from the society of thy father and mother and brethren and sisters; and if with a drawn sword thine enemies tear thee from the bosom of thy wife, and of thine offspring, and thine elder son, although but six years of age, shall cling to thy garments, and shall say, My father, my father, why can't you stay with us? O, my father, what are the men going to do with you? and if then he shall be thrust from thee by the sword, and thou be dragged to prison, and thine enemies prowl around thee like wolves for the blood of the lamb;

7. And if thou shouldst be cast into the pit, or into the hands of murderers, and the sentence of death passed upon thee; if thou be cast into the deep; if the billowing surge conspire against thee; if fierce winds become thine enemy; if the heavens gather blackness, and all the elements combine to hedge up the way; and above all, if the very jaws of hell shall gape open the mouth wide after thee, know thou, my son, that all these things shall give thee experience, and shall be for thy good.
8. The Son of Man hath descended below them all. Art thou greater than he?

9. Therefore, hold on thy way, and the priesthood shall remain with thee; for their bounds are set, they cannot pass. Thy days are known, and thy years shall not be numbered less; therefore, fear not what man can do, for God shall be with you forever and ever.

God bless you, amen.

Beware of Pride;
Do Not Betray the Brethren

I feel like quoting Joseph Smith, Jun., also. Joseph addressed the Twelve, July 2, 1839:

> Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

> Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother. Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, and say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

I will give you one of the Keys of the mysteries of the Kingdom. It is an eternal principle, that has existed with God from all eternity: That man who rises up to condemn others, finding fault with the Church, saying that they are out of the way, while he himself is righteous, then know assuredly, that that man is in the high road to apostasy; and if he does not repent, will apostatize, as God lives. The principle is as correct as the one that Jesus put forth in saying that he who seeketh a sign is an adulterous person; and that principle is eternal, undeviating, and firm as the pillars of heaven; for whenever you see a man seeking after a sign, you may set it down that he is an adulterous man.

The Priesthood was first given to Adam; he obtained the First Presidency, and held the keys of it from generation to generation. He obtained it in the Creation, before the world was formed, as in Genesis 1:26, 27, 28. He had dominion given him over every living creature. He is Michael the Archangel, spoken of in the Scriptures. Then to Noah, who is Gabriel: he stands next in authority to Adam in the Priesthood; he was called of God to this office, and was the father of all living in this day, and to him was given the dominion. These men held keys first on earth, and then in heaven.

The Priesthood is an everlasting principle, and existed with God from eternity, and will to eternity, without beginning of days or end of years. The keys have to be brought from heaven whenever the Gospel is sent. When they are revealed from heaven, it is by Adam's authority.

Daniel in his seventh chapter speaks of the Ancient of Days; he means the oldest man, our Father Adam, Michael, he will call his children together and hold a council with them to prepare them for the coming of the Son of Man. He (Adam) is the father of the human family, and presides over the spirits of all men, and all that have had the keys must stand before him in this grand council. This may take place before some of us leave this stage of action. The Son of Man stands before him, and there is given him glory and dominion. Adam delivers up his stewardship to Christ, that which was delivered to him as holding the keys of the universe, but retains his standing as head of the human family.

The spirit of man is not a created being; it existed from eternity, and will exist to eternity. Anything created cannot be eternal; and earth, water, etc., had their existence in an elementary state, from eternity. Our Savior speaks of children and says, Their angels always stand before my Father. The Father called all spirits before Him at the creation of man, and organized them. He (Adam) is the head, and was told to multiply. The keys were first given to him, and by him to others. He will have to give an account of his stewardship, and they to him.

The Priesthood is everlasting. The Savior, Moses, and Elias, gave the keys to Peter, James and John, on the mount, when there were transfigured before him. The Priesthood is everlasting -- without beginning of days or end of years; without father, mother, etc. If there is no change of ordinances there is no change of Priesthood. Wherever the ordinances of the Gospel are administered, there is the Priesthood.

How have we come at the Priesthood in the last days? It came down, down, in regular succession. Peter, James, and John had it given to them and they gave it to others. Christ is the Great High Priest; Adam next. Paul speaks of the Church coming to an innumerable company of angels - - to God the Judge of all -- the spirits of just men made perfect; to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant. (Hebrews 12:22-24.)

I saw Adam in the valley of Adam-ondi-Ahman. He called together his children and blessed them with a patriarchal blessing. The Lord appeared in their midst, and he (Adam) blessed them all, and foretold what should befall them to the latest generation.

This is why Adam blessed his posterity; he wanted to bring them into the presence of God. They looked for a city, etc., "whose builder and maker is God." (Hebrews 11:10.) Moses sought to bring the children of Israel into the presence of God, through the power of the Priesthood, but he could not. In the first ages of the world they tried to establish the same thing; and there were Eliases Forerunners.

...raised up who tried to restore these very glories, but did not obtain them; but they prophesied of a day when this glory would be revealed. Paul spoke of the dispensation of the fullness of times, when God would gather together all things in one, etc.; and those men to whom these keys have been given, will have to be there; and they without us cannot be made perfect.

These men are in heaven, but their children are on the earth. Their bowels yearn over us. God sends down men for this reason. "And the Son of Man shall send forth His angels, and they shall gather out of His kingdom all things that give offense and them that do iniquity." (Matthew 13:41.) All these authoritative characters will come down and join hand in hand in bringing about this work.

There are some other subjects that are given, but I feel to end here, and pray
God to bless us that we will remember these plain and precious principles that will save and glorify us if we will believe and obey, as President Johnson has, in all of his sermons, called upon us to do; to repent and prepare for the redemption of Zion. May we do this and follow after our head in all things, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Jack Rohbock
At the Larkin Mortuary

I desire above all things to enjoy the Spirit of God as I speak of the life and labors of this faithful Priesthood man. I am very grateful for having had his association for as long as I did, and had some close contacts with him and his family through the more recent years, when I learned the great worth and character of this faithful man; who desired above all things to live by every word that proceeded forth from the mouth of God through His servants, desiring to be one with his family, one with his brethren, one with God. I know he expressed so many times, "I want to live long enough to prepare my family and myself so that they can be exalted with me and become like God." The only way we can become like God is to have at all times the Holy Spirit of God which is the mind of the Father and the Son. That is the great object of our existence here, as President Johnson has said so many times to the saints. We are here to prepare for a glorious resurrection. The way that we can accomplish that is to become like God.

In talking with him on more than one occasion, his great ideal was expressed in the words of Moroni, in the seventh chapter, speaking of faith, hope, and charity. The greatest of all is charity, or the pure love of Christ.

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Jack was meek and lowly of heart, and is.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart;

That is the foundation upon which we obtain and keep the Spirit of God, which will keep us so.

44. ...and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, Which he loved with all of his heart.

45. ...beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

He certainly endured great pain and suffering in the last few years of his life.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is faith in action.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

Filled with the Holy Ghost.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is;

If we are filled with the Holy Ghost, which is the mind of the Father and of the Son, we will be like Them.

48. ...for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

When Jack had his first heart attack, at which time he had fallen from a high place in the place where he was working, I was called upon to go down -- Brother Draper was with me -- and we administered to him by the power of the Priesthood. He had faith in that administration, and we had faith that he would come through and remain to finish his work, for he had more work to do to accomplish the righteous purposes and desires of his heart. Some time later another heart attack brought him to the hospital and we went down and administered to him again and he came through. He had more work to do. He desired above all to prepare himself more perfectly, and to teach and train his family, and have them around him.

He had another session in the hospital, and I went down to visit him, and he still had more time. Last Wednesday morning I got a call from Ronald, and I went down to the American Fork Hospital where he was rushed. He was dead on arrival, having suffered from cardiac arrest in the backyard of his home. He did not want to die in the hospital, and he died where he was happiest, called by the Lord to go to a greater work, having brought up and left a beautiful family -- two beloved and dear wives and their children. Oh, how he loved them, and still does, and will continue to work with them.

Brother Rohbock loved the brethren of the Priesthood, all of them. And he labored with his might. I had the distinct privilege of having our home and meeting place at the mouth of Little Cottonwood Canyon landscaped by Jack. He did a beautiful job. He kept working with us in bringing it up. It is a lovely spot where the saints have been meeting in this area. It is a tribute to his great ability and his love. I love Jack. Jack earned the confidence of President Johnson.

Yesterday afternoon, while the elder part of his family and I were visiting President Johnson, he said, "Jack was prepared to go; he was prepared to go to his reward." President Johnson has been calling upon us week in and week out through the years to prepare. The Gospel of preparation was uppermost in Jack's heart, according to those instructions and those truths, preaching repentance to us and the people, that we might be prepared to redeem Zion.

He always expressed a particular love for President Richard S. Jessop, who died in October of 1978, and his sentiments were the same as President Jessop's. Speaking of the Prophets of the Lord:

Richard S. Jessop  Colorado City, Arizona  April 30, 1978

I hope and pray, dear brothers and sisters and friends, that we can improve as a body of people, as individuals, until we are ready and willing to receive the testimony of these prophetic characters. Because there is still one man on the earth at a time during each man's administration that occupies that position. The Lord knows their integrity and weaknesses and imperfections and He knows all about us. And if we want to be godlike in our nature and disposition, here is one example it is pretty safe to follow. Where can you find his equal?

Speaking of President Johnson.

He is a man devoted entirely to the service of the Lord God Almighty. That is my witness that he has principle, integrity, devotion and character the quality of Leroy Sunderland Johnson. Help us, dear Father, that we will not miss the boat by going off astray into by and forbidden paths till we miss the way to get back Home. That is my mission, intent and desire and prayer for us all. Let us hold up and sustain and maintain our devotion and integrity and our whole ambition to sustaining the Lord. In the place where He (The Lord) devotes His confidence is the place for me to put mine. That is my conviction, my dear brothers and sisters and friends, and I hope the same for each one.

And I say the same, and I express that hope for all of us. I desire to obtain a glorious resurrection and go back again into the presence of God. This beautiful family, I feel a little close to, and I pray the Lord to watch over and bless and sustain them. There are three fine elder sons who are now able to carry on and work with this family, and the Lord will bless them and sustain them in the accomplishing the desires that Jack had for them. May God shower His Spirit and blessing upon each and every one of you. Be faithful and true, keep your covenants. Watch, pray always, and God will bring you back into His presence. May the Lord bless us all to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

How Mankind Is Benefitted by the Atonement

I just feel like presenting to us here today, brothers and sisters, the marvelous words of John Taylor regarding the mediation and atonement of Jesus Christ, and the purpose of that redemption which He wrought.

Mediation and Atonement  Chapter 25  Page 179

...How, and in what manner are men benefitted by the atonement and by the resurrection? In this, that the atonement having restored man to his former position before the Lord, it has placed him in a position and made it possible for him to obtain that exaltation and glory which it would have been impossible for him to have received without it; even to become a son of God by adoption; and being a son then an heir of God, and a joint heir with Jesus Christ; and that, as Christ overcame, He has made it possible, and has placed it within the power of believers in Him, also to overcome; and as He is authorized to inherit His Father's glory which He had with Him before the world was, with His resurrected body, so through the adoption, may we overcome and sit down with Him upon His throne, as He has overcome and has sat down upon His Father's throne. And as he has said, "I and the Father are one," so are the obedient saints one with Him, as He is one with the Father, even as He prayed:

"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me." -- John, xvii, 21-23.

Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, and through faith in Jesus, they rise to the dignity and glory of the Godhead, even to be Gods; as it is promised:

"Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. -- Rev., iii, 12.

Again, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne." -
- Rev., iii, 21.

Yet again, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." -- Rev., xxi, 7.

Hence, through His atonement, believers in Christ, and those who obey His law, partake of His glory and exaltation, and are inheritors of the Godhead; whilst those who do not obey His law although resurrected cannot inherit this exaltation; they are raised from the dead, but cannot inherit a celestial glory without being obedient to a celestial law, and thus we come again to a scripture quoted before. Jesus said, "Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem."

Having noticed the great blessings, privileges, powers and exaltations that are placed within the reach of man, through the atonement of Jesus Christ, it next becomes our duty to enquire what is required of man to place him in possession of them.

That the world might be benefitted through the redemption brought about by Jesus Christ, He called and ordained twelve Apostles, and commanded them to go forth into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature, saying, "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned," or condemned. Thus placing it within the reach of every man to obtain the glory and exaltation referred to above, and leaving all men without excuse who would not obey the law and be subject to the conditions imposed. The penalty of Adam’s sin having been removed through the atonement, it now became the privilege of all men, in all nations, to partake of the salvation provided by the great Mediator. ***

The conditions required of the human family to enable them to obtain the high exaltation which the atonement makes it possible for them to receive, are: First, Faith in God as our Father and the great Supreme Ruler of the universe; in whose hands are the destinies of the human family; in whom we live and move and have our being. And in His Son Jesus Christ, as the Lamb slain from before the foundation of the world, as the great Mediator and great propitiatory sacrifice provided by the Father before the creation, and consummated by the offering of Himself upon the cross. For "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Or, to use the words of the Nephite King Benjamin:

"Believe in God; believe that he is, and that he created all things, both in heaven and in earth; believe that he has all wisdom, and all power, both in heaven and in earth; believe that man doth not comprehend all the things which the Lord can comprehend."

Or as Paul writes; "He that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him."
The second principle of the Gospel of salvation, is repentance. It is a sincere and godly sorrow for and a forsaking of sin, combined with full purpose of heart to keep God's commandments. As is written by the Prophet Isaiah: "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon." ***

Thirdly, Baptism for the remission of sins, of our personal transgressions, which, through this means, provided by divine mercy, are, by reason of the atonement, blotted out. To use the words of Paul: "Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also would walk in newness of life. For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection."

Next, the reception of the Holy Ghost through the laying on of hands of those who have received the Holy Priesthood, and are duly authorized, ordained, and empowered to impart this blessing: Thus Peter preached on the day of Pentecost:

"Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call." -- Acts, ii, 38,39.

These are the introductory or first principles of the everlasting, unchangeable Gospel of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, that is and has been the same to all men, amongst all nations, in all ages, whenever, or wherever it has been taught by the authority of heaven. Hence we read: It was "preached from the beginning, being declared by holy angels, sent from the presence of God, and by his own voice, and by the gift of the Holy Ghost. And thus all things were confirmed unto Adam, by an holy ordinance, and the Gospel preached, and a decree sent forth, that it should be in the world, until the end thereof." -- Pearl of Great Price.

These are the principles that President Johnson has continually preached unto us, as we read his sermons calling upon us to prepare and repent and to come unto God and become like Him, which I pray we may all do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Melbourn Richter

I feel honored and blessed to be called upon to speak at this good man's funeral service, and I pray that the Lord will bless me with His Spirit that I may tell the truth, and in all things give thanks to God for His many blessings to us, and to this good family of Melbourn Richter. I learn a great deal about these sacred occasions in reading the words of Joseph Smith on such occasions, and feel to read a short excerpt from the remarks of the Prophet at the funeral of Ephraim Marks.

President Joseph Smith spoke upon the occasion with much feeling and interest. Among his remarks he said, "It is a very solemn and awful time. I never felt more solemn; it calls to mind the death of my oldest brother, Alvin, who died in New York, and my youngest brother, Don Carlos Smith, who died in Nauvoo. It has been hard for me to live on earth and see these young men upon whom we have leaned for support and comfort taken from us in the midst of their youth. Yes, it has been hard to be reconciled to these things. I have sometimes thought that I should have felt more reconciled to have been called away myself if it had been the will of God; yet I know we ought to be still and know it is of God, and be reconciled to His will; all is right. It will be but a short time before we shall all in like manner be called: it may be the case with me as well as you. Some have supposed that Brother Joseph could not die; but this is a mistake; it is true there have been times when I have had the promise of my life to accomplish such and such things, but, having now accomplished those things, I have not at present any lease of my life, I am as liable to die as other men.

I can say in my heart, that I have not done anything against Ephraim Marks that I am sorry for,

I feel the same way regarding Brother Melbourn.

...and I would ask any of his companions if they have anything against him that they are sorry for, or that they would not like to meet and answer for at the bar of God, if so, let it prove as a warning to all to deal justly before God, and with all mankind, then we shall be clear in the day of judgment.

When we lose a near and dear friend, upon whom we have set our hearts, it should be a caution unto us not to set our affections too firmly upon others, knowing that they in like manner be taken from us. Our affections should be placed upon God and His work, more intensely than upon our fellow beings. (April 9, 1842.) D.H.C. 4:587.

There follows an item I think leads me into what I want to say further.

Joseph the Seer arose in the power of God; reproved and rebuked wickedness before the people, in the name of the Lord God. He wished to say a few words to suit the condition of the general mass, and then said: I shall speak with authority of the Priesthood in the name of the Lord God, which shall prove a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death. Notwithstanding this congregation profess to be Saints, yet I stand in the midst of all [kinds of] characters and classes of men. If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil.

Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.
Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

And this should be an example to all of us; and realize what we are doing. The great object of our life is to become like God. This is the admonition of President Johnson continually to us. We are here to come up unto a glorious resurrection. When I think of these things I always hark to the admonition of Moroni.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

I have found in Brother Melbourn Richter that kind of character -- meek and lowly of heart, so that he could get and keep the Spirit of God. We cannot become like God without having His Spirit as our constant guide and companion, because it is the mind of the Father and the Son; that is, if we have it, we can become like Them. Brother Richter was quiet, a humble and contrite man, and he was meek and lowly of heart, which is a sure foundation for being able to come unto God to obey all of His commandments, the Gospel of Jesus Christ with all its laws and ordinances which will save us and bring us back into the presence of God.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing;

Charity is the pure love of Christ, and is verily the Spirit of God. One of the great attributes of that Holy Spirit is love -- the greatest of all -- or charity.

44. ...wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, (it) is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is the exertion of the mind through prayer unto God.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

This Holy Spirit.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

I have found in some close associations I have had with Brother Richter, in Salt Lake City particularly, a man of this character, who desired to know and live the truth, the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel. He found the channel through which he could find and lay hold upon these things, and that is in the Priesthood of the living God. He came to this community and he sought with all his might and main to draw close to President Johnson, which he did and which he acknowledged to me. He was a faithful and true man, who drew near to him, seeking counsel, and seeking to do all things according to the mind and will of God, which he could get from him. We all need to do this, brothers and sisters. This is the channel by which we get the Spirit of God, through the keyholder and the mouthpiece of God, and we need to carry on in the light of this grand truth.

I am grateful to have known and been associated with Brother Richter, and known his family and his fine children, these wives. I have known these three boys particularly, and associated with them in Salt Lake and here. And I pray, along with the others, that God will strengthen and comfort each and every one of you. Follow the teachings which he gave so that you can be where he is hereafter, as he goes on preparing for a glorious resurrection. That is what we are here doing, brothers and sisters. I pray we may all do this, and draw near unto God through prayer, through faith, through love and charity, and the gifts of the Holy Spirit -- which, according to the promises as given us in Section 121, is that which will give us eternal life -- and receive of all of the promises that are given in the grand endowment that is given in the Celestial Law of Marriage, grand promises.

D.& C. 121

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
Coming to know that our course is pleasing to God, which will bring us unto perfect faith and love.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

God grant us peace and deliver us from all evil, and bless us that we may stand in the day of visitation, that we will stand every test and everything that the Lord may call upon us to fulfill, that we may come again into His presence, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Charity;
President Johnson the Most Christlike Man; Must Become Like God;
Rebellion Against Legitimate Authority

I will be brief, and ask the Lord to bless me. We are here, brothers and sisters, to prove that we will obey God in all things. The first law of heaven is obedience. This is how our Father will judge us, our Lord Jesus Christ and the judges of Israel -- how we obeyed, how we were meek and lowly of heart and humbly obeyed the laws of God and sought to become like Him. That is what those laws of God are designed for.

Of faith, hope, and charity, the greatest law of all is charity or love, the pure love of Christ, who obeyed His Father and became one with Him in all things. I can't help but turn to Moroni in these things, which is the greatest principle for perfection that I can understand and know.

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

These things I see in our head President Leroy S. Johnson, an example of a Christ, following in His footsteps -- most Christlike of all among us.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.
Filled with this love; filled with the Holy Ghost, if you please.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; We cannot, by any means, come into the presence of our Lord, Jesus Christ and the Father, save we are like Him, like Them. They are one. "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine," said the Lord.

48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Like cleaves to like; light cleaves to light; intelligence cleaves to intelligence. We must cleave unto God through perfect obedience, that we may become like Him. We are required, though we may be different, each and every one, to become like God. Along that line, I think of the remarks of the Prophet Joseph Smith in his reproof of all wickedness:

Joseph the Seer arose in the power of God; reproved and rebuked wickedness before the people, in the name of the Lord God. He wished to say a few words to suit the condition of the general mass, and then said: I shall speak with authority of the Priesthood in the name of the Lord God, which shall prove a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death. Notwithstanding this congregation profess to be Saints, yet I stand in the midst of all [kinds of] characters and classes of men. If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil. Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.

President Johnson could say this. And then, in the great humility of his heart, Joseph said:

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

Along the same line:

The devil has no power over us only as we permit him. The moment we revolt at anything which comes from God, the devil takes power.
I would like to read an item which was written from the things that were taught by the Prophet Brigham Young in the Millennial Star, volume 18. This was printed in Truth, volume 16, page 215.

Rebellion Against Legitimate Authority

*The Holy Priesthood, at the head of which stands the Eternal Father, is the embodiment of "legitimate authority."

*There is one cardinal sin -- "rebellion against legitimate authority." All other sins are merely the results and modification of this capital one. There is only one fountain of evil -- "rebellion against legitimate authority." All other forms of evil are not primitive sources, but are simply streams derived from this parent source. The ten thousand directions into which crime branches are only channels through which rebellion manifests itself in its mission of misery, corruption, degeneracy, and extinction. Strike out of existence this parent sin, and it at once exhausts the material from which all others are manufactured, and destroys the mould in which they are manufactured. Dry up this fountain of evil, and a deadly, withering influence no longer feeds those channels, but the spirit of life, happiness, and exaltation will flow freely through the veins and arteries of universal beings.

Upon the heart of every member of the Holy Priesthood we would have engraved, that rebellion in you against that authority with which you are clothed...

The Priesthood which each man bears, which comes from the head, and the power of it, which is the Holy Ghost. Let me repeat:

*Upon the heart of every member of the Holy Priesthood we would have engraved, that rebellion in you against that authority with which you are clothed will, if continued, inevitably lead to sin against the Holy Ghost, and you will become sons of perdition. Yea cherish but as much of the spirit of rebellion as will stand on the smallest conceivable point, and it will fester and fester until you are, in the most literal sense, naturally and spiritually, masses of mortified corruption, at which stage decomposition takes place, and you will be altogether extinct.

Quoting Brigham Young:

As Brigham Young said so often, we either go to life, through obedience, or we go to death through disobedience, as the Prophet has said. I pray, brothers and sisters, that we will be alive and watch and pray continually, that we will be guided by the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost and watch for the fruits of the same, or the lack of them, through the power of the Holy Ghost in us. God help us to be one with our head and to become one with the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Marreta Cook
At the Larkin Mortuary

I feel honored in being asked to participate in these sacred exercises, in memory of the life and labors of Sister Marreta. It is my testimony that this dear sister chose the good part, loving the holy Celestial Law of Marriage, and desiring to abide in the same, and to fulfill her work and mission in the earth honorably and well. I would like to read some excerpts of the sermon of President Leroy S. Johnson on the occasion of the funeral services for President Richard S. Jessop, which sets forth very beautifully what we are really doing when we hold funeral services, and applying these principles to this particular situation.

LSJ Vol. 4  Page 1648  October 10, 1978  CCA

This life is what we make it, and we ought to have our hearts set on making this life one of great research as to who God is and how to become like Him. Christ was one of the greatest peacemakers that ever graced the earth; and Joseph Smith was another. And all the other leaders of Priesthood throughout the generations of time, from Adam until now have done the same thing. They have left the word of God to condemn the people, those who would not repent. For repentance has been the cry and will continue to be the cry throughout the remaining days of time, as long as the earth stands.

When Joseph Smith asked the Lord what He wanted him to say to the people of the world, He said, "Preach nothing but repentance to this generation -- repent of your sins and be baptized for the remission of sins, and have hands laid upon you for the gift of the Holy Ghost."

When Christ was asked which of all the commandments was the greatest, He said, "Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, might and strength, and the second is like unto it, Love thy neighbor as thyself, and upon these two commandments hang all the law and the Gospel." He says again, "My yoke is easy and My burden is light. All you have to do is repent of your sins and come unto Me to be saved." All who are here today come under this great call -- "Repent ye, repent ye and serve the God of the earth. "Every person that is in this world regardless of creed or color God Almighty was the Creator of, and we are all His children. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is to all men wherever they live, it makes no difference, the call is the same -- "Repent and come unto Me," says the Lord. Again, we are told in the first Section of the Doctrine & Covenants, "Whether it be by My voice or the voice of My Servants, it is the same."

I am not worried a moment over Richard Seth Jessop, where he is going or where his work will be or what it will be, but I am worried over the testimony of our people, the great part of this people, this great audience here today that were born under the New and Everlasting Covenant. No greater blessing could come upon a people than to be born under the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage, for this is the law upon which the work of our Father is continued, if we will repent and remember the words of Christ.

Sister Marreta loved this glorious and grand principle, which, together with the Holy United Order, constitutes the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Be honest in your efforts one towards another, and be honest with yourselves and with your maker that you might not be found wanting in the day of judgment. Let us be prepared with our lessons. Let us have them done well. Let us have it said of us, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

I want to leave a word of encouragement to Richard Seth Jessop's family. Everyone of you should think deep before you commit an unrighteous act, any one of you, again. If you have already begun to do what Richard Seth Jessop told you to do -- repent of your sins and come unto your Maker and do what He has asked you to do, keep it up. This man will be the happiest man in the world if everyone of his sons and daughters, likewise, will be as well prepared as he is when their time comes, because death is not going to be any factor in the forgiveness of your sins. We should remember that.

You have to make that preparation before death, everyone of you. And that goes for everyone else. We have got to make the preparation while we live or we will have to pay the penalty. The Lord said He will forgive everyone that will repent and sin no more, and He means it. He says His word is sharper than a two-edged sword. And I want to tell you, it is. So let us all repent of our wrong doings and let us be prepared against the day when we are called home to report. For this man has gone to report to the Lord today the conditions of the people and what we are doing about our salvation.

That was for Brother Jessop.

This life is what we make it, brothers and sisters, and let us make it one of worthiness and one that is honorable before the world and before our Father in Heaven

This was the great message of President Jessop -- it has always been the message of President Johnson -- to repent, come unto God, get the Spirit of God and keep it, and become like God, that we might rise in a glorious resurrection. This grand principle of the first commandments I happened to read from Luke, which carries a great lesson to me, and I hope it will to all of you. I think Sister Marreta loved the Lord, and her neighbors.

Luke 10 (Inspired Version)

26. And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?
27. He said unto him, What is written in the law? How readest thou?

28. And he answering, said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself.
29. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right; this do, and thou shalt live.
30. But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbor? This question is often asked.
31. And Jesus answering, said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, who stripped him of his raiment and wounded him, and departed leaving him half dead.
32. And by chance, there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side of the way.
33. And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked upon him, and passed by on the other side of the way; for they desired in their hearts that it might not be known that they had seen him.
34. But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him.
35. And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.
36. And on the morrow, when he departed, he took money, and gave to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him, and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.
37. Who now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbor unto him that fell among the thieves?
38. And he said, He who showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go and do likewise.

I am grateful to have been acquainted with Sister Marreta, and to know something of her life and labors. She was closely associated with the brethren in the early part of this work. She desired to abide and live the holy Celestial Law and to do her part. She chose the better part, and I pray that we all might do so, and that this family of this good woman will do likewise -- obey and keep all the commandments of God, loving Him with all their hearts, might, mind, and strength; and their neighbors as themselves, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Family Oneness;
The Keyholder Cannot Give a Delusion;
President Johnson Did Not Give a Delusion;
There Is a Division Taking Place
Among This People

We have heard some very fine things here today, principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ which were enjoined upon us, and have been from the beginning by our Priesthood heads down through the years. God has sent forth His personal representatives in their time, beginning with Joseph Smith, Jun., to warn the people, to call them to repentance, to obey the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and become prepared to redeem Zion. I think that one of the finest things that have been given -- I have read it before -- which would enable us to keep the commandments of God, abide the holy Celestial Law of Marriage and the Holy United Order; and it begins in the families. You will find this very familiar language, and it is found in the Journal of Discourses 4 page 155.

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children. But it is otherwise than this now; the man is full of tradition, and has not got rid of that which was taught him in the Gentile world, he has not become one with his file leader, as brother Kimball frequently remarks.

That principle which I spoke of last Sunday, in regard to a man becoming his own daddy is correct,
That sounds odd, doesn't it?
...for a man that feels so has not subjected himself to the Priesthood, but is disposed to become his own leader and his own head, and it is the case with many in this Church, they have not become one with their file leader, and therefore the Spirit is not transmitted to their wife or wives, and not having learned true obedience themselves, the wife cannot receive that which the husband has not got to impart.

Isn't that beautiful?

How can it be expected that the wife can obtain that which the husband has not received. ***

When a man is full of sin he is not capable of lifting his voice to teach his family. How does a man expect he can be a Patriarch to a large family when he is going on in sin and darkness, and is becoming more blind to the things of the kingdom? He goes forward and gathers other wives and increases his family, but how does he expect to teach them when he is not susceptible of instruction himself? I tell you he will see the day when he will be too late and will have to stand out of the way. A man has to look well at the foundation upon which he builds; a man has to look to the Lord for strength, he has to be purified and sanctified, and he has to purify those that are around him, and among that number will be his one wife, if she is worthy of salvation, and if she is susceptible of being saved. He must have sufficient in him of the saving principle to impart to her, and inasmuch as she can conform to that, she can thereby become sanctified, and be prepared for an exaltation; but if he cannot get faith enough to receive the principles of life and salvation, so that he can communicate those truths to others, he may get one wife, and then he may get another, and after that another, and still another, and then he is worse off than before, and is no nearer to the kingdom of God, but much farther off. ***

Men who wish to retain their standing before God in the Holy Priesthood, must have the spirit of prophecy,

To prophesy and work in the spirit of prophecy is to teach by the Holy Ghost. ...and be qualified to administer life and salvation to the people: and if they cannot do it to the world, they must do it at home, in their families, in their shops, and in the streets, that their hearts may be inspired with words of life at their firesides, in teaching the Gospel to their children, and to their neighbors, as much so as when they are speaking to their brethren from this stand. This having a little of the Spirit when before the people and then laying it aside, will not do. Some men will speak to the people and then go home and be just as dry as moulding stock, and instead of having the words of life in them, they become perfectly dry and dead, but this will not do any longer.

In regard to being one I will say that if ever there was a day when it was necessary for us to be one, now is the time, now is the day and the hour that we are called upon to be one, as Jesus and His Father are one; it is for us to be one together, as brother Brigham and brother Kimball are one, that we may be one indeed.

I feel constrained to call our attention to the fact that is given us by the Lord in Section 112. The Lord is speaking to the Twelve, the brethren of the Twelve.

D.& C. 112

21. And again, I say unto you, that whosoever ye shall send in my name, by the voice of your brethren, the Twelve, duly recommended and authorized by you, shall have power to open the door of my kingdom unto any nation whithersoever ye shall send them --

22. Inasmuch as they shall humble themselves before me, and abide in my word, and hearken to the voice of my Spirit.

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

The beginning of the House of God is the High Priesthood. I stand in fear and trembling when that takes place. The Lord has given us a sure word of prophecy, a sure foundation that we can cling to, and that is the same person as Joseph Smith was in his day to this work. The Lord even told Joseph, if he were about to lead the people astray, he would have the power to appoint another in his stead. Read it in Section 43. But he went on to fill the great work he was called to do.

I have a very interesting letter to George Q. Cannon from William Clayton. It is found in the Millennial Star 23, page 59.

William Clayton  Millennial Star  23:59

To me, from the first time I received a knowledge of the principles of life and salvation, as revealed through our martyred Prophet Joseph, I have never seen, nor heard, nor read, nor felt, nor thought of anything to cast a doubt on the truths of the everlasting Gospel as taught by this the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, neither on the authority, integrity, nor purity and nobleness of intention of those who have been our leaders. To suppose that the man whom God exalts to the position of leader of his kingdom in this last dispensation could lead the people astray, to my mind is an insult to our Father in heaven. God has commenced a work and a kingdom which is to stand for ever; The words of Daniel, "it shall stand for ever," are true and faithful; and to suppose for one moment that with such a kingdom to establish -- so vast a work to accomplish, the Lord would select a man to lead it in whom he had not the most perfect confidence, when he had the inhabitants of the whole earth to choose from, is preposterous; and the natural inference is, if God has confidence sufficient in a man to place him at the head of so great and glorious a kingdom, I surely should have confidence enough in such a man to be implicitly led by him.

As I read to you before, Joseph F. Smith, volume 24 of the Journal of Discourses, page 192, said He would not permit the man standing at the head, holding the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing power to lead the people astray. He would take him first.

We have heard it said from the stand that President Johnson has given a delusion. He yet lives, and he is going to live, brothers and sisters, to finish his work. You know very well there is a division taking place among this people. President Johnson still is the mouthpiece of God and the fountainhead, and he is carrying on his work. And he gave no delusion. So brothers and sisters, do we or do we not believe in this word of God?

D.& C.  132
7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power.

And in parentheses, a thought within a thought, perfectly good English; it was not an interpolation. The Lord dictated it, and Joseph put it there:

7. ...(and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

It is my testimony that Sidney Rigdon's ambition was no reason for adding such an interpolation, and it is no interpolation. Look up the meaning of it in the dictionary. That grand principle was repeated October 5th in the History of Joseph Smith, Jun. There is never but one man on the earth at a time upon whom the keys of this Priesthood and power are conferred. It was again repeated in a revelation to John Taylor, June of 1882, the exact words that are in this seventh verse of Section 132.

God's purposes are being fulfilled in the person of Leroy Sunderland Johnson. It has been revealed to me that he is going to come through this illness, which was in fulfillment of the purposes of God, stronger than ever to accomplish a greater and mightier work. And to me, it is as though it were so now. I love that man more than life itself, and I am striving with my might to become one with him. And I feel I am. He has said so.

Now I don't want to be one to bring up contentious matters. If we want to know the truth, we should go to the fountainhead. Leroy Sunderland Johnson is that fountainhead, the mouthpiece of God, and the one man who holds the keys of the sealing powers and of the holy Priesthood in this day, as we have had in the days gone by since Joseph Smith, Jun. He is that man, and I testify of it unto you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I desire the help from the Spirit of God in what I shall be led to say. President Johnson, through all the sermons that we have in the books, nearly always would say, "I pray God to put words in my mouth that I might tell you the truth." I desire the same thing.

I am constrained to say, brothers and sisters, and follow the direction of President Johnson, that I will not debate or contend over this pulpit. I appreciated the statement of President Hammon when he spoke of holding up the Three-in-One, the word and the will of God to this generation unto us, His people, the Lord's people. I am given to understand that Lorin Woolley made that statement as President Johnson has to us, that if what we say or do does not square with this book, the word of God, we may give it no heed. And that is the basis on which I have been trying to give a message to this people in the stead of President Johnson, who is unable to be with us. I have borne my testimony regarding him and regarding his illness, and I don't think it necessary to repeat it again. I said what I said last meeting here two weeks ago as I was moved upon by the Spirit of God, and I will let it stand. I have repeatedly quoted the Section of the Doctrine and Covenants and the statement of Joseph Smith, Jun., in the subsequent entry in the history, as well as the revelation to John Taylor regarding the "one man". These are the words of Joseph and the words of the Lord, and the words written by John Taylor as dictated in a revelation to him.

What we are talking about, brothers and sisters, goes to the fundamental grand principle which has been spoken of so many times over the pulpit. Remember whose right it is to rule. And this strikes at the present controversy; but I am not going to debate or contend here. These are the fundamental principles upon which I have acted, and upon which President Johnson has acted and done his work. There are some things that can and must be told that President Johnson himself will tell.

The Doctrine and Covenants is the word of God to this generation and people. It wasn't given only for that people in Joseph's day and Brigham's day. It was to this generation and to all the world. The Doctrine and Covenants cannot be done away without the penalties that were enunciated by Joseph Smith the Prophet. I stand with President Leroy Sunderland Johnson in what he has delivered to this people and to this Council of Priesthood. He has given us no delusion. As I said last time, President Johnson cannot give a delusion or lead this people astray, or God would take him.

What has happened to President Johnson in his illness is according to the will and purposes of God, for it has brought out what is in the hearts of all of us. He has suffered for this people, and he is suffering for the sake of those who love and want the truth. He is buying them with a price. And he will live, be restored and renewed, and go on and preside over this work and this people who desire to follow him as the mouthpiece of God, as the only one to whom revelation can be given to this people -- revelations and commandments. And he is the only one who holds the keys and sealing powers as set forth in Section 132, verse 7. He is the fountainhead by which we may receive the gifts of the Holy Ghost and the powers of heaven. That is the channel, as I am led to say and know by the revelations of the Holy Ghost to me.

I am not going to go into particulars. I am just setting forth the grand principles by which God has set forth in His word and His scripture, by which we must be governed, and by which Leroy Sunderland Johnson is being governed. I will repeat some of the words of Joseph. [He hesitated]. I forebear. I am speaking for myself as I say these things, but I am standing for President Leroy Sunderland Johnson against all who would not follow him in the position which he holds before God. I testify to you that these keys and these powers have been conferred upon him by God Himself. And it is my testimony that Joseph Smith, Jun., is at his elbow, continuing the great work of the setting in order of the House of God, which commenced September 26-27, 1886, when Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith visited John Taylor to commence the setting in order of the House of God. And I testify to you that Leroy Sunderland Johnson is the legal successor -- to us, this people this day -- to Joseph Smith, Jun., and those who stood in the same position in their day. And I testify of this in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I am grateful to be here with you today, brothers and sisters, in this meeting appointed by President Johnson. I feel strongly impressed to read you the words of Jesus Christ when He appeared after His crucifixion and ascension to the Father, to some twenty-five hundred souls who had been spared the great judgments at that time.

3 Nephi 17

25. And the multitude did see and hear and bear record; and they know that their record is true for they all of them did see and hear, every man for himself; and they were in number about two thousand and five hundred souls; and they did consist of men, women, and children.

I have read and studied chapter 21 of Third Nephi, and find being fulfilled in our time many of the things that we find given here by the Lord Himself.

3 Nephi 21

1. And verily I say unto you, I give unto you a sign, that ye may know the time when these things shall be about to take place -- that I shall gather in, from their long dispersion, my people, O house of Israel, and shall establish again among them my Zion;

2. And behold, this is the thing which I will give unto you for a sign -- for verily I say unto you that when these things which I declare unto you, and which I shall declare unto you hereafter of myself, and by the power of the Holy Ghost which shall be given unto you of the Father, shall be made known unto the Gentiles that they may know concerning this people who are a remnant of the house of Jacob, and concerning this my people who shall be scattered by them;

3. Verily, verily, I say unto you, when these things shall be made known unto them of the Father, and shall come forth of the Father, from them unto you;

4. For it is wisdom in the Father that they should be established in this land, and be set up as a free people by the power of the Father, that these things might come forth from them unto a remnant of your seed, that the covenant of the Father may be fulfilled which he hath covenanted with his people, O house of Israel;

5. Therefore, when these works and the works which shall be wrought among you hereafter shall come forth from the Gentiles, unto your seed which shall dwindle in unbelief because of iniquity;

6. For thus it behooveth the Father that it should come forth from the Gentiles, that he may show forth his power unto the Gentiles, for this cause that the Gentiles, if they will not harden their hearts, that they may repent and come unto me and be baptized in my name and know of the true points of my doctrine, that they may be numbered among my people, O house of Israel;

7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things -- it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

I know, by the Spirit of God, that this man is Leroy Sunderland Johnson.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles, and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

13. Their hand shall be lifted up upon their adversaries, and all their enemies shall be cut off.

14. Yea, wo be unto the Gentiles except they repent; for it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Father, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots;

15. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strongholds;

16. And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy land, and thou shalt have no more soothsayers;

17. Thy graven images I will also cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thy hands;

18. And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee; so will I destroy thy cities.

19. And it shall come to pass that all lyings, and deceivings, and envyings, and strifes, and priestcrafts, and whoredoms, shall be done away.

20. For it shall come to pass, saith the Father, that at that day whosoever will not repent and come unto my Beloved Son, them will I cut off from among my people, O house of Israel;

21. And I will execute vengeance and fury upon them, even as upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

22. But if they will repent and hearken unto my words, and harden not their hearts, I will establish my church among them, and they shall come in unto the covenant and be numbered among this the remnant of Jacob, unto whom I have given this land for their inheritance;

23. And they shall assist my people, the remnant of Jacob, and also as many of the house of Israel as shall come, that they may build a city, which shall be called the New Jerusalem.

24. And then shall they assist my people that they may be gathered in, who are scattered upon all the face of the land, in unto the New Jerusalem.

25. And then shall the power of heaven come down among them; and I also will be in the midst.
Jesus Christ will be in the midst, leading the saints to Zion to redeem and to build the New Jerusalem.

26. And then shall the work of the Father commence at that day, even when this gospel shall be preached among the remnant of this people. Verily I say unto you, at that day shall the work of the Father commence among all the dispersed of my people, yea, even the tribes which have been lost, which the Father hath led away out of Jerusalem.

27. Yea, the work shall commence among all the dispersed of my people, with the Father to prepare the way whereby they may come unto me, that they may call on the Father in my name.

28. Yea, and then shall the work commence, with the Father among all nations in preparing the way whereby his people may be gathered home to the land of their inheritance.

29. And they shall go out from all nations; and they shall not go out in haste, nor go by flight, for I will go before them, saith the Father, and I will be their rearward.

And I look to see that man under Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith, Jun., lead us to Zion and build it up with a prepared people, which is what he, President Johnson, has been striving to bring about, and he will do so; and I testify of it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.
6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.
7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

Speaking in the words which President Johnson has given us so many times, Section 1:
D.& C. 1
37. Search these commandments, for they are true and faithful, and the prophecies and promises which are in them shall all be fulfilled.
38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken, and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away, but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.
39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever. Amen.
I am grateful to be here, brothers and sisters. I want to speak by the Spirit and power of God, and I don't know of any better way to do it than to read the word of God. I will first read Section 28 of the Doctrine of Covenants.

D.&C. 28

1. Behold, I say unto thee, Oliver, Who had been consorting with one Hiram Page who was receiving some revelations through a stone,

   1. ...that it shall be given unto thee that thou shalt be heard by the church in all things whatsoever thou shalt teach them by the Comforter, concerning the revelations and commandments which I have given.

2. But, behold, verily, verily, I say unto thee, no one shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church excepting my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., for he receiveth them even as Moses.

3. And thou shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron, Oliver should be as Aaron to Joseph.

   3. ...to declare faithfully the commandments and the revelations, with power and authority unto the church.

4. And if thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by the way of commandment unto the church, thou mayest do it.

5. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom;

6. And thou shalt not command him who is at thy head, and at the head of the church;

7. For I have given him the keys of the mysteries, and the revelations which are sealed, until I shall appoint unto them another in his stead.

8. And now, behold, I say unto you that you shall go unto the Lamanites and preach my gospel unto them; and inasmuch as they receive thy teachings thou shalt cause my church to be established among them; and thou shalt have revelations, but write them not by way of commandment. He should teach the commandments which had been revealed to the Prophet Joseph Smith, by wisdom.

9. And now, behold, I say unto you that it is not revealed, and no man knoweth where the city Zion shall be built, but it shall be given hereafter. Behold, I say unto you that it shall be on the borders by the Lamanites.

10. Thou shalt not leave this place until after the conference; and my servant Joseph shall be appointed to preside over the conference by the voice of it, and what he saith to thee thou shalt tell.

11. And again, thou shalt take thy brother, Hiram Page, between him and thee alone, and tell him that those things which he hath written from that stone are not of me and that Satan deceiveth him;

12. For, behold, these things have not been appointed unto him, neither shall anything be appointed unto any of this church contrary to the church covenants.

13. For all things must be done in order, and by common consent in the church, by the prayer of faith.

14. And thou shalt assist to settle all these things, according to the covenants of the church, before thou shalt take thy journey among the Lamanites.

15. And it shall be given thee from the time thou shalt go, until the time thou shalt return, what thou shalt do.

16. And thou must open thy mouth at all times, declaring my gospel with the sound of rejoicing. Amen.

Section 132 -- this regarding Celestial and Plural Marriage, which was revealed in this revelation, July 12, 1843:

D.& C. 132

6. And as pertaining to the new and everlasting covenant, it was instituted for the fullness of my glory; and he that receiveth a fullness thereof must and shall abide the law, or he shall be damned, saith the Lord God.

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

45. For I have conferred upon you
Speaking to Joseph,

45. ...the keys and power of the priesthood, wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.

46. And verily, verily, I say unto you, that whatsoever you seal on earth shall be sealed in heaven; and whatsoever you bind on earth, in my name and by my word, saith the Lord, it shall be eternally bound in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you remit on earth shall be remitted eternally in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you retain on the earth shall be retained in heaven.

47. And again, verily I say, whomsoever you bless I will bless, and whomsoever you curse I will curse, saith the Lord; for I, the Lord, am thy God.

48. And again, verily I say unto you, my servant Joseph, that whatsoever you give on earth, and to whomsoever you give any one on earth, by my word and according to my law, it shall be visited with blessings and not cursings, and with my power, saith the Lord, and shall be without condemnation on earth and in heaven.

59. Verily, if a man be called of my Father, as was Aaron, by mine own voice, and by the voice of him that sent me, and I have endowed him with the keys of the power of this priesthood, if he do anything in my name, and according to my law and by my word, he will not commit sin, and I will justify him.

60. Let no one, therefore, set on my servant Joseph; for I will justify him; for he shall do the sacrifice which I require at his hands for his transgressions, saith the Lord your God.

Now I will go to Doctrine and Covenants, Section 1, the Preface to the Doctrine and Covenants; which President Lorin Woolley -- and all the others who have stood in this same position as Joseph Smith Jun. -- said if anything be given that does not square with this book, you may give it no heed. President Johnson stands in that position, the same as Joseph in his day. And some of the last words that I have heard him say to me, and he has said them to others as they have come to visit and confer with him, these words, the last words of Section 1:

37. Search these commandments, for they are true and faithful, and the prophecies and promises which are in them shall all be fulfilled.
38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken, and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away, but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.

39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever. Amen.

And I say, God bless you all, amen.

President Johnson Has Spoken the Word of God

I am going to be very brief, and this is the sense of President Leroy S. Johnson. There is seldom any reference to the Doctrine and Covenants. I will review from the Preface to the Doctrine and Covenants.

D.& C. 1

31. For I the Lord cannot look upon sin with the least degree of allowance;
32. Nevertheless, he that repents and does the commandments of the Lord shall be forgiven;
33. And he that repents not, from him shall be taken even the light which he has received; for my Spirit shall not always strive with man, saith the Lord of Hosts.
34. And again, verily I say unto you, O inhabitants of the earth; I the Lord am willing to make these things known unto all flesh;
35. For I am no respecter of persons, and will that all men shall know that the day speedily cometh; the hour is not yet, but is nigh at hand, when peace shall be taken from the earth, and the devil shall have power over his own dominion.
36. And also the Lord shall have power over his saints, and shall reign in their midst, and shall come down in judgment upon Idumea, or the world.
37. Search these commandments, for they are true and faithful, and the prophecies and promises which are in them shall all be fulfilled.
38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken,
And it has been spoken by the mouth of His mouthpiece, Leroy S. Johnson.
38. ...and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away, but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.
39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever.

God bless you, amen.

Parable of the Chief Shepherd

We have had some very eloquent dissertations here today. I would like to speak a parable, February 17, 1855, volume 17 of the Millennial Star. I am indebted to Brother Draper for this item.

Millennial Star 17:97  February 17, 1855

A certain Great Shepherd had a number of sheep in a country very remote from his chief residence.
Who was the Great Shepherd? Jesus Christ.

These sheep once belonged to one fold and were tended by many good shepherds. But, from causes which need be here described these shepherds were taken away from the midst of the flock and the sheep were left to themselves. In consequence the fold no longer retained them and they went far astray, wandering, some here and some there, all over the country, until most of them grew very intractable and wild in their nature, and very rough, ragged, and filthy in their appearance.

After they had been in this forlorn condition for a long time, the Great Shepherd, having before determined in his heart to gather them together again, established a fold in a particular portion of that country. He appointed a chief shepherd to take charge of the fold, and gave him authority to appoint and send other shepherds, as many as might be required, into all parts of the country, to seek after the scattered sheep, and win back all those who would follow them to the fold. The Great Shepherd also bestowed upon the chief shepherd of the fold the prerogative of apportioning the sheep, after they were gathered together, to the different departments of the fold, and of appointing the shepherds who should have the care of the sheep in these various departments. This prerogative was bestowed only upon the chief shepherd, no other shepherd had any claim to it, though the chief shepherd could authorize any of the others to act for him.

This refers, of course in that day, to Joseph Smith, Jun.

Accordingly the chief shepherd sent forth many shepherds throughout the length and breadth of the land, to find out the scattered sheep, and to bring them to the fold, that they might be watched, and made clean, and become docile and obedient. He also gave these shepherds strict instructions to bring all the sheep they could as clean as possible to the fold, and not to make any covenants or arrangements with them on the way as to who should be shepherds over them when in the fold.

These shepherds started out, and traveled long distances, encountering fatigue and privation, over seas, along rivers, across deserts, over mountains, and through valleys, diligently seeking out the sheep, wherever they might be. After a time these shepherds succeeded in finding a considerable number of sheep in various parts of the country, and many of the shepherds began to return with them to the fold. But some of the shepherds were so thoughtless as to forget, or so foolish as to willfully violate, the strict instructions imparted to them by the chief shepherd, and began to persuade certain of the sheep, and especially the young lambs, to attach themselves to their department of the fold, when they did not know that the chief shepherd would give them the charge of any department at all. Others of the shepherds made covenants with some of the sheep and lambs to a similar effect.
The shepherds who had acted so unwisely gradually found, as they approached the fold, that their souls were not set unflinchingly toward the chief shepherd, and although they greatly desired him to confirm the covenants and arrangements which they had made with the sheep and the lambs, yet their hearts faltered, and they felt half afraid and half ashamed to meet him.

But being greatly desirous to retain what they had so unlawfully appropriated to themselves, they mustered up all the courage they could, and presenting themselves before him, requested him to give them charge over such and such sheep and lambs which they had in reality previously been taking, or at least covenanted to take, to themselves. But they not meeting with him with a frank and an open countenance, he, being of great discernment, knew their hearts, and saw that they had not abode by the instructions which he had given them before they went to seek the sheep. Wherefore he reprimanded them very severely, telling them of their great folly and wickedness in failing to do their duty, and in presuming to exercise in authority which the Great Shepherd had said was the prerogative of the chief shepherd alone, and in asking him to give what they had already taken, or covenanted to take, thus trying to make him merely their tool to confirm what they had already so disobediently done, or, in other words, to sanction as obedience what was in fact gross disobedience. He further assured them, in unmistakable terms of the great displeasure of himself and the Great Shepherd at such unwarrantable derelictions of duty, and such presumptuous usurpation of authority. He also told them that he was determined to oppose promptly and sternly all such proceedings.

Some of these unwise shepherds, after bitterly repenting of their folly, and proving more faithful and diligent in their duty, regained the favour of the chief shepherd, and received charge of certain portions of the fold. But others were never afterwards known as shepherds in the fold.

Some of the sheep and lambs with whom these unwise shepherds had made covenants began, as they neared to the fold, to become as filthy as ever, although the shepherds had washed them at least once. They also began to get wild again in their nature, insomuch that they could scarcely recognize the voice of any of the shepherds but the particular ones who had been making covenants with them. When they were brought before the chief shepherd, he was not at all pleased with them, but he appeared to be such a kind and faithful shepherd, and there was something so winning about his voice, that many of them forgot the foolish shepherds who had misled them, and greatly desired to follow him, and be allowed to abide in the fold. He, being full of compassion, consented to their doing so, and causethem to be washed again, and watched over by good and faithful shepherds, and they soon again became white in appearance, and obedient in disposition. However, a few of the sheep and lambs would not be washed again, but they became filthier and more wild than ever.

All the shepherds were not so unwise. Many there were whose greatest study was to take home to the fold all the sheep and lambs they could, and to train and purify them by the way, so that if possible they might be presented obedient and clean before the chief shepherd, that they might be perfectly fit to associate with the flock already there, without contaminating any portion of it. The greatest joy of those shepherds appeared to be to present their little flocks without a spot or blemish before the chief shepherd, and then to hear him say -- Well done, good and faithful shepherd, enter into the joy of the Great Shepherd. These shepherds ever strictly guarded themselves, lest they should be in an evil moment forget their duty, and they would rather have gone back to the chief shepherd without a single sheep or lamb, than to have presumed to usurp his authority by making any arrangement or covenant with those they had charge over, as to who should be their shepherd in the fold.
These shepherds would rather have laid down their lives in seeking the sheep in the most remote and inhospitable deserts, than do anything which might draw away the attention of the sheep and lambs from hearkening to the voice of the chief shepherd. It is impossible to describe the ever watchful care of these good and faithful shepherds over all the sheep and lambs. They gently led the old ones, carried the lame and weak and young in their arms, protected all from the wild beasts by the way, shielded them as much as possible from the influence of the foolish shepherds, took them by clean paths, and diligently taught them, all the way to the fold, how to know and obey the voice of the chief shepherd.

When arrived at the fold, these shepherds appeared before the chief shepherd, with confidence and boldness, for perfect love casteth out fear.
His countenance brightened upon them, and after asking of their welfare, and assuring them of his pleasure at once more beholding them, he desired to see their flocks, at the sight of which, when brought before him, he appeared filled with great satisfaction, and he commended them for following the voice of their shepherds so obediently, and told them that if they would so continue they should never more be scattered, nor want for a faithful shepherd to watch over them. At this the sheep seemed particularly happy, indeed they took a great liking to the chief shepherd, and thought his voice the sweetest they ever heard, and they determined never to turn a deaf ear to it. This determination they kept, and they lived ever afterward in security, peace, and happiness.

But what shall be said of these faithful shepherds? Words cannot describe the pure and holy joy that pervaded their bosoms when the chief shepherd blessed them in the name of the Great Shepherd, and, because of the unsullied integrity of their hearts, and their great diligence and faithfulness, gave them charge over important and extensive departments of the fold. They lived continually in the favour of the chief shepherd, and in the course of time the Great Shepherd came from his chief residence and dwelt among them, and they lived ever after in the light of his countenance.

It is a true parable, which I submit to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Pray Night and Day for Deliverance;
Prophecies Concerning the Judgments and the Millennium;
Deliverance Will Come After Much Tribulation;
How to Become Like God

I am glad to be here, brothers and sisters, and I feel like giving us the words of God as given through President Johnson, February 18, 1979, in this place; the Spirit of God being my helper, the same Spirit which was upon him at the time.
Once more, I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for the blessings of the Lord upon all of us -- especially upon myself, for He has blessed me with wonderful health and strength and with continued power of speech. All this, I am grateful for, and I hope that He can continue to bless all of us that we might continue to come out and be instructed through the mouths of His servants. I trust that He will put words in my mouth this afternoon that we might be instructed from on high, for I want nothing to go over this pulpit only the words of God to us to help us continue our preparation of repentance of our sins and preparing ourselves for His great work ahead.

Inasmuch as He has promised to all the holy prophets that He would redeem His people -- Israel, we are now living in the consummation of this great and glorious day of the redemption of Israel. Not all of the blood of Israel has been gathered out from among the nations of the earth yet. But the word has gone forth that Joseph Smith the Prophet saw the Father and the Son and was instructed to deliver this great message to the world. But the world at large has so far rejected his testimony. Even those who are being converted today to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints do not believe in the fundamental principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ as they were given to the Prophet Joseph Smith. So, we can rest assured, my dear brothers and sisters, that we are greatly blessed to have these principles taught to us from Sunday to Sunday, from month to month. We have been greatly blessed because we have this Doctrine & Covenants, the Book of Mormon and the Pearl of Great Price to refer to as the word of God to the generation in which we live. For it is the word of God to us, and if we will study it and adhere to its teachings, it will bring us eternal life. For the Lord has said so.

We are living in a day when great tribulation covers the earth, from one end of the earth to the other; all the nations are disturbed in their feelings. For the hour of the reign of unrighteousness is fast coming to an end, at least upon the land of Joseph. We want to remember that North and South America was given to the descendants of Joseph, who was sold into Egypt, for an inheritance. This is the land upon which the Millennium will start. This is the land upon which a cloud will hang over it by day and a pillar of fire by night; and all nations will stand afar off and see what is being done and will say it is the workings of great men, and "Let us not go up to battle against Zion for the armies of Zion are terrible." The armies of Zion will not be armed with powder and lead, and guns to fire it with. But they will be armed with the breastwork of the Gospel of Jesus Christ; and their banners will be "The Kingdom of God or Nothing." This will put fear in the hearts of men.

Let us not wait any longer, my dear brothers and sisters. Let us labor night and day with ourselves. Let us commence to pray night and day for deliverance. Deliverance from what? From the evil powers that possess the hearts of men today. Let us get the Coming Crisis and How to Meet It, and read it. Then let us begin to fear and tremble because of our condition; and let us get the Spirit of God and keep it with us, that we might have peace in our minds and be able to walk down the road with our heads up, in the face of all opposition that might come our way. We are going to have to have it.

It has been read to us today by Brother Musser what is going to happen, (The White Horse Vision by Joseph Smith) and it is going to happen upon this continent, for the Lord has said, "In my House shall it begin." This book tells us that Christ told the Nephite people that after the city of the New Jerusalem was built, the great missionary work will begin in carrying the fulness of the everlasting Gospel to the nations of the earth. After the New Jerusalem is built.

Why? Because the Gentile nation would not receive the testimony of Joseph Smith the Prophet. The conditions will be such that the rest of the world will sit up and take notice and they dare not persecute further the servants of God when they go through preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ. And all nations will sit up and take notice. And all who will believe will accept the Gospel -- but not all will accept the Gospel. The Lord has said that when Christ comes, every knee shall bow and every tongue confess that Jesus is the Christ. But will they all believe that this is the only way to eternal life? No. Never. But they will come under the protection of the Kingdom of God; and they will seek for knowledge concerning the Kingdom of God and its righteousness. Brigham Young tells us that we will live in despair of ever seeing everybody accept the Gospel of Jesus Christ, although they confess that Jesus is the Christ and that He came as the great deliverer of His people -- Israel. But all who will repent and be baptized by water and have hands laid upon them for the gifts of the Holy Ghost and will keep the commandments of God, will be ushered in and numbered among the children of Israel.

The great blessing given to the great prophet Abraham is about to be fulfilled in this last dispensation of the fullness of times. The Lord said that He took six days to create the earth and He rested on the seventh. And He will give His spirits that He has created an opportunity for six thousand years to come to the earth and prepare themselves to be saved during the seventh thousand years. So, all who can be saved will be saved during that period of time.

What a golden opportunity you have, my brothers and sisters, of calling upon God night and day for deliverance -- from this very hour on until deliverance comes. For you heard today that deliverance would finally come after much tribulation.

We are not out of the woods yet. The servants of God, the saints of God, those who have purified their lives and are living according to the commandments that the Lord has given us for our eternal salvation, must continue their preparation, must dedicate themselves to the building up and establishing the Kingdom of God in the earth and be ready to be used when that One Mighty and Strong comes forth and makes his call again for a great army to go out and build the city and the temple. And from that place, it will spread to all the House of Israel.

I hope, my brothers and sisters, that we can hasten our preparation. The great charge to the Prophet Joseph Smith was to teach nothing but repentance and preparation to this generation in which we live, this generation of Gentiles; for the Gospel is about to be taken from them and go into the House of Israel again. And missionaries will be called after the work of redemption begins, and all who will come to Zion will be ushered in and they will be numbered among the House of Israel. We want to remember that there are twelve tribes in that great House and they will have to come to Zion for their blessings.

As Section 133 tells us.

And they will go back to their own lands, the lands of their own inheritances, and they will operate under the direction of each tribe as the Lord has said.

Let us hasten our preparation! Let us not waste anymore time, but let us teach our children correct principles that they might not go down with the wicked. I see a lot of our young people who are not listening to the counsels of their fathers and the Priesthood. And it makes our hearts ache because we know they are the children of our Father. Most of them have come through the new and everlasting covenant; I hope that all who are here today are numbered among that body of people who have been born and raised under the new and everlasting covenant, that we might lay some claim upon the blessings of God.

Let us hasten our preparation, that we might be found worthy of the blessings of eternal life, that the Lord will be justified in protecting us in the day and hour when we are called upon to endure great tribulation. Let us be prepared against that day! He says, "Try me, and see if I won't pour out blessings that you cannot contain." So, let us put Him to the test this once and see what He will do for us. We have had a little touch already of what He can do for us and we don't have to fight -- He says, "If you will keep my commandments, I will fight your battles." Let us have confidence in what He says! We have tried Him out a little and we have found He can do it. Let us get down to business and keep the commandments of God,

We keep talking about it and talking about it, but we do not get down to business, brothers and sisters.

...and let us hasten our preparation because we only have a few years left from what this book tells us. This book will tell you, if you will read it, what the Lord says about the great preparation that we have got to make and what the conditions will be if we will keep the commandments of God. So, let us keep the commandments of God -- we who have been into the waters of baptism and had hands laid upon us for the gifts of the Holy Ghost.

I pray the blessings of God to be upon us, each and everyone, that we might hasten our preparation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I feel honored and blessed in being asked to make some remarks on this sacred occasion, on the departure of Elroy Nielsen to the regions beyond. I pray God to bless me that I may tell you the truth, for Elroy Nielsen loved the truth for truth's sake. I had the privilege of being pretty close to Brother Nielsen in the last years of his life, and I know how he felt, what he knew, and what his faith was as he closed the chapters of his final time upon the earth.

These remarks of Brother Dorell rang a true note with me, for he was very generous with me and my family, bringing produce from his place or from the market, and other things that he offered out of the love and goodness of his heart. I can say he truly loved his neighbor as himself. But more than that, he loved God with all his might, mind, and strength, and it showed in his life and in his labors and in his faith.

He had a long talk with me about a year ago, in which he told me how much he wanted with all his heart to abide the holy Celestial Law of Marriage and qualify for the blessings attendant thereto; and in the closing chapters of his life, this was accomplished.

President Johnson, at the time of the accident, closely thereafter, said he will do a great deal more on the other side now than he could here, having done all he could to accomplish the object of his life; and that was to live unto God with all his might, mind, and strength, and to love his neighbor as himself. The Savior said these are the two great commandments, and in practice he fulfilled it. He had given unto him in the holy Celestial Law, along with his beloved wife, Arvilla, received in the plural law of marriage four lovely ladies so that he could indeed qualify, according to Section 132 of the Doctrine and Covenants, which he believed with all his heart, every part of it.

I feel, and I have felt this morning, contemplating this occasion, to let his family and friends know the nature of his faith in the closing years and days of his life, believing all that God had revealed in the past, and in the present, and the prophecies of the future, the blessings attended to this glorious law of Celestial and Holy Marriage, plural marriage. I am sure you all understand that is what he loved and lived, family and friends and brethren and sisters in the cause of righteousness, together.
These are remarks that I made at a general meeting conducted under the Priesthood that Brother Elroy believed in and followed with all of his heart, January 6, 1980:

RTJ Vol.5 Page 22 January 6, 1980 Sandy

I love the truth. I love the Prophet Joseph Smith and the grand truths and revelations that were restored through him to the earth for the last time, the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel and of the holy Priesthood. I am grateful for these things, and that we have a man at our head today who is the worthy successor to the Prophet Joseph Smith in our time, President (Leroy S.) Johnson.

Brother Elroy loved that man with all his heart.

I think one of the grandest introductions we can have in the consideration of this work and Priesthood, is the revelation given through Joseph Smith the Prophet to his father, which sets forth the qualifications for the labors of the ministry and for all men. We desire to enter into and do the work of God, do the will of God.

Section 4 of the Doctrine and Covenants:

D.& C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

There is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, to love our neighbor as ourselves.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work; That invitation is still in effect, brothers and sisters.

But we have to enter in at the gate through faith, repentance, baptism, and the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, the greatest gift of God to man, to His children, those who desire, who have righteous desires to serve Him and to keep His commandments. And as it says in the last here, we must ask for it, with faith, nothing wavering, and He will answer our prayers, our faith in our prayers, upon our heads.

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he...
perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith, hope, charity and love,
The pure love of Christ, as described by Moroni,
From the seventh chapter,
  5. ...with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.
  6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.
  7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Amen.
So, brothers and sisters, if we want to know the truth, we are going to have to ask for it.
Ask, knock, and it shall be given unto you through faith.
There is a great deal being said and done that is causing great confusion in the minds of the people. Why don't you ask to know the truth, That is what Brother Elroy did.
...and go to the fountainhead?  And I would like to repeat again what President Johnson has said to us, holding this Three-in-One, as he calls it, Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, and Pearl of Great Price.
...up to us saying that we are to follow these revelations of God to Joseph Smith the Prophet, the Book of Mormon and the Pearl of Great Price. We are to search the scripture, for in them ye think ye have eternal life. We have a right to know for ourselves.
By the gift of the Holy Ghost, the revelations through the Spirit of God.
I am told that Lorin Woolley said the same thing: "If there is anything that we say and do that does not square with this book, The Triple Combination.
"...these books, you need not give heed to them."
In September 1830, Oliver Cowdery got mixed up with one Hiram Page who had a seer stone. He was beginning to believe some of the false revelations that were given through that means. I will read to you all of Section 28:
D.& C. 28
  1. Behold, I say unto thee, Oliver, that it shall be given unto thee that thou shalt be heard by the church in all things whatsoever thou shalt teach them by the Comforter,
The Holy Ghost.
Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery were ordained to the same Priesthood in June of 1829, the holy Apostleship.

By Peter, James, and John.
But they were designated first, Joseph Smith as the First Elder, and Oliver Cowdery the Second Elder. They held the same Priesthood.

2. But, behold, verily, verily, I say unto thee, no one shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church excepting my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., for he receiveth them even as Moses.

Think of the preeminent position of Moses to the children of Israel. And he organized a Sanhedron, of which he was the grand head.

3. And thou
Speaking to Oliver,

3. ...shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, Joseph.
3. ...even as Aaron,
And I understand from the writings of John Taylor, that Aaron had the same order of Priesthood as Moses, for he was able to see the face of God. He communicated with Him, as did Moses. I just say that to show that he had the Priesthood as did Moses.

3. And thou shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron, to declare faithfully the commandments and the revelations, with power and authority unto the church.

The commandments and revelations that were given to Joseph Smith.

4. And if thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by the way of commandment unto the church, thou mayest do it.
5. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom;
Which is what Aaron did for Moses, and which all have been doing, or supposed to be doing since.

6. And thou shalt not command him who is at thy head, and at the head of the church;
7. For I have given him the keys of the mysteries, and the revelations which are sealed, until I shall appoint unto them another in his stead.
In his stead -- remember that.
8. And now, behold, I say unto you that you shall go unto the Lamanites and preach my gospel unto them; and inasmuch as they receive thy teachings thou shalt cause my church to be established among them; and thou shalt have revelations, but write them not by way of commandment.

9. And now, behold, I say unto you that it is not revealed, and no man knoweth where the city Zion shall be built, but it shall be given hereafter. Behold, I say unto you that it shall be on the borders by the Lamanites.

Oliver had been given a mission to the Lamanites at this time.

10. Thou shalt not leave this place until after the conference; and my servant Joseph shall be appointed to preside over the conference by the voice of it, and what he saith to thee thou shalt tell.

11. And again, thou shalt take thy brother, Hiram Page, between him and thee alone, and tell him that those things which he hath written from that stone are not of me and that Satan deceiveth him;

12. For, behold, these things have not been appointed unto him, neither shall anything be appointed unto any of this church contrary to the church covenants.

13. For all things must be done in order, and by common consent in the church, by the prayer of faith.

14. And thou shalt assist to settle all these things, according to the covenants of the church, before thou shalt take thy journey among the Lamanites.

15. And it shall be given thee from the time thou shalt go, until the time thou shalt return, what thou shalt do.

16. And thou must open thy mouth at all times, declaring my gospel with the sound of rejoicing. Amen.

There was another time, in February 1831, when some of the members of the Church were disturbed by people making false claims as revelators.

D. & C. 43

1. O hearken, ye elders of my church, and give ear to the words which I shall speak unto you.

2. For behold, verily, verily, I say unto you, that ye have received a commandment for a law unto my church, through him whom I have appointed unto you to receive commandments and revelations from my hand.
3. And this ye shall know assuredly -- that there is none other appointed unto you to receive commandments and revelations until he be taken, if he abide in me.

4. But verily, verily, I say unto you, that none else shall be appointed unto this gift except it be through him; for if it be taken from him he shall not have power except to appoint another in his stead.

5. And this shall be a law unto you, that ye receive not the teachings of any that shall come before you as revelations or commandments;

6. And this I give unto you that you may not be deceived, that you may know they are not of me.

7. For verily I say unto you, that he that is ordained of me shall come in at the gate and be ordained as I have told you before, to teach those revelations which you have received and shall receive through him whom I have appointed.

8. And now, behold, I give unto you a commandment, that when ye are assembled together ye shall instruct and edify each other, that ye may know how to act and direct my church, how to act upon the points of my law and commandments, which I have given.

9. And thus ye shall become instructed in the law of my church, and be sanctified by that which ye have received, and ye shall bind yourselves to act in all holiness before me --

10. That inasmuch as ye do this, glory shall be added to the kingdom which ye have received. Inasmuch as ye do it not, it shall be taken, even that which ye have received.

Blessings offered and rejected become cursings.

11. Purge ye out the iniquity which is among you; sanctify yourselves before me;

How President Johnson has been calling upon us to do just that!

For all these many years.

12. And if ye desire the glories of the kingdom, appoint ye my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and uphold him before me by the prayer of faith.

13. And again, I say unto you, that if ye desire the mysteries of the kingdom, provide for him food and raiment, and whatsoever thing he needeth to accomplish the work wherewith I have commanded him;

14. And if ye do it not he shall remain unto them that have received him, that I may reserve unto myself a pure people before me.

15. Again I say, hearken ye elders of my church, whom I have appointed: Ye are not sent forth to be taught, but to teach the children of men the things which I have put into your hands by the power of my Spirit;

16. And ye are to be taught from on high. Sanctify yourselves and ye shall be endowed with power, that ye may give even as I have spoken.

17. Hearken ye, for, behold, the great day of the Lord is nigh at hand.

18. For the day cometh that the Lord shall utter his voice out of heaven; the heavens shall shake and the earth shall tremble, and the trump of God shall sound both long and loud, and shall say to the sleeping nations: Ye saints arise and live; ye sinners stay and sleep until I shall call again.

19. Wherefore gird up your loins lest ye be found among the wicked.

20. Lift up your voices and spare not. Call upon the nations to repent, both old and young, both bond and free, saying: Prepare yourselves for the great day of the Lord;

President Johnson has been calling upon this people, among whom Elroy Nielsen is identified. Quoting from Journal of Discourses 24, page 192, Joseph F. Smith:

JD 24:192-193  Joseph F. Smith  June 21, 1883  Ogden

When Joseph received the keys of the Priesthood he alone on the earth held them; that is, he was the first, he stood at the head. It was promised that he should not lose them or be removed out of his place, so long as he was faithful.

That is what Section 43 said.

And when he died President Young was chosen by the voice of the people, and sanctioned by the voice of God. He held the Priesthood which was after the order of the Son of God, with the keys which pertain to the presidency of that Priesthood upon earth. He received it from the hands of Joseph, directly from him or by his authority; and he held it until his death. When he died that mantle fell upon John Taylor, and while he lives he will hold that authority inasmuch as he is faithful. So it was with President Brigham Young, he held it on condition of his faithfulness. If any man in that position should become unfaithful, God would remove him out of his place. I testify in the name of Israel's God that He will not suffer the head of the Church,
The head of His Priesthood.

...him whom He has chosen to stand at the head, to transgress His laws and apostatize; the moment he should take a course that would in time lead to it, God would take him away. Why? Because to suffer a wicked man to occupy that position, would be to allow, as it were, the fountain to become corrupted, which is something He will never permit. And why will he not suffer it? Because it is not the work of Joseph Smith; it is not the work of Brigham Young or of John Taylor.

It is not the work of Leroy Johnson.

It is not the work of man but of God Almighty; and it is His business to see that the men who occupy this position are men after His own heart, men that will receive instructions from Him (God), and that will carry out the same according to the counsels of His will. You may depend that he will see to it, and risk nothing upon this head.

President Johnson is coming along agreeable to the will of God in his illness. I had the privilege -- and I am telling you now what I told people in the south, on the 6th of May last [1979] -- I had the privilege on the 5th day of May to administer to President Johnson, in association with John Johnson and Truman Barlow. I had the testimony as I did this, that President Johnson would come through this illness stronger than ever to complete a greater and a more mighty work. I have been quite close to him. As far as I am concerned, brothers and sisters, like Rich Jessop said on more than one occasion, I belong to him, body, boots, and britches. And he has been true and faithful.

Brother Elroy had the same faith. I know because he told me so. He was not ashamed of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I am not ashamed of it. I know God is at the helm through this great and faithful man, Leroy S. Johnson. He is the keyholder of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers. He is the mouthpiece of God, and he is the fountainhead through whom the Holy Spirit of God is dispensed to the people who come under his presidency and direction. I know this by the Spirit of God, and I testify of it to you, and that Brother Elroy felt the same, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 5:266  May 9, 1982  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters; and I pray that the Lord will direct my remarks, for I desire to say or do nothing that would grieve the Spirit of God. I feel greatly honored in being called upon to speak on this occasion. Brother Lorin called me earlier in the week and asked me to be here, and this is in response to a direction of President Johnson. But I am here representing President Johnson. These occasions, brothers and sisters, are designed by the Lord to enable us to feel and know where we stand when a faithful brother is taken to the other side. These occasions are for the living, and we should, as it were, take stock of where we stand. I call to mind a statement of the Prophet Joseph Smith. He said, "I stand among many different people," and then he -- I would have liked to have been able to read it to you -- then he said, "I have inquired of myself if I am like God; I feel to repent that I may become like God."

This young man I did not know personally, except a couple of years ago, when we were fixing up the place up on the hill, he and another friend of his came and did a great deal of work for us in the yard and other work that was necessary to refurbish the place. After having completed it -- and I was about to leave -- I, at least, wanted to take care of their services.

He said, "What day is it?"

I said, "It is Tuesday."

He said, "Well, I don't charge anything on Tuesdays."

This dear brother, this Elder, bearing the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, was zealous in good works; and one of those that the Lord speaks of to the Prophet Joseph Smith who did not require being commanded in all things, who was anxiously engaged in a good work, and labored diligently. President Johnson told me that Clayne had been to see him last Sunday, had a nice long visit with him, and expressed his loyalty to President Johnson. I have had it from some who seem to be acquainted with the situation that Clayne, in going on this truck route or trip, was asked by several to accompany him; his brothers, and one or two others that I understand, and he said, "No." And his father said, "No." So he went on the trip alone, and he was taken home by that means -- alone.

The Lord works in mysterious ways His wonders to perform. And He accomplishes His will and ways so that we can obtain a testimony, and know, and understand that it is His will, and that he has gone to his reward, having been faithful while he remained here in the Kingdom of God. This grand principle of loyalty, brothers and sisters, loyalty to God; this is the thing that Joseph Smith was talking about when he said what I have just tried to quote. Loyalty is the process by which we become one -- loyalty to God, loyalty to correct principle, loyalty to God's representative upon the earth. I ran across something here that I want to pass on to you -- Heber C. Kimball speaking, 1856:

JD 4:1 Heber C. Kimball  June 29, 1856  SLC

The things concerning which brother Grant Jedediah Grant.

...has this day been speaking are good, and I believe in his doctrines because they are true, especially in regard to our being one. I do know most definitively that unless we are one we are not Christ's; and I also know that if we are not one with brother Brigham, our leader, we are not one with Christ. Yes, I know this, and my feelings are and have been with brother Brigham all the time.

I have learned by experience that there is but one God that pertains to this people, and He is the God that pertains to this earth -- the first man. That first man sent his own Son to redeem the world, to redeem his brethren; his life was taken, his blood shed, that our sins might be remitted. That Son called twelve men and ordained them to be Apostles, and when he departed the keys of the kingdom were deposited with three of those twelve, viz.: Peter, James, and John. Peter held the keys pertaining to that Presidency, and he was the head.

How did these keys come to us? Did not Peter, James, and John, ordain Joseph Smith our Prophet? They did. And Joseph Smith called and ordained brother Brigham, brother Heber, brother Parley, and others, enough to make twelve Apostles. Thus you see that there is always a governing principle in the Church upon the earth; there is always a Presidency, three who represent the Deity here on the earth. Just think of your position; you have heard the teachings and instructions of President Young, and his instructions are the word of God to us, and I know that every man and woman in this Church who rejects his testimony, and the testimony of those that he sends, rejects the testimony of God his Father. I know that, just as well as I know that I see your faces to-day.

So, brothers and sisters, we need to know the true order of the holy Priesthood so that we can follow correct principles and be obedient to the revelations and commandments of God through His keyholder, this one man who holds those keys. Here is Heber C. Kimball again:

JD 4:171  Heber C. Kimball  January 11, 1857  SLC

*When persons get the religion of Christ, and enjoy the Holy Ghost, they will never see any of that wildness which I have spoken of, unless, in the progress of this work, our President should be moved upon to bring it into action. When he unlocks and opens the door for that Spirit to come upon this people, then it is right and never will be wrong. Brother Brigham is my brother; and holds the keys to all the departments of the Priesthood on this earth, and when he unlocks the door it will come open. He has a bundle of keys, and, if they were keys like these in my hand, no ten men in this congregation could carry or lift them. He possesses the keys of all the different gifts and graces that God designs for this people. Can you realize it? Some do, and some do not. It is brother Brigham that holds the keys, yes, above every other man that lives in the flesh. When he says, "Brother Heber, take that key and open such or such a door," then I have authority to go and unlock that door, the same as he has. If he says, "Brother Wells, take this key and go and unlock such a door,"

Brother Wells was his counsellor.

...he then has the same power as brother Brigham has to unlock that door. If he says, "Brother Hyde, take this key and other small keys and go to the nations of the earth and open into different nations," brother Hyde then has the power and authority, with his brethren of the Twelve, to open the door, preach the Gospel, build up the Church, organize it, and set it in order in every nation, kingdom, tongue, and island, so far as he has received the keys and authority.

I think Brother Clayne recognized this grand principle, and I think we need to learn this grand principle, that President Johnson is still with us, and he is in that same position as Brigham Young, John Taylor, and those who followed in succession as they were ordained and set apart for that purpose by the Lord Himself. There is never but one man on the earth at a time upon whom the keys of this power, the sealing power, and the holy Priesthood are conferred. Who can confer those keys? God Himself. No one from beneath, and no one equal in authority even. Think upon it, brothers and sisters. I know that President Johnson is near the Lord and receives revelation from Him; and that Joseph Smith is nearby, and President Johnson is going to live to finish the great and grand work that he has been sent forth to do. I just wanted to leave this testimony with you, brothers and sisters, and this great work. This great man is involved more than we know or understand.

Brother Clayne is a humble Elder, I feel, had found his way. I pray that we may, dear brothers and sisters, be worthy of a glorious resurrection as President Johnson has said through his sermons, lo, these many years, and come up to see the face of God by becoming like Him through the powers and blessings of the holy Priesthood -- the power, which is the Holy Ghost. There is a sifting, brothers and sisters. Heber C. Kimball prophesied of it. I pray that we may, each and every one, find our way as the Lord brings about this great sifting, and that we will be found under the direction, and power, and authority of God's servant, the one man, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Judgments of God; Only One Man Holds the Keys of Priesthood

I can't tell you, my dear brothers and sisters, how grateful I am to be here at the side of President Johnson on this beautiful occasion. It's wonderful to sit and be in his presence and feel the Spirit of God coming from him and passing through to us. I am grateful for his great life and labors and the great mission that he has been sent forth to accomplish at this time, and he is doing it; he has never stopped! He has accomplished more from his bed of affliction than at any other time. In these days when there is so much disbelief and disputation, this great work is going on.

Brother Johnson told us tonight about the great wickedness that is in the earth, and it is creeping in among us. The Lord, in Section 112, spoke to the Apostles who had been sent out to gather Israel and preach the Everlasting Gospel to all who would believe and accept the same and they would be saved.
D.& C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.
24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.
25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;
26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

That is where it starts; from thence it will go forth. The great test that was prophesied by Heber C. Kimball is upon us. We are in the midst of a great sifting. There is not going on, so much, what has been called a division, but a sifting, brothers and sisters. Truth, and this Prophet of God who has been sent among us, will prevail!

I thought it would be a splendid thing to read a very significant sermon of President Johnson's, given at Salt Lake City, February 18, 1979. He says in this what he has been calling upon the saints to do -- lo, these many years.

This is typical of all Brother Johnson's sermons, as far as I can remember, since he came to the keyholder position. What follows is the word and will of God. The Spirit of revelation has continued and continued down to the present time, and will with greater power in time to come.

[He then read President Johnson's sermon, February 18, 1979, found in LSJ Sermons, volume 4, page 1704. (Also found on page 46 of this volume)]

Brothers and sisters, there is one thing that Brother Johnson has laid upon me, and that is to establish the truth of Section 132, verse 7; and there is more in this Section.

D.& C. 132

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these:
Pertaining to the New and Everlasting Covenant, which was instituted for the fullness of His glory.
7. ...All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

8. Behold, mine house is a house of order, saith the Lord God, and not a house of confusion.

These keys and powers are conferred upon one man. The keys of the power of sealing and of the holy Priesthood are conferred upon one man. By whom? It's all right here.

45. For I God speaking,
45. ...have conferred upon you Speaking to Joseph,
45. ...the keys and power of the Priesthood, wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.

The same is done for those who are appointed in his stead by God Himself.

46. And verily, verily, I say unto you, that whatsoever you seal on earth shall be sealed in heaven; and whatsoever you bind on earth, in my name and by my word, saith the Lord, it shall be eternally bound in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you remit on earth shall be remitted eternally in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you retain on earth shall be retained in heaven.

47. And again, verily I say, whomsoever you bless I will bless, and whomsoever you curse I will curse, saith the Lord; for I, the Lord, am thy God.

48. And again, verily I say unto you, my servant Joseph, that whatsoever you give on earth, and to whomsoever you give any one on earth, by my word and according to my law, it shall be visited with blessings and not cursing, and with my power, saith the Lord, and shall be without condemnation on earth and in heaven.

There it is!

49. For I am the Lord thy God, and will be with thee even unto the end of the world, and through all eternity; for verily I seal upon you your exaltation, and prepare a throne for you in the kingdom of my Father, with Abraham your father.

50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices, and will forgive all your sins; I have seen your sacrifices in obedience to that which I have told you. Go, therefore, and I make a way for your escape, as I accepted the offering of Abraham of his son Isaac.

President Johnson stands in the same position to the people of Zion in this day as Joseph did in that, and we are to have those ministrations done through the keys and power conferred upon him by the Lord God. It has been the same through Joseph Smith's legal successors from his day until the present.

Section 28 of the Doctrine and Covenants makes it very, very clear. I suppose you have had this read to you many times, that no one but Joseph, and therefore, no one but his legal successor, is to receive revelation for the people. Oliver Cowdery had been believing some revelations given through a stone in the possession of Hiram Page. The Prophet inquired of the Lord and got this great word that comes down to us in this day.

D.& C. 28

1. Behold, I say unto thee, Oliver, that it shall be given unto thee that thou shalt be heard by the church in all things whatsoever thou shalt teach them by the Comforter, concerning the revelations and commandments which I have given.

2. But, behold, verily, verily, I say unto thee, no one shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church excepting my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., for he receiveth them even as Moses.

I have said for three years that Leroy Johnson, to me, is as Enoch in this last day of gathering to redeem a people and build up Zion, preparatory to the coming of Enoch again. He is as Moses in this day and time to gather Israel.

3. And thou shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron, to declare faithfully the commandments and the revelations, with power and authority unto the church.
4. And if thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by the way of commandment unto the church, thou mayest do it.

5. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom.

6. And thou shalt not command him who is at thy head, and at the head of the church;

7. For I have given him the keys of the mysteries, and the revelations which are sealed, until I shall appoint unto them another in his stead.

And I testify to you that President Johnson stands in his stead today. Brother Johnson has told some of you that the effort has been going on now for some time to replace Section 132 with the 1880 Revelation by Wilford Woodruff. Wilford Woodruff had no authority nor power to receive and write that revelation. John Taylor didn't send him. What he got at the first was the true word of God, and that was to tell him: "I have already revealed My mind and will regarding these matters to My servant Joseph." That is about all it said in the first few paragraphs by the word of the Lord. So what follows is received illegitimately and from below.

I know, as I know I live, brothers and sisters, that this Council does not hold the keys in common, nor do any of the Apostles have the right to receive revelation for the people, except Leroy Sunderland Johnson. John Taylor was the only one then in 1880.

We have been led by revelation from Sunday to Sunday and month to month, as he said in this sermon; and he served notice to begin with asking God to put words in his mouth. Yes, He has put words, calling upon the saints to repent and to prepare to redeem Zion, and that is the great message he has been giving.

I have said to the people in Short Creek and Salt Lake many times, until I have been silenced in Salt Lake from speaking to the people; I have said that President Johnson will come through this illness that came upon him by the will of God and to serve the purposes of God. He will come through stronger than ever to finish his great mission to gather a people to redeem Zion. That message is greatly fortified by these words in Third Nephi, chapter 21. I have been standing on it. This is Jesus Christ speaking to the Nephites:

3 Nephi 21

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see;
and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles, and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (It shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

There it is. This is that servant sitting before you tonight. They are waiting for him to die. But I tell you in the name of the Lord, Jesus Christ, that he will continue in this great work of redemption, with Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith, Jun., preparing the people and leading them back to Zion.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, the great thing we have to do is to become pure in heart. Zion is the pure, and none will go who are not pure in heart. Have you ever thought of this?

My favorite scripture, I think, in the Book of Mormon, is the seventh chapter of Moroni. It is very prophetic. Jesus Christ, in teaching His disciples said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." He could say that because He was perfect. We must become like Him to stand in His presence. In order to obtain the great attribute mercy, and charity, the pure love of Christ, we must be meek and lowly in heart. What have we heard from the stand? Anything but what was in meekness and lowliness of heart in dealing with the saints.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

What great love and charity have we witnessed in the administrations and blessings that have been given us by and through President Johnson -- most Christlike is my humble testimony.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

This says the same things to me as, "Be ye filled with the Holy Ghost." The Holy Ghost has all the attributes of God. If we are filled with it, we will have the same attributes, and be Godlike.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

The pure in heart shall see God. So, Brother Johnson has been trying to tell us to clean up our lives, lo, these many, many years. He said it again tonight. You young people who have habits that need to be overcome, overcome them. We had better be about it.

Jesus Christ and His angels will go before to accompany and shall go back to redeem Zion. He said so in Section 103. He is to go before; the saints are to go behind Him. We have got to be like Him, or we can't see Him. This brings to mind Section 93.

D. & C. 93
31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.
32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.

35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.
36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.

37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, Have you ever thought of that?
39. ...from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

Frederick G. Williams, Sidney Rigdon, Joseph Smith, Jun., were all chastised by the Lord. Let's read the one to Joseph.

45. Verily, I say unto my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., or in other words, I will call you friends, for you are my friends, and ye shall have an inheritance with me --

46. I called you servants for the world's sake, and ye are their servants for my sake --
47. And now, verily, I say unto Joseph Smith, Jun. -- You have not kept the commandments, and must needs stand rebuked before the Lord;
48. Your family must needs repent and forsake some things, and give more earnest heed unto your sayings, or be removed out of their place.
It's getting down right where we are today. We must set in order our houses, brethren. You wives, help, and you children, be obedient. It was quoted to me by Joseph Barlow the statement of President Johnson when he was asked to define the Celestial Law of Marriage. He said, "The Celestial Law is that the man is the head of the women." God told Eve, "In sorrow shalt thou bring forth children. Thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee." I am told that whenever a disobedient wife would go to Brother Barlow, he would quote that: "Thy desire shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee," and he must rule in righteousness.

Brothers and sisters, let us all repent, get down on our knees and cry day and night for the Spirit of God and keep it, that we might be delivered from our sins and from the judgments. Let us overcome.

In the Book of Revelations, Jesus said, "He who overcometh shall sit down with Me in the temple." As Christ overcame and was perfect, be ye perfect, even as your Father in heaven is perfect in His sphere; we in ours, that the Holy Ghost may be our constant guide and companion to all honor and glory of God in sustaining this great man who leads us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

All Here Must Be One Hundred Percent
With President Johnson;
We Are Raising Children to Be Used by the Prophet to Redeem Zion

This is always an imposing occasion to me, as I realize that we have this generation of children the Lord has sent into our care. Sorry to announce that President Johnson found he could not make it to come here to today, and I know you all came in great anticipation, as I did. He took sick yesterday afternoon and still thought he could make it here this morning, but called to say his spirit and feelings would be with us here in his absence.
I have the testimony that these things occurring as they do are the mind and will of God, and there is a purpose in it. There is a purpose in his illness, and has been from the beginning, which I have tried to advance to the saints. So let us pray for him and we will still be in communication through the Spirit of God.

* * * * *

A year ago now, I spoke of this being the Leroy S. Johnson Academy Elementary School. This is his school. This is his house. We have a meeting house here, and we have a schoolhouse here, and something more. All has been done at the direction of President Johnson. The building of this place, the conduct of the meetings of this place have been appointed by him, and he gave the original direction for the formation of this Academy. He appointed me to organize this school. We have a legal charter from the state of Utah, under the name of Alta Academy. In putting together the Articles of Incorporation, President Johnson chose the trustees. I went to him about it, and he named Rulon T. Jeffs, Woodruff Steed, and W. A. Draper as trustees; and he directed me to act in the capacity of Administrator. In the last two or three years he has specifically set out Warren Jeffs as principal in charge of the academic affairs of this Academy.

I am truly grateful, my brothers and sisters, that we have come to this point. This is President Johnson's school. I take it that all here are one hundred percent for President Johnson. In all of my contacts I have arrived at this conclusion, and the grand principle that the Savior enunciated to the people in His time was, "If you are not for Me, you are against Me." That does not leave any room for those in between, or those, shall we say "fence-sitters", waiting to see which way this is going to go. We are positively for him or we are against him. That is the nature of the test and the sifting that is going on among our people.

So I rejoice, and I just wanted to make this opening remark regarding our organization and the enrollment that we have this year. This is one hundred percent Leroy S. Johnson Academy. So we will proceed in our exercises here, and first call upon Elder Woodruff Steed to speak to us.

* * * * *

I had wondered if it might be possible to do the recording of President Johnson's talk to us last year, which I have on tape here.

[President Jeffs, October 5, 1981:] We are going to hear from President Johnson now.

Leroy S. Johnson  October 5, 1981  SLC  (S.Star 14:129)

This is a beautiful sight, my brothers and sisters, and I am greatly pleased to be able to be here with you this morning. I trust that the few moments I occupy this position, the Lord will bless me with words that might be uplifting and educational to all of us.

There is no doubt in my mind, but what lots of thoughts goes through our minds in a school like this, wondering what difference there is between the Priesthood school and our common schools throughout the country. But here we try to teach the principle of righteous living to prepare ourselves for the great hereafter. It is a wonderful experience to be brought up as we have been brought up in the past. But to be brought up in the educational line of this generation in which we live, there is more of a difference. The difference is that we are taught that there is a God, and that He lives. He answers our prayers. We can talk to Him like I am talking to you, and He listens to us, and He answers the prayers of the faithful, those who are determined to round out their salvation the best way they can. He is willing to do His part. I have learned that over the years, and I have tried to know and understand the purpose of life in this existence of ours.

Now, I would like to see this school this year be as Brother Draper has outlined, the best school that we have ever had. Let us have it the best school, and let us be honest in our efforts to round out our salvation in fear and trembling before the Lord. I pray that these blessings will be ours this year, and I ask it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

As I look upon these children -- and I want the same blessings upon them as President Johnson does -- I am reminded of how anxious he has always been for our young people. He is looking to this generation for a people, the young and the middle-aged, to redeem Zion. That is what his mission is all about -- the perfection of a generation of the young, who, with the faithful middle-aged, will be called up to go and redeem Zion. I don't want to take too much time, but just call your attention to Section 103, February 1834, when the Lord was anxious to make another attempt to redeem Zion; for He had already set the time for the redemption of Zion, September 1836, for this effort, when He called upon Joseph:
D.& C. 103

31. Behold this is my will; ask and ye shall receive; but men do not always do my will.
32. Therefore, if you cannot obtain five hundred, seek diligently that peradventure you may obtain three hundred.
33. And if ye cannot obtain three hundred, seek diligently that peradventure ye may obtain one hundred.
34. But verily I say unto you, a commandment I give unto you, that ye shall not go up unto the land of Zion until you have obtained a hundred of the strength of my house, to go up with you unto the land of Zion.

This was to succor those who had been driven out of Zion and to restore them to their lands, and I will come back to the purpose of this. The Lord had made it clear to the Prophet Joseph Smith that Zion should not be removed from her place, and it would yet be redeemed; and He says this:

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
They could have had that power.
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.
17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.
19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.
20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, Jesus Christ.
20. ...and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.
22. Therefore let my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., say unto the strength of my house, my young men and the middle aged -- Gather yourselves together unto the land of Zion, upon the land which I have bought with money that has been consecrated unto me.
President Johnson has spoken so many times about his great hopes and desires in behalf of the young. He looked upon a group of young people in Short Creek not long ago, and he said, "From these I have hopes of obtaining the young who will go up to Zion." So he is encouraged that there is going on now this great sifting. He is calling upon a people to clean up their minds and their hearts and become pure in heart. Zion is the pure in heart, says the Lord.

D.& C. 97

18. And, now, behold, if Zion do these things she shall prosper, and spread herself and become very glorious, very great, and very terrible.
19. And the nations of the earth shall honor her, and shall say: Surely Zion is the city of our God, and surely Zion cannot fall, neither be moved out of her place, for God is there, and the hand of the Lord is there;
20. And he hath sworn by the power of his might to be her salvation and her high tower.
21. Therefore, verily, thus saith the Lord, let Zion rejoice, for this is Zion -- THE PURE IN HEART; therefore, let Zion rejoice, while all the wicked shall mourn.
22. For behold, and lo, vengeance cometh speedily upon the ungodly as the whirlwind; and who shall escape it?
23. The Lord's scourge shall pass over by night and by day, and the report thereof shall vex all people; yea, it shall not be stayed until the Lord come;
24. For the indignation of the Lord is kindled against their abominations and all their (wicked) works.
25. Nevertheless, Zion shall escape if she observe to do all things whatsoever I have commanded her.

I just mention these things as touching the young, and I want to call upon you young people and their parents to keep these things in mind. We are in the business of raising up a righteous generation who can be pure in heart, and that is the great work of President Johnson. Therefore, my dear children, I want to say this to you before we commence our labors of this school year: Remember, remember, the first law of heaven is obedience. You are required to be obedient to your parents. Your parents are required to be obedient to the holy Priesthood over them, notably President Johnson, obedient to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, that we may become pure, and thus become a part of Zion.

We have behavior problems in our school. We have had them all along; but if I can help you young people to understand this one great law, obedience. Parents, be obedient to the laws of the Gospel through the holy Priesthood, and you children be obedient to your parents. We desire this school to be conducted as an extension of your home. Sometimes it is difficult where they have not had the proper training, dear parents. But we can only go so far. We need the cooperation of you parents, and we need the united cooperation of you children to do our job. We want to be firm, but loving. We want to operate this school under the power and direction of the Holy Spirit of God; and this is the charge upon the teachers -- Section 121.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;
42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --
43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

So I appreciated the words of Brother Draper. We teach by example and by precept, all by the influence and power of the Holy Ghost. I pray for the blessings of God to be upon President Johnson, and that he will be with us on another occasion. He told me this morning he would like to be available to speak to us in a devotional or other exercise where we may be brought together. So we will look forward to that promise, shall we? God bless us all together that we may be one in this glorious work of the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ, under President Johnson, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Marvin Lee Darger

I am sure, my dear brothers and sisters and friends of Elder Marvin Lee Darger, this is a wonderful tribute to the life and labors of this faithful man, for which we are gathered together here today. I am mouth for President Leroy Sunderland Johnson on this occasion, under his appointment and direction.

This is a funeral service for Marvin Lee Darger, born June 2, 1935 to Eldren J. and Celesta Robertson Darger. He passed away at his home February 6, 1983. The program is as follows: Invocation -- Donald Darger, a brother. Song by the choir -- "Though Deepening Trials". First speaker will be Fred M. Jessop, a dear friend. Second speaker -- Parley J. Harker, also a very dear friend. Male quartet -- Howard Meldrum and company, "Oh Home Beloved". Third speaker -- Rulon T. Jeffs. Then remarks by President Johnson if he feels to respond.

I am grateful beyond expression for the invitation to have a part in this sacred service in behalf of our beloved brother, Lee Darger. We have heard some marvelous, grand truths expressed here by the former speakers. I ask the Lord to bless me that I may add to that which has been said. As I contemplate the life and labors of this good man, I have felt to say he was sweet and sound. This is a description that was given by President John Y. Barlow as to the character and labors of men who found favor in the sight of God and His servant here upon the earth. I feel that this worthy man fits a beautiful description given us in Moroni 7. I suppose this is a most favorite scripture of mine.

Moroni 7

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope? 41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
That is being sweet and sound. Jesus said, "I am meek and lowly in heart."

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
That is the power of faith, the exertion of the mind.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
The Holy Ghost, the pure love of Christ.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Brother Lee sought to emulate the life and character of President Leroy S. Johnson. I know for myself that he loved and had confidence in this man, Lee Darger. His faith, his loyalty, and his confidence was placed in this one man who holds the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers, and he sought to become like him who represents God upon the earth. I have my own testimony concerning these things, for the Lord has revealed them to me. So I consider this very worthy man, taken in his early years, one of the middle-aged men of that character, along with the young and middle-aged who will be called to redeem Zion.
President Richard S. Jessop on one occasion shortly after the very important event, spoke to this congregation in this place, and told how he placed his confidence in the man in whom God placed His confidence. Can we understand this, brothers and sisters and friends? Brother Lee's confidence and faith were centered in this man whom we love and honor and sustain as God's representative upon the earth. He is this to me. He is as Moses and as Enoch in this dispensation under Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith, the head of this greatest and last dispensation upon the earth; whose friend, Joseph Smith's friend, is Leroy S. Johnson.

I speak of these things, brothers and sisters, because of the life and labors of men like Brother Lee who are laboring now to sustain and uphold this servant of God who has been preaching repentance and preparation to this people from the day that I first knew him. And he attached himself, when he knew or became acquainted with John Y. Barlow, to this keyholder who preceded him. I know many of you do not understand these things, but I felt to express them here. I am his because he is God's, as expressed by President Jessop on April 30th of 1978. Lee is a friend to President Jessop. He was a friend of mine and I cherish it.

Now I ask the Lord's blessings upon this beautiful family that Lee has been blessed with under the holy order, the Celestial Order of Marriage, the Family Order of Heaven. He desired to abide this and did; and in his heart, under the conditions that we are living at this time, the holy United Order. His was a life of dedication and service in magnifying the Priesthood which he bore as an Elder in Zion.

Now I pray God's blessings upon the family of this worthy man and upon us all, that we may find the true light and abide in the same. I would just like to add this additional word of admonition from the word of God to the Prophet Joseph Smith contained in Section 93, something that we need to be very aware of if we desire salvation and exaltation in the Kingdom of God and a glorious resurrection, which President Johnson has enjoined upon us lo, these many years.

D.& C. 93

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.
32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.
I feel that this man is worthy of a glorious resurrection in the joining of spirit and element in the resurrection.

35. The elements are the tabernacle of God;
Now follow this, brothers and sisters:
35. ...yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.
And that is what Section 132 tells us over and over again.

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
Jesus said we must become as children, innocent before God, meek, lowly in heart, and obedient, if they are trained up.

37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.
Oh, what a toll that takes.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.
Awful is the responsibility upon parents. Awesome! And as President Johnson described a dream which he had in which he was called upon to account for his children, brings to mind the great significance of this word of the Lord to us.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth. ***
These innocent children. Then the Lord goes on to chastise Joseph, Sidney, Frederick Williams, Newel K. Whitney, and others, regarding the raising up and training of their children in light and truth. To Joseph He said:

48. Your family must needs repent and forsake some things, and give more earnest heed unto your sayings, or be removed out of their place.
49. What I say unto one I say unto all; pray always lest that wicked one have power in you, and remove you out of your place.

God bless us all and this family to carry on in the spirit of these words of God, and sustain this keyholder, fountainhead, and representative of God upon the earth at the peril of our salvation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Alberta Chatwin Wyler

This is a funeral service for Alberta Chatwin Wyler, born October 24, 1904; died September 17, 1983. I am greatly honored, having been asked by President Johnson to attend these services in this capacity, and in sharing a friendship that this dear sister had for President Johnson and her desires in righteousness. I have not been closely associated with Sister Wyler, but have met her on a good many occasions to enjoy her good spirit and her expressions of her desires in righteousness. According to our desires, brothers and sisters, so shall it be. I am deeply impressed by the words of the Prophet Brigham Young, who said that the children of the mother reflect the integrity, according to their lives, of that mother. This blessed office of mother is a beautiful thing.

Brigham said, "There rests in the mothers, primarily, the outcome of the lives of her children." And I feel that, as far as I know, these children of Sister Wyler, all adopted; she has performed the office of mother most admirably, insomuch that she has sought to bring them into the circle of the holy Priesthood; this evidenced by her having come into the community, and before and after having brought them to the feet of the Priesthood. I have had enough to do with these three sons that I am acquainted with -- Charles, Edward, and Marvin -- and what has occurred in recent years, that they have found the right road, and have desired to go down that road with President Johnson. So, having set the course of these children, she has performed her work and mission in the earth.

One of the most beautiful remarks that had been made at the services of a faithful man are these words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, on the death of Lorenzo D. Barnes, and I find great comfort in reading it and contemplating its importance.

Almost all who have fallen in these last days in the Church have fallen in a strange land.

By that, he means they have passed away.

This is a strange land to those who have come from a distance. We should cultivate sympathy for the afflicted among us. If there is a place on earth where men should cultivate the spirit and pour in the oil and wine in the bosoms of the afflicted, it is in this place; and this spirit is manifest here; and although a stranger and afflicted when he arrives, he finds a brother and a friend ready to administer to his necessities.

I would esteem it one of the greatest blessings, if I am to be afflicted in this world, to have my lot cast where I can find brothers and friends all around me. But this is not the thing I referred to: it is to have the privilege of having our dead buried on the land where God has appointed to gather His Saints together, and where there will be none but Saints, where they may have the privilege of laying their bodies where the Son of Man will make His appearance, and where they may hear the sound of the trump that shall call them forth to behold Him, that in the morn of the resurrection they may come forth in a body, and come up out of their graves and strike hands immediately in eternal glory and felicity, rather than be scattered thousands of miles apart.

I think this is most appropriate as to this place where this dear sister came to be among the saints.

There is something good and sacred to me in this thing. The place where a man is buried is sacred to me.

This woman.

This subject is made mention of in the Book of Mormon and other scriptures.
And I have rejoiced in the quotations that Brother Parley has given us.

Even to the aborigines of this land, the burying places of their fathers are more sacred than anything else.

When I heard of the death of our beloved Brother Barnes, it would not have affected me so much, if I had the opportunity of burying him in the land of Zion.

I believe those who have buried their friends here, their condition is enviable. Look at Jacob and Joseph in Egypt, how they required their friends to bury them in the tomb of their fathers. See the expense which attended the embalming and the going up of the great company to the burial.

It has always been considered a great calamity not to obtain an honorable burial: and one of the greatest curses the ancient prophets could put on any man, was that he should go without a burial.

I have said, Father, I desire to die here among the Saints. But if this is not Thy will, and I go hence and die, wilt Thou find some kind friend to bring my body back, and gather my friends who have fallen in foreign lands, and bring them up hither, that we may all lie together.

I will tell you what I want. If tomorrow I shall be called to lie in yonder tomb, in the morning of the resurrection let me strike hands with my father, and cry, "My father," and he will say, "My son, my son," as soon as the rock rends and before we come out of our graves.

And may we contemplate these things so? Yes, if we learn how to live and how to die. When we lie down we contemplate how we may rise in the morning; and it is pleasing for friends to lie down together, locked in the arms of love, to sleep and wake in each other's embrace and renew their conversation.

Would you think it strange if I relate what I have seen in vision in relation to this interesting theme? Those who have died in Jesus Christ may expect to enter into all that fruition of joy when they come forth, which they possessed or anticipated here.

So plain was the vision, that I actually saw men, before they had ascended from the tomb, as though they were getting up slowly. They took each other by the hand and said to each other, "My father, my son, my mother, my daughter, my brother, my sister." And when the voice calls for the dead to arise, suppose I am laid by the side of my father, what would be the first joy of my heart? To meet my father, my mother, my brother, my sister; and when they are by my side, I embrace them and they me.

It is my meditation all the day, and more than my meat and drink, to know how I shall make the Saints of God comprehend the visions that roll like an overflowing surge before my mind.

All your losses will be made up to you in the resurrection, provided you continue faithful. By the vision of the Almighty I have seen it.

More painful to me are the thoughts of annihilation than death. If I have no expectation of seeing my father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends again, my heart would burst in a moment, and I should go down to my grave. ***

God has revealed His Son from the heavens and the doctrine of the resurrection also; and we have a knowledge that those we bury here God will bring up again, clothed upon and quickened by the Spirit of the great God; and what mattereth it whether we lay them down, or we lay down with them when we can keep them no longer? Let these truths sink down in our hearts, that we may even here begin to enjoy that which shall be in full hereafter.

Hosanna, hosanna, hosanna to Almighty God, that rays of light begin to burst forth upon us even now. I cannot find words in which to express myself. I am not learned, but I have as good feelings as any man.

O that I had the language of the archangel to express my feelings once to my friends! But I never expect to in this life. When others rejoice, I rejoice; when they mourn, I mourn.

To Marcellus Bates let me administer comfort. You shall soon have the company of your companion in a world of glory, and the friends of Brother Barnes and all the Saints who are mourning. This has been a warning voice to us all to be sober and diligent and lay aside mirth, vanity and folly, and to be prepared to die tomorrow.

Interesting -- the closing remark:
President Joseph Smith said: "As president of this house, I forbid any man leaving just as we are going to close the meeting. He is no gentleman who will do it. I don't care who does it, even if it were the king of England. I forbid it. (April 16, 1843.) D.H.C. 5:360-363.

So, brothers and sisters, what measure we mete shall be measured back unto us. I think the greatest tribute that can be paid to a person, especially a mother, is a tribute they pay to her by their lives being like hers, as she strives to obey God and keep all of His commandments. So, we have here the spirit of life. I call upon those who survive, whom she, Sister Wyler, has raised up, to pay tribute to her and her labors by becoming friends of her friends, the holy Priesthood, wherein are the keys of our salvation. I am sure she loved President Johnson, as she showed it in her life. President Johnson has paid a high compliment to her in being here today, and I appreciate it; and I appreciate being invited here today by him to participate in these sacred services. May God bless us all, that these things may redound to our eternal salvation, and bring us to repentance and to the perfect and first law of heaven -- obedience -- that we may obtain a glorious resurrection, as President Johnson has sounded to our ears lo, these many years; desiring nothing less than the salvation of his friends, and those who would follow him. God help us to follow him unto our salvation and exaltation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Hilda Alvira Williams Dutson Wife of Elder Merlin Dutson

I feel greatly honored, my brothers and sisters, to be asked to have a part in this beautiful service, in memory and in honor of this faithful sister, wife, and mother in Israel. I have been impressed with the words of the Master: "My children know the voice of the Master, and another they will not follow." And it could not be anything else but a love of the truth -- Brother Dutson, Merlin Dutson, and his family -- to make the great sacrifice that they did to enter into the New and Everlasting Covenant, the Family Order of Heaven. It is music to the ears of those whose hearts are in tune -- the blood of Israel, of Abraham -- and we should understand that the law which brought this fine family together is called the Law of Abraham, and is spoken of so much in Section 132 as such.

The familiar voice of the holy Priesthood, through the Holy Ghost, reaches the lives and hearts of the honest in heart. This people have been gathered here under the instruction and teachings of our Prophet, Leroy Johnson, to bring a people together in one place, to repent and prepare for the redemption of Zion. It has been the burden of his message to us since I knew him and became a fellow servant with him. The works of this dear sister have shown her faith. By our works, our faith is known and exercised, and is in evidence. I love the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, which I would like to read a few of to you, which the Prophet gave at the death of Lorenzo Barnes in Nauvoo.

Almost all who have fallen in these last days in the Church have fallen in a strange land. This is a strange land to those who have come from a distance. We should cultivate sympathy for the afflicted among us. If there is a place on earth where men should cultivate the spirit and pour in the oil and wine in the bosoms of the afflicted, it is in this place; I like to think of this place as similar to that in Nauvoo.

And this spirit is manifest here; and although a stranger and afflicted when he arrives, he finds a brother and a friend ready to administer to his necessities.

I would esteem it one of the greatest blessings, if I am to be afflicted in this world, to have my lot cast where I can find brothers and friends all around me. If I have no expectation of seeing my father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends again, my heart would burst in a moment, and I should go down to my grave.

The expectation of seeing my friends in the morning of the resurrection cheers my soul and makes me bear up against the evils of life. It is like their taking a long journey, and on their return we meet them with increased joy.

God has revealed His Son from the heavens and the doctrine of the resurrection also; and we have a knowledge that those we bury here God will bring up again, clothed upon and quickened by the Spirit of the great God; and what mattereth it whether we lay them down, or we lay down with them when we can keep them no longer? This has been a warning voice to us all to be sober and diligent and lay aside mirth, vanity and folly, and to be prepared to die tomorrow.

I think that paints as beautiful a picture as we have of death and the resurrection. I am sure that this dear sister has abided the law with her husband, and she has raised up her family to the best of her ability in light and truth, which is the great labor of mothers. My beloved mother, my sainted mother, I contemplate about her very often, how she made the necessary sacrifice. After the Lord had told the Prophet Joseph Smith in Section 132:

D.& C. 132

7. ... (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred),

And then after introducing to him the Law of Abraham -- and going on to show what great blessings will come to those, even to become Gods, by entering into, living, and abiding this holy Celestial Law, sealed, and confirmed here under the direction of this one man -- the Lord says:

45. For I have conferred upon you the keys and power of the priesthood, wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.

46. And verily, verily, I say unto you, that whatsoever you seal on earth shall be sealed in heaven; and whatsoever you bind on earth, in my name and by my word, saith the Lord, it shall be eternally bound in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you remit on earth shall be remitted eternally in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you retain on the earth shall be retained in heaven.

47. And again, verily I say, whomsoever you bless I will bless, and whomsoever you curse I will curse, saith the Lord; for I, the Lord, am thy God.

48. And again, verily I say unto you, my servant Joseph, that whatsoever you give on earth, and to whomsoever you give any one on earth, by my word and according to my law, it shall be visited with blessings and not cursings, and with my power, saith the Lord, and shall be without condemnation on earth and in heaven.

49. For I am the Lord thy God, and will be with thee even unto the end of the world, and through all eternity; for verily I seal upon you your exaltation, and prepare a throne for you in the kingdom of my Father, with Abraham your father.
50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices, and will forgive all your sins; I have seen your sacrifices in obedience to that which I have told you. Go, therefore, and I make a way for your escape, as I accepted the offering of Abraham of his son Isaac. ***

These are the powers and authority vested in this one man, who now is acting in the stead of Joseph, in the person of Leroy S. Johnson.

58. Now, as touching the law of the priesthood, there are many things pertaining thereunto.

59. Verily, if a man be called of my Father, as was Aaron, by mine own voice, and by the voice of him that sent me, and I have endowed him with the keys of the power of this priesthood, if he do anything in my name, and according to my law and by my word, he will not commit sin, and I will justify him.

60. Let no one, therefore, set on my servant Joseph; "Let no one, therefore, set on My servant Leroy S. Johnson;"

60. ...for I will justify him; for he shall do the sacrifice which I require at his hands for his transgressions, saith the Lord your God.

And what a great sacrifice he has been making, and is making now for us, buying us with a price. This dear lady acknowledged this great man and obeyed him. He was a father to her as he is a father to all of us, a savior on Mount Zion.

Now, may the Lord bless and comfort those who remain, and follow the beautiful example of the life of this dear sister. You will show your love for her in memory by walking in obedience to the Gospel of Jesus Christ, through the holy Priesthood, and drawing together as one people, rallying around this man, that you may be prepared to go and redeem Zion. There is much labor yet to perform, much repentance, and great and mighty faith to accomplish this great end, as President Johnson has been trying with all of his heart, might, mind, and strength to gather a people, this people whom he loves and has made the great sacrifice for. God bless him and continue him in his improvement, that he may be with us again. I appreciate and love the words that he told us here today. May we abide by them, brothers and sisters.

In times past, lo, these many years, we have not been listening. Thank God for his books that he has published of all his sermons that could be obtained - - revelation continually. Yet some have made the statement they have never known of any revelation having come through him. Every time he opens his mouth before a congregation he calls upon the Lord to put words in his mouth, and through his great faith the Lord does, and he has so taught us. God help us to follow him. God bless the memory of this faithful sister, and sainted mother, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Devotion Towards President Johnson
At a Utility Meeting in Colorado City

I feel speechless. I would rather, instead of being in the spotlight, be a light spot down there among you. I always feel lost without the presence of Leroy S. Johnson, whom I love better than life itself, my own life. Mr. Kinney could have told you how Leroy S. Johnson, as he has told us on many occasions, brought to light the law that made it possible to bring our children, our mothers, and fathers back home, and that through the Spirit of revelation, which he has all the time. How he fathered those children, and those mothers, and helped the fathers to be released in the court proceedings concerning them, is a tale that would take volumes to tell. The whole story has not been told, my dear brothers and sisters. It will be told one day, to the consternation of those in power, politically and otherwise. I just want to say that I want to be with him all the way. I promised him that on one very important occasion, and I hope I can carry on doing that.

I cannot tell you how I appreciate, in behalf of Brother Johnson, the labors and the efforts of Mr. Kinney, and his firm of lawyers, in behalf of this people. Mr. Kinney has always said to President Johnson, "I am as near as the telephone. Whenever you need me I will come." He has told me that many times. So I just feel to express my deep appreciation for those who have befriended our Prophet and leader, and sustained and helped him along. I am reminded of similar situations in the life of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and of Brigham Young, men outside of our faith who befriended the Prophets of God, and helped them along in accomplishing the work and the will of God.

I appreciate being asked to come here tonight, and pray the Lord to bless our Prophet and head, that he might continue in the labors that he described, as it was reported to me tonight at the devotional early this week, or this morning. God bless Brother Kinney and his associates who helped us. God bless our Prophet, and God bless each and every one of you to aid in continuing this great work in which we are engaged, leading up to the Millennium. Thank you very much.
President Johnson is gracing this sacred occasion, for which I am sure we are all very thankful for. I certainly am with all my heart. The Lord is blessing, guiding, and directing him in the conduct of this work.

The little flurry we had here to begin with was concerning a fire which started on President Johnson's home in Short Creek. It is under control and no serious damage. The fire is out.

* * * * *

President Johnson has asked me to take up some time, which I am grateful to have it come from him. I pray that the Spirit of God will be upon me to say those things which the Lord would have me say. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. My heart is full to overflowing with love for this great and good man that stands at the head of Israel under the Kingdom of God. He is the source of my blessings. The office and position which he holds is the key to our salvation. The Lord provides helps and governments as He did with the Prophet Joseph Smith. He stood pre-eminent in the stead of God, as he said himself. Wilford Woodruff said in 1898:

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1898, page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together.

Zion's Camp was on their way to make another attempt to redeem Zion. The time had been set for the redemption of Zion, September of 1836, if they could do it. They were required, these men -- He asked for five hundred, the Lord did; the least He would accept would be one hundred; he got two hundred and five -- but they were to go under Joseph as one man without murmuring, without contending, without jarrings and strifes and contentions, all with one heart and one mind, or they could not accomplish the work.

A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together. He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us. He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us.
Several in the camp had resisted and stood up to President Joseph Smith. Sylvester Smith was one, Lyman Wight another, as they went along, and they disobeyed his counsel.

*He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. You have not realized my position before the Lord."

And neither has this people as to President Johnson.

But there is a chastisement before this camp. He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels. In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here,

And fourteen fell and died.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand to stay it,

He raised his hand against the chastisement and judgment of God upon that camp in his mercy and his love for them, to save them; and because of this he said:

...and I came very near falling by it myself.

So we don't know who and what this man is. The Lord has revealed it to me. He stands in exactly the same position as Joseph Smith did to those in his day. Joseph Smith stands as the head of this dispensation over all those who have succeeded him in that same position. But the Lord said, "There is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power," the sealing power, "and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred," just as it was in the days of Adam, of Enoch, of Noah, of Shem, of Abraham, of Elijah, of Jesus Christ, who conferred His power upon Peter. Peter had two counselors who were one with him; they came to Joseph and conferred the fullness of the Priesthood upon Joseph and Oliver. But Joseph was the one man. Oliver fell because he aspired to take that place.

Brigham Young had his troubles with the Twelve. I don't want to take up too much time, brothers and sisters, but he had trouble with Orson Pratt on doctrine, who wanted to print a piece in the paper and came before all of the general authorities of the Church who were called together by Brigham Young. I want to say these things before this whole congregation:

Moses said to Israel, I am a god to you. Joseph said to us, I am a god to Brigham Young speaking,

...am a god to this people, and so is any man who is appointed to lead Israel or the Kingdom of God. If the people reject him, they reject the one who sent him; even God.

In that same meeting,

Wilford Woodruff spoke and said that it is our privilege so to live as to have the Spirit of God to bear record of the truth of any revelation that comes from God through the mouth of his prophet who leads his people and it has ever been a key with me that when the Prophet who leads presents a doctrine or principle or says thus saith the Lord, I make it a policy to receive it even if it comes in contact with my tradition or views, being well satisfied that the Lord would reveal the truth unto His Prophet whom He has called to lead His church before He would unto me, and the word of the Lord through the prophet is the end of the Law to me.

I understand the Prophet Brigham made the statement late in his administration that he had been unable to unite the Twelve Apostles in thirty-two years. Heber C. Kimball was a shining light of an example who submitted himself wholly to that head, and he obtained the confidence of Brigham Young to such an extent that Brigham was able to say, "I am one with Heber, and Heber with me." And Heber always said, "I can get nothing except I get it through Brigham."

Now as to some fundamental principles. The mouthpiece of God is one in whom God has confidence and upon whom God has conferred all the powers that I have enumerated before; first of all, the keys of the holy Priesthood having been upon him. Priesthood is God; God is Priesthood. The Holy Spirit of God centers in the Father and goes out from Him to all His servants and His creations; therefore, the Holy Spirit is given down through that channel, His mouthpiece here upon the earth. You cannot oppose that channel or say that you can get around him and go directly to Jesus Christ. He is the channel, the fountainhead, the mouthpiece of God, because he is the keyholder of the holy Priesthood, which is God.

D.& C. 132

45. For I have conferred upon you the keys and power of the priesthood, "I, God, have conferred it upon you."

45. ...wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in Brigham Young, after the death of the Prophet Joseph, made it very clear that he alone had the means of obtaining the mind and will of God where it came to those people who were being talked to by Sidney Rigdon, who wanted to get the guardianship of the Church. And he said, "You can have Anne Lee to lead you, you people, but I have the means of obtaining the mind and will of God."

Now these are the powers that pertain to that position, that office and calling of the personal representative of God upon the earth:

46. And verily, verily, I say unto you, that whatsoever you seal on earth shall be sealed in heaven; and whatsoever you bind on earth, in my name and by my word, saith the Lord, it shall be eternally bound in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you remit on earth shall be remitted eternally in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you retain on the earth shall be retained in heaven.

47. And again, verily I say, whomsoever you bless I will bless, and whomsoever you curse I will curse, saith the Lord; for I, the Lord, am thy God.

48. And again, verily I say unto you, my servant Joseph, that whatsoever you give on earth, and to whomsoever you give any one on earth, by my word and according to my law, it shall be visited with blessings and not cursings, and with my power, saith the Lord, and shall be without condemnation on earth and in heaven.

Those are the sealing keys.

49. For I am the Lord thy God, and will be with thee even unto the end of the world, and through all eternity; for verily I seal upon you your exaltation, and prepare a throne for you in the kingdom of my Father, with Abraham your father.

50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices, and will forgive all your sins; I have seen your sacrifices in obedience to that which I have told you.

We have seen the sacrifices that Leroy S. Johnson has made for us, buying us with a price.

50. ...Go, therefore, and I make a way for your escape, as I accepted the offering of Abraham of his son Isaac.

58. Now, as touching the law of the priesthood, there are many things pertaining thereunto.

59. Verily, if a man be called of my Father, as was Aaron, by mine own voice, and by the voice of him that sent me, and I have endowed him with the keys of the power of this priesthood,

"If a man be called of My Father,"

59. ...if he do anything in my name, and according to my law and by my word, he will not commit sin, and I will justify him.

60. Let no one, therefore, set on my servant Joseph;

"Let no one, therefore, set on My servant Leroy." He is in the same place under Joseph and Jesus Christ.

60. ...for I will justify him; for he shall do the sacrifice which I require at his hands for his transgressions, saith the Lord your God.

On the same context was all of the ancient worthies who stood in that position. So has this man who has the mind and will of God, and I know it. I bear you this testimony, the truth of all of these things which I have said here today, by the voice of the Spirit, and I do it in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Lee Roy Barlow, Manti Joseph Barlow, and Russel Dennis Barlow;
Unite With Our Prophet Leroy S. Johnson

I feel very humble, inadequate in occupying this position, and conducting this solemn and sacred service, under the direction of President Johnson; and I pray for the Spirit of God in handling this responsibility. The Spirit is present through President Johnson to all of us, if we can receive it.

These Funeral Services are for: Lee Roy Barlow, born September 2, 1966; died November 21, 1983, age 17. Manti Joseph Barlow, born December 21, 1977; died November 21, 1983, age 6. Russel Dennis Barlow, born March

These are sons of a true man of God, and Alice Barlow, and Jeanetta Barlow.
The program will be conducted as follows:
Invocation
Song: "Though Deepening Trials"
A great favorite of mine.
1st Speaker Elder Fred M. Jessop
2nd Speaker Elder Louis Barlow
Song: "Brighten the Corner" Barlow Sisters
3rd Speaker President Rulon T. Jeffs
4th Speaker President Leroy S. Johnson
Song: "Our Angels" Male Quartet.

We will announce further procedures after that point.

I pray with all my soul that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks on this sacred and solemn occasion, as we pay our respects to these faithful sons, of this faithful and noble man of God. I do not know why this song book was laid out here, but I felt impressed to read the words of a very beautiful hymn regarding a young man, a boy dedicated to the service of God, as these boys were dedicated by their father and mothers.

Hushed Was the Evening Hymn
1. Hushed was the evening hymn;
   The temple courts were dark;
   The lamp was burning dim before the sacred ark;
   When suddenly a voice divine
   Rang through the silence of the shrine.
2. The old man, meek and mild,
   The priest of Israel slept;
   His watch the temple child,
   The little Levite kept;
   And what from Eli's sense was sealed,
   The Lord to Hannah's son revealed.
3. O give me Samuel's ear,
   The open ear, O Lord,
   Alive and quick to hear
   Each whisper of thy word.
   Like him to answer at thy call
   And to obey thee first of all.
4. O give me Samuel's heart,
A lowly heart, that waits,
Wherein thy house thou art
Or watches at thy gates,
By day and night, a heart that still Moves at the breathing of thy will!
5. O give me Samuel's mind,
A sweet unmurmuring faith,
Obedient and resigned
To thee in life and death,
That I may read with childlike eyes,
Truths that are hidden from the wise!

I am deeply grateful for my friendship, and his friendship, of Truman Barlow. In travels that have involved our President and Prophet, Leroy S. Johnson, this man, Truman Barlow, has moved, as exampled by Samuel -- at the breathing of the will of our Prophet of God, one with him. I desire no greater relationship than to be one with President Leroy S. Johnson, and I desire for all of you to do likewise; because this is the great mission of our Prophet, to prepare and unite a people that they may go as the Camp of Israel, without murmuring, and following at the breathing of his will, as the saints were required to do when they were sent to try to redeem Zion in the days of Joseph.

There is no greater power on earth or in heaven than the united will and purpose of brethren, and their united families with them, to accomplish the will of God in redeeming this world and making it a Celestial orb, as Jesus called upon the Lord to make His Apostles one with Him, as He was one with the Father. This prepared people must be a group of families united as one, with our Father and Head, bearing the holy Priesthood and the power of God, which is the Holy Spirit of God; all filled with this Spirit. What the Lord is going to have to do to this people, let alone destroying the wicked from off the face of this land of Joseph, to get such a people, I do not know; but He is going to do it, under the presidency and leadership of President Leroy S. Johnson.

I would like to cite the example of this great and good family for us to emulate and follow. I think it appropriate, to comfort and strengthen this family, to read some of the words of Joseph. True, these boys were raised in a family, a Priesthood family, to the point where the Lord found it in the good graces of His will to take them to Himself; but their time upon the earth did not permit of them going through all of the ordinances and ordinations necessary. Joseph said:

The heavens were opened upon us, and I beheld the celestial kingdom of God, and the glory thereof, whether in the body or out I cannot tell. I saw the transcendent beauty of the gate through which the heirs of that kingdom will enter, which was like unto circling flames of fire; also the blazing throne of God, whereon was seated the Father and the Son. I saw the beautiful streets of that kingdom, which had the appearance of being paved with gold. I saw Father Adam and Abraham, and my father and my mother, my brother, Alvin, that has long since slept, and marvelled how it was that he had obtained an inheritance in that kingdom, seeing that he had departed this life before the Lord had set his hand to gather Israel the second time, and had not been baptized for the remission of sins.

Thus came the voice of the Lord unto me, saying --

All who have died without a knowledge of this Gospel, who would have received it if they had been permitted to tarry, shall be heirs of the celestial kingdom of God; also all that shall die henceforth without a knowledge of it, who would have received it with all their hearts, shall be heirs of that kingdom, for I, the Lord, will judge all men according to their works, according to the desire of their hearts. And I also beheld that all children who die before they arrive at the years of accountability are saved in the celestial kingdom of heaven. -- (D.H.C. 2:380-381)

There is some very comforting words of the Prophet Joseph Smith regarding children passing.

It is a very solemn and awful time. I never felt more solemn; it calls to mind the death of my oldest brother, Alvin, who died in New York, and my youngest brother, Don Carlos Smith, who died in Nauvoo. It has been hard for me to live on earth and see these young men upon whom we have leaned for support and comfort taken from us in the midst of their youth. Yes, it has been hard to be reconciled to these things. I have sometimes thought that I should have felt more reconciled to have been called away myself if it had been the will of God; yet I know we ought to be still and know it is of God, and be reconciled to His will; all is right. It will be but a short time before we shall all in like manner be called: it may be the case with me as well as you.

God has revealed His Son from the heavens and the doctrine of the resurrection also; and we have a knowledge that those we bury here God will bring up again, clothed upon and quickened by the Spirit of the great God; and what mattereth it whether we lay them down, or we lay down with them when we can keep them no longer? Let these truths sink down in our hearts, that we may even here begin to enjoy that which shall be in full hereafter.

Hosanna, hosanna, hosanna to Almighty God, that rays of light begin to burst forth upon us even now. I cannot find words in which to express myself. I am not learned, but I have as good feelings as any man. He said on another occasion, "I am filled with the Holy Ghost, and know more than all the world combined."

O that I had the language of the archangel to express my feelings once to my friends! But I never expect to in this life. When others rejoice, I rejoice; when they mourn, I mourn.

Sister M. Isabella Horne said:
"In conversation with the Prophet Joseph Smith once in Nauvoo, the subject of children in the resurrection was broached. I believe it was in sister Leonora Cannon Taylor's house. She had just lost one of her children, and I had also lost one previously. The Prophet wanted to comfort us, and he told us that we should receive those children in the morning of the resurrection just as we laid them down, in purity and innocence, and we should nourish and care for them as their mothers. He said that children would be raised in the resurrection just as they were laid down, and that they would obtain all the intelligence necessary to occupy thrones, principalities and powers. The idea that I got from what he said was that the children would grow and develop in the Millennium, and that the mothers would have the pleasure of training and caring for them, which they had been deprived of in this life.

He said further:

DHC 4:555
As concerning the resurrection, I will merely say that all men will come from the grave as they lie down, whether old or young; there will not be "added unto their stature one cubit," neither taken from it; all will be raised by the power of God, having spirit in their bodies, and not blood. Children will be enthroned in the presence of God and the Lamb with bodies of the same stature that they had on earth, having been redeemed by the blood of the Lamb; they will there enjoy the fullness of that light, glory and intelligence, which is prepared in the celestial kingdom. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

I understand Brother Truman, as you would expect from such a character, said, "Now I have three of my children who are saved." So, I just wanted to bring these words of consolation in the truths of heaven to the attention of this family and all of us as we may be called upon to make similar sacrifices. And none can be compared to the calling that was made upon Abraham to sacrifice his son, which was typical of the sacrifice of the Son of God for the salvation of all men and the exaltation of the faithful. I am deeply grateful for this occasion and to have a part in it, of my beloved friend, Truman Barlow, who is a beloved friend of President Leroy S. Johnson.

Brethren, can't we draw near to our head? Draw our families near with us, that we may be called together in one place to prepare a people for the redemption of Zion, under President Leroy S. Johnson, who is holding the keys of the holy Priesthood. Priesthood is God; God is Priesthood. The Holy Spirit centers in the Father, as Brigham Young told us, and from it goes throughout all of His dominions, and through this one holding those keys. He becomes the fountainhead of that Holy Spirit to those under his dominion, being the mouthpiece of God to us. Can't we get this concept, brethren and sisters? And understand, or try to understand, this great man with whom we are associated, who has been sent forth to accomplish this great and glorious work of preparing a people to redeem Zion, going into the Millennium.

God help us as a group of families to come to this point and be one with him as he is one with God, the Lord Jesus Christ, who is one with the Father, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

With all my heart I pray that the Holy Spirit of God will direct my remarks. I want to mingle with the Spirit that comes from President Johnson. I have been wanting for a long time to read to this congregation remarks given by President John Y. Barlow August 31, 1947, at Widtsoe, Utah. It is one of the first sermons included in volume 1 of President Johnson's books. President Johnson was at the side of John Y. Barlow at the time that he became acquainted with him. The life and example of President Barlow has been followed by his beloved friend, Leroy S. Johnson.

Church History, what is it? What church are we talking about? The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints? You want to know for sure what church we belong to. Do you folks here belong to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints? There was a church organized in New York -- the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Later on, a Church of the First Born was organized in Kirtland, Ohio. President Young, President Kimball and a great many of them belonged to that Church; and it has worked here on earth. It was organized after the pattern that was organized in the heavens before we came here. It wasn't a church to hold a corporation, to hold things of that kind, to hold property and things, but it was a Church of the First Born.

How many of us here today belong to the Church of the First Born? Do you ever stop to think of that? When we talk of history of the Church, we want to get down to the real essence of it and find out what it is. Every man that fulfills his calling, if he doesn't belong to that Church, will belong to it someday if he magnifies his calling as he should; the Priesthood will give him the honor of being a member of the Church of the First Born. It is just as necessary for a man that is an elder to magnify his calling, or a deacon to magnify his calling as it is for an apostle. Paul likens the organization unto the body of a man to show what a perfect organization it should be. Any member that is not there leaves a schism in the body. If we take the Seventies out, we cut off an arm. We cannot take the lesser ones out, because the legs and feet are just as necessary as the head, because the head can't move without the feet. All things belonging to the Kingdom or the Church must be there.

I don't know how many of you had the TRUTH last month. How many of you carefully read it and saw the difference between the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the Church of the First Born? There is going to be a wide difference. That is why Joseph Fielding Smith said that there had been many people that belonged to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints that didn't belong to the Church of the First Born. Brothers and sisters, keep on and work until we get where we belong -- to the Church of the First Born. I hope that we will, someday, all of us, belong to that Church.

(Uncle John asked Brother Newel Steed) Are you having the Sacrament here? I can't see any reason why a bunch of people like you who are trying to live the laws of God cannot have the Sacrament every Sunday. I say, have the Sacrament, and I am sure it will help you. Keep on as you are doing now. We are having a time down there in Short Creek right now. I don't know hardly how it will come out. Yes, I do know. Some will leave, some have already left, some will stay and go on; others will leave. We have got some right good men down there. We have all of the Brother Jessops that are solid, all of the Brother Johnsons that are solid. We have got the young men, and you can depend on nearly every one of them. There is hardly any of the young men but what you can depend on. Some of the older ones got on the rampage again yesterday.

Things have changed a good deal since then.

My brothers and sisters, my hands are tied; they are tied right now, but if I could get out like I used to, I don't think we would have any trouble. If we can't raise crops, let us raise houses. If we can do that, we can build some good houses down there. President Young said, "I have built a number of houses and I never had five dollars in my life to start with; I have built houses worth five thousand dollars." I saw his houses in Kirtland, in Nauvoo, etc. He was driven out of them. We, as a people, cannot expect the blessings of God without going through the trials. We have got to go through the trials. Sacrifices bring forth the blessings. If we can't do these things, we can't get the blessings either.

We all understand and know that when the Edmunds Law came out it was in opposition to the laws of God; so it made every man, woman, and child in the Church a defier of the law -- some defied the laws of the land and others defied the laws of God. If you defy the laws of the land, you will go to jail; but if you defy the laws of God -- in the Celestial Kingdom there are three heavens or degrees and in order to obtain the highest you must live that law. If you don't, you may enter into the other, but that is the end of your kingdom, you cannot have an increase. When we get as high as we can get, ceasing to go up, we have got to go down, we can't stand still. Those who deny the laws of God start to go back. If that is an end of their kingdom, they are through advancing. Where do they go? We are told by President Young that they go into oblivion, to dissolution. We go back to our native element from whence we were taken.

You can't destroy anything. You can change it, but you can't destroy it. It all goes back into native element. You take your forests here, the trees will grow on to a certain time when they quit growing, and you will find them starting to go back. Pretty quick they decay; then you see nothing. It has all gone back into native element. That is the way we will be. We may come forth again in trillions of years. It may be that long before that dust is awakened again. The intelligence we had is still there, but that part which was created and made, such as our spiritual bodies and temporal bodies must go back into native element. The intelligences will go back where they started from. Whether we lose what we have learned or not is just a question. What light and knowledge we learn in this life, we will always have. Then that makes us wonder if this is the first time we have tried it, if some spirits are more intelligent than others. Abraham was shown the intelligences that were organized before the world was; and among all these, there were many of the noble and great ones, he said. Where did they get it? You take all through life, there are some intelligences greater than others. Why? It is very evident. If we went right now and there were a bunch of Indians out here, we might just as well shut up. The intelligence isn't there. When they are taught and brought around, they may understand us. Whenever the Lord speaks to a people, He has to come down to their level to get them to understand anything. If we talk to Indians, we have to go down to their level.

Now, we heard today about Elijah. I believe that is in Church History. When the Kirtland Temple was dedicated, who came? Elias came and gave his dispensation. Who is Elias? I will tell you. Elias is Noah. Noah came down and gave his dispensation, then Moses came and gave them the dispensation of the gathering. This people here can thank the Lord that Moses came, because it is through Moses that we have the power and authority to go forth and preach the Gospel to the nations of the earth and bring them here. Then, a little further on, a great and glorious vision burst upon him -- Elijah came and gave them the sealing blessing; gave them the power to seal men on earth.

Now for Elijah. What do we understand by Elijah? If you have the power and authority of Elijah, there isn't a thing in the Melchizedek Priesthood that can't be done. All the keys are included in the power and authority of Elijah. Read on page 338 in the sayings of Joseph Smith and see. Now what did he say? Joseph, in speaking, said, "Let us take a case. Here is old Brother Cutler. Suppose he was given the authority and told, Whatever you bind on earth is bound in heaven and whatever you loose on earth is loosed in heaven." That is the way we are carried on to our exaltation. Everyone of us that gains our exaltation gains it through covenants. And if we break those covenants, we go down; if we live those covenants, we are exalted.

We spoke of Elijah. He came and gave Joseph Smith that authority of the sealing power. After Elijah had come and given that authority -- he was the last prophet that lived that held all the keys -- and after he had come here and delivered those keys to us, then we were able to go ahead and perform these things.

I do not want to take too much time here. This continuity of thought I think we should hear.

I just thought, sitting here today, I am quite proud -- maybe I hadn't ought to say this, but I am proud of the way you people have been carrying on. I can't see one better reason why a people would come out from the heart's core of the Church than to live all the laws of God. You came out, everyone of you; it was hard work. I know how churchbound I was. I didn't understand or know then, but after seeing these things, He says it very plain in the First Section of the Doctrine & Covenants that the time would come when they would change the ordinances and break the everlasting covenants. He said we would come from among them. How are we going to stay out? How many of you today know where the Priesthood is? Some people get down upon their knees and find out, and they know where the Priesthood is, and you can't fool them. Others will say, I don't know about this and that, and almost invariably, you will see them go backwards.

Apply these things to us today.

We want to get a thorough understanding of these things. Someday you will read about some that have come out from among the people. You will read of such things again before you get through, and we are keeping a history of it. I hope we are keeping minutes here of everything that goes on. Sooner or later, they will be called in.

What is going to become of us? Do you mean to tell me that my parents are all wrong? No, I don't mean to tell you anything about it. A Methodist said, "Do you mean to say that my father is wrong? Why, he is a good man; my parents are good people." Yes, they sure are, and so were Cain's. His Father was, at least. Here is the thing -- there is a law on which every blessing is predicated, and when we get the blessing, it is by obedience to that law. How can God give us that blessing without obedience to the law? If we didn't have to obey, God wouldn't be God. We will admit there are hundreds of good men, thousands of them in the Church. Our parents and grandparents and relations, we feel for them; they think we have all apostatized and gone. When my folks joined the Church in England, people just thought they had gone to the bad. They came out here. I have met hundreds of people in the world that have said, "I don't know what we will do, some of our children believe in Mormonism."

President Young said, "I invite you to take excursions. I will take excursions, but I am not going to take all my wives. I remember one fellow came and told me that I had twenty wives. I said, "That is fine, but I don't know them, I wish you would name them." President Young said when the brethren talked about him in Texas, "You go back and tell the Texas people that when I get on the other side, I expect to have thousands of wives." Maybe he will if he has kingdoms enough. But today I don't know about taking these thousands of wives. Probably your hair would go grayer than mine is now; you can't tell. Thank the Lord I am what President Young said, anyway. He said that if you have your hair left on your head, you can consider that you have some blessed good wives. I haven't lost my hair. I think some of the brethren are getting quite a ways back, though.

Well, let me tell you brethren, this thing is true. It isn't to be monkeyed with either. When the adversary saw that we started to live the two laws, then he started to work. He didn't care if we just lived one law. Why? Though you keep all the laws and offend in one, then you are guilty of the whole.

A few of us think about that one.

Why? Though you keep all the laws and offend in one, then you are guilty of the whole. If you have something you have got to be punished for, you can't get into the Celestial Kingdom. I have heard women say, "When I get on the other side, I don't want to have to live with that man," etc. If ever you have a man that is worthy of the Celestial Kingdom of God, you will be mighty glad to have him, for when we get on the other side, we are told, if you will read Parley P. Pratt and others, they won't be old and crabby and crippled up, but they will be in their full bloom of life. They will be young and fresh. That is what the resurrection is going to do. We are going to have this body renewed. We want to thank the Lord that we have got a good, healthy body; and thank the Lord that we have good honorable parents, that the disease that is in the world today isn't in our bodies. This is all Church History.

We can go ahead and study the Church History and see what happens here and there, but what we want to know is what is going to happen to us. Like I told Brother Darter when he was telling me about the white Indian prophet, I said, "How close does that get you to the Celestial Kingdom of God?" If we are living a law that will put us in the Celestial Kingdom of God, that is what we are after. Be perfect in our sphere. We can be as perfect in our sphere as God is in His sphere. He says, "Be ye perfect as your Father in Heaven is perfect."

Brothers and sisters, I love to see people united. I love the people that are united, and would to God that I could get out and talk to you more than I do. But everything I say down there is taken right up to the probation officer. There isn't anything that they don't hear about. Last time I went up there, he said, "I understand that Esther had a baby." I said, "What of that?" He said, "You broke your parole." I said, "How did I break my parole? Didn't you hear the Board of Pardons say, 'Go down and take care of your wives and children.'? Would you call it taking care of them by just giving them something to eat? Then how have I broke my parole?" I never denied it or confirmed it. I know this law is true and these other laws are true. If we live them, we will get the blessing, and if we don't, we won't get the blessing. God will bless us when we bless ourselves.

How do you like that?

God helps those who help themselves. If we want help from God, we do it ourselves. We grow in knowledge, faith, and understanding only as we apply for it. Very few there will be that will be virtuous, honest and straightforward in all things, but those few will hold the Priesthood and will be the few that will be saved. Godliness must be acquired; it won't be forced on us. You must get it yourselves.

I hope you just keep on the way you are going. I will say again that you can start in anytime, and I would like you to do it all the time, as long as the people are doing right like they are doing here, they deserve the Sacrament, and it will help you.

God bless you, amen.

I do not care to add anything now. I spent too much time. I want President Johnson to take all the time he can. He will now speak to us.

Funeral of Dowayne Neor Jessop

We are grateful today, my dear brothers and sisters, for the presence of President Leroy S. Johnson, who has asked me to conduct this service. We are grateful for the presence of all the friends and families, and others who have come to pay their respects for the life of this righteous man.

These services are for Dowayne Neor Jessop, born September 9, 1895; died December 20, 1983.

I feel greatly honored in being asked to take this part in this sacred service, in showing our love and brotherhood for this good man who came among us, and desiring to obey the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The Prophet Joseph Smith restored the Gospel of Jesus Christ in its fullness by the blessing and hand of God, whose servant he was, and who stands at the head of this dispensation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Some appropriate remarks were made at the funeral of Ephraim Marks, April 18, 1842.

The Saints in Nauvoo assembled at the house of President Marks, at an early hour in the morning, to pay their last respects to the body of Ephraim Marks, son of President William Marks, who died on the evening of the 7th. A large procession formed and walked to the Grove, where a numerous congregation had assembled. President Joseph Smith spoke upon the occasion with much feeling and interest. Among his remarks he said, "It is a very solemn and awful time. I never felt more solemn; it calls to mind the death of my oldest brother, Alvin, who died in New York, and my youngest brother, Don Carlos Smith, who died in Nauvoo. It has been hard for me to live on earth and see these young men upon whom we have leaned for support and comfort taken from us in the midst of their youth. This man lived a long and useful and righteous life, Brother Dowayne.

Yes, it has been hard to be reconciled to these things. I have sometimes thought that I should have felt more reconciled to have been called away myself if it had been the will of God; yet I know we ought to be still and know it is of God, and be reconciled to His will; all is right. It will be but a short time before we shall all in like manner be called: it may be the case with me as well as you. Some have supposed that Brother Joseph could not die; but this is a mistake; it is true there have been times when I have had the promise of my life to accomplish such and such things, but, having now accomplished those things, I have not at present any lease of my life, I am as liable to die as other men.

And he was called upon to seal his testimony with his blood.

I can say in my heart, that I have not done anything against Ephraim Marks that I am sorry for, and I would ask any of his companions if they have done anything against him that they are sorry for, or that they would not like to meet and answer for at the bar of God, if so, let it prove as a warning to all to deal justly before God, and with all mankind, then we shall be clear in the day of judgment.

When we lose a near and dear friend, upon whom we have set our hearts, it should be a caution unto us not to set our affections too firmly upon others, knowing that they may in like manner be taken from us. Our affections should be placed upon God and His work, more intensely than upon our fellow beings. (April 9, 1842.) D.H.C. 4:587.

And some of his remarks at the funeral of Judge Higbee:

Brethren and Sisters, you will find these words in II Peter iii:10, 11: -- "But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness."

I am not like other men. My mind is continually occupied with the business of the day, and I have to depend entirely upon the living God for every thing I say on such occasions as these.

The great thing for us to know is to comprehend what God did institute before the foundation of the world. Who knows it?

It is the constitutional disposition of mankind to set up stakes and set bounds to the works and ways of the Almighty.

This man found the man who holds the keys of power and he sought to follow, and love him, and become like him. Brother Dowayne was meek and lowly of heart. Our Prophet and head is like Jesus Christ, meek and lowly in heart. And he loved President Johnson and desired and did follow.

But I will give you a more painful thought. Suppose you have an idea of a resurrection, etc., and yet know nothing at all of the Gospel, nor comprehend one principle of the order of heaven, but find yourselves disappointed -- yes, at last find yourselves disappointed in every hope or anticipation, when the decision goes forth from the lips of the Almighty. Would not this be a greater disappointment -- a more painful thought than annihilation?
Had I inspiration, revelation, and lungs to communicate what my soul has contemplated in times past, there is not a soul in this congregation but would go to their homes and shut their mouths in everlasting silence on religion till they had learned something. Why be so certain that you comprehend the things of God, when all things with you are so uncertain. You are welcome to all the knowledge and intelligence I can impart to you.

Brother Dowayne came to the feet of the Priesthood to learn from him, President Johnson.

I do not grudge the world all the religion they have got: they are welcome to all the knowledge they possess. The sound saluted my ears -- "Ye are come unto Mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect, and to Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant" (Hebrew xii:22, 23, 24). What would it profit us to come unto the spirits of the just men, but to learn and come up to the standard of their knowledge?

Where has Judge Higbee gone? Who is there that would not give all his goods to feed the poor, and pour out his gold and silver to the four winds, to go where Judge Higbee has gone?

That which hath been hid from before the foundation of the world is revealed to babes and sucklings in the last days. The world is reserved unto burning in the last days. He shall send Elijah the prophet, and he shall reveal the covenants of the fathers in relation to the children, and the covenants of the children in relation to the fathers.

Four destroying angels holding power over the four quarters of the earth until the servants of God are sealed in their foreheads, which signifies sealing the blessing upon their heads, meaning the everlasting covenant, thereby making their calling and election made sure. When a seal is put upon the father and mother, it secures their posterity, so that they cannot be lost, but will be saved by virtue of the covenant of their father and mother.
To the mourners I would say -- Do as the husband and the father would instruct you, and you shall be reunited.

And so we say the same for Brother Dowayne here, to those he has instructed, and fathered, and led. I have always been deeply impressed by the sweet humility and the spirit surrounding this man. I have heard him sing and speak, but whenever I shook hands with him I never felt more love and respect; and I am sure that Brother Dowayne has indeed loved God with all his heart, might, mind, and strength, and his neighbor as himself. Upon these two laws hang the law and the Prophets. If we will only do this, all other things will be added, if we follow the mind and will of God as delivered to us by the Prophets. President Johnson stands in the same position to this people and generation that Joseph Smith did in his day. Brother Dowayne sought for this and received. God bless his memory, and God bless his family, that all may be comforted and strengthened by his example and his teachings, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Become One With God Through Becoming One With the Keyholder;
We Have Treated President Johnson Lightly;
The Keyholder Is God Over the People

Since President Johnson sent me here, I feel it incumbent upon me to say a few words. I feel very humble and inadequate, but I know, God being my helper, the Spirit of God directing me, I can carry out the assignments and the labors that President Johnson appoints to me.

I prize, above all else, the relationship I have with the Prophet Leroy Johnson. The greatest desire of my heart is to be one with him, because I know I cannot become one with God unless I am one with His mouthpiece and His personal representative upon the earth. I know that I could never come into the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ, Joseph Smith, and the Father, without his approbation. We cannot bypass the man whom God has sent. The Lord says in Section 84:

33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthoods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.

34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;

36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;
37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.
39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.

While I am aware of the calling that was given me by President John Y. Barlow, I was very humbled to read these few words in Section 20: "An Apostle is an Elder." Then it goes on to say all that he can do. But there is never but one on the earth at a time, a Chief Apostle, upon whom this power, the sealing power, and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred. So I feel to follow in the steps of Heber C. Kimball, who was one with Brigham; and Brother Kimball said:

I do know most definitively that unless we are one we are not Christ's; and I also know that if we are not one with brother Brigham, our leader, we are not one with Christ.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, I feel very honored, and humbly so, in having a part with President Johnson in the great events that have been taking place in the last five or six years. Through him I have come to know the true meaning of the love of brethren, which Heber expressed so beautifully, also in volume 4 in the Journal of Discourses.

I had the honor of being called upon by Uncle Roy on the 5th of May of 1979, when he was very low after having been stricken with the shingles. He asked me to come and administer to him, and in the company of Elder Truman Barlow and John Johnson, we administered to him. I was here on assignment for that weekend, Priesthood Meeting and General Meeting, and in the course of that administration the Lord put the words in my mouth that he should be healed beginning at that moment. And it was revealed to me that he would come through this illness, a very critical one at his age, stronger than ever, to do a greater and mightier work in leading this people, a choice people, to redeem Zion. I voiced that thing the next day in the General Meeting here, and we are seeing that fulfilled.

The thing that President Johnson has done through all the years we have heard him speak to us, is to call us to prepare and to repent; repent and prepare, looking forward to the redemption of Zion. He has told us so many, many times, how we have treated lightly the things that God has given us. Therefore, we are under condemnation, speaking generally, because of having treated lightly the things which God has given us. It has been as a voice crying in the wilderness. Very, very few were listening. But his voice shall roar out of Zion, as described in "The Coming Crisis", which he has asked us to read and follow. The sad thing is we have treated this Prophet of God lightly.

It always calls back to my mind the statement out of the Journal of Brigham Young where he tells about how some of the leading brethren of the Church, the Three Witnesses of the Book of Mormon, some of the Apostles, in July of 1837, met, as it turned out, and as Brigham and Brother Heber were there, to find that they were trying to depose the Prophet of God. This was a little over a year after the dedication of the Kirtland Temple, where God, the Lord Jesus Christ, had come and visited them, those who had prepared themselves for an endowment, who had to come there clean every whit.

The proposal that was laid before that meeting was to depose Joseph Smith and put David Whitmer in as President of the Church. Brigham stood up. He said, along with Heber, "If you do this you will cut yourselves off from the Prophet of God and go down to hell." I would like to have had the piece to have read it to you here. But I feel to bring to bear upon our minds here today, who and what this one man is, the Chief Apostle, the mouthpiece of God, the fountainhead, and the keyholder. Those keys reside in this one man. Who he is and what he is, is all couched in Section 132.

Speaking of the sealing powers and the other keys that went before, and this parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132, which, on January 8, 1978, Alfred Olschewski speaking to us up there in Salt Lake City, said, "This is not so!" I would just like to read the whole verse.
D. & C. 132

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred),

It is a thought within the main text of the verse, that part described as an interpolation by one writing in the Truth Magazine. Look the word up in the dictionary, "interpolation".

7. ...are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

8. Behold, mine house is a house of order, saith the Lord God, and not a house of confusion.

I was asked by a brother in Salt Lake, speaking of the word "conferred". Who confers that on this one man?" Surely this was the plan that was set up by the Lord to begin with, through Joseph and his successors. For this work to have continued, having been restored for the last time, the Priesthood has had to go to those who should follow in his stead. Surely it wasn't by a board of directors comprised of the Priesthood Council. That is the order the Church fell into under Joseph F. Smith. Who but God can know and put His finger upon the man who is the "worthy senior", using the words as a statement? We have the answer in verse 45.

45. For I have conferred upon you the keys and power of the priesthood, wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.

46. And verily, verily, I say unto you, that whatsoever you seal on earth shall be sealed in heaven; and whatsoever you bind on earth, in my name and by my word, saith the Lord, it shall be eternally bound in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you remit on earth shall be remitted eternally in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you retain on earth shall be retained in heaven.

47. And again, verily I say, whosoever you bless I will bless, and whosoever you curse I will curse, saith the Lord; for I, the Lord, am thy God.

48. And again, verily I say unto you, my servant Joseph, that whatsoever you give on earth, and to whomsoever you give any one on earth, That places in his hands the power to put men and women together in the Celestial Law.

48. ...by my word and according to my law, it shall be visited with blessings and not cursings, and with my power, saith the Lord, and shall be without condemnation on earth and in heaven.

49. For I am the Lord thy God, and will be with thee even unto the end of the world, and through all eternity; for verily I seal upon you your exaltation, and prepare a throne for you in the kingdom of my Father, with Abraham your father.

50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices, and will forgive all your sins; I have seen your sacrifices in obedience to that which I have told you. Go, therefore, and I make a way for your escape, as I accepted the offering of Abraham of his son Isaac.

58. Now, as touching the law of the priesthood, there are many things pertaining thereunto.

59. Verily, if a man be called of my Father, as was Aaron, by mine own voice, and by the voice of him that sent me, and I have endowed him with the keys of the power of this priesthood, if he do anything in my name, and according to my law and by my word, he will not commit sin, and I will justify him.

60. Let no one, therefore, set on my servant Joseph;
And we can say, "Let no one, therefore, set on My servant Leroy."

60. ...for I will justify him;
He is still with us and will continue.

60. ...for he shall do the sacrifice which I require at his hands for his transgressions, saith the Lord your God.

Leroy Johnson, in being afflicted with this sickness, which he is still suffering the pain from, has paid that price for us. Who will follow him?
That is my testimony to you. And I say this work has been restored, the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the holy Priesthood and the fullness thereof have been restored for the last time and will remain. Section 28 tells us that he alone is to receive revelation for the Church and for Zion and her interests. I have not found any instance where he could appoint anyone to do it for him.

So what has been happening? Something has been going on by an effort to change the word of God, as Brother Johnson spoke of on the 25th of December here, by something else that came from one who was not authorized to receive such a revelation, the 1880 Revelation of Wilford Woodruff. That is changing the government of God as it has existed from eternity to eternity. Joseph F. Smith made it very clear to the saints during the 1880's -- it is in the twenty-fourth volume in the Journal of Discourses -- if a man standing in that position were to say or do anything that would lead the people astray, He would take him first.

Now, I want to tell you what is the nature and relationship of this man to us.
Wilford Woodruff, in his journal, recording a meeting of January 27, 1860, where most of the general authorities of the Church were gathered to hear Brigham Young review a piece that had been written for the press by Orson Pratt, which contained false doctrine, one of the Twelve:

Journal of Wilford Woodruff  Page 125-127

read it before the company -- a piece prepared for the press written by Orson Pratt upon the Godhead. He claimed that it was the attributes of God that he worshipped and not the person, and that he worshipped those attributes whether he found them in God, Jesus Christ, Adam, Moses, the Apostles, Joseph, Brigham, or in anybody else. After the document was read, President Young then called upon the Twelve to express their feelings upon the subject. He called upon O. Hyde to speak and he called upon J. Taylor to speak. He spoke a short time. No one knew at the time (except the President and Carrington) who was the author of the document read. Brother Taylor said he did not see it in that light. He worshipped a personage and not the attributes. He thought God was located and could not worship the attributes in anybody. President Young then called a vote of the assembly and said if you understand this to be a correct doctrine as here written, I wish you to manifest it by saying yes.
No one spoke. President Young then said, do I worship attributes or the dispenser of these attributes? This is O. Pratt’s sermon prepared for the press. I do not want to have it published if it is not right. Brother Orson worships the attributes of God, but not God. I worship not the attributes, but that God who holds and dispenses. If eternity was full of attributes and no one to dispense them, they would not be worth a feather. Suppose an angel comes to us tonight with a message from God and he tells the angel not to make himself known. He comes to us with a message and gives a New Law and a penalty for not obeying. You may ask who are you? He may not tell you who he is or he may say God sent me. You may say, where is that God who sent you? I don’t know or care anything about you or what you say. He might say to you, I am a god to you. Moses said to Israel,

This is Brigham speaking.

...I am a god to you. Joseph said to us, I am a god to you. This was true and upon the same principles, I (Brigham) am a god to this people and so is any man who is appointed to lead Israel or the Kingdom of God. If the people reject him, they reject the one who sent him (God); but we will let that drop and turn to the other subject now. Suppose we were all to receive a fulness of the attributes of God and according to Orson Pratt’s theory, the Lord had a fulness and He could not advance, but we could advance till we were equal to Him. Then if we worshipped the attributes instead of God, we would soon worship ourselves as soon as we had a fulness of these attributes. Then you cannot worship anything beyond yourself. You would then worship the attributes and not the dispenser of those attributes. "This is false doctrine." God did not say worship Moses because he was a god to the people.

Let us get that clear.

You may say to your wife or son, do so and so. They will say I will not, but I will go to a greater man. I will go to Brigham Young. You might say I am your counselor, dictator or your God. Either would be correct and they should obey your just and righteous command, yet they should not worship you, for this would be sin. Orson Pratt has differed from me in many things.

And went on to say more about that.

President Brigham Young said now here is the Twelve. I wish to extend their influence as far as I can but I cannot do it while they teach false doctrine. One of the causes of the decline in England (as I understand the people are clear down), is what Orson Pratt preached in The Seer. There is not a man in the Church that can preach better than Orson Pratt upon any subject which he understands. It is music to hear him, but the trouble is he will preach upon things he does not know a thing about, and then he will preach false doctrine and so will Elder Hyde.

So you see, the Twelve were not one with Brigham. Joseph Smith stands as the head of this last and greatest dispensation, all things having been gathered into one. But he had to have a legal successor to carry on the promise of God, and they have been coming along. The great work that was performed by the Lord and Joseph Smith through John Taylor in 1886, was a perpetuation of these things that I have spoken of. In the sermon of Joseph Smith, April 8, 1844, he said:

God made Aaron to be the mouthpiece for the children of Israel, and He will make me be god to you in His stead, and the Elders to be mouth for me; and if you don't like it, you must lump it.

As far as I am concerned, brothers and sisters, Leroy Johnson is god over me. I am but a humble Apostle, trying to walk in his footsteps. God has placed him there over me and over all of us. I speak of these things, my dear brothers and sisters, that we may know with whom we are dealing, and that we be not found betraying or reviling this man who stands at our head. They will have to pay an awful price; as Brother Johnson said on December 25th, "a curse they cannot carry," for changing the word of God.

We are standing in fearful times, brothers and sisters, and we had better repent speedily, and prepare, and walk down the road with our Prophet; which I pray I may do and you may do unto your salvation, since he holds the keys to our salvation. I ask it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Testimony that President Johnson
Is the Marred Servant;
Judgments Will Begin at the House of God
I feel to add my testimony to those that have been borne today, and will speak briefly in connection therewith; and then for President Johnson, read one of his sermons. He is suffering with a cold today, and feels unable to speak. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct what I shall say and read to you from the word of God.

3 Nephi 20

36. And then shall be brought to pass that which is written: Awake, awake again, and put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city, for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.
37. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, sit down, O Jerusalem; loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.
38. For thus saith the Lord: Ye have sold yourselves for naught, and ye shall be redeemed without money.
39. Verily, verily, I say unto you, that my people shall know my name; yea, in that day they shall know that I am he that doth speak. Speaking of our day.

40. And then shall they say: How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings unto them, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings unto them of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion: Thy God reigneth!
41. And then shall a cry go forth: Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch not that which is unclean; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.

42. For ye shall not go out with haste nor go by flight; for the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel shall be your rearward.
43. Behold, my servant shall deal prudently; he shall be exalted and extolled and be very high.

44. As many were astonished at thee -- his visage was so marred, more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men --
45. So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him, for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

46. Verily, verily, I say unto you, all these things shall surely come, even as the Father hath commanded me. Then shall this covenant which the Father hath covenanted with his people be fulfilled; and then shall Jerusalem be inhabited again with my people, and it shall be the land of their inheritance.

3 Nephi 21

1. And verily I say unto you, I give unto you a sign, that ye may know the time when these things shall be about to take place -- that I shall gather in, from their long dispersion, my people, O house of Israel, and shall establish again among them my Zion;
2. And behold, this is the thing which I will give unto you for a sign -- for verily I say unto you that when these things which I declare unto you, and which I shall declare unto you hereafter of myself, and by the power of the Holy Ghost which shall be given unto you of the Father, shall be made known unto the Gentiles that they may know concerning this people who are a remnant of the house of Jacob, and concerning this my people who shall be scattered by them;
3. Verily, verily, I say unto you, when these things shall be made known unto them of the Father, and shall come forth of the Father, from them unto you;
4. For it is wisdom in the Father that they should be established in this land, and be set up as a free people by the power of the Father, that these things might come forth from them unto a remnant of your seed, that the covenant of the Father may be fulfilled which he hath covenanted with his people, O house of Israel;
5. Therefore, when these works and the works which shall be wrought among you hereafter shall come forth from the Gentiles, unto your seed which shall dwindle in unbelief because of iniquity;
6. For thus it behooveth the Father that it should come forth from the Gentiles, that he may show forth his power unto the Gentiles, for this cause that the Gentiles, if they will not harden their hearts, that they may repent and come unto me and be baptized in my name and know of the true points of my doctrine, that they may be numbered among my people, O house of Israel;
7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things -- it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

8. And when that day shall come, Which is now.
8. ...it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths;
Kings were rulers in those days. We have many rulers among us in the governments.
8. ...kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

President Johnson, in redeeming his people from the state of Arizona in 1953, fulfilled that verse as he found, by revelation of God, the law of Arizona which enabled them to prevent them from adopting out our children. That is what the Spirit has told me. And from then on he was able to go forward in bringing them home to the land of their inheritance.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

God shall yet, and is now, healing President Leroy S. Johnson. This is he.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles, and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said)

That is parenthetical and belongs there.

11. ...they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

How often we have heard President Johnson quote this.

13. Their hand shall be lifted up upon their adversaries, and all their enemies shall be cut off.

14. Yea, wo be unto the Gentiles except they repent; for it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Father, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots;

15. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strongholds;

These things are about to be fulfilled.

16. And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy land, and thou shalt have no more soothsayers;

17. Thy graven images I will also cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thy hands;

There has been idolatry among us.

18. And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee; so will I destroy thy cities.

19. And it shall come to pass that all lyings, and deceivings, and envyings, and strifes, and priestcrafts, and whoredoms, shall be done away.

20. For it shall come to pass, saith the Father, that at that day whosoever will not repent and come unto my Beloved Son, them will I cut off from among my people, O house of Israel;

This is a warning to us, brothers and sisters, the things that President Johnson has been telling us lo, these many years.

21. And I will execute vengeance and fury upon them, even as upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

22. But if they will repent and hearken unto my words, and harden not their hearts, I will establish my church among them, and they shall come in unto the covenant and be numbered among this the remnant of Jacob, unto whom I have given this land for their inheritance;

23. And they shall assist my people, the remnant of Jacob, and also as many of the house of Israel as shall come, that they may build a city, which shall be called the New Jerusalem.

In Jackson County, Missouri, that which we have been looking forward to by the injunctions and instructions which we have received from President Johnson.
24. And then shall they assist my people that they may be gathered in, who are scattered upon all the face of the land, in unto the New Jerusalem.

Section 133 tells us how the Ten Tribes shall come, part of that gathering to come and assist in the building of the great city and temple in Zion.

25. And then shall the power of heaven come down among them; and I also will be in the midst.

26. And then shall the work of the Father commence at that day, even when this gospel shall be preached among the remnant of this people. Verily I say unto you, at that day shall the work of the Father commence among all the dispersed of my people, yea, even the tribes which have been lost, which the Father hath led away out of Jerusalem.

There it is.

27. Yea, the work shall commence among all the dispersed of my people, with the Father to prepare the way whereby they may come unto me, that they may call on the Father in my name.

28. Yea, and then shall the work commence, with the Father among all nations in preparing the way whereby his people may be gathered home to the land of their inheritance.

29. And they shall go out from all nations; and they shall not go out in haste, nor go by flight, for I will go before them, saith the Father, and I will be their rearward.

In a sermon delivered here on February 18, 1979, President Johnson told us that that great gathering out of the remainder of Israel from the nations, the gentile nations, will be done from the great City of Zion. I feel like calling attention to one more thing in Section 112, the scenario which is about to be and is on its way, even now, to be fulfilled.

D.& C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.
25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord; He is speaking to the Apostles at that time about futurity.

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

That is where the judgments will commence, the cleaning up of the House of God, commencing at the top. So, brethren and sisters, we are living in momentous times. I feel to say, let us repent speedily. Let us become clean every whit, that we may be worthy of an endowment. We cannot receive them until we are clean every whit. President Johnson told us in a Council Meeting in November of 1978, "No endowments can or shall be given except it come from God through me. And you need not expect that they will be given until we have the temple in Zion." Surely, the Lord can provide a way for them to be given to those who may have become clean every whit, pure in heart. Those will be chosen to go on that journey to Zion, who are pure in heart, brothers and sisters, for Zion is the pure in heart, as the Lord tells us in Section 97. President Johnson is desiring to gather at least five hundred Elders, pure in heart, clean every whit, to go to redeem Zion. I am sure he will find them. He says so. But what have we to do if we desire to be called among that choice people? Become pure in heart.

One of the brethren said this afternoon, the great problems that beset us are moral problems. And to be pure in heart, primarily, is to be morally clean, and one hundred percent obedient to the laws and commandments of God, which the Prophet of God delivers unto us. God bless us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Jennie Johnson Bistline;
The Celestial Glory

I deeply appreciate the light that has been shed upon the life and labors of our beloved sister, Jennie Bistline, who has been a part of this community almost from the beginning of my association with this work, and I have never heard any derogatory report regarding her life and labors. As far as I know, she has lived and abided the Celestial Law and kept all of her covenants. I just want to add briefly, some principles that I am sure Sister Jennie sought with all her heart, might, mind, and strength in obedience to the commandments of God; and in her love for God and her neighbors. I am sure she was seeking, in connection with her husband and head, to abide the Celestial Law. I will read Section 131.

D.& C. 131

1. In the celestial glory there are three heavens or degrees;
2. And in order to obtain the highest, a man must enter into this order of the priesthood [meaning the new and everlasting covenant of marriage]; Celestial and Plural Marriage.
3. And if he does not, he cannot obtain it.
4. He may enter into the other, but that is the end of his kingdom; he cannot have an increase.

Brigham Young said we are either increasing or decreasing. In increasing, we obtain the Celestial glory, which I would like to read from Section 76. Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery received a vision in February of 1832, and after having had a vision of the Savior, there was revealed to him all of the three degrees of glory. After having recited the state and conditions of those who would not receive any degree of glory, though resurrected (the sons of perdition),

D.& C. 76

50. And again we bear record -- for we saw and heard, and this is the testimony of the gospel of Christ concerning them who shall come forth in the resurrection of the just --
We are all looking forward to a glorious resurrection, which President Johnson has outlined to us what we must do to obtain, lo, these many, many years.

51. They are they who received the testimony of Jesus, and believed on his name and were baptized after the manner of his burial, being buried in the water in his name, and this according to the commandment which he has given --
52. That by keeping the commandments they might be washed and cleansed from all their sins, and receive the Holy Spirit by the laying on of the hands of him who is ordained and sealed unto this power;

53. And who overcome by faith,
We have heard some wonderful testimonies of the faith of this dear sister.

52. That by keeping the commandments they might be washed and cleansed from all their sins, and receive the Holy Spirit by the laying on of the hands of him who is ordained and sealed unto this power;
To one who held the keys and this power.

53. And who overcome by faith, and are sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, which the Father sheds forth upon all those who are just and true.

54. They are they who are the church of the Firstborn.
55. They are they into whose hands the Father has given all things --

56. They are they who are priests and kings, who have received of his fulness, and of his glory;
57. And are priests of the Most High, after the order of Melchizedek, which was after the order of Enoch, which was after the order of the Only Begotten Son.

58. Wherefore, as it is written, they are gods, even the sons of God --
59. Wherefore, all things are theirs, whether life or death, or things present, or things to come, all are theirs and they are Christ's, and Christ is God's.

60. And they shall overcome all things.
61. Wherefore, let no man glory in man, but rather let him glory in God, who shall subdue all enemies under his feet.
62. These shall dwell in the presence of God and his Christ forever and ever.

63. These are they whom he shall bring with him, when he shall come in the clouds of heaven to reign on the earth over his people.
64. These are they who shall have part in the first resurrection.
65. These are they who shall come forth in the resurrection of the just.

66. These are they who are come unto Mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly place, the holiest of all.
67. These are they who have come to an innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly and church of Enoch, and of the Firstborn.
68. These are they whose names are written in heaven, where God and Christ are the judge of all.
69. These are they who are just men made perfect through Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, who wrought out this perfect atonement through the shedding of his own blood.
70. These are they whose bodies are celestial, whose glory is that of the sun, even the glory of God, the highest of all, whose glory the sun of the firmament is written of as being typical.

So, we should all be interested only in this one, through obedience to the laws and commandments of God, and submitting ourselves to the servant of God whom He has sent to us; and who holds the keys to our salvation; who has been sent to represent the Lord God, and to prepare a people, through repentance, faith, baptism, reception of the Holy Ghost, and in obedience to all of the laws and commandments of God; to redeem a people doing these things, and to go and redeem Zion. I pray we may have a part in this, that we will not treat lightly these things which God has given, that we will not treat lightly His servant whom He has sent; and reach out to and obey, through the revelations of Jesus Christ, which come through him. I pray that this may be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

His Testimony of President Johnson;
The 1880 Revelation Is a Delusion

Feeling to carry out the assignment, appointment of President Johnson, to be here and conduct this service, I feel a very great weight of responsibility. I desire to be led, directed in my remarks by the Holy Spirit of God, that I may be led to tell the truth.

As I have remarked on other occasions, I value above all the confidence of President Johnson, desiring with all my heart to be one with him. He laid on me a charge very early in the time that the controversy which has come among us, he told me, "Brother Jeffs, you and I have the great work of establishing whose right it is to rule in the hearts of this people," whom he has yearned over. This was at a time when he was laid up in bed, and a time when he was still carrying on the work from his bed.

It has been revealed to me who and what he is, the beginnings of which took place at the time that he asked me to come and administer to him on the 5th day of May of 1979, after he was stricken with the shingles. He told me then, "The Lord has a purpose in this." In administering to him in company with Elder Truman Barlow and John Johnson, the Lord promised him through my mouth that he would begin to mend and to recover and be healed every whit, beginning at that hour. I was shown that he would come through that great and terrible ordeal -- which he is still suffering from, the pain of the shingles -- stronger than ever, to go on and do a greater and mightier work in the leading of this people, preparing this people to go and redeem Zion.

This thing was fortified in my heart and mind as I was reading and applying chapter 21 of Third Nephi. I told you about it on one occasion quite a long time ago. Let us go to verse 43 of the twentieth chapter.

3 Nephi 20

43. Behold, my servant shall deal prudently; he shall be exalted and extolled and be very high.
44. As many were astonished at thee -- his visage was so marred, more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men --
45. So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him, for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.
46. Verily, verily, I say unto you, all these things shall surely come, even as the Father hath commanded me. Then shall this covenant which the Father hath covenanted with his people be fulfilled; and then shall Jerusalem be inhabited again with my people, and it shall be the land of their inheritance.

Some of that is repeated. Verse 7 of chapter 21:

3 Nephi 21

7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things it shall be a sign unto them, Remember, this is the Savior talking.

7. ...that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.
8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

At the time of the 1953 Raid, brothers and sisters, when this man, acting as a savior to his people, who had been taken into bondage for the avowed purpose of putting the women to work, the men in jail, and adopt out their children so that their identity should be lost; the attorneys, the people who were in charge at the time, the kings if you please, leading that harria, had to be told by this man how they could not do what they intended to do.

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

Brother Johnson went into the law offices of the men who were representing him, and who had taken the case because they agreed they would prosecute it on the ground that they were not lawbreakers. He told them there was in the law of the state of Arizona, that provided that children shall not be adopted out without the consent of their parents. They had not been able to find it. After some more searching, they finally found it. He had never looked through a lawbook in his life. So his attorneys called the Attorney General's office, and told them about this law. They were about to adopt out some of Brother Johnson's children. They dropped the case and it was ended. They could not prosecute any further in adopting out children. It took a period of seven or eight years to get all of those people back out of bondage, back to their homes with their fathers.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

President Johnson has been treated lightly. They have not believed him. His sermons which have been published bear testimony. He always spoke as one having authority, and calling upon God to put words in his mouth for the instruction and direction of the saints. Some, while he was delivering these things under the Spirit of revelation -- and many things were revealed if you have read through the books -- some said he was not giving revelation like had been given previously; and to be specific, as under Joseph Musser.
10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. And he has been marred. His visage -- there is some paralysis on his right side, and no one knows the pain there is from the shingles, which is a viral infection of a main nerve running from the spine around to the navel -- you have seen his hands. I will go back:

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, Yet he will be healed, brothers and sisters. I know it as I know I live. 10. ...for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil. ***

It has been said among those among you and among those in the south that President Johnson would soon be dead. But he shall live. There are some among you and those in the south who have said that President Johnson was apostate. My son heard two young men speak over in their place of work just a few weeks ago. One said to the other that Leroy S. Johnson and Rulon Jeffs have apostatized. Where did it come from to them? Now this chapter goes on to tell what shall transpire under the administration of this servant of His, including:

20. For it shall come to pass, saith the Father, that at that day whosoever will not repent and come unto my Beloved Son, them will I cut off from among my people, O house of Israel;
21. And I will execute vengeance and fury upon them, even as upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.
22. But if they will repent and hearken unto my words, and harden not their hearts, I will establish my church among them, and they shall come in unto the covenant and be numbered among this the remnant of Jacob, unto whom I have given this land for their inheritance;
23. And they shall assist my people, the remnant of Jacob, and also as many of the house of Israel as shall come, that they may build a city, which shall be called the New Jerusalem.
24. And then shall they assist my people that they may be gathered in, who are scattered upon all the face of the land, in unto the New Jerusalem.
25. And then shall the power of heaven come down among them; and I also will be in the midst.

26. And then shall the work of the Father commence at that day, even when this gospel shall be preached among the remnant of this people. Verily I say unto you, at that day shall the work of the Father commence among all the dispersed of my people, yea, even the tribes which have been lost, which the Father hath led away out of Jerusalem.

27. Yea, the work shall commence among all the dispersed of my people, with the Father, to prepare the way whereby they may come unto me, that they may call on the Father in my name.

28. Yea, and then shall the work commence, with the Father, among all nations, in preparing the way whereby his people may be gathered home to the land of their inheritance.

29. And they shall go out from all nations; and they shall not go out in haste, nor go by flight, for I will go before them, saith the Father, and I will be their rearward.

In the sermon delivered by President Johnson on the 18th of February of 1979, just before he was afflicted, he tells us what is coming. All the dispersed of Israel, after the Ten Tribes come, shall be gathered together from Zion, after the city and the temple have been built. That is quite a revelation.

So, brothers and sisters, he is continuing to do his work. President Johnson told us the true nature of the 1880 Revelation, and which they tried to put that revelation in place of Section 132: "There is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power," the sealing power, "and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred;" the 1880 Revelation was tried to be put in place of that.

Brother Johnson told the saints in Canada -- it is in the back of volume 6 of his sermons, on December 25th last -- President Johnson told the saints in Colorado City that those who have changed the word of God would have a burden to carry that they could not carry because it was brought out in that Council Meeting. The attempt was being made to change the word of God. So President Johnson said the 1880 Revelation was a delusion. Coming out of that, for months and years since, you have been told that President Johnson gave a delusion. That 1880 Revelation became a stumbling block to this people, as in II Thessalonians, where Paul told how the time would come when the Lord would send them strong delusions, that they might believe a lie, those who love not the truth for the truth's sake. It is in "The Coming Crisis", described very well. Brother Johnson has told us many times to read this. We are seeing the fulfillment of it every day we live, and it is getting worse and worse and worse.

The Coming Crisis  Page 7

For it cannot be denied that facts and truths will constitute such a measure of the ingredients of these mysterious and wonderful arts as to give them an irresistible strength of conviction to those who are unenlightened by the spirit of God. And so far as facts and truths are mingled, it must also be acknowledged that God, the true and living Sovereign of heaven and earth, will contribute to produce the delusion. He has said that "HE WILL SEND THEM STRONG DELUSIONS THAT THEY MIGHT BELIEVE A LIE." He gives His reason and apology for acting after this strange manner -- because, knowing the truth, they do not love it unadulterated. And knowing God, they do not choose to glorify Him as God. Therefore their foolish hearts become darkened, and God suffers Satan to compound and mix up truth and error in such proportions as to be captivating and strongly delusive.

The Lord did give the forepart of the 1880 Revelation, and Brother Johnson told us this in a Council Meeting. He [Wilford Woodruff] was inquiring as to what was going to happen now that the government was turning loose to persecute and prosecute them for living the Celestial Law. The Lord said to Wilford Woodruff in that forepart, "I have already revealed to My servant Joseph these things."

1880 Revelation

Thus saith the Lord unto my servant, Wilford Woodruff, I have heard thy prayer and will answer thy petition. I will make known unto thee my will concerning the nations who encumber the land of promise and also concerning Zion and her inhabitants.

Here was Wilford Woodruff asking a revelation regarding the people of the Church and Zion and her inhabitants.

I have already revealed my will concerning this nation through the mouth of my servant Joseph, who sealed his testimony with his own blood, which testimony has been in force upon all the world from the hour of his death.

What I the Lord have revealed in that testament and decreed upon this nation and upon all the nations of the earth, shall be fulfilled, saith the Lord of hosts. I the Lord have spoken and will be obeyed. My purposes shall be fulfilled upon this nation and no power shall stay My Hand. The hour is at the door when My wrath and indignation will be poured out upon the wicked of the nations.

Their murders, blasphemies, lyings, whoredoms, and abominations have come up before my face and before the heavens, and the wrath of my indignation is full.

And I might add at this point that Brother Johnson is going to clean up this people, and the town down south particularly.

I have decreed plagues to go forth and waste my enemies, and not many years hence they shall not be left to pollute my heritage.

The devil is ruling over his kingdom and my spirit has no place in the hearts of the rulers of this nation, and the devil stirs them up to defy my power and to make war upon my Saints. Therefore let mine Apostles and mine Elders who are faithful obey my commandments which are already written for their profit and guidance.

The Lord left off there. He [Wilford Woodruff] wanted more, so:

Thus saith the Lord unto My servant John Taylor...

Who was the keyholder and revelator. Should Wilford Woodruff get it for him?

...and my servant Wilford Woodruff, and My servant, Orson Pratt, and to all the residue of mine Apostles;

And then it goes on and tells what is to come to pass, repeating the things that were given to Joseph Smith. And we finally wind up with the lie:

And while my servant John Taylor is your President, I wish to ask the rest of my servants of the Apostles the question, although you have one to preside over your Quorum, which is the order of God in all generations, do you not, all of you, hold the apostleship, which is the highest authority ever given to men on earth? You do. Therefore you hold in common the Keys of the Kingdom of God in all the world.

No way! There is never but one to hold the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing power -- one at a time -- never but one! That means through all the eternities and the creations of God. Then he goes on to say:

It is your right, privilege and duty to inquire of the Lord as to His mind and will concerning yourselves and the inhabitants of Zion and their interests.

The Twelve were never united with their head -- never -- the Apostles as a whole. So should they have revelations? It says right in here: "You shall present it to your President and quorum, and if he deems it proper to put it forth, let it be." But John Taylor never put it forth; not this one, only the ones he received: 1882 and 1886.

Well, perhaps I am going too far, but so be it. I can't help myself. I don't know how many of you were at the meeting down south on the 25th of December. After I had received a very threatening letter from a man who would not sign his name -- but clearly a result of a conspiracy -- about the eviction of certain ones from the community down south; President Johnson answered that on that day by saying, "If there are any of you who are not willing to follow and take the direction of the leadership of the United Effort Plan, I want you to pack up your things and go." Did you know that? He is going to clean up this people. We have had the warnings lo, these many years. Clean up your minds. Clean up your bodies. Repent and prepare for the redemption of Zion.

He has preached repentance and preparation for forty-five years while I have been acquainted with this work. He was ordained in June of 1941. He is now the Chief Apostle and keyholder, the fountainhead. The power of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Ghost. He who holds the keys, then, is the fountainhead for the dispensing of the Holy Ghost. He is the sole revelator to this people, the mouthpiece of God. The other Apostles were called to assist this one man. I mean to do that with all my heart and soul, God being my Helper. Brother Johnson fears no man and neither do I.

So, as I said in Priesthood Meeting last time regarding other matters, a word to the wise be sufficient. President Johnson has held out the arm of mercy, of repentance, lo, these many years. It has gone unheeded by altogether too many. I mean to repent of mine and be one with him, with all my heart and soul. God help us all to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Oneness With the One Man; Judgments

President Johnson has asked me to speak, and I pray with all my heart that the Holy Spirit of God will direct me to tell you the truth, to edify us and increase our testimony in the Prophet Joseph Smith and those who have followed him, and of our present Prophet, Seer, and Revelator, that we may go on to accomplish the work that we have been sent to do under President Johnson and the work he has been sent forth to do. I am grateful beyond measure for my testimony regarding the Prophet Joseph Smith, who was sent by Jesus Christ, who was sent by the Father; and all have done their work.

I feel impressed to read some items that President Johnson has been referring to of late, to help us to understand what is going on and what the Lord is doing now. I refer you to Section 112, in which the Lord was addressing and instructing the Twelve Apostles, who were then called to go to the nations of the earth to declare repentance and call upon them to be baptized and enter into the gate for the Church and Kingdom of God, that they might be saved.

The Lord knows all that is to come. He knows what will be done, even though He has given His commandments and instructions. And generally, for most, they have failed to keep His commandments. One of the greatest examples we have is the camp of Zion that was sent forth after the Lord called upon Joseph to gather five hundred faithful and true men who could go without murmuring, complaining, or criticizing particularly the Prophet of God, who was at their head and led them on this journey. He was able to get two hundred and five. He would have been satisfied with a hundred, if they could go with this one man as one man, when they could have redeemed Zion and succored the saints who had been driven out of Missouri, the dedicated place for the city and temple of Zion. And that set time was in September of 1836.

These were sent forth in the spring of 1834, but that camp hardly got to the Mississippi River until several of the brethren began complaining and murmuring against the Prophet. It required that they go as one, and they would have had the power of God to have accomplished all things.

When Joseph and his brethren were incarcerated in Liberty Jail, the Lord revealed to the Prophet that they could get out of that jail if all who were there would be one. Think of the power of oneness, brethren and sisters. But no! One or two began to fear. That broke the chain. The circle of the chain is no stronger than its weakest link. They could have bound the powers of satan and got out and gone to their places. The Lord did provide later, and they came out.

Sidney Rigdon came out first, and then he complained. He made the statement that Jesus Christ was a fool in suffering compared to what he had been through. He went to Far West. Later, the brethren got out all right. Sidney met with the Prophet in Far West. The Lord called Joseph and Sidney to go to Washington and seek for a redress of grievances. They got a certain distance along and Sidney fell off and Joseph went on, and they never heard again from Sidney until 1843 -- he got out of jail in 1839 -- when Sidney came back and tried to get himself ingratiated into the confidence of the saints and be appointed again a counselor to Joseph. Even the conference voted for Sidney to come back with Joseph. Sidney, in the meantime, had been party to letters addressed to the Governor of Missouri, which resulted in further suffering of the saints. They tried to put Sidney into his quorum, the First Presidency, along with William Law. And Joseph said, "You have put Sidney back on my shoulders. You can have him, but he will not be back with me. I will not have him."

So, this is how things have gone in the past. Now I want to read you what the Lord said.

D.& C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you,
The Lord speaking to the Twelve Apostles,

23. ...darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;

President Johnson has told us where that beginning is. It is right at the top of the Priesthood of God. The Church had forfeited its rights to the Priesthood ninety-four years ago. That will be the next step regarding these judgments, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which has become an abomination in the sight of God.
25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord; First at the top; then how about us? If we are not faithful and true, how about the Church? Not the Catholic church. That will come later.

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

There it is. Let us read a little about these judgments. They have already started.

D.& C. 45

26. And in that day shall be heard of wars and rumors of wars, and the whole earth shall be in commotion, and men's hearts shall fail them, and they shall say that Christ delayeth his coming until the end of the earth.

27. And the love of men shall wax cold, and iniquity shall abound. Those are the conditions of today.

28. And when the times of the Gentiles is come in, a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness, and it shall be the fulness of my gospel; That fullness was set up as a special dispensation under John Taylor; and we have come down, beneficiaries of that great blessing and the means by which the House of God would be set in order by the Prophet Joseph Smith. That is when he came, and that is when it started.

29. But they receive it not;

The fullness of the Gospel.

29. ...for they perceive not the light, and they turn their hearts from me because of the precepts of men.

30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; President Johnson is the chief Apostle and disciple of Jesus Christ. I submit that if we want to survive these great judgments and desolations, we should be by his side and go down the road together.

31. ...they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.
Desolating. That means to kill off most of the inhabitants of the land through that means and that which follows.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.
33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, Including this one, and floods.
33. ...and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.
They had asked Him about His second coming, and He was telling the conditions of it.

35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.
36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you -- 37. Ye look and behold the fig-trees, and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;
38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.

I do not want to take too much time, but I want to read you the words of Joseph, page 17. I have read them before, but these are the things that are shortly to come to pass.

The Book of Mormon is a record of the forefathers of our western tribes of Indians; having been found through the ministration of an holy angel, and translated into our own language by the gift and power of God, after having been hid up in the earth for the last fourteen hundred years, containing the word of God which was delivered unto them. By it we learn that our western tribes of Indians are descendants from that Joseph who was sold into Egypt, and that the land of America is a promised land unto them, and unto it all the tribes of Israel will come, with as many of the Gentiles as shall comply with the requisitions of the new covenant. The gentiles are those who are not of the obedient tribes of Israel.

But the tribe of Judah will return to old Jerusalem. The city of Zion spoken of by David, in the one hundred and second Psalm, will be built upon the land of America, "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads." These are testimonies that the Good Shepherd will put forth His own sheep, and lead them out from all nations where they have been scattered in a cloudy and dark day, to Zion, and to Jerusalem; besides many more testimonies which might be brought.

And now I am prepared to say by the authority of Jesus Christ, that not many years shall pass away before the United States shall present such a scene of bloodshed as has not a parallel in the history of our nation; pestilence, hail, famine, and earthquake will sweep the wicked of this generation from off the face of the land, to open and prepare the way for the return of the lost tribes of Israel from the north country. The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, which is in the state of Missouri;

That having failed, the injunction is still upon us, and the Lord promised us, "Zion shall not be removed from her place, and it shall yet be redeemed."

...therefore I declare unto you the warning which the Lord has commanded me to declare unto this generation, remembering that the eyes of my Maker are upon me, and that to Him I am accountable for every word I say, wishing nothing worse to my fellowmen than their eternal salvation; therefore, "Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come."

Brother Johnson has said, "I fear no man; I fear only to offend God," and I feel the same.

Repent ye, repent ye, and embrace the everlasting covenant, and flee to Zion, before the overflowing scourge overtake you, for there are those now living upon the earth whose eyes shall not be closed in death until they see all these things, which I have spoken, fulfilled. Remember these things; call upon the Lord while He is near, and seek Him while He may be found, is the exhortation of your unworthy servant.

(Signed) JOSEPH SMITH, JUN.

I want to close with one more thing, Section 103. I want to just preface this by saying, the Lord sent His Son, Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, Jun., to John Taylor to see to it that the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ was kept alive and carried on until Christ comes, and to prepare a people who can redeem Zion. God's promises will be fulfilled. If He cannot get them from among this people, He will get another. But thank God, Brother Johnson sees the light of day in that direction among this people. He has been calling upon us to repent and prepare that we might be that people who will go back to redeem Zion.

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.
19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.

20. But I say unto you: Mine angels Plural. The other was singular.
   20. ...shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

Joseph, the head of this last dispensation, under whom Israel will be gathered and Zion redeemed, since 1886 has been behind the scenes directing the work that has been going on among this people -- under one man who holds the keys of the sealing powers and of the holy Priesthood. He will lead us, just like they tried with Joseph in 1834, all moving as one man. The preparation has to be made before we can go back.

There is no question in my mind of a succession to President Johnson. He is the man. The Spirit of God has testified of it to me. Now, we may go our own ways as we please, believe it or not. In the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi about the marred servant, it was said:

3 Nephi 21

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

That is manifest before us now, which I testify to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

[After speaking to President Johnson:] I feel very sorry that President Johnson feels unable to address us today. Let us pray for him and continue in our faith and follow him down the road, and I ask that in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Gain the Confidence of the Prophet;
There Is a Great Test Coming; Judgments of God

I kind of like hour-and-a-half meetings. That has been the size of it while President Johnson has been back in the pulpit. I hope I can go only so far as the Spirit of God will prompt me speaking to you here today. I am sure all of you who have been reading the sermons of President Johnson have finally discovered how he talked and what he talked about. As I have said in Priesthood classes and these congregations, we just have not been listening. Almost invariably he would call upon the Lord to put words in his mouth that he might speak the mind and will of God to us. Standing in the position that he does, we had better take note of what he says, because you will find in every sermon -- I have not found any that it was not there -- the Spirit of revelation. I have heard a good many men through the years of the administration of President Johnson say, "He does not give us revelation." One in particular said, "Not like we used to get from Joseph W. Musser."

As I have said before, the thing I value most in my life is to get and have the confidence of my Prophet and head, the mouthpiece of God, the oracle of God, the one who holds the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers; the fountainhead, holding the keys of the Priesthood, and the Holy Ghost, the power of the Priesthood; therefore the fountainhead of the Holy Ghost to us. It has to come down through him to us. And so we must keep the channel clear in our relations with him. He knows our hearts because God knows our hearts, and God reveals it to him. The rest of us do not know what is in the hearts of others, only as the Holy Ghost might reveal it. We have heard on many occasions before, in other meetings, how that we can get to the Lord Jesus Christ direct, even if we have to bypass Leroy S. Johnson. No way! Heber C. Kimball put it in these words:

JD 4:1 Heber C. Kimball  June 29, 1856  SLC

The things concerning which brother Grant has this day been speaking are good, and I believe in his doctrines because they are true, especially in regard to our being one. I do know most definitively that unless we are one we are not Christ's; and I also know that if we are not one with brother Brigham, our leader, we are not one with Christ.

He could not bypass Brigham.

Yes, I know this, and my feelings are and have been with brother Brigham all the time.

I will not go into what went before, but here is a statement that I love, of Heber C. Kimball:

JD 4:277 Heber C. Kimball  January 25, 1857  SLC

...I love brother Brigham Young better than I do any woman upon this earth, because my will has run into his, and his into mine, and there is a free interchange of feelings. There are but few men that will do that, for they generally want their own way and their own will, therefore their wills do not run into ours and the Father's. This free interchange of pure feelings should run through all the organizations in this Church, and through every member in every family through out all our borders.

I consider it to have been one of the greatest compliments I have ever had when President Johnson said to some brethren around him, "Brother Jeffs is like Heber C. Kimball was to Brigham Young." One time I was a little late going up to Lava Hot Springs to be with President Johnson. Brethren were around him, and others, and Brother Johnson said, "Say, where is my Brigham?" I love him more than I do any man or woman on this earth. The love of brethren in the Priesthood transcends anything that I can contemplate. So, love conquers all, all the obstacles and things that come before us.

Heber C. Kimball was a prophet because he was able to prophesy. Brigham Young on more than one occasion said, "Heber is my prophet and I love to hear him prophesy." That is different from this Prophet, mouthpiece of God, of course. He had the gift of prophecy, in other words. I want to read one of his prophecies which we get from the book of Golden Kimball, his son:

Heber C. Kimball (From the Book of Golden Kimball, his son)

"In 1856, that is 74 years ago, a small group of friends convened in the house of the Lord called the endowment house. The conversation was about the isolated condition of the Latter-day saints. "Yes," said Brother Heber, "we think we are secure here in the chambers of these everlasting hills, where we can close the doors of the canyons against mobs and persecutors. The wicked and the vile will always beset us with violence and robbery, but I want to say to you, my brethren, the time is coming when we will be mixed up in these now peaceful valleys to that extent that it will be difficult to tell the face of a saint from the face of an enemy against the people of God."

Which is where we are now.

"Then is the time to look out for the great sieve. There will be a great sifting time, and many will fall, for I say unto you, there is a test, a test, a test coming. This church has before it many close places through which it will have to pass before the work of God is crowned with glory."

I do not think for a minute, because we have been severed from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, that this people are not members of the Church of God, the Church of Jesus Christ, which has yet to be set in order. The Lord is angry with this Church located in this valley, its headquarters, and with five million strong. The judgments are going to be very hard upon them wherever they are located. Right here in this valley we see the beginnings of the judgments of God that are about upon us. They are at our heels. They are here. He said further:
"This church has before it many close places through which it will have to pass before the work of God is crowned with glory. The difficulties will be of such a character that the man or woman who does not possess a personal knowledge or witness will fall. If you have not got this testimony you must live right and call upon the Lord and cease not until you obtain it. Remember these things. The time will come when no man or woman will be able to endure on borrowed light. Each will have to be guided by the light within himself. If you do not have the knowledge that Jesus is the Christ, how can you stand?"

With what is coming before us, Brother Johnson has said to some of us, "We are going to have to have nerves of steel." That is the burden of the message I want to bring to you here today. We are not going to be able to stand through these judgments, brothers and sisters, unless we stand in holy places.

Section 45 -- Jesus Christ talking to His disciples when they asked when He would come again, and what would be the signs of His coming.

D.& C. 45

30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.
That time has been fulfilled.

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

Floods and earthquakes are spoken of next.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.

35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.

The great work and mission, I testify to you, my brothers and sisters, of President Leroy S. Johnson, is to prepare a people pure in heart to redeem Zion. Zion is the pure in heart.

D.& C. 97

19. And the nations of the earth shall honor her, and shall say: Surely Zion is the city of our God, and surely Zion cannot fall, neither be moved out of her place, for God is there, and the hand of the Lord is there; 20. And he hath sworn by the power of his might to be her salvation and her high tower.

21. Therefore, verily, thus saith the Lord, let Zion rejoice, for this is Zion -- THE PURE IN HEART;

In capital letters.

21. therefore, let Zion rejoice, while all the wicked shall mourn.

22. For behold, and lo, vengeance cometh speedily upon the ungodly as the whirlwind; and who shall escape it? 23. The Lord's scourge shall pass over by night and by day,

The one spoken of in Section 45.

23. ...and the report thereof shall vex all people; yea, it shall not be stayed until the Lord come;

24. For the indignation of the Lord is kindled against their abominations and all their wicked works. 25. Nevertheless, Zion shall escape if she observe to do all things whatsoever I have commanded her.

26. But if she observe not to do whatsoever I have commanded her, I will visit her according to all her works, with sore affliction, with pestilence, with plague, with sword, with vengeance, with devouring fire.

So the Lord holds this promise out, as Brother Johnson has been to us:

27. Nevertheless, let it be read this once to her ears, that I, the Lord, have accepted of her offering; and if she sin no more none of these things shall come upon her;

28. And I will bless her with blessings, and multiply a multiplicity of blessings upon her, and upon her generations forever and ever, saith the Lord your God. Amen.

So, brothers and sisters, let us do away with rebellion. Let us be meek and lowly in heart. Go forward with a broken heart and a contrite spirit, for the proud shall fall. Joseph Smith said it. Let it be cried in our ears that rebellion will take us down and out. I would like to read, in closing, a statement in the Millennial Star to help us to understand how this spirit of rebellion can take hold of us. We have seen it before our very eyes.

Millennial Star 18:212, 227, 228 (Truth 16:215)

Rebellion Against Legitimate Authority

*The Holy Priesthood, at the head of which stands the Eternal Father, is the embodiment of "legitimate authority."

And God has His representative upon the earth, a man holding the keys to that legitimate authority, the very keys to our salvation.

There is one cardinal sin -- "rebellion against legitimate authority." Which has divided this people; but it is being divided through a sifting process, as we now witness.

All other sins are merely the results and modification of this capital one. There is only one fountain of evil -- "rebellion against legitimate authority." All other forms of evil are not primitive sources, but are simply streams derived from this parent source. The ten thousand directions into which crime branches are only channels through which rebellion manifests itself in its mission of misery, corruption, degeneracy, and extinction. Strike out of existence this parent sin, and it at once exhausts the material from which all others are manufactured, and destroys the mould in which they are manufactured. Dry up this fountain of evil, and a deadly, withering influence no longer feeds those channels, but the spirit of life, happiness, and exaltation will flow freely through the veins and arteries of universal beings. ***

Upon the heart of every member of the Holy Priesthood we would have engraved, that rebellion in you against that authority with which you are clothed will, if continued, inevitably lead to sin against the Holy Ghost, and you will become sons of perdition. Yea cherish but as much of the spirit of rebellion as will stand on the smallest conceivable point, and it will fester and fester until you are, in the most literal sense, naturally and spiritually, masses of mortified corruption, at which stage decomposition takes place, and you will be altogether extinct.

We are rising to increase, or we are going down to decrease.

"If mankind will choose the opposite to life held out in the Gospel, it will lead them to dissolution, to decomposition, to death; they will be
So says the Prophet Brigham Young. So we need to note these things and catch ourselves. Brigham Young spoke of the occasion when he was associated with Joseph Smith, Jun., where he had some little doubt which he said lasted for only a few seconds -- thanks be to God, he said -- in which he felt that Joseph Smith could be wrong in his financial affairs. He repented of it as quickly as it came to his mind, for he knew, "Where would it stop if he entertained it?" Where would it stop? So he lived with and loved Joseph Smith, Jun. President Leroy S. Johnson loved with all his heart and clung to and lived with and lived by the direction of his predecessor, John Y. Barlow -- another glorious example of the love of brethren.

So you have got to learn the great lesson of true love, the love of truth, which will lead us unto life and salvation; and remembering that there is one man on the earth at a time who holds the keys to our salvation. That has been the plans in the worlds of the Gods from eternity to eternity, one man through whom God communicates and directs His work upon the earth, to the salvation of His sons and daughters, if we will but believe and obey, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Priesthood Story

I miss the glorious spirit and benevolent atmosphere of the presence of President Johnson here today. I love to just visit and sit in his presence, though he may not be able to say a word, because the Holy Spirit of God issues forth from him. So he is the fountainhead. Uncle Rich Jessop used to say, "Why try to find the truth in the stream as it goes down, gathering corruption? Why not go to the fountainhead of that stream?" So that is what I have been engaged in during these times that President Johnson has been out of the pulpit.

He has authorized me to tell the Priesthood Story because I was witness to it. I would like to take this opportunity to tell some of that Priesthood Story to you, praying that the Spirit of God will be upon me. I want you to realize that it is just simply a matter of a statement of facts, not criticism. There is a difference. We must not criticize one another. But there comes times when we must state the facts as they do exist, or have existed.

As one of the speakers indicated here, and I have told you I think before, in late 1979, President Johnson, when I was visiting him, had confirmed some marvelous items of truth, which he confirmed to me. As I was about to leave him he said, "Brother Jeffs, I and you have the responsibility of establishing once for all the one man rule as set out in Section 132 verse 7," as against the concept that has grown and taken such firm hold among this people, that the keys were held in common by the Apostles, and that the Apostles could get revelation from God for the people, which is a fallacy and not in keeping with the word and will of God as set out in Section 28 of the Doctrine and Covenants. There is only one man, the head, who is to receive revelation and commandments for the people.

So, as things went on, Brother Johnson told me to tell that story to those who might be led to know the truth with an honest heart and a desire to obey it when he learned it. I don't know whether this is the right time to do it, but I feel impressed to play you a piece from a tape which I have. You may be interested in knowing that Brother Alfred E. Olschewski passed away a couple of days ago. You will hear from this tape his voice first, followed by that of Brother Hammon.

Alfred Olschewski (On tape, Jan. 8, 1978):

"There is a phrase in Section 132 that the Church and some of us pay more attention to than we should. And that phrase says that there is only one man at a time on the earth who holds the keys to the sealing powers. But that is not so.

How many of you were here on January 8, 1978, when that was said? So I am not telling tales out of school.

Alfred Olschewski (On tape, Jan. 8, 1978):

"Are you going to say, 'Brother Alfred, are you calling God a liar?' No, I am not. But neither was President Barlow a liar. And he said that the only reason that the Lord had that added to was because of the circumstances at the time that the Prophet Joseph revealed the principle of sealing to the saints. And that was to keep Sidney Rigdon from exercising authority which he did not hold."

Brother Barlow never said such a thing.
Alfred Olschewski (On tape, Jan. 8, 1978):
"And what was the authority that he did not hold? President George A. Smith revealed it. You will find it written in the Millennial Star. He said that Sidney Rigdon never received his second anointings. He never received that additional Priesthood."

Marion Hammon (On tape, Jan. 8, 1978):
"These testimonies we have, I don't think they are fickle. Mine has never left me. I don't think you people have had this experience yet, but what can we endure? You have got information today that is true. This is the truth. You haven't been deceived in any degree. That phrase that is in brackets in the seventh verse of the 132nd Section of the Doctrine and Covenants was only put there to protect the people. Every man, every man in this Council that has ever been near to me going and coming has had the same authority placed upon them."

At that meeting, I was with Brother Hammon and Brother Timpson, and I turned sick before the meeting started and I told Brother Hammon I didn't care to speak today. Brother Timpson and Brother Hammon agreed with Alfred about that parenthetical matter in Section 132 verse 7, that it "was not so". This goes to the root, brothers and sisters, of whose right it is to rule. That is what Brother Johnson was getting at when he said what we had to do. It has taken five long years. It is done, at least in the hearts of those who love the truth for the truth's sake. Thank God we are here today.

Brother Johnson has referred to that meeting of the Priesthood Council of March 18, 1978, when this Council broke up. He said it down in Short Creek just a couple of weeks ago on the second Sunday of last month. Because of further remarks that were made by those brethren over the pulpit, Brother Johnson on that date came to our Council Meeting. He stood up and said, "The Lord has sent me here this day to correct some very serious matters that have been said over the pulpit." He turned to Brother Hammon and said, "Brother Hammon, you have said over the pulpit that that parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132 is not so. Would you change the word of God, the scripture?"

Brother Hammon said, "What about the 1880 Revelation?"

Doesn't that put it squarely on the line, that we change Section 132 with the 1880 Revelation? Change the word of God? Brother Johnson told us plainly there that the 1880 Revelation was a delusion, which the Lord permitted satan to give to Wilford Woodruff, that they who love not the truth for the truth's sake, might believe a lie, and thus be damned. It was a delusion. Then Brother Johnson asked me to read Section 28. And he said, "Brethren, your controversy is not with me; it is with God, who sent me here." He called for a response. And that, then and there, caused this Priesthood Council to split right down the middle. Brother Hammon, Brother Musser, and Brother Timpson stood for the 1880 Revelation.

Two other times in Council Meetings, we were given the opportunity to speak to the issue, with the same result. Uncle Rich and I took the position to stand by President Johnson. I told him, "I am with you all the way. And I accept what you have given us here this day as having come from God." I think I read Section 28 the following Priesthood Meeting that day, and again on Sunday, without referring to what had happened, of course.

If any of you have been wondering what took place, you have it now. Out of that meeting came the statements over the pulpit that President Johnson had given us a delusion. You heard it yourselves time and time and time again. He (Marion Hammon) even went so far as to say he was the only one who could do so, that he had the Priesthood to do it with. If that had been the case, the Lord would have taken him on the spot, but he is with us. A year later he came down with the shingles for the purposes in God which have brought forth what has been in the hearts of us, His people. They had been praying for him to die, expecting him to die.

On that occasion, when he talked about the one man rule being established, he said, "Those that cling to the 1880 Revelation are hungry for power." Take it or leave it. I am not going to go back to the sources of it or anything. I am just telling you what happened. And I have been careful not to criticize those brethren, only to state the facts for those who wanted to know the truth. God knows I loved them. We engaged in ordinances in which the Prophet Leroy Johnson gave us to unite us, to try to unite us. They were stopped in November of 1978.

Brother Johnson has been telling us very recently that in the setting-in-order process, and in the preparation of a people, the Priesthood Council would have to be cleaned up first. If you want to follow me, turn to Section 112.

D.& C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

I am going to interpose Section 45 for a few verses, what these judgments are to be.

D.& C. 45

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

That will be the greatest and most important source of wiping off the face of this land of the wicked -- a desolating sickness. Think of the term.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places,

This is Jesus Christ talking about how He talked to His disciples in His time when they called upon Him to tell them the signs of His coming.

32. ...and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places,

We can expect one here very soon in this valley.

33. ...and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.

35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.

"My disciples" must stand in holy places to avoid that total destruction of the wicked from off the face of the land of Joseph, particularly this North American continent, which Joseph Smith said was Zion. Now back to Section 112.

D.& C. 112

25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;
Be it remembered, this word of the Lord was being given to the Twelve Apostles.

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

That has taken place. The Prophet said so a few weeks ago. And believe me, brothers and sisters, the Prophet is suffering greater pain than he has for some time, with some sickness attending. It has taken a great deal out of him to do what he had to do. You brethren bearing the Priesthood were at that meeting four weeks ago last night, when President Johnson told Jonathan Marion Hammon and Alma Adelbert Timpson that he was casting them off of his back. "I will not carry you any longer." From then on they were asked to sit down in the audience. I am not telling you anything now that you haven't known, or seen at least, yourself. But that had been weighing on him and he is now suffering some more from it. I know as I know I live that God will yet heal him, as was set out in the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi, this "marred servant", and that he is going to go on and finish and do a greater and a mightier work, which the Lord showed me would be the case at the time when I administered to him on May 5, 1979.

So, brothers and sisters, we are seeing prophecy and the word of the Lord fulfilled daily. I hope we all appreciate this. Let there be peace. That is what Brother Johnson keeps saying: "Let there be peace." I have received a letter from some unknown persons in Short Creek. I received it November 15, 1983, having to do with the eviction of certain transgressors in the community of Short Creek. You will pardon my use of the words "Short Creek". I like to include both communities, Hildale and Colorado City. That is what it was before. Isn't that right?

Brother Johnson is President of the United Effort Plan; I am secretary. When anyone builds homes on United Effort Plan property in that community, it is well understood that if they leave for cause or not for cause, if they leave on their own, they leave the improvements there without pay. If they are transgressors they can be evicted and go without pay. I was told in this letter that "the next time President Johnson and you, Rulon Jeffs, sign an eviction order, there will be more hell in this community than you can dream of, damn you." And it said, "You may find that great mansion of yours up there contemplating it in ruins from fire. Johnson's home would burn more easily than yours." And they said again, "If you sign another eviction order, we will come against you and your family; we have made our decision," having said they were communicating, but not meeting -- these "conspirators" I suppose you would call them. "We have made our decision. You make yours. I don't dare sign this letter for fear you might evict us, my family." He signed it, "Your disillusioned brother," in quotes. Isn't that beautiful? [Laughter]

I read that letter to Brother Johnson on Saturday morning, the 18th of November, and he said, "Well, I am not afraid." I said, "Brother Johnson, I am not afraid. We will stand together in this." I hope it is just threats. Oh, by the way, they referred to this place, this "mansion" with its "sumptuous baths". [Laughter]

We have a meeting house, we have a school house, other houses. This room is divided into three for classrooms for our schoolhouse during the week. These school children go to these bathrooms, but I don't think they are so sumptuous. [Laughter]

Well it isn't over yet I suppose. You will pardon me. I hope I haven't spoken out of turn in saying these things, Brother Johnson not being here. But I will sure give him a tape of it.

Well, they can't kill Brother Johnson. To have divided into a separate meeting, which they are doing now, they have had to say to their people, "Leroy Johnson and Rulon Jeffs have apostatized, and are full of devils."

After that March 18, 1978 meeting, three of us had already left, leaving Brother Johnson, Brother Jessop -- Richard Jessop -- and Guy Musser. Guy Musser went up to Uncle Roy and said, "Brother Johnson, on taking this stand you have on the 1880 Revelation, you have apostatized. You are apostate and senile." There it is, on that very day. President Johnson has permitted us to go on attending his appointed meetings, but look what this sickness has done, him being out of the pulpit. They were trying to keep me from speaking here for two and a half years. I got a few things in the Priesthood Meeting anyway.

I don't believe, brothers and sisters, Brother Johnson is going to be healed till the combined faith of this people does it. We pray and pray and pray all the time, all of us, I know. But is it prayer with faith in our prayers? That is what it takes -- faith in our prayers. Do we really want him healed? He is going to be, but let us have a part with him. He has been suffering for us, brothers and sisters. Believe me, he does. For those who would believe on his words, he has suffered. Let us make it worthwhile to him by going down the road as he continues to call us to repentance, and be prepared as a people to redeem Zion. That is his great mission.

I was going to make this an hour-and-a-half meeting, but here I am. Section 103, and I will close with it. Although the Lord was calling for a group of at least one hundred men, to go and redeem their brothers and sisters in Zion from whence they had been driven, the Lord knew they would not, because He knew they would not go as one man without murmuring. Without murmuring! Can you understand that kind of obedience? He, Joseph, had to tell them before they got to the Mississippi River, that because of their murmurings and criticism and complaints, there was a scourge for them. He said, "You think I am a little boy like yourselves. But you do not know who I am before the Lord." We don't know who Leroy Johnson is before the Lord today. I am going to read these verses and you can take it for what it is worth.

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

Remember, Joseph Smith is the head of this dispensation, and it is his job to do this, the redemption of Zion. But he has men who have succeeded him in that position who are doing the work here for us and with us.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.

19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.

"Mine angel" -- singular.

20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.
To stand in His presence, if they are to see Him, that people must be like Him, having proven themselves before they go to redeem Zion on that great journey. Brother Johnson is going to have to have his people in one place.
They must live the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel: Celestial Marriage, and the Holy United Order, which go together. Zion cannot be redeemed, as Uncle Roy has told us time and time and time again, only on the laws of the Celestial Kingdom. God help us to be that people, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Priesthood Story; Charity

I feel, brothers and sisters, that if we were to dismiss now our time would have been most profitably spent, and we could go on now, and follow the directions that have been given and the testimonies that have been borne and accomplish the work that President Johnson has given us to do. I want to speak nothing but the truth, brothers and sisters, and pray God by His Holy Spirit to direct me in it, to sustain our Prophet and head and what he has been doing, what he is now doing, warning us of things to come and preparing us for the judgments to come. He told me the other day that, "I fear that there is not enough time left now to repent before these great judgments and disasters come upon us;" when we read and hear what has been happening in this nation just the last few days, and what is about to come upon us and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

I don't want to take a great deal of time, brothers and sisters, but with the help of the Lord to dictate me, I want to tell you as a witness what has happened, resulting in what President Johnson has done in recent weeks.

I am going to play you from a tape of a meeting held January 8, 1978, in Salt Lake City. We met that day in Salt Lake City. Brother Hammon, myself, and Brother Timpson were there by appointment. In the course of our preparations for that meeting, I turned so sick I felt I could not speak that day, and I turned and told President Hammon, who was in charge, I did not feel I could speak. Brother Timpson was put in charge of the meeting and he called upon Alfred O. Olschewski. And in the course of his remarks he said these

You have got information today that is true. This is the truth. You haven't been deceived in any degree. That phrase that is in brackets in the seventh verse of the 132nd Section of the Doctrine and Covenants was only put there to protect the people. Every man, every man in this Council that has ever been near to me going and coming has had the same authority placed upon them."

On March 18, 1978, following this -- Brother Johnson made mention of it in one of his sermons lately, in which he took certain actions -- the Priesthood Council met at Lincoln Street. On that occasion President Johnson stood up and said, "Brethren, the Lord has sent me here today to correct some very serious things that have been said over the pulpit. Brother Hammon, you have said that that parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132 is not true, regarding one man holding the keys of the sealing powers and of the holy Priesthood at a time upon the earth. There is never but one. Would you change the scripture?"

Brother Hammon said, "What about the 1880 Revelation?"
President Johnson said, "That revelation given to Wilford Woodruff, which the Lord permitted satan to give him, was a delusion," that he told us in a later meeting. Wilford Woodruff had no right to receive such a revelation from the Lord. Now he says, "Brethren, your controversy is not with me; it is with God who sent me here today."

He then asked me to read Section 28 of the Doctrine and Covenants, which I am sure you are all familiar with. There is only one who can receive revelation and commandments for the people of the Church. The 1880 Revelation comes down to the end and says the keys are held in common by all of the Apostles, these keys. It further says that each of those Apostles may receive revelation, present it to the quorum and the President, and if they deem it proper, to put it forth to the people, which, by those terms it was never done.

We were each asked to speak to the issues on that occasion, and on two others in Council Meetings, and the position was still the same. That was the occasion President Johnson spoke of recently, when this Priesthood Council broke up. After the meeting of March 18, 1978, three of us having departed, left Brother Guy, Brother Johnson, Brother Rich together in the office there. This is what President Johnson has related to me. Guy pointed to Brother Johnson and said: "You are apostate and senile."

That night, Saturday night, I read Section 28 to the Priesthood Meeting, and I read it again the next afternoon at our General Meeting in Salt Lake City, without making any reference as to what had happened. It was not long after this that you began to hear that President Johnson had given us a delusion. You all heard it many times; we have in Salt Lake. Three of the six members of the Priesthood Council stood for the 1880 Revelation. Uncle Rich and I stood with Leroy Johnson. As I put it, "I accept what you have given here this day to us as coming from God, and I am with you all the way." That is where I am today. Uncle Rich understood these things long before. But until the Lord told Leroy Johnson, our Prophet, to do what he did that day, it could not be acted upon. There are other background things which can be told; and may I say, the Priesthood Story has not been told in full. I reveal this to you as a witness. I do not want to go on hearsay, but I want to bear you my testimony that I stand foursquare, one with President Johnson.

In May of 1979 -- well, it was actually April -- he came down with the shingles, which he told me the Lord had a purpose in. We have seen what that purpose has been, at least one that I have seen and you have seen. It has brought out what is in the hearts of all of us regarding our Prophet. It is not finished yet. But the Lord showed me, in administering to him on May 5, 1979, that he would come through this stronger than ever, be renewed, and go on and do a greater and mightier work, in preparing a people to redeem Zion. That is his work under Joseph Smith the Prophet. I appreciated the remarks of Brother Alvin. Joseph and his legal successors after him are anxious and following and watching the work, helping to accomplish it through the living head. The living oracles of God come through President Johnson. So I just want to leave you that testimony.

There have been threats written in a letter to me regarding affairs here in this community and the United Effort Plan, threats against me and Brother Johnson. But I have to say with him, as he said when I read it to him, "I am not afraid." Neither is Rulon Jeffs afraid. God will take care of His servants. That is one promise that President Barlow and President Musser in olden time said very emphatically: "God will take care of His servants."

I hope I have not said too much here, but I felt strongly impressed to do it. I made some rather extended remarks on the 18th of March in Salt Lake City along this line, and stated these things there. So it has already been told. "Choose ye this day whom you will serve." That is what Joshua said to the Israelites. "As for me and my house, we will serve God the Lord."

As I have brought out by good authority, Joseph Smith in his time, Brigham in his time, John Taylor in his time, were all God over the people. Leroy Johnson is God over this people as far as I am concerned. Brigham Young said it, Joseph Smith said it, so I have very good authority for these remarks. I always have to come back, when someone sits and tells me he has made no commitments one way or the other, I say, "Brother, you just did." "If you are not for Me, you are against Me." That is what the Savior said. There is no halfway house, no neutral ground. I think the fences have been knocked down lately, if you pardon me.

Well, I just felt to say these few things, brothers and sisters. We have been here long enough. I want to tell you President Johnson yearns over this people. He has been kind, benevolent, forgiving, always forgiving, patient, and long-suffering, most Christlike. So who do you want to be like? We are here to learn to become like God. We have a man among us who is most Godlike; not perfect, he says so himself; but when he acts in the name of God and speaks in the name of God, and having the character that he has, he is enabled to speak for God -- His legal representative here upon the earth, one man holding the keys of the sealing powers and of the holy Priesthood, holding the keys of our salvation, each and every one of us, brothers and sisters.

Like Uncle Roy said so many times in his sermons, "We have got to sit up and take notice and get busy." Faith, my brothers and sisters, is the thing that is lacking. Our prayers ascend daily for him. I know this. I do it myself, my family, and all my friends, all of Brother Johnson's friends. But do we have faith in our prayers? There is the touchstone -- mental exertion. And as I have so often ended my remarks, I want to read again the last verses of Moroni chapter 7. Start at verse 42.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Judge your leaders by that standard -- meek and lowliness of heart, which is what Jesus Christ told His disciples and His listeners; God over all of us, over the whole earth and others, seeking only to do the will of the Father.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.
45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

The Lord gave the Prophet Joseph Smith the reason for permitting His saints to be driven out of Zion as being: "There were jarrings, and contentions, and strifes, and envyings," all of these things that charity is not, "and lustful and covetous desires in their hearts. By these things they polluted their inheritances." By these things we do not become one in our families, and we do not become one people under President Johnson, speaking of us generally. Certainly there are those who are one with him.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

There is faith in your prayers -- with all the energy of heart and mind. The Lectures on Faith says when we work by faith we work by the energy of the mind.

47. ...and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love,

The Holy Ghost,

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. God help us to be so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Love God Through Obedience to the Prophet;
Jesus Christ Is the God Over Father Adam

I am grateful to be here today, brothers and sisters, under the direction of President Johnson, to mingle my voice with others in the testimony of the goodness of God and His blessings to us, and especially for the blessings of God to our President and head. I appreciated the observation that was made by a former speaker: How can we say we love God whom we cannot see, if we love not His servant whom we can see? -- who is standing for God, His mouthpiece, His personal representative, and the holder of the keys to our salvation, and who is as God to us.

I have been so greatly impressed with a sermon of President Johnson's that I want to make my sermon his here today, from volume 4 of the sermons and discourses of President Johnson, page 1252, and make some additional observations. We are going to hear from President Johnson today, for which I shall be most grateful. It is the most refreshing thing to realize the grand truths that have been give to us here before, by our President, which we have treated lightly. It seems that that is the great sin of the people of the latter days who have been called to the truth. So many have fallen short because they did not act on the truth that was delivered to them by the power of God through His servant, beginning with Joseph Smith, Jun., and those who have succeeded him in that same position.

I am grateful for this day, my brothers and sisters, and grateful for the testimonies that have been borne by these young men, as well as the older ones.

I am grateful for all of you and that you are here to listen to what the Lord has for you today. We are living in a day of preparation, and I hope that I, at least, can be prepared for that which the Lord has in store for us. And I trust that He will pour out His blessings upon us continually as this meeting goes on, that we might be instructed from on high.

My only desire is to look forward to the edification and preparation of this great Priesthood work. There is nothing like it in the earth. You will find it nowhere else, only among the Latter-day Saint people.

As I look over the experiences that I have had in my life with men and women who have devoted their lives to the building up and establishment of God's Kingdom in the earth, I find that there are many who are not known publicly who are striving with their might to prepare themselves for a glorious resurrection.

The quiet people.

We don't want to sit idly by and put off till tomorrow what we should do today to prepare ourselves against the day of visitation when God is pouring out His judgments upon the wicked and preparing the earth for the Millennial Reign, because this time is right at our doors. The Prophet Joseph said it was at the door in his day and it is a few inches closer today. Our time is fast running out, as one of the speakers today mentioned.

It seems to me, brothers and sisters, that it is at our heels, and there is hardly time left, as President Johnson has indicated.

In our preparation there are many points of doctrine that are lightly spoken of that need to be brought to the attention of our people in their true light and manner, that we might be properly instructed. I have been taught all my life, and I have heard my father and other men talk when I was by his side waiting for him to call upon me to help, I have heard many things transpire. I suppose that is where I got my determination to stay put when I found the Priesthood that bore the keys of salvation. But I have been taught all my life that long before the foundation of this earth was prepared, the personnel for the governing of this earth were called. They were called and set apart to come forth in their day and time to take their place in the governing of this earth. We have been taught that there are three personages in the Godhead -- God the Father, God the Son, and God the Testator or the Holy Ghost. Now, these three governing powers were called and set apart to come forth in their day and time to govern the destiny of the peopling of this earth.

One reason I speak upon this subject, the question was asked me this morning: When Adam met with His posterity at the close of His time upon this earth, He called His posterity together and blessed them, and He said that He had been instructed by His Father to do this work. Who was the man that He had reference to? Who was the man He had reference to in the Garden of Eden when He was asked by Lucifer, "Why do you offer sacrifice?" He said, "I know not, except I have been commanded by my Father." Do you think it was some foreign spirit other than the ones that had been called to govern the earth? I don't think so.

We are told by the brother of Jared that he went before the Lord when he needed light for the barges while they were upon the great deep. He had prepared these eight barges to haul his people to a choice land, a land that was choice above all other lands, said the Lord to him. If he was the Lord, then was it Adam speaking to him, or was it someone else? When he asked for the Lord to touch the stones that they might bring forth light, he saw the finger of the Lord. What did He tell him? The brother of Jared fell to the earth, and then the voice spoke and said, "Why do you fall?" He said, "I was afraid for I knew not that you had flesh and bones." He said, "Did you see more than My finger?" The brother of Jared said, "No. But I would like you to show yourself to me." The Lord said, "Would you believe if I showed myself to you? Would you believe?" "Yea, Lord, I will believe." So, then He unveiled Himself and showed Himself to the brother of Jared. He said, "This is the body that I will have when I appear in the flesh," meaning that He was Jesus Christ, the same man that appeared to Adam in the Garden of Eden, and in the Valley of Adam-Ondi-Ahman when He told our Father Adam to bless His posterity and all the generations of time from then on.

These are some of the truths that we should ponder upon, and not think that someone else had the governing powers of this earth until a certain time, and then another took it.

We have had that in a book called "Michael, our Father and God."

These men had to come in their time and place and take their bodies. They were called, according to Brigham Young, millions of years before the foundation of this earth was formed. They were ordained and set apart for the governing of this earth and the peopling of it, to bless the people that they might be built up in their faith and determination to serve God and keep His commandments.

Go into this book, the Three-in-One; go into the Doctrine & Covenants, read the headings and the first few verses of each revelation and see how important it is that we keep all the commandments of God. He does not look upon sin with the least degree of allowance, He said. And this He means. He says, "Haven't I spoken plainly? So plain that a child could understand?" It is there, and it is in plain language, and every person who has any understanding at all can understand what the Lord has said and what He expects of us. We approach Him as our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We don't pray unto Adam. We pray -- Our Father who art in Heaven, and in the name of Jesus Christ. Can you understand it?

"Adam" means "man". So we pray to our Father in heaven, and in the name of Jesus Christ. Can you understand it?

Let us hasten to prepare ourselves. Let us overcome all evil, everything that is of an evil nature -- going against counsel, speaking evil of one another, criticizing, or any other evil that we might have imbibed in our habits. Let us overcome them and let us hasten! Let us be that people that the Lord is looking for. And when He makes the call for personnel to take over the establishment of righteousness in the earth, let us be prepared to do it.

You don't have to come and tell me that you are righteous. The Lord is the only one that can read your heart and your mind, but He can read them, so let us not let Him read anymore evil thoughts, but let us clean up our minds.

I have found, brothers and sisters, that this one man who leads us can read our hearts and minds. We should be very careful what is in our hearts and minds as we interview and approach this man. You cannot cover up.

Let us do what the servants of God have asked us to do. For the Lord has said, "Whether it be by my mouth or by the mouth of my servants, it is the same."

His servant is President Johnson today.

This Gospel is true, the Gospel of Jesus Christ as it is contained in the New Testament and as it was given to us by our Prophet, Joseph Smith and those who followed him in the Priesthood until this day.

Now, I pray that we will hasten, my brothers and sisters, to prepare ourselves that we might be able to be prepared when the One Mighty and Strong calls for his army of young and middle-aged. I would like to see every boy, and every girl that is ready to be placed hasten to prepare themselves so the Lord can call them. But they are going to have to quit making love to one another and let the Lord make the love, Did you ever hear anything like that before, young people?
...and then He (God) can bless you and He can bless the unions. You are going to continue to have problems unless this can be done, because this is the order of marriage in the Holy Priesthood.

I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and with a determination to overcome all evil, that we might be prepared against the day of visitation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

If you want to see, brothers and sisters, how we work by faith, the exertion of the mind, and knowing, coming to know that we please God -- thus we have power with God, and that is perfect faith -- read the third chapter of Ether, referred to here in this sermon, the story of the brother of Jared. I would like to have developed the sermon from this, but I will defer to another time, because I am sure you are anxious to hear from our Prophet Leroy S.
Johnson, who will speak now to us.

Prophecies Concerning the Redemption of Zion; Events During the 1953 Raid

How many of you have read this chapter? This is a key scripture that pertains directly to us and our Prophet and head. The more I read these scriptures that the Lord has given us in the Triple Combination and in the Book of Mormon particularly, and even in the Doctrine and Covenants, I have found references that the Lord has revealed to me, refer to President Leroy Sunderland Johnson. He has a peculiar and great mission, which I have had a witness of by the revelations of God to me. When I start talking about him and his work, I just get turned on. I do not want to take too much time, and I will hold it down this morning. I understand you previously considered chapter 19 and 20.

3 Nephi 20

41. And then shall a cry go forth: Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch not that which is unclean; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.
There is a sermon in one verse.

42. For ye shall not go out with haste nor go by flight; for the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel shall be your rearward.
43. Behold, my servant shall deal prudently; he shall be exalted and extolled and be very high.

44. As many were astonished at thee -- his visage was so marred, Marked up.

44. ...more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men --
You have seen his hands. We are talking about President Johnson here.

45. So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him, for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.
46. Verily, verily, I say unto you, all these things shall surely come, even as the Father hath commanded me. Then shall this covenant which the Father hath covenanted with his people be fulfilled; and then shall Jerusalem be inhabited again with my people, and it shall be the land of their inheritance.

In the last days, prior to the coming of Christ, Judah shall go back to old Jerusalem, be gathered there. They are already here. When the Ten Tribes were taken, it was really ten and a half. One and a half was Judah and half of the tribe of Ephraim. But the Ten Tribes will come to this land after many judgments, which are already started. There is to be a New Jerusalem built in Jackson County, Missouri. All Israel is to be gathered, the Ten Tribes and all the rest -- the remnant of Jacob from the south, and the Ten Tribes from the north. And all of these gatherings will be under His direction. Later on, the City of Enoch will come, and later on, the part of the earth which Peleg and his people were taken will come, and there will be great jarrings, and the earth increased in size.

3 Nephi 21

1. And verily I say unto you, I give unto you a sign, that ye may know the time when these things shall be about to take place -- that I shall gather in, from their long dispersion, my people, O house of Israel, and shall establish again among them my Zion;

2. And behold, this is the thing which I will give unto you for a sign -- for verily I say unto you that when these things which I declare unto you, and which I shall declare unto you hereafter of myself, and by the power of the Holy Ghost which shall be given unto you of the Father, shall be made known unto the Gentiles that they may know concerning this people who are a remnant of the house of Jacob, and concerning this my people who shall be scattered by them;

We are talking of the House of Israel. All will be gathered.

4. For it is wisdom in the Father that they should be established in this land, and be set up as a free people by the power of the Father, that these things might come forth from them unto a remnant of your seed, that the covenant of the Father may be fulfilled which he hath covenanted with his people, O house of Israel;

5. Therefore, when these works and the works which shall be wrought among you hereafter shall come forth from the Gentiles, unto your seed which shall dwindle in unbelief because of iniquity;

6. For thus it behooveth the Father that it should come forth from the Gentiles, that he may show forth his power unto the Gentiles, for this cause that the Gentiles, if they will not harden their hearts, that they may repent and come unto me and be baptized in my name and know of the true points of my doctrine, that they may be numbered among my people, O house of Israel;

A gentile, truly believing, can have his actual gentile blood changed to the blood of Abraham, of Israel, through baptism and the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost changes that blood. There are very few gentiles that do, but the Prophet describes it, and I do not want to take time for that -- pages 148-149 of the Teachings of the Prophet if you want to read it.

7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things -- it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

You see, the missionary work has been out among the gentile nations to gather in Israel. First, the Gospel was given to the gentiles; and after they are gathered, the House of Israel will be brought together to redeem Zion. But there will be many of them that have to be eliminated. They are going to have to be taught when the Ten Tribes come, so President Johnson tells us.

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

When our saints were scattered from Short Creek in 1953, they took the women and children down and scattered them among the various towns and cities in southern Arizona, and then they were going to adopt the children out, put away the fathers in jail, take their land, and they would never be known of again. That is what they tried to do. But President Johnson went down there; and be it remembered he was President and keyholder, the head of this people at that time, receiving the keys after John Y. Barlow; the Lord confirming them upon him, of course.

And in their deliberations, when they were about to adopt out some of the children, they were just going to start a court case; and the Lord made known to President Johnson that there was a law in the books of Arizona that would not permit them to adopt the children out without the parents' consent. Brother Johnson had never read the law book in his life. So, "that which had not been told them shall they see." Brother Johnson told the lawyers, "There is a provision in the law that will take care of this situation. They cannot take the children without the parents' consent." The lawyers could not find it. The attorney general's office could not find it, but President Johnson knew it was there. So he got the attorneys busy, and they found it, and they called the attorney general's office. "Kings" here means the leaders of government. He told them about this provision in the law and that stopped the whole thing. Then they began -- it took quite a while -- to gradually bring the mothers and the children home again. I would call a man able to do that a savior on Mount Zion. He saved his people, and he worked with them and worked with them until he got them all home; two years, I think.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

President Johnson has been preaching to us for thirty-four years, and before that, many things they, our people, would not believe, "although a man shall declare it unto them”. We have his six volumes of sermons now that testify to this, and by these books we are going to be judged. How do you like that?

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

They cannot, they shall not hurt Leroy Sunderland Johnson! God will heal him. He has been marred because of those who opposed and fought him. That sickness came upon him for that purpose -- to see what was in their hearts, and our hearts, even those who profess to be following President Johnson. It brought out the faithful and the true, what was in their hearts. And it brought out those who refuse to follow him, and have opposed him, and who have wanted him dead. But he shall not die! He will go on to do the things that are spoken of in the rest of this chapter.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles,

The Gospel has been to the gentiles, and this LDS Church is a gentile church now. We will still get some from there, Israel.

3 Nephi 21

11. ...and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles,

The Lamanite nation; there are fifty million of them scattered throughout North and South America. That is quite a remnant.

11. ...they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant. Those who will not believe the words of Jesus Christ that are given us through His Prophet.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

President Johnson has quoted that many, many times.
13. Their hand shall be lifted up upon their adversaries, and all their enemies shall be cut off.
14. Yea, wo be unto the Gentiles except they repent; for it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Father, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots; All of these instruments of war will be destroyed.
15. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strongholds;
16. And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy land, and thou shalt have no more soothsayers;
17. Thy graven images I will also cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thy hands;
18. And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee; so will I destroy thy cities.
19. And it shall come to pass that all lyings, and deceivings, and envyings, and strifes, and priestcrafts, and whoredoms, shall be done away.
20. For it shall come to pass, saith the Father, that at that day whosoever will not repent and come unto my Beloved Son, them will I cut off from among my people, O house of Israel;
21. And I will execute vengeance and fury upon them, even as upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.
22. But if they will repent and hearken unto my words, and harden not their hearts, I will establish my church among them, and they shall come in unto the covenant and be numbered among this the remnant of Jacob, unto whom I have given this land for their inheritance;
23. And they shall assist my people, the remnant of Jacob, and also as many of the house of Israel as shall come, that they may build a city, which shall be called the New Jerusalem.

All of this under the leadership and presidency of Leroy S. Johnson; Jesus Christ and His angels going before, on that journey to the New Jerusalem, which shall be built with the aid of the Ten Tribes. They will think, the Prophet said, there will not be time; but with the help of the Ten Tribes and the remnant of Jacob, they will do it in a short time.
25. And then shall the power of heaven come down among them; and I also will be in the midst.
If you want some more further confirmation of this, read Section 103, how the Lord will redeem Zion with power, having raised up a man like unto Moses. I will leave you to find out who that man is. I know.

26. And then shall the work of the Father commence at that day, even when this gospel shall be preached among the remnant of this people. Verily I say unto you, at that day shall the work of the Father commence among all the dispersed of my people, yea, even the tribes which have been lost, which the Father hath led away out of Jerusalem.
It is all here isn’t it?

27. Yea, the work shall commence among all the dispersed of my people, with the Father to prepare the way whereby they may come unto me, that they may call on the Father in my name.

28. Yea, and then shall the work commence, with the Father among all nations in preparing the way whereby his people may be gathered home to the land of their inheritance.

29. And they shall go out from all nations; and they shall not go out in haste, nor go by flight, for I will go before them, saith the Father, and I will be their rearward.

That great missionary work will be done from the City of Zion, after it is built. The Lord has not sent His Priesthood, under President Johnson, to go out and preach. The honest in heart will find this work if they want it bad enough. But you see what we have lying before us, and it is thrilling to look into the faces of you young people. Zion will be redeemed by the young and the middle-aged. You are among the young. Would you like to go on that great journey? Obey the Gospel; keep all of the commandments; be sweet and clean, pure in heart. Only the pure in heart can go. Clean minds, clean hands, and pure hearts are the qualifications. Make up your mind what you want to do, because the wicked and disobedient are going to be swept off the face of the land. I mean swept off! An overflowing scourge, a desolating sickness, earthquakes, floods, winds, every imaginable desolation is going to be brought into play, and that very, very shortly. We must stand in holy places, in dedicated, holy homes, which should be like temples to us. You young people be obedient to your parents and keep in mind who they are obedient to, or should be -- Leroy S. Johnson.
So, as families, prepare to live the Holy United Order, and then a community of families gather together in one place, under President Johnson. There, their preparation will be completed for that great journey to redeem Zion, and build the great temple, gather Israel, and prepare for the glorious coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the City of Enoch.

It is a glorious picture. Let us always keep it in mind. This is our day, and all of this will be accomplished within the next sixteen years. See where you can fit in you young people. Never forget it, and God bless and help you always. Walk in obedience to your teachers, your parents, and the holy Priesthood in the person of President Johnson, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Dream of Brigham Young Concerning the Spirit of God

I think we have had a wonderful time, brothers and sisters. The only greater thing that we could have had was to have President Johnson with us and hear his words of wisdom and instruction. I would like to, with the Spirit of God upon me, read to you again the dream of Brigham Young at Winter Quarters, February 17, 1847, which I feel should be a fitting close to these services and admonishing us in a way we should go. We are here to be instructed. The great teacher is the monitor within us, the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit of God, that great gift that is given us after we have had faith and repented and become baptized, and received this gift by the laying on of hands; the greatest gift of God to man.

Truth 10:221

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time. President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed him many times, and said to him:
"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be? You have been from us a long time;
Three years.
...we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him. Joseph said:
"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be by and by, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

We all know that Joseph was at his side as he brought the saints across the plains.

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:
"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go. It will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts,

Those are the things by which the saints polluted their inheritances in Zion. So they must not have had the Spirit of God.

...and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the kingdom of God. Tell the brethren it they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in heaven before they come into the world. Our Father in heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion."

You remember, he asked them for counsel on the law of adoption, or the sealing principle.

Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning. He saw where the priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity.

Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

It will solve all our problems.

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people. From it we can learn how important it is to keep the Spirit of the Lord. No man or people can prosper who do not have it as their guide.

So, as I have quoted many times what the Lord told Joseph when he asked why the saints had been driven from the land of their inheritances -- very simple. There were jarrings, and contentions, and strifes, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires in their hearts. By these things they polluted their inheritances. Had they the Holy Spirit of God and been one people -- and that is the unifying principle of the Holy United Order -- they could have gone on. Another effort was made to redeem Zion in 1834, asking for at least one hundred men who could walk with Joseph as one, as one man, without murmuring, without complaining or criticizing or jarring. They could have redeemed Zion. But because they broke that covenant on their way to Zion, to Missouri, the Lord called upon Joseph to tell them that a chastisement was in store for them. Here is what Wilford Woodruff told, a very key point in why they could not do it:

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1898, Page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together. He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us. He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us. He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. They treated him lightly. That is how this people, generally, have treated Leroy S. Johnson, with his profound wisdom in the sermons that he gave us and that we now have to help and guide us.

You have not realized my position before the Lord. But there is a chastisement before this camp." He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels. In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here, another there.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand

In his mercy.

...to stay it, and I came very near falling by it myself."

Fourteen men died of the cholera and others nearly so. Out of it, though, were chosen the leaders of the Church, the Twelve Apostles, first Quorum of Seventy. The camp then largely returned to Kirtland under the commandment to finish the temple and build it for an endowment from on high, which they received in April of 1836. Within a year, or a little more, the temple was polluted. Half of the Twelve apostatized, and they had to go to Far West and join the saints who had been driven out of Jackson County, Missouri. From there they went on to build up Nauvoo to build another temple, after a terrible imprisonment of the Prophet and some of his brethren. But they were driven out of Nauvoo. Brigham Young had to send some brethren across the river to dedicate it, and then go and leave it and see it destroyed. There is not a temple standing today that can be used, among this people or the Church. We are now standing with great and terrible judgments at our very feet, and little time, if any, to repent, as Brother Johnson said.

I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, if you think you can get revelation direct from God because your husband does not happen to be acting properly; you brethren think you can get revelation from God because you do not think President Johnson is acting properly, you are sadly mistaken. President Leroy Sunderland Johnson is the personal representative of God upon this earth. He is the mouthpiece of God through whom revelation is given to the people. He holds the keys of the sealing powers and of the holy Priesthood. The power of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, and the only channel through which we can receive it is through that Priesthood and the keys which that man holds. So if we want to get the Spirit of God and keep it, we had better find the fountainhead and be very near him, and go forward to your salvation and exaltation, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

His Testimony Concerning President Johnson's Suffering;
We Will Be Brought to the Test

I appreciate the sentiments, the testimonies of these brethren that have spoken to us today. The Lord has been with us and I acknowledge His Spirit and hand in this meeting so far, and pray that I may enjoy the same Spirit and influence in what I have to say and do here today.

These things that Brother Woodruff Steed spoke of brought memories of how this place was built. I consulted with President Johnson all the way through with the plans, which were also drawn up by Sam Musser. Lloyd, have these beams bowed any? ["No."] There you go. [Laughter] Bowed, I meant. [Laughter] I think you told me that this roof was built to withstand three feet of snow and winds of ninety miles per hour. Is that right? ["That is right."] And the foundation, built as Brother Woodruff spoke of regarding his place.

I suppose you are all aware that the Wasatch Fault is five hundred feet away from here. You know that gully down there? They have built about ten houses down in that hole, which I once bought to get the water right out of it. Then the state engineer crossed me up. So I sold it again for the same money. There is a fault on both sides of that hole. What do you think? Well, the Lord prompted me to buy this place in the first place and I am grateful that the Lord has made use of it for a meeting place for the saints, and for a school for our children, and other purposes. We have some storage of grain here. I would like to see the third bin filled up.

So I just feel to give thanks to God, as He has directed us here. And I appreciated then, the labors of some of the brethren from the south, as well as my own sons and others who pitched in. We have twenty-two thousand square feet of floor space here. We built a meeting house, and a house around it. And praise be to God that we have been able to enjoy some wonderful times here, and some bad times. Brother Johnson used to say when he had failures in his crops or what not, "I was blessed with a failure in crops," acknowledging the hand of God in all things, all things being done for our good.

I see a great parallel in the life of Leroy S. Johnson with that of the Prophet Joseph Smith, who, as I feel to testify, is at the elbow of President Johnson. President Johnson has been suffering more than we know. I have asked if I could share it with him. I know one or two other brethren who have said the same. He has said, "No, I must do it alone."

At the time he called on me to administer to him, May 5th of 1979, after having come down with the shingles, he said to me, "God has a purpose in this." I told him, "I believe it." We have all seen what those purposes were and are continuing to be, bringing out what is in the hearts of the people who claim to be a part of this work, whether for or against him. "If you are not for Me," said Jesus Christ, "you are against Me." Brother Johnson has said the same thing. But I think a little parallel here would be worth reading to you.

D.& C. 122

1. The ends of the earth shall inquire after thy name, and fools shall have thee in derision, and hell shall rage against thee;

This is a revelation to him in a letter written from Liberty Jail where he had been suffering with several of his brethren.

2. While the pure in heart, and the wise, and the noble, and the virtuous, shall seek counsel, and authority, and blessings constantly from under thy hand.

3. And thy people shall never be turned against thee by the testimony of traitors.

What is left of this division has proven that.

4. And although their influence shall cast thee into trouble, and into bars and walls, thou shalt be had in honor; and but for a small moment and thy voice shall be more terrible in the midst of thine enemies than the fierce lion, because of thy righteousness; and thy God shall stand by thee forever and ever.

5. If thou art called to pass through tribulation; if thou art in perils among false brethren; if thou art in perils among robbers; if thou art in perils by land or by sea;
6. If thou art accused with all manner of false accusations; if thine enemies fall upon thee; if they tear thee from the society of thy father and mother and brethren and sisters; and if with a drawn sword thine enemies tear thee from the bosom of thy wife, and of thine offspring, and thine elder son, although but six years of age, shall cling to thy garments, and shall say, My father, my father, why can't you stay with us? O, my father, what are the men going to do with you? and if then he shall be thrust from thee by the sword, and thou be dragged to prison, and thine enemies prowl around thee like wolves for the blood of the lamb;

7. And if thou shouldst be cast into the pit, or into the hands of murderers, and the sentence of death passed upon thee; if thou be cast into the deep; if the billowing surge conspire against thee; if fierce winds become thine enemy; if the heavens gather blackness, and all the elements combine to hedge up the way; and above all, if the very jaws of hell shall gape open the mouth wide after thee, know thou, my son, that all these things shall give thee experience, and shall be for thy good.

8. The Son of Man hath descended below them all. Art thou greater than he?

9. Therefore, hold on thy way, and the priesthood shall remain with thee; for their bounds are set, they cannot pass. Thy days are known, and thy years shall not be numbered less; therefore, fear not what man can do, for God shall be with you forever and ever.

Joseph's time was set, and he had to seal his testimony with his blood, a savior to his people. President Johnson's days are many yet, for I believe with all my heart and soul that he is destined to prepare a people for the redemption of Zion and lead us there, as I have said before. He has been a savior to all of you who are under the sound of my voice, and all of those in the south who are standing by him. There is a far greater percentage of people down there with him than there are here who have been coming out to these meetings. But thank God for this day and we are now facing great perils. The sifting is going on. I don't expect every person here to continue to stand by him. We don't know what we will do when these trials and tests are finished. Of course, they will go on and on.

I don't know if I read it here or in Priesthood Meeting, but I would like to read a testimony or prophecy of Heber C. Kimball.

JD 4:375  Heber C. Kimball  August 16, 1857  SLC
There will also be a day when you will be brought to the test -- when your very hearts and your inmost souls will melt within you because of the scenes that many of you will witness. Yes, you will be brought to that test, when you will feel as if every thing within you would dissolve.

Can you imagine that? Do not think you have got it made yet.

Then will be the time you will be tried whether you will stand the test or fall away.

I have not a doubt but there will be hundreds who will leave us and go away to our enemies.

He was speaking of his time then, and it was fulfilled.

I wish they would go this fall: it might relieve us from much trouble; for if men turn traitors to God and His servants, their blood will surely be shed, or else they will be damned, and that too according to their covenants.

Brother Brigham would rather go to battle
Brother Leroy would rather go to battle,
...against the whole world with three hundred men filled with the Holy Ghost, than to have the whole of you, except you are united with us; and I am sure I would.

I feel like Heber.

The day is to come when one shall chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. When that day comes, the Lord will make the enemies of His people flee as if there were thousands after them, when there is only one; and that is the way that God will deal with our enemies. The day of God Almighty is at hand, when He will show forth His power, and when He will deliver His people from all their enemies.

So I want to leave you again my testimony regarding President Johnson. I know he is indeed a Prophet of God, the mouthpiece of God, the fountainhead of the Holy Spirit of God, and the only one through whom revelation can come to this people. There is never but one on the earth at a time upon whom this power, the sealing power, and the keys of this holy Priesthood are conferred -- never but one on the earth at a time! He is that man, and will see us through to the Millennium. And I bear this testimony in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
President Johnson asked me to speak today as long as the Spirit dictates. I pray for that Spirit and that he will pray for me, because I desire with all my heart to do and say only that which is dictated by the Spirit of God from him to me. And he has that Holy Spirit of God, the Spirit of revelation with him all the time. That is my faith and confidence in him who is my head, and whom I desire to serve and be one with him as he is one with God. Could I ask more?

So that we may understand a few things, brothers and sisters, that have been spoken of by our President in his sermons, let me remind you that you and I will be judged out of those books. He has said so. Joseph Smith said:

"Another parable put He forth saying, [which parable has an illusion to the setting up of the Kingdom in the world also], The Kingdom of Heaven is likened unto a man which soweth good seed in his field, but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also; so the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst thou not sow good seed in thy field? From whence, then, hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up? But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

Remember that!

Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn."

The Prophet applied this parable which has application in our time to the larger view by saying:

Now we learn by this parable, not only the setting up of the Kingdom in the days of the Savior, which is represented by the good seed, which produced fruit, but also the corruptions of the Church, which are represented by the tares, which were sown by the enemy, which His disciples would fain have plucked up, or cleansed the Church of, if their views had been favored by the Savior. But He, knowing all things, says, Not so. As much as to say, your views are not correct, the Church is in its infancy, Remember that!

...and if you take this rash step, you will destroy the wheat, or the Church, with the tares; therefore it is better to let them grow together until the harvest, or the end of the world, which means the destruction of the wicked,

And that has an application to our time, which President Johnson has warned us of. And the wicked shall be destroyed and swept off from the face of this land of Joseph, of North and South America, to make room for the return of Israel, the Ten Tribes, the City of Enoch, and from a division in the days of Peleg. Let me go back:

As much as to say, your views are not correct,  and if you take this rash step, you will destroy the wheat,  with the tares; therefore it is better to let them grow together until the harvest,

That is where we are, both as to the history of the world and of the work of the Kingdom of God.

...or the end of the world, which means the destruction of the wicked, which is not yet fulfilled, as we shall show hereafter, in the Savior's explanation of the parable, which is so plain that there is no room left for dubiety upon the mind, notwithstanding the cry of the priests -- "parables, parables! figures, figures! mystery, mystery! all is mystery!" But we find no room for doubt here, as the parables were all plainly elucidated.

This has an application to the days of Joseph, and from him on down through to the present day under President Leroy S. Johnson. In 1886, John Taylor, the third from Joseph, holding the keys of power, was visited by the Lord, Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, Jun. An order of Priesthood and Apostleship was set up to keep alive that which was about to be destroyed by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints -- the Celestial and Holy Law of Marriage. And men were ordained after the holy order and put under covenant to keep alive this glorious and highest principle of the Gospel in connection with Holy United Order, which must be lived under that holy order of marriage.

Contemplating that a delusion would be given to the Church, which would be accepted by them, the doing away with the practice of Celestial and Plural Marriage, John Taylor provided a group of men placed under covenant: John W. Woolley, Lorin C. Woolley, George Q. Cannon, Charles Birrell, Samuel Bateman, and Joseph F. Smith. These men had to go underground after the signing of the Manifesto.

The marriage of my father and mother, a plural marriage, was performed during those days -- 1908, March 2nd. Father took a third wife and they had to go underground. But my father stayed true to his covenants, and he vouchsafed them to me in 1938. After he came from the underground, serving faithfully in the Church again, he sent me on a mission. That is how things were in those days, the days of John W. and Lorin C. Woolley, who survived all of those men -- two left -- and they began to talk and teach. In the meantime they were continuing to perform sealings under the Celestial Law, seeing that children were born under that covenant, which was made to the effect that they should do so until the coming of Christ in glory.

So John and Lorin called others to this order of the Priesthood by the revelations of God. Among them -- I just as well name them all -- Leslie Broadbent, John Y. Barlow, Joseph W. Musser, Charles Zitting, LeGrande Woolley, and Louis Kelsch. John and Lorin Woolley sowed the good seed in coming forth with the fullness of the Gospel in the late twenties and early thirties of this century, John W. Woolley having presided as the one man from 1887 until December 1928. These and others were designated to fill up the Priesthood Council.

Let us remember that Jesus chose twelve, one of whom would betray Him. And so, in Joseph Smith's day, twelve were called. Half of them apostatized within two years -- Apostles of Jesus Christ, chosen and ordained by the Prophet Joseph Smith and the Three Witnesses to the Book of Mormon. Joseph had to cut those men off. They were called by the voice of God through the Prophet. Half of them, at least, apostatized in 1837, or around that time. Brigham Young had to deal with Twelve Apostles, of whom he was President. He had to chastise and correct them. He made the statement that he had not been able to get them together and united in thirty-two years. And if I am not mistaken, he didn't even have them together for the last thirteen years of his administration. So being ordained an Apostle does not make a man infallible or immune to apostasy.

To bring it down to our time and this Council that was set up by John W. and Lorin C. Woolley, they sowed the good seed. And while they slept, or when Lorin was ill, the 1880 Revelation of Wilford Woodruff was brought forth by Leslie Broadbent and Joseph W. Musser and published as the word of God. This was the sowing of the tares.

I speak now from what has been told me by President Johnson, and I feel to speak by good authority when I speak. Joseph Musser was told not to publish the 1880 Revelation anymore, and when it came out again in part in January of 1940, John Y. Barlow, who had given that instruction, took Leroy Johnson up here to Salt Lake, met with Joseph. John said to Joseph, "Why did you do it?", when they came into his office. Leroy Johnson was not ordained yet. This was in 1940, early. But John could only rely on Leroy Johnson to bring him up here. Others begged off. So John and Joseph went into Joseph's office. What they had to say was not revealed to me, but afterward, Joseph continued to publish the 1880 Revelation -- the Four Hidden Revelations, as well as parts in the Priesthood Issue.

But the one in 1940 was what brought it to a head between John and Joseph. But John did not have anything done about it. This work was in its infancy, and to have plucked out the tares then may have destroyed the work. And so it was put to silence as far as John Y. Barlow was concerned. He wanted to live to correct it, but he said Leroy Johnson would have to do it at the proper time and in the due time of God. So, on March 18, 1978, the Lord told Leroy Johnson to correct some very serious things that had been over this pulpit and the one in Salt Lake, part of which I played on a tape to you folks last time I was here, put out by Alfred Olschewski.

So now we are in the day of the harvest. The tares are being plucked up. President Johnson has been required to act by the Lord by handling those who are clinging on to that 1880 Revelation and trying to destroy the revelations of God through Joseph Smith, Jun., in particular, Section 132 verse 7.

D.& C. 132

7. ...there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power,

The sealing power.
7. ...and the keys of the holy priesthood are conferred...

President Johnson has called these men to account for changing the word of God. The tares are being plucked up, and we are at the very edge of the great destructions that are coming upon the wicked which must be swept off the face of this land. Some of the worst and greatest are going to take place in Salt Lake Valley. You will see them soon. And it is almost too late to repent in order to be protected from these destructions, these forces that are going to be brought to bear and are increasing in the land from east to west in this nation, and on these two continents -- earthquake, flood, lightning, hail, all the rest; but above all, an overflowing scourge, a desolating sickness, a desolating sickness, and other desolations, He says in Sections 45 and 112. I have it on good authority that the Doctrine and Covenants has been repudiated by the Church as applying only to the people in their day, in the days of Joseph.

Brother Johnson said I could go on for an hour if I wanted. Do you want to hear the rest? Sometimes it is not well to say some things under certain conditions, but I think it is time we heard this. Jesus, talking to His disciples, the Twelve, who had asked Him when He would come again, spoke thus:

D. & C. 45

28. And when the times of the Gentiles has come in a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness. And it shall be the fulness of my Gospel;
29. But they receive it not; for they perceive not the light and they turn their hearts from me because of the precepts of men.

30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

Brother Johnson told me that was done in 1890. The Gospel is now to Israel, the Jews.

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.
32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations;
Do you know what a desolation is? Complete destruction!

33. ...yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

34. And now, when I the Lord, had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.

35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, but when all these things shall come to pass, you may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.

36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you --

37. Ye look and behold the fig-trees and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;

38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.

President Johnson has told us here and in Salt Lake that the first thing that had to be cleaned up was the Priesthood Council, and the House of God. Section 112 speaks of that.

D. & C. 112

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me,

Does that ring a bell?

26. ...and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

Does that ring a bell? From there it shall go forth to the Church of Jesus Christ, of which we are true members, whether they like it or not -- the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. And because they have blasphemed in the midst of His House, they are going to be destroyed first, and the judgments will take place in a concentration in the areas where the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is established.

I hope I am not saying more than I should, but these are the words of Leroy S. Johnson, for whom I am glad to be spokesman. And he has said lately, "It is almost too late to repent and clean up and become pure in heart." It takes time. "If we are guilty of the least of these commandments, we are guilty of the whole," saith the scripture.

Now, I do not want to take anymore time, brothers and sisters, but this is how these things have been revealed to me through the Prophet and through the Holy Spirit of God, which has confirmed it. And I pass it on to you, praying God to have mercy on our souls, that we may be found standing in holy places, where God may be justified in protecting us. These are the words of our Prophet. So take notice, I pray, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Johnson Is Buying This People with a Price Through Suffering; The Sifting Continues

President Johnson is going to speak to us today, and I always like to see him have the last word. I desire to say a few words today, and pray the Lord will put words in my mouth and quote the Prophets who have gone before. I desire the Spirit of God above all else as I try to speak words of comfort and love to you. God so loved the world that He gave His Only Begotten Son. He loved His children. He had to go through an experience when He came to this earth to make it possible for His children to be born in mortality, His spirit children, to come and have bodies and fulfill the creation of this earth and all who should come and belong to it as far as they would.

In His change from immortality and Godhood, our Father Adam suffered more than we know. He was a God. He had to fall and go through that change, constituting the Fall, in order to make it possible for His children to come after Him, that they might follow Him. As many as would or could, would become Gods or become like Him, because He had gone through this kind of existence before. It seems, and I am sure, that it takes these Gods, our Father Adam, Michael, who had to fall; and it took Jesus Christ, another God, to come and raise us from that Fall in order to become like our Father and Himself. And so, under the plan of the Gods, Jesus having chosen the better part in that Council of the Gods, He was sent forth in the meridian of time to bring about the resurrection, to raise us up from the grave.

It seems that it is required of the more righteous to suffer, a righteous suffering. I am not talking about a suffering for sin. But it did require a suffering of our Lord Jesus Christ to overcome the effects of the Fall, when our glorious mother Eve had to take the first step in bringing about that Fall.

I am going to read the words of John Taylor to help us understand the nature of suffering. I am getting down to the kind of suffering that our Prophet has had to go through, and is going through. And it isn't finished yet. There is a chapter in the Mediation and Atonement of our Lord Jesus Christ, written by John Taylor, that I felt impressed to read to you. It speaks of the things that I have been mentioning in my weak words.

Mediation and Atonement  Chapter 21  Page 148

The Redeemer Himself, when tabernacling in the flesh, said to His disciples on the Eastern Continent, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein." -- Luke, xviii, 16, 17. And after His crucifixion and resurrection He repeated this same admonition to His Nephite disciples: "And again I say unto you, Ye must repent, and be baptized in my name and become as a little child, or ye can in no wise inherit the kingdom of God." -- 3 Nephi, xi 38

That is what President Johnson has been preaching to us lo, these many years.

Without Adam's transgression those children could not have existed; through the atonement they are placed in a state of salvation without any act of their own. These would embrace, according to the opinion of statisticians, more than one-half of the human family, who can attribute their salvation only to the mediation and atonement of the Savior. Thus, as stated elsewhere, in some mysterious, incomprehensible way, Jesus assumed the responsibility which naturally would have devolved upon Adam; but which could only be accomplished through the mediation of Himself, and by taking upon Himself their sorrows, assuming their responsibilities, and bearing their transgressions or sins. In a manner to us incomprehensible and inexplicable, he bore the weight of the sins of the whole world; not only of Adam, but of his posterity; and in doing that, opened the kingdom of heaven, not only to all believers and all who obeyed the law of God, but to more than one-half of the human family who die before they come to years of maturity, as well as to the heathen, who, having died without law, will, through His mediation, be resurrected without law, and be judged without law, and thus participate, according to their capacity, works and worth, in the blessings of His atonement.

Again, there is another phase of this subject that must not be forgotten. From the commencement of the offering of sacrifices the inferior creature had to suffer for the superior. Although it had taken no part in the act of disobedience, yet was its blood shed and its life sacrificed, thus prefiguring the atonement of the Son of God, which should eventually take place. The creature indeed was made subject to vanity not willingly, but by reason of Him who hath subjected the same in hope. Millions of such offerings were made, and hecatombs of these expiatory sacrifices were offered in view of the great event that would be consummated when Jesus should offer up Himself. With man this was simply the obedience to a command and a given law, and with him might be considered simply a pecuniary sacrifice: with the animals it was a sacrifice of life. But what is the reason for all this suffering and bloodshed, and sacrifice? We are told that "without shedding of blood is no remission" of sins. This is beyond our comprehension. Jesus had to take away sin by the sacrifice of Himself, the just for the unjust, but, previous to this grand sacrifice, these animals had to have their blood shed as types, until the great antitype should offer up Himself once for all. And as He in His own person bore the sins of all, and atoned for them by the sacrifice of Himself, so there came upon Him the weight and agony of ages and generations, the indescribable agony consequent upon this great sacrificial atonement wherein He bore the sins of the world, and suffered in His own person the consequences of an eternal law of God broken by man. Hence His profound grief, His indescribable anguish, His overpowering torture, all experienced in the submission to the eternal fiat of Jehovah and the requirements of an inexorable law.

The suffering of the Son of God was not simply the suffering of personal death; for in assuming the position that He did in making an atonement for the sins of the world He bore the weight, the responsibility, and the burden of the sins of all men, which, to us, is incomprehensible. As stated, "the Lord, your Redeemer, suffered death in the flesh; wherefore he suffereth the pains of all men;" and Isaiah says: "Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows," also, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all," and again, "He hath poured out his soul unto death, and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sins of many;" or, as it is written in the Second Book of Nephi: "For behold, he suffereth the pains of all men; yea, the pains of every living creature, both men, women and children, who belong to the family of Adam;" whilst in Mosiah it is declared: "He shall suffer temptations, and pain of body, hunger, thirst and fatigue, even more than man can suffer, except it be unto death; for behold, blood cometh from every pore, so great shall be his anguish for the wickedness and abominations of his people."

Now listen to this:
Groaning beneath this concentrated load, this intense, incomprehensible pressure, this terrible exaction of Divine justice, from which feeble humanity shrank, and through the agony thus experienced sweating great drops of blood, He was led to exclaim, "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." He had wrestled with the superincumbent load in the wilderness, He had struggled against the powers of darkness that had been let loose upon him there; placed below all things, His mind surcharged with agony and pain, lonely and apparently helpless and forsaken, in his agony the blood oozed from His pores. Thus rejected by His own, attacked by the powers of darkness, and seemingly forsaken by His God, on the cross He bowed beneath the accumulated load, and cried out in anguish, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me!" When death approached to relieve Him from His horrible position, a ray of hope appeared through the abyss of darkness with which He had been surrounded, and in a spasm of relief, seeing the bright future beyond, He said, "It is finished! Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." As a God, He descended below all things, and made Himself subject to man in man's fallen condition; as a man, He grappled with all the circumstances incident to His sufferings in the world. Anointed, indeed, with the oil of gladness above His fellows, He struggled with and overcame the powers of men and devils, of earth and hell combined; and aided by this superior power of the Godhead, He vanquished death, hell and the grave, and arose triumphant as the Son of God, the very eternal Father, the Messiah, the Prince of peace, the Redeemer, the Savior of the world; having finished and completed the work pertaining to the atonement, which His Father had given Him to do as the Son of God and the Son of man. As the Son of Man, "Adam" is "man".

...He endured all that it was possible for flesh and blood to endure; as the Son of God He triumphed over all, and forever ascended to the right hand of God, to further carry out the designs of Jehovah pertaining to the world and to the human family.

And again, not only did His agony affect the mind and body of Jesus, causing Him to sweat great drops of blood, but by reason of some principle, to us unfathomable, His suffering affected universal nature.

"World upon world, eternal things, Hang on thy anguish, King of kings."

When he gave up the ghost, the solid rocks were riven, the foundations of the earth trembled, earthquakes shook the continents and rent the isles of the sea, a deep darkness overspread the sky, the mighty waters overflowed their accustomed bounds, huge mountains sank and valleys rose, the handiwork of feeble men was overthrown, their cities were engulfed or consumed by the vivid shafts of lightning, and all material things were convulsed with the throes of seeming dissolution. Thus was brought to pass that which was spoken by the prophet Zenos: "The rocks of the earth must rend; and because of the groanings of the earth, many of the kings of the isles of the sea shall be wrought upon by the Spirit of God to exclaim, The God of nature suffers." [1 Nephi, xix, 12.] And it is recorded, that so confessed the Centurion, and they that were with him watching the body of Jesus. For when they witnessed the earthquake, and the other things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, "Truly this was the Son of God." So also was fulfilled that which is written in the prophecy of Enoch:

"And the Lord said unto Enoch, Look; and he looked and beheld the Son of Man lifted up on the cross, after the manner of men; and he heard a loud voice; and the heavens were veiled; and all the creations of God mourned; and the earth groaned; and the rocks were rent; and the Saints arose, and were crowned at the right hand of the Son of Man, with crowns of glory; and as many of the spirits as were in prison came forth, and stood on the right hand of God; and the remainder were reserved in chains of darkness until the judgment of the great day." -- Pearl of Great Price.

Thus, such was the torturing pressure of this intense, this indescribable agony, that it burst forth abroad beyond the confines of His body, convulsed all nature and spread throughout all space.

The statement previously quoted, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all," could only be in reference to the transgression of our first parent, who, acting as the progenitor and head of the human family, assumed a responsibility not only for himself, but for all of his seed; for the whole of the human family not having then been born, could not be responsible, personally, for acts that transpired before they had an existence on the earth. But as children inherit blessings from their fathers, so it would also seem that they must inherit curses, or share in their calamities. The Lord, in speaking to the children of Israel, said He would visit "the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate" him; and furthermore "a bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the Lord, even to his tenth generation." This ostracism or punishment could be for no personal act of their own, for they had no part in the sin of their parents; any more than Adam's progeny had in the original sin or transgression. But it seems to be a principle admitted, that if they share the blessings accruing to their father for righteous acts, they must also share the condemnation for acts that are unrighteous. Hence comes in the atonement of the Messiah, which amply covers all of these acts, and more than that, for as Paul says: "But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offense of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ; hath abounded unto many." Hence we say, as above, the atonement covered more, apparently, than the transgression; for Adam, without the transgression, would have had no increase. That transgression opened the way for the increase, as stated by Eve, "Were it not for our transgression, we never should have had seed, and never should have known good and evil, and the joy of our redemption, and the eternal life which God giveth unto all the obedient." That being the case, all children born among any people, not having arrived at the years of accountability, are saved through the atonement of Jesus Christ, as stated by Moroni:
"Little children cannot repent; wherefore it is awful wickedness to deny the pure mercies of God unto them, for they are all alive in him because of his mercy. And he that saith, that little children need baptism, denieth the mercies of Christ, and setteth at naught the atonement of him and the power of his redemption. Wo unto such, for they are in danger of death, hell, and endless torment. I speak it boldly, God hath commanded me. Listen unto them and give heed, or they stand against you at the judgment-seat of Christ. For behold, that all little children are alive in Christ, and also all they that are without the law. For the power of redemption cometh on all they that have no law; wherefore, he that is not condemned, or he that is under no condemnation, cannot repent; and unto such baptism availeth nothing. But it is mockery before God, denying the mercies of Christ, and the power of his Holy Spirit, and putting trust in dead works." -- Moroni, viii, 19-23.

So, brothers and sisters, in a way, certainly not in the degree that Jesus Christ suffered, our Prophet now under our peculiar circumstances -- he having been sent to prepare a people, call them to repentance and prepare them for the redemption of Zion -- he is, in my humble opinion, buying us who will follow him and keep the commandments which God has given him to deliver unto us. He is buying us with a price, as Jesus did for the whole world; this now, in the Saturday night of time, when the great Millennium is about to dawn upon us. I think he continues to suffer because we are not doing as he says. Certainly, that can't go on, and there is going to be more and more sifting among this people until he has that people who love him and will keep his commandments. All that he is going through is required of him by the Lord. I know this as I know I live. I would to God I could help him bear it. But as he told some of us, "I must bear it alone."

I do not know what more to say. But I love him, and I fear only to offend him. President Johnson said to us many times, he fears no man. "I fear only to offend God." That he will not do. He will go on to do this great and mighty work that the Prophets from Adam till now have wanted to live to see. What a glorious day, a great but a dreadful day we live in. God help us to be faithful and true and love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and think of him [President Johnson] as God over us, in the flesh. How can we say we love God whom we cannot see if we love not our brother, our Prophet, whom we can see?
Just a few verses from Mosiah 15. It explains why, or how Jesus was able to say to the brother of Jared when He appeared to him, and as He was able to say to the Nephites when He appeared among them, "I am the Father and the Son." There is a great mystery involved, but let us take the words as far as the Lord has been willing to reveal them to us.

Mosiah 15

1. And now Abinadi said unto them: I would that ye should understand that God himself shall come down among the children of men, and shall redeem his people.
2. And because he dwelleth in flesh he shall be called the Son of God, and having subjected the flesh to the will of the Father, being the Father and the Son --
3. The Father, because he was conceived by the power of God; and the Son, because of the flesh; thus becoming the Father and Son --
4. And they are one God, yea, the very Eternal Father of heaven and of earth.

They are one. Brother Johnson tells us plainly in his sermons, as Brigham Young said, Adam fathered Jesus Christ through Mary. Adam, our Father and God, redeemed Jesus, or raised Him in the resurrection. Does that help a little? Let us take an example, then, from the life of Jesus Christ; Adam, who was more remote from our time; and the example of Joseph Smith, Jun., one of the Gods of this earth, standing in the office of the Holy Ghost, Witness of the Father and the Son; and the example of this great and noble man, Leroy Johnson, who is with us now, and who shall be renewed and go on to lead his people to the redemption of Zion, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Only One Apostle Holds the Keys;
How the Atonement Benefits Man

What shall I say but thanks be to God that we have been brought into the light, by this living Prophet who has been sent among us? Section 20 tells us an Apostle is an Elder. But there is only one Apostle who holds the keys, and I am content to be an Elder under that keyholder. All I want is to be one with him. Then I will have a part with him.

John Taylor has put into words what is in my heart today. If it wasn't for John Taylor and his work -- the Lord Jesus Christ and Joseph coming to him to set in motion this great work in which we are engaged, that the Prophets might be fulfilled, the promises of God granted to His people -- we would be in a sad state. God has restored this order of the Priesthood, this one man rule. And let us remember, Peter, James, and John; three came. Someone described to say, "You see, it is plural." But Peter was that one man, and two Apostles were one with him; and they restored the holy Melchizedek Priesthood and the holy Apostleship, under the Holy One of Israel.

After having discussed the resurrection of the body, and some other profound principles -- John Taylor is very profound in this book, the Mediation and Atonement, which I read out of last time -- but there is another chapter along the lines as I am now thinking, that I think I want to pass on to you.

Mediation and Atonement Chapter 25 Page 179

The next question for us to examine is, How, and in what manner are men benefitted by the atonement and by the resurrection?

We learned how this atonement was accomplished in a most incomprehensible way, how He could bear the pain of us all.

In this, that the atonement having restored man to his former position before the Lord, it has placed him in a position and made it possible for him to obtain that exaltation and glory which it would have been impossible for him to have received without it; even to become a son of God by adoption; and being a son then an heir of God, and a joint heir with Jesus Christ;

Do you get the import of that?

...and that, as Christ overcame, He has made it possible, and has placed it within the power of believers in Him, also to overcome; and as He is authorized to inherit His Father's glory which He had with Him before the world was, with His resurrected body, so through the adoption, may we overcome and sit down with Him upon His throne, as He has overcome and has sat down upon His Father's throne. And as he has said, "I and the Father are one," so are the obedient saints one with Him, as He is one with the Father, even as He prayed:
"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one;"

Glory.

...I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me." -- John, xvii, 21-23.

Think what has been lost in some Apostles. Now there are only two left, but God is going to have more, those who will be one. And listen to this:

_Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, and through faith in Jesus Christ, they rise to the dignity and glory of the Godhead, even to be Gods; as it is promised:_

"Him that overcometh,
This is in the Book of Revelations, three different items.

"Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. -- Rev., iii, 12.

Again, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne." - - Rev., iii,21.

Yet again, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." -- Rev., xxi, 7.

To do this we must be clean every whit, pure in heart. The Holy Spirit of God cannot dwell in unclean tabernacles.

_Hence, through His atonement, believers in Christ, and those who obey His law, partake of His glory and exaltation, and are inheritors of the Godhead; whilst those who do not obey His law although resurrected cannot inherit this exaltation; they are raised from the dead, but cannot inherit a celestial glory without being obedient to a celestial law,

How often we have heard our Prophet call upon us to live the Celestial Law, to inherit the highest degree of glory in the Celestial Kingdom.
...and thus we come again to a scripture quoted before. Jesus said, "Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem."

This New Jerusalem is spoken of in Third Nephi, the twenty-first chapter; after having described this servant, this marred servant of God, and what is going to be accomplished. I will not take the time to read it again. He has been marred, and he is suffering because of them who would not believe him. These are deep and profound things, brothers and sisters. Look at the great rewards, the faith and faithfulness, obedience to the Celestial Law, and being one with our head, who is god over us. It really sounds simple to me, but how it is done, the principles involved in it, as has been read before, are incomprehensible to us in our present state. There are some things that must be revealed in holy places, cannot be revealed in other than holy places.

As the Father hath power in Himself, so hath the Son power in Himself, to lay down His life and take it again, so He has a body of His own. The Son doeth what He hath seen the Father do: then the Father hath some day laid down His life and taken it again; so he has a body of His own; each one will be in His own body; and yet the sectarian world believe the body of the Son is identical with the Father's.

Gods have an ascendancy over the angels,

Now listen to this:

...who are ministering servants. In the resurrection, some are raised to be angels, others are raised to become Gods.

Which will you have?

These things are revealed in the most holy places in a Temple prepared for that purpose.

So we have much to prepare for. God help us and bless us that we may indeed go down that road to Zion with Leroy S. Johnson to redeem Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Move as by a Hair in Obedience to the One Man Who Holds the Keys

I am grateful, my dear brothers and sisters, that I have been able to attend these sessions, following the occasion of the birthday celebration of our Prophet. I had a wonderful time and I simply want to add my testimony to the things that have been governing my life since my close acquaintance and association with President Johnson. I have had many testimonies of brethren that I have associated with, that I have been talking with, who have come to me to talk with me, following visits with President Johnson, and they have been wonderful testimonies to prove that if we will follow our head, God will take care of us and blessings will follow. I pray the Lord to bless me in the remarks I shall make. I have always found a great deal of comfort and strength in reading this item of Erastus Snow, Journal of Discourses, volume 24.

JD 24:158 Erastus Snow June 24, 1883

The Latter-day Saints have not been gathered from the different nations of the earth, and brought together in these mountains to worship man, nor to serve man, to be their slaves, nor to be obedient unto man, and if anybody has such an idea or intention they have got hold of the wrong people. The people who are gathered here are not the people calculated to do such a thing. The faith we teach throws everybody upon their own responsibility; they are at liberty to act and choose for themselves, and all will be held responsible before God for their faith and conduct. The free agency of man is and always has been a prominent doctrine in this Church, and no one advocated it more strongly than the Prophet Joseph Smith. The free agency of man is inseparably connected with intelligence, The Holy Ghost is pure intelligence.

...as the revelations of God in the Doctrine and Covenants plainly and explicitly declare, that all intelligence is independent. Without this agency there would be no self-existence. And because of this agency, which existed in eternity before the worlds were, with intelligent beings, with our spirits when they existed in the spirit world -- through the exercise of this agency Satan fell, and all those who clung to him and rebelled against our Heavenly Father. Brother Cannon has impressed us with the idea that obedience to correct principle, believing in the truth and living it and obeying it, is as good an evidence of independent thought and character -- and perhaps a little more so -- than to be disobedient; that no man, woman or child will be more independent by rejecting the truth, by disobeying correct laws and correct principles, than those who receive and obey the truth with contrite hearts.  Brother Cannon speaks of President Young and President Taylor, and other good men, our leaders, being led, as it were, by a hair in obedience to the Priesthood,

That expression carries a tremendous meaning to me. It simply means we are led by the Holy Ghost, and following the instructions of the man who is called to be the mouthpiece of God in just simple exercise of agency, in a pure and true way.

Brother Cannon speaks of President Young and President Taylor, and other good men, our leaders, being led, as it were, by a hair in obedience to the Priesthood, which implies simply obedience to truth and to correct doctrine, and to righteousness. This is the explanation the Prophet Joseph Smith gave to a certain lawyer in his time who came to see him and his people and expressed astonishment and surprise at the ease with which he controlled the people, and said it was something that was not to be found among the learned men of the world. Said he: "We cannot do it. What is the secret of your success?" "Why," said the Prophet, "I do not govern the people. I teach them correct principles and they govern themselves."

That is how President Johnson has led this people, like Joseph did in his day.
And we find, my dear brothers and sisters, going down through the history of this last dispensation, begun by the revelation of the Father and the Son to Joseph Smith, a 14-year-old boy, who obeyed the Father and the Son as it were by a hair. He made his mistakes, as with Martin Harris, and he had to learn obedience by some things he suffered, as we all do. But, my brothers and sisters, we should be so filled with the Holy Spirit of God that we could sense what is meant, what is wanted for us to fulfill our mission and to accomplish the salvation of our souls. When we are led by the Spirit of God, then we are in perfect harmony with our head.

Now, I would like to explain, as I have been led over these last few years, to come to the conclusion as to who and what Leroy S. Johnson is. I spoke this morning about the nature of Priesthood. This man is Priesthood to us. We acknowledge him as keyholder. Priesthood is God; God is Priesthood. He holds the keys and he is as God over us. I do not have to quote Brigham Young or anyone else. We can just see the simple truth of this thing.
Now, as being led as by a hair, by the Holy Ghost, no one, I do not care who he is, no one can progress in this work and gain his salvation, obtaining the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, except through that channel. The Holy Ghost is the Spirit and power of the holy Priesthood. You stand in opposition to that channel and you will lose it, as God lives. We are given the gift of the Holy Ghost, brothers and sisters. Brother Johnson speaks of the gifts of the Holy Ghost, but he is the channel by which we receive those gifts and powers. We obtain our first step by being baptized. Then we are given the gift of the Holy Ghost by the laying on of hands of the Priesthood. He is the keyholder of that Priesthood. Is there anything that you have, that you have not received through that channel? I would like to emphasize something that was read here this morning, that I asked to be read, Section 132.

D.& C. 132

7. ...and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days,
The sealing power.
7. ...and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred,

Verses 45 through 50 speak thus:
45. For I have conferred upon you the keys and power of the priesthood, wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.

The Prophet Joseph Smith is the head of this last and greatest of all the dispensations, in which are gathered all of the keys and powers of the former dispensations: Moses, Elias, Elijah. We are told about what would happen in the case of his being taken. There would be one appointed in his stead, and he would have power to confer it upon him -- Sections 43 and 28. The Gospel and the holy Priesthood of God have been restored for the last time, leading up to the glorious coming of Jesus Christ, and prior to that, the reestablishment and the redemption of Zion, and all of the other parts of the earth are to be brought together. The Lord said to the Prophet:

45. For I have conferred upon you the keys and power of the priesthood, "I, God."
45. ...wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.
46. And verily, verily, I say unto you, that whatsoever you seal on earth shall be sealed in heaven; and whatsoever you bind on earth, in my name and by my word, saith the Lord, it shall be eternally bound in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you remit on earth shall be remitted eternally in the heavens; and whosesoever sins you retain on the earth shall be retained in heaven.

47. And again, verily I say, whomsoever you bless I will bless, and whomsoever you curse I will curse, saith the Lord; for I, the Lord, am thy God.

48. And again, verily I say unto you, my servant Joseph, that whatsoever you give on earth, and to whomsoever you give any one on earth, by my word and according to my law, it shall be visited with blessings and not cursings, and with my power, saith the Lord, and shall be without condemnation on earth and in heaven.

Are these not the powers of a God? As Brigham Young said, he was the power of God over the people, as Joseph said he was; so that those who follow in the footsteps of Joseph take his place as to the people and the completion of the work of this dispensation, with Joseph standing by at the elbow of the one who stands in the place that he stood in at that time, always remembering that Joseph is the head of this dispensation, and all are working under and with him.

49. For I am the Lord thy God, and will be with thee even unto the end of the world, and through all eternity; for verily I seal upon you your exaltation, and prepare a throne for you in the kingdom of my Father, with Abraham your father.

50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices, What sacrifices we have seen our Prophet make, and the suffering; and would to God I could help him bear them. But as he told one brother, "I must do it myself."

50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices, and will forgive all your sins; I have seen your sacrifices in obedience to that which I have told you. Obeying Him as it were by a hair.

50. Go, therefore, and I make a way for your escape, as I accepted the offering of Abraham of his son Isaac.

Then he goes on to tell Emma what was required of her.
58. Now, as touching the law of the priesthood, there are many things pertaining thereunto.

59. Verily, if a man be called of my Father, as was Aaron, by mine own voice, and by the voice of him that sent me, and I have endowed him with the keys of the power of this priesthood, if he do anything in my name, and according to my law and by my word, he will not commit sin, and I will justify him.

60. Let no one, therefore, set on my servant Joseph; And in his place, Leroy S. Johnson.

So, brothers and sisters, we are dealing with life and death, obedience to every word and commandment of God, or disobedience and going back to dissolution. The first will bring increase, eternal increase through perfect obedience, through perfect faith, through perfect love, and becoming pure in heart. We have been told many times why the saints were driven out of Missouri, the place where Zion is to be and is still to be. There were jarrings, strifes, contentions, envyings, and lustful and covetous desires among them. By these things they polluted their inheritances. By these things we pollute our homes that have been dedicated, brothers and sisters. So, what are we going to do about it? I have been asked to dedicate a good many homes lately, and I cannot help but quote that verse in Section 101.

As Brother Johnson told a few of us up north once, we need to dedicate our homes anew, and repent, and make all things new, because there is so little time left now to repent, if any. Out of these books that President Johnson has compiled of his sermons, I am sure we are going to be judged. We were not listening through all of these thirty odd years, thirty-four years; and now the times are upon us, and I fear only to offend God and this, my beloved brother, with whom I am associated in the ministry. So let us settle down, as Brother Johnson said so many times. Get busy, and that immediately. Repent if it is possible, and get in line so that we may be able to survive as the wicked are being swept from off the face of this land. Who are the wicked? The Lord gives us that answer, Section 84.

49. And the whole world lieth in sin, and groaneth under the darkness and under the bondage of sin.
50. And by this you may know they are under the bondage of sin, because they come not unto me.
That seems such a simple thing, does it not? But people do not come unto Him; and they come unto Him, our Lord Jesus Christ, through His mouthpiece.

51. For whoso cometh not unto me is under the bondage of sin.

52. And whoso receiveth not my voice is not acquainted with my voice, and is not of me.

53. And by this you may know the righteous from the wicked, and that the whole world groaneth under sin and darkness even now.
So those are the wicked, who come not unto the Lord through His servant, who is sent in His place. Then, as has been quoted so many times:

54. And your minds in times past have been darkened because of unbelief, and because you have treated lightly the things you have received --

55. Which vanity and unbelief have brought the whole church under condemnation.

56. And this condemnation resteth upon the children of Zion, even all.

57. And they shall remain under this condemnation until they repent and remember the new covenant, even the Book of Mormon and the former commandments which I have given them, not only to say, but to do according to that which I have written --

And which His servant has said.

58. That they may bring forth fruit meet for their Father's kingdom; otherwise there remaineth a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.

Let alone the world and the Church. The Church is next, now that the head of the House of God has been cleansed. So, let us realize where we are, brothers and sisters, and repent and become clean and pure every whit. Section 97 tells us that Zion is the pure in heart. If any of us expect to be with Brother Johnson, as he goes down the road to prepare a people for the redemption of Zion, we had better remember these things and how close we are to being swept from off the face of the land, the wicked who come not unto Him.

God help us, my dear brothers and sisters, to come unto Leroy S. Johnson, the fountainhead of the Holy Spirit of God, the mouthpiece of God, and the holder of the keys of the holy Priesthood, and all of the ordinances of the House of God, holding the keys of our salvation. Let us draw near to him, and be one with him, that we may enjoy what I know he will enjoy, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are Adopted Into the Kingdom of Heaven;
Events of Recent Priesthood History;
The Redemption of Zion

It has usually been that President Johnson has had the last word. Maybe he is going to call on someone after I get through, I don't know. But I have in mind to close my remarks by reading a favorite sermon of his to you, so he will still have the last word. I feel greatly the weight of this assignment, brothers and sisters, and call upon the Lord to shed forth His Spirit upon me, that I may tell the truth, that we may be edified together and drawn together by the Holy Spirit of God, and that we may become one.

To begin with, I would like to read you some grand and glorious words that the Prophet John Taylor holds out to us. After having recounted the work of Adam, our Father, he said:

Mediation and Atonement  Chapter 25  Page 178

_Hence what was lost in Adam was restored in Jesus Christ, so far as all men are concerned in all ages, with some very slight exceptions arising from an abuse of privileges. Transgression of the law brought death upon all the posterity of Adam, the restoration through the atonement restored all the human family to life. "For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." So that whatever was lost by Adam, was restored by Jesus Christ._

Who was the God over Adam while he was upon the earth fulfilling his mission.

_The penalty of the transgression of the law was the death of the body. The atonement made by Jesus Christ resulted in the resurrection of the human body. Its scope embraced all peoples, nations and tongues._
"For all my Lord was crucified,
For all, for all my Savior died."

This is one part of the restoration. This is the restoration of the body. The next question for us to examine is, How, and in what manner are men benefitted by the atonement and by the resurrection? In this, that the atonement having restored man to his former position before the Lord, it has placed him in a position and made it possible for him to obtain that exaltation and glory which it would have been impossible for him to have received without it; even to become a son of God by adoption; and being a son then an heir of God, and a joint heir with Jesus Christ; and that, as Christ overcame, He has made it possible, and has placed it within the power of believers in Him, and obeyers of Him.

....also to overcome; and as He is authorized to inherit His Father's glory which He had with Him before the world was, with His resurrected body, so through the adoption, may we overcome and sit down with Him upon His throne, as He has overcome and has sat down upon His Father's throne. And as he has said, "I and the Father are one," so are the obedient saints one with Him, as He is one with the Father, even as He prayed:

"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one;"

Speaking more particularly of His Apostles.

...I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me." -- John, xvii, 21-23.

Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, Remember, Jesus Christ is the only Heir. Those He died for and those who obey Him, and obey in all things, become joint heirs by adoption.

Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, and through faith in Jesus Christ, they rise to the dignity and glory of the Godhead, even to be Gods; as it is promised:

"Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God,
This is from a revelation to John the Beloved.

...and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. -- Rev., iii, 12.

Again, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne." - - Rev., iii, 21.

Yet again, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." -- Rev., xxi, 7.

Hence, through His atonement, believers in Christ, and those who obey His law, partake of His glory and exaltation, and are inheritors of the Godhead; whilst those who do not obey His law although resurrected cannot inherit this exaltation; they are raised from the dead, but cannot inherit a celestial glory without being obedient to a celestial law, and thus we come again to a scripture quoted before. Jesus said, "Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem."

In the Lectures on Faith, the Prophet Joseph told us that through perfect faith and obedience we may become heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ, by faith and by receiving a fullness of the Holy Ghost.

Gods have an ascendancy over the angels, who are ministering servants.

In the resurrection, some are raised to be angels, others are raised to become Gods.

Which will you have?

These things are revealed in the most holy places in a Temple prepared for that purpose.

So, brothers and sisters, a reading of the Lectures on Faith will tell us exactly what we have to do. I heartily recommend a consideration of a treatment of that booklet, or chapter in the old Doctrine and Covenants, to your families. We have been considering it in my family, trying to teach children and mothers the power of faith. Faith is power, says the Lectures -- "faith", or "power". The attributes of God are faith, knowledge, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. In order to become like God we must attain those attributes. We are here to become like God. That is what John Taylor talks about, in sitting with Him on His throne, after having overcome. There is the rut -- overcoming death, hell, and the devil.

President Johnson mentioned what happened six years ago, March 18, 1978, with the Council. I have told you about it heretofore, but President Johnson delivered to us the word of God in that body of Priesthood. That was that the 1880 Revelation was a delusion, which the Lord permitted satan to give to Wilford Woodruff, that they who love not the Lord might believe a lie and be damned. In response to it, three rejected that which was given as coming from God. Now let me read what the Prophet Joseph said in such an instance:

"All beings who have bodies have power over those who have not. The devil has no power over us only as we permit him. The moment we revolt at anything which comes from God, the devil takes power..."

Just that simple. In another place, page 216, he said this:

TPJS Page 216

If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil. Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine and feel to repent of all my sins.

What Priesthood was it that Brother Johnson just spoke about? What being was it that sat across the table from President Spencer Kimball? The devil. On that occasion of March 18, 1978, three revolted against that which came from God, and at that moment the devil took power. The devil has a priesthood, and he uses it on those who will follow him. This is pretty strong stuff. But I think we must face the truth.

So it is for us, brothers and sisters, to get and keep the Spirit of God at all times. If we are not led by one, the Spirit of God, we are led by the other. There is no neutral ground, once having been baptized, received the gift of the Holy Ghost, the laying on of hands, receiving the Priesthood. You Elders must remember, all of us Elders, that the holy Melchizedek Priesthood is by oath and covenant. The lesser Priesthood is not by oath and covenant. So where do we stand? That oath and covenant is that we obey every word of God. So, we have God with us. We don't worship the Prophet as God, our Father in heaven, and Jesus Christ, whom He sent; but he is God over us. His word is the word of God when he speaks, as he has done all through these many years.

I was thrilled to hear President Johnson say what he did today about doing the work of Enoch. For years, I have said to this people, Leroy S. Johnson is to me as Enoch, and as Moses. He, along with his predecessors in that order of the Priesthood, the keyholder, has been performing the work that Noah performed, having preached for one hundred twenty years, repentance and preparation, or they would be overcome by the flood.

So we are living, my dear brothers and sisters, in momentous times. We little realize how near these judgments are, especially upon this place, this valley, where are congregated the Latter-day Saints. And I dare say they will be visited wherever the Latter-day Saints are congregated. Brother Johnson has made it very clear, we are in truth, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. We are confirmed as such by his instructions. But we have been separated from the Mother Church, which is as a nursing mother, to prepare the righteous, that they may be worthy then to become members of the Church of the Firstborn. That is what we are after. We have been separated, praise the Lord, that we may be instructed by a Prophet, a mouthpiece of God, and lawgiver. We have treated him and the things he has said and done lightly. I don't know how much of a price we are going to have to pay. I fear and tremble to offend him, and the God he represents. I like to say, like President Johnson, I fear no man. I think I can as I stand by his side, which I desire to do with all my heart.

I have borne testimony many times that President Johnson is that marred servant spoken of in the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi. As to these judgments, we can probably expect to have them hit hardest and worst, in fulfillment of this warning by Isaiah, and quoted in chapter 15 of Second Nephi.

Now I want to close by reading something along the lines that have been spoken of here today in Section 101. Joseph Smith had inquired of the Lord as to why the saints had been driven out of Zion. He told them there were jarrings, and strifes, and contentions, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires among them. That is what is keeping this people from becoming united in our families and as a people. It has to be cleaned up. First it begins at the top, and goes from there out, in the Church and among the people. But here is a glorious picture that I would like to paint to you. The Lord said in Section 103, and He had already said in Section 101 that Zion should not be removed out of her place, and would yet be redeemed.

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.
As Enoch had, calling upon the people to repent and prepare for this glorious journey.
16. ...who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.
17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.
That will be accomplished after the great sifting, the great destruction, and the wiping off from the land of Joseph of the wicked, whom the Lord said are they who do not come unto Him.
17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.
19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, Mine angel.
19. ...but not my presence.
20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

Read the last part of chapter 21 of Third Nephi, and we see the fulfillment of that also. I am sure that John Y. Barlow, Lorin and John Woolley, John Taylor, Brigham Young, will be with Joseph and Jesus Christ in that journey. That is how I feel anyway. Joseph is at the elbow of our Prophet. Isn't that enough? Joseph Smith is the head of this dispensation. These men I have named have labored with Joseph at their elbow. Now, what are we going to do about it? It is said in so many places that we must not only say, but do the will of God. As President Johnson has said so many times, quoting Section 1:

D.& C. 1

37. Search these commandments, for they are true and faithful, ***

These commandments in the Triple Combination are the word and will of God and apply to us here and now. The Lord said in those many verses, "What I say unto one I say unto all."

38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken, and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away,

This Doctrine and Covenants was not just for the people in the days of Joseph.

38. ...but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.

39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever. Amen.

God bless you, amen.

Seriousness of Keeping Covenants;
President Johnson Will Be Healed;
Wo Unto Them That Join House to House;
We Have Treated the Priesthood and Celestial Marriage Lightly;
Dream of President Johnson;
How to Abide the Celestial Law of Marriage

President Johnson has asked me to talk to you today. I deeply appreciate the beautiful testimonies that have been borne here today. They came from the heart and soul of those who spoke, and I want to only speak as he would speak, our Prophet. I pray for the Spirit of God to direct my remarks, everything that I may say or read or do.
I constantly keep in mind, brothers and sisters, a statement that President Johnson has told, I suppose, every one of you who have gone to see him. He has told it to us in congregations assembled: "Let us go down the road together as one." No byroads, no passes -- go down the road. This great man has been called to go down the road and lead a people to Zion, a pure-hearted people. That is what he has had in mind. Pure hearts and clean hands are the qualifications required of those who have entered into this work, obeyed all of the initiatory ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and entered into covenants, the keeping of which will bring us into the presence of God, the breaking of which will lead us into by and forbidden paths.

I wish to God we could realize how serious it is to keep our covenants! The Gospel of Jesus Christ is a system of ordinances under which we enter into covenants, which, if we keep each step of the way, will lead us back into the presence of God. Break those covenants and you go apart. So it is a very serious thing to break covenants. There are sins that can be forgiven; we can get back on the path probably, but we have lost ground. If we keep all of our covenants and go straight ahead, we will get down, far down the road that will lead us back to Zion. And I testify to you that Leroy S. Johnson has been called to do just that.

I see in the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi the mission of President Leroy S. Johnson. I want to read the whole thing, because, I promise you today, Brother Johnson will have the last word. I have a sermon of his I am going to read to you. He is unable to get up here and speak to you, and he asked me to take the rest of the time. Start with verse 7:

3 Nephi 21

7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things -- it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

Brother Johnson fulfilled that when he became a savior to this people after the raid of 1953, when he found the means by revelation to have those people released, the children returned to their parents, and they come home to continue the work of preparation -- repentance and preparation to go down this road.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

This man has declared it unto them and many have not believed. They haven't been listening.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them.

I have seen how President Johnson has been marred because of his traducers.

10. Yet I will heal him,

I know this as I know I live.

10. ...for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles, and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

The Gospel has already been preached to the gentiles, and the times of the gentiles has been fulfilled. Now it is a matter of gathering Israel, all of it, including the Ten Tribes, in due time and not long hence.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

Watch the fulfillment of that.

13. Their hand shall be lifted up upon their adversaries, and all their enemies shall be cut off.

14. Yea, wo be unto the Gentiles except they repent; for it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Father, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots;
This in the course of the judgments.

15. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strongholds;

I will divert a little, and see what is going to happen very shortly.

2 Nephi 15

8. Wo unto them that join house to house,
Condominiums, apartments. We are lousy with them.

8. ...till there can be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!

9. In mine ears, said the Lord of Hosts, of a truth many houses shall be desolate, and great and fair cities without inhabitant.

And this fair city will be among them, where these judgments shall come. Wo unto them. Look what they are doing up here, building two 43-story buildings, house to house; what they have been doing all the past years.

3 Nephi 21

15. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strongholds;

By the way, those couple of verses were from the fifth chapter of Isaiah, repeated by Jacob to the Nephites.

16. And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy land, and thou shalt have no more soothsayers;

17. Thy graven images I will also cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thy hands;

18. And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee; so will I destroy thy cities.

And then it goes on to show how the Ten Tribes shall come.

22. ...this the remnant of Jacob, unto whom I have given this land for their inheritance;

23. And they shall assist my people, the remnant of Jacob, and also as many of the house of Israel as shall come, that they may build a city, which shall be called the New Jerusalem.

24. And then shall they assist my people that they may be gathered in, who are scattered upon all the face of the land, in unto the New Jerusalem.
25. And then shall the power of heaven come down among them; and I also will be in the midst.

26. And then shall the work of the Father commence at that day, even when this gospel shall be preached among the remnant of this people. Verily I say unto you, at that day shall the work of the Father commence among all the dispersed of my people, yea, even the tribes which have been lost, which the Father hath led away out of Jerusalem.

27. Yea, the work shall commence among all the dispersed of my people, with the Father, to prepare the way whereby they may come unto me, that they may call on the Father in my name.

28. Yea, and then shall the work commence, with the Father, among all nations, in preparing the way whereby his people may be gathered home to the land of their inheritance.

29. And they shall go out from all nations; and they shall not go out in haste, nor go by flight, for I will go before them, saith the Father, and I will be their rearward.

That is the road he is asking us to go down with him. I bear testimony of that truth in the name of Jesus Christ. Now President Johnson tells us how to do these things. Here is something for us. I read it to my family in class Friday night, but I think we all need it, how we shall live our daily lives. It is in volume 4, page 1348.

I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for the privilege of being here today and for the blessings of health that the Lord has bestowed upon me. I am grateful for the privilege of living in this day and being associated with this people. I hope the few moments I speak that the Lord will bless the words of my mouth.

This is how he opened nearly all of his sermons, so that we can be assured the word of the Lord is being given.

I have had in mind a few things I would like to say, while President Musser and the other brethren have been talking. I would like to make a few comparisons on some of the things that we have been taught from Sunday to Sunday, year in and year out. We try to find a solution for the condition that we find ourselves in today.

We are living in a day when we ought to have an audience ten times as big as this one every Sunday to speak to at this time, this day and age, anxiously waiting for the Lord to send the One Mighty and Strong to set in order the House of God. We have been ever since 1886, almost a hundred years since the great revelation that was given to us, trying to prepare a few people out of the heart's core of the Latter-day Saints to be prepared against the day of visitation as He speaks about it. And we are still laboring, laboring hard for this to transpire.

We have heard a lot about our people living -- trying to live -- plural marriage. But they still live it in a monogamous manner. That is a terrible judgment.

And why is it? We might say the same thing about the Priesthood. We have a great crowd of young men that hold the Melchizedek Priesthood and the Aaronic Priesthood. But how are they treating that Priesthood? The Lord placed us under condemnation way back in 1832. 1832, and the Lord placed us under condemnation and told us that we would remain under that condemnation until we repented and remembered the Book of Mormon and the other revelations that had been given to us. Not only to understand, but to do according to the will of God in all things, that we might be prepared against the day when the Lord is pouring out His judgments upon the wicked. And why is it? It is simply because we won't let loose of the Gentile traditions that are in our homes -- because we can't get our Priesthood holders to completely straighten up so that they can get the Spirit of God and keep it.

This goes right along with the idea of people who have entered into plural marriage and still hold on to the monogamous ways of life. What do I mean? Every man that holds the Melchizedek Priesthood should be in a position to take a woman and treat her like the Lord wants her treated. I want to tell you something. There is not a man that holds the Priesthood that is going to get anywhere in the Kingdom of our Father until he learns how to train a woman to love him and the principles for which he stands -- the principles of salvation.

She has got to love them as he does.

She can clean up her mind and learn to love her neighbor as herself, and he should set the example by learning how to love his neighbor as himself. For the Lord says, plainly, that upon this law hangs all the law and the Gospel -- the law of loving the Lord with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. And how can we love the Lord with all our heart, might, mind, and strength if we can't love our neighbor as ourselves? It is impossible. Think about it.

A woman cannot learn to love her sister-wife as herself and speak cross words to her; but if she does, and her tongue happens to slip, let that be a lesson to her that she has dropped the Spirit of God for a moment. Brother Johnson has said in other places, "When we have lost the Spirit of God, it is very difficult to get it back." That is why the Lord says, "Get the Spirit of God and keep it."

What did Brigham Young say upon this subject? He said that at one time he felt for a fraction of a moment that the Prophet Joseph wasn't capable of leading him in his temporal affairs. But he repented as fast as he thought it. And, he says, "I feel like I held on to it too long then."

This Gospel means more to us -- it means more to us than to keep on going along treating lightly the things we receive. And one of the greatest things among us that is treated lightly is this loving one another. You say, "Oh, I love my brother. There isn't a man among us that I don't love. But he has some ways that I don't like." So, he allows himself to criticize right on the moment. If he loved his neighbor, he would never let that thought enter his mind. Same way with a woman. One of the greatest obstacles I have had to cope with was this very thought in the minds of my own people. But how have I fought it? By practicing what I preach in my own home. If you want to know how Brother Guy lives in his home -- just practice what you preach.

But, you go in and start to criticizing your women right on the start as soon as you enter the house, because this hasn't been done and that hasn't been done. First, do things yourself, and do them properly and tidy up your own home -- your own life, and see how quick the ladies will follow in line with you. They won't only love you, but they will do the things that you ask them to do. You will never have to ask them twice. They will want to do the things you ask them to do. Try it and see.

These are some of the things we have got to conquer in our lives, my brothers and sisters. And you holders of the Priesthood, you should get down to business. I carry this book along with me a lot.

Triple Combination.
It is hard for me to see to read it anymore, but I have worn out several of them, reading. And yet, I haven't got it in my mind so I can quote it like one man told me the other day when he came in to see me. He says, "Brother Johnson, I can quote verbatim sixty-three sections of the Doctrine & Covenants."

Brother Barlow, one time, was talking to a man when I came up. He quoted a passage of scripture, and this man says, "Wait a minute, Brother Barlow. I can quote the verse before that one and the verse after it, and I can tell you where to find it." So, he did. "Very nice," Brother Barlow says, "that's fine. It is one thing to be able to quote the scriptures, but it is another to understand them." The man says, "What do you mean?" Brother Barlow says, "You can't understand what the Doctrine & Covenants says or the Book of Mormon unless you do what Moroni said -- read it with an open mind and a desire to know and understand what it means." Meaning for him to get the Spirit of God before he tries to read it, and then read it with a determination to know and understand what it contains.

Be led by the Spirit of God instead of bringing into play our own traditions, our own interpretations, or wrest the scriptures.

Let us clean up our minds, our bodies, each and everyone of us. I know our people need this doctrine taught time and time again in order to get them to understand it, because there are those among us who are delving into terrible gulfs of muddy water.

One time, when I first met President Barlow, I wanted to know whether he was the proper man to direct me or not. You know what the Lord showed me? He gave me a little dream. I don't tell my dreams very often, but this is a good illustration. A nephew of mine came to me, and he says, "Uncle Roy, I want to talk to you." I said, "Louis, I have a call to go see a friend of mine. If you would like to go along with me, you are welcome." He says, "Okay, I want to go with you." So, we walked down the road a little way, and we came to a body of water -- a great body of water. I said, "I have to cross this water." He said, "We can't go across that." "We can. We can cross it if we want to," I said. So, we waded out in the stream -- beautiful clear lake. We hadn't anymore than gone into the stream until it turned into a torrent of running water. He says, "Let's go back! Let's go back!" "There is no turning back," I said, "Let's go ahead." He says,
"Well, if you can go, I can." And he followed me. Every little while, he would holler, "Let's go back!" I said, "There is no going back now, we are too far in. Let's keep going." So, we kept going, and pretty soon we saw a big building. I said, "That's where I want to go, to that building." Then the water smoothed out, and we had smooth sailing. We swam to the building, walked out of the water, and stood there a moment. Louis says, "What's the matter, my clothes aren't even wet." I said, "No, they are all right. Let's go inside."

So, we went inside and it was filled with women. Aunt Susie was there and some of my folks. They were going about hurrying to get lunch ready. Aunt Susie said, "Brother Barlow and two honorable men of the earth went up this canyon right here." I said, "I'll go up and meet him." So, we started out. We went out, and we saw a little stream of water. I thought we could jump across that easy enough. So, we jumped, but when we lit, we lit in the middle of a terrifically swift stream. It took my feet out from under me. This boy -- I looked back and I couldn't see him anymore -- gone. I said, "Well, I am going to go on anyhow." So, I went on across the river and up the canyon.

I caught up with Brother Barlow and these two men. He introduced me to the men. He said, "I guess our meal will be ready by the time we get home, so we will go on back." On our way back, we came to a real muddy stream. I never saw a more muddy stream than that one was. (And I have seen them pretty muddy when a bank would fall off into the Paria Creek; I have seen it just float off, the water was so muddy.) But that water was running, and right up at the head of this muddy stream was a clear spring of water. Brother Barlow said, "How did you get through this muddy stream?" I said, "I went around to the head of it."

Go up to the fountainhead.

He says, "Go in that little building there and wash and you will be clean. Then you can go with us." So, I went in and took a bath and came out. And I woke up.

To some people, this might not mean anything, but it did to me. It meant a lot to me. It answered my prayer this way: I had asked the Lord for a testimony as to whether I should follow Brother Barlow or not, and the only way I could get to where Brother Barlow was, was to go through tribulation -- great tribulation to get there. And I am still going through tribulation.
How true, more so now than then.

When I met up with Brother Barlow, the first thing we did was try to get him out of trouble when his enemies brought him into court. And we were able to get him out. I was telling my folks the other day, I have been through the '34 raid, raid of '41 (when they had Uncle Rich and Uncle Fred arrested), the raid of '44, and the raid of '53. And we are still fighting for our liberty. We are at the mercy of the Gentiles at the present time. There is no one who knows what the outcome will be. I don't know what it will be. I know that the Lord has fought our battles so far, And how He has fought Brother Johnson's battles, and is still doing so...

...but there is a lot of cleaning up that has got to be done in this place.

We have men here that think no more of their eternal salvation than -- what shall I compare it with -- the pig in the mire -- in the wallow. But they still hold on to their Priesthood ideas and want to go along. We give them women, and they try to force them out of their homes, because they don't like them. Let me tell you something more. I went into a jewelry shop one day where a man was making rings. He was selecting diamonds to put in his rings. He had a whole dish of them there, and he was getting the one that was the right size. He had them in all sizes. I said, "Are these ready for the ring?" He says, "When I get them polished. When I get them properly polished, they will go in the ring. But it takes a lot of polishing to get a diamond ready for the ring." And this is what I think of a woman. A man has got to know the worth of a woman before he can handle her. No man is going to get into the highest degree of glory in the Celestial Kingdom without a wife.

Brother Barlow used to tell a story. He said that a man had a bag of money. He was going down the road and some thieves came up. They surrounded him and took his money away from him. He went running to the officers to get them to help him get his money. They says, "Are you sure you had a sack of money?" He said, "It was my life's earnings. I am sure I had a sack of money. But these thieves took it away from me." Who was the loser? He couldn't recover it, nor the policemen couldn't recover it, because they didn't know where to look nor what to look for. He says this Gospel is the same. We can have the Priesthood bestowed upon us, but if we are not careful somebody will steal it from us, or make us lose it somewhere. And who will be the loser? Think it over.

This Gospel is true whether we believe it or not, Uncle Rich says very often. And that is true. Joseph Smith was a prophet of God. And those men that led the Church after Joseph Smith passed were prophets of God, and when the Church signed away their rights to the Priesthood, the Lord had a way prepared to carry on. And we are still carrying it on.

He had taken care of that in 1886.

We are still going down the road. This Gospel of the Kingdom has got to be lived in its purity. That is the reason that John, the Revelator, is out there with the ten tribes. He is out there training them, Brother Guy said, in the art of war. Do you think they are going to come back here and fight for a people they know nothing about? They know all about us, because they have a man out there teaching them that knows all about what is going on here.

We have three other men working for us.

The Three Nephites.

They are working among their own people; and we don't know anything about what they are doing, because the Lord hasn't revealed it to us. But we do know this: The Lord has said, "I will protect my saints if I have to send fire from heaven to do so." And what is a saint? A saint is a man or a woman who has applied to his or her life the principles of salvation. If you men can't take the lady that is given to you and polish her -- polish her in the line of the principles of salvation, teach her to love you, you will lose her. Then if you are added to, teach her to love those that are placed around you. And when you have two polished, and they have learned to love one another and you are added to -- do the same thing. Because you can't get into the Kingdom of God without a polished woman. There is one thing certain sure, you can't get in there alone. You have got to have a companion -- several of them.

I don't wish to keep you any longer, but I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and a determination above all things to clean up our bodies and our minds, that we might ask God for a blessing and He will give it to us. I know He will give it to us, because I have tried Him out many times. I have tried Him out, and He has come to my assistance. I know He is not very far away. The only thing we need to do is clean up our minds and our bodies, and we will go down the road with Him, because that is what He is seeking for. He is seeking for clean men and women to assist in the establishment of Zion and the redemption of Zion. And it is your privilege to do so if you will just do what the Lord has asked us to do.

Now, I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and with a determination to serve Him and keep His commandments. And I ask it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Truths Concerning the Apostles Who Turned Against President Johnson; Sacredness of the Sacrament; Great Events Ahead

I desire with all my soul that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks, that I may have the Spirit that President Johnson has. I am his, and I want to be like him, as Brother Truman has just described to you. I am grateful beyond words that I can be numbered with President Johnson. I feel very, very much like Heber C. Kimball felt for President Brigham Young. They were indeed one. As Joseph told the people in Nauvoo, of all of the Twelve that were called, ordained, chosen under the direction of the Lord by the Three Witnesses of the Book of Mormon, there was only two who did not raise the heel against him, the Prophet: Brigham Young and Heber C. Kimball.

I am grateful that I am in the company of a great and noble man, Richard S. Jessop, he and I standing with President Johnson on March 18, 1978, when this Priesthood Council was split up. Those are hard words, brethren and sisters, but they are the facts. I am not criticizing anybody; I am not judging anybody. President Johnson commissioned me to tell the story of what had happened while he was so ill. "Be careful," he said. "You must not criticize those brethren who turned away from me. You must not judge them. They have been turned over to the Lord, and He will judge and handle them."

I hope I have carried that out, for I loved those brethren. God knows I did. We participated in ordinances that President Johnson brought to us to enable us to become one. But it failed.
Brethren and sisters, we are on a course now where it appears that we have made our record. There came a point when President Johnson told me those brethren had gone so far they could not turn back. Maybe I am revealing secrets that I shouldn't tell here in this congregation, but I am telling you the truth.

As I explained to the brethren last night, the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the Priesthood of the living God consists of a system or a program of entering into covenants one step at a time, which if we keep, we take the next step; which if we keep, we take the next step; until we come up to see the face of God, after having had our calling and election made sure.

I felt very strongly last night that I should tell this congregation a few of the words that Heber C. Kimball delivered to the saints regarding an ordinance that we participate in at least once a month, the brethren in Priesthood, and which families are counseled to participate in, in their family gatherings. We have all entered into the waters of baptism, after having obtained faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and repented of our sins, and then had hands laid on us for the gift of the Holy Ghost. In that holy sacred ordinance of baptism, we made a covenant that was required of us by the sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ, in which He suffered for us all, and paid for our sins, as well as the original sin, which was part of the plan of God, if we would believe and obey our Lord Jesus Christ and come unto Him. From the beginning of the world, and from the beginning of all worlds that have gone through these things, God has had upon that world one man, bearing the fullness of the holy Priesthood, that that world might be kept together and fulfill the measure of its creation. The Lord tells us in the scripture that this earth was created to fulfill a Celestial order.

What a beautiful thing it is we have in this sacred ordinance of the holy sacrament, which, because of our weaknesses and sometimes our sins, which can be forgiven, we can renew our covenants and go on and not do them again, lest in sinning again, the former sins return. We have taken much, much too lightly this holy ordinance of the sacrament of our Lord's supper, which was instituted to take the place at that time and since, until the ordinance of sacrifice is restored again, which John the Baptist promised Joseph and Oliver should be brought about, when he conferred upon them the holy Aaronic Priesthood. And it should not be taken from the earth again until the sacrifice is offered again unto the Lord.
Now I want to bring to bear upon us the thing that we do when we partake of the sacrament, what is required of us, and how dangerous it is to partake unworthily. This took place on an occasion, I suppose, discussing a Priesthood Meeting.

JD 4:80  Heber C. Kimball  November 9, 1856  SLC

I will now touch upon another point. Our Bishops are now breaking bread, the emblem of the broken body of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and I say let every one who is guilty of sins they have not repented of, and made restitution for, refuse to partake of that bread, also of that water, (which is an emblem of the blood of Jesus that was spilled for the remission of our sins,)

A blood offering was required. I read to you from the work of John Taylor the nature of that offering and what was accomplished by it.

...until they have repented and made restitution; for unless you do, you shall drink damnation to yourselves, until you make restitution. I do not care who the persons are.

If the High Priests, who are clothed with the Priesthood which is after the order of God, should be prohibited a Gospel ordinance, until they make good that which they may have done wrong, why should you as a people partake of these emblems upon any other conditions? If you do you eat damnation unto yourselves, and you will become sickly and pine away and die.

If that were true then, why not now? The Gospel is the same.

Paul, in his first epistle to the Corinthians, 11th chap. and 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th verses, has written as follows: --

"26. For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come.

This is profound.

"27. Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

"28. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread and drink of that cup.

"29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

"30. For this cause many are weak and sickly among you and many Covenant breaking is a most serious sin; the keeping of covenants a most glorious order of salvation and exaltation in the presence of God.

According to Paul you perceive that those who partook of the bread and wine unworthily, became sickly and died; but those that eat and drink worthily will receive life and salvation by partaking.

Don't worry about who passes it, if it has been directed and authorized by President Johnson. All you have to do is worry about number one, yourself. Do you partake worthily, and renew your covenant which you made in the waters of baptism?

...but those that eat and drink worthily will receive life and salvation by partaking. Now, gentlemen and ladies, what do you think of partaking of this bread and this wine in remembrance of the Lord Jesus Christ?

Some of you, doubtless, have been guilty of committing more or less sin, of being more or less rebellious to the authorities of this Church, and to the Priesthood and government of God, and then coming and partaking of this sacrament. Do not such persons comprehend that they are drinking damnation to themselves? Why should persons wish to partake of this sacrament, when they know that they are unworthy?

It is no disgrace to refuse it if we have a spirit of repentance, and come prepared to partake worthily the next time.

I want to warn you and forewarn you not to trifle with this ordinance, nor to indulge in any unwise conduct. I desired the opportunity of telling you my feelings before this bread is dedicated and consecrated. I do not consider that it is dedicated and consecrated to any person that cannot eat it with an upright heart, or to one that will eat it and then live in a course of rebellion against God and His authority.

See how His authority is always brought in? Then he applies it to his family, which I think you all ought to hear.

I do not consider that one of my wives, or one of my children, has a right to partake of these emblems, until they make a full and proper restitution to me, if they have offended me. Why is this? Because I am their head, I am their governor, their dictator, their revelator, their prophet, and their priest, and if they rebel against me they at once raise a mutiny in my family.
A man who honors his Priesthood and is in full fellowship with the Prophet of God, is a god over his family. Why? Because he holds the holy Priesthood, the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, which is after the order of the Son of God, which is after the order of Enoch, which is after the order of Melchizedek. The power of that Priesthood is the Holy Ghost. Joseph made that very plain. We cannot offend President Johnson, brethren, without paying a price, and making restitution.

So let us not treat lightly these things which God has given us, or we do so at the peril of our salvation, or shall we say "exaltation", too. All will be saved from the grave, but only the righteous who will abide the Celestial Law will be exalted with the Gods. Here is a grand principle of the Gods:

As the Father hath power in Himself, so hath the Son power in Himself, to lay down His life and take it again, so He has a body of His own. The Son doeth what He hath seen the Father do: then the Father hath some day laid down His life and taken it again; so He has a body of His own; each one will be in His own body; ***

Gods have an ascendancy over the angels, who are ministering servants. In the resurrection, some are raised to be angels, others are raised to become Gods. These things are revealed in the most holy places in a Temple prepared for that purpose.

So there is a mystery that we have to wait on from the Lord. If we don't start applying these fundamental laws and principles of the Gospel, and of the ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, we are going to be found wanting. How that statement goes through my mind from time to time. Have I been weighed in the balance and found wanting?

So, brothers and sisters, we are standing at the threshold of the greatest and momentous events since the creation of the world. Brother Johnson has used words that have come to mean so much more to me than anything I have ever read, in these words:

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.

18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.

19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.

When they crossed the Red Sea.

20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence,

With Joseph at the head of this dispensation.

20. ...and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

Let us go down the road together on that great journey, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Sad Because of the Suffering of President Johnson,
But Rejoices that God's Purposes Being Fulfilled

I feel very sad at the suffering of our Prophet, who is not able to be here today. But I am always encouraged to know that the Holy Spirit of God, through him, will be with us if we will respond to it or call it forth. So let us continue, brothers and sisters, to unite our faith -- unite our faith -- a living faith in his behalf. But I am very conscious of the fact that he is in the hands of God, and that whatever comes upon him is to serve the purposes of God. That is how it was at the beginning when he came down with the shingles. But I rejoice -- and that is more important in the love and fellowship that I have with and for him -- and trust that I may be able to enjoy his confidence and love.

So, brothers and sisters, we can have a time of rejoicing here because we are under appointment from the Prophet, and carrying on for him. So, let us call upon the Lord to put words in the mouths of those who are called upon to speak, that we may be edified.

For my part I just want to say with all my heart and soul, Amen. And anything I would say would be an anticlimax. And I will let my expression of my affection and love for Leroy S. Johnson in my opening remarks suffice for my part in this exercise. God help us to draw nearer to our Prophet and head, obey his commandments which he receives from our Lord Jesus Christ, and walk down the road on that great journey, Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
It is good to see this hall filled, and good to see that we are all friends. Are we all friends? It is hard for me to talk about our Prophet without some emotion. You little know what he has been through since he came up here to Salt Lake. He came up Wednesday night, and I have been with him every morning since then, except this morning, and what he has borne I can't tell you. So he is unable to be with us today. But last night the Lord God relieved him, and he is resting today, but is unable to be with us. I dare say he is sleeping well at this moment, or at least he was when I called a little while before I came in here. So, brothers and sisters, let us try to keep a spiritual contact with him, because he is the fountainhead of the Holy Spirit of God to this people. So I feel his presence here in spirit, in the Spirit, and I trust and pray that you all do, and that we will have a time of rejoicing here today.

* * * * *

I would to God that President Johnson were here to give us the last word. To begin with, and above all, I want to have the Spirit of God in saying what he has asked me to tell you, and I want to do only what he wants me to do. We are of the same Priesthood. I do not know whether you realize, brothers and sisters, that the Priesthood Council now numbers two. Are there any among you here who are still clinging to what we heard over the years, the last five or six years: "I believe and accept all of the brethren"? That is when we had five, then four, and now there is two. President Johnson has held out the arm of mercy and forgiveness to these other brethren. He did it last winter. But he finally had to come to the point where he had to cast off from his back two men -- brethren whom I have loved, and I am sure Brother Johnson loved them more. But we have had things take place over this last few days. I have been with President Johnson every morning to receive instructions and carry out ordinations and appointments, which are designed, I know, in his mind and mind of God, under the direction of Joseph Smith, Jun., who is already laboring to set in order the House of God.

We have heard from brethren from the south and the north, Canada and Short Creek. I don't know if you have noticed, brothers and sisters, I have taken to call the south "Short Creek". We have two communities there. One has been named Colorado City, and the other Hildale, Utah and Arizona. But the whole thing is supposed to be called Colorado City. Hildale is on Utah side. You can't have a city under the laws of Arizona, unless you have five thousand people. But the community has been changed to show Colorado City for both. But I love the spirit that existed in the first place when it was Short Creek for both. That isn't a bad name.

I was converted to this work when it was "Short Creek". Brother Hammon said he was converted to this work because of the 1880 Revelation. And when the Prophet, in his mercy, let him come down to the community after having left it, he got the name Colorado City tagged on. It is a beautiful city. Colorado, in Spanish, means "beautiful", "colorful"; geographically as "beautiful".

Last night I was asked to tell the brethren that according to the designations that President Johnson has made in a new step for setting in order the House of God, he had ordained Fred Jessop presiding Bishop in the south, in Short Creek. He has already been a Bishop there, looking to the needs of the poor and the needy, the sick and the afflicted, living that pure religion that describes in the Bible -- I don't recall where -- "pure and undefiled religion is to visit the widows and the fatherless". And he has done it, under President Johnson, quietly, sweetly, soundly, simply. There have been three additional Patriarchs called and ordained in Short Creek. Now there are four Patriarchs there. They are Vergel Jessop, David Zitting, Orval Johnson, and Joseph Barlow, my dear friend. So things are being organized there.

In Canada our dear brother, Dalmon Oler, was originally set apart as presiding Elder; now he is presiding Patriarch. And the Bishop there is Brother Winston Blackmore. We have as a Patriarch in this area Patriarch Woodruff Steed. And Brother Johnson laid all the rest of it on me, but I am authorized to call and ordain additional help in this community.

We are to each, in our three different areas, to keep records of tithing and of Patriarchal blessings, and make records of them. Through the years you have been told that if you have had your children baptized, you yourselves, ordinations to the Priesthood, and sealings, to set them up in your own family histories. I am under direction now to gather all of those. I don't know how they will do it in Canada and Short Creek. But we are going to keep the record, and keep it where it can't be found. In all these things, President Johnson has told us to act according to the instructions given us in the Doctrine and Covenants.

But while he is still required of the Lord to suffer, he has wanted to set up this order of things. He is the grand head of us all, the one man who holds the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers. And being in that position, he is the fountainhead, holding the keys of the Priesthood of which the power is the Holy Ghost. Can you see how simple this is? You can't have the Holy Spirit of God, though you may have had it conferred upon you, or hands laid on you for the gift of it, unless you are one with the man who authorized it. You cannot be in opposition to that man after you have received blessings from him, and expect to have the Spirit of God, or a happy marriage, or the exercise of your Priesthood in righteousness. What is involved in this? The grand and holy, eternal principle of oneness.

Jesus Christ is the one who has redeemed us, who is both Father and Son. "I am the Father and the Son," He said. He prayed that His disciples, His Apostles would be one with Him as He was one with the Father. Nothing can be accomplished for the salvation of this world, the celestialization of it, except there finally be one people, one with each other, one with their Priesthood head, and one with God. The power of oneness is beyond our conception. And in a family circle, a Priesthood circle -- as pertaining to us here on the earth -- it is no stronger than its weakest link. This grand principle of a circle, there is no end, no beginning, the example of eternity itself. The enemy to this grand principle, of course, is Lucifer, who would save all by force.

I don't know what more to say, but what I have read to you from John Taylor in the Mediation and Atonement of Jesus Christ, tells us how we can have part with God. Jesus Christ is the only Heir, One Man, above all. All who become one with Him will be joint heirs with Him, and receive all that the Father has, He and the Father. And I can't think of a better way than to read Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith, which tells us about the Godhead.
After having been told what the character and attributes of God are in Lectures Three and Four, (and there is more behind this than you can dream):

Lecture Five

1. In our former lectures we treated of the being, character, perfections, and attributes, of God. What we mean by perfections is, the perfections which belong to all the attributes of his nature. We shall, in this lecture, speak of the Godhead -- we mean the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

This Holy Spirit is spoken of in different names: the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit of God, but it is the same; and, as Brigham Young said, is a personage of Spirit and centers in the Father, and goes out from Him to all of His creations.

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, In this existence.

2. ...made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; It had to be a blood sacrifice.

2. ...or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be.

Did you know that He suffered contradictions like we have to, while He was in the flesh?

2. ...But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father,

One of the sermons of President Johnson says, "Jesus Christ, our Savior, was begotten of Michael, through Mary, and He also resurrected His Son." And he also said it in another sermon.

2. ...And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, The mind of the Father is the Holy Spirit. It centers in Him.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power,

The mind and the spirit are the same. The spirit of man is the mind of man. Heber C. Kimball made that beautifully clear.

2. ...or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments;

Now we are coming down to us, as we have faith in God, the Godhead.

2. ...and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

Now look what is held out to us as the children of God:
From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

The great object of our life, brothers and sisters, is to obtain a fullness of the Holy Spirit of God, which will make us Gods, as John Taylor explained in the Mediation and Atonement.

...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Heirs of God through being joint heirs with Jesus Christ, by adoption. There is the glorious plan of salvation. Now brothers and sisters, in order for us to come to perfect faith, this is the process which I have read to you. Brother B. H. Roberts, summarizing these Lectures on Faith, says this; and the last part of the Section that has to do with the Sixth Lecture on Faith, regarding our knowing that our course is pleasing to God. That is the next Lecture that comes. The modus operandi is given in that Lecture.

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God;

In that process we learn to become like God, as President Johnson has admonished us to do.

...and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, a correct conception of his character, and attributes.

...and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him -- will render faith perfect, And as Section 82 says, "If ye do what I say, I am bound," and we can ask what we will, and will receive it in righteousness.
...will constitute it a principle of power, Perfect faith is power with God; and the power of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Spirit, which makes us one.

...the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born, with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their calling and election sure -- through faith ripening into knowledge.

As the Prophet Joseph Smith says, "There are two Comforters spoken of -- the Holy Ghost, and the personal presence and revelation of Jesus Christ, Himself," who will reveal the Father unto them.

All I am trying to do, brothers and sisters, is to give you the modus operandi - how. Certainly these Lectures on Faith tell us how. I recommend them to your study, further study. I have been able to obtain some collections of those Lectures on Faith from N. B. Lundwall from the Deseret Bookstore. We can get them there.

But we will get nowhere except through faith, by which God created all things, and through the power of His Priesthood. He did it all by faith. Even He operates by faith, as He grows and grows and grows, as He is exalted from one stage to another.

Now in this life, brothers and sisters, we are either increasing or we are decreasing. There is nothing static, nothing in between, no middle ground. So let us all be for our Prophet, who has the mind and will of God, and become one with him, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Beware Our Preconceived Notions;
Education of Children;
Perfect Faith and Love Required

I don't want to prolong this meeting beyond that which President Johnson can be comfortable about. He just advised me that he will have something to say after I get through. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct me as I read some more of the words of President Brigham Young. There are some things here that will probably stand in the way of our own preconceived notions.

Joseph Smith was very strenuous about the people not setting stakes for God, if something that is said or done doesn't accord with their already preconceived notions, which they consider to be true, which may or may not have come from the Lord by the Spirit of revelation to us, and from the things that are taught by the Prophets. I will try and read the part that has to do with the subject involved.

This sermon was given by Brigham Young in the Tabernacle, April 8, 1852. As I recall, it was at that conference when the Adam-God doctrine was promulgated to the Church. In August of that year, he promulgated to the Church as the word and will of God the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage, and had Orson Pratt read the revelation -- Section 132 as it is in our books. Those fundamental and key laws and doctrines of the holy Priesthood, the Kingdom of God, and the keys to our salvation, were given to the people openly at that time. This is on the 8th of April of 1852, and it is headed "Education".

It has been hinted that education commences with the first dawn of knowledge upon the mental faculties of the child, and continues with it till death. But I will trace it a little further back still, and say that education commences with the mother, and the child in connection. I will state the facts in the case, as you will find them to be hereafter, in the education of your children. It depends in a great degree upon the mother, as to what children receive, in early age, of principle of every description, pertaining to all that can be learned by the human family. When will mothers understand this? Knowing that this is the case, I am perplexed with grief when I see such a wanton diversion from the real design of life, it causes me to mourn for my poor, ignorant, fellow mortals, and sometimes almost goads me to anger. I can see mothers pay attention to everything under heaven, but the training up of their children in the way they should go, and they will even make it appear obligatory on the father to take care of the child at a year old. How often is it the case that mothers will say -- "Why, Pa, this child is growing up in ignorance, he is going to ruin. Really, dear husband, what shall we do with him?" I will tell you the truth as you will find it in eternity. If your children do not receive impressions of true piety, virtue, tenderness, and every principle of the holy Gospel, you may be assured that their sins will not be required at the hands of the father, but of the mother. Lay it to heart, ye mothers, for it will unavoidably be so. The duty of the mother is to watch over her children, and give them their early education, for impressions received in infancy are lasting. You know, yourselves, by experience, that the impressions you have received in the dawn of your mortal existence, bear, to this day, with the greatest weight upon your mind. It is the experience of people generally, that what they imbibe from their mothers in infancy, is the most lasting upon the mind through life. This is natural, it is reasonable, it is right. I do not suppose you can find one person among five hundred, who does not think his mother to be the best woman that ever lived. This is right, it is planted in the human heart. The child reposes implicit confidence in the mother, you behold in him a natural attachment, no matter what her appearance may be, that makes him think his mother is the best and handomest mother in the world. I speak for myself. Children have all confidence in their mothers; and if mothers would take proper pains, they can instil into the hearts of their children what they please.

Think on it!

You will, no doubt, recollect reading, in the Book of Mormon, of two thousand young men, Pay attention to this.

...two thousand young men, who were brought up to believe that, if they put their whole trust in God, and served Him, no power would overcome them.

In the Book of Alma.

You also recollect reading of them going out to fight, and so bold were they, and so mighty their faith, that it was impossible for their enemies to slay them. This power and faith they obtained through the teachings of their mothers.

Did you know that? I want to have a little to say about fathers a little later.

The character of a person is formed through life, to a greater or less degree, by the teachings of the mother. The traits of early impressions that she gives the child, will be characteristic points in his character... through every avenue of his mortal existence.

This is the education I wish you to establish in this Church, that mothers may not suppose they are not required to watch over the early education and impressions of their children, but over their husbands to know where they are every moment of their lives, taking special care to order them thus and so, so as to keep them advised and properly instructed all the time, instead of doing that which they ought in their houses with their children.

In another place I read, Brigham Young said, "Mothers, don't inquire, 'Where is my husband?' I say unto you, where are your children?"

I am not quite so strenuous as some of the ancients were, who taught that if the women wanted to learn anything, to learn it at home from their husbands. I am willing they should come to the meetings and learn, but some of the ancients proscribed them in this privilege, and would confine them at home to learn through their husbands. I am a little more liberal than they were, but this is not liberal enough for many of the women, they must also be watching their husbands, while at the same time their children are running abroad in the streets, naked and barefooted, cursing and swearing. And some of them beating up their little brothers and sisters.

What time have I got to watch my children to-day? Does not my duty demand my presence here? Where are my children? Some are here. Where are the rest of them? Perhaps in the streets, with other children, playing, or doing that which is wrong, entirely unnoticed by their mothers. This applies to the community. And then their mother will say -- "Husband, our children will certainly be ruined." Mothers, what do you want? Do you wish your husband to sit all the time in the parlor with you? Yes, and I should suppose, by the conduct of some, you want to be seated over the head of God, Almighty, to rule over Him, and all His kingdoms. If I mention my own family, and use them as an example, I do it that other people cannot complain. Do you suppose that I cannot see faults in my own family, as well as in my neighbors'? I am not so prejudiced in their favour, as not to discover faults in them, neither can I close my eyes upon the faults of my neighbors'.

What faults do I discover in my neighbors' families? I can see their women go off visiting, riding on horseback, attending parties, while their little ones are neglected, and left to run at large in the streets, exposed to the pernicious examples of vile company. Hear it again! The blood of these wicked children will be required at the hands of their mothers! Should your husbands be called out to fight the Indians, or go to the islands of the sea to gather the poor, it is none of your business, when it is their calling to be away from home.

I want education to commence here. I wish you strictly to follow out this principle, and when children are old enough to labor in the field, then the father will take them in charge. If children are not taught by their mothers, in the days of their youth, to revere and follow the counsels of their fathers, it will be hard indeed for the father ever to control them. I know it is so, for it is too true. Mothers will let their children go to the Devil in their childhood, and when they are old enough to come under the immediate guidance of their fathers, to be sent out to preach the Gospel in the world, or to learn some kind of mechanism, they are as uncontrollable as the winds that now revel in the mountains.

It is not for the mother to rise up and encourage her children to fight against their father.

Or against their father's other children.

You know my feelings on this point -- they are pointed, resolute, and strong. And when I undertake to conquer a child who wants to conquer me, it shall be death to him before I yield. I would rather see every child I have, go into the grave this day, than suffer them to rise up and have control over me.

Mothers, if you suffer your children to grow up wild, and uncorrected, when they come into the hands of their fathers, and will not follow their counsels, let them be disowned, and have no portion in the inheritance; let them be disfranchised, be banished from Israel, and not be numbered in the books of the offspring of Abraham. This shall be the fate of my disobedient children, if I have any; and if there are any of my children here today, let them hear it! for if they will not keep my commandments, they shall have no part or lot in the household of faith.

Let education commence at this point, you mothers! and then with brother Spencer and the board of Regents.

And so forth. This was at a meeting of some educators. Don't forget the responsibility of fathers to teach the mothers what to teach the children. If they are remiss in that, I would think the whole family would be in very great danger and jeopardy. So, fathers, remember your responsibility. Teach correct principles, to love one another, and first of all to love God and to become like Him. If they do that, they will do well.

We are all teachers in our families. It gives me great joy when I hear a child of mine express their gratitude for the teachings of their father. I know that I have improvement to make and I need to do better, and I am sure most of us do. But how are we going to become one as families if they do not rally around the father, as this people are being called upon to rally around our Prophet? What good can this family of yours do, and mine do this Prophet if he can't call upon them as a unified family, one heart and one mind; and then have a whole community of Zion, pure in heart, clean hands, loving God with all their heart, might, mind, and strength, and each other as themselves? The great rub in the Holy United Order is now learning how to love one another, our neighbor as ourselves, as President Johnson has said so many times in his sermons.

What we are striving for is perfect faith and perfect love, and I want to close by reading a few pertinent remarks of the Prophet Joseph in two excerpts. One is on perfect faith and the other on perfect love.

TPJS  Page 8

Brother Joseph Smith, Jr., said: We have assembled together to do the business of the Lord and it is through the great mercy of our God that we are spared to assemble together, many of us have gone at the command of the Lord in defiance of everything evil, and obtained blessings unspeakable, in consequence of which our names are sealed in the Lamb's book of life, for the Lord has spoken it. It is the privilege of every Elder to speak of the things of God; and could we all come together with one heart and one mind in perfect faith the veil might as well be rent today as next week,

That is what it is going to take to part the veil and see the other side.

...or any other time, and if we will but cleanse ourselves and covenant before God, to serve Him, it is our privilege to have an assurance that God will protect us at all times.

We are now in great danger of judgments, wars, mobs, floods, earthquakes, and many desolations. And as Section 45 says, many shall stand at that day who will see an overflowing scourge, a desolating sickness, which will cover the land. How can we be protected except we abide in love as families in dedicated homes, dedicated cars, and dedicated labors, all for the Kingdom?

Brother Joseph Smith, Jr., said: That he intended to do his duty before the Lord and hoped that the brethren would be patient as they had a considerable distance (to go). Also said that the promise of God was that the greatest blessings which God had to bestow should be given to those who contributed to the support of his family while he was translating the fulness of the Scriptures. Until we have perfect love we are liable to fall

Have you ever heard it put that way?

...and when we have a testimony that our names are sealed in the Lamb's book of life we have perfect love and then it is impossible for false Christs to deceive us;

We haven't yet seen the miracles of satan, spoken of in "The Coming Crisis". So the tests are only just beginning.

...also said, that the Lord held the Church bound to provide for families of the absent Elders while proclaiming the Gospel; further, that God had often sealed up the heavens because of covetousness in the Church. The Lord would cut short his work in righteousness and except the Church receive the fulness of the Scriptures that they would yet fail.

So the sifting is still going on, brothers and sisters. And what a terrible responsibility rests upon this people to follow the instructions, the revelations, and the proclamations of our Prophet. I know as I know I live that if I walk in his footsteps in the wake of his journey, going down the road, he will take us to Zion. God bless us that this may be our happy lot, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I thought, brothers and sisters, that, in the absence of President Johnson, you might appreciate hearing some of his words, which he gave recently in Short Creek; which bear out some feelings that he has for us, and where we stand, and which he intimates is before us. I would like that to be my sermon here for you today. Maybe I can add something.

If I can get where I can see you a little better -- I assure you, my brothers and sisters, that I am not here to scare you or to bring you anything new; for the Gospel I teach is as old as the Gospel of Christ. I am only taking up what was given to the Prophet Joseph Smith, and he didn't have the opportunity to go on with it. But it has got to go on now!

We were placed under condemnation in 1832, and the Lord has said that He will not be mocked. He said in Section 63, of the Doctrine & Covenants, words something like this: "In the latter days, I will not be mocked." And He will not be mocked! For He has said that His work is one eternal round and He does not step to the right nor to the left. He does not walk in crooked paths. What He has spoken, He has spoken, and He excuses not Himself. So, what I am trying to do is not new; it is as old as the Gospel.

The preparation for the great and glorious Millennium has got to be made. This little stone that Daniel saw cut out of the mountain has started to roll, and I have been told to start it rolling. So that is why I speak to you today. I am starting that ball rolling. It is going to roll from this place on. With the help of God, we will do it!

I want you to understand that I am not afraid of the evil powers breaking through us any more, because they have had their day. The time has come when God will throw a hedge around His people, for He has said He will send fire from heaven to protect them if He had to. We are living in a time when He is preparing the earth for the Millennial Reign, and wickedness has got to be done away with in this land.

He told me three years ago to clean up this city of ours -- start a cleaning system and clean it up. I have been trying to clean it up, but I have had opposition. The opposition has been great, but I am not afraid of it now. I have been assured that I am on the right track, and I am going to go down the road.
I want you to take this to heart. The blessings that have been pronounced upon this place will be realized, and you will see it in the near future. You can go to the record and find out what they are. I haven't time to tell you all that I know and all that I have been told to do. But I am not fooling! I am not lying to you! I am telling you the truth, and I want you to swallow it hook, line, and sinker, because that is what you have got to do! God bless you, amen.

Did you hear and understand it? How many didn't hear and understand it? My message I wish to add to this is that we had better heed and listen to what he has said. At the peril of our salvation, we had better listen and obey. Evil forces are at work and we little comprehend; but in this man carrying out what the Lord had told him to do and to say, the Lord has provided means by which he can accomplish the same.

You heard some things about what happened this morning. Not much detail, but I would hate to be in a position of those men who came and challenged President Johnson this morning. And he finished by saying, "I don't want to hear anymore about this. God has always fought my battles which He has given me to fight."

God will not be mocked, as Brother Johnson told you here. And the means have been provided to enable him to accomplish the work that he has been given to do. That challenge this morning made me sick. I might say that since you are all interested in the United Effort Plan, or should be; and we are going to be called upon to abide the Holy United Order when we go south to the gathering place, President Johnson has said that he is going to clean up that place preparatory for the faithful to come and follow him in abiding that holy order.

I received a letter last fall. I guess I spoke of it on one occasion. I received it in November from some unknown writer (We have a good idea who wrote it), in which both President Johnson and I, our homes and our families were threatened if President Johnson carries out what the Lord has called him to do, to clean up that place. He has cleaned up the Priesthood Council. And in order for the Lord to have a prepared people, He has got to have a place where His people can be gathered where they can live as one, loving one another as ourselves; and above all, our Father and God with all of our heart, might, mind, and strength.
This United Effort Plan was commenced, the papers signed on November 9, 1942. The Trust was commenced around the property which was turned in by Leroy S. Johnson, or left in that Trust. They tried to do it once before under the United Trust. It broke up and they were given the property back. When John Y. Barlow came to Leroy Johnson, he said, "Do you want yours?" He said, "I do not. I consecrated that to the holy Priesthood, and it is going to stay there." His property was the nucleus around which the United Effort Plan was formed. It is administered by five Trustees which were set up at that time, who hold title to the property which was turned in. Others followed Brother Johnson, and we have some fifteen hundred acres there. Brother Johnson now is trying to acquire additional properties to accommodate his people.

At the death of John Y. Barlow and Joseph W. Musser, who were Trustees -- John Y. Barlow being President and Joseph Musser Secretary, with Leroy Johnson as Vice-President and Trustee; Marion Hammon and Rulon Jeffs to fill out the five -- after the death of John Y. Barlow and Joseph Musser, that left three Trustees, a minimum required under the articles: Leroy Johnson, Marion Hammon, and Rulon Jeffs, 1942. At no time has that Board of Trustees ever met and held a meeting when they had any other Trustees.

So acting on this, President Johnson, on the 31st of August, called a meeting of the Board of Trustees and served notice on me and Marion Hammon that we were holding this special meeting to remove a Trustee, as required by the articles in a special meeting called for this purpose. When we met, Brother Hammon came, and Brother Johnson opened the meeting by saying, "We are here by call according to the provisions of our Trust Agreement to remove a Trustee. That Trustee is you, Brother Marion." Then he proceeded by saying, "You may resign, or if you want to hear the merits of the case, Brother Jeffs will tell you." He said he wanted to hear it. I proceeded to tell what had happened, which I don't think I need to go into any detail on for cause. And so he finally decided to sign his resignation; all done very quietly, no voices raised, Brother Hammon recognizing that there were only three Trustees left and that we had never met together in a board meeting to add any other members to the Trust as Trustees. So he acknowledged the case, and said, "Since Brother Johnson doesn't want me on this Board, I will sign this resignation," which he did, and left peacefully.

There had been a document filed under the laws of Arizona declaring who are the members and the Trustees of the United Effort Plan in error, although the Council then existing signed it; but this was in error, as has been acknowledged. On Monday, the 3rd of September, I got a phone call from Jerry Williams in which he said, "Why didn't you call on Alma Timpson?"
Other filings have been made to correct the error, and he need not have been called into that meeting.

They are about now to enter a lawsuit to satisfy that meeting and what was done there. So that is what this was all about. Jerry Williams and Marko Dutson came this morning at 9:00 and said, "We are going to settle this in the court unless you want to do it reasonably and fairly." "Fairly", to them, would call for a distribution of the assets of the United Effort Plan so that they could be treated fairly. I have had this document, the Trust Agreement of the United Effort Plan, in my possession all the time. We have been acting under the advice of counsel, and we know what we are doing. Brother Johnson is doing what the Lord has told him to do. We fear not their lawsuits or anything of the kind.

Jerry tried to tell me in that telephone conversation that they were going to enter into a lawsuit. They contradicted themselves back and forth this morning till you didn't know what they were talking about. They can sue and be damned. God has fought Leroy Johnson's battles, and they should understand and know by now that Leroy Johnson, the Prophet of God, and God are a majority. They can talk all they want about meeting and majorities, but we have followed the terms of it anyway.

As I told you, Brother Johnson's life and property were threatened by a letter they wrote to me in November, if any other family was evicted from the property owned by the United Effort Plan. And all, whoever built homes and went there and were assigned a lot, understood that that property was the United Effort Plan's, and if they left, they left their improvements. These fellows don't seem to want to leave. Brother Johnson has invited them to leave, as you heard in what I played here on the tape. They were asked to leave because of transgression. We can't live in a community together half-God and half-devil, speaking quite plainly, brethren and sisters.

I have been with this thing almost from the very beginning, and I choose to stand by the Prophet. So, just as a little lesson for us, I would just like to add one quotation from Section 121.

D. & C. 121
16. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them.

17. But those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin, and are the children of disobedience themselves.

That is an eternal principle. What they charge others of being, they are guilty of themselves.

18. And those who swear falsely against my servants, that they might bring them into bondage and death --

19. Wo unto them; because they have offended my little ones they shall be severed from the ordinances of mine house.

20. Their baskets shall not be full, their houses and their barns shall perish, and they themselves shall be despised by those that flattered them.

21. They shall not have right to the Priesthood, nor their posterity after them from generation to generation.

22. It had been better for them that a mill stone had been hanged about their necks, and they drowned in the depth of the sea. ***

24. Behold, mine eyes see and know all their works, and I have in reserve a swift judgment in the season thereof, for them all;

25. For there is a time appointed for every man, according as his works shall be.

As we ended our interview with Brother Hammon, both President Johnson and I expressed we had no animosity towards him. We wished him well and that he would get better. But then President Johnson added that eternal judgment: We must forgive all men. "Of you it is required that you forgive all men, but I will forgive whom I will. Judgment is in My hands."

So, I think it would be well if I read a little from Section 64. Brother Johnson referred to Section 63 in his remarks I just played on the tape. God will not be mocked.

D.& C. 64

5. And the keys of the mysteries of the kingdom shall not be taken from my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., through the means I have appointed, while he liveth, inasmuch as he obeyeth mine ordinances.
Standing in his place now is Leroy S. Johnson who has obeyed His ordinances.

6. There are those who have sought occasion against him without cause;
7. Nevertheless, he has sinned; but verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, forgive sins unto those who confess their sins before me and ask forgiveness, who have not sinned unto death.

8. My disciples, in days of old, sought occasion
The Twelve, if you please, of Jesus Christ.
8. My disciples, in days of old, sought occasion against one another and forgave not one another in their hearts; and for this evil they were afflicted and sorely chastened.

9. Wherefore, I say unto you, that ye ought to forgive one another; for he that forgiveth not his brother his trespasses standeth condemned before the Lord; for there remaineth in him the greater sin.
He who will not forgive -- and as was spoken of by Brother Oler -- we carry feelings against one another and do not forgive.

10. I, the Lord, will forgive whom I will forgive, but of you it is required to forgive all men.
11. And ye ought to say in your hearts -- let God judge between me and thee, and reward thee according to thy deeds.
12. And him that repenteth not of his sins, and confesseth them not, ye shall bring before the church, and do with him as the scripture saith unto you, either by commandment or by revelation.

So that is how we have got to get along together, brothers and sisters. "Fear not, though the enemy deride." When you know that your course is pleasing to God -- and Leroy Johnson certainly knows that his is, and I know it is, and you all know it is. And through his faith and our faith in him, a living Priesthood -- have you ever thought of that kind of faith?, a representative of God upon the earth, the mouthpiece of God, the keyholder, holding the keys of our salvation? -- faith in him, and our faith in God who sustains and upholds him? Our faith becomes perfect, my brothers and sisters, only when we know that our course is pleasing to God.

So, getting the Holy Spirit of God, being one, is the answer to all of these problems, the only way by which we can live the Holy United Order and become one with our head as he is one with his Head. Then we will have a part with him. Why do we want to fight him? You can't have the Spirit of God and oppose him. If we have not the Spirit of God, we have the spirit of the devil. That is the kind of thing that we are up against.

I didn't mean to speak so long, but I hope we have got something put into us here today by the remarks of the brethren who have spoken, and I appreciate them all as I know you do. So let us give thanks and give glory to God, acknowledging His hand in all things. There are a few more verses in Section 64 that I am reminded of. This was given when they were just beginning to go to Zion to live the United Order there in 1831.

D.& C. 64

32. But all things must come to pass in their time.
33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, for ye are laying the foundation of a great work.

How great, we do not realize, brothers and sisters.

33. ...And out of small things proceedeth that which is great.

34. Behold, the Lord requireth the heart and a willing mind; and the willing and obedient shall eat the good of the land of Zion in these last days.
35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, That is part of this cleaning-up work.
35. ...and shall be sent away, and shall not inherit the land.
36. For, verily I say that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, wherefore they shall be plucked out.

These Patriarchs have been called and ordained to determine who is of the blood of Ephraim. Let us be obedient, the first law of heaven, to our Prophet. And as we are obedient to him, we are obedient to our Lord Jesus Christ, and our Father. "What ye do unto My servants," said the Lord, "ye do unto Me." God help us to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

If We Love Our Prophet, We Will Love One Another

I pray God to bless me in speaking to you now that I may be dictated by the Spirit of God, which issues forth from Him through our Prophet. The Prophet John the Beloved of Jesus Christ, taught this subject of love, as we have it in the New Testament, better than anything I have read in the New Testament. I would like to pass on, to begin with, some very fundamental principles that he expounded in chapter 4 in his first epistle.

1 John 4

7. Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.

In the Lectures on Faith, the Prophet said that was one of the great characteristics of God. The Lectures on Faith bear it out, the Third Lecture. The first principle of faith is to know God, or to believe that He is, and to know of His character and attributes.

Lecture Three

13. First, that He was God before the world was created, and the same God that He was after it was created.

14. Secondly, that He is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, abundant in goodness, and that He was so from everlasting, and will be to everlasting.

15. Thirdly, that He changes not, neither is there variableness with Him; but that He is the same from everlasting to everlasting, being the same yesterday, to-day, and for ever; and that His course is one eternal round, without variation.

16. Fourthly, that He is a God of truth and cannot lie.

That is what the brother of Jared said to the Lord as He at first had touched the stone with His finger, and he asked the Lord to show Himself to him. Mahonri Moriancumr, the brother of Jared, was asked by the Lord, "Believeth thou the words which I shall say?" He said, "Yea, Lord, for thou art a God of truth and cannot lie. I will believe all that you tell me." Believe me, brethren and sisters, we are going to have to have the faith of the brother of Jared to go through what we are about to go through.

17. Fifthly, that He is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that fears God and works righteousness is accepted of Him.
18. Sixthly, that He is love.

These are the things that are spoken of as what He is. In the Fourth Lecture on Faith we have what is called the attributes of God. These are the attributes of the Holy Spirit of God. So if we have that Spirit with us, we have His attributes. That is how we become like God. So we must have and keep the Spirit of God with us at all times if we are to be saved and exalted.

Lecture Four
5. First -- Knowledge.
6. Secondly -- Faith or power.

We have power with God as we prove to Him that our course of life is pleasing to Him, and that we have been totally obedient unto Him.

7. Thirdly -- Justice.
8. Fourthly -- Judgment.
9. Fifthly -- Mercy.

Which is love.
10. And sixthly -- Truth.

To go back:
I John 4
7. Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.
8. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.

9. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.

Leroy S. Johnson is His servant and personal representative upon the earth today.

10. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.
11. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

Isn't that a good reason to love one another?

12. No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.

Isn't that profound?
13. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.
14. And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God. ***

We know how Jesus prayed to the Father, and it is recorded in the fourteenth chapter of "The Gospel", according to St. John, as quoted by the Prophet Joseph.

17. Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.
18. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.
19. We love him, because he first loved us.

Now listen to this, brothers and sisters:

20. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?
21. And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

I thought it would be well to bring to bear these principles by John in connection with all that has been said here today. We have one who is with us in the flesh, who is like unto God. We can see him, we know him, and we should love him, for he is God over us. And if we love him we cannot hate our neighbor, for he does not. He exhibits all of these attributes of God, the Holy Spirit filling him: Knowledge, faith or power, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. We have seen these attributes in his administrations.

I testify to you, my brothers and sisters, if I can say it in those simple terms that mean so much to me: President Johnson is God over us. How? He holds the keys of our salvation. He is full of the Holy Ghost, the fountainhead, if you please. So we go to the fountainhead if we want the truth. He is the mouthpiece of God. Surely the Lord God will do nothing but He reveal it to His servant, His Prophet. We have had some marvelous revelations received through him from the beginning, and more especially of late. He loves us enough to suffer what he has for the last five and a half years, because of them who would not believe what he told them, written in the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi. God is fighting his battles and will continue to.

President Johnson is trying to prepare a place for the gathering of the saints. The enemy is trying to break that up, the United Effort Plan, around which we must learn to live the Holy United Order. God is going to fight his battles. I know it as I know I live, because He has done it before, many, many times.

So I call upon you, my dear brothers and sisters today, to have faith, perfect faith in the living Priesthood. God is Priesthood; Priesthood is God. By it, through faith, God framed the worlds and brought us here and peopled this earth, which is designed and intended to fulfill a Celestial existence, the highest degree of the Celestial Glory.

So here we are, brothers and sisters, that close to God. You can't say you don't love Brother Johnson and that you love God at the same time. So, let there be peace, love in our families; and may we be one under President Johnson, and a nucleus of the great Millennium, into which he is going to lead us, which I testify of and say unto you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Daniel Jeffs

I feel very humble and pleased in occupying this position, speaking of this passing, of the great event in the life of Daniel Jeffs, son of Hyrum Jessop Jeffs and Cheryl Pearson. It was a great shock to get the word from Hyrum the other night, and I just felt to say, God's will be done. Yes, he was a young, vigorous young man when that age when the Lord has favored many of His sons, as spoken of by Brother Dan, and I have felt very strongly since his passing that God has taken him in his time, everything in its time.

* * * * *

I feel very deeply in this occasion and desire to pass on to you and to this family, this faithful family, the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, in a sermon on life and death, the resurrection and the salvation of children, page 196 of the Teachings.
President Smith read the 14th chapter of Revelation, and said -- We have again the warning voice sounded in our midst, which shows the uncertainty of human life; and in my leisure moments I have meditated upon the subject, and asked the question, why it is that infants, innocent children, are taken away from us, especially those that seem to be the most intelligent and interesting. The strongest reasons that present themselves to my mind are these: This world is a very wicked world; and it is a proverb that the "world grows weaker and wiser"; if that is the case, the world grows more wicked and corrupt. In the earlier ages of the world a righteous man, and a man of God and of intelligence, had a better chance to do good, to be believed and received than at the present day; but in these days such a man is much opposed and persecuted by most of the inhabitants of the earth, and he has much sorrow to pass through here. The Lord takes many away even in infancy, that they may escape the envy of man, and the sorrows and evils of this present world; they were too pure, too lovely, to live on earth; therefore, if rightly considered, instead of mourning we have reason to rejoice as they are delivered from evil, and we shall soon have them again.

What chance is there for infidelity when we are parting with our friends almost daily? None at all. The infidel will grasp at every straw for help until death stares him in the face, and then his infidelity takes its flight, for the realities of the eternal world are resting upon him in mighty power; and when every earthly support and prop fails him, he then sensibly feels the eternal truths of the immortality of the soul. We should take warning and not wait for the death-bed to repent, as we see the infant taken away by death, so may the youth and middle-aged, as well as the infant be suddenly called into eternity. Let this, then, prove as a warning to all not to procrastinate repentance, or wait till a death-bed, for it is the will of God that man should repent and serve Him in health, and in the strength and power of his mind, in order to secure his blessing, and not wait until he is called to die.

I have been deeply impressed with these words of the Lord unto the Prophet Joseph Smith, which I would like to pass on to you as being a guide for us to live together, loving our neighbor as ourselves, and above all, our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength.
5. And the keys of the mysteries of the kingdom shall not be taken from my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., through the means I have appointed, while he liveth, inasmuch as he obeyeth mine ordinances.

6. There are those who have sought occasion against him without cause;

7. Nevertheless, he has sinned; but verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, forgive sins unto those who confess their sins before me and ask forgiveness, who have not sinned unto death.

8. My disciples, in days of old, sought occasion against one another and forgave not one another in their hearts; and for this evil they were afflicted and sorely chastened.

9. Wherefore, I say unto you, that ye ought to forgive one another; for he that forgiveth not his brother his trespasses standeth condemned before the Lord; for there remaineth in him the greater sin.

Where they forgive not.

10. I, the Lord, will forgive whom I will forgive, but of you it is required to forgive all men.

11. And ye ought to say in your hearts -- let God judge between me and thee, and reward thee according to thy deeds.

That is what we all face. Our rewards will be according to our deeds.

12. And him that repenteth not of his sins, and confesseth them not, ye shall bring before the church, and do with him as the scripture saith unto you, either by commandment or by revelation.

And then these grand words:

31. And behold, I, the Lord, declare unto you, and my words are sure and shall not fail, that they shall obtain it.

32. But all things must come to pass in their time.

As this event has in the lives of this good family.

33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, for ye are laying the foundation of a great work. And out of small things proceedeth that which is great.

34. Behold, the Lord requireth the heart and a willing mind; and the willing and obedient shall eat the good of the land of Zion in these last days.
35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, and shall be sent away, and shall not inherit the land.

Think of the deep meaning of that as we proceed in the work of the Lord under President Johnson, our Prophet.

36. For, verily I say that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, wherefore they shall be plucked out.

So Hyrum and his good family, realize that this is the will of the Lord. It has come to pass in its time, and for his good and his eternal salvation, Daniel's. I pray the Lord to comfort and strengthen Hyrum and his family and all of us. These services are for the living. The dead have made their record. We shall be judged according to the deeds done in the flesh. Thank God that He, God, is that Judge. Let us all forgive one another in our relationships, in our labors in this last Kingdom, which is rising as the stone cut out of the mountain, and will fill the whole earth, through the direction of our Prophet.

Now I pray that we may all repent and prepare and go on unto perfection, that we may have the good word passed upon us in the day of judgment: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant. Enter into My rest; sit down upon My throne."

God bless us all that we may continue, carry on, follow the teachings of our Prophet and head, for he yearns over us, he loves us. He is here because he loves us and this family. God bless you all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Become One Through Being Filled With the Holy Ghost;
The Holy Ghost Comes to Us Through the Prophet;
Charity

Brother Johnson asked me to say a few words, which I pray may be the words inspired and directed of the Spirit of God. All I feel to do is to follow in the footsteps of Leroy S. Johnson and to be like him and to be his servant. Heber C. Kimball expressed the feelings that I have, and I just want to pass them on to you.
Heber C. Kimball  January 25, 1857  SLC

...every man and woman that will not yield to passion, nor to any evil practice or principle, will become filled with the Spirit of God,

Why? Because he is pure in heart.

...and it will pass from one to another.

Can we understand this, brothers and sisters?

---

October 21, 1984  Sandy

I love Brother Brigham Young

...better than I do any woman upon this earth, because my will has run into his, and his into mine, and there is a free interchange of feelings. There are but few men that will do that, for they generally want their own way and their own will, therefore their wills do not run into ours and the Father's. This free interchange of pure feelings should run through all the organizations in this Church,

This people,

...and through every member in every family through out all our borders.

Israel. So, we see the very great necessity of our individually being filled with the Holy Ghost, as President Johnson is filled with it. That is the channel through which this great interchange of feelings, and our will flows into his and his into ours. What power we would have with God if this were the case with all this people. That is the only power by which Zion can be redeemed. We get caught up in our own wills and ways, desires, and feelings. And in that is perfect confusion.

Now, brothers and sisters, if we will just understand what I have been trying to say to this people, this one man whom God has called to lead His people and prepare a people to redeem Zion, is full of the Holy Ghost. Can we become full of the Holy Ghost? He is the channel, he is the fountainhead of that Holy Spirit, which is the power of the holy Priesthood of which he holds the keys. Do you see how it all fits together? The power of the Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, and we cannot become one except we all have the Holy Ghost. Joseph Smith expressed it this way as far as he was concerned.

Now, I ask all who hear me, why the learned men who are preaching salvation, say that God created the heavens and the earth out of nothing? The reason is, that they are unlearned in the things of God, and have not the gift of the Holy Ghost; they account it blasphemy in any one to contradict their idea. If you tell them that God made the world out of something, they will call you a fool. But I am learned, Said the Prophet,
...and know more than all the world put together. The Holy Ghost does, anyhow, and He is within me, and comprehends more than all the world: and I will associate myself with Him.

And I will associate myself with President Johnson so that I may obtain, through that channel, the Spirit of God. That is how we must all be, brothers and sisters, if we are going to be called up to have a part in the redemption of Zion, for Zion is the pure in heart. All of the teachings of the Prophet Leroy Johnson's have been that we stop our criticizing, our faultfinding, and be one, and have the pure love of Christ. If you want to read the great example of the faith of the brother of Jared, read the third chapter of Ether. I won't take the time to do that now, but close with the words of Moroni. If we can only catch the great meaning of this, this pure love of Christ, which is the Holy Ghost, I think we will come nearer to accomplishing the thing that President Johnson wants to accomplish in this people, a pure people.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

There is our great trouble. We are not meek and lowly in heart so that the Lord can touch us and put His Spirit in us. And we must be one with His servant to be able to do that, His servant. Recently one of these men on the other side asked Brother Johnson, "Are you God?" He very humbly and meekly said, "No, I am His servant."

So with us, he is God over us, being a servant of God, carrying out the words and the will of God. If anything would put fear into a man's heart, that should, and I am sure it did.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart;

We cannot criticize our neighbor or find fault with our neighbor if we are meek and lowly in heart, and know that we, too, are mortal and have weaknesses.

44. ...and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, How Uncle Roy has suffered long these last many years for purposes in the will of God.

45. ...and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

What this man has endured.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,

47. ...and it endureth forever;

The Holy Ghost endureth forever. And that is one of the greatest attributes of the Holy Ghost.

47. ...and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

With faith in our prayers, exertion of the mind, which is the spirit in us, our own spirit. Heber C. Kimball said the mind of man is the spirit of man. And so it must be exerted. Something goes out and up to God through His Spirit, and that is where we have power with God; first of all, knowing that our course is pleasing to Him. That is paramount.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, Filled with this love.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son,
Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;
That ye may become the sons of God;
48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is;
We must be like Him to see Him as He is.
48. ...that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

Testimony of President Johnson;
The Coming Judgments; The Priesthood Line

I ask the Lord to direct me in my remarks here following the marvelous information and instruction which President Johnson has given us here today. This is a very historic occasion. President Johnson is carrying on his work under the direction of President and Prophet Joseph Smith, Jun., who is at his elbow. So this has a marvelous connection, with the great and glorious event that took place in this area.

The thing that has been going through my mind all the way here, is how Joseph is connected with Leroy S. Johnson. We are very privileged to have been able to come with him on this trip, to bring these things to remembrance, the things that Joseph Smith did for us, having sealed his testimony with his blood in the opening of this last and greatest of all the dispensations, in which all the others are brought together through the Lord Jesus Christ. Now we have this great Prophet with us, the seventh from Joseph, who is going to finish the work of preparing a people and leading them back to Zion. And I am satisfied by the revelations of the Holy Ghost to me, that Leroy S. Johnson is that man who the Lord would raise up as like Moses, to lead the people and prepare them first for the redemption of Zion.

The Lord spoke of that great journey where they would be led as Israel was at the time of Moses, when He said that He would send His angel before them, but not His presence. But on this grand and glorious occasion, when it shall soon come to pass, during this period that President Johnson has spoken of today, when the Lord would send forth before that great concourse of people, not only His angels, plural, but His own presence also. "For Zion must be redeemed by power," said the Lord, when the wicked shall be swept from off the face of this land, at what point in all of these great events I know not, but it is going to come. But the great overflowing scourge and desolating sickness which shall sweep through the land; it will accomplish that great work of cleaning up this grand land of Joseph.

The Book of Mormon looked forward to a man with the same name of the tribe of Joseph, who had a double portion through Ephraim and Manasseh.
They shall be led as at the first. I am grateful for the revelations that President Johnson has given us here this day in describing things of the past.
I was not able to hear much of it, but I got some very salient points, which I hope this microphone has recorded. And I pray God to make it available to those who are able to receive it.

This man is being raised up, as was Moses, to lead the children of Israel, to gather them. To Joseph came all the heads of previous dispensations -- Elias, Moses, and Elijah -- to the Prophet Joseph in the Kirtland Temple in March of 1836. The keys of the gathering of Israel were given to Joseph. The sealing keys of Elijah were given to Joseph. Elias, or Noah, goes before these. Those three are mentioned in Section 110 of the Doctrine and Covenants. So, all we need to do, brothers and sisters, is read carefully the revelations of God given to the Prophet Joseph Smith, following the great work of translating the Book of Mormon from the plates, after the first great vision that was given here; the restoration of the holy Priesthood through Peter at the head, with James and John assisting him, restoring the keys of the holy Priesthood upon Joseph Smith. The sealing keys came later through Elijah in the Kirtland Temple.

So, these keys all now, as to the administration of the blessings and ordinances of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, through the Prophet Joseph Smith, the man in the flesh who is carrying this on under Joseph Smith -- who holds the keys of this dispensation and is one of the Godhead, the Witness and Testator of the Lord Jesus Christ and His Father, our Father and God. And he is now one with the Godhead and is taking his place among the Godhead in the heavens, and is still ministering now in the following up of the great work that he was given to do, through the instrumentality of these faithful keyholders, fountainheads, and revelators, following Joseph -- now in the hands of our beloved Prophet Leroy S. Johnson.
I was reading in the Teachings of the Prophet Joseph, on the way here, a letter written to William W. Phelps from Kirtland, after he had received a letter showing a very disparaging spirit, as was a letter of Sidney Gilbert's, and the spirit of which was wasting away Zion, which the Prophet had tried to establish in Independence, Jackson County, Missouri. The Lord manifested to Joseph and his brethren the acceptance by the Lord of their offering, and that they would soon have a visitation. That visitation took place at the dedication of the Kirtland Temple, and the Lord stood on the breastwork of the pulpit and revealed Himself to the Prophet and Oliver.

The next visit after that was in the time, in September 6th and 7th of 1886, when Jesus and Joseph came to John Taylor to see that this great work was carried on, and responsible keyholders to follow, because the Church had given up the fullness of the Gospel and rejected the Lord. There were not very many men who would give the Prophet John Taylor succor and help as he was in hiding.

The next designated head of Priesthood, holding the same keys and power as the Prophet Joseph had, was John W. Woolley, ordained and set apart at that time, along with five others. Surviving that group was John W. Woolley and Lorin C. Woolley. Following him was John Y. Barlow, and following him, designated and having these keys conferred upon him, they, together with the sealing powers of Elijah, upon Leroy S. Johnson.

But we little realize the nature of the work and mission of Leroy S. Johnson, now connected with Joseph Smith, Jun. This is the great and glorious thing that I have got out of this my first time around. I am grateful, Brother Johnson, in having been asked to come. And I feel it grand what blessing I am able to confirm, from the Lord, upon the Prophet Leroy S. Johnson, concerning whom it was revealed to me five and a half years ago, he should survive this terrible illness that came upon him, that would have taken any man his age shortly after it came upon him. He is now fulfilling the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi. Well, he spoke and told them the truth. I am speaking now of those who were close to him, sitting in Council with him. They did not believe him. Yet said the Lord Jesus Christ -- understand who was speaking -- His servant was marred because of them. They would not hear his word on March 18, 1978, and they have separated now. "I will yet heal him." And I know this will come to pass. By what means is the Lord's business; but I know it is coming so that he can go on now in health and strength, and power of the holy Priesthood, the power of God upon him, as keyholder, fountainhead, and revelator to this people. He has the work of cleaning up the House of Israel, cleaning up this nation, cleaning up the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints for the great destructions that are to come to pass. We have some idea of the nature of how the wicked will be swept off from the face of this land. I have this testimony by the revelations of the Holy Ghost to me, and I know that they are just and true.

God bless our Prophet, Seer and Revelator, our keyholder, the fountainhead of the Holy Ghost for this people. That means the power of the holy Priesthood. The power of the Priesthood is the power of God. God is Priesthood, the power by which, through faith, He has created all things and accomplisheth the fulfillment of His word; which I pray may come to pass, and that we will all stand faithful to this great Prophet and leader that we have today. And I feel to dedicate myself and all that I have and am to his service, he being the servant of God and mouthpiece of God. And I pray that we may all learn to be one in our families, and with our families one with him, that he may get his people prepared to redeem Zion. God grant these blessings unto us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Must Become Like God; Beware False Prophets; Wall Daubed With Untempered Mortar Shall Fall;
Spirit of Revelation

I deeply appreciate all that has been said here today. I just wanted to add a little force to some things that have been said here today. Brother Draper mentioned something that had been taught out of the Lectures on Faith. I thought you would like to hear the verse that covers it, and I pray the Spirit of God to direct me in what I shall say and read here today.

Lecture Seven

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness Become like Them,

16. ...is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed;
That is something to contemplate. So all of us poor mortals are facing one of two things.

16. ...and on this hinge turns the door of salvation.

To become like Him is to grow, to increase, have eternal increase; and to be unlike Him is to go down, and down, and to return to native element -- dissolution, to put it very frankly. It is one way or the other -- become like God or become like the devil. That was in the beginning, wasn't it? In the great Council in heaven, one would save mankind if they would become like God, those that He would go to, to redeem and save. The other would force them to become like himself. We wouldn't be like God if Lucifer had been in that position. He would force them to become like him.

We have heard something here about a wall and the mortar that put it together. Would you like to have words in Ezekiel on that matter?

Ezekiel 13

1. And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,
2. Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own hearts,

Note the conditions now.

2. ...Hear ye the word of the Lord;
3. Thus saith the Lord God; Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing!
4. O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in the deserts.
5. Ye have not gone up into the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the house of Israel to stand in the battle in the day of the Lord.
6. They have seen vanity and lying divination, saying, The Lord saith: and the Lord hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

How many times have we heard, "The Lord has not sent them a true Prophet;
He is all through"?

7. Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The Lord saith it; albeit I have not spoken?
8. Therefore thus saith the Lord God; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord God.
For believing the lying prophets. I won't go any further. You know what I am talking about.

9. And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel; and ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

10. Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace; and there was no peace; and one built up a wall, and, lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar:

11. Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12. Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13. Therefore thus saith the Lord God; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

14. So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar,

It has been done.

14. ...and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

15. Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar; and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16. To wit, the prophets of Israel which prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord God.

I think if you had the Spirit of revelation you will understand what I have read. Without revelation, brothers and sisters, there is no salvation. We must have the Spirit of revelation for ourselves, one of the great gifts of the Holy Ghost.
Shall I help us all along by reading from the word of the Lord, and words of the Prophet Joseph, how to obtain the Spirit of revelation? These are the words of the Lord, taking a particular case in point, that of Oliver Cowdery, who had asked the Prophet for the privilege of translating the plates:

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

The foundation, therefore, of the Spirit of revelation is faith -- believing that we shall receive, nothing doubting. Doubting is being spiritually lazy, and expecting to receive an answer without the exertion of the mind. The exertion of our mind is the very foundation of our faith. We have to work and work and work at it. "How do we work by faith?" said the Lord in the Seventh Lecture on Faith. We work our faith by mental exertion, not merely asking.

1. ...believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, The mind is the spirit of man. The heart is a physical counterpart by which you feel.

2. ...by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, Apply unto it.

4. ...and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.

5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember, this is your gift.

Apply yourself. Exert your mind. Well, Oliver went about to try and translate. He failed. He had not the faith, and he didn't work by faith, as the Lord says in these words in the next Section 9.

D. & C. 9

1. Behold, I say unto you, my son, that because you did not translate according to that which you desired of me, and did commence again to write for my servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., even so I would that ye should continue until you have finished this record, which I have entrusted unto him.

2. And then, behold, other records have I, that I will give unto you power that you may assist to translate.

3. Be patient, my son, for it is wisdom in me, and it is not expedient that you should translate at this present time.

4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.

Why can't we confine ourselves to that which we are called to do, brothers and sisters? God will prosper us in it.

5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.

6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought

No mental exertion.

7. ...save it was to ask me.

Merely asking isn't enough. It takes exertion of the mind.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; Isn't that working with your mind?

8. ...then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong;
And we have to recognize that.
9. therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

The Lord told him in the first place:

D.& C. 8

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

No angel came to Moses. The Lord didn't come to Moses. The Spirit of revelation came to Moses and he acted on it, but he had to exert his mind to save his people.

Now to cap it up, the words of Joseph. After having spoken of the First and Second Comforter, the First being the Holy Ghost, the Second being the presence and confirmation of the blessings of the Savior, Himself; after having had your calling and election made sure, he speaks here of the Spirit of revelation.

TPJS Page 151

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you,

Pure intelligence, and that is what causes the burning in our heart and mind.

...it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God,

The Holy Ghost.

...will come to pass; and thus by learning

By learning.

...the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

Do you understand it? Can you understand, therefore, why there is no salvation without revelation? And it is by this Spirit that I came to stand by the head, the fountainhead of the Holy Spirit of God, the Spirit of revelation; first to John Y. Barlow, and next to Leroy S. Johnson. So let us remember what has been told this day by others -- go to the fountainhead. You cannot have feelings against him, find yourself in opposition to that head, and have the Spirit of God. You will lose it as sure as God lives.

The same principle applies to wives as to their husbands who have the holy Priesthood. If he is a good man he will be led by revelation, and you will find out from him; and also having it confirmed by prayer to the God of Israel, through the Holy Ghost which should be in us. It is my testimony that our Prophet is full of the Holy Ghost. That is why he is the fountainhead, and it comes forth from him to accomplish the work that he is sent forth to do, and which I desire to help him to do with all my heart.

I pray that we will all learn these lessons. It is the only foundation on which we can become one; first one in our families, and then that head of the family being one with the Prophet, who stands as God over us, if you please, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all those who pitched in to put up this building in the northwest corner of this property, which is a school building and a storehouse, for the benefit of the children and of the work of the Priesthood. It is marvelous what you have done while I have been away with President Johnson. Thank you very much.

I just want to mention in connection with that, on February 18, 1984 in the Priesthood Meeting, President Johnson was talking about what lay before us, and what was needed for us to redeem Zion, to build the city and the temple. We must become perfected in the arts of living to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and stand close to him -- the arts of building, and the arts of mechanics. That is what we are going to teach out in this building. We are going to have to have builders, mechanics, and men of faith, learning faith by doing. So we are going to try to help these youngsters to be prepared for that great work which is ahead of us. It is not unimportant, and President Johnson means what he says.

Efforts of Apostates Against the Priesthood;
Conditions of Living on United Effort Plan Land; President Johnson's Strong Warning to Apostates
I suppose I am next. I deeply appreciate the very kind and complimentary remarks of those who have spoken a little about me. But I feel to turn the honor and the glory to my Father in heaven and to the glorious teachings that our Prophet has given us; and that I have had a part with him in accomplishing the things that the Lord has set for us to do. I know I can do nothing of myself. I know I can do nothing without the direction and leadership of President Johnson. I am grateful beyond measure for the beautiful family that the Lord has blessed me with, and has made me an instrument in doing the work that we are doing here in this place, which was built as a meeting house in the first place, and is now a school and other things. But I ascribe unto the Lord the praise and the honor for all of these things. I am grateful above all to be standing by our Prophet Leroy Johnson, to be his servant as he is a servant of God.

In some altercations that took place recently, a man asked Brother Johnson, "Do you claim to be God?" He said, "No, but I am God's servant and He will fight my battles." He is going to fight this one and win. It would turn your stomach to read some of the anonymous letters that have come to me lately, sent from St. George and Colorado City. You might be interested in knowing that someone sent a notice to vacate United Effort Plan land in Canada, in Creston, or Lister. That notice was a fraudulent thing and the signatures of President Johnson and myself were forged. They were ordering Brandon Blackmore off of United Effort land. I have the original and it is being turned over to Brother Sam Barlow, who is going to handle it with any authorities that might be involved.

One letter I got said, "You had better not come to Short Creek. It won't be safe unless you have some deeds to give us title to our land." That has been turned over, all anonymous. Another anonymous letter was circulated into the boxes of the box holders in Colorado City (I have to say Colorado City because that is where the post office is), in which they charged that we have over one hundred guns stored in the caves up in the side of the hill there -- automatics, used for adversary purposes, and not for defense. But, as far as I am concerned, it is just like a fly lighting on my head; brush it off. I am with President Johnson. I know the outcome, and I have full confidence that God will see us through. Anonymous letters are cowardly things. The sheriffs' departments in both counties down there just tell us to ignore them. Maybe I am going too far in even mentioning them. But President Johnson on the 11th of last month spoke to the saints in Short Creek, and spoke of a fire that had been lit, and they had better stop it quick or it would not be stopped.
They are adding to the fire now, so we will see what happens.

I want to spend the rest of my time here today playing to you the remarks of President Johnson at that 11th of November meeting in Short Creek. That will be the rest of my sermon.

I am thankful, my brothers and sisters, for the privilege of being here today, and I hope that the Lord will allow me to speak as He desires. I know that if I say anything that displeases Him, I am accountable to Him for it.

He has told us in the scriptures that the reason Zion has not been redeemed before is because men were more afraid of men than God. Now I want you to know that I am God’s servant. I am here and I am accountable for every word that I say and every act I do. I have been accused by our people of doing things that are against the word of God; but I have not done anything but what God has told me to do, and I want you to know it!

The United Effort Plan was organized by the President of Priesthood and others that were in harmony with him many years ago, and it was for the purpose of a holding place for the properties of the Saints and for the Saints to live upon. I have tried to hold it sacred for that purpose. Every man that has a house built upon the United Effort Plan property made promises, great promises, that he would support the United Effort Plan, but we find that some have broken those promises and have gone now to our enemies and got the dogs on us. We have the enemies of righteousness working night and day against us.

These men who have had anything to do with getting information against this people that will bring further persecution upon us had better watch out for they are fighting against God and not me! I am not going to tell you what He will do to you, but you are fighting against God and it is not me that you are fighting against because this is God’s work. He ordained it under the hands of Joseph Smith, the Prophet, and handed it down to us.

All that I have done is try to protect and continue the principles that Joseph Smith put in the Doctrine & Covenants, and my enemies have ruled against me in it. They think they are working against me, but they are not! They are working against God, and God is the Ruler! He said that it is my privilege to forgive every man at the first intimation of repentance, and He will forgive whom He will. I am not accusing any man, but there are those among us who are doing these things, or our enemies wouldn't have the information they are putting out against us.

I won't have to evict anybody else. I have evicted and done what the Lord told me to do. I have evicted those that confessed that they were sinners among our people, and they have moved out. Some have repented, and I am thankful for it. I am thankful that they have come and told me they wanted to repent and do better, and I have extended the hand of fellowship to them; but there are others that have not. They have their minds set to destroy an instrument (the United Effort Plan) that God gave to the Priesthood, and the fire is burning. If they don't go right now and begin to put out the fire they have started, which I doubt they can quench, they are in the hands of God, and God will handle them -- everyone.

Now, a word to the righteous among us. Those who are striving to keep the commandments of God, those who are determined to support the work of God -- the United Effort Plan and the Priesthood--need not worry, for God has a way to accomplish His work.

I had Brother Truman read the 7th Chapter of Moses, in the Pearl of Great Price this morning. I had Brother Parley Harker read the 8th Chapter. We find there that God is a man of His word. He has never said He would do a thing unless He did it. In the Doctrine & Covenants, you will find that God said, "I have said what I have said, and I excuse not myself." I can say the same thing. I have done what I have done, and I excuse not myself. I am not boasting in my strength, for I have done the will of God as He has dictated to me. I have sought all my life to get the Spirit of God and keep it, and He has recognized me in it.

The greatest miracle of this time was when I was sent to Mexico to have my helpers down there come out. Brother Barlow said, "You go down there and send those men (W. Elmer Johnson and Edson P. Jessop) out with their families, and then you pay the bill." How many of you would have taken it up and done it? I said to him, "I'll do it, John." I got up from my seat and started right then, and I didn't stop until I finished the job.
I am not afraid of my enemies because the Lord has said He would protect me, and He will. If they start to lay a hand on me, they had better look out because God is near. Now, I am not afraid of anyone; I am not afraid of man; I am not afraid to talk. This was proven in the days of the raid of 1953 before the lawyers that we hired. They knew I was not afraid to say what I had to say whether it hurt their feelings or not, but they found out that I was a man of my word. That is what God says He is. He is a man of His word.

Now, I pray that every person who has set his mind to the building up and establishing the Kingdom of God and preparing themselves to go back and help build up the City of Zion will have the privilege of doing so, come hell or high water. This is a little bit slang in my language.

There is a man living in Salt Lake City who I have been acquainted with since 1953. He used to live in Detroit, Michigan. He called me on the telephone the day before I went on this trip back to New York. He said, "Brother Johnson, I have heard by the grapevine that you are going on a trip to New York. Now, if you take my advice, I am not as old as you are, but I am more experienced in the ways of the world; and I know that weather back there is worse than you think it is."

Before he went any further, he said, "But, I know you. I know that when you put your mind to do a thing, you do it, come hell or high water."

So I went back and the Lord provided the way. He gave us the covering of clouds to protect us from the heat for the first four days, then He gave us sunshine. We had a little sprinkle one day, but it did not amount to much. Then after while on our way home we had three hours of heavy rain, and then we came out into the sunshine and had sunshiny weather all the way home.

When I got home, I called this man. I says, "I am home now. I am safe and sound." He said, "I knew you would do it, but I worried every minute you were gone."

So, I want to tell you, my brothers and sisters, I am not afraid to do the work of God because I know who God is and how to become like Him. I am here trying to raise up a people to know who God is and how to become like Him. At this hour of time, He has set apart the seventh period of time as a period of peace and rest for the earth for a thousand years, and He is going to do it. He is a man of His word, and He will do it. You might think to our way of reckoning that when the year 2000 comes will be the time for the Millennium to start, but before that time, He said certain things have got to happen. He told the people as far back as Enoch that He is going to do what He said He would do. I don't need to boast, and I am not going to boast, but I am going to do the work that I have been called to do.

I thank you now for your attention. I ask God's blessings to be upon you, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Charity

I am grateful to meet with you all again today, brothers and sisters, and as I said, regret the absence of President Johnson, who, when I told him so, said, "You can read one of my sermons." So I am going to do it. That is the best contribution I can think of to this meeting. I pray for the same spirit in reading it as he had in giving it. This is the grand secret, brothers and sisters.

I deeply appreciate these remarks of Brother Truman. "If ye love Me," said the Savior, "keep My commandments." And I can say with Brother Truman, "Love conquers all." You have heard that statement before. God is love. That is one of His characteristics spoken of in the Lectures by the Prophet. God is love. And Moroni, following some of the same words and sentiments of Paul the Apostle, said that charity is the greatest of all, and defines charity as the pure love of Christ. So, if we love Him we will keep His commandments. He is the Father and the Son because They are one. And He pled so powerfully with His Father that I can't describe it, before He made His great sacrifice: "Make these, My disciples, My friends, one with Me as I am one with Thee, Father." That completes the circle.

I can't think of anything that would keep on reminding you than to follow the seventh chapter of Moroni, which discussed faith, hope, and charity, these three. And the greatest of these is charity, the pure love of Christ. By faith God created all things; by faith we accomplish all things in our own lives.
But that faith must be directed into the channels of the pure love of Christ. What I am trying to say in a very few simple words is, if we have the Holy Spirit of God as our constant guide and companion, we become like God. That is what Moroni was talking about really, when he was talking about charity. These are some of my own remarks first, and I will close with the remarks of Brother Johnson. Go to the 39th.

Moroni 7

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness;

Notice this grand, basic element of meekness throughout all these things that constitute the character of God and the attributes of God: knowledge, faith or power, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. These make God the character spoken of in the Lectures on Faith. He is unchangeable. He is no respecter of persons. He is love. And there are a few other details involved there.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long,

These are things that love or charity are, and what they are not, and a great help to us as we struggle along to attain unto these attributes of God.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
The exertion of the mind and heart.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;

Isn't that what we want? We are His sons in the flesh. But, as John Taylor tells us, we can become heirs of God by becoming joint heirs with Jesus Christ, and thus receive all that He and the Father hath; and thus, may we become Gods, recalling a few passages from the Mediation and Atonement.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, President Johnson has been calling upon us to become like God. That is why we are here, if we want all that the Father hath.

48. ...for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

That takes some doing. Zion is the pure in heart, and by being qualified to go to redeem Zion, we are going to have to be pure in heart, which is another subject of great importance. I leave that with you as my contribution by the Spirit of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I had a particular item here from President Johnson's sermons, just a little short one before I read a sermon.
I doubt very much if this people will be able to be gathered together in audiences like this to hear the word of God in peace. For the time is coming when the saints will be driven into the wilderness, and they will stay there until the judgments of God have passed over. I don't wish to say any more at this moment, but I pray the Spirit of God will rest upon us and upon the speakers who follow me, and that we will determine in our own selves that we will not procrastinate the day of our preparation. God bless you, amen.

As far as I can see, my brothers and sisters, it is a wonderful sight tonight. I understand the rooms are filled,
This, when we were meeting in the Fischer residence in Murray.
...which is gratifying to the Priesthood Council. This is a glorious day in which we live. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks that what I say may be in accordance with His mind and will.

Whenever the work of the Lord has prospered, Satan has tried to stop it by introducing among our people the seeds of destruction. One of the most abominable things in the sight of the Lord is sowing seeds of discord among brethren.

Whenever the work of the Lord has prospered, Satan has tried to stop it by introducing among our people the seeds of destruction. One of the most abominable things in the sight of the Lord is sowing seeds of discord among brethren.

One of the seven things mentioned in Proverbs which God hates.

When I say among brethren, I mean among sisters, also. When we gather together and speak evil of one another, we are sowing seeds of discord. I had a telephone conversation today. In that conversation, I could feel the results of the spirit of discord, or the seeds of discord being sown, not only among brethren, but among the sisters of our people. These are things that hold the work of God back. The Lord is not pleased with a people that will speak evil of one another, or will condemn one another for things that will transpire in their lives.

For example, I am going to relate some of my own experiences to bring out the point that I would like to bring out here tonight. When I first got acquainted with this work and began to work with Brother Barlow, the Lord blessed me with several years of failure.

Isn't that a wonderful blessing -- failure? He said it so many times. Well, you know how failure can work for us if we are honest in heart. We learn to do better, don't we? Or we try again, and again, and again.
I took them as blessings.
There is the difference.
I thanked the Lord every year for the blessings He gave me.

One year, I had a wonderful crop of wheat almost ready to harvest. On this ranch we were renting, we rented about thirty head of cows. We had them up on the reserve. This crop of wheat was almost ready. In fact, we were getting the harvester ready to go into it within a few days. I got up one morning, thirty-five head of cattle, not only our own, but a few extras, were inside the wheat field. They had gone through, and if you know what a herd of cattle can do to a wheat field that near harvest, then you can imagine what took place then. Well, we only threshed a very small portion of that crop. Those cattle just went from one end of it to the other and kept going back and forth. When the harvester went over the field, most of the wheat was on the ground. I thanked the Lord for what we had left. I did not dare complain over it, because I knew if I did, I would displease the Lord.

Another year, we had prospects of a very fine crop, and a drought hit us. Right when we should have had rain, we didn't get it. So the Lord blessed us with another failure. Another year, we had a very fine crop of wheat. We threshed about twenty-two hundred bushels of wheat. We built some nice granaries to put the wheat in. In the evening, when we dumped the last load of grain in the granaries, the Lord blessed us with a lock on it. The government said: "You can't use this wheat."

This is during the war.

You can't even take any of it out for mush or use it for flour or anything else." For two years, they kept the lock on it. So we thanked the Lord for our blessings again. But, because of the effort that we put forth to support the Priesthood and keep President Barlow in his work and keep him going, the Lord finally showered His blessings upon us.

I have related this incident before, but I don't think it will hurt to relate it again. It will bring out the points that I would like to impress upon you people here tonight. The Priesthood sent us into Mexico. We went down there depending upon the Saints in the States to keep us in foodstuff and furnish us means until we got on our feet. The first thing we did was build some houses. We spent about three or four months building houses. We hired the Mexicans to make the adobes for us. As fast as they would dry, we would lay them in the buildings. We made five three-room houses, one five-room house. We got them all ready to move into, when the gentleman that was furnishing us the property served notice on me that the houses were now ready for us to move into if we would accept him as head of the Kingdom of God in the earth. Otherwise, we could move on. So, you can imagine what we were up against. I knew very well that I couldn't get to the States to bother the Priesthood with it, so I answered him on the spot. I said, "Brother, I am not going to accept you as head of the Kingdom of God on the earth. As far as I am concerned, you are nothing more than I am, a servant of God here trying to build up and establish His work." I said, "I know where the keys of Priesthood lie, and that is it. I will not accept your offer." He said, "All right, you know the road." So, the next day, we were on the move. We left our work behind and went off.

We went up into the mountains, rented a piece of land, and raised a good crop of corn. We got it just to the state when we could harvest the ears from it, and lo! and behold, we got up one morning and found about twenty-five head of range cattle had broken the gate down and got inside. You can imagine what happened to our corn crop.

The next year we had a crop of oats. We planted oats for hay, and it was a good crop in that country. We harvested a very nice crop for the amount of land we had in. We harvested the oats, put it in a stack, went out and rented a baler and started to bale the hay. Our creditor came in with a truck and hauled off a couple of loads. We did not have any way of hauling the hay away, so we stacked it like they stack bales of hay in this country. One morning it clouded up and started to rain, we could not bale on account of the wet. It kept raining. It rained every day. When the rain was over, we had two big stacks of oat hay that was wet clear through to the ground. We could hardly find any hay, when the storm was over, that was worth baling. The bales we did have stacked were almost ready to set fire. So, we lost that crop.

I made a trip to the States. I saw Brother Barlow, and we tried to raise some money to help pay off our grocery bill down there, which was beginning to get very large. But we failed to get enough money together to pay what we owed. Brother Barlow said, "Roy, you go down and send your brother, Elmer, and Edson Jessop out of there. Tell them to get back to the States, then you pay the bill." It was seventy-five thousand pesos at that time. That meant I would have to go into debt another fifteen or twenty thousand pesos in order to put in another crop and then depend upon the Lord to bless us. The boys left and came out. All I could do was follow the dictates of the Spirit and let the Lord work.

Isn't that beautiful?

But, mind you, I didn't spend all my time sleeping. I spent very little of it sleeping. But I DID spend a lot of time on my knees asking the Lord to inspire me what to do. I followed the dictations of the spirit, and the result was that when fall came -- by the way, my agreement with the people I rented from was that I was to give them half the crop off the place -- anyway, when fall came, I was able to pay off the bill, pay for the rent, and come home with three hundred and fifty dollars in American money. That is what the Lord does for us when we do what He has said for us to do -- seek first the Kingdom of God in its righteousness and all these other things will be added thereto.

Now, you can figure what I got out of that crop that year. I paid half of the crop to the man that owned the land, and paid over eighty thousand pesos that we owed besides. We had about one hundred twenty acres of land planted. I never, in my life, saw such a crop of grain. Oat hay in that country was worth the same as alfalfa hay in this country. We got for our hay six pesos a bale which was about seventy-five or eighty cents a bale in American money. But we paid off the bill.

The Lord can do many things, if we will place ourselves in a position so that we can receive His Spirit, but we cannot receive it by sowing seeds of discord among ourselves. It is one of the greatest evils that can come among people. When we sow the seeds of discord, it causes feelings. When we have hard feelings towards one another, we are not living the second commandment, which the Lord says is next to the first. The first is to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind and strength, and the second is like unto it, Love thy Neighbor as Thyself.

Now, there are other evils that are creeping in among this people. I was reading an editorial out of the Millennial Star the other day which related the early history of England, when the spirit of adultery entered in among the people. The article related one incident, to put over the point that the writer wanted to put over. There was one city of six thousand people that had forty-seven "houses of ill fame." The government condoned it, because if they ruled against these "houses" it would incur the displeasure of the leading men of the nation. The government did not want to disturb the minds of men, so they encouraged it. It brought the curse of God upon them. Their enemies came in and almost destroyed the nation. About that time, there was a lady came into power, one of the queens of England. The first thing she did was make a law that anyone caught in adultery or condoning it should be put to death.

That is like the Law of Moses.

Hundreds of people were put to death in England because of that thing, but she cleaned up the nation. It became one of the greatest nations of the earth -- one of the most powerful nations of the earth and is today.

But this spirit of adultery is creeping in among this body of people. It is getting such a hold that it is worrying the Priesthood Council. We don't know how to handle it, and the only way we can handle it is to get the Spirit of God and stamp it out. Wherever we find it cropping out, we are going to stamp it out, if we have to pick the people up and move them out. Something of recent memory.

But we are determined to clean this people up that the Lord might smile upon us, and that our name throughout the world might not be blemished. Our people have become world renowned because of our cleanliness as far as venereal disease is concerned. But you let this spirit of adultery continue among our people, and how long can we be clean? Just about long enough for the Lord to cause some calamity to come in and disrupt us, and carry us out.

The spirit of adultery was the cause of the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. It was the cause of the downfall of Rome. I have no doubt that when the rest of the records are given to us, we will find that it was the downfall of the Jaredite nation and also the Nephites. If we will just go through our own history, we will see what has happened to men since the days of the Prophet Joseph who have been guilty of the sin of adultery. What has happened to them? Many men have been called of the Lord to stand in high places, and they have fallen because of that spirit.

Now, let us take notice of our actions, and especially the young people. I want you young people to safeguard your morals and see to it that you do not partake of this terrible evil, because it is one of the greatest seeds of destruction that can be sowed among a people. There is no man -- no man or woman that can stand up and say, "I am so good, I cannot be contaminated with that spirit." Because, you don't know what will take place. There are none of us that knows when the proper temptation comes along what we will do. There have been many men who have stood in the same position that we stand in -- this Priesthood Council -- that have partaken of that spirit, and the Lord has had to deal with them.

Now, let us try, my brothers and sisters, to keep these things out of our midst that we might continue to have our name go forth, not only among our own people, but out to the world that we are a clean people, and that we are living over and above the rest of the world, because we have more. The Lord has given us more than He has any other people. Let us try and see if we can this once carry this work through, so that the Lord can smile upon us and continue to bless and protect us in this day and hour when He is pouring out His judgments, not only upon this nation, but upon the world. Great destruction is taking place throughout the world. It is increasing in this land. It is increasing in other lands. If we want to be the people that the Lord has spoken about to stand in holy places and watch the arm of the Lord made manifest, if we want the Lord to make His arm manifest in our behalf, we must serve Him and keep His commandments. Now, I pray that the Spirit of God will rest upon us and that we will hasten to clean up our lives.

God bless you, amen.

So he has the last word.

Love; The Atonement; Lecture Five

What more is there to be said? What comes to my mind, which I pray may be dictated by the Spirit of God, is a passage from the beloved Prophet John. I guess I will have to go to Joseph.

John 14
15. If ye love me, keep my commandments.
16. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

17. Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.
19. Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.
20. At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.
22. If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself;

The First Comforter is the Holy Ghost, which we have been taught and taught and taught we must get and keep continually. Never be without it. In this Gospel of John, the one I was trying to find, he was saying, "How can ye say ye love God whom you cannot see, if ye love not your neighbor whom you can see?" who is also a creation of God. I don't know how often we have ever thought of it, brothers and sisters, but all of us are the sons and daughters of God. Why should we not love one another? I very frequently think of my sons; "These are my brothers, sons of God."

There is a writing I read just recently. Certain Prophets became sons of God, all of them from Adam down. We may all be born, and having become sons in the flesh, but are we sons of God in the spirit? That is what counts.

John Taylor in Mediation and Atonement says this:

Mediation and Atonement Chapter 25 Page 178

The atonement made by Jesus Christ resulted in the resurrection of the human body. Its scope embraced all peoples, nations and tongues.

"For all my Lord was crucified,
This is one part of the restoration. This is the restoration of the body. The next question for us to examine is, How, and in what manner are men benefitted by the atonement and by the resurrection? In this, that the atonement having restored man to his former position before the Lord, it has placed him in a position and made it possible for him to obtain that exaltation and glory which it would have been impossible for him to have received without it; even to become a son of God by adoption; and being a son then an heir of God, and a joint heir with Jesus Christ; and that, as Christ overcame, He has made it possible, and has placed it within the power of believers in Him, also to overcome; and as He is authorized to inherit His Father's glory which He had with Him before the world was, with His resurrected body, so through the adoption, may we overcome and sit down with Him upon His throne, as He has overcome and has sat down upon His Father's throne.

There is only one Heir, true Heir of God. That is the Lord Jesus Christ. But what a glorious contemplation it is to know that we may become joint heirs with him through adoption. There are many deep hidden mysteries and beautiful truths involved in what I am saying to you, brothers and sisters, but let us go on with what we can understand.

And as he has said, "I and the Father are one," so are the obedient saints one with Him, as He is one with the Father, even as He prayed:

As follows:

"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one,

He was speaking of His disciples.

...even as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me." -- John, xvii, 21-23.

Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, and through faith in Jesus Christ, they rise to the dignity and glory of the Godhead, even to be Gods; as it is promised:

And quoting from Revelations 3:
"Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. -- Rev., iii, 12.

Again, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne." - - Rev., iii, 21.

Yet again, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." -- Rev., xxi, 7.

To bring it down a little closer to us, I quote you from Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith by the Prophet Joseph Smith, telling us about the Godhead and our relation to Them.

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father;

Begin to understand what the Lord Jesus said when He said, "I am the Father and the Son." My sermon is about the sons of God and how we may become so.

2. ...being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be.
And I think of Brother Johnson in his suffering for us. Do you understand how great and glorious is his place in this last dispensation? Have we not been subjected to contradictions? But coming through has been this great man.

2. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin;

I suppose for the forgiveness of sin, in the process of baptism and so forth, we can have our sins remitted and blotted out. That is the only way I can see how humans can do this.

2. and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

Do you understand?

2. that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father;

Our spirit is our mind.

2. or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;

As John Taylor said.
2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations,

Now this comes down to us.

3. ...the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

The Holy Spirit of God.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Wicked Must Be Separated From the Righteous;
God Will Handle Those Who Fight Against the Prophet;
Magnify Priesthood Through Keeping the Spirit of God

I pray for the Spirit of God to be upon me and upon you as we listen together to the words of Brigham Young, which I understand President Johnson had had Truman read in a meeting in the South. I am sure that the reason for this was, brothers and sisters, that what Brigham had to say to the saints then still applies and does apply to us; and just put this in a way that President Johnson is speaking to us. It is found on page 43 of Journal 4. I have read it several times since Brother Truman told about having read it down south, and each time I read it, it gets stronger and I feel it applies to us. So let us listen
This is September 21, 1856, at a time when Brigham Young was trying to bring about a reformation among the saints, who had only eight years before arrived in Salt Lake Valley -- eight short years -- after having gone through what they did in Nauvoo, in Winter Quarters, and in crossing the plains to find a hiding place, so to speak, in the tops of the mountains, where Joseph at one point had wanted to come to save the saints in his time, but it was not the will of the Lord. Joseph laid the foundation and the superstructure; and Brigham has said in many of his sermons that he taught only that which he learned from Joseph Smith the Prophet. That is what the nature of this work is, brothers and sisters, a continuation of the holy Priesthood of God to fulfill His promise that it would never be taken from the earth again until Christ comes and we go into the Millennium.

I have an impulse within me to preach the Gospel of salvation. I am here by the providence of our God; I have professed to be a teacher of righteousness for many years, and to preach the Gospel of salvation which is still within me, and I feel to pour it forth upon the people; and I present myself here this morning as a teacher in Israel, as a man having the words of eternal life for the people.

This is Brother Johnson speaking now, isn't it?

I feel to call upon this congregation to know whether any of them, or whether all of them wish salvation. If they do, I have the Gospel of salvation for them; and I call upon the people to know whether they are the friends of God, or only of themselves individually. I do not know of any better way to get an expression from the people, as to whether they wish the Gospel preached to them, whether they desire to believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, to obey his counsels, and live to his glory, denying themselves of worldly lusts and of every thing that is sensual and contrary to his Gospel, and feel as though they wanted to be Saints of the Most High, than to have the brethren and sisters, those who so wish and desire, manifest it by rising upon their feet.

All who desire this rise to your feet. (Congregation stood up.) He made this remark:

You will observe all who do not rise.

You may sit down.
(The vast congregation all responded by standing up.) Take your seats again. You have manifested that you want to be Saints, and I am happy for the privilege of talking to such a people.

When we get the font prepared that is now being built, I will take you into the waters of baptism, if you repent of your sins. If you will covenant to live your religion and be Saints of the Most High, you shall have that privilege, and I will have the honor of baptizing you in that font, or of seeing that it is done.

As for living here, as I have done for a length of time, hid up in the chambers of the Lord, with a people that are full of contention, full of covetousness, full of pride, and full of iniquity, I will not do it. And if the people will not repent, let the sinners and hypocrites look out.

President Johnson is in the cleaning-up process. We, the Church, the saints, are the next to be cleansed.

I will repent with you and I will try with my might to get the spirit of my calling; and if I have not that spirit now to a fulness, I will get more of it, so as to enjoy it to its fulness. And if I should be filled with the power and spirit of the mission that is upon me, I shall not spare the wicked; I shall be like a flaming sword against them, and so will all those that live their religion; it is not to be suffered any longer.

As I told you last Sabbath, if I was not mistaken, my feelings were that this people were preparing themselves, many of them, for apostacy; This might have been more applicable a few years ago, but we are not through yet.

...were preparing themselves for the apostacy of their neighbors and their families; their children and their friends were all leading the way of the sinner. I had not then an idea that I was mistaken; I have not now an idea that I am mistaken. I understand these things perfectly well; and if the people are disposed to awake out of their lethargy and walk up to their religion, to their duty, to the highest privilege that ever was or ever can be granted to mortal man upon this earth, which is eternal life, and will do so, then we will be brethren. And if not, the thread must be severed, for I cannot hold men and women in fellowship that serve the devil and themselves, and give no heed to the Almighty; I cannot do it.

This people have been taught a great deal; they have had principle and doctrine fed to them till they are surfeited; and where is the man, the officer, or the community, that understands what has been taught them?
We people, as a whole, apparently have not understood what President Johnson has been teaching us through all these years, and so he has published his books to remind us, and I hope we are still reading them.

There may be one here and there that understands, but generally the eyes of the people are closed upon eternal things, and they seek for that which pleases the eye, that which is in accordance with the lusts of the flesh, that which is full of iniquity, and they care not for the righteousness of our God.

I repeat that, as far as those who are disposed to refrain from their evils, to renew their covenants and live their religion, I will have the honor and you the privilege of going forth and renewing your covenants, otherwise their must be a separation.

That is why President Johnson has been preaching nothing but repentance, lo, these many years. And if we will repent and believe and obey, then he will have his people.

Let those who have been with us ten or fifteen years, who have passed through the sorrowful scenes that Joseph and many others who have gone behind the vail had to wade through, look back and see the hand of God that has led us to a land where we enjoy liberty, where we enjoy all the freedom that ever the city of Enoch enjoyed, until they were more perfectly made acquainted with God. All that we can enjoy more than we do, unless we further acquaint ourselves with our God and become His friends and His associates, will be but very little more than we now possess.

I tell you that this people will not be suffered to walk as they have walked, to do as they have done, to live as they have lived. God will have a reckoning with us ere long, and we must refrain from our evils and turn to the Lord our God, or He will come out in judgment against us. I refer to the doctrine and the teachings that have been laid before this people; and I will say that it would take me weeks and months to tell you what has been already told you. But it passes into your ears and out again, and is no more remembered.

Show me the man who knows enough about his God, and is sufficiently acquainted with the principle of eternal lives to be able to say, "I can handle the gold and the silver, the goods, the chattels, and the possessions of this world, with my heart no more set upon them than it is upon the wind. I know how to use them, to deal out this and to distribute that, and to do all to the glory of my Father in heaven." If there is one in this congregation that knows how to do all this, will you please to rise up? These are things that I have taught you week after week, and year after year, but do you understand them? No. You may say, with shamefacedness, that there is hardly a man in this congregation that can righteously manage even earthly things. Just as quick as you are prospered you are lost to the Lord, you are filled with darkness.

Do you think the angels of the Lord lust after the things that are before them? All heaven is before us, and all this earth, the gold and the silver, all these are at our command, and shall we lust after them? They are all within our reach; they are for the Saints whom God loves, even all who fix their minds upon Him and the interests of His kingdom. Our Father possesses all the riches of eternity, and all those riches are vouchsafed unto us, and yet we lust after them.

I have taught you these things weeks and months ago, and yet there is not a man or woman in this congregation that understands them in their fulness. These are simple principles that should be learned; and although they have been taught you from time to time, yet you have not learned them. And for me to repeat to you what I have taught you, and what my brethren have taught you, would take me weeks.

Thank God for these books of President Johnson.

And notwithstanding all that has been taught, still the people are full of idolatry,

I have seen it among our people in the past, worshipping the workmanship of their own hands.

...the spirit of contention and the spirit of the world are in them, and they are full of the things of the world.

Well, I just say, my brethren and sisters, it cannot be suffered any longer, a separation must take place; you must part with your sins, or the righteous must be separated from the ungodly. I will now give way, and call upon others of the brethren to speak to you. Amen.

We have this living man among us who teaches us every day, has through the many years, and I pray God to relieve him of his pain and suffering, that he may go about those labors that he desires so much to accomplish -- to get a people prepared to go and to redeem Zion. I know he is going to be healed. He is in the hands of God. God is fighting his battles, and this latest battle now, concerning the United Effort Plan and the enemies of this work. I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, in their fighting President Johnson they are fighting God, and they don't know it. They have lost the Priesthood. They have revolted against that which came from God, those who are our traducers, and are fighting against the Prophet of God and the instrument that the Priesthood of God has devised for us to live under as we go forward in learning how to live the Holy United Order.

I refer you to Section 121. If there is any among them who think that they can go on hanging onto their Priesthood no matter what they say and do, they had better listen carefully. Verse 37:

D.& C. 121

37. That they

The rights of the Priesthood,

37. ...may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness,

Have we not seen it?

37. ...behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

Without the Holy Ghost no man can exercise any Priesthood he thinks he may have. That is the power of the Priesthood, and it comes from God through this man who holds the keys to the Priesthood, and is the fountainhead, having the Holy Ghost to dispense to the saints and those who desire to be saved.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.

That is what they are doing, and they have lost their Priesthood. Brother Johnson has said so, so I speak by his authority, if I am not making a mistake in revealing it. So here, brethren, is how we must exercise and magnify the holy Priesthood which we bear, in the late verses here:
39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.

40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned; Christlike.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; Not in a fit of temper.

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; That is perfect faith.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

So, brethren, to magnify the holy Priesthood, we must get and keep the Holy Spirit of God, or we cannot exercise it properly or magnify it in the sight of God to His honor and glory, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Attack of Apostates on the United Effort Plan;
The Priesthood's Response Through an Attorney;
The Lord Will Fight the Prophet's Battles

I feel, brothers and sisters, very humble and weak in standing before you, and pray the Lord to bless me. As I have sat here, I have been pondering upon what President Johnson had to say to the people down south very recently, calling upon the young, and the old for that matter, to bless and sustain President Johnson, and for the continuance of the United Effort Plan, which is under attack, a very serious attack at this time; realizing that that is the framework for this people to live the Holy United Order. That is what is at stake. I have no doubt about the outcome.

There is no doubt about the outcome because, as President Johnson told those who came and challenged him, "God has fought my battles before and He will fight this one." But he is calling upon us to exercise our faith, and it can be done. In the degree that we sustain him and what the Prophets, the Priesthood, put together as the framework for living the Holy United Order, we will go on and accomplish the work of the Lord.

Dear Fred,

Some of us have been closely associated with you for more than thirty years and have appreciated your many services to the community. We, also, have deep affection and gratitude for the sweet and courageous services of Lydia, who has blessed us through her hospital care and many other ways. You supported Hammon in creating the growth of this town with your loyal assistance and have shown great skill as a public relations man and lobbyist. We have been deeply disturbed over the events that have taken place in recent years and unable to figure out what was happening. It is very plain now that we have watched you and the "Barlow Bastards" destroy Hammon, Timpson and Musser who are held up to be holy united brethren in the Priesthood Council. In their place we now have Barlow as a very poor substitute. Your traitorous performance as the new "trustee" of the UEP trust and the revised list of beneficiaries finally convinced us that you are now our most deadly enemy. All of this while you are pretending to be our loving brother the same kind that Cain was to Abel! The long list of confiscated homes occupied by "Barlow Bastards" let us know that you and they have been carefully planning our destruction and to take over absolute control of this town. Now that we know who our real enemies are, we are declaring unrelenting war until you back off and make restitution by deeding our homes to all of us who are removed from the beneficiary list and all those who have lost their homes in the past through your treachery. You can make it easy for yourselves by doing so very soon. We are determined to file suit in federal court to break the trust if you don't. You cannot afford the tremendous publicity of the many things we are prepared to reveal to the court of what you have done. Several of you are likely to be charged with felonies as well. You think you are very clever but we know about more than you think. You devils have gone too far! We are determined to stop you in one way or another and are prepared to do whatever it takes to do so. If you persist, you will be a very sorry man with no one to blame but yourself. Never again can unity, trust and confidence be restored among the people of this town because of the lying treachery of our supposed leaders. We hate to realize that you, of all people, are trying to undo us and are forcing us to oppose you.

With sadness,

The Committee For Freedom.

Prior to this they engaged an attorney, one Clayton Huntsman of St. George, who wanted to get together with our attorney, which they did in Phoenix. I will make this as short as I can. In his letter he didn't even list who were our adversaries. We found out who they are -- ten, two of whom want money because they have left their homes, and the rest of them want deeds to their property that they have been occupying, which belongs to the United Effort Plan. We determined together, with the Trustees of the United Effort Plan, which now are President Leroy S. Johnson, Rulon T. Jeffs, Fred M. Jessop, and James Zitting.

Our attorney was instructed to write a letter which sets forth our position, and we are hoping and praying this will dissuade them from any further efforts to go before the courts. [Turning to President Johnson] Is it all right to read this? [President Johnson: "Yes, read it."]

Copies of this are being distributed among law enforcement officers in the south. And President Johnson instructed me to deliver it to the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, a copy of it, which I did by going over and seeing the security department, to the director at his home this morning. It will probably have to be handled through President Gordon B. Hinkley. Spencer Kimball is back in the hospital and this man said he may be having a funeral very soon. But he reports directly to the First Presidency. He has a copy of this.

Regarding United Effort Plan Trust.
Dear Clay:

Since my conversation with you and David Watson on January 15, I have had an opportunity to consider the matters raised and to discuss the various matters with my clients.

Concerning the issues of the "evictions" of Cora Stubbs and Andrew Bistline, I understand the following and fact occurred:

Cora Stubbs had vacated the home that she had previously occupied in Colorado City and notified Mr. Johnson of this fact by phone. Reports were made to Mr. Johnson that the power had been disconnected, the doors were standing open and there was a strong odor of spoiled meat coming from the Stubbs house. He sent several young men who normally perform maintenance duties concerning the United Effort property to the house and they determined that the house was in a state of disrepair, built-in cabinets had been removed and the state was generally one of neglect and abandonment.

At some point, Cora Stubbs arrived from Salt Lake, where, we understand, she had established residence, Which she told me herself was in a trailer in the backyard of Gordon Burg up here.

...which may have been for the possibility of obtaining the greater welfare payments available in those environs. Apparently, the persons in the home left and thereafter Cora was served with a notice to vacate, which gave her 30 days within which remove her things from the property. It is our understanding that her possessions were moved to David Stubbs's home with help from members of the community. The notice to vacate was served on her as civil service coming through the office of the sheriff in Kingman.

When Andrew Bistline was served a similar notice to vacate, he had for all intents and purposes completed a new residence in Fredonia, where he now lives.

And has joined the Baptist Church, by the way.

He had stated his intentions to move there and, in fact, needed to move there shortly after the notice was served so that he could enter his children in school. The purpose of that notice was merely to make sure that the home which he intended to vacate would be available for use by another member of the community within a reasonable period of time as housing has always been in short supply in Colorado City.

With regard to the "evictions," I frankly see no civil rights violations. They were not forcible and under the terms of the trust, the parties resided on the premises only so long as such was determined to be proper by the trustees. In the two above cases, the residences had been abandoned or the intention to abandon was expressed and the recipients voluntarily complied with the notice.

Now this declaration of war over those two things. A year ago last November, Brother Johnson's home and this home were threatened if there are any more evictions.

With regard to other matters raised at our meeting, you state that your clients are very fearful and that such fear comes in part from the fact that they were deleted as beneficiaries in the Amended Affidavit of Disclosure and that there have been rumors of guns and prospective violence.

As your clients well know, the people of Colorado City are a very peaceful people with primarily agrarian interest. This was discovered by the Arizona Highway Patrol in 1953 when they arrived in town with drawn guns only to find the people waiting in the streets to comply with the lawful orders of the raiders. Then, as now, it was not the intent or purpose of the people to react with violence even though their very life was being attacked.

With regard to the rumors of the guns, representatives of the trustees have requested that state and federal officials investigate this matter as they have no knowledge of any weapons other than a few old hunting rifles. They run though no one pursueth.

The original Affidavit of Disclosure was prepared and filed to comply with a statute passed in Arizona in 1976 requiring the disclosure of the name and address of persons having an interest in Arizona land under a trust or an estate. In reviewing the list of your clients, it appears that Don Cox, Mike Pipkin, Marko Datsun and Jerry Williams should never have been listed as beneficiaries because they don't reside on Arizona land and the statute has no requirement concerning Utah land.

There have been no court cases construing the statute and, frankly, it occurs to me that the beneficiaries are not sufficiently fixed so as to be amenable to disclosure. I am certain, however, that being on the list does not make one a beneficiary nor does being removed from the list illuminate a person as a beneficiary if they are in fact a beneficiary. In this trust, as in all trusts, the terms of the trust instrument are controlling.

The trust instrument speaks of members rather than beneficiaries and authorizes the trustees to render assistance to nonmembers as well as members of the trust. The trust instrument in several places specifically states that membership does not create any interest in or title to the Trust property or give a member the right to partition the property.

They want deeds.

Over the years many people have consecrated property to the trust either by donating land to the trust or by improving land already owned by the trust.

By building homes. That was their consecration and means of becoming members, on land owned by the Trust controlled by the Trustees.

Some of them have voluntarily left Colorado City well knowing that property once consecrated to the trust is not returnable.

That is like paying a tithing, and then coming back and asking for it back again.

The whole scenario is legally similar to a leasee improving real estate. Without a provision in the lease, the leasee must leave the improvements that have become affixed to the land when his tenancy terminates. The United Effort Plan has been an umbrella which has protected the people of Colorado City since its inception over forty years ago. During this period of time many people have made consecrations to the trust, many people have been permitted to build homes with the help of their neighbors on trust property and they have lived abundantly in these homes, without payment of any rent for the property.

I understand that there has been no question in any residents' mind that they reside on the trust property at the will of the trustees, They are tenants-at-will.

...who are empowered to terminate the permission to reside on trust property when such residence was not necessary or because the residents were acting prejudicial to the spirit of the trust.
We certainly have plenty of that.

It is my understanding that the power of the trustees to revoke the permission to live on trust property was discussed on many occasions in no uncertain terms by Alma Timpson and Marion Hammon at meetings in the community.

My clients are duty bound to administer the assets of the trust in accordance with its intent and purposes. It was never the purpose of the trust to transfer property, be it land or money, to persons claiming some unsubstantiated entitlement; rather, it was the purpose of the trust to use its assets to satisfy the just needs of people residing in Colorado City; to do otherwise would make a mockery of all who have contributed.

My clients have had their way of life, their freedom and their families attacked before. The United Effort Plan has helped them survive those attacks. It is not now their purpose or intent to take steps which will lead to the eventual dissolution of the United Effort Plan which is such an integral part of the life and values of a majority of the Colorado City residents. Other than the two people who had abandoned or were soon to abandon the residences they occupied, none of your clients have been asked to leave the homes they live in. This is not to say that they will not be asked to leave if they conduct themselves in a manner which is prejudicial to the spirit of the United Effort Plan, however, the same applies to all other residents of the United Effort Plan land whether or not they are on any list.

Now here it sums up beautifully the concluding sentiments regarding this matter:

If your clients are intent upon causing a legal confrontation which will bring untold misery and suffering to the community because of the close relationship between many of the families living there, my clients will resist such actions for as long as it takes to protect and preserve their way of life. There will be no spoils for the victor in such a battle; however, my clients are convinced that they will prevail however painful the victory. Nonetheless, they are convinced, as are the vast majority of the people in the community, that a painful battle is far less painful than to consent to the destruction of the community and life they have worked for so hard and so long.

Very truly yours,
So with that I will pass and express my faith that God will fight our battles, President Johnson's battle. He has before and He will again, and I have no doubt of the outcome. But we do not know what we may have to go through in the process. President Johnson can speak for himself now, and we will ask him to speak to us. I pray that we will all unite our faith and prayers, with faith in our prayers, for the preservation of President Johnson and the United Effort Plan, which he cherishes so much, and which is the handiwork of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Priesthood Line; Beware of Pride

I always feel like the Prophet should have the last word in these meetings. Anything I could add would be an anticlimax. But I feel greatly impressed to read the words of Joseph, who is at the side of our Prophet, I know it, and has been with every keyholder from Joseph Smith on down. Joseph is watching over this work. He is watching over this servant of God and keyholder and the mouthpiece of God. We understand, I am sure all of us, that Joseph is one of the Godhead. He went and took his place after he was taken, after the martyrdom. This is his dispensation, under Jesus Christ, of course. All the other Prophets have come from the ancient days and delivered their keys to him. Elias, Moses, and Elijah in particular, delivered all the keys that are necessary for us to be saved under the teachings and direction of the Prophet of God in each administration -- Joseph, Brigham, John Taylor, John W. Woolley, Lorin C. Woolley, John Y. Barlow, and now Leroy Johnson. That is seven. The Spirit of God has revealed this to me and I am satisfied.

I was looking at a picture of the fifteen men who went to prison May 15 of 1945, having been convicted in the lower courts and upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States, of having been guilty of the crime of unlawful cohabitation, which was a felony then, originally a misdemeanor, and they were sentenced to five years. And I wept as I looked at that group of fifteen men, John Y. Barlow in their midst. All had lifted their heel against John Y. Barlow and Leroy S. Johnson. That is all I wish to say on that score.

This is the Prophet's address to the Twelve, July 2, 1839. And it brings into play the very thing President Johnson has been urging upon us, as he talked to the Twelve.

Beware of Pride

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

Before I go on, I think I better add the rest of the story about that sermon of Uncle Roy's last Sunday. Do you remember hearing him say, if there is anyone here who would have contact with those in the opposition, he wished they would take the message to them? While he was there talking in our meeting, in the other meeting which was being held, Marko Dutson was getting after the people for not coming forth with money to fight the case in the court, and he really roasted them. Marion Hammon got up afterwards and got after Marko Dutson for fighting against the United Effort Plan, and any others there who were doing it. And he said the same words that Uncle Roy said, "If you carry this any further, the Lord God Almighty will lay His heavy hand upon you. Leave it alone." [Turning to President Johnson] Is that about it? [President Johnson: "Absolutely."]

So the Lord put the words in the mouth of Brother Hammon, who is not with us now in the Council; but coming from him, I think that was a most remarkable thing, a miracle.

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother. Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, and say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost
Which is the power of the Priesthood.

...that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come.

One of the brethren actually proposed to President Johnson years ago that the 1880 Revelation take the place of Section 132 of the Doctrine and Covenants.

Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, Which is in this man, the fountainhead of it to us.

...and proving a traitor to the brethren.

I will give you one of the Keys of the mysteries of the Kingdom. It is an eternal principle, that has existed with God from all eternity: That man who rises up to condemn others, finding fault with the Church, saying that they are out of the way, while he himself is righteous, then know assuredly, that that man is in the high road to apostasy; and if he does not repent, will apostatize, as God lives. The principle is as correct as the one that Jesus put forth in saying that he who seeketh a sign is an adulterous person; and that principle is eternal, undeviating, and firm as the pillars of heaven; for whenever you see a man seeking after a sign, you may set it down that he is an adulterous man.

And now to go on to the future: The Priesthood was first given to Adam; he obtained the First Presidency, and held the keys of it from generation to generation. He obtained it in the Creation, before the world was formed, as in Genesis 1:26, 27, 28. He had dominion given him over every living creature. He is Michael the Archangel, spoken of in the Scriptures. Then to Noah, who is Gabriel: he stands next in authority to Adam in the Priesthood; he was called of God to this office, and was the father of all living in this day, and to him was given the dominion. These men held keys first on earth, and then in heaven.

The Priesthood is an everlasting principle, and existed with God from eternity, and will to eternity, without beginning of days or end of years. The keys have to be brought from heaven whenever the Gospel is sent. When they are revealed from heaven, it is by Adam's authority.

Daniel in his seventh chapter speaks of the Ancient of days; he means the oldest man, our Father Adam, Michael, he will call his children together and hold a council with them to prepare them for the coming of the Son of Man. This is in the offing.

He (Adam) is the father of the human family, and presides over the spirits of all men, and all that have had the keys must stand before him in this grand council.

Which I understand is to be in the valley Adam-ondi-Ahman.

This may take place before some of us leave this stage of action. The Son of Man stands before him, and there is given him glory and dominion. Adam delivers up his stewardship to Christ, that which was delivered to him as holding the keys of the universe, but retains his standing as head of the human family.

Talk about great events. Are we going to be ready, and are we going to have the nerves of steel that our Prophet has told us to develop through our perfect faith and obedience? Then God will take care of us. What a mighty power there is in a people who are one, behind their Prophet and head. One will chase a thousand; two will chase ten thousand, as was revealed by the Prophet. He was a great prophesier -- Heber C. Kimball. And I guess that is in the scripture, but I haven't found it.

Well, brothers and sisters, I don't feel that we should take any more time. But I call upon you and myself to exert ourselves in faith. I mean exertion of the mind! that will make us obedient to all of the commandments of God, loving God and our neighbor, in truth and in fact, and in practice, that this man will be healed, as he pleaded in this sermon, that he can do his work. He knows and I know that he is in this condition for purposes that are good in our Father in heaven, and Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith. When the time comes, he will be healed every whit, to a point where his enemies won't even recognize him. It will be that voice which will roar out of Zion, spoken of in "The Coming Crisis". He wants nothing more nor less than doing the will of the Father, as Jesus said was between Him and His Father, and do all things with an eye single to the glory of God, which I pray we may be and do, behind this man, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Judgments of God Upon the Rebellious; D.& C. 133
President Johnson just told me, after I speak he will, and I will be very grateful for that. Speaking of an item that Brother Truman mentioned brings to mind a verse or two of Section 121. I am going to read from the word of the Lord today and pray for the Spirit of God to direct that reading.

D.& C. 121

16. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them.

17. But those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin, and are the children of disobedience themselves.

That is borne out in the relations of the saints from the time of Joseph Smith, when those close to him accused him when they were guilty of the same sin.
Just that point came to my mind as Brother Truman was speaking.

President Johnson has very often quoted Section 1, which was a preface to the Doctrine and Covenants, revealed November 1st of 1831. And I will read a few of those words, beginning and end, and then I would like to read the appendix to the Doctrine and Covenants.

D.& C. 1

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the voice of him who dwells on high, and whose eyes are upon all men; yea, verily I say: Hearken ye people from afar; and ye that are upon the islands of the sea, listen together.

2. For verily the voice of the Lord is unto all men, and there is none to escape; and there is no eye that shall not see, neither ear that shall not hear, neither heart that shall not be penetrated.

3. And the rebellious shall be pierced with much sorrow; for their iniquities shall be spoken upon the housetops, and their secret acts shall be revealed.

4. And the voice of warning shall be unto all people, by the mouths of my disciples, whom I have chosen in these last days.

Those things are being fulfilled today; and I love these last two verses of that Section:

38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken, and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away, but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.
39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever. Amen.

The Appendix, or Section 133, was given two days later. These were given to enable them then to publish the revelations that had been given through the Prophet Joseph Smith -- the Preface and the Appendix. In reading this last, I read it only to let us understand in what great and glorious days we are now living.

D.& C. 133

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church,
   It starts the same way.
   1. ...saith the Lord your God, and hear the word of the Lord concerning you --

   2. The Lord who shall suddenly come to his temple; the Lord who shall come down upon the world with a curse to judgment; yea, upon all the nations that forget God, and upon all the ungodly among you.
   3. For he shall make bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of their God.

   4. Wherefore, prepare ye, prepare ye, O my people; sanctify yourselves; gather ye together, O ye people of my church, upon the land of Zion, all you that have not been commanded to tarry.

   They had just dedicated the land of Zion in Jackson County, Missouri about three months before.

   5. Go ye out from Babylon. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.
   6. Call your solemn assemblies, and speak often one to another. And let every man call upon the name of the Lord.

   Pray always.

   7. Yea, verily I say unto you again, the time has come when the voice of the Lord is unto you: Go ye out of Babylon; gather ye out from among the nations, from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.
   8. Send forth the elders of my church unto the nations which are afar off; unto the islands of the sea; send forth unto foreign lands; call upon all nations, first upon the Gentiles, and then upon the Jews.

   9. And behold, and lo, this shall be their cry, and the voice of the Lord unto all people: Go ye forth unto the land of Zion,
After many trials at doing so, we are now at the last time.

9. ...that the borders of my people may be enlarged, and that her stakes may be strengthened, and that Zion may go forth unto the regions round about.

10. Yea, let the cry go forth among all people: Awake and arise and go forth to meet the Bridegroom; behold and lo, the Bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Prepare yourselves for the great day of the Lord.
11. Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour.
12. Let them, therefore, who are among the Gentiles flee unto Zion.

The great and last missionary work that will be done will be from Zion, which will be redeemed in our time, the time of those now here.

13. And let them who be of Judah flee unto Jerusalem, unto the mountains of the Lord's house.
14. Go ye out from among the nations, even from Babylon, from the midst of wickedness, which is spiritual Babylon.
15. But verily, thus saith the Lord, let not your flight be in haste, but let all things be prepared before you; and he that goeth, let him not look back lest sudden destruction shall come upon him.

16. Hearken and hear, O ye inhabitants of the earth. Listen, ye elders of my church together, and hear the voice of the Lord; for he calleth upon all men, and he commandeth all men everywhere to repent.

President Johnson is carrying out these mandates.

17. For behold, the Lord God hath sent forth the angel crying through the midst of heaven, saying: Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his paths straight, for the hour of his coming is nigh --
18. When the Lamb shall stand upon Mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty-four thousand, having his Father's name written on their foreheads.

19. Wherefore, prepare ye for the coming of the Bridegroom; go ye, go ye out to meet him.
20. For behold, he shall stand upon the mount of Olivet, and upon the mighty ocean, even the great deep, and upon the islands of the sea, and upon the land of Zion.

21. And he shall utter his voice out of Zion, and he shall speak from Jerusalem, and his voice shall be heard among all people;
22. And it shall be a voice as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder, which shall break down the mountains, and the valleys shall not be found.

23. He shall command the great deep, and it shall be driven back into the north countries, and the islands shall become one land;
24. And the land of Jerusalem and the land of Zion shall be turned back into their own place, and the earth shall be like as it was in the days before it was divided.

25. And the Lord, even the Savior, shall stand in the midst of his people, and shall reign over all flesh.

In the great Millennium.

26. And they who are in the north countries shall come in remembrance before the Lord; and their prophets shall hear his voice, and shall no longer stay themselves; and they shall smite the rocks, and the ice shall flow down at their presence.
27. And an highway shall be cast up in the midst of the great deep.
28. Their enemies shall become a prey unto them,
29. And in the barren deserts there shall come forth pools of living water; and the parched ground shall no longer be a thirsty land.

I see that coming down in the Arizona Strip.

30. And they shall bring forth their rich treasures unto the children of Ephraim, my servants.
31. And the boundaries of the everlasting hills shall tremble at their presence.

32. And there shall they fall down and be crowned with glory, even in Zion, by the hands of the servants of the Lord, even the children of Ephraim.

President Johnson is trying to get together the children of Ephraim, all who are of the blood of Ephraim; but Section 64 says, "The rebellious are not of the tribe of Ephraim."

33. And they shall be filled with songs of everlasting joy.
34. Behold, this is the blessing of the everlasting God upon the tribes of Israel, and the richer blessing upon the head of Ephraim and his fellows.
35. And they also of the tribe of Judah, after their pain shall be sanctified in holiness before the Lord, to dwell in his presence day and night, forever and ever.
36. And now, verily saith the Lord, that these things might be known among you, O inhabitants of the earth, I have sent forth mine angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel, who hath appeared unto some and hath committed it unto man, who shall appear unto many that dwell on the earth.

37. And this gospel shall be preached unto every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people.
38. And the servants of God shall go forth, saying with a loud voice: Fear God and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgment is come;
39. And worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters --
40. Calling upon the name of the Lord day and night, saying: O that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence.
41. And it shall be answered upon their heads; for the presence of the Lord shall be as the melting fire that burneth, and as the fire which causeth the waters to boil.

It is my testimony to you, my brothers and sisters, that all of these things leading up to and including the redemption of Zion and the return of the Ten Tribes, shall come to pass under the leadership of President Johnson. Judah must build up the old Jerusalem. The Ten Tribes, the others of the Twelve Tribes, shall come together and here be taught and instructed under the leadership of President Johnson in building up the great city and the temple in Zion. Joseph Smith said some would think there would not be enough time left to do it, but with the help of the Ten Tribes it will be done in a relatively short time.

42. O Lord, thou shalt come down to make thy name known to thine adversaries, and all nations shall tremble at thy presence --
43. When thou doest terrible things, things they look not for;
44. Yea, when thou comest down, and the mountains flow down at thy presence, thou shalt meet him who rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, who remembereth thee in thy ways.
45. For since the beginning of the world have not men heard nor perceived by the ear, neither hath any eye seen, O God, besides thee, how great things thou hast prepared for him that waiteth for thee.

46. And it shall be said: Who is this that cometh down from God in heaven with dyed garments; yea, from the regions which are not known, clothed in his glorious apparel, traveling in the greatness of his strength?

47. And he shall say: I am he who spake in righteousness, mighty to save.

48. And the Lord shall be red in his apparel, and his garments like him that treadeth in the wine-vat.

49. And so great shall be the glory of his presence that the sun shall hide his face in shame, and the moon shall withhold its light, and the stars shall be hurled from their places.

50. And his voice shall be heard: I have trodden the winepress alone, and have brought judgment upon all people; and none were with me;

51. And I have trampled them in my fury, and I did tread upon them in mine anger, and their blood have I sprinkled upon my garments, and stained all my raiment; for this was the day of vengeance which was in my heart.

52. And now the year of my redeemed is come; and they shall mention the loving kindness of their Lord, and all that he has bestowed upon them according to his goodness, and according to his loving kindness, forever and ever.

53. In all their afflictions he was afflicted. And the angel of his presence saved them; and in his love, and in his pity, he redeemed them, and bore them, and carried them all the days of old;

54. Yea, and Enoch also, and they who were with him; the prophets who were before him; and Noah also, and they who were before him; and Moses also, and they who were before him;

55. And from Moses to Elijah, and from Elijah to John, who were with Christ in his resurrection, and the holy apostles, with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, shall be in the presence of the Lamb.

56. And the graves of the saints shall be opened; and they shall come forth and stand on the right hand of the Lamb, when he shall stand upon Mount Zion, and upon the holy city, the New Jerusalem; and they shall sing the song of the Lamb, day and night forever and ever.
57. And for this cause, that men might be made partakers of the glories which were to be revealed, the Lord sent forth the fulness of his gospel, his everlasting covenant, reasoning in plainness and simplicity --

58. To prepare the weak for those things which are coming on the earth, and for the Lord’s errand in the day when the weak shall confound the wise, and the little one become a strong nation, and two shall put their tens of thousands to flight.

59. And by the weak things of the earth the Lord shall thrash the nations by the power of his Spirit.

60. And for this cause these commandments were given; they were commanded to be kept from the world in the day that they were given, but now are to go forth unto all flesh --

61. And this according to the mind and will of the Lord, who ruleth over all flesh.

62. And unto him that repenteth and sanctifieth himself before the Lord shall be given eternal life.

63. And upon them that hearken not to the voice of the Lord shall be fulfilled that which was written by the prophet Moses, that they should be cut off from among the people.

64. And also that which was written by the prophet Malachi: For, behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

65. Wherefore, this shall be the answer of the Lord unto them:

66. In that day when I came unto mine own, no man among you received me, and you were driven out.

67. When I called again there was none of you to answer; yet my arm was not shortened at all that I could not redeem, neither my power to deliver.

68. Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea. I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stink, and die for thirst.

69. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and make sackcloth their covering.

70. And this shall ye have of my hand -- ye shall lie down in sorrow.
71. Behold, and lo, there are none to deliver you; for ye obeyed not my voice when I called to you out of the heavens; ye believed not my servants, and when they were sent unto you ye received them not.

72. Wherefore, they sealed up the testimony and bound up the law, and ye were delivered over unto darkness.

73. These shall go away into outer darkness, where there is weeping, andwailing, and gnashing of teeth.

74. Behold the Lord your God hath spoken it. Amen.

God bless all of you, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Church of the Firstborn;
We Must Come Out of the World to Become One;
The Love of God

Along the same vein, regarding this date, thirty-four years after Jesus Christ was born He was crucified, laid in the tomb, suffered and suffered and died. Let us sing "How Great the Wisdom and the Love", page 68.

You remember last time President Johnson spoke here, what a beautiful thing he spoke about. I think it is worth repeating, about the Church of the Firstborn. I want to get that in this program, so I will play it now.

LSJ Vol.7 Page 432 March 17, 1985 SLC

My dear brothers and sisters, I hope that my voice will do me well at this time, for I want to do nothing that will displease the Lord. I ask that His Spirit will be here to dictate what I say. I have been greatly interested in the testimonies that have been borne today, especially the young men, as well as President Jeffs and Patriarch Steed.

Of late, I have been asked some questions about the Church of the First Born. I want to let this people know that what the Doctrine & Covenants says about the Church of the First Born is true and faithful. There is only one baptism, one confirmation, one laying on of hands for the gifts of the Holy Ghost. That is where you enter into the Church of the First Born. If you prove faithful in the first stage, you are prepared for the next stage, and the next stage, and the next stage, and finally in the end, you enter into the Church of the First Born. All these are steps that we take, being baptized, having hands laid upon us and being confirmed members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the Kingdom of God, then proving faithful in learning what we can from that part. If we’ve been faithful and true, whether we live or not, it’s all the same, for the Lord has only one baptism for the Church of the First Born. You can learn as you go. The Prophet says, "We learn here a little and there a little until we come to the full knowledge of God."

I don't know how much plainer to tell you how we enter into the Church of the First Born. There’s no such thing as a different church called the Church of the First Born. There’s no such thing as the Church of Jesus outside of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints as we understand it today. That's the only church that holds, in the end, any eternal salvation for the children of men.

So, today, we are starting where Joseph Smith left off. In 1832, two years after the Church was organized, the Lord placed us under condemnation because we had treated lightly the things we had received. Up to that time, all that we had received was to learn to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind and strength; and then learn to love thy neighbor as thyself.

The Lord says that upon these two great commandments hang all the law and the Gospel. Everything after that is an appendage to them. We’ve got to learn how to enter into the Church of the First Born first of all, and that is through baptism by emersion for the remission of sins; and then prove by our faithfulness that we certainly do love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind and strength. Then we have learned to love our neighbor as ourselves. Everything else is appendages to it. The Sunday School, the Priesthood meeting, the different orders of priesthood are all appendages to it. We’ve got to learn to live all of them and keep them sacred before the Lord before we can gain our eternal salvation.

My voice is giving away. So, I’ll stop and give you more later on. God bless you, amen.

I wish to have the inspiration and the Spirit of revelation as I speak to you now, brothers and sisters. I wish he were here; I wish Brother Steed were here. But we are left now to rely on the Lord for direction and inspiration. and the Spirit of revelation. I greatly appreciate these words, and pray God now to bless my words.

I take from what President Johnson has told us here that the people who follow the Prophet of God in their incipient stages are the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. We have heard it many times said, that Church, as by name, leads us into the Church of the Firstborn. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is a nursing mother to prepare us for the greater, the Church of the Firstborn.

The great church that is in the world today, holding their general conference today, is a broken and dead branch, stemming from the holy Priesthood. President Johnson said to me, that so-called "Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is now the great and abominable church," not the Catholic church. That is what we have always thought all along, isn't it? That is another revelation to me, which I receive from him. They are dead. There may yet come out of it, of the younger generations who have stemmed from the apostasy from the Priesthood, some honest in heart who desire with all their heart to serve God and to keep His commandments. But they must enter into this work by faith, repentance, and baptism, and the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost. Do you understand what I am saying? There is only one baptism, one God, one faith, and that is in the true and living God. Almost without exception President Johnson has spoken of these two first great commandments.

I want to read to you a very surprising statement by Brigham Young regarding that matter. It is found in volume 12 of Journal of Discourses, page 229, if you want to make a note of it. I don't think I need to read the whole sermon, but I will read the pertinent part, and it is all found on that page.

We commenced teaching the people the doctrine of Jesus, and then we commenced to build up the Kingdom of Heaven on the earth. We commenced this years ago. Have we been successful? In part, we have. A few have been gathered together, but our work is not accomplished. So with all that they had in the thousands then, a few, and it is still a few. How many of this people now will survive, we don't know.

The Lord never could teach His people while they were among the wicked how to live by themselves, how to unite their efforts and their whole power for the establishment of His Kingdom.

Follow these words carefully.

This kingdom is not of the world, says Jesus. It is different from any other kingdom that is now upon the earth; and while the people of it are mixed with the people of other nations and kingdoms, the Lord could never teach them how to establish His Kingdom.

Do you see what we have been going through, lo, these many years, in the midst of the kingdom of the devil upon the earth? That is what has been going on. It is right here. We are among them, and I guess it was among them all along. But the Lord gave them the opportunity by bringing them out here in the tops of the mountains to live as they should, all by themselves.

He must get them away from the wicked; gather them out; bring them into a place He has reserved for them to gather together, where He can teach them of His laws.

As I said once to my brethren in the school of the Prophets, -- I have not asked you, I dare not ask you to fulfil almost the first requirement of the Kingdom of Heaven, almost the simplest principle, and one of the first things that should be observed. I have not asked the people yet to perform this great labor, I will say it is a great labor, and if I were to refer it to you, you would say the same. You may ask what it is? It is to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy mind and with all thy strength, and thy neighbor as thyself.

They hadn't yet got that message over to the people. That is what our Prophet is doing now. Does that surprise you?

Now, is this not almost one of the first requirements that God has made of His people? and I have not yet required it of the people.

1868.

Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and then speak evil of thy neighbor?

Do you get that now? Follow this through very carefully.

No, no! Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and speak that which is not true?

Lie?

No, oh, no! Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and take that which is not thy own? No, no, no! Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and seek after the riches of the world and forsake your religion? No! Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and take His name in vain, curse and swear? No, never! If the love of God was really in the hearts of all who call themselves Latter-day Saints, there would be no more swearing, no more lying, no more deceiving, no more speaking evil of one another, no more running after the ungodly nor dealing with the enemies of Zion, no more running after the gold mines; nothing would be sought after only to build up the Kingdom of God.

That puts it in quite a different vein, doesn't it?

This we have not yet asked.

I suppose it would have brought them under greater condemnation if they had.

But we do ask some things. Let us forsake those sins that are so grievous, and let us try to do right before the Heavens and with each other. Look at the Elders of Israel to-day; how many of them are gone to hunt gold. Hundreds of them are running off to Cheyenne to get work on the railroad. Where are their crops, their flocks and their families? All left, that they may get a little wealth.

Well, that is the gist of it. That was a most surprising thing when I read it. Brother Truman had, in his great amount of reading, found this and read that up at Lava Hot Springs over a week ago. I refer you now to John, the first epistle of John, chapter 4, First John:

1 John 4

1. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God:
Joseph taught that very strenuously.

1. ...because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

Among the anonymous things that have been received down south are a couple of revelations. I don't know that I should take your time for it.

2. Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:

3. And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.
4. Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.
5. They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.
6. We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.
7. Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.
8. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.
9. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.
10. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.
11. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

See the direction in which this should go?

12. No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.
13. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.
14. And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.
15. Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
16. And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love;
That is stated among the items listed as the character of God.
16. ...and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.
17. Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.
18. There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear:
Do you fear? Then ye have not love.
18. ...because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.
19. We love him, because he first loved us.
See the message that John is trying to get over to us? He first loved us. Therefore we must love Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength.

20. If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother,

    Neighbor,

20. ...he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

They have got to go together. I don't think I need to say more. I thought I had something here from Joseph, the Prophet. I think we have seen a different approach to these things President Johnson has been urging upon us all the time that he has headed this Kingdom and this Priesthood, and before. But to think that after all that the saints had gone through up to that time, whom Brigham Young spoke of, they had not urged these first two commandments upon the people, lest it condemn them.

Now we are along here from the organization of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, one hundred fifty-five years. The very heart of the living of the Holy United Order and the living and abiding in the holy Celestial Law of Marriage, is to love one another. It is the only way we can become of one heart and one mind. Do away with all selfishness; do away with hate; do away with criticism and judging, which is not our place. So let us put our whole heart, might, mind, and strength into loving God and loving our neighbor. We will never live the United Order without it. We have an instrument in the United Effort Plan, which is designed to bring together a people in one place, away from the world.

I would like to read a couple of provisions of the Trust agreement, which established the United Effort Plan. I have a whole grist of new anonymous letters. In that letter to Fred Jessop which I read to you, they designated themselves the "Committee for Freedom". The latest name, which was put at the top of a letterhead sent to a man in Canada -- I won't give his name -- they call themselves the "Society of Free Men". There has been an answer written to that four-page letter I gave you, an analysis of a letter from Charles A. Ditsch, which is as an insulting a thing as I can think of, and is not according to the facts, though they say the letter of Mr. Ditsch to Mr. Huntsman was not according to the facts.
[President Jeffs then read an anonymous letter from the apostates which reviled against the Trustees of the United Effort Plan. He then said:]

It was a majority of the Trustees that did what we did, Brother Johnson and I signing the eviction notices. In that letter to Fred Jessop they declared war, and that is what Brother Johnson refers to us being in now, deferring decisions until the "war" is over. Well, I don't want to end it on this note. But if we are to be one people in one place, how can we abide with men and women and young people engaged in unholy and immoral practices? Are not the actions prejudicial to the interests of the Trust, which is to be one? Can we live as neighbors in such a condition?

The whole thing has been turned over to the Lord and He will handle it. He has fought Brother Johnson's battles before and He will fight this one and win. I don't care how far they go. They had better save their money paying attorneys and move out peacefully. Maybe they will get discouraged and go. But I pray God that we will be prepared to be a part of such a community, brothers and sisters, who are one heart and one mind, with clean hands and pure hearts, for the Holy United Order requires people with pure hearts. The pure in heart are Zion. Someday maybe we can tell you what requires one to be pure in heart. Certainly the beginning of it is to love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; who cannot look upon sin with the least degree of allowance, though He loves the sinner; who allows us to repent and do better. But if we break that and do it again, the former sins return.

It must be a community living and abiding all of the laws of God, the greatest of which are the Holy United Order and the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage, the very heart of it. We can't abide either of those laws without the first two great commandments: Love God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself. God bless you, amen.

President Johnson Has Been Suffering for This People

I think we will dispense with the middle song. President Johnson will speak to us, and I do not want to keep him here overlong. But, I have had a message that I have wanted to get over to this people to help us to understand why the suffering of our Prophet. And I ask that the Lord will bless me in the remarks I make.

I am going to draw to your attention, brothers and sisters, some sublime words of President John Taylor, speaking of our Lord Jesus Christ and His suffering. In the Mediation and Atonement, and I might add now in reading this, I wish to do it with an eye single to the glory of our God and Savior, Jesus Christ; for I consider in the circumstances under which we find ourselves today, that this man is going through a portion of suffering, over six years now, and why it is continuing.

The Redeemer Himself, when tabernacling in the flesh, said to His disciples on the Eastern Continent, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein." -- Luke, xviii, 16, 17. And after His crucifixion and resurrection He repeated this same admonition to His Nephite disciples: "And again I say unto you, Ye must repent, and be baptized in my name and become as a little child, or ye can in no wise inherit the kingdom of God." -- 3 Nephi, xi 38

Learning to love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourself, is to become as a little child, pure and holy before God, meek and lowly in heart.

Without Adam's transgression those children could not have existed; through the atonement they are placed in a state of salvation without any act of their own. These would embrace, according to the opinion of statisticians, more than one-half of the human family, who can attribute their salvation only to the mediation and atonement of the Savior. Thus, as stated elsewhere, in some mysterious, incomprehensible way, Jesus assumed the responsibility which naturally would have devolved upon Adam; but which could only be accomplished through the mediation of Himself, Jesus Christ, who was the God of Adam. And Adam suffered, believe me, when he had to change from immortality to mortality, more than we know.

...but which could only be accomplished through the mediation of Himself, and by taking upon Himself their sorrows, assuming their responsibilities, and bearing their transgressions or sins. In a manner to us incomprehensible and inexplicable, he bore the weight of the sins of the whole world; not only of Adam, but of his posterity; and in doing that, opened the kingdom of heaven, not only to all believers and all who obeyed the law of God, but to more than one-half of the human family who die before they come to years of maturity, as well as to the heathen, who, having died without law, will, through His mediation, be resurrected without law, and be judged without law, and thus participate, according to their capacity, works and worth, in the blessings of His atonement.

Again, there is another phase of this subject that must not be forgotten. From the commencement of the offering of sacrifices the inferior creature had to suffer for the superior. Although it had taken no part in the act of disobedience, yet was its blood shed and its life sacrificed, thus prefiguring

Looking forward to,
...the atonement of the Son of God, which should eventually take place. That is the sense of the law of sacrifice which Adam commenced and did only as he was commanded to do.

The creature indeed was made subject to vanity not willingly, but by reason of Him who hath subjected the same in hope. Millions of such offerings were made, and hecatombs of these expiatory sacrifices were offered in view of the great event that would be consummated when Jesus should offer up Himself. With man this was simply the obedience to a command and a given law, and with him might be considered simply a pecuniary sacrifice: with the animals it was a sacrifice of life. But what is the reason for all this suffering and bloodshed, and sacrifice? We are told that "without shedding of blood is no remission" of sins. This is beyond our comprehension. Jesus had to take away sin by the sacrifice of Himself, the just for the unjust, but, previous to this grand sacrifice, these animals had to have their blood shed as types, until the great antitype should offer up Himself once for all. And as He in His own person bore the sins of all, and atoned for them by the sacrifice of Himself, so there came upon Him the weight and agony of ages and generations, the indescribable agony consequent upon this great sacrificial atonement wherein He bore the sins of the world, and suffered in His own person the consequences of an eternal law of God broken by man. Hence His profound grief, His indescribable anguish, His overpowering torture, all experienced in the submission to the eternal fiat of Jehovah and the requirements of an inexorable law.

The suffering of the Son of God was not simply the suffering of personal death; for in assuming the position that He did in making an atonement for the sins of the world He bore the weight, the responsibility, and the burden of the sins of all men, which, to us, is incomprehensible. As stated,
"the Lord, your Redeemer, suffered death in the flesh; wherefore he suffereth the pains of all men;" and Isaiah says: "Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows," also, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all," and again, "He hath poured out his soul unto death, and he was numbered with the transgressors;

Crucified between two transgressors.

...and he bare the sins of many;" or, as it is written in the Second Book of Nephi: "For behold, he suffereth the pains of all men; yea, the pains of every living creature, both men, women and children, who belong to the family of Adam;" whilst in Mosiah it is declared: "He shall suffer temptations, and pain of body, hunger, thirst and fatigue, even more than man can suffer, except it be unto death; for behold, blood cometh from every pore, so great shall be his anguish for the wickedness and abominations of his people."

Now listen to this:

Groaning beneath this concentrated load, this intense, incomprehensible pressure, this terrible exaction of Divine justice, from which feeble humanity shrank, and through the agony thus experienced sweating great drops of blood, He was led to exclaim, "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." He had wrestled with the superincumbent load in the wilderness, He had struggled against the powers of darkness that had been let loose upon him there; placed below all things, His mind surcharged with agony and pain, lonely and apparently helpless and forsaken, in his agony the blood oozed from His pores. Thus rejected by His own, attacked by the powers of darkness, and seemingly forsaken by His God, on the cross He bowed beneath the accumulated load, and cried out in anguish, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me!" When death approached to relieve Him from His horrible position, a ray of hope appeared through the abyss of darkness with which He had been surrounded, and in a spasm of relief, seeing the bright future beyond, He said, "It is finished! Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." As a God, He descended below all things, and made Himself subject to man in man's fallen condition; as a man, He grappled with all the circumstances incident to His sufferings in the world. Anointed, indeed, with the oil of gladness above His fellows, He struggled with and overcame the powers of men and devils, of earth and hell combined; and aided by this superior power of the Godhead, He vanquished death, hell and the grave, and arose triumphant as the Son of God, the very eternal Father, the Messiah, the Son of God,...the Prince of peace, the Redeemer, the Savior of the world; having finished and completed the work pertaining to the atonement, which His Father had given Him to do as the Son of God and the Son of man. As the Son of Man, He endured all that it was possible for flesh and blood to endure; as the Son of God He triumphed over all, and forever ascended to the right hand of God, to further carry out the designs of Jehovah pertaining to the world and to the human family.

And again, not only did His agony affect the mind and body of Jesus, causing Him to sweat great drops of blood, but by reason of some principle, to us unfathomable, His suffering affected universal nature. "World upon world, eternal things, Hang on thy anguish, King of kings."

When he gave up the ghost, the solid rocks were riven, the foundations of the earth trembled, earthquakes shook the continents and rent the isles of the sea, a deep darkness overspread the sky, the mighty waters overflowed their accustomed bounds, huge mountains sank and valleys rose, the handiwork of feeble men was overthrown, their cities were engulphed or consumed by the vivid shafts of lightning, and all material things were convulsed with the throes of seeming dissolution. Thus was brought to pass that which was spoken by the prophet Zenos: "The rocks of the earth must rend; and because of the groanings of the earth, many of the kings of the isles of the sea shall be wrought upon by the Spirit of God to exclaim, The God of nature suffers." [1 Nephi, xix, 12.] And it is recorded, that so confessed the Centurion, and they that were with him watching the body of Jesus. For when they witnessed the earthquake, and the other things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, "Truly this was the Son of God."
So also was fulfilled that which is written in the prophecy of Enoch:

"And the Lord said unto Enoch, Look; and he looked and beheld the Son of Man lifted up on the cross, after the manner of men; and he heard a loud voice; and the heavens were veiled; and all the creations of God mourned; and the earth groaned; and the rocks were rent; and the Saints arose, and were crowned at the right hand of the Son of Man, with crowns of glory; and as many of the spirits as were in prison came forth, and stood on the right hand of God; and the remainder were reserved in chains of darkness until the judgment of the great day." -- Pearl of Great Price.

Thus, such was the torturing pressure of this intense, this indescribable agony, that it burst forth abroad beyond the confines of His body, convulsed all nature and spread throughout all space.

I will read from chapter 21 of Third Nephi. Jesus speaking, after these great convulsions had taken place and His voice heard from the heavens, He appeared unto the Nephite people. I am going to read the last verses of chapter 20, verse 43.

3 Nephi 20

43. Behold, my servant shall deal prudently; he shall be exalted and extolled and be very high.
44. As many were astonished at thee -- his visage was so marred, more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men -- Speaking of the latter days.

45. So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him, for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.
46. Verily, verily, I say unto you, all these things shall surely come, even as the Father hath commanded me. Then shall this covenant which the Father hath covenanted with his people be fulfilled; and then shall Jerusalem be inhabited again with my people, and it shall be the land of their inheritance.

Now go to the seventh verse of chapter 21.

3 Nephi 21

7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things -- it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

That happened in the days, in southern Arizona, in 1853 and 1854.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

This great man has not been believed by many. Do you? Do I, with all my heart?

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him,

They are trying to now.

10. ...although he shall be marred because of them. Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him to bring forth unto the Gentiles,

That is still part of this man's work.

11. ...and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

I heard it recently quoted to me, the words of our Prophet, who is suffering now more than he has in recent times: "I will go through with it if the Lord will only give me air to breathe." They who would not believe him are the ones, as it is said here, "although he shall be marred because of them." Has he not been marred? He has, more than any man I know of. Has he not suffered more than I know? -- and this to get a people together as one people, loving God, obeying Him with all their heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourself.

It has come to me that this is why he has suffered this long, because of them who would not believe his words which he delivered as the word of God to us in the Council assembled March 18, 1978. And I am grateful, more than words can tell, to believe, believe in him implicitly; for he is god over me and over you who will believe and obey him. He is a savior to those who will believe and obey him. Jesus Christ will save and exalt all who believe and obey Him. That is why He suffered. But what happens to those who do not? Think it over, brothers and sisters. I would that I could take some of the burden from him. And I say as I have said before, I love him more than life itself; and I want to be with him in the course that is before us, as he brings together, in one place, a people who can redeem Zion, teach the Ten Tribes when they come, under his Presidency and direction; and that we can go on together down the road to the Zion of our God. And I pray for all of you who will believe and obey him, after all these many years, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Show Love Through Obedience; D.& C. 64;
It Is Possible to Lose the Power to Repent

I think President Johnson wants me to speak, so I will speak. I can't tell you, brothers and sisters, how sweet and beautiful and grand is the bond between President Johnson and myself. I, in connection with that thought, praying God to bless my words with His Spirit, I recall the words of Heber C. Kimball when he said, "I love Brigham Young more than I love any woman." And he was speaking of the love of brethren, which leads us to the love of God. I just want to be where he, my dear Prophet Leroy Johnson, is. And he has given us so many keys and instructions to enable us to become like God. That is why we are here. God rejoices when His sons and daughters become like Him; and maybe that is what love is. I am sure it is. We can't prove our love of God better than to become like Him. And my head and leader, in my view and in my heart, and it is my testimony, that he is most like God of any man on earth. The ways that he has pointed out to us are couched in the 64th Section of the Doctrine and Covenants, which I would like to read to you to enable us to love one another.

I was reading a sermon of Brigham Young the other day. He said, "How can you say you love God if you love not your brother? How can you say you love God whom you cannot see, if you love not your brother whom you can see?" which was a message of John the Beloved in his Gospel of Jesus Christ. The greatest Example of all, of course, was our Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, and God before He came here; who suffered, bled, and died for each and every one of us if we would repent and try to become like Him, if we would obey the commandments of the Father, which He conveyed to the people continually through all of His administration.

This Section was given September 11, 1831, just a month after the Prophet Joseph and a group of Elders had gone to Jackson County, Missouri -- Independence -- and dedicated the land of Zion and the temple to be built there. The people were now being exhorted to prepare to gather to Zion. That is the great work of our President and Prophet, to gather together and prepare a people to redeem Zion. And truly, as he was quoted as having said here today, "We are now picking up where Joseph Smith left off." What has happened to all the vast numbers who professed to believe the Gospel of Jesus Christ and came into the Church and the Kingdom of God, and then passed it by?

This to me is the modus operandi. He is giving instructions to certain ones who were called to go to Zion. In this He gives instructions to us in this time, as we pick up at that point where Joseph left off. It is my testimony to you that Joseph is at his elbow, engaged in the great work of the setting in order of the House of God.

D.& C. 64

1. Behold, thus saith the Lord your God unto you, O ye elders of my church, hearken ye and hear, and receive my will concerning you.

2. For verily I say unto you, I will that ye should overcome the world; That is the toughest job we have.

3. Wherefore I will have compassion upon you.

3. There are those among you who have sinned; but verily I say, for this once, for mine own glory, and for the salvation of souls, I have forgiven you your sins.

4. I will be merciful unto you, for I have given unto you the kingdom.

Mercy is one of the attributes of God. God is love.

5. And the keys of the mysteries of the kingdom shall not be taken from my servant Joseph Smith, Jun.,

Nor will they from this man who leads us.

5. ...through the means I have appointed, while he liveth, inasmuch as he obeyeth mine ordinances.

6. There are those who have sought occasion against him without cause;

This is so much a description of what is happening now among a people who have joined together formerly, and now divided. But we must be on the side of God and His servant.

7. Nevertheless, he has sinned;

He is mortal, as Joseph said he was,

7. ...but verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, forgive sins unto those who confess their sins before me and ask forgiveness, who have not sinned unto death.

Who have not sinned unto death. How many times have we repented, changed, and then gone back to the "fleshpots of Egypt" and sinned again, so that the former sins return upon us? That is what the Lord has said throughout all His scriptures -- Section 1, any number of places. When we continually do that there comes a point beyond which we cannot turn back. Surely we can repent again, but how far do you want to go, to the highest glory of the Celestial Kingdom, or do you want to be a single angel, a servant, or less -- Terrestrial or Telestial? All of them will ultimately go back to native element in the lower kingdoms.

8. My disciples, in days of old, sought occasion against one another and forgave not one another in their hearts;

Now listen closely to the words that follow.

8. ...and for this evil they were afflicted and sorely chastened.

9. Wherefore, I say unto you, that ye ought to forgive one another; for he that forgiveth not his brother his trespasses standeth condemned before the Lord; for there remaineth in him the greater sin.

Think of it!
10. I, the Lord, will forgive whom I will forgive, but of you it is required to forgive all men.

President Johnson, I know for myself, has forgiven all who have trespassed against him. Now listen to these words:

11. And ye ought to say in your hearts -- let God judge between me and thee, and reward thee according to thy deeds.

There is the key.

12. And him that repenteth not of his sins, and confesseth them not, ye shall bring before the church, and do with him as the scripture saith unto you, either by commandment or by revelation.

13. And this ye shall do that God may be glorified -- not because ye forgive not, having not compassion, but that ye may be justified in the eyes of the law, that ye may not offend him who is your lawgiver --

14. *Verily I say, for this cause ye shall do these things.

And then giving specific instructions regarding Ezra Booth and Isaac Morley, who had apostatized, and to Edward Partridge, who at one point the Lord said was a man without guile, but who did overcome.

17. *And also my servant Edward Partridge, behold, he hath sinned, and Satan seeketh to destroy his soul; but when these things are made known unto them, and they repent of the evil, they shall be forgiven.

22. And after that day, I, the Lord, will not hold any guilty that shall go with an open heart up to the land of Zion; for I, the Lord, require the hearts of the children of men.

He doesn't care so much about your money that you pay in tithes as He does about what is in your hearts. If they are right and He has your hearts, the money will follow. So what need have we to be concerned if our heart is right?

23. Behold, now it is called today until the coming of the Son of Man, and verily it is a day of sacrifice, and a day for the tithing of my people; for he that is tithed shall not be burned at his coming.

24. For after today cometh the burning -- this is speaking after the manner of the Lord -- for verily I say, tomorrow all the proud and they that do wickedly shall be as stubble;

That is what Malachi said.
24. ...and I will burn them up, for I am the Lord of Hosts; and I will not spare any that remain in Babylon.

Come out of Babylon and be ye partakers of the Kingdom of God.

25. Wherefore, if ye believe me, ye will labor while it is called today.

30. And he hath set you to provide for his saints in these last days, that they may obtain an inheritance in the land of Zion.

31. And behold, I, the Lord, declare unto you, and my words are sure and shall not fail, that they shall obtain it.

32. But all things must come to pass in their time.

So let us be patient, as we see the example in our Prophet, patience in suffering.

33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, for ye are laying the foundation of a great work. And out of small things proceedeth that which is great.

34. Behold, the Lord requireth the heart and a willing mind; and the willing and obedient shall eat the good of the land of Zion in these last days.

Only they will.

35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, Zion is where the saints are, as they have been moving about upon this continent. Zion is in our hearts and we can make Zion for us here and now today if we will.

35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, and shall be sent away, and shall not inherit the land.

Our Zion, to me, is in Short Creek on the Arizona Strip, before going back to redeem the Zion of Jackson County.

36. For, verily I say that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, wherefore they shall be plucked out.

Brother Johnson is looking for the blood of Ephraim to follow him.

37. Behold, I, the Lord, have made my church in these last days like unto a judge sitting on a hill, or in a high place, to judge the nations.

38. For it shall come to pass that the inhabitants of Zion shall judge all things pertaining to Zion.

39. And liars and hypocrites shall be proved by them, and they who are not apostles and prophets shall be known.

I think I will stop there and give way for time for President Johnson to speak to us. I pray that we, my brothers and sisters, will take these things to heart, and do remember day by day what we are about, building each day on the last, on our upward course, or going, as it is said, down the road to Zion with our Prophet Leroy Johnson; which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Purpose of This School Is to Train Children for the Redemption of Zion; Parents Must Teach Their Children Obedience

I feel like having a different kind of music. We don't usually have music on these exercises, but I felt like we ought to have Sister Norma play us the Nephite Lamentation.

* * * * *

That musical piece always brings tears to my eyes. From what we learn by the composer, it was inspired by the Lord, and he wrote it down as he was inspired to write it, as it came to him during the night. He called it the "Nephite Lamentation". How Moroni and Mormon must have felt as they approached the end of the days of the Nephites, through their disobedience and rejection of the Lord and His Son Jesus Christ and the Prophets that had been sent among them. We are in a different time now, nearing the close of the sixth day of time, and approaching very, very closely to the seventh day, the day of rest, a thousand years of peace. We have with us, leading us into that, one of those great and noble ones that the Lord chose as His ruler to come forth at this time to lead us into the Millennium and the redemption of Zion, picking up where Joseph Smith left off.

Our purpose in this school, which we have called after the name of President Johnson, who first directed its organization, is to carry on as he intended. So I am grateful to President Johnson for his wonderful support, and you should all be, because he loves you all. He wants the young raised up to assist in the redemption of Zion, and that is the great object of this school in training young men and young women. You are girls and boys now, but by then you will be among the young, and your fathers among the middle-aged.

So I just want to make these few remarks in appreciation for the great work that has been done by Warren, who was appointed to the position of principal of this school, who had wonderful cooperation, beautiful assistance from the teachers who have recognized him as the head of this school, and have taken their problems to him. We have had our problems because of our humanity. Our children are raised up in many different kinds of homes, and it is always reflected in the classrooms of this school how they have been brought up by their mothers and fathers.

The greatest lesson you can teach your children, my dear sisters -- and the great responsibility rests upon you, as Brigham Young said -- is to teach them obedience, obedience to the first two great commandments which covers all the rest: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself. Disobedience to these two great commandments shows up in the lives of our children, and it comes and extends largely from the example of their parents. President Johnson has taught by example as well as precept, and by the authority of the holy Priesthood, the keys of which he holds -- the sealing powers, the fountainghead of the Holy Spirit of God, which he has administered to us through the gift and power of the Holy Ghost -- which he has had continuously. So I just want to express my personal thanks and gratitude to you teachers and all those who assisted in building and teaching in this school.

We have added a new building at the northwest end here for the High School, for manual arts and science teaching, and for the High School classes. It has been marvelous to see how all have joined together in offerings of money and of labor in getting this great job completed. And it has been done without having it directly in debt. This whole property has been for other purposes, but not for that. But that was built resulting from the love and labors of all of you who pitched in and helped with your labors and your means, and we are very grateful for it. It is showing wonderful fruits already. The one in charge of construction was Ron Rohbock, who also teaches manual arts -- that is woodwork and construction. He told me the other day that in this one year our young men have learned as much as he learned in four years of High School. Is that right, Ron? So I think it is a wonderful accomplishment. We surely appreciate his labors especially, as he planned and directed the construction of that building.

I am very grateful for the labors of my son, Warren. He loves you. He appreciates all that you have done. But I want you children to understand more particularly the grand principle that the Lord has given us through His Prophet -- "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth," when it needs be. So when we have to administer corrective measures, punishments, it is only because we love you children. We want you to make good, and go out of this school as a credit to the name and labors and support of President Leroy S. Johnson.

If you love him, keep his commandments. He is God over us. "If you love God," He says, "keep My commandments." He loves us all, but he loves those most and best who are striving to become like Him, and come back into His presence. May God help us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I just want to add a few remarks to these children. If you have been given assignments to take care of during the summer, you do them, or you will not get along next year as well as you should. If you have make-up work to do, or if you have review work to do, or preparation work to do, do it. Take this thing very seriously and you will rejoice in the end. And remember, we are working for the building up of the Kingdom of God, and the establishment of the leadership of President Johnson as our Prophet, Seer, and Revelator, Keyholder, and Fountainhead. I love him more than I love anyone, or my own life, and I just want to stand by his side as he goes down the road on the way to that glorious object we all have in view -- Zion, and the Temple, the coming of the City of Enoch, the return of the Ten Tribes, and all of the other parts that are bound to come in their time. We are living in the greatest days that this earth has seen so far, except when our Lord and Master Jesus Christ came in the meridian of time. But He is at the helm. Joseph Smith is with President Johnson in making preparation for the setting in order of the Kingdom, and the Church, and the House of God.

That is what is before us, and let us always keep it in mind. Be humble, meek and lowly of heart, and be usable in the hands of God, and we will have the Holy Spirit of God as our constant guide and companion, without which we cannot make the grade. We cannot make it back into the presence of God without having and keeping continually the Holy Spirit of God, which Joseph Smith told Brigham Young to tell the people time and time again, and as President Johnson is now doing in following their footsteps, and in leading us to that glorious end which we are all praying and laboring for. I pray that we may do so, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Judgments of God Upon the House of God;
The Rebellious Shall Be Plucked Out From Among Us; Faith Unto Eternal Life

We are very grateful, happy to have President Johnson with us here today. I hope he will be able to have a message for us. Again, I feel to, since I have been assigned to this position by President Johnson, to call upon you to exert your minds in faith and we will have the Holy Spirit of God here, which comes with President Johnson anyway. But we all need it for ourselves, that we will have a time of rejoicing here today.

* * * * *

President Johnson just called on me and I pray that the Spirit of God will direct my few words that we will come right to the point regarding the direction we are trying to go in, and that we will rally around our leader and head to accomplish the object in view.

It has been a little time since he called attention to the warning of the Lord as to what is about to come to pass among this, the people who are supposed to be the House of God. The House of God, of course, is presided over by one man; and around him the Kingdom of God is built. He has given us warning words on the 14th of April down south, and we have read them here about the judgments. I would like to remind us here now of what Section 112 tells us.

D.& C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.
24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

25. And upon my house shall it begin,

Are we mindful of this? Our Prophet has had to clean up the body that surrounded him in order to bring about the purposes of God.
25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord; Where those at the top have been cleaned up, as President Johnson has said. What is the next step? Those who have professed to be following them or him, this one man.

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

Last time I read Section 64 and I am impressed to refer back to that and see how all of this is going to be fulfilled -- "First upon My house shall it begin."

D. & C. 64

32. But all things must come to pass in their time.
33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, That is the weakness of most of us.
33. ...for ye are laying the foundation of a great work. And out of small things proceedeth that which is great.

Remember the Prophet was preparing a people to go back to redeem Zion. This was in 1831, and I reminded you last time that President Johnson was picking up where Joseph Smith had to leave off.

34. Behold, the Lord requireth the heart and a willing mind; and the willing and obedient shall eat the good of the land of Zion in these last days.

35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, That is at the House of God.
35. ...and shall be sent away, and shall not inherit the land.

36. For, verily I say that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, Which President Johnson is seeking to gather.

36. ...wherefore they shall be plucked out.

Brother Johnson in his remarks has spoken how two would be at the mill, one taken and one left. Two would be walking, one would be taken and one left. And that great desolating sickness, overflowing scourge, he says is upon us and it has already started. In Section 45:

D. & C. 45

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

These communities, brothers and sisters, that are being led by our Prophet Leroy Johnson, I believe that there are going to be those who will be plucked out -- the rebellious. Like Brother Truman said, the sifting goes on. We better learn more than anything else, now, to be meek and lowly in heart, not be proud and rebellious.

As I read the Book of Mormon and how the Three Nephites remained among the righteous and led them for nearly two hundred years when they had perfect confidence in one another, that confidence that Brother Truman mentioned, until they began to become proud and wore fine things. They began to build up churches unto themselves that they might get gain, and so the Lord took out these Three Nephites from among them and there ceased to be miracles.

This time is the last time, and we are going through, with the help of God, following this great Prophet. Let us be sure that we are not walking with proud hearts, but meek and lowly hearts, and that we be humble and contrite and become as a little child; dedicating ourselves with all we have, and are obeying all of the commandments of God. Those first two seem to cover them all, don't they? If we can do that, we can obey the law of sacrifice, the law of obedience, and come to know that we please God; by which we come to perfection, or perfect faith. I would just like to close by reading about faith.

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God;

That means that we are learning to become like Him, through faith and having the Holy Spirit of God as our constant companion, which issues forth from the Father, and constitutes the attributes of God. So, if we are full of the Holy Ghost, we are becoming like God; and we love like God does, we obey, and we persevere, until we lay hold on eternal life.
The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God; and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, a correct conception of his character, and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him -- will render faith perfect.

Because, He says, "If you do what I say, I am bound. If ye do not what I say, ye have no promise." And,

...will constitute it a principle of power, the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born,

Which President Johnson talked to us about recently.

...with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their calling and election sure -- through faith ripening into knowledge.

Which is the end of our faith, the object of our faith; which I pray we may do, becoming like God, getting and keeping the Holy Spirit of God, which is the Spirit of love; loving God with our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourselves, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

How to Govern in Righteousness

President Johnson asked me to speak. I hardly know how to begin, except to say, may the Spirit of God be with me as I give his message to you, and that we will all be encouraged and prepared. We cannot be prepared unless we are encouraged to do better and overcome -- overcome as Jesus overcame. I am reminded of the statements in Revelations. John Taylor spoke of them. I have read them to you. Jesus, having overcome, was called to sit down upon the throne with His Father. We are called upon to overcome that we might sit down on our throne, become heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ. In order to do so we must become like Him. This grand principle of love that was mentioned -- "God so loved His children that He sent His Son to be sacrificed and overcome the grave, overcome death, hell, and the devil" — have we ever realized what that means? I wish I had the exact words at hand; I don't know that I could find them. I am a little better acquainted with the Triple Combination than I am the Bible. The bottom line in Section 121 is expressed in these words:

D. & C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood,

Fathers, husbands, remember this:

41. ...only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

"Great big Elders" ought to read this time and time again. Joseph Smith described them as "great big Elders" who tried to overcome the Prophet and take his place; and husbands and fathers who rule by force and all things opposite to what is described here.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;

I have heard President Johnson reprove betimes with sharpness. Mothers and fathers, in conducting the affairs of your family, remember this, that your children -- husbands with their wives -- no one can be moved upon by the Holy Ghost and accomplish anything in a fit of anger; but you can be very firm, very honest and truthful in your reproof, judging by the Holy Spirit of God, moved upon by the Holy Ghost.

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

This calls upon us as heads of families to be faithful, be obedient to our Priesthood head, because we are undertaking, when we receive the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, an oath and covenant, that we will obey our Prophet who has the mind and will of God, who is His personal representative, and who is God over us. And husbands, may I remind you, you are gods over your families. Act like God as you do govern your families. And I repeat that paragraph:

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;
The Holy Ghost is the Spirit of peace, and we can reprove so that it will stick, if we do it in that Spirit.

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,
Charity towards all men, and more particularly the household of faith, our neighbors in this great and glorious work of the holy Priesthood, the keys of which have been conferred upon President Johnson, and who is setting the example for us to follow.

45. ...and to the household of faith,
See? More particularly.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
If we want to have power with God, we must know that our course of life is pleasing to Him. Thereby our faith becomes perfect, and He is bound to answer our prayers in righteousness. Section 82 says so anyway.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion,
That we must have if we are to become like God.

46. ...and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion,

As is contained in the blessings conferred upon us in the holy Celestial Law of Marriage, the covenant of marriage. First the covenant, then the blessing is set out in that glorious thing that is conferred upon us in entering into the holy Celestial Law of Marriage, which requires that we abide its companion law, the Holy United Order. The central point in abiding the Celestial Law of the Holy United Order, is to love our neighbor as ourself, as Section 82 says, seeking the interest of our neighbor with an eye single to the glory of God.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, Thrones and dominions, powers, and eternal lives.

46. ...and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Shall we say that is the bottom line? God help us to be so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Faith; Lecture Five; The Spirit of Revelation

I would like to go on hearing these wonderful testimonies, brothers and sisters. I feel the Spirit constrains me to say a few words, which I pray God will bring to my mind for the benefit of all of us and especially me. I appreciate these kind words, but I would not be anywhere in this work if it were not for President Johnson, and President John Y. Barlow who preceded him in holding the keys of the Kingdom, the holy Priesthood, and of the sealing powers. So I feel a great debt of gratitude to President John Y. Barlow and President Leroy S. Johnson. I have found that it is only by doing what they require and say, by the word of God and by the Spirit of God, that I can find peace and joy in this work.

I am grateful to my father in bringing to me the knowledge or the existence of this work in the earth, as I had been going forward in the Church as he had; although he had gone underground during the days when John and Lorin Woolley were underground in carrying on the fullness of the Gospel. I am grateful to be a product through my faithful father and my sainted mother, and the heritage that they gave me in guiding me into this channel, to go down the road with President Barlow and President Johnson. There were efforts to sidetrack me, and I thank God for His Spirit and guidance and His blessings to me, more than I can express. I am grateful for the beautiful family that I have, my wives and children, and how most of them are turning out, a great portion, and I hope and pray that they will continue in following me as I follow President Johnson, obey me as I obey God through President Johnson.

I wish I could portray, my brothers and sisters, how the channel of the Holy Spirit of God works. I know that this is the way: We have in the Lectures on Faith given to us a knowledge of the character and the attributes of God, which are embraced in the Holy Spirit of God, which issues forth from the Father. So it is just a matter of getting and keeping the Spirit of God, as Joseph Smith told Brigham Young in a dream. To repeat something I have often read, in Lecture Five, it describes the Father and the Son and how They were and how They set the example and teachings through Their Prophet, who is among us and is most like God among us. Jesus, of course, was the grand and glorious Example, having come and, as it says here:

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, Who came down to redeem us all.

2. ...made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him,

In the flesh, through Mary.

2. ...and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer;

In his degree, President Johnson has been suffering for the benefit of us all, and he has paid a fearful price, and is still. But he is coming through and doing his work of preparing a people.

2. ...or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin;

By keeping the law.

2. ...and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome,

He had to overcome. Though He was divine and mortal, He had to overcome, as He may have done before, I am sure.

2. ...received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

Now if you want to know what it is, there it is. The Holy Spirit centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, He is our Advocate with the Father, and the Mediator for us.

2. ...being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;

Joint heirs. John Taylor says Jesus Christ is the only Heir. We become heirs with Him on the grand principle of adoption, so says the Prophet John Taylor in the Mediation and Atonement.

2. ...and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace,
Here a little, there a little; line upon line, precept upon precept. We have a lifetime to accomplish it.

2. ...and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation,
That faith, that perfect faith, is gained by pleasing God through keeping His commandments. So we add faith upon faith until we become perfect, which God has required us to do as He is perfect, perfect in our sphere as He is in His.

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

The Holy Spirit.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints
That is supposed to be us.

3. ...are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

If I had the time I would like to go into Section 93, which brings out a little more expressly the things that we need to know about this glorious subject. But I will pick up from there next time. If you want a little of the modus operandi about getting and keeping the Holy Spirit, maybe I can take a few verses of Sections 8 and 9, an example in the person of Oliver Cowdery, who desired to have a part in the translation of the Book of Mormon with Joseph.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, Mind and heart. The mind is the spirit of man. The heart is the center of our physical being. So this joins spirit and body together in this process.

2. ...by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; Isn't that simple enough to understand, though a child?

3. ...behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

He was guided by the Holy Spirit of God, told what to do by it. Nephi, when he was sent back to get the records from King Laban, at first he was constrained not to do what the Spirit told him; but it was the Holy Spirit of God telling him, "Cut off this man's head. Kill him and I will show you how to get the records. It is better that one man should die than that a nation dwindle in unbelief." So whatever God says and dictates is right, isn't it?

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.

5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember, this is your gift.
6. Now this is not all thy gift; for you have another gift, which is the gift of Aaron; behold, it has told you many things;
7. Behold, there is no other power, save the power of God, that can cause this gift of Aaron to be with you.
8. Therefore, doubt not, for it is the gift of God; and you shall hold it in your hands, and do marvelous works; and no power shall be able to take it away out of your hands, for it is the work of God.
9. And, therefore, whatsoever you shall ask me to tell you by that means, that will I grant unto you, and you shall have knowledge concerning it.
10. Remember that without faith you can do nothing; therefore ask in faith. Trifle not with these things; do not ask for that which you ought not.
11. Ask that you may know the mysteries of God, and that you may translate and receive knowledge from all those ancient records which have been hid up, that are sacred; and according to your faith shall it be done unto you.
12. Behold, it is I that have spoken it; and I am the same that spake unto you from the beginning. Amen.

But he did not do what he was told. Both of these were in April of 1829.

D. & C. 9

1. Behold, I say unto you, my son, that because you did not translate according to that which you desired of me, and did commence again to write for my servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., even so I would that ye should continue until you have finished this record, which I have entrusted unto him.

2. And then, behold, other records have I, that I will give unto you power that you may assist to translate.

3. Be patient, my son, for it is wisdom in me, and it is not expedient that you should translate at this present time.

4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.

He had been cautioned not to ask for that which he ought not to.

5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.
6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

In other words, there was not enough of the exertion of the mind, just simply asked. That is the kind of faith that works -- the exertion of the mind, and continuing in faith.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

So I suppose it was through mental, spiritual laziness, which I have said a little about in times past, the exertion of the mind. We learn further in Lecture Six what are the results of the principles brought out here.

I just wanted to leave these few wonderful thoughts and teachings of the Lord through the Prophet Joseph Smith. And remember, that all of the Prophets in our dispensation have made that the burden of their message: Get and keep the Spirit of God. That gift is given us after baptism. It is a great and glorious gift, and the means to our salvation and exaltation, which, if we follow and keep with us at all times through the power of faith, we will be exalted and saved in the presence of God; which I pray may be our happy lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are to Become a Royal Priesthood People Through Righteous Living

My dear brothers and sisters, we are greatly blessed with the presence of President Leroy S. Johnson today. I trust that we will center our faith in him, and that the Lord will shed forth His Holy Spirit upon us, which we receive through this man. I trust that we will come here together in faith and love, and that we will be of one heart and one mind, and we will have a time of rejoicing.

* * * * *
RTJ 6:65  July 7, 1985  Sandy
President Johnson has agreed to speak to us here today and I just want to respond to his request that I speak, without taking too much time. I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me, for I desire only to please God and my fellow servant, President Johnson.

Heber C. Kimball taught a very basic principle when he said: "Faith is confidence; confidence is faith." My faith is that I will always be able to retain the confidence of President Leroy Johnson, my head, holding the keys to my salvation. As I lay praying this morning, after our blackout last night, I was impressed with how with one little stroke what the Lord can do. I got to thinking about this people, and the words kept ringing in my ears about this being a chosen branch. We have presiding over us a royal Priesthood, and the words of Peter came to mind. The Prophet Joseph Smith was quoting Peter. He said:

Salvation means a man's being placed beyond the power of all his enemies.
The more sure word of prophecy means a man's knowing that he is sealed up unto eternal life by revelation and the spirit of prophecy, through the power of the holy priesthood. It is impossible for a man to be saved in ignorance.

Paul saw the third heavens, and I more. Peter penned the most sublime language of any of the apostles. (May 17, 1843.)

And we just have two epistles from him. I would like to read 1st Peter, chapter 2.

1 Peter 2

1. Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

This is the Gospel of Leroy Johnson to us.

2. As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3. If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.
4. To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,
5. Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6. Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Zion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

As a representative of the Lord Jesus Christ, the chief cornerstone now in leading us to Zion is Leroy Johnson.

7. Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,
8. And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.

9. But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should show forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light:

10. Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: I see how these things apply to us now.

10. ...which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11. Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;
12. Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.

13. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;
14. Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.

15. For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:
16. As free, and not using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.

17. Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.

20. For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

21. For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

Certainly that is true, and President Johnson is suffering for us.

22. Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:
23. Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

24. Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.
25. For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

1 Peter 3

1. Likewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;

2. While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3. Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;
4. But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5. For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6. Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7. Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.
8. Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:
9. Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.
10. For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:
11. Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.
12. For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.
13. And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?
14. But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;
This applies to us now.
15. But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:
16. Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.
17. For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.
18. For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:
19. By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;
20. Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.
21. The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:
22. Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.
So may we conduct our lives, my dear brothers and sisters, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Lord Will Fight the Battles for the United Effort Plan if We Are Faithful; Prepare Today for the Redemption of Zion

I am going to combine my remarks with those of President Johnson; let him have the last word here, though he cannot be here. This happens to apply again now, as it did then -- August 8, 1976, given in Colorado City.

LSJ Vol.4  Page 1256  August 8, 1976  CCA

I assure you, my brothers and sisters, I feel very humble today because of the conditions that exist among us and the condition of the world in which we live today. I trust that the few moments I speak the Lord will put the words in my mouth that I might say that which He has for me to give to you.

Almost invariably his sermons started that way, so that we can be assured that he was delivering the word of God to us; but in those days he was considered as Noah was thought of by far, far too many people, like Truman mentioned here.

I am grateful for the testimonies that have been borne here this afternoon. So am I, as to this meeting.

I am grateful for the presence of this wonderful audience that has come out to be instructed and to hear what the Lord has for us at this time.

I got acquainted with this work in 1934 -- possibly as early as 1926, because that is when I first began to realize that there was a way to progress in the Priesthood. In 1928, I visited John W. Woolley -- had an interview with him. That was the first that I had heard about the eight-hour meeting and the all-night interview that took place the day before. Since that time, the Priesthood has been on the firing line. In 1934, we had a raid. Just prior to this time, President Zitting had been on trial; but in 1934, President Barlow, Price Johnson, and Carling Spencer were arrested and brought to trial. At this time, I had already had the privilege of hearing the brethren speak and I believed what they had to say sufficient that I commenced to get on my armor and began to fight for the rights of the Priesthood.

Which is literally what he did, standing by the side of President John Y. Barlow, the Prophet of God then.

Since that time, we have gone through several other raids in which I was personally involved to some extent.

The devil is not pleased yet -- not satisfied.

The devil is not.

So we find ourselves involved again. We are involved today in a great test of the United Effort Plan.

This was the year in which Harold and James Blackmore filed a lawsuit against the United Effort Plan, determined to break it. We are there again now.

No doubt there are some among us who are not in harmony with this Plan that was inspired by God and given to this people for their protection. You people who live in this place -- a lot of you -- would not be here today if it weren't for the United Effort Plan.

Talking in Colorado City, Short Creek.

The United Effort Plan and its trustees have been branded openly as the greatest Mafia movement in the United States today.

I just read another letter written to a sister in Canada, railing against her for having turned in her property, property which Ray Blackmore had along with her, dear sister Anna Mae Blackmore, for having conveyed her three hundred acres, which she inherited from Ray, they having owned the property in joint tenancy. And they rail about the great mafia that is running the United Effort Plan.

A question is never solved until a decision is made. So, we know nothing, at the present time, about how this thing is going to be solved. However, we have obtained the best legal assistance that we know how to obtain to represent our side of the question.

In the days of 1953, when the raid came, word was transmitted to us over the radio that the State of Arizona would adopt out the children of this community, put their mothers in detention homes and their fathers in jail, and sell the land upon which they lived -- their homes -- to help defray the expenses of the State; and after two years time they would destroy the records and their identity would be forgotten. But here we are again in greater numbers than we were at that time. And I hope that we have developed more faith than we had at that time. But I want to tell you something. It is going to be a supreme test, and it is going to take the united effort of those who dwell here and those who are under the sound of my voice today to establish the principles of righteousness in this community and other communities where the Priesthood operates.

President Johnson says the same very words today.

There may be some among us who have sharp pencils and like to take notes, but be careful how you write or who you transmit the information to, because you are dealing not with man's work, but the work of God. God inspired our leaders to draw up this instrument of agreement; and through that instrument, there is not a foot of ground that belongs to the United Effort Plan that is mortgaged. I will tell you why. It has been the policy of the United Effort Plan not to receive anything that was mortgaged. So, the Lord has seen to it that if anyone wanted to mortgage the land that they had turned in, they have asked for it back. The trustees have been broadminded enough to turn it back to them.

That is what happened in the first effort, called the United Trust, but not now.

If the Lord wants to try us further, we are ready and willing to be tried. We still have our fighting clothes on and we will try something else. But if we have found favor in the sight of our Father, they will not be able to break this instrument and take our possessions away from us -- because that is what it will do if we lose the fight. There is no other way.

We have all said that we believe the Gospel to be true; we believe that this order of the Priesthood is ordained of God; we have heard it here today. If this be the case, then let us get down to business. Let us cease our fooling around and waiting for a better day to clean up our minds and increase our determinations to serve the Lord, but let us get down to business today and pray for the protection of our Father in Heaven. He has said that the time would come when we would cry night and day for deliverance. And if you don't think that time is upon us, just keep on fooling around.
That was nine years ago. It is worse today, and closer to the Millennium and for the preparations that we have to make.

This goes for the young and the old -- all who dwell here within the confines of the Priesthood as it has been set up by our former leaders. We are here, my brothers and sisters, to prepare ourselves to be used in the redemption of our Father's work; for this is the day of redemption! This is the day of preparation for the redemption of Zion.

We are all looking for the return of the ten tribes of Israel who have been led away by the hand of our Father; and what do you know about what is going on among those people? Christ said, when He visited the Nephite nation, that He had other work to do when He finished His work among the Nephites in setting them up, giving them work to do, and calling men to lead them.

He called Twelve Apostles. Nine were granted their desire to see Him in His Kingdom. Three desired to remain to teach the Gospel and bring the sons and daughters of God to a knowledge of the Kingdom and work of God.

He said, "I am going now to answer the call of my Father. For I have other sheep to visit who are not of this fold or the fold of Jerusalem." So, where did He go? He must have gone among the other tribes of Israel.

What a golden opportunity, my brothers and sisters, we have of preparing ourselves for a glorious resurrection. But you want to remember that the Lord has said that those who possess this land will be a God-fearing people and they will serve the God of the land, who is the God of Heaven. And if they will not serve Him, when they are ripened in iniquity, He will destroy them. And He has done it at least twice.

On this land of Joseph, North and South America.

The second time, He destroyed all those who called themselves Nephites. And those of the Nephites who weren't destroyed but went over to the armies of the enemy became as dark as the enemy. But He preserved a remnant of the enemy for a wise purpose in Himself, and He has told us what they would do in the latter days -- in the preparation of the Millennial Reign. That day is upon us. It is right at our door.

Now, if we want to be found among the seed of Joseph, we will have to keep the commandments of the Lord. Christ says that all who would believe the story of Joseph Smith and embrace the Gospel of Jesus Christ and live according to its teachings would be saved, and those who rejected it would be damned.

We are on trial at the present time. It is going to be expensive. Moneywise, it is going to be expensive;
That is just what it is today.
...and where the money comes from we know not. But, this we do know, that God opened the way for the money to be raised to pay off the great expense of the 1953 raid, and He can do it again if we are worthy of it. But this is the thing that worries me.

I am going to make a call upon this body of people -- both here and wherever they are -- to rally to and let us see if we can muster enough determination to serve God and keep His commandments to turn this battle in favor of the work of our Father, that we might not be driven from our homes again.

That is what the devil is trying to do.

If this instrument can be torn to pieces and these people win their point, we are going to find this people in a serious situation, because this is only a beginning of it.

Now, I pray that God will bless us with a determination to serve Him and keep His commandments, to get down on our knees and pray, not only while we are upon our knees, but in our hearts.

Do we know how to pray in our hearts? That is what the Lord was speaking of when He called upon us to pray always, over our work and in all that we do. We do not have to be on our knees all the time, or we would not get the work done. It is all up here, exertion of the mind and of the heart, being of one mind and of one heart, as the people of the Prophet Leroy Johnson.

Let us get out of our hearts and our minds all evil, that we might be able to go before the Lord in faith.

The exertion of the mind.

I am prepared -- I have prepared myself to come out from under the condemnation that He has placed upon us, because He said: "I place the whole Church under condemnation because they have treated lightly the things they have received." So, let us quit treating lightly the principles of salvation that we so dearly love. I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and with power to cast out all evil, I humbly pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Amen and amen. I have nothing more to add other than a little message we have in the Pearl of Great Price, in the Book of Abraham.

Abraham 3

22. Now the Lord had shown unto me, Abraham, the intelligences that were organized before the world was; and among all these there were many of the noble and great ones;
23. And God saw these souls that they were good, and he stood in the midst of them, and he said: These I will make my rulers; for he stood among those that were spirits, and he saw that they were good; and he said unto me: Abraham, thou art one of them; thou wast chosen before thou wast born.

I testify to you that Leroy Johnson is one of them, succeeding similar great spirits: Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, John W. Woolley, Lorin Woolley, John Y. Barlow, and now Leroy S. Johnson.

Just one more thing comes to mind, page 180 of the Teachings.

"Answer to the question, Was the Priesthood of Melchizedek taken away when Moses died? All Priesthood is Melchizedek, but there are different portions or degrees of it. That portion which brought Moses to speak with God face to face was taken away; but that which brought the ministry of angels remained."

Now listen to this:
"All the prophets had the Melchizedek Priesthood and were ordained by God himself."

Going on, another paragraph:
"We came to this earth that we might have a body and present it pure before God in the celestial kingdom. The great principle of happiness consists in having a body.
Like Brother Wendell was speaking of.

"The devil has no body, and herein is his punishment. He is pleased when he can obtain the tabernacle of man, and when cast out by the Savior he asked to go into the herd of swine, showing that he would prefer a swine's body to having none."
"All beings who have bodies have power over those who have not. The devil has no power over us only as we permit him. The moment we revolt at anything which comes from God, the devil takes power. That has applied in our time, in the great division that has taken place, because they would not believe the Prophet.

"This earth will be rolled back into the presence of God, and crowned with celestial glory."

Which I pray we may obtain through our faith and faithfulness, through our Prophet, and be that people which will be called up to go and redeem Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Must Become Like God;
God Himself Confers the Keys of Priesthood
Upon the Prophet

President Leroy S. Johnson has asked me to conduct this service. I hope we all realize the sacrifice that it takes on his part in his pain and illness, to come and favor us with his presence. I pray God to shed forth His Spirit upon him particularly, and upon all of us today as we meet together in the name of the Lord. I trust that the Holy Spirit of God will be with us, unite us as we meet together in His name.

RTJ 6:78 August 4, 1985 Sandy

I will be very brief, praying that the Spirit of God will be with me as I read a few of the words of the Prophets.

TPJS Page 216

Joseph the Seer arose in the power of God; reproved and rebuked wickedness before the people, in the name of the Lord God. He wished to say a few words to suit the condition of the general mass, and then said: I shall speak with authority of the Priesthood in the name of the Lord God, which shall prove a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death. Notwithstanding this congregation profess to be Saints, yet I stand in the midst of all [kinds of] characters and classes of men.

So does Brother Johnson.
If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil. Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins. So say I.

There are three independent principles; the Spirit of God, the spirit of man, and the spirit of the devil. All men have power to resist the devil.

"Answer to the question, Was the Priesthood of Melchizedek taken away when Moses died? All Priesthood is Melchizedek, but there are different portions or degrees of it. That portion which brought Moses to speak with God face to face was taken away; but that which brought the ministry of angels remained. All the prophets had the Melchizedek Priesthood and were ordained by God himselfy."

If that is so of other Prophets, why not Leroy Johnson?, which Section 132 proves to us, or it does to me. The great Prophet of the latter days, I testify unto you, is at his elbow, the one in charge of this great last dispensation, who is coming again as the One Mighty and Strong to set in order the House of God. The Lord said to the Prophet:

D.& C. 132

45. For I have conferred upon you the keys and power of the priesthood, wherein I restore all things, and make known unto you all things in due time.

Then He outlines what are, to me, the powers of a God, which were conferred upon Joseph Smith. So he is God over them, as he said, and our Prophet today is over us. He is his legal successor and acts for him and the Lord Jesus Christ and the Father. And He said in concluding those great gifts and powers:

49. For I am the Lord thy God, and will be with thee even unto the end of the world, and through all eternity; for verily I seal upon you your exaltation, and prepare a throne for you in the kingdom of my Father, with Abraham your father.

50. Behold, I have seen your sacrifices,
Who has offered more in sacrifice than our Prophet in our time, Leroy Johnson?

50. ...and will forgive all your sins; I have seen your sacrifices in obedience to that which I have told you. Go, therefore, and I make a way for your escape, as I accepted the offering of Abraham of his son Isaac.

We cannot be one with our Prophet unless we have the Holy Spirit of God; and I testify to you that he is full of it, our Prophet. How to get it and keep it, I think is set out in a few verses in Moroni 7.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

There is the condition of getting and keeping the Spirit of God. Jesus said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." "If you are not for Me, you are against Me." I have had to repeat that to a few men who have come to me lately.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity;
The pure love of Christ, who loved His Father, and His Father loved Him, and They were one.

44. ...for if he have not charity he is nothing;
Nothing.

44. ...wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

Husbands, remember these things as you administer salvation to your family, your families.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,

Think what He suffered out of His love for us, to redeem us and give us the Gospel of salvation and exaltation.

47. ...and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, Exert your minds and heart, all the energy.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

Filled with this Holy Ghost or Spirit of God.

48. ...which he hath bestowed

Bestowed.

48. ...upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

There is the modus operandi. God bless us together, that we may become one people under Leroy S. Johnson, to redeem Zion and go down the road to that glorious place and condition. We have got to have Zion in our hearts; and then, wherever we are, we are in Zion. That is what Brigham Young taught. Zion is the pure in heart, which I hope we may attain and be with him in accomplishing this glorious work and mission which he has been called to perform, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Lawsuit Concerning Colorado City Academy;
1880 Revelation a Delusion; One Man Rule; A Person Betrays the Holy Ghost When He Fights the Keyholder

It is good to see you all here. I sure appreciate your coming today. President Johnson is exhausted and won't be able to be with us, and I kind of feel like him after our experience this morning. But I pray God to give me strength to handle this assignment of President Johnson to conduct these services. All I do, my dear brothers and sisters, I do for him. Do you understand that? I hope that I am enough one with him that what you do for me you do for him, not me. Do you understand what I am saying? I am thinking of Section 45 right now. Well, I think our first song is one we all need, especially I need, page 118, "Now Let Us Rejoice". God is at the helm and His servant is at the helm of His people here now.

** * * * * *

I cannot tell you, my dear brothers and sisters, how I feel at this moment, after our interview this morning with Marion Hammon and Alma Timpson, but it was sufficient to their Prophet to say, "The war is over." And yet, they tried to make him the scapegoat, our Prophet Leroy Johnson, for he said so himself. I do not know how much more he is going to have to go through to save us, to save the righteous. One thing I do know though -- he is doing the will of God. He is being told of the Lord what to do and he is doing it.

I do not know if you people know that we have instituted a lawsuit that the Lord told Brother Johnson to do over the Colorado City Academy. But the Lord required it of him to place himself and me as plaintiffs in the lawsuit against Cyril Bradshaw, J. Marion Hammon, Alma A. Timpson, Colorado City Academy, and the State Commission of Arizona. But in this meeting this morning it was resolved by the blessing of God. And President Johnson said to one as he was going out, "The war is over."

I feel that I should let you people know about something that came from anonymous sources that these two men profess they didn't know anything about, or a good many of the other anonymous letters that we have let you know about. Good heavens, I read a four-page letter to you folks that was threatened to President Johnson and myself and our homes, and they profess not to know anything about it. So it is being blamed on a bunch of cranks, I suppose. But if that is what it is, here is one that overshadows them all -- reading scriptures that they apply to us, under which they are guilty.

[President Jeffs then read an anonymous letter threatening President Johnson and himself. Then he continued:]

Everything he has quoted from the scriptures is the word of God, and he has never, to my knowledge, in all the studying and reading I have done, said anything that didn't square up with the scriptures; and you know it as well as I do, don't you?

[President Jeffs continued reading the anonymous letter, and then said:]

You know that is what I have been using, my friends, to get you to believe the story of the Priesthood that President Johnson asked me to tell. It is all couched in the little pamphlet, "The Coming Crisis". And they charge President Johnson with giving a delusion, when all that he was telling us in that Council Meeting, was that the 1880 Revelation was a delusion. And he was accused of giving a delusion when he brought it up as against Section 132, verse 7. But in the 1880 Revelation, at the point where it says, "Thus saith the Lord unto My servant John Taylor," talking to Wilford Woodruff, John Taylor was the keyholder, the one who receives revelations, not Wilford Woodruff. So he asked for more, and that is what he got, telling that lie and the lie that the Apostles all held the keys in common. And that is what has been the cause of the great division. Nothing was mentioned about that, but that is where it is. One of those brethren asked that we should, that the Prophet should put in the place of Section 132, the 1880 Revelation. Think on that. Talk about sending strong delusions.

[President Jeffs continued reading the anonymous letter, and then said:]

And I was told to tell the truth to the people who loved it, for its own sake, the Priesthood Story. And President Johnson has asked me to write it, from 1978 on down.

[President Jeffs continued reading the anonymous letter, and then said:]

I will not read you the rest of their philosophy. Because of this, President Johnson has been concerned about his safety and mine. And we are called upon to do all that we can, as Joseph Smith did during those years in Nauvoo. But these two men claim they did not know anything about that and a lot of these other anonymous letters and things, and threats. And they pleaded that we now join together and be one. Can you imagine it? Brother Truman mentioned once on one occasion, "The moment you compromise one little bit with the devil, he will take you." There is no compromise. It is all with God and His servant the Prophet, or nothing at all. There is no gray area. It is black or white.

I told the story to one man, and he said the reason he could not accept it was because I was too blunt. Do you not want me to be blunt? Well, I know where I stand with my beloved Prophet, friend. I feel nothing but pity for these brethren who have turned away from the Prophet and called him apostate -- not that I want to judge, but I will tell you a truth that the Prophet Joseph told. Joseph Smith speaking to the Twelve, July of 1839:

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants,

And one of those men said the Doctrine and Covenants did not apply to us anymore, that, "it was just for them back then." He is dead now, one who called Leroy Johnson apostate. Maybe it is not proper to speak of the dead thus.

...or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

President Johnson is filled with the Holy Ghost, or he would not be in the position he is in, as was Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, John W. Woolley, John Y. Barlow, and now our Prophet. When you sin against them you sin against the Holy Ghost. I cannot see it any other way. If that is being too blunt, why, so be it. And I weep for what is coming. All who have done such will suffer the same fate. That is in the Doctrine and Covenants, Section 76, and in other places: Do not sin against the Holy Ghost. President Johnson is the fountainhead of the Holy Ghost, from our Father in heaven, our Lord Jesus Christ. And it is dispensed by him to us. You fight against him, and you betray the Holy Ghost. He is the keyholder.

In March of 1978, when President Johnson told us the 1880 Revelation was a delusion, and then President Johnson was accused of giving a delusion, those three said, "We sustain you as President of Priesthood." The 1880 Revelation sustained John Taylor as President of Priesthood, but what did it say about keys? The keys are held by one man, not in common by the Apostles.

One man came to my office within the last few months and tried to tell me there is no difference between Section 132 and the 1880 Revelation. I feel sorry for him. "They say the same thing," he said. That is the difference between night and day, black and white. And the 1880 Revelation from the point where he said, "Thus saith the Lord unto my servant John Taylor," it came from beneath, from the devil. The Lord permitted him to give it to him, that "those who love not the truth might believe a lie and be damned," and those were the words quoted by President Johnson in our Council Meeting. He told us he came, being sent of God, to correct those things that had been said over the pulpit that verse 7 of Section 132, the parenthetical matter regarding one man holding the keys of the sealing powers and of the holy Priesthood, is not so.

Joseph Smith held the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers, and the powers of God, as described in verses 45 to 50 of Section 132. These men who preside over us in that order and in that position are Gods over us, and I do not mind telling you so. And they try to say here that we are exalting this man, Leroy Johnson, as though he were satan. Is not that what it means? Well, I am blunt, and I do not mind telling you the truth if it means being blunt. And I just want to go along humbly as a servant of this great servant of God who leads us, and to become one with him.

Now, my brothers and sisters, unless we are one with him, we will not go where he goes. If we are not one with him, we are not one with God, and we will not come into His presence because we are not like Him. We have got to become like Him to come into His presence, which I pray that we will all strive with all our might, mind, and strength; loving God, giving glory to Him, with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and loving one another, our neighbor as ourselves. Our nearest neighbors are our families; and then those families gathered together, living as one under the Holy United Order, as set out in Section 82. Well, I was going to speak something else, but I will just give you a very simple key from Section 82. And this applies to us now as it did then.

D. & C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.
2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads.

3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required; and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

No one has been given greater light than this people -- in Brigham Young's day, Joseph Smith's day, and ever since.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations,

Uncle Roy has been giving them in every sermon he has given for thirty-five years.

4. ...and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.

5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all:

Then as now.

5. ...Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;

6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.

So some of us have; all of us have in one way or another. We all have need of repentance, and I am speaking to myself, as Brother Truman keeps telling.

7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge;

He had forgiven them this once.

7. ...go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.

10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say;

That means what the mouthpiece of God says, for it is the same.

10. ...but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

After some instructions to some of those who were entering into the United Order in a group, He says:
14. For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness;
That is what President Johnson is working for.
14. ...her borders must be enlarged;
That is what he is working for.
14. ...her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.

15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.
16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just --

18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent,
And the Lord is blessing us with talents.
18. ...that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

That describes the United Effort Plan, dear brothers and sisters. The property is owned in common under the Trust and under the direction of the Trustees, who are the leaders -- this one man in particular -- of Zion. Now listen to this:

19. Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.
20. This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.
21. And the soul that sins against this covenant, and hardeneth his heart against it, shall be dealt with according to the laws of my church, and shall be delivered over to the buffetings of Satan until the day of redemption.

That is how serious it is. So if we do what God says, that is an evidence of our faith, perfect faith. And in obeying Him we obtain perfect faith, and He will grant everything for our good. He is bound, as He said. So what does it take for us to feel that we can bind the Lord? Perfect obedience; then coming to know that we please Him. Then we can, like Joshua command the elements, like Enoch command the elements, and like Leroy Johnson command the elements, as he did in Mexico, knowing that he had found favor with God, saved the crop that enabled him to accomplish his mission in paying the debt in Mexico after the saints had left there -- beautiful example. And he is leading us now by example and by precept, which I pray we may follow, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Cannot Uphold the 1880 Revelation and Still Be With President Johnson; 1880 Revelation Is a Delusion for Those Who Love Not the Truth; We Are Approaching Perilous Times

We are deeply honored and grateful for the presence here of President Johnson, who has asked me to conduct this service. I trust that all things will be done here to his perfect satisfaction, which is the same as pleasing God.

President Johnson has asked me to speak. He said to give us a good sermon. That is an awesome job; and I pray with all my heart that the Spirit of God will direct what I say, that we may be edified, as President Johnson edifies us every time he opens his mouth, both in personal interviews and in his words to the saints.

There comes to our attention some who are still among this people who have been professing to sustain President Johnson, who are wavering. I still have some who come to us from the opposition wanting us to enter their children into our school who seem to still have the idea that the Priesthood Council, all who are living, are to be relied upon and are one.

One man who has been to some of our meetings sometimes, sometimes not, came to my office just recently and said the 1880 Revelation is the same as Section 132. I am informed by President Johnson that one of the brethren at one point in our history, suggested that the 1880 Revelation be put in the place of Section 132. Of course he is not with us now. But I am not satisfied that everyone under the sound of my voice is fully converted to President Johnson, as being that one man upon whom was conferred the power of the sealing powers, and the keys of the holy Priesthood.

You cannot reconcile truth and error. You cannot compromise with the devil in the least degree without getting on his side. I recommend again to this people a reading of "The Coming Crisis", which President Johnson has spoken of so many times in times past; and realize what we have yet to face -
- the miracles of satan.

Now, speaking of the two things that are supposed to be the same -- Section 132 and the 1880 Revelation. I hope I am not speaking needlessly upon this subject, but when I have people coming to try and convince me that they are one and the same, then I think there must be others. I think there is still more to be sifted out of this work that is under the direction of President Johnson. If I can help to bring to our attention some things that cannot be compromised, I hope I can do a little good today. I think I have called attention to the Truth Magazine, volume 10, page 209, which I consider to be one of these diabolical things that satan tries to accomplish against the truth. I am going to read you that page. It is called "The 'One' Man".

Truth 10:209 (Joseph Musser)

"Much is being said of and much is claimed for the interpolation contained in verse 7, Sect. 132 of the Doctrine and Covenants,

That word "interpolation" is the key word in this whole thing, and I will read you what my dictionary tells me that means; which is spoken of as the parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132, and it is shocking. To interpolate is:

Webster's Dictionary

1. To alter a text by the insertion of new matter, especially deceptively or without authorization. 2. To insert new or spurious matter in this manner. 3. To introduce something additional or extraneous between other things or parts; to interject, interpose, intercalate.

And they would accuse the Prophet of putting that parenthetical matter in as being an interpolation.

Truth 10:209 (Joseph Musser) cont'd

"...And I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this Priesthood are conferred."

The power spoken of is the sealing power, spoken of in the words before that parenthetical matter.

"...and there is never but one on the earth at a time

Never! Before now, and hereafter, and now. That is "never", isn't it?

"...never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this Priesthood are conferred." The statement is a self-evident truth, now notice how cleverly this is put together.

...though the interpretation given it by many is far afield of the facts.

Certainly the Celestial order of marriage which, to be complete comprehends plural marriage, is a law of the Priesthood, (See D.& C., 132:28, 58, 61). And he who rightfully holds the keys to priesthood is the "one" man through whom this blessing from the Lord is expressed to the Saints. It could not be otherwise. There can be only one Commander-in-Chief of the army of the nation. Were there two or more Commanders-in-Chief one can easily understand how clashes in authority would occur resulting in complete chaos.

When Joseph Smith dictated the revelation to William Clayton he was inspired to include that interpolation doubtless, Doubtless. That is his word -- "doubtless".

...in order to correct an impression, then growing, to the effect that all men holding the Melchizedek Priesthood possessed equal authority. In fact this thought was given some justification in the language recorded by the Prophet in setting apart his counselors, Sidney Rigdon and Frederick G. Williams,  We quote from History of the Church, 1:334:

March 18, 1833: "Doctor Hurlburt was ordained an Elder; after which Elder Rigdon expressed a desire that himself and Brother Frederick G. Williams should be ordained to the offices to which they had been called, viz: those of Presidents of the High Priesthood, and to be equal in holding the keys of the Kingdom with Brother Joseph Smith, Jun., according to the revelation given on the 8th of March, 1833. Accordingly I laid my hands on Brothers Sidney and Frederick, and ordained them to take part with me in holding the keys of this last kingdom, and to assist in the Presidency of the High Priesthood, as my counselors.

From this language it may be inferred that Joseph's counselors considered themselves possessed of the same authority held by Joseph and could act separately from and independently of him.

Which is what so many have done in our time.

No such a thought could have been in Joseph's mind, however. These brethren were his counselors and were set apart to "take part with him (not independent of him) in holding the keys of this last kingdom, and to Sidney Rigdon, according to all accounts, assumed too much and it was because of this assumption, based upon lack of understanding and upon ambition, that caused the Prophet to be impressed to add the interpolation mentioned.

Poor Sidney. He had been away for four years. He came back in the fall of 1843, after Joseph Smith had dictated the revelation on marriage now known as Section 132. I don't know what they were so afraid of. Now...

True, in the revelation of 1880 to Wilford Woodruff, the Lord said:

And while my servant John Taylor is your President, I wish to ask the rest of my servants of the Apostles the question, Although you have one to preside over your Quorum, which is the order of God in all generations, do you not, all of you, hold the Apostleship, which is the highest authority ever given to men on the earth? You do. Therefore you hold in common the keys of the kingdom of God in all the world.

There was the lie that came in the 1880 Revelation.

You each of you have the power to unlock the veil of eternity and hold converse with God the Father and his son Jesus Christ, and to have the ministration of angels. ***

Then he goes on to say:

It is your right, privilege and duty to inquire of the Lord as to his mind and will concerning yourselves

That is all right; but not this:
...and the inhabitants of Zion and their interests.

Section 28 and Section 43 tell us there is only one man who can receive revelation for Zion and her interests, for the Church and Kingdom of God upon the earth; and that man was Joseph; and that man was John Taylor in Wilford Woodruff’s time when this 1880 thing came.

And whenever any one of you receives the word of the Lord, let it be written and presented in your councils and whatever by united consent you deem wisdom to be presented unto the people, let it be presented by the President, my servant John Taylor, as the word of the Lord. In this way you will uphold him and strengthen his hands, as all the burden should not lie upon one man.

John Taylor did not put it out, and as far as I am concerned it died in the Journal of Wilford Woodruff. It was resurrected in 1908, by one who became very highly regarded in this work -- Joseph Musser -- and urged upon the brethren. And he was told not to publish it anymore. They are not the same -- Section 132 and the 1880 Revelation -- because that is the very thing on March 18, 1978, in which this Priesthood Council split. We are now in the condition following that.

I told this man when he tried to say that they were one and the same, "I will not contend with you. I will say good-bye now." We shook hands. He said, "I love you". I said, "I love you, too, but I wish you would learn the truth and obey it."

Some are still telling me, who are coming from the other side, that they regard all of the brethren as the same still. But we are not going to take children into this school here where they are holding those views. This school was organized under the direction of President Johnson and it is still his school. So we are now trying to carry on while we have your children under our jurisdiction, during the school day, that they follow the example of President Johnson. There are dirty words spoken, there is fighting -- big boys fighting with smaller boys. So I suppose they have these things down in Short Creek, too. But we are resolved here in this school, while we have them in our care, to teach them according to the teachings of the Prophet Leroy Johnson.

As far as that "one man" is concerned, in 1843, October, Joseph Smith repeated it, and again in a revelation given to John Taylor, all of verse 7 of Section 132, which I read to you, including the "interpolation", was in it, and it was still the same. Sidney Rigdon or any of his ilk was not on the scene. It was never, in all eternity before and all eternity hereafter, never but one man on the earth at a time where the children of men are trying to work out their salvation and exaltation; one man who holds the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers. Anything else is chaos, which was even said here, and very contradictory as far as I am concerned.

The time is getting on, and I just want to call these things to your attention. We are still standing on the same proposition on which President Johnson has acted on March 18, 1978, when the 1880 Revelation was brought up, when one of the brethren was teaching over the pulpit that he did not believe that parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132. And this people have been broken up and they are scattering now, because of that having been brought, and that man [Marion Hammon] insisting that the 1880 Revelation taught otherwise. This man that came to me didn't even believe that man; yet he was attached to him.

Brothers and sisters, I yearn over this people, as President Johnson does. He yearns more than I do, I am sure, because of his greater capacity, and his greater love and mercy. We are engaged in the work of salvation of the souls of men. That is why we are here. The time is getting short now before the wicked -- they who come not unto Jesus Christ; they are the wicked -- shall be swept off from the face of this land, by an overflowing scourge, a desolating sickness. And those who are wicked still among us, according to Section 64, shall be plucked out and cast off. We are approaching very perilous times. Section 45 tells us of the overflowing scourge and the desolating sickness. We know what it is; but there shall be great earthquakes, floods, hailstorms, windstorms, and many desolations, many desolations; besides the main one spoken of -- the overflowing scourge, the desolating sickness. And I pray we may escape it.

I am glad to hear the comment made by Brother Sam. After the total destruction of the land of North and South America, upon the crucifixion of Jesus Christ, there remained only twenty-five hundred men, women, and children for Jesus to come to. Think upon it. I do not know that we are going to have the same number. We have one thousand people here -- men, women, and children in this place, and probably three thousand in Short Creek; but they are going to be sifted yet. God only knows how many. And I pray we may, if there is any time left, repent, those who need it. I know I have some things to overcome; all of us do. But we have got to be pure in heart, or we cannot be saved from the overflowing scourge and the desolating sickness.

I am not perfect yet, but I am sure trying to be like President Johnson, who I know is perfect in his generation; and a great man, reserved to serve God and to gather a people to redeem Zion and accomplish the last great work before us. I pray that we may humble ourselves, and look to ourselves, and love God -- the pure love of Christ. If we have that, then we can do no wrong.
The pure love of Christ will bring us to love our neighbor as ourselves. That is charity. If we are filled with that spirit that is spoken of in the seventh chapter of Moroni -- true charity -- we will stand in the presence of God, as it speaks of in the last verse. We will be like Him or we cannot see Him. God help us to be so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Johnson says for us to dismiss. I hope I have not said anything that has caused him to decide not to speak, but I know I have told you the truth; the Spirit of God has borne this in upon me. I am trying, above all other things, to become one with him, and to be useful in his hands, in accomplishing this last great work in which we are engaged. Again, God bless you all, amen.

The Coming Crisis;
The Delusion Within the 1880 Revelation;
Spencer Kimball Received a Revelation from Satan Concerning the Negro

Well, we are greatly blessed and honored to have President Johnson with us here today, and I pray God will direct me in fulfilling this assignment in conducting this meeting for him. It is a wonderful thing, these associations we have with the Lord's anointed, and I think we should all be most grateful and appreciate the goodness of God to us as He administers through His servant to this, His people. I trust that we will draw in the wanderings of our minds and seek the Holy Spirit of God as our guiding light, and pray for answers to our questions, if we have any, that above all we may be deeply and greatly edified by the influence of that Holy Spirit which brings us together, as it should do, as one.

* * * *

I don't want to take too much time. I want to leave time for President Johnson and make this meeting an hour and a half, so as to not make it too hard upon him to be here. I just want to take time, with the help of the Lord directing my remarks, to point out the fulfillment of a revelation. President Johnson has admonished this people, for I don't know how many years, to read "The Coming Crisis", and be taught with it -- "The Coming Crisis and How to Meet It". I am reading it again in my family. One of the most outstanding things that we find there is a description of the nature and the powers and the works of Lucifer in this last time, when he is bringing all his powers; and the Lord is putting means in his way, even, to deceive, to lead astray, and to destroy. We have been told that where God sets up His Kingdom and His Priesthood, that Priesthood which is represented in the person of Leroy S. Johnson, this one man; there Lucifer establishes his work and works the hardest to destroy the work of this servant of God, this mouthpiece of God, this revelator of God and the holder of the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers.

I do not want to repeat, particularly, things that were read last night from the Prophet Joseph Smith, but I want to point out to you a statement in "The Coming Crisis". After having described the nature of the power and the labors and the works of satan, the son of perdition, the great destroyer, the anti-Christ:

Anti-Christ

It is not to be expected that Satan will carry on his great warfare against Christ and His Saints, by means of any one religion exclusively. It is not the Papal or Protestant religion alone that you have need to fear. But the great and abominable Church which you should expect to encounter is Anti-Christ.

All of the sectarian religions and clergymen are anti-Christ. "They draw near to Me with their mouths, but their hearts are far from Me." That is anti-Christ.

Whatever exalts and opposes itself to God, that is anti-Christ, Whether it is a civil or religious power. But the most formidable power that will be arrayed against Christ and his Saints in the last days, will consist in the Revelations of Satan.

And he adds further, the miracles of satan. Maybe we have not seen some of them yet.

These revelations of Satan will come through every medium and channel by which the cunning and power of Satan can be brought to bear against the Saints and their Lord.

From 2nd Thessalonians, second chapter, verses 3, 4, 9 through 12:

3. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;

4. Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

9. Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders.

10. And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth,

I do not care who this applies to, that is what the Lord says.

10. ...that they might be saved.

11. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie;

12. That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

Now, speaking of that, on page 10 of "The Coming Crisis" we have this:

The Coming Crisis, cont’d

For it cannot be denied that facts and truths will constitute such a measure of the ingredients of these mysterious and wonderful arts as to give them an irresistible strength of conviction to those who are unenlightened by the spirit of God. And so far as facts and truths are mingled, it must also be acknowledged that God, the true and living Sovereign of heaven and earth, will contribute to produce the delusion. He has said that "HE WILL SEND THEM STRONG DELUSIONS THAT THEY MIGHT BELIEVE A LIE."

That is what I just quoted from in Thessalonians.

He gives His reason and apology for acting after this strange manner -- because, knowing the truth, they do not love it unadulterated. And knowing God, they do not choose to glorify Him as God. Therefore their foolish hearts become darkened, and God suffers Satan to compound and mix up truth and error in such proportions as to be captivating and strongly delusive. As a snare, this composition will be ingeniously mixed
Now keep in mind the statement that satan will sit in the temple of God as God. That has come to pass, this temple up here. Before I say anymore about that, on March 17, 1978, the Lord God sent Leroy S. Johnson to a meeting with the Priesthood Council at Lincoln Street, and said, "The Lord has sent me here this day to reprove statements that have been said over the pulpit that are lies." Then turning to one of the brethren, Brother Hammon, Uncle Roy said, "You have said over the pulpit that you do not believe the parenthetical matter of verse 7 of Section 132: 'There is never but one man on the earth at a time on whom this power,'" the sealing power which was being spoken of, "'and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred.'" Never but one man. And the objection was raised by Brother Hammon, "What about the 1880 Revelation?" The Prophet of God said, and I am witness to it, I am his witness, "That 1880 Revelation to Wilford Woodruff was and is a delusion, that they who love not the truth for the truth's sake might believe a lie and thus be damned." satan was at work and the Prophet was trying to overcome it.

President Johnson asked me to read Section 28 of the Doctrine and Covenants, which says there is never but one man who is to receive revelation for the interests of Zion and the Kingdom of God and the people of Zion. That ties in with Section 132 and other places in Section 132. Then he asked us to respond. Three brethren acknowledged him as President of Priesthood, but one said he was standing on the 1880 Revelation. The other two acknowledged him as President of Priesthood but did not say anything about keys. Afterwards, after Uncle Rich and I had stood up in defense of President Johnson and told him -- I did anyway -- "I am with you to the end." Uncle Rich said the same thing. After that meeting, Guy Musser, talking alone with Uncle Roy, and Uncle Rich being there, pointed to Uncle Roy and said, "You are apostate and senile." Imagine what that did to Brother Johnson. He said to me on a later occasion, he had suffered more over that man, who had been so close to him, than he had from the pain of the shingles and all that he had suffered.

Now, here is what I am getting at. Satan was revealed on that occasion. In the spring of 1978, President Spencer W. Kimball issued a letter to the saints in which he told how he had prayed and fasted, prayed in the upper rooms of the temple, regarding the matter of any rights of the Negro, or the sons of Canaan -- Canaan, son of Ham, upon whom the curse was laid -- and they were never to receive the Priesthood and the blessings of the temples of God until all the others of the children of God had had their opportunity. He got a revelation all right. But sitting across that table, as President Johnson told me, was Lucifer, sitting as God in the temple of God, revealing to him that the Negro and all races had a right to the blessings of the Priesthood and of the temples. There he was, sitting as God in the temple of God. And I believe it. So we can expect far more and greater things from that powerful man, that man who is without a body and would do anything to get one. So I just bear you this testimony, that these things were revealed to President Johnson.

This last week I had a man, one Gilbert Jordan, come to visit me. He is trying to unite all of the splinter groups, coming from the restoration of the Gospel through Joseph Smith the Prophet, wanting to unite them, if you can imagine such a thing, into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He said he was the anointed of the Lord to be that measuring instrument to measure Jerusalem, and in the end wrote a revelation which he, through the "apostolic" calling which he had, called upon all men to repent.

On one occasion, Joseph Smith had a man in his home, entertained him there, who had turned out to be a murderer wanted in the eastern states, and was trying to tell Brother Joseph certain things; and Joseph finally said, "I want you to leave here. My God has told me that your god is the devil." That is the kind of a person I talked with right here. He wanted me to kneel down in prayer with him. Kneel down with the devil? I do not think I am telling you anything that I should not. But I am just trying to illustrate, by actual experience, the things that are spoken of in this "Coming Crisis" that our President has required of us to read, that we might be guided thereby.

The 1880 Revelation is that delusion, one of them, that the Lord permitted satan to give to Wilford Woodruff. I want to tell you in the name of the Lord that you cannot believe in President Leroy S. Johnson as the President, keyholder, and mouthpiece of God, and in the 1880 Revelation of Wilford Woodruff, who was under John Taylor, the keyholder in his day. You cannot believe both of those at the same time. It is impossible. So those who were sitting on the fence and trying to find a way, it is impossible. You cannot say they are both the same -- the 1880 Revelation and Section 132. On one occasion, one brother asked President Johnson if they couldn't replace Section 132 for the 1880 Revelation. No way. [He turned to President Johnson] Am I speaking out of turn, Uncle Roy?

[President Johnson: "No, you are doing all right. We like to hear it."]

I am speaking to you as a witness of President Johnson. My only desire is to be a servant of President Johnson, as he is a servant of Almighty God, and walk in his paths and at his side, as he leads a pure people to redeem Zion, a pure people. There is the rub -- how to become pure, how to love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, desiring to become like Him; and our neighbor as ourselves. The first law of heaven is obedience. The first commandments that we are to obey are those two. God help us to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

* * * * *

Well, some of these things may be startling to us, brethren and sisters, but they are the truth and I testify of the truth of them to you. I do not know how many of you will understand, but I want to tell you one simple truth. I want to add this. Those who come into this work and who leave it are generally those who do not understand Priesthood, and aspired to the position of the Prophet of God. That was the great problem Joseph had in his day. So many wanted and aspired to be in the place of Joseph, and those type of people are still around. But God is fighting the battles of this great man whom I love with all my heart, and with all my might, mind, and strength as God over me.

The United Effort Plan; Priesthood Succession; One Man Rule

I like to sit over to the side so I can see more people and decide who is going to speak. I am sure you are all anxious to know about our Prophet. He went back to Indiana with a party, a group that was buying a new fire engine for our new city down south, Colorado City, incorporated on the Arizona side.

I suppose I just as well tell you all. We have a new city down there in Mohave County, which all they were doing was furnishing us a deputy sheriff and a man, Ray Jessop, on the grader for the roads. Now that we are a city we will get a share of the various taxes and so forth from the state. So it is going to be a lot better. We will have our own constabulary, "police force" for short. We will not have a deputy sheriff. We have a City Council and a mayor. Dan Barlow is the mayor, and I cannot tell you all the names of the councilmen. But that is an interim group set up under the incorporation articles that set up the city after we got fifteen hundred or more signatures petitioning for the incorporation. It used to be, I was told, that they required five thousand people before you could incorporate in Arizona. Now it is fifteen hundred or more. In Utah you can have an incorporated town with two hundred fifty or more. We have had Hildale all this time, and they have this sort of a constabulary. But hereafter, we will be electing the councilmen and the mayor. You know who is going to win don't you? [Laughter] Our traducers, I mean the opposition, are worried about that, but then after all, who was there first?

The United Effort Plan was there first, the organization of the Priesthood.
The Priesthood Council adopted that in November of 1942, and is the framework, the physical framework for entering into and living the Holy United Order, because all of the property is held in common under a Trust with three or more Trustees who have full power. So things are happening.

The opposition is -- I do not know why I am talking like this now -- the opposition is, of course, very worried. We have won one battle, as to the Colorado City Academy, but the war is still on. But they are pretty silent and quiet about that lawsuit they were going to file against the United Effort Plan and Leroy Johnson and the Trustees of the United Effort Plan, to destroy it.
That will not be destroyed! When people come into the community, and that has generally been by invitation, they understand that they are moving onto a piece of land, generally one acre, of which they are tenants-at-will of the Trustees of the United Effort Plan. You know what a tenant is. All they are supposed to pay, as far as the land is concerned, is their share of the taxes which are assessed against the United Effort Plan.

If you were to have a copy of the Trust agreement, you would learn that the original five members were John Y. Barlow, Leroy S. Johnson, Joseph W.
Musser, Marion Hammon, and Rulon T. Jeffs. I do not know why Rulon T.
Jeffs; he was a nobody. But here I am with the Prophet, bound to him eternally. At one point, only he and I were the Trustees, and we very quickly, after the resignation of Marion Hammon a year ago last August, put on Fred Jessop as Trustee; and then we added another who we needed as a resident of Arizona, and put on James Zitting. So we have four Trustees, but you know who is boss.

Well, I am explaining now why we are getting a fire engine. We have got to have a fire department, police department. We have already got our water department and our sewer department in the Twin Cities. We even put a paper out down there called the Twin City Courier. How many of you are subscribers? What is it, two dollars? [Someone answered: "Five."] Five dollars a year, you can subscribe and see what is going on down there. We are actually a part of them. The United Effort Plan only has three pieces of property in this area.

Anyway, when you come onto a piece of land of the United Effort Plan, you come with the understanding that you are a tenant, and in order to be a member of the United Effort Plan you must consecrate property. The consecration of property consists of building a home on it, which becomes a part of the land. Now these opposition boys want title to their land, and they want money if they have moved out. We beat Harold Blackmore out on that in 1977, when his son James moved out and Uncle Roy put someone else in there. So, you have got to consecrate to become a member of the United Effort Plan, which is the framework of living the Holy United Order, in due time. And that is why President Johnson so zealously is defending that instrument which has proved impregnable, so far, against the law, as long as we keep the law and act according to the Trust agreement. So when someone moves off, they go as they came in. They came in without anything; they go without anything. How is that, Bill? Do you think that is fair and right under the plan of God? Any of you disagree? Well, there are those sworn to destroy the United Effort Plan; and they have, in anonymous letters, declared war against us. That is why Uncle Roy spoke of a war. But you know who is going to win, don't you? We won a battle; next, the war.

Well, President Johnson ought to be back here about Wednesday next. We miss him here. That is what I am getting down to. He has asked me to conduct these meetings when he is not here. So let us draw in the wanderings of our minds and get the Spirit of God, that we may have a time of rejoicing here together and listen to the instructions of those who are called upon to speak. And I pray God to guide their remarks by the Holy Ghost. Then we will indeed have a time of rejoicing.
Later in the meeting: Well, that is a remarkable history [referring to Bob Starkweather] of a man seeking the truth. I was instrumental when he came to find out what was happening in this division that came about in the work, and bringing him to where he is now. He has frequently visited me. He paid a faithful tithing, and he longs with all his soul to enter into the Holy United Order, under President Leroy S. Johnson. So I appreciate this testimony we have heard, a most unusual one. I hope you do -- a very humble man desiring to live the fullness of the Gospel. So keep coming, Bob.

I am impressed more and more all of the time by the conditions under which we obtain faith, and hope, and charity -- meek and lowly of heart. I think too few of us understand the meaning of that. We are so wrapped up in our own opinions and traditions. And I would to God we all understood Priesthood. I would to God we all understood Jesus Christ when He said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." He was simply asking us to become like Him. He is our God and Savior. And Joseph Smith is the Witness of the Father and the Son, and stands in the office of the Holy Ghost as a man. The Holy Ghost is a Personage of Spirit, which centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself to His children through one man, His representative upon the earth. It has ever been so eternally, and ever will be so. What do you suppose the Lord meant in that parenthetical matter when He said, "There is never but one man upon the earth at a time upon whom this power," this sealing power, "and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred"? Never! Will you please tell me how you can reconcile that with the 1880 Revelation, which says the keys are held in common by the Apostles, which is confusion any way you look at it?

There was one man under Adam. There was one man under Enoch. There was one man under Noah. There was one man under Melchizedek. There was one man under Abraham. There was one man under Elijah, who holds the keys of the sealing powers, which are vested in this one man, Leroy Johnson; the keys of Elijah, which is a fullness of the Priesthood of God and holds the keys thereof.

There was one Man in the meridian of time, Jesus Christ, of course. And He conferred His power upon one man, Peter, who had two men who were one with him, and came to Joseph Smith in June of 1829, and conferred the keys of the holy Priesthood upon Joseph Smith, Jun., and Oliver Cowdery; after which Joseph Smith was designated First Elder, and the only man through whom revelation could come, and the only man who could speak for God, the mouthpiece of God.

There was one man who succeeded him, Brigham Young. He knew whereof he spoke when Sidney Rigdon came to claim the guardianship of the Church. He said, "You may have Ann Lee if you want her to be our President, but I have the mind and will of God." And he was transfigured as he stood before the people in that Conference, appearing as and speaking in the same voice as Joseph Smith, Jun.

Following him was John Taylor. Brigham Young saw to it that he was the next one. Since then, John Taylor, having been visited by Joseph Smith and the Lord Jesus Christ, set apart five men. One more was added, Joseph F. Smith, a few months later; after which John Taylor then was taken. But John W. Woolley was the one man. Why wasn't Wilford Woodruff there at that meeting? Do you know why? The Lord did not want him there, and he was not the next keyholder. He was President of the Church. That is what the people wanted. Like Brigham Young said, "You can have Ann Lee if you want."

So for forty-one years John W. Woolley was that one man, underground while the Latter-day Saint Church, this mother Church, one organized under the auspices [direction and support] of Jesus Christ, through Joseph Smith, April 6, 1830. So he presided longer than any man. Brigham Young was thirty-three years. His son Lorin C. Woolley held the keys and called six others and ordained them, who were to be Apostles. They were ordained Apostles and Patriarchs.

As Lorin C. Woolley passed on, John Y. Barlow was the next keyholder. John Y. Barlow told me why Leslie Broadbent was taken after six months as the senior. Do you know who wrote that statement of Lorin Woolley? Joseph W. Musser, and Lorin Woolley signed it, I suppose; but I have never seen an original signing, just the printed one. But John Y. Barlow told me why Leslie Broadbent could not continue. And we have heard from some who were there at Leslie Broadbent's sickbed who heard him say, "I just don't have it." John Y. Barlow had it.

There was a controversy as to whether John Y. Barlow or Joseph Musser should preside and be that one man. In a meeting, it was told about by Richard Jessop, that Joseph Musser acknowledged that John Y. Barlow was his worthy senior. I have President Jessop's testimony on tape, 1970. John Y. Barlow then proceeded and ordained seven more, or had them ordained. Those remaining did not accept all of us. You remember when we had seven in the Priesthood Council -- a long time ago.

Well, here we are, brethren and sisters. John Y. Barlow told Leroy S. Johnson, "This work is going to roll over onto your shoulders." And so it was, though during the confusion of that time with the senior member, Joseph Musser, having lost his mind, and the next senior, Charles Zitting, having found himself in opposition, according to his own journal, to John Y. Barlow. So in reality, though he was humbly working down in the south, Leroy S. Johnson was the next one man, keyholder. And how he has demonstrated it all these thirty-five years, from 1950 to 1985; and he is that one man, and will continue to be so as we go into the Millennium.

Well, there is the picture. I testify and know as I know I live that Leroy S. Johnson is that one man holding the keys of the holy Priesthood, the keys of the sealing power, the keys of revelation to this people, and the keys to the administration of the gift and gifts of the Holy Ghost, coming from the Father. He is indeed the greatest man on this earth. And I am grateful beyond words of expression to know that I am his friend. He told this man, Wendell Nielsen, "Brother Jeffs is the very best friend I have on this earth." [Turning to Wendell Nielsen] Is that right? [Wendell Nielsen: "Yes."] I am not trying to toot my horn. I just want to be his humble servant, because I know who he is, what he is, what his mission is, and where we are going with him; and I know that as I live. And I pray that we may all gain this testimony.

If you want to live the Holy United Order, you had better get behind it now, this United Effort Plan, and behind this man who administers it. There are four Trustees, including him, and myself, and Fred Jessop, and James Zitting. As far as I am concerned there is only one Trustee, and I am his secretary, God be praised.

Well, I do not know why I went on talking like this. This has been a very unusual meeting. But I just want to get this testimony over to you if there are any of you having any doubts. I have been visited by many, many of you who are sitting here today -- in family groups, and as individuals. The first one I got out of that circle surrounding Guy Musser, was when he came to see me, and asked, "Why was I not attending those luncheons?" -- Guy then was calling Rulon Jeffs an apostate -- that was Eldon Keate. And there followed in short order a good many more in that circle. We have out of that family: Amos, David, Sam, Paul. They followed in short order. Wendell Nielsen, of course, Bill Draper; and I could go on and number quite a few more of you. Thank God. President Johnson called me to reestablish the one man rule. He said, "I and you have that job to do," instead of this "keys-in-common" fallacy. It was ever so.

So, my brothers and sisters, I hope you will join with me in sustaining with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, this great man who stands as God over us -- he is over me -- and go down the road. The end of that road is the redemption of Zion in Jackson County, when the One Mighty and Strong shall come to set in order the House of God -- Joseph Smith, Jun., who holds the keys of this last dispensation, over all these keyholders since he was taken in death, sealing his testimony with his blood. And that same man, Joseph Smith, Jun., has been at the side of everyone who has succeeded him in that position. I testify this to you, my brothers and sisters.

I hope I have edified you, given you a little more information about what is going on. And I hope I have not said too much. But believe me, you had better believe, or you will be held accountable, because you have heard the testimony. I hope and trust that all under the sound of my voice will remain faithful and true, standing behind President Leroy S. Johnson, on and on down the road to Zion, the City of our God, that Jesus, our Lord, said would be His abode forever. When Zion was taken up in Enoch's time, He said, "My abode forever is this City of Enoch," and that is coming down to join with the City of Zion in Jackson County, Missouri.

Counting time the way we count it, there is only about fourteen more years left for the Ten Tribes to come, the remnant of Jacob to come, and the gathering of the rest of Israel scattered among the nations, for the great call, "Come to Zion, the City of our God, the City of the pure in heart," for this is Zion, which I pray we may attain to, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

It is good to meet together again, dear brothers and sisters. I am glad to see these front rows filled. We were pretty lonesome without you people here last time. We surely miss our Prophet. Just to have him a little closer helps. Is he being released today? President Johnson is still in a St. George hospital undergoing further tests, so we sure miss his presence in the area; but his spirit is with us. I talked to him yesterday afternoon and asked him if he had a message for us. He said, "Carry on." So we will carry on. I pray that the Spirit of God will rest upon us as we meet together, that we may have the Spirit of revelation. The Spirit of God is the Spirit of peace. The Spirit of God is meekness and lowliness of heart, and I trust we all are in that condition.

* * * * *

Well, I am left speechless. We have heard it all. I do not know when I have been touched like I was when James Allred read that sermon of President Johnson's. Let that be mine. But I will take a minute to read a prayer contained in the Doctrine and Covenants Section 65. Then we will close.

D. & C. 65

1. Hearken, and lo, a voice as of one sent down from on high, who is mighty and powerful, whose going forth is unto the ends of the earth, yea, whose voice is unto men -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

2. The keys of the kingdom of God are committed unto man on the earth, Notice a distinction.
   2. ...and from thence shall the gospel roll forth unto the ends of the earth, as the stone which is cut out of the mountain without hands shall roll forth, until is has filled the whole earth.

I will pause long enough to say that President Johnson says he has been given that stone to roll forth until it has filled the whole earth.

3. Yea, a voice crying -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, prepare ye the supper of the Lamb, make ready for the Bridegroom.

4. Pray unto the Lord, call upon his holy name, make known his wonderful works among the people.

5. *Call upon the Lord, that his kingdom may go forth upon the earth, that the inhabitants thereof may receive it, and be prepared for the days to come, in which the Son of Man shall come down in heaven, clothed in the brightness of his glory, to meet the kingdom of God which is set up on the earth.

6. Wherefore, may the kingdom of God go forth, that the kingdom of heaven may come,

That is when we will go into the Millennium.

6. ...that thou, O God, mayest be glorified in heaven so on earth, that thine enemies may be subdued; for thine is the honor, power and glory, forever and ever. Amen.

Condition of Brethren in the Hospitals;
Events to Transpire as Spoken by the Savior in Third Nephi

It is nice to see such a goodly turn out. Just us "kids" here, you know. But with our faith and prayers we will have a good time here together under the Spirit of God. I want to report to you about our Prophet. He is in a very weak and sickly condition. He got here Wednesday and went back Friday, noon. He was on intravenous feeding yesterday to try and give him some strength. But he has not been able to sleep very well, and he is just in a very weak condition. But I know as I know I live, this too shall pass, and he will come through.

Brother Fred Jessop is in the hospital today. He went in Friday; had examinations and so forth, yesterday, and is resting today, and he will be operated on tomorrow morning. He has had terrific pain in his right leg for weeks and weeks now. It is a very confident doctor down there on the staff who says he can fix him up. It was described to me thus: In the lower vertebra there is one vertebra in which there is a small hole out of the side through which the nerve passes from the spine and goes down the right leg; and there are calcium spikes grown in there that have got into the nerve. You can imagine the pain. They are going to remove the spikes and put some fatty tissue in that hole in the vertebra to prevent any further trouble that way. Then it was described to me, from then on -- by the way, he has got to be on his hands and knees to be operated on; they will support him, of course -- but after the operation he cannot sit down or bend. He has got to lay prostrate or upright for at least six weeks. And after he has gained some strength back, he is to walk four miles a day. That seems a paradox doesn't it? But he will do it.

Brother Newel Steed has been in the hospital, but is out now. He was there with congestive heart failure and pneumonia. With antibiotics it is being taken care of. He was out yesterday or the day before. He will be coming along fine. So it seems like we are going through the narrows. So let us join our faith and prayers in behalf of dear brethren who are suffering, and for each other, and for the progress of this work. God is at the helm and he is fighting our battles. So let us draw in the wanderings of our minds and have a time of rejoicing here today, praising the Lord for His many blessings unto us.

* * * *

Well, brothers and sisters, I am torn now between quitting at this point or saying something else. What do you want? You did such a good job. And so did all of you other brethren who have spoken to us today. But if you please, I will read some scripture and point out a few things that have presented themselves to our minds through the Spirit of God -- the twenty-first chapter of Third Nephi. We have been over it before, but I would like to add an observation or two that has come to me. And I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me as I read and interpret this scripture. You youngsters must understand that the words that are being said here and in several chapters of Third Nephi are the words of the Lord Jesus Christ Himself. I am going to go back into chapter 20, the closing verses.

3 Nephi 20

36. And then shall be brought to pass that which is written: Awake, awake again, and put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city, for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.

Those are the closing words of the eighth chapter of Second Nephi, which was a quotation from Isaiah 51.

37. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, sit down, O Jerusalem; loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.
38. For thus saith the Lord: Ye have sold yourselves for naught, and ye shall be redeemed without money.
39. Verily, verily, I say unto you, that my people shall know my name; yea, in that day they shall know that I am he that doth speak.

40. And then shall they say: How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings unto them, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings unto them of good, that publisheth salvation; that saith unto Zion: Thy God reigneth!

41. And then shall a cry go forth: Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch not that which is unclean; go ye out of the midst of her; be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord. That is in line with what has been said here by Brother Wendell so very well.

42. For ye shall not go out with haste nor go by flight; for the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel shall be your rearward. Listen to this.

43. Behold, my servant shall deal prudently; That servant is Leroy S. Johnson.

43. ...he shall be exalted and extolled and be very high.

44. As many were astonished at thee -- his visage was so marred, more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men --

45. So shall he sprinkle many nations; the kings shall shut their mouths at him, for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

46. Verily, verily, I say unto you, all these things shall surely come, even as the Father hath commanded me. Then shall this covenant which the Father hath covenanted with his people be fulfilled; and then shall Jerusalem be inhabited again with my people, and it shall be the land of their inheritance.

What do you suppose he was talking about "His servant" if He was not talking about our time now, as chapter 21 brings out. The signs of the Father's work are declared in the early part of chapter 21. But to get to the point I am trying most to make, come down to verse 7 of 21.

3 Nephi 21

7. And when these things come to pass that thy seed shall begin to know these things -- it shall be a sign unto them, that they may know that the work of the Father hath already commenced unto the fulfilling of the covenant which he hath made unto the people who are of the house of Israel.

That is what the Lord is doing now through this man.

8. And when that day shall come, it shall come to pass that kings shall shut their mouths; for that which had not been told them shall they see; and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

More of what was said in the previous chapter.

9. For in that day, for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

In the Council Meeting there were those who would not believe what the Prophet told us.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; That is the great comfort I have, knowing who it is.

10. ...therefore they shall not hurt him, although he shall be marred because of them.

He has been marred in every part of his body. He told me he has suffered more over the unbelief of Brother Guy Musser than he had suffered from the shingles pains. Now can you conceive the kind of love that would bring that upon him when he was rejected? President Johnson told us he [Guy Musser] and two others had revolted against him; which, as the Prophet Joseph Smith says, when they do this the devil takes power. You can understand why things have been happening which have been happening since.

10. ...because of them.

Do not forget that word. And here is the grand comforting thing that I have clung to all through these terrible days of suffering that our beloved Prophet has been going through:

10. ...Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

11. Therefore it shall come to pass that whosoever will not believe in my words, who am Jesus Christ, which the Father shall cause him

This man.

11. ...to bring forth unto the Gentiles, and shall give unto him power that he shall bring them forth unto the Gentiles, (it shall be done even as Moses said) they shall be cut off from among my people who are of the covenant.

12. And my people who are a remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, yea, in the midst of them as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep, who, if he go through both treadeth down and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.

Now what follows is what is to come to pass under the direction of this servant, with Joseph at his side and Jesus Christ revealing His mind and will to him.

13. Their hand shall be lifted up upon their adversaries, and all their enemies shall be cut off.

14. Yea, wo be unto the Gentiles except they repent; for it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Father, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots;

15. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strongholds;

What have we to fear, brethren and sisters?

16. And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thy land, and thou shalt have no more soothsayers;

17. Thy graven images I will also cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee, and thou shalt no more worship the works of thy hands;

18. And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee; so will I destroy thy cities.

And as I read to you several times recently, Section 64 of the Doctrine and Covenants tells us how the Lord will pluck up the rebellious, because they are not of Ephraim. Ephraim is not rebellious. They shall be plucked out, those who are not of Ephraim. We may have been of Ephraim, but if we are rebellious and become as gentiles, we are no more of Ephraim or Israel.

19. And it shall come to pass that all lyings, and deceivings, and envyings, and strifes, and priestcrafts, and whoredoms, shall be done away.

We have had that among us.

20. For it shall come to pass, saith the Father, that at that day whosoever will not repent and come unto my Beloved Son, them will I cut off from among my people, O house of Israel;

21. And I will execute vengeance and fury upon them, even as upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

22. But if they will repent and hearken unto my words, and harden not their hearts, I will establish my church among them, and they shall come in unto the covenant and be numbered among this the remnant of Jacob, unto whom I have given this land for their inheritance;
And this land is to be swept clean of the wicked, as it has been done twice before.

23. And they shall assist my people, the remnant of Jacob, and also as many of the house of Israel as shall come, that they may build a city, which shall be called the New Jerusalem.

Very literally that is going to come to pass in our time, if we live through it -- I mean as to the individuals.

25. And then shall the power of heaven come down among them; and I also will be in the midst.

26. And then shall the work of the Father commence at that day, even when this gospel shall be preached among the remnant of this people. Verily I say unto you, at that day shall the work of the Father commence among all the dispersed of my people, yea, even the tribes which have been lost, which the Father hath led away out of Jerusalem.

27. Yea, the work shall commence among all the dispersed of my people, with the Father to prepare the way whereby they may come unto me, that they may call on the Father in my name.

28. Yea, and then shall the work commence, with the Father among all nations in preparing the way whereby his people may be gathered home to the land of their inheritance.

President Johnson has said that that grand final preaching of the Gospel among the nations will be after we have established Zion. Then the missionaries will go out and gather the remainder of Israel that is scattered among the nations. Then they will all be home.

29. And they shall go out from all nations; and they shall not go out in haste, nor go by flight, for I will go before them, saith the Father, and I will be their rearward.

God help us to have a part with President Johnson in this great work, I pray in Well, I feel very lonely without President Johnson. Do you? He is home, out of the hospital for a few days anyway; we do not know how long. But I think the problem is licked, and he is now doing much better, getting nourishment, communicating. We have had some wonderful experiences these last two weeks. So I feel to rejoice with all my heart and soul for his sake and for the sake of the work, ours. We are seeing a great test of our faith, so let us keep that in mind.

Can you hear my knees crack when I get up? I need a little healing, too; but nothing, nothing anywhere near approaching that of President Johnson. I am just grateful that I am preserved and blessed to do whatever work I can for President Johnson; and be sure that I do not go any further or do anymore than I am sent to do. I think it is a mortal sin for anyone to do more or go any further than he is sent to do by the Prophet of God, because all intelligence and direction and authority come through him to us.

I appreciate these words of Uncle Woodruff, and pray that we will all go on in humility and love, gaining daily, little by little, the confidence of President Johnson. And then I am sure we will have the confidence of God. That is the thing that I worry about most. I cannot think of anything worse happening to me than to lose the confidence of the mouthpiece of God, because then I would be losing the confidence of God. And that is what we should all be striving for with all our heart, might, mind, and strength -- loving Him, obeying Him, loving and serving our neighbor. Love conquers all, and we are engaged in the greatest work of love. We are engaged in the grand Celestial plan of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, our Lord. And what greater work can we be engaged in?

I think what I have to say is to come in "chips and whet stones", because the last word is going to be spoken by President Johnson. But something came to my mind while Brother Wall was speaking, something I said last night: "The Holy Ghost knows no distance." It is everywhere present. It centers in God the Father and issues forth from Himself. Many great works have been accomplished by faith, at a distance, without the personal contact -- miracles in fact.

My beloved Brother Woodruff here was very sick a year or so ago. One of his wives called me. She said, "Woodruff is unable to throw off this sickness that is bearing down upon him. Will you please offer a prayer unto God in his behalf, and I know he will be made well and be healed." It came to me in my office and I said, "I will." And I leaned over my desk and prayed for Brother Woodruff and asked the Lord to heal him from that very hour. I told the Lord I knew He could do it. And just a few hours after that they called from his home and said he had passed the crisis and was doing well and getting well. [Turning to Brother Woodruff Steed] Do you remember that? [Brother Woodruff Steed: "Yes. I thank you and Heavenly Father. That was special."] Faith and the Holy Ghost know no distance or space. And I have many experiences here in this home of the same nature.

Well, brothers and sisters, I am going to read a sermon of President Johnson that has struck me so strongly and caused me to inquire for more knowledge and understanding. And I want to pass it on to you, praying God will bless me in reading, and that He will cause you to understand as it has caused me to gain some little understanding. I have much, much more to learn.

Remember one thing that the Prophet Joseph said in the Lectures on Faith -- faith is power. It centers in God and goes from His bosom to all of His creations and His people who are obeying His commandments. The Spirit of Christ is given to all men who are born, to lead them to truth and to salvation if they inquire for it and have the faith to know. So the gift of the Holy Ghost, that which comes to us after beginning to obey the commandments of God; have faith in God the Father, and in His Son, Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost; repentance from all our sins, and then engaging in the sign of that faith and repentance by going down in the waters of baptism, in which we make a covenant with the Lord Jesus Christ; He having died for our sins if we will obey Him. He did the greatest vicarious work -- and every God who has gone before has done the same -- for those that are sent into the world by His great sacrifice. He took upon Him the superincumbent load of the sins of all mankind. And if they obey Him, they will have their reward and become like Him, and be a joint heir with Him to all that the Father hath.

Of course, we know there are a great many heathens and others who know not, or have not even heard the Gospel. But I know that these things are true, and if we would only bury ourselves in gratitude for all that our Savior has done for us. A God made it possible for us to come into this world and obtain these bodies -- our Father Adam. It was necessary that he fall with his wife, Eve, that we might be, and have the same opportunities to become like God, become joint heirs with Christ. He is the only Heir, but we become joint heirs with Him through our obedience, perfect obedience to the laws which He has given us through His glorious Gospel. So when we speak of suffering for sin, never forget what our Lord and Savior has done for us.

I am going to read a sermon of President Johnson. It is page 1252 of volume 4. It was in reading this sermon that caused me to inquire of President Johnson for more light and knowledge concerning it. And I am just simply going to read it for you to see if you want to know more about it through your faith.

I am grateful for this day, my brothers and sisters, and grateful for the testimonies that have been borne by these young men, as well as the older ones. I am grateful for all of you and that you are here to listen to what the Lord has for you today. We are living in a day of preparation, and I hope that I, at least, can be prepared for that which the Lord has in store for us. And I trust that He will pour out His blessings upon us continually as this meeting goes on, that we might be instructed from on high.

My only desire is to look forward to the edification and preparation of this great Priesthood work. There is nothing like it in the earth. You will find it nowhere else, only among the Latter-day Saint people.

As I look over the experiences that I have had in my life with men and women who have devoted their lives to the building up and establishment of God's Kingdom in the earth, I find that there are many who are not known publicly who are striving with their might to prepare themselves for a glorious resurrection.

That is sweet, is it not?

We don't want to sit idly by and put off till tomorrow what we should do today to prepare ourselves against the day of visitation when God is pouring out His judgments upon the wicked and preparing the earth for the Millennial Reign, because this time is right at our doors. The Prophet Joseph said it was at the door in his day and it is a few inches closer today. Our time is fast running out, as one of the speakers today mentioned.

In our preparation there are many points of doctrine that are lightly spoken of that need to be brought to the attention of our people in their true light and manner, that we might be properly instructed. I have been taught all my life, and I have heard my father and other men talk when I was by his side waiting for him to call upon me to help, I have heard many things transpire. I suppose that is where I got my determination to stay put when I found the Priesthood that bore the keys of salvation. But I have been taught all my life that long before the foundation of this earth was prepared, the personnel for the governing of this earth were called.

Note that.

They were called and set apart to come forth in their day and time to take their place in the governing of this earth. We have been taught that there are three personages in the Godhead -- God the Father, God the Son, and God the Testator or the Holy Ghost. Now, these three governing powers were called and set apart to come forth in their day and time to govern the destiny of the peopling of this earth.

One reason I speak upon this subject, the question was asked me this morning: When Adam met with His posterity at the close of His time upon this earth, He called His posterity together and blessed them, and He said that He had been instructed by His Father to do this work. Who was the man that He had reference to? Who was the man He had reference to in the Garden of Eden when He was asked by Lucifer, "Why do you offer sacrifice?" He said, "I know not, except I have been commanded by my Father." Do you think it was some foreign spirit other than the ones that had been called to govern the earth? I don't think so.

We are told by the brother of Jared that he went before the Lord when he needed light for the barges while they were upon the great deep. He had prepared these eight barges to haul his people to a choice land, a land that was choice above all other lands, said the Lord to him. If he was the Lord, then was it Adam speaking to him, or was it someone else?
Do not forget what was written in "Michael, Our Father and Our God".

When he asked for the Lord to touch the stones that they might bring forth light, he saw the finger of the Lord. What did He tell him? The brother of Jared fell to the earth, and then the voice spoke and said, "Why do you fall?" He said, "I was afraid for I knew not that you had flesh and bones." He said, "Did you see more than My finger?" The brother of Jared said, "No. But I would like you to show yourself to me." The Lord said, "Would you believe if I showed myself to you? Would you believe?" "Yea, Lord, I will believe."

And He went on to say, "I know thou art a God of truth and cannot lie." And he had also said before, and I will come back to that.

"Would you believe if I showed myself to you? Would you believe?" "Yea, Lord, I will believe." So, then He unveiled Himself and showed Himself to the brother of Jared. He said, "This is the body that I will have when I appear in the flesh," meaning that He was Jesus Christ, the same man that appeared to Adam in the Garden of Eden, and in the Valley of Adam-Ondi-Ahman when He told our Father Adam to bless His posterity and all the generations of time from then on.

And having the Lord touch these stones with His fingers, He had said before: "I know, Lord, that thou canst do this. If you will touch these stones, we will have light to cross the great deep in these barges," that had both top and bottom and holes in the top and bottom. And he had the faith to go ahead and build those barges and prepare the stones. Then he went to the Lord knowing that he could accomplish what was necessary; and that he did.

These are some of the truths that we should ponder upon, and not think that someone else had the governing powers of this earth until a certain time,

Remember that reading.

...and then another took it. These men had to come in their time and place and take their bodies. They were called, according to Brigham Young, millions of years before the foundation of this earth was formed. They were ordained and set apart for the governing of this earth and the peopling of it, to bless the people that they might be built up in their faith and determination to serve God and keep His commandments.

Go into this book, the Three-in-One; go into the Doctrine & Covenants, read the headings and the first few verses of each revelation and see how important it is that we keep all the commandments of God. He does not look upon sin with the least degree of allowance, He said. But He loves His creatures and works to reform them and give them their chance for exaltation.

And this He means. He says, "Haven't I spoken plainly? So plain that a child could understand?" It is there, and it is in plain language, and every person who has any understanding at all can understand what the Lord has said and what He expects of us. We approach Him as our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We don't pray unto Adam. "Adam" means "man".

We pray -- Our Father who art in Heaven, and in the name of Jesus Christ. Can you understand it? And then he had to stop there.

Let us hasten to prepare ourselves. Let us overcome all evil, everything that is of an evil nature -- going against counsel, speaking evil of one another, criticizing, or any other evil that we might have imbibed in our habits. Let us overcome them and let us hasten! Let us be that people that the Lord is looking for. And when He makes the call for personnel to take over the establishment of righteousness in the earth, let us be prepared to do it.

That is the call now.

You don't have to come and tell me that you are righteous. The Lord is the only one that can read your heart and your mind, but He can read them, so let us not let Him read anymore evil thoughts, but let us clean up our minds. Let us do what the servants of God have asked us to do. For the Lord has said, "Whether it be by My mouth or by the mouth of my servants, it is the same."

Of course, when spoken by the power of the Holy Ghost.

This Gospel is true, the Gospel of Jesus Christ as it is contained in the New Testament and as it was given to us by our Prophet, Joseph Smith and those who followed him in the Priesthood until this day.

Now, I pray that we will hasten, my brothers and sisters, to prepare ourselves that we might be able to be prepared when the One Mighty and Strong calls for his army of young and middle-aged.
President Johnson is going to be made young again, at least middle-aged. I know it as I know I live.

I would like to see every boy, and every girl that is ready to be placed hasten to prepare themselves so the Lord can call them. But they are going to have to quit making love to one another and let the Lord make the love,

Are you listening, young people?

...and then He can bless you and He can bless the unions.

Keep the channel clear so that God can reveal it through the mouth of His servant, the Prophet. And do not dirty it up, the channel I mean.

You are going to continue to have problems unless this can be done, because this is the order of marriage in the Holy Priesthood.

I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and with a determination to overcome all evil, that we might be prepared against the day of visitation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We have all said it. If you say amen to it, then do it. That is what you are doing when you say amen when the Lord's instructions are being given to us. So let us tell and do the truth and not lie, or deceive and disobey, or rebel. The Lord has said through the Prophet Joseph, "The rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim." Let us become of the blood of Ephraim, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are Here to Make Zion

Looks like the inclement weather kept a few people home. But, wherever we are gathered together, saints meeting in the name of God, we will be blessed by Him. I am sure the Lord will be and abide with us today, as we come together to worship Him in spirit and in truth.

We always miss President Johnson. I am able to report a significant improvement in his condition. So the "vultures have been foiled again". I had a visit with him Monday night and Tuesday, and it was very encouraging. And that is the thing that he keeps telling us, to do and say that which will encourage the saints. Brother Truman Barlow is here representing President Johnson. He sent him up. He tried to change the program a little, catch him so he could come up. He loves the saints, he loves Zion, and he loves to be among the true saints of God. The hymn concerning Joseph Smith the Prophet said, "He loved the saints; he loved Nauvoo." Short Creek is our Nauvoo as far as I am concerned; the place from whence we will, under the direction of President Johnson, prepare for the redemption of Zion.

God is with us. This I know as I know I live. Let us be with Him, with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and love Him with every fiber of our being; and love our neighbor as ourselves. We have the grandest example in the history of the world in President Johnson.

* * * *

With these wonderful truths that have been spoken here today, I just felt like closing the meeting with a statement of Brigham Young, volume 5, page 4; because it is the thing that is moving President Johnson, besides the direct commandments of God to him, outlining his course and mission.

JD 5:4  Brigham Young  July 5, 1857  SLC

You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land;

A lot of us now, after what we have been through -- a great apostasy, the great division -- these people went to Short Creek, and they gathered together here expecting to find Zion. Listen to what Brigham Young said:

...but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here?  They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

We can make Zion, or we can make Babylon, just as we please. We can make just what we please of this place. The people can make Zion: they can make a heaven within themselves. When people gather here, they should come with a determination to make Zion within themselves, with the resolution that "I will carry myself full of the Spirit of Zion wherever I go; and this is the way in which I will control evil spirits; for I mean that my spirit shall have control over evil:" and do you not see that such a course will make Zion? This American continent will be Zion;

Joseph said,
...for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

So Zion first, foremost, is within -- within. A congregation, or a concourse of saints with that spirit is the only kind that will redeem Zion. And I always have to conclude, brothers and sisters, Zion is the pure in heart. No one can be a part of Zion, an inhabitant, citizen of Zion, so to speak, unless he or she is pure in heart.

So it is an individual process, as Brigham has said, as Joseph has said, and all of the Prophets from the beginning. All of the Prophets have looked forward to the redemption of Zion. And now we have that man who is going to lead us there; prepare us, all who will be prepared, all who will be led, all who will obey and keep all of the commandments of God. It is up to you. It is up to me.

One thing that always helps me, and at the same time discourages me, seeing mine and others' weaknesses and self-will, is this one great principle: "No chain is any stronger than its weakest link." Just one breaks it. Are we going to join with our beloved brothers and sisters, under the direction of our Prophet and be one with him? The Prophets keep on telling us, President Johnson keeps on telling us, "There is no sin in the Celestial Kingdom of God," and that is what we are here preparing for. You have got to learn it here, not over there. That is the grand and great reward, to be in the presence of the Father and of the Son, and have an inheritance with the Lord Jesus Christ, and inherit all that the Father has.

You see how tremendous and great is this great work that we are now engaging in. And we are going to have to go through more than we can even imagine to get to that point. Talk about nerves of steel. So, like the song says, think not when you come to Zion you have come to a perfect place. We must perfect it, under the direction of our Prophet, the mouthpiece of God, the keyholder of the holy Priesthood and the sealing powers, and the man who will take us back into the presence of Father, if we will; which I pray may be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Well, it is wonderful to be back with you again. I certainly appreciated the visits we had at the hospital, and for your wonderful sentiments that were expressed to me when I got out, that were conveyed to me. I feel very humble and acknowledge the hand of God in all that has gone on, and I am feeling very nicely. It might be of a little interest to you -- they put me in the room that they reserve for the general authorities of the Church, a nice big one. We had quite a crowd in there after meeting last time.

Well, I am sorry we cannot have Uncle Roy with us today. I had a little visit with him this morning -- doing better today. It is wonderful to follow the course of his life. And I appreciate more every day all that he has done for us, and especially for me. I love him with all my heart. I want to be at his side always.

I pray that the Spirit of God will be with us today as we have this service, and that Uncle Roy will feel the spirit that is here. We feel the spirit of his that is here. I know I always do, whether he is in Short Creek or here, because I know his heart is with the saints and he loves all of us more than we know.

* * * * *

I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me as I bring before you a sermon of the Prophet John Y. Barlow. I know Leroy S. Johnson will be pleased to have me do this, for they were one.

Leroy Johnson stood by the side of John Y. Barlow through thick and thin. When things were breaking up in Short Creek in those early days in the 1930's, they disbanded the United Trust and gave people their deeds back because they could not make it. Uncle John was talking with Leroy Johnson. He said, "If I can have one man stand by my side to the end, I know we will make it." Leroy Johnson said, "I am that man." And so it was. He stood by him when the going was roughest and hardest, and he sustained him for who and what he was, one of the greatest Prophets that has been upon the earth.

When you think how he perpetuated this work, out of all those that were called by Lorin C. Woolley, they formed what was called the Priesthood Council. John Y. Barlow carried it on and perpetuated that order of things in calling and ordaining, or having ordained, seven more Apostles. Brother Carl Holm, Brother Rich Jessop stood by him until they died. And I feel beyond measure how I have been blessed of the Lord to help and stand by this great man, Leroy S. Johnson, who is going to lead us into the Millennium.

I thought that I would read you a sermon of John Y. Barlow, given August 31, 1947, at Widtsoe at Sunday School held at the ranch of Elder Newel Steed. This is in the front of volume 1 of Leroy Johnson's sermons. I am grateful that we have at least two of Uncle John's sermons preserved in that set of books. They are at the beginning.

LSJ (JYB) Vol. 1 Page 7 August 31, 1947 Widtsoe

Church History, what is it? What church are we talking about? The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints? You want to know for sure what church we belong to. Do you folks here belong to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints? There was a church organized in New York -- the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Later on, a Church of the First Born was organized in Kirtland, Ohio. President Young, President Kimball and a great many of them belonged to that Church; and it has worked here on earth. It was organized after the pattern that was organized in the heavens before we came here. It wasn't a church to hold a corporation, to hold things of that kind, to hold property and things, but it was a Church of the First Born.

And you know who the Firstborn is.

How many of us here today belong to the Church of the First Born? Do you ever stop to think of that? When we talk of history of the Church, we want to get down to the real essence of it and find out what it is. Every man that fulfills his calling, if he doesn't belong to that Church, will belong to it someday if he magnifies his calling as he should; the Priesthood will give him the honor of being a member of the Church of the First Born. It is just as necessary for a man that is an elder to magnify his calling, or a deacon to magnify his calling as it is for an apostle. Paul likens the organization unto the body of a man to show what a perfect organization it should be. Any member that is not there leaves a schism in the body. If we take the Seventies out, we cut off an arm. We cannot take the lesser ones out, because the legs and feet are just as necessary as the head, because the head can't move without the feet. All things belonging to the Kingdom or the Church must be there.
I don't know how many of you had the TRUTH last month. How many of you carefully read it and saw the difference between the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and the Church of the First Born? There is going to be a wide difference. That is why Joseph Fielding Smith said that there had been many people that belonged to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints that didn't belong to the Church of the First Born. Brothers and sisters, keep on and work until we get where we belong -- to the Church of the First Born. I hope that we will, someday, all of us, belong to that Church.

Speaking to Brother Steed, he said,

(Uncle John asked Brother Newel Steed) Are you having the Sacrament here? I can't see any reason why a bunch of people like you who are trying to live the laws of God cannot have the Sacrament every Sunday. I say, have the Sacrament, and I am sure it will help you. Keep on as you are doing now. We are having a time down there in Short Creek right now. I don't know hardly how it will come out. Yes, I do know. Some will leave, some have already left, some will stay and go on; others will leave. We have got some right good men down there. We have all of the Brother Jessops that are solid, all of the Brother Johnsons that are solid. We have got the young men, and you can depend on nearly every one of them. There is hardly any of the young men but what you can depend on. Some of the older ones got on the rampage again yesterday.

I wonder if he could say the same, or Uncle Roy could say the same of this people today. But I know this more and more, that we have young people at these meetings; so I guess he is right.

My brothers and sisters, my hands are tied; they are tied right now, but if I could get out like I used to, I don't think we would have any trouble. If we can't raise crops, let us raise houses. If we can do that, we can build some good houses down there. President Young said, "I have built a number of houses and I never had five dollars in my life to start with; I have built houses worth five thousand dollars."

That was a lot then.

I saw his houses in Kirtland, in Nauvoo, etc. He was driven out of them. We, as a people, cannot expect the blessings of God without going through the trials. We have got to go through the trials. Sacrifices bring forth the blessings. If we can't do these things, we can't get the blessings either.
We all understand and know that when the Edmunds Law came out it was in opposition to the laws of God; so it made every man, woman, and child in the Church a defier of the law -- some defied the laws of the land and others defied the laws of God. If you defy the laws of the land, you will go to jail; but if you defy the laws of God -- in the Celestial Kingdom there are three heavens or degrees and in order to obtain the highest you must live that law. If you don't, you may enter into the other, but that is the end of your kingdom, you cannot have an increase.

That is something to ponder, and President Johnson has been repeating that to us.

When we get as high as we can get, ceasing to go up, we have got to go down, we can't stand still. Those who deny the laws of God start to go back. If that is an end of their kingdom, they are through advancing. Where do they go? We are told by President Young that they go into oblivion, to dissolution.

Do we think of that, brethren and sisters?

We go back to our native element from whence we were taken.

You can't destroy anything. You can change it, but you can't destroy it. It all goes back into native element. You take your forests here, the trees will grow on to a certain time when they quit growing, and you will find them starting to go back. Pretty quick they decay; then you see nothing. It has all gone back into native element. That is the way we will be. We may come forth again in trillions of years. It may be that long before that dust is awakened again. The intelligence we had is still there, but that part which was created and made, such as our spiritual bodies and temporal bodies must go back into native element. The intelligences will go back where they started from. Whether we lose what we have learned or not is just a question. What light and knowledge we learn in this life, we will always have. Then that makes us wonder if this is the first time we have tried it, if some spirits are more intelligent than others. Abraham was shown the intelligences that were organized before the world was; and among all these, there were many of the noble and great ones, he said. Where did they get it? You take all through life, there are some intelligences greater than others. Why? It is very evident. If we went right now and there were a bunch of Indians out here, we might just as well shut up. The intelligence isn't there. When they are taught and brought around, they may understand us. Whenever the Lord speaks to a people, He has to come down to their level to get them to understand anything. If we talk to Indians, we have to go down to their level.

Now, we heard today about Elijah. I believe that is in Church History. When the Kirtland Temple was dedicated, who came? Elias came and gave his dispensation. Who is Elias? I will tell you. Elias is Noah. Noah came down and gave his dispensation, then Moses came and gave them the dispensation of the gathering. This people here can thank the Lord that Moses came, because it is through Moses that we have the power and authority to go forth and preach the Gospel to the nations of the earth and bring them here. Then, a little further on, a great and glorious vision burst upon him -- Elijah came and gave them the sealing blessing; gave them the power to seal men on earth.

Now for Elijah. What do we understand by Elijah? If you have the power and authority of Elijah, there isn't a thing in the Melchizedek Priesthood that can't be done. All the keys are included in the power and authority of Elijah. Read on page 338 in the sayings of Joseph Smith and see. Now what did he say? Joseph, in speaking, said, "Let us take a case. Here is old Brother Cutler. Suppose he was given the authority and told, Whatever you bind on earth is bound in heaven and whatever you loose on earth is loosed in heaven." That is the way we are carried on to our exaltation. Everyone of us that gains our exaltation gains it through covenants.

Every ordinance of the Gospel involves covenants, and it is how we keep them that determines our progress. And if we break those covenants, we go down; if we live those covenants, we are exalted.

We spoke of Elijah. He came and gave Joseph Smith that authority of the sealing power. After Elijah had come and given that authority -- he was the last prophet that lived that held all the keys -- and after he had come here and delivered those keys to us, then we were able to go ahead and perform these things.

I just thought, sitting here today, I am quite proud -- maybe I hadn't ought to say this, but I am proud of the way you people have been carrying on. I can't see one better reason why a people would come out from the heart's core of the Church than to live all the laws of God. You came out, everyone of you; it was hard work. I know how churchbound I was. I didn't understand or know then, but after seeing these things, He says it very plain in the First Section of the Doctrine & Covenants that the time would come when they would change the ordinances and break the everlasting covenants. He said we would come from among them. How are we going to stay out? How many of you today know where the Priesthood is? Some people get down upon their knees and find out, and they know where the Priesthood is, and you can't fool them. Others will say, I don't know about this and that, and almost invariably, you will see them go backwards. We want to get a thorough understanding of these things. Someday you will read about some that have come out from among the people. You will read of such things again before you get through, and we are keeping a history of it. I hope we are keeping minutes here of everything that goes on. Sooner or later, they will be called in.

What is going to become of us? Do you mean to tell me that my parents are all wrong? No, I don't mean to tell you anything about it. A Methodist said, "Do you mean to say that my father is wrong? Why, he is a good man; my parents are good people." Yes, they sure are, and so were Cain's. His Father was, at least. Here is the thing -- there is a law on which every blessing is predicated, and when we get the blessing, it is by obedience to that law. How can God give us that blessing without obedience to the law? If we didn't have to obey, God wouldn't be God. We will admit there are hundreds of good men, thousands of them in the Church. Our parents and grandparents and relations, we feel for them; they think we have all apostatized and gone. When my folks joined the Church in England, people just thought they had gone to the bad. They came out here. I have met hundreds of people in the world that have said, "I don't know what we will do, some of our children believe in Mormonism."

President Young said, "I invite you to take excursions. I will take excursions, but I am not going to take all my wives. I remember one fellow came and told me that I had twenty wives. I said, "That is fine, but I don't know them, I wish you would name them." President Young said when the brethren talked about him in Texas, "You go back and tell the Texas people that when I get on the other side, I expect to have thousands of wives." Maybe he will if he has kingdoms enough. But today I don't know about taking these thousands of wives. Probably your hair would go gray than mine is now; you can't tell. Thank the Lord I am what President Young said, anyway. He said that if you have your hair left on your head, you can consider that you have some blessed good wives.
I felt a little bad for Uncle Roy when I heard that; but then, he was just joking.

I haven't lost my hair. I think some of the brethren are getting quite a ways back, though.

So are some of you, huh?

Well, let me tell you brethren, this thing is true. It isn't to be monkeyed with either. When the adversary saw that we started to live the two laws, Celestial Marriage and the United Order,

...then he started to work. He didn't care if we just lived one law. Why?
Though you keep all the laws and offend in one, then you are guilty of the whole. If you have something you have got to be punished for, you can't get into the Celestial Kingdom. I have heard women say, "When I get on the other side, I don't want to have to live with that man," etc. If ever you have a man that is worthy of the Celestial Kingdom of God, you will be mighty glad to have him, for when we get on the other side, we are told, if you will read Parley P. Pratt and others, they won't be old and crabby and crippled up, but they will be in their full bloom of life. They will be young and fresh. That is what the resurrection is going to do. We are going to have this body renewed. We want to thank the Lord that we have got a good, healthy body; and thank the Lord that we have good honorable parents, that the disease that is in the world today isn't in our bodies. This is all church history.

We can go ahead and study the Church History and see what happens here and there, but what we want to know is what is going to happen to us. Like I told Brother Darter when he was telling me about the white Indian prophet, I said, "How close does that get you to the Celestial Kingdom of God?" If we are living a law that will put us in the Celestial Kingdom of God, that is what we are after. Be perfect in our sphere. We can be as perfect in our sphere as God is in His sphere. He says, "Be ye perfect as your Father in Heaven is perfect."

Brothers and sisters, I love to see people united. I love the people that are united, and would to God that I could get out and talk to you more than I do. But everything I say down there is taken right up to the probation officer.

See, he had just been out of prison for a little while.

There isn't anything that they don't hear about. Last time I went up there, he said, "I understand that Esther had a baby." I said, "What of that?" He said, "You broke your parole." I said, "How did I break my parole? Didn't you hear the Board of Pardons say, 'Go down and take care of your wives and children.'? Would you call it taking care of them by just giving them something to eat? Then how have I broke my parole?" I never denied it or confirmed it. I know this law is true and these other laws are true. If we live them, we will get the blessing, and if we don't, we won't get the blessing. God will bless us when we bless ourselves. God helps those who help themselves. If we want help from God, we do it ourselves. We grow in knowledge, faith, and understanding only as we apply for it. Very few there will be that will be virtuous, honest and straightforward in all things, but those few will hold the Priesthood and will be the few that will be saved. Godliness must be acquired; it won't be forced on us. You must get it yourselves.

I hope you just keep on the way you are going. I will say again that you can start in anytime, and I would like you to do it all the time, as long as the people are doing right like they are doing here, they deserve the Sacrament, and it will help you.

God bless you, amen.

There is a lot of Gospel in that sermon. Uncle Roy learned from him, and I have been learning from Uncle Roy. I pray God to help me to abide the teachings he has given, the instructions he has given, and that I can stand by him to the end, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I cannot tell you, my brothers and sisters, how moved I am with the presence of President Johnson, whom I love more than any man on earth, or any woman. I am grateful to be his fellow servant engaged in the great work that has been outlined by President Johnson so many times -- the preparation of a people through repentance and perfect obedience to the laws and commandments of God. We have got to become a pure people. That means all who are going to be worthy to go to redeem Zion, because the Lord says Zion is the pure in heart, and we must be clean every whit to be worthy to go on that great journey and accomplish that great work of building the city and the temple of our God. I know Leroy S. Johnson is the Prophet of God as I know I live, and that he has been chosen for this great and important mission of preparing a people to live the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ perfectly to be one people, one with him as he is one with God. In order to accomplish the work, the great work before him and us today is the gathering together of that people in one place. That is where the preparations will be made.

We have been warned by President Johnson of the visitation to come, the visitation of the great judgments and the desolation that is to come on this land as the wicked are swept from off the face of it. The wicked are those who come not to Jesus Christ and obey Him.

Brothers and sisters, to accomplish this great work, we have got to realize who and what we are dealing with. The people in Joseph Smith's day did not understand and know who they were dealing with -- the mouthpiece of God, and the one that stands at the head of this entire dispensation, the last Dispensation of the Fullness of Times. He having gone now, has had a hand in the choosing of men to stand in the same position he did with the people; and he stands over all and next to the Lord Jesus Christ.
President Joseph Smith said: -- It is just as impossible for me to continue the subject of yesterday as to raise the dead. My lungs are worn out. There is a time to all things, and I must wait. I will give it up, and leave the time to those who can make you hear, and I will continue the subject of my discourse some other time. I want to make a proclamation to the Elders. I wanted you to stay, in order that I might make this proclamation. You know very well that the Lord has led this Church by revelation. I have another revelation in relation to economy in the Church -- a great, grand, and glorious revelation. I shall not be able to dwell as largely upon it now as at some other time; but I will give you the first principles. You know there has been great discussion in relation to Zion -- where it is, and where the gathering of the dispensation is, and which I am now going to tell you. The prophets have spoken and written upon it; but I will make a proclamation that will cover a broader ground. The whole of America is Zion itself from north to south, and is described by the Prophets, who declare that it is the Zion where the mountain of the Lord should be, and that it should be in the center of the land. When Elders shall take up and examine the old prophecies in the Bible, they will see it.

The declaration this morning is, that as soon as the Temple and baptismal font are prepared, we calculate to give the Elders of Israel their washings and anointings, and attend to those last and more impressive ordinances, without which we cannot obtain celestial thrones. But there must be a holy place prepared for that purpose. There was a proclamation made during the time that the foundation of the Temple was laid to that effect, and there are provisions made until the work is completed, so that men may receive their endowments and be made kings and priests unto the Most High God, having nothing to do with temporal things, but their whole time will be taken up with things pertaining to the house of God. These must, however, be a place built expressly for that purpose, and for men to be baptized for their dead. It must be built in this central place; for every man who wishes to save his father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends, must go through all the ordinances for each one of them separately, the same as for himself, from baptism to ordination, washing and anointings, and receive all the keys and powers of the Priesthood, the same as for himself.
I have received instructions from the Lord that from henceforth wherever Elders of Israel shall build up churches and branches unto the Lord throughout the States, there shall be a stake of Zion. In the great cities, as Boston, New York, &c., there shall be stakes. It is a glorious proclamation, and I reserved it to the last, and designed it to be understood that this work shall commence after the washings, anointings and endowments have been performed here.

We know what took place. They had to be driven out, and that time postponed until this time now.

The Lord has an established law in relation to the matter: there must be a particular spot for the salvation of our dead. I verily believe there will be a place, and hence men who want to save their dead can come and bring their families, do their work by being baptized and attending to the other ordinances for their dead, and then may go back again to live and wait till they go to receive their reward. I shall leave my brethren to enlarge on this subject; it is my duty to teach the doctrine. I would teach it more fully -- the spirit is willing but the flesh is weak. God is not willing to let me gratify you; but I must teach the Elders, and they should teach you. God made Aaron to be the mouthpiece for the children of Israel, and He will make me be god to you in His stead, and the Elders to be mouth for me; and if you don't like it, you must lump it. I have been giving Elder Adams instruction in some principles to speak to you, and if he makes a mistake, I will get up and correct him. (April 8, 1844.) D.H.C. 6:318-320.

So we have described here the nature of the relationship of this great keyholder, the mouthpiece of God, and the fountainhead of the Holy Ghost, which must come through him to us. That is the position occupied by President Leroy S. Johnson. He is God over us. God is Priesthood; Priesthood is God. He holds the keys of the holy Priesthood. He is therefore God over us; not that we worship him, as Brigham Young mentioned in connection with the same thing. In a meeting with the general authorities with the Church, especially including the Twelve, Brigham Young said this in 1860:

Brigham Young (Journal of Wilford Woodruff p. 126, 127)

Moses said to Israel, I am a god to you. Joseph said to us, I am a god to you. This was true and upon the same principles, I am a god to this people and so is any man who is appointed to lead Israel or the Kingdom of God. If the people reject him, they reject the one who sent him;

God Himself in heaven. So we have much to be grateful for, my brothers and sisters. This great man is full of the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself; and it is dispensed to the people who come up and obey the commandments of God, repent, have faith in God, the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost. Then they may be baptized and have hands laid on them for the gift of the Holy Ghost. These ordinances are dispensed and controlled by this man.

In order to carry out and help him in the great work he has to do, he must delegate authority to others. The Apostles, what we have been calling the Priesthood Council in this day, under the true order of things, none of them can do any sealings, perform those sacred ordinances, except it be delegated to them by this keyholder who holds the keys of the Priesthood and the keys of Elijah, the sealing power. That is more a direct type of delegation and the most important one in this greatest and holiest law of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, along with the Holy United Order, which we must abide in order to redeem Zion.

The foundation for abiding the Holy United Order and the Celestial Law of Marriage is to love our neighbor as ourselves, loving God first with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. Then we can become perfect in this sphere as God is perfect in His sphere, which He has commanded us to do.

So, my brothers and sisters, they treated Joseph Smith lightly, and all of the laws that he gave, especially those who went to redeem Zion in 1831. They failed because they did not abide these first two great commandments - loving God with all their hearts, and their neighbors as themselves. The Prophet Joseph, crying unto the Lord to know why they were driven out of Zion, the Lord responded by saying, "There were contentions, and strifes, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires among them." They were not clean and pure in heart. That was the main reason for them having failed. God would have done it again when He sent Zion's Camp. The set time for the redemption of Zion was made for September of 1836, if they could have carried it on and had done what they were told to do to follow Joseph, their God, and go without murmuring or complaining or criticizing; breaking the law of loving our neighbor as ourselves, and God's representative, God over them.
Well, brothers and sisters, there is a lot of cleaning up to do now. If Uncle Roy will pardon me, I will read a very short sermon of his given up in Canada, August 17, 1982, in Creston. It is in volume 6 of the sermons.

LSJ Vol. 6 Page 418 August 17, 1982 Canada

I'm grateful to be here, my brothers and sisters, upon this occasion. It's been a long while since I had this opportunity to stand before you and bear my testimony and try to instruct you further how to live and how to conduct your lives during this time.

The Prophet Joseph Smith was called and ordained to set up the Kingdom of God in the earth, to establish it in the earth. He is going to come yet and set in order the Kingdom of God and the Church, the whole House of God.

But because of unrighteousness and such wickedness in the earth, he paid with his life -- the great sacrifice that he made. He was martyred in cold blood and was not permitted to accomplish the work the Lord would have liked him to do here. Now we are living more than a hundred years later, and we are still trying to do the work that Joseph started. He was called upon at one time to gather up the strength of Zion and the Lord would have brought about the redemption of His work, but he wasn't permitted to do it because of great wickedness in the earth. It had crept in among the saints to a point where he couldn't accomplish his work.

Now, in our day, we are living in a time when the Lord is winding up His work with the Gentile nations. He is going to accomplish what He said He would do if they don't repent and turn unto Him. The Gospel has been given to the Gentile nations, and they have had their chance -- their opportunity -- to serve the God of the earth or go down with the wicked. He has told us how He is going to do it, at least partly.

Today, we are living in a time when He has turned the key of His work. From this time henceforth, we are going to see the saints win in the great work that the Lord has placed upon our shoulders.

The last few years -- I'll go back to the year 1953 when the great raid was made upon our people, Short Creek at that time. They carried our wives and children out, and we were threatened with destruction. The Lord didn't allow them to do what they said they would do. They said they would put the male membership in jail, put the women to work and adopt out our children and their identity would be forgotten. But God didn't see fit to let them win that battle. We fought for our rights and won!

Uncle Roy had a marvelous, a glorious hand in accomplishing that, in winning that fight. It couldn't have been won without him.

I am here, today, to warn this people about their lives and how they serve God and keep His commandments, and to admonish them to prepare themselves against the day of visitation when He is visiting the earth with great destruction. This great destruction has already commenced, and it is going on and will continue to go on until Zion is redeemed. We have only got a few more years, and then we are going to have to do the work that the Lord has said we would do to build up Zion upon this earth. Then we will have a thousand years of peace.

Now here is another warning, as he gave in that sermon read by Brother Truman:

You young men, if you have faults and failings, I want you to overcome them, purify your lives. The Lord says we are not worthy of an endowment until we purify our lives and become pure every whit before we are worthy of another endowment.

Now, let's see to it that we overcome our weaknesses, our imperfections and live and learn what the Lord has for us to do. We have plenty of literature to perform this work. It is at our fingertips. Let us go to and live according to the commandments of God and prepare ourselves for a glorious resurrection.

I don't feel to stand before you any longer at this time. I'll give way now. I'll ask President Jeffs to come to the stand and talk to us. God bless you, amen.

I was led to bear a testimony that I wish I could bear to you today, if we had time. But, I know that God lives and Joseph Smith is His Prophet. And I know that our Prophet Leroy S. Johnson is favored of God to do this great work in this last part of this six thousand years that we were given to prepare to redeem Zion. He is going to see it through. It was revealed to me when I administered to him on the 5th of May of 1979, that he would come through this stronger than ever to go on and prepare a people to redeem Zion, and he will do it.

God bless us that we may be humbled and be obedient and become even as Jesus Christ. Leroy Johnson is a most Christlike man, full of the Holy Ghost and full of the power necessary to accomplish his great mission in the earth. And I testify of these things to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Daniel Shadrack Carlisle

I want all of you people to understand that I am acting in this capacity by direction of President Leroy S. Johnson, our Prophet and head, and I am his fellow servant. This child is the great grandson of Leroy S. Johnson, and he comes through a great lineage.

I pray that the Spirit of God will direct me as I present to you the sentiments and teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith in connection with this matter of funerals, and the passing of young children. I love the words of the Prophet Joseph. It seems I have been teaching all the years that I have been in this work, and I like to teach from the books -- the Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, and Pearl of Great Price, and the words of Joseph. I think the best introduction to the matter regarding this beautiful character and child is the vision of the Prophet Joseph Smith regarding his brother, Alvin.

_The heavens were opened upon us, and I beheld the celestial kingdom of God, and the glory thereof, whether in the body or out I cannot tell. I saw the transcendent beauty of the gate through which the heirs of that kingdom will enter, which was like unto circling flames of fire; also the blazing throne of God, whereon was seated the Father and the Son. I saw the beautiful streets of that kingdom, which had the appearance of being paved with gold. I saw Father Adam and Abraham, and my father and my mother, my brother, Alvin, that has long since slept, and marvelled how it was that he had obtained an inheritance in that kingdom, seeing that he had departed this life before the Lord had set his hand to gather Israel the second time, and had not been baptized for the remission of sins._

_Thus came the voice of the Lord unto me, saying -- All who have died without a knowledge of this Gospel, This boy did have a knowledge of it, but he died before he was baptized; and_ he did have some knowledge of this work, as much as a child that age could possibly have.

...who would have received it if they had been permitted to tarry, shall be heirs of the celestial kingdom of God; also all that shall die henceforth without a knowledge of it, who would have received it with all their hearts, shall be heirs of that kingdom, for I, the Lord, will judge all men according to their works, according to the desire of their hearts. And I also behold that all children who die before they arrive at the years of accountability are saved in the celestial kingdom of heaven. -- D.H.C. 2:380-381.

Such was Daniel.

The Saints in Nauvoo assembled at the house of President Marks, at an early hour in the morning, to pay their last respects to the body of Ephraim Marks, son of President William Marks, who died on the evening of the 7th. A large procession formed and walked to the Grove, where a numerous congregation had assembled. President Joseph Smith spoke upon the occasion with much feeling and interest. Among his remarks he said, "It is a very solemn and awful time. I never felt more solemn; it calls to mind the death of my oldest brother, Alvin, who died in New York, and my youngest brother, Don Carlos Smith, who died in Nauvoo. It has been hard for me to live on earth and see these young men upon whom we have leaned for support and comfort taken from us in the midst of their youth. Yes, it has been hard to be reconciled to these things. I have sometimes thought that I should have felt more reconciled to have been called away myself if it had been the will of God; yet I know we ought to be still and know it is of God, and be reconciled to His will; all is right. It will be but a short time before we shall all in like manner be called: it may be the case with me as well as you. Some have supposed that Brother Joseph could not die; but this is a mistake:

He knew he had to, to seal his testimony with his blood.

...it is true there have been times when I have had the promise of my life to accomplish such and such things, but, having now accomplished those things, I have not at present any lease of my life, I am as liable to die as other men.

When we lose a near and dear friend, upon whom we have set our hearts, it should be a caution unto us not to set our affections too firmly upon others, knowing that they may in like manner be taken from us. Our affections should be placed upon God and His work, more intensely than upon our fellow beings. (April 9, 1842.) D.H.C. 4:587.

This is the Prophet's sermon on life and death:

TPJS  Page 196

We have again the warning voice sounded in our midst, which shows the uncertainty of human life; and in my leisure moments I have meditated upon the subject, and asked the question, why it is that infants, innocent children, are taken away from us, especially those that seem to be the most intelligent and interesting.

Such was Daniel. He was a bright light. He is a bright light, and will carry that intelligence with him.

The strongest reasons that present themselves to my mind are these: This world is a very wicked world; and it is a proverb that the "world grows weaker and wiser"; if that is the case, the world grows more wicked and corrupt. In the earlier ages of the world a righteous man, and a man of God and of intelligence, had a better chance to do good, to be believed and received at the present day;

And so it is today.

...but in these days such a man is much opposed and persecuted by most of the inhabitants of the earth, and he has much sorrow to pass through here. The Lord takes many away even in infancy, that they may escape the envy of man, and the sorrows and evils of this present world; they were too pure, too lovely, to live on earth;

And I see a parallel here.

...therefore, if rightly considered, instead of mourning we have reason to rejoice as they are delivered from evil, and we shall soon have them again.

The doctrine of baptizing children, or sprinkling them, or they must welter in hell, is a doctrine not true, not supported in Holy Writ, and is not consistent with the character of God. All children are redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and the moment that children leave this world, they are taken to the bosom of Abraham.

So has Daniel.
The only difference between the old and young dying is, one lives longer in heaven and eternal light and glory than the other, and is freed a little sooner from this miserable wicked world. Notwithstanding all this glory, we for a moment lose sight of it, and mourn the loss, but we do not mourn as those without hope.

And one final one:

Almost all who have fallen in these last days in the Church have fallen in a strange land. This is a strange land to those who have come from a distance. We should cultivate sympathy for the afflicted among us. If there is a place on earth where men should cultivate the spirit and pour in the oil and wine in the bosoms of the afflicted, it is in this place; and this spirit is manifest here; and although a stranger and afflicted when he arrives, he finds a brother and a friend ready to administer to his necessities.

I would esteem it one of the greatest blessings, if I am to be afflicted in this world, to have my lot cast where I can find brothers and friends all around me.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ draws men, women, and children together in that kind of bond.

But this is not the thing I referred to: it is to have the privilege of having our dead buried on the land where God has appointed to gather His Saints together, and where there will be none but Saints, where they may have the privilege of laying their bodies where the Son of Man will make His appearance, and where they may hear the sound of the trump that shall call them forth to behold Him, that in the morn of the resurrection they may come forth in a body, and come up out of their graves and strike hands immediately in eternal glory and felicity, rather than be scattered thousands of miles apart. There is something good and sacred to me in this thing. The place where a man is buried is sacred to me. This subject is made mention of in the Book of Mormon and other scriptures. Even to the aborigines of this land, the burying places of their fathers are more sacred than anything else.

When I heard of the death of our beloved Brother Barnes, it would not have affected me so much, if I had the opportunity of burying him in the land of Zion.
I believe those who have buried their friends here, their condition is enviable. Look at Jacob and Joseph in Egypt, how they required their friends to bury them in the tomb of their fathers. See the expense which attended the embalming and the going up of the great company to the burial.

It has always been considered a great calamity not to obtain an honorable burial: and one of the greatest curses the ancient prophets could put on any man, was that he should go without a burial.

I have said, Father, I desire to die here among the Saints. But if this is not Thy will, and I go hence and die, wilt Thou find some kind friend to bring my body back, and gather my friends who have fallen in foreign lands, and bring them up hither, that we may all lie together.

I will tell you what I want. If tomorrow I shall be called to lie in yonder tomb, in the morning of the resurrection let me strike hands with my father, and cry, "My father," and he will say, "My son, my son," as soon as the rock rends and before we come out of our graves.

And may we contemplate these things so? Yes, if we learn how to live and how to die. When we lie down we contemplate how we may rise in the morning; and it is pleasing for friends to lie down together, locked in the arms of love, to sleep and wake in each other's embrace and renew their conversation.

Would you think it strange if I relate what I have seen in vision in relation to this interesting theme? Those who have died in Jesus Christ may expect to enter into all that fruition of joy when they come forth, which they possessed or anticipated here.

So plain was the vision, that I actually saw men, before they had ascended from the tomb, as though they were getting up slowly. They took each other by the hand and said to each other, "My father, my son, my mother, my daughter, my brother, my sister." And when the voice calls for the dead to arise, suppose I am laid by the side of my father, what would be the first joy of my heart? To meet my father, my mother, my brother, my sister; and when they are by my side, I embrace them and they me.

It is my meditation all the day, and more than my meat and drink, to know how I shall make the Saints of God comprehend the visions that roll like an overflowing surge before my mind. All your losses will be made up to you in the resurrection, provided you continue faithful. By the vision of the Almighty I have seen it.

More painful to me are the thoughts of annihilation than death.

Or as the Prophet Brigham Young said, going back to native element. We are either rising and increasing or we are going down and descending to native element; first of our bodies, and the second death is the going back to native element of our spirits, leaving only the intelligence of that spirit.

If I have no expectation of seeing my father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends again, my heart would burst in a moment, and I should go down to my grave.

The expectation of seeing my friends in the morning of the resurrection cheers my soul and makes me bear up against the evils of life. It is like their taking a long journey, and on their return we meet them with increased joy.

God has revealed His Son from the heavens and the doctrine of the resurrection also; and we have a knowledge that those we bury here God will bring up again, clothed upon and quickened by the Spirit of the great God; and what mattereth it whether we lay them down, or we lay down with them when we can keep them no longer? Let these truths sink down in our hearts, that we may even here begin to enjoy that which shall be in full hereafter.

Hosanna, hosanna, hosanna to Almighty God, that rays of light begin to burst forth upon us even now. I cannot find words in which to express myself. I am not learned, but I have as good feelings as any man. O that I had the language of the archangel to express my feelings once to my friends! But I never expect to in this life. When others rejoice, I rejoice; when they mourn, I mourn.

To Marcellus Bates let me administer comfort. You shall soon have the company of your companion in a world of glory, and the friends of Brother Barnes and all the Saints who are mourning. This has been a warning voice to us all to be sober and diligent and lay aside mirth, vanity and folly, and to be prepared to die tomorrow.

So Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, and all the Prophets of God have had enjoined upon them by the God of heaven to cry repentance and preparation, and this little boy was prepared in a way we should envy.
I love Brother Elmo and his family. I love all the saints of God who are striving to become like God, and getting and keeping the Holy Spirit of God, and being an instrument in the hands of God to spread the truth and to abide it. The fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is Celestial and Plural Marriage, and the Holy United Order. So far we have only been living at it. And Brigham Young said that plural marriage would damn more than it would save. But we have some beautiful examples among us -- how to live and abide the holy Celestial Law.

So my congratulations, as well as my sentiments of condolence be to you, Brother Elmo, Sister Nancy, Sister Naomi, and all of your children. May we ever be friends, and go together as the Prophet Joseph Smith has said here. May we all follow the example of this dear child, who is clean and free from the blood of this generation. He was innocent and pure, and he could not be held here any longer.

All of the ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ will be performed for such characters as this. Those who have died without a knowledge of the truth, and would have lived it, these ordinances will be performed in the holy Temples in Zion. And that is the great work of the Millennium, and that is what President Johnson is trying to do now, is to prepare a people to redeem Zion. With such leadership, and a man as close to God as President Leroy Johnson, I don't know why we should fail, unless we are not converted. Have you ever asked yourselves, brothers and sisters, "Am I converted?" If not, we need to be if we are going to go on to eternal life and exaltation in the Celestial Kingdom of God. No one, says Section 131, can enter into the highest of the three degrees of glory in the Celestial Kingdom without living and abiding the Celestial Law and Plural Law of Marriage. This is plain as the nose on your face, and that is the work we are engaged in. So I leave you my blessings, dear Brother Elmo and your family, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
It is good to come together again, brothers and sisters, as we have by appointment of President Johnson, who is unable to be with us today because he is too weak, and probably has the same thing that I have got. I have had quite a few calls this morning asking for excuse on account of this flu; but we will survive.

Just like to observe at this point, that at the funeral last Thursday in Colorado City for Sister Fawn Broadbent, the largest turnout we have had, at least in my memory -- over two thousand people. I think, as Brother Truman and I have just been discussing -- and I have been saying the same thing -- if it did not do anything, it showed all those two thousand people, and so many of them not of our people; they came together and saw President Johnson there, shocked that he was even still alive, some of them said. Isn't that what someone told you, Ruth? Brother Hammon was there, and he noted the same thing. He is going on, and we had better be prepared to go with him in this great work.

Let us draw in the wanderings of our minds and pray the Lord to shed forth His Holy Spirit upon us that we may have a time of instruction and rejoicing together. If we have that, we have all that we deserve, and many of us do not deserve that much. But we better have it so that we have it all the time. We cannot get through without it.

I desire an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters, that I can speak long enough to get over some points that the Lord may direct me to say for our mutual benefit, for me as well as for you. I love the way the Prophet always opens his sermons by asking the Lord to put words in his mouth. You can be very certain then that he will be able to speak by revelation. Those sermons are full of revelations, believe it or not.

Speaking of the thing that Brother Truman was, I would like to read an item of President Brigham Young, a sermon in the Journal of Discourses, volume 1, pages 66 through 67, regarding mothers and wives as to their children, and he lays it on pretty hard.

It has been hinted that education commences with the first dawn of knowledge upon the mental faculties of the child, and continues with it till death.
Think of that awesome responsibility that is upon a mother.

But I will trace it a little further back still, and say that education commences with the mother, and the child in connection. I will state the facts in the case, as you will find them to be hereafter, in the education of your children. It depends in a great degree upon the mother, as to what children receive, in early age, of principle of every description, pertaining to all that can be learned by the human family. When will mothers understand this?  I will tell you the truth as you will find it in eternity. If your children do not receive impressions of true piety, virtue, tenderness, and every principle of the holy Gospel, you may be assured that their sins will not be required at the hands of the father, but of the mother.

If that mother has the same testimony as the father of the work of God, she already knows what to teach the child. If she loves the truth and the Gospel and God with all her might, mind, and strength, and her neighbor as herself, she will know what to teach.

If your children do not receive impressions of true piety, virtue, tenderness, and every principle of the holy Gospel, you may be assured that their sins will not be required at the hands of the father, but of the mother. Lay it to heart, ye mothers, for it will unavoidably be so. The duty of the mother is to watch over her children, and give them their early education, for impressions received in infancy are lasting. Look back and see if yours aren't.

You know, yourselves, by experience, that the impressions you have received in the dawn of your mortal existence, bear, to this day, with the greatest weight upon your mind. It is the experience of people generally, that what they imbibe from their mothers in infancy, is the most lasting upon the mind through life. This is natural, it is reasonable, it is right. I do not suppose you can find one person among five hundred, who does not think his mother to be the best woman that ever lived. This is right, it is planted in the human heart.

He further says this:

JD 9:36  Brigham Young  April 7, 1861

Sisters, do not ask whether you can make yourselves happy, but whether you can do your husband's will, if he is a good man. Teach your children; for you are their guardians, to act as father and mother to them until they are out of your care. The teachings and examples of our mothers have formed, to a great extent, our characters and directed our lives. This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood, to direct the child until it is of a proper age, and then hand it over to the husband and father, and into the hands of God.

I often think in connection with that, the example of Hannah in ancient Israel, who was childless at first. She asked the Lord that she be given a child and she would dedicate that child to God, and put that child into the service of God. She was given her desire, and she raised that child to the point where it was prepared to go into the temple, and there, under the high priest -- Samuel. The words of this song are a favorite expression of mine.

Hushed Was the Evening Hymn

1. Hushed was the evening hymn;
The temple courts were dark;
The lamp was burning dim
Before the sacred ark;
When suddenly a voice divine
Rang through the silence of the shrine.
2. The old man, meek and mild,
The priest of Israel slept;
His watch the temple child,
The little Levite kept.
And what from Eli's sense was sealed,
The Lord to Hannah's son revealed.
3. O give me Samuel's ear,
The open ear, O Lord,
Alive and quick to hear
Each whisper of thy word.
Like him to answer at thy call
And to obey thee first of all.
4. O give me Samuel's heart,
A lowly heart, that waits,
Wherein thy house thou art
Or watches at thy gates;
By day and night a heart that still
1. Moves at the breathing of thy will.
2. 5. O give me Samuel's mind,
    A sweet unmurmuring faith,
    Obedient and resigned
    To thee in life and death,
    That I may read with childlike eyes,
    Truths that are hidden from the wise!

So you see why the Savior taught us to become as a little child, sweet and innocent, if that child has been brought up right and taught by its mother. So here is strong proof of what Brother Truman has been talking to us about. I would like to close by reading a little piece that has been a favorite of mine all my life since I first ran across it. It tells us how to live each day.

I will try this day to live a simple, sincere, and serene life; repelling promptly every thought of discontent, anxiety, discouragement, impurity, and self-seeking; cultivating cheerfulness, magnanimity, Magnanimity, you know, is greatness of soul.

...charity, and the habit of holy silence; exercising economy in expenditure, carefulness in conversation, diligence in appointed service, fidelity to every trust, and a childlike trust in God. -- John H. Vincent.

Become as a little child. God help us to be so, because we cannot enter into the Kingdom of God and receive the highest degree of the Celestial Glory except we go innocent and pure in heart, meek and mild, meek and lowly in heart, teachable. Then follow the teachings implicitly, the teachings of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the laws and ordinances of the holy Priesthood in the Kingdom of God. May we do this, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Have Treated President Johnson Lightly;
One Man Holds the Keys; 1880 Revelation a Delusion

I earnestly pray for the Spirit of God to be with me as I desire to build you up and encourage you in the great work in which we are engaged. The thing that keeps ringing in my ears, brothers and sisters, is the words of the Lord, "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine." How do we become one? By all having the power of the Holy Spirit of God upon us all the time. Now, the Holy Spirit of God is the power of the Priesthood, and that is the power that we have got to have to stand alongside and follow President Leroy S. Johnson. The Spirit of God is the Spirit of revelation, and we have had it given to us in our ears through all these forty or fifty years that President Johnson has been speaking to this people. The great burden has been to repent and to prepare for that which is to come, against the visitation of the great judgments that are about to come upon us. He has called upon us to have nerves of steel to meet this great challenge, and we cannot meet it unless we are one. Many may be lost in the great holocaust, but those who survive will be those who hang on to the iron rod spoken of by the Prophet Lehi, in which Nephi carried out in his life in leading his brethren and his sisters in building up a people that the Lord could use upon this, the land of Joseph.

Joseph Smith made it very clear on one occasion and made the announcement and revelation to the saints with a great deal of emphasis, that the whole of America is the land of Zion, and we must gather to the place which has been designated by the Lord God of Israel, the place where Zion should be built, and the great temple and temples, and the land redeemed.

Every Prophet, beginning with Joseph Smith in this last dispensation, has tried to get a people to be one sufficient that they could abide the Holy United Order, along with abiding the other highest principle of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the Celestial Law of Plural Marriage. They are the crowning principles and they cannot be lived except by the guidance and direction and the power of the holy Priesthood. The power of the Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, and if we are going to follow our Prophet, we are going to have to have the Holy Ghost and be one with him as Christ tried to make His disciples one with Him, but they failed. And I often think of the great journey after the saints had been driven from the land of Zion, which had been designated in August of 1831. The people then were called to go up to Zion and redeem it.

I would just like to point out the things that prevent us from becoming one, and the thing that President Johnson has been striving with all his might and main to get this people to accomplish. After the saints were driven out of Jackson County and into the wilderness and from one place to another, the Prophet cried unto the Lord and asked why. Why had they been driven out? The Lord said:

D. & C. 101

1. Verily I say unto you, concerning your brethren who have been afflicted, and persecuted, and cast out from the land of their inheritance --
2. I, the Lord, have suffered the affliction to come upon them, wherewith they have been afflicted, in consequence of their transgressions;
3. Yet I will own them, and they shall be mine in that day when I shall come to make up my jewels.
4. Therefore, they must needs be chastened and tried, even as Abraham, who was commanded to offer up his only son.
5. For all those who will not endure chastening, but deny me, cannot be sanctified.
6. Behold, I say unto you,

Speaking of the people in Zion,
6. ...there were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and strifes, and lustful and covetous desires among them; therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.

Zion, it is said in Section 97, is the pure in heart. They have to be clean every whit. Here these things that are contrary to the Holy Ghost were being practiced among those who had been chosen to go out and help to redeem Zion. Then He goes on to say:

7. They were slow to hearken unto the voice of the Lord their God; therefore, the Lord their God is slow to hearken unto their prayers, to answer them in the day of their trouble.
8. In the day of their peace they esteemed lightly my counsel; but, in the day of their trouble, of necessity they feel after me.
9. Verily I say unto you, notwithstanding their sins, my bowels are filled with compassion towards them. I will not utterly cast them off; and in the day of wrath I will remember mercy.
10. I have sworn, and the decree hath gone forth by a former commandment which I have given unto you, that I would let fall the sword of mine indignation in behalf of my people; and even as I have said, it shall come to pass.
11. Mine indignation is soon to be poured out without measure upon all nations; and this will I do when the cup of their iniquity is full.
12. And in that day all who are found upon the watch-tower, or in other words, all mine Israel, shall be saved.

13. And they that have been scattered shall be gathered.
14. And all they who have mourned shall be comforted.

15. And all they who have given their lives for my name shall be crowned.
16. Therefore, let your hearts be comforted concerning Zion; for all flesh is in mine hands; be still and know that I am God.

17. Zion shall not be moved out of her place, notwithstanding her children are scattered.
18. They that remain, and are pure in heart, shall return, and come to their inheritances, they and their children, with songs of everlasting joy, to build up the waste places of Zion --

19. And all these things that the prophets might be fulfilled.
20. And, behold, there is none other place appointed than that which I have appointed; neither shall there be any other place appointed than that which I have appointed, for the work of the gathering of my saints --

21. Until the day cometh when there is found no more room for them; and then I have other places which I will appoint unto them, and they shall be called stakes, for the curtains or the strength of Zion.
22. Behold, it is my will, that all who call on my name, and worship me according to mine everlasting Gospel, shall gather together and stand in holy places;
23. And prepare for the revelation which is to come, when the veil of the covering of my temple, in my tabernacle, which hideth the earth, shall be taken off, and all flesh shall see me together.

Now, in 1834, very shortly after this revelation was received, in December, the Lord called upon the Prophet to gather five hundred Elders of Israel to go up to redeem Zion, and there was formed what was called Zion's Camp. They were to go without murmuring and follow their great head. That is one great trouble with most of us -- we murmur and complain.

In all of the suffering that our Prophet has been through these last seven years, I have never heard one word of complaint. Whenever he has failed in any of his labors, in farming and other things, he would say, "Well, I have been blessed with a failure." Then he turns around and accomplishes the thing that is needed to be done.

In February of 1834, the Lord called this Camp of Zion together. I don't know whether the Lord had in mind what is spoken of here at verse 15 for that camp, but I am sure He would have done had they gone forth and been faithful and true and followed the instructions which were given them by the Lord through the Prophet; and I am sure that this is how Zion will finally be redeemed.

But while on the way, Zion's Camp hardly got to the Mississippi River until there were murmurings and complaints and criticisms of the Prophet, which brought him to stand in the back of a wagon and tell them, "There is a chastisement coming for these things which you have done."

Wilford Woodruff, in a Conference in April 1898, recalled this as he was going in the Camp of Zion, and said:

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1898, Page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together. He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us. He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us. He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. You have not realized my position before the Lord. But there is a chastisement before this camp." He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels. In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here,

Another there.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand to stay it, and I came very near falling by it myself."

Now in calling this camp together, He said these words:

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;

Had those two hundred and five men been one with the Holy Ghost upon them, with the power of the Priesthood that they bore, they would have been irresistible and could have gone and overcome the enemy and redeemed Zion, because God had already set the time for that to be done, which was in September 1836. But they failed, although it left some blessings. From among the faithful in that Zion's Camp were chosen the general authorities of the Church, which was organized in 1835, the Quorum of the Twelve, and the First Council of Seventy. These faithful men were those who were called to lead in that organization of the Church which was completed then.

But the Lord made this promise, and I am sure He had reference to it when He would get a people who could be one; and we have got to prepare ourselves for this, because our Prophet, I testify unto you, is going to lead a faithful people from among this people to redeem Zion. When that happens, I have the faith that this promise is going to be fulfilled.

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;

16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.

18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.

19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.

20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

Now, this people that will be led by our Prophet must be such that they can stand the presence of the Lord and go up and be led in this manner. Brothers and sisters, President Johnson is trying to prepare us for these times that are directly ahead of us. There is little time left. According to our time, the Millennium, the seventh period of time, is to commence about fourteen years from now. Think of what has got to happen between now and then. The Ten Tribes must come from the north and a remnant of Jacob from the south; and the Ten Tribes shall come down from there over a highway that is thrown up and come and lay their rich treasures at the feet of Ephraim.
President Johnson is trying to find and gather together Ephraim, which Section 64 tells us the rebellious are not of the tribe of Ephraim; and those who are rebellious shall be cast out. That is how our people are going to have to be cleansed.

We cannot come together and live the Holy United Order without being one - loving our neighbor as ourselves. That is the great secret of our being able to abide the Holy United Order; first of all, of course, loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. And I don't see how we can love God truly without loving our neighbors. They are our brothers and our sisters. They are children of our God.

It grieves the Lord to see His people scattered and breaking up. But this is the last chance and the last time these things are going to be accomplished that the Lord has promised, which I have read to you here now. That man mentioned in what I have just read to you, I testify to you, is Leroy S. Johnson. For many years, our people have treated this man lightly. They have not realized his position before the Lord. We, as a whole people, have been like the Camp of Zion got to be, if not greater -- or worse. Until we recognize that, my dear brothers and sisters, we are without followship, and we will break up and go hither and yon. If President Johnson were to pass over now, this people would go in all that many directions [Holding up his hand with spread out fingers], and I have been called upon -- I pray God that I have been faithful to that direction and commandment which President Johnson gave me -- to establish once and for all the one man rule.

There is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power, the sealing power, the keys of Elijah and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred, and that has grown out of what had been urged upon the saints with the 1880 Revelation of Wilford Woodruff, which the Lord permitted satan to give to him, that they who love not the truth might believe a lie and thus be damned. Then the great lie that was couched in those words of the 1880 Revelation were, "While you have a president to preside over you [your Quorum, which is the order of God in all generations, do you not, all of you, hold the apostleship, which is the highest authority ever given to men on earth? You do. Therefore you hold in common the Keys of the Kingdom of God in all the world.];" speaking to the brethren; then the first presidency hadn't been formed, but John Taylor was the keyholder, the President of the Twelve. Later on, in the year 1880, he was chosen by the Twelve to be the President of the Church, but he already had the keys, the keys of power. This man (Wilford Woodruff) obtained revelation that he had no right to receive as being intended for Zion and her cause.

There is not but one man who can hold these keys. It has been ever thus throughout all eternity. We can think of Adam, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Moses, Isaiah; Jesus Christ appointing Peter to be the keyholder after He should leave. So it was Peter then; and Peter it was who came with his counselors, James and John, and conferred the keys and power of the holy Priesthood upon Joseph and Oliver.

In the organization of the Church, Joseph was designated the First Elder, the keyholder, and Oliver the Second Elder, who failed and apostatized. Later, in Nauvoo, Joseph's brother, Hyrum, was put in that position -- the Second Elder -- once occupied by Oliver.

So, when Joseph was martyred brutally, the Lord had in store a man upon whom he had conferred the keys, Brigham Young. When Sidney Rigdon came to claim the guardianship of the Church, in August of 1844, Brigham Young made the remark, "You can have Ann Lee as your president if you want her, but I know the mind and will of God." When he got up to speak, the mantle of Joseph fell upon him and he was the one man.

When Brigham Young passed on and indicated the proper order of the Apostles with John Taylor at the head, he was designated as the next keyholder; and through John Taylor we have been brought forth. After Jesus and Joseph came and visited John Taylor, he told the brethren that the Lord would not change the law of Celestial Marriage, or not change about requiring it. Those who desire the highest glory must abide that law or be damned, and so John Taylor refused to sign a manifesto which was prepared.

Wilford Woodruff, prior to this, had received a revelation which was in his journal. It was not put forth by the Prophet John Taylor as the terms of the 1880 Revelation called for. He let it die in the journal of Wilford Woodruff, but it was resurrected, shall we say, by Joseph Musser when he copied it from the journal. Joseph Musser's father told him he might need it someday and that was urged upon them. Well, that is likely the wheat and the tares. The Lord has sown the wheat; the tares came along and were sown, and later on when they said, "Shall we pluck them up?" The Lord said, "No, let them grow together." The work couldn't stand a division then.
Now is the time of the harvest when the wheat shall be gathered into His barn and the tares burned. That is what happened when President Johnson came to the Council and told us of the true nature of the one man rule and the true nature of the 1880 Revelation by Wilford Woodruff which said that the keys were held by the Apostles in common. Can you imagine anything that would bring chaos any quicker than that? That idea has been pressed upon this people for sometime, but now we have that over with and there has been a division over the 1880 Revelation. The Prophet now is going forward with all the exertion that he has to build up a place of gathering in northern Arizona, southern Utah. He is building it up as fast as he can. And yet he is doing all of this, carrying on his labors in bringing couples together in the law of Celestial Marriage and performing the ceremonies from his sickbed, perfectly memorized.

Now, I declare unto you, my dear brothers and sisters, that this man is that one man who holds the keys of power in this our day and time. He is going to go on and prepare this people if they will be prepared to redeem Zion. I say this in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

God bless our Prophet dear. I love him more than life itself; only to be by his side is all I desire. I pray that we may all rally to this great man. He is the rallying point for us to become one and go down the road, as he says, together as one people in the great and mighty power of God and the power of the holy Priesthood and of the Holy Ghost to accomplish this great mission.

How to Get and Keep the Spirit of God;
The Keyholder Is God Over Us

I love that last song that the organ has played, "The Nephite Lamentation." It is good to be together again, brothers and sisters, in this meeting appointed by President Johnson, who is unable to be here and is still in Colorado City at this time. He is doing well and coming right along. I know his spirit is with us, and that is what gives me strength and comfort, which is the Spirit of God, which I trust may be with us here, and with the speakers, and in our singing, and in all that we say and do.

* * * * *

I am grateful to hear the wonderful words we have heard here today, and I know they have been inspired of the Spirit of God, and that the Lord will bless me as I bring before you what I will read as the teachings to my family, which I thought would be of great assistance to you as it has to me. This was given February 26, 1978:

Someone quote the first four principles of the Gospel.

Articles of Faith

4. We believe that the first principles and ordinances of the Gospel are: first, Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ; second, Repentance; third, Baptism by immersion for the remission of sins; fourth, Laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost.

This gives us a foundation for our membership in the Church of Jesus Christ and the Kingdom of God, and for our entire future growth and advancement in the work and Kingdom of God. And we should always keep them in mind.

The first is faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and in God. The last one is that which will enable us to become like God: the gift of the Holy Ghost, which is the mind of God. I guess the most frequently asked question is how to get and keep the Spirit of God, that great admonition of the Prophet Joseph Smith and of every Prophet and servant of God ever since.

This dream of Brigham Young that he had concerning this great gift and blessing; and let it be remembered that President Barlow had a special revelation in which he was told to go and tell the saints to get and keep the Spirit of God. Wilford Woodruff repeated it, John Taylor, Brigham Young. And I would like, with the help of the Lord, to give us a little more concrete instructions and help in how to do this. But prior to this dream, let us have an understanding of what the Holy Ghost is. And it is set out very briefly but perfectly by way of its power and manifestations by Brigham Young when he
The Holy Ghost is the Spirit of the Lord, and issues forth from Himself, and may properly be called God’s minister to execute His will in immensity; being called to govern by His influence and power; but He is not a person of tabernacle as we are, and as our Father in Heaven and Jesus Christ are.

So, it is the most highly refined and pure substance, and that which holds the creations of God together through His Priesthood, and by which He created this earth and all of us. I find great strength and comfort in reading this dream, because there is something very definite about its details that are given:

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time. President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed it many times, and said to him:

"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be? You have been from us a long time; we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him. Joseph said:
"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be bye and bye, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:
"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:

"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; Don't lose it, in other words.
...it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; Peace and joy. And as President Johnson has said so many times, the Holy Ghost is a Spirit of peace.

...it will take malice, Feelings against one another, may I add.
...hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts,
It will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts.
...and their whole desire will be to do good,
To love and serve one another,
If we have the Holy Ghost with us, brothers and sisters, we cannot criticize our neighbor. We can only love them and love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; because He is the giver of all these glorious gifts.

...seek the interests of our neighbor.
...bring forth righteousness and build up the Kingdom of God.
In other words, doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in heaven before they come into the world.

Brigham was asking about the organization of the saints, the Family Order of Heaven.

Our Father in heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion."

Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning.

And here he was giving instructions on the sealing that he asked about, the law of adoption and the sealing principle.

He saw where the priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity.

Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people. From it we can learn how important it is to keep the Spirit of the Lord. No man or people can prosper who do not have it as their guide.

Cannot prosper in the work of God or in their life's work and mission.

I have added a few words here and there.

We recently had some instruction on the way it is obtained. The spirit we must have in order to obtain it is in these simple words:

D.& C. 136

31. My people must be tried in all things,
All things,

31. ...that they may be prepared to receive the glory that I have for them, even the glory of Zion; and he that will not bear chastisement is not worthy of my kingdom.

After the saints had been driven out of Zion, the Lord explained that they had need of a chastisement and to be tried in all things.

This was when the Prophet Joseph Smith asked the Lord why the saints had been driven out of Zion in Jackson County.

That was the effect of it; and held out the promise that it would yet be redeemed, as it must before the coming in glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

32. Let him that is ignorant learn wisdom by humbling himself and calling upon the Lord his God, that his eyes may be opened that he may see, and his ears opened that he may hear;
33. For my Spirit is sent forth into the world to enlighten the humble and contrite,
Only the humble and contrite.
They are the only ones that can receive it. And that is the great prerequisite to our getting the Spirit of God.

33. For my Spirit is sent forth into the world to enlighten the humble and contrite, and to the condemnation of the ungodly.
I can't think of any better way to enter into that subject than to speak of the word of God:

D.& C. 67
10. ...inasmuch as you strip yourselves from jealousies and fears, and humble yourselves before me, for ye are not sufficiently humble, Think now of what the reward shall be.
10. ...the veil shall be rent and you shall see me and know that I am -- not with the carnal neither natural mind, but with the spiritual.
11. For no man has seen God at any time in the flesh, except quickened by the Spirit of God.
12. Neither can any natural man abide the presence of God, neither after the carnal mind.
13. Ye are not able to abide the presence of God now, neither the ministering of angels; wherefore continue in patience until ye are perfected.
14. Let not your minds turn back;
If we could only learn to do that.
14. ...and when ye are worthy, in mine own due time, ye shall see and know that which was conferred upon you by the hands of my servant Joseph Smith, Jun.  Amen.
I think it is a great testimony to see how the Holy Ghost spake almost exactly alike to Paul and to Moroni regarding charity, or the pure love of Christ, which is the Holy Spirit. The thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians, an epistle of Paul to the Corinthians:

1 Corinthians 13
1. Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.
2. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.
Actually, I don't see how one could have faith without having charity; I mean faith unto salvation.

3. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.
4. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,
5. Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;
I read something about that in this other.

6. Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;
7. Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
8. Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.
9. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.
10. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

And I want you to mark this:

11. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.
Some of us don't grow up, we don't mature; and certainly the great maturing power and influence is the Holy Spirit.

12. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.
13. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

Now to the seventh of Moroni. I thought the comparison and additional items that are involved in each to be very instructive. Let us go back to verse 38 if you have it. Speaking of these three that are spoken of by Paul:

Moroni 7

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased, then has faith ceased also;
Speaking of miracles and the gifts of the Holy Spirit which are spoken of before.
38. ...and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.
39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.
40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope? Perhaps hope is the beginning of faith, but it continues just the same.
41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.
42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; They go hand in hand.
42. ...for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
Here we have that condition again. It is spoken of in these other scriptures that I read: meek and lowly of heart, humble, and contrite.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; Which is the pure love of Christ.
44. ...for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.
Now here are the things that Paul spoke of:
45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

The race is not to the swift or the strong, but unto him that endureth in all things to the end. He that endureth to the end shall be saved, says another scripture in the Book of Mormon.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, And it is becoming Christlike,

47. ...and it endureth forever;
And as I have said many times, it is the same as having and keeping the Spirit of God. These are all attributes of the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of God.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
That is faith, perfect faith in knowing that your course is pleasing to him.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
Filled with it; and by being filled with it, this Holy Spirit,

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; When we are filled with this, we are like Him. Because the Holy Spirit is the attributes of God.

48. ...that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Now, in the light of these things, let us consider why it was that the Lord permitted His saints to be driven from the land of their inheritance, Zion. And we will see in this how they completely lost the Spirit of God, speaking of them as a whole. There were some faithful; there were some very faithful and true and full of the Holy Ghost.

D.& C. 101

1. Verily I say unto you, concerning your brethren who have been afflicted, and persecuted, and cast out from the land of their inheritance --
2. I, the Lord, have suffered the affliction to come upon them, wherewith they have been afflicted, in consequence of their transgressions;
3. Yet I will own them, and they shall be mine in that day when I shall come to make up my jewels.
In other words, they hadn't sinned unto death, but it is still very serious, as we will learn.

4. Therefore, they must needs be chastened and tried,
Tried in all things,
4. ...even as Abraham, who was commanded to offer up his only son.
5. For all those who will not endure chastening, but deny me, cannot be sanctified.
Generally, those who will not endure chastening do deny Him and apostatize. At this point I want to quote Joseph.

TPJS  Page 194
Because we will not receive chastisement at the hands of the Prophets and Apostles, the Lord chastiseth us with sickness and death.
Quoting from the Teachings.

Let not any man publish his own righteousness, for others can see that for him; sooner let him confess his sins, and then he will be forgiven, and he will bring forth more fruit.
Here, again, the condition of forgiveness is to confess our sins.
When a corrupt man is chastised he gets angry and will not endure it. He will not take correction. And then he goes on to say the reason we do not have the secrets of the Lord revealed to us is because we do not keep our secrets, let alone the secrets of the Lord. They reveal them.

D.& C. 101
5. For all those who will not endure chastening, but deny me, cannot be sanctified.
6. Behold, I say unto you, there were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and strife, and lustful and covetous desires among them; therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.
That is why they lost it.
If their inheritances are polluted, then it seems to me they are going to have to be dedicated again. The Lord is going to cleanse Zion, the whole land, and it will be swept clean of its inhabitants, so that there shall not be so much left as a yellow dog to wag its tail. The Kirtland Temple had a marvelous dedication and a purification and sanctification by the ministering of angels and the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost that rested upon it. And it was polluted within a year.
One year.

And we need to read the rest of this:

7. They were slow to hearken unto the voice of the Lord their God; therefore, the Lord their God is slow to hearken unto their prayers, to answer them in the day of their trouble.

8. In the day of their peace they esteemed lightly my counsel; but, in the day of their trouble, of necessity they feel after me.
9. Verily I say unto you, notwithstanding their sins, my bowels are filled with compassion towards them. I will not utterly cast them off; and in the day of wrath I will remember mercy.

10. I have sworn, and the decree hath gone forth by a former commandment which I have given unto you, that I would let fall the sword of mine indignation in behalf of my people; and even as I have said, it shall come to pass.

Zion.

11. Mine indignation is soon to be poured out without measure upon all nations; and this will I do when the cup of their iniquity is full.

So, we have learned in this how to get the Spirit of God, haven't we? By humbling ourselves and approaching God with a contrite heart and seek forgiveness for what we have offended Him. We cannot say we love God if we hate our brother. As John the Beloved said, "How can ye say ye love God whom you cannot see when you hate your brother whom you can see?" And he also says we cannot have forgiveness from Him until we have forgiven one another.

Even more so if we do so before they ask.

So, there is a preparation that has to be made in getting the Spirit of God.
That is the beginning of it; and in the course of it, we must be humble and contrite, and submit ourselves wholly and completely to the mind and will of God. Then we will have that sweet peace and joy and love for God and for You cannot have the Spirit of God and criticize your neighbor. You will lose it if you do.

John went on to say: "If ye say ye do not love one another and love God, you are a liar and the truth isn't in you." You can't do it. That is the nature of this all-encompassing attribute of love, or charity.

So, how do we lose the Spirit of God? By these jarrings and strifes and contentions and envyings. How do we get it back? By humbling ourselves and go to the Lord in mighty prayer after forgiving our brother and obtaining forgiveness from our brother or sister. And it sometimes takes fasting and mighty prayer to do it.

So, how do we keep it? By remaining steadfast and enduring all things, and put a cloak of charity around the weaknesses of others. Joseph said on another occasion, "If you will not accuse me I will not accuse you. And if you will listen to the word of the Lord to me, I will carry you on my back into the Kingdom of heaven."

And because someone else loses the Spirit of God is no justification for you to, none whatever. Because someone else sins is no justification for you to sin. We know the truth, and the Spirit of God is the Spirit of truth. The Holy Spirit is light and intelligence.

And truth forsaketh that evil one.

D.& C. 93

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience,
This is how we lose it:

39. ...through disobedience,
The act of disobedience is permitting these jarrings and strifes and contentions to enter in.
their fathers.

Not the tradition of our Father in heaven.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

I don't know that I have covered the ground, the whole ground; but I think we have enough guideposts in these things to enable us to continue steadfast and get and keep the Spirit of God. So the saying: "Nothing is more important than getting and keeping the Spirit of God," nothing; because that covers everything, and is the answer to all of our questions (that is, to have the Spirit of God to guide us, direct us, where to go, what to do, what to say). And if we have that Spirit, that pure love of Christ, we cannot offend our brother or sister. It is impossible, without losing it. And remember, that Spirit is not easily provoked.

So, what do we do if someone offends us and loses the Spirit of God himself or herself? Do we fight back? God forbid! We do not fight back! That is what is called strifes and contentions and jarrings. And if our brother loses the Spirit of God by doing so, let us not lose it by fighting back. Though you may be ever so right, you will be wrong when you fight back, and you will get the same foul spirit that he or she has. And always remember, folks, once we have been given this gift of the Holy Spirit and have it, when we lose it, the other spirit comes in. And this grand truth:

If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil. Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

So we have no right or business to judge one another. Judgment is God's, and that of His inspired Priesthood.

President Johnson, who is God over us. I have read to you about that. That was the end of that, and on the 21st of January, 1979, I added these comments, which I will make now:
variance with our Priesthood head, and not support him; sustain him with all our heart. He has been called as the mouthpiece of God to stand as the oracle of God to us, and by and through him we will receive and obtain the Spirit of God, and be enabled to keep it by walking in obedience to all that he commands us by the revelations of God through him. And I pray with all my heart for the continued mighty labors of President Johnson in our behalf as he seeks to prepare this people. He tells us time and time again, we cannot do this work of preparation without getting and keeping the Spirit of God, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Brigham Young (Journal of Wilford Woodruff p. 126, 127)

Moses said to Israel, I am a God to you. Joseph said to us, I am a god to you. This was true and upon the same principles I am a god to this people and so is any man who is appointed to lead Israel or the Kingdom of God.

If the people reject him, they reject the one who sent him;

Even God. That is how I look upon him. In the mission that was called by the Lord through the Prophet to gather five hundred men together to go up to Zion to relieve the saints there and to redeem it -- for the Lord had set the time when it should be redeemed, September of 1836 -- Zion's Camp went up in the spring of 1834; but they failed, and the Lord had to chastise them. They failed in their mission of redemption, having complained and criticized the Prophet; but they did go and take sustenance to the saints there. Joseph said: "You don't know who I am. You think I am one like you, like a boy, and you do not know my position before the Lord." Wilford Woodruff quoted that. Then he said, "A chastisement is coming." And by the time they got to the Burkett Farm, across the river and into Missouri, they came down with cholera and one died here, another died, till fourteen of them died. Joseph raised his hand, in his great love for the people, to try and stay it; and because he did so, he came down with it and was nearly taken.

Well, brothers and sisters, I hope this has been helpful to us. As I consider these sources of information, they are very comforting to me. My only desire is to save myself and with me, my family, whom I love dearly, too, as does Brother Wendell, if they will be saved. I appreciated those words that were enlarged upon by Brother Sam Musser. Our only purpose in being in this work is to gain our salvation in the highest degree of glory, and our exaltation.
So, let us be steadfast. He that endureth to the end shall be saved. We are going to go through some mighty judgments in this place, and everywhere.
We are going to have to have nerves of steel to get through. And they are right upon us, brothers and sisters. So let us be faithful and true to our covenants that we have made with God, our Father, with Jesus Christ, through the Holy Ghost and through our Prophet and head. May we become like him and one with him. That is all I desire for myself, and I want my family along with me. I would like all of my brothers and sisters to go along the same path and go down the road with President Johnson as he prepares a people and goes down the road to redeem Zion. That is his great mission under the Lord Jesus Christ and the Prophet Joseph Smith, who is at his elbow all of the time -- and don't you forget it. I know it to be true.

So there is the path, brothers and sisters. Without the Holy Spirit of God, we are nothing. That is what charity is -- the pure love of Christ. And Moroni prayed that we might be filled with it, that we should seek for it with great energy of heart. That is the power of faith, a living power in us. Faith is power. The power of the Priesthood is the Holy Ghost. Let us honor and magnify it, dear brethren, ye Elders of Israel, to the glory of God and the building up of His Kingdom, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Love of God;
President Johnson Is the Apostle of Love

I pray, brothers and sisters, that I may have the Spirit of God as I desire to talk about my beloved friend and head, Leroy S. Johnson. He, to me, is the Apostle of love, as John the Beloved was, who was so near and dear to the Savior.

One of the attributes or characteristics of God is that He is love; and the true love of Christ, which is charity, is the greatest of all. He who is filled with it shall rise and be saved and exalted. In this, I see President Johnson most Christlike, because he loved as He did. He loved His fellow men and came down to save them and to be their Savior if they would believe and obey His commandments. He died on the cross out of His love for the people, and He died for them that they might be saved and be risen from the tomb and resurrected. Joseph says:

TPJS  Page 316

I see no faults in the Church, and therefore let me be resurrected with the Saints, whether I ascend to heaven or descend to hell, or go to any other place. And if we go to hell, we will turn the devils out of doors and make a heaven of it. Where this people are, there is good society. What do we care where we are, if the society be good? I don't care what a man's character is; if he's my friend -- a true friend, I will be a friend to him, and preach the Gospel of salvation to him, and give him good counsel, helping him out of his difficulties.

Friendship is one of the grand fundamental principles of "Mormonism"; [it is designed] to revolutionize and civilize the world, and cause wars and contentions to cease and men to become friends and brothers. Even the wolf and the lamb shall dwell together; the leopard shall lie down with the kid, the calf, the young lion and the fatling; and a little child shall lead them; the bear and the cow shall lie down together, and the sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall play on the cockatrice's den; and they shall not hurt or destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord of hosts. (Isaiah.)

That is from Isaiah.

It is a time-honored adage that love begets love. Let us pour forth love -- show forth our kindness unto all mankind, and the Lord will reward us with everlasting increase; cast our bread upon the waters and we shall receive it after many days, increased to a hundredfold. Friendship is like Brother Turley in his blacksmith shop welding iron to iron; it unites the human family with its happy influence.

One of the grand things that I am sure characterizes President Johnson is that he is a friend of God. And I long to be in that same category.

Let us pour forth love -- show forth our kindness unto all mankind, and the Lord will reward us with everlasting increase; cast our bread upon the waters and we shall receive it after many days, increased to a hundredfold. Friendship is like Brother Turley in his blacksmith shop welding iron to iron; it unites the human family with its happy influence.

I do not dwell upon your faults, and you shall not upon mine. Charity, which is love, covereth a multitude of sins, and I have often covered up all the faults among you; but the prettiest thing is to have no faults at all. We should cultivate a meek, quiet and peaceable spirit.
Uncle Roy is like Jesus said He was: "I am meek and lowly in heart." That is the most lovable character I can think of.

Have the Presbyterians any truth? Yes. Have the Baptists, Methodists, etc., any truth? Yes. They all have a little truth mixed with error. We should gather all the good and true principles in the world and treasure them up, or we shall not come out true "Mormons."

Last Monday morning certain brethren came to me and said they could hardly consent to receive Hyrum as a prophet, and for me to resign. But I told them, "I only said it to try your faith; and it is strange, brethren, that you have been in the Church so long, and not yet understand the Melchizedek Priesthood."

So I desire with all my heart to be President Johnson's friend. I cannot think of anything more terrible that could happen to me than to lose his confidence. I have perfect confidence in him. He lives such a life and is so very Christlike to me, that he is my example living in the flesh.

We are very blessed and honored to have such a man who loves us all, that he has suffered for seven years now for us to gather us out and draw in nearer to him. If his illness does not do anything but that, it would have been worth the price, and I know he has been willing to pay it. But it is for other reasons that we cannot understand and know. Greater love hath no man than that he lay down his life for his friends. President Johnson has been suffering for his friends. I love him and desire to be by his side and go down the road on the great journey to Zion and its great redemption under his direction.

I pray that this may be our lot, and we may draw near unto him. The Lord says, "If you will draw near unto Me, I will draw near unto you." It is a good adage for us in our family relationships. Draw near unto me, and I will draw near unto you. So the Lord is the greatest Friend we have; and His servant, His mouthpiece, His keyholder, is the next greatest friend we have. God help us to be a friend to one another, to love one another, and above all to love the Lord, our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. Love conquers all. Love conquers all. That is how God accomplishes His great work in the earth.
He so loved His children that He gave His Only Begotten Son for them, sacrificed upon the cross. He descended below all things that He might rise above all things, and raise up His brothers and sisters and His sons and daughters. He is the Father and the Son. So I trust that we may love our Father in heaven and our father here upon the earth, which is what I consider Brother Johnson to be to me; and pray that the Lord will bless us all to this end, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Description of the Suffering of Joseph Smith and Leroy S. Johnson

I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters, as with the others, that I may bring a message of joy and hope and of faith to our hearts and minds, that we may draw near to our Prophet who stands as God over us. I am bold to declare this, and I know it to be true. He is the Chief Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ. Brigham Young described Joseph Smith as that "gigantic Apostle" as he was teaching a beautiful sermon on the greatness of the Apostleship, those whom Jesus Christ calls to serve under Him, to declare the Gospel of good tidings and of great joy to all the world.

I cannot help but revert to the great occasion when Joseph Smith, trying to get where he could continue to serve and bless the saints, was called upon to return back to Nauvoo after he had crossed the river; and they literally called him a coward, abandoning his people. He said, "If my life is not worth anything to my friends, it is not worth anything to me. We will go and give ourselves up." And as he said on the way, they went as lambs to the slaughter. That night of June 26-27, 1844, in the jail he did have three very dear and close friends who were standing by him through that great ordeal: Hyrum, his brother, John Taylor, his very dear friend, and Willard Richards, another very dear friend, all Apostles of Jesus Christ. The other Apostles were away on a mission in the east of the United States, and they hurried home, under the direction of Brigham Young, to become great followers and defenders of the work and mission of Joseph Smith the Prophet, under the great mercies and love of our Father, and His Son, Jesus Christ, for their people.

John Taylor was asked by the Prophet Joseph Smith to sing "A Poor Wayfaring Man of Grief". Would you bear with me while I read the words?

A Poor Wayfaring Man of Grief

1. A poor wayfaring Man of grief
   Hath often crossed me on my way,
   Who sued so humbly for relief
   That I could never answer, Nay.
   I had not power to ask his name,
   Whereto he went, or whence he came;
   Yet there was something in his eye
   That won my love; I knew not why.

2. Once, when my scanty meal was spread,
   He entered, not a word he spake;
   Just perishing for want of bread,
   I gave him all; he blessed it, brake,
   And ate, but gave me part again;
   Mine was an angel's portion then,
   For while I fed with eager haste,
   The crust was manna to my taste.

3. I spied him where a fountain burst
   Clear from the rock; his strength was gone;
   The heedless water mocked his thirst;
   He heard it, saw it, hurrying on.
   I ran and raised the sufferer up;
   Thrice from the stream he drained my cup,
   Dipped and returned it running o'er;
   I drank and never thirsted more.

4. 'Twas night; the floods were out; it blew
   A winter hurricane aloof;
   I heard his voice abroad and flew
   To bid him welcome to my roof.
   I warmed and clothed and cheered my guest
   And laid him on my couch to rest,
   Then made the earth my bed, and seemed
   In Eden's garden while I dreamed.
5. Stript, wounded, beaten nigh to death,
I found him by the highway side;
I roused his pulse, brought back his breath,
Revived his spirit, and supplied
Wine, oil, refreshment -- he was healed;
I had myself a wound concealed,
But from that hour forgot the smart,
And peace bound up my broken heart.
6. In prison I saw him next, condemned
To meet a traitor's doom at morn;
The tide of lying tongues I stemmed,
And honored him 'mid shame and scorn.
My friendship's utmost zeal to try,
He asked if I for him would die;
The flesh was weak; my blood ran chill;
But the free spirit cried, "I will!"
7. Then in a moment to my view
The stranger started from disguise;
The tokens in his hands I knew;
The Savior stood before mine eyes.
He spake, and my poor name he named,
"Of me thou hast not been ashamed;
These deeds shall thy memorial be,
Fear not, thou didst them unto me."

I have, for years gone past, my dear brothers and sisters, watched my dear and beloved friend, Leroy S. Johnson as he has suffered. Many of us know not why, but I think the Lord has made known to me why. Joseph suffered all his life the grossest persecution, never a day but what he suffered some kind of pain and persecution. Our dear friend and beloved brother, Leroy Johnson, I say, is suffering for us because of his great love for us, and he finds us not doing those things which he has called upon us to do -- I mean as a whole. We know not the love that he has for us and how he yearns over us.

To illustrate how suffering can come from one who is near and dear to him, through many years laboring in the ministry, laboring among the saints and calling them to repentance, and to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ and obey the commandments of God; President Johnson was very close and near and dear with Guy Musser. In 1981, when I was down in Short Creek going to the last graduation exercise of the Academy; after having attended that exercise, I went over to see Brother Johnson, who was in great suffering. He revealed to me and to his son, Orval, who was standing with me at his side; his suffering, "I have suffered more over my brother, Guy Musser, than I have from these shingles." Can you understand what he was saying?

After that fateful day, that fateful meeting on March 18, 1978, when three of the brethren revolted against that which came from God -- the words that were delivered by the Prophet of God, Leroy Johnson, to us in Council assembled -- three rejected or revolted against that which he had told us that day regarding the 1880 Revelation, when one was reprimanded for having said the phrase in parentheses of verse 7 of Section 132 was not true; the phrase which said: "There is never but one man on the earth at a time who holds the sealing power and the keys of the holy Priesthood," never but one.
Brother Hammon raised the question, "What about the 1880 Revelation?" which President Johnson told us was a delusion the Lord permitted satan to give to Wilford Woodruff. The Lord allowed it to be sent in fulfillment of the prophecy of 2nd Thessalonians, the words of Paul:

2 Thessalonians 2 (Inspired Version)
11. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie;
12. That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

In responding, three of the brethren acknowledged that he was the head of Priesthood, but not that he was the keyholder, the sole keyholder. After that meeting, after three of us had left, leaving President Johnson, Guy Musser, and Richard Jessop in that meeting room, Guy Musser pointed his finger to Leroy Johnson, and he said, "You are apostate and senile." And I will never forget the pain that was in Brother Johnson's face as he recounted that to me when I was visiting him at Lincoln Street years after that incident occurred.
He hadn't revealed it to us who had left the meeting after it was over.

So if you can get any idea, dear brothers and sisters, how a man can suffer from the betrayal of a friend, a fellow servant and an Apostle; and as it turns out, three of them betrayed him. He is in pain and suffering because of them. Says the 21st chapter of Third Nephi: "They would not believe his words. And His servant," He said, "was marred more than any man. His visage was marred more than any man." Yet the Lord said, "I will heal him."
The Lord Jesus Christ was speaking to the Nephites then, looking to our day, and "show that My wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil."

So I know as I know I live that President Johnson is going to be healed. He is going to come through this stronger than ever -- and we may not even recognize him when this ordeal is over -- to lead his people to Zion, to build the temple and the city there, in preparation for the glorious coming of our Lord Jesus Christ in the clouds of heaven; the City of Enoch come and join with the Zion on earth after the Ten Tribes have been gathered and come to the feet of Ephraim, which Leroy Johnson is. Ephraim is the Priesthood tribe, and he is the Chief Apostle of Ephraim, of the blood of Ephraim and the blood of Jesus Christ, if you please.

So we don't know and appreciate, my dear brothers and sisters, what our Prophet has been going through. And we don't know, most of us, who he is and how great his mission, and how great his work will be as Joseph goes along at his side, presiding over this last dispensation and guiding and directing this great man who leads us. That will be a Zion's Camp that will succeed beyond our wildest dreams. But only those who have the character and the attributes of God can stand in the presence of the Savior as He goes before that great concourse of faithful people, dedicated to build up Zion to the glory and honor of our God, our Lord and Savior, and Joseph Smith, who stands as the third member of the Godhead, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost with the Father and Son. And I bear you this testimony, my brothers and sisters, knowing whereof I speak, by the revelations of Jesus Christ to me through the Holy Ghost; and I do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

This last song, "Our God, We Raise to Thee", page 144A, brings to mind the fulfillment of the things that I have been speaking of here regarding our Prophet dear, and that this people may be one under him, under God.

Funeral of James F. Cooke

I desire the Spirit of God to actuate me and the few words that I may say here on this occasion, which has been a beautiful experience to me. From all that I have heard here from the speakers, this fine Elder of Israel had kept the first law of heaven -- obedience. He obeyed the first and second of the great commandments: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, all thy might, all thy mind, and strength; and the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. This he has done, most beautifully, so far as I have known. I have not known him well, but I have been deeply impressed with his sweet and beautiful spirit, which is the Spirit of Christ -- meek and lowly in heart. If we keep these first laws and commandments, all other things will be added to enable us to insure our salvation and exaltation in the Celestial Kingdom of our God.

I am deeply impressed with the great loyalty that he exhibited for President Leroy S. Johnson in the Priesthood. He loved President Johnson, and he was loyal to him. As I am informed, he was working with the crew of men who were working on his home, President Johnson's home last week -- I guess it was Friday. He had been working very hard and accomplishing the things that he was required to do; and I understand that those who had been working on the home came to Brother Johnson and asked if it would be all right for them to take a little change and go for a ride -- some of them on bicycles, and others in the pickup that preceded them as they went up through Zion's Park from Mount Carmel Highway, where he met his death. The answer Brother Johnson gave was, "Yes, go and do another work." He must have known what that was, and only the Lord knows better than any of us certainly, how He desires to take home those who have kept His commandments and desire to do all that is required to do by the Priesthood. So that was the work that they did, was to help usher him into his place on the other side, which I am sure is a great and noble one.

I remember being at the family reunion of the Cookes up in the park, in the canyon here. I was sitting under the tree, and quite a few of these boys of Uncle Bill's came and wanted to talk with me, and Jim was one of them. They asked some very pointed questions, and I sought with all my heart to answer them in the Spirit of God, and to have them understand Priesthood, and to be loyal and true to President Leroy S. Johnson, who holds the keys of their salvation and the means of accomplishing our mission here upon the earth. So, he, from all impressions that come to me, has made a total commitment -- all the way, no compromise, no compromising the laws of the Priesthood with the devil and his ways; because when you do that in the least degree, then the devil has you in his territory.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, I would like to call upon you, as I call upon myself, to do all things in a total commitment to keep the commandments of God; be loyal and true to God and His Priesthood, His representative here upon the earth, President Leroy Johnson. If you will draw near to him, you will be drawing near to God, because he is the most Christlike man. He has the attributes and the character of a God, and is going to lead this people to Zion, and prepare them, all who will be prepared and will repent, as he has been calling upon us to do; and accomplish the work that the Lord has sent us in the earth to do, to build up the Kingdom of God and establish and redeem Zion and the holy Priesthood here upon the earth, and the government of God, and the Kingdom of God that it may rise. I bear this testimony to you, that this is true, and I do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Sermon on Priesthood; His Testimony of President Johnson

President Johnson could not make it today. We miss him very greatly. But, as I said last night, we have his spirit here with us and we can feel the nature of it by the fact that he is near; and he is certainly near and dear to me. He asked that I carry on here today. I sincerely trust that the Lord will shed forth His Spirit upon us today, and upon the speakers, and that we might listen with real intent to do the will of God.

* * * * *

A rather interesting thing happened down in Colorado City -- Short Creek I like to call it. It is still Short Creek to me. That takes care of both sides. A young man was inside of the empty Academy building, and he ran across a paper in there on the floor. He turned it over to Brother Truman. Brother Truman took it and read it to President Johnson, as he does a great deal of reading for President Johnson in his patient suffering. And President Johnson then told Truman to read it in the next meeting down there. He brought a copy of it up to me and I thought, with the help of the Lord I would like to read it to you here myself. Truman Barlow autographed it up here at the top. [Turning to Truman Barlow] That's your writing isn't it? [Truman Barlow: "Yes."]

[President Jeffs then read his sermon dated March 8, 1970, found in volume 2, page 286]

I do not think I need to add more, but ask the Lord's blessings upon each and every one of you, that we will be mindful of the great blessings that we enjoy at the hands of President Johnson. He holds the keys to my salvation. I know he is a Prophet and mouthpiece of God, and the fountainhead of the Holy Spirit of God, which comes down through the channels of the Priesthood to us. Now I pray that we may labor to know that our course is pleasing to God, and thus build ourselves up in this, our faith; that we may have perfect faith and come again into the presence of God and Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith, Jun., in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Faith, Hope, and Charity

I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me, too, as I speak the words of the Lord through the Prophet Moroni. The last part of this chapter 7, which I have often read, is a marvelous sermon to me, and is the same teachings that President Johnson has been giving, to preach nothing but repentance and preparation. This is a sermon to me. I pray for the Spirit of God to direct me as I read it, for they are the words of the Lord through His Prophet.

Moroni 7

37. Behold I say unto you, Nay; for it is by faith that miracles are wrought; and it is by faith that angels appear and minister unto men;
wherefore, if these things have ceased wo be unto the children of men, for it is because of unbelief, and all is vain.

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased, then has faith ceased also; and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

I want to emphasize those words. Jesus Christ said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." Joseph Smith said the same thing, and our Prophet Leroy Johnson is meek and lowly in heart and most Christlike. We have an example of the life of Christ in the life of this man. So we have it here among us and with us in the flesh to guide and direct us in the ways of truth and righteousness; speaking the words of God, and laboring under the keys of the holy Priesthood -- the mouthpiece of God and the fountainhead of the Holy Ghost.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

Which is the pure love of Christ, as explained hereafter.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

Don't we see these things in this life before us?

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,

God is love, and the first great commandment is to love God with all our heart, might, and strength; and the second is like unto it, love thy neighbor as thyself.

47. ...and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

Like what was read to us today, the power of faith is through words with all the energy of heart, through the exertion of the mind, which is the spirit in us.

47. ...and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

That is the Gospel President Johnson has been preaching unto us, and he has indeed suffered because of the sins of the people that he is trying to raise up. He is suffering for us, and I know it. I pray that we may be very mindful of these things, and love him, and draw near to him, and be one with him as Christ prayed that the Apostles would be one with Him as He was one with the Father. We, as a people, in order to go with him, our Prophet, we have got to be like him. It is just that simple.

God help us to do this, and be mindful of our duties and our labors; and all things we may do may be to the honor and glory of God, seeking the interest of our neighbor, loving them and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Keyholder Is God Over Us

I would like to add to this something that I found -- excerpts from the journal of Wilford Woodruff. As of 1860, the occasion when Brigham Young, in a meeting with his counsellors, most of the Twelve Apostles, and other general authorities of the Church, considered whether they should allow a writing, or an article Orson Pratt got together to turn over to the press to publish. In that article, Orson Pratt was saying that he worshipped the attributes of God, implying that that was separate from God Himself; and I thought I would read a few interesting comments that he made following that. He was leading up to this:

Brigham Young (Journal of Wilford Woodruff p. 126, 127)

Moses said to Israel, I am a god to you. Joseph said to us, I am god to you. This was true and upon the same principles, I am a god to this people and so is any man who is appointed to lead Israel or the Kingdom of God. If the people reject him, they reject the one who sent him; Do you get the importance of that, brethren and sisters? You reject God.

...but we will let that drop and turn to the other subject now. Suppose we were all to receive a fulness of the attributes of God and according to Orson Pratt's theory, the Lord had a fulness and He could not advance, but we could advance till we were equal to Him.

Another fallacy.

Then if we worshipped the attributes instead of God, we would soon worship ourselves as soon as we had a fulness of these attributes. Then you cannot worship anything beyond yourself. You would then worship the attributes and not the dispenser of those attributes. "This is false doctrine." God did not say worship Moses because he was a god to the people. You may say to your wife or son, do so and so. They will say I will not, but I will go to a greater man. I will go to Brigham Young. You might say I am your counselor, dictator or your God. Either would be correct and they should obey your just and righteous command, yet they should not worship you, for this would be sin.
I do not worship these men, but they are God over us, and so is Leroy S. Johnson today; and I said this as to any who are called to lead Israel or the Kingdom of God upon the earth.

Orson Pratt has differed from me in many things. But this is a great principle and I do not wish to say you shall do so and so. I do not know of a man who has a mathematical turn of mind, but what goes too far. The trouble between Orson Pratt and me is I do not know enough and he knows too much. I do not know everything. There is a mystery concerning the God I worship which mystery will be removed when I come to a full knowledge of God. One of the greatest things Joseph Smith ever did was to familiarize heaven and earth and cause them to shake hands together and become familiar together. This was a great principle. It is simple yet true. When I meet the God I worship, I expect to [meet a] personage with whom I have been acquainted upon the same principle that I would to meet with my earthly father after going upon a journey and returning home. Wilford Woodruff spoke and said that it is our privilege so to live as to have the spirit of God to bear record of the truth of any revelation that comes from God through the mouth of his prophet who leads his people and it has ever been a key with me that when the Prophet who leads presents a doctrine or principle or says thus saith the Lord, I make it a policy to receive it even if it comes in contact with my tradition or views, being well satisfied that the Lord would reveal the truth unto His prophet whom He has called to lead His church before He would unto me, and the word of the Lord through the prophet is the end of the Law unto me.

Then there are some remarks of Joseph Young and Orson Hyde.

Joseph Young said, "I do not believe in the doctrine of worshipping the attributes and not the author. I once loved a woman. She says to me you shall have my respect and kind regard, and she told me to go in peace. I told her it was not her good will that I wanted alone; I wanted her. So with my God. If He was to say to me, Joseph, here take my attributes and go, I would say, No, Father, it is not your attributes alone that I want, but I want you. When I read Orson Pratt's views in The Seer, I could not swallow it. Joseph the Prophet said when you see your Father, you will see him just as He was in this life, only He will be full of strength, glory, immortality and eternal life." President Brigham Young said now here is the Twelve. I wish to extend their influence as far as I can but I cannot do it while they teach false doctrine. One of the causes of the decline in England (as I understand the people are clear down), is what Orson Pratt preached in The Seer. There is not a man in the Church that can preach better than Orson Pratt upon any subject which he understands. It is music to hear him, but the trouble is he will preach upon things he does not know a thing about.

Well, I just want to illustrate to you what the real nature of the relationship is between Leroy S. Johnson and us, his people; and I just want to stand at his side, be his humble servant. I want to go down the road with him, right down to the end of it, which is Zion; which I pray may be our happy lot with him, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Atonement Benefits the Obedient;
President Johnson Is Suffering for Us;
Do Not Betray the Prophet;
Word of the Lord to Parents

That last song that was played by our organist is one that touches my soul every time I hear it, the Nephite Lamentation. President Johnson is unable to be with us today; has asked me to carry on and do the best we can. It is wonderful to have him with us, but his spirit is here and this is all under his direction anyhow. So let us rejoice in the blessings of God to him and to all of us, as we are able to continue and carry on the work.

* * * * *

I rather feel that anything that I can say would be an anticlimax to the wonderful things we have heard here today. But I ask the Lord to shed forth His Spirit upon me that I might say something that will encourage and strengthen you, my dear friends, my loved ones, and sustain our Prophet, whom we all love.

I have been at great pains, my dear brothers and sisters, to try to find an explanation to why our Prophet must continue to suffer. I read a little piece that was called to my attention just before I came into the meeting. It said something to this effect: "Pain is a thing that has a most unifying effect upon us as individuals," and I feel that the pain that our Prophet is suffering is over us.

The great offer and suffering and sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ is something that we cannot understand; how that superincumbent load was upon Him to offer His blood as a sacrifice for the sins of all mankind. That great sacrifice was first to raise us up from the grave, redeem us from the grave, all mankind. That is general salvation, which He suffered for and accomplished. The individual salvation, He suffered for our sins, all mankind. We cannot understand it. It is incomprehensible. But He had to pay that price. But there was a grand condition applied. Our sins could be forgiven through baptism -- first faith, repentance and baptism -- when we go into the water in the sign of the Savior going into the grave and rising in a newness of life and resurrected. The first fruits of the resurrection were required after the fall of Adam, which was necessary in order for Eve and Adam (Eve is many) to bring forth children in mortality that they might have bodies -- all these spirits that our Father had fathered before we came here.

But the condition is that we obey all of His commandments. We will be saved individually. We will all be resurrected, even the sons of perdition, but only those will obtain the glorious resurrection that will take them into the Celestial Kingdom of God, the highest kingdom or part of the Celestial Glory, by obeying every law and ordinance and condition set by the plan of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. And in this He rejoices.

Our Father so loved mankind, that He gave His Only Begotten Son as a sacrifice for them to enable them to rise from the grave into a glorious resurrection, so that they might become like Himself -- Kings and Priests, Queens and Priestesses unto the Most High God. The highest degree of the Celestial Kingdom is only for those who become Gods. But there will be angels raised up there who will be servants in the Celestial world.

So this is the grand and glorious plan that our Savior offered Himself in that great Council when the sons of God and the daughters of God gathered together to hear the plan of salvation and learn who Jesus Christ was, who would come and redeem us after having that great fall required of our Father Adam and Eve in order to bring us here and give us bodies. We sang songs of everlasting joy. But what are we doing with it once we get here? That is the great problem for each of us. Talk about ingratitude. The great mass of mankind -- what is there, approaching five and a half billion people on the face of the earth? -- and particularly in the nations of the land of Zion, the promised land given to Joseph and his seed. Three different generations have come upon it -- first the Jaredite nation, then the Lehi and Nephite nation. They were both destroyed from off the face of the land, leaving the Lamanites, who were called upon to destroy the Nephites who had had so much light, after having been set up under the Holy United Order and the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ at the coming of Christ, when He found so few left after the great destruction then. But they grew again into a mighty nation. Then, after two hundred years of living in peace, having all things common, no disputations among them; then, having been prospered, they became proud, and the Lord had to destroy them, having gone that far and fallen so far.

In 385 A.D. the Lamanites and the Nephites came together, the Lamanites outnumbering the Nephites probably by twice. Then Mormon, the general over the Nephites, and the general over the Lamanites met together -- as I remember the story -- and they vowed they would fight to the death, until the last man of and the Nephites was destroyed. But the Lord saved a few, about twenty-four. We do not know what happened to them. But Mormon himself was taken and Moroni finished the work and hid up the records, preparing to restore the Gospel and those records to this chosen generation.

So, how great and glorious is the love of our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ -- who is the Father and the Son -- and our great Prophet standing in the office of the Holy Ghost, Joseph Smith, Jun. Do not think for a moment that Father Adam did not suffer in coming into mortality in the station of Godhood. Do not think He did not suffer when He passed over again to the other side. How Jesus suffered for us. The pain that He suffered is what unites people behind Him, out of a glorious spirit of love and gratitude. So, we have what I call a savior now for a Prophet, who is suffering pain for us. The pain that he has suffered greatly is over his brethren who betrayed him, and betrayed the revelations of God, the Doctrine and Covenants.

I do not want to go into personalities, but I am close enough to this situation to know what has happened among the Priesthood Council. I am Leroy Johnson's witness, and I thank God for the opportunity I have had. The Lord gave me and called upon me to perform through President Johnson, to stand with him, the one man, when the 1880 Revelation was being urged upon the people, to take the place of Section 132. Marion Hammon came to Uncle Roy and actually asked that the 1880 Revelation take the place of Section 132, all over the one man rule. This split and break among our people in recent years was all over that one thing.

I feel impressed to call your attention to something. Listen to this now, brothers and sisters. The Prophet Joseph was speaking to the Twelve, July of 1839:

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

Isn't that beautiful? That is Christlike.

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good,

In the interest of our neighbor and brother.

...and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother.

That is strong language.

Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. And may I add, "First to thine own self be true and you cannot be false to any man."

Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

Then this terrible indictment:

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

The Holy Ghost is imparted to us through Leroy S. Johnson. All of the ordinances of the holy Priesthood are imparted to us through Leroy S. Johnson, our Prophet, the mouthpiece of God and the keyholder; not only the keys of the holy Priesthood, but of the fullness thereof, even the keys of Elijah, the sealing power. You betray him, and you betray the Holy Ghost. I cannot see it any other way.

And this from Section 121. I do not like to dwell too much on these things, brethren and sisters, but in all of our kickings and flounderings, the things that our dear brethren have been speaking about here today, let us see that we do not do these things that will destroy us through ingratitude and refusal to walk in obedience to all of the commandments of God given to us through our Prophet, and the Prophets who have gone before, particularly Joseph Smith the Prophet.

D. & C. 121

16. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them.

17. But those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin, and are the children of disobedience themselves.

That is always the way it is. When you start accusing, you will find that you are accusing others of what you are guilty of.

18. And those who swear falsely against my servants, that they might bring them into bondage and death --

19. Wo unto them; because they have offended my little ones they shall be severed from the ordinances of mine house.

20. Their basket shall not be full, their houses and their barns shall perish, and they themselves shall be despised by those that flattered them.

21. They shall not have right to the priesthood, nor their posterity after them from generation to generation.

22. It had been better for them that a millstone had been hanged about their necks, and they drowned in the depth of the sea.

23. Wo unto all those that discomfort my people, and drive, and murder, and testify against them, saith the Lord of Hosts; a generation of vipers shall not escape the damnation of hell.

Wo unto Governor Pyle, who tried to destroy an innocent people, the saints of God. That was his avowed purpose. I am now sorry to hear him repeat again that if he had it to do over again, he would do it the same way.

34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?

35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson --
36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven,
And that is through the Prophet, the mouthpiece of God.
36. ...and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.
37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

Brother Johnson told me he has suffered more over Guy Musser than he had from the shingles. Maybe that will give you some idea about why he is suffering. I am sure he is suffering over the others who have fallen. Could it be that he will not be relieved of this suffering until they go? I do not know, but I went out of that meeting March 18, 1978, weeping my heart out.

After the Council Meeting, Uncle Roy and Guy Musser were in the living room of his home with Uncle Rich standing by. Guy Musser pointed his finger at Uncle Roy and said, "You are apostate and senile." Do you wonder why he is suffering? When one with whom you were so close for so many years would do that to you, well, I thank God that He, Jesus Christ, is the Judge. But they have fallen. To what, I do not know; but we have a pretty good idea from what I have read from Joseph Smith.

Well, brothers and sisters, I call upon you, too, to be very grateful. Do not be guilty of the sin -- it is a sin to be ungrateful for all of our daily blessings, and above all, that we are a chosen people. We are at least called. The day of choosing is soon to come, and there is still going to be some more sifting.

So, God bless you, my dear friends, my beloved brethren and sisters. I am grateful for my family, more than they or you know, and I would do anything for their joy and comfort and strength; and especially would I rejoice to see all of them saved and exalted in the Kingdom of God in the Celestial Glory, the highest. All of them will not be. I have fathered sixty-five children from ten beautiful wives, two of whom went their way, with two fine sons each. I pray God that He will bless my family and bless me that I may see them through. God bless each and every one of your families, brethren.
Rule in righteousness. Rule in peace and love and joy and gratitude to God that you have these families that have been given to you under the New and Everlasting Covenant. Remember these things, brethren. We are going to have to account for them, if they want to be accounted for; and we have got to leave them without excuse, brethren, and set the example. And you mothers, dear mothers, you are the ones that mold the characters of your children. Because you bore them, they are attached to you in their early infancy, as Brigham Young said. I did not know that we would go for two hours, but here we are.

It has been hinted that education commences with the first dawn of knowledge upon the mental faculties of the child, and continues with it till death. But I will trace it a little further back still, and say that education commences with the mother, and the child in connection. I will state the facts in the case, as you will find them to be hereafter, in the education of your children. It depends in a great degree upon the mother, as to what children receive, in early age, of principle of every description, pertaining to all that can be learned by the human family. When will mothers understand this? I will tell you the truth as you will find it in eternity. If your children do not receive impressions of true piety, virtue, tenderness, and every principle of the holy Gospel, you may be assured that their sins will not be required at the hands of the father, but of the mother.

Now he tells us why.

Lay it to heart, ye mothers, for it will unavoidably be so. The duty of the mother is to watch over her children, and give them their early education, for impressions received in infancy are lasting. You know, yourselves, by experience, that the impressions you have received in the dawn of your mortal existence, bear, to this day, with the greatest weight upon your mind. It is the experience of people generally, that what they imbibe from their mothers in infancy, is the most lasting upon the mind through life. This is natural, it is reasonable, it is right. I do not suppose you can find one person among five hundred, who does not think his mother to be the best woman that ever lived. This is right, it is planted in the human heart.

Fathers, we must teach the mothers. I cannot be with the children all the time. Mothers have to be, to raise them up. Mothers will be crowned Queens and Priestesses to the Most High God, along with their husbands, Kings and Priests unto the Most High God. We are going to have to account for our children, brethren and mothers, fathers and mothers. We are going to have to account for our wives, brethren.

So let us get on with this business and be encouraged. We have at our disposal the grand truths of the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the holy Priesthood to administer the ordinances of salvation and exaltation and the teachings of the revelations of God through the mouthpiece of God. All of these things came down to this generation from the Prophet Joseph Smith. He was over that generation then while he lived. Those who have followed in his footsteps, holding the keys, have been under the same blessings and holding the same keys and authority and power. Every generation since Joseph Smith has had this with them. We now have one who is very, very great. You do not know who he is and what he is. I have a pretty good inkling. It has been revealed to me.

So let us be grateful, and let us build up the most holy faith. Faith is power. If we have power with God, we can accomplish wonders. What a body of Priesthood can do under the powers of the holy Priesthood, the power of which is the Holy Ghost. Two can put to flight ten thousand. So let us be grateful that we have vouchsafed to us this glorious heritage through these great Prophets: Leroy S. Johnson, John Y. Barlow, Lorin Woolley, John W. Woolley, John Taylor, Brigham Young, and Joseph Smith. There is the chain. God bless you, amen.

President Jeffs' Devotion to President Johnson
Is the Same as Heber C. Kimball's Devotion to Brigham Young; Charity; Oneness Through the Holy Spirit

As I have been listening to these beautiful testimonies borne with humble and contrite spirits, I have rejoiced in what has been told us here. I love the way Brother Truman gets down to the basic elements of our lives, to accomplish our work and mission in the earth, to sustain President Johnson in this great and glorious Priesthood work.
I cannot tell you how much it means to me to be associated with President Johnson. I feel very weak and inadequate in doing all that he has called upon us to do. It came to me that President Johnson told one of the brethren that Brother Jeffs was his "Heber", Heber C. Kimball. As I read the words of Heber C. Kimball and Brigham Young in the Journals of Discourses, I get some wonderful keys in the lives of those great Prophets; and President Johnson is like them -- like Joseph, like Brigham, like John Taylor, like John W. Woolley, like Lorin C. Woolley, like John Y. Barlow -- all great and mighty, noble men of God. I feel very weak and humble in my association with President Johnson in trying to do his will, for he is God over me, and I love him with all my heart. I wondered how is the best way to accomplish these things, and ran across some words of Heber C. Kimball, in which he spoke of Brigham. After having described so beautifully the parable of the vine and the branches, he said these beautiful words:

JD 4:277 Heber C. Kimball January 25, 1857 SLC

Perhaps some of you do not believe that the Spirit of the Lord goes and comes throughout every portion of the vine, even to the smallest and farthest extremity thereof, but it does. How could the members of my body exist, if the blood did not pass to the extremities? Then it has to turn and go back to the vitals. Now say that I am a branch, how am I to partake of brother Brigham's spirit and know his mind, unless I also partake of the fatness of the true vine, and permit its sap, or essence, or spirit, to flow through me without obstruction? -- that my mind and will may become amalgamated and run together with the mind and will of brother Brigham, that our spirits may freely and fully unite through the same genial influences of the Spirit of truth. And if my wife wants to be one with me, she must let her will and affections centre in me, just as if I were a vine, and my wife a branch; then where is there room or occasion for confusion? Were such universally the case, do you not think that we could raise up a still better posterity?

RTJ 6:214 - 215 June 8, 1986 Sandy

When wives become one with their husbands, when there is no evil interruption, children will be begotten, born and reared under greatly improved influences. The Holy Ghost will rest upon and dwell with the parents, and their offspring will be mighty and godlike. I would not give much for a man nor a woman that does not enjoy the fellowship of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. If I do not have the Holy Ghost, I shall not produce the fruit that is designed by the holy order of matrimony. Mary, the mother of Jesus, was a pure woman, and was ordained and designed to bear the Son of God, because no woman in her sins was worthy of performing that work. How long will it be before we will have children filled with the Holy Ghost from their birth, who will grow up steadfast in the truth, even sons and daughters of God? No woman entering into this holy order should do so without she has the Holy Ghost, and she should ever after keep it, that her nourishment, example, and teachings may always partake of the life-giving principles of that Spirit.

Stop all wickedness, all your quarrelling, and all unholy divorces. Some women will marry a man one day, and call for a divorce the next. They are playing with the things of God, and are sealing their own damnation. Some women get married and then run after other men; and some men get married and run after other women. What are such persons doing? They are sealing their own damnation. On the other hand, every man and woman that will not yield to passion, nor to any evil practice or principle, will become filled with the Spirit of God, and it will pass from one to another. This is why, as I have often said, I love brother Brigham Young better than I do any woman upon this earth, because my will has run into his.

Note this description:
...my will has run into his, and his into mine, and there is a free interchange of feelings. There are but few men that will do that, for they generally want their own way and their own will, therefore their wills do not run into ours and the Father's. This free interchange of pure feelings should run through all the organizations in this Church, and among this people.
...and through every member in every family throughout all our borders.

There is a picture of the Holy Spirit of God, which is that which runs between Brigham and Heber, and I feel the same way about President Johnson. I am his. All I have is his, and I only want to work for and with him in the great work that lies ahead of us. I would like to close with another very wonderful thing that describes our relationships one to another, and will enable us to become like God.

Moroni 7
42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Jesus said, in speaking to the multitude that was around Him, "I am meek and lowly in heart. I am sent by the Father to do His will."

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind,

Remember, God is love, and this is the pure love of Christ being described.

45. ...and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is faith in our prayers. Faith is the exertion of the spirit and the mind. The mind is the spirit, brethren and sisters.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified Purified.

48. ...even as he is pure. Amen.

Now that is simply getting and keeping the Holy Spirit of God. The attributes of that Holy Spirit of God are faith, knowledge, justice, judgment, and charity, and truth. These make us, if we have them from the Holy Ghost, like God. These make the character of a God. So, if we can only keep these things in mind, and how great and important it is to get and keep the Holy Spirit of God, as Joseph told Brigham Young in that dream referred to, then all will be right. We will be one. "If ye are not one ye are not Mine." So why not get the Holy Spirit of God and become one? That is the unifying power. That is the power of the holy Priesthood, is this Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit of God. It is the power by which God has created all things, and brought forth this people in the earth at this time, by the power of God. We should submit ourselves all the way. There is no halfway house. We cannot become like God by dallying around and putting off. You have got to be diligent. Remember the 4th Section of the Doctrine and Covenants. Joseph Smith, Sen., had asked the Prophet as to what he should do.

D.& C. 4

1. Now behold a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, Serve and love Him.

2. ...that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;

5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.

We cannot do the work of God, except we have these attributes of the Holy Spirit.

6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.

7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

Through the power of faith; which I pray we may all do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We will miss the presence of President Leroy S. Johnson today, who was too tired after our meeting in Priesthood this morning. But, as I always feel to observe, his spirit is with us, just to be near and praying for us and thinking about his people, and we don't know how much he yearns over us.

Brothers and sisters, I am grateful to be here with you today, responding to the desire of President Johnson that I be here. We have heard some beautiful things here today, and I want to close this meeting by bringing to our attention some simple truths by which we can accomplish the things that we have had described here today.

Parley P. Pratt, in writing in his book, The Gospel, summarized what we have in the Lectures on Faith. All of these things that we have heard here today must be accomplished by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Father, and in the Holy Ghost, and by the power of the Holy Ghost. Obedience is the first law of heaven. That is the sum and substance of what President Johnson has been trying to get us to do over these last forty-five years.

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God;

That consciousness that our course is pleasing unto God, as Enoch obtained it, and as Abel attained it, as Noah attained it, was making a sacrifice of all things of an earthly nature for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ. Then faith becomes perfect when we come to that consciousness and that testimony that our course of life pleases God.

...and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, We have all of the evidences of it, of this world around us and of the things of a heavenly nature that have been revealed to His servants, the Prophets.

...a correct conception of his character, and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him --

And attributes, they being faith, or power, knowledge, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth; which, if we obtain, we have the character of God. We are here to become like God so that we can dwell with Him eternally. All of these things:

...will render faith perfect, will constitute it a principle of power, the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born, with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their calling and election sure -- through faith ripening into knowledge.

So faith, therefore, becomes power. It is power, having power with God. We cannot have power with Him until we know that our course is pleasing to Him. Then we can have perfect confidence that what we ask in faith that is according to the knowledge and according to the will of God, we will obtain. Then we can, like Enoch, remove mountains, change the course of rivers, and do all things that are necessary in the accomplishment of the work and the mission that has been given to that man as was Enoch. He then will be caught up and translated, and then go on through his eternal life.

Now, brothers and sisters, all of this is dependent on our getting and keeping the Holy Spirit of God, the key to our salvation. I would like to read you this story. It won't take too long and I think that it would be a beautiful thing for us to close this meeting on.

Truth 10:221

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time. President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed him many times, and said to him:

"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be? You have been from us a long time; we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him. Joseph said:
"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be bye and bye, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:
"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

He wanted that for him and his brethren.

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; it will take malice, hatred, strife, Contention.

"...and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the Kingdom of God. Isn't that a beautiful picture?

"Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in Heaven before they came into the world. Our Father in Heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion."

Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning. He saw where the priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity.
Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people. From it we can learn how important it is to keep the Spirit of the Lord. No man or people can prosper who do not have it as their guide.

Which I pray we may always have, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are Here to Make Zion; Redemption of Zion; "Times of the Gentiles" Is Fulfilled

I have enjoyed what has been given us here today from the sermons and testimonies that have been given. They have been uplifting and full of great truth and strength for us to go on and continue our journey in life. I pray the Lord to bless me as I desire to praise Him and sustain our Prophet in the blessings that they have given me and unto mine. I am grateful for the family that the Lord has blessed me with. Above all, I am grateful for the life and labors and the leadership of President Leroy S. Johnson, and to be counted his friend.

Yesterday I had an interesting experience. President Johnson has put together my son and the daughter of Elder Vaughan Taylor, and he has asked me to take care of the sealing after they get a legal and civil marriage. We were barely able to get the license Friday evening. I had to hold my foot in the door in the clerk's office in order for Vaughan and his wife and daughter to come to the clerk's office and get that certificate.

Then I tried to get the justice of the peace, who is now, or formerly was, the bishop in the ward here in Granite. He is familiar with us here as his neighbors. He could not take care of it Friday evening, so he said, "I will be glad to come out to your house tomorrow at two o'clock." That was yesterday at two o'clock. He came and took care of the civil marriage here.

He has been very curious to see what is inside here, and every time I go to his office with a couple for these civil marriages, he calls me a Patriarch. And he said, when he looked around here and saw this lovely room in which we meet, that the Lord has blessed us with; he said, "This is marvelous. You have done something I could not do, and you are doing something that I cannot do, though I feel that I am living according to the Gospel of Jesus Christ as given by the leadership of the Church."

I brought him down to this end and showed him these pictures here. I wanted him to understand who my head was. He knows that I have been engaged in the ministry in this work. I said, "There is the man I sustain, the one man on the earth who holds the keys of the Priesthood and the sealing power, and there is never but one that does."

He says, "When he dies, who is next?" I said, "He is not going to die. He is going to be renewed." He said, "Well, aren't you going to be next?" I said, "Good heavens, no. I am just his right-hand man." I referred him to chapter 21 of Third Nephi, and said, "You go and read that and you will find out why I say what I do about Leroy S. Johnson, the marred servant whom the Lord said He would yet heal. And He will yet heal him." He said, "I guess I will go and look that up."

So, I do not know if I have done any missionary work or not. But he does have a lot of respect for me and the people that come to him for these civil marriages. He is a very fine gentleman, and he gives these young couples some very fine advice on how to get along together and live as husband and wife. So I guess I am doing a little good helping these young people get along with their work that President Johnson assigns them to do. I am grateful to know that we can go to him to have our children placed where they belong. That is something that the people of the world cannot understand.

What we are trying to do, brothers and sisters, is prepare a people. President Johnson has that great work and mission, to prepare a people to go and redeem Zion. I would like to read a few words of Brigham Young's.

I firmly believe that we have got to learn to make a Zion where we are before the Lord is going to have us come to redeem Zion. We are going to have to live the Holy United Order. In order to live that, President Johnson said the key principle and law is that we learn to love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourselves. We cannot live the Holy United Order without obeying those first two great commandments. Here is what Brigham Young said regarding Zion:

You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land; but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here? They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

We can make Zion, or we can make Babylon, just as we please. We can make just what we please of this place. The people can make Zion: they can make a heaven within themselves. When people gather here, they should come with a determination to make Zion within themselves, with the resolution that "I will carry myself full of the Spirit of Zion wherever I go; and this is the way in which I will control evil spirits; for I mean that my spirit shall have control over evil:" and do you not see that such a course will make Zion?

This American continent will be Zion; for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Including Joseph Smith.

Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

And, I might add, the place where the Ten Tribes will come to help the people of God gathering together, under the leadership of the Prophet Leroy Johnson, to redeem Zion and to build the holy city and the holy temples there. So you see, we have got a great work to do. I am sure that if we were more disposed to try and live the Holy United Order in the spirit of it -- and we can under our present economic conditions if we carry the spirit of Zion with us -- we can do all things, all the work that we do; our living together, our building our families and training our children to love and obey God and the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and bring them up so they can abide this holy law, where our parents and the former generations have failed. This is the last time, brothers and sisters, and there is very little time left. But it is going to be lived, and it is going to prepare a people to go back to redeem Zion under the leadership of this man.

I would like to read again to you how that is to be done -- Section 103. This was when the Lord was calling for five hundred men to go and redeem and succor the people in Missouri. He called for five hundred, and would not settle for any less than one hundred. Joseph got two hundred together, and they were to go without murmuring under the leadership of this son of God, Joseph Smith, the Prophet of the last dispensation, holding the keys thereof, and one who is going to be along in this picture that I am going to read to you in Section 103, verse 15.

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

It is my testimony to you that that man is Leroy Sunderland Johnson, and he is far more than you know. The Lord has revealed to me who he is and what he is and what he is going to do. He has revealed it here to all of us if we can understand and get the Spirit of God and the Spirit of revelation.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.

19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.
20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

So this man, I will testify to you, has been raised up to do this great work, and he is going to be healed and renewed. And the gathering place is in the area of what we used to know as Short Creek, the Arizona Strip, as it is called. We are going to see some great things come to pass in that place. We should be preparing against the judgments that are about to come upon us. Christ, in speaking to His Apostles, one asked Him when would He come again. He starts by telling them what shall be the signs of His coming. And these are the things that are going to transpire:
28. And when the times of the Gentiles is come in, a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness, and it shall be the fullness of my gospel;
29. But they receive it not; for they perceive not the light, and they turn their hearts from me because of the precepts of men.
30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.
I once asked President Johnson, "Has that been done?" He said, "Yes, with the issuance of the Manifesto by Wilford Woodruff, 1890."
31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.
32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.
33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.
Those scenes have been described to us by Joseph Smith and Brigham Young and the other Prophets.
34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.
35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.
36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you--
37. Ye look and behold the fig-trees, and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;
38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.
May the Lord bless us and help us to prepare for that glorious hour, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
In listening to these most inspiring remarks of Brother Truman, there came to mind something that I would like to read to you in closing here today, from the Prophet Joseph Smith. James Arlington Bennett, in the time of the candidacy of the Prophet Joseph Smith for the Presidency of the United States in the spring before he was martyred -- and I might mention to you, it is a matter of history that there were gathered together representatives from every state of the union, who came together to plan the destruction of Joseph Smith the Prophet, because they recognized the great power that he had. He was once asked, "How do you govern people so well that they follow and would die for you?" He said simply, "I teach them correct principles and they govern themselves," by the Holy Ghost and the Spirit of God. This man, Bennett, wanted to be the right-hand man of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and this is part of his reply:

_DHC 6:77_

But, sir, when I leave the dignity and honor I received from heaven, to boost a man into power, through the aid of my friends, where the evil and designing, after the object has been accomplished, can lock up the clemency intended as a reciprocation for such favors, and where the wicked and unprincipled, as a matter of course, would seize the opportunity to flintify the hearts of the nation against me for dabbling at a sly game in politics, -- verily I say, when I leave the dignity and honor of heaven, to gratify the ambition and vanity of man or men, may my power cease, like the strength of Samson, when he was shorn of his locks, while asleep in the lap of Delilah. Truly said the Savior, "Cast not your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you."

Shall I, who have witnessed the visions of eternity, and beheld the glorious mansions of bliss, and the regions and the misery of the damned, -- shall I turn to be a Judas? Shall I, who have heard the voice of God, and communed with angels, and spake as moved by the Holy Ghost for the renewal of the everlasting covenant, and for the gathering of Israel in the last days, -- shall I worm myself into a political hypocrite? Shall I, who hold the keys of the last kingdom, in which is the dispensation of the fullness of all things spoken by the mouths of all the holy Prophets since the world began, under the sealing power of the Melchizedek Priesthood, -- shall I stoop from the sublime authority of Almighty God, to be handled as a monkey's cat-paw, and pettify myself into a clown to act the farce of political demagoguery? No -- verily no! The whole earth shall bear me witness that I, like the towering rock in the midst of the ocean, which has withstood the mighty surges of the warring waves for centuries, am impregnable, and am a faithful friend to virtue, and a fearless foe to vice, -- no odds whether the former was sold as a pearl in Asia or hid as a gem in America, and the latter dazzles in palaces or glimmers among the tombs.

I combat the errors of ages; I meet the violence of mobs; I cope with illegal proceedings from executive authority; I cut the guardian knot of powers, and I solve mathematical problems of universities, with truth -- diamond truth; and God is my "right hand man."

And to close, let me say in the name of Jesus Christ to you, and to presidents, emperors, kings, queens, governors, rulers, nobles, and men in authority everywhere, Do the works of righteousness, execute justice and judgment in the earth, that God may bless you and her inhabitants; and the laurel that grows on the top of the mountain shall green for your fame while the sun sheds a ray; And the lily that blows by the side of the fountain will bloom for your virtue till earth melt away.

Such a man is Leroy S. Johnson who has at his elbow this head of this great dispensation in which we live. I, too, am grateful to live in this day, this great and dreadful day of the Lord, when we are going to see the closing scenes, and go into the Millennial reign; when He whose right it is to rule, Jesus Christ our Lord, will sit upon the throne and govern during the thousand years of peace; into which President Johnson, I testify unto you, will lead a people, a prepared people from the heart's core of this people, with the Lord Jesus Christ going before, along with His angels. Those angels could well be the keyholders who have preceded Leroy S. Johnson, who all labored for the same end, for the redemption of Zion to the glory of God and the building up of the city and temple of our God; to which the City of Enoch will come and be joined, and the Ten Tribes come, and the remnant of Jacob come from the south. All will join together in "Hallelujah!" to our Lord Jesus Christ, our King and our Lord. I pray that we may have a part and a lot in this, as I desire to the honor and glory of God, and to the sustaining of our Prophet and head now. I call upon you, and I call upon myself to become like him. We have such a character leading us. As we emulate him, we will become like God, because he is God over us. God bless you, amen.

Great Delusions Given Through Wilford Woodruff; Judgments of God

We are blessed again this afternoon with the presence of President Johnson. I am sure the Lord is going to bless us all today as we draw in the wanderings of our minds and have one heart and one mind to receive and learn the truth. President Johnson has asked me to conduct this service.

* * * * *

Brothers and sisters, let us get together or we will hang separately. We have got a lot of tight places to go through yet, the tightest we could ever dream of. So, I hope the preparation is being made.

* * * * *

I think Brother Johnson wants me to speak, so I will call again for an interest in your faith and prayers, that I may tell the truth and do something to help us all prepare. And what I say to you, I say to myself. My mind frequently comes to dwell on these words that Jesus Christ told to His Apostles, found in Section 45. These are the things that we are to be prepared for.

D.& C. 45

26. And in that day shall be heard of wars and rumors of wars, and the whole earth shall be in commotion, and men's hearts shall fail them, and they shall say that Christ delayeth his coming until the end of the earth.
27. And the love of men shall wax cold, and iniquity shall abound.
28. And when the times of the Gentiles is come in, a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness, and it shall be the fulness of my gospel;
29. But they receive it not; ***

The fullness of the Gospel was given by the Prophet Joseph Smith. The law of Celestial Marriage was revealed; that, along with the Holy United Order, which the saints had failed to abide in their day. And finally, the last great delusion that was given to the saints was given in 1890 by Wilford Woodruff. President Johnson told me long ago that that was the time that the times of the fullness of the gentiles had come in. That is when they gave up the fullness of the Gospel. They believed it not, and received it not. There had been more damned by living it than there had been saved. When they wanted to get rid of it, the wealthy men of the Church and George Q. Cannon came to John Taylor, who had received a visitation the night before from the Savior and from Joseph Smith, and presented to him a manifesto then. You all know the story of what happened in that Eight-hour Meeting after that glorious night of visitation by the Savior and Joseph, and how the Prophet John Taylor received that request. He would not sign it. He would rather have had his tongue torn out from its roots than to sanction it, and his arm cut out from its sockets rather than to sign it. But he said one who would follow him in the leadership of the Church would give a manifesto. And that is what happened again. The 1880 Revelation given to Wilford Woodruff was a delusion which was given by the devil, permitted by the Lord. And he gave another delusion in 1890. Our Prophet has been accused of giving a delusion when we were told in a Council Meeting that the 1880 Revelation was a delusion.

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass, until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.
32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

Now those are the scenes that have been foreshadowed to us lately by our Prophet in recent times. We have been warned to gather ourselves up and prepare, with nerves of steel, for the things that we are going to have to go through. Talk about preparation.
34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.
35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.

36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you --
37. Ye look and behold the fig-trees, and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;
38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.

Section 112 draws another picture as it is going to affect us at this time, as we are seeing it being fulfilled.

Speaking to the Twelve then, the Lord said:

D. & C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.
25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

That has been fulfilled, for the Lord has already begun with the Priesthood Council under President Johnson. You know what I mean without naming names. Now, I refer you again to Section 64. And we will find out who will be able to stand. This was at a time when they were preparing the people to gather to Zion in 1831. President Johnson has the mission of preparing a people against these days of judgment. Are we prepared to meet them? We are in similar times to what they were in 1831. We have yet to live the Holy United Order, and this is the gathering place. The Lord told what would happen then to those who are not willingly and anxiously engaged in the work of the Lord.

D.& C. 64

29. Wherefore, as ye are agents, ye are on the Lord's errand; and whatever ye do according to the will of the Lord is the Lord's business.

All these of things we are engaged in now are the Lord's business. We are calling upon you to prepare a place here.

30. And he hath set you to provide for his saints in these last days, that they may obtain an inheritance in the land of Zion.

Zion is wherever the saints are gathered. Zion is the pure in heart. This place is going to have to be cleaned up, and so are we in Salt Lake and in Canada.

31. And behold, I, the Lord, declare unto you, and my words are sure and shall not fail, that they shall obtain it.

32. But all things must come to pass in their time.

We are getting nearer and nearer that time, the last time.

33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, for ye are laying the foundation of a great work.

Leroy S. Johnson is laying a foundation, with this people, for a great work, preparing a people to go and redeem Zion.

33. ...And out of small things proceedeth that which is great.

34. Behold, the Lord requireth the heart and a willing mind;

It is all or nothing at all, brothers and sisters -- the whole heart. We can't dilly-dally in any neutral position, as we might think. We have got to declare and commit ourselves one hundred percent behind our Prophet and head.

34. ...and the willing and obedient shall eat the good of the land of Zion in these last days.

35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, and shall be sent away, and shall not inherit the land.

36. For, verily I say that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, wherefore they shall be plucked out.

That is in the course of proceeding now, as I see it. President Johnson is seeking for Ephraim. He stands at the head of the house of Ephraim among them upon the earth today. And he is Ephraim.
37. Behold, I, the Lord, have made my church in these last days like unto a judge sitting on a hill, or in a high place, to judge the nations.
38. For it shall come to pass that the inhabitants of Zion shall judge all things pertaining to Zion.
39. And liars and hypocrites shall be proved by them, and they who are not apostles and prophets shall be known.

Haven't they been?

40. And even the bishop, who is a judge, and his counselors, if they are not faithful in their stewardships shall be condemned, and others shall be planted in their stead.
41. For, behold, I say unto you that Zion shall flourish, and the glory of the Lord shall be upon her;

42. And she shall be an ensign unto the people, and there shall come unto her out of every nation under heaven.

That is going to be out of the City of Zion, when it is established and the city and the temple built.

43. And the day shall come when the nations of the earth shall tremble because of her, and shall fear because of her terrible ones. The Lord hath spoken it. Amen.

Now do we get an idea, brothers and sisters, of what we must be preparing for? We are going to have to be called up. We see great earthquakes multiplying all around us. We see desolating sicknesses coming upon the people -- venereal disease. But more than that, there is a desolating sickness that we know not about. I don't know whether this holocaust of nuclear war is going to have any part in it or not, but President Ronald Reagan -- I have it recorded and what was reported; he has said, among his advisors and those he has visited with, he has even called clergymen to talk to him -- and he is now speaking of Armageddon, and that it will come in his time. Mageddo is a place in the Holy Land where great wars were fought in former times. It is the tradition now that that is the place called Armageddon. The forces of the north will be arrayed against those in the south, and the nation of Israel is in the very middle of it. We are allied -- this nation has allied with Israel. We see it every day in the papers. They are bound and determined to get possession of that land. They are the warriors that are being used. But, the true house of Judah must come first. This is the warning that the Prophet
The Book of Mormon is a record of the forefathers of our western tribes of Indians; having been found through the ministration of an holy angel, and translated into our own language by the gift and power of God, after having been hid up in the earth for the last fourteen hundred years, containing the word of God which was delivered unto them. By it we learn that our western tribes of Indians are descendants from that Joseph who was sold into Egypt, and that the land of America is a promised land unto them, and unto it all the tribes of Israel will come, with as many of the Gentiles as shall comply with the requisitions of the new covenant. But the tribe of Judah will return to old Jerusalem.

The tribe of Judah. I suppose these warlike people in Israel have established a nation and are trying to get all of the old Holy Land, and are being used as the vanguard to accomplish that purpose. But the whole true tribe of Judah will be found mostly in England. The royal house of England has descended from King David. The land of Ireland is of Judah. So, the present warlike people in Israel are being used as a battle-axe by the Lord to accomplish that purpose.

It is frightening to hear our President talking of Armageddon. The last great battle, called Gog and Magog, is after the Millennium, says Joseph in these pages. That is when the forces of Lucifer and the forces of our Father Michael will be brought together for the last great battle, and then all will be driven from the face of the earth -- satan, after he has been loosed after the thousand years of peace upon the earth.

The city of Zion spoken of by David, in the one hundred and second Psalm, will be built upon the land of America, "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads." (Isaiah xxxv:10); and then they will be delivered from the overflowing scourge that shall pass through the land. But Judah shall obtain deliverance at Jerusalem. See Joel ii:32; Isaiah xxvi:20 and 21; Jeremiah xxxi:12; Psalms 1:5; Ezekiel xxxiv:11, 12 and 13.

The old Jerusalem.

These are testimonies that the Good Shepherd will put forth His own sheep, and lead them out from all nations where they have been scattered in a cloudy and dark day, to Zion, and to Jerusalem; besides many more testimonies which might be brought.

And now I am prepared to say by the authority of Jesus Christ, that not many years shall pass away before the United States shall present such a scene of bloodshed as has not a parallel in the history of our nation; pestilence, hail, famine, and earthquake will sweep the wicked of this generation from off the face of the land, to open and prepare the way for the return of the lost tribes of Israel from the north country. The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, We are gathering together here now.

...which is in the state of Missouri; therefore I declare unto you the warning which the Lord has commanded me to declare unto this generation, remembering that the eyes of my Maker are upon me, and that to Him I am accountable for every word I say, wishing nothing worse to my fellow-men than their eternal salvation; therefore, "Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come." Repent ye, repent ye, and embrace the everlasting covenant, and flee to Zion, before the overflowing scourge overtake you, for there are those now living upon the earth whose eyes shall not be closed in death until they see all these things, which I have spoken, fulfilled. Remember these things; call upon the Lord while He is near, and seek Him while He may be found, is the exhortation of your unworthy servant.

(Signed) JOSEPH SMITH, JUN.

And our present Prophet is carrying on the same message. I pray to God that we will respond and not go along complacently, thinking things are going to go on as usual. We are sitting there on a time bomb in Salt Lake Valley, because that valley is going to be utterly destroyed and flooded. It would only take an earthquake to do it, and release all that water that is behind the Wasatch Fault waiting to be loosed. It isn't going to be from the run-off. There is a river running under South Temple, as big as the Colorado River in the gravel formations way down where they can't find bedrock, going under Great Salt Lake and going on out to the Pacific Ocean. Dam that up and see what will happen. The Chief Engineer of the Water Resources Board told David Steed about that, when they were probing for building these big new buildings around South Temple, and State Street, and clear on over to the Triad Corporation development. That has gone broke now. But that is where it is going to hit first.

President Johnson told me about something that was very startling, found on page 77, chapter 15 of Second Nephi.

2 Nephi 15

8. Wo unto them that join house to house, till there can be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!

9. In mine ears, said the Lord of Hosts, of a truth many houses shall be desolate, and great and fair cities without inhabitant.

10. Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and the seed of a homer shall yield an ephah.

11. Wo unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink, that continue until night, and wine inflame them!

12. And the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.

13. Therefore, my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge; and their honorable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.

That is found in Isaiah 4, and translated correctly in the fifteenth chapter of Second Nephi. I just wanted to call our attentions to the things that are being fulfilled before our eyes, brothers and sisters. If that will scare us into preparation, I hope it will do so. But we shouldn't have to be scared. We should be laboring with a willing heart and giving our all, one hundred percent commitment of everything that we have and are, in our support of the Prophet in his labors to prepare a people, and get behind him one hundred percent. There is no halfway house, and we can't go on dreaming that things are going to be connected up again. It is too late.

I pray now, my dear brothers and sisters, as Joseph Smith prayed then -- I desire nothing less than your salvation. And that is what President Johnson wants, and he is suffering and laboring to that end. We know not how or why, but I have a very good idea. May God bless us in our preparations, to go forward with a willing and a full heart and do all that we can, making sacrifices under the law of sacrifice, that we may be prepared. We are going to have to make sacrifices similar to that of Abraham and Isaac. That is how Joseph "won his spurs", by the great sacrifice he made. And he did it for us. And this suffering that is going on in the body of our Prophet, is suffering for us, and because of those who betrayed him, as we have it in chapter 21 of Third Nephi, which I have gone into before. God bless you, amen.

The "Now" Crisis; There Is Little Time to Repent

Well, my brothers and sisters, I felt, with the help of the Lord, that I should read some warnings that we have in "The Coming Crisis", which President Johnson has urged us to study frequently; because these things are now coming to pass. Some have already and some have yet to come to pass, but the judgments that were spoken of in the sermon of President Johnson are outlined in great strength in these words; which I understand were written by Willard Richards, who was at the bosom of the Prophet Joseph Smith. Regarding judgments:

Now there is a greater destruction coming upon the wicked nations of the earth, than was even experienced by Pharaoh at the Red Sea. But before that destruction can be made manifest, men's hearts will be hardened, and wickedness will rise to a more overtowering height than many bygone generations have been allowed to witness. God, through His Prophet, will roar out of Zion.

I testify to you, that Prophet is Leroy S. Johnson.

His voice will be heard in spite of all the confusion and indignant opposition from many nations. After the testimony of His servants has been proclaimed to all nations, as a witness, then shall the scene of the end come. And great shall be that scene. The Devil in the last stage of desperation, will take such a pre-eminent lead in literature, politics, philosophy, and religion; in wars, famines, pestilences, earthquakes, thunderings and lightnings, setting cities in conflagration, etc., that mighty kings and powerful nations will be constrained to fall down and worship him.

They are doing it.
And they will marvel at his great power, and wonder after him with great astonishment. For his signs and wonders will be among all nations. Men will be raised for the express purpose of furthering the designs and marvelous works of the devil. Every description of curious and mysterious arts that penetrate beyond the common pale of human sagacity and wisdom, will be studied and practiced beyond what has been known by mere mortals. The great capabilities of the elements of fire, air, earth, and water, -- will be brought into requisition by cunning men under the superior cunning of the Prince and God of this world. [Footnote #3: By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire and by smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths, -- Revelations 9:8. (This doubtless has reference to aerial and other warfare where fire, gases and bombs are used.]

We see what is being done in the air in preparation now; which President Reagan has called, "They are approaching Armageddon," actually expecting it to come in his time. It has been quoted by good authority.

And, inflated with the knowledge of these wonderful arts and powers, men will become boasters, heady, high-minded, proud, and despisers of that which is good. But the God who is above all, and over all, and who ruleth in the armies of heaven, and amongst the inhabitants of the earth, will not be a silent observer of such spiritual wickedness in high places, and among the rulers of the darkness of this world. For the master spirits of wickedness of all ages, and of worlds visible and invisible, will be arrayed in the rebellious ranks before the closing scene shall transpire. Now just at this time, God will come out of His hiding place and vex the nations in his hot displeasure. By the mouth of His Prophet He will rebuke strong nations afar off, notwithstanding their strong armies and great miracles, and cunning arts. His servant, the Prophet in Zion, will have a marvelous boldness to rebuke them, and to lay down before them in plainness and inflexible firmness the law of the Lord. As Moses laid down the law to Pharaoh, and continued to multiply evils and judgments until he made an utter end of Pharaoh and the Egyptians, even so will the living God prescribe the line of conduct to be pursued, and the penalties of violation, to great and mighty nations, until they rally around the ensign established upon the mountains, and go up to the house of the God of Jacob to learn His ways, or are utterly overwhelmed in keen anguish and ruin.
Then it speaks of the delusions, the strong delusions that will be brought about, and that which has come about, as we have seen, and been called to our attention by the Prophet Leroy Johnson. I will just read a short part of this.

The Coming Crisis  Page 7

For it cannot be denied that facts and truths will constitute such a measure of the ingredients of these mysterious and wonderful arts as to give them an irresistible strength of conviction to those who are unenlightened by the spirit of God. And so far as facts and truths are mingled, it must also be acknowledged that God, the true and living Sovereign of heaven and earth, will contribute to produce the delusion. He has said that "HE WILL SEND THEM STRONG DELUSIONS THAT THEY MIGHT BELIEVE A LIE." He gives His reason and apology for acting after this strange manner -- because, knowing the truth, they do not love it unadulterated. And knowing God, they do not choose to glorify Him as God.

That strong delusion has come among us in the form of the 1880 Revelation given to Wilford Woodruff. That is what it was termed by the Prophet in a Council Meeting, March 18, 1978. You know what has resulted from that. Three of the brethren of the Council took what he said, and said that he, Leroy Johnson, had given us a delusion on that occasion.

2 Thessalonians 2

3. Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;
4. Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.
9. Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders,

That took place in 1978, shortly after this occasion that I spoke of, in which President Johnson told us what the 1880 Revelation was. President Spencer Kimball of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was in the temple trying to get an answer to the question of the Negro. President Johnson has said that satan was the one, not God, who sat across the table from him in the temple as God, and dictated that revelation on the Negro question. This has happened.

10. And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.
11. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:
12. That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.

So we have had the delusions and the miracles of satan. They are before us throughout the world. I want to bring our attention to something that Brigham Young prophesied about our day, speaking of judgments. Remember what I read here from the Book of Revelations. The third part of men were killed by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of the mouths of the beasts.

JD 8:123  Brigham Young  July 15, 1860  SLC

"Do you think there is calamity abroad now among the people?" Not much. All we have yet heard and all we have experienced is scarcely a preface to the sermon that is going to be preached. When the testimony of the Elders ceases to be given, and the Lord says to them, "Come home; I will now preach my own sermons to the nations of the earth," all you now know can scarcely be called a preface to the sermon that will be preached with fire and sword, tempests, earthquakes, hail, rain, thunders and lightnings, and fearful destruction. What matters the destruction of a few railway cars?

We hear about it every day on radio.

You will hear of magnificent cities, now idolized by the people, sinking in the earth, entombing the inhabitants.

As it happened at the crucifixion of Christ, prior to His appearance to the Nephites and the Lamanites.

The sea will heave itself beyond its bounds, engulfing mighty cities. Famine will spread over the nations, and nation will rise up against nation, kingdom against kingdom, and states against states, in our own country and in foreign lands; and they will destroy each other, caring not for the blood and lives of their neighbours, of their families, or for their own lives. They will be like the Jaredites who preceded the Nephites upon this continent, and will destroy each other to the last man, through the anger that the Devil will place in their hearts, because they have rejected the words of life and are given over to Satan to do whatever he listeth to do with them. You may think that the little you hear of now is grievous; yet the faithful of God's people will see days that will cause them to close their eyes because of the sorrow that will come upon the wicked nations. The hearts of the faithful will be filled with pain and anguish for them.

Speaking further of the workings of the devil:

Don't tell me about Popes and Prelates sitting in the Temple of God as God. One far greater than any Pope or Prelate is soon to be revealed and He will claim to be worshipped as God. Now remember, that it is no modern wicked man that is going to claim divine honors. No, it is that old Serpent, the Devil. He it is that will head the opposition against God and His Christ. And he, the son of perdition it is, that will be allowed a much longer chain than heretofore. And such will be the greatness of his power, that it will seem to many that he is entirely loose. He will be so far unshackled and unchained that his power will deceive all nations, even the world. And the elect will barely escape the power of his sorceries, enchantments, and miracles! And even God himself, the true God, will contribute to put means and instruments in his way and at hand for his use, so that he can have a full trial of his strength and cunning, with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish.

And speaking of the great and abominable church, President Johnson has revealed that that great and abominable church is this Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the Corporate Church with six million members now; and the judgments are going to come first where there are most of those people, right here in this valley. So it is as though we were sitting on a time bomb. I wonder if it is too late to repent, as President Johnson brought out in those beautiful remarks that were read to us here today.

How many times are we going to have to dedicate our homes, brothers and sisters? After doing the things that polluted their inheritances, the people were driven from Jackson County, Missouri, where they were sent to build up and redeem Zion. Within two years they were driven out, and the Prophet cried unto the Lord to know why. The answer is found in Section 101: There were jarrings, and contentions, and strifes, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires among them. Those are what pollute our inheritances, our homes. Yet, we have got to be one if we are going to be saved in a dedicated home.

So where are we now? I leave you to answer. May God bless us and help us to repent before it is too late, if it is possible. But deathbed repentance is of no value. We saw it as Guy Musser was dying on his bed, two or three years ago. It was too late. He had called for Brother Johnson to see him. He went very graciously and mercifully, but when he got there Guy was weeping and weeping and weeping, and had been for two days before, and he could not say a word to the Prophet. After much great suffering after another month or two, he passed on.

So let that be an example to us about deathbed repentance. It is no good, and we cannot say we are going to do this and that and the other, and then go repent and be saved. Like Brother Truman has said, we have got to resist evil, not commit them, because it might be too late to repent.

I hope and trust that we will settle down now, brothers and sisters, and follow these admonitions of our great Prophet. He is not able to speak to us. The last time he spoke here he said, "I do not know how much longer I am going to be able to speak to you." I was just reading it in his sermon he gave in January 1986.

I do not want to frighten anybody, but I would like to encourage all of us, and pray that there might be time to change, and be worthy to be saved from these destructions that are coming upon us. It may be that some of our homes will be destroyed; maybe this one, I do not know. Those who are worthy and righteous will be caught up while the destruction goes on.

Well, my brothers and sisters, I love this great man and want to be where he is. I love all of you, and I know he loves you. He has suffered over us. He suffered over Guy Musser more than he had from the shingles. We do not know how he has suffered, but he said on one occasion, "I will be able to tell good old Job what it is to suffer," as he had in lo, these seven years or more. So let us build up our faith and call upon the Lord in mighty repentance, that we might be saved and exalted in the presence of President Johnson and the Gods -- the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Johnson's Sermon on the Godhead;
Oneness Required; We Must Overcome

I have felt today, brothers and sisters, that I could not do better than to have the words of our Prophet Leroy Johnson read to us in a wonderful sermon given July 25, 1976, in Colorado City, full of great meaning and light and knowledge for us to base our faith upon to follow him. His words are the greatest teachings that we can have today; his example in an equally important and effective way to teach, and that is exactly what he has done. He has set the example for us, and if we can become like him, our calling and election will be made sure.

I am grateful for this day, my brothers and sisters, and grateful for the testimonies that have been borne by these young men, as well as the older ones. I am grateful for all of you and that you are here to listen to what the Lord has for you today. We are living in a day of preparation, and I hope that I, at least, can be prepared for that which the Lord has in store for us. And I trust that He will pour out His blessings upon us continually as this meeting goes on, that we might be instructed from on high.

My only desire is to look forward to the edification and preparation of this great Priesthood work. There is nothing like it in the earth. You will find it nowhere else, only among the Latter-day Saint people.

As I look over the experiences that I have had in my life with men and women who have devoted their lives to the building up and establishment of God's Kingdom in the earth, I find that there are many who are not known publicly who are striving with their might to prepare themselves for a glorious resurrection.

They go quietly about the business of repenting and preparing, without any great show, with a meek and lowly heart, and with making a sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit.

We don't want to sit idly by and put off till tomorrow what we should do today to prepare ourselves against the day of visitation when God is pouring out His judgments upon the wicked and preparing the earth for the Millennial Reign, because this time is right at our doors. The Prophet
Joseph said it was at the door in his day and it is a few inches closer today. Our time is fast running out, as one of the speakers today mentioned.

It has been mentioned to us very recently a good deal, because we are that much closer yet -- ten years closer than the time when this was spoken, and it is only fourteen more years before the six thousand years period is over, the "Saturday night" of time. Are we prepared for the Sabbath when the earth shall rest, and we will live under a peaceful reign of our Lord Jesus Christ, whose right it is to rule?

In our preparation there are many points of doctrine that are lightly spoken of that need to be brought to the attention of our people in their true light and manner, that we might be properly instructed. I have been taught all my life, and I have heard my father and other men talk when I was by his side waiting for him to call upon me to help, I have heard many things transpire. I suppose that is where I got my determination to stay put when I found the Priesthood that bore the keys of salvation. But I have been taught all my life that long before the foundation of this earth was prepared, the personnel for the governing of this earth were called. They were called and set apart to come forth in their day and time to take their place in the governing of this earth. We have been taught that there are three personages in the Godhead -- God the Father, God the Son, and God the Testator or the Holy Ghost. Now, these three governing powers were called and set apart to come forth in their day and time to govern the destiny of the peopling of this earth.

One reason I speak upon this subject, the question was asked me this morning: When Adam met with His posterity at the close of His time upon this earth, He called His posterity together and blessed them, and He said that He had been instructed by His Father to do this work. Who was the man that He had reference to? Who was the man He had reference to in the Garden of Eden when He was asked by Lucifer, "Why do you offer sacrifice?" He said, "I know not, except I have been commanded by my Father." Do you think it was some foreign spirit other than the ones that had been called to govern the earth? I don't think so.

He knows so.

We are told by the brother of Jared that he went before the Lord when he needed light for the barges while they were upon the great deep. He had prepared these eight barges to haul his people to a choice land, a land that was choice above all other lands, said the Lord to him. If he was the Lord, then was it Adam speaking to him, or was it someone else? When he asked for the Lord to touch the stones that they might bring forth light, he saw the finger of the Lord. What did He tell him? The brother of Jared fell to the earth, and then the voice spoke and said, "Why do you fall?" He said, "I was afraid for I knew not that you had flesh and bones." He said, "Did you see more than My finger?" The brother of Jared said, "No. But I would like you to show yourself to me." The Lord said, "Would you believe if I showed myself to you? Would you believe?" "Yea, Lord, I will believe." So, then He unveiled Himself and showed Himself to the brother of Jared. He said, "This is the body that I will have when I appear in the flesh," meaning that He was Jesus Christ, the same man that appeared to Adam in the Garden of Eden, Jehovah in the Godhead in the formation of the earth.

...meaning that He was Jesus Christ, the same man that appeared to Adam in the Garden of Eden and in the Valley of Adam-Ondi-Ahman when He told our Father Adam to bless His posterity and all the generations of time from then on.

These are some of the truths that we should ponder upon, and not think that someone else had the governing powers of this earth until a certain time, and then another took it.

It was taught at one time that Adam took the place of his God, Jesus Christ.

These men had to come in their time and place and take their bodies. They were called, according to Brigham Young, millions of years before the foundation of this earth was formed. They were ordained and set apart for the governing of this earth and the peopling of it, to bless the people that they might be built up in their faith and determination to serve God and keep His commandments.

Go into this book, the Three-in-One; go into the Doctrine & Covenants, read the headings and the first few verses of each revelation and see how important it is that we keep all the commandments of God. He does not look upon sin with the least degree of allowance, He said. And this He means. He says, "Haven't I spoken plainly? So plain that a child could understand?" It is there, and it is in plain language, and every person who has any understanding at all can understand what the Lord has said.
and what He expects of us. We approach Him as our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We don't pray unto Adam. We pray -- Our Father who art in Heaven, and in the name of Jesus Christ. Can you understand it?

Let us hasten to prepare ourselves. Let us overcome all evil, everything that is of an evil nature -- going against counsel, speaking evil of one another, criticizing, or any other evil that we might have imbibed in our habits. Let us overcome them and let us hasten! Let us be that people that the Lord is looking for. And when He makes the call for personnel to take over the establishment of righteousness in the earth, let us be prepared to do it.

You don't have to come and tell me that you are righteous. The Lord is the only one that can read your heart and your mind, but He can read them, so let us not let Him read anymore evil thoughts, but let us clean up our minds. Let us do what the servants of God have asked us to do. For the Lord has said, "Whether it be by My mouth or by the mouth of my servants, it is the same." This Gospel is true, the Gospel of Jesus Christ as it is contained in the New Testament and as it was given to us by our Prophet, Joseph Smith and those who followed him in the Priesthood until this day.

Now, I pray that we will hasten, my brothers and sisters, to prepare ourselves that we might be able to be prepared when the One Mighty and Strong calls for his army of young and middle-aged.

I would like to see every boy, and every girl that is ready to be placed hasten to prepare themselves so the Lord can call them. There is a Gospel sermon in one sentence, for our young people and for anyone contemplating marriage under the holy order of God. We must be obedient to every law and commandment God has given us as we enter into and seek to abide that holy law, that we may become Gods by living it perfectly, and going on to perfection, at least.

But they are going to have to quit making love to one another and let the Lord make the love, Isn't that wonderful, young people?
...and then He can bless you and He can bless the unions. You are going to continue to have problems unless this can be done, because this is the order of marriage in the Holy Priesthood.

I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and with a determination to overcome all evil, that we might be prepared against the day of visitation, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I do not feel to add anymore. That is said so well and so simple and so plain that a child can understand it. Now, let us never forget who he is, our Prophet, and what he is, and what a great and glorious mission he has to perform. He is, indeed, going on to lead a people prepared to redeem Zion under the Lord Jesus Christ and the Prophet Joseph Smith. That is when the House of God will be set in order, at the coming of those two -- Joseph Smith preceding to do that work; and Leroy S. Johnson will be right there at his side. That is my testimony to you.

I pray that we may prepare ourselves to be among that chosen people. Many are called but few are chosen. Five hundred young and middle-aged men is very few when compared to what has to be done. But that many men with the power of God upon them, that many men committed to keep the commandments of God and walk in obedience to every word of God as it comes from his mouth; what great power there is. I sit and look at a body of Priesthood and wonder what a great power they could be, moving in concert under the One Mighty and Strong and the Lord Jesus Christ and our Prophet. President John Y. Barlow once said, "If we had twelve men (he was speaking to ten at the time) with us we could shake the world and turn it upside down." But they would have to be one, full of the Holy Ghost and the power to command the elements as Enoch did. So we can see what one man and God can do. It was said according to the prophecy of Heber C. Kimball, which I would like to add:

There will also be a day when you will be brought to the test -- when your very hearts and your inmost souls will melt within you because of the scenes that many of you will witness. Yes, you will be brought to that test, when you will feel as if every thing within you would dissolve. Then will be the time you will be tried whether you will stand the test or fall away.

I have not a doubt but there will be hundreds who will leave us and go away to our enemies.
We have seen that.

I wish they would go this fall: it might relieve us from much trouble; for if men turn traitors to God and His servants, their blood will surely be shed, or else they will be damned, and that too according to their covenants. Which they have broken. Think what a great curse it is that comes upon a man who is a covenant breaker -- or a woman.

Brother Brigham would rather go to battle against the whole world with three hundred men filled with the Holy Ghost, than to have the whole of you, except you are united with us; and I am sure I would.

The day is to come when one shall chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. When that day comes, the Lord will make the enemies of His people flee as if there were thousands after them, when there is only one; and that is the way that God will deal with our enemies. The day of God Almighty is at hand, when He will show forth His power, and when He will deliver His people from all their enemies.

The first thing that we must overcome is ourselves, our weaknesses, our sins. Overcome. That is the thing we must do, is overcome all of our ways and means that are offensive to the sight of God and to the Spirit of God. May we walk in truth and love and understanding, loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourselves, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Personal History With John Y. Barlow;
Who and What President Johnson Is to the Lord and This People

I sorrow at the inability of President Johnson to be here. He was all ready to come. He had a change for the worse. He felt he shouldn't try it. But he is here in spirit, and that is the main thing that counts. He has asked me to carry on and do as I am led by the Spirit of God, for him.

I trust that we will draw in the wanderings of our minds, brothers and sisters.
Be of one heart and mind. Call upon the Lord in your hearts in rejoicing for His blessing, and that His word and will may be done here in this service.

* * * * *

I guess it is my turn. I pray God will bless me in the remarks I shall make here, that I may tell you the truth.

The Lord has given me a testimony that has been borne out as to who and what Leroy Sunderland Johnson is. One thing that has made me grieve over the years is how lightly we have taken this great man. I grieved at how Uncle John Y. Barlow was treated and considered, and he is another great man in the scheme of things in this last dispensation.

In coming into this work, brothers and sisters, I was led into it by my father, who knew Joseph Musser back in the 1890's. They were both on a mission in Tennessee for the Church. Father met Joseph on the street, and he handed father a copy of the Truth Magazine. I had taken father out to dinner for his birthday, and he told me when I inquired about this, after I had asked him, "By what authority is this done?" So he told me the story of his knowing Joseph, and he had learned some months before about this work. He took me to Joseph. I had a wonderful conversation with him.

Joseph rather fathered me in the work, and I had to know more. I said, "Who is the head man in this organization?" He said, "Well, he is pretty much in hiding to protect him." I said, "I want to know him and I want to see him." So I was finally taken on a visit to see John Y. Barlow at his home in Salt Lake. He was on 7th South and 8th East, where he later wrote me a letter when I was working in Ogden. I was thrilled at the spirit and the life of this great man.

I was given a Patriarchal blessing by Joseph Musser, and he conferred, prior to that, the Melchizedek Priesthood upon me. So I had a great deal to be thankful for in the teachings that I got from Brother Joseph.

There came a time when Uncle John and Joseph took Brother Guy and myself up to a series of cottage meetings in Idaho. It was in the home of Carl Holm, Sen., where we were having a meeting one afternoon. Uncle John was not well. He was in his bedroom adjoining. He came to the door and said, in the course of the meeting, that he and Joseph were engaged in qualifying Brother Guy and myself. We went on up north to Idaho, and they got me a second wife in this work, LaRue Hunter; later a third wife, when LaRue came Well, I had some inkling of what was coming, and about a year later, it was in April 1945, just before the brethren went into prison in May. I was working in Idaho, and working my way down to come home to stay, after I had been up there on an auditing and accounting job for my employer, auditing the accounts of expenditures by J. R. Simplock, a company who was making dried potatoes for the army during that time.

I had a call from my father when I was in a hotel in Pocatello, on the way down. Father said, "Rulon, Brother Joseph wants you to come and see him first when you come to town." He repeated that two or three times. I immediately knew what was in the offing. I said to myself, as I lay awake before going to sleep that night, "Why not the head?" So when I got down to Salt Lake the next morning, I was bright and early at the home of John Y. Barlow.

He was not immediately available there at Lincoln Street, in what was later the office of Guy Musser. As I sat in the chair, and opposite the archway into the next room, I had my head bowed and praying. I looked up and I saw John Y. Barlow in the archway with light for a covering. He said, "Brother Rulon, come into my office." He took me in there and ordained me to the Apostleship, and a Patriarch, and designated me a member of the Church of the Firstborn. I was on cloud nine. I did not hear everything that was said, but I know what happened.

I later went up to see Brother Joseph, in the afternoon. When I saw him, he seemed to be quite crestfallen when I told him what had happened that morning. Things were rather a little different between us from then on; not that I did not sustain him in his position, but I thank God that I received that great blessing at the hands of the Prophet, John Y. Barlow. It had a great influence on me in following Leroy S. Johnson, who succeeded him, who is the Keyholder, the Prophet, and Mouthpiece of God. Things were in great confusion at that time because of what had happened to Brother Joseph, and to Charles, and the other brethren.

It is my testimony to you that Leroy Sunderland Johnson was designated by John Y. Barlow to receive that position, and I have been busily engaged, since this split and this crisis that has come to this work, in trying to establish, as Brother Johnson told me I was to do; he said in the fall of 1979, "Brother Rulon, I and you must re-establish the one man rule in the holy Priesthood," referring to Section 132 verse 7. I have been busily engaged in doing just that ever since, and I hope to continue.

I love that man. The love of brethren is something that is hard for people to understand. The love of brethren in the bonds of the holy Priesthood transcends the love of man for woman. Heber C. Kimball said, "My will runs into the will of Brother Brigham, and his into mine, and I am a part of the vine of Brigham Young." He spoke of that in the sermon which he gave the parable of the vine, and how the life flows to its branches. If you want to read a beautiful sermon of Heber C. Kimball, it is page 276 of the Journal of Discourses, volume 4.

But I am happy that Uncle Roy considers me his "Heber". I was thrilled beyond words when it came from the mouth of one who was told it by Uncle Roy. I want to continue in that course, going down the road at his side. That road, I want to testify to you, brothers and sisters, is the journey that finally ends in the City of Zion, in Jackson County, Missouri. He is preparing a people here. This is the gathering place.

He is fulfilling the prophecy that the Lord gave me, that I bore here before on the 6th of May, 1979. After having been engaged with two of the brethren in administering to Uncle Roy, it was shown me that he would come through that illness stronger that ever to prepare a people to redeem Zion. I want to go down that road with him, and I desire it with all my heart and soul. I love him as Heber loved Brigham, and Brigham loved Heber. I don't know whether I should have told this in detail as I have, but I felt like doing it so you will know how I feel about President Johnson. I want to tell you a few things here, that have come to me.

Abraham 3

19. And the Lord said unto me: These two facts do exist, that there are two spirits, one being more intelligent than the other; there shall be another more intelligent than they; I am the Lord thy God, I am more intelligent than they all.

20. The Lord thy God sent his angel to deliver thee from the hands of the priest of Elkenah.

21. I dwell in the midst of them all; I now, therefore, have come down unto thee to deliver unto thee the works which my hands have made, wherein my wisdom excelleth them all, for I rule in the heavens above, and in the earth beneath, in all wisdom and prudence, over all the intelligences thine eyes have seen from the beginning; I came down in the beginning in the midst of all the intelligences thou hast seen.

22. Now the Lord had shown unto me, Abraham, the intelligences that were organized before the world was; and among all these there were many of the noble and great ones;

23. And God saw these souls that they were good, and he stood in the midst of them, and he said: These I will make my rulers; for he stood among those that were spirits, and he saw that they were good; and he said unto me: Abraham, thou art one of them; thou wast chosen before thou wast born.

It is my testimony to you that Leroy Sunderland Johnson was one of them, those noble and great ones. He was ordained before he came, as Abraham was. And Joseph Smith tells us a very interesting thing:

The doctrine of eternal judgments belongs to the first principles of the Gospel, in the last days. In relation to the kingdom of God, the devil always sets up his kingdom at the very same time in opposition to God. Every man who has a calling to minister to the inhabitants of the world was ordained to that very purpose in the Grand Council of heaven before this world was. I suppose I was ordained to this very office in that grand council. It is the testimony that I want that I am God's servant, and this people His people.

I want to testify to you that in that Council, Leroy S. Johnson was ordained to come forth at this time and hold this great and mighty calling and do this great and mighty work. Brother Johnson in a sermon, volume 4 of his books, told about how the rulers were all chosen before they came down to the earth in their time. And these are rulers, these keyholders and heads of dispensations -- Moses, Abraham, Noah, Enoch, following down from Adam; and then Elijah, Peter, and then to Joseph in these last days. Brother Johnson stands in the same position to us that Joseph did to the saints in his time. And Joseph is at the elbow of Leroy S. Johnson.

We are looking forward to the time of the setting in order of the House of God, which I feel with all my soul will be done during the administration of President Leroy S. Johnson. So I cannot be grateful enough to the Lord for me and for you that we live at this great and glorious time in which we have been sent forth into the earth, the great and mighty events that are about to take place under the presidency of President Johnson.

We are living in that great and dreadful day, the great day of the Lord when all the prophecies will be fulfilled concerning the last days, the "dreadful day" because of the judgments that must come, and will come to try our people. They are coming upon the House of God first. It is already started, right in the Priesthood, and then this people. Then it is going to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, these judgments that began at the House of God; for President Johnson has said so, and I believe it. May we be prepared for these things, and bear true faith and allegiance and love for our Prophet, who has suffered for us. I am satisfied of that. He is a savior on Mount Zion.

Now, brothers and sisters, we need to take a review of our lives and find out where we stand. Are we making the necessary preparation for these things? We are told to prepare for these great judgments that will be visited upon the earth and upon the wicked. I pray that we will not be among the wicked, any of you. Brother Johnson loves you all more than you know, and he yearns over you. He yearns over all of us. And you do not know the love he bears for us. I know the love I bear for him.

God bless him and strengthen him to accomplish the work as he is called upon to do it, which he is doing and has done even from the beginning of his illness, and is continuing to do so. He is in the hands of God, and we cannot raise a hand against it. May we be humble and contrite, and meek and lowly in heart, and go forth with a broken heart and a contrite spirit, to repent and to prepare for the great day to come, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Love God Through Loyalty and Obedience to the Keyholder;
How to Make Your Calling and Election Sure

Our Prophet, Leroy Johnson, he is too weak and unable to come. Again, we know that he is with us in spirit and we will rejoice in that. It is wonderful having him nearby. The Spirit is all-important. So let us be thankful that he has come by and done what he could. He wants very much to speak. Last Sunday in the South, he fully expected he would be able to come to meeting, and he wanted to speak, but when he was all ready to come, he blacked out.
And afterwards he told us as we visited him, "The Lord did not want me to speak." That is sufficient for me.

* * * * *

We just need to be careful who comes among us without invitation from the Priesthood. I have been praying that the Spirit of God will be with me and what I should say. I trust this will be done to my good and ours, that we may be encouraged as the others have been trying to tell us.

While Brother Truman was speaking the words of the beloved Prophet John,
I can't give you the quotation, but the last verse of the chapter says, "How can ye say ye love the Lord your God whom you cannot see, if you love not your neighbor whom you can see, and among whom you have to labor?" These words always ring in my mind.

D.& C. 84

33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthoods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.
34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.
35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;
36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;
37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom;
therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.
"He that receiveth My servants" receive Him. That is the key that I wanted to bring to us.

39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.
The Aaronic Priesthood is not by oath and covenant. The Melchizedek Priesthood is by oath and covenant. That oath and covenant involves the first law of heaven, obedience to the first two commandments: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself. These are the first things -- obedience to these two first commandments. That is getting right down to the nitty-gritty, brothers and sisters.

Another thing that comes to mind so very strong, that I have been thinking of for the last two days -- speaking of receiving the servant of God, His mouthpiece, His keyholder and personal representative upon the earth. The Master said to the multitude or to the disciples, I don't remember which, "If ye are not for Me, ye are against Me." This involves the grand principle of loyalty to Priesthood, loyalty to God, who is Priesthood.

Are we truly converted? If we are really truly converted, then we will be for the Prophet of God, and we cannot be against him. If there is wavering and doubt about who and what he is, and about his work and mission that he is trying to get us to perform for him, with him, then we are not converted. It is all, all the way, or nothing at all. You cannot compromise the truth, not the least bit, or the devil will take you. You can not compromise with him. Jesus said, "If ye love Me, keep My commandments, all of them. Obey My commandments." It is very simply said, isn't it?

I want to just close by reading the great promise from doing these things. The Prophet Joseph Smith describes so beautifully on page 149. After having made the statement of the doctrine of election, and following the great pleading which Peter made to the people in his day, the mouthpiece of God then, make your calling and election sure:

_The Doctrines of the Resurrection of the Dead and the Eternal Judgment are necessary to preach among the first principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ._

_The Doctrine of Election._ Peter exhorts us to make our calling and election sure. This is the sealing power spoken of by Paul in other places.

"13. In whom ye also trusted, that after ye heard the word of truth, the Gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise,

"14. Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of His glory, that we may be sealed up unto the day of redemption." -- Ephesians, 1st chapter.
This principle ought (in its proper place) to be taught, for God hath not revealed anything to Joseph, but what He will make known unto the Twelve, and even the least Saint may know all things as fast as he is able to bear them, for the day must come when no man need say to his neighbor, Know ye that Lord; for all shall know Him (who remain) from the least to the greatest. How is this to be done? It is to be done by this sealing power, and the other Comforter spoken of, which will be manifest by revelation.

There are two Comforters spoken of. One is the Holy Ghost, the same as given on the day of Pentecost, and that all Saints receive after faith, repentance, and baptism. Those first principles are the ones that President Johnson was sent forth to proclaim -- very simple; the same thing that Noah was required to do in the days of Noah, one hundred twenty years of preaching repentance and preparation lest they be destroyed.

There are two Comforters spoken of. One is the Holy Ghost, the same as given on the day of Pentecost, and that all Saints receive after faith, repentance, and baptism. This first Comforter or Holy Ghost has no other effect than pure intelligence. It is more powerful in expanding the mind, enlightening the understanding, and sorting the intellect with present knowledge, of a man who is of the literal seed of Abraham, than one that is a Gentile, though it may not have half as much visible effect upon the body; for as the Holy Ghost falls upon one of the literal seed of Abraham, it is calm and serene;

The Spirit of God is the Spirit of calmness.

...and his whole soul and body are only exercised by the pure spirit of intelligence; while the effect of the Holy Ghost upon a Gentile, is to purge out the old blood, and make him actually of the seed of Abraham.

If there is any gentile blood left, he cannot go all the way. It must be all or nothing at all. Some men have been described as having too much of the gentile blood in them, and they have had a hell of a time trying to obey the Gospel, to put it quite bluntly.

That man that has none of the blood of Abraham (naturally) must have a new creation by the Holy Ghost. In such a case, there may be more of a powerful effect upon the body, and visible to the eye, than upon an Israelite, while the Israelite at first might be far before the Gentile in pure intelligence.

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation.

I don't know whether I should even be talking about it. But I just give it to you to show what the result would be if we gave our whole heart, might, mind, and strength to sustaining the Prophet of God, and working with him, and being obedient to him. You bearers of the Melchizedek Priesthood made an oath and covenant that you would be obedient to him who is God over you, and who holds the keys of the Priesthood, which Priesthood you bear. It comes by his direction and his consent.

After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, Meek and lowly in heart.

...hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God, and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted.

When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards,

When I think of that I think of the Patriarchal blessing I got, which said that I would face mobs. We have that yet to go through. We have just had nothing yet, compared with what we are going to have to go through.

...at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John, in the 14th chapter, from the 12th to the 27th verses.

Those things cannot be done until we have the temple in Zion. So you see what work we have to do yet. We are still in kindergarten, stumbling around, so many of us. Here are these principles which I mentioned, and which Brother Truman has mentioned.

"16. And I will pray the Father," Says Jesus.

"16. ...and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;"

"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. * *

"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me:

When we come to know that we are accepted of Him, and our course is pleasing unto Him, He is bound to give the blessing, and our faith then becomes perfect; and we are verging on knowledge which comes from the Holy Ghost, and what follows here:

"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions -- Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.

We have got to learn to be prepared to be made members of the Church of the Firstborn. Uncle John used to speak of that considerably.

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings.

And here is how we do it:

A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

So why don't we get down to business, as Uncle Roy says throughout his sermons, all the way. If you are not for him you are against him. He was aptly named Leroy. That means in the French language "The King". It was thrilling to hear Brother Winston a month ago, when he was in our Priesthood class, when he got up to speak said, "I feel to say, long live the king!" And I promise you in the name of the Lord that he will live long, and into the Millennium. Under him, and Joseph, and Jesus Christ, who are close to him, the City of Zion will be built. The great temple in Zion will be built. The Ten Tribes will have come under his administration, and they are going to have to be taught. Can you imagine the missionary work that is going to have to be done? Are we getting prepared for it? They have got to be taught, these Ten Tribes of Israel. The one tribe of Judah will go and build the Old Jerusalem, and then Section 133 tells us the two Jerusalems, the New and the Old, will be brought together in one land, and the face of the earth will be changed.

These are the very close events that are about to come to pass. Uncle Roy once said the Ten Tribes could come any day. Can you imagine anything that would put this earth into commotion like that would? The judgments are about to be poured out, and this land of Joseph cleaned of every wicked person upon it. The overflowing scourge, the desolating sickness, the earthquakes, the floods, the hail, the storms, and all other many, many desolations are about to take place. We don't know the order of things, but we better be prepared. That is what Uncle Roy is yearning over us for, that we will be prepared for it, that we might survive the great holocaust, and go on to redeem Israel and redeem Zion, and gather all of Israel together. That is the great work ahead.

I pray that we may be humble, and contrite, and meek and lowly in heart, and teachable; then, with a full purpose in heart, with all that we have in us, go forward to make our calling and election sure, standing by the Prophet, and Joseph, and our Lord Jesus Christ. God help us to this end, I pray, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Oath and Covenant of the Melchizedek Priesthood;
Preparation and Repentance;
Must Abide the First Principles of the Gospel to Receive Higher Blessings; Judgments of God on This Generation

It is good to meet again, brothers and sisters. Sorry to report that President Johnson has been too ill the last two weeks to make the trip up here as usual. He has his whole family down there, but he is doing well. I got a good report yesterday. He was doing better yesterday, and he told me to carry on here. I trust that we will call upon the Lord with faith in our prayers to strengthen and comfort him to be able to do his work which he continues to do. But we can feel his spirit here, as well from down there as if he were over at his home here, or if he were here personally. I do not know if he has been able to attend the meeting down south today, but we will find out later. So, with his blessings upon us, I trust that we will have a time of rejoicing here today, and hear the words of the Lord given us, that we may be comforted and strengthened and encouraged to go on the great journey, down the road with President Johnson.

*I * * * * *

I feel, my dear brothers and sisters, that I can make the greatest contribution to the time I occupy in standing before you, by reading a wonderful sermon of President Johnson. In his absence, I hope you would appreciate my doing so, because it is very appropriate at this present time, and it would be very encouraging and uplifting to us in hearing the words of the Prophet. This is given March 28, 1976, in Colorado City.

I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for the privilege of being here and seeing this room filled with people who have come out to listen. I am grateful for the attention you are showing us in calling you together today. I greatly feel my weakness in standing before you, and I trust that the Lord will bless me with words to encourage you to keep on striving, for it is through this that we gain our salvation. We have been instructed by revelation to strive daily; and as fast as we repent, the Lord will forgive us of our sins. He expects us to live up to our agreement with Him.
That brings to mind, brothers and sisters, the great truth that we brethren who bear the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, have received that Priesthood by oath and covenant. The greatest sins that are committed by the children of God are those in which they break their covenants made with God and with one another. It is covenant breakers who turn against the servant of God, His Prophet, and God Himself.

The Prophet Joseph Smith said the holy Melchizedek Priesthood comes by oath and covenant unto us, which is conferred upon us at the time hands were laid upon us in the ordination and the conferring of the holy Priesthood. He expects us to live up to our agreement with Him. Our agreement is -- our oath and covenant, brethren -- is to obey every word of God that is given us through His Prophet; therefore it is a matter of obeying the Prophet, who the Lord will never, never allow to lead His people astray. Yet we have had some among us, in the division that has taken place, those who say that the Prophet Leroy Johnson has given us a delusion.

I feel constrained to, in this connection, when we talk about living up to our agreements, our covenants made with our Father and our God, to read the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and how serious it is to break our covenants and betray them.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell.

To break one's covenants is to betray, isn't it?

All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

Our covenants, brethren, bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, are to obey the Prophet, who holds the keys to our salvation. The first great law of heaven is obedience. To disobey is to betray, isn't it? The first law of heaven is obedience. The first commandments that we are to obey are to love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our might, our mind, and strength; and the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

So, the act of betrayal is breaking of covenants -- marriage covenants, that is a law of the holy Priesthood, and this Celestial Law of Marriage -- to break our covenants in that law, and all other covenants made at the hands of the holy Priesthood and this mouthpiece of God, the one whom reposes the Holy Ghost to be given and administered and dispensed to us through the ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and of the holy Priesthood. We all know what our covenants are in marriage and the Celestial Law, and what the penalties are for disobedience or betrayal or the breaking of those covenants.

In the First Section of the Doctrine & Covenants, the Lord tells us that this Gospel is unto all men, and it doesn't make any difference who they are, where they live, whether they live on the land or the isles of the sea or in foreign countries or upon this land, it is the same, He says. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is to every person upon the earth. His instruction to us is to preach nothing but repentance to this generation; repent of your sins and shortcomings and apply to your lives the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He told the Prophet Joseph to bear this testimony to the world and all who would believe would be saved, and those who would not believe would be damned. This, He meant.

He commanded Joseph to organize a church in 1830. Joseph did what he was told to do. He called a few elders together and organized the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He gave them commandments to live. Joseph did all that the Lord commanded him to do in setting in order the House of God.

Setting it up in his day, in his administration in heading up the Dispensation of the Fullness of Times under our Lord Jesus Christ.

But in 1832, we were placed under condemnation because we treated lightly the things we had received. And He said, "You will remain under this condemnation until you repent and come unto me and do what I say." He says, "My work is not man's work." It is altogether different. He says, "Repent of your sins and be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ and have hands laid upon you for the gift of the Holy Ghost." In doing so, you covenant with the Lord that you will sin no more; and you will come out of the world; and you will do the bidding of Christ, our Savior.
This has been the cry of the servants of God ever since the Lord and our Savior visited the Prophet Joseph Smith: Repent ye, repent ye, and be baptized for the remission of your sins and sin no more, and then the Lord can bless you. We have been laboring for over a hundred and fifty years and we are no nearer the goal of salvation than we were in Joseph Smith's time.

Isn't that a sad commentary?

We are a different people, of course. The people that were with Joseph are all gone. We are a product of their posterity, but we are not as good, or not any better than our forefathers. If we were, we would have the Kingdom of God, and it would be rolling on today. We would be in the midst of the redemption of Zion. But we are not there. We are still preaching preparation -- preparing ourselves to be used in this great redeeming work, which will take place during the days of the Millennial Reign, or the thousand years of peace that has been spoken of by the holy prophets. We cannot receive these higher blessings until we have complied with the first principles of the Gospel. I don't know very many people who have done what they covenanted to do at the water's edge when they were baptized and came forth.

Those were our first covenants, and they were to obey the commandments of Jesus Christ. All who would obey Him would be saved, and He suffered for our sins. If we would only believe and obey Him, and draw near unto God and unto His Prophet, then He draws near unto us.

We cannot receive these higher blessings until we have complied with the first principles of the Gospel. I don't know very many people who have done what they covenanted to do at the water's edge when they were baptized and came forth. There have been many many people who have come and been rebaptized and rebaptized.

I have had a part with some in having been baptized four times. One recently came and said, "Can I be baptized again?" I said, "That is mockery."

The Lord has had prophets upon the earth almost continually since the beginning of time. During that time, there have been a few who have prepared themselves for a glorious resurrection. Out of all those who have prepared themselves for a glorious resurrection will come the man-power of the Millennial Reign. Why do I say this? Because the Lord plainly tells it in the Doctrine & Covenants. I hold in my hand the standard works of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and of the Kingdom of God: The Book of Mormon, the Doctrine & Covenants, and the Pearl of Great Price. In these books, we have all of the Gospel — all that is necessary to prepare ourselves for the Millennial Reign.

We have it all there. All that we have in there will lead us and bring us to a point where we can be endowed in the holy temples of our God. We have been given endowments. The holy marriage covenant is an endowment. It is a covenant and an endowment.

In these books, we have all of the Gospel — all that is necessary to prepare ourselves for the Millennial Reign. In these revelations, we are told that Zion cannot be redeemed only upon the principles of the Celestial Kingdom, and in the Celestial Kingdom there is no sin. There is no evil there. The Lord has shown His hand in our defense from the beginning of time until now.

This is the Gospel that was taught by Enoch to his people, and then on to Jared and his people after the great confusion of languages at the tower of Babel. This is the same Gospel that Jared carried with his people to this continent. Lehi was told to leave Jerusalem, and the Lord would lead him to a land choice above all other lands. He had him take the records with him, so He could raise up a pure people. From time to time they kept the commandments of God, and they were blessed continually. But they had to be destroyed. Both of these great nations had to be destroyed because of their wickedness.

He has said that those who dwell upon this continent shall serve the God of the land or when they are ripened in iniquity, they will have to be destroyed.

We are at that point.

Joseph Smith told us that there were those living in his day whose eyes would not close in death until they would see great destructions upon this land. Hailstorms and great winds, earthquakes, wars, and diseases of different names and natures would sweep this land of its inhabitants to prepare the way for the redemption of His work. We are right on the verge of it. That is the reason the Lord is urging us to preach repentance to this generation, that there might be a people who have faith enough to be counted worthy of the blessings that Brother Timpson has been talking to us about. We are not going to receive these blessings again until we are worthy of being called to go to the House of the Lord and receive them. So we have got to be prepared.

We are not prepared today, unless we take a sharp turn in the road and begin to humble ourselves before the Lord, for He has plainly told us that we would cry night and day for deliverance. This, I firmly believe. I believe that Christ meant what He said, "Go teach this Gospel to the people of the world and all who will believe will be saved, and those who will not believe will be damned."

Who are the wicked? Those who come not unto Jesus Christ and believe Him and obey Him. There are very few who do that, very few.

To believe is to do the things that the Lord has asked us to do. It isn't to do good today, on the Sabbath day, come together and listen to the words of the prophets, or the servants of God, then mingle with the wicked and partake of their sins the next day, then next Sunday come and repent again. This isn't repentance. Repentance means to throw off all evil, every whit, and let the Spirit of God take its place. He says the first great commandment is to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength; and how can you love Him if you serve Him one minute and criticize those around you the next?

"How can we say we love God if we love not one another? That is impossible," said the Prophet John, the Beloved.

You have got to come out of it, everyone of you, man, woman, and child, and begin applying to your lives the sacred principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and quit treating lightly the blessings we receive from the hands of the Priesthood. Let us be doers of the work. Let us come out of our shells. Let us come out of the world and be not partakers of her sins, for this is the Gospel that the Lord has left with us. Repent ye, repent ye, He said.

This is a great day, my brothers and sisters, in which we live. And I tell you the Lord is kind to us to shower His blessings upon us as He has. Little do you know the sorrows and heartaches that lie in front of you, in the near future. Brother Kimball put it this way, "There will be a test, a test, and who will be able to stand the test?"
When the Lord gave Joseph the vision, he saw what was going to happen to the people before the Millennial Reign, before Zion was redeemed. He saw the sufferings of the people. He saw great bloodshed. To put it in his words, he said that there would be a period of bloodshed that has never had a parallel upon this nation. Are we prepared to meet such a condition? This great land of ours has got to be cleansed, and a righteous people have got to take its place. What a wonderful opportunity you have, and I have. So let us rid ourselves of all iniquity. It doesn't make any difference how little it is, let us get it out of the house. Let us kick it out into the wilderness and let it go down with the unrighteous; but let us be prepared. For this Gospel of the Kingdom is unto all men who will prepare themselves. What a wonderful opportunity we have to prepare ourselves, because no place else upon the earth will you hear such doctrine taught as you hear right here among this people.

Now, I pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding, and that we will hasten to humble ourselves before the Lord and to bring ourselves to a point where we can pray night and day. With meek and lowly hearts.

You don't have to be on your knees all the time. You can have a prayer in your hearts; and when you have a prayer in your hearts, the evil goes out, when you are praying to our Father. So let us not draw a long breath unless we can ask God to help us to overcome our weaknesses and imperfections, that we can hasten to become a mighty and a strong people, one that the Lord can protect with a cloud by day and with a pillar of fire by night. He said that He would do it if we would prepare ourselves for it. But we have got to be prepared for it. We have got to rid our community of all evil. So let us hasten to do something about it, my brothers and sisters. Let us become the people that the Lord is looking for that He might commence the redemption of His great and glorious work in the earth, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen. And amen.

Zion's Camp Is to Go Without Murmuring;
Why President Johnson Has Been Suffering for Seven Years

I deeply appreciate what has been given us here today, all these wonderful testimonies, grand principles that have been spoken of to help us in our daily lives, and to grow in the wisdom, knowledge, and understanding from these things that have been given us. I pray for the help of the Lord in the remarks that I shall make here today, a few words.

While I was listening to these words about complaining, I am reminded, of course, by the promise which was given to Zion's Camp; if they could go under their head, who was God over them, Joseph Smith, Jun., to accomplish their mission that they were called to perform to redeem Zion -- even though they had been driven out of Zion -- they were sent and could have redeemed Zion even then, for the set time had been given, September of 1836. They went on that journey in the Spring of 1834. Some grand words were given by the Prophet as they went on that journey, after they had already broken their covenants by complaining and accusing, accusing their head.

I charged the Saints not to follow the example of the adversary in accusing the brethren, and said, "If you do not accuse each other, God will not accuse you. If you have no accuser you will enter heaven, and if you will follow the revelations and instructions which God gives you through me, I will take you into heaven as my back load."

Isn't that marvelous? -- the back load of the Prophet of God, who is the head of this dispensation!

If you will not accuse me, I will not accuse you. If you will throw a cloak of charity over my sins, I will over yours -- for charity covereth a multitude of sins. What many people call sin is not sin; I do many things to break down superstition, and I will break it down"; I referred to the curse of Ham for laughing at Noah, while in his wine, but doing no harm. Noah was a righteous man, and yet he drank wine and became intoxicated; the Lord did not forsake him in consequence thereof, for he retained all the power of his Priesthood, and when he was accused by Canaan, he cursed him by the Priesthood which he held, and the Lord had respect to his word, and the Priesthood which he held, notwithstanding he was drunk, and the curse remains upon the posterity of Canaan until the present day. (November 7, 1841.) D.H.C. 4:445-446.

I do not read that to justify drinking. Some have, but it just gives an example of what the Prophet was trying to say here. But going further regarding the Camp of Zion, I read this before, but it explains why they failed, almost before they began.

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1898, Page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together. He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us. He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us. He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. You have not realized my position before the Lord.

We have not realized the position of Leroy Johnson before the Lord, by and large, and I have spent considerable time trying to bring before this people the true position of Leroy Johnson in the scheme of the work of God in this last day, and the great work he has been called to perform.

"...But there is a chastisement before this camp." He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels.

You brethren who hold the Melchizedek Priesthood, you Elders, remember when you receive the Melchizedek Priesthood you received it by oath and covenant that you would obey the keyholder through whom you receive that Priesthood, by virtue of his authority and power as the keyholder. That, very simply put, is the oath and covenant we make, brethren.

In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here,

And others fell. Fourteen died of cholera because of that chastisement which the Lord brought upon them.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand to stay it, in his great love, and mercy, and kindness for his brothers.

"...and I came very near falling by it myself."

I just wanted to bring that before us. We are now in the process of going as a Camp of Zion, or preparing for it. Section 103 tells us of that great journey which is going to take place, Jesus Christ Himself going before. So, Zion must be redeemed by power, and He would raise up a man to lead that great concourse; and that man is Leroy Johnson, I testify unto you. His angels would go before and Himself, the Lord Jesus Christ, and in time they would obtain the goodly land, and build up and redeem Zion.

Many of us, brothers and sisters, have been wondering some things about this great man that we are following. I feel like telling a few things that I was led to give down south last Sunday. And leading up to that, there are some marvelous things that were given to Brigham Young as he was in the midst of leading the camp of the Latter-day Saints to the tops of the mountains, where Joseph wanted to bring us, bring his people. This was given to Brigham Young at Winter Quarters:

D. & C. 136
31. My people must be tried in all things, that they may be prepared to receive the glory that I have for them, even the glory of Zion; and he that will not bear chastisement is not worthy of my kingdom.
32. Let him that is ignorant learn wisdom by humbling himself and calling upon the Lord his God, that his eyes may be opened that he may see, and his ears opened that he may hear;
33. For my Spirit is sent forth into the world to enlighten the humble and contrite, and to the condemnation of the ungodly.
34. Thy brethren have rejected you and your testimony, even the nation that has driven you out;
35. And now cometh the day of their calamity, even the days of sorrow, like a woman that is taken in travail; and their sorrow shall be great unless they speedily repent, yea, very speedily.
36. For they killed the prophets, and them that were sent unto them; and they have shed innocent blood, which crieth from the ground against them.
37. Therefore, marvel not at these things, for ye are not yet pure; ye can not yet bear my glory; but ye shall behold it if ye are faithful in keeping all my words that I have given you, from the days of Adam to Abraham, from Abraham to Moses, and from Moses to Jesus and his apostles, and from Jesus and his apostles to Joseph Smith, whom I did call upon by mine angels, my ministering servants, and by mine own voice out of the heavens, to bring forth my work;
38. Which foundation he did lay, and was faithful; and I took him to myself.

39. Many have marveled because of his death; but it was needful that he should seal his testimony with his blood,
That was required of Joseph the Prophet, the head of this dispensation, and one of the Gods of this world. He is gone to take his place there.
39. ...that he might be honored and the wicked might be condemned.

I want to paraphrase that as to the work and mission of President Johnson. "But it was needful that he should suffer," his long-suffering he has had, lo, these many years -- seven and a half years. And the end isn't yet, that great suffering, "that he might be honored and the wicked might be condemned." That is what he has been called upon to do, and I call that the work of a savior, through that great suffering. It has many meanings in the implications when we look upon it. Why all this long pain? And people are getting to wonder how much longer. Well, don't worry about it. He has never murmured. He has never complained. He has borne it as a great savior of this people in this day and time. A wise man said this:

Pain is the deepest thing we have in our nature, and union through pain and suffering has always seemed more real and holy than any other.

President Johnson has been called upon to suffer in order to unite a people. He told me that this thing that he has been going through has united his family. Shouldn't we be willing to suffer pain to accomplish a thing like that, if it is necessary? It is doing those two great things -- saving a people and preparing a people through his suffering, and setting an example of not murmuring, not complaining; but doing it because it is the will of God, to accomplish God's purposes in the earth, and enable him to fulfill his great mission. He mentions here, it is also brought about to condemn the wicked, his traducers, and his aspiring "friends", so-called. Bear that in mind, brothers and sisters. And to be encouraged, I read a few words from chapter 21 of Third Nephi.

3 Nephi 21
9. For in that day,
Says the Lord Jesus Christ to the Nephites, looking down to this day, the restoration of the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and the Kingdom of God upon the earth:

9. ...for my sake shall the Father work a work, which shall be a great and a marvelous work among them; and there shall be among them those who will not believe it, although a man shall declare it unto them.

Three of the Council did not believe it on March 18, 1978, when the Lord had the Prophet declare that the 1880 Revelation was a delusion, that they who loved not the truth might believe a lie, and thus be damned. Read it in "The Coming Crisis" how it was accomplished. I will not take time for it, but I want to get to the point of who this man is in the hands of our Lord Jesus Christ.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; They who would not believe and who aspired, have been expecting him to die so that he could be out of the way, and they could accomplish their aspirations and ambitions. One predicted in December 1979, that Leroy Johnson would be dead and buried in sixty days, and there was a conspiracy.

10. But behold, the life of my servant shall be in my hand; therefore they shall not hurt him, Leroy Johnson.

10. ...although he shall be marred because of them. And made to suffer because of them; and thus bring them under condemnation.

10. ...Yet I will heal him, for I will show unto them that my wisdom is greater than the cunning of the devil.

He has been so near to the brink so many times, they cannot be counted. And as they have come along, I have felt to say and have said it many times: "This, too, shall pass, and he shall go on and accomplish his work. He shall be renewed and come through and do a great and a mighty work of preparing a people to redeem Zion." That has been my faith through these years, and I hope you will cling to it also. The devil is working harder now than at any time in my memory. The sifting is not over. It is going on. So who will be remembered, and remain true and faithful by following this man and going down the road with him, the end of that road being the city and the temple of Zion, to build it up, to gather Israel, and to bring forth the Millennium, the great Millennium when we shall have a thousand years of peace?
Now I pray the Lord will bless us, brothers and sisters, and stand faithful and true. Let us learn to build up one another and above all to love the Lord, our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength and to love our Prophet as a God over us; it is all the same, if you love him you love the Lord, his God and our God and may we be faithful and true that we may be exalted with the Gods. The Prophet said, "Some would be raised up from the grave to be angels and others will be raised up to become Gods." That is those who go on. Those who do not, who do not continue increasing, will turn around and decrease and they will go back to dissolution and suffer the second death. May we be faithful and true, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Lord's Word to the School of the Prophets Applies to Us;
Why the Saints Were Driven Out of Jackson County, Missouri;
Story of the Apostasy of 1978

It is good to be together again, brothers and sisters. President Johnson was up for a couple of days. He had to go back yesterday afternoon on account of sickness, and he said for us to carry on and he would be praying for us and be with us with his spirit. I heard from him this morning, and he is feeling better. He told what we heard last night of the passing of Idella Thompson in Creston, British Columbia, Canada. I trust, brothers and sisters, we will draw in the wanderings of our minds and do all necessary to make this a time of rejoicing and of learning and getting the Spirit of God, that we may worship together in love and truth on this occasion.

* * * * *

I desire with all my heart to have the direction of the Holy Ghost in making remarks that I feel would be of great encouragement, and draw a picture before us along the lines that have been spoken here today, this brotherhood. What the brethren were called upon to do, as outlined in Section 88 of the Doctrine and Covenants, is something that we can apply as we work together in our families; learning to love one another, love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our brother and our sister as ourselves, that we might become one people.
This was a Priesthood situation that was involved. It involved the gathering together of a Priesthood school, a School of the Prophets. I think this might help us to get a hold of something to organize and gather ourselves together, and we would meet in the spirit that is given in these words of the Lord to the Prophet Joseph Smith. Let us place in view our Prophet Leroy Johnson, as we speak of the President of the School of the Prophets. Joseph Smith conducted that school. In Kirtland, December 27, 1832, was when this revelation was given, and was designated by the Prophet "The Olive Leaf", a marvelous thing. I commend the reading of it to you. We are to gather brethren together as we would also our families, you heads of families; to bring them together and act under the same principles that the School of the Prophets acted under:

D.& C. 88

117. Therefore, verily I say unto you, my friends, call your solemn assembly, as I have commanded you.

118. And as all have not faith, seek ye diligently and teach one another words of wisdom; yea, seek ye out of the best books words of wisdom; seek learning, even by study and also by faith.

119. Organize yourselves; prepare every needful thing; and establish a house, even a house of prayer, a house of fasting, a house of faith, a house of learning, a house of glory, a house of order, a house of God; Apply that to your families, your homes, dedicated to the service of God, and enable us to make them a temple, consecrated to the Lord.

120. That your incomings may be in the name of the Lord; that your outgoings may be in the name of the Lord; that all your salutations may be in the name of the Lord, with uplifted hands unto the Most High.

121. Therefore, cease from all your light speeches, from all laughter, from all your lustful desires, from all your pride and light-mindedness, and from all your wicked doings.

122. Appoint among yourselves a teacher, and let not all be spokesmen at once; but let one speak at a time and let all listen unto his sayings, that when all have spoken that all may be edified of all, and that every man may have an equal privilege.

123. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.
Cease to be idle; It is the devil's workshop, idleness.

...cease to be unclean; cease to find fault one with another; cease to sleep longer than is needful; retire to thy bed early, that ye may not be weary; arise early, that your bodies and your minds may be invigorated.

And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.

Pray always, that ye may not faint, until I come. Behold, and lo, I will come quickly, and receive you unto myself. Amen.

These are the preparations that we must make, brothers and sisters, which President Johnson has been speaking about lo, these many, many, many years. Coming to the School of the Prophets:

And again, the order of the house prepared for the presidency of the school of the prophets, established for their instruction in all things that are expedient for them, even for all the officers of the church, or in other words, those who are called to the ministry in the church, beginning at the high priests, even down to the deacons --

And this shall be the order of the house of the presidency of the school: He that is appointed to be president, or teacher, shall be found standing in his place, in the house which shall be prepared for him.

Therefore, he shall be first in the house of God, in a place that the congregation in the house may hear his words carefully and distinctly, not with loud speech.

And when he cometh into the house of God, for he should be first in the house -- behold, this is beautiful, that he may be an example --

Let him offer himself in prayer upon his knees before God, in token or remembrance of the everlasting covenant.

And when any shall come in after him, let the teacher arise, and, with uplifted hands to heaven, yea, even directly, salute his brother or brethren with these words:

Art thou a brother or brethren? I salute you in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, in token or remembrance of the everlasting covenant, in which covenant I receive you to fellowship, in a determination that is fixed, immovable, and unchangeable, to be your friend and brother through the grace of God in the bonds of love, to walk in all the

134. And he that is found unworthy of this salutation shall not have place among you; for ye shall not suffer that mine house shall be polluted by him.

135. And he that cometh in and is faithful before me, and is a brother, or if they be brethren, they shall salute the president or teacher with uplifted hands to heaven, with this same prayer and covenant, or by saying Amen, in token of the same.

136. Behold, verily, I say unto you, this is an ensample unto you for a salutation to one another in the house of God, in the school of the prophets.

137. And ye are called to do this by prayer and thanksgiving, as the Spirit shall give utterance in all your doings in the house of the Lord, in the school of the prophets, that it may become a sanctuary, a tabernacle of the Holy Spirit to your edification.

138. And ye shall not receive any among you into this school save he is clean from the blood of this generation;

139. And he shall be received by the ordinance of the washing of feet, for unto this end was the ordinance of the washing of feet instituted.

140. And again, the ordinance of washing feet is to be administered by the president, or presiding elder of the church.

141. It is to be commenced with prayer; and after partaking of bread and wine, he is to gird himself according to the pattern given in the thirteenth chapter of John's testimony concerning me.

President Johnson instituted this in the Priesthood Council. It went on for a good many years, and it did some good, learning to love on another. But there came a time when we were put to the test. This School of the Prophets was organized in 1832. The Lectures on Faith, given by the Prophet Joseph Smith, was their text in the first one. They had a School of the Prophets in Zion under the direction of Parley P. Pratt, after they had been called to gather together to build a city unto the Lord. They all failed. They were finally driven out. The Lord, He being importuned by the Prophet, told him why the people were driven out from Zion after having made many sacrifices. But they had gone together.
It is interesting that the Prophet himself was not there. The people were sent out there under the direction of Bishop Edward Partridge. All the instructions were given him to govern the people there in the Holy United Order. That failed, and they were finally driven out under terrible conditions and circumstances. The Haun's Mill Massacre took place in the course of those drivings.

But when crying unto the Lord, the Prophet said, "Why have your people been driven out and scourged, their homes taken, their crops destroyed, their women ravished?" The Lord answers in Section 101.

D.&C. 101

1. Verily I say unto you, concerning your brethren who have been afflicted, and persecuted, and cast out from the land of their inheritance --
2. I, the Lord, have suffered the affliction to come upon them, wherewith they have been afflicted, in consequence of their transgressions;
3. Yet I will own them, and they shall be mine in that day when I shall come to make up my jewels.
4. Therefore, they must needs be chastened and tried, even as Abraham, who was commanded to offer up his only son.
5. For all those who will not endure chastening, but deny me, cannot be sanctified.
6. Behold, I say unto you, there were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and strifes, and lustful and covetous desires among them; therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.
7. They were slow to hearken unto the voice of the Lord their God; therefore, the Lord their God is slow to hearken unto their prayers, to answer them in the day of their trouble.
8. In the day of their peace they esteemed lightly my counsel; but, in the day of their trouble, of necessity they feel after me.
9. Verily I say unto you, notwithstanding their sins, my bowels are filled with compassion towards them. I will not utterly cast them off; and in the day of wrath I will remember mercy.
10. I have sworn, and the decree hath gone forth by a former commandment which I have given unto you, that I would let fall the sword of mine indignation in behalf of my people; and even as I have said, it shall come to pass.
11. Mine indignation is soon to be poured out without measure upon all nations; and this will I do when the cup of their iniquity is full.
12. And in that day all who are found upon the watchtower, or in other words, all mine Israel, shall be saved.
13. And they that have been scattered shall be gathered.
14. And all they who have mourned shall be comforted.
15. And all they who have given their lives for my name shall be crowned.
16. Therefore, let your hearts be comforted concerning Zion; for all flesh is in mine hands; be still and know that I am God.
17. Zion shall not be moved out of her place, notwithstanding her children are scattered.
18. They that remain, and are pure in heart, shall return, and come to their inheritances, they and their children, with songs of everlasting joy, to build up the waste places of Zion --
19. And all these things that the prophets might be fulfilled.

There were other efforts to live the United Order after the saints came out here. Among the brethren in Brigham Young's day he organized another School of the Prophets, and that fizzled out. Brigham Young said that he had not in thirty-two years been able to get the Twelve together as one and be united. John Taylor had to go in hiding because he did not have the support of the Twelve. He organized a School of the Prophets, and that failed within one year. Ours failed after that great trial of our faith when the Lord sent the Prophet to go into our meeting and tell them that there had been many serious things said before the people over the pulpit which had to be corrected. Turning to one, he said, "You have said that the parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132 is not true. Would you change the word of God?" The rejoinder was, "What about the 1880 Revelation?" "That," said the Prophet, "was and is a delusion the Lord permitted satan to give to Wilford Woodruff, that they who love not the truth might believe a lie and be damned;" after which, President Johnson asked me to read the 28th Section of the Doctrine and Covenants, in which Oliver Cowdery was reprimanded for trying to get revelation and working with John E. Page, who had a seer stone. They were told that the Prophet Joseph was the only one, being the head, to receive revelation for the Church of Jesus Christ and Zion and her cause. Wilford Woodruff was not the head. John Taylor was.
Well, the result of that was, upon being called upon to respond, three of the men said, "We acknowledge you as President of the Priesthood, Brother Johnson." The 1880 Revelation acknowledged John Taylor as President of Priesthood, or President of the Quorum of Twelve; but that was all they would say.

Two of us, Uncle Rich and I, told President Johnson, "I accept what you have given as coming from God, and I am with you all the way, President Johnson." That very moment, those who revolted against that which came from God, in revolting, the devil took power. We have seen the results since. Things continued on, but things went from bad to worse, until we now have this great division among our people.

Well, brothers and sisters, we have far to go. We should learn lessons from these things. Our President is suffering. Our Prophet is suffering, and has become marred because of them who would not believe his words, as outlined in chapter 21 of Third Nephi, which I spoke upon two weeks ago.

Well, brothers and sisters, we have these encouraging words of the Lord spoken of in Section 121, and those same things are being held out to us today, but the time is getting very, very short. I go along with Brother Wendell. There is a spirit growing up among this people seeking to draw near unto our Prophet and head, and you may be sure, he will draw near unto us. Draw near unto God, and God will draw near unto us. He is our god. He is God over us. We do not worship him, but he is God over us because he is the holder of the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers. The Holy Ghost is the power of the Priesthood. God is Priesthood; Priesthood is God; and this man who holds the keys of the holy Priesthood over us is therefore God over us. Can we see it and understand it? And yet we have treated lightly the things that he has given, his sermons.

I was about to read one of his sermons for my contribution to these services today. We don't have time. But I felt impressed to draw attention to these things. We have yet to build up Zion, and we have yet to draw nearer to this Prophet, and become one with him, and become pure in heart; for Zion is the pure in heart, loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and our love for this tangible head with us, who is God over us, and obeying every word that comes from God through him. Now he is suffering, as outlined in chapter 21 of Third Nephi. Yet he will be healed by the Lord Jesus Christ. He was the one speaking, "I will heal him." By what means, that will be up to the Lord. So, let us not be discouraged, brothers and sisters, as the Prophet goes on suffering.

He made a nice remark not long since. He said, "When I see good old Job over there, I'll have a few things to tell him, too." Well, they are of the same order. He is of the same order as all of the holy Prophets and rulers who have been sent to the earth, all ordained before they came here to that very purpose, to become rulers in their time. Leroy S. Johnson is that ruler today, called to prepare a people, receive the Ten Tribes, teach them, bring the remnant of Jacob from the South and the Ten Tribes from the North; to build the holy city and the temple, and redeem Zion. That is his work and mission. I testify of it to you, and pray that we may all become one with him, that we may move as one people. He often speaks of how he has got to have five hundred Elders, true and faithful, pure in heart, to go down the road with him without murmuring, and go as one man with the power of the Holy Ghost upon them. None will be able to overcome them in this great work. Of course, the wicked will have been driven off from the face of the land, and we are approaching that at our very doors.

So, these words given to the School of the Prophets would be a glorious way of combining a group of men, five hundred strong, who would go and do that great work. May we be one among them, brethren. Let us walk down the road with President and Prophet Leroy Johnson. The end of that road is the holy city and the temple of Zion, from whence will be sent out the Elders for the last time to gather the remainder of Israel among the nations. Then will come down Zion from above, and the glorious coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus, however, on the quiet, will be leading that concourse of men, bearers of the holy Priesthood, pure in heart, with Joseph and Leroy Johnson; and who knows but what the other keyholders who have followed Joseph in this dispensation, the angels that were to go before, as well as many others, perhaps. There is to be a great gathering in Adam-ondi-Ahman with our Father Adam in the course of those proceedings. It is a glorious picture. Read Section 133.

Daniel in his seventh chapter speaks of the Ancient of Days; he means the oldest man, our Father Adam, Michael, he will call his children together and hold a council with them to prepare them for the coming of the Son of Man. He (Adam) is the father of the human family, and presides over the spirits of all men, and all that have had the keys must stand before him in this grand council. This may take place before some of us leave this stage of action.

It shows you how eminent.

The Son of Man stands before him, and there is given him glory and dominion. Adam delivers up his stewardship to Christ, that which was delivered to him as holding the keys of the universe, but retains his standing as head of the human family.

Glorious things are before us. Is it not worth every ounce of our effort, every ounce of our desires to serve God and keep His commandments and stand clean before the Lord, that He may bless us?; which I pray may be our happy lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
his first priority to it. You all received letters from Brother Warren, outlining the position of the administration of this school. That letter was presented to President Johnson by Warren and myself, before it was sent out; and he accepted it wholeheartedly and said, "I will back you all the way."

So I want you to understand that President Johnson has a great deal to do with the operation of this institution of learning, and the standards that have been set out in this letter. The rules of obedience and dress code, and social relationships between boys and girls are rules that he said, "I tried to get set up in the Colorado City Academy, but I could not get it done." Isn't that how he put it?

So I just want to impress on you that President Johnson is very much a part of this, and his heart is in it. He would have loved to have been here, but he is too ill and had to leave early, go down Saturday again. We miss him greatly, and I am sure his spirit is with us, going with us as we go along here today. I want to also back up Brother Warren in his labors. I am administrator and a trustee, and Brother Steed is a trustee, and Brother Wilford Draper a trustee.

Now I want to invoke the blessings of God upon you all here today, and upon Brother Warren particularly, and all who take part, and say God bless you in your labors, in your studies, and in all of your efforts.

I would just like to read some words of wisdom that the Lord gave at the time that the City of Zion in Independence, Missouri, and the temple site were dedicated by the Prophet, and several Elders and leaders of the Church at that time -- August 1, of 1831 -- giving instructions on how they were to go about gathering and engaging in their labors in that sacred land.

D.& C. 58

25. Wherefore, let them bring their families to this land, as they shall counsel between themselves and me.

26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.

Follow these words, children and parents.

27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will,

Under the Spirit of God.

27. ...and bring to pass much righteousness;
This is what we should be anxiously engaged in.

28. For the power is in them,
The power of the Holy Spirit of God.
28. ...wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

What you put into it, you will get out of it in exact proportion.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness,
In disobedience, so to speak.
29. ...the same is damned.

30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?
31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?

32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.
33. Then they say in their hearts: This is not the work of the Lord, for his promises are not fulfilled. But wo unto such, for their reward lurketh beneath, and not from above.
34. And now I give unto you further directions concerning this land.

And now we give you further directions concerning our labors in this fine school, under the direction of President Johnson. God bless you, amen.

* * * * *

Again I want to tell you, President Johnson loves you all, and he is looking to the young and the middle-aged, especially the young, to get together to redeem Zion -- five hundred the Lord has called for. He speaks often of the five hundred he needs. So he needs you; and you need him, believe me. You do need him, and you should learn to be one with him, to love him with all your heart. He is God over us. Learn to love one another. No jarrings, no strifes, no contentions, no envyings, and no lustful and covetous desires can be among those who redeem Zion. It is because these things were in the people of Zion when they were brought there, and after two years were driven out; and those were the reasons that the Lord said He had to drive them out, or be permitted to be driven out; and thus they polluted the land.

So let us keep ourselves clean and pure -- clean hands and pure hearts -- and go forth rejoicing for the opportunities that are laid before us. And again, my deepest appreciation to you instructors, and assistants, and to Warren, and all of the ones who have to do with this school; for your time and labors, offered freely, anxiously engaged. That is how I read you, and pray God's blessings to be upon you and prosper you during this school year.

Remember, children, you are the children of God. His eyes are upon you. His ears are open for your prayers, and for your pleadings to get and keep His Holy Spirit. Get the Spirit of God and keep it -- that is the fundamental rule of our lives -- and all will be right, said the Prophet Joseph Smith.

I commend you and recommend you to your school authorities here, children. You have no right to do wrong. You have the agency to do wrong, but if you do wrong, you will abridge that agency. You have the right to do right, and to obey all of the commandments of God, and that being anxiously engaged. We have the commandments. He does not have to command us in all our little details. We should be engaged in a good cause of our own free will. It is only the willing and obedient who shall inherit the land -- they who are pure in heart. God bless you. President Johnson has called me on a little mission to Canada, and I have got to go now. We will now turn the time to Warren, and he will organize you, carry on, and give you the program for this week and from then on. God bless you, amen.

The Holy Spirit Comes to Us Through the Keyholder; Purify Your Bodies; Be Anxiously Engaged

I rejoice in our being gathered together again under appointment of President Johnson, to hear the testimonies of the Elders and the word of the Lord in connection with our affairs. President Johnson was up for Friday and Saturday. He called me over and said he couldn't stand it longer because of the elevation; but also, I am sure the humidity and the pollution that is in this area is very hard on him. He told me to carry on here, and we will carry on as though he were here. We miss him, but his spirit is here, as I always feel to observe, and we will pray and learn together here as though he were instructing us.
I desire above all, as I stand before you, to have you know that I am four-square, one hundred percent with President Johnson; and I want, above all things, to enjoy his confidence. I cannot think of a more devastating thing that could come to me if I were to find that I had lost his confidence. I have full confidence in him, and I love him with all my heart. I desire to obey the commandments of God which he gives to us. I know he is a Prophet of God, called at this time and anointed of the Lord to lead this people and prepare this people to redeem Zion.

I used to say he is as Enoch to us; he is as Moses. And it is my testimony that he has been raised up as one like unto Moses, as Section 103 tells us, to lead us to Zion under the Lord Jesus Christ and the Prophet Joseph Smith, who is at the elbow of President Johnson all the time. I testify to you that he is full of the Holy Ghost and has the Spirit of revelation to deliver to this people. He is the mouthpiece of God. He is the keyholder and President of the holy Priesthood. And the Holy Ghost, being the power of the Priesthood, which centers in the Father, is dispensed to us through this man and the power of the Priesthood which he has. That is how I feel about him, brothers and sisters, and the only way we are going to accomplish what he wants to accomplish -- as the Lord wants him to accomplish -- is for us to draw near unto him, and he will draw near unto us. The Lord says this, "Draw near unto Me, and I will draw near unto you." But this man is a representative of God upon the earth, the greatest man on earth to guide and direct a people to come back into the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ and our Father Michael. He has said to us on different occasions that we have not made much progress in lo, these many years.

I miss his presence, and I miss his counsel to this people, and I feel to have you all hear from him today through one of his sermons which I have picked out, which I feel will be of great value to us at this time; so we can hear from him, even in his absence. I have a lot of them set out here in this volume 4.

I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for this opportunity again of being here and meeting with you, everyone of you; and I trust that the few words I speak will be dictated by the Spirit of God. For I realize the importance of our coming here from Sunday to Sunday, month in and month out, year in and year out to listen to what the Lord has to say to us.
I have been in deep thought today while I sat here listening to the testimonies that have been borne. I have implored the Lord to put words into my mouth that I might do something to incite this people to become a better people. My soul is greatly grieved and torn when I hear of one of our boys or girls doing something that is out of the way, no matter who it is.

And I have seen, on many occasions, in the period of his illness, how he has been made more ill by hearing of the things that people are doing out of the way, those that he has brought up and tried to train and become like God. If we will just learn to become like him, we will be like God. And so, we little know how deeply he is affected in his health, particularly during this time, when he has these things come along to disturb him in his desires to see us succeed and become like God.

For I know that the Lord has spoken to us by His own mouth and the mouths of His servants that this Gospel of the Kingdom is unto all people - - all who will listen and apply to their lives the principles of salvation. You saw me pick this book up and lay it up here in front of me, and I can't read it. This is October 1978.

My eye-sight is such I can't read unless I have a powerful glass to look through. But I have read it from cover to cover several times in my life. It is an inspiration to me because I believe every word in it. It was written by the power of God to this generation of Gentiles and offered to them as a code to follow to give us our salvation. It has been told to us many times that we have come here to take these bodies and purify them to be of use to us in the life to come. I am called upon from time to time to dedicate a home. I go into the home and I see a great amount of work and beautiful workmanship that has been done by those who live in the house. We will find it all over the country where our people are. They go out for the best they can get and build a house to live in.

I want you to think about another house that you are going to live in hereafter; and that is the body that you possess at the present time. Think about it! You young men and young women should commence now to think about what kind of a house you want to live in after you leave this life.
We have been told -- I have heard it all my life -- that the Lord sent us here to prepare a body that could be useful to us in the hereafter so that He could purify it, celestialize it, and it will be useful to us throughout the generations to come. The Lord says He cannot purify a defiled body, and He will have to destroy it. We are here to build a home. For who? For these spirits that occupy these bodies. Many of us have aches and pains and they tend to discourage us from trying to do something else to purify our bodies. We are here to prepare for a better life. When we come up in the morning of the resurrection, we won't have all the things that we think we need in order to satisfy the purified body that we have. So why not try to purify it while we live? I believe it can be done. I believe that in the days of Adam, Enoch, Methuselah, and those other patriarchs who lived many hundreds of years, they still were able to get around in their old age. I believe it can be done now if we live right, if we feed these bodies right. If we just muster faith enough to ask the Lord to give us an appetite for the things that will do our bodies good and take away from us our appetite for things that cause us trials. I believe He will do just that for us if we will exercise the proper faith.

I would like to leave a thought in the minds of every young boy and girl and old man and woman under the sound of my voice today, that it is our responsibility to purify these bodies we have before we pass on, that they might become useful to us throughout the many eons of time to come. For we are not going to die, we are going to lay this body away that we have today, but it is going to be resurrected, the Lord tells us, and we are going to take it up again. We understand that as we lay these bodies away, so will we take them up again. So let us do all that we can to purify them and make them beautiful houses for our spirits to dwell in forever and ever.

Some may say, "Well, we have lost an arm; we have lost or had our back broken and are unable to walk; we are bent over." This makes no difference. At one time we had a beautiful body and we stood up in it in a beautiful manner. Can't it come again in the morning of the resurrection in the same way the Lord gave it to us while we were here? If we live right our spirits are right. When we come up in the morning of the resurrection, we will take them up again. Those who have lived righteously and done all they could to purify their spirits and also their bodies, the Lord has promised that He would celestialize their bodies and they could go on forever and forever. And that is what we would like to do.

I am glad these principles were called to our attention today, because I feel a great necessity of impressing upon the minds of our people that this is not the end -- when we lay these bodies in the grave -- this is not the end. We are going to take them up again, and if they are defiled, we will have to lose them, and the spirits will have to go without a body to clothe them. But if we have done all we can to purify them and to give them a beautiful appearance before our Father, then He will be pleased to shower His blessings of eternal life upon us and let us go on and on forever and forever. For this is the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He told the Prophet Joseph to go bear testimony to the world that Jesus lives, that Christ lives and that God lives, for he saw them both. And the older man turning to the younger man said, "This is My Beloved Son, hear Him." And before He got through with the Prophet Joseph, He told him this whole story, that we came here for the purpose of getting bodies for these spirits, to purify them and bring them back into the presence of God in a purified condition. So let us do it. Let us go on. Let us keep the commandments of God. Let us cease to do evil or allow it on our premises or in our homes. Let us cease to bring in those things that destroy, not only the older people but the younger ones. Every father and every mother is going to have to account for the children they have and how they have taught them -- how they have raised them.

We are a people who want education, but we want proper education. We want that education that will give us eternal life and nothing else. The praise of the world is not going to save anyone. You can go out and get all the learning you can find in the world, and unless you find something about who God is and how to become like Him and apply it to your life, your learning is not going to do you any good after you leave here. But the knowledge you get out of this set of rules and regulations that I hold in my hand -- the Book of Mormon, Doctrine and Covenants, and Pearl of Great Price -- will guide you throughout the generations of time, if you will apply it to your lives.

We are left without excuse, everyone of us, because everyone of us has a set of these rules and regulations in our homes. And you shouldn’t let any other book come in unless it is the testimonies of the servants of God throughout the generations of time. And they all teach us who God is and how to become like Him. So let us go to. Let us go from this meeting with more of a determination to get our thinking straight, and let us cease to have reports come that one of our boys or one of our girls is out among the Gentiles doing evil. This story has come to me in the last two or three days. And we have been trying to work upon you to see what could be done to save one of our young men, and maybe three or four of them, or four or five.

Let us cease to bring reproach upon the servants of God, for they are striving diligently to bring about a better condition among the people. We would be real glad if the whole United States and the whole people of the United States would take a turn to good and turn to God and keep His commandments, repent of their sins. Because the first Section in this book calls them to repentance.

I humbly pray that God will bless us with wisdom, knowledge and understanding and with a more firm determination to serve God and keep His commandments, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

And that is the word of God to us. I feel like getting some advice from one of the revelations of God -- Section 58. This is the revelation that was given at the time they went to dedicate the land of Zion and the temple site in Missouri, in Jackson County, Independence. After telling certain ones to "bring their families to this land as they shall counsel between themselves and Me," and He tells us how we should live.

D.& C. 58

26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.

27. Verily, I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, Anxiously engaged, brothers and sisters.

27. ...and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;

28. For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. The power of the Holy Ghost is in them, or at least we have the gift of it, and all of its gifts. They are available to us if we will get and keep it with us at all times.

28. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

That is how serious it is.

30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?

31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?

32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.

33. Then they say in their hearts: This is not the work of the Lord, for his promises are not fulfilled. But wo unto such, for their reward lurketh beneath, and not from above.

Well, there it is. There is the attitude and the spirit we should have. We should love the Lord our God with all our whole heart, might, mind, and strength, whom we cannot see. But we have a god over us whom we can see -- Leroy S. Johnson. And then we are to love one another as well as ourselves -- love one another, whom we can see. "We cannot say we love God whom we cannot see, if we love not our neighbor whom we can see," says the Prophet John.

Well, there is the law and the testimony, brothers and sisters, which I pray we may follow and be diligent in our labors -- anxiously engaged to serve God and to keep His commandments, finding joy and rejoicing therein -- all of the commandments of God. We cannot leave any undone -- the whole law, not a part of it. We must obey the whole law, and God bless us to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
appointed by President Johnson, who has asked me to carry on here. He is in the hospital in St. George -- another bout with pneumonia, but doing well today. He sent his best wishes to us here. I trust, my brothers and sisters, that we will draw in the wanderings of our minds and seek the Spirit of God to guide and direct us, and especially those who speak, that we may have the word of God given to us here today.

* * * * *

I have enjoyed what we have heard here today, brothers and sisters. I have not got much of a voice with this frog, but with the help of the Lord, I would like to read a part of the seventh chapter of Moroni, which I think will be very edifying to us; after which I am going to play off of a cassette, hear the sermon of President Johnson on the 19th of October, two weeks ago, down in Colorado City. It would be a wonderful thing to have heard the whole tape. It was a marvelous meeting. Starting at verse 32. Previously, they had been talking about miracles, and the work and coming of Christ.

Moroni 7

32. And by so doing, the Lord God prepareth the way that the residue of men may have faith in Christ, that the Holy Ghost may have place in their hearts, according to the power thereof; and after this manner bringeth to pass the Father, the covenants which he hath made unto the children of men.

33. And Christ hath said: If ye will have faith in me ye shall have power to do whatsoever thing is expedient in me.

34. And he hath said: Repent all ye ends of the earth, and come unto me, and be baptized in my name, and have faith in me, that ye may be saved.

35. And now, my beloved brethren, if this be the case that these things are true which I have spoken unto you, and God will show unto you, with power and great glory at the last day, that they are true, and if they are true has the day of miracles ceased?

36. Or have angels ceased to appear unto the children of men? Or has he withheld the power of the Holy Ghost from them? Or will he, so long as time shall last, or the earth shall stand, or there shall be one man upon the face thereof to be saved?

37. Behold I say unto you, Nay; for it is by faith that miracles are wrought; and it is by faith that angels appear and minister unto men;
wherefore, if these things have ceased wo be unto the children of men, for it is because of unbelief, and all is vain.

I would like to call our attention to the miracles of today. Every day is a living miracle in the life of President Leroy S. Johnson. It is a living miracle, and he is living a miracle every day of his life before us in setting an example of great and perfect faith, for he has come to know that he pleases God, and he has perfect faith.

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased, then has faith ceased also; and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever;

God is love. The first great commandment is to love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and the second, like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, under the influence of this pure love of Christ, which He had for us, as He suffered for us and has earned for us. If we obey Him, believe in and obey Him, we may be saved in the Kingdom of God.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

The exertion of our minds and hearts, brothers and sisters, with all the energy of heart.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

This Holy Spirit, which centers in the Father and comes through His creations and His people, and to us through our Prophet, Leroy Johnson.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

Which President Johnson has.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

Now we will hear from President Johnson.

My brothers and sisters, we have got an opportunity now to show by our faith that we can accomplish something. God has given us an opportunity once more to show by our faith that we mean business. I say that because of this building we are in.

I trust that the Lord will put in my mouth the words of how I feel. I know that Jesus is the Christ, that He came here and played His part on the program. I know that the Prophet Joseph Smith was a prophet of God. I hope that I can prove myself as well as other men who have held this
I don't feel like holding you any longer. I pray the blessings of God upon all who are striving for the advancement of the work of God in the earth. I assure you that the Lord is pleased with the offering we have made. God bless you, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

That is, I consider, a wonderful conclusion to this service today.

Charity; Zion Is the Pure in Heart

It is wonderful to me, my dear brothers and sisters, to see this huge congregation and meet with you together in this beautiful building, which is a monument to our Prophet, and which he told us three weeks ago in his few remarks, showed that we mean business. I do not think that was wishful thinking. I think you are all to be congratulated on the fine job you have done here, the sacrifices you have made. President Johnson is feeling a little better right now and I am sure his spirit is with us. He is here in spirit and I feel to still operate under his direction and counsel.

I think we have had a wonderful outpouring of the Spirit of God upon us here today in the sermons that have been given. I rejoice in being here to hear them. It is a wonderful thing, brothers and sisters, to meet together often and attending these meetings. Priesthood Meetings and General Meetings are the things that keep us alive to what our responsibilities are and what we need to do to gain our salvation.

The thing that appeals to me at this time, if I can express it from the Spirit of God, is that we have as our head President Leroy S. Johnson, a man with perfect faith, and an example for all of us to follow. We are required by our covenants to become one with him, for he is one with God, and he is God's mouthpiece; the one man who holds the keys of the holy Priesthood and of the sealing powers. I think we have one in this man who exemplifies what Moroni exhorted the people of his time. The Book of Moroni, chapter 7.

Moroni 7
37. Behold I say unto you, Nay; for it is by faith that miracles are wrought; and it is by faith that angels appear and minister unto men; wherefore, if these things have ceased wo be unto the children of men, for it is because of unbelief, and all is vain.

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name;

And speaking of miracles, we have daily miracles in the life of our Prophet and head, a living miracle every day. Even his doctors, when they have treated him and have been with him, call him the "miracle man". So we do not lack for miracles in our midst when it is shown in the life of our head.

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased, then has faith ceased also; and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Note the emphasis being made on the foundation for the attainment of these attributes and these glorious principles that we are dealing with.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, Jesus told the people He was meek and lowly in heart. We have as our head one like unto Him.

44. ...and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long,
Note these things -- what charity is, and what it is not, and see if it isn't exemplified in the life of our head, our Prophet.

45. ...and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

And what he is enduring now, and has done lo, these many years, for us whom he loves. I know it because I have been close to him and heard him express himself. No one has been marred and endured pain like he has, of our memory, for us and for other purposes that are wisdom in the Lord.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

The pure love of Christ. We see at the last here what pure love is.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
That is the exercise of faith -- mental exertion with all the energy of heart. That is living, powerful faith through prayer, through words.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
I think he is talking about the Holy Spirit of God. God is love.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;
Have we not had bestowed upon us, after baptism, the gift of the Holy Ghost, with all of its attributes?, which constitute the attributes of the Holy Spirit, which centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.
In 1833, the revelation in Section 97 says, after they had been commanded to build a temple in Zion:

D.& C. 97

15. And inasmuch as my people build a house unto me in the name of the Lord, and do not suffer any unclean thing to come into it, that it be not defiled, my glory shall rest upon it;
16. Yea, and my presence shall be there, for I will come into it, and all the pure in heart that shall come into it shall see God.
17. But if it be defiled I will not come into it, and my glory shall not be there; for I will not come into unholy temples.

There isn’t a temple standing today that the Lord can use, and it has been so, lo, these many years.

18. And, now, behold, if Zion do these things she shall prosper, and spread herself and become very glorious, very great, and very terrible.
19. And the nations of the earth shall honor her, and shall say: Surely Zion is the city of our God, and surely Zion cannot fall, neither be moved out of her place, for God is there, and the hand of the Lord is there;

20. And he hath sworn by the power of his might to be her salvation and her high tower.
21. Therefore, verily, thus saith the Lord, let Zion rejoice, for this is Zion - THE PURE IN HEART; therefore, let Zion rejoice, while all the wicked shall mourn.

The pure in heart, brothers and sisters. One of the great burdens of the messages that President Johnson has given, that we have in his books, is to clean up our minds and our bodies and become pure and clean every whit, for we will never have an endowment in the holy temples of God until we are pure in heart. I think that is enough for today for my part, which I pray may be of some use to all of us, especially myself, and that we may go forward now, as Section 58 tells us.

D.& C. 58

26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.
27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged Brother Fred was talking about earnestness and honesty. This is what it means.

27. ...should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;

28. For the power is in them,
The Holy Ghost, if it be in you, if it be in us.
28. ...wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?

31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?
32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.
33. Then they say in their hearts: This is not the work of the Lord, for his promises are not fulfilled. But wo unto such, for their reward lurketh beneath and not from above.

All of these things cannot be accomplished without the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit of God. That is pure intelligence. The Prophet Joseph told the Twelve, getting ready for the dedication of the Kirtland Temple, that they were going to have an endowment, but they could not have it unless they were clean every whit. President Johnson has emphasized this many, many times in his sermons.

Now may the Lord bless us, my dear brothers and sisters. I testify, along with the others, that Leroy Johnson is a Prophet of God, called in this last time, as we have heard from Brother Fred, to prepare and lead a people in the redemption of Zion, into the Millennium. And I bear you this testimony in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Johnson Belongs to God; D.& C. 1
We appreciate that lovely music we have from meeting to meeting. They say it is the universal language. Is that right, Norma? It is wonderful to meet together again, brothers and sisters, and as always we are meeting by appointment of President Johnson, who has asked me to carry on here. The latest report is a very fine improvement from his last illness, and we are grateful for all of these blessings of the Lord to him. We have the report that the doctor that treated him down there on Friday said, "This man is making medical history." He is not telling us anything. He belongs to God and he is in His hands, and he is going through all things required of him by the Lord and is setting a glorious example for us all to follow. I know we have his spirit here with us today, and I trust he has been able to attend the meeting in the south, which has been an hour in session.

Having that confidence about our head, let us go forward now and have a time of rejoicing. Draw in the wanderings of our minds. Let the Holy Spirit guide, to the honor and glory of God.

* * * * *

I rise at this time, brothers and sisters, to lay before you the oft-quoted Section 1 of the Doctrine and Covenants by President Johnson. I think it well for us to hear it and review it and abide it. Introductory to this, let us recall that the burden of President Johnson's sermons, his instructions to the saints, to the end that they might be encouraged and go forward and follow him, is the message given in Section 1 of the Doctrine and Covenants given November 1, 1831, as the preface to this book. His burden was repentance and preparation.

D.& C. 1

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the voice of him who dwells on high, and whose eyes are upon all men; yea, verily I say: Hearken ye people from afar; and ye that are upon the islands of the sea, listen together.

2. For verily the voice of the Lord is unto all men, and there is none to escape; and there is no eye that shall not see, neither ear that shall not hear, neither heart that shall not be penetrated.

3. And the rebellious shall be pierced with much sorrow; for their iniquities shall be spoken upon the housetops, and their secret acts shall be revealed.

We are in that time now.
4. And the voice of warning shall be unto all people, by the mouths of my disciples, whom I have chosen in these last days.
5. And they shall go forth and none shall stay them, for I the Lord have commanded them.

6. Behold, this is mine authority, and the authority of my servants, and my preface unto the book of my commandments, which I have given them to publish unto you, O inhabitants of the earth.
7. Wherefore, fear and tremble, O ye people, for what I the Lord have decreed in them shall be fulfilled.

8. And verily I say unto you, that they who go forth, bearing these tidings unto the inhabitants of the earth, to them is power given to seal both on earth and in heaven, the unbelieving and rebellious;
9. Yea, verily, to seal them up unto the day when the wrath of God shall be poured out upon the wicked without measure -- Unto the day when the Lord shall come to recompense unto every man according to his work, and measure to every man according to the measure which he has measured to his fellow man.
10. Unto the day when the Lord shall come to recompense unto every man according to his work, and measure to every man according to the measure which he has measured to his fellow man.
11. Wherefore the voice of the Lord is unto the ends of the earth, that all that will hear may hear:

12. Prepare ye, prepare ye for that which is to come, for the Lord is nigh;
13. And the anger of the Lord is kindled, and his sword is bathed in heaven, and it shall fall upon the inhabitants of the earth.
14. And the arm of the Lord shall be revealed; and the day cometh that they who will not hear the voice of the Lord, neither the voice of my servants, neither give heed to the words of the prophets and apostles, shall be cut off from among the people;

Let us take these things to heart, brothers and sisters.

15. For they have strayed from mine ordinances, and have broken mine everlasting covenant;
16. They seek not the Lord to establish his righteousness, but every man walketh in his own way, and after the image of his own god, whose image is in the likeness of the world, and whose substance is that of an idol, which waxeth old and shall perish in Babylon, even Babylon the great, which shall fall.

17. Wherefore, I the Lord, knowing the calamity which should come upon the inhabitants of the earth, called upon my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and spake unto him from heaven, and gave him commandments;

18. And also gave commandments to others, that they should proclaim these things unto the world; and all this that it might be fulfilled, which was written by the prophets --

19. The weak things of the world shall come forth and break down the mighty and strong ones, that man should not counsel his fellow man, neither trust in the arm of flesh --

20. But that every man might speak in the name of God the Lord, even the Savior of the world;

21. That faith also might increase in the earth;

22. That mine everlasting covenant might be established;

23. That the fulness of my gospel might be proclaimed by the weak and the simple unto the ends of the world, and before kings and rulers.

24. Behold, I am God and have spoken it; these commandments are of me, and were given unto my servants in their weakness, after the manner of their language, that they might come to understanding.

25. And inasmuch as they erred it might be made known;

26. And inasmuch as they sought wisdom they might be instructed;

27. And inasmuch as they sinned they might be chastened, that they might repent;

28. And inasmuch as they were humble they might be made strong, and blessed from on high, and receive knowledge from time to time.

29. And after having received the record of the Nephites, yea, even my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., might have power to translate through the mercy of God, by the power of God, the Book of Mormon.

30. And also those to whom these commandments were given, might have power to lay the foundation of this church, and to bring it forth out of obscurity and out of darkness, the only true and living church upon the face of the whole earth, with which I, the Lord, am well pleased, speaking unto the church collectively and not individually --

31. For I the Lord cannot look upon sin with the least degree of allowance;
32. Nevertheless, he that repents and does the commandments of the Lord shall be forgiven;
33. And he that repents not, from him shall be taken even the light which he has received; for my Spirit shall not always strive with man, saith the Lord of Hosts.
34. And again, verily I say unto you, O inhabitants of the earth: I the Lord am willing to make these things known unto all flesh;
35. For I am no respecter of persons, and will that all men shall know that the day speedily cometh; the hour is not yet, but is nigh at hand, when peace shall be taken from the earth, and the devil shall have power over his own dominion.

That is where we are.

36. And also the Lord shall have power over his saints, and shall reign in their midst, and shall come down in judgment upon Idumea, or the world.
37. Search these commandments, for they are true and faithful, and the prophecies and promises which are in them shall all be fulfilled.
38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken, and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away, but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.
39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever. Amen.

These are the words of the Prophet Leroy Johnson to us time and time again, through the thirty-six years that he has presided over us as keyholder and mouthpiece of God, a servant of God. I pray that these words will sink into our hearts and we will repent and prepare, as has so often been brought before us; that we might heed these things diligently, and with all our heart, mind, and strength; loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and one another as we do ourselves. May these be our great desires and accomplishments as we go on to a glorious resurrection, which is what President Johnson wants us to do, that we might be with him. God help us to do this, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Remarks: Elder Truman I. Barlow
Song: "Oh, My Father" -- Choir
Benediction: Elder Dan Barlow

I pray that God will put words in my mouth to say that which is most appropriate at this time concerning my beloved Prophet and friend, Leroy Sunderland Johnson.

He once told some brethren visiting him that he considered Brother Jeffs to be his "Heber". That is how I want it to continue, serving him and being one with him and performing the great work that he was performing; and, of course, it hasn't ended. Heber said this:

JD 4:277 Heber C. Kimball January 25, 1857 SLC

Perhaps some of you do not believe that the Spirit of the Lord goes and comes throughout every portion of a vine, even to the smallest and farthest extremity thereof, but it does. How could the members of my body exist if the blood did not pass to the extremities? Then it has to turn and go back to the vitals. Now say that I am a branch, how am I to partake of Brother Brigham's spirit and know his mind, unless I also partake of the fatness of the true vine, and permit its sap, or essence, or spirit, to flow through me without obstruction? -- that my mind and will may become amalgamated and run together with the mind and will of Brother Brigham, that our spirits may freely and fully unite through the same genial influences of the Spirit of truth.

In the same vein, he further went on to say:
...every man and woman that will not yield to passion, nor to any evil practice or principle, will become filled with the Spirit of God, and it will pass from one to another. This is why, as I have often said, I love brother Brigham Young better than I do any woman upon this earth, because my will has run into his, and his into mine, and there is a free interchange of feelings. There are but few men that will do that, for they generally want their own way and their own will, therefore their wills do not run into ours and the Father's. This free interchange of pure feelings should run through all the organizations in this Church, and through every member in every family throughout all our borders.

I love that man more than any man or woman upon the earth. We say he was the greatest man living in his time upon the earth. Brother Fred spoke of Abraham. I'd like to read:

Abraham 3

22. Now the Lord had shown unto me, Abraham, the intelligences that were organized before the world was; and among all these there were many of the noble and great ones;
23. And God saw these souls that they were good, and he stood in the midst of them, and he said: These I will make my rulers; for he stood among those that were spirits, and he saw that they were good; and he said unto me: Abraham, thou art one of them; thou wast chosen before thou wast born.

And I'm satisfied that Leroy Johnson was one of them in the grand Council before he came to fill his mission as a ruler of all Israel, standing among the great Prophets of God. Joseph Smith said all the Prophets were ordained by God Himself. He is among that great concourse of men -- Gods, if you please -- before they came to fulfill their part in the great work of God upon the earth. In further substantiation of this, I'd like to read some words of the Prophet Joseph:

In relation to the kingdom of God, the devil always sets up his kingdom at the very same time in opposition to God. Every man who has a calling to minister to the inhabitants of the world was ordained to that very purpose in the Grand Council of heaven before this world was. I suppose I was ordained to this very office in that Grand Council. It is the testimony that I want that I am God's servant, and this people His people. The ancient prophets declared that in the last days the God of heaven should set up a kingdom which should never be destroyed, nor left to other people.

Leroy Sunderland Johnson was likewise ordained before he came here in that grand Council, to fulfill his part as a ruler over Israel. I just wanted to express my feelings regarding this very dear, very dear and great man. How he suffered for us, brothers and sisters!

Well, I don't want to go into things that would not be proper to say to this congregation, but I felt always to dedicate my life of service to him as his servant and God's servant. I'm sorry to be emotional, but I can't help it, brothers and sisters.

I want to read again the character of this man that is given in the seventh chapter of Moroni. He and his mentor and predecessor, John Y. Barlow, were the greatest examples of men meek and lowly in heart, which is what Jesus Christ said He was when speaking to the people in His time.

Moroni 7

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope.

This was after having discoursed upon the first and glorious principle of the Gospel -- faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and in God, the Father, and in the Holy Ghost.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak to you concerning hope. How is it that you can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that you shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of His resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in Him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he has not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

How he endured that great pain and suffering for seven long years and eight months!, for reasons that we know not, or cannot appreciate.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

Faith in our prayers.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

Which is the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit of God. All of these things are the attributes of the Holy Spirit.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

These were his attributes, which are the attributes of God and of the Holy Spirit. Now, I pray that God will bless his family, who stood by him through all of his days, faithful and true; and especially in the days of his suffering.
In effect, he was giving of his life for this people and for his family.

God saw fit to take him home. He said, on the last day when he was suffering the greatest, "I want to go home and go to my rest." In that great hour, I am convinced that he was healed. What greater way could a man be healed -- called upon to suffer as he did for his brethren and his friends and his people -- to pass over to continue his work on the other side among the prophets of God, among God's rulers, to finish his work. I want to testify to you that he stood with his predecessor, John Y. Barlow, and his, Lorin C. Woolley, and his, John W. Woolley, and John Taylor, and Brigham Young, and Joseph Smith. Joseph Smith was at the elbow of all of these, head of this last great and glorious dispensation.

So, he has finished his work among us. But I am sure he is going to be working for us as he goes on in his labors on the other side. God hasn't finished with him yet.

Occasionally, he made statements as I have in a sermon of his, which I wanted to read, but felt that it wouldn't be appropriate at this time. He will go on, and we will go on for and with him, which I pray may be our happy lot and our great blessing from the God of Israel, and His Son, Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, Jun., standing in the office of the Holy Ghost in the Godhead of this earth. May we draw near to Them, and be obedient and faithful and true, and abide in Their love to the end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Dream of Brigham Young

It is good to meet again, brothers and sisters. I appreciate being here with you. I appreciate your coming, and I feel that the spirit and influence of President Leroy Johnson is round about, even as it was when he could not be here physically, but was nearby. I pray that we will draw in the wanderings of our minds, brothers and sisters, and concentrate them on the program that the Lord has to give us; that we will be meek and lowly and humble in heart in order to get that spirit and influence with us, that we may have a time of rejoicing together here.
I pray for the Spirit of God to be upon me as I leave you some thoughts here today for our mutual edification. I want you to know how much I appreciate this man, Truman Barlow, who was at the side of President Johnson constantly for the past ten years, and I associate him with President Johnson in doing the great work that he has been called to do; a man of great faith and integrity and who loves the truth and obeys it.

I feel a great deal like Brigham Young did when he told and recorded a dream at Winter Quarters, February 1847. It has in it the very foundation of our faith and faithfulness that will take care of all of our problems.

Truth 10:221

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time. President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed him many times, and said to him:

"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be? You have been from us a long time; we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

So I feel about Leroy Johnson.

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him. Joseph said:

"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be bye and bye, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:

"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the kingdom of God. Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in Heaven before they came into the world. Our Father in Heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion."

Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning. He saw where the Priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity.

Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people. From it we can learn how important it is to keep the Spirit of the Lord. No man or people can prosper who do not have it as their guide.

That is the great message I think needs to be delivered to us. That is why I read this. I don't think I can say it any better than he did. So, let us be at peace, and know that God is at the helm, and that all is well with the Kingdom and the Priesthood of the Lord God.

I just want to express with all my heart the blessings of God upon these queens of President Johnson, that they will have the strength and power of the Holy Ghost to be with them and to bring them comfort and cheer, and to go forward and accomplish their work in the earth.

Now I pray that the Spirit of God will be with us all, and that we will continue faithful and true to the end, enduring and following the Prophet Joseph Smith, the Lord Jesus Christ, and our Father in heaven; and that we will keep in mind that God is in His heaven, and that all is well with Zion.
We are on the way, brothers and sisters. May God bless us and help us to accomplish our work and mission in the earth, and do all things with an eye single to the glory of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

God Is at the Helm, and the Work of God Will Continue;
We Are Here to Make Zion;
Our Individual Work Is to Become Pure in Heart

It is good to meet again, brothers and sisters, and I trust we will draw in the wanderings of our minds, concentrate on the instructions the Lord has for us here today as we meet under the influence of our departed Prophet, Leroy Johnson. If we can meet together in faith and exertion of the mind, concentrate on the things that we need to know, we are going to have a great deal of spiritual food today.

* * * * *

I pray, my dear brothers and sisters, that I may have the gifts of the Holy Spirit of God as I speak to you here today, that it will direct my remarks in such a way as to be pleasing to our Father in heaven.

I am overwhelmed, brothers and sisters, by the things that have been said here today and this morning, and I am feeling the great weight that is upon my shoulders, and I am bound to feel it more as we go along.

As I contemplate the work of President Leroy Johnson, our Prophet, which he has started, which he has been carrying on and which will go on to fulfill all of the things that we contemplated as he was with us, he was healed, brothers and sisters, when he passed over to the other side. He was healed in a beautiful and a glorious way. He is not far away and he will continue his work on the other side, working with us. I cannot imagine our work going on without his having a great hand in it from over on the other side. I want to be his spokesman and carry out the great work and program which he has instituted, for he has set in order the Priesthood of God under Joseph Smith, and his continuing work of setting in order the House of God.

Joseph Smith was at his elbow. He told me so. Joseph Smith is the One Mighty and Strong, the great head of this dispensation, which was instituted when God endowed him with power from on high to set up the Church and Kingdom of God, set up the holy Priesthood in its fullness. He tried with all his might and main to set in order the House of God while he was with us, but he is the One Mighty and Strong spoken of in Section 85 of the Doctrine and Covenants, who will come with light for a covering, and with great power to accomplish this work. And President Johnson frequently told us in his sermons how Joseph would come to set in order the House of God at the appropriate time. But I testify to you that he has continued from his passing, working with those who followed in his footsteps, and had the same power and authority and keys, working with them, looking forward to that great work that he has -- finally to set in order the House of God. He was with Brigham Young. He was with John Taylor. And what a glorious thing occurred in his [John Taylor's] administration when the Savior and the Prophet Joseph came to him to set in motion this special dispensation of the Priesthood of God, and set up the Priesthood, continue the Priesthood which came down from Joseph in 1886, September 26th and 27th.

And this is a continuation; this work and this Priesthood, which we have with us, is a continuation from that time through John W. Woolley, through Lorin C. Woolley, through John Y. Barlow, and Leroy Sunderland Johnson. The Lord set up that order of Priesthood, a continuation of it, in 1886, in contemplation of the Church leaving the Priesthood. The Church left the Priesthood and went into the wilderness and is now roaming around in darkness.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, you can see why I have to say what lies before me is awesome. But I testify to you that God is at the helm, and the work of God will continue according to His direction and His ways and His will. My great concern, my dear brothers and sisters, is to continue laboring in connection with President Johnson in preparing a people, that five hundred spoken of to redeem Zion. I want to read a very choice observation made by the Prophet Brigham Young.

JD 5:4  Brigham Young  July 5, 1857  SLC

You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land; but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here?  They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

We can make Zion, or we can make Babylon, just as we please. We can make just what we please of this place. The people can make Zion: they can make a heaven within themselves.

Zion is within, brothers and sisters, within us. And the Lord is trying to gather a people who have Zion in their hearts.

When people gather here, they should come with a determination to make Zion within themselves, with the resolution that "I will carry myself full of the Spirit of Zion wherever I go; and this is the way in which I will control evil spirits; for I mean that my spirit shall have control over evil:" and do you not see that such a course will make Zion?

This American continent will be Zion; for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

So I say, brothers and sisters, if we have Zion in our hearts, we are on our way. God has got to have a pure people. Zion is the pure in heart, as the Lord says in Section 97, speaking to the saints, August 2, 1833.

Ten days before this time, the cornerstones of the Lord's House in Kirtland were laid, after the order of the holy Priesthood.

D.& C. 97

12. Behold, this is the tithing and the sacrifice which I, the Lord, require at their hands, that there may be a house built unto me for the salvation of Zion --

13. For a place of thanksgiving for all saints, and for a place of instruction for all those who are called to the work of the ministry in all their several callings and offices;
14. That they may be perfected in the understanding of their ministry, in theory, in principle, and in doctrine, in all things pertaining to the kingdom of God on the earth, the keys of which kingdom have been conferred upon you.
15. And inasmuch as my people build a house unto me in the name of the Lord, and do not suffer any unclean thing to come into it, that it be not defiled, my glory shall rest upon it;
16. Yea, and my presence shall be there, for I will come into it, and all the pure in heart that shall come into it shall see God.
17. But if it be defiled I will not come into it, and my glory shall not be there; for I will not come into unholy temples.

We all know that it was defiled very shortly after it was completed and dedicated, within one year after. That is when the apostates accused the Prophet Joseph and turned against him.

18. And, now, behold, if Zion do these things she shall prosper, and spread herself and become very glorious, very great, and very terrible.
19. And the nations of the earth shall honor her, and shall say: Surely Zion is the city of our God, and surely Zion cannot fall, neither be moved out of her place, for God is there, and the hand of the Lord is there;
20. And he hath sworn by the power of his might to be her salvation and her high tower.
21. Therefore, verily, thus saith the Lord, let Zion rejoice, for this is Zion -- THE PURE IN HEART; therefore, let Zion rejoice, while all the wicked shall mourn.
22. For behold, and lo, vengeance cometh speedily upon the ungodly as the whirlwind; and who shall escape it?
23. The Lord's scourge shall pass over by night and by day, and the report thereof shall vex all people; yea, it shall not be stayed until the Lord come;
24. For the indignation of the Lord is kindled against their abominations and all their wicked works.
25. Nevertheless, Zion shall escape if she observe to do all things whatsoever I have commanded her.

So, brothers and sisters, this is the great object of the work that has been done under the Prophet Leroy Johnson. Now let us rally to, become pure in heart, become Zion within our hearts.

Moroni 7

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this (pure) love (of Christ), which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

I am satisfied, my dear brothers and sisters, that the very heart of the work that we have to do individually is to become pure in heart, or we will never see God. Now, may we labor together with one heart and one mind. Be one, that a great concourse of people may be prepared to go and redeem Zion, as the Lord goes before and His angels; for "Zion must be redeemed by power," saith the Lord, Section 103. Now may we labor together, brothers and sisters. Unite. Swat the snake and cooperate. Stop criticizing. Love one another. And above all, love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. Let us be one through the great Communicator, the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit of God upon us. That is the power of the holy Priesthood. That is the power of God, having all of the attributes of God. May we become a people who are filled with it, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Determined to Carry On the Work of President Johnson

I am overwhelmed, my dear brothers and sisters; and I ask the Lord to bear me up as I, in my weakness, speak of a very great man of God, the Prophet Leroy Johnson, whom I loved and still do, for he is near, as Brother Truman says, more than any man or woman upon the face of the earth. I feel like Heber C. Kimball in his expression of love for Brigham.

I can't tell you how I feel, brothers and sisters. Words cannot describe it. But I will say this, President Leroy S. Johnson, our Prophet and head in our time, has laid a foundation and set a direction for the work of God, that I feel impelled to say that I intend to carry out that which he started, and which he laid a firm foundation for the work of God and the redemption of Zion.

He loved us, brothers and sisters, with a love that is described by Moroni, the pure love of Christ. And he had that great all-powerful attribute of God. God is love. Leroy Johnson is love. He governed and ruled with that pure love of Christ. And so I just want to say that the object of my labors from this time until my work is through, is to carry on as he told us, and carry on the work that he has commenced, and built up a superstructure for us to complete.

Now, dear brothers and sisters, I can't tell you how I appreciate the expressions of love and support that have been given me, both individually and in the meetings which have been held since his passing. He is not dead. He lives, and is carrying on his work, along with us, on the other side. But he is nearby. I know it. I feel it.

So we are still going down the road with Leroy S. Johnson, our Prophet, Seer, and Revelator. At the end of that road is the redemption of Zion. And I feel that we, indeed, as a people, must get the spirit of Zion in our hearts and live Zion in our hearts. We can say that it is here, those of us who have the Spirit and power of Zion, and the gift of blessings of the Holy Ghost, and going forward now to accomplish the work that God has laid out for us. And I pray for your love and support, and I will do everything I can to honor and sustain the work of Uncle Roy Johnson. I dedicate myself to that task with God's help, and I do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Prophecies Concerning the Short Creek Area; Become One

We will next hear the words of President Leroy Johnson, April 7, 1974.

LSJ Vol. 3  Page 854  April 7, 1974  CCA

This has certainly been a feast to my soul to see this great audience of people come out to be instructed. We call it great because it is a handful of people that the Lord has had compassion upon to bring us together to commence a great and glorious work in the earth -- the preparation of a body of Priesthood that He can use. In 1836, He told the Prophet Joseph that if he could gather together five hundred faithful elders, He would redeem Zion at that time. But they couldn't be found.

We have a golden opportunity before us, my dear brothers and sisters, to prepare ourselves for a great and glorious work. This is why I say I am grateful for this wonderful body of Latter-day Saints. If you will heed the teachings that you have received in the last two days from this stand,

It was a Conference session.

...there will be many elders prepared for the work of the One Mighty and Strong when He comes to set in order the House of God, or the Redemption of Zion.

I believe it was Brother Zitting one time in one of his speeches said, "We are not waiting for the commencement of the Millennium, for it has already started." This, I believe. I believed him then, and I believe him now. We had better believe him, or we will be sloughed off and our identity will be forgotten.

Governor Pyle said over the radio to the whole world that that is what he would do to the people of this little community in 1953. Said he, "We will take the men and put them in prison. We will take their wives and put them in detention homes, and we will take their children and adopt them out and scatter them throughout the world. After two years, we will destroy the records and their identity will be forgotten." This audience today is evidence to me that God loves this Priesthood, for the revelations that were given by the leaders of this work at that time are being fulfilled today.

I remember when I first came to this place in 1926. Isaac Carling wanted me to meet a man in Rockville. I don't remember his front name, but his last name was Gifford. He was an old man, and he was well acquainted with the Prophet Brigham Young. He took part in the development and colonization of this part of the State of Utah. He said, "I am going to tell you boys something that I want you to remember. I had President Brigham Young and George Q. Cannon in my buggy. We were traveling from St. George to Kanab." By the way, the road they took was from St. George to the old hill down here that they call Temple Hill, Temple Road. That is the route they took. They stopped over here on Cedar Ridge, this side of Pipe Springs. He said, "When we got to that Cedar Ridge, Brigham Young said, 'Brother Gifford, stop.' So, I stopped. He stood up in the carriage, and he held his hands out this way and said, 'This will someday be the head and not the tail of the Church. This will be the granaries of the Saints. This land will produce in abundance sufficient wheat to feed the people.”

When I saw this audience yesterday, I couldn't help but think of what Brother Gifford said. This afternoon when they handed me the count, again I thrilled, because of the prophecies that have been uttered upon this great land that we live upon. Not only Brigham Young and others of the leaders, but I heard Joseph Musser prophesy right over in this rock house where Lee Bistline lives that one acre of this land would produce as much as ten acres in the heart of Salt Lake Valley. When he was asked, "When will this be?" He said, "When we are united." In unity there is strength, but in disunity, we are divided.

I hope and pray that the Lord will bless us with wisdom, knowledge, and understanding on what has been told us from this stand yesterday and today, and that it will sink deep into our hearts; and that we will not cease to pray night and day for deliverance from the powers of evil. Let us pray the evil spirits out of this place. Let us not let them thrive upon the minds of our people. Let us be determined, this once, that we will produce sufficient elders of Israel that the One Mighty and Strong might soon come. He is only waiting for us. We are not waiting for him to come. He is waiting for us to be prepared to receive him. I would like to impress this upon the minds of our people.

I hope that the Lord will bless us with wisdom and knowledge and understanding that we might go home and build upon what we have heard. And that a year from now it will take a building twice as big as this to hold us, and the Lord will be forced to recognize that His work has not failed. He told the Prophet Joseph Smith that this Gospel of the Kingdom was given never again to be taken away or given to another people. And it is not out of the hands of the people he gave it to. It is in their hands and let's let it grow. Let us see to it that it will grow. We have the opportunity, now let's push it to the fore.

The success of this order of things depends upon me. Every man and every woman should say that to themselves. The success of this order of things depends upon what I do. If we would take it to heart and purify our minds and our bodies, there is no reason in the world why the One Mighty and Strong couldn't come. Because we had over five hundred bearers of the Priesthood in our meeting last night.
I don't feel to say any more, only God bless you, everyone until we meet again, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We see that the prophecy is being fulfilled. The Church and Kingdom of God is wherever you find legitimate authority. So let us again echo the words: Let us go down the road together, with Brother Johnson and Brother Jeffs. He is doing a great work for us, along with the things that are transpiring now, and I look forward to the glorious consummation of his great administration in this work.

Now I pray God to bless us all that we may unite together, become one people under God, to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ, to walk in obedience to the commandments of God; to love one another, and above all, love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and be one through the power and gift of the holy Priesthood, and of the Holy Ghost, which is the power of the Priesthood. God bless us all, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Richard Coy White

I am deeply impressed with the spirit and the beautiful remarks that have been made on this occasion, in honor of Richard C. White. I do not feel that I can add much to what has been said, because the things that have been said have covered the ground most beautifully, and I appreciate what has been said and done here. I was not personally acquainted very well with Brother Rick, only having seen him on a few occasions, and also his family -- his father, Coy, and mother.

And as I say, so many beautiful things have been said that there is little that I can add, except what happened recently after the passing of President Leroy S. Johnson. Rick wrote me a letter to Salt Lake, addressing himself -- telling what he was doing, who he was, and what he has been doing, and what he desires to do. He told about his beloved family and the labors he was performing, his employment as a peace officer; and I was deeply impressed with the wonderful dedication and devotion that he has for the truth, and for the Priesthood of the living God. He expressed his great love for President Leroy Johnson, and how he had dedicated himself to the service of the Priesthood, and President Johnson personally as his Priesthood head. He made similar commitments in his discussion with me when he called. He made a special trip to come up to Salt Lake City and visit me, and offer himself to the service of the Priesthood. I was deeply impressed with the devotion and love that he had.

That is about all I can say at this time, brothers and sisters, and I wish to add the blessings of God to this beautiful family, and pray that they will follow in memory of him -- his teachings, his fatherhood, and as being head of a Patriarchal family, whom he loves dearly. And I just wish to say this as to the family -- Rick is just gone over into another room, and will be nearby to watch his family and continue in his course. Certainly he did pay the utmost price, in offering his life in the line of duty in the sustaining of law and order, as has been so beautifully expressed here. I pray God to bless his family, his father's family, and all who are connected with them; and we should do all we can now to make this a very sacred and beautiful thing in the life of this family. I pray God's blessings upon them all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Pure in Heart; Spirit of Revelation

I, too, am grateful to be here, to be with you in this wonderful session, hearing the words that we have heard. And I pray that the Lord will bless me to deliver a message that is needful for us at this time. I have to go to Moroni, in his admonition in chapter 7, for the things that we need. Faith, hope, and charity -- these three -- and the greatest of these is charity, or the pure love of Christ.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

The exertion of the heart and mind.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;

The Holy Ghost is that which is bestowed upon us, and the greatest attribute of the Holy Ghost is love.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Brothers and sisters, the great work that we have to perform now is to become a pure people, so that the Lord can write on our hearts, and be acceptable to Him. The great object of our lives is to become like God, and be pure as He is pure. And we cannot see Him until we are.

Zion is the pure in heart. We have been admonished to have the spirit of Zion in our hearts, though we live among people who are not with us, who are not with us at all. We can make Zion in our hearts or we can make Babylon in our hearts, living together. But they who will survive are the pure in heart.

TPJS  Page 151

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation;
This is what we must live by, brothers and sisters.
...for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

I would like to discuss with you this Spirit of revelation. Oliver Cowdery would have been asking the Prophet Joseph Smith to permit him to translate as he had, and this revelation was given; and it tells us how, all about the Spirit of revelation.

D. & C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.
2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.
3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

An angel wasn't there to tell him what to do. The Spirit of revelation, the power of the Holy Ghost is what guided and directed him and told him what to do. And this is the witness and testator of the work of the Father.

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.
5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember,
this is your gift.

He didn't remember these things, and the Lord had to take the gift away from him.

D. & C. 9
4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.
5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.

6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.
7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

Just ask.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.
9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

So there are the workings of the Holy Ghost, brothers and sisters. The greatest thing that we need is the Holy Spirit of God, the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost, which is the power of the holy Priesthood. We cannot please God save we have that perfect faith.

I would like to close by reading the statement on the subject of faith that will enable us to understand what we are about.

The Gospel by B. H. Roberts, Page 145-146

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God; and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, a correct conception of his character, and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him -- will render faith perfect, will constitute it a principle of power, the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born, with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their
The first law of heaven is obedience to the commandments of God. The first and great commandment is to love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. These are the means by which, brothers and sisters, we may become pure in heart, walking in perfect obedience to the commandments of God, and operating under the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, and receiving of its gifts and blessings and powers to make us perfect and pure. The Holy Ghost cannot dwell in unclean tabernacles.

D.& C. 93

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.
35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.
36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

And thus we have the course laid out before us, brothers and sisters. I am grateful for the knowledge I have that God lives, that Jesus Christ lives, that Joseph Smith lives, a Prophet of God and the head of this last dispensation. And he is the One Mighty and Strong to come to set in order the House of God. This is what we are striving for, brothers and sisters, to be worthy and prepared, full of faith, full of love, full of the Holy Ghost. And I pray that we may attain unto these things and become a pure people. Overcome all the temptations that the devil is bringing with such great power before us at the present time, through radio, through television, through movies, and all of these things that we should not dabble in.

Our children are seeing, viewing these things, and we must not allow them any longer to be tempted by these things. We have got to teach our children to live in purity, a pure people. We must have it from pure families, who together will work under the Holy United Order to redeem Zion, as a community of saints, true saints of God. And I pray that we may be thus, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are Here to Make Zion; Charity*

My dear brothers and sisters, I feel weak and inadequate to the work that comes upon me sometimes, but I know that the Lord God is at the helm, and I pray that He will now help me to say some words here that will be of encouragement and a blessing to all of us. We have heard about Zion, and I feel like reading an item that I spoke of in Colorado City last month, a statement of Brigham Young regarding Zion:

JD 5:4  Brigham Young  July 5, 1857  SLC

You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land; but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here?  They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

Let us look upon our several communities and keep this in mind.

We can make Zion, or we can make Babylon, just as we please. We can make just what we please of this place. The people can make Zion: they can make a heaven within themselves. When people gather here, they should come with a determination to make Zion within themselves, with the resolution that "I will carry myself full of the Spirit of Zion wherever I go; and this is the way in which I will control evil spirits; for I mean that my spirit shall have control over evil:" and do you not see that such a course will make Zion?

This American continent will be Zion; for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

Now we understand, brothers and sisters, that as the Prophet spoke of, I find myself among very different people. And I love the statement that he made: "Ask yourselves, 'Am I like God?' I have asked myself and feel to repent," and try with all my heart, mind, and strength to try and become like Him.

Zion is the pure in heart. I like to back up statements like this by the scripture. The saints in the land of Zion in Jackson County, Missouri, were commanded to build a temple. They were commanded in Kirtland to build a temple.

D.& C. 97

15. And inasmuch as my people build a house unto me in the name of the Lord, and do not suffer any unclean thing to come into it, that it be not defiled, my glory shall rest upon it;
16. Yea, and my presence shall be there, for I will come into it, and all the pure in heart that shall come into it shall see God.

That is what chapter 7 of Moroni tells us.

17. But if it be defiled I will not come into it, and my glory shall not be there; for I will not come into unholy temples.
18. And, now, behold, if Zion do these things she shall prosper, and spread herself and become very glorious, very great, and very terrible.

19. And the nations of the earth shall honor her, and shall say: Surely Zion is the city of our God, and surely Zion cannot fall, neither be moved out of her place, for God is there, and the hand of the Lord is there;
20. And he hath sworn by the power of his might to be her salvation and her high tower.

21. Therefore, verily, thus saith the Lord, let Zion rejoice, for this is Zion -- THE PURE IN HEART; therefore, let Zion rejoice, while all the wicked shall mourn.
22. For behold, and lo, vengeance cometh speedily upon the ungodly as the whirlwind; and who shall escape it?

23. The Lord's scourge shall pass over by night and by day, and the report thereof shall vex all people; yea, it shall not be stayed until the Lord come;
24. For the indignation of the Lord is kindled against their abominations and all their wicked works.

25. Nevertheless, Zion shall escape if she observe to do all things whatsoever I have commanded her.

26. But if she observe not to do whatsoever I have commanded her, I will visit her according to all her works, with sore affliction, with pestilence, with plague, with sword, with vengeance, with devouring fire.

27. Nevertheless, let it be read this once to her ears, that I, the Lord, have accepted of her offering; and if she sin no more none of these things shall come upon her;

28. And I will bless her with blessings, and multiply a multiplicity of blessings upon her, and upon her generations forever and ever, saith the Lord your God. Amen.

The injunction is upon us from the Lord to prepare a pure people. I can't think of anything better than to again read that seventh chapter of Moroni. That tells us how to do it, how to become like God.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart;

Ponder that, brothers and sisters. Jesus said to His hearers, "I am meek and lowly in heart." And we are to become like Him.

44. ....and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --
47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, Love.

47. ...and it endureth forever;

God is love.

47. ....and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
The exertion and concentration of the mind is the way we work by faith. That is living faith, power with God.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

That is the great attribute of God and of the Holy Ghost, which centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself, through all His dominions. That is indeed the Holy Ghost.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

God bless you, amen.

God Is Love

I am grateful to be here with you, brothers and sisters, and I am grateful to the Lord for His bounteous blessings to me, and to mine; and acknowledge His hand in all that I have and am and hope to be. Brother Wendell has spoken for me today, the very things that I wanted to hear put over to this congregation today. And I will close on this note, brothers and sisters: God is love; be ye like Him. The greatest of all is charity, the pure love of Christ. Be ye like Him, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Become Like God Through the Spirit of God; Charity

I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters, and for the Spirit of God to direct me as I try to bring before you some more glorious principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

If you will take the Fifth Lecture on Faith, it will show us how that we can go on to perfection and become like God. Let us learn the nature of the Godhead as we read this Fifth Lecture on Faith:

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and of the Son.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.
Now this is the glorious part of what I want to bring before you:

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

The Holy Spirit of God.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them.

Through the Spirit.

3. ...Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Moroni 7

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

We are trying to become Zion. Zion is the pure in heart. Let us become pure in heart so that we may become like Him, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Make a New Start and Come Together as One People; Forgive One Another; The Lord Will Clean Up This Place
I have been deeply moved, my brothers and sisters, by the remarks that have been made here today, and pray that the Lord will bless me and put words in my mouth, as He always did with Uncle Roy, whom I loved with all my heart. He was a model to me; an example, and he was God over me, as over all of his people. My greatest desire is to become like him, and to continue his work, the glorious work that he has instituted and built up in the Kingdom of God; building the Kingdom of God over which he presided -- that one man, a ruler for God. He had, and has, of course, the attributes and the character of a God, and that is why I want to become like God, through him.

The great Example, of course, is our Lord Jesus Christ, who came among men -- the Son of God, to redeem all mankind, and especially those, of course, who love and serve Him and keep all of His commandments. If we love the Lord, we must keep all of His commandments. That is why we were asked first to love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. God is love. Leroy Johnson was love, and he ruled with love; a benevolent dictator, if you please. That is the one man rule -- a benevolent dictator governs the Kingdom of God. And we should be pleased that we have had such among us as these great men, beginning with Joseph Smith in this dispensation, under Jesus Christ, who has set the example for us to abide by, and that we might, through them, come up to see the face of God.

I am having some difficulty in reading, a little difficulty with my eyes now; but I hope I can read this which came to mind during the remarks that have been made. It is larger print.

D. & C. 64

1. Behold, thus saith the Lord your God unto you, O ye elders of my church, hearken ye and hear, and receive my will concerning you.
2. For verily I say unto you, I will that ye should overcome the world; wherefore I will have compassion upon you.
3. There are those among you who have sinned; but verily I say, for this once, for mine own glory, and for the salvation of souls, I have forgiven you your sins.

And that is the spirit in which I desire to take the word of God for us, and make a new start, and come together as one people in the hands of God to redeem Zion. That is the thing that is being spoken of here -- the preparation for that great work which is to be accomplished as we go on in the Millennium. You remember President Johnson in a sermon which I read, said, "We are already into the Millennium." I believe it, and you must believe it or you will be swept off. And so, he accomplished all those things that were prophesied of some years ago.

5. And the keys of the mysteries of the kingdom shall not be taken from my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., through the means I have appointed, while he liveth, inasmuch as he obeyeth mine ordinances.

6. There are those who have sought occasion against him without cause;

7. Nevertheless, he has sinned; but verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, forgive sins unto those who confess their sins before me and ask forgiveness, who have not sinned unto death.

Read and listen carefully to these words.

8. My disciples, in days of old, sought occasion against one another and forgave not one another in their hearts; and for this evil they were afflicted and sorely chastened.

9. Wherefore, I say unto you, that ye ought to forgive one another; for he that forgiveth not his brother his trespasses standeth condemned before the Lord; for there remaineth in him the greater sin.

Note these words, brothers and sisters. It is a greater sin not to forgive his brother his trespasses.

10. I, the Lord, will forgive whom I will forgive, but of you it is required to forgive all men.

11. And ye ought to say in your hearts -- let God judge between me and thee, and reward thee according to thy deeds.

12. And him that repenteth not of his sins, and confesseth them not, ye shall bring before the church, and do with him as the scripture saith unto you, either by commandment or by revelation.

13. And this ye shall do that God may be glorified -- not because ye forgive not, having not compassion, but that ye may be justified in the eyes of the law, that ye may not offend him who is your lawgiver --

14. Verily I say, for this cause ye shall do these things.

Then instructions are given to certain brethren who are getting together to live in order, in the Holy United Order.

22. And after that day, I, the Lord, will not hold any guilty that shall go with an open heart up to the land of Zion; for I, the Lord, require the hearts of the children of men.
The remarks made by Brother Truman -- what is in our hearts -- come to mind, and I appreciate them.

23. Behold, now it is called today until the coming of the Son of Man, and verily it is a day of sacrifice, and a day for the tithing of my people; for he that is tithed shall not be burned at his coming.

24. For after today cometh the burning -- this is speaking after the manner of the Lord -- for verily I say, tomorrow all the proud and they that do wickedly shall be as stubble; and I will burn them up, for I am the Lord of Hosts; and I will not spare any that remain in Babylon.

"Come out of her, O ye My people." Come out of Babylon, and come to Zion, and live the spirit of Zion in our hearts, that we may be prepared.

25. Wherefore, if ye believe me, ye will labor while it is called today.

29. Wherefore, as ye are agents, ye are on the Lord's errand; and whatever ye do according to the will of the Lord is the Lord's business.

30. And he hath set you to provide for his saints in these last days, that they may obtain an inheritance in the land of Zion.

That is what we are trying to do here -- prepare a Zion here, before we go to the great center of Zion in Jackson County. We have got to show the Lord that we can live the Holy United Order here, before we can go there to do that.

31. And behold, I, the Lord, declare unto you, and my words are sure and shall not fail, that they shall obtain it.

32. But all things must come to pass in their time.

33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, for ye are laying the foundation of a great work. And out of small things proceedeth that which is great.

Those words I think are most encouraging, if we will take them to heart as a people.

33. Wherefore, be not weary in well-doing, for ye are laying the foundation of a great work.

This building is a monument to President Johnson and his leadership in having us enter into this glorious project, and the last words he spoke publicly, he stated this project showed that we meant business, in going to with all our heart, might, mind, and strength to accomplish that work which he gave us.

35. And the rebellious shall be cut off out of the land of Zion, and shall be sent away, and shall not inherit the land.

These things are going to be fulfilled, brothers and sisters.

36. For, verily I say that the rebellious are not of the blood of Ephraim, wherefore they shall be plucked out.

God will clean up this place by that means. Uncle Roy told me, and he did others, "I have done all I can to clean up this place, but the Lord will fight my battles." And I promise you that He will, if we are true and faithful and obedient in all things whatsoever the Lord our God shall give us.

37. Behold, I, the Lord, have made my church in these last days like unto a judge sitting on a hill, or in a high place, to judge the nations.

38. For it shall come to pass that the inhabitants of Zion shall judge all things pertaining to Zion.

39. And liars and hypocrites shall be proved by them, and they who are not apostles and prophets shall be known.

Has this not been so?

40. And even the bishop, who is a judge, and his counselors, if they are not faithful in their stewardships shall be condemned, and others shall be planted in their stead.

41. For, behold, I say unto you that Zion shall flourish, and the glory of the Lord shall be upon her;

42. And she shall be an ensign unto the people, and there shall come unto her out of every nation under heaven.

43. And the day shall come when the nations of the earth shall tremble because of her, and shall fear because of her terrible ones. The Lord hath spoken it.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 6:357  March 22, 1987  Sandy
We have had a wonderful time here this afternoon, brethren and sisters. I appreciate the testimonies that have been borne, and the truths of heaven that have been expounded to us here today. They have sunk deep into my heart.

I want to tell you that God is in His heaven. He is at the helm, and this work is going on. I testify to you that God lives, that Jesus is the Christ, and that Joseph is the Prophet of God at the head of this last dispensation, the One Mighty and Strong to set in order the House of God. All things are going according to the direction of the Prophets which have followed him down to the present time. They are with us on the other side.

I was reminded, while the faith-promoting experiences were related here today, of a time when President Johnson, President Guy Musser, myself, and Richard Jessop were on our way to the saints in Mexico. On the road before arriving at Saltillo, a little over halfway into Mexico, the water pump went out on the car. We limped into that town and got to a service station there, where we had to stop and couldn't go any further. We asked them if they knew where we could get a water pump. It couldn't be repaired, the one that had gone out on us. Guy phoned to Salt Lake to see if they could get a hold of a dealer next to Mexico, where we could get a water pump. I don't know what came of that, but we went over to another big city on the east coast of Mexico to see if they had one at a dealer there. They didn't have any there. We called the dealers of Buick Tires in Saltillo, and they didn't have any.

So we began working with the mechanic, who was there in the service station where we had stopped, to see if he could repair our water pump. While Uncle Roy and some of us were looking over the shoulder of the mechanic, under the hood of the car, a man appeared on the scene dressed in a business suit. He said to us in English, "Is this what you need?" He said this to Uncle Roy as he leaned over the car. He received it and said, "Yes it is. May we take care of the cost of it?" He said "No." They went to work to install the new pump. We looked back and the man was gone. It couldn't have been more than two or three minutes after he had handed the water pump to Uncle Roy.

Well, it was installed and we went on our way. Uncle Roy said, "That was one of the Three Nephites who came to our rescue." That is another wonderful experience that I have had with Uncle Roy. He is one of the great Prophets of this dispensation, following in the footsteps of Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, John W. Woolley, Lorin C. Woolley, and John Y. Barlow.

I sprang from John Y. Barlow, who ordained me, and I am grateful for it. I sprang from Uncle Roy, who was one with Uncle John, following him. I desire with all my heart and soul to carry on the great, great work that was laid as a foundation for the days that lie before us in the preparation of a people to redeem Zion. And I desire with all my heart, to do all things with an eye single to the glory of God and the building up of His Kingdom, and to go on to accomplish the work which He requires of us to do.

I pray, brothers and sisters, that we will become one people, rally around the holy Priesthood, which represents God here upon the earth, to go forward and accomplish the great mission which has been vouchsafed to us at this time. I pray God's blessings to be upon each and every one of you, and I ask it in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

We Are a Part of God Through Priesthood;
My Great Work Is to Carry On the Work of President Johnson, and to Accomplish the Redemption of Zion

This is a beautiful sight, my dear brothers and sisters. It looks like we have about two thousand four hundred fifty here today. Nearly full in the bottom, and we have got quite a few in the balconies. This is a marvelous monument to Leroy S. Johnson. He directed that it be built, and will forever be a reminder of the great and glorious administration of this great Prophet of God.

It is wonderful to meet with you again, brothers and sisters, in Conference. I seem to remember that it has been eight years since the last Conference we had here. Let us join together in unity of spirit and with faith unadorned and with love unbounded for the Lord our God, and for one another.

* * * * *

I hardly know how to express my deep love and appreciation for these, my brethren, for sustaining me in this position which carries such a great load. I love them dearly. I know they love me, and I want to be worthy of that love and support and confidence by doing the work of God according to the revelations that He gives concerning this great work in which we are engaged.

I would like to speak a word regarding the love of brethren. When you realize the ties that exist between brethren who bear the holy Priesthood after the order of the Son of God, the holy Melchizedek Priesthood. Priesthood is God; God is Priesthood. The power of the Priesthood, and the power by which God accomplishes all of His works of creation, and of sustaining His creations and blessing them and urging them on to perfection, is by the power of the Holy Ghost, which centers in the Father. Do you see the ties that are established? The Holy Ghost is the Spirit of peace and love. God is love. Can you see now why brethren tied together in the bonds of the holy Priesthood have a love that transcends description; laboring for the salvation of their families, to surround them, and of which they are a part, that you dear sisters are a part of a good and righteous man? You children are a part of your parents, and it is all tied together by Priesthood and the Holy Ghost, which makes us one.

If we can go on now, dear brothers and sisters, in this great common cause to prepare a people to redeem Zion, to build a great city and the temples of the Most High God, we will realize the glorious desires of God for us, which existed also in the heart and the mind and the being of President Leroy Johnson. And I am committed, dear brothers and sisters, to carry on that work, which he has so gloriously commenced and laid the foundations for us to go on down the road with him. And we are yet going to have him with us as we go down that road. The great ambition which I have, to the glory of God and the accomplishment of His purposes, with this people, is to find that group of five hundred Elders of Israel, which shall be the heart's core of the great work of the redemption of Zion, and going on that journey.

And as I have said before, dear brethren and sisters, we must have the spirit of Zion in our hearts, here and now! And regardless of whether there be those around us who don't have it, it is up to us to get it, if we want to be in that great concourse of Priesthood which will go down the road.

The Lord, in Section 103 of the Doctrine and Covenants, tells about what is required. The Prophet Joseph was told by the Lord he must have five hundred Elders of Israel, tried and true, who would go without murmuring under the direction of that one man, this glorious, great Prophet, the Prophet Joseph Smith, on a journey to succor and redeem Zion. The time had been set for September of 1836, for that to be accomplished. And this is what He said, the Lord Jesus Christ:

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.

Remember that great miracle of the Red Sea, spoken of by Brother Wendell.

19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.
20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

This was said in connection with this call for five hundred men, Elders of Israel, to go as one man, under one man, one with that one man, to accomplish the work of redemption. With a party of two hundred five Elders, and two or three women, they hardly got to the Mississippi River, and Sylvester Smith and others began complaining, and murmuring, and criticizing the Prophet. And from that very moment, when that was commenced, the Lord had decreed a curse upon them. And that was found out and accomplished in a description we have here of Wilford Woodruff.

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1898, Page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together. He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us. He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us. He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. You have not realized my position before the Lord. But there is a chastisement before this camp." He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels. In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here,
And others there, until fourteen died and others suffered.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand to stay it, and I came very near falling by it myself."

In his mercy and love for his brethren, he stretched out his hand to stay the hand of the Lord in bringing about that chastisement. So that is how sensitive this matter is, of criticizing and complaining. And if we can only learn the great and grand lesson, to get and keep the Spirit of God, that is the only way we are going to be united. And if we have that Holy Spirit of God, we are like God if we continue with a fullness of it. That is how we become like God, by being full of the Holy Ghost. And Joseph Smith, on many occasions, spoke how he had the fullness of the Holy Ghost with him in accomplishing his work.

Now, brothers and sisters, the time is far spent and I want to plead with you to seek with all your heart, might, mind, and strength, to get a fullness, be filled with this power of love, the pure love of Christ, spoken of in the last verse in chapter 7 of Moroni. We get it by faith, by the power of that great power of faith, by walking in obedience to the commandments of God, and coming to know that our course is pleasing to God. So let us labor with all our hearts to get this spirit of Zion, and go forward down the road with Uncle Roy, as we all go together. I pray we may do this, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

presented before you -- the whole story of what we are here to remember all the days of our lives, and I want an interest in your faith and prayers. John Taylor described these things, particularly the item that I want to bring to your attention, as to the nature, and purpose, and result of the crucifixion and the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The crucifixion of Jesus Christ had a twofold purpose -- first to atone for the sin of Adam, our Father, which brought death to them; and it was necessary that they fall. It was part of the plan of salvation that they might become mortal, and bring forth Adam and Eve, his wives, their children -- their spirit children which were come before we came into the world, and before they came down and were planted upon this terraqueous globe. The fall was by God. The redemption from that fall was by a God, and it had to be, under the plan that the Gods had laid out for Adam, through Jehovah and Elohim. Why this sacrifice?

From the commencement of the offering of sacrifices the inferior creature had to suffer for the superior. Although it had taken no part in the act of disobedience, yet was its blood shed and its life sacrificed, thus prefiguring the atonement of the Son of God,

You remember Brother Warren brought out that the law of sacrifice was fulfilled in the sacrifice of the Son of God; and the sacrament was given in place of that to remember this atonement and great sacrifice. To come from the children of Adam on down to the meridian of time, the law of sacrifice was given to prefigure the sacrifice of our Lord Jesus Christ; and they did that in remembrance or in the expectation, with faith in God, who was to come and bring them back into the presence of God, those who would obey and earn that glorious resurrection that President Johnson has so often told us about.

The creature indeed was made subject to vanity not willingly, but by reason of Him who hath subjected the same in hope. Millions of such offerings were made, and hecatombs of these expiatory sacrifices were offered in view of the great event that would be consummated when Jesus should offer up Himself. With man this was simply the obedience to a command and a given law, and with him might be considered simply a pecuniary sacrifice: with the animals it was a sacrifice of life. But what is the reason for all this suffering and bloodshed, and sacrifice? We are told that without shedding of blood is no remission" of sins. This is beyond our comprehension. Jesus had to take away sin by the sacrifice of Himself, the just for the unjust, but, previous to this grand sacrifice, these animals had to have their blood shed as types, until the great antitype should offer up Himself once for all. And as He in His own person bore the sins of all, and atoned for them by the sacrifice of Himself, so there came upon Him the weight and agony of ages and generations.

Think of the import of this.

...the indescribable agony consequent upon this great sacrificial atonement wherein He bore the sins of the world, and suffered in His own person the consequences of an eternal law of God broken by man. Hence His profound grief, His indescribable anguish, His overpowering torture, all experienced in the submission to the eternal fiat of Jehovah and the requirements of an inexorable law.

The suffering of the Son of God was not simply the suffering of personal death; for in assuming the position that He did in making an atonement for the sins of the world He bore the weight, the responsibility, and the burden of the sins of all men, which, to us, is incomprehensible. As stated, "the Lord, your Redeemer, suffered death in the flesh; wherefore he suffereth the pains of all men;" and Isaiah says: "Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows," also, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all," and again, "He hath poured out his souls unto death, and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sins of many;" or, as it is written in the Second Book of Nephi: "For behold, he suffereth the pains of all men; yea, the pains of every living creature, both men, women and children, who belong to the family of Adam;" whilst in Mosiah it is declared: "He shall suffer temptations, and pain of body, hunger, thirst and fatigue, even more than man can suffer, except it be unto death; for behold, blood cometh from every pore, so great shall be his anguish for the wickedness and abominations of his people."

Groaning beneath this concentrated load, this intense, incomprehensible pressure, this terrible exaction of Divine justice, from which feeble humanity shrank, and through the agony thus experienced sweating great drops of blood, He was led to exclaim, "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." He had wrestled with the superincumbent load in the wilderness, He had struggled against the powers of darkness that had been let loose upon him there; placed below all things, His mind surcharged with agony and pain, lonely and apparently helpless and forsaken, in his agony the blood oozed from His pores. Thus rejected by His own, attacked by the powers of darkness, and seemingly forsaken by His God, on the cross He bowed beneath the accumulated load, and cried out in anguish, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me!" When death approached to relieve Him from His horrible position, a ray of hope appeared through the abyss of darkness with which He had been surrounded, and in a spasm of relief, seeing the bright future beyond, He said, "It is finished! Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit." As a God, He descended below all things, and made Himself subject to man in mans fallen condition; as a man, He grappled with all the circumstances incident to His sufferings in the world. Anointed, indeed, with the oil of gladness above His fellows, He struggled with and overcame the powers of men and devils, of earth and hell combined; and aided by this superior power of the Godhead, He vanquished death, hell and the grave, and arose triumphant as the Son of God, the very eternal Father,

He is the Father and the Son, if you could understand that.

As the Son of Man, He endured all that it was possible for flesh and blood to endure; as the Son of God He triumphed over all, and forever ascended to the right hand of God, to further carry out the designs of Jehovah pertaining to the world and to the human family.

When he gave up the ghost, the solid rocks were riven, the foundations of the earth trembled, earthquakes shook the continents and rent the isles of the sea, a deep darkness overspread the sky, the mighty waters overflowed their accustomed bounds, huge mountains sank and valleys rose, the handiwork of feeble men was overthrown, their cities were engulfed or consumed by the vivid shafts of lightning, and all material things were convulsed with the throes of seeming dissolution. Thus was brought to pass that which was spoken by the prophet Zenos: "The rocks of the earth must rend; and because of the groanings of the earth, many of the kings of the isles of the sea shall be wrought upon by the Spirit of God to exclaim, The God of nature suffers." [1 Nephi, xix, 12.] And it is recorded, that so confessed the Centurion, and they that were with him watching the body of Jesus. For when they witnessed the earthquake, and the other things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, "Truly this was the Son of God." So also was fulfilled that which is written in the prophecy of Enoch:

Those same things were described in the vision which he saw, in futurity.  I do not want to take too much time here, folks, but what was a result? Jesus Christ is the only Heir of God. We, as His people, may become joint heirs with Him, heirs of God, and receive all that He does. All of us who believe and follow Jesus Christ and earn a glorious resurrection become adopted sons and daughters of God. We are adopted in through the atonement and the resurrection of Jesus Christ; and thus may we become Gods, as is described in Section 132, by the living of the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, abiding all of the laws and commandments of God, and walking in truth and righteousness, and become like Jesus, our Elder Brother, our Savior, our Lord, our God and Father; and I bear this testimony to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

History of the United Effort Plan;
God Will Fight the Battles of a United People

I have been deeply moved, my dear brothers and sisters, by the remarks that have preceded, and Brother Truman has got to the heart of the thing that is working on us, and is working on me in particular -- this United Effort Plan. I ask an interest in your faith and prayers, that the remarks that I may be led to give will be by the Spirit of God.

I will give you a little history of this final document that was got up and signed into being on November 9, 1942. I came into this work in 1939, the end of 1938. I had not been told about the United Trust Document that had been got up preceding the United Effort Plan, but I learned later at the time of the consideration of this document, which I had a part in meeting with the brethren. I do not know why a new convert like me in the work was being asked to be one of the Trustees. John Y. Barlow was President and Trustee; Leroy S. Johnson was Vice President and Trustee; Joseph W. Musser was secretary and treasurer, and a Trustee; J. Marion Hammon a Trustee; and Rulon Jeffs a Trustee.

The heart of the United Effort Plan, or the property around which it was built, was the property of Leroy S. Johnson, which he had insisted should remain with the Priesthood, when the United Trust was broken up and men given back their properties. And John Y. Barlow offered Leroy Johnson his property. He said, "No, Uncle John, I gave that parcel." One section of land is the homestead which he acquired here, I think in 1923. "I gave that parcel of land to the Priesthood, and it is going to stay there." The Trust Agreement was founded on that parcel of property, which Uncle Roy insisted remain. Others later put theirs back, but not all.

So, we had a firm foundation, and this was gotten up by the inspiration of God. I am grateful that Truman found this piece by Brigham Young, in which he describes the dilemma they had in trying to enter into the Order of Enoch. Truly, it is now standing the test of time, the actions of apostates, actions taken in the courts of law by apostates in order to break up this grand instrument which governs us in our efforts now to live the Holy United Order.

That is the thing which inspires me, is this wonderful, perfect dedication of Leroy Johnson in the founding of the United Effort Plan, of which he succeeded John Y. Barlow as President. Joseph Musser and John Y. Barlow passed away and that left three Trustees: Leroy Johnson, J. Marion Hammon, and Rulon Jeffs. In the events that followed, efforts to break up this Plan, Brother Marion was asked to resign by President Johnson, for reasons that I do not care to give here, but they were justified; and immediately, President Johnson nominated and appointed Fred M. Jessop to take the place of Marion Hammon. That gave us the minimum of three Trustees. Since then there had been added five more Trustees, so that we now have seven: James Zitting, Elder Winston Blackmore, Elder Parley Harker, Truman Barlow, and LeRoy Jeffs, after the passing of President Johnson.

So, we now have a fully organized Board of Trustees and we are prepared to carry on under God in the accomplishment of a fullness of the Everlasting Gospel in the lives of the people of this community. The Holy United Order, along with the order of Celestial and Plural Marriage, constitute the fullness of the Gospel, the crowning principles of the Gospel. We cannot truly, brothers and sisters, get a community together to abide the Holy United Order until enough families are abiding the Holy United Order. That is where it must begin, brothers and sisters -- united families brought together as a United Order, of the Order of Enoch.

There is much to be done. We have got some tight places to go through, brothers and sisters, and it is awesome to me in being called to preside over this great people. And when I understand and realize what we have to go through, it becomes more awesome. This place must be cleaned up. President Johnson told me, and he told others, "I have done all I can." Yes, with the help of God in setting in order the community that we are now residing in, cleaning this place up of apostates, and with the help of God, it will be done. God will do it Himself if we will become united, brethren and sisters, and stand as one man. God will take care of His servants and He will take care of His people. That was a philosophy, the faith, and the essence of the labors of President Leroy S. Johnson. If we will abide our covenants and live the Holy Order of Marriage, abide in it under a spirit of the United Order, we can have power with God, through knowing that our course of life is pleasing to Him, and we will have perfect faith through that means.

Now, brothers and sisters, I wanted to go into some things that are in the offing, but it would take too long to do. President Johnson in most of his sermons would call upon us to prepare and to repent against the day of visitation. That day is upon us, brothers and sisters. The elements leading up to those things are in place right now. We are entering into a recession, and by next year we are going to have a bank crisis that will throw us into a depression, worse than the one of the 1930's. Banks are closing by the hundreds. They have gone bankrupt and are being taken over by bigger banks, or the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has had to take them over and pay off depositors. But economists now are predicting that by 1988, there will be a disaster of the closing of all the banks, as Roosevelt did in 1933, at the beginning of the 1929 to 1942 Depression; and he had to get us into war to get through that Depression, the second World War. And God only knows what is going to follow when that happens, when we enter into that great depression. The timing, of course, as I have given it here, is that of economists, which are well able to say what they have.

So, we are going to have to tighten our belts, brothers and sisters, and prepare for the worst. But God will be with us if we will live our religion, and He will fight our battles as He has for Leroy Johnson. And He will do it for me, and for you, and all of us together if we will be one. Get the Spirit of God and keep it. That is the answer to all our troubles. I listen to family troubles in my interviews, and the only answer I can give is to get and keep the Spirit of God. That will take care of all, if you can do it. In the Spirit of peace, the Spirit of love, there can be no criticizing. And I appreciate the beautiful sentiments concerning that, given us here by Brother Fred. The spirit of criticism is the spirit of false and delusive spirits. It is engendered by them. And to help us know what we are doing, and what spirits are actuating us, we have this word of the Prophet Joseph:

TPJS  Page 216

If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil.

There is no neutral ground.

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

And so say I, and call upon all of us to repent and prepare, and believe, and have faith, a perfect faith in God, and He will fight our battles. This labor of President Johnson regarding the five hundred true and faithful Elders of Israel to redeem Zion is a reality that must be accomplished. It is not a dream. God called for five hundred men in 1834. He got two hundred five, and they failed in their mission because of criticism, complaining, and murmuring. We are required not to even murmur, brothers and sisters, let alone complain or criticize the Prophet. Sylvester Smith, Brother Marks, and others began criticizing the Prophet, and you heard me read what came of that, last time. There must be no failure again. The time is too short. We are going to have to go through some very hard times and places to get there.

So, I pray God will be with us, and strengthen us, and draw us near together, and go down the road with Uncle Roy and John Y. Barlow, who started this thing, this United Effort Plan. So, brothers and sisters, let us have one faith, one God, one baptism, one man to lead us, and all will be well. God bless you, amen.

The Judgments of God on This Generation

My dear brothers and sisters, I have been deeply moved by the humble testimonies and remarks that have been made up to this time. We have been fed the bread of life. We have been encouraged and instructed according to the revelations of God.

I want to express my deep gratitude for the work of our school. It is a wonderful thing, brothers and sisters, that we can, in the school, have the Gospel of Jesus Christ taught, and to raise up these children looking to their head, and going on to learn the fullness of the Gospel and obey all of its laws and principles, and become like God. This is the object of our lives, brothers and sisters. I pray that the Spirit of God will actuate the remarks I may make to follow, and that I may be led to encourage and strengthen us, but also to warn us and prepare us.

President Johnson throughout his sermons would always call upon us to repent and prepare for that which is to come, that we might be prepared against the visitation of destruction and judgments which are to come, and how to do it. And I would like to outline a little, some of the things that are going to have to be passed through in order to come out and do the will of God and accomplish His will and purposes concerning us.

Jesus, in Section 45, tells about His disciples who had sought to know the signs of His coming at the time of the last days in His glorious coming to redeem Zion and to rule and reign as one whose right it is to rule and reign during the great Millennium.

D.& C. 45

22. Ye say that ye know that the end of the world cometh; ye say also that ye know that the heavens and the earth shall pass away;
23. And in this ye say truly, for so it is; but these things which I have told you shall not pass away until all shall be fulfilled.
24. And this I have told you concerning Jerusalem; and when that day shall come, shall a remnant be scattered among all nations;
25. But they shall be gathered again; but they shall remain until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.
26. And in that day shall be heard of wars and rumors of wars, and the whole earth shall be in commotion, and men's hearts shall fail them, and they shall say that Christ delayeth his coming until the end of the earth.
27. And the love of men shall wax cold, and iniquity shall abound.
28. And when the times of the Gentiles is come in, a light shall break forth among them that sit in darkness, and it shall be the fulness of my gospel;
29. But they receive it not; for they perceive not the light, and they turn their hearts from me because of the precepts of men.

30. And in that generation shall the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

I once asked President Johnson when was that, or when is it to be. He said that the times of the gentiles was fulfilled in 1890, when Wilford Woodruff issued the Manifesto, by which the Church voted to reject the fullness of the Gospel, the Family Order of Heaven, the Celestial Law of Marriage. And that is when the Priesthood, having been set up by the Lord Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith in 1886, began to carry on, as they were under covenant to do -- the fullness of the Gospel, including Celestial and Plural Marriage -- and see that children were born under that covenant until Christ comes.

They had to go underground to do it. John W. Woolley was the one who followed John Taylor. And from that time on, the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ were changed by the leadership of the Church, and they had forfeited their rights to the fullness of the Gospel because of their actions.

31. And there shall be men standing in that generation, that shall not pass until they shall see an overflowing scourge; for a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

Imagine what this is now, brothers and sisters.

31. ...a desolating sickness shall cover the land.

Some mention the possibility of AIDS being that great sickness. But whatever it is, it will be a desolating thing. This means the land shall be swept clean of its inhabitants by this overflowing scourge; but also other things.

32. But my disciples shall stand in holy places, and shall not be moved; but among the wicked, men shall lift up their voices and curse God and die.

33. And there shall be earthquakes also in divers places, and many desolations; yet men will harden their hearts against me, and they will take up the sword, one against another, and they will kill one another.

Mother shall be against daughter, daughter against mother; fathers against sons, and sons against fathers. Brigham Young goes on to show that nation shall rise up against nation, states against states, cities against cities, until the whole earth shall be in commotion.
34. And now, when I the Lord had spoken these words unto my disciples, they were troubled.
35. And I said unto them: Be not troubled, for, when all these things shall come to pass, ye may know that the promises which have been made unto you shall be fulfilled.
36. And when the light shall begin to break forth, it shall be with them like unto a parable which I will show you --
37. Ye look and behold the fig-trees, and ye see them with your eyes, and ye say when they begin to shoot forth, and their leaves are yet tender, that summer is now nigh at hand;
38. Even so it shall be in that day when they shall see all these things, then shall they know that the hour is nigh.
39. And it shall come to pass that he that feareth me shall be looking forth for the great day of the Lord to come, even for the signs of the coming of the Son of Man.
40. And they shall see signs and wonders, for they shall be shown forth in the heavens above, and in the earth beneath.
41. And they shall behold blood, and fire, and vapors of smoke.
42. And before the day of the Lord shall come, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon be turned into blood, and the stars fall from heaven.
43. And the remnant shall be gathered unto this place;
44. And then they shall look for me, and, behold, I will come; and they shall see me in the clouds of heaven, clothed with power and great glory; with all the holy angels; and he that watches not for me shall be cut off.
45. But before the arm of the Lord shall fall, an angel shall sound his trump, and the saints that have slept shall come forth to meet me in the cloud.
46. Wherefore, if ye have slept in peace blessed are you; for as you now behold me and know that I am, even so shall ye come unto me and your souls shall live, and your redemption shall be perfected; and the saints shall come forth from the four quarters of the earth.
47. Then shall the arm of the Lord fall upon the nations.
48. And then shall the Lord set his foot upon this mount,
The Mount of Olives.
48. ...and it shall cleave in twain, and the earth shall tremble, and reel to and fro, and the heavens also shall shake.

49. And the Lord shall utter his voice, and all the ends of the earth shall hear it; and the nations of the earth shall mourn, and they that have laughed shall see their folly.

50. And calamity shall cover the mocker, and the scorner shall be consumed; and they that have watched for iniquity shall be hewn down and cast into the fire.

51. And then shall the Jews look upon me and say: What are these wounds in thine hands and in thy feet?

52. Then shall they know that I am the Lord; for I will say unto them: These wounds are the wounds with which I was wounded in the house of my friends. I am he who was lifted up. I am Jesus that was crucified. I am the Son of God.

53. And then shall they weep because of their iniquities; then shall they lament because they persecuted their king.

54. And then shall the heathen nations be redeemed, and they that knew no law shall have part in the first resurrection; and it shall be tolerable for them.

55. And Satan shall be bound, that he shall have no place in the hearts of the children of men.

56. And at that day, when I shall come in my glory, shall the parable be fulfilled which I spake concerning the ten virgins.

57. For they that are wise and have received the truth, and have taken the Holy Spirit for their guide, and have not been deceived -- verily I say unto you, they shall not be hewn down and cast into the fire, but shall abide the day.

58. And the earth shall be given unto them for an inheritance; and they shall multiply and wax strong, and their children shall grow up without sin unto salvation.

59. For the Lord shall be in their midst, and his glory shall be upon them, and he will be their king and their lawgiver.

60. And now, behold, I say unto you, it shall not be given unto you to know any further concerning this chapter, until the New Testament be translated, and in it all these things shall be made known;
61. Wherefore I give unto you that ye may now translate it, that ye may be prepared for the things to come.

62. For verily I say unto you, that great things await you;

63. Ye hear of wars in foreign lands; but, behold, I say unto you, they are nigh, even at your doors, and not many years hence ye shall hear of wars in your own lands.

64. Wherefore I, the Lord, have said, gather ye out from the eastern lands, assemble ye yourselves together ye elders of my church; go ye forth into the western countries, call upon the inhabitants to repent, and inasmuch as they do repent, build up churches unto me.

65. And with one heart and with one mind, gather up your riches that ye may purchase an inheritance which shall hereafter be appointed unto you.

66. And it shall be called the New Jerusalem, a land of peace, a city of refuge, a place of safety for the saints of the Most High God;

67. And the glory of the Lord shall be there, and the terror of the Lord also shall be there, insomuch that the wicked will not come unto it, and it shall be called Zion.

68. And it shall come to pass among the wicked, that every man that will not take his sword against his neighbor must needs flee unto Zion for safety.

69. And there shall be gathered unto it out of every nation under heaven; and it shall be the only people that shall not be at war one with another.

70. And it shall be said among the wicked: Let us not go up to battle against Zion, for the inhabitants of Zion are terrible; wherefore we cannot stand.

71. And it shall come to pass that the righteous shall be gathered out from among all nations, and shall come to Zion, singing with songs of everlasting joy.

72. And now I say unto you, keep these things from going abroad unto the world until it is expedient in me, that ye may accomplish this work in the eyes of the people, and in the eyes of your enemies, that they may not know your works until ye have accomplished the thing which I have commanded you;

73. That when they shall know it, that they may consider these things.
74. For when the Lord shall appear he shall be terrible unto them, that fear may seize upon them, and they shall stand afar off and tremble.
75. And all nations shall be afraid because of the terror of the Lord, and the power of his might. Even so. Amen.

So we there have, brothers and sisters, in some detail, the things that we must pass through in the time shortly to come to pass; and I pray that we may be prepared. Repent and be prepared against the day of visitation. The Lord will fight our battles if we know that our course is pleasing unto Him, and we live our religion and be one people. We will then become the children of Zion and go and redeem it.

May God help us to come to this point, and be with us daily in our lives. May the Holy Spirit by our guide and companion. May it always be with us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Be Ye Perfect;
Must Be Introduced to the Savior Through the Prophet;
We Must Become One

My dear brothers and sisters, we have heard some grand principles and truths expounded to us up to this time, that if we were to close now, we would have had all that we could contain at the present time. These brethren have expressed the same feelings that I have had as I have sat here listening, and I say, "Amen and Amen," to what they have told us here, where it comes from the Lord through His Holy Spirit upon them.

I just want to spend the few moments I stand before you here now, with the help of the Lord, to talk about my beloved Prophet Leroy S. Johnson, for I have committed myself as a servant of God to carry on the great work that he has laid the foundation for us to carry on with. My administration, I feel, must be an extension of his. I was gratified to hear the testimony that the transition, if there was any, has been unnoticeable, for the spirit of Leroy S. Johnson is upon me.

I would just like to bring to our attention why he had such great power with the hearts of men, the people of God. It was because he was like Christ, who has drawn all of the righteous and faithful to Him through the power of love, the pure love of Christ. He taught by precept some grand things that we have in his sermons, and in our private interviews we have had with him. But the greatest sermon he has preached is the example of his own life. I feel he accomplished that which God has called upon His saints to do: Be ye perfect as our Father in heaven is perfect. I can't find an inconsistency in any of the things that he has taught or lived. Example was a great teacher in his life, as well as his glorious and grand truths of words of life as they fell from the lips of the Lord Jesus Christ. He was a "gigantic Apostle" of Jesus Christ, and I call upon all of us, and myself especially, to follow his example and live the life that he lived, that we may be with him, that we may be with Uncle John, John W. Woolley, Lorin Woolley, John Taylor, Brigham Young, and Joseph Smith, Jun.

Have we forgotten the grand principle that has been taught in times gone by, that we cannot be recommended to the Lord Jesus Christ except by him who presided over us, who had the keys of our salvation? That introduction must be made to the Lord Jesus Christ by one who knows Him and has become like Him. Otherwise, we cannot stand among that people that Jesus Christ will be with when the redemption of Zion takes place, when He leads that grand journey back to the City of Zion, which has been described in Section 103 of the Doctrine and Covenants.

So, brothers and sisters, I would just like to leave this one grand example and truth with us. We have the Lord Jesus Christ, who came in the meridian of time and set the perfect example of a God. His life and teachings are the things that we must be governed by. We must become like Him, and He is one with His Father.

So the grand principle by which we are going to accomplish the purposes of God as a people, the grand, grand principle is to become one, united. We cannot accomplish the things that lay before us save we be united. We will not have taken from our midst those who are rebellious and have broken away and have turned away from the Prophet Leroy Johnson; except we be united, they cannot be plucked out. We have before us now conditions that involve items of compromise that Brother Truman has mentioned, that we have to meet.

So, brothers and sisters, let us be put on notice that we are now standing before the great judgments of God that are coming upon us. We will not get through them and survive them, brothers and sisters, save we be one and know that our course of life is pleasing unto God, and have perfect faith. When that crisis came through the letter a year or so ago, April 1st; when there was a threat against the life of President Johnson, President Johnson was at peace with God. He made the statement, "Brothers and sisters, if we live our religion, if we live all of the commandments of God, and know that we please God, then we will have the faith to meet this battle." He will fight our battles, brothers and sisters, and He cannot do it save we be one with Him and His Prophet, and His people, His Prophets who have gone before. Now, may we all unite together in this great cause in which we are engaged, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Spirit of God; Love

Let us unite our hearts, brothers and sisters, that the Holy Spirit of God may be in abundance here, to teach and instruct us, that we may have joy and rejoicing in the same.

* * * * *

I appreciate, dear brothers and sisters, what has been said here today, particularly bearing upon the Holy Spirit of God. And I pray the Lord will bless me while I add a few words and thoughts upon this most important thing connected with our present conditions, and our growth and development, and the building up of the Kingdom of God; and the redemption, ultimately, of the city and the temple of Zion. We must have the spirit of Zion in our hearts NOW!

The spirit of Zion is the Holy Spirit of God. And I appreciate the expressions of Uncle Fred regarding that matter. I want to bring to bear something further, something we have heard before; but I would like to get it down to "brass tacks", as Brother Fred says. Brigham Young had a dream at Winter Quarters in 1847:

Truth 10:221

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time.
President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed him many times, and said to him:

"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be?
This is how I feel about Leroy Johnson, and the same about Joseph Smith.
You have been from us a long time; we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him.
Joseph said:
"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be bye and bye, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:
"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the kingdom of God.
Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in heaven before they came into the world. Our Father in heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion." ***

Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

So as it has been stated, if we have and keep the Spirit of God, it will solve all of our problems. If there be jarrings, strife, contentions, and lustful and covetous desires, the things that caused the people to be driven from Jackson County, they cannot do these things and have the Spirit of God. Section 121 tells beautifully the nature and power of this Holy Spirit of God.

D.& C. 121

34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?
35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson --
36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.
37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

The Holy Spirit is the power of the Priesthood.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.
39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.

40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

And the chosen are they who become filled with the Holy Ghost.
41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;

By the Holy Ghost you can reprove, and it can be powerful. The most powerful rebuke that we can get is that which is given by the Holy Ghost because of our sins and weaknesses. Well, here is how it works:

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

Isn't that beautiful? And what a wonderful thing when you see mothers and fathers reproving their children and afterwards showing forth love. And you do not show love when you have a fit of temper. Then it goes on:

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

See how it works? They love them all the more and are grateful for having received the reproof, if they have the Spirit of God and will get it.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

There is the grand reward. God bless us to attain these things, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Perfect Faith
Well, my brothers and sisters, we have heard the will of the Lord to us here today. Brother Truman has spoken for me. I pray that you will heed what has been said here today, and make our individual preparations. The thing that keeps running in my ears is a statement of President Johnson: "If we will live our religion, the Lord will protect us and fight our battles." We must build up our most holy faith and coming to a knowledge that we please God, that we may have perfect faith thereby. I would just like to add one summary of what it takes to have perfect faith and unite and become one.

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God; and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, a correct conception of his character, and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him -- will render faith perfect, will constitute it a principle of power, the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born, with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their calling and election sure -- through faith ripening into knowledge.

May we have these blessings, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Oneness; Redemption of Zion; Why Zion's Camp Failed

We have had a rich outpouring of truth fed to us here today. I pray God will bless me with His Holy Spirit in the remarks that He may lead me to make.

Brothers and sisters, God hath said, through His holy Prophets, "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine." Do you get the import of this grand and glorious truth? Joseph Smith called upon his people to go and redeem the saints in Zion. The Lord called upon him to gather five hundred men, Elders of Israel, to go and accomplish this great command, to succor the saints who had been driven out of Zion, out of the land of Zion. They were to go without murmuring, even murmuring, and follow their head, Joseph Smith, Jun. They hardly got to the Mississippi River from Kirtland, Ohio, and from areas in the north -- Hyrum gathering from the north part of the area and Joseph from the south in Kirtland -- until Sylvester Smith began to complain and criticize the Prophet. Lyman Wight, in charge of a contingent of that Zion's army, failed to obey the Prophet in the handling of his men. And because of these and other infractions of the command of God, that they go as one man without murmuring, he got up on the back of a wagon and told them the Lord had a chastisement for them, for having broken His law of oneness to accomplish the end in view. Wilford Woodruff described what happened:

Wilford Woodruff, Conference Report, April 1848, Page 29

I will refer to one instance. A short time before we landed in Missouri, Joseph called the camp together. He there prophesied unto us, and told us what lay before us. He gave us the reason why chastisement was before us. He says: "You consider me a boy with the rest of you. You have not realized my position before the Lord. But there is a chastisement before this camp." He told us that this would come upon us because he had not been obeyed in his counsels. In one hour after we landed in Missouri and pitched our tents at Mr. Burkett's, one man began to fall here,  Another there. Fourteen fell from cholera.

He said afterwards: "I told you what was coming to pass, and when affliction came I stretched out my hand to stay it, and I came very near falling by it myself."

Which he did in his great love and compassion for his brethren. So they had failed in that mission because they were not one. It had its great benefits, however. The men who were faithful and true in that journey in that Camp of Zion were later called to the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles and of the First Council of Seventy, to complete the organization of the Church of Jesus Christ. They were sent back. After having accomplished what he did, Joseph Smith then was told to call upon them to finish the temple out of their poverty, and do it by becoming one.

How do we become one, brothers and sisters? By the grand key, getting and keeping the Holy Spirit of God. The secret is keeping it. If we have it and keep it, we cannot do these things, the things that the Lord gave as a reason for them having been driven out of Zion, when the Prophet Joseph cried unto the Lord to know why. The Lord said there were jarrings, and contentions, and strifes, and envyings, and lustful and covetous desires among them. By these things they polluted their inheritances. So we can see why the Lord says, "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine."

Zion will be redeemed. The place has not been changed. It shall be where the Lord said it would be, in Jackson County, Missouri. And it will be redeemed in His own due time. President Johnson, I had full faith and still do, that he was going to have a great part in the redemption of Zion. He expressed that as a desire of his, and it would be accomplished. I want to be with him in doing it. I know you all would like to be one with him in doing it. His having passed over on the other side does not lessen the likelihood that he will have a great part in the redemption of Zion, for the Lord said, in Section 103, "Zion must be redeemed with power." I would like to read it. Zion shall not be removed out of her place.

D.& C. 103

13. Behold, this is the blessing which I have promised after your tribulations, and the tribulations of your brethren -- your redemption, and the redemption of your brethren, even their restoration to the land of Zion, to be established, no more to be thrown down.

That is what is before us.

14. Nevertheless, if they pollute their inheritances they shall be thrown down; for I will not spare them if they pollute their inheritances.

This was given prior to the requirement as given in the latter part of the revelation to gather together five hundred men to redeem Zion, for the time had been set, September of 1836, if they could go and do as they were commanded to do, and be one. And looking down to the time when that shall be done, the Lord says this:

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;

16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.

18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.
19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.

20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, Angels -- plural.
20. ...and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

And it must and will be done by the Lord having the Elders of Israel, the army of the Camp of Zion, led by the Lord Jesus Christ and His angels. They must have and keep the Spirit of God. If they have it, they cannot do the things that would pollute their inheritances. They cannot break the moral laws, which have been so amply described here today. They will not criticize. They will not envy. There will be no jarrings. You cannot do those things when you have the Spirit of God, except you sin and lose it.

So, this is the great desire of my heart, my dear brothers and sisters, to see this people filled with the Holy Ghost, going as one man to redeem Zion under President Johnson, and other angels, with the Lord Jesus Christ going before. Let us go as the Lord has commanded us in the seventh chapter of Moroni, and get and keep the Spirit of God. That is a key thing, my brothers and sisters, and it epitomizes and describes how we can be one, by coming into the presence of the Savior.

Moroni 7

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
This is how to get and keep the Spirit of God.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
Which is the Spirit of God, the pure love of Christ.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;
Become the sons of God, Elders of Israel.

48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.
There is a crowning achievement, the end of our faith, to come into the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ; and He will lead that solemn Camp of Zion. God bless us that we may gather together and become that glorious concourse of the Elders of Israel in the redemption of Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Priesthood Story of 1978 - 1984

Dear brothers and sisters, it is a wonderful occasion that brings us together here. I appreciate meeting with you here today. I appreciate the brethren that have come up. I am sure you will be glad to hear from some of them. And I pray that the Spirit of God will rest down upon us, that we will be one in heart and mind, and through the power of unity we may call upon the Lord for blessings that we can be able to receive.

* * * * *

I humbly pray that the Lord will put words in my mouth, and read the word of the Lord as it is necessary to get a message over to you here today. I am grateful to be here with you. I love you all -- all of Uncle Roy's people. And I am grateful that the Lord used me as an instrument in sustaining President Johnson in his position as keyholder, the mouthpiece of God, and the one man who has the keys of the sealing powers.

I feel impressed to tell that which occurred in Council Meeting March 18, 1978, which gave rise to the things we are talking about here now. On January 8, 1978, in the Priesthood home, President Johnson had assigned Marion Hammon, Rulon Jeffs, and Alma Timpson to be at that meeting -- first Sunday of January. As the meeting commenced, a sick feeling came over me -- I did not know why -- and I could not participate in the speaking at that meeting, and I asked Brother Hammon to excuse me from it. As events took place, I could understand why.

Alma Timpson was called upon to conduct the service. He called upon, as the first speaker, Elder Alfred E. Olschewski, who, in the course of his remarks, made the statement, "There is a provision, there is a statement in Section 132 that many of us take as correct." He said that provision was the "parenthetical matter" in Section 132, verse 7: "And there is never but one man upon the earth upon whom this power," meaning the sealing power, "and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred." He said, "This is not so." And then he cited as the reason for that "parenthetical matter" being given, indicating that it was added to later, from the time it was first written. I do not know what his authority could be for that. But he said the reason for that provision was to take care of the ambitions of Sidney Rigdon. Nothing could be further from the truth. That explanation is given on page 209, volume 10 of the Truth Magazine when Joseph Musser treated on the subject, "The One Man." It explained how Sidney Rigdon had been too ambitious and he had to put this in to take care of him. Well bless his soul, Sidney Rigdon was away off when that revelation was given. He would have been over in Pittsburgh raising up a church of his own. He had come back the previous October to the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph, and begged to be added back as Counselor to the Prophet Joseph Smith. And Joseph Musser, in writing that article, said that Sidney Rigdon was too ambitious. Well, he was not even in Nauvoo at the time that the revelation was written.

President Johnson indicated to me later, that Marion Hammon had said on one occasion, in early March or late February of 1978, his statement, "I hate that parenthetical matter in verse 7 of Section 132." I say this because it was these two occasions when Marion Hammon having approved what Alfred Olschewski had said as being true. Alma Timpson got up afterwards and concurred with him, what Alfred Olschewski had said was true.

Now this brought the Prophet to -- on a meeting of March 18, 1978, of the Priesthood Council, consisting of six of us: Leroy Johnson, Marion Hammon, Guy Musser, Rulon Jeffs, Richard Jessop, and Alma Timpson -- President Johnson stood up at the beginning of that meeting and said, "The Lord has sent me here this day to correct some very serious things that have been said over the pulpit to this people." And he said, "Brother Hammon, you have said over the pulpit that the one man rule set out in Section 132 verse 7 is not true. Would you change the scripture?" His response to that was, "What about the 1880 Revelation?", which, as we all know what that provides -- the keys being held by the Apostles in common, in all the world and the Kingdom of God.

President Johnson then said, "Brethren, that 1880 Revelation was a delusion which the Lord permitted satan to give to Wilford Woodruff, that they who love not the truth might believe a lie and be damned," as it is described in 2nd Thessalonians, second chapter -- the Lord would send them strong delusions - and that is described in "The Coming Crisis" as to why.

Then Brother Johnson asked me to read Section 28. I will just read a few verses. Section 43 says the same thing. Oliver Cowdery had been working with Hiram Page, whom satan had deceived, who had a seer stone, and was believing some revelations that were being given as a result.

D. & C. 28

1. Behold, I say unto thee, Oliver, that it shall be given unto thee that thou shalt be heard by the church in all things whatsoever thou shalt teach them by the Comforter, concerning the revelations and commandments which I have given.
2. But, behold, verily, verily, I say unto thee, no one shall be appointed to receive commandments and revelations in this church excepting my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., for he receiveth them even as Moses.
3. And thou shalt be obedient unto the things which I shall give unto him, even as Aaron, to declare faithfully the commandments and the revelations, with power and authority unto the church.
4. And if thou art led at any time by the Comforter to speak or teach, or at all times by the way of commandment unto the church, thou mayest do it.
5. But thou shalt not write by way of commandment, but by wisdom;
6. And thou shalt not command him who is at thy head, and at the head of the church;
7. For I have given him the keys of the mysteries, and the revelations which are sealed, until I shall appoint unto them another in his stead.

Then he called upon each of the brethren to respond. By the way, we all know very well why Wilford Woodruff could not be receiving such a revelation. John Taylor was the head, and that certainly went to the very root of whose right it is to rule. Well, Brother Musser, Brother Hammon, and Brother Timpson each said much the same thing: "Brother Johnson, we accept you as President of Priesthood," and that is all. At a later meeting Marion Hammon made the statement, "I stand on the 1880 Revelation," before which he had put out the word that Brother Johnson had given us a delusion on a certain occasion -- turned what Uncle Roy said, turned around to make him giving a delusion -- but Wilford Woodruff gave it. I stood up next and I said, "President Johnson, I accept with all my heart what you have given us here this day as coming from God, and I am with you all the way." Uncle Rich got up and said much the same thing.

That day the Council split right down the middle. Later on, Uncle Roy told me what happened after Marion and Alma and I had left the meeting, leaving Uncle Roy, Uncle Rich, and Guy Musser standing together there in the meeting room where we were. All of a sudden, Guy Musser raised his hand up and pointed to Uncle Roy, "You are apostate and senile." It broke his heart. He told me later, after the last graduation exercise in Short Creek, that he had suffered more over Guy Musser than he had from the shingles.

Well, we all know what happened over the pulpit after that, until it came out that very strange remarks were made by those three brethren, and we know the result now. I am grateful to have been able, by the power of the Lord, His blessings to me, to sustain that great Prophet, who I considered to be god over me as Moses was over the House of Israel, and as Joseph was over the saints in his day, and as Brigham was in his day. They both said so to the saints -- Joseph and Brigham.

President Johnson was a man without guile, and I loved him. I love him now more than any man I have ever known. I want to follow in his footsteps and carry out the work that he laid such a great foundation for, under God, to unite a people that can redeem Zion. That was the great cry of Uncle Roy to this people, desiring to prepare a people to redeem Zion, and I know he will have a part in it.

So I pray, my dear brothers and sisters, for the prayers of the saints, and for us to unite as we were united under Uncle Roy. My purpose is to carry out that which he has taught us, and continue in the course that he set for all of us; which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Repent and Prepare;
Must Have the Faith of the Brother of Jared
Through Pleasing God;
I appreciate the things that have been said here this day; and we have had a message of love and encouragement and an admonition to round out our lives and become one people, first in our families, and then as a people; that we may be used by the Lord in the redemption of Zion. I pray for the Lord to direct my remarks as the others, that we may be strengthened and encouraged in our faith and walk on down the road, led as before with Uncle Roy; for I want to carry out the things that he has commenced, and I know I am going to have to have his help, and certainly the revelations and blessings of God in accomplishing this great end, which we are so anxiously engaged in.

The message I get from these sermons of President Johnson is always: "Repent and prepare." If we do not, we will be destroyed, if we do not walk in perfect obedience to the commandments of God. What you heard here in Section 82 of the Doctrine and Covenants from Brother Truman is verily the way it works: "If you do not what I say, you have no promise. If you do what I say and obey My commandments, then I am bound." And that is what comes through perfect faith, through perfect obedience to the commandments of God.

The great example we have of perfect faith is the example of the brother of Jared, and I delight always in reading the account in chapter 3 of the book of Ether, and see how faith works. The Lord had, as he was building the vessels that they were to go across the great deep in, the Lord had directed him how to build it every step of the way, and he did exactly as he was told to do, and he did not try to put a better idea over. The Lord prepared him for these things, and having finished the construction of the vessels, he had the problem of needing light, and building it so that they could have light as they crossed the great deep.

Ether 2

25. And behold, I prepare you against these things; for ye cannot cross this great deep save I prepare you against the waves of the sea, and the winds which have gone forth, and the floods which shall come. Therefore what will ye that I should prepare for you that ye may have light when ye are swallowed up in the depths of the sea?

Now these things were whispered of the Lord through His Holy Spirit to him as he carried on.
1. And it came to pass that the brother of Jared, (now the number of the vessels which had been prepared was eight) went forth unto the mount, which they called the mount Shelem, because of its exceeding height, and did molten out of a rock sixteen small stones; and they were white and clear, even as transparent glass; and he did carry them in his hands upon the top of the mount, and cried again unto the Lord, saying:

2. O Lord, thou hast said that we must be encompassed about by the floods. Now behold, O Lord, and do not be angry with thy servant because of his weakness before thee; for we know that thou art holy and dwellest in the heavens, and that we are unworthy before thee; because of the fall our natures have become evil continually; nevertheless, O Lord, thou hast given us a commandment that we must call upon thee, that from thee we may receive according to our desires.

He understood the character and the attributes of God; and he understood that he had been obedient to all of the commandments of God, and that his course was pleasing to Him, although admitting of their weakness in their mortality, he and his brother and those who were gathered around them to make that great journey.

3. Behold, O Lord, thou hast smitten us because of our iniquity, and hast driven us forth, and for these many years we have been in the wilderness; nevertheless, thou hast been merciful unto us. O Lord, look upon me in pity, and turn away thine anger from this thy people, and suffer not that they shall go forth across this raging deep in darkness; but behold these things which I have molten out of the rock.

4. And I know, O Lord, that thou hast all power, and can do whatsoever thou wilt for the benefit of man; therefore touch these stones, O Lord, with thy finger, and prepare them that they may shine forth in darkness; and they shall shine forth unto us in the vessels which we have prepared, that we may have light while we shall cross the sea.

5. Behold, O Lord, thou canst do this.

Perfect faith.

5. ...We know that thou art able to show forth great power, which looks small unto the understanding of men.

6. And it came to pass that when the brother of Jared had said these words, behold, the Lord stretched forth his hand and touched the stones one by one with his finger. And the veil was taken from off the eyes of the brother of Jared, and he saw the finger of the Lord; and it was as the finger of a man, like unto flesh and blood; and the brother of Jared fell down before the Lord, for he was struck with fear.

7. And the Lord saw that the brother of Jared had fallen to the earth; and the Lord said unto him: Arise, why hast thou fallen?
8. And he saith unto the Lord: I saw the finger of the Lord, and I feared lest he should smite me; for I knew not that the Lord had flesh and blood.

9. And the Lord said unto him: Because of thy faith thou hast seen that I shall take upon me flesh and blood; and never has man come before me with such exceeding faith as thou hast; for were it not so ye could not have seen my finger. Sawest thou more than this?

10. And he answered: Nay; Lord, show thyself unto me.

The Lord was bound through that perfect faith.

11. And the Lord said unto him: Believest thou the words which I shall speak?
12. And he answered: Yea, Lord, I know that thou speakest the truth, for thou art a God of truth, and canst not lie.

13. And when he had said these words, behold, the Lord showed himself unto him, and said: Because thou knowest these things ye are redeemed from the fall; therefore ye are brought back into my presence; therefore I show myself unto you.
14. Behold, I am he who was prepared from the foundation of the world to redeem my people. Behold, I am Jesus Christ. I am the Father and the Son. In me shall all mankind have life, and that eternally, even they who shall believe on my name; and they shall become my sons and my daughters.

15. And never have I showed myself unto man whom I have created, for never has man believed in me as thou hast. Seest thou that ye are created after mine own image? Yea, even all men were created in the beginning after mine own image.
16. Behold, this body, which ye now behold, is the body of my spirit; and man have I created after the body of my spirit; and even as I appear unto thee to be in the spirit will I appear unto my people in the flesh.
17. And now, as I, Moroni, said I could not make a full account of these things which are written therefore it sufficeth me to say that Jesus showed himself unto this man in the spirit, even after the manner and in the likeness of the same body even as he showed himself unto the Nephites.

So we see a fulfillment of the things that we have which I take so much comfort and strength in, the seventh chapter of Moroni -- faith, hope, and charity; charity being the perfect, the pure love of Christ.

Moroni 7

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love,
The pure love of Christ, which is the Holy Spirit of God. "That ye may be filled with the Spirit of God," in other words.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

That is the kind of people that God must have to redeem Zion, to be able to stand in the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ, as He is going to lead that band that He desires to have to go and redeem Zion. We must be like Him to stand in His presence. Let us always keep this before us, and become that pure and prepared people to redeem Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

"If Ye Are Not One, Ye Are Not Mine"

I would just like to make one brief statement here to close. "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine! If ye are not for Me, ye are against Me," said the Savior.
The lukewarm, the fence-sitters, are against Him, because they are not all for Him one hundred percent. The Lord spews such out of His mouth. May we follow these directions we have been given here so beautifully today, I pray
I am grateful for this privilege, my brothers and sisters. I am grateful every day of my life that I am here and enjoying health and strength. I have been very much interested in what Brother Guy has told us this afternoon. These are truths that we need to pay attention to, because we are all subject to being tempted by them -- false and delusive spirits. It is the duty and privilege of every person who lives to know and be able to tell the difference between a false spirit and a true one. A false spirit may tell you a lot of true things, but before he is through, he will slip in an untruth to get you to sanction it.

The 1880 Revelation, I might say, is exactly that. Many grand truths are set out in that revelation to Wilford Woodruff, but the devil was dictating it, and he slipped in the great lies that are given at the end of the revelation.

There are ways of detecting these false and delusive spirits. I trust that the Lord will bless my words today, that whatever I say may be according to what He has designed to give to you through my mouth.

I have been greatly interested in what is taking place in the latter days. So, naturally I go through the scriptures and find out what the Lord has said about it. He has plainly told us time and again through the mouths of His prophets what would take place in our day.

The Old Prophet Mormon said, in one of his sermons to the people, that the Lord showed him what would take place, not only to his people at that time, but to the Gentiles sometime in the future. He was shown what would take place and how it would take place and what part the remnant of his people would play in the redemption of Zion. The Gospel was first given to Israel, the people of Israel, and the Lord led them by holy prophets from generation to generation trying to convert the spirits that were in the world at that time to the truthfulness of His work. But we find that from the very beginning the opposite powers were here working, and have been. Adam had to deal with them; and all the servants of God, those holy prophets such as Methuselah, Enoch, and Noah; they all had the same problem to deal with -- same thing that Brother Guy has been telling you today. As far as I can discern from my reading of the work of the Lord, I don't know of a period of time when this condition didn't exist in the earth.

It was designed in the beginning that we would have the privilege of coming down here and taking bodies in order to be tried and tested, that we might be able to take our place in the Celestial world and be of some use to our Father in Heaven in doing the things that He, himself, did through righteous living and overcoming these conditions in the world.

Mormon was one of the great men of the Book of Mormon time. He wasn't any greater than other prophets that we read about, but he had been taught and he listened to the instructions given him by his father and the other prophets that lived. So, he had access to the records, the same as we have today. We have access to the records of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and know how we came by them. They are here for our edification and preparation for exaltation in the Celestial world. That is what they are here for. We are all in that school together. We all have the same opportunity of working out our salvation in fear and trembling before our Father; fearing to offend Him, and trembling because of what He can do to us if we disobey His commandments. That is what He means. We have been told time and time again of the great destruction that has to take place if this people who we call the Gentile nation today rejects the fullness of the Gospel. And we are all Gentiles until we prove to the Lord that we have come out from among them and applied to our lives the principles of salvation as He has given them to us, and followed after His ways and instructions through the mouths of His prophets and those who have been called to assist in the missionary work. We are all missionaries, everyone of us. We are here to perform a mission of setting an example before our associates that they, too, might live according to the commandments that have been given to us through the mouths of our leaders.

We are in this great school together. And it all depends upon how we conduct our lives, how we treat the instructions that are given to us from Sunday to Sunday, from month to month, and year to year, by the servants of God. They are here to guide and direct us along the way and if we make mistakes, they can correct us through their teachings.

I have been in this college a good long time and I still have a lot of repenting to do in order to keep myself in line with the teachings of our Father in Heaven. I find it is no joke to try to kid myself that I have learned everything, that I have lived long enough to know all that is in the book and all the prophets have said. Because I find that I run on to something new everyday of my life. Someone along the line has answered a question that has been in my mind; whether someone else has brought it to my mind or that I am not quite satisfied upon, then I get to digging into the book to see where it is, and what the answer is.

And that is the way we learn from day to day, by taking the questions that come up in our minds and going after the answers. Somewhere in the scriptures it is answered for us. Or, we can get the answer from His servants -- servants of God. That is what they are here for. They are here to teach us and train us and bring us along through patience and long-suffering. This is the character of our Father in Heaven, of our elder brother, Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, both are great examples to us of the life that the Lord would like to have us live. These two great men are held up to us as examples of righteousness, and if we will just follow the record, we will find that there are many men that have followed in the footsteps of these two great generals in the armies of the Lord, for we all belong to the army. We have all enrolled in it. We have gone into the waters of baptism and come out and had hands laid upon us for the gifts of the Holy Ghost, and this is the introduction, not only into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, but into the Kingdom of God. Brigham Young said that the Kingdom was fully set up, which it is, and it is only a continuation of our baptism and the confirmation that was given us at the water’s edge. And this was the starting of our great march with the army of the Lord. When we have perfected our lives, then we will be ushered into that great Church of the First Born. The Lord plainly tells us that these are they who have overcome all things and put the devil under their feet.

This is a great march, my dear brothers and sisters, and if we were to hasten to prepare ourselves, we would find ourselves on the march already for our preparation for the great Millennial Reign. This is the way it is going to start. It is going to start through the preparation of a people. As fast as we are prepared, we will be called to go here and go there.

President Johnson said in another item that I read to us, "We are already in the Millennium."

We just buried a young man, day before yesterday, down in Colorado City; one of the brightest spirits that was among us. Very few people knew him, only those who were close to his family, for he had not circulated among the people very much. But he was a good clean boy. We have had a lot of them go. They were called, because they were innocent and full of faith, to take their place in this great army that is going to take over in the redemption of Zion. They are not lost. The Lord has provided a way for their eternal advancement and exaltation in the Celestial world. And we ought to -- all of us, everyone of us, be prepared to go when the call comes -- be prepared to be used.

This is not something new. I stopped at a service station, night before last, to get some gasoline. The attendant at the station looked us over and he says, "What religion are you people? Who are you?" I says, "We're Latter-day Saints. We belong to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints." "Well, you are so different. I am a Latter-day Saint, too, but you're so different." I says, "Well, that can be. We might be a little different, but not very much. We all have the same privilege of preparation and if one person is prepared better than another, whose fault is it?" "Well, I couldn't help but notice you people." I don't know why we should be so different from people. We are only doing the things that the Lord has asked us to do. It has been His instructions from the beginning of time to cover our bodies and keep them covered, to prepare our minds against evil, and keep ourselves in a condition so that we don't have to fight these false and delusive spirits all the time. Let us cast them aside and let them know that they have no place in our lives, and then they will leave us alone. And if we live righteous lives, they cannot come where the Spirit of God is.

So we must have the Spirit of God in our homes so that false and delusive spirits can't come in.
This is the reason that we have asked the people to get the Spirit of God and keep it, as a barrier against the false and delusive spirits that you have been hearing about this afternoon. Every man, every boy, and every girl, if they learn how to say "no" to evil, it won't be very long until they will be prepared to be exalted in the Celestial world. We have all got to have that kind of diploma fastened in our minds if we want to be on the Lord's side. We have a song called "Who's on the Lord's side, Who?" And that is the way to be on the Lord's side, to have our minds clean and our bodies clean and free from the blood and sins of the generation in which we live, for we are living among a Gentile nation.

The saints of God have always had to fight these same battles of good and evil. Noah preached to the people for three hundred and twenty years trying to convert them, and then He was able to put in the boat all that were worthy to go with him. The rest of them had to take their places and go down with the wicked, so the scriptures tell us. And the generations of the world had to start over again and go from that time until now. Now people are being killed off by the millions throughout the world because of wickedness. But, how many righteous are there? How many are being taught to clean up their minds and their bodies and be prepared against the day of visitation, as the Lord calls it, when He visits the earth with destruction in order to save them in some degree of salvation, for there are many people who destroy themselves by unrighteous living, and there is no redemption for them after they pass a certain point.

This is a great day, my brothers and sisters, in which we live. And what a wonderful opportunity we have of preparing ourselves to be among the saints of God in the latter days wherein He has said that He would protect His saints if He had to send fire from Heaven to do so. What the Lord has said, He has said, and He is a man of His word. I can't find anywhere where the Lord has changed His mind. What would save us today would save the people whose record is in this book, as far back as dear old Father Adam, who is spoken about in this book. And the same things that would save His children will save us today. We are all here because of that great man, everyone of us. We didn't come in by some side road or some unknown generation of people. We are all descendants of that great man. And what would save one of His children would save another. So let us not kid ourselves that we are different -- some of us are of Adam and some of somebody else -- we are all the children of that great man. So we all have the same opportunity of partaking of the same blessings that he did and that his children would if they would obey his word and keep his commandments.

We had another prophet come and his name was Joseph Smith, Jr., and he brought these truths to us -- to this Gentile nation who had fallen away from the truths of the everlasting Gospel as it was taught by the Israelite nation and by the servants of God from time to time. They have rejected it. They have rejected the Gospel that was given to them and they dwindled in unbelief. When the Prophet Joseph Smith came and began to wonder what was taking place in the earth and began to search after righteousness, the Lord used him for a righteous purpose, for the purpose of trying to gather again the children of Israel. And we are here today trying to prepare ourselves. Each and every person that is in the room is here for some righteous purpose or they wouldn't be here. They are here to try to hear something that would touch their hearts and start them wondering -- start them doing something about their salvation.

The Lord has said that His Gospel was simple. He says, "Haven't I spoken plainly to you? I have spoken plainly enough so a child could understand." There is nothing mysterious about the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, the Gospel that has been handed down to us from generation to generation. There is no great mystery to it. All we need to do is seek for righteousness and apply to our lives the principles of righteousness, and clean up our minds and our bodies, that when the Lord calls for help there will be an army ready to go and help Him, of both men and women. For we are all here together and we have got to live together and when we die, I hope we die together -- being of the same faith, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

I sure rejoice, brothers and sisters, over the knowledge I have that we can clean up our own minds. Every individual has got the same job to do. I can't clean up your life or live your life. I might drop a little word now and then to help you along the way, but that is all I can do. That is all any of the servants of God have been able to do throughout the world. But, we have got a great work to do. For all those who have come here and lived and died without this preparation have got to have their work done. As fast as they will accept the Gospel, they are going to have their work done. And we have a thousand years to do it in. But the army of the Lord has got to be very great.

So, let us get down to business and straighten up our lives. Let's have every boy and every girl, every man and every woman, learn how to pray night and day for deliverance from these false and delusive spirits that we have been told about today. Let us see what we can do about it. And let us be prepared, as this young man was prepared the other day when we laid him away. We have laid several of them away over the years that were good clean men. We have laid several girls away that were good clean girls. So let us all be prepared for the reaper when he calls for us, because we have all got the same road to travel. We were born and came into the world, and we will die and go out. Let us be prepared against the day when we go out.

I pray that God's blessings will settle upon us and that we will listen to the many truths that we hear from time to time and get the Spirit of God and keep it, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I am deeply grateful to be here on this sacred occasion, and have been deeply moved by the remarks that have been made. And I am thankful to be here, and feel honored to participate in this sweet occasion. Brother Dan read from a sermon of Joseph Smith which I intended to read in full, and I will pick up from where he left off, if you do not mind, because it gives further and important doctrines that we need to consider on these occasions, and in the continuation of our life and labors here upon the earth in this great dispensation.

The doctrine of baptizing children, or sprinkling them, or they must welter in hell, is a doctrine not true, not supported in Holy Writ, and is not consistent with the character of God. All children are redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and the moment that children leave this world, they are taken to the bosom of Abraham. The only difference between the old and young dying is, one lives longer in heaven and eternal light and glory than the other, and is freed a little sooner from this miserable wicked world. Notwithstanding all this glory, we for a moment lose sight of it, and mourn the loss, but we do not mourn as those without hope.

My intention was to have spoken on the subject of baptism, but having a case of death before us, I thought proper to refer to that subject. I will now, however, say a few words upon baptism, as I intended.

God has made certain decrees which are fixed and immovable; for instance, God set the sun, the moon, and the stars in the heavens, and gave them their laws, conditions and bounds, which they cannot pass, except by His commandments; they all move in perfect harmony in their sphere and order, and are as lights, wonders and signs unto us. The sea also has its bounds which it cannot pass. God has set many signs on the earth, as well as in the heavens; for instance, the oak of the forest, the fruit of the tree, the herb of the field, all bear a sign that seed hath been planted there; for it is a decree of the Lord that every tree, plant, and herb bearing seed should bring forth of its kind, and cannot come forth after any other law or principle. Upon the same principle do I contend that baptism is a sign ordained of God, for the believer in Christ to take upon himself in order to enter into the kingdom of God, "for except ye are born of water and of the Spirit ye cannot enter into the Kingdom of God," said the Savior. It is a sign and a commandment which God has set for man to enter into His kingdom. Those who seek to enter in any other way will seek in vain; for God will not receive them, neither will the angels acknowledge their works as accepted, for they have not obeyed the ordinances, nor attended to the signs which God ordained for the salvation of man, to prepare him for, and give him a title to, a celestial glory; and God had decreed that all who will not obey His voice shall not escape the damnation of hell. What is the damnation of hell? To go with that society who have not obeyed His commands.

Baptism is a sign to God, to angels, and to heaven that we do the will of God, and there is no other way beneath the heavens whereby God hath ordained for man to come to Him to be saved, and enter into the Kingdom of God, except faith in Jesus Christ, repentance, and baptism for the remission of sins, and any other course is in vain; then you have the promise of the gift of the Holy Ghost.

What is the sign of the healing of the sick? The laying on of hands is the sign or way marked out by James, and the custom of the ancient Saints as ordered by the Lord, and we cannot obtain the blessings by pursuing any other course except the way marked out by the Lord. What if we should attempt to get the gift of the Holy Ghost through any other means except the signs or way which God hath appointed -- would we obtain it? Certainly not; all other means would fail. The Lord says do so and so, and I will bless you.

There are certain key words and signs belonging to the Priesthood which must be observed in order to obtain the blessing. The sign of Peter was to repent and be baptized for the remission of sins, with the promise of the gift of the Holy Ghost; and in no other way is the gift of the Holy Ghost obtained.

Here is the doctrine and point that I felt to dwell upon.

There is a difference between the Holy Ghost and the gift of the Holy Ghost. Cornelius received the Holy Ghost before he was baptized, which was the convincing power of God unto him of the truth of the Gospel, but he could not receive the gift of the Holy Ghost until after he was baptized. Had he not taken this sign or ordinance upon him, the Holy Ghost which convinced him of the truth of God, would have left him. Until he obeyed these ordinances and received the gift of the Holy Ghost, by the laying on of hands, according to the order of God, he could not have healed the sick or commanded an evil spirit to come out of a man, and it obey him; for the spirits might say unto him, as they did to the sons of Sceva: "Paul we know and Jesus we know, but who are ye?" It mattereth not whether we live long or short on the earth after we come to a knowledge of these principles and obey them unto the end. I know that all men will be damned if they do not come in the way which He hath opened, and this is the way marked out by the word of the Lord.

As concerning the resurrection, I will merely say that all men will come from the grave as they lie down, whether old or young; there will not be "added unto their stature one cubit," neither taken from it; all will be raised by the power of God, having spirit in their bodies, and not blood. Children will be enthroned in the presence of God and the Lamb with bodies of the same stature that they had on earth, having been redeemed by the blood of the Lamb; they will there enjoy the fullness of that light, glory and intelligence, which is prepared in the celestial kingdom. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

The speaker, before closing, called upon the assembly before him to humble themselves in faith before God, and in mighty prayer and fasting to call upon the name of the Lord, until the elements were purified over our heads, and the earth sanctified under our feet, that the inhabitants of this city may escape the power of disease and pestilence, and the destroyer that rideth upon the face of the earth, and that the Holy Spirit of God may rest upon this vast multitude.

So, it is a wonderful thing to understand and know that we will take these dear souls that come to us and depart in an early period of their life, that we can take them up and raise them up from that time -- the parents, if they are worthy, and they certainly are. I appreciate the life and labors of Brother Vance. He is a good and a noble man, and this child has come through a noble lineage, who will carry on in the heavens, as spoken of here in the sermon of the Prophet Joseph Smith. May God comfort and strengthen all of the family, and all who are striving to keep the commandments of God, and go on unto perfection, and do all things with an eye single to the glory of God and the building up of the Kingdom of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Jared Barlow Roundy

I have been deeply moved by the remarks that have been made, and the music, and everything pertaining to this beautiful service in memory of Jared Roundy. The sentiments of my heart have been expressed by the brethren who have preceded me. I cannot help to go back to Joseph Smith for the marvelous things that are said in the funeral services in his day, as he spoke of the living and those who have passed on, particularly to a glorious resurrection. These are the remarks of the Prophet at the funeral of Ephraim Marks:

The Saints in Nauvoo assembled at the house of President Marks, at an early hour in the morning, to pay their last respects to the body of Ephraim Marks, son of President William Marks, who died on the evening of the 7th. A large procession formed and walked to the Grove, where a numerous congregation had assembled. President Joseph Smith spoke upon the occasion with much feeling and interest. Among his remarks he said, "It is a very solemn and awful time. I never felt more solemn; it calls to mind the death of my oldest brother, Alvin, who died in New York, and my youngest brother, Don Carlos Smith, who died in Nauvoo. It has been hard for me to live on earth and see these young men upon whom we have leaned for support and comfort taken from us in the midst of their youth. Yes, it has been hard to be reconciled to these things. I have sometimes thought that I should have felt more reconciled to have been called away myself if it had been the will of God; yet I know we ought to be still and know it is of God, and be reconciled to His will; all is right. It will be but a short time before we shall all in like manner be called: it may be the case with me as well as you. Some have supposed that Brother Joseph could not die; but this is a mistake: it is true there have been times when I have had the promise of my life to accomplish such and such things, but, having now accomplished those things, I have not at present any lease of my life, I am as liable to die as other men.

I can say in my heart, that I have not done anything against Ephraim Marks that I am sorry for, and I would ask any of his companions if they have done anything against him that they are sorry for, or that they would not like to meet and answer for at the bar of God, if so, let it prove as a warning to all to deal justly before God, and with all mankind, then we shall be clear in the day of judgment.

When we lose a near and dear friend, upon whom we have set our hearts, it should be a caution unto us not to set our affections too firmly upon others, knowing that they may in like manner be taken from us. Our affections should be placed upon God and His work, more intensely than upon our fellow beings. (April 9, 1842.) D.H.C. 4:587.

And in another set of remarks, he says this, and I would like to close on this note:

TPJS Page 216

If you wish to go where God is, you must be like God, or possess the principles which God possesses, for if we are not drawing towards God in principle, we are going from Him and drawing towards the devil. Yes, I am standing in the midst of all kinds of people.

Search your hearts, and see if you are like God. I have searched mine, and feel to repent of all my sins.

I am sure that this young man is in a position to be raised in the first resurrection, a glorious resurrection, and to be taken up by his parents to finish his training, and go on to perfection in the eternal worlds, having his work and all things done in the work for the dead, which is to be accomplished when we have the temples in Zion.

May God bless the family of this dear young man. May He bless us all, that we may follow in the steps that have been laid out for us by our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, and by the Prophet Joseph Smith, and by all of the Prophets who followed him, and particularly our beloved Prophet Leroy S. Johnson of our time. Brother Bill was a particularly faithful man in the life of President Johnson, being favored with many glorious experiences in his family. May God bless you, and all of us together, that we may go on to perfection and become like God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Threats Against the United Effort Plan; President Jeffs Uses President Johnson's Words to Answer Them

I have been deeply moved by the remarks of the brethren under the expressions of love and loyalty. I desire above all things to perform the work that God has called me to do in behalf of His work here upon the earth. I pray the Lord to direct me by His Holy Spirit as I tell you about what is before us.

I spoke to you about a man who has been approached by Harold Blackmore, going over the United Effort Plan Trust agreement. After the calls that were made, in talking to me and to Truman and to Sam Barlow, we all got together and concluded that we would answer him nothing. He had threatened that if we didn't make a settlement with Harold Blackmore and his coadjutors, and come and see him about shoring up the United Effort Plan Trust, he had it in his power to destroy the United Effort Plan.

In a call made a week ago last Friday night, this man called here again, wanting to talk to Mr. Jeffs. "I am sorry, he is not here, and he is not available." His name is Rufkjer, R-U-F-K-J-E-R, Rufkjer. I don't know how you pronounce it. It must be Polish. He is a bishop of some denomination. He is chairman of the board of trustees of one of the oldest Trusts in the United States, and claims to be the greatest authority on Trusts in the nation. He has a battery of attorneys who can go forward and do what he requires. He said, "You can give him this message." This was spoken to my wife Sharon, who answered the phone. "We are greatly disappointed in the response that has been given," which was none. But he may have had brought to him the letter that was sent to all residents residing on United Effort property about ten days ago, the middle of last week, a week ago last Wednesday, in which we called attention to the provisions of the United Effort Plan Trust agreement and the policies that have been followed from the beginning in connection with people going on the land and building improvements upon it as their consecration, and setting out the rules now in getting building permits to make improvements on that land; going to the United Effort Plan Trustees to get permission to do so, and then going to the city authorities of Colorado City and of Hildale to get building permits under their corporate jurisdiction.

So he said, "Give him this message: I will destroy that 'Barbarian Jeffs', and the United Effort Plan Trust, and with it your religion." That is what he indicated in his talk to me that first time.

Well, we know what the United Effort Plan Trust is. President Leroy Johnson, on the occasion of meeting with the saints at the Steed ranch, August of 1984 -- I can't put it any better than he can, as he did here. I am going to ask Brother Truman to read it, and the other two if he deems it wise. That will constitute our answer to this man. He says it beautifully, and we are going to act under the direction of President Johnson on the other side, in carrying out our work under this holy instrument, which was inspired of God and given us as a foundation for entering into and abiding the Holy United Order, along with the fullness of the Gospel, including the order of Celestial Marriage, which two laws and commandments constitute a fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

This has been a wonderful occasion. My heart is so full that I can hardly talk, but I will do the best I can.

My mind has gone back over the pages of time and what has happened to our people. In my perusal of the scriptures, I find in the Doctrine & Covenants where the Lord tried to set up the United Order, and He explained in detail how to do it. This was in 1830. By 1832, the Lord placed us under condemnation and said we would remain under condemnation until we repented. Here we are -- a hundred years past -- we are still under this condemnation. A little later on, He gave us another revelation. You will find it in Section 119, where He told the people that they were nigh unto cursing because they had still treated lightly that principle. He said that the least He would require of His people was one-tenth of their annual increase, and this would be a law unto the people as long as they lived.
I realize that several attempts have been made since that time to bring ourselves out from under the curse of a broken law, but we are still under that broken law; we are still laboring under it. There is only one thing left now for us to do before He accomplishes the great work of destroying the wicked upon this land and bringing to pass His promise throughout the ages of time to His people -- that He would set aside the seventh period of time as a day of rest, a day of peace, when wickedness would be done away for a thousand years, and we would have a period of peace for that time. Now we are entering into the door of that day. We only have a few years left to accomplish anything about it.

Brigham Young, one time, made a statement something like this, "Until we get an instrument that lawyers cannot tear apart, we will have to continue under this broken law; we will never be able to come out from under it until we get an instrument that lawyers cannot pull to pieces."

About fifty years ago, the Priesthood came and made a call to someone to offer a starting place for the preparation of the Millennial Reign. They chose the place of Short Creek to commence that great and glorious work. About a month ago, we made a call. We needed a lot of work done -- a sewer system put in, the waterworks system, and we made a call for help. The way the people responded and came with their machinery and with their men and went to work on that job showed to me that this is the time when the Lord is trying to prepare a people for that great and glorious day -- the Millennial Reign. They worked together without a word of criticism or complaint and finished that job. Not only that, but they did some more work for us. We have a storehouse going. We have a dairy that is equal to none. We are capable of producing a grade of milk that will make our children healthy and bring them up with the proper kind of milk to live on, but we have got to have help.

I am making a call now -- another call. I am calling upon the men of this order of things, all who believe in the United Effort Plan, to come forth and help us push it on. We only have a little bit of land, but as time goes on, we might be able to add to it. We have got the instrument that lawyers cannot pull apart! Even criminal lawyers have studied it to try to bring us under persecution again, and now they won't touch it. The lawyers say that they won't touch the United Effort Plan in their evicting men and women from the property. They won't touch it, for we have the whole right to do so, and we don't have to give a cause for it. Every man that does not live according to the rules of the Order can be evicted. We have got the instrument now; let us push it forward with our monies, with our work, help, with our faith and in every way that is needful for the advancement of our community.

I have talked about as long as I can, so now I will have to quit. I pray the blessings of God to be upon this people, Brother Newel and his family, those who have gathered around him, and those who have gathered around the management of the United Effort Plan, those who will back it up and help to push it. The Lord will come to our rescue, and the evil powers will not have power to destroy us. I pray that the Lord will bless everyone who will offer their help and come forward. May God bless you all. I will have to quit talking. Amen.

Become One Through the Holy Spirit, Which Is Charity

I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me that I may speak the words of God; for I intend to, at this time, read the words of God through the Prophet Joseph Smith for our edification -- Section 93. But first, Lecture Five in the Lectures on Faith.

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit.

The mind of the Father and the Son is the Holy Spirit.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

So these are the blessings that are held out to us when we get and keep the Holy Spirit of God, and to be filled with it. I think in the interest of time, we will pass Section 93. That carries on to give us more explanation of the things that are said in this profound Lecture of the Prophet Joseph Smith. And this is how it is done:

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him. This pure love of Christ is the Holy Spirit of God.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; Through faith, repentance, baptism, and the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost.

48. ...bestowed upon all who are true followers of His Son Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

So, may I add, with all our getting, let us get and keep the Holy Spirit of God. That is the only way we are going to become one, one people. The Holy Spirit of God with us will solve all of our problems. And we can think no evil and do no evil; and will be one with the Lord Jesus Christ, and our Father in heaven, and with the holy Priesthood which stands over us. I pray that we may be one people as we approach the oncoming struggle. By the power of God, through the process of unity, we can overcome all opposition from the enemy. I pray that we may do this, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Dream of Brigham Young;
Get and Keep the Spirit of God

I have certainly been moved in thanksgiving to God for what He has said through His servants here today for our benefit, and for the benefit and for the building up of the Kingdom of God; and I acknowledge His hand in all things. The Lord has been good and kind to me and answered my prayers. I appreciated the beautiful story that Brother Wendell gave us. And I ask the Lord to bless me as I give you the words of Joseph Smith and Brigham Young regarding the Spirit of God. We have heard this a good many times, but I feel it very appropriate to read this story of a dream of Brigham Young.

Truth 10:221

While at Winter Quarters, on the 17th of February, 1847, President Young had a very interesting dream which he related to the brethren. He dreamed that he went to see Joseph, the Prophet, and when he met him he looked perfectly natural. He appeared to be sitting in a chair at the time.
President Young took hold of his right hand and kissed him many times, and said to him:

"Why is it we cannot be together as we used to be? You have been from us a long time; we want your society and do not like to be separated from you."

This is how I feel about Uncle Roy.

Joseph rose from his chair, and looked at him with his usual earnest, expressive and pleasing countenance, and said: "It is all right."

President Young repeated that he did not like to be away from him. Joseph said:
"It is all right. We cannot be together yet; we shall be bye and bye, but you will have to do without me for a while; then we shall be together again."

President Young discovered there was a hand-rail between Joseph and himself. Joseph stood by a window, and at the southwest of him it was very light, but President Young was in the twilight, and to the north of him it was very dark. President Young said:
"The brethren you know well, better than I do; you raised them up and brought the Priesthood to us. They have a great anxiety to understand the law of adoption or the sealing principle, and if you have a word of counsel for me I shall be glad to receive it."

Joseph stepped towards him, looked very earnestly yet pleasantly, and said:
"Tell the brethren to be humble and faithful and be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord, and it will lead them aright. Be careful and not turn away the small, still voice; it will teach them what to do and where to go; it will yield the fruits of the kingdom. Tell the brethren to keep their heart open to conviction, so that when the Holy Ghost comes to them their hearts will be ready to receive it. They can tell the Spirit of the Lord from all other spirits -- it will whisper peace and joy to their souls; it will take malice, hatred, strife and all evil from their hearts, and their whole desire will be to do good, bring forth righteousness and build up the Kingdom of God. Tell the brethren if they will follow the Spirit of the Lord, they will go right. Be sure to tell the brethren to keep the Spirit of the Lord; and if they will, they will find themselves just as they were organized by our Father in Heaven before they came into the world. Our Father in Heaven organized the human family, but they are all disorganized and in great confusion.

Joseph then showed President Young the pattern how the human family were in the beginning. He saw where the priesthood had been taken from the earth, and how it had to be joined together so that there would be a perfect chain from Father Adam to his latest posterity.

Joseph again said to him: "Tell the people to be sure to keep the Spirit of the Lord and follow it and it will lead them just right."

Such a dream was very consoling to President Young and instructive to the people. From it we can learn how important it is to keep the Spirit of the Lord. No man or people can prosper who do not have it as their guide.

God help us to do this, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Need the Spirit of Forgiveness and Gratitude; Be Anxiously Engaged; Faith Unto Eternal Life

I am grateful to be here with you today, brothers and sisters, for the blessings of God upon me and all of us. I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me as I say a few words to you. Speaking of example, Leroy Sunderland Johnson spoke more powerfully by example than he did by word -- at least equally. He spoke and taught by example and precept. His whole life was a wonderful sermon for us to believe and follow, and I have appreciated the remarks that have been made about our unbelief, or our belief. Brothers and sisters, we need to build up our most perfect faith to be one. "If you are not one, you are not Mine," said the Lord. Do we want to be His? Then believe and obey, and seek with all the energy of heart, through prayer, to get and keep the Holy Spirit of God.

The spirit of forgiveness, brothers and sisters, is what we need in our relations one with another. The spirit of gratitude to God, and to those who help and direct us, are very essential elements of our labors and our growth, and our coming to a most perfect faith in God, in Jesus Christ, and in the Holy Ghost. I would like to read Section 65. This is a prayer designated by the Prophet Joseph Smith.

D. & C. 65

1. Hearken, and lo, a voice as of one sent down from on high, who is mighty and powerful, whose going forth is unto the ends of the earth, yea, whose voice is unto men -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

2. The keys of the kingdom of God are committed unto man on the earth, and from thence shall the gospel roll forth unto the ends of the earth, as the stone which is cut out of the mountain without hands shall roll forth, until it has filled the whole earth.

You have heard President Johnson speak of his having commenced the rolling forth of that stone which is cut out of the mountain; and I believe it. My only purpose is to continue in his course and in his paths in accomplishing the work that he has laid out for us to do.

3. Yea, a voice crying -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, prepare ye the supper of the Lamb, make ready for the Bridegroom.

4. Pray unto the Lord, call upon his holy name, make known his wonderful works among the people.

5. Call upon the Lord, that his kingdom may go forth upon the earth, that the inhabitants thereof may receive it, and be prepared for the days to come, in the which the Son of Man shall come down in heaven, clothed in the brightness of his glory, to meet the kingdom of God which is set up on the earth.

6. Wherefore, may the kingdom of God go forth, that the kingdom of heaven may come, that thou, O God, mayest be glorified in heaven so on earth, that thine enemies may be subdued; for thine is the honor, power and glory, forever and ever.

And as an injunction for us to continue in the labors that we are undertaking, I would like to read the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, the words of God to him as he was instructing the saints, as they were gathering to Zion.

D. & C. 58

26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.

27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, Anxiously engaged, brethren and sisters. That is the spirit in which we should go forth, walking in perfect obedience to the commandments of God.
27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;

28. For the power is in them,
The power of the Holy Ghost, the power of faith, the power of prayer.
28. ...wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?

31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?
32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.

33. Then they say in their hearts: This is not the work of the Lord, for his promises are not fulfilled. But wo unto such, for their reward lurketh beneath, and not from above.

34. And now I give unto you further directions concerning this land.

We are now preparing to do the same thing, brothers and sisters, and I call upon you to walk in obedience to the commandments of God. Keep the faith. Go on unto perfection, and these shall be our rewards, which were spoken of in the Lectures on Faith.

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God; and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, a correct conception of his character, and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him -- will render faith perfect, will constitute it a principle of power, the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born, with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their calling and election sure -- through faith ripening into knowledge.

Faith is power. Knowledge is power. Let us have power with God through perfect obedience, and coming to know that our course of life is pleasing to Him, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Funeral of Jacqueline Collette Broome

I am very grateful, my brothers and sisters, for this opportunity of speaking to you at this sacred service of Sister Jacqueline. Sister Jacqueline is my step-daughter, daughter of my wife Elba Woolley. In this relationship, she wrote me a letter in February. [Pause] Pardon me, I might not be able to continue, but I just wanted to make these opening remarks. She wrote me a letter stating that she wanted to get a home, back home under the saints, under the Priesthood of God. And as time went on, I helped her arrange to get a home, a mobile home, and placed it on the property next to my home here. I had some wonderful talks with her after she got here, and the Lord led her here to accomplish the desire of her heart, to live and die among the saints and the Priesthood of God. In all of the requirements for her to accomplish this setting of her house in order and coming back according to her desires, was accomplished in good time before she had the sudden effects of cancer upon her system, which worked faster than any case the doctor said he had come in contact with.

So, she is home now. I am going to ask Brother Truman to read sentiments of the Prophet Joseph Smith on death and the resurrection.

Almost all who have fallen in these last days in the Church have fallen in a strange land. This is a strange land to those who have come from a distance. We should cultivate sympathy for the afflicted among us. If there is a place on earth where men should cultivate the spirit and pour in the oil and wine in the bosoms of the afflicted, it is in this place; and this spirit is manifest here; and although a stranger and afflicted when he arrives, he finds a brother and a friend ready to administer to his necessities.

These are the remarks of the Prophet Joseph at the death of Brother Lorenzo D. Barnes.

I would esteem it one of the greatest blessings, if I am to be afflicted in this world, to have my lot cast where I can find brothers and friends all around me. But this is not the thing I referred to: it is to have the privilege of having our dead buried on the land where God has appointed to gather His Saints together, and where there will be none but Saints, where they may have the privilege of laying their bodies where the Son of Man will make His appearance, and where they may hear the sound of the trump that shall call them forth to behold Him, that in the morn of the resurrection they may come forth in a body, and come up out of their graves and strike hands immediately in eternal glory and felicity, rather than be scattered thousands of miles apart. There is something good and sacred to me in this thing. The place where a man is buried is sacred to me. This subject is made mention of in the Book of Mormon and other scriptures. Even to the aborigines of this land, the burying places of their fathers are more sacred than anything else.

When I heard of the death of our beloved Brother Barnes, it would not have affected me so much, if I had the opportunity of burying him in the land of Zion.

I believe those who have buried their friends here, their condition is enviable. Look at Jacob and Joseph in Egypt, how they required their friends to bury them in the tomb of their fathers. See the expense which attended the embalming and the going up of the great company to the burial.

It has always been considered a great calamity not to obtain an honorable burial: and one of the greatest curses the ancient prophets could put on any man, was that he should go without a burial.

I have said, Father, I desire to die here among the Saints. But if this is not Thy will, and I go hence and die, wilt Thou find some kind friend to bring my body back, and gather my friends who have fallen in foreign lands, and bring them up hither, that we may all lie together.

I will tell you what I want. If tomorrow I shall be called to lie in yonder tomb, in the morning of the resurrection let me strike hands with my father, and cry, "My father," and he will say, "My son, my son," as soon as the rock rends and before we come out of our graves.

And may we contemplate these things so? Yes, if we learn how to live and how to die. When we lie down we contemplate how we may rise in the morning; and it is pleasing for friends to lie down together, locked in the arms of love, to sleep and wake in each other's embrace and renew their conversation.

We Are Here to Make Zion;
United Effort Plan Trust Was Formed by the Inspiration of God;
For the Lord to Fight Our Battles, We Must Be One

I desire an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters, to say a few words to you, and I trust of encouragement and strength, to enable us to labor together to the great cause of Zion. I have read this statement of Brigham Young before, which I feel like repeating to us in the remarks that I have here for us today.

JD 5:4 Brigham Young July 5, 1857 SLC

You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land; but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here?  They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

I speak of this, brothers and sisters, because this is what we are undertaking. We have got to make Zion here and now, to be prepared to go and redeem the great City of Zion and the people of Zion.

We can make Zion, or we can make Babylon, just as we please. We can make just what we please of this place. The people can make Zion: they can make a heaven within themselves. When people gather here, they should come with a determination to make Zion within themselves, with the resolution that "I will carry myself full of the Spirit of Zion."

The Holy Spirit of God, of course.

...wherever I go; and this is the way in which I will control evil spirits; for I mean that my spirit shall have control over evil:" and do you not see that such a course will make Zion?

This American continent will be Zion; for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

In the sermon of President Johnson, August 11, 1984, he spoke how the early brethren, considering a place where they were to make into a gathering place to bring about the cause of Zion and to prepare to redeem Zion, they considered Short Creek to be the place, as was read in that sermon. The United Effort Plan was formed by the inspiration and revelation of God to those brethren when they were gathered together to write up an instrument that could not be broken. That is the heart of this work in Short Creek. It is being assailed, this United Effort Plan, by those who vow to crush that "Barbarian Jeffs" and the United Effort Plan, according to the remarks of this minister in Victorville, California, who is being used by Harold Blackmore and others who are joining him to bring about this course.

Now, brothers and sisters, in order for God to fight our battles, as President Johnson said would be, we must be a united people that can gather together and be united in one purpose; to keep the commandments of God, so that our course of life is pleasing to God, as has been explained here today so beautifully. We cannot have power with God unless our course of life is pleasing to Him. And Section 82 tells us why it is.

This is in April of 1832, when many of the saints had gathered to the center place, Independence, Missouri. They were trying to accomplish the work of entering into and living the holy law of Consecration and Stewardships, the Order of Enoch, the Holy United Order.

D.&C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.

2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads.

Remember the definition of "sin" here, that Brother Truman so beautifully portrayed.

3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required; and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.

5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all: Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;

6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.

7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

Have we ever thought of the seriousness, brothers and sisters, of this business of sinning and then repenting, sinning and repenting? It won't do! After having made a covenant to keep all of the commandments of God, which the Elders of Israel do when they receive the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, they enter into a covenant to obey all of the commandments of God, and the ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and go on to perfection. So, if we sin along the way, yes, there is a way for repentance unto some, unless we have sinned unto death. But if we do it again,

7. ...the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.

10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

See how we get power with God through our course of life being pleasing to Him? Joseph Smith told how the Lord had told him that he would be granted any wish of his heart. That is how the confidence of God rested upon that great and holy Prophet. He dared not, at one time, call on the Lord to lay His heavy hand upon the Governor of Illinois; but He did, and the word came rolling forth that the Governor had killed himself. He was the one who had done so much against the Prophet and the saints of God in Illinois.

11. Therefore, verily I say unto you, that it is expedient for my servants Alam and Ahashdah [Newel K. Whitney], Mahalaleel and Pelagoram [Sidney Rigdon], and my servant Gazelam [Joseph Smith], and Horah and Olihah [Oliver Cowdery], and Shalemanasseh and Mahemson [Martin Harris], to be bound together by a bond and covenant that cannot be broken by transgression, except judgment shall immediately follow, in your several stewardships --

12. To manage the affairs of the poor, and all things pertaining to the bishopric both in the land of Zion and in the land of Shinehah [Kirtland];

13. For I have consecrated the land of Shinehah [Kirtland] in mine own due time for the benefit of the saints of the Most High, and for a stake to Zion.

14. For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged; her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.

15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.

16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just --

18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

19. Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

Loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourself. That is the key to abiding in the Holy United Order.

20. This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.
21. And the soul that sins against this covenant, and hardeneth his heart against it, shall be dealt with according to the laws of my church, and shall be delivered over to the buffetings of Satan until the day of redemption.

That is the penalty of breaking the covenant of the Holy United Order.

22. And now, verily I say unto you, and this is wisdom, make unto yourselves friends with the mammon of unrighteousness, and they will not destroy you.
23. Leave judgment alone with me, for it is mine and I will repay. Peace be with you; my blessings continue with you.
24. For even yet the kingdom is yours, and shall be forever, if you fall not from your steadfastness. Even so. Amen.

So we see, brothers and sisters, how the great power of love and unity can be the power by which God will fight our battles, knowing that we are one in mind and heart, as a people, His people.

So I call upon you and myself to be more faithful and diligent, and be anxiously engaged in the labors of the Kingdom; and realize that our job, as we go through, is adding to the growth of the Kingdom of God and the cause of Zion; which I pray we may all do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Short Creek, Arizona Is Our Gathering Place;
Zion Is Wherever We Are Called to Do the Work of God

Brothers and sisters, we have heard it right from the Lord through His Holy Spirit and the voices of our brethren who have spoken to us here today. And I just simply want to say "Amen" to what has been given you here today.

I want to add one thing. You heard from this reading of the Prophet Joseph Smith that the redemption of Zion should be our greatest desire. I want to remind you of Uncle Roy's statement in that sermon of August 11, 1984. He said in the early years when they were forming plans of the Priesthood under John Y. Barlow, they determined that the area around Short Creek, Arizona, and Utah, should be the gathering place to prepare a people to go and redeem Zion; that, of course, along with the gathering that has taken place here. But the thing I want to emphasize with all my heart is that where we are called to be and go and do the work of God, that is Zion. We have got to have Zion here and now with ourselves, or we are not going to make the preparation. And I love the words of Brigham Young when he speaks on that beautiful subject.

JD 5:4  Brigham Young  July 5, 1857  SLC
You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land; but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here? They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

That is the great struggle in our daily lives, brothers and sisters.

...and do you not see that such a course will make Zion?

This American continent will be Zion; for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

To which the Ten Tribes will be gathered. And Joseph Smith gives us the scenario:

And now I am prepared to say by the authority of Jesus Christ, that not many years shall pass away before the United States shall present such a scene of bloodshed as has not a parallel in the history of our nation; pestilence, hail, famine, and earthquake will sweep the wicked of this
The land of our God will be presided over by the Lord Jesus Christ, when He whose right it is to rule has come in His glory.

The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, which is in the state of Missouri;

We have been diverted through the failures that were made by the saints when they were told to go and redeem Zion on two different occasions. And the Prophets of God have been trying to establish the Holy United Order wherever they have been. And it was attempted in Short Creek in those earliest years when the United Trust was set up.

The people of the Lord, those who have complied with the requirements of the new covenant, have already commenced gathering together to Zion, which is in the state of Missouri; therefore I declare unto you the warning which the Lord has commanded me to declare unto this generation, remembering that the eyes of my Maker are upon me, and that to Him I am accountable for every word I say, wishing nothing worse to my fellow-men than their eternal salvation; therefore, "Fear God, and give glory to Him, for the hour of His judgment is come." Repent ye, repent ye, and embrace the everlasting covenant, and flee to Zion, before the overflowing scourge overtake you, for there are those now living upon the earth whose eyes shall not be closed in death until they see all these things, which I have spoken, fulfilled.

And I dare say there are some living somewhere in the world whose eyes have not seen death.

Remember these things; call upon the Lord while He is near, and seek Him while He may be found, is the exhortation of your unworthy servant.

(Signed) JOSEPH SMITH, JUN.
And your unworthy servant, Rulon Jeffs. I pray God to bless us to this end, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Funeral of Brenda Thornton Fischer

I have been deeply moved by what has been spoken here today, and desire that the Spirit of God will dictate my words as I speak on this sacred occasion, and that His word and will may be done. That is the motive by which I have been guided, and the Spirit by which I have been guided, as I have had the welfare of this dear sister and her children. All that was done for them and with them was during the years Uncle Roy, President Johnson, was here. I acted under his direction. Sister Brenda had placed herself in the hands of Uncle Roy, and after his passing I carried on, looking after the welfare and well-being of this young family.

This last Spring, Sister Brenda placed herself in my hands and I have acted by the direction and the pointing out of the Lord in all that has been done. These beautiful words that have been spoken by Brother Truman are certainly appropriate at this time, and apply. The Lord pointed out, through His will and way, that this dear mother and her children should be placed with Brother Vaughn Fischer, and he has done a wonderful work in carrying out what he was given to do. And these dear children are under a man of God who loves them, as will all of his family, and see to their welfare and well-being, and be taught in the ways of the Lord. He is a righteous man. Sister Brenda, of course, will be on the other side rendering what influences she can in their behalf. These words of preparation spoken of by Brother Truman are very appropriate, and I need not dwell further on that. What we now look forward to is the resurrection. The work of the Lord is to prepare His people for a glorious resurrection, and that is what Brother Vaughn and his family will work for in behalf of these lovely children. For my part, I would just like to read some words of comfort from the Prophet Joseph Smith regarding this next step in our existence, after we go to the other side.

It is my meditation all the day, and more than my meat and drink, to know how I shall make the Saints of God comprehend the visions that roll like an overflowing surge before my mind. All your losses will be made up to you in the resurrection, provided you continue faithful. By the vision of the Almighty I have seen it.

More painful to me are the thoughts of annihilation than death. If I have no expectation of seeing my father, mother, brothers, sisters and friends again, my heart would burst in a moment, and I should go down to my
The expectation of seeing my friends in the morning of the resurrection cheers my soul and makes me bear up against the evils of life. It is like their taking a long journey, and on their return we meet them with increased joy.

God has revealed His Son from the heavens and the doctrine of the resurrection also; and we have a knowledge that those we bury here God will bring up again, clothed upon and quickened by the Spirit of the great God; and what mattereth it whether we lay them down, or we lay down with them when we can keep them no longer? Let these truths sink down in our hearts, that we may even here begin to enjoy that which shall be in full hereafter.

Hosanna, hosanna, hosanna to Almighty God, that rays of light begin to burst forth upon us even now. I cannot find words in which to express myself. I am not learned, but I have as good feelings as any man. O that I had the language of the archangel to express my feelings once to my friends! But I never expect to in this life. When others rejoice, I rejoice; when they mourn, I mourn.

In speaking at the funeral of Lorenzo Barnes, these comforting words were given, which may apply in their means to this situation.

To Marcellus Bates let me administer comfort. (To Brother Vaughn) You shall soon have the company of your companion in a world of glory, and the friends of Brother Barnes (Brother Vaughn) and all the Saints who are mourning. This has been a warning voice to us all to be sober and diligent and lay aside mirth, vanity and folly, and to be prepared to die tomorrow.

And I pray that the blessings of God may be added upon this family, and to all who desire a glorious resurrection, and labor and prepare for it. Before that, we have the work of redeeming Zion, and that is the nature of the work which President Johnson has left to us. Now, may God bless this family, and all of us, that we may love and obey the truth and be prepared to die tomorrow, or whenever the Lord calls, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Pray Always; Seek for the Spirit of God to Be Our Constant Companion

I am deeply grateful, brothers and sisters, for the marvelous support and wonderful testimonies that have been given here, and as they are expressed to me all the day long, and I praise the Lord for it. I desire that He will put words in my mouth, as He always did with Uncle Roy, in giving words of encouragement and strength, and enable us to, above all things, get and keep the Holy Spirit of God. The Lord has called upon us throughout His scriptures, through the Prophet Joseph Smith and His other Prophets who have given direction to the saints, to pray always. Joseph Smith puts it this way:

We would say to the brethren, seek to know God in your closets, call upon him in the fields. Follow the directions of the Book of Mormon, and pray over, and for your families, your cattle, your flocks, your herds, your corn, and all things that you possess; ask the blessing of God upon all your labors, and everything that you engage in. Be virtuous and pure; be men of integrity and truth; keep the commandments of God; and then you will be able more perfectly to understand the difference between right and wrong -- between the things of God and the things of men; and your path will be like that of the just, which shineth brighter and brighter unto the perfect day.

As I have called to our attention so many times, the way that we get the Spirit of God is given in this seventh chapter of Moroni.

Moroni 7

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, Lord, teach us how to pray. Section 82 tells us: "If you do what I say I am bound; if you do not what I say, ye have no promise." And so we are required, above all things, to be perfectly obedient to all of the commandments of God, and know then that our course is pleasing to Him. Then we have power with Him and can call upon Him for blessings; and with this great energy of heart, knowing, according to the teaching of the Prophet Joseph, that when we work by faith, we work by the exertion of the mind. Where does our prayer go when we pray to the Lord? It goes to the Lord through the Spirit of God, and we call upon Him to give it to us. That is the means of communication with the Lord, and He answers our prayers according to our faith and our obedience. Our faith is shown by our obedience, and by our works, and by loving the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourselves. Now, this love, this pure love of Christ, how do we get it?

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, Filled with this love.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;

That pure love of Christ is the Holy Spirit of God, and we are to be filled with it, so that we are never without it. It is working all the day long, in all our waking hours, to be filled with the Holy Ghost, that we may do nothing to displease Him, and to keep His commandments and obey Him in all things.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

The Spirit of God cannot dwell in unclean tabernacles, as Section 93 tells us.

D. & C. 93

30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.

32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.

Light and truth.
33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.

35. The elements are the tabernacle of God;

These bodies.
35. ...yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.

So, it is a matter of purification and sanctification by which we come to know God, by getting and keeping the Holy Spirit of God, which is the attributes of God. The Holy Spirit centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself through all of His dominions. The Holy Spirit is the power of the holy Priesthood. So, if we are filled with it, brothers and sisters, we have the attributes of God. Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith, of the Prophet Joseph Smith, explains how we may be filled with this Spirit, which is the mind of the Father and of the Son.

So there is the key to our progress to accomplishing the things which God calls upon us to do. May we be faithful and anxiously engaged in this great cause which God has called us to; and may we become one people, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

"If You Are Not For Me, You Are Against Me"

I am grateful to be with you again, brothers and sisters. I will now preach the shortest sermon I ever did. "If you are not for Me, you are against Me," said the Savior. Think about it. God bless you, amen.

Charity

Need we add more? What I wanted to say has been said. And I want to tell you, my beloved brothers and sisters, that I love you all. I know how Uncle Roy felt about his people, and I feel the same. I can't ask to be anymore than Brother Johnson, to be like him. He led the way and I want to continue his great work. And I pray that we will all unite now behind him and your present head, to go down the road together. God bless and strengthen you all and shed forth His Holy Spirit upon us all. I can't think of a better way to close than to read again Moroni's instructions. This tells us how.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Jesus said, "I am meek and lowly in heart," as He was talking to the people that were following Him.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

It gives no offense, and takes no offense, if I may add.

45. ...thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

It is speaking, as I see it, of the Holy Spirit of God, which has all of these attributes which are spoken of, the attributes of God: Knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. God is love. These things make Him
48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;

Being like Him,

48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

We Must Get and Keep the Spirit of God Here and Now; Preparation; Unity

We have heard enough, brothers and sisters, to have been filled and nourished with the word of God today. I ask the Lord to bless me, and put words in my mouth, that I may add some further light and instruction with the help of the Lord and His Holy Spirit.

I have felt led to greatly emphasize, with all my strength, to take the word of God: "Get My Spirit and keep it," and put it in just a few words. If we have it, if we are filled with it, we will become like God. To get it and to keep it, we must overcome all of our weaknesses and the things that are holding us back. I always thrill to read the words of John Taylor. After having spoken of the redemption of Christ, the atonement of Christ places us in a position to come back into the presence of God.

The Mediation and Atonement  Chapter 25  Page 179

The next question for us to examine is, How, and in what manner are men benefitted by the atonement and by the resurrection? In this, that the atonement having restored man to his former position before the Lord, it has placed him in a position and made it possible for him to obtain that exaltation and glory which it would have been impossible for him to have received without it; even to become a son of God by adoption; and being a son then an heir of God, and a joint heir with Jesus Christ; and that, as Christ overcame, He has made it possible, and has placed it within the power of believers in Him, also to overcome; and as He is authorized to inherit His Father's glory which He had with Him before the world was, with His resurrected body, so through the adoption, may we overcome and sit down with Him upon His throne, as He has overcome and sat down upon His Father's throne. And as he has said, "I and the Father are one," so are the obedient saints one with Him, as He is one with the Father, even as He prayed:

"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me, I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one; I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them as thou hast loved me." -- John, xvii, 21-23.

Jesus is the Heir. His brothers and sisters are joint heirs with Him by adoption.

Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, and through faith in Jesus Christ, they rise to the dignity and glory of the Godhead, even to become Gods; as it is promised:

"Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. -- Rev., iii, 12.
Again, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne." -
- Rev., iii, 21.

Yet again, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." -- Rev., xxi, 7.

We have had pointed out to us here today some of the ways by which we may overcome, and that is to get and keep the Spirit of God. The Holy Spirit has with it all of the attributes of God. The Holy Spirit centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself to go throughout His dominions. The Holy Spirit of God is the power of the Priesthood; and we cannot, brethren, magnify that Priesthood without the Holy Spirit of God. If we become filled with it, then we become perfect through perfect faith, and overcome all things as Jesus overcame and set the example for all of us.

I can't emphasize enough, brothers and sisters, the great urgency of getting this message to us, and that we settle down now, here and now, and not listen to this admonition, as we have so many years gone by, without doing anything about it. The grand principle is the pure love of Christ, the Holy Spirit of God. As Moroni tells us, and as I have pointed out so many times, we must pray with all the energy of heart, that we may be filled with this love.

Joseph Smith stands in the position of the Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son, and stands in the office of the Holy Ghost. He has set the perfect example in our generation as Jesus Christ did in His generation. As is spoken of in Section 132, the Lord told him that he was sealed unto eternal life, and will sit down on the throne of God with Abraham, his father.

Now, my brothers and sisters, let us settle down, as Uncle Roy so often told us, and get down to business here and now; not put it off until tomorrow, or another week, or a month, or years on end, until we get this work done. The only way we can become one in our families, the only way we can become one with the Priesthood, the only way we can become one with God, is to get and keep the Holy Spirit of God, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Priesthood Story of 1978

We have indeed, my dear brothers and sisters, had a feast through the Spirit of God and the light of truth, and I am grateful to hear the messages that have been given. I am grateful, above all else, for a knowledge of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and of the holy Priesthood, and for the testimony I have that God lives; that Joseph Smith was His Prophet, and restored the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the holy Priesthood in these last days at the beginning of the greatest and last dispensation of the fullness of times, of which we are a part.

As I contemplate the greatness of the mission and the work of the Prophet Joseph Smith, my heart burns with truth that He has revealed from on high to this dispensation of which we are a part. Joseph, the story of Joseph, was not told me until I was ten, eleven years old. My father had entered into the principle of Celestial Marriage, and had been underground since the time he took my mother and another lady in 1909. And then father got me and told me the story of Joseph Smith, and we started going out to the ward in which we lived over on the west side.

It was joy to my heart to hear that glorious story, God's sending him from on high to restore the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the Priesthood of the living God, to build up the Kingdom of God and prepare a people to redeem Zion, to go and accomplish the work that God has sent forth His people to do.

I am grateful for the knowledge that I have concerning the successor in that line of Priesthood, John Y. Barlow. I sprang from him and from Leroy S. Johnson. I have contemplated many times, brothers and sisters, how it was that this Priesthood Council was divided. The six who were then in the Council. President Johnson, Marion Hammon, Guy Musser, Rulon Jeffs, (Carl Holm was gone), and Alma Timpson. I failed to mention Uncle Rich Jessop. That crucial time came in the Council, when President Johnson stood up and said, "Brethren, the Lord has sent me here this day to correct some very serious things that have been said over the pulpit." Turning to Brother Marion, "Brother Marion, you have said that the one man rule set out in verse 7 of Section 132 is not so. Would you change the scripture?"
Brother Marion said, "What about the 1880 Revelation?"

President Johnson said, "That was a delusion given through Wilford Woodruff by the devil. The Lord permitted him to give that revelation." The 1880 Revelation, then, was a delusion.

Then he had me read the 28th Section of the Doctrine and Covenants, which says that only one man is to receive revelation for the Church in the cause of Zion -- the head, Joseph Smith, Jun. Wilford Woodruff was not the head when that revelation was given. John Taylor was. And then Brother Johnson called upon each of us to respond. Brother Marion, Brother Guy, and Brother Timpson all said, "I sustain you as President of Priesthood, Brother Johnson."

I got up and said, "Brother Johnson, I believe all that you have said here today as coming from God, and I am with you all the way." Uncle Rich got up and said the same thing, and as it turned out, the three of us who had been ordained by John Y. Barlow stood on one side, and the three that were ordained by or through Joseph W. Musser were on the other side. And when I think of how I could have been drawn into that other side at the time I was ordained, I thank God that He led me to go and see John Y. Barlow for my ordination. John Y. Barlow was one of the greatest of the Prophets of this dispensation, and so is Leroy S. Johnson. I am grateful that I have enjoyed his confidence, and I am grateful to the Lord for having had me in the palm of His hand, as it were, and leading me along to accomplish the work that I have been called to do.

I pray God to bless us all, brothers and sisters, that we will stand together against all the fiery darts of the adversary, as was read here by Brother Truman, that we will be one; that we will move all together as one man, under one man, to go and redeem Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Spirit of Revelation

My dear brothers and sisters, if we were to close now we would have been perfectly well-fed for having come out. But I feel constrained to add something that has been upon my mind this whole meeting, which I pray I may truly teach and give forth by the Holy Spirit of God.

The Prophet Joseph said, "There is no salvation without revelation." That is basic for all of us. The Spirit of revelation is one of the great, if not the greatest, gift of the Holy Spirit of God. And with the help of the Lord, I would like to tell you from the scripture, as well as by any inspiration I may have to be able to get for you, something about the Spirit of revelation. After telling about the First and Second Comforters, the Prophet Joseph closed that sermon with this paragraph:

TPJS  Page 151

The Spirit of Revelation

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

In the experiences of the Prophet Joseph Smith in his early administration as a Prophet of God, I would like to mention the fact that all of the early revelations he received that we have in the Doctrine and Covenants, he obtained by the Urim and Thummim, which was given him to translate the Book of Mormon. And by this means he found that he could receive revelation by the Holy Spirit of God without the Urim and Thummim. All the rest of the revelations we have, as far as I can determine, were dictated directly to him by the Holy Spirit of God. He had learned the Spirit of revelation.

In one of the earlier lessons that we have given us, as contained in Section 8 and 9, Oliver Cowdery, during the course of the translation of the Book of Mormon, desired to be able to translate himself. So the Lord gave him the opportunity.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

This was the same Spirit which dictated Nephi when he was sent back by his father to obtain the records of their forefathers and of the records of Israel. It was not an angel, but he accomplished that mission, having at first resisted his instruction given by the Spirit to take the man's life when he had him in his power. The Spirit dictated that to him three times before he obeyed it, and he obtained. Moses was the same way, standing on the banks of the Red Sea. The Holy Spirit dictated, by his perfect faith, the means by which they could cross over on dry land. Then Oliver was told:

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.

5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember, this is your gift.

But he didn't do as he was commanded. In the next Section we have this:

D.& C. 9

1. Behold, I say unto you, my son, that because you did not translate according to that which you desired of me, and did commence again to write for my servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., even so I would that ye should continue until you have finished this record, which I have entrusted unto him.

2. And then, behold, other records have I, that I will give unto you power that you may assist to translate.

3. Be patient, my son, for it is wisdom in me, and it is not expedient that you should translate at this present time.

4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.
5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.

6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you;

There is the key.

8. ...therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

10. Now, if you had known this you could have translated; nevertheless, it is not expedient that you should translate now.

11. Behold, it was expedient when you commenced; but you feared, and the time is past, Fear and faith cannot exist at the same time in us.

11. ...and it is not expedient now;

The gifts of the Spirit are many. They are listed beautifully in Section 46. Uncle Roy used to often speak, as he spoke of the gift of the Holy Ghost, he made it plural -- "gifts" of the Holy Ghost. So it is necessary that we have the Holy Spirit and keep it. Joseph Smith had the gift so perfectly that he was able to say this:

Now, I ask all who hear me, why the learned men who are preaching salvation, say that God created the heavens and the earth out of nothing? The reason is, that they are unlearned in the things of God, and have not the gift of the Holy Ghost; they account it blasphemy in any one to contradict their idea. If you tell them that God made the world out of something, they will call you a fool. But I am learned, and know more than all the world put together. The Holy Ghost does, anyhow, and He is within me, He was full of it.

...and comprehends more than all the world: and I will associate myself with Him.

That is how he had such great and perfect power with God. Uncle Roy was full of it. And even he said at the last, "I need more of the Spirit of God." So say I, to do the great work in which we are engaged. I pray God to bless us all with this great and glorious gift and power, which we may have with God through our faith and faithfulness unto the end.

And again, how do we get it? By first being meek and lowly in heart, by which we obtain the three great things that Paul spoke of.

1 Corinthians 13
13. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

Which Moroni describes here as the pure love of Christ.

Moroni 7
47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
The exertion of the mind. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son, and it centers in the Father for us.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
Isn't that the Holy Spirit? If we have that, we have perfect love.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;
The gift of the Holy Ghost is bestowed by the laying on of hands by one having authority.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.
Which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
My dear brothers and sisters, I can't tell you how much it means to me, these expressions of support and loyalty. I want to affirm to you that my work will be a continuation and extension of the work started by Leroy Sunderland Johnson, for I know he is on the other side helping and directing. His having been taken when he was, was not the end of his administration. This is a continuation of it, and I am grateful for the Lord having brought me through, springing up from John Y. Barlow and Leroy Sunderland Johnson, who are such great friends and loyal servants of God. They were and are Gods, and I want to go along with them.

I have had a rather weakening experience here, so I am going to make my discourse short. I was going to have a sermon of John Y. Barlow read here. I just want to say, I was very strong in bearing testimony of the work and mission of President Johnson; and it may seem to some that I carried it too far, when I was called upon by Uncle Roy, in company with John Johnson and Truman Barlow, to seal the anointing and bless him; and I was led to promise him that he would be renewed and overcome that illness from that very hour, and he would go forth and lead this people in the redemption of Zion. I still say the same thing, though he has physically passed out of our experience and our vision here at this time.

So, when he passed on, the realization came to me that he had had a most beautiful renewal. And I had the Spirit reveal to me that his work was not through, that he would continue on to do just exactly what I had promised he would be able to do, by the Spirit of God. So, as it turned out, I was called upon by Uncle Roy to, with him, re-establish the one man rule, which I did with my might in connection with him. The 1880 Revelation had taken such root among the people, an item that I had put on the shelf then, that was directly contradictory to Section 132 verse 7, which says,

D.& C. 132
7. ...there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power,
The sealing power,
    7. ...and the keys of this Priesthood are conferred

The 1880 Revelation was termed in a meeting of the Council, a "delusion". So this has gone on since then, and I am grateful that this has been so firmly implanted in our hearts, the words of God in Section 132 verse 7. And to carry out the theme that I have spoken of here, that Brother Johnson would be renewed and go on to lead this people, with Jesus Christ to redeem Zion, here is the promise of God in Section 103:

D. & C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.
17. For ye are the children of Israel,
And I have felt all along that that man was Leroy Johnson.
17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.
19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.

20. ...shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

I have been led to believe that those angels spoken of would be the men starting with Joseph Smith. He is the head of this dispensation. Brigham Young, and John Taylor, and John W. Woolley, and Lorin C. Woolley, and John Y. Barlow, and Leroy Sunderland Johnson will be among those angels, with Christ our Lord at the head; and, God willing, I would like to be among them.

So, brothers and sisters, let us go down the road together. That is where we are headed -- Zion. We are here among the mountains of the Lord's House. This is our Zion at the present time, and the Lord has called for all Israel to gather together in Zion. We are gathered together in a place that President Johnson mentioned the brethren had decided would be the place, which was Short Creek area, for the gathering of the saints and preparation for the redemption of Zion. We have got to have Zion in our hearts right here and now, where we are to be worthy to go to Zion in that great concourse. We have got to become like God. We have got to be filled with the Holy Ghost, the pure love of Christ; and like God, because we have that Holy Spirit with us in fullness. That is the great unifying power. It is part of God Himself. The Holy Ghost centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself, and goes to all of His dominions and to His people and His children. What will it be like to love and serve Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength? I can't believe that anyone would be in that concourse of people who are not like God.

I thrilled when I heard the story Uncle John told -- the three Hebrews thrown into the fiery furnace survived and came out alive. Abraham and another man were thrown into the fiery furnace. Abraham survived and came out stronger than ever. The other man was burned up. What was it that enabled Abraham and the three Hebrews to survive that fire? It was the Holy Ghost, brothers and sisters, which surrounded them, overshadowed them and overcame the fire of the furnace with a greater fire, which preserves and protects and takes all that is polluted in the earth and destroys it.

So, brothers and sisters, I just want to make another appeal to us all, that we bind ourselves together in the bonds of the Holy Spirit of God and the holy Priesthood, the Holy Spirit of God being the power of the Priesthood. That is what makes God, God; and will make us Gods if we are faithful and true to the end. May we join together in this common cause, to redeem Zion and to build up the Kingdom of God, and to accomplish the work that was started by these, our illustrious Prophets, Seers, and Revelators which have preceded us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Education of Children;
Do Not Let Children Run With Apostates

I believe there are only three sermons in this first book of Uncle Roy's sermons that were there of Uncle John's. They were taken down, I think, in shorthand here in Salt Lake. Around that time we had wire tapes. Now it is a wonderful thing that we have tapes to keep and preserve the word of the Lord as it is given to us from day to day. I would just like to take a few minutes to give us the teachings of Brigham Young -- education of our children.

Brigham Young  JD 1:66  Brigham Young  April 8, 1852  SLC

It has been hinted that education commences with the first dawn of knowledge upon the mental faculties of the child, and continues with it till death. But I will trace it a little further back still, and say that education commences with the mother, and the child in connection. I will state the facts in the case, as you will find them to be hereafter, in the education of your children. It depends in a great degree upon the mother, as to what children receive, in early age, of principle of every description, pertaining to all that can be learned by the human family. When will mothers understand this?  I will tell you the truth as you will find it in eternity. If your children do not receive impressions of true piety, virtue, tenderness, and every principle of the holy Gospel, you may be assured that their sins will not be required at the hands of the father, but of the mother.

Certainly, the father gives the instructions to the mother, but they can't be with the children always, going out as they did in his day preaching the Gospel and taking care of the labors of the Kingdom.

Lay it to heart, ye mothers, for it will unavoidably be so. The duty of the mother is to watch over her children, and give them their early education, for impressions received in infancy are lasting. You know, yourselves, by experience, that the impressions you have received in the dawn of your mortal existence, bear, to this day, with the greatest weight upon your mind.

These are why this is so:

It is the experience of people generally, that what they imbibe from their mothers in infancy, is the most lasting upon the mind through life. This is natural, it is reasonable, it is right. I do not suppose you can find one person among five hundred, who does not think his mother to be the best woman that ever lived. This is right, it is planted in the human heart.

I was trying to find another excerpt from a sermon of Brigham Young, speaking to mothers who say so often, "Where is my husband?" He turns it around and says, "Mothers, where are your children?" It is your duty to train them up and turn their hearts to their father, and then turn them over to him when they are of an age for him to be able to use them and to carry on the labors of his family. Just these few hints, brothers and sisters, I want to leave with you here today, praying that we will be very careful in our special situation here today in this community, about our children running with those who have turned against the Lord's anointed and apostatized.

I made a point this morning. The Prophet Joseph Smith said, "The moment you revolt against that which comes from God, the devil takes power." That was the core of the situation involved in the splitting up of the Priesthood Council right down the middle in 1978. And we see the devil at work on every hand, here and in Salt Lake and everywhere else, getting at the children.

So we need to take special care, brothers and sisters, who our children run with, and keep them home if you can, to receive your teachings, fathers and mothers. Many of the fathers are away at work. So you see, it is still applies now. I have a good many of these problems coming to my attention, and my heart bleeds for what is going on. So I just plead with you now, fathers and mothers, every family under the sound of my voice, find out and know where your children are, and keep them close to you, and turn them to their father. The father should be turning the hearts of their children to the Prophet. I have seen marvelous examples of that among this people. I see with joy the results of parents who have watched over their children and raised them up close to the bosom of the family.
It is a wonderful thing when I see men like Dan Barlow, who comes in after the meeting this afternoon to see me in the office here. Fine sons of Dan Barlow, all men of God. So it is possible. I am sure there are exceptions in many families, and justifiably so. But I have great admiration for Brother Dan and Brother Joe, and these other brethren who do such a wonderful job with their children.

Now, brothers and sisters, I pray that we will go on now, become one people together here, and in Salt Lake, and in Canada, that we may all go down the road with Brother Johnson to the accomplishment of the will and purposes of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Faith; How to Exercise the Powers of the Priesthood

I have been greatly impressed with the words of life that have been given us here today by the speakers. I, too, feel that our meetings are improving. At least I hear it from my family each meeting; and I desire the direction of the Lord in the remarks that I make here before you today.

I, too, have been dwelling a great deal on Uncle Roy. At the time of his passing a year ago, those scenes come before me frequently these days. I have felt that President Leroy Sunderland Johnson was a great model to follow, and I tried with my might to follow him; and I have tried to be like him because of that great example that he has set before us. As I have said, I feel to carry on with him. I said over the phone to Brother Truman; when I got the message that he had passed on, I said, "He is not dead," though I knew he had passed over to the other side. But he is very much alive, and walking in perfection before the Lord, continuing his labors, aiding us in accomplishing the objects which he set before us in building up the Kingdom of God and preparing a people to redeem Zion.

Leroy S. Johnson, to me, was perfect in his generation, as Seth and Noah were described. They had this testimony that they pleased God, and they were perfect in their generation. And they were God over the people in their day and time. I am grateful for all of my associations with him. I think constantly of him and pray for his help, and for help from the Prophet Joseph to carry on the labors that have fallen upon me to perform.

The Holy Spirit of God is the Spirit of revelation, the means by which we obtain revelation of the mind and will of God. So that we may understand more of the Holy Spirit of God, it is called the Holy Spirit in this Lecture Five:

Lecture Five

2. ...notwithstanding all this, he (Jesus Christ) kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;

These same blessings.

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

We can and must obtain a fullness of that Spirit to become Gods. Do you see how important it is to get and keep the Spirit of God?

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

And as John Taylor says in the Mediation and Atonement: "Jesus Christ is the only Heir of God. We may become heirs with him by adoption, and enjoy the same blessings." Isn't that a grand and glorious picture for us to strive for, brothers and sisters? Section 121 tells us how we must exercise the powers of the holy Priesthood.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood,

And remember, the power of the Priesthood is the Holy Spirit -- inseparably connected.

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion,
That is what we must strive for, brothers and sisters.

46. ...and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

So that, to me, brothers and sisters, is the greater part of becoming like God. That is what we are here for. Be filled with this Holy Spirit, which centers in the Father, and issues forth from Himself through His servants to govern His work and Kingdom here upon the earth.

May we be ever humble and contrite, meek and lowly in heart. Beware of pride, the great sin by which the devil rebelled against God before we came here. May we be faithful and true unto the end, and obtain the blessings that are promised us in the endowment being found in the marriage ceremony. That is an endowment. That is Godhood. May God bless us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Charity

I would feel quite content to close this meeting on that note; President Johnson, having heard from him. But I would like to give very briefly the word of the Lord as we have it through Moroni, to enable us to carry out these things that have been spoken of by the Prophet Leroy Johnson.

Moroni 7

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

What is this "pure love of Christ"? Here we have it:

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, Filled with the Holy Ghost. God is love. We will become like God if we are filled with this great pure love of Christ.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

There is how we become like God. Be filled with the Holy Ghost, the pure love of Christ, which has all the attributes of God and the character of God. May we attain unto this and be one people, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
The Spirit of God has certainly been made manifest there for us today, and we have heard some wonderful truths, and I am grateful for them and praise God for having answered our prayers, that we might rejoice in the truth. Love the truth and live the truth, and do all things with an eye single to the glory of God. I pray the Lord to put words in my mouth, as Uncle Roy always use to say.

Another assault is being made on the United Effort Plan. It is being made according to the pattern that we have in the times and life of the Prophet Joseph Smith -- by apostates. A massive lawsuit has been filed in the United States District Court in Salt Lake City. The complaint is a hundred pages long, eighty pages of complaint and twenty pages of exhibits. We don't have a copy of the complaint yet, but it is now in the hands of our lawyer, Mr. Ditsch. The defendants are the Trustees of the United Effort Plan, the town of Hildale, the town of Colorado City, and several officers involved therein. It even names Anna Mae Blackmore in Canada. And this indicates the hand of one Harold Blackmore, a dark apostate. Who knows how God will handle this one. He will fight this battle, my dear brothers and sisters.

I would like to speak on the nature of this United Effort Plan. In 1942, after the United Trust operation was attempted here in Short Creek, and failed because of the selfishness and aspiring nature of some men, the United Effort Plan was brought together and formed under the inspiration of God, and brought into being on November 9, 1942, under the scrutiny and direction of President John Y. Barlow, Joseph Musser, and Leroy Johnson. They, with Brother Hammon and myself, were made Trustees in the original Trust agreement. We knew not then what God had wrought, as we are now seeing this great assault that has been made time and time again against this great document which God inspired and directed in the minds of John Y. Barlow and Joseph Musser and Leroy Johnson.

I was called to sit in with them and I don't know -- now I guess I do know -- why I was brought in. I was just a young whipper-snapper coming into the work. I take comfort in having the confidence of John Y. Barlow. In May of 1942, before the United Effort Plan was finished, I was working in Ogden for the State Tax Commission. I had written a letter bearing my testimony of John Y. Barlow's calling, and I had sent him some money which was badly needed at the time. He wrote a letter back to me in which he said, "Yours is at hand, and I promise you, my dear brother, that you and yours shall never want for bread." He said, "I know your heart. If we had ten men like you with us, we would turn this world upside down. And may God bless you, is the humble prayer of your friend and brother, John Y. Barlow." It was a very short and simple letter, which I have treasured and kept in my possession.

So I am now the remaining Trustee of that original board, by the grace of God. And I feel honored and blessed in being called upon to defend it and protect it with all the power in my means to accomplish. But I know it can only be done by the power of God, and through faith and love and truth.

This assault has its beginning in my having sent out a notice to the members of the United Effort Plan in July of 1987, in which it was stated, according to the Trust document, that the members were "tenants-at-will", and this raised a lot of opposition. Immediately after, Joe Zitting got up a seven-page document protesting this notice that was sent out, with a lot of scriptures and other things, and notably protesting the term "tenants-at-will." I wish I had the document to read to you again. But Section 12 says very plainly that we are members, having come upon land of the United Effort Plan. That land that was the central part of it was that which Leroy Johnson insisted stay with the Priesthood, six hundred nineteen acres in Arizona.

New and additional members may be brought in by the consecration of property. That consecration is the building of homes on the United Effort property as determined by the Board of Trustees; provided, however, that any member may be expelled from the Trust by a majority vote of the Board of Trustees at a special meeting held for that purpose; and provided further that, having been so excluded and expelled, they have no further claim upon the property of the United Effort Plan. They have none. Brother Johnson, in a sermon at the Steed ranch in August of 1984, made the declaration that under this Trust agreement, "the members could be evicted," using the term that was very offensive to them, the enemy, "with or without cause, as determined by the Trustees."

I had a meeting in my office on November 20, with three of the sons of Alma Timpson: Don, Ray, and Paul; in which they protested living in their homes under fear of eviction. Brother Truman and I -- Brother Truman was with me -- said to them, "We are not living in fear. Why are you?" Then I was asked the question, "What are we guilty of? What have we done that is prejudicial to the interest of the Trust?" I said, "The word is `apostasy' [talking of these men]. Can anything be worse?" I then proceeded to show how they and others, particularly the three brethren of the Priesthood Council, apostatized, refusing to follow the words of the Prophet who was sent to us that day, on March 18, 1978, to accept the word of the Lord that the 1880 Revelation was a delusion.

After that meeting, three of us having left, Brother Johnson, Brother Musser, and Brother Richard Jessop were standing there in the office when Guy Musser raised his hand and pointed to Uncle Roy saying, "You are apostate and senile!" Who was apostate? One who was accusing the Prophet. Growing out of this, they started saying that Brother Johnson on that occasion had given a delusion. Things kept going on and on as you well remember.

To wind up the discussion we had with the Timpson boys, I said, "Uncle Roy said, before he passed, he had done all he could to clean up this town and the United Effort Plan of members who had apostatized. Three evictions had been given, but they were on their way out anyway. But Uncle Roy said to me, 'I have done all I can. Now it is in the hands of the Lord. He will fight our battles. I am not going to issue any more evictions.'" I said, "So say I to you men here. The event is in the hands of God, if we live our religion. You only have God to fear now." With that the meeting broke up.

Five days later this action was filed in court, Salt Lake District Court of the federal government. We haven't been served yet. We are having to go and get copies of the complaint ourselves to know what is going on. The press knew about it before it was even filed. I think Dan Barlow got a call down here at 12:30 on November 25, a half hour before the complaint was filed in the District Court, asking for comments of him. Is that right, Dan? They called me the same afternoon and I wasn't available.

Well, we just felt like reporting this to you, and I just want to emphasize one thing. This is a religious common-law Trust, with members. No one on United Effort land is a beneficiary under the common understanding of Trusts. Surely they could be revoked. But this is a religious Trust with members, and a religion can excommunicate its members. It is the only way... we could get up a document that would hold together and be safe from the assaults by apostates. All the others that were attempted were broken up because of apostates. And that is what they are trying to do today -- same pattern.

Now, brothers and sisters, if ever we needed to stand united, we need to now. It seems that the thrust in this assault is violations of civil rights. And we understand there are about twenty-four of them described in this document. It isn't a property issue according to that, but we will have to wait and see for further information. We must stand together, brothers and sisters, and pray with our might, and God will fight our battles. Again, on this subject of prayer, the seventh of Moroni:

Moroni 7

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him. We are in the last days.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

The exertion of the mind. The Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son, and centers in the Father, and issues forth from Him to go out to His dominions and accomplish His work. It is by the power of the Holy Spirit of God that all things have been created through faith. And we understand from the Prophet Joseph, when we work by faith, we work by the exertion of the mind. The Holy Ghost is the mind of the Father and the Son, and thus we communicate through the Holy Ghost with the Father.

48. ...pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, Filled with the Holy Ghost, if you please.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;

The gift of the Holy Ghost has been bestowed upon us all. Seek unto it.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that he may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope, that we may be purified even as he is pure.

In order to be justified by God, we must walk with clean hands and pure hearts. We must become like Him. Through the Holy Ghost, the attributes of God are made manifest; and having obtained that in fullness, we can become like God. There again, everything you can preach about, brothers and sisters, depends on the Holy Spirit of God to accomplish. We see the burden that has been upon us, and has been since the time of Joseph Smith to the present, through the Prophets who followed him.

May God bless us and enable us to settle down, and get down to business as Uncle Roy pled, and pled, and pled in his sermons; and be about his business; now, not tomorrow, but now. May God help us to come unto this state of faith and hope and charity, through the love of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Personal History; Education; Mothers

The Lord has indeed answered our prayer with His Spirit being with us here today and hearing the things that we have heard to encourage us and strengthen us and get a greater determination to serve God and keep His commandments, and be faithful, and endure to the end. I pray that the Lord will direct my remarks through His Spirit. I testify to you that God lives, that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of the living God, and that Joseph is Their Witness and Testator, standing in the office of the Holy Ghost, a Prophet who received all of the revelations that have been vouchsafed to us in the restoration of the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

My mind goes at this season upon the Prophet Joseph. He was born December 23, 1805. I feel more like worshipping Jesus Christ and Joseph and the Father at this "Christmas time", so-called, in memory of the Prophet Joseph, who is the Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son, head of this last dispensation of the fullness of times. All who have followed him -- I am grateful for those who have vouchsafed this Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ to those who have followed him. I especially remember, of course, Uncle John and Uncle Roy. I speak of them together, as one. My greatest desire is to be one with them, and on back through to Joseph Smith the Prophet, whose memory I love.
My father and mother entered into this law of Celestial Marriage in the days when they had to live it underground. I was not made apprised of much regarding the Gospel until we moved over on the west side; and at that time, Father decided to get back into the ward and go to church and carry on in his labors. When I heard the story of Joseph Smith from him, my heart leaped with joy. And to hear the rest of the story of the restoration, the story of the Prophet Joseph Smith, which he wrote himself, was one of the greatest joys of my life; and to learn who he was and his near connection with Jesus Christ and the Father. So I just want to remember him today as we approach the day of his birth, which means more to me than this time that they bring about for Christmas, which is not the time of His birth. It is April, and the things that are done in His name are not savory to me.

Now, brothers and sisters, we are in a critical time, and I am grateful that the things have been brought out here today as they were last evening regarding our young people. I have been joyous, and you have heard the truth, brothers and sisters.

I want to bring out an item that Brother Brigham has given us. I went into this in Short Creek recently, and I think it should be remembered again before us here today. Brother Oler, I think, drew a beautiful picture before us about getting close to our children, and I have seen it in operation as I have visited in his home. He has set a marvelous example in the training of his children, and working with them and laboring with them. But I am sure that he could not have done it without mothers; and I want to bring out this matter as Brigham Young gave it, and show us how important it is for mothers to do their part in the raising of their children, and he brings out the reasons for it.

RTJ 6:474 - 475 December 20, 1987 Sandy

JD 1:66 Brigham Young April 8, 1852 SLC

It has been hinted that education commences with the first dawn of knowledge upon the mental faculties of the child, and continues with it till death. But I will trace it a little further back still, and say that education commences with the mother, and the child in connection. I will state the facts in the case, as you will find them to be hereafter, in the education of your children. It depends in a great degree upon the mother, as to what children receive, in early age, of principle of every description, pertaining to all that can be learned by the human family. When will mothers understand this? I will tell you the truth as you will find it in eternity. If your children do not receive impressions of true piety, virtue, tenderness, and every principle of the holy Gospel, you may be assured that their sins will not be required at the hands of the father, but of the mother. Lay it to heart, ye mothers, for it will unavoidably be so. The duty of the mother is to watch over her children, and give them their early education, for impressions received in infancy are lasting.

Do you see what he is talking about?

You know, yourselves, by experience, that the impressions you have received in the dawn of your mortal existence, bear, to this day, with the greatest weight upon your mind. It is the experience of people generally, that what they imbibe from their mothers in infancy, is the most lasting upon the mind through life. This is natural, it is reasonable, it is right. I do not suppose you can find one person among five hundred, who does not think his mother to be the best woman that ever lived. This is right, it is planted in the human heart.

As I have been called upon to observe in my position, I have seen the influence of mothers with their children in plural families. They should love one another as though all were their mothers to the children. I have been led to feel: "Show me the mother and I will show you what kind of a child he will be, or she," and it is shown through experience. Now, I love all of you, and I want with all my soul to see the situation that we have among our people who are young people. What is happening? The devil is at work, and he is striking at the young.

Brigham Young in another sermon said, "You dear mothers should be father and mother to your children, because the father is away preaching the Gospel or engaged in bringing the necessities of life to the family. He cannot be with the children as the mother is." He said, "You mothers, don't worry about where your husband is. Don't ask, 'Where is my husband?' I ask you, where are your children?"

We can take from this, my dear brothers and sisters, what is the greatest work of a woman? It is in raising up her children, turning their hearts to their fathers, and their fathers to the head of Priesthood. That has been beautifully described here today. You can turn your children any way you want. I have seen too many examples of it to say otherwise.

The united family is a marvelous thing, and I pray that you dear mothers will love one another, your sister wives, that you will love your children with a mother's love that will ascend unto heaven in the eyes of God; and to sustain your husbands with all your heart, might, mind, and strength. Teach them the ways of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, as Brigham Young has described here. Those early impressions in infancy are most important. My father used to say, "If you have not taught your children obedience by the time they are three years old, you may lose them." Obedience, the first law of heaven, brothers and sisters, obedience to the commandments of God. And the first commandment is: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength; and the second like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

Let us get and keep the Holy Spirit of God, dear brothers and sisters, keep it. Don't ever let it go once you have it. The ways that Brother Truman spoke of the tongue is verily true. Be at peace. Get and keep the Spirit of God. Get full of it through obedience to the commandments of God. As you become full of it, have a fullness of it, you will become like God. I would just like to bring to your memory the words of Brigham Young:

The Holy Ghost is the Spirit of the Lord, and issues forth from Himself, and may properly be called God's minister to execute His will in immensity; being called to govern by His influence and power; but He is not a person of tabernacle as we are, and as our Father in Heaven and Jesus Christ are.

"The Holy Spirit," says the Prophet Joseph Smith in Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith, "The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and of the Son." It centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself. Again I want to read part of Lecture Five.

Lecture Five
2. ...And he (Jesus Christ) being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Get and keep the Holy Spirit of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

First Law of Heaven Is Obedience; Pray Always;
How to Govern in the Priesthood

I rejoice, dear brothers and sisters, in the great truths that we have heard here today, and pray the Spirit of God will direct what remarks I may be led to make. Brigham Young, speaking to the saints many times, stated that he had never taught the saints anything but what he had learned from the Prophet Joseph Smith, under God the Father, and the Son. He was the instrument to restore the holy Priesthood, the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the great mission of preparing a people to redeem and build Zion. I appreciate these remarks of Brother Truman regarding obedience. As I stated on many occasions, the first law of heaven is obedience. The first and greatest commandment we are called upon to obey is to love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and the second commandment is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Upon this law or commandment hangs all the law and the Prophets. We go through the process of obtaining the will of the Lord regarding us by prayer. "Pray always," said the Lord through the Prophet Joseph Smith in instructions given to the School of the Prophets in Section 88.

D.& C. 88

62. And again, verily I say unto you, my friends, I leave these sayings with you to ponder in your hearts, with this commandment which I give unto you, that ye shall call upon me while I am near --

63. Draw near unto me and I will draw near unto you; seek me diligently and ye shall find me; ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

64. Whatsoever ye ask the Father in my name it shall be given unto you, that is expedient for you;

65. And if ye ask anything that is not expedient for you, it shall turn unto your condemnation.

We are talking about prayer through this.

66. Behold, that which you hear is as the voice of one crying in the wilderness -- in the wilderness, because you cannot see him -- my voice, because my voice is Spirit; my Spirit is truth; truth abideth and hath no end; and if it be in you it shall abound.

67. And if your eye be single to my glory, your whole bodies shall be filled with light, and there shall be no darkness in you; and that body which is filled with light comprehendeth all things.

68. Therefore, sanctify yourselves that your minds become single to God, and the days will come that you shall see him; for he will unveil his face unto you, and it shall be in his own time, and in his own way, and according to his own will.

Further in the same Section:

119. Organize yourselves; prepare every needful thing; and establish a house, even a house of prayer, a house of fasting, a house of faith, a house of learning, a house of glory, a house of order, a house of God; So should be our homes.

120. That your incomings may be in the name of the Lord; that your outgoings may be in the name of the Lord; that all your salutations may be in the name of the Lord, with uplifted hands unto the Most High. They were speaking about their meetings in the School of the Prophets here. That is why these formalities are mentioned.

121. Therefore, cease from all your light speeches, from all laughter, from all your lustful desires, from all your pride and light-mindedness, and from all your wicked doings.
122. Appoint among yourselves a teacher, and let not all be spokesmen at once; but let one speak at a time and let all listen unto his sayings, that when all have spoken that all may be edified of all, and that every man may have an equal privilege.

123. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.
124. Cease to be idle; cease to be unclean; cease to find fault one with another; cease to sleep longer than is needful; retire to thy bed early, that ye may not be weary; arise early, that your bodies and your minds may be invigorated.

125. And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.
126. Pray always, that ye may not faint, until I come. Behold, and lo, I will come quickly, and receive you unto myself. Amen.

I have quoted so many times from Moroni 7 about prayer -- how we obtain the Spirit of God and be filled with the pure love of Christ. And here we have in Section 121 how we govern, dear brethren, by the holy Priesthood which we bear.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

That is one another, under the government and law of the holy Priesthood.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

So, in meekness and lowliness of heart, let us get and obtain the Holy Spirit of God and be filled with it; and to govern our families, brethren. Our mothers, govern your children by the Holy Spirit of God. That is the only way that we can become one as a family, the only way we can become one as a people, to build and redeem Zion, which I pray we may be prepared to do as a people, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Spirit of Revelation

I rejoice in the truths and teachings that we have received here through the Spirit of God, which has been plainly manifest, I am sure, in our hearts as we have listened. I pray for the Lord to direct my remarks by His Spirit, which is the Spirit of revelation. What has been sounding in my ears today is the grand statement made by the Prophet Joseph Smith: "There is no salvation without revelation." And revelation is one of the great gifts, if not the greatest, of the Holy Ghost. That is the Spirit of revelation by which it is received. I don't know how many of us realize that the Prophet Joseph Smith had the Urim and Thummim by which he translated the ancient records into what we have as the Book of Mormon, by the Urim and Thummim. He used the Urim and Thummim in receiving the earlier revelations that we have in the Doctrine and Covenants. But as he learned the Spirit of revelation by the power of God through the Holy Ghost, all the rest of the revelations we have were dictated by the Holy Ghost to the Prophet Joseph Smith. I don't know if we realize that it was Jesus Christ speaking to him by the Holy Ghost. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son, and the means by which revelation is given to the sons of God.

I would like to point out to you how we can come by this Spirit of revelation, how it works, how we may know and understand the Spirit and power of revelation. I will go to two of the earliest revelations which were received by the Urim and Thummim, Sections 8 and 9. This was before the Church was organized, and while Joseph was translating the Book of Mormon. Oliver Cowdery desired to also translate. So the Lord told him this through this revelation by the Urim and Thummim:

D. & C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith,

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.
5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember, this is your gift.

He went about and made the attempt to translate by that gift. But he failed. The Lord in the next Section, Section 9 tells him why.

D.& C. 9
1. Behold, I say unto you, my son, that because you did not translate according to that which you desired of me, and did commence again to write for my servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., even so I would that ye should continue until you have finished this record, which I have entrusted unto him.
2. And then, behold, other records have I, that I will give unto you power that you may assist to translate.
3. Be patient, my son, for it is wisdom in me, and it is not expedient that you should translate at this present time.
4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.
5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.
6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.
7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.
8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; Pray with all energy of heart.
8. ...then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you: therefore, you shall feel that it is right.
9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

It was the Spirit of revelation that guided Nephi when he was sent back to Jerusalem to obtain the records which were ancient, for them to have as they would go through the wilderness and go where the Lord would take them, to accomplish the mission they had been sent for. Reading the account, we are told that he resisted the commandment at first that he should slay Laban. But the Spirit whispered to him and told him to do what he should do to obtain that record as he was commanded by his father and by the Lord. The Spirit guided him and told him what to do, the Spirit of revelation. The Prophet Joseph says this, page 151:

TPJS Page 151

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God

That must be done first, learning the Spirit of God and how it works with us.

...and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

That always brings to my mind the last verse of chapter 7 of Moroni, which I have read to you so often, calling upon him to pray with all the energy of heart, "that you may be filled with this love," this pure love of Christ, the Spirit of revelation; and go on to perfection, that we may become pure as God is pure, and be like Him. If we have a fullness of the Holy Ghost, of the Holy Spirit, we have the attributes of God, and will be assimilated into the character of God. The attributes are acquired. The character of God is what the attributes make Him, through obedience to the eternal laws and the commandments for the advancement of the Gods.

Now, may we, my dear brothers and sisters, be meek and lowly in heart. Build up your most holy faith. Seek unto the Lord for the Spirit of revelation, the Spirit of God, if you please, which is the greatest work we have to do, my dear brothers and sisters, to make the preparation; to first repent and prepare to meet our God; which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

My dear brothers and sisters, I am overwhelmed with the wonderful words that have been given here today. And I know this work cannot be done, brothers and sisters, without we acknowledge the hand of God in all things—all things. I ask the Lord's blessings upon me that I might measure up to what He expects to be accomplished. I long for the association of Uncle Roy, and I know he is with us. There are evidences every day where things could not have been done were it not for his help on the other side—with God directing him, of course. Uncle John yearns over us, Uncle Roy yearns over us, I yearn over us. When Brother Dan was speaking about Gideon, it brought to mind the prophecy of the Prophet Heber C. Kimball:

There will also be a day when you will be brought to the test—when your very hearts and your inmost souls will melt within you because of the scenes that many of you will witness.

Uncle Roy spoke of many of those scenes in August of 1984, when he had seen in vision that which was before us in the way of judgments. Joseph saw them and he asked the Lord to close the scene.

Yes, you will be brought to that test, when you will feel as if every thing within you would dissolve. Then will be the time you will be tried whether you will stand the test or fall away.

I have not a doubt but there will be hundreds who will leave us and go away to our enemies.

We have seen that.

I wish they would go this fall: it might relieve us from much trouble; for if men turn traitors to God and His servants, their blood will surely be shed, or else they will be damned, and that too according to their covenants.

Brother Brigham would rather go to battle against the whole world with three hundred men filled with the Holy Ghost, than to have the whole of you, except you are united with us; and I am sure I would.

The day is to come when one shall chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. When that day comes, the Lord will make the enemies of His people flee as if there were thousands after them, when there is only one; and that is the way that God will deal with our enemies.
God Almighty is at hand, when He will show forth His power, and when He will deliver His people from all their enemies.

So let us unite. Let us be one. God will not be able to accomplish His work unless He has such a people, and I know He will have it, this people. I pray the Lord to be with us always, dear brethren and sisters. Learn to love. The first law of heaven is obedience. The first commandments to be obeyed are to love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. If we would but carry out these two commandments, all other things would follow: unity, become one people, become a power in the hands of God to go forward and redeem Zion. The thing that I loved about Uncle Roy was his vision of preparing a people to redeem Zion. And he, I am sure, will be in the forefront of that great journey that will take place.

D.& C. 103

15. Behold, I say unto you, the redemption of Zion must needs come by power;
16. Therefore, I will raise up unto my people a man, who shall lead them like as Moses led the children of Israel.

17. For ye are the children of Israel, and of the seed of Abraham, and ye must needs be led out of bondage by power, and with a stretched-out arm.
18. And as your fathers were led at the first, even so shall the redemption of Zion be.

19. Therefore, let not your hearts faint, for I say not unto you as I said unto your fathers: Mine angel shall go up before you, but not my presence.
20. But I say unto you: Mine angels shall go up before you, and also my presence, and in time ye shall possess the goodly land.

It is my testimony that Leroy Johnson will be one of those angels going up before. Why not with John Y. Barlow, with Lorin Woolley, with John W. Woolley, with John Taylor, with Brigham Young, and with the Prophet Joseph Smith at their head, all who have been laboring since the restoration of the Gospel and with the holy Priesthood for the redemption of Zion, to build the holy city in preparation for the coming in great power and glory of the Son of God? Now I pray, dear brothers and sisters, that we will be humble, beware of pride, and all will be well. May God bless us and give us within ourselves the power to be redeemed, with Zion, and do all things with an eye single to the glory of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

United Families; Dedicated Homes;
Decries Against Television

I am deeply moved, dear brothers and sisters, by the things that have been spoken here today, for the wonderful support and strength that has been voiced here in support of the servant of God. There has been said here all of the things that I had in my mind to say. I asked the Lord to cause it to be so. The key that stands out in my mind is that part which called upon the family to become one. To be part of a people who are one, every single unit in it must be one, the family unit. "If you are not one," said the Lord, "you are not Mine."

How do we become one? By praying earnestly that we may have the Holy Spirit of God as our constant guide and companion. If all are imbued with that Holy Ghost in that family, they are one. There is no other way. If there is a foreign spirit, a foul spirit abroad in the house, it must be cast out. And I call upon you all now, brethren, dedicate your homes. Cast out the devil and his imps, and command them to stand rebuked and remain afar off.

The other day, while I was sitting in my chair, looking out the window toward the front door near my office, I suddenly saw a dark large personage at my door, black. I sent someone to go to the door, and it disappeared. That made such an impression on me that the devil is at our doors trying to enter in. He is trying to get at our young people especially, as we have all been witnessing by the things that are going on around us every day now.

Uncle Roy told us on one occasion at Lava Hot Springs, "Brethren, dedicate your homes once a year and as often as you need to get rid of false and delusive spirits and the imps of the devil who are trying to get at our families." The greatest single effort of the devil getting into our families and our children is through television. I decry against it. Uncle Roy made the statement, "A Priesthood family cannot be raised unto the Lord with television constantly in the house." I take that very seriously.

I want to read you a beautiful sentiment from the Journal of Discourses, volume 4 by Lorenzo Snow.

JD 4:155   Lorenzo Snow  January 4, 1857  SLC

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element,

Note that.

...suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.

Speaking of the Holy United Order, brethren and sisters, we are not going to be able to enter into it until each family of a community is one, and living in the spirit of the United Order in their homes. As a community, we would have a community of families who are one, each part fully one. God help us to become one, my dear brothers and sisters, in our families, that we may enter into the Holy United Order as a community, after the accomplishment of what Uncle Roy was trying so hard to do, to clean up this place, which is brought together under the Trust that we call the United Effort Plan. That is the heart of the United Order in a physical way. The Holy Spirit of God is the heart of the United Order in a spiritual way. This land must be consecrated to God before we can enter into the Holy United Order. And it must be occupied by pure and holy men, women, and children. This is Zion, the pure in heart. God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Attack on the United Effort Plan;
Sermon of President Johnson Answering the Apostates

I deeply appreciate, my brothers and sisters, the sweet and humble spirit under which this meeting has been held, and the remarks made. It brings to mind: "In humility there is strength," the strength of the power of God, when we submit ourselves in humility to Him.

In the Book of Mormon the Lord called, through His Prophet, for a great sacrifice from the people, the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit. Are we proud? Beware of pride, brothers and sisters.

I ask the Lord to bless me as I give you some of the words of our beloved Prophet, Leroy Johnson; this in connection with the great United Effort Plan, which the Lord vouchsafed to us back in November of 1942. The original Trustees were spoken of here by Brother Truman. It was a great joy to me to be called upon to join that Board of Trustees. I hadn't been very long in the work.

We are under attack. We are laboring now with the large firm of attorneys in answering the complaint of some thirty-five plaintiffs who have attached their names to the document; which is an attack, as Brother Truman has said, against the United Effort Plan and against the Priesthood. It has been brought to my attention that the principle party engaged in getting that complaint filed and getting it together expects to see the United Effort Plan destroyed.

It has even been mentioned that he expects, with others, to add up a new plan to run that property, both here and in Idaho -- Harold Blackmore. He is the principle protagonist who has been getting this thing together very largely. I just want to have you people know that what Brother Johnson said here on February 10, 1985, is our answer to them and to all who have made an attack against this great work in which we are engaged, the United Effort Plan being the centerpiece of our abiding the Holy United Order. That is the instrument under which we can hold land and develop it and provide for a people, and provide a people who will go to redeem Zion. We must abide the Holy United Order in order to do that. To me it is a Trust called a Religious Common Law Trust. It has members. I don't see beneficiaries mentioned in this at all.

I spent most of last week here going over with the attorneys means by which we can answer the complaint, and I had to lay forty thousand dollars on the barrel head. That is just to get us started. It will be some twenty thousand dollars a month as long as the action goes forward. Uncle Roy said on February 10, 1985, at Colorado City:

LSJ Vol.7  Page 424  February 10, 1985   CCA

I feel very humble, my brothers and sisters, in trying to say something to you, and I pray that the Lord will put in my mouth the words He wants me to say.

This ship that has been portrayed to us today is under fire -- the United Effort Plan. I can't see who is in the room, but I hope that there is someone here who will carry this message to the opposite people, He is talking to the apostates.

...because they haven't had manhood enough to come out in the open and let us know who they are.

We know who they are now.

RTJ 6:493  February 7, 1988  Sandy

We know who some of them are, but we don't know who they all are. So, I am talking to you today to let you know that there is not going to be any deeds to any part of the United Effort Plan given to the enemy of the United Effort Plan. You can take it or leave it!

The United Effort Plan was given to us by the Lord for a protection to His people -- His saints -- and I am not afraid to speak in defense of it. Because every man who has lifted his hand against the United Effort Plan and against this work that I profess to be the head of, is fighting against God and not against me.

Those words were spoken on the occasion after his birthday in June of 1986. They went out over the airwaves all over the nation. They went again last summer when there was portrayed on the program, the "60 Minutes" program, Uncle Roy sitting in the van and hearing his voice recorded on that program.

They had better look out because if they push it any further, God will lay a heavy hand on their shoulders, and I am not afraid to say it because I have the Spirit of God upon me, and He is dictating my words at the present time, and they had better take it. They had better not push me any further towards the wall until I can get on my feet and get my people behind me and get the non-believers out of this place. I want everyone of them to get discouraged and leave right away.

I am carrying on in his place, praise be to God, and I know he is on the other side doing more than he could have in his condition at that time from where he is. I know it as I live. So he is still fighting the battle for us.

Now, I want to say a few words to the faithful. The Lord is pleased with your actions so far -- you who have determined in your minds to serve God and keep His commandments at all hazards and believe in the Lord our Savior, Jesus Christ, and in the Prophet Joseph Smith and his works.

But those who try to change the words of Joseph Smith as they are contained in the Doctrine & Covenants had better walk carefully, because the judgments of God are terrible when they come upon a disobedient people. Now, I pray that the Lord will bless you all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

But those who try to change the words of Joseph Smith as they are contained in the Doctrine & Covenants had better walk carefully, because the judgments of God are terrible when they come upon a disobedient people. Now, I pray that the Lord will bless you all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Let us all say, Amen. ["Amen."] More later. God bless you all, I pray, for myself and for all of you, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I say, "Amen and Amen," also. I don't know what more to say today. I am a little troubled with a cold and hope I can express myself. I ask the Lord's blessing upon me in what I do and say.

Brother Truman discussed the matter of apostasy. I have this from the Millennial Star on the subject of apostasy, which will help us to see our way through the gross apostasy that is taking place all around us.

Millennial Star 42:395

There are grades of apostasy. The person who embraces the Gospel, rejoices in the sunlight of truth for a season, and then, through cold indifference, falls asleep as to the things of God, is an apostate in the incipient sense. Having received but a glimmering of light, he has not had a great deal to apostatize from. His case is the mildest form, from which he is susceptible of being aroused, when the expiring spark of the Gospel in his bosom is fanned to a glow by a genial breath of the Spirit of truth.

There are degrees from that moderate condition all the way to the culminating point. When that is reached, the doom of the apostate is sealed beyond the reach of redemption. This is the situation referred to by the Savior when he said a certain class of persons should not be forgiven in this world neither in the world to come. They commit the blasphemy or sin against the Holy Ghost. In a revelation given through Joseph the Seer, in September, 1832, 84th Section.

...the Lord instructed the Prophet and six elders on the nature and duties of the Aaronic and the high Priesthood. The following passage occurs: "Therefore all those who receive the Priesthood receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved; but whoso breaketh this covenant, after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world, nor in the world to come."
The highest point of apostasy can only be reached by those who fall away and turn against the light after having made considerable advancement in the work. Such become the sons of perdition, vessels of wrath, the only beings on whom the second death shall have power. They sin away the day of grace, never more to return. The Lord has said, "My Spirit shall not always strive with man." When that Spirit eternally forsakes an individual, woeful is his condition. Even repentance is beyond his reach, for that process is the result of the workings of the Spirit of God in the heart of man.

Brother Dan spoke of great efforts that were made in the various administrations of the keyholders and the Prophets of God in this dispensation. It is a sad parallel that we are now seeing. I want to read a prophecy and sermon by President Leroy S. Johnson, February 10, 1985.

I feel very humble, my brothers and sisters, in trying to say something to you, and I pray that the Lord will put in my mouth the words He wants me to say.

This ship that has been portrayed to us today is under fire -- the United Effort Plan. Uncle Roy has got on his feet, and he is still fighting the fight, and I am trying to carry on for him.

Now, I want to say a few words to the faithful. The Lord is pleased with your actions so far -- you who have determined in your minds to serve God and keep His commandments at all hazards and believe in the Lord our Savior, Jesus Christ, and in the Prophet Joseph Smith and his works.

That is my sermon to you today. We know who many of them are, these apostates. Their names are on the action that has been filed against the United Effort Plan, its Trustees, and a few others. I don't think I will read them now, but I just want to say that that action constitutes lifting the heel against the Lord's anointed. Brother Johnson tells what is going to happen here, a heavy hand laid on them by the Lord. Section 121 tells us what happens in those circumstances. The Lord replying to the Prophet's prayer:

D.& C. 121

6. Remember thy suffering saints, O our God; and thy servants will rejoice in thy name forever.
7. My son, peace be unto thy soul; thine adversity and thine afflictions shall be but a small moment;

8. And then, if thou endure it well, God shall exalt thee on high; thou shalt triumph over all thy foes.
9. Thy friends do stand by thee, and they shall hail thee again with warm hearts and friendly hands.

Uncle Roy asked me to read this Section at the time that he took action against J. Marion Hammon and Alma A. Timpson, February 18, 1984.

11. And they who do charge thee with transgression, their hope shall be blasted, and their prospects shall melt away as the hoar frost melteth before the burning rays of the rising sun;
12. And also that God hath set his hand and seal to change the times and seasons, and to blind their minds, that they may not understand his marvelous workings; that he may prove them also and take them in their own craftiness;

13. Also because their hearts are corrupted, and the things which they are willing to bring upon others, and love to have others suffer, may come upon themselves to the very uttermost;

14. That they may be disappointed also, and their hopes may be cut off;

15. And not many years hence, that they and their posterity shall be swept from under heaven, saith God, that not one of them is left to stand by the wall.

16. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them.

17. But those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin, and are the children of disobedience themselves.

18. And those who swear falsely against my servants, that they might bring them into bondage and death --

19. Wo unto them; because they have offended my little ones they shall be severed from the ordinances of mine house.

20. Their basket shall not be full, their houses and their barns shall perish, and they themselves shall be despised by those that flattered them.

21. They shall not have right to the priesthood, nor their posterity after them from generation to generation.

22. It had been better for them that a millstone had been hanged about their necks, and they drowned in the depth of the sea.

He goes on to show how a man loses his Priesthood. This effort, many of you don't understand what they are trying to do. It is a shambles of a complaint, and I don't see how it can fly. But the point is that they are setting themselves, lifting their heel against the Lord's anointed. The event is in the hands of God, as Uncle Roy placed it in this sermon. I have no doubt of the outcome. They seek to destroy the United Effort Plan. That is one of the remedies they ask, to dissolve the Plan, distribute the assets among the members, and charge thirty-one causes of action. They are also asking for a couple of million dollars for punitive damages. The punitive charges should be against them, as we shall see.

Well, brothers and sisters, I just want to report to you that our attorney, Mr. Ditsch, has been associated with the firm of Snow, Christensen, and Martineau, a very large law firm in Salt Lake City. They are now working on the matter of responding to the complaint, which we are required to do within twenty days after time of service. They haven't yet served Parley Harker, but we have an extension of time anyway. But their plans are very well set and I can't see anything but a great victory. We must all stand together, brothers and sisters. The Lord will do His part if we will do ours. If we keep the commandments He is bound. God help us to keep the commandments of God, and walk faithfully side by side down the road with Uncle Roy to the great and culminating point of redeeming Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Attack on the United Effort Plan;
Sermons of President Johnson

I pray the Lord will direct me in my remarks here today, as I wish to take up the battle that we have on today. I appreciate these wonderful words of the Prophet John Y. Barlow. I am grateful to have sprung from him and for his successor, Leroy Sunderland Johnson, both of whom tutored and trained me and blessed me more than I can describe.

Brothers and sisters, we have this lawsuit which you have heard about before us. I can report to you that the legal council that we have is very confident, and we constantly pray the Lord to bless them and direct them in carrying on this fight that we have today.

Uncle Roy, on February 10, 1985, gave us the rallying cry, which I feel is in my heart, is the answer that we have for the enemies of the United Effort Plan. I would like to read it to you again.

LSJ Vol.7  Page 424  February 10, 1985  CCA

I feel very humble, my brothers and sisters, in trying to say something to you, and I pray that the Lord will put in my mouth the words He wants me
This ship that has been portrayed to us today is under fire -- the United Effort Plan. I can't see who is in the room, but I hope that there is someone here who will carry this message to the opposite people, Those who had turned away from the Prophet.

...because they haven't had manhood enough to come out in the open and let us know who they are. We know who some of them are, but we don't know who they all are. So, I am talking to you, The opposite people.

...today to let you know that there is not going to be any deeds to any part of the United Effort Plan given to the enemy of the United Effort Plan. You can take it or leave it!

The United Effort Plan was given to us by the Lord for a protection to His people -- His saints -- and I am not afraid to speak in defense of it. Because every man who has lifted his hand against the United Effort Plan and against this work that I profess to be the head of, is fighting against God and not against me. They had better look out because if they push it any further, God will lay a heavy hand on their shoulders, and I am not afraid to say it because I have the Spirit of God upon me, and He is dictating my words at the present time, and they had better take it. They had better not push me any further towards the wall until I can get on my feet and get my people behind me and get the non-believers out of this place. I want everyone of them to get discouraged and leave right away. That is a polite invitation.

Now, I want to say a few words to the faithful. The Lord is pleased with your actions so far -- you who have determined in your minds to serve God and keep His commandments at all hazards and believe in the Lord our Savior, Jesus Christ, and in the Prophet Joseph Smith and his works.

But those who try to change the words of Joseph Smith as they are contained in the Doctrine & Covenants had better walk carefully, because the judgments of God are terrible when they come upon a disobedient people. Now, I pray that the Lord will bless you all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Uncle Roy was referring in this last comment to those who have changed the Doctrine and Covenants, Section 132, verse 7, which I have described to you...
several times: "and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power," the sealing power, "and the keys of the holy Priesthood are conferred." Three men in the Council had agreed with a statement made by Alfred Olschewski on January 8, 1978, who said: "This is not so."

There is another statement of the Prophet Leroy Johnson regarding the United Effort Plan. Speaking to the young people:

The homes that our young people are building today will belong to the United Effort Plan, and these people can live there as long as they will conform to the requirements of the United Effort leadership. Those who do not want to comply with the plan of the United Effort leadership -- I want them to prepare themselves to move out of this place, because the Lord told us when He gave us this organization that those who would not support the Priesthood would become dissatisfied and move away. I want to tell you that He is going to back us up in this because it is one of the instruments that Brigham Young spoke of. He said, "When we get an instrument that lawyers cannot pick to pieces, then we can begin to be prepared for the United Order."

That is what we have got to have. We have got to have young men and women in this place that believe in the words of the prophets -- especially the Prophet Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, John Taylor, and others of the leadership of this people.

We believe that the United Effort Plan was inspired of the Lord under the direction of the leadership at that time who were working hard for the continuation of the Celestial Law which was rejected by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and the Church is still against the work of God. They not only rejected the Celestial Law, but they also rejected the Priesthood. What kind of priesthood have they been operating under?

We hold those keys, and we will continue to operate under the Spirit of God in all things. I am determined to fill out my administration in fear and trembling before the Lord in defending the work of Joseph Smith and against those who want to change his words.

The Prophet Jacob tells us that those, in the latter days, who try to change the word of God will have a curse placed upon them that they cannot carry.
I want to tell you that we have a great work to do -- the deacons, the teachers, the priests, and the elders of this day must prepare themselves and come up before the Lord clean every whit that He can add upon them and that He can give them the endowments that are necessary for their eternal salvation. This work will have to be done. Our time is getting short. We have been told several times that our time is getting short, and we must come to earth and think more about our eternal salvation than about our financial advancement because that isn't going to save us. We will find out that money is not going to save us, and it will not be long until money will be hard to get.

Conditions, upon this continent especially, will get so that it will be hard to get a dollar. So, let us pay attention to what the Lord says. He says He will protect His saints if He has to send fire from heaven to do so, but we have to be prepared for it before we can receive that kind of protection.

I want to encourage you to keep on with your preparation, for as long as life lasts, you have a chance to be forgiven of the Lord. He says if you will throw off your sins and do them no more, "I will forget them. I won't bring them up anymore before my face, but it is after you sin again that your former sins come back upon you." He means what He says. You will find that He is a man of His word. He has promised us a thousand years of peace, and we are almost at that time. He has told us that it is the seventh period of time. That's not very far off!

Let us keep on striving, dear brothers and sisters, and see if we can please the Lord this once enough so that He can shower down His blessings upon us, so the enemy cannot come in and disturb us again. I pray that these things will be ours from now on. I do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Now, you will note, dear brothers and sisters, Uncle Roy called upon them to make themselves known. We call them apostates now. They have gone too far to be otherwise. We know who they are now. They are on this lawsuit as plaintiffs, complaintants, some thirty-five of them. Here is an article of the Millennial Star in 1880:

Millennial Star 42:395

There are grades of apostasy. The person who embraces the Gospel, rejoices in the sunlight of truth for a season, and then, through cold indifference, falls asleep as to the things of God, is an apostate in the incipient sense. Having received but a glimmering of light, he has not had a great deal to apostatize from. His case is the mildest form, from which he is susceptible of being aroused, when the expiring spark of the Gospel in his bosom is fanned to a glow by a genial breath of the Spirit of truth.

There are degrees from that moderate condition all the way to the culminating point. When that is reached, the doom of the apostate is sealed beyond the reach of redemption. This is the situation referred to by the Savior when he said a certain class of persons should not be forgiven in this world neither in the world to come. They commit the blasphemy or sin against the Holy Ghost. In a revelation given through Joseph the Seer, in September, 1832, 84th Section.

...the Lord instructed the Prophet and six elders on the nature and duties of the Aaronic and the high Priesthood. The following passage occurs: "Therefore all those who receive the Priesthood receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved; but whoso breaketh this covenant, after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world, nor in the world to come."

The highest point of apostasy can only be reached by those who fall away and turn against the light after having made considerable advancement in the work. Such become the sons of perdition, vessels of wrath, the only beings on whom the second death shall have power. They sin away the day of grace, never more to return. The Lord has said, "My Spirit shall not always strive with man." When that Spirit eternally forsakes an individual, woeful is his condition. Even repentance is beyond his reach, for that process is the result of the workings of the Spirit of God in the heart of man.

You heard the words of the Prophet Leroy Johnson here in the letter that Brother Truman read. Section 121 -- I would just like to read again some words applicable to this subject that we are talking about now.

D.& C. 121

16. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them.

17. But those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin, and are the children of disobedience themselves.

18. And those who swear falsely against my servants, that they might bring them into bondage and death --

19. Wo unto them; because they have offended my little ones they shall be severed from the ordinances of mine house.
20. Their basket shall not be full, their houses and their barns shall perish, and they themselves shall be despised by those that flattered them.
21. They shall not have right to the priesthood, nor their posterity after them from generation to generation.
22. It had been better for them that a millstone had been hanged about their necks, and they drowned in the depth of the sea.

This action which was instituted against the United Effort Plan and its Trustees, of which I am President, seeks to destroy the United Effort Plan, dissolve it, and divide the assets of it among its members, or what they call "beneficiaries". They are not beneficiaries. They were members of a religious Trust. They also seek to bring action for crimes that they describe in the causes of action, thirty-one of them they have dreamed up. I dare say, they are aiming it at the head. One man commenting among that group said, "Rulon Jeffs is going to jail," to one of his listeners. Well, just think now what has just been read to us, and remember now, dear brethren and sisters, this one great promise that brings us under focus as we review our part in this:

D.& C. 82
8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;
9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.
10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

That is a wonderful contract. So it is up to us, dear brothers and sisters, to unite. The enemy is trying to break us up, but they are not going to succeed, because they are fighting against God and not me. But we must do our part of that contract. Keep the commandments of God. Get and keep the Holy Spirit of God as our constant companion. Cry unto the Lord for the preservation of this great instrument that is uniting us together in a preparation for living the Holy United Order. That Order, together with the order of marriage, Celestial Marriage, constitute the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Let us live and abide in both of these as we prepare to go down the road to redeem Zion, that we may bear the presence of Jesus Christ as He leads that concourse to the promised land. And let us be still and know that the Lord is God, and that we are serving Him and loving Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and be full of charity, which is the pure love of Jesus Christ.

Moroni 7

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

That is having in our prayers, faith, perfect faith.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,

For God is love.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;

The gift of the Holy Spirit.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Which I trust we may all be as we go down the road with Uncle Roy, and under the Prophet Joseph Smith and his angels, and the angels of God, working toward the redemption of Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Lies in the 1880 Revelation;
Fulfillment of the Parable of the Wheat and the Tares

I rejoice, dear brothers and sisters, in the things I have heard here today, and I am sure all of you do. I pray that the same Spirit may be with me as I make some further remarks by the Spirit of God to enlighten us.

I feel impressed to direct my remarks to the matter of the 1880 Revelation of Wilford Woodruff. I want to tell you some things you may not have heard, and tell you why things were as they were from the time that revelation came among the people under the direction of John W. Woolley and Lorin C. Woolley. There is still some question in some people's minds, why that was being taught at a certain period of time in this Priesthood work. And I thought I would give you a history, and tell you why.

In "The Four Hidden Revelations", the first issue of which was done against the wishes of John Y. Barlow, Joseph Musser wrote "Revelation to Wilford Woodruff in 1880" as copied from the journal of Wilford Woodruff about 1908, by Joseph W. Musser at the request of his father. In his book of remembrance, Joseph Musser wrote that at certain times and conditions the Lord would have a man sent to get a revelation for the people, and he stated that John Taylor sent Wilford Woodruff to the wilderness in Arizona to get a revelation for certain purposes. I have never heard of the keyholder and mouthpiece of God sending someone to get a revelation for the Church and Kingdom of God, and for the interest of Zion.

During the time that the brethren were being gathered together by John and Lorin Woolley, the 1880 Revelation was published by Leslie Broadbent in the pamphlet "Celestial Marriage?" in 1929. It was next published in the "Supplement to the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage" by Joseph Musser as a revelation of God to the saints.

There was never anything that I have heard of, or read, that would indicate that John and Lorin Woolley accepted the 1880 Revelation as the word of God to the saints. At the time that John Y. Barlow came into the position of keyholder and mouthpiece of God, he instructed Joseph Musser to not publish that revelation anymore.

I am giving it to you as Uncle Roy gave it to me, just giving you the history first; then I will tell you why. In the January issue of the Truth Magazine in 1940, the excerpt from that revelation was published again, which refers to the keys being held in common by the Apostles, although recognizing John Taylor as their President. When this article, or this issue of the Truth Magazine, came into the hands of Uncle John, he asked Leroy S. Johnson to go with him to Salt Lake. He had to go and take care of some very important business. They came to the office of Joseph Musser, 744 East South Temple. Coming into the room where Joseph met them, after meeting them at the door, Uncle John said to Joseph, "Joseph, why did you do it?" Then Joseph and John went into Joseph's office and spent some time together. I am relating it the way Uncle Roy related it to me. He stayed out in the living room while they were in the office, and after he came out they proceeded to return home.
This is a parallel of the parable of the wheat and the tares. Why was it allowed to go on? Joseph published the little pamphlet "The Four Hidden Revelations" after that, and again, this latest addition. Uncle Roy told me that John told him that he wished that he could live long enough to correct that situation. He told him, "You will have to take care of it, Roy." This was said to him some time later.

Now, brothers and sisters, what we see, they could not make an issue of that conflict in that early history of this work, and the Lord permitted it to go on under those conditions according to the principles of the wheat and the tares parable. John and Lorin had sown the wheat, gathering the people around them and giving them the fullness of the Gospel. The Priesthood Council was established, and they could not make an issue of it at that time, the work being in its infancy. So John and Lorin Woolley sowed the wheat. In the night, under darkness, tares were sown. This 1880 Revelation was the tares. So it went on.

The servants of the master of the vineyard came to the master and said, "Someone has sown tares in the field. Shall we pluck them out?" "No, let them grow together." And in due time, when they grew together, the tares were taken out and bundled and burned, and the wheat was gathered into the barn of the husbandman. We are living in the time of the fulfillment of that, as President Johnson, in Priesthood Council assembled, was told by the Lord to come and straighten out some things that had been said over the pulpit by the brethren. You have heard the story. I have told it before, but just briefly again.

Uncle Roy stood up and said, "Brethren, the Lord has sent me here this day to correct some very serious things that have been said over the pulpit." Turning to Marion Hammon: "Brother Marion, you have said that the one man rule, set out in verse 7 of Section 132, that parenthetical matter, is not true. Would you change the scripture?" The response was, "What about the 1880 Revelation?" Uncle Roy then said, "That 1880 Revelation was a delusion," which he later explained was given, or permitted by the Lord to be given by satan to Wilford Woodruff. So, we now see a fulfillment of the tares having been taken up. Those three brethren of the Council stood together -- Marion Hammon, Guy Musser, and Alma Timpson -- standing on the 1880 Revelation.
Now we can draw our own conclusions by the Spirit of God and see why things were done as they were. Now we are carrying on the work, the great and marvelous work that was performed by President Leroy Johnson, our Prophet, Seer, and Revelator.

Don't think for a moment, brothers and sisters, that there is going to be a "getting together of the `second' and `first' ward". The lines have been drawn, the tares have been gathered, and the wheat is now being gathered into the barn as we come together as one people to prepare to redeem Zion. The army of the Lord will be great, as we realize from Section 103, how Zion will be redeemed by power. We see how long-standing that condition was during those years.

Now let us become one people; unite together under God and His Prophet to prepare to redeem Zion, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Johnson's Sermon Answering the Apostates;
They Are Fighting Against God;
His Encouragement to the Obedient

Our next speaker will be Leroy S. Johnson. I pray for the voice and spirit of Uncle Roy as I read this very timely sermon, which was given in Colorado City, November 11, 1984; preparing us for what is happening now. And we see a fulfillment of it.

I am thankful, my brothers and sisters, for the privilege of being here today, and I hope that the Lord will allow me to speak as He desires. I know that if I say anything that displeases Him, I am accountable to Him for it.

He has told us in the scriptures that the reason Zion has not been redeemed before is because men were more afraid of men than God. Now I want you to know that I am God's servant. I am here and I am accountable for every word that I say and every act I do. I have been accused by our people of doing things that are against the word of God;
but I have not done anything but what God has told me to do, and I want you to know it!

The United Effort Plan was organized by the President of Priesthood and others that were in harmony with him many years ago, and it was for the purpose of a holding place for the properties of the Saints and for the Saints to live upon. I have tried to hold it sacred for that purpose. Every man that has a house built upon the United Effort Plan property made promises, great promises, that he would support the United Effort Plan, but we find that some have broken those promises and have gone now to our enemies and got the dogs on us. We have the enemies of righteousness working night and day against us.

These men who have had anything to do with getting information against this people that will bring further persecution upon us had better watch out for they are fighting against God and not me! I am not going to tell you what He will do to you, but you are fighting against God and it is not me that you are fighting against because this is God's work. He ordained it under the hands of Joseph Smith, the Prophet, and handed it down to us.

All that I have done is try to protect and continue the principles that Joseph Smith put in the Doctrine & Covenants, and my enemies have ruled against me in it.

Having reference to the changing of the one-man doctrine in favor of the 1880 Revelation of Wilford Woodruff.

They think they are working against me, but they are not! They are working against God, and God is the Ruler! He said that it is my privilege to forgive every man at the first intimation of repentance, and He will forgive whom He will. I am not accusing any man, but there are those among us who are doing these things, or our enemies wouldn't have the information they are putting out against us.

I won't have to evict anybody else. I have evicted and done what the Lord told me to do. I have evicted those that confessed that they were sinners among our people, and they have moved out. Some have repented, and I am thankful for it. I am thankful that they have come and told me they wanted to repent and do better, and I have extended the hand of fellowship to them; but there are others that have not. They have their minds set to destroy an instrument (the United Effort Plan) that God gave to the Priesthood, and the fire is burning. If they don't go right now and begin to put out the fire they have started, which I doubt they can quench, they are in the hands of God, and God will handle them -- everyone.

Now, a word to the righteous among us. Those who are striving to keep the commandments of God, those who are determined to support the work of God -- the United Effort Plan and the Priesthood -- need not worry, for God has a way to accomplish His work.

I had Brother Truman read the 7th Chapter of Moses, in the Pearl of Great Price this morning. I had Brother Parley Harker read the 8th Chapter. We find there that God is a man of His word. He has never said He would do a thing unless He did it. In the Doctrine & Covenants, you will find that God said, "I have said what I have said, and I excuse not myself." I can say the same thing. I have done what I have done, and I excuse not myself. I am not boasting in my strength, for I have done the will of God as He has dictated to me. I have sought all my life to get the Spirit of God and keep it, and He has recognized me in it.

The greatest miracle of this time was when I was sent to Mexico to have my helpers down there come out. Brother Barlow said, "You go down there and send those men (W. Elmer Johnson and Edson P. Jessop) out with their families, and then you pay the bill." How many of you would have taken it up and done it? I said to him, "I'll do it, John." I got up from my seat and started right then, and I didn't stop until I finished the job.

I am not afraid of my enemies because the Lord has said He would protect me, and He will. If they start to lay a hand on me, they had better look out because God is near. Now, I am not afraid of anyone; I am not afraid of man; I am not afraid to talk. This was proven in the days of the raid of 1953 before the lawyers that we hired. They knew I was not afraid to say what I had to say whether it hurt their feelings or not, but they found out that I was a man of my word. That is what God says He is. He is a man of His word.

Now, I pray that every person who has set his mind to the building up and establishing the Kingdom of God and preparing themselves to go back and help build up the City of Zion will have the privilege of doing so, come hell or high water. This is a little bit slang in my language.
There is a man living in Salt Lake City who I have been acquainted with since 1953. He used to live in Detroit, Michigan. He called me on the telephone the day before I went on this trip back to New York.

This was the next month after we went back; a group under Uncle Roy, to visit the sacred grove and the places and travels of the saints in the history of the Prophet Joseph.

He said, "Brother Johnson, I have heard by the grapevine that you are going on a trip to New York. Now, if you take my advice, I am not as old as you are, but I am more experienced in the ways of the world; and I know that weather back there is worse than you think it is."

Before he went any further, he said, "But, I know you. I know that when you put your mind to do a thing, you do it, come hell or high water."

So I went back and the Lord provided the way. He gave us the covering of clouds to protect us from the heat for the first four days, then He gave us sunshine. We had a little sprinkle one day, but it did not amount to much. Then after while on our way home we had three hours of heavy rain, and then we came out into the sunshine and had sunshiny weather all the way home.

When I got home, I called this man. I says, "I am home now. I am safe and sound." He said, "I knew you would do it, but I worried every minute you were gone."

So, I want to tell you, my brothers and sisters, I am not afraid to do the work of God because I know who God is and how to become like Him. I am here trying to raise up a people to know who God is and how to become like Him. At this hour of time, He has set apart the seventh period of time as a period of peace and rest for the earth for a thousand years, and He is going to do it. He is a man of His word, and He will do it. You might think to our way of reckoning that when the year 2000 comes will be the time for the Millennium to start, but before that time, He said certain things have got to happen. He told the people as far back as Enoch that He is going to do what He said He would do. I don't need to boast, and I am not going to boast, but I am going to do the work that I have been called to do.

I thank you now for your attention. I ask God's blessings to be upon you, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Sermon of Uncle Roy Concerning Apostates Fighting God, Not Him

I feel constrained to give to you today what I gave to our people in Salt Lake last Sunday. I call upon Leroy S. Johnson to speak to us by reading the sermon that is very much in line with what has already been said here today.

[He then read the sermon of President Johnson, dated November 11, 1984, found on page 512 of this volume. President Jeffs then continued:]

I thought you would be pleased to hear these words. My great desire is to carry out and build upon the foundation laid upon us by the Prophet Leroy Johnson. That is what I consider my mission from the Lord; and I intend to do it, God helping me. And I call upon you, that we unite together against the common enemy spoken of here by President Johnson.

The lawsuit that has been instituted against us is being handled promptly and well by the firm of lawyers Snow, Christensen, and Martineau. And we have been conferring with them a great deal the last few weeks. The complaint has been answered last Thursday, and we are now taking the next step, God helping us, and directing the minds and hearts of these men who are defending us, along with Mr. Ditsch. We should be praying for them as well as for us, because we have given this work into their hands to do, and we are very satisfied with the kind of men who are handling the case.

Now, as has been said here, brethren and sisters, we must be united. We get information that the plaintiffs of the case are not united, and God and His truths will prevail. And I bear you this testimony in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

I am grateful, my dear brothers and sisters, to be here with you today, enjoying health and strength; and I acknowledge the hand of God in all of my affairs. The blessings that have been poured out upon me I feel to acknowledge before you to Him. I am grateful for my family. I am glad to hear this admonition of Brother Wall. That applies to me and mine.

I ask the Lord to be with me as I seek to get a message over to you here today, which the Lord wants us to have; and that is, again: "Get and keep the Holy Spirit of God." That is the key to all of the things that have been said here today. It cannot be realized without that great and glorious gift which God has vouchsafed to us. And I cannot help coming to the thing that I have stressed so much -- a message from Moroni, which I think helps us to understand how to do this. It is obtained through faith, hope, and charity, the pure love of Christ.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
That is faith. The exertion of the mind and energy of the heart is how we work by faith, as the Prophet tells us in the Lectures on Faith. All things righteous are possible through faith.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love,
I dare say, dear brothers and sisters, to be filled with this love is to be filled with the Holy Spirit of God. That is what we are talking about.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

We become the sons of God by becoming full of the Holy Ghost -- having a fullness of it. And I want to prove it by the Lectures on Faith, if it needs any proof -- the Fifth Lecture. Let us first consider the attributes of God. They are knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, truth, and love. God is love.
These attributes are acquired by having and keeping the Holy Spirit of God, for they are the attributes of that Spirit, which centers in God and issues forth from Himself. The Holy Spirit of God is the power of the holy Priesthood.
Through faith all things were done and accomplished by God to bring Him where He is. Now let us talk about the Godhead in its fullness.

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins.

Now note these:

2. ...And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, "Having overcome." Notice that.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind,

Now we are talking about the saints.

2. ...possessing the same mine, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus
That which I have borne down on rather strongly of late.

3. ...by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Thus, through the Spirit we become like Him or Them.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

We cannot become one people, families cannot be one, and we cannot please God except we seek to become like Him, through the Spirit; which I pray we may obtain to guide us and direct us, and that it may be our constant guide and companion; that we may obtain that glorious thing spoken of in Section 121. Knowing that the Holy Spirit is the power of the Priesthood, let us read this:

Section 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

The same characteristic spoken of in Moroni.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;

Even that must be done by the Holy Ghost, and is most effective when done so; otherwise, it is the spirit of the devil.

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

And I recommend this treatment by parents with their children and with each other; and that the saints be so with each other in all of their communications and associations.

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

Particularly to the household of faith.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly;

Pure in heart. We cannot have the Holy Ghost except we be pure in heart.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth;

Even like unto God.

46. ...and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Unity; Spirit of God; Sacrifice

The Lord Jesus Christ said, "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine." Think about it, brethren and sisters. How do we become one? By the uniting power of the Holy Spirit of God. There is a sermon in a few words with a world of meaning involving our salvation.

I just have a short statement here in the Lectures on Faith. After telling us that the Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and of the Son, and these three are one -- Father, Son, and Holy Ghost:

Lecture Five

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments
Here is the touchstone.

2. ...shall grow up from grace to grace,
Be full of the Holy Ghost,

2. ...and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

Now, here is how the saints are affected by this:

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they

The saints,

...are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Thus, dear brothers and sisters, we may become like God. The Holy Spirit centers in the Father and issues forth from Himself, and goes throughout His creations to accomplish His will and purposes. Again, emphasis: To be saved we must have the Holy Spirit of God. We must keep it! The Holy Spirit is the power of the holy Priesthood.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men,
The pure love of Christ.

45. ...and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly;

Pure in heart.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Speaking of sacrifice, I appreciated the remarks of Brother Truman on this great and glorious subject. Having fulfilled the law of Moses, Jesus Christ required in its place, regarding the law of sacrifice, the holy Sacrament, by which we renew our covenants and remember our Lord Jesus Christ, that we may become like Him. The sacrifice then called for by the Savior was the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit, repentance. Think of that, the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit, true and pure repentance. May we become pure and true, faithful and obedient in all things in the laws of God and keep His commandments, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Faith Unto Salvation

This has been a wonderful time of refreshment and blessing by the Holy Spirit of God upon us, which God has been pleased to bring upon us as we testify of Him and His work. I would like to close with B. H. Roberts, a few words of what faith is and how we are rewarded with it.

The Gospel by B. H. Roberts  Page 145-146

The effort to yield obedience to the laws of heaven, if persevered in, will, in time bring the consciousness that the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God; And that consciousness of the course of life being pursued is in accordance with the will of God by sacrifice of all earthly things. Lecture Six of the Lectures on Faith tells us how this is, which I recommend you to do again.

...and by a union of these three elements, that is, a belief in the existence of God, a correct conception of his character, and a knowledge that the course of life pursued is approved of him -- will render faith perfect, will constitute it a principle of power, the incentive to all action -- as really it is, whether in temporal or spiritual things -- leading from one degree of knowledge or excellence to another, from righteousness to righteousness, until the heavens will be opened to them and they will hold communion with the Church of the First Born, with Jesus Christ, and with God the Father, and thus will they make their calling and election sure -- through faith ripening into knowledge.

Let us ponder these things, brothers and sisters. May we be one. If we are not one we are not the Lord's; and we can become one only by having and keeping as our constant guide and companion the Holy Spirit of God, the answer to all of our problems, our desires in righteousness, and the accomplishment in the will of God concerning us and our salvation; which I pray will be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Opening Remarks; Strength Through Humility
My dear brothers and sisters, this is the annual Conference of the Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which name was given by the Prophet Leroy Johnson and confirmed to me by the voice of the Holy Spirit of God. I pray that the Holy Spirit will rest upon us in rich abundance as we meet in praise of the Lord, and to be instructed by the Holy Ghost and by the influence and presence of the Prophet Leroy Johnson.

* * * * *

[After Uncle Fred Jessop talked, President Jeffs said:] Do you want more? [The congregation said, "Yes!"] Well, I feel very weak, slow of speech, and for my sermon and for Brother Truman's, I am going to ask him to read Section 1 of the Doctrine and Covenants to us as our closing thought and teaching:

[After Section 1 was read, President Jeffs said:] One of the Prophets said, in the New Testament:

Philippians 4

13. I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

That, in connection with what was said here in Section 1:

D.& C. 1

24. Behold, I am God and have spoken it; these commandments are of me and were given unto my servants in their weakness, after the manner of their language, that they might come to understanding.

28. And inasmuch as they were humble they might be made strong, and blessed from on high, and receive knowledge from time to time.

Which I pray may be yours and my happy lot as we go down the road together with the Prophet Leroy Johnson toward the redemption of Zion. Zion is the pure in heart. Remember that. So this voice of repentance sounds loud in my ears, as Uncle Roy always used to say. God bless us together, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

If you are not for me, you are against me!

We Are Here to Make Zion;
The Spirit of the United Order; Charity;
I have been deeply moved by the spirit and power that has been exhibited here through the brethren speaking, and desire to continue in the same vein. I pray the Lord to direct me in what He wants me to say.

These last remarks of Brother Truman bring to mind what Brigham Young had to say about Zion. Yes, we are looking forward to that great event when God will call His people to go and redeem Zion in the center place in Missouri. The only way we are going to accomplish that and be found in that entourage is to make Zion where we are, as Brigham Young says here:

JD 5:4 Brigham Young July 1857 SLC

*You hear brethren talk of coming to Zion to enjoy the blessings of this land; but do you not see that it is the shortsightedness of men which causes their disappointment when they arrive here? They gather here with the spirit of Zion resting upon them, and expecting to find Zion in its glory, whereas their own doctrine should teach them that they are coming here to make Zion.

We can make Zion, or we can make Babylon, just as we please. We can make just what we please of this place. The people can make Zion: they can make a heaven within themselves. When people gather here, they should come with a determination to make Zion within themselves, with the resolution that "I will carry myself full of the Spirit of Zion wherever I go; and this is the way in which I will control evil spirits; for I mean that my spirit shall have control over evil:" and do you not see that such a course will make Zion?

This American continent will be Zion; for it is so spoken of by the prophets. Jerusalem will be rebuilt and will be the place of gathering, and the tribe of Judah will gather there; but this continent of America is the land of Zion.

Joseph Smith described it so beautifully when he announced that the whole of America is Zion. And the theme, "Zion is the pure in heart" is the touchstone of the whole matter. To be endowed we must be clean every whit, that we may obtain that great blessing that we are all seeking for, to have our calling and our election made sure, and come up to see the face of God and become one with Him. We can only do this by becoming one with His head who is leading us here today.
I appreciate the marvelous support and testimonies that have been given concerning this matter, and desire to be, with all my heart, an instrument in the hands of God, of accomplishing His will and purposes in us, in this people at this time. Zion cannot be built, it cannot be redeemed without the grand principle of loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourself. We become one through love, the love of God. Love one another and love our God and keep His commandments. The spirit of the United Order is that which will bring us into that place where Zion will be redeemed.

D.& C. 82

14. For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged; her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.

15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.

16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just --

18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

Now here is the touchstone:

19. Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

There is the commandment: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength, and thy neighbor as thyself," seeking his interest. And it is a beautiful thing to contemplate how, if each is looking after the others' interests, what a common bond of oneness can be forged. That is loving your neighbor.

20. This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.

21. And the soul that sins against this covenant, and hardeneth his heart against it, shall be dealt with according to the laws of my church, and shall be delivered over to the buffetings of Satan until the day of redemption.

That is the kind of covenant that we are going to have to grow into, brothers and sisters.

23. Leave judgment alone with me, for it is mine and I will repay. Peace be with you; my blessings continue with you.

24. For even yet the kingdom is yours, and shall be forever, if you fall not from your steadfastness. Even so. Amen.

We cannot obtain the attributes of God except we be meek and lowly in heart. And again, Moroni. Jesus said, "I am meek and lowly in heart." That is one of His great attributes. They are all necessary.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him. The pure love of Christ. And that is the Holy Spirit of God.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; A gift is bestowed, the gift of the Holy Ghost, the pure love of Christ.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

The pure in heart, dear brothers and sisters, shall see God. That is one of those that Brother Wall read to us here today. Orson Pratt said some good wisdom, speaking of meekness.

JD 1:332  Orson Pratt (Date Unknown)
"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth,"  But who are the meek? By what peculiarities are they distinguished from other men? There must be some qualities about them far superior to the generality of mankind, or they would not become the exclusive heirs of the new earth. The law of meekness includes all the laws of the Gospel, with its ordinances and blessings, Priesthood and powers, through obedience to which mankind become justified, sanctified, purified, and glorified. Such are the meek of the earth, and none others.

God bless us all to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Sermon of President Johnson;
The Lord Will Fight the Battles of a United People

I will be mouth for the Prophet Leroy Johnson in reading you these ringing words spoken January 6, 1985, in Colorado City, which embody the feelings of my heart here today.

LSJ Vol.7  Page 418  January 6, 1985  CCA
I pray that the Lord will bless me with words of encouragement to you while I speak, for I know that we are living in a very precarious time -- when Lucifer is trying again to destroy this people. Every time the Lord's work has come out in the open, the evil powers have been there to try to knock it down. We have undertaken to bring ourselves out from under the curse that was placed upon us soon after the Church was organized in 1832; and the Lord said we would remain under that condemnation until we repented and remembered the commandments, the Book of Mormon, not only to say but to keep according to what He has written. We have the record, so you can go to it and find out just what that was.

Now, today, we are trying to bring up a people that will prepare their bodies for a greater day. That little line between us and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has got to be greatly widened so that the Lord will know what we are trying to do. I think He is anxiously waiting for us to bring up a people that will cease to criticize and cease to find fault and learn to love their neighbors as themselves. Then they will be ready for further instructions such as the United Order and other commandments the Lord has asked us to do.

It is my belief, my brothers and sisters, that we will win the battle that is being fought at this time if we can prove to the Lord that we mean business. All who feel to support me in this great work will win the fight. The Lord has done it before when we have humbled ourselves to a point where He could work with us. He can't work with a people who are divided among themselves. He has to have a unified people. This thing has come in such a way that today it has divided the people. There are only a few in comparison with the many millions upon the earth today who are striving with their might to come up to the line and serve God and keep His commandments.

I hope that this people will this once come to the fore and pray night and day for deliverance that we might be delivered from this great monster who has thrust out his hand and laid it on our shoulders.

I have gone over this thing in my mind quite thoroughly in the past two or three months, and I can find no place where I have had it in my heart to do harm to any man or woman, but I have tried to teach the spirit of peace and the Spirit of God to the people so that they could come up to this mark at this time. My great concern is, brothers and sisters, how we can carry out this counsel at this time -- pray night and day for deliverance from the evil powers that are trying to destroy that which the Lord has given us for our safety in the earth (The United Effort Plan) during these last few years of time.

Now, I pray that the Spirit of God will settle upon us and that we will strive with our might to assist in this great battle with our faith and prayers. I am talking to the boys, the young boys, and the young girls, as well as the older people. When you say your prayers, ask the Lord to bless Brother Johnson in his efforts to save this great United Effort Plan which the Lord has placed here for our benefit if we treat it right. So ask the Lord to bless me and hedge up the way of those who seek to destroy it.

Now, I pray the blessings of God upon you all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
And amen.

In calling on Brother Wendell, I called on him asking the Lord to give us the sense and beginning of this meeting, and he certainly came to it very beautifully. Would you like to hear the teachings of Rulon T. Jeffs to his family? 1978, February 26th. And I pray for the Spirit of God to be with me as I read it. It is about the Holy Spirit of God.

[He then read his sermon dated February 26, 1978, also found on page 170 of this volume.]

I Teach Only What Joseph Smith Taught;
Only Those Who Are Like God Will Survive the Judgments

The very things that are uppermost in our minds have been spoken here today. I cannot think of any better way to summarize, with the help of the Lord, than by reading the last part of Section 121, and this is the way the Prophets went. The grand injunction, brothers and sisters, as we become filled with the Holy Ghost; the only way we can accomplish the things that we have been exhorted to do here today by these fine speakers, is to be filled with the Holy Ghost, and that will make us like God. We are here to become like God, as Moroni says in the last part of chapter 7 of the book of Moroni; and our grand goal is to come back into His presence and become pure as He is pure. I cannot teach you anymore than what the Prophet Joseph Smith has revealed and taught. Brigham Young once said, "I cannot teach you anymore than I have been taught by Joseph Smith the Prophet." He has brought the word of the Lord in these scriptures -- the Doctrine and Covenants, the Book of Mormon, the Pearl of Great Price -- and his writings and sermons are full of the perfections brought by the Holy Ghost.

D.& C. 121
41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproducing betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

There was spoken of, "Who was our neighbor?" Our neighbors, brothers and sisters, are those in the household of faith, laboring to become like God as we are.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;

That is by becoming like God and knowing that we please Him, having the confidence of God.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood

The way the Prophets went,

45. ...shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, Exaltation in the Celestial Kingdom of our God, as Gods, as Section 132 tells us.

46. ...and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

All of these things spoken of here are the attributes of the Holy Spirit of God. If we are filled with it, we have those attributes, and are on our way to becoming perfect as God is perfect in His sphere, we in ours, and come up to see His face. I dare say, brothers and sisters, that those who survive the judgments that are to come upon us, when the land will be swept clean of the wicked, will be those who are filled with the Holy Ghost, and have the faith, and the works, and the character of God, as He will be pleased to save us to carry on His work. So let us pray with all the energy of heart, as we walk in perfect obedience to the commandments of God; loving God with all our heart, and our neighbor as ourselves; with all the energy of heart, that we may be filled with this love, which is the Holy Ghost. May we do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

The Great Sin of Pride;
Spirit of the United Order Is a Full Commitment to God

I am grateful for this opportunity to bear testimony to you of the goodness of God to me and how He answers my prayers. Brother Truman read here to you something I intended to read myself, and he has done it for me, very beautifully. The interesting thing and the point that is brought up in that sermon of Joseph Smith to the Twelve is the subject of pride. The caption there in the book says, "Beware of Pride."

I have the writing of a man here who wrote on the subject, "The Great Sin." "Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall." A saying from Proverbs is the heading. This is a writer who, I do not know him, but he has certainly told the truth, and I want to pass it on to all of us that we may beware of pride.

"The Great Sin" by C. S. Lewis

There is one vice of which no man in the world is free, which everyone loathes when he sees it in someone else, and of which hardly anyone imagines that he is guilty. People admit that they are bad-tempered, or that they cannot keep their heads about girls or drink, or even that they are cowards. But few accuse themselves of this vice.

I am talking of pride, or self-conceit. According to Christian teachers, pride is the essential vice, the utmost evil. Unchastity, anger, greed, drunkenness are mere fleabites in comparison. It was through pride that the devil became the devil. Pride leads to every other vice; it is the complete anti-God state of mind.
It is the foundation of apostasy, which has been brought out by the Prophet Joseph Smith in this writing you have had read to you.

If you want to find out how proud you are, ask yourself, "How much do I dislike it when other people snub me, or refuse to take notice of me, or patronize me, or show off?" The point is that each person's pride is in competition with everyone else's pride. Pride is essentially competitive, while the other vices are competitive only, so to speak, by accident.
