Sermons of President Rulon Jeffs

Volume One
Volume Two Volume Three Volume Four Volume Five
Volume Six Volume Seven
Volume Eight

Sermons of John Y. Barlow

(c) Copyright 1996 Rulon Jeffs All Rights Reserved.
RTJ Sermons Abbreviations
CCA  Colorado City, Arizona
D.& C.  Doctrine Covenants
DHC  Documentary History of the Church
JD  Journals of Discourses
LSJ  Sermons of Leroy S. Johnson
RTJ  Sermons of Rulon Jeffs
SLC  Salt Lake City, Utah
TPJS  Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith
Volume One

RTJ 1:1  March 25, 1945  SLC
RTJ 1:3  October 7, 1945  SLC
RTJ 1:4  October 14, 1945  SLC
RTJ 1:6  October 13, 1946  SCA
RTJ 1:10 December 8, 1946  SCA
RTJ 1:14 April 14, 1947  Widtsoe
RTJ 1:16 June 27, 1947
RTJ 1:18 September 14, 1947  Widtsoe
RTJ 1:21 December 7, 1947  Widtsoe
RTJ 1:25 January 8, 1948  Widtsoe
RTJ 1:34 January 18, 1948  Widtsoe
RTJ 1:35 March 23, 1948  SCA  Funeral
RTJ 1:36 October 15, 1950  SCA
RTJ 1:40 1957
RTJ 1:42 March 17, 1957  Hildale  Funeral
RTJ 1:44 December 16, 1957  Funeral
RTJ 1:45 February 2, 1958  SLC
RTJ 1:50 September 7, 1958  SLC
RTJ 1:55 December 7, 1958
RTJ 1:60 March 1, 1959
RTJ 1:64 March 8, 1959  SLC
RTJ 1:67 April 19, 1959  SLC
RTJ 1:74 May 17, 1959  SLC
RTJ 1:80 July 5, 1959  SLC
RTJ 1:80 August 16, 1959  SLC
RTJ 1:195 January 7, 1962 CCA Conference
RTJ 1:203 January 21, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:205 February 4, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:209 March 4, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:211 March 18, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:214 April 8, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:218 April 22, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:221 May 6, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:222 July 8, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:226 July 22, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:230 July 29, 1962 CCA
RTJ 1:233 August 5, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:235 August 19, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:237 September 2, 1962 CCA Conference
RTJ 1:241 September 9, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:243 October 21, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:244 December 2, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:248 December 16, 1962 SLC
RTJ 1:250 January 6, 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:254 January 29, 1963 Hildale Funeral
RTJ 1:255 February 3, 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:262 May 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:269 May 12, 1963 CCA
RTJ 1:281 May 19, 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:281 June 2, 1963 CCA
RTJ 1:284 June 16, 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:286 July 7, 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:287 July 21, 1963 SLC
RTJ 1:290  August 18, 1963  SLC
RTJ 1:295  October 6, 1963  Canada  Conference
RTJ 1:301  October 20, 1963  SLC
RTJ 1:307  November 3, 1963  SLC
RTJ 1:310  November 17, 1963  SLC
RTJ 1:317  December 8, 1963  SLC
RTJ 1:329  January 5, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:332  February 2, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:336  February 16, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:339  March 5, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:344  March 22, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:346  May 17, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:352  July 5, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:356  July 19, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:364  August 2, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:374  October 4, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:381  October 18, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:383  November 8, 1964  Canada
RTJ 1:390  November 22, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:393  December 6, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:397  December 20, 1964  SLC
RTJ 1:402  1965  Canada
RTJ 1:415  February 7, 1965  SLC
RTJ 1:423  February 21, 1965  SLC
RTJ 1:424  February 28, 1965  CCA
RTJ 1:430  March 7, 1965  SLC
RTJ 1:434  March 21, 1965  SLC
RTJ 1:437  April 4, 1965  Canada
Salt Lake City, Utah
March 25, 1945
Reported by Leona Jeffs
United Effort Plan the Nucleus of United Order;
I sincerely feel it an honor to occupy this place. I feel extremely humble today. I never felt weaker in my life than I do at the present time, and more dependent upon the Spirit of God. The greatest desire of my heart is to be a righteous vessel in the hands of God, and especially at this moment to be an instrument of good in His hands for the edification of my brethren and sisters. I sincerely hope and pray that you will remember me in your thoughts and feelings at this time, in order that we may have a unity of faith and the Spirit of God may rest upon us in rich abundance.

I can't tell you how much I miss these meetings. During the last two or three months I have tasted all that Babylon can dish out. I know and realize we must put up with these things, for we must eat and live and must be subject to the "powers that be" to a very great extent. We have to work accordingly in order to obtain the means we need for the Kingdom of God to go on. Make no mistake about it, the Kingdom is on its way. I testify to you that it is. The United Order is on its way. Many of the folks thought that the attempt in Short Creek in 1935 was a failure. I want to say that it was a signal success, to a degree, for out of it came a nucleus for the United Order to be built upon, and out of that the United Effort plan was organized on November 8, 1942. And it is my testimony to you that that is the nucleus of the United Order in this dispensation to such a degree that it will never go back, but will grow and go on until it gradually spreads over the whole earth. The Kingdom of God is established, and that order and Celestial Marriage will yet ride triumphant.

The Priesthood of God is here and has never been taken from the earth. The fullness of all the keys is here. There has never been any back-tracking. The law was revealed and has never been done away, because this is the last Dispensation of the Fullness of Times. It is here to stay, not again to be taken from the earth again. So what part are we individually playing in this great drama? I am very grateful to be numbered among the saints of God at these last days and that the Lord, through my parents, has led me in the right road.

So I think we all should take inventory at this time and ask ourselves, "Am I about the Lord's business?" If you are not, let us get busy. I love this work and this people more than my own life, and I pray that I may not falter. I wish to acknowledge my weaknesses and sins before you and ask an interest in your faith and prayers.
I say again, let us repent. We need to repent, every one of us. I desire to. I need to. Look about us, then, and see what we are doing. Children, look to your mothers; and wives, look to your husbands; and husbands, look to your file leaders; and file leaders look to your God -- the same order over and over again. Let our desires be in the right direction, and we cannot fail.

I was reading a sermon of Heber C. Kimball's where he says that whether we like it or not, there are certain servants of God upon the earth who hold the keys of power, and as long as God sustains them we are to follow them; and wives their husbands and children their parents.

Now it is true we should get a testimony that the minute they speak we know whether it is right or wrong. We don't have to have doubts and fears if we have the Spirit of God. We all surge forth as one. That is what we have got to come to. God help us, I ask, in Jesus Christ's name, amen.

RTJ 1:3 October 7, 1945 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 7, 1945
Reported by Leona Jeffs
Uphold the Priesthood; Unity

I am very grateful, brothers and sisters, that Brother Marion has spoken as he has. He has been led by the sentiment that he loves this people and feels that they need the instructions and counsel at this time. I am grateful for this counsel. He has expressed my feelings one hundred percent. I have hesitated saying too much about it until we knew what is going to happen. A lot of people have been saying a lot of things, and there were not enough of us that knew enough about it. And now that it is pretty definitely settled where the situation is, do not think that all of us have not been tried in our feelings; do not think we have not been tried wherein it is our part. In my prayerful consideration, I go back to the key that the Priesthood has given to us -- the woman is bound to her husband until the Priesthood releases him, and we brethren are bound to follow our leaders until the Lord releases them. Surely, we are to get a testimony for ourselves, but what has that testimony to be about? God said He will do nothing but what He reveals it to His servants. It is the most serious thing in the world, as you will find in Section 84 (verses 35-41) of the Doctrine and Covenants -- those who honor His servants, He will honor. What testimony are we to get? Where the Priesthood is, and then follow. If you haven't got that testimony, you had better get it.

Marion, I want to say this: To you sisters, follow the first part of that key; support your husbands until the Lord releases them. I love all those brethren according to their desires in righteousness. Naturally, we love those men who are keeping their covenants greater. And I love you, brethren and sisters.

One more point, about the Spirit of God and keeping it. We have spoken of it many, many times. Uncle John has drilled and drilled us in it. I like the way Brother Marion has spoken on unity. Until the Lord gets enough men who can move in one body, He will never be able to move His work forward -- this people. I dare say, brothers and sisters, we have tried to feel that we have been led by the Spirit of God. It doesn't go in two directions. We are entitled to it. If we come into a unity of the faith, with the men holding the high order of Priesthood, the anointed of God, then the Lord will have a people. God help us to be that people! God help us to honor His Church and Priesthood and help us to go on in His Kingdom -- "The Kingdom of God or Nothing" -- I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:4 October 14, 1945 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 14, 1945
Reported by Leona Jeffs
Our Safety Is to Know Who Holds the Keys of Priesthood; Pray for Those in Prison, Etc.

I do not know when I have felt weaker and in need of the Spirit of God. I know, brothers and sisters, how you people are tried, for Guy and I have had it on ourselves, and I have cried for you and prayed for you. Don't think our hearts don't go out to you. We have talked with these brethren in prison and know what they are going through and have cried for them. But as Brother Guy has said, they are for our own good. I know from my own experiences that God does not put trials upon us, if we are faithful, unless we have the strength to bear it. Enough people have been gathered around the servants of God that He is now prepared to sift us and get the strong ones. That is where I feel we stand today.
If ever we needed love, it is now! -- to understand our brothers and sisters and love them for what they are trying to do, and not to stand in judgment against them. There is only one judge -- God, and His servants if He sees fit to reveal it to them. And so I feel to plead with you to have charity. If you don't understand these situations, please put them on the shelf.

We expect some of the brethren to be out soon. We don't know. Let us leave it up to them to say what they have done and why, if they choose to do so. As for me, as said last Sunday, I feel I have a sure key. The Lord has not left us without keys and principles to follow. The Lord will direct us if we follow those keys and principles. Joseph Smith himself gave it to us: "It is well to know who holds the keys of power and who does not, for we are likely to be deceived." Is there any plainer path than that? Therefore, it is up to you to get that testimony.

Brother Marion spoke of Heber C. Kimball and the test that he had. What was the thing that went through his mind when he went through that test? He said, "Either Joseph is a Prophet now, as he always has been, or he is not. He has asked me to do something that is wrong on the face of it." But he went and got his wife and presented her to Joseph. Brigham Young said there was only one case in his life that he doubted the Prophet, and that had to do with financial affairs; and just as quick as it came to his mind, just that quick he put it out of his mind. Joseph Smith was a Prophet, or he was not; he held the keys, or he didn't. Yet, on the other hand, we have had Brigham Young say he feared the Church, the people, had so much confidence in their leaders that he feared they would go down. He said both, but the main thing is: Do God's servants hold the keys of power? I might say, we have been told that we should not place our trust in the arm of flesh, according to the Church. What Priesthood are we dealing with now, though? The Lord God will do nothing but that he reveals it through His Prophets. There is a reason for what has been done. I have that confidence in my brethren.

Now let us get down on our knees. The Lord is not going to bring the walls of the prison down until we are ready to receive the blessing. Are we ready? We are not yet on our knees, not humble; we do not have broken hearts and contrite spirits. We don't pray enough; I don't. My dear sisters whose husbands are in jail, are you keeping up your family prayers? Are you admonishing your children to pray morning, noon, and night, all the day long? You will not have strength in your families unless you do. It is all the same repeated admonishment. This people is a good people, but we are not good enough! Repent! Repent! is the word of God to this people all the day long. Let us get out of the world with our feelings and actions. If we don't, we can't go on. If we want to come out of it, for this Priesthood and this work, it will be done.

RTJ 1:6 October 14, 1945 SLC

Let us have peace and charity in our hearts. Learn to love the servants of God. Learn to love one another. The Lord, in speaking to the saints in setting up the United Order, said that they were to be equal according to the family and circumstances, and every man must seek the interest of his neighbor and do all things single to the glory of God. That is all there is to the United Order. God help us to do that, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:6 October 13, 1946 SCA

Short Creek, Arizona
October 13, 1946
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Faith; Lecture Six; Judgments Upon the House of God

I feel great strength in the faith of you, my brethren and sisters. This is one of the most beautiful sights I have ever seen in connection with the congregation of the saints. I was in an organ recital at the Tabernacle in Salt Lake and tears flowed down my cheeks as I reflected on some of the promises of the Priesthood concerning such men as Brother Marion preaching from the pulpit of that great building, and my heart ached when I contemplated the fact that so much was lacking in the Spirit of God and the spirit of the meetings in that great and marvelous building. But our day is coming, and I know it. It is not far off. I look upon the great temple, realizing how vain so much of the work is that is being done there, and I pray to God that the Spirit of God shall cleanse that building so that the true saints of God may go to the temple and receive their endowments and receive the blessings of the holy temples.

RTJ 1:7 October 13, 1946 SCA

So I rejoice, though our numbers be few. I feel as though I had just been renewed. The feeling I feel is similar to that that Brother Theral has, but at the same time I cannot forget the remark that Brother John Y. Barlow made:
"Can this people stand before God in confidence and call down the blessings that we require at this time?" What does confidence mean? A synonym is faith. The secret of the power of faith, my brothers and sisters, is bringing our lives in submission to the will of God. Our lives must be according to the will of God, else we cannot approach Him in faith and confidence.

I would like to read from the Prophet Joseph Smith on that point from the Lectures on Faith.

Lecture Six

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint; for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it, and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven, and of their having embraced the order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in him necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

Which is another way of saying what the Lord revealed in Section 82:

D.& C. 82

10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

It is my feeling, brethren and sisters, that I need to draw closer and nearer to the Lord -- to get more of His Spirit, to set my family in order and go down the road according to the Priesthood way, and expect them to follow after me. Then I can go to the Lord and say, "Father, I have been about your business, I have been working all the day long. I have kept your commandments. My heart is pure, my hands are clean. Now I require this blessing, if it be your will grant it unto me." And if it be His will, He must grant it, brethren and sisters.

I wonder how many of you keep in mind the nature of the Holy Spirit of God, that it is everywhere present, omnipotent -- the agent of God to carry out His will. He, Himself, does not have to be nearby watching us. He has that all-powerful agent by which all of the Gods operate everywhere present around us to watch our every motion, and record it. We each have our guardian angel to watch us at all times. I am sure, brethren and sisters, if Brother Barlow were here today, he would call this people to repentance; and I do feel before God this day to repent of my sins and renew my covenants before Him, to purify my life, to serve Him, so that I, with my family and brothers and sisters may be able to call upon Him for blessings, that we may be able to enter into His holy temples. These marriages we have entered into are not complete without the endowment. So even in that great and glorious principle, we are just living at it. There are a lot of things we do not understand. If we would understand them it might damn us. The greatest evidence of the faithfulness of the people of God is the amount of power the adversary is using against them. Look around us. We have it pretty easy compared to what some of the former saints went through. Brigham Young said, "Know this, that when the adversary is raging greatest against this people, then you will know they are the most faithful and obedient and living their religion."

I contemplate that as the Lord may rule in our favor in the court, that satan will begin to rage if we are worthy of having those decisions turned in our favor. I wonder if we are prepared for what is coming upon the House of God.

D.& C. 112

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, darkness covereth the earth, and gross darkness the minds of the people, and all flesh has become corrupt before my face.

24. Behold, vengeance cometh speedily upon the inhabitants of the earth, a day of wrath, a day of burning, a day of desolation, of weeping, of mourning, and of lamentation; and as a whirlwind it shall come upon all the face of the earth, saith the Lord.

25. And upon my house shall it begin, and from my house shall it go forth, saith the Lord;

26. First among those among you, saith the Lord, who have professed to know my name and have not known me, and have blasphemed against me in the midst of my house, saith the Lord.

27. Therefore, see to it that ye trouble not yourselves concerning the affairs of my church in this place, saith the Lord.

28. But purify your hearts before me; and then go ye into all the world, and preach my gospel unto every creature who has not received it;

May we live such lives that are in accordance with the will of God, that we may move at the call of His servants, that we may move as a unit. And until that day, the army of the Lord will not become great enough to meet the fiery darts of the adversary. May this be our lot, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:10  December 8, 1946  SCA

Short Creek, Arizona
December 8, 1946
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Loyalty; His Testimony of President Barlow

I know I for one, brothers and sisters, little realize the great and glorious blessings that are mine and are yours in this work. The Prophet Joseph Smith said that one of the greatest sins was ingratitude, and it warmed my heart as Brother Marion spoke, of our ingratitude toward the Priesthood of God in our midst. I don't think we are grateful enough for the principles that are brought to our attention. We have heard some wonderful truths and principles today. One of the greatest forms of ingratitude is to hear the word of God and not abide in it. Wives should appreciate their husbands sufficient to keep his commandments -- the same with the saints as to the Priesthood.

I was tempted, brethren and sisters, to put a question to one or two or three of the brethren individually, but I think I will confine the observations I had expected to ask and speak in generalities. Why are you connected with this work? What is it that has brought you to attach yourselves with this body of people? Do you stop to ask yourselves that question? Some would answer, if they spoke their honest feelings, that they are connected with this people because they think they might be right, and they are afraid not to be with them. Principles are presented to us and we have fears in our heart that they might not be right. Fear bringeth torment. Those who have fears are those who carry two yokes -- the yoke of Christ and the yoke of the devil.

Another may say, "Well, I am there because my folks are there." Still, others might answer it this way: "I am here because this group of people represent the highest authority of God on the earth. That is where I have found it. I know it to be here and I know it to be true." That involves the greatest principles of loyalty. There are few things that the Lord will overlook, and one He will not overlook is disloyalty -- to be a traitor. There are degrees of disloyalty. The Prophet Joseph Smith said:

TPJS Page 156

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell.

I like to look back upon the lives of the Latter-day Saints and see brethren who have been the apple of the Lord's eye, so to speak. They were the ones who were the most loyal to the Prophet Joseph Smith. At one time there was only two of the Twelve that did not raise their heel against Joseph. They were Brigham Young and Heber C. Kimball. John Taylor was not an Apostle at that time. While Brigham was leading, his greatest friend and loyal support was Heber C. Kimball. John Taylor, Brigham Young and Heber C. Kimball -- all of them were loyal to the Prophet Joseph Smith. The most perfect example of loyalty we have in this dispensation is the Prophet's brother, Hyrum Smith. Among those who were loyal to Joseph Smith, he mentioned his father. Orrin Porter Rockwell -- he has been a mysterious character and some have thought he had acted rather shady in his everyday doings. I think the worst that can be said of him was that he got drunk some of the time. First and foremost in Orrin Porter Rockwell's life, he was loyal to God's prophets. I don't think any man can say he was an adulterer, etc., and he supported the servants of God.

It is a peculiar thing that the Lord requires that the children of men will honor the Priesthood on earth. "I will have them honored." He cannot be here Himself, and that is why He has this Priesthood. He says, "If you do it unto them you have done it unto Me." The thing I am getting at is this: -- While some of us were together recently in Salt Lake, I asked the question, "Is this group of people increasing or decreasing in faith, speaking as a group?" The answer of one of the leading brethren was, "Generally, they are decreasing, but the faithful ones are increasing," which to me is a fulfillment of the prophecy of Uncle John -- that just as out of this Church would come a people that would serve God and could be sifted, so shall it be with this group -- that it would be sifted, and out of this group would come a few that could be used.

I find an inclination, brothers and sisters, to divide and limit the powers of the Priesthood of God upon the earth. There is the Board of Trustees, or the Priesthood Council, or whatever you wish to call them, on the one side and the members, or the laymen, on the other. But that is not the way it should be. There is no separation. It is the Priesthood that is going on. You are limiting your own salvation when you divide yourselves from the Priesthood. There is only one side to this, brethren. You are either with it or you are not with it. If there is a unity among the Priesthood, it is all Melchizedek Priesthood. There is only one side to this work or else it is not the work of God. You know it in your souls.

I know as I know I live that there are those sitting in this congregation that are still wondering about the action of John and Joseph in signing a certain paper. They did just what the Lord told them, and it was not by permission. They had a job to do and they are doing it. The Lord has shown me that they did it because they were commanded to do it -- for the carrying out of their covenants, their greatest covenants. You can't say that this work has not grown and prospered since they came out.

Brother Erich spoke on agency and obedience. Some feel that when they are giving strict obedience that their freedom is abridged. I want to tell you that the greatest freedom you can enjoy is in obedience. Those who are in the prisons are there because of disobedience to law. What about in our work, brothers and sisters? I have found that I have enjoyed the greatest freedom when I have rendered strict obedience to those who are over me. Brother, you go ahead and do just as you see fit. Those who are fighting the Priesthood in their feelings are the ones who have to be watched the closest; therefore, their freedom is limited. Obedience begets confidence and love, and is the only way by which we can obtain the unity we need to accomplish the work that God has given us.

John Y. Barlow, the President of the Priesthood upon the earth, is the mouthpiece of God. I know it as I know I live. He, along with his coworkers, are God's servants. It is about time we began to respect the mouthpiece of God on earth. I think God is through being mocked. Let us go on unto perfection and love one another. Let us love God with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength. Who is our neighbor? It is those to whom we owe the loyalty in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Sisters, obey your husbands for principles' sake. Brethren, obey the Priesthood. Obey John Y. Barlow, not because he is John Y. Barlow, but because he bears the authority of God, or the Priesthood.

God help us that we may go on unto perfection, that we may indeed be that peculiar people, that we might rise up with power and have the temples opened and go forth with power. I am determined within myself that I am going to get my family in order to obtain those glorious principles. Our marriages are not full without the endowments. Let us keep these goals in mind. Let us now determine anew to throw ourselves into this work with all our mights and souls, that we may be numbered with the servants of God on the earth. This I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:14  April 14, 1947  Widtsoe

Widtsoe, Utah
April 14, 1947
Reported by Marjorie Holm
It Is All or Nothing At All -- Anxiously Engaged

I have thoroughly enjoyed the remarks of our brethren this day and the opportunity of this occasion and this Sabbath day. I often wonder at how we look upon the Sabbath. The Lord will not be mocked in anything. He will not stand for His children treating lightly sacred things. The Sabbath is the Lord's day and needs to be treated and acted upon very sacredly. He has called His servants and He requires that they be honored, for He says, "If ye do it unto them, ye do it unto Me."

I have been thinking as I have sat here about halfway measures. There is no halfway house in this work. With me it is all or nothing at all. All my eggs are in one basket. What is it the Lord requires? The first great commandment was, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength," not just part. And the second is likened unto it, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Do you see any halfway measures there? That reminds me of the scripture where the Lord exhorts us so very often to diligence in His work.

D.& C. 58

27. Verily, I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;

28. For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

What does it mean to be damned? Stopped in progress. I read a statement of Elbert Hubbard's not long ago. "The secret of the law of life is obedience." It is the first law of heaven. If we are trying to mix obedience with rebellion or slothfulness, or receiving the commandments halfheartedly, it is like an engine trying to go both ways. It stops in the middle and goes nowhere. To be happy, obey the rudder.

Obedience is not so much the matter of obeying this man and that, but in seeing the necessity of doing the work that needs to be done. What are the necessities of this people? To become a united people, that we may be used in redeeming the earth. We have got to get ourselves in a position where we may give orders, as we say, but we have got to learn to obey them first. We have got to give our whole effort into this thing or we just as well get out. As I see it, the purposes of God in His creations are all toward a Celestial earth and Celestial beings. Let us work with our might, mind, and strength, loving God and building up His work upon the earth, and do nothing to grieve His Holy Spirit. And the only way we get this Spirit is to give everything we have. To get the Spirit of God around us all the time, the thing for us to do is get ourselves in tune with it. Draw nearer to the Lord and He will draw nearer to us. We must learn the Gospel.

We must look to one another's interests more. The very key to our United Order is to do all we can for our neighbor with an eye single to the glory of God. You can't put the United Order on a piece of paper. Uncle John has given us that definition. It is possible for us to live it one percent or two percent or ten percent or one hundred percent. If we want fifty percent reward we will get it. If we want less we will get it. But as for me, I just as leave go back to native element if I cannot have it and abide in its fullness.
God loves us, brothers and sisters -- if we only loved Him half as much. I love this work with all my heart. I love to see the saints progressing. One of the greatest things I have in my life is the love and confidence of my brethren. We are going to have to stand back to back against mobs, etc. This people will have to get on one side or the other. The issues are being tightly drawn. The Church has got to accept Joseph Smith and Brigham Young with their politics or get rid of them. Every individual has got to decide which side he is going on and get there quick. There is no such thing as neutrality in the work of God; we have to go on one side or the other. Let us be found on the right side -- on the side of God, loving one another and building one another up in the sight of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:16 June 27, 1947

[Location Unknown]
June 27, 1947
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Testimony of the Prophet Joseph Smith

By the way, girls, the fashion has decreed longer dresses. My bosom has been burning with the Spirit of God here tonight, and I am sure you all have felt it in the glorious remarks we have heard. There should be little doubt in our hearts, if any at all, that the mouthpiece of God is in our midst. We have heard some beautiful sentiments expressed concerning the life of the Prophet Joseph Smith. I love and revere his glorious name. He is a God to me. The Latter-day Saints have been criticized for worshipping him as a God. We have heard here tonight that he is a God. We will never see the face of Jesus and of Michael until we can pass by him and give all the keys and signs and tokens. What more need we ask of God than to receive all these keys that Brother Joseph has spoken of -- all that were given unto him. All the Prophets of former dispensations who held keys delivered them unto the Prophet Joseph, and he will deliver them to Christ, and Christ will deliver them to Father Michael, and He to the Council of Gods above Him.

I have been impressed with the thought tonight, that in his martyrdom he reached the climax and the greatest triumph of his life. He was a Witness and Testator, and he sealed his testimony with his blood. He couldn't have fulfilled his mission unless he sealed it with his blood. The mission of Christ was atoning for the blood of us poor mortals.

There is one thing that has been running through my mind as I have sat here tonight. The great Apostleship that Joseph received has been perpetuated in the earth. I care not who holds it, but it is here. There has been Priesthood from the beginning in the personage of the Keyholder. I call upon this people to honor and sustain and uphold that office and calling upon the earth, or you will be found wanting if you lift your heel against them. The legal successor of the Prophet is in our midst. How grateful we should be. The Lord will not be mocked. He has taken a lot, but it is high time now, in the face of all, that we look to our knitting.

As Uncle John has mentioned, there are those who say these men haven't any right to do this or the other. If that be the case, Joseph Smith was a liar and God is a liar, because the fullness of the Priesthood has been restored to the earth never to be thrown down nor given to another people. If not, we have got to admit that the angel hasn't flown in the midst of heaven yet, and there has yet to be a restoration.

I love and revere the name of Joseph Smith, and if we love that glorious name, we have got to love those who hold that office and calling. We have got to love one another. We have got to stand behind and uphold the hand of our file leaders. We are going to be called upon to sustain them. Let us not be found in the seat of the denier, or be ashamed of our testimony and of the life that we are trying to live.

God bless this people and Uncle John and Joseph, these wise and wonderful and inspired men. May He lengthen their lives to give inspiration and direction to this people. Let us hearken to first principles first, and love God and our fellow men, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.
instead of going to another brother and telling him about someone's weaknesses, if we would go to that man himself, the thing will be straightened out.

I have told my brethren with whom I am closely associated that I will consider them more of a brother if they will tell me if I am out of the way. Tell me. Just see what a condition that principle would bring about. If you have something to say about someone, go and say it to their face and not to someone else and spread discord and break down confidence. If we love one another we should be seeking to help one another. In our judgment of one another let us please distinguish between sin and weaknesses. Let us love one another in our weaknesses, help each other to overcome them. It isn't necessary to tell one another about all our weaknesses either. If there be sin, who is the judge? You? Let God be the Judge. It is still none of our business, unless a man has sinned against us. Then we can go to the brethren who are over us. Let us enter into a covenant that we will go to one another face to face before we believe anything to be true. That is scripture.

Brethren and sisters, I know we are all very apprehensive about some things that seem to be facing us. Many of us have feelings about what we can do, what is the safe thing to be doing, the safe place to go, the safe condition to be in. I know only one thing, and that is another of the items Brother Marion touched upon. There is safety in only one thing, one condition -- to know that the course of life we are pursuing is pleasing to God. If every day of our lives we do all the duties devolving upon us the very best we know how, searching our souls to know whether we are pleasing God, only then when troubles, when trials come, persecutions, doubts or anything else akin to it, only then may we go before our God and say, "Father, I am facing this condition, I am facing these persecutors. I have done what you have required of me and what your servants have required of me. If it be your will that I go to prison, if it be your will that I be killed or that I suffer physically, so be it." Only then can we know that whatever comes is the will of God, and that it is not because of our own damn foolishness. When persecutions come, I want to know it is the will of God and not because of my foolishness. Of course, I know that I am not perfect and I am going to have to suffer for it. But how much more comfortable a feeling it is to know that what we suffer is because we have done the will of God and not because we have disobeyed the commandments. I think it might not be amiss to read that item Brother
Lecture Six

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint; for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it, and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven, and of their having embraced that order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in him necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

How do we get that knowledge that our course of life is pleasing to God? It sounds like a rather conceited condition. If you will read the last of Heber C. Kimball you will see how a man can attain to that position and yet be so humble that he was without guile.

The story was told that in the School of the Prophets, each one was told to repeat a sentence. Brother Kimball had a weakness of not being able to do just that. When it came Brother Heber's time to repeat that, the Prophet said, "If you don't repeat that sentence, I will whip you like I would a child!" Brother Kimball said, "Then you will have to whip me!" And then came one of the sweetest answers: "Brother Heber, I couldn't do it because you are as innocent as a little child." So great was that man's integrity that he had the promise of his Prophet, that if there was any danger of his apostatizing, God would take him unto Himself. In his afterlife, he lived so close to God that he stood in the endowment house and could read men's hearts. When the wicked came to enter, he would rebuke them. He could stand up and say, "I am an Apostle of Jesus Christ and a disciple of Joseph Smith." He knew his course was pleasing to God, because he knew the commandments and he was keeping them.

5. For a man to lay down his all, his character and reputation, his honor, and applause, his good name among men, his houses, his lands, his brothers and sisters, his wife and children, and even his own life also -- counting all things but filth and dross for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ -- requires more than mere belief or supposition that he is doing the will of God; but actual knowledge, realizing that, when these sufferings are ended, he will enter into eternal rest, and be a partaker of the glory of God.

If we are not one we are not God's. How can we become one, how can we obtain this confidence and knowledge, the sum and substance of the whole Gospel plan? The very means by which we obtain eternal life is all wound up in the statement of John Y. Barlow: "Get the Spirit of God and keep it." Our whole life is wound up in that statement: "Get the Spirit of God and keep it."
If we get that Spirit we will have confidence in our leaders. If we get that Spirit we will have the ability to judge faithfully and true. If we have that Spirit we will have the unbounded faith that is necessary to lay hold on eternal life. It is all up to us. Godhood is obtaining a fullness of the Holy Spirit little by little, line upon line, precept upon precept. Therefore, it is a simple matter of learning the workings of the Holy Spirit of God. What a miserable feeling when we don't have it.

I know that Joseph Smith was a Prophet of God, that Jesus is the Christ, and that Father Michael is my Father and God, the Father of Jesus Christ in the flesh. I know that this is the work of God, and John Y. Barlow is the mouthpiece of God on the earth today. I know I bear the Priesthood of God, and that I am an Apostle of Jesus Christ. I can't believe that unless I believe that John Y. Barlow holds the keys of the Priesthood on earth today, because I got mine from him. Let us stand shoulder to shoulder. Let us love one another with our hearts; above all else, love God our Father with all our might, mind, and strength; and without this it is impossible to please Him. I pray this in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:21  December 7, 1947  Widtsoe
It is a privilege to be with you today. I am impressed to tell us to be united in our spirits, that we will enjoy the same spirit that we have enjoyed thus far today.

* * * * *

Before we partake of the sacrament, brothers and sisters, I feel impressed to call upon us all to draw in the wanderings of our minds, that our thoughts and hearts may be single upon the sacrifice of our Savior Jesus Christ. Let no other thought enter our minds but gratitude for the sacrifice of the Savior and the renewing of our covenants. This is a most sacred ordinance. It replaces the old sacrifice of the firstlings of the flock. May we partake with pure hearts and clean hands.

* * * * *

These two fine boys, (The sacrament was administered by David and Lorin Broadbent) I know how my heart goes out to you to see you so united as blood brothers in this work. Keep on and you will receive great and mighty things. I have longed for a blood brother of mine in this work, but I have found an even closer spiritual brother in my dear brother, Guy Musser. Some have mentioned our relationship as being like David and Jonathan. I humbly pray that the same spirit will continue with us throughout our lives.

Brothers and sisters, that is the kind of love that must move us in this work together if we are to become united. Love is a synonym for unity. The idea of the United Order is looking to the interest of our brother with an eye single to the glory of God. When we reach that condition, we will be living the United Order. I wish to add again my testimony of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I know that God lives -- Adam, my Creator. I know that Jesus lives, my Redeemer. I know that Joseph lives and directs this latter-day work under the direction of the other Two. He is the Witness and Testator. Joseph Smith is a Prophet of God and is directing this work behind the scenes, and so are some of those that have followed him that have gone on the other side. Joseph Smith is to be put in his right place, and so is Jesus Christ, and so is Adam. I know that John Y. Barlow holds the keys of the Priesthood upon the earth, and those associated with him have the Apostleship. God bless you, and pour out the spirit of testimony unto you, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

* * * * *

I feel I want to tell you a story, brothers and sisters. I feel I have been a part of this work -- I know I have -- since I was born. I have come to know that I, from the other side, had something to do with bringing my noble father and mother together in the bonds of Celestial Marriage. Up there in Idaho, Aunt Phoebe was shown a vision that my mother belonged in father's family. It was shown them both that Patriarch Tolman, who had authority to seal, would come to them to seal them. I didn't know about this work. Father didn't know about it until 1937. His first wife is a cousin of Lorin Woolley. Father knew Lorin well back in those days but he didn't know about his Priesthood. It was such a deep secret. The brethren then were working through the authorities of the Church. In those days the Salt Lake Tribune and the officers of the law were very vicious in following these matters up. My mother, she bade farewell to her father and mother. Father made arrangements secretly for her to come to Salt Lake unbeknownst to those people. She stayed in hiding for a solid year.

Brothers and sisters, we are called together here. We can sustain each other. That good woman hid her family relations for a solid year before she entered into this law with father, and then Patriarch Tolman came and sealed them. I had something to do with it, thank God. I pray God will forgive me any doubts I ever had concerning it. I am thankful I had a noble birthright. People indicated my birthright wasn't so very good. This man has stood up all his life he has been in this work. I thank the Lord for it. I am grateful for the day he met Brother Joseph Musser on the street in Salt Lake, with a Truth in his hand.

Brothers and sisters, we have so much to live for that we should be as a light on a hill that shines forth in the darkness that envelops this nation and the world. We are just not doing well enough, though we are a good people.

Now, I want to rejoice at what I have witnessed here this day. In the New Testament we are told that he who would not provide for his family is an infidel. That doesn't mean money and fine things, but it means teaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I have seen a beautiful example of it here in the family of Brother Newel, Brother Woodruff, Uncle John's and Aunt Fawn's. It thrills my soul to see this young lad (Lawrence) come up, rushing to me every time I come into this community to shake my hand. Here is the ultimate if you want to be happy in this work.

D.& C. 121

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Let the doctrine of the Priesthood instill upon our souls and we will not go far wrong in this work. Brother Reidl, I love you for the steady plodding you have done in this work -- quiet, hardly ever a word of complaint -- never that I have heard. I love the plodder. The race is not to the swift nor to the strong, but to him that will endure to the end.

I wish to leave my testimony with you again. And under the power and authority of this Priesthood, I do bless you, brothers and sisters. I love you with all my soul, because I love this work and you. I love the brethren with whom I am associated, and you love them. I do not know which one mentioned it about the reason the Priesthood has not been able to give us more blessings, but if you brothers and sisters want to see the mighty works of God at the hands of the Priesthood of God, greater faith must be exhibited. The Lord can do no miracles where there is no faith. The Priesthood will go forward and do mightier works as the people are prepared to receive it. God bless you, amen.

RTJ 1:25  January 8, 1948  Widtsoe

Widtsoe, Utah
January 8, 1948
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Must Have a Testimony; Raise Children in Light and Truth

I have enjoyed the spirit of this meeting up to this time and the beautiful spirit of humility that actuated the remarks of Sister May (Bateman) and Brother John (Butchreit). I pray for it to continue with me.

Brother John spoke of men that have grown white under the cares and burdens of this work. Our minds naturally revert to Brother Joseph and Brother John. I bring you greetings, brethren, from these two beloved brethren. I feel particularly concerned at this time for their health. Brother Joseph has suffered and it has been wearing him down. Brother John recently came up to Salt Lake and was sick, his heart not being well. I wonder how much we realize what these men are bearing under for our sakes. They are tired. They are tired. But they are willing to go on for as long as they have a mission upon this earth. I wish I could draw a picture to you, brethren and sisters, as to the nature of the burdens they have borne, how men and women have been up to the office of Brother Joseph with their petty quarrels -- husbands and wives, etc. -- matters that men and women should have been big enough to decide for themselves, anytime of the day or night; and we are getting the same things.

I want to relate to you, too, brothers and sisters, the fact that they have cast us off of their shoulders. You may as well face that fact. If any of you are tied to the coattails of these men, you will die when they die. You better get off quick. When they went to prison they cast me off of their shoulders in most uncertain terms. Is was as clear cut as day and night. I could sink or swim. I prefer to swim and swim hard. We are all in the same boat, the same condition. It is an individual proposition. Talk about the Priesthood trying us; we have got it. We have got it.

I am calling upon you, brothers and sisters, to get close to the Lord and get the Spirit of God for yourselves and be guided by it. God is in His heaven. His servants are leading us. We must take the Spirit of God for our guide along with it. Brigham Young said, "I fear the saints will have so much confidence in their leaders they will not inquire for themselves whether they are being led correctly." If we can get the Spirit of God and find they are leading us in the ways of truth and righteousness, how much greater can be our support with them, and taking hold of our responsibilities and lay hold on eternal life. These few things I wanted to give as a preliminary before I say a few more things. I hope the Lord will shut me up if I should not say it. (Quoting from B. H. Roberts) "We believe in the inspired Priesthood.Sometimes they, the leaders, speak merely from human knowledge.But when they speak as moved upon by the Holy Ghost their voice becomes as the voice of God." You see how necessary it is to get the voice of God.

I humbly pray for an interest in your faith and prayers. How many of you are familiar with this statement, that you are sealed in the bonds of holy matrimony?
Marriage Covenant

*I say unto you, be fruitful, and multiply and replenish the earth, that you may have joy and rejoicing in your posterity in the day of the Lord Jesus."

Brethren, these good women are given to you for that sole purpose. Sisters, you are entering into it for that sole purpose. By their fruits ye shall know them. You are going to be doing a little reading, brothers and sisters.

D.& C. 97

7. The ax is laid at the root of the trees; and every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit shall be hewn down and cast into the fire. I, the Lord, have spoken it.

8. Verily I say unto you, all among them who know their hearts are honest, and are broken, and their spirits contrite, and are willing to observe their covenants by sacrifice -- yea, every sacrifice which I, the Lord, shall command -- they are accepted of me.

9. For I, the Lord, will cause them to bring forth as a very fruitful tree which is planted in a goodly land, by a pure stream, that yieldeth much precious fruit.

By their fruits ye shall know them. The greatest of the fruits of this work, then -- if the words I have quoted to you are true, and you know they are -- is our children, these beautiful children.

We are called upon to be a peculiar people, a royal Priesthood. We are called upon, if you please, to bring forth God's queens and kings unto God. Talk about fruits. Sister May, you said a truth when you talked about those children of yours and your responsibility. It scares me to death sometimes, when I realize the responsibility resting on my shoulders. Mothers are the architects of the lives of their children. Fathers are required to set up the rules and regulations so their wives can follow and take a hand at and direct themselves. If you want your children to be raised up in light and truth, if you want them to fulfill their destiny, never speak ill of their father. Never give them any occasion to bring discredit upon the principles you have espoused. Never give your children any occasion to go forth in the world and say they cannot live that principle of Celestial Marriage which brought them forth. Nothing will weaken or lessen the confidence of your children more than to break confidence with your husband in these matters. By their fruits ye shall know them.
We have heard a lot of statistics quoted by Church leaders and others about the results of living the Word of Wisdom, etc. The Word of Wisdom covers all the commandments of God, not just tea and coffee and other trifling matters. I challenge them that it was all accomplished by abstaining from tea, coffee, tobacco, and liquor. It is this social law, Plural and Celestial Marriage. Ever since they gave it up, those statistics have been dwindling. In 1920, they had twice the births and half the deaths, but it is dwindling awfully fast. Why? Because they gave up this principle, and their daughters are walking the streets as common harlots. We see them every day. We see their children going up and down the land condemning sacred things. The fault is in the parents. These children, they are not going to be any better than we may be able to set an example for them to follow. I consider that I will have failed, though, if I have not raised children up to become better than me, at least one or two. I don't expect all of them to choose the right way. The biggest men in the Kingdom of God have not been able to do it. But they are going to be left without excuse. Your children must be left without excuse.

Here is a rebuke the Lord gave to leading Elders of Israel:

D. & C. 93

41. But verily I say unto you, my servant Frederick G. Williams, you have continued under this condemnation;
42. You have not taught your children light and truth, according to the commandments; and that wicked one hath power, as yet, over you, and this is the cause of your affliction.
43. And now a commandment I give unto you -- if you will be delivered you shall set in order your own house, for there are many things that are not right in your house.

44. Verily, I say unto my servant Sidney Rigdon, that in some things he hath not kept the commandments concerning his children; therefore, first set in order thy house.
45. Verily, I say unto my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., or in other words, I will call you friends, for you are my friends, and ye shall have an inheritance with me --
46. I called you servants for the world's sake, and ye are their servants for my sake --
47. And now, verily I say unto Joseph Smith, Jun. -- You have not kept the commandments, and must needs stand rebuked before the Lord;
48. Your family must needs repent and forsake some things, and give more earnest heed unto your sayings, or be removed out of their place.
49. What I say unto one I say unto all; pray always lest that wicked one have power in you, and remove you out of your place.
50. My servant Newel K. Whitney also, a bishop of my church, hath need to be chastened, and set in order his family, and see that they are more diligent and concerned at home, and pray always, or they shall be removed out of their place.

The point I want to get at is this: We are getting down to some grim realities. Shakespeare said a true saying when he said, "First to thine own self be true, and it must follow as the day the night, thou canst not be false to any man."

I make a plea at this time for self-responsibility and dignity in the cause we have espoused, a higher standard of living. We are required to be as a light set on a hill, are we not? Is there anything in our lives we would be ashamed to have exposed to the light, or must it be hid under a bushel? Are we gracing the principle of Celestial Marriage? Are we adorning it so we may, when the time comes, be as a light set on a hill? We have to be quiet at the present time. I am asking you brothers and sisters to ask yourselves the question, are you living like such men as Joseph Smith, Brigham Young, Heber C. Kimball, John Taylor?

First, are your children conceived under passion, or under the influence of the Spirit of God? Do you want choice spirits to come through you? They will only come through a pure, a clean, a holy channel. Do you want them? Are they worth it? That is the very first thing to keep in mind. Ask yourselves how your children have been conceived. After that, it is one thing to breed, and it is another thing to raise them up in light and truth. I see all kinds of families throughout the world who have twelve to fifteen, as high as twenty children. Number is no particular credit unless they are brought up right. Isn't that right? Sure, there are millions and millions of spirits waiting to come here to earth, waiting to have someone father and mother them, but in light and truth and purity. It will never be a royal Priesthood unless these children are brought forth truly under the covenant.

Because a man has several wives is not a credit to him. The story goes about a man going through the temple and receiving his endowments. A man gave him a butt and said that is all the good it did.

It is this question of raising our children in the proper environment of the Spirit of God, in cleanliness and order so that they will always look back over the years in gratitude for the kind of environment you have provided for them. I plead, therefore, for peace, dignity, self-respect. Clean up, if you please.

I think we should be reminded of a few things. It is said that cleanliness is next to godliness.  Children are great imitators. I have seen men and women reared in houses of that kind who just cannot seem to break away from it. It is pitiful.

Millennial Star 15:339

We hear the Saints very often talking of the future glory of Zion, of the high position Zion will attain to among the nations -- that she will be the praise, the joy, and the admiration of the whole earth. But Zion must not exhibit symptoms of this uncleanness which we have been talking of, or she will not be accounted so extremely worthy of admiration as the Saints might wish. Be not deceived. Zion will be, in a great measure, what the Saints make it. If the Saints become the most cleanly, pure, and happy people upon the face of the earth, Zion will become the most cleanly, pure, and happy place upon the face of the earth. If any people upon the earth surpass the people of Zion in cleanliness, so long will Zion be inferior to other places, and less desirable than they. Never forget this. Do not imagine that your prayers to be gathered to Zion will be answered before you have settled into habits of cleanliness. You have no right to an inheritance in Zion while you delight to practise unclean habits. The inhabitants of Zion must not only be pure in heart, but pure in body also, or they cannot expect that the glory of the Lord will rest upon their dwelling places. Do not for a moment entertain the idea that the Spirit of the Lord holds any fellowship with filth and filthy habits. If you do you most miserably delude yourselves. The command to purify your bodies, and the command to purify your spirits, are equally binding upon you. If you do not strive to fulfil both commands, you will be found wanting, and will lose your crown. Therefore, from this time forward strive with all your souls to keep clean your spirits, your bodies, your garments, your habitations, and your children, then will the Holy Spirit ever abide with you, and you will be accounted worthy of an inheritance in Zion.

Is it true or not? Well, that was from the Millennial Star, Vol. 15. What does the Lord say about it?

D.& C. 42

40. And again, thou shalt not be proud in thy heart; let all thy garments be plain, and their beauty the beauty of the work of thine own hands;
41. And let all things be done in cleanliness before me.
42. Thou shalt not be idle; for he that is idle shall not eat the bread nor wear the garments of the laborer.

D.& C. 56

17. Wo unto you poor men, whose hearts are not broken, whose spirits are not contrite, and whose bellies are not satisfied, and whose hands are not stayed from laying hold upon other men's goods, whose eyes are full of greediness, and who will not labor with your own hands!

D.& C. 68

30. And the inhabitants of Zion also shall remember their labors, inasmuch as they are appointed to labor, in all faithfulness; for the idler shall be had in remembrance before the Lord.
31. Now, I, the Lord, am not well pleased with the inhabitants of Zion, for there are idlers among them; and their children are also growing up in wickedness; they also seek not earnestly the riches of eternity, but their eyes are full of greediness.

D.& C. 88

123. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.

It seems that the Lord is taking care of everything pretty well. He is leaving us without excuse. If we don't learn these things now, we will have to learn them later, if no unclean thing can enter into the Kingdom of God. It just takes a little labor and diligence, self-respect and dignity. Let us be pure and clean. Let us adorn the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We can only love one another to the degree that we adorn the Gospel of Jesus Christ, these holy principles we have espoused. Holy angels desire to come and instruct us. Your habits, your habitations, your children all must be clean enough to welcome a man like John Taylor and Brigham Young to come and instruct you. I think that is just as true as anything.
Now I agree, brothers and sisters, that you cannot force a woman to be clean. You cannot force anyone to be anything; but leave them without excuse. Love and cherish them and raise them up in light and truth. Raise them up in right principles, and let them learn to govern themselves. Let us not try to dictate on every tiny detail of each other's lives. Let us put a mantle of charity around each other's weaknesses.

Brigham Young gave the saints continually; Jedediah M. Grant tore after the saints unmercifully. Here is a sample:

JD 3:60  Jedediah M. Grant  July 13, 1855  Provo

I would like to see the work of reformation commence, and continue until every man had to walk to the line, then we should have something like union; but you might as well cast little pebbles in the air to stay the wind as to undertake to make those walk right, pray right, and do right who are full of the devil. People must be right in their works, and be brought to know and practise their duties. You have got doctrine enough and revelation enough, and perhaps one difficulty is that you are too full of them. One doctrine which you need is to make your families, your streets, and every thing about you clean, and to prepare proper outhouses. Purify yourselves, your houses, lots, farms, and every thing around you on the right and on the left, then the Spirit of the Lord can dwell with you.

Do you suppose, when I go into a house that is filthy, that I believe that Saints of God dwell there? No, I believe that they are a filthy set of beings. Saints must practise cleanliness and purity, and show by their prayers, by all their works, and in their families, that they are reforming, and forsaking all and every kind and species of filthiness and evil practice, no matter what it is, no, not though it takes the hair off from your heads; no matter if it be high, low, rough, or smooth, the Almighty has given you a law to obey and reverence; and if you practise those doctrines which you have embraced, though all hell foam against you, by the power of God you will triumph and ask no odds of anyone.

Talk about the Saints coming up to the Church of the first born, to the state of perfection which Enoch attained; if men and women ever attain to this, they have got to be pure in all their habits, pure in their spirits as well as in their doctrines, for the Lord has told us what is right and required in those things.

We have the best code of laws and the best men to teach us there are upon the earth, therefore all that is wanted is for us to practise those lessons which are taught us by the servants of the living God, and to love God with all our hearts, and live continually in the fear of the Almighty. Then when you come to meeting, you will not hear chastisement and reproof, but you will hear the peaceable things of the kingdom, and you will hear men and women speak and sing the sweet things of the kingdom of God.

In conclusion, may that light which is in you increase till you are prepared to bask in the perfect light of God. May God bless and save you, is my prayer in the name of Jesus. Amen.

I do not want to be offensive, brothers and sisters, I just want to help. But I think it is high time some things were called to our attention. I want to do everything in my power to raise this people up in the sight of God.  The Priesthood I have is no small thing. I hope to God I am overcoming some of them little by little; and the Lord help you to do the same.

The Lord bless you. I want to help in every way I can to bless you. I want to dedicate myself to God.  God help us, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:34 January 18, 1948 Widtsoe

Widtsoe, Utah
January 18, 1948
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Be on Time; Be Awake

I, too, welcome this opportunity to meet with you again, brothers and sisters, to see your eager faces. I think we need to be a little more eager, be united with Brother Joseph Musser's attitude of being on time. In a meeting to which he is to be present, I fear and tremble to be late. We all need to be cautioned on the same thing, even in these faraway places, brothers and sisters. When a meeting is appointed for a certain time, the Spirit of God, I think, will be there at that time and His angels. Brother Joseph once expressed it, "If we are not there when they are there, they are liable to leave." If it means getting up a little earlier, I feel we better do it, or else appoint our meeting for a little later.

I have a little saying on my desk in my office: "Only that day dawns to which you are awake." Stop and think about that, brothers and sisters. We are not alive to the issues, problems, and to the appointments, and other things that are required of us. We are just not going to see the dawn of that thing in our behalf, greater things when Christ comes. The same thing applies as in this statement and brings to mind the parable of the ten virgins, five wise and five foolish. Are we going to be prepared for that day when it comes; or, in other words, are we going to be awake to it?

In order to teach us all a lesson, the superintendent of the Sunday School should be here and start it even if there is just two or three here. We are called upon to have a house of order, and being on time is in order. Unless we as the people of God seek to put things in order in our own affairs, we are not going to be awake to the day when the One Mighty and Strong comes to set in order His House. So, let us look alive, brothers and sisters. Be alive to the conditions and problems that are before us; be up and doing! I think that is one of the prime needs of our time.

I love you people. I love this work. I love those over me. I feel like I could go to the ends of the earth to do something that will be uplifting to this people. I pray God will help us to serve Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:35 March 23, 1948 SCA Funeral

Short Creek, Arizona
March 23, 1948
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Funeral of Sister Zavenda Allen Steed

My brothers and sisters, I consider this a privilege and a blessing to say a few words in behalf of this beautiful, sweet angel mother. In the covenant of marriage many of you will recall a man and wife are exhorted to multiply and replenish the earth, that they may have joy and rejoicing in the day of the Lord Jesus. Truly has Zavenda fulfilled that command with her noble husband. By their fruits ye shall know them. Look to the fruits of this dear sister -- these beautiful children. Truly can Brother Woodruff be proud of them.

I love this man and woman with a holy love. Theirs was a life of love, humility, and beauty. To all saints, brothers and sisters, I would say, "Look to your fruits, raise them up in light and truth as this woman has raised up her children." And to these beautiful children, remember the angelic example that has been set by your mother.

I feel my remarks should be very brief because there are others to be heard from. May God bless you, Brother Woodruff. May I always be worthy to be your brother.

There is one thing I have learned in this work that I never did before, and that is the love of brothers and sisters. They are those who love the Gospel of Jesus Christ as I do, and this is my sister. I am grateful and privileged to have known her and loved her. May we follow her example, brothers and sisters, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:36 October 15, 1950 SCA

Short Creek, Arizona
October 15, 1950
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Story of Samuel; Testimony

I felt like I was standing between two forces in deciding whether to dismiss or to talk. I thought I had my say yesterday morning to the brethren.

I was thinking about the remarks of Brother Hammon this morning, brothers and sisters. Possibly some of his and some of my remarks may have offended some of you. But I know, as far as Brother Hammon is concerned, right where he stands, and so do you; and he spoke the truth whether you like it or not. I was thrilled with it. He has labored many years along with the other brethren for your welfare, and he has sought and tried to improve the condition of this people. I love Brother Hammon for his forthrightness, his truth and integrity, as I love these other brethren.

I have thrilled beyond measure at the spirit that has flowed forth from the mouth of Brother Musser here today, as I know you have. I have been thrilled to be with you, brothers and sisters, to feel of your spirit and see the progress that has been made. It has been over two years since I have been in this place, because I have had no particular occasion to come here. I rejoice in the opportunity at having been here on this occasion. Brothers and sisters, I just cannot express in words to you how much the Council loves you and desires your welfare. These remarks of Brother Joseph reminded me of what Brother Joseph said to Sister Ann. She said, "When are these elements going to be tempered?" He told her as he told you today, "When the people begin to behave themselves, the elements will behave themselves." That is putting it straight to you in no less a man than Brother Joseph.

Brothers and sisters, I like to see a man who can take counsel. The Prophet Joseph Smith made the statement that you can tell the difference in a righteous and a just man in the way he takes chastisement. A wicked man will raise up in anger, etc., but a righteous man will take it and use it and improve his life and overcome. That is the kind of people we profess to be. I would like to see these things take place in our lives until the blessings that have been pronounced upon us here have come to pass to the letter. It is for us to step forth in the energies God has blessed us with, come up to the line, and that line will move forward. After we have shown we can be ruler over a few things in diligence, the Lord will make us ruler over many. That is the principle by which He operates, and that is the principle by which His servants desire to operate. Begin now, not tomorrow, not next month or next year, but now. This is the time of our salvation. Let us not procrastinate another moment, but go forth determined to serve God and clean up all that is round about us, and make our habitations pleasing unto the Lord, that His Spirit may dwell there.

I was reflecting upon the life of a great Prophet of the Old Testament. I would like you little children to listen to this story. How many of you little children have heard of Samuel? His mother was barren, a good and great woman named Hannah. She desired a son. She made a covenant with the Lord that if He would give her a son she would dedicate him to the service of God. She was given that son; she raised him up in the light of truth and righteousness. He was a good boy, and do you know where the Lord directed that he should be placed? In the temple, day and night, to help the Priest Eli. When he was a grown boy he was sleeping in the temple and he heard a voice call, "Samuel." He thought it was Eli calling him. He went to Eli, and Eli said, "No, I didn't call you." The voice came again, and again he went to Eli and he told him that he had not called him. The voice came again the third time. Then Eli said, "Samuel, if He calls again, say, 'Yes, Lord, I am here.'" He was told he was to be a great and a good man. He was raised up. Finally Eli, because of his boys, was cast out of the temple and Samuel became the great Prophet. Why is this so, brothers and sisters? A covenant was made;
his mother kept it.

If you want blessings you have got to make a covenant with God. Think now, if you desire a blessing, what can you do to obtain it? Make a special covenant that you will do such and such things, that you will overcome certain personal things, that you will treat your wives better, your children better, that you will raise them up in righteousness like Samuel of old. Brothers and sisters, you will have to take a covenant of chastity before you can raise up men like Samuel. If you want to know what that is, you can find out. That is what I mean by cleaning up our lives and purifying our lives, that we may raise up prophets and prophetesses unto the Lord. For only under those conditions can we raise up pure vessels that will bear the Spirit of God with them. Only pure vessels can bear the Spirit of God. The Spirit of God cannot dwell in impure tabernacles. The same goes with all about us.

Let us work together now in upholding the hands of the Priesthood. Whenever I think of that, I always think of the story of Moses when he held up his hands to the square and he had to hold them there for a long time in order to obtain a certain blessing, until his brethren came and they held up his hands until that blessing was realized.

Joseph Smith is an Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ in very deed. And so is Brother Joseph W. Musser, who is here today. I know it by the revelations of Jesus Christ, and I testify to it in the name of Jesus Christ; and his fellow servants in the Priesthood Council hold like office. When we know those things and appreciate them in their true light, you will begin to grow. You will not obtain the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost except you be in harmony with that power upon the earth, because it is through the holy Priesthood that the Holy Ghost comes to us. Sisters, you cannot obtain the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost without being in harmony with your husbands. And you men cannot obtain it unless you are in harmony with the Priesthood. If you are out of the way, miserable, etc., get yourselves in line and see if the fault is not in yourself instead of in those over you.

May the Lord help us to rally together to serve God and keep His commandments. The Lord says, "If ye love Me keep My commandments." Sisters, if you love your husband, keep his commandments. Brothers and sisters, if you love the servants of God, keep or follow their counsel. If you love God, serve Him with all diligence. May this be our lot, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I desire to be only an instrument in God's hands. Your faith, brothers and sisters, will never go unanswered, I promise you. But to me, faith is a principle of action. We may have certain answers to our prayers, but you would be surprised how far we must go to answer our own prayers by our faithful and obedient actions to the commandments and the admonitions of God to us.

Brother Marion on one other occasion, I am reminded, called upon this people for a greater zeal for this work. Is there a burning, a consuming desire on our part, brothers and sisters, to sustain this Priesthood that is in our midst? Is there a burning desire on the part of each of you good women to sustain the Priesthood that is held by your husbands? Is there a burning desire to unite ourselves together to be prepared for these things that Brother Johnson has promised us and is all the time telling us about?

Brothers and sisters, the time is running short and it frightens me when that realization burns itself in upon my soul. The greatest source of satisfaction, to me, is my relations with these, my brethren in the Priesthood. And I promise you, as far as I am concerned, no man or woman or set of men and women can get between us. When we all, brethren -- speaking of you who hold the Priesthood -- can learn that great lesson of the love of brethren, then we will start to get somewhere. We will have that consuming desire to serve God at all hazards, to unite ourselves with the Priesthood over us and go forward as one mighty band to accomplish the work that the One Mighty and Strong is about to do.

Are you prepared? Am I prepared to be endowed with power from on high in connection with my brethren? Are we in a fit condition, brethren, to individually put to flight a thousand, to go forward and to bind up the law and seal up the testimony? I am speaking to brethren now because of the Priesthood. But, sisters, you just don't know how much strength and support, how much you can contribute to the Priesthood held by your husband and the Priesthood over them by your obedience, by your faith and good works and by your sustaining power. It is true Heber C. Kimball made the statement, if his wives couldn't go along and be obedient and do their duty and fulfill their covenants, he could go before the bar of God without any of them. No woman and no man is going to be forced to obey and keep their covenants, but the thing I am pleading for is a consuming desire, which is faith and works, to serve God at all hazards and assist His Priesthood and become one people. You will never get anywhere without it. According to our desire, so shall it be. If we want the world, its dress, its customs, and its goods, we can certainly have them. If we want the work of God and are willing to sacrifice any and all things for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ, and knowledge of the Priesthood and how it works, we can have that, too; for God will grant us all according to our desires.

When Brother Marion was speaking of our Father Joseph, I had in my mind's eye a great meeting of Adam-ondi-Ahman when several great Patriarchs stood at the side of Father Adam, and when Father Adam was crowned, and of the other great Patriarchs and Prophets that have come on down since. To me they are near kindred. We are in the same work they accomplished. We are in the same labor of Father Adam, Michael, the Archangel, whose children we are. And Brother Joseph, how I love that name, and how I desire with all my soul to be worthy when he comes to take his place and do his work, and be worthy to go into the temples of the Most High, or in any sacred place that may be chosen by the Lord to accomplish this last great work.

Sisters, support and sustain your husbands. Learn what your covenants are and keep them. Be obedient, for we cannot get and keep the Spirit of God except upon the principle of implicit obedience to our file leaders. Let us be obedient to the Priesthood over us and unto God, drawing near to one another. The means are at our disposal, and there is no sealing, nothing that will be withheld, endowments or blessings and promises, if we will only live worthy of it.

Let us withdraw ourselves from the spirit of the world, for we are carrying two yokes. There is no greater misery than to try to carry the yoke of the world and the yoke of this Priesthood at the same time, saying in one breath, "good Lord," and another breath, "good devil." I don't know how people can continue in it. Either get in or get out. That is my disposition. Let us join together more earnestly and build up our most holy faith in the work of the Priesthood. Let us sustain the workings of Priesthood, which is the workings of the Holy Spirit, if you please. Get the Spirit of God and keep it, and we can't help but sustain and build up the Priesthood and establish it in the earth.

The mission of this people is to build up the Kingdom and establish the Priesthood of God in the earth. I tell you in the name of the Lord, this Priesthood will be established. Let us draw near to the source of our blessings and be humble and pure in our lives. And above all things, brothers and sisters, let us shun the very appearance of evil, the moral laxness that is all around us, and become pure in heart. Let us dedicate ourselves and rededicate ourselves daily. Pray often and always, that we may come unto God through His Priesthood, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:42 March 17, 1957 Hildale Funeral

Hildale, Utah
March 17, 1957
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Funeral of Ida Johnson Jessop

Though Deepening Trials

1. Though deepening trials throng your way,
   Press on, press on, ye Saints of God!
   Ere long the resurrection day
   Will spread its life and truth abroad,
   Will spread its life and truth abroad.

2. Though outward ills await us here,
   The time at longest, is not long Ere Jesus Christ will reappear,
   Surrounded by a glorious throng,
   Surrounded by a glorious throng.

3. Lift up your hearts in praise to God;
   Let your rejoicings never cease;
   Though tribulations rage abroad,
   Christ says, "In me ye shall have peace,"
   Christ says, "In me ye shall have peace."

7. All glory to his holy name,
   Who sends his faithful servants forth
To prove the nations, to proclaim
Salvation's tidings through the earth,
Salvation's tidings through the earth.

I feel honored and humble upon this occasion in being called upon to say a few words. I did not know Sister Ida very well because of her retiring and humble nature, but I only know good of her. I do know and love, and have known and loved her husband, Richard Jessop, a good many years. And having known him and knowing this good woman has stood by him a good many years, I am sure that her place is assured, knowing she stood by her husband. Her confidence was that she would obey her husband as he would obey the law of God.

What I say here would not add or detract from her reward. I want to take this occasion to give a message to her family and friends. There is not a spirit of death here, but of life and hope and understanding. These services are for the encouragement of those who remain behind. The greatest tribute that these children that Sister Ida has brought into the world and has raised, would be to live the life that she would have them live, and so that becomes a living monument. I am sure that you cannot pay her any greater tribute than to live the life that she has taught you to live. She looks on from the other side, and I am sure that she sees and will continue to see, and you should keep those things in mind.

I have laid my dear mother and father away, and I know they are watching on the other side, and I am sure they must grieve at my weaknesses. I hope to bring peace and rejoicing to their hearts, that I may be able to be reunited with them.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ was uppermost in the life of this good woman, or she would not have gone through what she has. She raised her children in the truth and in the love of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and they are following in the footsteps of their father. She deserves the very best, and I know that she will receive it according to the deeds that she has done.

Now, may the Lord bless and comfort those that are living, that they might be a living tribute to Sister Ida, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
My dear brothers and sisters and friends, we are gathered to pay our respects to the memory, the life and labors of our dear departed brother, Allen C. Zitting. There is a very fine spirit here, and I sincerely trust that the Spirit of God will actuate all that is said and done here that we may rejoice in the blessings of the Lord and in the knowledge that Brother Zitting has lived a full and complete life, though taken in his youth.

We would like to add, brothers and sisters, the fact that Henry Cochier, with whom Allen labored, as well as Mr. Jack Strong, at whose place this accident occurred, feel very keenly in the event that transpired, as it affected them, and they are doing everything they can to help him in every way they can as far as they can. If he hadn't gone on this occasion, there would have been another similar, because his time had come. He was needed on the other side. Charles must need him very badly over there.

These services have been under the direction of President Leroy S. Johnson, who will dedicate the grave. Marvin, Lorin, Carl, Gordon, Joseph and David, a multitude of brothers and sisters that were sired by President Charles F. Zitting -- a beautiful family.

I wish to send my wishes for the welfare of his family. Laura Jean knows where she is going and what she is doing. We feel to rejoice, not to be sad, in the life and labors of this noble man who has been called to another field.

The family desires to express their sincere thanks and gratitude for this large turnout. It evidences the love they had for the life of this man. They are also grateful for the funeral offerings and all who have taken part in these services. May the Lord bless us all to keep the characteristics of this fine young man alive in our hearts, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

President Richard S. Jessop will offer the benediction.
I sincerely pray for an interest in your faith and prayers tonight, brothers and sisters, that I may do just what President Johnson has said -- give you the word of God. I desire but to be an instrument in His hands for that purpose only. I rejoice in mingling with you, brothers and sisters. I rejoice more than words can tell in the blessings and the light and the fullness of the Gospel, that we have a knowledge of God and His servants in the earth. In this, brothers and sisters, we are indeed the most blessed people upon the face of the earth. And when I say that, I can't help but think of what Uncle John used to tell us: "You are the best people on the earth, but you are not good enough."

There are blessings in store for this people that we can little imagine, if we will only take this business serious enough in our daily lives. I would like to talk a little bit about that here tonight. Two weeks ago, Brother Guy told us how we might get the confidence of God, and he took one by one the attributes of God which we must get into our lives in order to obtain that confidence. They are knowledge, faith or power, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. Now it seems a rather formidable task to take these glorious attributes one by one and attain to perfection in them. Yet we must if we are to become worthy to go into the presence of God. We have got to become like Him. It would be impossible to go into His presence without the attributes which He possesses. It would be an insult to the dignity of God. We have a knowledge in the first place, brothers and sisters, of who He is. Our Father Adam, who descended from an immortal sphere, became mortal himself that we might live, that we might have the same opportunities that he had, and come back into God's presence. It is his business to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of man. What greater love can a father have than that? And he is love.

I want to call your attention tonight to the way we can attain those attributes in a simple way. The formula is simply this: We are told that the Holy Spirit is the attributes of God. What is the Holy Spirit? It is that glorious gift that was offered or given to us after we received the ordinance of baptism by the laying on of hands. That is the great secret, brothers and sisters -- this Holy Spirit. Parley P. Pratt says, "The attributes of God is His Holy Spirit." This Holy Spirit is all around us. God is omnipresent by reason of this substance called the Holy Spirit. So if we can get the Holy Spirit, brothers and sisters, we have the attributes of God. It is just that simple. Can you conceive of being taught all necessary knowledge unless you have the Holy Spirit? Can you have sufficient faith or power to go forward in fulfilling your covenants and obligations before God if you do not have the Holy Spirit? How could you help but be just and have perfect judgment and mercy, and gain a knowledge of all truth if you have the Holy Spirit?

We don't just slice up the Holy Spirit and gain a portion of it. It may be said that we have it in varying degrees, but if we have the Holy Spirit, brothers and sisters, we will step by step gradually attain those attributes of God which have been enumerated.

The scriptures speak of attaining a fullness of this Spirit, that we may become like God. Cultivate the Holy Spirit that it will be our constant companion. Having made covenants -- and I am talking to people who have made covenants; and among those covenants are that we will work in harmony and draw near to God through His servants -- we will first, then, submit ourselves to our file leaders; and then, through the power of prayer, submit ourselves to God; and in turn, that Spirit will be our companion and guide. The person who has it the most often, in the longest periods of time, and in the greatest degrees, will have the attributes of God. Isn't that a beautiful thing? I am afraid we don't think of it in that light often enough. How do we know when we have the Holy Spirit? We can tell when we have it if we have these attributes.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies,

Further:

D.& C. 9

7. Behold, you have not understood;

He failed in this thing in trying to translate the engravings which were given to him, and so the Lord had to reprimand him.

7. ...you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

That is the gift that must be cultivated, the Spirit of revelation. Joseph Smith tells us, Page 150 of the Teachings of Joseph Smith, as well as in the history that the Spirit of God is in connection with these things. You will notice an intimation of things that will shortly come to pass, and if you will cultivate that in your lives, it will be a constant source of revelation unto you. The Spirit of revelation gives us knowledge, tells us where to go and what to do, and how to do it. That was emphasized in the life of Heber C. Kimball. He was able to stand at the gate of the temple and tell people whether they were worthy to enter into that house; told people to go home and clean themselves up before they could go into that place and make covenants.

Section 93 of Doctrine and Covenants. Jesus Christ did not receive of the fullness at the first, but line upon line He obtained a fullness of the Holy Spirit. He showed how man can be perfect in their generation as He was in His.

D.& C. 93

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

Lay hold of this precious gift, this secret of life. It is the very thing that holds the earth together, the power by which the Priesthood operates, by which God operates, for God is Priesthood.

How can you hope to obtain it unless you are near to your Priesthood head here on the earth? If you sisters cannot draw near to your husbands, they cannot draw near to you; assuming, of course, that they are true and faithful. We must submit ourselves to obtain the confidence of our file leaders and of God. Seek continually to prevail with the Lord to give you the Spirit of God. Let us do nothing in our daily lives to grieve it. It will be our constant guide and companion. We should govern all things by it and through it -- our family, our wives and our children, men. This speaks on how we should do it:

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men,

We understand that charity is the pure love of Christ -- seventh chapter of Moroni.

45. ...and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Then we have a fullness of that Spirit. When we have a fullness, we have the same mind with the Father and the Son, Jesus Christ, and become joint heirs with God and Jesus Christ. Read Lecture Five and Section 93. May we get and keep this precious gift in our lives, that we may become useful and precious vessels in the attributes of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:50 September 7, 1958 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
September 7, 1958
Reported by Marjorie Holm
His Gratitude; Learn the Spirit of God; Time of Testing

This is a beautiful sight, brothers and sisters, and I am grateful to be here with you. It always brings back memories of the street meetings we used to hold in Birmingham and London and England. But what a different congregation. All we would get there was a bunch of howlers as they passed down the street. We don't know of any converts to the Gospel then. You are my brothers and sisters, my neighbors. You love the things that I love. You are the ones that the Savior referred to when He said, after first exhorting His disciples as to the first law, to love the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; the second like unto it, love thy neighbor as thyself. You are my only friends, my relatives, and I pray that I may be able to be used as an instrument in the hands of God to further this work in whatever capacity the Lord has for me to fulfill. This is a matter of life and death with me, brothers and sisters.

I have been thinking a good deal lately about my former experiences, looking back and taking inventory and asking myself if I really knew where all I spoke, and I am satisfied more than ever that I know this is the work of God. This is the authority of God upon the earth; and it is not to be found anywhere else, and this is the people of God. He may have people somewhere else and servants administering for Him, but this is His footstool and His headquarters of the Priesthood.
I was very active in the Church, too. I had every reason to stay there, as men think of themselves and their work in the earth today, you might say. I was pretty well married to some political possibilities, I suppose. I don't want to speak of personalities, brothers and sisters, but I feel like I am in a position to know both sides of this question as far as this Priesthood is concerned and this work is concerned. The greatest gift to me is to know the workings of the Holy Spirit, brothers and sisters. And when that speaks here in my heart, that is all I need. We do not need heavenly messengers to come from the other side to tell us what is right and wrong. We have been baptized, had hands laid upon us for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and that is the greatest gift of all.

Lucifer, after presenting his plan on the other side, was cast down with all his followers to establish themselves and begin their posterity. It is part of the plan of salvation that we cannot hear and be subject to the voices of evil and to the adversary who is powerful, more powerful than we know. We witness his glory all around us. It is his dominion. He is running it with great power. In those conditions we are asked to come down and work out our salvation. This is a probation, brothers and sisters, as we well know, our second estate. But the Lord has not left us comfortless or without means by which we can come back into His presence, which is a great work and glory. It is the work and glory of God to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of us, His children. How grateful and thankful we should be that we have this opportunity.

If we ever grow weary, let us remember that on the other side we sang shouts of joy for an opportunity to come here. When our time came, we were very glad, in spite of the fact that we would be subject to the powers of evil. It is indeed a lone and dreary world. So this great need of the Holy Spirit. How many of us are conscientiously seeking to know how it works? Do we know when we have it? When we speak of ourselves and not by the power of the Spirit, that is the difference between our progress and salvation in this work. To be damned is to be stopped in our progress. To be saved and exalted is to go on and progress until we come into the presence of God. The good Holy Ghost will comfort us and guide us through this veil of tears, and by that means, perfect our lives and become the same character as the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is the attributes of God with all the affections and love and characteristics of Godliness, because that is how God has become what He
The means by which we become Gods is to obtain a fullness of that Spirit. It is up to us to cultivate it and learn its workings day by day. How are we going to get it? The very first step is prayer. The next step is obedience, implicit obedience to the laws and commandments as they were revealed to us. The gift of revelation is the greatest of all gifts, for without that, we cannot know and do the will of God. As we learn the workings of this Spirit, we will attain unto its attributes of knowledge, faith, mercy, justice, judgment, and truth.

Can you imagine anyone having their beings filled with this Spirit who do not have the attributes of God? There are billions aiding Lucifer in the earth, as Brother Guy has explained to us. Once we have left neutral ground, we will never have another opportunity to get back there again. You are here on the Lord's ground or the devil's ground. Once we get on the devil's ground, it is mighty hard to get back on God's ground. The Spirit of God is the Spirit of peace, calmness, joy and love. The greatest of all the attributes of God is the attribute of love. He so loved the world, that He sent His Only Begotten Son to be the great Prototype to show us that we may live without sin as He did, with repentance and faith and receiving all the ordinances of the House of God and of the Priesthood. This should be our great desire, to prepare for these higher ordinances that God has in store.

God has His people. This is it. Individuals are going to fall by the wayside. I will never forget the prophecy my father delivered in the home of John Y. Barlow some fifteen years ago. He prophesied that very few in that little meeting would be with us very many years after. A lot of the young people are coming up. Thank God for them. They have been raised as calves in the stall. They are the hope of this work. I ask God to bless you, especially to seek the truth and hang onto it with your dear life.

We are in a time of testing. Lucifer is working in among us from within like he has never done before. He has brought the greatest kind of pressure among us. We have had factions breaking off before, and we are going to see more of it. President Joseph F. Smith told the saints back in the early days, "Is there anything that you brethren could do, that your relatives could do, or your friends, or anything that could happen in your life that could turn you away from this faith or this work? If there is anything, then you are not converted, and you need to get conviction." I have asked my family the same question. Is there anything I could do to them that would turn them away? If so, they need to be converted.

We need to get and keep the Spirit of God above all other things. I want to leave this very simple message tonight. I pray God to bless you with greater faith, greater work, greater obedience, that you desire and hunger after this work with all your heart, might, mind, and strength; that you support the authority of God here upon the earth, which is the source of every blessing you have. I plead that you will be honest with yourself, that you pay your just dues to God in tithes and offerings, and be honest with God above all. Support and strengthen the source of your blessings. I cannot conceive of anyone coming to this Priesthood for blessings and then not giving everything they have to support and sustain it.

It is the Priesthood we are seeking, and forget personalities. Your leaders are human. As Brother Joseph Smith said, "If you will not accuse me, I will not accuse you, and I will carry you into heaven as my backload." And that is what your brethren are willing to do for you. Let us put a cloak of charity around one another. When you see that your friends are devoting their all to the Kingdom of God, and that they are in the right way as far as the Priesthood is concerned, you are bound to sustain them and build them up. Forget about these little weaknesses. When you see your brother or your sister loves this work with all their might, mind, and strength, forget about their little weaknesses and build up this work with all your might, mind, and strength, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:55 December 7, 1958

[Location Unknown]
December 7, 1958
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Be Honest With the Lord; The United Order; Oneness; Storehouse

One advantage of my height -- I can see some things others can't. I have had nothing but a feeling of gratitude in my heart here tonight for my association with this people, and especially with my brethren, my fellow servants, in bearing the Priesthood of God. I appreciate their character, brothers and sisters. It is true we all have weaknesses, but, like Brother Joseph Smith said, "If you will cover my weaknesses with a cloak of charity, I will yours. If you will not accuse me, I will not accuse you." It would be a wonderful thing if we would conduct our relationships upon that plan.

Some of us are accused of dishonesty, cheating, this, that, and the other. I wonder how many of us, brothers and sisters, can be rightly accused by the Lord? I will quote a little scripture to bear it out.

3 Nephi 24

8. ...Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say: Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.

How many of us, brothers and sisters, are dishonest with God? That is an area of integrity I think we all better look into as it concerns our lives. How many of us are honest with God, let alone being honest with one another? Certainly, we should be honest with one another. One of the great examples of dishonesty I know of in holy writ was that of Ananias and his wife, who came up making an offering of consecration, or the United Order, as we call it. They held back something, and because of their lying to the Holy Ghost, God Almighty struck them dead.

Now that is just how serious this business is that I am talking about, brothers and sisters. Will a man rob God? Many of us have. But we think we should be governed by what is called the law of tithing, brothers and sisters. It would be a wonderful thing if all of us were honest in that. But do you realize that is the least part of the United Order that God will accept -- ten percent of our increase annually? In Section 119 you will find it calls for a surplus, but the very least He calls for is ten percent. I want to read you what the Lord says about the United Order, or the Law of Consecration and Stewardship:

D.& C. 82

7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

Too many of us think we can break the law and repent, and break the law and repent. If we sin again, the former sins return and it is double trouble, and whatever other portions can be reckoned with.

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.
10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

Now there is a covenant, brothers and sisters. If we enter into a covenant with God, He will keep His part; but we have got to render obedience to every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God. Too many of us think that we can do like the Book of Mormon says -- sin here a little and there a little, and if we are not careful, we will be led carefully down to hell.

14. For Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged; her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.
15. Therefore, I give unto you this commandment, that ye bind yourselves by this covenant, and it shall be done according to the laws of the Lord.
16. Behold, here is wisdom also in me for your good.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words, you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, inasmuch as his wants are just -- 18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

What is the motive for all this, brothers and sisters? I think it is the most beautiful thing in the world. Here is the greatest incentive for the people of God to be called saints:
19. Every man seeking the interest of his neighbor, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.
The highest degree of unselfishness.
20. This order I have appointed to be an everlasting order unto you, and unto your successors, inasmuch as you sin not.

Now listen to this. We will see how serious covenants are. We are talking about one of the highest laws and orders of the Priesthood of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ -- that along with plural marriage.
21. And the soul that sins against this covenant, and hardeneth his heart against it, shall be dealt with according to the laws of my church, and shall be delivered over to the buffetings of Satan until the day of redemption.

I wonder how many we have known who have been subject to that kind of penalty. Every law has a penalty as well as a blessing. That is how we should conduct ourselves.

22. And now, verily I say unto you, and this is wisdom, make unto yourselves friends with the mammon of unrighteousness, and they will not destroy you.

That sounds strange, doesn't it? -- clearly indicating we are in the world. We must obtain our living, jobs, businesses in other ways to obtain the means to sustain our families and the Priesthood of God at all times, and at the same time maintain our integrity to the Priesthood of the living God. That is the way it has to be done. Nowhere were the saints able to go in the early pioneer days but what the world came along and moved in among them, and they had to deal with them. And I guess we are in a worse plight than any of the early saints were. We are subjected to moral experiences, where they were subject to physical.

23. Leave judgment alone with me, for it is mine and I will repay. Peace be with you; my blessings continue with you.

24. For even yet the kingdom is yours, and shall be forever, if you fall not from your steadfastness. Even so. Amen.

There is a law and the blessings and penalties attached to it. Brothers and sisters, we need to be more obedient and stop treating lightly the things that God has placed in the hands of the Priesthood for our blessing and benefit.

I would like to ask you the same question Heber C. Kimball asked. He was speaking to the saints: "Where did you come from? Where did you come from if you didn't come out of this Priesthood?" It is a sickening thing to see men and women come to this Priesthood for blessings, etc., and then run off and become a law unto themselves. One of the ways they do it is in their financial affairs. What does the law say? Are we still subject to the law of the United Order, or was it taken away? I would like someone to show me where it was. I think it can be safely said, a man's and woman's loyalty to the Priesthood can be measured by their obedience to this law.

Some of the things in our private lives we may think we can cover up, but here is where we register our true faith and loyalty to the Priesthood of God.
that has given us the blessings we enjoy, and given us the opportunity to become like God, and go back into His presence. Where your heart is, there is your treasure also. That is the burden of the message I have felt to bring to you tonight. I pray it will sink into our hearts and God will sanctify it in our lives, and that we shall go forth in the order of unity.

How did the Lord Jesus Christ explain or describe this oneness? He said He was in the Father and the Father in Him. That is the same way we must be -- one with Him and with one another. This Priesthood and the love of it should be in us. And, dear wives, remember the thing that you have in this sacred order of marriage is Priesthood. That man cannot hold you save he magnifies and honors the Priesthood of the living God which he holds. We should honor that Priesthood in him, you good women should; and the brethren should honor that Priesthood which God has bestowed upon the Priesthood Council.

One other aspect of that law. The requirement is that we make an accounting to that authority over us so that we shall be kept in line, so that we will carry it out in the way this revelation tells us; that those things which we use for ourselves shall be according to our just wants and needs. All the rest should be given into the storehouse, out of which the Priesthood and Kingdom of God can use the funds to bless this people and the work of God. Now, let us be honest with one another and with the Lord and with the Priesthood which He has placed over us; and may we do this, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:60 March 1, 1959

I rejoice in being with you again tonight, both in song and hearing the word of God from the servants of the Lord. I trust that while we are here, brothers and sisters, that we come not to be seen of men, but to worship the Lord and give praise to Him for the bounteous blessings He bestows upon us from day to day, to hear His word and abide in the same. I earnestly ask for your faith
Brother Elmer Johnson mentioned a matter that I think bears repeating: "The greatest responsibility we have is to get and keep the Spirit of God." That has been the burden of the message from the Prophet Joseph to the present date. John Y. Barlow got it as a matter of special revelation to him to give to this people, and it has been repeated many, many times. That injunction is the very essence of our lives of becoming and assimilating our characters into the character of God. That is the modus operandi, if you please.

I think we can all say that on occasions we have the Spirit of God; but can we say that we keep it, that we have it all the time? I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, if we have it all the time, we will be godlike. It is just that simple. Section 93, one of my favorites -- I can't help but refer to it from time to time as it bears repeating -- gives it very plainly:

D. & C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

It is fundamental that we cannot see Him face to face unless we are like Him.

2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --

4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.
5. I was in the world and received of my Father, and the works of him were plainly manifest.
6. And John saw and bore record of the fulness of my glory, and the fulness of John's record is hereafter to be revealed.

We know He told His disciples and Apostles, "He that hath seen Me hath seen the Father." Indeed, He was Immanuel, God with us, showing us that in spite of all the contradictions and confusions that beset the human family and individuals that are trying to serve God and keep His commandments, that a man can live perfect in his sphere and live without sin. Joseph Smith did likewise. I want to read this to indicate how we get and keep the Spirit of God:

7. And he bore record, saying: I saw his glory, that he was in the beginning, before the world was;
8. Therefore, in the beginning the Word was, for he was the Word, even the messenger of salvation --
9. The light and the Redeemer of the world; the Spirit of truth, who came into the world, because the world was made by him, and in him was the life of men and the light of men.
10. The worlds were made by him; men were made by him; all things were made by him, and through him, and of him.
11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.
12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at first, but received grace for grace;
13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;
14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.
15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.
16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;
17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.
18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.
19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

The thing we have to learn is that we learn the workings of the Holy Spirit, which is the attributes of God. We must learn to know when we have it and when we lose it. Surely, we have arrived at that point, and it should be so much a part of us that we are very miserable without it; and we must make amends until we have it. We must grow line upon line and precept upon precept until we obtain a fullness of it.

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

There is the process, brothers and sisters. We cannot be saved and exalted unless we get it by this process. We know what grieves it and causes it to leave. As children of our Father, we are called upon to draw near unto Him, and then He will draw near unto us.

Brethren, we cannot get and keep the Spirit of God if we are living in disobedience, if we are not fulfilling and keeping our covenants in tune and in harmony with the Priesthood that stands over us. Have you ever been out of the way of the Priesthood, critical of it, and had the Spirit of God? Wives, have you ever been out of the way of your husbands, critical of him all the day long, and had the Spirit of God? It is impossible. They are everyday affairs, but it is so important. Unless we are careful, we will go into apostasy.

The song we sang tonight calls for a band of saints living in unity. Unless you are in tune with that power and authority which stands over you, you cannot have it. The principle of the holy Priesthood -- God will have it honored. I assume, of course, that men in the Priesthood, who stand over us, are keeping their covenants and in the way of the Lord, doing their duties. In spite of all our weaknesses and imperfections, when we see they are trying to keep the commandments of God, we are bound at the peril of the loss of this precious gift, to stand and walk in obedience to that authority which God has placed over us, the true and legitimate authority.

I am afraid too many of us don't understand Priesthood. On that door turns the door of salvation. When people leave this work, it is because they do not follow and keep the commandments of the Priesthood. Priesthood is God. Priesthood is called "the Priesthood after the order of the Son of God." Do we realize that, brethren? Do you sisters understand that is the power that keeps you with your husbands, that enables you all to work together as the saints of God, to become one in Him and joint heirs with Jesus Christ, after we have become like Him? We will never become like Him except we understand the power which He operates with, the Holy Spirit. If it isn't done by the Holy Spirit, it isn't done. All these things we see very beautifully tied together in relationship with one another. If we could keep these things in our mind whenever we feel we have lost the Spirit of God -- peace, joy, love, and understanding -- we will never rest until we get it back; and live until it becomes a constant source of revelation. We cannot be saved without it. A man cannot direct his family without it. A woman cannot raise her children without it. If we are going to raise our children as calves in the stall, we must get this Spirit and keep it. When we get it daily, hourly, all of the time, then we will be in like condition as Heber C. Kimball, when he was able to receive revelation almost constantly for his direction. He earned the right, if he were about to fall, the Lord would take him -- a man as close to Joseph Smith as anyone, a man without blemish. If we only knew it, we have some among us.

The Priesthood which stands over us today is God with us, because they bear the holy Priesthood. Let us honor the Priesthood, sustain one another in this glorious work, and bring it to a glorious conclusion, and be a prepared people that the Lord can use. The time is drawing short. Let us settle down now to get and keep the Spirit of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:64 March 8, 1959 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
March 8, 1959
Reported by Marjorie Holm Humility; Pray Always;
Faith Is Exertion Through Words;
Testimony of President Johnson

I am grateful to be here again with you, brothers and sisters, and desire again an interest in your faith and prayers.

The thing that has been going through my mind tonight is bound up in the word "humility". In the Book of Mormon we read that God has given us weaknesses that we might be made strong. And how do we become strong by these weaknesses? By overcoming them. I know my weaknesses bear me down more than anything, and I know I need, as I know we all need, to become more humble before the Lord. The Lord has always taken the weak and the humble things to do His work. We are certainly a poor people and, you might say, an insignificant people. But if we will humble ourselves and be more prayerful, I know we will then be able to generate sufficient faith and be able to be used as God wants to use us, and be that people which shall be the nucleus of the great Millennium.

Joseph Smith was the most humble of all, next to the Lord Jesus Christ. He said, "He who would be greatest, let him be the servant of all;" and He was, and He was raised and exalted above all. He bought us through the price of atonement and the shedding of His blood. We are His, brothers and sisters. All things must be done in His name and by virtue of His power. The very Priesthood we bear is the Priesthood after the order of the Son of God.

"I Need Thee Every Hour," we sang here tonight, and certainly we do. As we draw near unto Him and through Him to our Father in heaven, He will draw near unto us. That is the process. It is for the lesser to draw nearer to the greater -- the authority over us. That authority and power can draw near unto us; and so we will be blessed beyond measure. The only way we will be able to obtain sufficient humble strength is by prayer. Pray always! The greatest energy that can be produced is through prayer, or faith.

The last Lecture on Faith is: "Faith is the exercise of the spirit through words," both secret, vocal in public, before our families. Brethren, we should get our families to pray more; then we can draw nearer together as families, and then as a people. We do not pray enough. You notice through the power of words that all the great miracles and works that have been performed, through words, prayer, and the exercise of the holy Priesthood. Elijah commanded, and the sun stood still. It was through prayer, through words. Someday we are going to understand the language of Adam, when words will have even greater power. Goodness knows it is hard to express ourselves in this faulty English language. But when we are worthy, we will have the Adamic language.

I want to bear my testimony here tonight. I am grateful for all the Lord has given me, the knowledge and the understanding I have of Him and of the Godhead which has been revealed to me. This is the most precious knowledge that I have. I cannot express it in the English language. I know that Adam is my Father and God, and He suffered and came upon the earth that we might be, that I might be. I know that Jesus Christ is the Son of the living God and that both of them have been revealed to the Prophet Joseph Smith in this day; and that He is God, the Witness and Testator -- Joseph Smith, the Prophet. They are laboring for our good.

I know the Priesthood of God is here today. President Johnson is worthy of all the confidence we can muster and bestow upon him. Why? For our own good. If you want to proceed in this work, brethren, draw near to the authority that stands over you, for God will be honored and sustained. God does not need us particularly, but we need Him. Certainly, He needs a people and He is going to have one. But they are going to be a tried people, believe me.

I sincerely pray we will humble ourselves before the Lord; sustain the leadership He has given us. Be more cognizant of the power of the Priesthood, daily, hourly. Let us draw near to God and be God's people, that we may be able to be used in the building up of His Kingdom, that we may grow in understanding and come into His presence, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:67  April 19, 1959  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 19, 1959
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Three Steps to Apostasy;
Pray in a Time of Darkness; Cleanliness

I wonder how many of us, brothers and sisters, paid attention to that song we just sang of being critical of the mote in others while we have a beam in our own eye. How many of us are complaining and murmuring? I was just reading in the Journal here tonight from Heber C. Kimball, how he scolded the Latter-day Saints in his day for their murmuring and complaining and speaking against the brethren. Brothers and sisters, one of the first steps toward losing the Spirit of God and getting out of line is to have a complaining spirit, a murmuring spirit. It will lead them to undue criticism of others and especially of those who preside over us and lead us, and before long we are launched into the three steps of apostasy: 1) We begin to avoid those to whom we are amenable. 2) Then we begin to accuse. And finally, 3) Betrayal and apostasy is complete. The Latter-day Saints, particularly those who bear the holy Priesthood, have had to suffer most of all from apostates -- those who have been in the bosom of the brethren and have turned traitor -- and with such, God has no part; and He will not have any part with us if we begin to engage in this kind of spirit, brothers and sisters. If we would only have the kind of charity that is spoken of in this song, realizing we have more faults than we are picking out in others, I think we will begin to love one another more.

I had in mind as I came to meeting tonight to let Jedediah M. Grant talk to those here tonight, and I think I will. He said some things here that are very applicable to us in our day, and I think it might be well to present them from his light. He said this October 12, 1856. By the end of that year he was dead. He had gone to his rest after having died with his boots on. He gave up his life in fighting for a reformation among the saints, laboring day and night to bring the saints to a reformation and a change in their lives in less than ten years after they had come across the plains, and, as they supposed, sacrificed so much. Imagine having to be called upon to reform.

I am glad this morning to hear from brother Daniel Spencer, and to learn that he feels that the Lord has blest the people in this land, as well as in the land where he has been sojourning for a time.

I do not and have not felt that I need a mission to a foreign land for the purpose of causing me to understand myself, or to fill me with the Holy Ghost, or to prepare me to be useful in this land; neither have I felt I needed to go to the United States or any other part of the world to put on the Gospel armor. I feel it to be necessary that I should wear that armor here, and if I ever have had it on, I feel that I have had it on in this land; and I do not deem it necessary for many men to cross the ocean to get the Holy Ghost, or to enjoy the power of God. If they will do the will of God in this land, they will see their situation and be filled with His power from the crown of their heads to the soles of their feet; I believe that if the Saints were to have more religion in their own homes they would be better off.
How many of us are asking to be set apart and to be heard? There is one person we need to put in order, and that is ourselves. I think the Lord had that in mind when He said, "If you labor all the days of your life and convert only one person to the Gospel of Jesus Christ, how great shall be your reward." If we are right and have the Holy Ghost, especially heads of families, then all is right, and others will be led to follow; that is, if they want to work.

Were I thirsty and could go to a spring or lake whose water was pure and clear as crystal, even the best that could be found, I should have no occasion for going to another and more distant place to procure water. And if I should find ice there, should I say it was too much trouble to break it? No, but I should labor to break that ice; and the thicker the ice, the more persevering I should labor, until I got some of the water of the crystal fountain.

Where is the fountain, brothers and sisters? It is right here -- the Priesthood of God.

While paying attention to the prayers of some persons in their family devotions, I sometimes notice that they often stop praying without breaking through the darkness and obtaining the Holy Spirit. If I found that it was necessary to pray three hours I would keep praying for that length of time, or until I got the Spirit, unless I remembered that I had neglected a special duty, when I would go and attend to that duty; after which I should want to return and pray until I got the Holy Ghost; I would keep praying until I broke the ice and obtained the Holy Ghost.

Some think that they have already labored enough to obtain heaven. Such persons put me in mind of Sydney Rigdon, who said that he had suffered enough to obtain salvation. He said that the sufferings of Jesus Christ were light in comparison with what he had endured, and he would be damned to hell if he would suffer any more.

Imagine such a thing!

I notice that some who gather here feel like they have already suffered enough, and say, "I will be damned to hell if I will suffer any more."

Many of those who have come with hand-carts think that they have done wonders, therefore they want every hat hoisted in deference to them, and every meal bag gratuitously opened; and they want every body to feed, clothe, and lodge them, and find them every thing they need, because they have dragged a hand-cart across the Plains.

You deserve credit for what you have done, but I make this observation that you may know that you have not yet got into the harbor of eternal life; and that you may not think that you have not anything to do now that you have come here, for, unless you keep on the armor, you will be overcome.

We want people that have come here with their Gospel armor on to keep it on, that they may shed abroad the light of God, and the gift of the Holy Ghost. We have given the same instructions to Elders that have returned, and we want every class of men and women in this Church to keep on the Gospel armor.

It brings to mind a thought, brothers and sisters. Just what sacrifice have we made for this work? What have these people sacrificed in crossing the plains and pulling a handcart over? Who gained? Did they lose anything? Where is the sacrifice, I ask you? Your sacrifices have all served to gain you your salvation, to give you knowledge, light, and understanding, and to further you in the work of God, and you shouldn't count them sacrifices at all. They are blessings. When we start getting puffed up about what we have given up and sacrificed and what we go through for this work, we need to repent.  We need to offer up in sacrifice all we have of this world's goods -- fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters, lands, children, etc.  If we don't, we will not obtain the faith sufficient to produce life and salvation in our lives.  Blessed is he who endureth to the end.

I want to say to every institution in our midst, whether the talent they have is under the supervision of eight, ten, or twelve men, we wish you to manifest that you have the Holy Ghost for your guidance, and then to go to work and convert Great Salt Lake City.

May we just have that, and we say go to work and convert yourselves.

I want you to try your skill and the power of God upon this city, and exert yourselves through your Wards, under the direction of the Bishops, that you may be the means of filling the people with the Holy Ghost, and in order that you may have power and discretion to act wisely, see that you have the light of heaven in your own hearts.

Many talk of their visions, revelations, and mighty works; but we have to have minds and men that think, and have wisdom in all their ways. It is for us to occupy our minds and direct our labors in the proper channel, and to use our talents and intellects as the head shall direct.

There is a drought and has been; the people have felt too much like putting their temporal affairs first, and then attending to the spiritual at their leisure.

So much do many act upon this principle that their intellectual faculties become dark, they do not get in to the light of the Lord Jesus Christ and of the gift of the Holy Ghost, of the light of eternity; but their temporal matters are first and foremost. If they have a gewgaw, they take great pleasure in going round to exhibit it, and they will borrow beads, rings, watches, and all kinds of gewgaws to gratify the pride of their hearts. Such hearts are not right before God, and such conduct must be done away from among the Latter-day Saints.

I will now mention another thing; some will ask you three dollars a day for common labor, and others will not lift a pick, shovel, or ax, short of two dollars a day; and they have left the best situations in the Territory and have gone to Provo and other places, because they could get but $1.50 a day. They are our hand-cart men who are acting so. This proves that they came here for the loaves and fishes. They will tell you that they have learned to draw the hand-carts, and now they expect the highest wages.

I want to notify all Saints, whether they came with hand-carts, horses, mules, or oxen, wagons, carriages, or wheelbarrows, that in this land we wish you to keep the commandments of God, and when you have food, raiment, and shelter, be satisfied and don't be greedy. Do not expect to get as many comforts around you the first year, as men have got in many years by hard labor and toil. Remember that some of us came here in 1847, with scarcely anything, and we have had to toil assiduously to accumulate what we have. Do not you the first year, month, or week, covet every thing that you see; do not covet every man's house and business, but seek the blessings of the Lord God of Israel, and bring up your temporal matters in their place and season.

I will explain what I mean by place and season. Go to different parts of the Territory and advance the people in their religion, make them humble and faithful so that the Spirit of the Lord shall govern them, till all shall be sweetened in their minds and be united as one, till they shall see eye to eye, and hear ear to ear, and if they do not keep up their temporal affairs, they will fall right back. A man that advances in spiritual and in temporal matters at the same time, minding to keep the spiritual first, will not let the temporal lead him; he will not place his heart upon his farm, his horses, or any possession that he has. He will place his desires in heaven, and will anchor his hope in that eternal soil; and his temporal affairs will come up as he advances in the knowledge of God.

The temporal will keep pace as the spiritual advances. I do not believe that a man who is full of the Holy Ghost is going to live contentedly in a hog pen, in filth and in dirt, when it is in his power to prevent it. Go through our city and you will find some who are living in dirt and degradation; some who like dirt, who like to have their cow in the house and their chickens in the buttery; who like to have their pigs and children near enough for them to feed together; and their children are as naughty and filthy as they can be. And yet such persons think they have the Spirit and power of God! This is one reason why so many people die, while journeying to this place; it is because the Holy Ghost is sick of them.

If you want the Holy Ghost, keep yourselves clean. I know that some think, when they get here, "O, we are in Zion, everything is right; there is no use in washing our children or combing their hair." I want you to understand that we wish you to be clean outside as well as inside; we want you to be clean and pure; to be good natured and possessed of every qualification requisite in a Saint of God; to have everything that can bring the light and gift of God among you.

I want the people to be pure in their words, in their deeds, in their spirits, and to be diligent in their prayers. I want men that come in from Europe, and from different parts of the United States, to purify themselves and go to with their might to work righteousness. I want the returned missionaries to know that if they have been out preaching the Gospel, we also want them to go to work now they have come home.

I want every one to understand that we have plenty of grunters, plenty of those who are made up of whining. Yes, we have more of those instruments to play upon than we have any use for.

We want you all to keep the light of our God. And we want to see the spirit of reformation in the people; we wish them to have it in practice in their houses; not only to talk about it, but to practise upon it.

The difficulty is that we cannot get the people to practise; they will listen as to a fine sermon, and we can get them to work in the kanyons and in the fields, and to do many other things; but there are too many who like intoxicating drinks, tobacco, filth, dirt, and meanness. Some like to break the Sabbath, to brand another's ox, which they find on the range, and to occasionally steal a little; there are some here who will steal, when they have an opportunity.

I wish to inform the new comers that if they want to find the finest and best men in the world, they are here; and if they want to find the meanest, most pusillanimous curses that the world can produce, we have them here. We have here some of the most miserable curses that ever the Almighty frowned upon, for it takes an apostate "Mormon" to be a mean devil. We want you to have eyes to see; we do not want you to see merely what is in the books you have read, in your mathematics and your philosophy, but want you to have in you the Holy Ghost, to be full of the spirit of the Lord Jesus.

We have Elders who are fine speakers, fine orators, and who wish to talk very properly after the manner of the world. They did so in Europe, and they want to do so here; they want to preach those old sermons over, those that they have been accustomed to preach in the old world. But we want Elders to get up and preach as the Holy Ghost shall dictate; we do not want any of your long, prosy sermons; we prefer the word of life by the power of the Spirit.

I desire to see men reform in their acts, and not say "let our neighbors be converted," but let them say, in the name of Israel's God, "the reformation shall be carried into our houses, to our children, and we will take it home with us, and will gird on our armor, and go ahead in the cause of God," for this is what we are sent here for.

May God grant that you may all strive to work righteousness, in the name of Jesus. Amen.

RTJ 1:74 May 17, 1959 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
I am grateful to be amidst this congregation tonight and mingle my voice with yours in song and word. I pray that while I stand here the Spirit of God shall direct my remarks. I have nothing but a feeling of gratitude in my heart tonight for the blessings of God upon me. I do not feel to boast in my blessings, but to acknowledge His hand. I feel blessed above all other men that I have the love and confidence and association of these, my brethren in the Priesthood. My obligations, my covenants in the Priesthood are above and beyond all else in life. I know this to be true, and I know that in keeping those obligations and covenants, all other things will be added. Sisters, I cannot help but say again, I hope and pray that you are grateful to the Lord that you are sealed to a good man bearing the holy Priesthood. Such men are more precious than fine gold. Such men are those that I love; those who love the Priesthood and the doctrines of the Priesthood I love above all others in this earth.

Brothers and sisters, I dare say that the degree of faithfulness of all of us -- men, women, and children -- is going to depend and always has depended on our understanding of Priesthood. I find that that is the turning point in the lives of all I have observed in this work. Those who make the greatest progress are those who understand and render obedience to Priesthood, which is God. Why, bless your souls, brothers and sisters, do you know if there was not a man bearing the holy Priesthood upon this earth, it would begin to disintegrate? That is how important it is; it would begin to disintegrate. Never, from the very beginning since Adam, our Father and God, came upon this earth has it been without a man or men bearing this power and authority. That is why it is able to go on. It was organized, it was created to fulfill a Celestial existence. God has set up His Priesthood to accomplish that. From the time that the Savior and Apostles were taken from the earth down to the time of Joseph Smith, there was Priesthood here in the persons of John the Beloved, who did not taste death, and also, the Three Nephites. And they have missions in their various spheres of action -- John the Beloved to the Ten Lost Tribes. All parts of the earth are being administered to by Priesthood.

I would like to draw to your attention why Priesthood is so important in our lives. The power of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Spirit. They are inseparably connected. Priesthood is not exercised or administered, its administrations are not effective, except by and through the power of the Holy Ghost. Do you begin to understand what Heber C. Kimball said: "How are you going to get the Spirit of God except it be through us?" Through the Apostleship, was what he was talking about. I would commend to you reading a sermon in the first volume of the Journals of Discourses, in which Brigham Young spoke of the cornerstones of the temple in 1856. In this sermon he points out that holy Apostleship circumscribes all other authority in the earth.

How grateful we should be, brothers and sisters, that we are numbered among those who have felt to subscribe to the laws and doctrines of the holy Priesthood. Are you praying every day? If you are not, you should, that you might sustain this Priesthood. I am talking about the principles of Priesthood. Whether we like it or not, God has imposed in the person of Leroy S. Johnson the keys of that Priesthood here upon the earth, and he is the mouthpiece of God. Of all the billions upon this earth, how grateful we should be that we are numbered among those who come under the influence and direction and the benign power of that holy Priesthood. It should govern us in all our affairs. When we think of our relations with one another, in our families, from beginning to end, it should be in terms of Priesthood. I promise you, if you keep that in mind, you will begin to find joy and happiness in your relationships, if you do not have it now. Remember, in obeying Priesthood, you are obeying God. It is just that simple, for Priesthood is God.

I think it would bear repeating to read from Section 121 now. Because we bear the holy Priesthood, brethren, we need not suppose that is all there is to it. The great thing is to magnify it and sustain it. You wives share in the blessings of that Priesthood. You share in it jointly with your husbands, and when he is away, remember you have the right to lay on hands and bless in the name of Jesus Christ, but not by virtue of the Priesthood. But bear in mind, you share its blessings with your husbands, and it is up to you to magnify it in your life, sisters. And that is the way to do it.

D. & C. 121
34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?
35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson --
36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.

37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins; or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

Now that looks like it is a pretty sensitive situation, doesn't it? To exercise it in righteousness means to assimilate our characters into the character of God, so that we may exercise it as God would exercise it.

Sisters, can't you feel to sustain and uphold your husband because of his bearing that authority in Priesthood? Brethren, can't we sustain this Priesthood because of their holding the Apostleship over us? By exercising it in righteousness in our families, especially, it sustains us. All of us are subject to some Priesthood. None are exempt -- men, women and children.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.

What a fearful thing, when a man has had the authority of the Priesthood, to become a law unto himself, then turning altogether therefrom and find himself fighting against God. What a terrible condition. It is so easy for a man to get into that condition if he is not careful. He does not know he is turning against it, sometimes, because of his selfishness and pride and vain ambition.

39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.

40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

Because we bear that Priesthood, brethren, does not mean that we can exercise unrighteous dominion. I say again, we must govern as God, and that means to have His attributes in the exercise of that Priesthood -- Faith, knowledge, justice, judgment, mercy and truth. It must be exercised by virtue of those attributes; and let me add above all those, love. God is love. We will read a little about that here:

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

You see, those attributes of God are enumerated. I would suggest this be copied and placed on our mirrors when we look at ourselves each day; help us to do our job a little bit better.

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

Righteous indignation, yes, but not anger. It should be dealt with promptly. But notice how love takes its place again:

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

After reproving them, go to them and put your arm around them and tell them you chastise them for their good, because you love them, because you love that child, because you love that good wife. That is a beautiful thing.

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

What a beautiful thing it is to see a faithful and a true man or woman all through the years of their lives. That is why I look upon elderly people, like Brother Johnson, Aunt Susie, Aunt Josephine, and the rest that have been faithful and true all the days of their lives. When you see people falling off by the wayside, you can marvel when we have in our company such personages. Now the capstone of this beautiful dissertation:

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

The doctrines of the Priesthood shall distill upon thy soul as the dews from heaven. Unless we understand Priesthood, we will not understand the doctrines of the Priesthood.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

I cannot think of another scripture, brothers and sisters, that would help us to govern and direct our lives daily more than this, because in it we find the attributes of God expressed and the means by which it is expressed under the power and authority of the holy Priesthood; because only through this Priesthood can we get the Holy Ghost, that it will be our constant companion.

May this be a part of our lives, that we may perfect ourselves in our generations and become that prepared people that President Johnson desires so much. That is the burden of his life, his mission, to prepare a people. How many will stand? May we be among the faithful, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:80 July 5, 1959 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 5, 1959
Reported by Marjorie Holm
A Prayer

Our Father in heaven, at the close of this interview, we feel to thank Thee for the spirit that has been here -- Thy Spirit. It has taught us, and we pray we may receive the same, that we may put these things into our lives through strict obedience, and go forth more perfectly to keep Thy commandments.

Bless us, Father, that we may become united as a people and become useful in Thy hands in accomplishing Thy purposes in the earth.

Forgive us of our shortcomings and weaknesses. Give us the gift of repentance. Give us the gift of faith that we may follow these instructions to Thy name's honor and glory.

We humbly dedicate ourselves unto Thee at this time, and pray for Thy Spirit to be with us as we return to our homes. Help us and teach us to pray that we may have faith in our prayers and draw near unto Thee and serve Thee all the day long, that Thy Spirit may be our constant guide and companion, we pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:80  August 16, 1959  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 16, 1959
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Ingratitude and Treating Lightly the Priesthood; Prepare Today

Brothers and sisters, President Johnson has asked me to conduct this meeting. I sincerely trust that we have come with a desire to improve our lives and get instruction, and profit thereby.

* * * * *

Brothers and sisters, I have been deeply touched. If this people has not been pricked in their hearts today, God help you. We are asleep indeed if we have not been, and we are the victims of mental, spiritual, and physical laziness; and I am afraid that is the trouble. I think one of the greatest sins that can be laid to our charge is the sin of ingratitude, let alone treating lightly the things of God. The Lord has said He is displeased with none except those that do not acknowledge His hand in all things. How little do we realize how blessed we are, walking in this lone and dreary world as we are, in the midst of sin and temptation and the powers of the evil one; how we are blessed and sustained hour by hour, day by day; and what our lot would be if it were no so.

I would like to call our attention here, brothers and sisters, for a few moments to something I don't think we think enough of.

TPJS Page 322

\textit{What was the power of Melchizedek? 'Twas not the Priesthood of Aaron which administers in outward ordinances, and the offering of sacrifices. Those holding the fulness of the Melchizedek Priesthood are kings and priests of the Most High God, holding the keys of power and blessings. In fact, that Priesthood is a perfect law of theocracy, and stands as God to give laws to the people, administering endless lives to the sons and daughters of Adam.}
Abraham says to Melchizedek, I believe all that thou hast taught me concerning the priesthood and the coming of the Son of Man; so Melchizedek ordained Abraham and sent him away. Abraham rejoiced, saying, Now I have a priesthood.

Do you believe this, brothers and sisters? This Priesthood, brothers and sisters, is that we might have our calling and election made sure.

Salvation could not come to the world without the mediation of Jesus Christ.

How shall God come to the rescue of this generation? He will send Elijah the prophet. The law revealed to Moses in Horeb never was revealed to the children of Israel as a nation. Elijah shall reveal the covenants to seal the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the children to the fathers.

The anointing and sealing is to be called, elected and made sure. "Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually." The Melchizedek Priesthood holds the right from the eternal God, and not by descent from father and mother; and that priesthood is as eternal as God Himself, having neither beginning of days nor end of life.

That is what, my brothers and sisters, we are needing in this work. Talk about treating lightly the things of God! Talk about ingratitude! The Priesthood being held by heads of families is not thought enough of, let alone those that hold the Priesthood over this work.

We have available the gifts of the Holy Ghost. Are we grateful for that? I don't think we are, or we would be using them -- the gift of faith, the gift of repentance, the gift of discernment, the gift of revelation.

I pray, brothers and sisters, we will indeed be pricked and do something about it, like President Johnson says, and go to work this next two weeks, not next month or next year, but today, not tomorrow. We should rise up in the power of the Almighty God and be such a people that God can use. He has waited so many years to redeem Zion and to continue His work, bringing to pass the immortality and eternal life of us, His children; for He so loved us that He gave His Only Begotten Son. He sent Joseph Smith to suffer and to teach us, and He sent others with that legitimate authority. Thank God every day of our lives for these teachings. Let us live to become useful to our Priesthood head, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:83 December 17, 1959 Canada

Canada
December 17, 1959
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Spirit of Revelation; Faith

After being absent for some time, I am enjoying the Spirit of the Lord here with you. "Sweet is the Work" is one of my favorite songs. The work we have is to bring to pass the eternal life of man. Don't think for a minute that President Johnson isn't yearning over you all the time. I understand he gets along on 3 or 4 hours of sleep a night and it is probably because he is anxious for the sheep of the fold. Our anxiety should be for him, and we should pray for his welfare. I think most of us are mentally and spiritually lazy. I want to read what Oliver Cowdery gave on this score. The Lord gave him the privilege of helping write the translating of plates. He had asked for the privilege and the Lord told him:

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

This is the Spirit of revelation, but he failed; and in the next Section the Lord tells him why. It is one of the greatest lessons we need to learn.

D.& C. 9

3. Be patient, my son, for it is wisdom in me, and it is not expedient that you should translate at this present time.
4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.

5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.
6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.
8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.
9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

Now the key to this matter is that we take no thought except it is to ask. We need to study. We are told in Lecture Seven in the Lectures on Faith that we need to exercise the mind to obtain faith to lay hold of these blessings. We need to try with our might, mind, and strength to show God our sight is right and then ask for these blessings. One of the first blessings we want is the Spirit of God. We need to labor diligently to know how to get and keep the Spirit of God.

Can we say we are more efficient now to do that than we were a year ago? We want Him to be our constant guide and companion, not for just a little while. Until we can have His Spirit to be our constant guide and companion we will not be able to assimilate ourselves into His character.

Lecture Five
2. ...it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by Him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one;

Jesus suffered more than man because He had more capacity. But in our capacity we will pay the same price. By the means of the Spirit of God, Jesus attained all the attributes of God the Father, and They were one.

2. ...the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father,

This Holy Spirit emanates from the Father, and is the attributes of God; and if we can lay hold of it we will have the attributes of God. It revolves down to this plain and simple fact that we get and keep the Spirit of God -- it must be through your file leader -- and you sisters must get it from your husband if he is in unity with his file leader.

2. ...which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

All of this through the Spirit of God. Now brothers and sisters, we worship God, not only because He is our Father, but because He has this perfection. Aren't we prone to love these same attributes in a man who is becoming like God? Joseph Smith was loved because he became like God. May God help us to do this, amen.

RTJ 1:86 1960's Canada
I have sort of come down with the flu on this trip and do not feel too good, but I do feel good in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I feel wonderful in my associations with my brethren and in the enjoyment of the blessings of God to me, which I humbly acknowledge. I am grateful for the light and knowledge that has come through my natural father and the fathers in the Priesthood. I am grateful for the Priesthood itself. I am grateful for life, health, and strength. I am grateful to be associated with my brethren in this glorious work. I know that it is true. I know as I live that God is behind this work. I know that Leroy S. Johnson represents the Lord on the earth, and that his Council and this order of the holy Priesthood has been restored and is now with us, with this people; and how lightly we treat these things, brothers and sisters. This is the sad part of it, how lightly we treat them. The Lord will not be mocked, and His purposes shall come to pass as surely as they are spoken by revelation through His servants, the Prophets.

The time is growing short, brothers and sisters, for us to repent, to order our lives, reorder our lives and set them in order if we are going to be used in this great cause of God. Destrucions and judgments are fast coming upon the world, and the saints will hardly escape, for they shall begin at the House of God. Have you ever thought of this, brothers and sisters? The judgments of God shall begin at the House of God. The Priesthood, the Church, and the Kingdom all have to be set in order by the One Mighty and Strong, whose right it is, and under the direction of the Holy One of Israel to set these things in order.

Now, are we going to be in a condition, individually, brothers and sisters, to be set in order? I should not say that in the future tense at all. The fact is, we should have done this long since. Brother Jessop was quoting the admonition of Lorin Woolley when someone was asking what was required, what could they do to further the work. He said, "All God requires of you is to set yourselves and your families in order." Do we have work to do, brothers and sisters? There is too much of aspiring men coming with their own designing plans into it, and then go sorrowing because it has not been adopted. You have seen it time and again. There is too much pride, envy, jealousy among brethren as well as sisters. All of these things that God hates, there is too much of it among us, and this is what is holding us back.

Now, brothers and sisters, we all have our weaknesses, and what a wonderful thing it would be if we would stop this backbiting, the spirit of criticism of one another, especially, sowing seeds of discord among brethren. If we would only unite ourselves with our head. You sisters, you want to be one with another of your sister wives. The only way you can do it is to become one yourself, individually, with your husband. Let the other wife do the same, and all of you then will be one in the true sense of the word. Your houses will be in order. It does not do for a group of sisters to get together and say, "I am going to be one with you, sister," go off and pray together and act together, when at the same time you are not one with your husband; but each one, individually, be one with her husband like a wheel. He is the hub, you are the spokes, the holy Priesthood is the rim upon which it turns. Then we would have a house of order, a house of God, growing along in the progress of the Gospel of Jesus Christ to become one with our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, as He is one with God. This is how the Lord prayed for His disciples, His Apostles, that they would be one. Unless we are one, brothers and sisters, we cannot be His. Let me read something that we have no doubt heard and read many times. But I feel, brothers and sisters, we need to have these things brought again to our attention.

The Lord, speaking of the Comforter, the First Comforter, is the Holy Ghost, which God has, through His servant, admonished the saints from time to time and continually to get and keep and never be without. Without this, all things are in vain. All things must be done by this Spirit and power, having received the gift of it by the laying on of hands. The brethren, having been ordained to the High Priesthood, the Melchizedek Priesthood, the power of that Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, and a man cannot govern his family without it. A man cannot conduct his affairs in the Kingdom without it. Otherwise it was not done.

Now, we are, as I say, weak beings. We are not without fault, each and every one of us, and we should distinguish our relationships one with another between weaknesses and sin, and stop judging one another. Is your calling and election made sure? Is your exaltation assured? If it isn't, we have need to repent, and we had better be careful how we speak of other men and women. If your calling and election were made sure, you could be very sure you would not be even doing it then; you would not have the right. If your calling and election were made sure, you would have the visitation of the Savior, and you would not be permitted to tell it. So of what have we to boast, brothers and sisters? But let us go on and make our calling and election sure, and here is the modus operandi:

TPJS Page 150

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation. After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God, He covers the whole ground here.

...and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted.

When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints,

And then he quotes the Lord Jesus Christ:

"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;

"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. * * *

"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me:

None other.

"21. ...and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

After all of these other things have been done.

"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

RTJ 1:89 1960's Canada
Brothers and sisters, men should not love a woman any more than she graces the Gospel of Christ, nor men put their trust in other men except they grace the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Can you see the perfect love that can be generated through this means? The true love of Christ, this is charity, this is love. And only through this means can we have our calling and election made sure, through perfect love, perfect faith, unending hope -- faith, hope, and love.

Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions -- Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.

Then he goes back again and tells us how -- through the Spirit of revelation we may obtain unto this thing.

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

Now, in our relations with one another, brothers and sisters, let us stop this spirit of criticism and judgment of one another. I think this is holding us back as a people more than any other thing. It is amiss among us. Let us love one another because we love the Gospel of Jesus Christ and desire with all our heart to live it and abide every law and principle and ordinance thereof. Let us rejoice together in these things.
What is the final touchstone and the great judgment on which we shall be judged? It will be on the basis of loyalty to the holy Priesthood, which is loyalty to God. I am speaking of this order of the Priesthood represented by President Johnson and his Council. That is why the brethren are required to establish their oneness for this work through this means, through President Johnson, each individually himself, and don't worry about the other fellow. Be ye one with him. I would like to read now from the Prophet's address to the Twelve for the good it may do us.

TPJS Page 155

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints

He is addressing all of the saints as well.

...let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother.

Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen,

This was right at the time when there had been quite an apostasy.

Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

Now here is the touchstone:

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings,

And how we do it.

...see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

Betrayal is the worst and greatest sin, brothers and sisters. Crucifying Christ anew is murder. We say that murder is the greatest sin and that you crucify Christ anew, but the murder of one man by another is not nearly so great as this -- betraying. The greatest crime in the books of this nation is not murder, but treason, and there have been betrayals in my lifetime and yours. It has been said that faith is loyalty to knowledge gained ages and ages ago. This grand principle of loyalty, speaking of the positive, is that by which we should be governed, being loyal to God and His servants and to one another.
in the bonds of the New and Everlasting Covenant, which I pray we may be unto the end, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:94 1960's Canada

Canada

1960's

Be as Clay in the Hands of the Potter;

Test on Heber C. Kimball;

Power of Faith Through Knowing We Please God; D.& C. 121

I am particularly grateful, my brothers and sisters, to be here with President Hammon at this time, having been so long since I was in this area as things have worked out. I am grateful to have a part with President Hammon in this mission. I desire only to be an instrument for good, to edify and strengthen the saints, to strengthen their testimonies above all, my brothers and sisters. It has been said that no person has truly remained with the work of God without a testimony of Priesthood. Conversely, those who may have apostatized did not have a conviction of or understand, truly, Priesthood. You can look and find out that this is true in the lives of those who have had this sad experience.

I am reminded of the parable of the potter and the clay so beautifully enunciated by Heber C. Kimball. He spoke of it many times; and Joseph, having had it recited in his hearing, Joseph the Prophet declared that it was a true and a correct principle, the illustration of how we must be as clay in the Potter's hands, the Master. As a potter works the clay, he molds it into a vessel. Ofttimes, because of its being brittle, it flies to pieces. He throws the clay back in, works it over and works it over until it is pliable. And by care and being pliable, this vessel becomes a vessel of honor. And so are we, my brothers and sisters.

Jesus Christ set the grand example. He was the great Prototype of all saved beings. The thingd that we have been taught concerning the Lord Jesus Christ show us that He fully and perfectly submitted Himself to and became like His Father. "What you have seen Me do, you have seen the Father do," so perfect was He in His perfect obedience and submissiveness, that He could say this at the close of His ministry as He assured many of His disciples and the Apostles who were with Him. So must we be, my brothers and sisters.
True, we don't have the Lord Jesus Christ Himself with us at all times, but it is true that He has selected and sent those men foreordained to do their work among the children of men, those who have taken hold of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and desired to render obedience to it. And we are not left comfortless. We have strength and power given through the power of the holy Priesthood, and the example that mortal men are to us, to cling to, to grow under, to submit to, if you please, and become like them.

This is the grand principle in marriage. As the man submits himself to his Priesthood head, follows that order in perfection -- relative perfection, shall we say -- so in this Celestial Law of Marriage, the Family Order of Heaven, wives are required, if they are to be exalted and saved, must submit themselves to their husband. "He shall rule over her," the Father told Adam. They must be one flesh, one heart, one mind; above all, one in the Spirit of God. Then there is truly joy and rejoicing. The man has faults and weaknesses; so has the head of Priesthood, as far as men are concerned bearing the Priesthood. Nevertheless, it is required that we put a cloak of charity around the weaknesses of others and render perfect obedience, remembering that we, ourselves, are full of weaknesses. Are we perfect? How can we stand in judgment, then, over our head? So, we should become as clay in the hands of the potter.

This was finally exemplified in the life of Heber C. Kimball. I would like to read it to us here. This man had such a gift, and the Spirit of God with him at all times that the Holy Ghost was a constant companion and a source of revelation to him, as exemplified here. He was in Far West, April 6, 1839.

"My family having been gone about two months, during which time I heard nothing from them; our brethren being in prison; He had just been to Liberty Jail and visited the Prophet and the brethren suffering there.

...death and destruction following us everywhere we went; I felt very sorrowful and lonely. The following words came to my mind, and the Spirit said unto me, 'write,' which I did by taking a piece of paper and writing on my knee as follows:

"Far West, April 6th, 1839.

"A word from the Spirit of the Lord to my servant, Heber C. Kimball:"
Now note, my dear brothers and sisters, how the true order is followed here, the source of revelation. The only reason he could receive it was because of the things the Lord told him here.

"Verily I say unto my servant Heber, thou art my son, in whom I am well pleased; for thou art careful to hearken to my words, and not transgress my law, nor rebel against my servant Joseph Smith, for thou hast a respect to the words of mine anointed, even from the least to the greatest of them; therefore thy name is written in heaven, no more to be blotted out for ever, because of these things; and this Spirit and blessing shall rest down upon thy posterity for ever and ever; for they shall be called after thy name, for thou shalt have many more sons and daughters, for thy seed shall be as numerous as the sands upon the sea shore; therefore, my servant Heber, be faithful, go forth in my name and I will go with you, and be on your right hand and on your left and my angels shall go before you and raise you up when you are cast down and afflicted; remember that I am always with you, even to the end,

The only reason Heber C. Kimball was able to be spoken to in the Spirit of revelation was because of his faithfulness, his loyalty to Joseph. Brigham was likewise. Brigham bore testimony on one occasion that he had a slight few seconds of doubt in his mind about Joseph, and it had to do with financial affairs. But he says, "As quickly as it entered, I put it out, because I knew the course that would be followed, and I would be led to more seriously be critical of the Lord's anointed."

Heber C. Kimball was tried to the very core before even revealing to him the Celestial Law of Marriage, and at a time when he was beginning to reveal this holy law to his close associates, the Apostles and others, he called upon Heber, in the name of the Lord to bring Vilate to him, Joseph, to be his wife. For three days he fasted and wept and prayed. But through it all, brothers and sisters, he knew that Joseph was the Lord's anointed, that he was the Prophet of God, and whatever God required through him must be done. After this trial of his faith he brought Vilate and presented her to Joseph: "Here she is, Joseph. She is yours." And here, Joseph said, "It is enough, the trial is complete," and then and there sealed Vilate to Heber C. Kimball for time and all eternity, not having even yet revealed the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage to him.

Thereafter he revealed that law to him and put him through another trial. He told him that it was the will of the Lord that he should take a sister that was divorced from her husband because of his slothfulness and alcoholism, dilatoriness and so forth, who had two children. "It is the will of the Lord that you go and take Sarah Noon to wife, and you are not permitted to tell Vilate." Imagine the feelings that entered his bosom this time -- Vilate, not even knowing about this principle, and Heber being required to go ahead and do this. But again, in offering up his soul to God and holding fast to his testimony to the prophetic calling of Joseph, the Prophet, he fasted and prayed again. Vilate saw what he was going through, and she entered into the same kind of a period and prayed God to show her what it was that was trying Brother Heber, her husband. The Lord revealed directly to her by the Spirit and power of God, the truthfulness of Celestial and Plural Marriage. And so she then and there willingly and joyfully submitted to that law, and gave Sarah Noon to Heber to wife.

Now this is what I call, my brothers and sisters, being very pliable, submissive. If this example would only enter into all of our lives, then we will begin to understand Priesthood more perfectly. It is the power of the Priesthood by which you brethren, you Elders, direct the affairs of your families. The Holy Ghost, the power of the Priesthood comes down through the channels that God has established, the holy Apostleship, those holding keys of power to direct the affairs of men as they reach out and strive to lay hold upon eternal life through the power of faith. Can we imagine, my brothers and sisters, the great power of faith, knowing that our course is pleasing to God, having fully submitted, made ourselves pliable to the will of God, to His servants? How great the confidence that we can approach God with, in seeking blessings in righteousness for our advancement and growth and development. How impossible is it if our course is not pleasing to God through obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel, to go to Him with any confidence at all and expect to receive any blessing. Brother Heber had that confidence because he knew he had been faithful and true through all things, submitting himself in all things to be led by the Holy Ghost through his head, Joseph the Prophet, and later his head, Brigham Young.

On one occasion he said, "My brothers and sisters, where did you come from if you did not come out of this Priesthood?" represented of course by Brigham and his associates in that Council. "How will you get the Holy Ghost except through us?" he said. Now he wasn't boasting when he said that. All he was standing up for was the holy Priesthood, the order of God among men. And there is only one way; there is no other way except this -- to get it through the channels of Priesthood. Sisters, you cannot get it without being one with your husbands. Brethren, you cannot get it without being one with your Priesthood head. We have had these things recited many times to us, I am sure, but it is so fundamental, so much a part of the verities of life and the means by which we are going to be able to lay hold on eternal life, the only means; there is no other way, believe me, brothers and sisters. Therefore, let us submit ourselves to be led. Let the Holy Ghost be our constant companion. And the Lord has laid out for us so beautifully how the holy Priesthood is to be administered and used in Section 121, which I would like also to read to you. I think we should go back to a point where the Lord speaks of Priesthood as such, and how it is to operate.

D.& C. 121

34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?

35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson -- Aspiring men, brethren and sisters. There is one thing that Joseph decried and condemned -- men who were not submissive, men who aspired and didn't wait to be called and chosen through the right channels of the holy Priesthood.

36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.

37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God. These aspiring men.

39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.

And so, brethren, this is how we should administer the powers of the holy Priesthood -- being one with President Johnson and those who are associated with him in the holy order of Priesthood.

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

No pretense in this pure and holy love, and remembering that whom the Lord loves He chastens.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile--

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;

And I always hasten to add, "And not in a fit of temper." The Holy Ghost does not act that way. It is sharp like a two-edged sword when spoken under that power; and it does cut like a two-edged sword. But then He says:

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

So brethren, let us be sure that our faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death as we administer to our families. And hasn't Brother Johnson set this same example for us and with us?

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

More especially to the household of faith.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;

Our course is therefore pleasing to God because of virtue having garnished our thoughts unceasingly.

45. ...then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.
46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion Bestowed by the holy Priesthood, if you please, having had our calling and election made sure,

46. ...shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Brothers and sisters, let love abound as we abide in these holy laws and principles. Abide with one another in the bonds of the New and Everlasting Covenant, and so live, be so obedient that the Holy Ghost shall be our constant companion, which the Prophets have enjoined upon us day in and day out; and then we shall have these things granted unto us, added upon, endowed and added upon until we come up to see the face of God. Only those who have followed this order will be in that company, which I pray we may all do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:101 Early 1960's Canada

Family Order of Heaven

I would like to correct a little misunderstanding about Brother Holm. He is frequently called "Holms". H-O-L-M is his name. His folks came from Sweden, but he is a member of the Kingdom of God, and a stalwart one at that, one of the pillars of this Kingdom.

There has been a good Spirit here and I am sure we have been fed by the things that have been said here today. And I desire the same Spirit to distill upon me as I speak to you, that instructions may be imparted that the Lord desires to have imparted to you. I trust that we can concentrate our minds on these things that we may receive them.

Brothers and sisters, I am impressed that probably the greatest need of the saints here is to set our houses in order. I am sure that this can be said of all the saints everywhere. It has always been a principle with me as I have engaged in this work and carrying out the responsibilities of the Priesthood, particularly with regard to my family, that it was required of me to teach and direct my family as though it were the only kingdom I had to do with. I say this only to the extent that it was a part of the greater Kingdom, under the direction of the Lord's anointed, because it is a unit or a part of that people that God desires to raise up. Now, if we will place this importance, a sense of importance in our dealings, brothers and sisters, with our families, I think we will grow with greater rapidity in this work.

The particular thing that I feel to say something about, brothers and sisters, is that you brethren place the proper importance of the authority that you bear as the vessels of God. You are a part of this order of Priesthood. If you will look on it in this light I think you will sense the need for drawing nearer to this man who directs us in this work.

The Holy Ghost is the power of the Priesthood, brethren and sisters. If the Priesthood is not administered in our families by the power of the Holy Spirit, then there is no power to do a thing that God requires of us. There must be order in families as there is in Priesthood, generally. The head of the family, the head of the house is the father, who is a patriarch to that family.
His Priesthood should be magnified by the man in his own right, and it must be honored and sustained by wives and children as a part of this greater whole, this body of Priesthood, if you please. The man is the head. I feel to read from Ephesians, some instructions we have.

Ephesians 5

22. Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.
I want you to weigh those words carefully: "as unto the Lord". Now, whether, sisters, we feel that the man is worthy of you or not, he is your lord, and you should never forget it. If you will keep this in mind you will have happiness in your families.

23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.
24. Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

Now some instructions to husbands.

25. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;
26. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,

27. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28. So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

Can a man hate himself? Then let him not hate his wife.

29. For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:

30. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33. Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

Let this abound, my brothers and sisters, and let the sisters uphold and sustain the father in the eyes of the children. From their very tiniest years, build up that father image. I dare say there were more apostates against the Law of Celestial Marriage by reason of mothers not upholding the father before the eyes of their children. It would be sickening if we knew what had gone on in earlier years, and sometimes goes on now.

There are some strong characters among you women-folks. But for the love of these principles, for goodness sake, sisters, let him lead, and don't try to step out ahead. And you men, step out and lead!, by the gift and power of God in the authority of the holy Priesthood. A man who will let a woman lead him isn't worthy of this principle and of this Priesthood. And believe me, such a man won't be permitted to receive other wives. If he can't prove faithful over one he can't receive more. This is a principle of God. He says, "If you will be faithful over a few things, then I will make you ruler over many." Let the sisters not think that they are so righteous that their husbands are not worthy of them.

I know of a sister in Salt Lake who sits around all day reading the Doctrine and Covenants and the other books, and her children run wild, and she thinks her husband is unworthy of her. If the sister is wondering about her husband, I will have to say with Brigham Young, when you say, "Where is my husband?", he says, "I will ask you, 'Where are your children, sisters, and what are you doing with them?'" How are you teaching them and raising them up in light and truth? For this one thing the Lord rebuked even the Prophet Joseph and his brethren in the Presidency, in that they were not raising their children up in light and truth.

Let us stand up in the dignity of our Priesthood, brethren. And sisters, let us stand up in the dignity of our motherhood and be counted as true servants of God and vessels of righteousness in His hands. According as each family is so will the whole be. We are our brothers' keepers, brothers and sisters. We should so love one another that it would grieve us to see any part of this body suffering or doing wrong. So let us seek to conduct our families in the true order of heaven, for this is the Family Order of Heaven, the order of Celestial and Plural Marriage. This is the Family Order of Heaven, but there are very few who conduct their families in a heavenly manner. God will not be mocked and He will not suffer these sacred things to be treated lightly.

Now I feel impressed to bring another matter to your attention, brothers and sisters, and I will begin by telling you of a dream that the Prophet Joseph Smith had. He dreamed in the last days of his life that he went back to Kirtland, which was the headquarters of the Church formerly and where he had a farm. When he got there the farm was run down; the building was becoming old and decrepit. The place was up in weeds. There was mud all around where the yard was and everything looked in a very bad condition. He went out to the barn and the conditions were the same. It wasn't long before people of the community came running there, gathered in the barn, and began contending with him. And they said, "Joe, you can't have this place. You have gone and we are not going to permit you to have it." He didn't say anything and he didn't contend with them. They threatened to take his life. Then, they fell to quarreling among themselves. While they were doing this he slipped out of the back door of the barn and away through the mud and mire that was around it. He abandoned it and turned his back on it and let the wolves have it.

The fulfillment of this dream took place in 1886. God seeing that this Church which He had established and had nourished and had given the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel to, was about to abandon its most sacred principles and laws, He sent his Well-Beloved Son, Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, the head of this dispensation, who was the instrument in establishing that Church. He set up the order and the organization by which His laws and commandments could be carried on to complete the work of this dispensation. They told Joseph to call certain men to take the lead in this work, and Jesus and Joseph literally turned their backs on the Church on this occasion. Can you think of it in this way, brothers and sisters?

Now, it is true, the Priesthood had to go underground, especially at this time, because of the conditions, and not much was brought out in the open. A great deal of the work was done through the channels of the Church, as long as it could be done, in carrying on the principle of Celestial Marriage. My father had two wives sealed to him under very secret and trying conditions. He had sent my mother to Salt Lake and she stayed in hiding for a year, along with this other sister, Sister Florence Rice. Then he had to come in secretly and had Patriarch Judson Toleman, who was sent by Mathias F. Cowley, to seal the marriage. That was the conditions of those times. Mathias F. Cowley had been disfranchised, or disfellowshipped from the Church, but he was carrying on in his responsibilities. This is but an example among many by which the work was carried on at that time. Father went into hiding and he changed his name. My name was Jennings until I was eight years of age. We moved and went into another school and I got my regular name.

Now, brothers and sisters, the time came when, under the direction of John W. Woolley and Lorin Woolley, who were the only ones remaining, and finally Lorin, himself, alone to bear the burdens of the Priesthood; he told the brethren to begin talking and writing. This work, as you well know, has gone on a pace since this time.

Now, I know, brothers and sisters, that all of you have come out of the Church. But believe me, there are still traditions of the Church in your makeup and beings. We are going to have to get rid of them. Make no mistake about it, David O. McKay and no general authority of the Church, or any of the other authorities of the Church have the holy Priesthood or any authority to administer in the saving ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, not even the Aaronic Priesthood, if you please. Tell me, if you can, one ordinance or blessing or power of the Aaronic Priesthood that is being administered after the order of God. Why do our feelings keep running back to it? We have been cut off, most of us. Why don't we let the cut be good and clean, and leave it that way, and not contend with these people in the Church in any degree whatsoever? Let them know that you are through if there has been any such arrangement, and let them leave you alone and you leave them alone. And don't let your feelings be running back and forth, because this is what is called "divided loyalty".

The very nature of this work calls for your full time, feelings, your one hundred percent loyalty to sustain this order of Priesthood. I think the conversations we have about the Church and what the Church is doing, or how wrong they are, shouldn't have place in our conversations at all. This is a rebellious wife of the holy Priesthood, who has gone astray. She no longer is able to nurture even her children. The Priesthood now stands alone, free from it. It had to walk away from it. This is the power and order of endless lives, and should be in our concepts in every way, every day of our lives. Every way that we think, it should be towards building up this order of the Priesthood, and let the Church go her way. We are not even sent out to preach or to do missionary work. When the brother here mentioned that his son had been on a mission in this work, that doesn't mean to say he has been sent out to preach the Gospel. There are young men, as you know, who are called to sustain the work down in Colorado City and Salt Lake, giving their full time and services for a few months to sustain the work there and to get them in close proximity and association with the Priesthood, in preparation for their entering in upon these laws and receiving the ordinances of God.

If there is anyone here under the sound of my voice who thinks that they are going to have any vindication of their present activities and life, their beliefs in the doctrines they profess, and are trying to live any vindication at all in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, you are living at a poor dying rate, because you will die with her if your feelings go back to it in any degree whatsoever. The Priesthood is onward and upward and is going on to a glorious consolation to fulfill its work. Whether this people want to go along with it is up to them. You brethren should understand that whether your wives and children want to go along with it, it is up to them, too, but don't force. Let love abound. And let us love one another. Let us sustain and uphold this order of Priesthood. Let this be our continual thought, our desires be in righteousness toward the furtherance of this work, under the direction of President Johnson, who is giving his life for it. He is literally giving his life for it. His brethren who are laboring with him are doing all they can along at his side. There are great exertions, my dear brothers and sisters, that are being made by these brethren in your behalf, in behalf of all of the saints everywhere. I pray that we will appreciate them, sustain them.
Let us get our families, our houses in order, that they may be used. The United Order should be lived within a family first. Then a people can live it together. There is no one exempt from it, not in the least degree. The order of Celestial and Plural Marriage calls for the highest kind of a character to live. It is designed to make Gods of us and Goddesses, kings and queens, priests and priestesses unto God. When we prove that we can conduct ourselves in these families as we should, we will be endowed with power from on high and receive the holy endowments in the temples of God, or wherever God sees fit to give them. We need not be confined to the temple, though this is desirable. But God can give them in holy places. The very first ones were given in the upper room over the store in Nauvoo, given to the Twelve Apostles of the holy Priesthood then. That is when they were first revealed and given.

This order of Priesthood -- this is the source of all your blessings, brothers and sisters. Let us act accordingly, and let us acknowledge the hand of God in all things. Let us get to the point where we know and have revealed to us that our course of life is pleasing to God, and obtain this testimony that we are righteous, giving the glory and honor to Him, and not glorying in ourselves or taking honors to ourselves. That is quite the opposite to what God wants with us.

Now let us look to our salvation and exaltation, brothers and sisters. Let us daily be conscious of the great need to perfect our characters in the sight of God and under the direction of His chosen ones. Let us be mindful that what we do unto them we do unto God, and we do for ourselves. The greatest selfishness is unselfishness. Let us remember the worth of these little souls that God has placed at our sides. Brethren, remember the worth of these good women that He has placed by our sides, and let us raise them up as glorious vessels to the honor and glory of our Father in heaven and the building up of His Kingdom and the establishment of His Priesthood in the earth. I pray we may do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:109 January 17, 1960 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 17, 1960
Reported by Marjorie Holm
It is good to be with you, brothers and sisters, and I, too, desire an interest in your faith and prayers. The longer I live, the more I learn of God Almighty, the more insignificant I feel in His presence and in contemplation of His great and mighty works. How dependent we all are upon Him for all we have and are, and in our moving to and fro in the earth in which Lucifer has dominion. But we are not left comfortless. He has provided all the means by which we may live a Celestial Law in this telestial world, filling up the measure of our creation and coming back into His presence with the same character He has; for certainly we are not going to be able to go back. We cannot see Him until we are like Him.

These are most precious days of preparation, brothers and sisters. I wish we could realize how precious they are and how time is moving on to the great events that God has promised shall be fulfilled and be accomplished, for not one jot nor tittle shall be done away from that which He has said. The Lord has granted us this time. It seems in times past judgments and other things have been postponed for our benefit; but it seems to me, brothers and sisters, there is a time beyond which it cannot go, when the cup of iniquity of the wicked shall be filled up, and He must needs come forth in His hot anger for the elect's sake, for even they shall hardly escape. They are so few.

We are so few, brothers and sisters, and how good the Lord is to us -- living in defiance of law, of custom, public opinion. We shouldn't be openly defiant, of course. But we are bound and determined to keep the laws of God, which is our right and our privilege and our blessing, against all of the opposition of the wicked and of the adversary of all truth.

I rejoice in the blessings of God, and at this time feel to praise the name of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and bear testimony again of the divinity of his life and mission and his place in the Godhead; and of our great dependence upon his continued labors behind the scenes, and the other brethren who have followed him in the bonds of the holy Priesthood. I don't think we think enough, brothers and sisters, of the labors and the efforts of our brethren who have preceded us and gone on the other side, and how necessary it is for us to draw near to them, that we may be instructed, that the mouthpiece of God, President Johnson, may be given those words of comfort, strength, and instruction to lead us back into the presence of God, with their help and direction. I can testify, my brothers and sisters, that on occasions I have had the help of those brethren on the other side. All of us can if we will draw near to His servants who are instructing us here in the flesh. We will have visitors from among our brethren who have gone before.

I will never forget the December in 1941, about the time President Johnson and President Hammon were called into this order of Priesthood, how thin the veil was. As we were singing tonight, I couldn't help remembering the time when the choir, which was singing for us at that time, and the congregation in joining were added by angels from the other side in singing those wonderful hymns. We couldn't have sung it like that was sung. So I know that we can have help from the other side.

We have got to draw near to the Lord, then He will draw near to us. We can only do this through obedience, through drawing near to His servants who are sent here to instruct us. Each day is a living miracle to me, through the mercies of the Lord. If we will do our part, learn to keep our secrets and the secrets of God, I dare say that is one of the greatest keys to our future happiness. The greatest need we have to accomplish is the keeping of our secrets, our family secrets, our association with others, of our brothers and sisters, and of the secrets that God entrusts to us through the mouths of His servants.

God is offended by the way we treat lightly sacred things; and because of having done this, we are under condemnation, as President Johnson has so often told us. I hope and pray we will seek to draw nearer to the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost and Priesthood are inseparably connected.

D. & C. 121

36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven,

The powers of heaven are given to us through the powers of the Holy Spirit, and we cannot have it disseminated to us, only through the powers of the holy Priesthood. I feel like reading Section 128, in the Doctrine & Covenants:

D. & C. 128

19. Now, what do we hear in the gospel which we have received? A voice of gladness! A voice of mercy from heaven; and a voice of truth out of the earth; glad tidings for the dead; a voice of gladness for the living and the dead; glad tidings of great joy. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of those that bring glad tidings of good things, and that say unto Zion: Behold, thy God reigneth! As the dews of Carmel, so shall the knowledge of God descend upon them!

20. And again, what do we hear? Glad tidings from Cumorah! Moroni, an angel from heaven, declaring the fulfilment of the prophets -- the book to be revealed. A voice of the Lord in the wilderness of Fayette, Seneca county, declaring the three witnesses to bear record of the book! The voice of Michael on the banks of the Susquehanna, detecting the devil when he appeared as an angel of light! The voice of Peter, James, and John in the wilderness between Harmony, Susquehanna county, and Colesville, Broome county, on the Susquehanna river, declaring themselves as possessing the keys of the kingdom, and of the dispensation of the fulness of times!

21. And again, the voice of God in the chamber of old Father Whitmer, in Fayette, Seneca county, and at sundry times, and in divers places through all the travels and tribulations of this Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints! And the voice of Michael, the archangel; the voice of Gabriel, and of Raphael, and of divers angels, from Michael or Adam down to the present time, all declaring their dispensation, their rights, their keys, their honors, their majesty and glory, and the power of their priesthood; giving line upon line, precept upon precept; here a little, and there a little; giving us consolation by holding forth that which is to come, confirming our hope!

22. Brethren, shall we not go on in so great a cause? Go forward and not backward. Courage, brethren; and on, on to the victory! Let your hearts rejoice, and be exceedingly glad. Let the earth break forth into singing. Let the dead speak forth anthems of eternal praise to the King Immanuel, who hath ordained, before the world was, that which would enable us to redeem them out of their prison; for the prisoners shall go free.

23. Let the mountains shout for joy, and all ye valleys cry aloud; and all ye seas and dry lands tell the wonders of your Eternal King! And ye rivers, and brooks, and rills, flow down with gladness. Let the woods and all the trees of the field praise the Lord; and ye solid rocks weep for joy! And let the sun, moon, and the morning stars sing together, and let all the sons of God shout for joy! And let the eternal creations declare his name forever and ever! And again I say, how glorious is the voice we hear from heaven, proclaiming in our ears, glory, and salvation, and honor, and immortality, and eternal life; kingdoms, principalities, and powers!
24. Behold, the great day of the Lord is at hand; and who can abide the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appeareth? For he is like a refiner's fire, and like fuller's soap; and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. Let us, therefore, as a church and a people, and as Latter-day Saints, offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness; and let us present in his holy temple, when it is finished, a book containing the records of our dead, which shall be worthy of all acceptation.

25. Brethren, I have many things to say to you on the subject; but shall now close for the present, and continue the subject another time. I am, as ever, your humble servant and never deviating friend,

Joseph Smith.

Praise to his memory! May we draw near to him, brothers and sisters! He is our direct intermediary to the Lord Jesus Christ and Father Adam, through his servants who have followed him. God bless us and help us to keep all the laws and commandments of the Lord, that we may draw near to Him and be prepared for His coming, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:114 March 6, 1960 Hildale

Hildale, Utah
March 6, 1960
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Beware of Pride; Do Not Betray the Brethren

It is good to be here again, brothers and sisters, in line with the things that have been said. I only want to add some of the words of the Prophet -- talking about pride -- who warned the Twelve and the saints regarding this great evil.

TPJS Page 155

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.
Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother. Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, and say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

May the blessings be with you, amen.

RTJ 1:116  May 8, 1960  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 8, 1960
Traditions Holding Us Back; Become Like God; Counsel to Mothers

It is indeed a joy, my brethren and sisters, to meet with you again. I guess a good many of you know that I labor a good many miles away most of the month, and it is wonderful to get back here among my true friends, my true brothers and sisters, fathers and mothers; for I have none else outside of the work of God. I love all my friends who love the same principles I do, and that is as far as I can give my confidence to my fellow men.

True, the servants of God should love all the children of men because they are sent to save and exalt as many as will, to serve the Master in bringing many to a knowledge of the truth. The Prophet Joseph Smith exemplified that in his life, as did the Savior. Joseph, in his capacity, exhibited as great a love, I suppose, as any, or greater than any other man who has lived upon the earth, except the Master Himself. And he was a friend to those who loved truth.

As I have been sitting here wondering what I might be led to say -- and I do desire an interest in your faith and prayers, that I may say only those things that the Lord wants me to -- the thought ran through my mind, that probably the greatest reason that we do not yield to the truth, to the Lord, is because of our traditions and the cultures that we have been raised up under, and is also probably the reason that we may even be self-righteous; so sure that our way of thinking, the way of our fathers and mothers, in what might be a very limited acceptance of the truth of Almighty God.
All that is required, brethren and sisters, is that we yield to the Lord, that we may be led by the Holy Spirit; to acknowledge that, as we stand before Almighty God, man is nothing without His Spirit, especially to us who have embraced the truth and desire to obey the Gospel of Jesus Christ. So it behooves all of us to look into our lives and determine, ask ourselves, exactly what it is that really motivates us. Are we still directed by those old cultures, traditions of our parents' families? Or are we, indeed, following the counsel and the directions and the instructions that are being given us by the servants of God from month to month?

The great burden that has been placed upon us, the all-important message, is that we assimilate our characters into the character of God. That is the only way we are going to accomplish it, is by yielding to these counsels, submitting ourselves before God, through His Priesthood, and say, "Here am I. Do with me as you will."

Brethren and sisters, I think it was President John Taylor who summarized in a very few words the Celestial Law. I don't know that I have the exact words, but he says the Celestial Law is "to do the will of Him who sent me." Is it any less incumbent upon us than it was the Savior, Himself, to do that and be able to say that through all of our lives? If we are going to be joint heirs with Him, we are going to have to follow the same path He trod, have the same attitude, the same Spirit that He had. "I come only to do the will of Him who sent me." And if we will do that, we must yield.

I do not think there is any spirit that bothers me -- I should not let them bother me at all -- as that of a self-righteous person, because he thinks he is just right. I want to distinguish that from the command that we have in the Lectures on Faith, that we must come to know that our course is pleasing to God. But in that knowledge, I see the greatest of humility, and lack of self-righteousness; because in this, we acknowledge God in all things, and ascribe unto Him thanks and gratitude for every attribute and gift and blessing that we have.

If we are indeed pleasing God, it is because of our sacrifices, and because of our obedience; and in that sacrifice and obedience we are acknowledging that it comes from Him, not from me. I think that it is this attitude and because of our traditions from older cultures, and I want to repeat it, that we are not yielding and coming unto God.
Now another matter comes to my mind. The world is honoring this day as Mother's Day. I don't think there is anything that I resent more than to have the papers and all other media shout that I must honor my mother today. I don't think anyone had a more wonderful one than I did. But we should honor our mothers every day, and the great law and commandment given, and still in force, "Thou shalt honor thy father and thy mother all the days of thy life, that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord, thy God, giveth thee." I don't want anybody giving me presents on Father's Day, either. There is nothing finer than a little surprise of affection, any day of the year, or a token of it, I should say.

Now, I would like to talk to the mothers tonight for a few minutes. As I say, it isn't because of Mother's Day. I think I would have said it if I hadn't had this brought to my attention. There is a dual role in the sacred order of Celestial and Plural Marriage, in that marvelous partnership and union, the Family Order of Heaven. There is a work of the Priesthood and there is a work of Motherhood. What a glorious partnership this is! Do you mothers realize where you stand in this great scheme of things, and what great influence and power you can bring to bear, in bringing to pass the purposes of Almighty God, which is to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of His children?

In your hands, dear sisters, rests the future lives of your children, to a greater extent than you realize. You can mold those characters, and if you will do it by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, they won't have any need, when they get married to a good man, these girls, or when these young men get married, to have to give up any pet culture or tradition.

If those children are raised up by the Spirit and power of the Holy Ghost, they can then be turned over to their fathers and the Priesthood to be used. And the Lord God Almighty will have a people. Now, that is the role you sisters have. How often do you think of it as you deal with these tender little souls that are placed in your care? Some of them may be greater than you, older than you in the spirit world. I love the thought, that when a son of mine comes up to age and years of accountability, to bear the holy Priesthood after the order of the Son of God, he is no longer strictly a son to me. He is my brother and a fellow holder of the holy Priesthood.

You sisters should learn, after you have brought your daughters up to an age where they go to a good man, release them and let them go, and begin thinking of them as your sisters in the Gospel. And you daughters should think of your mothers in like manner, as fellow-laborers and sisters in the work of the living God. Set them on their own two feet, and let them go!

How do you govern in your families, sisters, mothers, and fathers? I want to tell you in a very few short words what the Prophet Joseph said about this, and that is the way he governed. He was asked how he governed these people so well. What was the reason for their faithfulness and their devotion? He said simply, "I teach them correct principles, and they govern themselves."

There is a marvelous key, mothers and fathers, in the governing of your families: "Teach them correct principles" and let them govern themselves.
Bring no compulsion, or force, or suppression to bear. If you show them that your love is greater than the bonds of death, because of this, by setting an example, teaching by example as well as by precept, your skirts are clean, and let your children go and do what they want. They are agents unto themselves, the same as you are. The same goes in the governing of all the affairs of our family.

Now, to carry this matter of motherhood a little further. How many of you desire to be mothers of a world -- Eves, if you please? Do we ever keep this in mind in our day to day living and raising our children, supporting and sustaining our husbands, obeying them? Is this the aim and object of your life? How often do you think of it? Glorious Motherhood! To become an Eve and a mother of a world! You are not going to become that until you have learned to become mothers in very deed, according to the definition of God. These are a few thoughts that I wanted to convey here tonight. Let us learn to be true mothers in Israel. You don't have to have great numbers.

One of the grandest mothers that I have ever known is Aunt Susie, who had none of her own. But she has mothered a people; she has mothered the children of a sisterwife, and she has been a true wife and mother, and great are going to be her blessings. She can become an Eve, the mother of a world. May we strive to become Eves and Adams, Gods in very deed. And may we act the part in our mortal lives.

What a marvelous opportunity is given us in this Celestial Law to show the Lord that we can live the Family Order of Heaven. We are called to live this glorious principle, these Celestial Laws, in the midst of the gentile world. In order to do so, we have got to be quiet about it, cover up, so that we can have our freedom.

Brother Marion once expressed the thought, and I think it is a beautiful one: It takes courage, brethren and sisters, to cover up, besides a little strength of character. And very often exercising what we think are our freedoms and personal rights in flaunting these things to the world, we are only abridging our freedom, or our free agency, which we prize so highly.

Let us remember these things, because in being careful, in covering up and keeping sacred these holy relationships and these principles, we are honoring God. We are sustaining the law, we are abiding in it and obeying it by far greater measure than if we felt like that we are great examples to show ourselves to all the world. The Lord is going to love us and sustain us as we live these things quietly, and He will enlarge us, and extend our kingdoms.

The great object of this principle is a continuation of the seeds forever. Read Section 132 once in a while, brethren and sisters. Let us see if we can abide in it. The great blessings promised therein are only to those who abide the law, and the whole law, too. May we do so I pray, in the name of Jesus, amen.
May I add one word. We feel we need a project, brethren and sisters. The project that has been laid upon this people is to get the attributes of God and learn to become like Him. We cannot do this without faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, the great Prototype that we are to follow and become like. Show me your faith by your works.

We cannot become Gods except through good works and obedience to the laws and commandments of God. If we have faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, we will keep His commandments.

"If ye love Me," He said, "keep My commandments." The only way we are going to come off triumphant against the snares that are being laid is to have the character necessary to overcome it, as Joseph Smith did.

If we have the necessary preparation through becoming the characters that God would have us be, we will have our endowments and all the other blessings we long for. All things will be added if we will be proficient in this great project.

Get and keep the Spirit of God, and we will have the attributes of God, and we will be able to work with Him and His servants; which may we do, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.
of the things, I am sure, besides many others, that we treat much too lightly.

To me, brethren and sisters, the very essence of life is bound up in this great principle, of getting and keeping the Spirit of God, the Holy Spirit. Whenever I think of it, as far as the scriptures are concerned, I always hark back to Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith. Read it and reread it, because there is contained the modus operandi, if you please, of the operation of this glorious gift, and how we can get it and keep it.

If we only had this, brethren and sisters, all of our family problems would be solved, or at least they would be minimized. Each member of our family has his free agency; and make no mistake about it, these children, young and old, have their agency as well as we do. But so far as influence can be brought to bear, through the Holy Spirit upon the members of our family, this would solve all of the problems. It will solve all relationships we should have with the Priesthood over us, and with our Heavenly Father.

I can't help but feel that it is beneficial to read at least part of this Lecture again, and I pray that you will give very close attention to it as I do. I have always been grateful for this little book I picked up in Liverpool, England, among the volumes that the mission authorities were getting rid of. They were actually giving them away, because they were the older edition, and they were anxious to get things like this "modern revelation" which they offered as representing those things of enduring value for the saints. It was right at that time this volume came out, and I had some little part in distributing it through the mission field, but thank God it had a very short life. This is a Doctrine and Covenants with the Lectures on Faith in the front. Speaking of Christ,

Lecture Five

2. ...he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

The same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one;  and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace,

How do we get and keep the Spirit of God? By keeping the commandments, by obedience through the exercise of our free agency, which God has given
2. ...and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with a fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

When I think of this, I think of the glorious prayer that the Savior offered in behalf of His brethren, the Twelve, when He prayed for these whom God had given Him, whom He had loved, with a love that transcends description, being the pure love of Christ. Only those who are partakers of it can understand the meaning of it, brethren and sisters. He promised them the First Comforter, which they had not yet received -- His Holy Spirit -- because He, a member of the Godhead, was with them. Without His going, it could not be given to them, this precious gift. He prayed that these, whom God had given Him, would be one as He and the Father were one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

What is meant by this fullness, brethren and sisters? It means that we will receive all that They have, all that the Father has, if we so live that this can be with us at all times. We would be filled through learning from grace to grace, line upon line, precept upon precept, through our faithfulness and our obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We will receive a fullness of this Holy Spirit, as They are.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the Saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them.

Brethren and sisters, do you realize what the Prophet told us here? Being a joint heir with Jesus Christ, and an heir of God, how lightly we treat these principles, and give too little consideration to them, and placing them in our own lives. This is the preparation, brethren and sisters, whereby we should be prepared for the things to come. In this we will obtain all things that Brother Johnson has told us of so many times -- the preparation of a people of God to be used. Until we become one in the hands of God, through His Priesthood, we cannot be used, and we are not going to have a part in this great latter-day work. This is the means by which it will be done, so that this people will move as one man when the Lord speaks through Brother Johnson, or whoever may be in that position. I am speaking now of these ultimate events.

But today is the day to prepare to meet God, not tomorrow, or next week, or next year. Today is all that He has given us. Yesterday is gone. Let us repent of the sins of yesterday. Live to get and keep the Holy Spirit today, so that tomorrow we may see God.

Now you noticed in here that the Prophet tells us that we are to be transformed into the image of the Father and the Son. Do you know how literal this is? Have you seen a truly united married couple, husband and wife, where this is beginning to be true, where one has literally the same image as the other? I have seen it. And, brethren and sisters, it is the Holy Spirit that does it. There is a transformation. A conversion, a change comes in the physical appearance of a man and a woman who get and keep the Spirit of God, and I know it, and you know it. That is the oneness that I want with these my brethren, that I want with my folks, that I want with Jesus, and Joseph, and Father. God help us to obtain it, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:125  July 3, 1960  Hildale

Hildale, Utah
July 3, 1960
The Saints Encouraged to Greater Diligence

This is one of the grandest sights that I have been privileged to witness since I came into this work, or any other time. I was overwhelmed with the hope and thought, as I looked into your faces here this afternoon, that it would be a grander sight to see many of you in the house of the Lord, to be endowed and blessed there. Immediately the question arises in our minds: Are we prepared for it? With the help of the Lord, brethren and sisters, I would like to speak on preparation this afternoon. I will read from Section 82 of The
4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.

5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all: Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;

6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.

7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

Here is the crux of the whole matter.

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.

10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

That is a challenge that is laid before us that I think we think too little of, brethren and sisters. We want certain blessings. We would like to see certain things accomplished, like the redemption of Zion, receiving our endowments, and find ourselves growing by leaps and bounds in the sight of God. Now, in order to get hold of these blessings, the Lord tells us in Section 130, there is a law irrevocably decreed in the heavens before the foundations of the world, upon which all blessings are predicated, and we cannot receive them unless we obey the law upon which they are predicated. I think that is good law.

We are being given unto us, brothers and sisters, every day of our lives, counsel and laws of the holy Priesthood, after the order of the Son of God, which, if obeyed and complied with fully, will bring us back into the presence of God. I take it that is where we all want to go. What are these laws upon which this blessing is predicated? We have the various laws given us: baptism, the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and of course, preceding this and running through the entire fabric and work of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, is the principle of faith and repentance. Through the power and the law of faith, which is the gift of God, we can lay hold on all of these other blessings -- Celestial Marriage, the Celestial or Economic Law of Heaven, which we call, for want of a better term, the United Order, and the Law of the Priesthood.

Now, brethren and sisters, what I am trying to get at is, is this people growing nearer to the character and the life and the example that was set by our great Prototype, the Lord Jesus Christ; and more recently in this day and time, by the Prophet Joseph Smith? There have been other characters who have lived, as they have, without blemish, without any great sin being laid to their charge. Now, we have the principle of repentance and we have the sacrament and other ordinances to enable us, if we will sin no more, to grow into that condition, brothers and sisters. As Lecture Five tells us, He showed that man can live without sin. And yet we are told that all men sin and fall short, and that the only perfect Being who has lived upon the earth was Jesus Christ; and we should add, of course, from our own knowledge, Father Adam. Could you find any sin, any real sin, that could be laid to the charge of such men as Joseph Smith, as John Taylor? That shows that it can be done, brethren and sisters.

Now, if we are to become that people that the Lord is going to use to set in order the House of God and accomplish the redemption of Zion and all of the other great events that are to take place in the latter days, I say we are going to have to get busy. Certainly we are going to have the Ten Tribes and other remnants of Jacob assist in this great work. But they are going to have to come to the feet of Abraham, or rather of Ephraim, in order to receive the blessings of the Priesthood, and the power to accomplish these things, and the keys of the Priesthood. That is where they are going to have to come for these blessings, brethren and sisters.

We claim to be supporting the man who holds the keys of the Priesthood in the earth. How often do we thank the Lord that we have this understanding, and this association, this knowledge, the knowledge of the character and the personality of God Himself and of His Priesthood, and the correct order of Priesthood in the earth? When I look at this large audience here today, I am then forced to compare that with the great numbers in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, numbering now a million and a quarter, against all others who profess the name of Jesus Christ. How few there are. And how far have we fallen short of the charge, the covenants that have been laid upon us, to rally around the Priesthood of God and to go forward as one man in the hands of God to accomplish the object in view, the redemption of Zion, and the setting in order of the whole House of God; and, to get such a people that the one man can put to flight a thousand, and two, ten thousand?

Do you think the Lord is going to grant these blessings to us until we do what He says? Can we have the faith to accomplish these things unless we know that our course of life is pleasing to God? And by that I mean, is our character approaching or being assimilated into that of the Lord Jesus Christ, who was one with His Father? That should be the full aim and object of our lives. And if we will give service to that proposition with our whole heart, might, mind, and strength, seeking first God and His righteousness and the Kingdom of God, then all other things will be granted unto us and added. Our whole lives will be absorbed into that one all-absorbing proposition, and then all these other blessings will be added.

I wish I could recall the statement of one writer who put it in a very beautiful language to that effect. This means, then, very simply, to follow the counsels of those that God has appointed; first, of course, to this people, President Johnson and his associates in this higher authority of the Priesthood; and as to our families, to the Priesthood which bears rule over you.

I think, brethren and sisters, that if would more consciously, day by day, feel that we are rendering obedience to the Priesthood in our husbands -- and brethren, to the Priesthood over us, and we to the Priesthood of God in the person of Jesus Christ our Lord -- I think we would begin to become one. Then we would begin to see things happen in behalf of this people and the work of God. And believe me, brethren and sisters, this is the life and labors of President Johnson and these brethren. You don't know how they love you and those who are striving to keep the commandments of God, and what they wouldn't do to help you along the way. There have never been more dedicated men to the Priesthood and the purposes of God.

Let us be grateful for these things, to think more of them in our daily lives instead of just when we are meeting together on occasions like this. Going to meetings is not going to save us unless we go home and do something about it. We are so anxious to come to meeting sometimes, but not anxious enough to carry out the instruction that is given at these meetings. Can we say at the end of any given period of time that we have assimilated more of the character of God into ours? Are we more like God at the end of this year than we were at the end of last year? There is the challenge brethren and sisters. When we begin to do what the Lord says, through His servants, then He will be bound and will bring forth His power on the face of the earth. Satan and all of his armies, and navies, and all of his money, and his politicians and all the rest of them cannot stop the progress of this people, because God has promised that these principles, these laws of the holy Priesthood would sail triumphant over all the prejudice and hate that could be mustered against them.

Are we ready now to take a stand for these things, brethren and sisters? If we are, then let us manifest it in our daily lives, and seek, of our own free will, to do much good, and not have to be told and commanded to do all things. Seek to accomplish righteous objectives. We know we don't have to be told to do what the revelations tell us.

I pray that we will see progress along these lines, that we will get behind the leadership of our beloved Brother Johnson. There isn't a sweeter, sounder man that has lived, in my experience -- sweet in character, sound in doctrine. And that is what the Lord will sustain and love and honor in all of us, which I hope and pray we may do in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:130 July 1960 PM-Hildale

Priesthood Meeting in Hildale, Utah July 1960 Testimony of Joseph Smith and President Johnson

I am very delighted, my dear brethren, to meet with you here, feel the wonderful spirit that is here, and rejoice in the blessings of God with you. It is a delightful thing to see the material and physical progress that is being made here, and with it, no doubt, the spiritual progress that is being made. It is a wonderful thing to see the face of bearers of the holy Priesthood manifested in gathering together in this place under the direction of the mouthpiece of God.

Brother Guy mentioned one thing that rather struck me, and I felt to make an observation upon it if I was called upon. He said that the Church from which we came is a godless one. I do not suppose you could insult them more than to say that to them. But brethren, I want to find out why.
They say that Jesus Christ is the God of this world. That is fine as far as it goes, but do you suppose that the Lord, Jesus Christ, is going to own a people that deny His Father? Talk about a godless Church, and a godless people, and it is the saddest thing in the world to contemplate. Adam, the Father and God of this world, is denied, and has been, lo, these many score years. Are we upholding him and his Son, Jesus Christ as we should, sustaining those whom He appoints?

When I think of the month of June, which has just passed, brethren, I think of the Prophet Joseph and his martyrdom -- the twenty-seventh of June, one hundred and sixteen years ago. He fell a martyr with a faith to the things that God had delivered unto him to be delivered unto this generation and Dispensation of the Fullness of Times. To me, Joseph Smith is the embodiment of all the principles of the holy Priesthood -- the laws of the Priesthood; and when I think of him, I think of Priesthood. When I think of Brigham Young, and of John Taylor, and of John and Lorin Woolley, and of the brethren who have followed them, I think of Priesthood and the power of the Priesthood which will save us and exalt us. Priesthood is God, and God is Father Adam, the literal Father of Jesus Christ, and the only God with whom we have to do, and we are His children.

Then brethren, let us bring this Priesthood matter down where it belongs. Do you think of Brother Johnson as a man of God and as holding the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, the keys of it, and the mouthpiece of God to us? If you do, you have a great deal more respect for God and His Priesthood, and you will not be able, then, to treat lightly the things that God has delivered to us through that Priesthood.

Do you teach your wives and children to sustain and uphold Priesthood in the family and among this people, as a principle? These are the laws of the Priesthood with which we are dealing and are governing us. Are we treating them lightly? I pray we are not, and that we will build them up in our lives and submit ourselves to be led, straightening out our loyalties, brethren. Where is our loyalty? Is it with the things of the world, or is it with the Priesthood of God? There is the touchstone, and too many of us have not got our loyalties straightened out yet, having taken hold of this work which God has bequeathed to us through His Prophet Joseph Smith. Are we so living that we can call him to us to teach us and direct us, as well as the brethren who followed him, holding the keys of the holy Priesthood?
Can we stand, brethren, before the world and demand our rights? Are we prepared to stand as one man putting to flight a thousand, if our lives are such that we cannot have the faith in God to stand there? In other words, is our course of life so pleasing to Him that we could then stand and put to flight thousands and millions? That is the kind of preparation we are going to have to have. If our lives are not such, if our characters are not such, as near that, that God can accept like unto His own, then He cannot own us. He cannot stand with us and give us the power to accomplish the things that He desired us to do for Him and with Him.

God help us to get into this condition, in this position, where we can indeed be one with Him and have that oneness, that we can move as one man, under the voice of the Prophet of God, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:132  July 17, 1960  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 17, 1960

Living the Spirit of the United Order;
Law of Tithing Not Substitute for the United Order

I sincerely pray, brethren and sisters, that I may be directed by the Spirit of God in my remarks this afternoon. It is wonderful to meet with you, and to share in the messages that the Lord has for us. It is my disposition to, if at any time I stand in the way of the progress of this work, I want to be removed. Brother Barlow used to say that, and I have never forgotten it. On the other hand, he was one of the greatest stalwarts of this work, of the Priesthood work in the earth in this dispensation.

Brethren and sisters, we often speak of devoting our time and our talents to the work of the Lord. I would like to, shall I say, classify this matter, or get down to a little more detail. We have been told that the two greatest laws of the Priesthood of God, the crowning principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, are the orders of Celestial Marriage and the United Order. Actually, one is not complete without the other. The foundation principle of all, of course, is the knowledge that Adam is our Father and our God, and the only God with whom we have to do, as promulgated by President Brigham Young.

I would like to talk a little on the Economic Order of Heaven, brethren and sisters. It seems to me that altogether too many of us have shifted ourselves into living what we call strictly the law of tithing. I read one article out of the Millennial Star, I believe it was, in which the writer said he didn't want to hear the word "tithing" mouthed again. What is tithing, brethren and sisters, and what has it to do with the full law of God? The law of tithing is incumbent upon it, but have we stopped to think just what it is? It is the least that the Lord will accept under the Economic Law of Heaven. It is the very least. So, tithing and the United Order are part and parcel of each other; they are not things apart. The law of tithing was not given as a substitute for the United Order. It was just simply a statement by the Lord, if you will read the revelations, that it was the least that He would accept, and it was binding upon the saints forever.

The Economic Law of Heaven is a system of consecrations and stewardships. When we come into the work of the Lord, or even as youngsters -- when they come up to a point where they have sufficient responsibility for their own affairs, economically and otherwise -- it is incumbent unto the law that we come before the servants of God and consecrate all that we have to the servants of God, who stand in their place to teach us, to instruct us under the laws and authority of the holy Priesthood, legitimate authority. This law, like the law of Celestial Marriage, is administered by legitimate authority. This Priesthood is authorized under the law of God and under the revelations of God to receive tithing and the consecrations of the saints. I would hate to think that this Priesthood is limited in this way, as it has been supposed by many. It would certainly rob me of a blessing, and I would like to know where in the world I am going to receive the blessings of that law if it is not through the acknowledged legitimate authority that God has established. Nothing has been suspended that I know of. The marriage law was not suspended. Why should the law of the United Order be, or any part of it?

Having made our consecrations -- our means, our property, our time, our talents, our families -- the servants of the Lord give us back a stewardship. The brethren do not expect us to hand in our full check every month, and then give you back what you need; although I was grateful to have that experience in the early part of my association with the Priesthood. It is just too much bookkeeping, and more than the Lord expects to be done by the brethren. So, we are put on our own responsibilities.
Next, then, brethren and sisters, comes the principle of accountability. We are placed on our honor to do all we can to obtain means, to place in the hands of the Priesthood and to sustain the family that the Lord has given us. We should then see that we hold our expenditures to our needs and our just wants. Here is where the rub is -- what are our just wants? Even, I am sure, there is wide latitude of interpretation on what our needs are. I cannot feel good, brethren and sisters, seeing any of my family enjoying that which is more than necessary and above what others in the same situation can enjoy.

The great incentive in the Economic Law of Heaven, as I see it and as the scriptures tell us, and as the revelation gives it to us, is that we labor in the interest of our neighbor. If I am looking out for your interest and you are looking out for mine, what a glorious condition this would be among the saints of God. We have been told that this would be the last law which the saints would be able to live fully; but I say that we can live it here and now, and we must. It is incumbent upon us. The Lord has laid it upon us.

So, we make an accounting, brethren and sisters, to our file leaders of how we have handled our stewardships. If we are doing it right, we will be engaged in it as a man would be engaged in a business -- to make a profit. For me? No! For the Priesthood of God! Call it a profit; call it income; call it anything you want. But if we keep our just wants and needs at the level that they should be, striving to get out of conditions of poverty and degradations and filth, which the Lord will not accept -- I am sure the Spirit of God cannot dwell in unclean bodies and unclean homes and habitations. It is just incompatible, and nobody can tell me, from my own experience, that this is the case. They may have a little of the Spirit, according to what they can enjoy, but they will not have that full measure that is incumbent upon us to have the revelations of God with us at all times. If we are honest with ourselves, honest with the Lord and His servants, we will make an accounting of our affairs. If we keep this ever in mind, then we are going to want to do all we can in our power to put means in the hands of the Priesthood, turning in not less than ten percent, and all of the surplus over that that we can possibly do. If we were all laboring together in this fashion, you can see what a powerful thing this work would be, how the purposes of the Lord would be more rapidly accomplished, and His Kingdom built, His Priesthood established.

How far does this go, our job, the conduct of our families? You women... working in your homes, everything you do is a stewardship in the sight of God. Raising those children is one of the most important of all the stewardships that God has placed in your hands. Choice spirits have been sent through this channel, to raise up in the ways of the Gospel of Jesus Christ in light and truth. One of the most serious charges and indictments that the Lord laid at the feet of Joseph Smith and his brethren, as recorded in Section 93, was that their families were not in order. They were not teaching their children light and truth, which He had already defined and described in the most beautiful way in the previous verses of that wonderful revelation. We lose light and truth because of the traditions of men, and satan creeping in and causing us to lose our place.

Therefore, brethren and sisters, our whole lives, our daily labors, our system of consecration and stewardship, should be done in the spirit of dedication; and I say that a man can live in one of the wards of the Latter-day Saint Church and live the United Order. If he is mighty careful, he could even live plural marriage, which can be found out possibly; but if he lived it the way he should -- covering up and living a quiet life as he should -- he could do that. But he could not be loyal to this Priesthood and do that. Do not misunderstand me. There is no place there for it, not a moment of our time. But I am just illustrating one thing, that a man can go about his labors earning all he can, keeping his just wants and needs to a minimum, and turning into the Bishop a surplus and not less than ten percent, and be living that Economic Law of Heaven, and making an accounting, at least in his heart. We can live in the spirit of it. Though we may not be living as a great community of saints, in this place or anywhere else under this law, we will yet. I am sure that if we would come to this point where we did all that we did -- our daily lives and labors, our raising of our children, the earning of our money -- under a spirit of dedication, consecration, using it and treating it as a stewardship, we would be happier in this work, and it would begin to roll forth more rapidly than it has, by far.

Above all, brethren and sisters, let us get and keep the Spirit of God, which would be a Spirit of revelation; that we may know that we are led by this Spirit, that we are guided by it, by those over us and those at our side; that we may indeed direct the affairs of these choice spirits, these families that the Lord has given us under the Spirit of revelation. I pray that we may do this in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
August 7, 1960
Faith; Confidence Grows as We Become Like God

This really is a sight, brothers and sisters. I am delighted to be with you and partake of the sweet Spirit that is here. I sincerely pray that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks for our mutual edification.

As I sat listening to the remarks of Brother Jessop, I felt, too, that there is much too great a tendency to rest on our oars. I guess I better put it very plainly. There is a great tendency, on the part of most, for spiritual laziness. I have found where that exists, there is physical laziness.

We had in many years past, many exhortations from the brethren regarding our attitude toward this work. It was, "The Kingdom of God or nothing." I do not think we have graduated from that position. In fact, I think we need to graduate up to it. There is no halfway house in this business, brothers and sisters. It is all or nothing at all as far as I am concerned. We cannot compromise this position and be found useful in the hands of God in building up the kingdom.

The Lord has called His servants to accomplish a labor. Under President Johnson today there is a particular labor to be performed, and that is, to me as I see it, final preparation. Brother Johnson has been most diligent in warning us and forewarning us to prepare for the great day of the Lord. The signs of the times are too apparent. Preparation is the crying need. It is "all-out" preparation, not halfhearted or halfway-house preparation. It always boils down, as I see it, brothers and sisters, to the subject or the principle of faith.

What is the nature of our faith? Faith is a relative principle according to our exertion, as other principles are. The Holy Spirit is obtained in degrees. It may have a rich outpouring on occasions, and it may have a very little, according to our condition. But, brothers and sisters, we have not enough faith if we are dilatory, if we are spiritually lazy.

Faith is the great crowning principle of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It runs through all of the others, including Celestial Marriage and the Economic Order of Heaven. If we have not faith, none of these others will be of any effect or any good in our lives. It is according to how we exert our faith, whether we abide in the principle of Celestial and Plural Marriage, or whether we abide in the United Order, or the spirit of the United Order. It is according to our faith that we abide in our sustaining support of the Priesthood of God upon the earth. Show me your faith by your works.

What I am trying to get at is that we become one hundred percenters. All that we have and are should be centered in the work of the Priesthood. We should forget and give up all of our former connections that are holding us in the Church, or in Church-inclined institutions or cultures or anything else of its kind. We are still inclined to want to go back to the "fleshpots of Egypt." Wives still want to go back to the "fleshpots of Egypt," instead of getting one hundred percent with their husbands. Brethren are still clinging onto Church-type institutions or methods of organizations, or hoping the Priesthood will organize us in Church-type organizations.

We have the Priesthood of Almighty God in our midst, brothers and sisters, to direct us. We are most fortunate that we are able to have such close personable contact, that we can go to President Johnson and get the counsel and direction we need. I heard one of our brethren say that he is interested or he can only give his confidence to those who are one hundred percent behind President Johnson. How can the Lord have confidence in us if we do not do that? How can husbands have confidence in their wives if they are not one hundred percent with them? Can a man feel that he has got his wife with him if she is running back to the old "fleshpots"?

If there is anything that is deterring her or him from one hundred percent loyalty to legitimate authority that is placed over us, then it is about time that we settled down and got the job done. And what is it? It is faith. Faith is an exertion of the spirit. If it is weak then we are lazy. If it is strong then we are diligent and worthy servants and handmaidens in the hands of God.

Our faith is centered in God. We know what His attributes are. We know who He is. President Johnson can call upon us and use us only in the degree that our faith is so perfect that we order our lives and simulate our characters after the order of endless lives, and that of God our Eternal Father.

The Lord loves us. The brethren love us. But confidence is bestowed only where we find true abiding one hundred percent faith. There are various degrees of that confidence bestowed, according as we become like God in these attributes, which we have had enumerated for us so many times.
We have perfect faith in God because He has obtained to the perfection of these attributes -- of knowledge, faith or power, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. He is never-changing. He is no respecter of persons. And He is love. As we become more perfect in these attributes, brethren and sisters, our brethren, our husbands, and the Lord will begin to bestow confidence in us; because that is the central theme of faith, these attributes of God. When we become perfect in them then we have perfect confidence bestowed by God, and He knows at all times and under all circumstances what we will do. Then our faith can increase by the power of getting the Spirit of God and keeping it at all times.

We all often ask, and I think it is well to repeat many times over, how to get the Spirit of God and keep it. Of course, basically it is by obedience, getting our loyalty straightened out -- submitting ourselves to legitimate authority, and then going before the Lord and submitting ourselves to Him in all humility, so that we can then have Him begin to bestow confidence in us and give us His Spirit. And as we grow in getting more and more by greater and greater degrees, we will have the attributes of God, because the attributes of God are the Holy Spirit, or the Holy Spirit is the attributes of God.

It seems to me that it is so simple. It is a process of getting and keeping more and more through our lives the Holy Spirit, which is the attributes of God. Then we will become like God as we incorporate it, and we will ultimately receive a fullness of it. Just that simple in my view. It gets down again, as I said many times, to getting the Spirit of God. Then we will become like Him. The Holy Spirit is the mind and the will of God. It centers in Him, throughout all of His creations. It is disseminated through His servant. You cannot be at variance with the servant of God, with the President of Priesthood, and have His Spirit. Heber C. Kimball said that thing that we have had repeated so many times: "How do you expect to get the Spirit of God except through us?" speaking of Brigham and Heber and the brethren.

Through all this, brothers and sisters, let us strive for the Spirit of revelation, which is one of the gifts of the Spirit. Let us know that we are led by revelation, and get it for ourselves. Then we can add strength in our support to His servant. When we know that we are led by revelation, and they are led by revelation and all together, then we can move as one man in the hands of His servants.

Let us get into the condition that we know that our course is pleasing to God.
This calls for great sacrifice. We cannot know that our course is pleasing to Him unless we sacrifice all things of a worldly nature, and come one hundred percent in submission to His servant. Offer all that we have in sacrifice, and then the Lord will gather together His people who have made a covenant by sacrifice.

May we be that people, brothers and sisters. Let us be more diligent in our efforts to build up our faith, our confidence in the Lord through His servants; become that nucleus, that the Lord will bring to pass much righteousness and prepare for the coming of our Master, I humbly pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:141  September 4, 1960   8:30 A.M.  Hildale

Hildale, Utah
September 4, 1960   8:30 A.M.
Power of God Through Faith; Lecture Seven; Obedience to the Teachings Given by the Priesthood

Nothing gives me greater joy, brethren, than to meet with a body of Priesthood. I don't know whether you realize it or not, but it ran through my mind this morning that there is more latent power in this room than in all of the armies, navies, air forces, missiles, and rockets combined in the world. They are what satan has been given to use to manifest his power. God has given His people the holy Priesthood, and the power of the Priesthood to work out their salvation and to come back to Him. And verily, one man will one day put to flight thousands with all of their armies, navies, and rockets combined. There is more latent power in one man sitting in this room than all of those things combined. I refer particularly, of course, to President Johnson, who presides over this Priesthood, and if any one of you were appointed by him, through the Lord, you likewise would have the same power.

So brethren, that just measures it in a worldly way, but the greatest power we have been given through this Priesthood is to become like Him who gave it to us, that we might be with Him hereafter. It is the Priesthood combined with the principle of faith that does these things, brethren. Faith is the exertion of the spirit through words. We cannot get the Spirit of God, the primary objective that we have before us at all times, without faith, through words that are spoken or unspoken through this mind, our spirit that we have in it.
We cannot render obedience to the principles of the Gospel and the doctrines of the Priesthood without faith, through words. I don't know, I am sure we just don't think of this principle enough brethren, because I am sure we don't pray enough. That is the power of words to our Heavenly Father, the Giver of all of these blessings that we enjoy.

We cannot obtain the character of God, the attributes of God, which is the Holy Spirit, without faith. God, Himself, is what He is. He has the character and the attributes that He has through the power of faith. I felt like calling these principles to our attention this morning and reading a few verses from Lecture Seven, which has to do with the effects of faith, which I think will be edifying to us.

Lecture Seven

15. It is scarcely necessary here to observe what we have previously noticed, that the glory which the Father and the Son have is because they are just and holy beings; and that if they were lacking in one attribute or perfection which they have, the glory which they have never could be enjoyed by them,

If they are lacking in one --

15. ...for it requires them to be precisely what they are in order to enjoy it; and if the Saviour gives this glory to any others, he must do it in the very way set forth in his prayer to his Father -- by making them one with him as he and the Father are one. In so doing he would give them the glory which the Father has given him; and when his disciples are made one with the Father and Son, as the Father and Son are one, who cannot see the propriety of the Saviour's saying -- "The works which I do, shall they do; and greater works than these shall they do, because I go to my Father.

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto Himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed; and on this hinge turns the door of salvation.

And all of this, brethren, through the power of faith, which is one of the attributes of God listed in Lecture Four. But now to get down to a few details regarding this principle, that which follows I think is very pertinent.

17. Who cannot see, then, that salvation is the effect of faith? for, as we have previously observed, all the heavenly beings work by this principle; and it is because they are able so to do that they are saved, for nothing but this could save them. And this is the lesson which the God of heaven, by the mouth of his holy prophets, has been endeavoring to teach to the world. Hence we are told, that "Without faith it is impossible to please God"; and that salvation is of faith, that it might be by grace, to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed. Romans iv. 16.

I am sure, brethren, that the people of the world do not understand the meaning of the word "grace". To me, the grace of God means these gifts of the Holy Spirit, and the Priesthood itself, which God has deigned to give us. And after we should exert all that we have in us and give all that we have, we are still indebted to Him.

17. ...And that Israel, who followed after the law of righteousness, has not attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law; for they stumbled at that stumbling stone. Romans ix. 32. And Jesus said unto the man who brought his son to him, to get the devil who tormented him cast out: "If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth." Mark ix. 23. These with a multitude of other scriptures which might be quoted plainly set forth the light in which the Saviour, as well as the Former-day Saints, viewed the plan of salvation. That it was a system of faith -- it begins with faith, and continues by faith; and every blessing which is obtained in relation to it is the effect of faith, whether it pertains to this life or that which is to come. To this all the revelations of God bear witness. If there were children of promise, they were the effects of faith, not even the Saviour of the world excepted. "Blessed is she that believed," said Elizabeth to Mary, when she went to visit her, "for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord." Luke i. 45. Nor was the birth of John the Baptist the less a matter of faith; for in order that his father Zacharias might believe he was struck dumb. And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from
There is the challenge, brethren. If we are not receiving the blessings, we just simply do not have the faith. If we are not worthy to receive the endowments in the House of God, it is because we do not have faith. We are not asking for it; we are not thinking for it; we are not preparing ourselves for it, through faith.

Now I would like to conclude by making this observation, brethren. It is the prime responsibility of this Council to keep the laws of God alive, one of them to see the principle of Celestial Marriage is kept alive, and that no year could pass when children were not born under that covenant. In order to do that we must teach you, our brethren who hold the Priesthood. Here is where you receive the instructions of your leaders, under the direction of President Johnson; and we should cherish these teachings that we receive under these auspices. Here is where we should learn our duties, and to get a greater determination to keep all of the commandments of God.

I hesitate in the general meetings of this people to say anything to the sisters except one thing, and it is the only thing we can say to them, it seems to me; and that is, to submit themselves to their husbands. We teach you, brethren, and you teach them. And that is about the only instructions Peter gave the Former-day Saints. To the sisters: Sisters, submit yourselves to your husbands. Now we say to you husbands: Be worthy of carrying the word of God to them, and to teach them, and direct them and your children in the way they should go. God has laid a heavy responsibility on us regarding our children, as He did upon His mighty servant, Joseph Smith. Now may we see and understand, and fully comprehend, and carry out these responsibilities, and rally around the leadership of our Prophet, I humbly pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
are. But the thing that makes this beautiful to me, brethren and sisters, is knowing that this little handful of people, when compared with some million and a quarter members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, have set their hand to live the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ -- against the laws of the land, against the traditions of the world, and all the power that there is in the earth that is being exhibited by Babylon. This, to me, is the greatest courage that can be shown. Courage on the battlefield is nothing compared to this, because we are engaged in a moral fight, and this is worst of all. This is the greatest fight of all, when all the moral forces that are being exhibited in the world today are directed against the virtue and the integrity of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and its principles.

All the forces of satan are being brought to bear now as they have never been brought to bear before. Where previously he has used physical persecution, hardships, and every other form of trial that could be brought against a people, today we have the insidious immoral forces turned loose in their full fury against the people of God; and believe me, brethren and sisters, this is indeed the worst of all.

We see exhibited on every hand immorality that is becoming more and more brazen and open and insidious, and there is being fulfilled the statement in the Book of Mormon, "It is all right to sin here a little and there a little," to be loose here and be loose there, "I will be beaten with a few stripes and be saved at the last." But once we start down that road, brethren and sisters, it means out and outright apostasy. It may not be in evidence on the surface, but it certainly is there in its most insidious form. And this is the thing that we must guard against, my dear brethren and sisters. In all of our associations, we must uphold the strictest virtue. This people must set the example for the Church and all the world. It is because of the immorality of the world that they call righteousness, sin. The righteousness of these holy principles becomes sin in their eyes. The very nature of the plural relationship becomes sinful in their eyes because that is their nature. They are living in it right up to their necks, and they do not know anything else. So they accuse others of the things that they are guilty of themselves.

I felt like saying this much on this point because it just needs to be said, brethren and sisters. Our individual moral conduct must be above reproach before God. Our fellow men may not see and hear, but God does, and His Spirit bears witness. In our lives, it can be ascertained in time.
The plural relationship calls for the highest order of morality. To me, it will bring forth the character and attributes of God if we will abide in it. That is the very purpose, one of the great purposes of this relationship, is to enable us to attain to the attributes and character of God; and if we will truly live this law, then we cannot help but obtain the character of God -- that, along with the Economic Order of Heaven.

We need more faith, brethren and sisters. I feel like saying a little further this afternoon on the operation of this great and fundamental principle. The Seventh Lecture on Faith tells us that faith is the exercise of the spirit, and it is accomplished through words. I do not think we think of this often enough.

When we exhibit faith in our lives, brethren and sisters, something must come from inside of us and reach out to God; and we can only reach out to Him through our prayers, through the expression of words. When a thing is to be done under the direction and operation of the Holy Spirit, it is done through words. Elijah performed great miracles, and they had to be done through words, as dictated by the Holy Spirit. Christ came into the world. He lived and accomplished His mission by the power of faith.

So, it devolves upon us to pray more. But we can go to extremes in this. We are told of a man who prayed seven times a day and did not allow any of his family to do any of it. But if we will pray over everything that we do, silently before the Lord, and offer our other prayers before Him in secrecy, and our family prayers at their proper times and occasions, then we cannot help but be found in the way of truth, and in the way of duty; and accomplishing the labors, every day, in a pleasing manner before God.

If we will go about our business of earning a living -- working on the house, your labors here, each and every task that you undertake -- if it be done with a prayer, you are going to do a better job. You are going to have more satisfaction in your soul, and you will grow and increase in knowledge, and it will ripen into knowledge.

If we will read the scriptures with a prayer to get the Spirit of God to direct us -- and believe me, brethren and sisters, you cannot get and keep the Spirit of God without faith; it must be prayed for, it must be asked for, and it must be lived for, through faith -- then, with that power at our beck and call, every day of our lives and every act of our lives, how can we help but take on ourselves the attributes of a God, as far as mortal beings can do so? -- until, finally, we shall have pronounced upon our heads the greatest of all blessings -- "My son, my daughter, thou shalt be exalted." His or her calling and election is made sure; and, in time, have the hands of the Savior upon our heads, hear the voice of the Savior, and see Him, and have all of these blessings confirmed; and this, of course, after having undertaken all of the revealed endowments and covenants of the holy Priesthood that God has given us.

I think one of the most beautiful ways that we have illustrated to us as to how faith will enable us to attain unto Godhood and the character of God, is written in the seventh chapter of Moroni.

Moroni 7

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased, then has faith ceased also; and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Here, brethren and sisters, I would like to make an observation. The greatest men who have ever lived in the sight of God have been humble men, meek men. Jesus Christ, Himself, descended below all things that He might rise above them, and He was the meekest and lowliest of all. Joseph Smith was of like character. Indeed, brethren and sisters, in meekness and humility there is strength, because through this meekness and humility we have faith and hope, and it leads into this last and greatest of all of the attributes of God:

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity;

Or love.

44. ...for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

So that love, or charity, encompasses them all.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail--

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

Pray unto the Father,

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

RTJ 1:150 October 2, 1960 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 2, 1960
How to Exert the Faith of the Brother of Jared

I am indeed grateful to be able to meet with you again today, brethren and sisters, on this beautiful day, and to be numbered with the people of God. I realize how blessed this people is, how blessed we are. I wonder how much gratitude there is in our hearts.
We are so few, trying to keep the commandments of God and to be loyal to the authority and the Priesthood of Almighty God upon the earth, and yet this few could become the mightiest force. It is perpetually the mightiest power upon the face of the earth if we would indeed be faithful and obtain that faith that the ancient saints and others have obtained in seeking the blessings of God and the approbations of heaven.

I know that we are not humble enough, which means that we are not grateful enough for the things that we have. I am sure this comes from the thing that Brother Johnson has called to our attention so often, the thing that still rests upon the people of God as a whole, we are not serious about the things of God as we should be. When the saints of God are not progressing as they should -- and I am sure that this is the best people on the earth as the brethren have said -- it is because we do not have the necessary faith. According to our faith so shall it be, the Lord has promised us. According as the faith of the ancients saints was, so were their blessings and privileges, and which many saw the third heavens and so forth.

I feel to pour out my heart in gratitude to the Lord for His blessings, and to repent of my sins. I need to depend more upon the Lord instead of the arm of flesh, which is in me, and I am sure we all do. As I think upon this very important subject, I cannot help but remember the case of the brother of Jared. I felt impressed to analyze the account in the Book of Mormon, the third chapter of Ether, on how this principle of faith worked in him. He has been set out as one of the great prototypes and examples of the power of faith in the life of an individual. And he, of course, in this story that we have, obtained the blessing that he desired for the benefit of the saints then, and also for his own great good and benefit.

The saints had, according to the command of the Lord, prepared these vessels to cross the great deep, and he took sixteen small stones, white and clear as transparent glass, and carried them in his hands upon the top of the mount and cried unto the Lord saying,

Ether 3

2. O Lord, thou hast said that we must be encompassed about by the floods. Now behold, O Lord, and do not be angry with thy servant because of his weakness before thee; for we know that thou art holy and dwellest in the heavens, and that we are unworthy before thee; because of the fall our natures have become evil continually; nevertheless, O Lord, thou hast given us a commandment that we must call upon thee, that from thee we may receive according to our desires.

Now notice the foundation of humility, and the expression of faith, and the knowledge of the existence of God, and of His character and His unchangeableness in His promise that He would grant unto them according to their desires.

3. Behold, O Lord, thou hast smitten us because of our iniquity, and hast driven us forth, and for these many years we have been in the wilderness; nevertheless, thou hast been merciful unto us.

Another acknowledgement of one of the attributes of God, and his faith in the same.

3. ...O Lord, look upon me in pity, and turn away thine anger from this thy people, and suffer not that they shall go forth across this raging deep in darkness; but behold these things which I have molten out of the rock.

4. And I know, O Lord, that thou hast all power, and can do whatsoever thou wilt for the benefit of man;

Talk about an expression of faith.

4. ...therefore touch these stones, O Lord, with thy finger, and prepare them that they may shine forth in darkness; and they shall shine forth unto us in the vessels which we have prepared, that we may have light while we shall cross the sea.

5. Behold, O Lord, [I know] thou canst do this. We know that thou art able to show forth great power, which looks small unto the understanding of men.

6. And it came to pass that when the brother of Jared had said these words, behold, the Lord stretched forth his hand and touched the stones one by one with his finger. And the veil was taken from off the eyes of the brother of Jared, and he saw the finger of the Lord; and it was as the finger of a man, like unto flesh and blood; and the brother of Jared fell down before the Lord, for he was struck with fear.

7. And the Lord saw that the brother of Jared had fallen to the earth; and the Lord said unto him: Arise, why hast thou fallen?

8. And he saith unto the Lord: I saw the finger of the Lord, and I feared lest he should smite me; for I knew not that the Lord had flesh and blood.
9. And the Lord said unto him: Because of thy faith thou hast seen that I shall take upon me flesh and blood; and never has man come before me with such exceeding faith as thou hast; for were it not so ye could not have seen my finger. Sawest thou more than this?

10. And he answered: Nay; Lord, show thyself unto me.

11. And the Lord said unto him: Believest thou the words which I shall speak?

12. And he answered: Yea, Lord, I know that thou speakest the truth, for thou art a God of truth, and canst not lie.

There is another of the characters of God set forth.

13. And when he had said these words, behold, the Lord showed himself unto him, and said: Because thou knowest these things ye are redeemed from the fall; therefore ye are brought back into my presence; therefore I show myself unto you.

14. Behold, I am he who was prepared from the foundation of the world to redeem my people. Behold, I am Jesus Christ. I am the Father and the Son. In me shall all mankind have light, and that eternally, even they who shall believe on my name; and they shall become my sons and my daughters.

15. And never have I showed myself unto man whom I have created, for never has man believed in me as thou hast. Seest thou that ye are created after mine own image? Yea, even all men were created in the beginning after mine own image.

Now I think the thing that stands out in this is the exertion that the Prophet Joseph speaks of in Lecture number Seven of the Lectures on Faith, that by faith we work through the exertion of the mind or the spirit. When we pray, it is by words that we convey these ideas and express this faith to our Father in heaven, and something must go up and out from us by the exertion of our mind before we can truly be exercising faith as the brother of Jared did. To me this is the most beautiful example we have of the modus operandi, this great and all-important principle of faith, which I am sure we do not exercise enough. I know I don't.

In order to go before the Lord with this kind of confidence, we have to know that our course is pleasing to God, by which we have offered in sacrifice all things earthly, and have given our all to the work of the Lord, and consecrated our goods, and sacrificed every earthly thing, and have a correct knowledge of the attributes and the character of God -- all of these things back up this exercise of faith. I think it well to keep this in mind as we go about our daily labors, that we may act accordingly, and our faith will grow and increase to where we obtain the things that have been promised unto us by the Prophets of God; and draw near to His Priesthood in our faith, and let it be centered in this order that we may indeed draw near unto God by the same means. I hope and pray that we will do so, in the name of Jesus, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 16, 1960
Humility; Pride

I feel very weak, my brethren and sisters, in standing before you today. I would be but an instrument in the hands of God to be useful in bearing witness to the truth, that our hearts might be pricked and led to do better, to serve God with all our might, mind, and strength, and to walk in holiness before Him.

I am sure we little realize what perilous times we live in. Yet, as many of the brethren have said on many occasions, we live in the greatest and most significant time in the history of the earth so far, when God has set His hand to redeem His people and establish Zion, and to usher in the Millennium. We are a vanguard, brethren and sisters, and I think if we would only realize the significance of this fact, we would be led to greater works and be more diligent in serving God and building up His Kingdom and establishing His Priesthood in the earth.

I am sure that one of the greatest lacks that we have -- the thing we are lacking most in is humility, because God cannot bless and own and direct a person who is not humble before Him, and does not acknowledge Him and His hand in all things. There is a proneness to be proud and self-righteous. Because we are told we are the people of God, many are inclined unto self-righteousness and piety, and not acknowledging in gratitude the blessings of God, both direct from Him and through His servant. I think one of the greatest things of all is the sin of ingratitude.

We are such a blessed people. The greatest of all the gifts of God are at our disposal, and we do not live up to them. We do not acknowledge God in all things as we should, for we certainly live by the grace of God from day to day. Every day, as I see it, is a living miracle that this small handful of people are able to go about their affairs in the degree of peace that we do, and we are able to go forward in accomplishing the commandments that He has given us to carry out; for He has indeed said that He would never give unto us a commandment without providing first the means by which to accomplish the thing.

We of all people should not be fearful. We, of all people, should have that faith that would move mountains, that we would humble ourselves before God, that He might own and bless us. I was reminded of one of the scriptures here that I was given by Brother Guy, in his little book. I thought it might be well to read it here.

Proverbs 6

16. _These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him:_
17. _A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood,_
18. _An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief,_
19. _A false witness that speaketh lies,_

And the seventh, one that the brethren have borne down upon so much in the past:

19. _...and he that soweth discord among brethren._

The first one listed was a proud heart. I am always reminded, too, of the teachings of Joseph Smith on this matter. He was at the time directing his remarks to the Twelve, but it certainly applies to us all:

TPJS Page 155

_Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us._

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part; and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother. Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.

To me, brethren and sisters, in this spirit of humility is the greatest strength. This quality of humility is of such a nature that when we say we have it, we have lost it. The greatest of all examples that we have before us in this thing is the Master, Himself, who said, "Let the least of you be the greatest," for He was; and He went below, descended below all things that He might rise above all things. But you never heard the Savior boast in His own strength, in pride, or anything of like nature; but always acknowledging God, His Father: "I have come to do His will, not mine. I do what I see Him do."

I think, brethren and sisters, if we would get right down to cases, and keep ever before our minds and in our hearts the example of the Savior, Himself; for as this other brother said, He is the only one worthy of emulation. He bought us with a price. He led the way for us to follow. We have His Priesthood, the Priesthood after the order of the Son of God, in our midst. It is blessing us every day. Are we going to follow and sustain and uphold the source of our blessings, or are we going off into the sagebrush and become a law unto ourselves, in our own pride and ambition?

Let us get our loyalties straightened out, and follow the Priesthood of God as they are led by revelation to direct us. I pray and hope that we will gather together in our spirit, that wherever we are called to labor, that we will acknowledge God and His Priesthood and follow the same, unto our eternal exaltation. I ask it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
We have been together quite a long while now, brethren and sisters, but I would like to add just an admonition or two with the help of the Lord. I know Brother Timpson, I guess, about as well as any man does. He is my uncle; I am his nephew. I have known him a long time.

I love Brother Timpson, and I love all of my other brethren, and I think I can testify, as well as any, how I miss the love and association of my brethren in the Council, and particularly Brother Johnson, in being away as much as I have.

I came through Albuquerque last Tuesday morning, and I had breakfast with them; and it was like light from heaven, in the midst of that wicked city and environment, to sit down for a few moments on their journey and counsel with them and meet them in their motel room and pray with them. I do not know when I felt more lonesome than I did when they left. I miss them tonight, but I know they are doing a great work, and some of the saints who need them more than we do are being blessed by their ministrations today.

I love my brethren more than I love my wife, and I pray it will ever be so. I do not think my wife could follow me if I did not. Isn't this right, Brother Timpson? If I were not faithful and true to the authority over me, I could not expect my folks to be likewise with me. And until I get out of the way of my Priesthood, they can never get away from me, worlds without end. And these are very simple and plain truths.

Now, brethren and sisters, we talk a great deal about faith and faithfulness, but I do not think we understand yet the real modus operandi. The Seventh Lecture tells us that when we work by faith, we work by mental exertion instead of physical force. By this measure, I wonder how many of us could be judged lazy, spiritually lazy, or lacking in faith. One wise man has said this about faith that I think might be worth passing on. Sometimes we can understand some of these things in other words than we are usually being told time and time again.

"All the strength and force of man comes from faith in things unseen."

We were sent into the world to walk by faith, and prove that we would choose good and refuse evil and come again into the presence of God, and that is the sum and substance of our labor here upon the earth -- our faith in God, or One that we do not see, that our faith should be so perfect that we see Him who is unseen; until we come to that point when our calling and election is made sure, through our receiving our anointings, and finally, the ministration of the Savior Himself, who will then show the Father unto us. To go on:

"He who believes is strong. He who doubts is weak. Strong convictions precede great actions. The man strongly possessed of an idea is the master of all who are uncertain or wavering. Clear, deep, living convictions rule the world."

If we have a conviction of the truths of the holy Priesthood and of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the saints will rule the world, and not until. There must be an inner fire, a burning within our breasts, that reaches out to God through prayer and through obedience before we can be working by faith and come up to see His face. Are we so exerting ourselves, brethren and sisters? We exert ourselves mentally through words, which then requires that we pray constantly. In our actions, in our thinking, in all of our labors, we should be constantly praying to the Lord and seeking to fulfill the measure of our creation.

The Holy Spirit, brethren and sisters, is the attributes of God; and like Brother Timpson says, we must be filled with it, and we will be filled with it through obedience. As a man obtains a fullness of this Holy Spirit, which is the attributes of God, he may get to a point where we would actually love and revere him, as the Prophet was loved and revered. And in any man that we find a perfection of these attributes, we will be required to love him, because we love God who has a perfection of those attributes. That is why we worship Jesus Christ, the great Prototype of perfection. I pray that we may do these things, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:159  December 18, 1960  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 18, 1960
Love; Charity

I am grateful to join my brethren in mingling with you again today, and I, too, have this opportunity to add my testimony to that of the others for the goodness of God and His blessings unto us all. It has been ringing in my ears a few words of the Savior: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; and thy neighbor as thyself." I have loved the Lord; you have loved the Lord, I am sure. But we have not loved Him with all our hearts, with all our minds, and with all our strengths. If we had, we would have had the Temple, our endowments, Zion would have been redeemed, and God would have had His people. This lays very heavily upon me, my brethren and sisters, and I, like others, feel to repent and to do better and to remember this first and greatest of all the commandments.

Jesus added later, "If ye love Me, keep My commandments." This means walking in obedience to the direction and counsel of His servants, His legal representative upon the earth. It is that simple, brethren and sisters. We can go into all of the little details we want; but if we would only make this one thing the burning desire, the overwhelming desire of our hearts, we would be able to be used by the Lord. I just want to add these remarks, brethren and sisters, and be short tonight:

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love,
We have got to pray for it and live for it.

48. ...which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

I feel to add this, brethren and sisters -- we need to go before the Lord and offer an offering of a broken heart and a contrite spirit. If we will do this, He will make our weaknesses known unto us, so that we may overcome them. And I promise you in the name of the Lord, if you will do this, you will know your weaknesses, and then you can set about to do it, to overcome them. May the Lord bless us to this end, I pray, in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:161  May 7, 1961  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 7, 1961
D.& C. 121

I am very delighted to mingle my voice with that of my brethren here tonight, to be with you and to partake of the spirit that is here tonight. I just feel like reading the words of the Lord through the Prophet Joseph as they were dictated to him, as he wrote of the suffering saints at Quincy, Illinois from Liberty Jail, what we know now as Section 121:

TPJS Page 131

[Oh God! where art Thou? And where is the pavilion that covereth Thy hiding place? How long shall Thy hand be stayed, and Thine eye, yea Thy pure eye, behold from the eternal heavens, the wrongs of Thy people, and of Thy servants, and Thy ear be penetrated with their cries? Yea, O Lord, how long shall they suffer these wrongs and unlawful oppressions, before Thine heart shall be softened towards them?]

O Lord God Almighty, Maker of Heaven, Earth and Seas, and of all things that in them are, and who controllest and subjectest the devil, and the dark and benighted dominion of Sheol! Stretch forth Thy hand, let Thine eye pierce; let Thy pavilion be taken up; let Thy hiding place no longer be covered; let Thine ear be inclined; let Thine heart be softened, and Thy bowels moved with compassion towards us; let Thine anger be kindled against our enemies; and in the fury of Thine heart, with Thy sword avenge us of our wrongs; remember Thy suffering Saints. O our God! and Thy servants will rejoice in Thy name forever.]

He went on writing to the saints. A little later in his epistle the Lord gives His answer:

TPJS Page 134

[My son, peace be unto thy soul; thine adversity and thine afflictions shall be but a small moment; and then if thou endure it well, God shall exalt thee on high; thou shalt triumph over all thy foes; thy friends do stand by thee, and they shall hail thee again, with warm hearts and friendly hands; thou art not yet as Job; they friends do not contend against thee, neither charge thee with transgression, as they did Job; and they who do charge thee with transgression, their hope shall be blasted and their prospects shall melt away as the hoar frost melteth before the burning rays of the rising sun; and also that God hath set His hand and seal to change the times and seasons, and to blind their minds, that they may not understand His marvelous workings, that He may prove them also and take them in their own craftiness; also because their hearts are corrupted, and the things which they are willing to bring upon others, and love to have others suffer, may come upon themselves to the very uttermost; that they may be disappointed also; and their hopes may be cut off; and not many years hence, that they and their posterity shall be swept from under heaven, saith God, that not one of them is left to stand by the wall. Cursed are all those that shall lift up the heel against mine anointed, saith the Lord, and cry they have sinned when they have not sinned before me, saith the Lord, but have done that which was meet in mine eyes, and which I commanded them; but those who cry transgression do it because they are the servants of sin and are the children of disobedience themselves; and those who swear falsely against my servants, that they might bring them into bondage and death; wo unto them; because they have offended my little ones; they shall be severed from the ordinances of mine house; their basket shall not be full, and their houses and their barns shall perish, and they themselves shall be despised by those that flattered them; they shall not have right to the Priesthood, nor their posterity after them, from generation to generation; it had been better for them that a millstone had been hanged about their necks, and they drowned in the depth of the sea.]}
Wo unto all those that discomfort my people, and drive and murder, and testify against them, saith the Lord of Hosts; a generation of vipers shall not escape the damnation of hell. Behold mine eyes see and know all their works, and I have in reserve a swift judgment in the season thereof, for them all; for there is a time appointed for every man according as his work shall be.

And now, brethren, after your tribulations, if you do these things, and exercise fervent prayer and faith in the sight of God always, [He shall give unto you knowledge by His Holy Spirit, yea by the unspeakable gift of the Holy Ghost, that has not been revealed since the world was until now; which our forefathers have waited with anxious expectation to be revealed in the last times, which their minds were pointed to by the angels, as held in reserve for the fullness of their glory; a time to come in the which nothing shall be withheld, whether there be one God or many Gods, they shall be manifest; all thrones and dominions, principalities and powers, shall be revealed and set forth upon all who have endured valiantly for the Gospel of Jesus Christ; and also if there be bounds set to the heavens, or to the seas; or to the dry land, or to the sun, moon or stars; all the times of their revolutions; all the appointed days, months and years, and all the days of their days, months and years, and all their glories, laws, and set times, shall be revealed, in the days of the dispensation of the fullness of times, according to that which was ordained in the midst of the Council of the Eternal God of all other Gods, before this world was, that should be reserved unto the finishing and the end thereof, when every man shall enter into His eternal presence, and into His immortal rest].

[How long can rolling water remain impure? What power shall stay the heavens? As well might man stretch forth his puny arm to stop the Missouri river in its decreed course, or to turn it up stream, as to hinder the Almighty from pouring down knowledge from heaven, upon the heads of the Latter-day Saints].

[Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen? Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson -- that the rights of the Priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control, or dominion, or compulsion, upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the Priesthood, or the authority of that man. Behold! ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks; to persecute the Saints, and to fight against God.

We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the Priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness, and meekness, and by love unfeigned; by kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile, reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost, and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy; that he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death; let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly, then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God, and the doctrine of the Priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy sceptre an unchanging sceptre of righteousness and truth, and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.]

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 1:165  June 18, 1961  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
June 18, 1961
It Is All, or Nothing at All; Counsel on Family Government

I am delighted, my dear brethren and sisters, to mingle with you on this very beautiful occasion and to mingle my voice with my brethren in praise to the Lord for His many blessings unto us -- indeed a blessed people; a handful, to be sure, compared with all that there are that have been born into the world, but I see here power that the world has never dreamed of, or knows anything about. One man and God is a majority. We often hear the saying, "One man will put to flight a thousand; and two, ten-thousand," when the Lord sets His hand to bring judgments upon the earth and to establish His Kingdom and build His city. I see as I look into the congregation here tonight the seeds of that power.

Above all things, brethren and sisters, we should acknowledge the hand of God; for to me, true humility is gratitude. If we acknowledge His hand, we will acknowledge His servant, sustain and uphold him, and do all we can with our might, mind, and strength to build up His Kingdom and establish His Priesthood in the earth. That is what we are here for, and this is His Kingdom. It will roll forth until it fills the whole earth. Every nation shall bow and confess, and become subject to the Kingdom of God and His Christ.

My thoughts tonight, brethren and sisters, have run along the channels of the purpose of the work that we are in. We are here to learn and keep the Celestial Law. If we are not, then we do not belong here with this Priesthood. Our minds generally, when we speak of the Celestial Law, we talk about plural marriage and the United Order. These are indeed the crowning principles of the Celestial Law, or a part of it. I was given recently a statement from our Prophet John Taylor, a definition of the Celestial Law, and that is, to do the will of the Father. That covers the whole ground, and leaves nothing more to be said as far as that subject is concerned. The great Prototype of this is the Master Himself: "I came not to do My will, but His that sent Me." Do we have any less obligation if we have taken upon us His name? We certainly have not. If we want to go where He is and be with Him, our Father, then we are going to have to keep the same law that He kept; and that was to do the will of His Father. There is no room or any place for a halfway house in this business. It is all or nothing at all. We cannot dawdle and fool around with sacred things, and treat them lightly. We are already under condemnation, as our President has told us. The saints have been for lo these many years, but if we will repent and keep the Celestial Law, there is no limit to the blessings of God that He has in store for us.

I would like to particularize a little more regarding our responsibilities under the Celestial Law of Marriage.

D.& C. 132

19. And again, verily I say unto you, if a man marry a wife by my word, which is my law, and by the new and everlasting covenant, and it is sealed unto them by the Holy Spirit of promise, by him who is anointed, unto whom I have appointed this power and the keys of this priesthood; and it shall be said unto them -- Ye shall come forth in the first resurrection; and if it be after the first resurrection, in the next resurrection; and shall inherit thrones, kingdoms, principalities, and powers, dominions, all heights and depths -- then shall it be written in the Lamb's Book of Life, that he shall commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, and if ye abide in my covenant, and commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, it shall be done unto them in all things whatsoever my servant hath put upon them, in time, and through all eternity; and shall be of full force when they are out of the world; and they shall pass by the angels, and the gods, which are set there, to their exaltation and glory in all things, as hath been sealed upon their heads, which glory shall be a fulness and a continuation of the seeds forever and ever.

Make particular note of that last phrase, the matter I desire to speak further upon -- the continuation of the seeds forever. That is the purpose of this great law -- seeds of the Gods, as to us, the seed of our Father in heaven, and if we become Gods in our own right, our own. Verse 63, speaking of a man receiving more than one wife:

63. ...for they are given unto him to multiply and replenish the earth, according to my commandment, and to fulfil the promise which was given by my Father before the foundation of the world, and for their exaltation in the eternal worlds, that they may bear the souls of men; for herein is the work of my Father continued, that he may be glorified.

Is it enough, brethren and sisters, to merely bear the souls of men? In the first place, this is a royal Priesthood, a chosen seed, the believing blood that has come down through all the generations of our Father to this time, to be used in, and prepared to build up the Kingdom of God, and to establish His Zion -- the nucleus of the Millennium. It is not enough to merely bear these children, brethren and sisters. It is laid upon us to raise them up in light and truth. Teach them faith in God and in the holy Priesthood; and in this is the hope and the future of the work of God.
You good women are to a very great extent, as Brigham Young said, the architects of the lives of your children. It is incumbent upon you, more particularly, since she spends a greater time of life with them, to teach them these things, and never speak against their father or the Priesthood. Then, when they come to a certain age in the time of their lives, turn them over to the husbands and the Lord, to be used to fill up the measure of their creation. Wherever this may lead is directed under the inspiration of God, through the Priesthood of the household head -- the family head; and that should be sufficient to you good mothers. I have often wondered, do you realize as you look into the faces of your children, what you are doing, what you are about? Do you take the raising of these children seriously enough?

I would like to point out again what the Lord had to say about this, even to the Prophet Joseph Smith, in Section 93.

D.& C. 93

38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

41. But verily I say unto you, my servant Frederick G. Williams, you have continued under this condemnation;

42. You have not taught your children light and truth, according to the commandments; and that wicked one hath power, as yet, over you, and this is the cause of your affliction.

43. And now a commandment I give unto you -- if you will be delivered you shall set in order your own house, for there are many things that are not right in your house.

44. Verily, I say unto my servant Sidney Rigdon, that in some things he hath not kept the commandments concerning his children; therefore, first set in order thy house.

45. Verily, I say unto my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., or in other words, I will call you friends, for you are my friends, and ye shall have an inheritance with me --
46. I called you servants for the world's sake, and ye are their servants for my sake --
47. And now, verily I say unto Joseph Smith, Jun. -- You have not kept the commandments, and must needs stand rebuked before the Lord;
48. Your family must needs repent and forsake some things, and give more earnest heed unto your sayings, or be removed out of their place.
49. What I say unto one I say unto all; pray always lest that wicked one have power in you, and remove you out of your place.

That is pretty serious business. It appeals to me, my dear brothers and sisters, that probably the greatest way, besides true and abiding loyalty, is to swallow up our will in the commandments of God; which as I say, covers the whole ground. Keep in mind the fact that we are raising up children under the Kingdom of God. Talk about building up the Kingdom of God! How else can we better do it than to raise these children up in love, and kindness, and understanding, and with firmness for the right, teaching them principles of truth and righteousness, and let them choose for themselves, setting an example above all other things in a life of sobriety, and a love for the truth, and loyalty to the Priesthood of God?

You are those that bear the vessels of God, you brethren who hold the Priesthood. You good women who bear the souls of men, what a beautiful part you play -- Motherhood alongside of Priesthood, for a noble cause. There are millions and billions of women who are bearing children. What more are we doing to be worthy of the Kingdom of God, and to come to a point where we can become a part of the great city, the New Jerusalem, and the Zion of our God?

Let us look to these things and not be weary in well-doing. Our daily tests are cut out for us, continuously striving to the end, and enduring to the end, that we may indeed build up His Kingdom and establish His Priesthood in the earth, which I pray we may do in the name Jesus Christ, amen.
My brethren and sisters and friends, I assure you that I was at first surprised, but honored, and made very humble in being invited, that Sister Steed asked that I speak at these services. I do indeed feel very humble in contemplating the life and labors of this beautiful character, who was an inspiration to me the few years that I have known her, and left a very deep impress upon my life. Sister Steed was to me a kindred spirit, because I feel that she was kindred to my father and mother.

My father was born but a few years after sister Alice in Farmington, to William Y. and Alice Ward Jeffs. I suppose the Clark family must have known them. And so, by this association, I feel close.

There is another matter by which my life was very touched. In fact, Aunt Sarah Knowlton, a sister of Alice Steed, delivered me to my mother, who was in hiding at the time for the fullness of the Gospel. I well remember the sweet associations later on in my life that I had in talking with Aunt Sarah.

My father and mother were personally well-acquainted with Walter and Alice Steed, for they were engaged in the same family order, and had endured much for the principles that they believed and practiced with all their hearts. My mother was in hiding for a year before she was married to father and they both lived very much underground in the earlier years of my life.

I am grateful for the characters such as these who have gone through so much to prove their faith in the fullness of the Gospel of the Lord, Jesus Christ. If we did not have such characters as these to emulate and follow after, it would be hard indeed.

Sister Steed, to me, was one of the most stimulating personalities that I have ever known. The times that I visited with her she just bubbled over with life. And she stimulated my feelings and love for the Gospel of Jesus Christ; and I know she did with all others with whom she came in contact.

One of the most inspiring things was her testimony which she bore of the fullness of the Gospel. I know she believed it all and practiced it all. Indeed, love was the central theme of her life and her religion. But it was translated into active obedience to the Lord her God, to her husband, and to the truths of heaven, which she understood and knew. I felt very strongly impressed as I contemplated what remarks I would make here today that Sister Steed would like to have me speak of the God she loved and obeyed. This is the very foundation, center of her life and to all of our lives, brethren and sisters.
We are told that faith is the first principle of the Gospel. But that faith must be centered on the true and living God, and hers was. I would like to first quote the definition of the first principle of the Gospel by the Prophet Joseph Smith:

TPJS Page 345

It is the first principle of the Gospel to know for a certainty the Character of God, and to know that we may converse with him as one man converses with another, and that he was once a man like us; yea, that God himself, the Father of us all, dwelt on an earth, the same as Jesus Christ himself did; and I will show it from the Bible.

Now how can we have a living, a vital and an effective faith, brothers and sisters, unless we know the God we worship? And the God Sister Alice worshipped was Adam, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, for Christ was indeed the Firstborn of the Father and the Only Begotten in the flesh. This I would like to bring to your attention was brought out by the Prophet Brigham Young when he said:

JD 1:50  Brigham Young  April 9, 1852  SLC

Now hear it, O inhabitants of the earth, Jew and Gentile, Saint and sinner! When our father Adam came into the garden of Eden, he came into it with a celestial body, and brought Eve, one of his wives, with him. He helped to make and organize this world. He is MICHAEL, the Archangel, the ANCIENT OF DAYS! about whom holy men have written and spoken -- He is our FATHER and our GOD, and the only God with whom WE have to do. Every man upon the earth, professing Christian or non-professing, must hear it, and will know it sooner or later. They came here, organized the raw material, and arranged in their order the herbs of the field, the trees, the apple, the peach, the plum, the pear, and every other fruit that is desirable and good for man; the seed was brought from another sphere, and planted in this earth. The thistle, the thorn, the brier, and the obnoxious weed did not appear until after the earth was cursed. When Adam and Eve had eaten of the forbidden fruit, their bodies became mortal from its effects, and therefore their offspring were mortal.

JD 3:319  Brigham Young  April 20, 1856  SLC

Though we have it in history that our father Adam was made of the dust of this earth, and that he knew nothing about his God previous to being made here, yet it is not so; and when we learn the truth we shall see and understand that he helped to make this world, and was the chief manager in that operation.

He was the person who brought the animals and the seeds from other planets to this world, and brought a wife with him and stayed here. You may read and believe what you please as to what is found written in the Bible. Adam was made from the dust of an earth, but not from the dust of this earth. He was made as you and I are made, and no person was ever made upon any other principle.

JD 1:50  Brigham Young  April 9, 1852  SLC

When the Virgin Mary conceived the child Jesus, the Father had begotten him in his own likeness. He was not begotten by the Holy Ghost. And who is the Father? He is the first of the human family; and when he took a tabernacle, it was begotten by his Father in heaven, after the same manner as the tabernacles of Cain, Abel, and the rest of the sons and daughters of Adam and Eve; from the fruits of the earth, the first earthly tabernacles were originated by the Father, and so on in succession.

Again, they will try to tell how the divinity of Jesus is joined to his humanity, and exhaust all their mental faculties, and wind up with this profound language, as describing the soul of man, "it is an immaterial substance!" What a learned idea! Jesus, our elder brother, was begotten in the flesh by the same character that was in the garden of Eden, and who is our Father in Heaven. Now, let all who may hear these doctrines, pause before they make light of them, or treat them with indifference, for they will prove their salvation or damnation.

These are very solemn words, brethren and sisters. And this to me is a very central doctrine and theme of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and I know it was to Sister Steed. I felt that we should ponder these things on this occasion, both relatives and friends.

Now, unless we know the God we love, or profess to love and serve and worship, we cannot have a living and abiding faith sufficient unto salvation. Brother Guy read a verse from the Lectures on Faith regarding the assimilation of our characters into that of the great Prototype, Jesus Christ, and His Father. These are the ones we seek to emulate and to assimilate our characters into. If we do not become like Them, we cannot go where They are. If we do not live the same law as They lived, we cannot go where They are. If we desire to come again to the presence of our Father and our Beloved Elder Brother, Jesus Christ, we must obey the same laws as They did.

The work and the glory of our Father is to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of His children. That is the thing that I want, that is the thing Sister Steed wants, and all it concerns must want. If they are willing to pay the price and do the work that is required of them, and obey the Gospel in its fullness as given by the Prophet Joseph Smith, then we can go back where they are.

And we must further realize that we are going to have to pass by Brother Joseph before we will see the white locks of Father Adam. It might be of interest to remember one other thing. We have recorded in the Compendium:

TPJS Page 190

Everlasting covenant was made between three personages before the organization of this earth, and relates to their dispensation of things to men on the earth; these personages, according to Abraham's record, are called God the first, the Creator; This can only be Father Adam.

God the second, the Redeemer;
This can be His Son, Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten in the flesh.

...and God the third, the witness or Testator.
Which is the Holy Ghost. We testify that Joseph Smith filled the office of the Holy Ghost. These three preside over this earth. Sister Steed believed these things and she in her later years suffered some embarrassment, but I do not think to her sorrow. I know she was not because of her faith and adherence to these principles.

Now I pray that we may all contemplate these things, at the peril of our salvation, that we may follow in the footsteps of such noble characters as this wonderful sister, whom I feel to honor and thank again at this time for her influence and spirit that she brought into my life; and I do it humbly in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:175  July 2, 1961  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
July 2, 1961
All the Prophets Looked Forward to This Day; Sacrifice; Counsel to Mothers

I am told that this is the largest gathering of the saints in our history here. This is indeed a beautiful sight, and it warms my soul. Praise to our Heavenly Father for the light and truth and knowledge which He has poured out upon this people. It reminds me of Section 121, which the Prophet, in blessings and promises and exhortations to the saints of Liberty Jail, said that "As well might man put forth his puny arm to turn back the Missouri River, as to prevent God from pouring out knowledge upon the Latter-day Saints." How we ought to rejoice and be exceeding glad, brothers and sisters, for the bounteous blessings of God upon us that the people enjoy at this time, though we should be prepared for the worst.

I rejoice as I sat here this afternoon, contemplating how our Father in heaven, Michael, finding Himself in the midst of many intelligent spirits which He had brought forth, was sent down to create this earth for us, His children; and after having done so, descended below all that man can suffer, excruciating suffering of becoming a mortal again, that He might provide bodies for us, His children; and how He has raised up such as Enoch, who is spoken of, to redeem and eventually translate a city; and Father Noah, and Abraham and Moses -- all have done their work -- and Elijah; and in time, how the Father in His great love sent His Only Begotten and the Firstborn in the flesh, to bring about the atonement that would make it possible for us to come again into His presence; taking upon Himself our sins if we would repent, and to become the first fruits of the resurrection. He, Himself, suffered greater contradictions and greater sufferings than man can. Under that same great plan, how the Lord preserved and watched after the lineage through which He sent the Prophet Joseph Smith, the Witness and Testator, to restore the Everlasting Gospel, and the Priesthood of Almighty God; and he, himself, to suffer death in an excruciating way, to become a martyr and a Witness and Testator to the truth that God has been trying to establish in the hearts of His choice spirit children.

Now, brothers and sisters, I don't know if you realize it -- and I know we don't often enough, and we should -- how all the Prophets from Father Michael down, looked forward to this last Dispensation of the Fullness of Times. Have you read the account in the Pearl of Great Price, how Enoch, being shown all that should transpire from the beginning to the end of this earth, cried unto the Lord, "When shall the earth rest?" He kept calling upon the Lord until he was shown the last days, and that great Millennium when the earth should indeed rest. All of the ancient Prophets -- Isaiah, Elijah, Christ Himself, Peter, James, and John -- looked forward to this day. And here we are, brothers and sisters, this little handful of people, the only ones remaining upon the earth -- some scattered away from us at this time -- to be sure that in the hearts of this small band of people is cherished the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel; and yet we are told we need to repent.

I have drawn my mind back to the gathering of men and women in a holy temple of God dressed in the robes of the holy Priesthood. When, oh when shall we qualify for this, my dear brothers and sisters? Brother Guy has told us this morning some of these things that are holding us back, and these are our backbiting, our criticism, and our inability, it seems, to keep sacred the secrets, the things that we should, the treating lightly the things of God; and as a result we are under condemnation. I am afraid we don't take that seriously enough. Now, if we want these lessons, my dear brethren and sisters, what are we doing today to qualify for them? Are we holding them out there constantly in our view sufficiently so that we are doing something today to accomplish them? -- which I am afraid we are not doing, and we must.

I know the Lord has blessed this people above all other peoples, and we shouldn't boast in it, but remain exceedingly humble. And I plead with you, as a servant of God, to look to your course of life. Offer in sacrifice all that we have of an earthly nature, including our feelings, which are generally earthly. Sacrifice them all upon the altar, that we may, indeed, know that our course is pleasing to God. Then set out in a very deliberate and skillful way to make our lives conform to the life of our great Prototype, Jesus Christ, acquiring all of the attributes that He has, purifying ourselves, cleansing our hands, and purifying our hearts; that we may stand before the veil, which the servants of God are trying to bring this people up to.

I felt like expressing these feelings here today. I feel to repent, as the Prophet Joseph was recorded as saying, "Search your hearts and see if you are like God. I have searched my heart and I feel to repent of my sins." I desire to do more to build up the Kingdom of God and establish His Priesthood in the earth. Each and all of us know, or should know, our work and our part in doing this thing.
You dear mothers, raise up your children in light and truth. And you fathers and husbands, lead your family by the power of the holy Priesthood. And above all -- and to all of us -- is the admonition and the duty and the commandment that President Johnson has given us at the beginning of this year, to get and keep the Spirit of God. Have we progressed any in the last six months in this regard? If we haven't, we had better get about it, because we are treating lightly again these sacred and holy things.

May we look to our course and follow the path that has been laid down by our President by the Spirit of revelation. And may we all have the Spirit of revelation in our families, in our labors and in all that we do, that we may truly love one another, and above all, the Lord our God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:178  August 6, 1961  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 6, 1961
Keep the Spirit of God; Faith; Testimony of This Work

I want to talk a little bit about faith, brethren and sisters. Our brethren have told us many years now that our sole object and the aim of our existence is to become like God, to assimilate our characters into the character of God. This is indeed true, brethren and sisters. The brethren have gone into great detail to tell us how to do this. I would just like to add an observation or two in this connection.

First and foremost, of course, is the basic requirement to get and keep the Spirit of God. God, Himself, and Jesus and Joseph, the grand Presidency of this earth and the Godhead of this earth, have attained unto a fullness of that Spirit, and thus are Gods. That is why it is so important to get and keep the Spirit of God, brethren and sisters. That is the modus operandi, if you please. We always have to come back to the basic law of the Gospel, the power and gift of faith. We cannot get the Spirit of God without faith, faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the Father. It is indeed a gift of God, brethren and sisters, faith itself; and so is the gift of the Holy Ghost. It takes a great deal of prayer and fasting daily, through our lives, to obtain this glorious gift. Then if we will follow the workings of faith by exerting our minds -- for that is how we work when we work by faith, according to the Prophet, daily, hourly, momentarily, brethren and sisters -- that is what it takes.

In all of our daily duties we must operate by the power of faith, and get the Spirit of God as we do that. As we work at a counter, or over the dishes, or as we study, or as we hoe the garden, or run a tractor, we must seek with all or might, mind, and strength to get the Spirit of God that it may guide us; that it may protect us and enable us and help us to fill up the measure of our existence; that we may add our strength and our labors to build up the Kingdom of God and establish the Priesthood of God in the earth.

So let us remember faith, brethren and sisters, as we seek to become like God Himself, for He operates by faith. He created the worlds by the power of faith. He brought us into the world by the power of faith. And we must go back unto Him by the power of faith. I humbly pray that we will seek to do this with all our might, mind, and strength, to lend ourselves with all that we have and are to sustain the Priesthood of God. That is the means through whom we operate by faith, that we may go back into His presence.

Brother Johnson suggested that I say a few words and then dismiss. It looks like we are going to have a continuation of this. I just want to add one more word, brethren and sisters -- my testimony regarding this work.

The thing that thrills me is that this people, this little handful of people, is carrying on the work that was commenced by the Prophet Joseph Smith, who was raised up by God and His Son Jesus Christ, to commence the great Latter-day work, the great Millennial work in the fullness of times. This little handful of people alone, of all the Latter-day Saints, so called, are carrying on for Joseph. This thrills me, because I love the memory, the name, the life, and labors of that great and glorious character. We would do well, brethren and sisters, to emulate the life of this great man. We should keep him in mind. Brother Joseph Musser used to tell us, when get up on our feet, if we cannot think of anything else to say, bear our testimonies regarding the Prophet Joseph Smith.

One more observation. This is the Priesthood that follows in legal succession to that great man, with the plans of God, to redeem His people. This is the people that is a nucleus of the great Millennium. Let us remember the great calling that God has laid upon us and fulfill it unto His honor and glory, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
It is really good to be with you, brethren and sisters. These associations we have, to me, grow sweeter and sweeter by the days and weeks and months and years that we meet together. The associations that we have while we dwell together under these circumstances, I feel, are going to carry these people to the place that the Lord has designed that we should go.

I was thinking, if we only understood and appreciated the true love of Christ, what a glorious thing it would be. If we really understood this, we would understand and feel far greater love for one another, both in our families as well as among brethren.

I think this people should really understand what the meaning of love of brethren is. Brother Joseph once gave to this people a statement -- I think it was couched in the words of one of the early Apostles -- to the effect that, "The feeling of our sisters should be centered in their husbands as the feelings of their husbands should be centered in the Lord, through the Priesthood." Nothing in the family activities and affairs, the trials and tribulations of our lives should interfere, dear sisters, with the loyalties, the duties, and the labors of the brethren with regard to their Priesthood; for in this Priesthood work, brethren must of necessity come to the point where they truly know this love of Christ. Our feelings must expand, so that we are truly indeed our brother's keeper, and look after one another's interest and yearn after one another's interest. This is the very spirit of the United Order. Imagine what an order we would have if we looked after the interest of all others, and others for ours. In this we would have true unity and the Spirit of God.

So many of us, brethren and sisters, I am afraid, are living at the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We are living at plural marriage. We are living at the United Order, and not truly living them as such. I would describe this as failure of being one hundred percent Priesthood people. Heber C. Kimball used to say, "The Kingdom of God or Nothing!" and this calls for one hundred percent loyalty and true faith in the holy Priesthood which leads us.
Too many of us, brethren and sisters, are living together in families and associating with this Priesthood under a spirit of protest, and this spirit carries over into the lives and feelings and the later attitudes of our children. And this is the sad part of it. Are you women going along with your husbands under a spirit of protest? I think it would be well to take inventory. If you are, you leave very, very much to be desired, and you are doing great harm both to your children, as well as failure to support and sustain your husband with one hundred percent loyal feelings of support, so that he can center his attention in the direction that it should go. This is everyday living I am talking about, brethren and sisters.

The Lord says, "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments. Ye will keep my sayings." Sisters, if you truly love your husbands, you will keep their sayings; and brethren, if you truly love God, you will keep His sayings that we receive through His Priesthood.

I was reading some correspondence of Brother Joseph just recently, and he used to stress so much this matter of being one hundred percenters. One hundred percenters -- these are the ones that the Priesthood can really use in this work, that God can use, that could come and go under the direction of the Priesthood and accomplish the work and make the preparations that are necessary, that we may be that nucleus of the glorious Millennium. The preparations that God is trying to make through this Priesthood, we little understand.

So we should strive to get in a condition where we can be used, and not stand in the way, living the Gospel under protest. I think it may be summed up this way, brethren and sisters, "If you are not for me, you are against me." You may be here in body. You may be going to and fro, going through the motions, as we might put it, but if we are not for God and His Priesthood, we are against it. It is just that simple, and we need to get our loyalties straightened out once and for all, that we may be counted, and counted upon. May the Lord help us to get into this condition, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City
October 8, 1961
I feel very dependant upon your faith and prayers and the Spirit of God tonight, brothers and sisters, and I do pray that the Lord will direct what I may say. I am very grateful to be here with you, to be your brother, and to call you brothers and sisters.

There has been very much on my mind of late, this glorious principle that we are kindred spirits that have been brought together under the direction of the Priesthood of God. It is no mere accident that we are together in this work, brothers and sisters. It is because this people, on the whole, were valiant, fighting for the cause of our Elder Brother Jesus Christ, before we came here. We have been brought together under the bonds of the New and Everlasting Covenant, because we have either responded to the call of the Priesthood or we earned the right to be born under that covenant, to come into His work. I suppose the most notable instance of first meeting kindred spirits are those instances where I have met the brethren I am associated with in the High Priesthood. The very first moment I was brought into the presence of Brother Joseph Musser by my father, I knew I had met and labored with him before. The night that Brother Guy came from California with his family and first attended a Priesthood Meeting -- I even remember the day, August 21, 1941 -- my soul leaped with joy at seeing him again, now in the flesh. I am grateful for these choice and kindred spirits that have been given to me in this life and the beautiful family that the Lord has given me. Their welfare is my greatest concern, along with that of those that the Lord has called me to labor among.

Now brothers and sisters, I feel that if we would be more cognizant of this principle, we would labor with greater diligence; we would perform our labors more with an eye single to the glory of God; we would be more humble and be made more useful in the hands of God. And brothers and sisters, if we would only try to find our own niche and not for others.

The Lord has given Brother Johnson a work to do. He has given Brother Hammon a work to do, and all of the rest of us; and He has given me a work to do. I am satisfied to do that and that only. I know I need to do more and be more diligent. I know all of us need to do this. But, being kindred spirits together here in this lone and dreary world, why shouldn't we band together with greater love and confidence, and above all, with greater faith so that the Lord can use us?

This is, indeed, that people who will be the nucleus of a great and glorious Millennium. The Lord has His people. There are very few being garnered in from the outside as they once were. There has been a great sifting going on among this people -- one very notable one -- but it has been going on from the beginning and it is still going on. Who knows but what there will be another great one soon. Will we be able to stand? Do we ask ourselves this often enough, brothers and sisters? Will we be able to stand? We have been tried by the Priesthood, this is true, and in some extent many of us have been tried by wealth; and if we have not been we will be tried by the revelations of the devil, because God has said He would put means in the way of satan to do just that -- to deceive us if it were possible. And so great will these tests be that it will be a matter of deceiving the very elect if it were possible, if the Lord did not cut short His work in righteousness.

Now the Lord wants to use this people for greater things. Why isn't He? I know great progress has been made and is being made by this people, but we are not getting the things that we should. I want to read a little from Lecture Seven again.

Lecture 7

17. ...through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it. He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter. ***

Now there is a real challenge. Do we have everything we need to carry us forward? Have we entered into all of the covenants received, the endowments and blessings of the holy Priesthood that we need? We certainly have not. These marriages are not complete without the endowments, brothers and sisters. Is our faith sufficient to receive it? Have we learned to keep our secrets and the secrets of God? We have not, or we would have received them.

Peter, seeing Jesus walk upon the water, wanted to do likewise and go out and meet Him, and by the reason of his faith, he was able to walk upon the water. When he looked down onto the water and began to fear, then he began to sink into the depths and Jesus had to save him. Here is a beautiful example of faith and the results of fear. If we have not faith it is because we have too many fears, brothers and sisters. These fears come by reason of disobedience, and fear bringeth torment. If we are not careful, this will be our lot.

18. These sayings put together show the apostle's views most clearly, so as to admit of no mistake on the mind of any individual. He says that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given unto them through the knowledge of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. And if the question is asked, how were they to obtain the knowledge of God? (for there is a great difference between believing in God and knowing him -- knowledge implies more than faith. And notice, that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given through the knowledge of God) the answer is given - through faith they were to obtain this knowledge; and, having power by faith to obtain the knowledge of God, they could with it obtain all other things which pertain to life and godliness.

19. By these sayings of the apostle, we learn that it was by obtaining a knowledge of God that men got the knowledge of all things which pertain to life and godliness, and this knowledge was the effect of faith; so that all things which pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith.

I say again, this to me is a great challenge. How do you exercise faith? It calls for a great exertion of our minds, of our spirits, if you please. If we straightway, with faith in our prayers, go forth and act upon them, then through obedience we will have a knowledge that our course in life is pleasing to God, our earthly feelings and desires, so that we can then approach God with confidence and obtain and lay hold upon these endowments, blessings and privileges of the holy Priesthood, so that we may then go forth in greater power in the hands of God in accomplishing His work.

Are we conscious that we are a part of the work of God, an integral part? We are needed in this work; but God can get along without us if He needs to. We need this work as well as being needed in it. We need it more than God needs us, but He would rejoice in seeing us all go forth in accomplishing His work and purposes. We should be praying night and day to know what our place in this work is, and then go forth with diligence and perform it. This is to be done through the medium of the holy Priesthood which stands over us. We must learn to have confidence and faith in that Priesthood, which is the same as confidence in God, because God has appointed it. Priesthood is God. He will honor those whom He has called and chosen. We need to be a part of it and I pray we will, brothers and sisters.

Remember who you are. Remember the covenants you have entered into and treat them not lightly at the peril of your salvation, and go forward from this time forth under the direction of President Johnson, honoring, praying, and sustaining him with all your might, mind, and strength. Through this medium we will indeed become one, we will have the Spirit of God as our constant companion, and the doctrines of the Priesthood will distill upon our souls forever; which I pray will be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:187 October 22, 1961 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 22, 1961
True Security; Store Food; Keep the Spirit of God

It is good to be with you and mingle with you, my dear brethren and sisters, and to partake of the good Spirit that is here. I pray that I may be able to continue in the same Spirit and give you only what the Lord wants to have me say. I have nothing but gratitude in my heart tonight for my love and association with this people, for the beautiful spirits that the Lord has placed around me, for my parentage and the inheritance that God has given me in the work of the Priesthood; and for the glorious brotherhood that I have with my associates in the Priesthood, for the great leadership that we have in the person of President Johnson.

Brethren and sisters, I know as I know I live, and by the revelations of the Holy Ghost, that this is the work of Almighty God, and this is the Priesthood of God that leads us. All that God has revealed to man upon the earth is in our midst. All of the authority that He has given us is in our midst, brethren and sisters. By this we obtain all of our blessings.

We see great and far-reaching events about to transpire. The people throughout the earth are running to and fro, wondering where to find some security. Here, and here only, brethren and sisters, upon the whole face of the earth can there be found true security. That is in the power of God and in living and keeping all of the commandments which He has given us; and being true and faithful to our covenants; and getting and keeping the Spirit of God; living in and maintaining dedicated homes and places, and standing upon holy grounds which have been dedicated by the holy Priesthood. We do not need fallout shelters, bomb shelters, and all the rest of it.

I spent a good deal of time, as many of you know, in Albuquerque in the near vicinity of which the atomic bomb was developed, Los Alamos. Sandia Base is the place where the Atomic Energy Commission conducts many of the experiments and research work that is done that has resulted in so many of the fearsome weapons and instruments of destruction. It is frightening as you look upon the lives and statements of people as they contemplate what might come at any time. It could be a prime target, of course, when we hear of these missile rattlings and the rest of it, and they are wondering how and where to go into shelters and all the rest of it. What a comfort, brethren and sisters, that we do not have to worry about these things, if we will be but faithful and obedient, and dedicate our homes and places where we sojourn, and stand upon holy ground, and then watch the arm of God made manifest -- if it must and will in our behalf if we continue true and faithful.

What a blessed people we are. I would suggest that we would, very seriously, do something, brethren and sisters, about storing up food. Twenty years ago we heard a great deal about it, and as twenty years has passed by, apparently not too much has happened in this connection. But we will do well to follow the admonitions of the brethren in this connection. I intend to be very serious about it myself. If we will rally behind and support the brethren and the efforts to build up our community and our projects in the south and in other places, brethren and sisters, food and other means of substance will be provided for us. But we have got to get in and support and sustain these projects if we are going to be able to participate in them.

These tangible, temporal activities must be taken care of if the Lord is going to bless us. We have got to do our part. He is not going to feed us and clothe us and all the rest of it except we put our faith in Him and ask for the means by which we can accomplish it. Then we must put forth our own efforts. Heber C. Kimball used to say, "The way to pray to the Lord is to go ahead and answer your own prayers by faith and works." When we have done our part, we know as we live that God will do His. This people needs to do much more in becoming one.

The answer to all of our problems, brethren and sisters, is the admonition that Brother Johnson has given us this year, to get and keep the Spirit of God. As I am asked by my family the answers to many, many questions, how simple it is to answer -- get the Spirit of God. Then we will be able, as a people, to be directed in the places and in the activities and in the line of our duty by our President. Each family will be able to rally behind the family head. And remember, it is Priesthood which governs there. It is Priesthood which governs in all of our affairs. The most important thing in our lives is the Priesthood of God and the Holy Spirit by which it functions. If we will sustain the Priesthood that stands over us as our legitimate authority and head, then the Spirit of God will be indeed with us. This is our only salvation and security.

God bless you, my dear brethren and sisters, that we may indeed be one, that we may sustain and provide for and yearn after the affairs and the welfare of our President. Brother Guy has told us that if we will purge out iniquity in our midst and sanctify ourselves, provide for and seek after the welfare with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, of our Prophet and President, then we will be accomplishing all that God requires of us, and we will be saved in the end and come again into the presence of God. May we do this, I pray, in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:189 December 3, 1961 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 3, 1961
Love of Brethren; Moral Fight; False and Delusive Spirits

It has been a little while again, my dear brethren and sisters, since I had this privilege. I am mighty grateful to be here again tonight. I did have a wonderful time last month with Brother Johnson in Colorado City. I deeply, with all my soul, appreciate the association I have with these my brethren in the Priesthood. One thing that I learned early in this work that has been a source of great strength, to me at least, was to learn to some extent the meaning and the power of the love of brethren. This far transcends anything that we can conceive of in mortality, because it reaches beyond into all eternity, and it even transcends the love of a man for a woman.

The bonds of the holy Priesthood are those bonds that will bind us together from father to son clear back from Adam down, I should say, and from here on into eternity. If we will remember this in our relations with one another, remembering that all men who hold the holy Melchizedek Priesthood are a part of it, indissolubly interwoven together in the work and the purposes of God. The Lord has His chosen ones to lead and direct His work, but He also needs many others who bear this Priesthood to bear off this work. When we realize what is going to be required of us in setting in order the House of God -- and more particularly when we speak of this we speak of the literal House of God, the Temple, and all attendant blessings that will come with it -- we see that many righteous and faithful men will be required to build up the Kingdom and establish the Priesthood of Almighty God in the earth, preparatory to the time when all nations will flow unto Zion and desire to be governed by her laws.

Brother Johnson has told us so many times this is a time of preparation, a time of which is very, very short, far shorter than we realize. The devil is trying with all his strength to overcome the work of the Priesthood. He is going to fight it harder than ever; the greater advancements it makes, the more determined are going to be his efforts, and they are going to be along lines that will be most deceptive, until, as it were, the very elect would be deceived if it were possible. These are the times in which we live, in this time of a great moral fight, to meet the onslaufs of the adversary as he bores from within. He has tried to destroy this work from without in many, many ways -- through the law, through persecutions, prosecutions, and every other means at his command, and now it is from within. He is a literal force and power and he has millions and billions of helpers and his imps.

I was brought to review again an article that comes, I think from the Millennial Star, called "False and Delusive Spirits." I feel impressed to read it to you here again tonight and maybe review a little of it for the good that I am sure it will do us if we will take it to heart. It is found in Volume 13, page 280.

False and Delusive Spirits (Truth 13:280)

False spirits are more subtle, and more contagious than the smallpox; their number and diversity of operations cannot be counted by man; and the first moment the Saints leave the path of duty, that moment they are subject to the influence of evil, false spirits, which, once having taken possession of the soul, are difficult if not impossible to be removed, by the person so receiving them, without assistance from those who have more wisdom. The great object of evil spirits is to get bodies, and the only chance they have is to dispossess a soul of the Spirit of the Lord, the light of eternal truth, and take possession of that body thus dispossessed; and when thus once in possession, it may truly be said there is a body possessed of the devil.

Jesus and his disciples in different ages, have commanded the unclean and wicked spirits to depart out of those of whom they had taken possession, and they have departed; but there are those spirits which are not easily dispossessed, and go out only by prayer and fasting. And again, there are those spirits that will hardly go out at any price, except it is by the will of those who harbor them. And of what class are they? They are invited spirits. Invited spirits? Yes; many spirits watch their opportunity to thrust themselves into a person when and where they are not wanted, and such are much more easily cast out than those who are invited guests.

For instance, a person for some real or supposed injury or neglect from a friend, wishes to retaliate, to be revenged, and of course opens the way, and invites the spirit of jealousy to take possession; and the moment jealousy enters the breast, there is a perfect hell of happiness. No scheme that hell itself can devise to torment, perplex, harass, disturb, vex, or mar the peace of friend, wife, or husband, is left untouched, or unmoved; and by that time the breast of the harborer is open to all the evil spirits of Pandemonium -- all have free access, and oh, what a world of glory dwells there!

And how shall that jealous spirit be removed? By the laying on of hands? The Lord deliver us from such an ordinance, in such a case. Why? That spirit was invited to take up its abode there, and while that spirit is made welcome by that person, what right have we to dispossess it? It would be abridging the agency of the individual who invited the spirit, for any one to cause that spirit to depart, without the person's leave; and we choose that all should exercise their own agency and responsibility, and then they are subjects of accountability.

Other spirits, not particularly invited or desired, gain an easy access to those who are careless, heedless, and but too indifferent to the statutes, ordinances, and duties of God's kingdom; who neglect their prayers, their assembling together, and doing as they would be done unto; and from these spirits arise contention, strife, evil thinking, evil speaking, evil surmising, detraction, revenge, law-suits, and a host of such perplexing annoyances, sufficient to disturb a nation: but the man who is obedient to his God in all things -- who knows no will of his own, only to do the will of his Father in the heavens, is free from these spirits; the devil has no power over him, for he resists him, and evil spirits are compelled to flee at his rebuke.

Some may say, "How shall I know when I am operated upon by a false spirit?" There are many keys by which the door of knowledge is unlocked to the Saints, in relation to spirits, as well as other things pertaining to the kingdom; but one may suffice at the present time.

The spirit of heaven is a spirit of peace, joy, comfort, consolation, and knowledge to its possessor; and all Saints who have enjoyed this spirit, (and all Saints have more or less), may know, when this peaceful spirit dwelling within them is disturbed, that something is wrong, that some false spirit is lurking within or about them, striving to enter; and if they will resist the first impulse of their disturbed feelings, and command Satan in the name of Jesus to depart, peace will instantly be restored to their souls.

Here is a point I want to stress very much, brothers and sisters:
It is not the wrong doings of others that destroy that peace within ourselves which the world can neither give nor take away; it is our own wrongs which cause that peaceful spirit to leave us; and would to God that this truth were indelibly imprinted on the heart and recollection of every Saint, It is your own wrongs or evil spirits that destroy your peace, and not the wrongs of your friend or neighbor. Know ye, all ye Saints, if the peace of heaven and a foretaste of the blessings of the celestial world are not continually with you, there is something wrong within, some foul spirit has got possession of yourself, and the quicker you dispossess it the better.

For yourself, your family and friends all around you; I have seen it in evidence too many times.

Carry out this principle and what will be the result? Every Saint will live by his creed, and "mind his own business." Every dear wife will look with a zealous eye

Not jealous.

...towards the happiness and welfare of her dear husband, and if she is tempted to think he is doing wrong, she will say, Get thee behind me Satan, that is none of my business, I will do right, that is enough for me, and I shall have peace in my soul. And so continue to do, till he has done so wrong that forbearance is no longer a virtue, then give him a divorce and do better if you can; but while you live with him, live in peace, and keep jealousy out of doors; if you don't you will always have hell within, and devils enough to carry it on. The moment you are jealous that your husband is wrong, that moment you are miserable, that misery is proof positive that you yourself are wrong, for it destroys your peace.

Jealous husbands are quite as bad, and a little less excusable, (if there can be any excuse), than jealous wives. Husbands, if your wives do wrong, teach them better, if they are willing to be taught, and if they are not, keep out of their way till they are willing and no quarrelling betwixt you. You need not fret your soul because your dear wife does wrong. Don't let the devil destroy your peace, and cause the Holy Ghost to depart from you, because your wife has given way to a bad spirit. Show yourself a man of God, be at peace with yourself, pray for her, and when she has been buffeted by the devil long enough she will get tired of him, leave him, and return to you.

Some husbands are so mighty big because they are the head, that the wife has no room in the house; if she thinks, she thinks wrong; if she speaks, she speaks wrong; if she acts, she acts wrong; she can't do a right thing for the life of her; and do what she will, no matter, she is as likely to get a cuffed ear as anything else, and a little more so; and if she should ask forgiveness, she would meet with the consoling retort from her dear lord, "yes, and you'll do the same thing again next minute." Why all this?
Because the dear husband, the great lord of the house has got so many devils in him, they make him so big there is not room for any body else in that house.

The things of which we speak are but too common among the nation of Christendom; and too much of them have been brought together among the Saints; but it is time for Saints to stop such things. Husbands, love and cherish your wives, as you ought; give them their place, their rights, their dominion, that they may act upon their agency, as you do on yours; and quit your fretting, and snarling, and quarrelling with them, if you ever did it. What! a man quarrel with himself? Yes, just as well as quarrel with his wife -- 'tis all the same.

She is a part of him, and we ought to remember this. So it is these subtle, silly little things that keep rising in our lives, brethren and sisters, that will take us off and lead us away if we are not careful; and there will be devils enough, as this article says, to help us on the way. He is mighty powerful, and we ought to draw in our strength and be putting it to positive use. I was thinking as I was sitting here tonight, too, brethren and sisters, I think the greatest sins of which we are guilty are our sins of omission. Nearly everything the brethren tell us from this stand have to do with the things we do not do enough, the positive things that we fail to do in building up the Kingdom of God and establishing the Priesthood of God upon the earth, which it is our solemn duty and covenant to do. May we do this, I humbly pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:195 January 7, 1962 CCA Conference

Conference in Colorado City, Arizona
January 7, 1962
Must Become Skillful in Keeping the Spirit of God Constantly;
We Are to Become Joint Heirs With Jesus Christ

I ask, my dear brothers and sisters, for an interest in your faith and prayers, because I desire nothing more than to be an instrument in His hands to edify and instruct. It is a great responsibility to speak to the saints, because we must, of necessity, have His Spirit. Whatever you desire you can have, according to your faith; and I trust that we will all unite our faith to the end that we may be instructed in these services. I feel to make some remarks today in connection with getting and keeping the Spirit of God that would be helpful.

We have in the Lectures on Faith, by the Prophet Joseph Smith, some of the grandest truths that have been revealed to us in these last days. It seems such a pity that the Church has done away with them, saying that they are not revelations and not being of enduring value. In connection with this, we have some very beautiful truths given us in another part of Section 93, from which I read this morning. But I feel that possibly, by discussing some of these principles, we might be edified. I need these crutches. The first verse in Section 93, I think, is a beautiful introduction of this subject.

D. & C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

In one verse, composed of one sentence, we happen to have the plan of life and salvation. To continue in that, there are four verses they cut up from this one sentence.

2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --
4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.

Now, the Prophet, after having shown what faith is and the object upon which it rests, being our Father in heaven, proceeds to tell us the character, the attributes, and the nature of the Father and the Godhead. I think one of the grandest dissertations on the Godhead is what we have in Lecture Five.

Lecture Five

1. ...We shall, in this lecture, speak of the Godhead -- we mean the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin;

He is the great Prototype of all saved beings, as is pointed out later on in the Lectures; and according to His great capacity, He suffered greater contradictions and greater sufferings than man can do; so that in His capacity He showed us the way and remained without sin; and we can, too, through the principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. When He hung upon the cross, brethren and sisters, He was left alone. The Spirit of God, the Holy Spirit, was withdrawn from Him and He went through that terrible suffering and bore the sins of the world alone, and thus brought about the resurrection from the grave, and the overcoming of death and hell and of the devil. How beautiful it is that we can have the same blessing with Him. To continue:

2. ...and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man,

He, then, is the Mediator between our Father and us, and we must be like Him and be as He is in order to go to the Father.

2. ...being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

The other thought of this matter -- that by this means of getting and keeping the Holy Spirit, we would be transformed into the likeness and image of Christ. That is just what this says, and exactly what it means, brethren and sisters. Reading the last paragraph we will see what it will bring us.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

How will we be joint heirs, brethren and sisters? Through the law of adoption. He is the Heir, the Only Begotten of the Father, the Firstborn; and if we, through this Spirit, become like Him, then we are adopted as heirs of God, jointly with Him. That is how far-reaching this principle of adoption is. Now we hear this admonition, that we should get and keep the Spirit of God, and we are always asked, "How do we get the Spirit of God? How do we lose it, and how do we get it back?" I read to you this morning that the devil takes away light and truth through disobedience, and because of the traditions of our fathers. This frequently happens in our daily lives. Our traditions may suddenly overcome us, and because of disobedience we will lose it. So the only way to get it, then, brothers and sisters, is through obedience, as I read here.

2. ...all those who keep His commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;

As the Priesthood gives us instructions and directions, these are the commandments that we are to keep. The written word, certainly, but you will find that the instructions and commandments that are given by the living oracles will always square with the written word; otherwise you can take notice, and question it. But if we had to depend only on the printed word, brethren and sisters, we would not have enough. We would be barren in the knowledge of God and Christ, because we need the living Spirit and power of God which is centered in His Priesthood.

Heber C. Kimball made a very significant statement when he said, "How are you going to get the Spirit of God, except you get it through us?", speaking of Brigham, and himself, and the leaders in the Priesthood. You wives, you children cannot get the Spirit of God except through the Priesthood of your husband and father. They will have to get it through obedience and being one with the Priesthood over them; and the Priesthood by being obedient and one with the God of heaven over them. We have got to keep that chain complete in order for us to enjoy these gifts and blessings.

Now, brethren and sisters, Jesus Christ, Himself, did not obtain a fullness of the Holy Spirit at the first. Let us see how He got it.

D.& C. 93

6. And John saw and bore record of the fulness of my glory, and the fulness of John's record is hereafter to be revealed.

7. *And he bore record, saying: I saw his glory, that he was in the beginning, before the world was;

8. Therefore, in the beginning the Word was, for he was the Word, even the messenger of salvation -- ***

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace;

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;

14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.

18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

Then some grand and glorious truths regarding intelligence and the light of truth. We, brethren and sisters, as it says, are the tabernacles of God. In order for us to reflect God in our lives, we must get and keep this Spirit. We must become skillful in getting and keeping constantly the Spirit of God. This is a skill, a matter of habit, shall we say. And just as sure as we are sitting here, as we go along and become more and more skillful, and it seems we will never be without it, the time will come when the Lord will withdraw that Spirit, as He did with Christ, and see if we can act on correct principle, by pure naked principle, as it has been made a part of us by having had and kept the Spirit of God with us at all times. But we are still agents unto ourselves, and this is why, my dear brothers and sisters, the Prophets have exhorted us from the very beginning. We can see that Christ did it in His day, when He spoke of how He and His Father were one, and called upon His Apostles to be one as They were one, and to have the Spirit of truth, that the Holy Ghost, if they would tarry in Jerusalem, would come upon them; which it did upon the day of Pentecost. Remember that Peter could deny Christ three times before this, without having lost his place. But after the day of Pentecost he could not deny Christ without losing it and possibly becoming a son of perdition. Of course, this he never did, and he and all of the Apostles died violent deaths as a result of their testimony and the message they bore. I understand Peter, not desiring to be in the same position as Christ, asked for himself to be hung head down when he was crucified.

This shows, brethren and sisters, how we may become like Them. John,
Peter, and others arrived at this station. Joseph Smith, Heber C. Kimball, John Taylor, and others in this day have arrived at this station. It is said of Heber C. Kimball that he was constantly able to act and walk by the Holy Ghost, which was a source of constant revelation to him day and night. The Holy Spirit is a Spirit of peace, of joy, and of love. It is the attributes of God. It is knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth; which, if we acquire in full measure, we will make us Gods who are unchangeable, who is not a respecter of persons, who is a God of truth and cannot lie, who is love.
These attributes of God, spoken of in the Third Lecture, are of those things or conditions which we acquire through getting and keeping the Spirit of God, through obedience in keeping the commandments all the day long, year in and year out, till the end of our lives. And the ultimate goal, which all of us should be seeking, is that our calling and election is made sure, that we may stand in the presence of the Savior, and receive a fullness, which is Godhood, and by which we will become Kings, Priests, Queens, and Priestesses under the Most High God, heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; which I pray we may seek with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength, in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:203  January 21, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 21, 1962
Testimony of the Godhead;
Children Can Understand the Godhead
I am delighted, my brethren and sisters, to meet with you again, and mingle my voice with my brethren and Aunt Susie in declaring the Gospel of Jesus Christ. And I desire to continue in the same Spirit of those who have preceded me.

The greatest gift in my life is the knowledge that I have of the Gospel, and of the Priesthood of God here upon the earth, which has bound me and my family and my brethren and sisters in the bonds of the New and Everlastimg Covenant. I am grateful for this knowledge, that Joseph Smith was a Prophet of the living God, and that there are three great Characters who made everlasting covenants before this earth and the foundations of it were formed pertaining to their dispensation of things to men upon the earth: God the Creator, who was Adam, or Michael, our Father; Jesus, or God the Redeemer; and God the Witness and Testator, the Holy Ghost. That man is Joseph Smith, who acted in that great office, who saw the Father and the Son as a young lad of fourteen, and of course, subsequently is Their Witness. I love and revere the name, the life and labors of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and I rejoice in the knowledge, too, that that great restorer, Joseph Smith, has been the means and instrument of following up the great work that he performed while in mortality through the Priesthood, which has succeeded him down to this day; and that the keys are with us, and that Leroy S. Johnson is our Prophet and leader and the mouthpiece of God to us. These are the most precious things in my life, my brethren and sisters. I feel to express to the Lord my gratitude for this great gift and blessing, that I am able to teach my family these truths.

Aunt Susie brought out that we are under obligation to teach our children in light and truth, that they may be raised up and taught correct principles, that they may be taught to govern themselves. Joseph Smith laid down the great principle when asked by a stranger who came to visit the saints in Nauvoo, "How is it, Joseph, that you are able to govern these people so perfectly?" He said, "My friend, I simply teach them correct principles and they govern themselves." This is the same principle upon which all of the Prophets and leaders of the great latter-day work have acted, and do today; and we should likewise raise up our families. To me, I do not care how small a child is, we should begin teaching them regarding, first of all, who our Father and God is, what He is like, and who the other members of the Godhead are. How can we worship and serve God unless we know we are serving the true and living God, knowing who He is and what He is like? How can we become like Him unless we know these things, and teach these things to our children? You would be surprised, brethren and sisters, how these young, tender minds will take to this glorious, fundamental truth of Mormonism; and we should not hesitate on the grounds that they are too "immature". I suppose in my discussions with my family I take up that subject more than any other.

It has been the burden of the message of this Priesthood to this people to learn to become like God. We have two great Prototypes, and one also in our time after which to follow. The ancient sacred records regarding Adam show that he was the great prototype of all saved beings; he fulfilled all righteousness in teaching his sons and daughters, fulfilled every law and ordinance of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, teaching his people then to look forward to the redemption of his Only Begotten Son-to-be. Then we have the life and labors of the Savior of mankind, whose atonement is far more reaching than we have ever understood. He came, and was sent to do the will of His Father, and He was a literal Son of Michael, our Father and God, through Mary. After the Gospel was taken from the earth through the great apostasy, Joseph came as Their Witness and showed us in this day and time how to live like They did; first of all by his teachings, and then through the things he suffered, and through the obedience that he rendered to the Gospel, that we can do likewise; showing us that our calling and election can be made sure, and that in time, as we become like God, we may enter into His presence. This should be the burden of our message to our children and to all those who desire to serve God and keep His commandments.

I bear testimony again that God lives, that Jesus Christ lives and directs this work, and that Joseph Smith lives and directs this work. And if we desire, my dear brethren and sisters, to go where They are, we have got to become like Them, which may we do, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 4, 1962
Sacrifice; Become Like God

I am grateful to be with you again, brethren and sisters, and to raise my voice in praise to the Lord for His goodness and mercies to us all, and pray that I
Brethren and sisters, what can I say? What should I say that has not been said before many, many times? And yet, one of the greatest evidences of the truth of this work and Priesthood is that it can and must bear repeating, to the end that it may continue to instruct us and direct us aright. It is the very nature of man that he must be continually reminded of his duties and responsibilities. Some come up with greater faith than others and move ahead; others move slower.

We have had many tests come into our lives, brethren and sisters, to sift us and sift us and sift us. I am grateful that we have come to a point, as far as my experiences in this work are concerned, where we at least have a people now among whom there is no appreciable contention, although there is much to be done. There are no serious factions in this work, and the tests that have come have taken care of that. Having gotten to this point then, brethren and sisters, why don't we do better? I felt very strongly impressed as I was sitting here tonight, that probably one of the reasons is that we have not yet fully submitted ourselves to God, and to the legitimate head under whom we have placed ourselves in this work. We have not yet yielded, brethren and sisters, as we should. We have not yet offered in sacrifice all that God requires.

The Lecture says that unless a man offers in sacrifice all earthly things, he cannot have the faith sufficient to bring him life and salvation. Too many of us think of this in the light of this world's goods -- money, houses, lands -- the very things that the prophet mentions in the lecture, but this also includes, well first let me say this: Houses, lands, children, all of our earthly possessions are not our possessions at all. They are not ours to give in the first place. They are God's. He has caused and granted that we should be born into this world; He has given us these bodies to clothe the spirits that He begot before we came here. This we have, and we belong to God too; but all that we really have is this character, whatever it is that has come up as result of the traditions, the upbringing of our parents, and the other circumstances and environment that we have been subjected to in this mortal life up to this time, or shall we say, up to the time we came into the work. This is all of the earthly things that we have to offer in sacrifice.

Have we submitted? Have we offered it with all our heart, might, mind, and strength? This is something we must ask ourselves or we are not going to get ahead in this work; we are not going to be made useful or found useful by the Lord; and after all, shouldn't we be striving to do this? What good am I to God if I have not given Him, offered Him, all that I have? Now this starts, brethren and sisters, of course, by presenting ourselves before our legitimate head -- there is Priesthood that is our head in all things in this work -- that is the very genius of it. And you will find in times past that those who have left this work have left it because they did not understand this fundamental principle; they did not understand Priesthood, its powers, prerogatives, and its blessings. They did not submit themselves to be led.

The burden of the message of the Priesthood to this people has been these many years, that we take on ourselves the attributes of God and assimilate ourselves into His character. This can only be done by getting and keeping and incorporating into our beings the Holy Spirit, which has been enjoined upon us by our head many, many, many times. The attributes of the Spirit of God are those things that the Prophet mentions in the Lecture. We have got to take actual steps, brethren and sisters, to assimilate ourselves into His character, and that is by having His Spirit continually until it becomes habit with us. That is the only tangible way I know how to think on this subject. I cannot assimilate the character of God into mine unless I have His Spirit, and what a glorious gift it is!

The attributes of that Spirit we know: knowledge. Now knowledge, brethren and sisters, does not consist simply in reading the Bible, the Book of Mormon, the Doctrine and Covenants, the Pearl of Great Price, the Journals of Discourses, or any others of the works of the Priesthood, or scriptures that are extant. Knowledge consists, as well as this, in coming up to a point where we can be endowed. You must know certain key words, signs, and tokens of the holy Priesthood in order to pass by those who are set on the way to our eternal exaltation. Knowledge consists in our having had those necessary experiences that are obtained through being instructed, and actually doing the things that God requires of us.

We obtain this knowledge through the second great principle mentioned: faith, or power, which is confidence in God, who has all of these attributes and characteristics in perfection; otherwise we could not have faith in Him; faith, or confidence in our legitimate head, brethren and sisters, our husbands, the head of Priesthood. As long as they have not violated the Priesthood and lost it, we are subject to it, and it is worthy of our confidence. Faith in God, placing ourselves in His hands, to come and go as He directs by whatever means He chooses; faith in God, that wherever we are or whatever we are doing, He will direct us if we have His Spirit, that we will have the revelations of God to guide and direct us.

Then justice -- we must learn to be just in our dealings with our families and our children; just in our dealings with one another as brethren, just in our dealings with sister wives; and at the same time merciful and gracious, long-suffering. And we have got to be capable of making a righteous judgment in all of our affairs and with those with whom we associate, and not judge where we have no right to judge. And finally, truth; to love the truth more than life itself; to seek it, to obtain it through the Spirit of revelation, which is one of the gifts of the Holy Spirit.

All of these things, brethren and sisters, obtained in fullness through obedience to all of the laws and commandments of God will give us a fullness of the Holy Spirit, which in turn will make us like God. These attributes, obtained in perfection and fullness will make us Gods and Goddesses. Because our Father obtained them in fullness, He became unchangeable, no respecter of persons; He became a God of truth who could not lie; He became love. Remember the Prophet stated it just that way -- "God is love." He is love. Having acquired the attributes mentioned by the Prophet, He became these characters, or characteristics, in perfection, and that is how we must do it. There is no other way except we get and keep the Spirit of God with us continually; and learn that when we have lost it, we get it back right away so that we will never be without it; until having it becomes so much a part of our nature that we then become full of it, and obtain it in perfection.

This is the way, the only way I can see from the revelations and from the instructions of the Priesthood of God to obtain this glorious blessing, and we need to get on with the job -- now, and not months or years later and remain in the static condition, which so much is the case today. May God help us on the road to this glorious goal, I humbly pray in the name of Jesus, amen.
Hushed Was the Evening Hymn

1. Hushed was the evening hymn;
   The temple courts were dark;
   The lamp was burning dim
   Before the sacred ark;
   When suddenly a voice divine
   Rang through the silence of the shrine.

2. The old man, meek and mild,
   The priest of Israel slept;
   His watch the temple child,
   The little Levite kept;
   And what from Eli's sense was sealed,
   The Lord to Hannah's son revealed.

3. O give me Samuel's ear,
   The open ear, O Lord,
   Alive and quick to hear
   Each whisper of thy word.
   Like him to answer at thy call
   And to obey thee first of all.

4. O give me Samuel's heart,
   A lowly heart, that waits,
   Wherein thy house thou art
   Or watches at thy gates;
   By day and night, a heart that still
   Moves at the breathing of thy will!

5. O give me Samuel's mind,
   A sweet un murmuring faith,
   Obedient and resigned
   To thee in life and death,
   That I may read with childlike eyes,
   Truths that are hidden from the wise!

This is in a poem that is set to music that has been a great inspiration to me; and as I was thinking upon it here tonight, it brought to mind the great responsibility we have as a people, in raising up our children as Hannah did.
Hannah was childless, and desiring to fulfill the measure of her creation, made a promise to the Lord that if He would give her a son, she would raise him up in the ways of the Lord and dedicate him to Him and His service. She kept her promise and placed him in the temple and dedicated him to the Lord, and we all know the great mission and work that was performed by the Prophet Samuel, in his rule.

We have the responsibility of raising up a people, brethren and sisters. There are very, very few that are coming into this work now, even from the Church. I am glad to see such as Brother Hackney taking hold of this work; but let us not make any mistake, brethren and sisters, in placing our faith in any vindication from a Church or any source like it. We must raise up a people ourselves, principally through our children. The Lord is going to place choice spirits in the channels of the Priesthood that have been vouchsafed to us by the Lord, like unto Samuel, that God has reserved unto these last days.

If we would have the faith and get the Spirit of God that we should have, we would all find our place and never want for a knowledge of what is our work in this latter-day cause. We bear the holy Priesthood, brethren, as agents of God. Come out of the world and set our hand to the plow, and we had better be about the Lord's business -- directing our wives and raising up our children in the ways of the Lord. What greater work and mission could we ever aspire to, if we could call it aspiring, than to teach and train up a child in the ways of God and under the direction of the holy Priesthood; set a son or daughter on his or her feet and see them go down the road to fill up the measure of their creation as sons and daughters of God? Place them in the channels of the holy Priesthood to fill up their mission as Samuel did his. You do not think you have work to do? A mission to perform? Priesthood labors to accomplish? Even the Prophet Joseph and the leaders of the Church in those early days were reprimanded and chastised, because they were neglecting their children in teaching them the way that they should go.

This thing bears upon me tonight, I suppose greater than it ever has. I just want to get this one simple message over to you tonight: Look to your children that God has placed in your care; they are choice in His sight, and He is looking to us to raise up and prepare a people through them. And may we ourselves, brethren and sisters, prepare ourselves, by every means and gift and power that God has placed within our reach. The gift and power of the Holy Ghost is ours, the greatest gift of all, to exercise the Priesthood which He has given us, that we might become that royal and peculiar people, saviors upon Mount Zion; and let us at least try to save and exalt ourselves, if none other. But we have children choice in the sight of God, and may we raise them up unto Him, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:211  March 18, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
March 18, 1962
Loyalty to Priesthood

I have a reputation for being a man of few words, and I want to read something to you tonight, brethren and sisters, that would be well for us to remember. Along the lines that President Johnson spoke to us first, let me read this from Section 84.

D.& C. 84

1. A revelation of Jesus Christ unto his servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and six elders, as they united their hearts and lifted their voices on high.
2. Yea, the word of the Lord concerning his church, established in the last days for the restoration of his people, as he has spoken by the mouth of his prophets, and for the gathering of his saints to stand upon Mount Zion, which shall be the city of New Jerusalem.
3. Which city shall be built, beginning at the temple lot, which is appointed by the finger of the Lord, in the western boundaries of the State of Missouri, and dedicated by the hand of Joseph Smith, Jun., and others with whom the Lord was well pleased.
4. Verily this is the word of the Lord, that the city New Jerusalem shall be built by the gathering of the saints, beginning at this place, even the place of the temple, which temple shall be reared in this generation.
5. For verily this generation shall not all pass away until an house shall be built unto the Lord, and a cloud shall rest upon it, which cloud shall be even the glory of the Lord, which shall fill the house. ***

Then he goes on to describe the Priesthood, which was handed down from Moses, and, of course, he traces it clear on back to Noah and Enoch, and to Adam, the Father.
33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.
34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.
35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;
36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;
37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.
39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.
40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.
41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.

And now this.
42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

There it is, brethren and sisters. Wo unto those who come not unto this Priesthood; and this is the indictment that stands against the whole Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. Wo unto those who turn against this Priesthood, and lift their hand against the Lord's anointed. They shall be wasted away from under heaven, and they will wish they had not been born! The greatest crime that can be committed against God is to blaspheme His name and to turn traitor to His Priesthood; murder is not even in it. So watch, brethren and sisters, that we be not found thus. May we indeed follow after this order with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, loving God and trying to serve Him thereby, I humbly pray in Jesus' name, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
April 8, 1962
Experience in the Church;
We Will Be Called to an Accounting; D.& C. 88
RTJ 1:214  April 8, 1962  SLC

I am delighted to be with you, brothers and sisters, and I earnestly pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, because I know that I cannot fulfill this assignment and edify you without the benefit of that gift and power from God.

I haven't heard any of the conference, but as I have sat here listening, and after having read a little bit in the papers about the conference, I have had nothing but gratitude in my heart, brothers and sisters, for my affiliation with this work; and that my footsteps have been led among this humble people, which is indeed led by the power of the holy Priesthood, even the keys of it. I, too, am grateful to be numbered among this persecuted people, when I think of what might have been, for I know a good deal about the Church too. I served a mission in Great Britain and moved among some of the higher councils of the Church.

I guess one of the greatest shocks of my life, brothers and sisters, was the day I got home from my mission in England. President Douglas sent me to the office of Heber J. Grant to give him his salutation and greetings, to give a report on the welfare of the British mission, for which I was secretary and treasurer up to that time; and, in general, to tender his love and felicitations to his leader. After a considerable waiting period, I was finally ushered into his presence and I proceeded to shake hands with him, which was, I swear, like a cold fish. I proceeded to give my message to him and the only response I got was, "Well, he could have written that." I left his office very crest-fallen. When I compare that meeting and reception with the association with a man such as Roy Johnson who leads us today, what a contrast; and how grateful I am to be numbered among his friends and associates in the Priesthood, along with my other brethren in this order of Priesthood.

I feel nothing but gratitude in my heart tonight for the blessings of the Lord, not only these blessings and my associations with the Priesthood, but my family, the beautiful souls that the Lord has sent to me to direct through life in preparation for their further progress in the Kingdom of God. I only want to be able to have the gift of teaching and prophecy for their welfare and benefit, to teach them all the day long, that they indeed shall be left without excuse; and to do my part in raising up these children as calves in the stall, to fill their place in the plans and the economy of God, of His choice children. What a mission, brethren and sisters, we have to perform. How ready and willing the Lord is to bless us and help us in times of trial and tribulation and persecution, and even willing to bless us in times of peace, if we will only seek Him then, as we generally do when we are in trouble. Would to God we would seek Him when we are engaged in peace, so that He will be willing to answer our prayers when we need Him most.

I think we all need to be more humble, brothers and sisters, to be more willing to yield to the work and the plans that God has for us, and that our leaders are outlining for us week after week after week. Too much of this is falling on deaf ears. We go from this meeting feeling good -- "That was a fine talk. That was a wonderful sermon." Then the rest of the week, two weeks would ensue, back to the old "fleshpots," if you please. I tell you, my dear brothers and sisters, the Lord is going to call for an accounting from us, and there is going to be a day of reckoning. Blessed is he who will have his lamp filled with oil, or blessed is she whose lamp is filled with oil, that we may be able to be invited to the feast, to the wedding feast of the Master, and there be blessed and endowed and sanctified in the presence of God.

We need the Spirit of revelation, which is, I consider, the greatest of the gifts of the Holy Ghost, to guide us in our daily lives every moment, every waking moment, in teaching our wives and children, and in rendering obedience to the legitimate authority that stands over us. We need to be more humble and submissive and yield, and then the Lord can use us. We need to be more grateful than we are and far, far less light-minded.

D.& C. 88

62. And again, verily I say unto you, my friends,
This is the Lord speaking in the "Olive Leaf", as the Prophet designated it, Section 88.

62. ...I leave these sayings with you to ponder in your hearts, with this commandment which I give unto you, that ye shall call upon me while I am near --
63. Draw near unto me and I will draw near unto you; seek me diligently and ye shall find me; ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.
64. Whatsoever ye ask the Father in my name it shall be given unto you, that is expedient for you;

65. And if ye ask anything that is not expedient for you, it shall turn unto your condemnation.

66. Behold, that which you hear is as the voice of one crying in the wilderness -- in the wilderness, because you cannot see him -- my voice, because my voice is Spirit; my Spirit is truth; truth abideth and hath no end; and if it be in you it shall abound.

67. And if your eye be single to my glory, your whole bodies shall be filled with light, and there shall be no darkness in you; and that body which is filled with light comprehendeth all things.

68. Therefore, sanctify yourselves that your minds become single to God, and the days will come that you shall see him; for he will unveil his face unto you, and it shall be in his own time, and in his own way, and according to his own will.

69. Remember the great and last promise which I have made unto you; cast away your idle thoughts and your excess of laughter far from you.

70. Tarry ye, tarry ye in this place, and call a solemn assembly, even of those who are the first laborers in this last kingdom.

In the same vein and further along in this revelation:

71. Organize yourselves; prepare every needful thing; and establish a house,

I think we can apply this to our own homes, brothers and sisters.

72. ...establish a house, even a house of prayer, a house of fasting, a house of faith, a house of learning, a house of glory, a house of order, a house of God;

73. That your incomings may be in the name of the Lord; that your outgoings may be in the name of the Lord; that all your salutations may be in the name of the Lord, with uplifted hands unto the Most High.

74. Therefore, cease from all your light speeches, from all laughter, from all your lustful desires, from all your pride and light-mindedness, and from all your wicked doings.

75. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.

76. Cease to be idle; cease to be unclean; cease to find fault one with another; cease to sleep longer than is needful; retire to thy bed early, that ye may not be weary; arise early, that your bodies and your minds may be invigorated.

125. And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.

126. Pray always, that ye may not faint, until I come. Behold, and lo, I will come quickly, and receive you unto myself. Amen.

I think we need to be more serious about our daily lives and activities, as the Lord instructs us in this revelation. Get and keep the Spirit of God continuously, and may it always guide and direct us, as we have been told, as President Johnson has continually exhorted us to do, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:218  April 22, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 22, 1962
Testimony of the Godhead;
We Must Love the Attributes of God; Charity

I am delighted to be here again, brothers and sisters, and to testify of the goodness of the Lord to me and to all of us. I rejoice in His blessings, and desire to be edified by the word of the Lord that has been spoken here tonight. I humbly pray that I may be actuated by the Spirit of God in all that I may say, and that your faith may be manifested in my behalf for all of our good.

As I have listened to these things and contemplated others, other thoughts have come to my mind, rejoicing in the love and the blessings of God for and upon all of us. I rejoice that He so loved us that He came down from Celestial mansions and suffered as He must have done to defuse the elements of this telestial world into His veins so that He could bring forth bodies for His children; His spirit children, and that He went through what He went through in setting the great example, becoming the first great Prototype for all saved beings, that we might come back into His presence again. How He must have likewise suffered in going back, and that He so loved the world that He sent His Only Begotten Son and watched Him suffer from on high for our sins and for the sins of all the world, the great atonement which He wrought for us.

I rejoice in the love of Jesus Christ, who went through that great ordeal so willingly and lovingly for His brothers and sisters, to bring us back as joint heirs with Him into the presence of Father; and for the great love of the Prophet Joseph Smith, acting in the great office of the Witness and Testator in sealing his life's work with his blood, witnessing that the Father and the Son indeed had accomplished these great things for us.

Brethren and sisters, the greatest gift that God has given us is the gift of the Holy Ghost, this Spirit which gives light and life to our bodies, our minds, and our whole beings, which is the attributes of God Himself, for He has obtained a fullness of it; and we have the opportunity of attaining the same. The attributes of God, which are spoken of by the Prophet in the Lectures of Faith, we all know: knowledge, power or faith, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. If we have this Spirit with us at all times and it comes to be our constant companion and guide through life, it will enable us then to attain unto the character of God. Having acquired these attributes through our faith and faithfulness, our obedience, then we become like God, and become indeed Gods, and joint heirs with Christ, who is unchangeable, who is a God of truth and cannot lie, who is no respecter of persons, who is love. The greatest of these, I say, brethren and sisters, is love. Look at all of the attributes and you find a manifestation of love.

When we find a saved and perfect being and character that has attained unto perfection, don't we love him most? Of our fellow beings, those who have attained most perfectly unto the character and attributes of God, don't we love them most? Don't we love the characteristics of God in our wives and children most? That is why we should love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, because He is perfect in these characteristics; and we should govern our wives, our children in love. This is the greatest power of all, under the Priesthood, of course. God is Priesthood; Priesthood is God, and He governs by the power of love. We should govern our children by the same thing as He did. Even in His righteous indignation against sinners, He is standing up for the truths and the character of God, as Jesus drove the money changers out of the temple, and on other occasions when the Prophets have been led in righteous anger to condemn evil and uphold good and truth. I find great comfort in the words of Moroni, which I would like to read for you here again tonight.
40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope.

After having discussed the great subject of faith,

40. ...How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

RTJ 1:221 May 6, 1962 SLC
I am glad there is one other tall man that gets up to this microphone occasionally. As I have sat here listening to these fine things, I have prayed earnestly that the Lord would bless me in any part that I was asked to take in these services, and I ask for your faith and prayers likewise.

There has been one point of urgency upon my mind of late, having to do with the very great possibility of a crisis in our lives and how we will meet it, individually and as a people. I am satisfied, as I am that I stand here, brethren and sisters, that the Lord is not through testing us yet. He is not through sifting this people yet, nor will He be through until He has that people who will truly be the nucleus of the great Millennium, who can be used by the One Mighty and Strong in setting in order the Priesthood, the Kingdom, and the Church of the living God.

You talk about valiant souls, brethren and sisters. You contemplate that it is going to be necessary to be prepared to man these institutions, in whatever capacity the Lord directs us. We can begin to see how ill-prepared we are.

We long for the temples of the Most High in which to obtain endowments and the blessings of the Priesthood. We long for all of these other things, meeting with our brethren who have gone beyond, and who are yearning over us day by day. If a call were to come to meet in a certain place, could we be found worthy of being named among them who would be called there, and would have sufficient unity and a willingness to take direction and instruction without any mental reservations whatever? Maybe this would help us to realize how ill-prepared we are.

I submit, brothers and sisters, it is because of our spiritual laziness, our lack of faith, getting down to the very simple terms of the proposition. We do not have faith enough.

We speak of God having attributes and characteristics in perfection, mentioned by the Prophets, in perfection. We should have implicit faith in Him. But how do we carry it out in our faithfulness? If we have faith, then we will be faithful men, sons, and daughters of God. We will love Him and serve Him and His servants with all of our heart, might, mind, and strength. If we truly do this, only then can we say that we are His sons and daughters.
indeed. If we love Him, we will keep His commandments. It is just that simple.

Are we loving and serving Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and loving our neighbors, these our friends and associates in this work, who have bound ourselves together in the work of God as a people to be used in the great work of the Millennium? We have been called, but will we be chosen? Let each ask ourselves this great and far-reaching question. Will we be worthy, will we be found worthy of being chosen, for truly we have all been called. I trust and pray that we will be found in this position, to come to see the face of God, and receive of His smiles and approbations, in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:222  July 8, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 8, 1962
Keep the Spirit of God; We Receive Line Upon Line;
Nature of the Holy Spirit; There Is a Sifting Coming

It is particularly gratifying to me, my brethren and sisters, to be able to meet with you here tonight after having had such a wonderful time with the saints in Canada. I took an airplane to do the job and I personally appreciated it. Brother Charles Knudson is an excellent pilot and he added his words of courage and instruction to the folks there, which I appreciated very much as well. I have some particular business in Twin Falls tomorrow and had planned on stopping off there this afternoon, but I told Chuck, "I want to go on and meet with the saints tonight."

Brethren and sisters, I am sure of one thing, as Brother Timpson and I were observing on the way down, and that is that this people does not appreciate President Johnson and the position that he occupies, and what he really means to us as saints of God. There have been occasions when the Lord has taken His chosen servant from among the people and let them only see him occasionally. I sometimes wonder if this wouldn't be a good thing for us.

I felt very strongly impressed with a remark that Brother Timpson made tonight about the injunction that President Johnson put upon us a year and a half ago, to get and keep the Spirit of God. The Prophets have been enjoining this upon the saints from the beginning of time, and I suppose more particularly in this dispensation. There hasn't been a man who has stood at the head of this Priesthood but what has called upon the saints to accomplish this all-important thing in our lives. Without it we are of no use to the Lord or the Priesthood. Without it, we cannot do any of the other things that have been enjoined upon us -- perfecting our lives and bringing our characters into the likeness of God, or at least showing some progress in this direction. Without it, we cannot truly have faith and worship the living God. Without it, we cannot know how to exercise justice in dealing with one another and our families. Without it, we cannot execute a righteous judgment. Without it, we cannot know mercy and exercise it in behalf of our families and friends. Without it, we cannot receive and know the truth; because it is, my dear brethren and sisters, the attributes of God. It is the mind of the Father and of the Son, who have a fullness of this Holy Spirit.

Jesus Christ, Himself, didn't receive a fullness at the first, nor can we. Certainly we can't if He didn't. But it can be obtained line upon line, precept upon precept, until we do receive a fullness and become indeed like God, and can be brought into His presence. We can then receive the ultimate goal of our existence if we know what we are about, and that is to have our calling and election made sure. This calls for endowments and blessings of the holy Priesthood first of all, and finally having it confirmed upon our heads by the Second Comforter, the Master Himself.

My dear brethren and sisters, without the Holy Spirit we cannot exercise the very fundamental doctrine of the Gospel -- faith in God and in Jesus Christ. We cannot know them except by the Holy Ghost, for we are told that no man, no one can say that Jesus is the Christ but by the Holy Ghost. I want to tell you, no person here can truly know the nature of the Priesthood and calling of President Johnson and the Priesthood Council without the Holy Ghost. I have found in my experience in this work that people who fall by the wayside have fallen because they did not understand or appreciate the nature of this Priesthood of the living God.

Brethren and sisters, if you are having trouble between husband and wife and children, it is because you do not have the Spirit of God. I have said to my folks, "If you want to see what kind of a spirit you have, dear mother, see what kind of a spirit you have put into that little child. Measure the Spirit of God that you have, the degree of it, by the kind of spirit you have put in that
The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of peace, of joy, and love. As we acquire the attributes of God, which have been named, then we become like Him. Now, what is the character of God? He is unchangeable. He is no respecter of persons. He is a God of truth and cannot lie. And finally and most important, He is a God of love. He is love, which I submit embraces all of these attributes which have been mentioned. God so loved the world that He gave His Only Begotten Son to redeem us from the grave and to save and exalt us in His presence, if we will obey. What greater love can there be? If we would be like Him, we must exercise the same kind of love. Joseph Smith, in our own time, exhibited these great attributes in his life and showed his great love for the saints in teaching, directing aright, and suffering for them, and finally sealing his testimony with his blood.

Speaking of love, my dear brethren and sisters, and I want to tell you that same kind of love is in the bosom of President Johnson for this people, and we do not appreciate it. If we loved him, we would observe the things that he enjoins upon us. It is just that simple. If we love God, we will keep His commandments. Wives, if you love your husbands, you will keep their commandments; and if you love your children, you will teach and love and sustain them and raise them up in the light of truth, that they may be raised up to follow after this order of Priesthood. If we can't, for the love of God, and for your own salvation, raise up your children so that they can. But that is going to be mighty hard to do, because it takes a good example. I have appreciated the observation that Brother Joseph Musser made to his son Guy. He expected him to do better than he, Joseph, did, and we must expect our children to do better than we do.

So, my dear brethren and sisters, let this great power of love and faith, and faith in our prayers, work together for our redemption and exaltation in the presence of God. Let us learn to appreciate and understand this order of Priesthood that presides over us and desires so much for us. It is the work and purpose of this Priesthood to prepare a people, as Brother Johnson has so often said. We cannot be prepared without having the Holy Ghost as our companion, our constant companion. We cannot come to the point where we can be blessed and endowed.

There is going to be a mighty sloughing off if we are not careful. There are going to be tests and trials aplenty yet, my brethren and sisters, and I pray that we can stand them. Heber C. Kimball said, "A test, a test, a test shall come upon the Latter-day Saints." It has come many times. We have seen a few of them, and there are going to be more, I promise you. The Lord will not be mocked and He will have a tried and a tested people. He will not permit His Priesthood to be treated lightly, or the Gospel or the teachings of the same to be treated lightly, as we are already under condemnation for this.

Now, I feel as far as I am concerned, to repent and do better. I call upon you Latter-day Saints to repent and do better, and to follow more closely after the instructions of this Priesthood; that we be not left alone; that we be found in the way of truth and righteousness, so that we may be called up in the day when the Lord chooses His chosen ones to receive these great blessings. God help us to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:226  July 22, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 22, 1962
We Lack Faith Because We Do Not Pray;
Faith in Our Prayers; We Must Bring Forth Works

A beautiful sight, my dear brothers and sisters. Feeling your faith and your desires to be fed, this is a great responsibility, and I pray the Lord to make me equal to it. When Jesus told His apostles, "Feed my sheep," He laid upon them the greatest responsibility that can be laid upon the servants of God. I feel that, at least during the period I have been acquainted with this work and associated with the Priesthood Council, that the Lord has indeed directed His servants to warn, teach, and instruct this people to a point where they are left without excuse.

It is necessary to repeat and repeat and repeat these instructions. We hear them over and over again. But it is a sad commentary that this should be necessary, and that we are not ready to go on to receive greater things. Nevertheless, it is the instruction of the Lord to His servants to cry repentance and to preach repentance and faith unto this generation.

It has occurred to me as I have been reading and contemplating here before this meeting commenced, that perhaps one of the greatest reasons that we don't have sufficient faith to receive these greater blessings is that we are lacking in offering up our prayers to the Almighty, which should be, of course, at all times and in all places. Our very daily life should be a prayer unto God. Our songs should be a prayer unto God. Our labors should be performed as a prayer and an offering and a yielding to the will of God, that all things may be done in His name; all our incomings, our outgoings, all things be done in the name of the Lord. Then I am sure we would begin to draw nearer to Him sufficient to lay hold on these things that we desire so much.

The Seventh Lecture on Faith tells us, as we have been told many times, that faith is the exertion of the mind, and that it is done through words. Great and mighty things have taken place. Miracles and great events have been brought about for the benefit of the saints and for the purposes of God concerning this earth by that faith that was exercised by such men as Adam and all the ancient Patriarchs -- by Abraham, by Elijah, and Moses. Moses and these others spake as they were moved upon by the Holy Ghost, being manifested to them the will of God. They were able to accomplish the needs of the hour. If it is by words, then brethren and sisters, how appropriate should it be that we offer up our prayers in faith.

There is a very significant story told us by the Lord in Section 10 of the Doctrine and Covenants about the effectiveness of faith in the prayers of the saints and what it has accomplished. It might be worthwhile to read these few verses. Joseph Smith had let the first 116 pages of the manuscript go into the hands of Martin Harris after many pleadings to the Lord. They had become lost and fallen into the hands of the enemy. The Lord had told the Prophet that he was now to translate from the plates of Nephi instead of the same ones that he had translated from the abridgement, because the translation had been changed, and they thought to ensnare the servant of God and thwart the purposes of God. So, after having described what was in these plates, He said this concerning those people about whom the plates spoke:

D.& C. 10

46. And, behold, all the remainder of this work does contain all those parts of my gospel which my holy prophets, yea, and also my disciples, desired in their prayers should come forth unto this people.

47. And I said unto them, that it should be granted unto them according to their faith in their prayers;

48. Yea, and this was their faith -- that my gospel, which I gave unto them that they might preach in their days, might come unto their brethren the Lamanites, and also all that had become Lamanites because of their dissensions.

49. Now, this is not all -- their faith in their prayers was that this gospel should be made known also, if it were possible that other nations should possess this land;

50. And thus they did leave a blessing upon this land in their prayers, that whosoever should believe in this gospel in this land might have eternal life;

51. Yea, that it might be free unto all of whatsoever nation, kindred, tongue, or people they may be.

52. And now, behold, according to their faith in their prayers will I bring this part of my gospel to the knowledge of my people. Behold, I do not bring it to destroy that which they have received, but to build it up.

And thus, my brethren and sisters, as God purposed through the faith and the prayers of the former Prophets and saints, made covenants through such as Abraham, Noah, Enoch, and all of the rest concerning His people down through the ages to the present time until the ends of the earth. All of these things were accomplished by faith; shall we say, "faith in their prayers"? And if you please, I should say, then, that this is the modus operandi in the immediate operation of this principle, that through prayer -- through these words that are spoken in our minds, and by our voice when called upon and at all times, of course -- that we are able then to go forth and render our perfect obedience to the Gospel of Jesus Christ and yield ourselves to His will.

Heber C. Kimball made it very plain, and to me it is a very practical application of this principle, that after we have prayed to the Lord for a blessing, we should set about to answer it ourselves. Now this doesn't mean to say that in our own power through our own efforts that this can be done. What he did mean to say was that we then make our course of life pleasing to God, that we shall have confidence that in praying to Him we shall be granted the blessing, knowing that we are obedient and humble and submissive to His will. Then we can go before Him in all confidence, with faith in our prayers, and have a right to receive the blessing -- agreeable to His will, of course, at all times, and to be received in His own due time and way, which calls for patience and long-suffering and great humility. Now we should all ask ourselves, brethren and sisters, do we pray enough? And then do we go about to answer those prayers through our faith and faithfulness?

We are here, brethren and sisters, to accomplish the will and purposes of God, or we shouldn't be here at all. This Priesthood is here to prepare a people to be the nucleus of the great Millennium and to bring about the purposes of God in this great last dispensation. Are we going to be useful vessels, or are we not? Are we going to exercise our faith to the end that we may be used according to His will, or are we just going to go about our daily affairs and our own way and time and just come here to have our ears tickled? We have been scolded. We have been remonstrated, and we have been told that we are falling short of the purposes of God as to this people. For the love of heaven, then why don't we do something about it? Why don't we humble ourselves and pray more, and be more faithful and more obedient, and bring our will and submission to His will in all things?

We are not truly a united people unless we are giving our full faith and confidence and loyalty to this order of Priesthood. This should be such a simple thing. There is nothing difficult about it. The way is so clear. As Brigham Young said, he knew the way to the Celestial Kingdom as well as he knew the way to his office. I submit to you, my dear brethren and sisters, that the brethren have told us the way as simply as it could be told, and we all should know the way by now. I hope and pray that we shall find it, that each and every one shall be made a useful vessel in the hands of God to fill up the measure of our creation, and fulfill our mission in the earth to the end that His name may be glorified, His kingdom built up, and His Priesthood established in the earth for the benefit of this generation and all the generations to come; which I pray for in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:230  July 29, 1962  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
July 29, 1962
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Love; Charity

I am very delighted and happy to mingle with you, my dear brothers and sisters, today. I am thankful for the opportunity of expressing my love for this work and my brethren and you, my brothers and sisters. I am grateful for the opportunity of coming and being with you today. I sincerely pray that the Spirit of God shall direct my remarks. I desire only to be an instrument in the hands of God in doing good and building up the saints.

I am impressed with some of the words which this song we just sang portrayed, "Let Love Abound". Immediately there came to my mind the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith regarding the character of God. We are told that He is unchangeable, that His course is one eternal round, that He is no respecter of persons, that He is a God of truth and cannot lie, and finally, He is love. He is love, my brothers and sisters.

We have had many scriptures and stories told regarding this, what I consider to be the greatest of the attributes of God. Paul, in First Corinthians, Thirteen, speaks of this charity and love, an essential part of the power of faith. Faith is the power by which God accomplishes all things, and so is the power of love. It was a great and necessary part of His love for His children that He provided a place for us. For Him to come with Eve from that exalted condition in which He participated, and partake again of the pains and vicissitudes of mortality that we might live. It was the greatest work of love that He should then send His Son, and see Him suffer in anguish upon the cross and bring about the great atonement, that we might be purchased by His blood and be brought back from that condition that our Father Adam brought about in bringing us into mortal life; restoring the holy Priesthood because of His love after the world had gone into apostasy, and prepare the way to the various reformations and the establishment of the Priesthood of God and the Gospel of Jesus Christ, which was never to be thrown down nor given to another people. All this was because of the love of God.

Jesus was asked, "What is the greatest of the laws?" He answered, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy might, and with all thy strength;" and the second commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

In Moroni 7, faith, hope and charity are spoken of. Faith is the power by which we will lay hold on this great power of love. That in the last and final and great analysis. We are going to find it is going to take this all-encompassing character of love in order to fulfill our mission to please God and to come back into His presence.

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

These various aspects of these beautiful characteristics are beautifully set out here. We can abide in the laws of God -- Celestial Marriage, the Law of Consecration and Stewardship, etc.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

D.& C. 93

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;

Jesus, having come into mortality did not receive a fullness at the first, but He finally received a fullness after having received every contradiction and every suffering a man could suffer. Through this He exemplified in His life this attribute of love. He died for us, His brothers and sisters, that we might have a part with Him, as heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ. Greater love hath no man than this. We certainly cannot be with God unless we are like Him, which I pray we may become, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:233  August 5, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 5, 1962
The Spirit of Revelation

I humbly pray that while I stand in this position I may be directed by the Lord in giving some instruction that will be helpful to all of us, including myself.

Brethren and sisters, there is no salvation without revelation. The admonition of the Prophets from the beginning of time until now has been, to those who have come unto God through His Priesthood, to get and keep the Spirit of God, to use this gift of the Holy Ghost that has been bestowed upon us by the laying on of hands of the holy Priesthood. God is displeased with His people when they do not accept and use those things that He offers unto us. When we reject the gifts and powers and blessings that are offered to us or leave them unused, then He is going to withdraw them. The dividing line, brethren and sisters, is the Spirit of revelation.

I do not know what you expect when you speak or think of this principle of revelation, whether you expect to have angels, or visitors, or spirits from the other side, or God Himself. I would like to read to you very simply what constitutes the Spirit of revelation as the Lord described it to Oliver Cowdery.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.
4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.

5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember, this is your gift.

Because he did not apply according to this instruction, the gift of translation was taken away from him. As one of the fine examples we have of the Spirit of revelation, we have the incident of Nephi, who was sent by his father with his brothers to go back and obtain the records from King Laban. It did not take a messenger from the other side to personally come and visit him and tell him that it was required of him that he kill and slay this man Laban. It was the whisperings of the Holy Spirit, if you will read the account. We have another description of this principle in a beautiful statement regarding the First and Second Comforters. After having described them, He says:

TPJS Page 151
The Spirit of Revelation

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

No man can magnify his Priesthood without the Spirit of revelation, which is one of the gifts of the Holy Ghost. He cannot direct his family in righteousness without this gift. He cannot follow the directions of his leaders in the Priesthood and of God without the Spirit of revelation. You do not have to be an Apostle to exercise this gift. You mothers, you do not have to be Eves to exercise this gift in directing and training the lives of your children. This people will never become one, and become that people that God desires to raise up and use unless we have the Spirit of revelation in our midst, praying with this Spirit that His servant who leads us may direct us aright, and we become one in one heart and mind to serve Him and keep His commandments. We will not be able to redeem Zion and build up a Holy United Order and abide in the Celestial Law without the Spirit of revelation.
There is no salvation, brethren and sisters, without revelation, and let us never forget it.

Get the Spirit of God and keep it, for it is the attributes of God, and will bring us up to see His face. Now may we lay hold on this gift. May it direct us in our lives. May we be led to repent of our sins and come with full purpose of heart to serve God and keep His commandments with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength, which may we do, I pray, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I am delighted to meet with you, my dear brethren and sisters. It is always an inspiring sight to stand before this congregation. We have been called out of the world to serve God, the true and the living God, and be prepared to meet the One Mighty and Strong, and to be that people that God has been seeking in this last dispensation to redeem Zion and to be the nucleus of the great Millennium.

John Taylor said that the Celestial Law consists in abiding by every word of God. John Taylor himself was a fine example, as fine an example of having lived this law as any man who has graced the earth, save Jesus and Joseph, or at least in this dispensation, for that is exactly what he did. Righteous Abel arrived at the point that he did when he had this testimony that he pleased God, by having been taught the word of God and having abided by every word that came from Him. He was taught of God and he obeyed every word, and he had this testimony, and so did Enoch, and Noah, and Abraham, and Moses, and Elijah, and Peter, James, and John, and Joseph. Now what is this testimony, brethren and sisters, if it is not having our calling and election made sure?

Only by having this testimony of knowing that we please God can we have that perfect faith, which enabled Enoch to teach and redeem a city and have them translated and go into the bosom of God for a special dispensation. Only by this means was Noah able to save his family and build the ark, and become the father of all living. Only by this means was Melchizedek able to also redeem a city and be translated, and Abraham become the father of the faithful, and Moses to gather Israel out of Egypt and to go forth in setting up a great dispensation for the House of Israel, and go up in the mount and see the face of God. Only by this means was Elijah able to lay hold upon the keys of the sealing power and command the sun and the earth by the power of God; and Peter, James, and John under Christ, who became so close to Him that they were to stand with Him in judging all Israel, along with the Twelve. By this means was the Prophet Joseph raised up and able to restore the holy Priesthood, the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel and come up to see the face of God.

With all these examples before us, brothers and sisters, why are we not progressing faster than we are? Why are we not receiving of the blessings God desires so much to offer and give us? Again I must say, we lack the faith, that perfect faith, which comes from knowing that we please God. Only by having this faith can we go to Him in confidence, understanding and knowing His character, and be able to lay hold upon these blessings.

Let us, therefore, my dear brothers and sisters, seek to fulfill this Celestial Law, which includes all of these teachings that we have from the written and the living oracles of God. And I am sure, brethren and sisters, we are not going to be able to arrive at this point until we understand the workings of the Holy Spirit, which is the emissary and the agent of the holy Priesthood, which is God upon the earth.

Only by getting and keeping the Spirit of God can we arrive at that point where we become like Him and live by every word that proceeds forth from His mouth. May we do this, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:237 September 2, 1962 CCA Conference

Conference in Colorado City, Arizona
September 2, 1962
Judgments Will Begin With the House of God;
The Lord Will Have a Tried People

This is a beautiful sight, my brethren and sisters. I hope I am not out of order in mentioning that four hundred eighty-five souls are here in this hall to worship the Lord. As far as I can remember, it is the largest congregation that I have seen in this work.

The work of God is growing a pace. And like President John Y. Barlow used to say, "I pray that the time will not come when I may stand in the way. I know that I can't, of course, because the work of God is going to go on, and if I were I would want to be removed." The numbers, my brothers and sisters, is not what really counts. What is the faith of this large concourse of people? That is what counts. I think I know why you are here. I surely know why I am here. It is to serve God and His people; and I humbly pray for His Spirit to direct my remarks to this end.

I can't help but reflect along with the other brethren regarding the judgments of God that are at hand. The quakes that we felt in this place and in the north surely must be some indication. Yes, they have been going on for many, many years throughout various parts of the land, but we know they are going to strike here. We know that the judgments of God are going to begin at the House of God, part of which is a preparation of a pure people, a tried and a proven people who will be used to redeem Zion and prepare the way of our Lord.

The great revelation on Priesthood, I think, contains something that we should be reminded of.

D. & C. 84

1. A revelation of Jesus Christ unto his servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and six elders, as they united their hearts and lifted their voices on high.

2. Yea, the word of the Lord concerning his church, established in the last days for the restoration of his people, as he has spoken by the mouth of his prophets, and for the gathering of his saints to stand upon Mount Zion, which shall be the city of New Jerusalem.

3. Which city shall be built, beginning at the temple lot, which is appointed by the finger of the Lord, in the western boundaries of the State of Missouri, and dedicated by the hand of Joseph Smith, Jun., and others with whom the Lord was well pleased.

4. Verily this is the word of the Lord, that the city New Jerusalem shall be built by the gathering of the saints, beginning at this place, even the place of the temple, which temple shall be reared in this generation.

5. For verily this generation shall not all pass away until an house shall be built unto the Lord, and a cloud shall rest upon it, which cloud shall be even the glory of the Lord, which shall fill the house.

After recounting the order and descent of the holy Priesthood He says this:

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;

36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;

37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;

38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom;
therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.
39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.

40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.
41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.

42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.
43. And I now give unto you a commandment to beware concerning yourselves, to give diligent heed to the words of eternal life. ***

117. And verily I say unto you, the rest of my servants, go ye forth as your circumstances shall permit, in your several callings, unto the great and notable cities and villages, reproving the world in righteousness of all their unrighteous and ungodly deeds, setting forth clearly and understandingly the desolation of abomination in the last days.
118. For, with you saith the Lord Almighty, I will rend their kingdoms; I will not only shake the earth, but the starry heavens shall tremble.

119. For I, the Lord, have put forth my hand to exert the powers of heaven; ye cannot see it now, yet a little while and ye shall see it, and know that I am, and that I will come and reign with my people.
120. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end.

Now this is what we are dealing with, my brethren and sisters. The world at large has been warned of these judgments, and most certainly the saints have. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has been tried and proven, and she has gone on a detour into the wilderness.

The Lord God in 1886, through His Prophet John Taylor, set in order a special dispensation of the Priesthood and the order that I have just now described or read to you about from the revelation on Priesthood. The purpose of this special dispensation was set up that it might, against the time when a covenant and agreement with death and hell should be assented unto by the Church and the people of God, that it should be disannulled and carried on, and the work and the laws of Almighty God should be kept alive; and that is why we are here. That is the labor and the work of this Priesthood, this order of Priesthood with which we are dealing. If we are not here for that purpose, then we are not here for the correct purpose. This is that people that was spoken of by several of the Prophets in the last century -- that people which would become a nucleus of the great Millennium, to bring the things of God to the fore. We are going to have to go through more and more siftings, my dear brethren and sisters, in order to be that proven people. We are going to have judgments fall down upon us. Tests, tests, tests that the Prophet Heber C. Kimball said would come upon us are going to come upon this people. It came upon the Church and they failed. The Lord will have a tried and true people, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:241  September 9, 1962  SLC
Salt Lake City, Utah
September 9, 1962
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Testimony Through the Holy Ghost; Judgments of God
I earnestly pray that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks here tonight, for my mind is blank as far as having prepared any particular subject to speak upon. I know I love this work and Priesthood with all my soul. I know that God lives, that Jesus is the Christ, that He came and atoned for our sins and opened up the way for us to come into the presence of Himself and our Father and God. I know that Joseph Smith was a Prophet of God, that he is the Holy Ghost, acting in that office as Witness and Testator to God, our Father, and Jesus Christ.

How do I know these things, brothers and sisters? I know them by the Holy Ghost, for no man can say that Jesus is the Christ but by the Holy Ghost. This is more sure to me than sight or hearing. I love the appearing of our Lord and Master, Jesus Christ, and look forward to that glorious day with you, my brothers and sisters.

I love these, my brethren, with whom I am engaged in the ministry. I would to God, brothers and sisters, that a greater love existed among this people for this work and Priesthood than there is, that there would be greater faith, that we would be enjoying greater gifts and blessings at the hands of our Father.

Faith is a gift of God. We should first seek Him, seek to know who He is, what His character and attributes are, and what He has done for us, having faith in Him and in the Lord Jesus Christ. Then He will give us the necessary power by faith to lay hold on eternal life through this great gift.

Repentance is a gift of God. If we would only yield and submit ourselves to His legitimate authority, this would be a peaceful, happy people. This would be a greatly blessed people at the hands of God through endowments and blessings and ordinances of the holy Priesthood. I wonder, as we have these little warnings that are given to us by the Lord, if fear has struck into our hearts as we contemplate the judgments of God.

One of my children told me this morning -- just a little sad story which illustrates the fear and torment that comes to man -- that his teacher, when that rumbling started and rocked the school a little, was the first one out of the building. The opposite of faith is fear. Fear bringeth torment, the scriptures say. I wonder how many of us are kept coming, going along in one degree or another by fear -- fear that this might be the work of God, and that this might be the Priesthood of God which is leading us, and still hanging on to the world, its traditions, those ways, those feelings and desires; and, if you please, some still hanging on to the idea that the Church might be able to vindicate and bless them ultimately in the end.

Now let me tell you that if you have any desire or any hope that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, with its present leadership, with its doctrine and practices, is ever going to offer you or any of us anything by way of the religion of heaven, then you are of no use to this work and Priesthood. The nature of this work is that our loyalty be total, that we offer and submit our all. It is the Kingdom of God or nothing.

It makes me a little tired to see how many are working around the fringes of this work, with one foot in and one foot out. You would be surprised how many of us are in that condition, if we really realized it. As far as I am concerned, it is a matter of either getting in or getting out. God hates a lukewarm man and He spews them out of His mouth. And I say again, it is only fear that actuates people of this kind.

The great turning point in this dispensation so far as this work of God is concerned, was when the Prophet John Taylor was given a special dispensation in 1886, in ordaining and setting apart men who would carry on and see that the principles and laws of the Priesthood were kept alive. That is the very antithesis of this work, and why these men are sitting before you tonight. If that didn't happen, then this is the greatest hoax that was ever perpetrated unto a people. If it is true, beware! Woe unto those that raise their voices against it, for they will be wasted away. God will not be mocked, and He will have His Priesthood honored. And remember, brethren, that you are a part of this Priesthood. To bear the holy Priesthood you are a potential prophet of God. Sustain the Prophet Joseph Smith! How I love his name and the memory of the work and labors he performed; this man who is second only to the Lord Jesus Christ. And would to God we could have a visit from him, along with the other brethren. He is the One Mighty and Strong!

I will never forget one time Brother Joseph Musser, when men contended about Joseph Smith being the One Mighty and Strong, said that those who fought it would apostatize and would be found kicking against the pricks, etc.

We as a people should be looking forward to the time when we can help to set in order the House of God. All of us need to be set in order, but as one people in the hands of God's servants, and move as one people in this great work. God help us to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:243  October 21, 1962  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 21, 1962
Reported by Marjorie Holm

We are grateful, brothers and sisters, for the presence of President Johnson and the others of the Priesthood Council here today. I consider the seriousness of our condition, that we will unite our faith and pray in our hearts for the word of the Lord to be delivered to us and that we will seek through faith to lay hold upon the truths that may be given and live by them.

We don't know how long that we will be able to meet in this way. This will probably be the last outdoor meeting this season, and let us draw from the speakers through the Spirit of God as though this would be our last meeting.

I want to testify, brothers and sisters, of the truths of the things that have been delivered to us today. Much strength has been given by these brethren, and much virtue has gone out of the brethren in delivering them to us.

I hope we will go home now and pray the Father to help us to have the strength and determination to live better and become that people God is trying to prepare for His purposes.

We will ask Brother Reidl to dismiss us.

RTJ 1:244 December 2, 1962 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 2, 1962
Set in Order Our Families by Becoming One

I, too, am grateful to be with you tonight, brethren and sisters. Above all, I desire to have the Spirit of God dictate whatever I may say. I want nothing more, my brethren and sisters, than to be an instrument in His hands, to teach and edify His people and build up the Kingdom of God, which reminds me of Section 65 of the Doctrine and Covenants; which, being short, might be well to read.

D.& C. 65

1. Hearken, and lo, a voice as of one sent down from on high, who is mighty and powerful, whose going forth is unto the ends of the earth, yea, whose voice is unto men -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.
2. The keys of the kingdom of God are committed unto man on the earth, and from thence shall the gospel roll forth unto the ends of the earth, as the stone which is cut out of the mountain without hands shall roll forth, until it has filled the whole earth.
3. Yea, a voice crying -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, prepare ye the supper of the Lamb, make ready for the Bridegroom.
4. Pray unto the Lord, call upon his holy name, make known his wonderful works among the people.
5. Call upon the Lord, that this kingdom may go forth upon the earth, that the inhabitants thereof may receive it, and be prepared for the days to come, in which the Son of Man shall come down in heaven, clothed in the brightness of his glory, to meet the kingdom of God which is set up on the earth.

6. Wherefore, may the kingdom of God go forth, that the kingdom of heaven may come, that thou, O God, mayest be glorified in heaven so on earth, that thine enemies may be subdued; for thine is the honor, power and glory, forever and ever. Amen.

This seems to me a wonderful rendition of the Lord's prayer, which should be in our hearts daily. We should be praying for the Kingdom of heaven, and we should be building at the same time the Kingdom of God on the earth, for as we build this Kingdom on the earth, only so will we be prepared to be caught up to meet the Kingdom of God and Christ in the clouds of heaven.

The question is sometimes asked, "How can I build up the Kingdom of God on the earth and establish His Priesthood in the earth?" Speaking of us as a people, it would be, above all, of course, to get the Spirit of God and keep it, obtain the gifts and powers and blessings of the Holy Ghost, that we may be one, one people in the hands of the Prophet of God, whom the Lord has sustained and set up among us to direct this work.

To me, brethren and sisters, the Kingdom of God denotes a united people, a people who are one in mind and heart and purpose, moving along as the word of God comes through His servant, the Prophet, directing the people that they may be prepared to be endowed with power from on high and obtain the blessings and the ordinances of the House of God, because we will not, my brethren and sisters, obtain power with Him until we are endowed. The fact that we are not indicates that we have a good distance yet to go. Oneness! "Be ye one," the Savior said, "as I and My Father are one." "Let your will be swallowed up in Mine as Mine is in the Father," said the Savior. This is how we may be one, and indeed, be directed and guided daily and hourly by the Holy Spirit.

The Spirit of God, brethren and sisters, is the emissary and the power of the holy Priesthood. If we would only remember this, brethren, as we direct the affairs of our families and households, these dominions that God has given us, how powerful we could be. If each home, each family, each dominion were set in order, as the servants of God have called upon us to do, this whole people, every dominion in this people would move ahead as one under the voice and power of the holy Priesthood, in the voice of that one man who presides. I do not think we see this vision enough, brethren and sisters.
Now, how can we be set in order in our families? How can we in our families build up the Kingdom of God and establish His Priesthood in the earth? First of all, the head of that family should be one with his Priesthood head -- honoring, sustaining, and upholding, and serving that order with all his might, mind, and strength; remembering that the servants of God are human and have their weaknesses, and putting a cloak of charity around them. But when they speak with the power of the Holy Ghost, it is the word of God, the will of God to this people. And if the brethren holding the holy Priesthood could receive it and follow it and direct their families by it, we would have a people who are one.

Now, sisters, what can you do to build up the Kingdom and establish the Priesthood of God in the earth? By being one with your husband, and remembering that in your care are these little ones whom God has brought through your womb to be established upon the earth in His Kingdom. These choice spirits have been reserved to come forth under this holy covenant of Celestial Marriage. Brigham Young said truthfully, that in the hands of the mothers is the building of the characters of these children, the future leaders of Zion, of the Kingdom of God. Build up the Kingdom of God? Why, mothers, you have the greatest mission on earth, and a terrible responsibility! It makes me tremble when I contemplate the terrible responsibility that is in the hands of the mothers. They are with these children all hours of the day. If they are one with their husband and the father of those children, upholding that father, holding ever before these little infant minds as they grow up the image of a true and a faithful father in the holy Priesthood, I tell you, you will get oneness among your children and will raise a young generation that will follow this Priesthood. Talk about raising these children as calves in the stall. This is how to do it, and raise them up that they may stand on their own feet and become vessels of righteousness. Then turn them over to the holy Priesthood which presides over this work; first over to your husband, and he then turns them to President Johnson.

I do not know how to describe how to build up the Kingdom of God any better. I would to God that this people could come to this place, that we might with all our heart, mind, and strength, sustain God through His Priesthood and move forward and not backward, as many are. We cannot stand still. As the work of God goes on, we are going to be left behind. There is no such thing as a steady condition. We either go forward, or we are going backwards. It is either life, or it is death. What do you choose? I sincerely pray, my dear brothers and sisters, that this people from Canada to Mexico -- where I have enjoyed a wonderful mission and a trip with President Johnson and the other brethren -- may become a mighty and a humble and a pure people.

The devil and all his powers are so far extant upon the earth, that it would seem that this work would be swallowed up. Surely the Lord will have to cut short His work in righteousness for the elect's sake, so great and powerful is the devil and all of his powers upon the earth. We must stand in holy places, in these dedicated homes which must be kept dedicated and holy. Standing in holy places means standing at the side of President Johnson, and our husbands and our Priesthood head, wherever it is, no matter where we might be found when judgments may roll forth. Believe me, they are at our very doors. They are commencing in all parts of the earth, and they are going to be felt at the House of God, make no mistake about it. Let us take and heed the warning that President Johnson has given us. Be ye prepared. This is constantly on his mind, brethren and sisters. Believe me, his skirts are going to be left clean, because he has carried the message to this people. If they respond not, then the responsibility is upon them. But he yearns over you. This whole Council does, and desires only your salvation and happiness in the Kingdom of God, which I pray we may have in our hearts daily; and pray that we may establish it and build it up, that the Kingdom of heaven may come, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 16, 1962
Testimony of the Godhead;
Keys of Former Dispensations Delivered to Joseph Smith

I have enjoyed the remarks of the brethren before me and sincerely trust that the same Spirit may actuate me. I bear testimony of the Prophet Joseph Smith. Next Sunday is the 147th anniversary of his birth. I love his memory and feel grateful to God and to him for what he has done for my salvation.

As with our Father Adam, it is the attempt and desire of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, its leaders and many others, to down-grade his position and what he stood for. His doctrines and the things he taught are being destroyed one by one. It is largely because they do not put him where he belongs -- in the grand scheme of things. They don't even acknowledge that he was one of those three Personages that made covenant before the foundations of this earth were laid, or at least the work commenced upon it, to fulfill his part.

Father Michael was our God, the Father; Christ the Redeemer, and Joseph the Witness and Testator -- Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. In Section 135 of the Doctrine and Covenants, John Taylor penned one of the grandest descriptions concerning this great character when he testified that he was the greatest character that had lived upon the earth, save Jesus Christ only, of mortal men. You will find, brethren and sisters, that whenever any apostate, or man desiring to usurp authority and power, tries to accomplish his ends, will try to bypass and get by the Prophet Joseph Smith and reduce his stature and his authority and his power and his place in the scheme of things.

We have had come to our attention an attempt on the part of members of the "Church of the Firstborn," as they are trying to teach our Indian brethren in Mexico that John is the head of the meridian dispensation, John the Beloved. Why? Because Jesus on the cross told His mother, "Behold thy son." John on the Isle of Patmos was shown a vision in which he ate the little book. The Prophet Joseph Smith was asked, and he recorded in Section 77 that the interpretation of that book was that John or Elias was the one involved, and he, Elias, would come and perform a great work in the last days.

Now brethren and sisters, we read in Section 110 that all of the heads of previous dispensations came and gave their keys to Joseph Smith; Elias delivering the gospel of Abraham to him, Moses the keys of the gathering, and Elijah the keys of the sealing powers of the holy Priesthood. Peter, James, and John had previously come and given him their keys of the meridian dispensation of the Kingdom of God -- Peter, James, and John, not just John alone. We read in many places in the Doctrine and Covenants where Joseph has these keys, the fullness of the keys of the holy Priesthood, and of the last Dispensation of the Fullness of Times, never to be taken from him in heaven or in earth. And he holds them today.

We testify that Joseph Smith is the third member of the Godhead, and in this last and great dispensation, he holds all of the keys, and is still directing the affairs of this dispensation under the direction of Jesus and Father Adam. He stood by directing the proceedings when this special dispensation of the Priesthood was given under John Taylor in 1886; and he is still directing this work in the same way.

Brethren and sisters, as people try to destroy the doctrines, such as Celestial Marriage and the true nature of the holy Priesthood, as they are doing in the Church today, they are destroying the means of their own salvation. As we testify concerning the Prophet Joseph, we will draw him nearer to us. As we live by the precepts and the teachings and the doctrines that he gave us, we will draw him nearer to us. He is the One Mighty and Strong. He is the Elias, himself, who is to come in this day and time and the last dispensation, and prepare the way of the Lord at His second glorious coming. He is to become that Elias, such as John the Baptist was, who prepared the way of the Lord in the meridian dispensation. There are many who had the spirit of Elias upon them. But Joseph Smith is the Elias of this dispensation because Elias of old conferred his keys upon him. And he now holds the keys of all dispensations under the Holy One of Israel.

I testify of these things to you, and I pray that we may all do everything we can to draw him nearer to us, and to draw nearer to him, in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:250  January 6, 1963  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 6, 1963
Testimony of the Godhead;
We Must Keep the Holy Spirit Continually

I have been deeply touched, brethren and sisters, by the things that have been said and testified of here tonight, and I pray that they may sink into our souls, and that the Lord will use me in like manner to bring some truths to our attention that will profit us and help us to do better.

It is said of the beginning of a year, that is a time for resolutions. Our lives are full of broken resolutions, aren't they? And it becomes a little discouraging when we look at it from this standpoint. I would like to present this in a different light, if I may.

Let us have great expectations, or in other words, faith. While faith itself is a gift of God, obtaining the Spirit of God and keeping it -- which we have been admonished to do from time immemorial -- it is also an act of and comes by faith. Faith is also a principle of action, brothers and sisters. We cannot get the Spirit of God simply by sitting back and praying. As Brother Kimball often said, "We can only get an answer to our prayers by going forth after humbling ourselves in a prayer before the Lord, then going out and answering it ourselves." By this, I am sure he meant by faith and good works.

We cannot act on faith unless we have a testimony that our course of life is pleasing to God. I think one of the grandest things that can be said of a man is what was said by one of the Prophets, of Abel of old: "And he had this testimony that he pleased God." We cannot please God without having and keeping His Spirit, this great gift, the greatest of all the gifts of God to man; besides, of course, the Atonement and the Mediation of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We can only know that He is the Christ by the Holy Ghost.

We can get and keep the Holy Ghost only through obedience to all of the laws, rites, and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I would submit for your consideration, brethren and sisters, that we do not think enough of this principle of our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. We do not have enough consideration for this great central Figure in the plan of the Gospel of Jesus Christ as it was given by His Father and our Father, Michael. He wrought the Atonement. He took upon Himself the sin of Adam, bringing forth the great saving principle of the resurrection; and He took upon Himself all of the sins of mankind, if they would believe and obey. While we mouth His name in our prayers, we do not keep this great and holy Being, the literal Son of our Father Adam, enough in mind.

We have often said that the more we testify of the Prophet Joseph, the closer we will bring him to us; and surely, this great character will be the one through whom we are going to come into the presence of our Lord and Savior, as well as our Father Adam. We will have to be introduced to Joseph, and Jesus, and Father Adam by those who know them, who have been our progenitors here upon the earth. So it is a great chain. It is a great combination of principles that we must abide if we are going to accomplish the thing that the Lord has sent us here to do.

I find that one of the greatest means of exercising faith in the Lord Jesus Christ is to realize that He is the great Prototype. He came and showed us that man can live without sin. He set the example, as His Father did in the beginning of the existence of man on the earth. He suffered greater sufferings and greater contradictions than man can do, and yet proved that He could live without sin through the principles of the Gospel of which He is the Author, through His Father. So, in our prayers we should bear in mind this great central Figure, who bought us with a price. Remember, He purchased us with a price, and we little realize the great depth and meaning of the Mediation and the Atonement which He wrought. He is the Mediator between God and man, as well as the great Prototype. If we will pray and study and be obedient, it will be revealed to us the manner of Man that He was among them, and enable us to walk in His footsteps.

He is the only one, brethren and sisters, that was qualified to say, "Come follow Me, come follow Me." If we will do this, we will get and keep the Spirit of God, which will be a revelator, which will give us strength and knowledge and wisdom and understanding in every walk and talk of life.

We have got to come to the point, brethren and sisters, where this Holy Spirit is not with us for just a moment. It is said sometimes that it comes and goes, but we must get to the point, if we are going to be like God, where we have it all the time, where it is a principle of revelation to us every waking moment of our lives, and a protection to us in our slumbers. If we will realize further that it is only by the grace of our Father that we are permitted from day to day to continue our existence in the earth, I think it will bring us closer to Him.

In Priesthood matters, those who bear the holy Priesthood and the fullness of it, must come to the point where they will have their calling and election made sure, which will be crowned by the presence of the Second Comforter, our Lord, Himself. We should never cease striving until we arrive at this point.

Now, brethren and sisters, as we begin a new year, as men count time, if it is any convenience to us to seek to increase our faith, let us have greater and greater expectations or faith, so that a year from now, we are closer to that time and that condition when we may be endowed and blessed as a people; that the Lord may get His people that He needs to set in order His House and to be able to man the Church of Jesus Christ and the Kingdom of God. When the great judgments that Brother Johnson so continuously calls us to a warning of come upon us, we will be prepared, that a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night may descend upon us as a people to be preserved through these judgments, and able to go on as that nucleus that God is trying to prepare for the Millennium.

May we be this people. May we draw nearer to Him and labor as one, under the direction of President Johnson, and be that people by whom He shall shake the earth, and be able to be counted among those who are going to accomplish these things which He desires of us, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:254  January 29, 1963  Hildale Funeral

Hildale, Utah
January 29, 1963
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Funeral of Rachel Alberta Balmforth

I appreciate this honor, brothers and sisters, in being called to speak at this service, in honor of one of the noble women of the Lord, and I pray that the Spirit of God may direct my remarks; for I desire but to speak the truth and to praise the Lord for His goodness and mercies to us whom the Lord has called out of the world to sustain and uphold His work.

As I contemplate the life of this good sister, the words came to my mind, spoken by the Savior, which are of greatest significance -- "She chose the better part." Sister Balmforth loved her family as a true mother in Israel does and should. She loved the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ more, and desired them to live it. She desired only what the Lord wanted her to have and she sustained and upheld her Priesthood head. She loved the plain and simple truths of the Everlasting Gospel as restored and revealed by the Prophet Joseph Smith.

As I think of it, it reminds me of the life of my sainted mother, who left Idaho and the bosom of her family at the age of 21, when it was made known in a revelation to her where she belonged. She came to Salt Lake and lived on the underground a year before she was sealed to my patriarchal head, my father, as a second wife. There wells up in my soul a spirit of gratitude that is inexpressible when I see women of this character, who will leave the world and come to that source of light from which they expect to obtain the requirements for entering and enjoying the presence of our Father in heaven.

Sister Balmforth worshipped the true and living God -- Michael, Adam, the Creator, our Father, and His Son in the flesh, the Lord Jesus Christ, the great Redeemer of mankind. She loved and honored the Prophet who acted in the office of the Witness and Testator, God the Third, Joseph Smith, and his successors in the holy Priesthood. This is where her loyalty and her love lay, and she sought to serve that God and to sustain His authority and to bring her children as they would, to a knowledge of the same.

Brothers and sisters, what is the life and mission of a woman? First comes Priesthood in the great design of God, which is not complete without motherhood; and she, Sister Balmforth, fulfilled that office honorably and well, and is entitled to all the blessings that God has designed for a woman. She stood beside her first husband, and her second, true and faithful. Her measure of faith, as I see it, brothers and sisters, is the measure by which a man or woman honors and sustains her testimony, the God which she worships and the authority which He has established upon the earth, building it up and sustaining it; so that when she goes on the other side, she will have all the knowledge and the keys and tokens and the blessings necessary to stand at the side of her husband for time and all eternity; and carry on that glorious existence, doing the same as she did here -- bringing on the souls of men to God.

I do not care to say more, but feel to express my gratitude for the privilege of knowing Sister Balmforth and being as close to her as I was. I know her testimony was true and her life was lived to the fullest. I bear testimony that this is the work of the living God, and the Priesthood which directs us, and I do it in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.
testimony and witness to us who have come along behind her in this work.

In the old days -- when I say old, they are old for me, back in the '40's (laughter) -- I used to visit Short Creek with the brethren. The example and the life and the spirit that was carried by this faithful sister is one of the most memorable things that I have concerning this work. This, as I observed her life, was a true example of the way that the Gospel of Jesus Christ, faith in God and in the Priesthood, can work in the life of a person, such as in her life.

I am grateful, also, for the life of my father and all of my fathers before him, for the heritage that has come down to me from them in this work, that they had the courage and the fortitude of Aunt Lizzie, to see me through into this work and bring me to the feet of the Priesthood. Father was personally acquainted with Lorin Woolley and John W. Woolley, John W. Taylor, and many of those who have seen this work through its beginnings in this special dispensation of the holy Priesthood, which was set up and started on its way through the instrumentality of John Taylor.

I am grateful for the knowledge that my father obtained from them and imparted to me, and that he imparted it to me at the right time, and that I have been able to obtain the testimony and the light and the knowledge that I have from President Barlow, President Musser, and the others. I am most grateful for my association with President Johnson and the other brethren, and for all that the Lord has given me.

I feel a most unworthy servant in the hands of the Lord and feel to do better and to be more diligent and to repent of these things that have been holding me and others back. I know we are not all living up to our full capacity, brethren and sisters, and it makes me tremble to realize the terrible responsibility we are under, having had communicated to us the light and knowledge that the Lord has given to us through the servants of God. It should make us all tremble, brethren and sisters, and do more about it. Are we able to say that this night we have made any progress beyond what we were a month ago or two months ago? Have we really made any progress, or are we just living at a slow dying rate? "Broad is that way and many there be that find it that lead unto death; and narrow is the way and few there be that find the way unto life." We are a small handful of people, but how many of us, having had the light and knowledge that we have, are going to make the grade, as we put it?
I know the Lord is merciful and gracious. He is perfect in justice and judgment, and He has all knowledge and faith. And above all, He is love, and a God of truth that cannot lie. Now, where are we getting in connection with these attributes which He has enjoined upon us, and which are the attributes of the Holy Spirit, which our President and all others before have enjoined upon us that we may go through this probation and come back into His presence?

Do we realize, brethren and sisters, that we are the temples of God? We are His children in the spirit and He has given us the opportunity to come into this life and obtain a body, through a source that would enable us to get back into His presence if we keep all the commandments. We are the temples of God.

I would like to read Section 93. First of all, we learn, brethren and sisters, that the Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son, that Jesus came upon the earth and received not a fullness of this Spirit at the first, but later He did by keeping the commandments. I suppose we could say that the Gospel is briefly stated, as briefly as could be in this first verse of Section 93.

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

There is the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --

4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.
5. I was in the world and received of my Father, and the works of him were plainly manifest.

6. And John saw and bore record of the fulness of my glory, and the fulness of John's record is hereafter to be revealed.
11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at first, but received grace for grace. Setting the example for us.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;

14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.

18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

This is the great Prototype. He suffered greater sufferings and greater contradictions than man can, and still proved that man can live without sin and receive of a fullness. This fullness, brethren and sisters, is to be received through the Holy Spirit, which we must, as some brethren have showed us in this dispensation, be able to have and keep all the time until it becomes a source of constant revelation to us in our everyday lives, from morning until night and as we sleep. It shall never leave us, unless the Lord designs to withdraw it to test us, as He did His Son upon the cross. But if it becomes a habit with us, a part of our very nature to have and keep His Spirit, we will obtain unto those attributes which constitute that Spirit, and thus go on from grace to grace as Christ did, and receive a fullness of the glory of the Father. This way is provided for us to be heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ. It can be obtained in no other way than by having this Spirit of which we may obtain a fullness of the mind of the Father, with Christ.

20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.
21. And now, verily I say unto you, I was in the beginning with the Father, and am the Firstborn;

22. And all those who are begotten through me are partakers of the glory of the same, and are the church of the Firstborn.

23. Ye were also in the beginning with the Father; that which is Spirit, even the Spirit of truth;

24. And truth is knowledge of things as they are, and as they were, and as they are to come;

25. And whatsoever is more or less than this is the spirit of that wicked one who was a liar from the beginning.

26. The Spirit of truth is of God. I am the Spirit of truth, and John bore record of me, saying: He received a fulness of truth, yea, even of all truth;

27. And no man receiveth a fulness unless he keepeth his commandments.

28. He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things.

There is a marvelous key if we will remember it. He that keepeth His commandments receiveth truth and light. Through obedience, then, this light and truth, this fullness may come to us, and by no other means.

29. Man was also in the beginning with God. Intelligence, or the light of truth, was not created or made, neither indeed can be.

30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.

These things are so deep and significant, it would take many, many sermons to delineate the truths that are behind these scriptures. I enjoin upon you to read it in silent, prayerful study.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.

I would like to read that verse again.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.

Thus are condemned.

32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.
33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy.

The spirit and element cannot be fully connected in perfection until they are resurrected unto a Celestial resurrection and goes into the presence of God. This is that full joy. This is that fullness, obtaining His glory.

34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.

Here is the point I mentioned before.
35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.

How we should realize, brethren and sisters, that we are the image of God, a temple of God, housing one of His children, the spirit of one of His children. How could we, realizing this, defile it and bring about a permanent separation of that element from the spirit, having been shown all that we have been shown?

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.

38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

Here we have before painted unto us the beautiful picture of how we may obtain unto perfection, and how it is with most men, that that wicked one comes and takes away light and truth through disobedience and because of the traditions of their fathers.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

Now you mothers, you fathers, what the Lord was leading up to is this important thing about raising up our children in light and truth. I would like to put a question to you. Are you raising up your children in your image, your traditional image, according to your old culture and tradition -- these spirits, sons and daughters of God, who are not yours at all? They are loaned to you as a stewardship. Will you mock God and raise up your children according to the traditions of the world; or, in the image of God, whose children they are?

Can we not see what a terrible responsibility rests upon us? What an accounting we are going to have to make one day, teaching these children the light and the truth, according to the doctrines of the holy Priesthood and not according to our own pet ideas and traditions of our worldly fathers. You have been called out of the world, brethren and sisters, into this light, and are now under the direction of the Prophet of God, who is teaching day and night to prepare a people whom God can use. For heaven's sake, brethren and sisters, let us at least raise up children that can be such a people, if we cannot make the grade ourselves. If we cannot enjoin upon them and so teach them that they will do better than we are, we will have failed in our missions. God help us to do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 1963

If the Lord will temper my voice and give me the power of His Spirit to say only what He wants me to say, I will be very grateful indeed. I was deeply moved by the music of this choir, and when I hear singing like that, it always takes me back to the time when I was in a choir in Salt Lake around 1941, when we had angels of heaven singing with us, for nothing could have been so sweet and beautiful, short of the voices of angels, as we heard while we were singing at that time. And Brother Joseph told us then that the veil was ever so thin between us and the other side, and it can be the same with us.

The words of Heber C. Kimball very often come to my mind, which he said, "Why are you here? Where did you come from if you did not come out of this order of the Priesthood?" And we might ask ourselves the same thing. Why are we here in this desert, or in Canada, or Mexico, or Northern Utah, or wherever the saints of God are? Why are you here? Why isn't this body of Latter-day Saints in the body of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints? For one simple reason -- that the fullness of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ was about to be given up in the days of John Taylor, nearly sixty years after the restoration of the holy Apostleship to the Prophet Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery and the other witnesses. It was only sixty years after the ministry of the Lord Jesus Christ that the Priesthood and the fullness of the Gospel was lost among the saints in the meridian of time, and it seems to have ever been thus in times gone by.

But God has set His hand in this last dispensation to restore the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ to His people, Israel, never to be taken from the earth or given to another people. And God, seeing that the main body of His people had failed to be faithful and true to the covenants that they had entered into -- in obedience to the Gospel which the Master had died for, atoning for our sins if we would believe and obey Him -- had a better plan than that of the minds of men comprising the main body of the Church and even the leadership of the Church at that time. These men who were without faith, desiring to protect their private property, and excusing themselves in the prospect that the Church property might be lost, came to John Taylor for the Manifesto, September 26, 1886, and suggested that he might sign this in order to prevent the federal authorities from carrying out their designs under the Edmunds Tucker Law. At least they had the courage to ask that John Taylor take it up with the Lord, which he did that night.

That night, the Lord Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith -- who stands at the head of this dispensation and has the responsibility for it under Christ -- they told him what he should do. The next day, five other men were ordained to that order of the holy Apostleship, and they were told that God could not and would not revoke this principle of Celestial Marriage or any other law that He has given in this dispensation. These men were put under covenant that they would see to it that a year would never pass that children were not born under this covenant. That is why this Priesthood Council -- which has succeeded from those brethren headed by John W. Woolley, Lorin C. Woolley, John Y. Barlow, and now President Johnson -- that is why we are here. We came out of that Priesthood, and God has set His hand to continue in the same until the winding-up scene and the second coming of Christ in power and great glory.

Now, we have heard something here this afternoon, brethren and sisters, about the power of motivation. I know of only one motivating power that will lead this people and bring them up to the place that God designs that they should, and that is the power of faith and love -- loving God and His word and His power and His authority with all our might, mind, and strength, and our neighbor as ourself. If we ever expect to get to the place where God will fight our battles and sustain us, we have got to come to the place where He can; and He cannot short of this motivating power that He has shown us through the life and labors of His Beloved Son, Jesus Christ, and one who followed very closely in His footsteps, Joseph Smith the Prophet, who stands at our head and is directing this work from the other side today.

We have got to love these principles before we are going to obey them and carry out the designs of the Almighty. We have got to love Him sufficiently to give us that power and strength to stand against all persecution and every opposition and every power of the adversary that can be brought to bear against us, with this pure love of Christ. We need to have the image and character of the Lord Jesus Christ before us more, for He was sent to atone for the original sin, to make it possible for us to come back into the presence of God, as well as for our own; and by the grace of God and the atonement of Christ only can we receive these blessings.

We have got to govern our families and all of our jurisdictions -- whatever our stewardship or labor that we are called to perform -- by these principles. I do not think it would be amiss to read again from Section 121, which the Lord sets forth to the Prophet Joseph Smith as the means by which we are to accomplish His will and purposes by those who are called and chosen. I do not know why it is that I feel to read this so often, but I think we need to be reminded more often of these principles.

D.& C. 121

34. Behold, there are many called, but few are chosen. And why are they not chosen?
35. Because their hearts are set so much upon the things of this world, and aspire to the honors of men, that they do not learn this one lesson --
36. That the rights of the priesthood are inseparably connected with the powers of heaven, and that the powers of heaven cannot be controlled nor handled only upon the principles of righteousness.
37. That they may be conferred upon us, it is true; but when we undertake to cover our sins, or to gratify our pride, our vain ambition, or to exercise control or dominion or compulsion upon the souls of the children of men, in any degree of unrighteousness, behold, the heavens withdraw themselves; the Spirit of the Lord is grieved; and when it is withdrawn, Amen to the priesthood or the authority of that man.

38. Behold, ere he is aware, he is left unto himself, to kick against the pricks, to persecute the saints, and to fight against God.

39. We have learned by sad experience that it is the nature and disposition of almost all men, as soon as they get a little authority, as they suppose, they will immediately begin to exercise unrighteous dominion.

40. Hence many are called, but few are chosen.

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Brethren and sisters, if we would conduct ourselves in our families and in our community by these principles, we would have a people that God can fight their battles. We would have a people who could be one together in all things, both spiritual and temporal; but let it be remembered, in the sight of God all things are spiritual. And I cannot help but go to Moroni, to show unto us how we are going to come into the presence of God by these same principles that I have been reading about.

Moroni 7

33. And Christ hath said: If ye will have faith in me ye shall have power to do whatsoever thing is expedient in me.

34. And he hath said: Repent all ye ends of the earth, and come unto me, and be baptized in my name, and have faith in me, that ye may be saved.

35. And now, my beloved brethren, if this be the case that these things are true which I have spoken unto you, and God will show unto you, with power and great glory at the last day, that they are true, and if they are true has the day of miracles ceased?

36. Or have angels ceased to appear unto the children of men? Or has he withheld the power of the Holy Ghost from them? Or will he, so long as time shall last, or the earth shall stand, or there shall be one man upon the face thereof to be saved?

37. Behold I say unto you, Nay; for it is by faith that miracles are wrought; and it is by faith that angels appear and minister unto men; wherefore, if these things have ceased wo be unto the children of men, for it is because of unbelief, and all is vain.

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased, then has faith ceased also; and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.

Just think of it. If there is not faith, it is as though no redemption has been made, because His atonement cannot work in his behalf.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his church.

40. And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

41. And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.
44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

RTJ 1:269  May 12, 1963  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
May 12, 1963
The Holy United Order

This is indeed a beautiful sight. We should all realize that, in effect, we are sitting in the presence of God, or trying to. It will be a marvelous day when this people is found worthy to so congregate in the temples of God. We have had some wonderful things given here, particularly this morning. And I pray that I may be an instrument in the hands of the Lord in only supplementing and adding to these things and that it will be edifying and beneficial to us all.

The theme of this conference, or so I like to think of it, is the United Order. Brigham Young said in the St. George temple on one occasion that the fullness, (and Brother Joseph added, the capstone) of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ is the law of Celestial Marriage and the law of the United Order.
This is especially true as one cannot be properly lived and abided without the other, both individually in a family unit as well as collectively with the body of the saints. These are the crowning principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. These, along with the basic fundamental doctrines, that Adam is our Father and God, distinguish this people from all others, as it properly should, because this is the Priesthood of Almighty God and after the order of heaven.

This is the Family Order of Heaven we are seeking to live, and the social order of the law of Celestial Marriage and it is the Economic Order of Heaven, which is its companion law. The fundamental concept of both of these laws, brethren and sisters, is that the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof. And we are the Lord's. Brethren bearing the holy Priesthood cannot look in any other way upon their wives and children other than as stewardships, and they are stewards over them. And they cannot look upon anything they are using or have the possession of except that it be the Lord's.

Governments and other peoples who have been upon the earth have come and claimed rights which are nothing more than squatters' rights. So with this basic concept, brothers and sisters, I would like to review from a pamphlet which I commend to you, which has been sitting on the shelves of the book stores in Salt Lake by the hundreds and we need to study it. If it is all right with Brother Johnson, I will review these things.

Now, I am going to do considerable reading, brothers and sisters, and I pray that the Spirit of God may dictate, that it may sink in our hearts, because I simply want here today to get over to you, with the help of the Lord, the spirit of this order, so that we may come to love it, that it may never again be a source of contention among this people, for so it has been, lo these many years, since Joseph first introduced it. It was hardly introduced in Zion until they were speculating, and through covetous hearts it was taken away. And it has ever been thus.

Economic Order of Heaven Page 5

_The plan evolves around the great commandments—_

1. _Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind._

2. _Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself._

"Upon these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

Fundamentally, man must learn that in God's great economy there is no such thing as private property. The earth, with all that it contains, belongs to Father. This must be accepted as a cardinal truth. Every child born in mortality makes his entrance into life with an equal ownership in the land. These children are God's children, the land belongs to Him, and He is just. He does not dress one in robes and another in rags; does not glut one with bounties and delicacies and assign the other to a life of despair and starvation.

He says in Section 49 of the Doctrine and Covenants:

D.& C. 49

19. For behold, the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the air, and that which cometh of the earth, is ordained for the use of man, for food and for raiment, that he might have in abundance;

20. But it is not given that one man should possess that which is above another; wherefore the whole world lieth in sin.

Then some say that because they get on the land first and work it that they are entitled to more than those who follow. But you remember the parable of the Lord when He says that those who come in at the eleventh hour are entitled to their inheritance as much as the first laborer.

"Why should the pioneer go unrewarded?"

Should not the pioneer have a greater reward?

Not at all, for, under the Lord's system of economics, as we will see, all will receive their just reward; the twelfth son as much as the first in accordance with his just wants and needs. None are discriminated against; none are left landless.

Now this order is one that is voluntary. Brigham told the saints in his time:

We are trying to unite the people together in the order that the Lord revealed to Enoch, which will be observed and sustained in the latter days in redeeming and building up Zion; this is the very order that will do it, and nothing short of it. We are trying to organize the Latter-day Saints into this order; but I want to tell you, my brethren and sisters, that I have not come here to say that you have got to join this order or we will cut you off the Church, or you must join this order or we will consider you apostates; no such thing, oh, no, the Saints are not prepared to see everything at once.
They must learn line upon line and precept upon precept. There is a place, however, for all according to their talents and their ability to understand. Now the question is often raised, What is the correct name of this order?

Economic Order of Heaven  Page 21

It was formerly called the Order of Enoch, Order of all things in Common; it might be called the Order of Peleg, the Order of Melchisedek, the Order of Joseph, the Economic Order of the Son of God, the United Order -- or Order of Unity, etc. Comprehended in the order are the principles of Tithing, Consecration, Stewardships and Inheritances.

Now, I would like to read a revelation which is the very foundation of this thing that has been described. Section 42:

D. & C. 42

29. If thou loveth me thou shalt serve me and keep all my commandments.
30. And behold, thou wilt remember the poor and consecrate of thy properties for their support that which thou hast to impart unto them, with a covenant and a deed which cannot be broken.

31. And inasmuch as ye impart of your substance unto the poor, ye will do it unto me; and they shall be laid before the bishop of my church and his counselors, two of the elders, or high priests, such as he shall appoint or has appointed and set apart for that purpose.

32. And it shall come to pass, that after they are laid before the bishop of my church, and after that he has received these testimonies concerning the consecration of the properties of my church, that they cannot be taken from the church, agreeable to my commandments, every man shall be made accountable unto me, a steward over his own property, or that which he has received by consecration, as much as is sufficient for himself and family.

33. And again, if there shall be properties in the hands of the church, Let us think of the Priesthood

33. ...or any individuals of it, more than is necessary for their support, after this first consecration, which is a residue to be consecrated unto the bishop, it shall be kept to administer to those who have not, from time to time, that every man who has need may be amply supplied and receive according to his wants.
34. Therefore, the residue shall be kept in my storehouse, to administer to the poor and the needy, as shall be appointed by the high council of the church, and bishop and his council;
35. And for the purpose of purchasing lands for the public benefit, and building houses of worship, and building up of the New Jerusalem which is hereafter to be revealed --

36. That my covenant people may be gathered in one in that day when I shall come to my temple. And this I do for the salvation of my people.
37. And it shall come to pass, that he that sinneth and repenteth not shall be cast out of the church, and shall not receive again that which he has consecrated unto the poor and the needy, or in other words unto me --

38. For inasmuch as ye do it unto the least of these, ye do it unto me.
39. For it shall come to pass, that which I spake by the mouths of my prophets shall be fulfilled; for I will consecrate of the riches of those who embrace my gospel among the Gentiles unto the poor of my people who are of the house of Israel.

40. And again, thou shalt not be proud in thy heart; let all thy garments be plain, and their beauty the beauty of the work of thine own hands;
41. And let all things be done in cleanliness before me.

Nothing is left out, brothers and sisters.

42. Thou shalt not be idle; for he that is idle shall not eat the bread nor wear the garments of the laborer.
43. Thou shalt stand in the place of thy stewardship.
44. Thou shalt not take thy brother's garment; thou shalt pay for that which thou shalt receive of thy brother.
45. And if thou obtainest more than that which would be for thy support, thou shalt give it into my storehouse, that all things may be done according to that which I have said."

The following is a summary:

Economic Order of Heaven  Page 23

(a) They should remember the poor and consecrate of their properties for their support. This to be done with a covenant and deed which cannot be broken.

In those days they entered into a covenant and a promise, the violation of which would result in their being turned over to the buffetings of Satan. It was that important.

(b) The consecrations shall be made to the bishopric of the Church.
(c) Each consecrator to receive a stewardship, by consecration, of sufficient for himself and family.

They undoubtedly were a farming community at that time.

(d) If, after the first consecration, there be property in the Church or in possession of any individual more than is necessary for their support, it shall be devoted to administer to those who have not, according to their wants.
(e) This residue shall be kept in the Lord's storehouse, to be allotted to the poor and needy under the direction of the high council of the Church and Bishopric.

(f) The residue shall also be used to purchase lands for the Church, building houses of worship and the New Jerusalem, to be revealed, contemplating the gathering of the Saints, and for the support of the families of the members of the Bishopric handling such consecrations.

(g) Consecrators who apostatize and do not repent shall be cast out of the Church and not receive back that which they have consecrated.

Section 56 of the Doctrine & Covenants goes into the same line of thought. Now I would like to emphasize one point in that which has been written by reading from another Section.

Economic Order of Heaven  Page 27

The grand purpose of the Economic Order of Heaven is to place men on a proper equality. Speaking of the great inequality existing in that day, the Lord told the Saints of their sins; they sought to "counsel in their own ways" -- and their "hearts were not satisfied. And ye obey not the truth, but have pleasure in unrighteousness." And then these convicting charges were thundered forth:

D.& C. 56

16. Wo unto you rich men, that will not give your substance unto the poor, for your riches will canker your souls; and this shall be your lamentation in the day of visitation, and of judgment, and of indignation: the harvest is past, the summer is ended, and my soul is not saved!
17. Wo unto you poor men, whose hearts are not broken, whose spirits are not contrite, and whose bellies are not satisfied, and whose hands are not stayed from laying hold upon other men's goods, whose eyes are full of greediness, and who will not labor with their own hands!

And after this withering indictment, these comforting words:

18. Blessed are the poor who are pure in heart, whose hearts are broken, and whose spirits are contrite, for they shall see the kingdom of God coming in power and great glory unto their deliverance; for the fatness of the earth shall be theirs.

19. For behold, the Lord shall come, and his recompence shall be with him, and he shall reward every man, and the poor shall rejoice.

20. And their generations shall inherit the earth from generation to generation, forever and ever.

Now then, brethren and sisters, it is all things are the Lord's, including wives and children, you Priesthood men. And they, and all things that we are given possession of to manage, direct and organize should be managed to the end that God may be glorified. And if we prove ourselves faithful over a few things we will be made rulers over many. This is the way the Lord works and this is the way we should operate in our families and in the Priesthood.

A little more regarding stewardship.

Economic Order of Heaven  Page 29

In the Lord's economic system every man who consecrates, also becomes a steward to manage such of the property, either retained by him, by permission, or that shall be assigned to him from the properties of the Order. This places a personal responsibility upon him. For the management of his stewardship he is responsible to God through the authority appointed to preside.

D.& C. 42

32. ...every man shall be made accountable to me, a steward over his own property, or that which he has received by consecration, as much as is sufficient for himself and family. --

D.& C. 51

19. And whoso is found a faithful, a just and a wise steward shall enter into the joy of his Lord, and shall inherit eternal life. --

D.& C. 78
22. ...He...shall inherit all things. --

Section 104 says:

D. & C. 104

11. ...ye shall organize yourselves and appoint every man his stewardship;
12. That every man may give an account unto me of the stewardship which is appointed unto him.
13. For it is expedient that I, the Lord, should make every man accountable, as a steward over earthly blessings, which I have made and prepared for my creatures.

The Lord in appointing a stewardship to Joseph Smith, Martin Harris, Oliver Cowdery, John Whitmer, Sidney Rigdon, and William W. Phelps, told them in giving them the stewardship of the revelations and the printing and the commandments which were then in the course of being gathered together, said this:

D. & C. 70

6. Wherefore, a commandment I give unto them, that they shall not give these things unto the church, neither unto the world;
7. Nevertheless, inasmuch as they receive more than is needful for their necessities and their wants, it shall be given into my storehouse;
9. Behold, this is what the Lord requires of every man in his stewardship, even as I, the Lord, have appointed or shall hereafter appoint unto any man.
10. And behold, none are exempt from this law who belong to the church of the living God;
11. Yea, neither the bishop, neither the agent who keepeth the Lord's storehouse, neither he who is appointed in a stewardship over temporal things.

Here is something we should understand, brethren and sisters. While none are exempt from the operation of this law, the Lord says this regarding His servants who had the commandments, the printing, and the publication of His work.

3. I, the Lord, have appointed them, and ordained them to be stewards over the revelations and commandments which I have given unto them, and which I shall hereafter give unto them;
4. And an account of this stewardship will I require of them in the day of judgment.

5. Wherefore, I have appointed unto them, and this is their business in the church of God, to manage them and the concerns thereof, yea, the benefits thereof.

6. Wherefore, a commandment I give unto them, that they shall not give these things unto the church, neither unto the world;

7. Nevertheless, inasmuch as they receive more than is needful for their necessities and their wants, it shall be given unto my storehouse;

8. And the benefits shall be consecrated unto the inhabitants of Zion, and unto their generations, inasmuch as they become heirs according to the laws of the kingdom.

9. Behold, this is what the Lord requires of every man in his stewardship, even as I, the Lord, have appointed or shall hereafter appoint unto any man.

So that those who stand at the head are not accountable to the church as such. They are accountable to the Lord for their stewardships. Here is another stewardship that was given in Zion and in Kirtland.

Economic Order of Heaven  Page 31,32

Joseph Smith, Newel K. Whitney, Sidney Rigdon, Oliver Cowdery, and Martin Harris. These brethren were

D.& C. 82

11. ...to be bound together by a bond and covenant that cannot be broken by transgression, except judgment shall immediately follow, in your several stewardships --

12. To manage the affairs of the poor, and all things pertaining to the bishopric both in the land of Zion and in the land of [Shinehah] Kirtland.

13. For I have consecrated the land of [Shinehah] Kirtland in mine own due time for the benefit of the saints of the Most High, and for a stake to Zion.

14. Zion must increase in beauty, and in holiness; her borders must be enlarged;

Brethren and sisters, this is our Zion for this time, and let us remember it.

14. ...her stakes must be strengthened; yea, verily I say unto you, Zion must arise and put on her beautiful garments.

17. And you are to be equal, or in other words you are to have equal claims on the properties, for the benefit of managing the concerns of your stewardships, every man according to his wants and his needs, INASMUCH AS HIS WANTS ARE JUST --

18. And all this for the benefit of the church of the living God, that every man may improve upon his talent, that every man may gain other talents, yea, even an hundred fold, to be cast into the Lord's storehouse, to become the common property of the whole church --

19. EVERY MAN SEEKING THE INTEREST OF HIS NEIGHBOR, and doing all things with an eye single to the glory of God.

I would like to emphasize two or three things here, then I am through. It is mentioned concerning the people of Enoch, concerning the people in the days of the Apostles in the meridian of time as follows. In the apostolic age,

Acts 4

32. ...the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul; neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

The Nephites.

4 Nephi

2. ...there were no contentions and disputations among them, and every man did deal justly one with another.

3. And they had all things common among them; therefore there were not rich and poor, bond and free, but they were all made free, and partakers of the heavenly gift.

This means simply, brethren and sisters, when they say they had things in common, they owned all of the property under the Lord in common. They didn't all take out of one pot as it were. They were stewards, just as the Lord says they are here. They are to be here and now. Now, you notice the ideal that is held out here is the only way that this order can work among the saints of God if they are to be called saints -- every man seeking the interest of his neighbor -- every man. And if every man does not, then he can have no place in that order, because he won't have the spirit of it.

What a beautiful thing! You looking after my interest and I looking after yours. What love! What confidence would exist among the saints if we truly lived this order. And if we cannot love one another, and above all, love the Lord, our God, with all our hearts, might, minds and strength, then we are not worthy to be in this order in the kingdom.

Charity or love is the greatest of all. And as Moroni said, unless you are possessed of it in the last day, ye will fail. All else must fail. If you have it, it will be well with you. And if you do have it, when the Lord, Jesus Christ, comes in glory, we will see Him as He is for we will be like Him. We must be Christ-like, in other words, and have the pure love of Christ or we cannot live this order. This is why the people of Enoch, the people in the Apostolic days, the people of Melchizedek, and for a hundred and sixty-five years after the judgments at the coming of Christ to the Nephites, they had no disputations among them. For they had according to their just wants, they held all things in common, and they loved one another. And may we, my dear brothers and sisters, live together seeking after the interests of one another, doing away with all selfishness and greediness and covetousness which destroyed the saints in Zion in 1832, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:281  May 19, 1963  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 19, 1963
Faith in God Implies Faith in Priesthood

I pray that the Spirit of God will direct me that I might give voice to the dictates of the Spirit. The brethren have already voiced the things that were going through my mind, and I feel but to say, "Amen and Amen," and exhort this people at the peril of their salvation to plead unto God for the gift of repentance and the gift of faith, which are indeed gifts of God, for they are given by His grace; and let us exert our minds to this end. Faith in God also implies faith in His Priesthood, or there is no virtue in "Mormonism" or this work. Faith in the holy Priesthood is having faith in God, because He has called and sent them, and if we will receive them we will receive Him, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:281  June 2, 1963  CCA
My brethren and sisters, I feel impressed to add a few thoughts to those that have been expressed by the revelations of God to us tonight. Brother Guy spoke many things that were upon my mind, and said them better than I could.

The reason that we are not receiving the blessings that we desire, the reason we are not being endowed with power from on high, and arriving at that point where the brethren can come forth and teach us from the other side, is because we are lacking faith. Brother Guy could have gone on in Section 82 and pointed out that the Lord went on to say that, "If you do what I say then I am bound. If you do not what I say, you have no promise." If we are in that condition, then it is because we lack faith. Our course of life is not pleasing to God. It is just that simple. I want to read from Lecture Six again, something that I think may help us.

Lecture Six

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint;

Now this is a very serious thing to consider.

4. ...that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint;

Brother Guy has pointed out how that happens.

4. ...for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it,

Now the Lord is describing those who do have that knowledge that their course is pleasing to Him.

4. ...receive the truth in the love of it and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven, and of their having embraced the order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in him necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

He goes on to explain that the only way that we can have this knowledge is if we sacrifice all things. These sacrifices that Brother Guy has so beautifully pointed out to us, they are the things that we must do. This old character, these old feelings, these old ways of our fathers that we cling onto; we cling onto our means and selfishly use our talents. Until we can sacrifice and offer them all to the Lord, and know that we are the favorites of heaven, we will never be endowed or blessed as the brethren want this people to be.

All people do things, most of the things that we do, generally -- people of other religions and faiths. We have got to go further and make these sacrifices, or we are not going to obtain the blessing. How can the Lord have confidence in us, and how can we have confidence that we will receive the blessings we ask for, if we don't know for a surety that our course of life is pleasing to Him? It is nothing but mockery to God to assume otherwise. These thoughts I felt to leave with you tonight.

Now brothers and sisters, if you want to offer a little more in sacrifice, we want to call upon you again to come forth and obtain a set of the Truths which have been reprinted and are ready to be bound, and which cannot be bound without the funds to do it -- one hundred dollars a set. You will be blessed if you will go forth and seek means and vent ways that Brother Guy says to do this. There hasn't been response to this thing. And you will be blessed, I promise you in the name of the Lord, if you will make this additional sacrifice. This information can be placed with your families. You know very well of these growing families in the years that have transpired since they have ceased being published. There are those who are without them. And this, along with the Journals, has been a great source of spiritual light among this people, and it is going forth out among others. We must be missionaries in this regard.

God help us to go forth as we have been directed by the servants of God, and be that people that God can use. Brother Johnson yearns for us with all his soul, to prepare that people that God can use to set in order His House and cleanse the temple, and be endowed with power from on high to accomplish
It is good to be here, brethren and sisters. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, and for the Spirit of God to direct my remarks. One thing that was said here by Brother Barlow and Brother Holm, regarding the relationship of President John Y. Barlow and Leroy S. Johnson, pointed out to me a principle that I felt like talking a little about here tonight, the principle of love.

There is something about the Priesthood, brethren and sisters, borne by righteous men, that begets a love that is indescribable. It always brings to mind the statement of Heber C. Kimball to the effect that the love of brethren far transcends even the love between a husband and a wife. This is why there is this beautiful bond between Brother Barlow and Brother Johnson.

Now why this? Because they are both men of God. They are engaged fully with all their heart, might, mind, and strength in the work of God. And because they love the same holy principles of heaven, they likewise loved each other, and do now love each other.

Brigham Young, in speaking of love between a man and a woman, said a man should not love a woman, only to the degree that she graces the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. This bears out the same principle that I spoke of as to the love between brethren. Those men graced the Gospel of Jesus Christ and magnified the holy Priesthood. That is why they love each other. The crowning characteristic of God, as is described by the Prophet Joseph, was that He is love. It was by the power of love that the Lord Jesus Christ drew men and women to Him. He chastised, where it was required, which is also Godlike. And He chastised because He loved them. Whom the Lord loveth, He also chasteneth. I think some of the grandest words to be found in the holy scripture are in the book of John. I would like to read a few lines of it from the Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith. This is in connection with the promise of the Second Comforter, this subject of the remarks of the Prophet, but the verses on the matter I am talking about tonight are as follows:

TPJS  Page 150

"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;"
"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you."

"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you." ***
"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him."
"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Then it goes on to explain that the Lord Jesus Christ Himself is that Second Comforter. But the point is, brethren and sisters, that it is the power of love, which is another expression of the power of faith, which will draw us together in the bonds of the New and Everlasting Covenant. The degree that we love these principles that have been taught us all the day long will govern the degree of our faith and our faithfulness to this work.

Don't you feel like obeying that being who is like unto God? That is why Christ was able to draw men to Him and bring them to obedience to those things which He loved, which was to do His Father's will; and They were one through the power of love and faith. Until we become like Him, we cannot be with Him.

Now brethren and sisters, I think bringing this down into our own lives and affairs, if we truly love one another as husbands and wives, we will render obedience where it is due, and we will cherish one another in these bonds of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. If we love our children, we will train them up to become like us as we become like our file leaders, and as they, together, become like Christ and God our Father.

It seems to me that all of the attributes of God can be described in this one great, glorious characteristic. The Prophet Joseph in the Third Lecture describes the character of God as being unchangeable, being no respecter of persons. He is God from everlasting to everlasting. He is a God of truth and cannot lie. And finally, He is love. He is love. He did not say He has love, but He is love, if you will analyze it very carefully.

If we love God, then we will have His Spirit to be constantly with us. His Spirit is the attributes of God, which are knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. If we have this Spirit to abide with us always, then we will become like Him, because we will have a fullness of it as Christ obtained a fullness of it, from grace to grace, little by little, precept upon precept. This is what the law of the Gospel is to us. I pray we may abide in the same, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:286  July 7, 1963  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 7, 1963
Love God by Loving President Johnson

What more is there to say, my dear brethren and sisters? I am at a loss to know what to say to this people after what we have heard today, that hasn't been said a thousand times before. If this people is in the condition that Brother Johnson is about to turn you loose to do what you please, God help you. I am sure that God is merciful and that Brother Johnson has that same attribute of God, and there may yet be time. I will just simply close by saying, my dear brethren and sisters, love and serve God with all your heart, might, mind, and strength; which is, in this instance, love and serve Leroy S. Johnson whom He has appointed, with all your heart, might, mind, and strength, and the key may not be turned. Wives, love and serve your head with all your heart, might, mind, and strength; and children likewise with your parents. Then this people can be one people whom God can use, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:287  July 21, 1963  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 21, 1963
Through the Confidence of the Priesthood We Will Know Our Course Pleases God
It is a wonderful thing, my brethren and sisters, to see you all in one room, the great outdoors. It is a fine thing for the saints to be able to see the speakers and the speaker the congregation, so that we have a more perfect communication. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks tonight to our mutual edification.

I feel nothing but gratitude in my soul, brethren and sisters, for the blessings of God upon me and upon this people, and that we are led by a Prophet of God. The Spirit of God is working upon him and upon this people so far as they will be united with the brethren, particularly Brother Johnson, in accomplishing the will of God concerning this people and concerning the purposes of God upon the earth.

I am grateful for the testimony that I have, the knowledge that I have that this is the work of God. I am grateful for my testimony concerning the Prophet Joseph Smith; and I know that he is laboring in behalf of this people and directing this work through the immediate agency of those who have gone before us in our day and time. This is a source of great satisfaction to me and one of the greatest testimonies of this work, that those who gathered us together, particularly President Barlow, are immediately directing the work from the other side. I know this as I know I live. We have leading us today men who are their true friends and brethren.

I am grateful for the heritage I have from my parents, for my father who taught me the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel; for the knowledge and information that came to me through him has carried me through many and many a tight place. I know my father is also laboring and watching over me and mine from the other side. I know my mother is also laboring in behalf of my family. We have felt their influence in time of need, when the Lord has worked through them.

Brethren and sisters, the most important thing to us is to have and keep the Spirit of God. Only through our oneness can we have it. This is a source of strength and satisfaction and confidence by which we can labor in the Kingdom. The thing that comes to my mind at this moment is the testimony that Abel had, and that Enoch had, and others who stood in places under the direction of God to do a great work in the earth. This was the testimony that they had, that they pleased God. This is a most precious gift and testimony, to have the confidence of God, to have the confidence of those who lead us, to have the confidence particularly of our Priesthood head.
I don't think enough of us consider this principle enough in our daily affairs. We want this and we want that. We want to do this and we want to do that -- a pretty selfish business for the most part -- and all of the time is this need for building confidence of our immediate head, and through that means obtain the confidence of God. After all, brethren and sisters, the aim and object of our existence here is to have our calling and election made sure, else what are we engaged in this business for? This is no average religion. This is the religion of heaven and the power of God unto salvation. If we can't get to a point where we obtain that confidence of God and the testimony that we please Him, then we are not going to come to that point where He will say, "My son, thou shalt be exalted." This is how the Prophet Joseph Smith put it:

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation. After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God, and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted. When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John.

This Second Comforter, as we well know, as he goes on to explain, is the Lord Jesus Christ, Himself, who will even reveal the Father to him. The process by which we arrive at this place is to obtain the confidence of God through the means outlined here, through strict obedience to every word that proceeds forth from the mouth of God in all things. Then we will be able to go before the veil of God, and it may be said of us, "Having been faithful and true in all things we desire to enter into the presence of God."

Now wives, how are you going to be one with your husbands if you don't have his confidence? Brethren, how are you going to be one with the Priesthood, with President Johnson, unless you have his confidence? Confidence is borne of strict obedience to every counsel and direction that comes through that Priesthood and by way of revelation as the word of God.
to us. We should count this gift of confidence, this condition of confidence, the most precious of our lives, and never do anything in our daily lives to destroy that confidence; because once having been lost, it is most difficult to get it back. And it takes time, goodness knows how long, to regain it. Confidence that exists between husband and wife, and between them and their brethren, is the thing that is going to unite this people through the gift of the Holy Ghost and the power of the holy Priesthood, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:290 August 18, 1963 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 18, 1963
Lessons from Zion's Camp

This is very refreshing and delightful, brethren and sisters. I have enjoyed the Spirit of the Lord that has been here, and pray it may continue in my behalf, in behalf of all of us, of course. I am impressed by one thought at this time, my dear brothers and sisters, and that is the faith that is exerted by our presiding brethren in behalf of this people, and their labors in behalf of this people.

When I see Brother Hammon as I have seen him the last few days, prostrate and his heart struggling to keep him going, I am reminded of the things that he has gone through for this people. He has laid his life on the altar. You do not realize how literally true this is. President Johnson and the other brethren have done likewise. We little realize the strength that goes out of them in behalf of this people as they importune the Lord in their faith and in their labors. It has ever been thus by those whom the Lord has called to this position. It seems to me that if we were more mindful of these things, showed our gratitude to God, sustained that order with our faith and prayers to a greater extent, this work would roll on with greater rapidity.

A united faith of a people is the only thing that is going to redeem Zion and roll this work on. There can be no schism, or God cannot work with us. I think the most powerful example of this is the experience of the Camp of Zion. God called for five hundred men to go back and redeem Zion, from whence the saints had been driven because of their covetousness and because they had not kept the commandments. But God was willing to help them redeem it if sufficient faith and power could be brought to bear to accomplish the object in view. The requirement of that camp was that there be absolute oneness in following the direction of the Prophet, that there be no murmuring or unruly temper, or anything of like nature.

The power and the faith that can be generated by a group of men holding the holy Priesthood cannot be imagined, except we experience it, of course. But it was not long upon the journey until the Prophet had to get up and tell them that because of the unruly tempers and the backbiting, the criticism of the Lord's anointed, and the murmurings that had gone on, that they were going to have to suffer for it; and God's purpose in sending them could not be accomplished.

Of course, we all know the result. Cholera broke out and fifty-eight or more contracted it and fourteen died. The Prophet Joseph, in his great mercy and love for the saints, stretched forth his hand to raise them up and he, himself, contracted it; and was warned that this was a judgment of God with which he could not interfere.

It seems to me, brothers and sisters, that we can take a very great lesson from this, if we will realize that it takes not only mental exertion through words to exercise faith, but to render perfect obedience and be willing to take direction in all things from the servants of God. This is as literally true as that we live.
Until this people will be dictated by this Priesthood in all things, they are not going to make the progress that is desired, and they will not receive the blessings and endowments that God has in store for the faithful.

It seems to me that we can take a great lesson, brothers and sisters, from what the Lord said to the Camp on Fishing River as they were about to be disbanded and take their course back home. They were to stay, of course, among the people there for awhile. But I think the word of the Lord in some of these things is as helpful counsel as we can receive.

D.& C. 105

1. Verily I say unto you who have assembled yourselves together that you may learn my will concerning the redemption of mine afflicted people -- 2. Behold, I say unto you, were it not for the transgressions of my people, speaking concerning the church and not individuals, they might have been redeemed even now.

And I say, this people and Zion could have been redeemed even now.
3. But behold, they have not learned to be obedient to the things which I required at their hands, but are full of all manner of evil, and do not impart of their substance, as becometh saints, to the poor and afflicted among them;
4. And are not united according to the union required by the law of the celestial kingdom;
5. And Zion cannot be built up unless it is by the principles of the law of the celestial kingdom; otherwise I cannot receive her unto myself.
6. And my people must needs be chastened until they learn obedience, if it must needs be, by the things which they suffer.

What is this people going to be required to suffer to learn this great lesson? It makes me tremble to think of it. I can promise you one thing, we are going to have mobs against this people before we are through. They will be composed largely of the people of the Church, who will also seek the lives of their leaders. This Priesthood will be called upon to shelter them and save them if it is possible.

7. I speak not concerning those who are appointed to lead my people, who are the first elders of my church, for they are not all under this condemnation;
8. But I speak concerning my churches abroad -- there are many who will say: Where is their God? Behold, he will deliver them in time of trouble, otherwise we will not go up unto Zion, and will keep our moneys.
9. Therefore, in consequence of the transgressions of my people, it is expedient in me that mine elders should wait for a little season for the redemption of Zion --
10. That they themselves may be prepared, and that my people may be taught more perfectly, and have experience, and know more perfectly concerning their duty, and the things which I require at their hands.
11. And this cannot be brought to pass until mine elders are endowed with power from on high.

And goodness knows this people does.
12. For behold, I have prepared a great endowment and blessing to be poured out upon them, inasmuch as they are faithful and continue in humility before me.
13. Therefore it is expedient in me that mine elders should wait for a little season, for the redemption of Zion.

14. For behold, I do not require at their hands to fight the battles of Zion; for, as I said in a former commandment, even so will I fulfill -- I will fight your battles.

15. Behold, the destroyer I have sent forth to destroy and lay waste mine enemies; and not many years hence they shall not be left to pollute mine heritage, and to blaspheme my name upon the lands which I have consecrated for the gathering together of my saints. ***

Then He goes on to say that the strength of His house that He had asked to be gathered for this purpose, 17. ...have not hearkened unto my words.

18. But inasmuch as there are those who have hearkened unto my words, I have prepared a blessing and an endowment for them, if they continue faithful.

19. I have heard their prayers, and will accept their offering; and it is expedient in me that they should be brought thus far for a trial of their faith. ***

Going on giving some instructions to them, He mentions these things, and I think it is a parallel for us.

30. And after these lands are purchased, I will hold the armies of Israel guiltless in taking possession of their own lands, which they have previously purchased with their moneys, and of throwing down the towers of mine enemies that may be upon them, and scattering their watchmen, and avenging me of mine enemies unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me.

31. But first let my army become very great, and let it be sanctified before me, that it may become fair as the sun, and clear as the moon, and that her banners may be terrible unto all nations;

32. That the kingdoms of this world may be constrained to acknowledge that the kingdom of Zion is in very deed the kingdom of our God and his Christ; therefore, let us become subject unto her laws.

You all know as well as I do, my brothers and sisters, what has been the great burden of Brother Johnson's pleadings for this people, and that is to be prepared against the day of visitation. The visitation of what? Certainly chastisements and judgments, but also the visit and the coming of the Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. We are going to feel the weight of the hand of a just and merciful God, and we are going to suffer with the wicked if we are not careful. I am reminded, too, of the conditions that God wants this people to arrive at.

Again, let me plead with you, my brothers and sisters, to acknowledge God in all things. Sustain His word and follow every word that proceeds forth from His mouth through His servants, the Prophets. God requires but one thing from us, to serve Him and to love Him with all our heart, mind, and strength. This is as simple as I am sure that can be stated what is our object and our duty, to love and serve Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and to love His servant and stand by him.

There is no room in this work for cowards, and certainly they are going to be proven, too, before this is over. There is going to be a sifting, a sifting, a continual sifting, as Heber C. Kimball once said. I pray that we may be found faithful and true all the days of our lives, and be found worthy to stand at the side of the servants of God when these judgments and the evils that are concocted by the devil may come upon us, and I ask it in the name of Jesus, amen.
Conference in Canada
October 6, 1963
Faith; Must Become Like God

I am delighted, my brothers and sisters, to be here with you today, and enjoy the Spirit of this occasion in company with my brothers and sisters. I love this work, and I love this people because you love this work, and they are the only ones I can truly say I love, in the full sense of the word. Certainly we must love all men and allow them the privilege of worshipping and doing as they please, so long as they do not interfere with the rights of others, and allow all men to do, and worship the God that they want, if it is a yellow dog. But my father, mother, brothers and sisters, and friends, are in this work, and we are the ones that I am concerned about. I desire nothing more than to be a servant in the hands of God in serving this people and blessing them in every way I can. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers here today, because I want only to say those things that God will put into my mouth, and not of myself.

I know, my brothers and sisters, that my Father Adam, Michael, lives. He is the God I serve and love with all my heart, might, mind, and strength. He it is that I desire to join again, to be with in time and eternity, not the theorial God that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints says is God. Father Michael is my God, and I know the only God with whom I am going to have to do, with Him through His servants, whom He has called and chosen.

Brothers and sisters, the fundamental character of God is faith, and He accomplishes all things by the power of faith, and if we have not faith in Him we are not going to be able to be with Him. If we do not love Him and become like Him, we will never go again into His presence. What is faith? Paul says it is the assurance we have in our minds of things hoped for based on the evidence and truth of things not seen. The brother of Jared was considered to have had as great a faith as possibly any mortal man; certainly Joseph Smith did or he could not have seen the Father and the Son and become Their Witness. What led Joseph to go into the woods to pray? His faith that he would get an answer.

What led the brother of Jared to go up on the mount, knowing that they had to cross the great deep and needed light in the vessels that had been prepared? But he did know that he would get the answer, and I think it is probably, by itself, one of the greatest examples of faith that we have in holy writ. He approached the Lord in this way: "Father, we have sinned continually before thee; nevertheless, we desire to serve you and to do as you command; and you have commanded us to cross the great deep and to prepare these vessels, and I have brought before thee these stones which are needed to give us light. I know that thou canst do this; therefore stretch forth thy hand and give us light through these stones."

He saw the finger of the Lord, and thus through his faith was able to see the Lord Himself, and the body that He would have, and He should come to redeem the world and to establish righteousness. I am also reminded of the beautiful picture of faith of Samuel the Prophet. I would like to take a minute to read it. It is in poetic form.

Hushed Was the Evening Hymn

1. Hushed was the evening hymn;
The temple courts were dark;
The lamp was burning dim
Before the sacred ark;
When suddenly a voice divine
Rang through the silence of the shrine.
2. The old man, meek and mild,
The priest of Israel slept;
His watch the temple child,
The little Levite kept;
And what from Eli's sense was sealed,
The Lord to Hannah's son revealed.
3. O give me Samuel's ear,
The open ear, O Lord,
Alive and quick to hear
Each whisper of thy word.
Like him to answer at thy call
And to obey thee first of all.
4. O give me Samuel's heart,
A lowly heart, that waits,
Wherein thy house thou art
Or watches at thy gates,
By day and night, a heart that still Moves at the breathing of thy will.
Still moves at the breathing of thy will.

5. O give me Samuel's mind,
A sweet unmurmuring faith,
Obedient and resigned
To thee in life and death,
That I may read with childlike eyes,
Truths that are hidden from the wise!

Now, brothers and sisters, if we are not receiving the blessings that we feel we are entitled to -- I do not see how we can feel we are entitled to though, if we are not receiving them -- it is because we do not have faith, faith in God, and faith in a living Priesthood, faith in ourselves. We do not have faith in ourselves because of fears, and fear is the opposite of faith. It is because we know that we do not have the knowledge that we please God. How do we please God? By obedience and sacrifice.

Some of us may think that in order to come to God in starting in the spirit of sacrifice, it is a matter of laying our money, our houses, our lands, maybe our wives and children before the Lord on the altar; all earthly things it is said. But the principle of sacrifice is a continuous thing, sacrificing all of our feelings that are contrary to the Spirit of God and the character of God, laying them on the altar continually, day in and day out.

I am afraid the one reason we do not do these things is because we do not have a proper understanding of who God is, and what He is. Surely we all believe that He is Adam (Michael), but what is His character and attributes? If we are not becoming like Him, and making those attributes a part of our character, then we certainly do not understand Him, or else it is just pure and simple mental and spiritual laziness, and we are procrastinating the day of the Lord. We have got to sacrifice these stinking little characteristics that are of the devil, and live by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God. Only by our faith are we going to accomplish these things.

How do we work when we work by faith? By the exertion of the mind, through words that are expressed in faith in God. Only through this means can we accomplish this great thing, this great principle or power, which God has in perfection. And what are the fruits of faith? They are the very things that we all hope for. It is becoming like God. We are told that having learned as we have, in the Lectures on Faith, of the nature and the character of God, that on the hinge of becoming like Him turns the door of salvation, and this is the fruits of faith, the effects of faith. This takes real practice. We must become skillful, my brothers and sisters, in exercising faith, and continually have the spirit of repentance; and both of these things are gifts of God. Have you ever realized this? We must actually pray for repentance. We must pray for faith, and sufficiently come to a point of humility before God, and begin to obey by every word that comes forth from Him and His servants. Then we can begin to feel the power or strength, and go from there, step by step till we see the face of God. How many of us are laboring to have our calling and election made sure, and are willing to pay the price that this requires? It requires, brothers and sisters, that we live every law -- Celestial Marriage, the United Order, the Law of Consecration and Stewardships; to receive and magnify the holy Priesthood, and to be endowed, one covenant after another -- and then we will come up to see the face of God; all through the power of faith. I cannot help when I think of this subject of Moroni -- faith, hope, and charity or love.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

And faith is the assurance of things hoped for.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

Like unto Samuel.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Then faith leads us unto this greatest, if one can be said to be, of all the attributes of God -- love. Can you think of any principle of this Gospel, and if it is not connected with this glorious attribute of God or the character of God? I am sure you will find it quite impossible. God is love. If we love Him, if we love His servants, if we love the truth that He gives us, then we will become like Him; and without this we are nothing. Think of this most all-encompassing attribute or emotion of love. Can you do a wrong in the sight of God, can you do anything but choose the right, if you truly love God? Can you treat your fellow men, your sisters, your brothers, your sisters-wives -- and you brethren, your brethren -- with anything but by the Spirit of God, if you have this attribute of love? This is one of the attributes of the Holy Spirit, which we must become skillful in getting and keeping all the days of our lives. I think if we would cultivate this attribute through the power of faith, then we would indeed become like God, which may we do I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:301 October 20, 1963 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 20, 1963
Faith; Brother of Jared; Become like God

I pray that the Lord will bless me in my remarks tonight, that His Spirit may be upon me. This I desire above all other things at this time. I have nothing but gratitude in my heart tonight to be numbered with this people and Priesthood.
As I have sat here contemplating the many blessings that God has given me, I have felt to praise the Lord that my father and mother were faithful and true and fulfilled the covenant with me before I came here to bring me here. This I know as I know I live, that I made that covenant with David William Ward Jeffs and Lenora Timpson. I am grateful that they were faithful and true in all the years since I was born, and that the Lord led them into the Priesthood work so that I could carry on and fulfill the other covenants which I made with the Lord. I am grateful for all that the Lord has given me. Above all, I am grateful to be associated with President Johnson, that I have been associated with John Y. Barlow, and Joseph W. Musser, and Charles Zitting, and all the others who have been called into this order. I love them more than life itself, and I hope to prove that love by faithful obedience, following counsel, and keeping all of the commandments that are given to me to fulfill.

Truly, brethren and sisters, many of us profess love for our file leaders. Many of us profess love for this work and for God. But Jesus said, "If ye love Me, keep My commandments." Sisters, you say to your husband, "I love you, I love you." Do you keep his commandments? Can you say this in the next breath -- yes? Brethren, you say you love President Johnson, you love the Lord and this work. Prove it by keeping His and their commandments. It is just that simple.

I feel very often, brothers and sisters, that President Johnson, President Hammon, President Musser and the others weary at teaching the principles of life and salvation and see so little results. I know that it is only one thing that is lacking. It is the principle of faith. This principle I am afraid, to most of us, is too abstract a thing. We mouth it. We talk about it. But do we truly live by it?

Now, we come here to meetings, we pay our tithing, we carry on our family responsibilities and go along in the same old rut. Surely these things are required, but we are not going far enough, and we have not exerted the faith sufficient to accomplish the things that the brethren have been telling us. The Lord told a group of men, I don't recall which Section it was, that the time would come when they would be granted everything according to their faith. According to their faith so should they enjoy the blessings of God. He has said on many occasions, "If you ask the Father, believing that you will receive, it shall be granted." Why can't we apply these same tests to our own lives?
I feel that it might be well for us to analyze the great experience of the brother of Jared if I can get a Book of Mormon. I think perhaps there might be some practical principles involved here that would help us. Chapter Three of Ether, brethren and sisters, if you want to follow any of it if you have a book here, page 483. I think we need to get a little of the background for this, and I am going to go right to the first of the chapter.

Ether 3

1. And it came to pass that the brother of Jared, (now the number of the vessels which had been prepared was eight) went forth unto the mount, which they called the mount Shelem, because of its exceeding height, and did molten out of a rock sixteen small stones; and they were white and clear, even as transparent glass;

He must have known what the Lord would require beforehand and he made the proper preparation to accomplish the object of his faith.

1. ...small stones; and they were white and clear, even as transparent glass; and he did carry them in his hands upon the top of the mount, and cried again unto the Lord, saying:

All these other preparations had been made, the preparing of the ships. The Lord had commanded that they should go across the great deep and so forth. Now let us hear how he approaches the Lord:

2. O Lord, thou hast said that we must be encompassed about by the floods. Now behold, O Lord, and do not be angry with thy servant because of his weakness before thee; for we know that thou art holy and dwellest in the heavens, and that we are unworthy before thee; because of the fall our natures have become evil continually; nevertheless, O Lord, thou hast given us a commandment that we must call upon thee, that from thee we may receive according to our desires.

To begin with, here is a spirit of humility and of repentance, and acknowledging our weakness before God, and that He has power. He has commanded us. We are about His business. Now, brothers and sisters, are we about the business of the Lord so that we can go in confidence before Him and have confidence that we are going to receive an answer, believing that we will receive? This pre-supposes that we have been keeping the commandments. How can we go before Him in a guilty condition? We must go before Him in an innocent condition, repentant and dependant upon Him.
for an answer and for the accomplishment of the object of our faith, knowing that it is righteous in the first place, that which we seek, and that it is in the designs of God to give it.

3. Behold, O Lord, thou hast smitten us because of our iniquity, and hast driven us forth, and for these many years we have been in the wilderness; nevertheless, thou hast been merciful unto us. O Lord, look upon me in pity, and turn away thine anger from this thy people, and suffer not that they shall go forth across this raging deep in darkness; but behold these things which I have molten out of the rock.

He understood what God had commanded and desired in behalf of the people, called upon Him to overlook our weaknesses and our fallen nature, and to grant this thing which he presented.

4. And I know, O Lord, that thou hast all power, and can do whatsoever thou wilt for the benefit of man;
"I know that thou hast all power. Thou canst do this thing." This supposes, then, that he knows the character and the attributes of God, that he has confidence in God and that He can grant it.

4. ...therefore touch these stones, O Lord, with thy finger, and prepare them that they may shine forth in darkness; and they shall shine forth unto us in the vessels which we have prepared, that we may have light while we shall cross the sea.

5. Behold, O Lord, thou canst do this.

Do you suppose for a moment that if there was any doubt in his mind he could have accomplished this thing? There wasn't a single doubt. Do we go before the Lord with doubts? This is why, I know, that we don't accomplish the end of our faith, because there are doubts, there are fears. There is a knowledge that we have not been keeping the commandments, so it is of no effect.

5. ...We know that thou art able to show forth great power, which looks small unto the understanding of men.

6. And it came to pass that when the brother of Jared had said these words, behold, the Lord stretched forth his hand and touched the stones one by one with his finger.

He asked that the Lord touch them with His finger and he knew what the result would be. It would set a light in them so that they could cross the great deep.

6. ...And the veil was taken from off the eyes of the brother of Jared, and he saw the finger of the Lord; and it was as the finger of a man, like unto flesh and blood; and the brother of Jared fell down before the Lord, for he was struck with fear.

7. And the Lord saw that the brother of Jared had fallen to the earth; and the Lord said unto him: Arise, why hast thou fallen?

8. And he saith unto the Lord: I saw the finger of the Lord, and I feared lest he should smite me; for I knew not that the Lord had flesh and blood.

9. And the Lord said unto him: Because of thy faith thou hast seen that I shall take upon me flesh and blood; and never has man come before me with such exceeding faith as thou hast; for were it not so ye could not have seen my finger. Sawest thou more than this?

10. And he answered: Nay; Lord, show thyself unto me.

11. And the Lord said unto him: Believest thou the words which I shall speak?

Here is where we fail. We ask for things, but are we ready and willing to believe and accept them and follow them? Here is where faith begins to really work. But do we go with reservations in our minds, with doubts, and with an idea already in mind as to just exactly what counsel, kind of counsel, and direction we want?

11. ...Believest thou the words which I shall speak?

12. And he answered: Yea, Lord, I know that thou speakest the truth, for thou art a God of truth, and canst not lie.

Again, evidence that he knew the character of God -- "Thou are a God of truth and canst not lie."

13. And when he had said these words, behold, the Lord showed himself unto him, and said: Because thou knowest these things ye are redeemed from the fall; therefore ye are brought back into my presence; therefore I show myself unto you.

14. Behold, I am he who was prepared from the foundation of the world to redeem my people. Behold, I am Jesus Christ. I am the Father and the Son. In me shall all mankind have life, and that eternally, even they who shall believe on my name; and they shall become my sons and my
15. And never have I showed myself unto man whom I have created, for never has man believed in me as thou hast. Seest thou that ye are created after mine own image? Yea, even all men were created in the beginning after mine own image.

And so forth. The end of our faith, brothers and sisters, is to see God, to be with Him, to have our calling and election made sure. As Moroni tells us so beautifully, unless we are like Him we cannot see Him and be with Him; for we shall then, if we accomplish this end, see Him as He is and He will see us as we are, and we will be like Him. The more we strive to become like God, so much greater will be the power of our faith.

Faith is an exertion of the mind, and it is a principle of power and of action. This is what we fail to use, this mind, which is the power of the spirit in us. This is that which reaches out to God and which is acted upon by the Holy Ghost. Through faith we are told we will have the gift of the Holy Ghost. If we have the gift of the Holy Ghost, we have all of the attributes of God working in our behalf that we may become like Him. If we have a fullness of His Spirit continually with us, then we will become like Him, because the Holy Spirit is the attributes of God, until our faith is perfect. Then we will have a fullness of the Spirit and see the face of God. I pray, brothers and sisters, that we will grow in faith and knowledge and understanding.

If we want the blessings of endowments, we are going to have to exert the faith to get them. It is just that simple. We are going to have to take all of the steps that precede it. We are not going to be jumping up into the third heavens just by the kind of work that we are doing today. If we were worthy and had the faith, we would have them, as the Lectures on Faith tell us. We should be exerting our faith to this end, brothers and sisters; following in the footsteps of Brother Johnson, and following every word that proceeds forth from his mouth by the inspiration of God. May we be one people, brothers and sisters. May we acknowledge our sins and repent of them, and go from step to step in the progress of the power and principles of faith, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:307 November 3, 1963 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
November 3, 1963
Faith Is Exertion of the Mind;
We Are Mentally Lazy; How to Pray Properly

The time is far spent, brothers and sisters, but I pray the time that I occupy may be dictated by the Spirit of God. Last time I spoke on faith, and I still feel disposed to. But I would like to speak on a different aspect of it tonight, with the desire in my heart that it will be helpful to all of us, and especially to me.

Lecture Seven tells us -- we have heard it many times -- that when we work by faith, it is by the exertion of the mind, and this by the means of words. I wonder how often we stop to analyze this and try to learn the real operation of this basic first principle of the Gospel and apply it in our lives and use it to help us to be happy, to find out and obey the will of God and to render obedience to that will, and remain close to those who preside over us. The modus operandi is prayer.

Last time, I spoke of the glorious experience that the brother of Jared had, and he was told by the Lord that none had shown such great faith as he had. You remember, that whole incident started with prayer -- "Father, you have told us that we must go across the great deep; we need light to cross in these vessels," and so on; with the result that, through that prayer of faith -- with faith in his prayer, if you please -- he came to see the finger and finally the whole person of God; this, by the powerful exertion of his mind.

Now, if we are not progressing, if we are not receiving the things that we desire in righteousness, then we must be mentally lazy. Is there any other conclusion? And it must be that we are not praying, or we do not know how to pray. "Lord, teach me how to pray." Even this must come from God. Faith, itself, is a gift of God which must be prayed for and sought after, and exert our minds for. Repentance is a gift of God. You name anything -- it is a gift of God, and it must be sought after in faith.

Have you ever analyzed the Lord's prayer? I have heard a lot of sectarians do it, and it leaves me cold. But understanding who our Father is, what His character is, and what our duty is to Him, and what we are trying to do -- namely, to come back into His presence -- the Lord's prayer is a beautiful motto and has all of the elements that the prayer of the brother of Jared had in it. I do not know that I can quote it word for word, but I think I know the...
Matthew 6  (Inspired Version)

10. Our Father who art in heaven,

We know who He is, as near to us as our Lord and Savior; and I feel that in calling upon Him and being so near, I can have greater faith and be assured of an answer, more so than if I prayed to some ethereal, mysterious god. I do not know how we can have faith unto salvation in any such being. Certainly we cannot -- we know this.

10. Our Father who art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

11. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is done in heaven.

Here, "Thy will be done" is what the brethren have been speaking about tonight. "Thy will be done. Help me to do Your will." If we can add to these words, "I want Your will to be my will, my will here on earth to be as Your will in heaven."

12. Give us this day, our daily bread.

Shouldn't we pray over every daily need -- in our labors, in our school, in our relationship with one another as husband, wife, fathers, and mothers, and children? Joseph Smith said that there is not the least thing but what we should pray over it, our flocks, our herds, our daily work, in everything. And we would insult the Lord not to include them in our prayers, because He hears and understands them all. He has been through this veil of tears, through this earthly and mortal existence, at least twice that we know of. What a strength to us to know that He has been through this experience, and we now pray for His help, and think not of tomorrow, but for today -- this day, our daily bread. And think not of yesterday. It is gone. Tomorrow is not here yet.

13. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.

An acknowledgement and the spirit of repentance, asking for another gift, the gift of repentance, and at the same time an expression of love and forgiveness for our fellows and our associates. Brothers and sisters, if you have aught against your brother or sister, or you think you have done wrong, pray for them and forgive them, and this will make everything right between each and everyone of you. And above all, seek repentance and that we may not sin in the sight of God.
15. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever.

I am nothing in the sight of God, and all that I have and am, I owe to Him. This acknowledgement of humility will give us strength in Him in the Spirit of God. And thus ends the prayer, and if I could presume to add anything to it, I would add: "Give me your Spirit in all my affairs. This whole day, help me to keep it. Then I know that I can become like You. I can do Your will."

And that Spirit, I know, is the very attributes of God. If we have it continuously until we obtain a fullness of it, we will become like Him and see Him as He is, and be like Him and enter into His presence. And this is our whole aim in life, that our calling and election may be made sure, and come back to Father, which I pray I and you may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:310 November 17, 1963 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
November 17, 1963
Must Be Alert Always;
We Receive Blessings of God Through President Johnson;
D.& C. 93; Loyalty to the Prophet

I am delighted to meet with my friends and brothers and sisters again. I feel wholly dependent upon the Lord and His Spirit in what I shall say tonight, and pray that your faith will be exercised to that end. After all, you came here tonight to be fed and instructed, and I am sure you all want it from the Lord.

I am grateful for the light of truth in my life, and the testimony that I have received over the years, increasing day by day, for the truthfulness of this work. Every day to me is a living miracle. When I contemplate how they are arrayed against us, against those who are trying to live the fullness of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, the powers of satan and his imps that are assigned to us to try to bring about our destruction; when we realize the great opposition that is placed opposite this work, you cannot attempt to live these principles except you expect that satan will be on your trail every minute. I suspect this is the reason many of us in our slumbers get caught up with and find ourselves in by and forbidden paths, because we are not alert.
continually.
I know that many times questions have been asked: How can we get and keep the Spirit of God? How do we know when we have it? This is the key to all of our problems. The solution of them is getting the Spirit of God. Jesus has set the pattern. He is the great Prototype. And we have in Section 93 of the Doctrine and Covenants an account of how He obtained this great blessing until He obtained the fullness. Now these things are not all gained in a moment.

Joseph Smith is also a wonderful example of how the Lord prepares a man, if he is obedient, for a great and mighty work. How many years it took for him to become prepared for his great mission should be an example to us. We should not be discouraged, brethren and sisters. I know this is one of the most terrible weapons that satan has to work with, the tool, as it is often called, of discouragement. We should be encouraged by the fact that we are led of the holy Priesthood, and that God is blessing this people from day to day and holding us, as it were, in His hand.

We have before us hope and faith for the greatest blessings that God can bestow upon men and women; for it is His glory and His purpose to bring to pass the eternal life and immortality of His children. I know that President Johnson holds the keys of power for our salvation. We cannot receive the Holy Spirit for our guide and companion to help us accomplish these things except we come through him. Sisters, you cannot obtain that Spirit except you receive it through your being one with your husbands. I would like to read and comment on verses of Section 93. See if we can get some help from this source.

D.& C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

There is the plan of salvation in one verse if we can get it in one verse. I would like to read that one again.

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;
This means coming to a point where we have our calling and election made sure; for we will not see Him unless we have this blessing and the endowments and ordinances connected with it.

2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
How are we going to get that light, except we get it through His servants, whom He has appointed His servants? Through no other source can it be had.

3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --
4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.
5. I was in the world and received of my Father, and the works of him were plainly manifest.
As they have been made manifest through the Prophet Joseph Smith in this dispensation.

6. And John saw and bore record of the fulness of my glory, and the fulness of John's record is hereafter to be revealed.
7. And he bore record, saying: I saw his glory, that he was in the beginning, before the world was;

8. Therefore, in the beginning the Word was, for he was the Word, even the messenger of salvation --
9. The light and the Redeemer of the world; the Spirit of truth, who came into the world, because the world was made by him, and in him was the life of men and the light of men.

10. The worlds were made by him; men were made by him; all things were made by him, and through him, and of him.
11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.
12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace.
Even He who was without sin did not receive of the fulness at the first, but by
13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;
14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.
16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.
18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.
20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

Following the exact example of the Master, Himself. You shall have a fullness with Him. And as Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith tells us, we will be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ, receiving of the same fullness with Him, becoming the sons of God.

21. And now, verily I say unto you, I was in the beginning with the Father, and am the Firstborn;
22. And all those who are begotten through me are partakers of the glory of the same, and are the church of the Firstborn.

23. Ye were also in the beginning with the Father; that which is Spirit, even the Spirit of truth;
24. And truth is knowledge of things as they are, and as they were, and as they are to come;

25. And whatsoever is more or less than this is the spirit of that wicked one who was a liar from the beginning.
26. The Spirit of truth is of God. I am the Spirit of truth, and John bore record of me, saying: He received a fulness of truth, yea, even of all truth;

27. And no man receiveth a fulness unless he keepeth his commandments.

28. He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things.

There is the pattern, there is the way. Ye who keepeth the commandments shall know and receive all truth and be glorified in truth and know all things.

29. Man was also in the beginning with God. Intelligence, or the light of truth, was not created or made, neither indeed can be.

30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.

32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;

This means finally in the resurrection, when the spirit and the body are connected forever, after having our calling and election made sure. Then there is a fullness of joy.

34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.

35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.

37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.

That is how to put that enemy under our feet is to obtain a fullness of light and truth, until we have conquered death, hell, and the devil.

38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

Now here is what happens:

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

When is this people going to get rid of these traditions of the fathers, and cease being disobedient to the light and instructions that are conveyed to us from week to week and month to month? The Prophet goes on to teach that these brethren, including the Prophet Joseph, himself, were remiss in raising their children in light and truth; and called them to repentance, or they would lose their place. We have got to have it, brothers and sisters, before we can pass it on to our children. You cannot give that which you do not have.

As I contemplate the examples that have been set by those who have gone before us, I see a secret here. In order to obtain a fullness of light and truth requires a total loyalty and obedience. Total! There is no halfway business about it. There is no halfway house. I fear that too many who have attached themselves to this work have come and are still keeping reservations, have come with them and are keeping them. Brigham, Heber, John Taylor and those who have succeeded them since, gave their total loyalty and obedience to the servants of God over them. Here is the glorious example that I see in their lives. Brigham Young once said, "I was careful to follow the words of Joseph." We will do well, my dear brothers and sisters, to follow carefully the words of President Johnson in our day and time, to draw nearer to the servants of God.

As I said in the beginning, we cannot get the Spirit of God except we be one with him. Brethren who hold the Priesthood, and you sisters likewise through your husbands, and your children will likewise receive it, and the children raised in light and truth.

Lorenzo Snow gave one of the most beautiful sentiments that I have ever read when he called upon husbands and wives to so conduct themselves and attach themselves to the Priesthood that they should become pure element, the Holy Ghost being upon them continually. The Spirit of God is the attributes of God. If we become full of it, attain to a fullness of it through obedience and living worthy of receiving the endowments and ordinances of the House of God, we will then receive a fullness, and not until.

The spirit of oneness is the secret of it. That is the Spirit of God. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son. If it requires this for them to be one, it requires it for us to be one with them, and one together. What a power will be manifested when a people is raised up that can be one with President Johnson and move as one man.

We hope to get to this state. We hold reservations and say, "Well, I will obey this, but not that." It requires total loyalty, brothers and sisters. Those who have left the work, the greatest sin has been becoming a traitor to the brethren. The Prophet Joseph called upon the saints in his time: "See to it, O ye Twelve and all saints, that you do not betray the revelations of God, or the brethren, lest innocent blood be upon your skirts and you go down to hell."

Let us be appreciative, brothers and sisters, that we have the order of Priesthood which will save and exalt us. Draw near to it with all that we have and are. Let our efforts, our obedience, our loyalty be total and absolute, that there be no halfway measures in our lives. Let us be one together in the hands of God, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:317  December 8, 1963  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 8, 1963
Sacrifices Are Privileges and Blessings; Faith; Lecture Seven

I might mention something that came to my mind here tonight as I was contemplating these programs that we are called upon to participate in. I have heard remarks made from different sources how it becomes sometimes backbreaking to respond to the requests that are made by the Priesthood both here and down south. I would like to just give you a little something to think about when you get to thinking like this.

Remember what the saints did out of their poverty in Kirtland, in building the temple there, and what they did out of their poverty in building the great temple in Nauvoo, this out of their dire and utter poverty. If you think you are hard done by, consider the blessings that are going to come forth from these sacrifices, if you want to call them such. But you just ask yourselves, where is the sacrifice? Where is it? All of these things are contributing for our good and welfare, and eventually the possibility of building temples ourselves, for ourselves. Above all, the thing that we are building most is a character.
We cannot know that we please God save we know that our course is pleasing to Him, our course of life. We cannot have the faith that is necessary to the enjoyment of life eternal, except we know we please Him. The great compliment that was paid to Enoch and Abel and other great men and patriarchs was that they had this testimony that they pleased God.

God desires nothing but the salvation and the eternal life of His children. This is His work and His glory. All things that are required of us through His servants are for our benefit. God can do without your money or your sacrifices as far as He is concerned. He can raise up what He needs from any source that He desires. But it is for our good that He requires these things in the way that He does, that we may become like Him.

I feel, brethren and sisters, that we should understand very thoroughly why we are here. We were valiant in the great struggle between Jesus and Lucifer on the other side, or we would not have come thus far in the work in which we are engaged. Having acquired this position, we were sent down into the earth for the next step in our progress and exaltation, to come here into this mortal dominion where Lucifer had been cast down after the great struggle over there, and forget our former existence. He has dominion in this earth, believe me. It was given him for the specific purpose that those who had been faithful should come down and work in the midst of it and thus work out their salvation, resisting that power and evil influence that they might become like the Gods. Lucifer himself, in tempting Eve, said, "Take of this fruit that you may know good and evil and thus become as the Gods." We are here to eschew evil and choose good and correct principles, and choose that course of life which will lead us back into His presence.

God gave us all, in its incipient stages, the gift of faith, which is the power by which we accomplish these things. This faith will lead us unto repentance and into obeying the ordinances of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, about which we learned over there. Then the greatest gift of all, next to life itself, is the gift of the Holy Ghost, to lead us into all truth and give the strength and the power, by the power of our faith, to resist this evil dominion in which we are placed and come back to Father.

I feel it might be well to listen to some of the words of Joseph. It was said by Jesus to the Nephites, "Great are the words of Isaiah." To us, I desire to say, "Great are the words of Joseph." Brigham and Heber and John, as I have said before, were distinguished by the degree that they followed carefully the words of Joseph Smith, as was cited to us by Brother Draper tonight. John Taylor said that he obeyed every requirement and law and every word that proceeded from the mouth of Joseph Smith, the Prophet, the Prophet of Almighty God.

I desire that the Lord shall bless me as I do some reading here tonight of the words of Joseph, from Lecture Seven. I was reflecting to my family this morning -- as I recall the time that I spent in the classes, meetings of the Church -- I can't remember that the doctrines were taught there that we have had here, largely in the vein that we must change our characters to become like God. I had read about these things, but they were never emphasized by the leaders to the degree that they must be emphasized if we are to receive our salvation and exaltation in the presence of God. As a matter of fact, they have done away with these Lectures on Faith, these words of Joseph. What a pity, because in them is eternal life and the means by which we may learn to become like Him.

Lecture Seven

3. Let us here offer some explanation in relation to faith, that our meaning may be clearly comprehended. We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion instead of physical force. It is by words, instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith. God said, "Let there be light, and there was light." Joshua spake, and the great lights which God had created stood still. Elijah commanded, and the heavens were stayed for the space of three years and six months, so that it did not rain: he again commanded and the heavens gave forth rain. All this was done by faith. And the Savior says, "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, say to this mountain, 'Remove,' and it will remove; or say to that sycamine tree, 'Be ye plucked up, and planted in the midst of the sea,' and it shall obey you." Faith, then, works by words; and with these its mightiest works have been, and will be, performed.

Thus we realize the great power of prayer. All of these things were done by a prayer to God, or calling upon God in the power of the Priesthood, and through their faith to accomplish these righteous ends, as they were moved upon by the Holy Ghost. Thus it became the word of God. Our faith is vain except it be moved upon through the power of the Holy Ghost, through words.

4. It surely will not be required of us to prove that this is the principle upon which all eternity has acted and will act; for every reflecting mind must know that it is by reason of this power that all the hosts of heaven perform their works of wonder, majesty, and glory. Angels move from place to place by virtue of this power;

Ever thought of that?

4. ...it is by reason of it that they are enabled to descend from heaven to earth; and were it not for the power of faith they never could be ministering spirits to them who should be heirs of salvation, neither could they act as heavenly messengers, for they would be destitute of the power necessary to enable them to do the will of God.

5. It is only necessary for us to say that the whole visible creation, as it now exists, is the effect of faith. It was faith by which it was framed, and it is by the power of faith that it continues in its organized form, and by which the planets move round their orbits and sparkle forth their glory. So, then, faith is truly the first principle in the science of theology, and, when understood, leads the mind back to the beginning, and carries it forward to the end; or, in other words, from eternity to eternity.

6. As faith, then, is the principle by which the heavenly hosts perform their works, and by which they enjoy all their felicity, we might expect to find it set forth in a revelation from God as the principle upon which his creatures here below must act in order to obtain the felicities enjoyed by the saints in the eternal world; and that, when God would undertake to raise up men for the enjoyment of himself, he would teach them the necessity of living by faith, and the impossibility there was of their enjoying the blessedness of eternity without it, seeing that all the blessings of eternity are the effects of faith.

We see them. We are sent down into this lone and dreary world as pilgrims to walk by faith.

Hebrews 11

27. ...for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

Those are some words to live by.

27. ...for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.

Lecture Seven (cont'd)
7. Therefore it is said, and appropriately too, that "Without faith it is impossible to please God." If it should be asked -- Why is it impossible to please God without faith? The answer would be -- Because without faith it is impossible for men to be saved; and as God desires the salvation of men, he must, of course, desire that they should have faith; and he could not be pleased unless they had, or else He could be pleased with their destruction.

8. From this we learn that the many exhortations which have been given by inspired men, to those who had received the word of the Lord to have faith in him, were not mere commonplace matters, but were for the best of all reasons, and that was -- because without it there was no salvation, neither in this world nor in that which is to come. When men begin to live by faith they begin to draw near to God; and when faith is perfected they are like him; and because he is saved they are saved also; for they will be in the same situation he is in, because they have come to him; and when he appears they shall be like him, for they will see him as he is.

9. As all the visible creation is an effect of faith, so is salvation also -- we mean salvation in its most extensive latitude of interpretation, whether it is temporal or spiritual. In order to have this subject clearly set before the mind, let us ask what situation must a person be in in order to be saved? or what is the difference between a saved man and one who is not saved? We answer, from what we have before seen of the heavenly worlds, they must be persons who can work by faith and who are able, by faith, to be ministering spirits to them who shall be heirs of salvation;

You notice this proposition of ministering spirits to heirs of salvation. This means that there must be such faith that the spirits of just men made perfect will minister to mortal men who are heirs to salvation. This is the law to those who have their calling and election made sure, and have the Second Comforter.

9. ...and they must have faith to enable them to act in the presence of the Lord, otherwise they cannot be saved. And what constitutes the real difference between a saved person and one not saved is...

We might say this word "saved" means, in its ultimate sense, "exaltation".

9. ...is -- the difference in the degree of their faith -- one's faith has become perfect enough to lay hold upon eternal life, and the other's has not.
Isn't that simple?

9. ...But to be a little more particular, let us ask -- Where shall we find a prototype into whose likeness we may be assimilated, in order that we may be made partakers of life and salvation? or, in other words, where shall we find a saved being? for if we can find a saved being, we may ascertain without much difficulty what all others must be in order to be saved. We think that it will not be a matter of dispute, that two beings who are unlike each other cannot both be saved; for whatever constitutes the salvation of one will constitute the salvation of every creature which will be saved; and if we find one saved being in all existence, we may see what all others must be, or else not be saved. We ask, then, were is the prototype? or where is the saved being? We conclude, as to the answer of this question, there will be no dispute among those who believe the Bible, that it is Christ: all will agree in this, that he is the prototype or standard of salvation; or, in other words, that he is a saved being. And if we should continue our interrogation, and ask how it is that he is saved? the answer would be -- because he is a just and holy being; and if he were anything different from what he is, he would not be saved; for his salvation depends on his being precisely what he is and nothing else; for if it were possible for him to change, in the least degree, so sure he would fail of salvation and lose all his dominion, power, authority and glory, which constitute salvation; for salvation consists in the glory, authority, majesty, power and dominion which Jehovah possesses and in nothing else; and no being can possess it but himself or one like him. Thus says John, in his first epistle, third chapter, second and third verses: "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. And every man that hath this hope in him, purifieth himself, even as he is pure." Why purify themselves as he is pure? Because if they do not they cannot be like him.

10. ...And the Saviour says, Matthew v. 48: "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." If any should ask, why all these sayings? the answer is to be found from what is before quoted from John's epistle, that when he (the Lord) shall appear, the saints will be like him; and if they are not holy, as he is holy, and perfect, as he is perfect, they cannot be like him; for no being can enjoy his glory without possessing his perfections and holiness, no more than they could reign in his kingdom without His power. ***

12. All these sayings put together give as clear an account of the state of the glorified saints as language could give -- the works that Jesus had done they were to do, and greater works than those which he had done among them should they do, and that because he went to the Father. He does not say that they should do these works in time; but they should do greater works, because he went to the Father. He says in the 24th verse: "Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory." These sayings, taken in connection, make it very plain that the greater works which those that believed on his name were to do were to be done in eternity, where he was going and where they should behold his glory. He had said, in another part of his prayer, that he desired of his Father that those who believed on him should be one in him, as he and the Father were one in each other. "Neither pray I for these (the apostles) alone, but for them also who shall believe on me through their words, that they all may be one"; that is, they who believe on him through the apostles' words, as well as the apostles themselves, "that they all may be one, as thou, Father, are in me and I in thee; that they also may be one in us." ***

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed; and on this hinge turns the door of salvation. Now there is eternal exaltation, or dissolution, stated very simple there. And Brigham Young was not the author of the doctrine of dissolution. In fact, Brigham Young said he only taught what he had learned from the Prophet.

17. Who cannot see, then, that salvation is the effect of faith? for, as we have previously observed, all the heavenly beings work by this principle; and it is because they are able so to do that they are saved, for nothing but this could save them. And this is the lesson which the God of heaven, by the mouth of his holy prophets, has been endeavoring to teach to the world. Hence we are told, that "Without faith it is impossible to please God"; and that salvation is of faith, that it might be by grace, to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed. Romans iv. 16. And that Israel, who followed after the law of righteousness, has not attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law; for they stumbled at that stumbling stone. Romans ix. 32. And Jesus said unto the man who brought his son to him, to get the devil who tormented him cast out: "If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth." Mark ix. 23. These with a multitude of other scriptures which might be quoted plainly set forth the light in which the Saviour, as well as the Former-day Saints, viewed the plan of salvation. That it was a system of faith --
A system of faith, if you please.

17. ...it begins with faith, and continues by faith; and every blessing which is obtained in relation to it is the effect of faith, whether it pertains to this life or that which is to come. To this all the revelations of God bear witness. If there were children of promise, they were the effects of faith, not even the Saviour of the world excepted. "Blessed is she that believed," said Elizabeth to Mary, when she went to visit her, "for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord." Luke i. 45.

See the faith as between those two blessed women.

17. ...Nor was the birth of John the Baptist the less a matter of faith; for in order that his father Zacharias might believe he was struck dumb. And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it.

Nothing was withheld. And nothing will be withheld from this people when their faith is sufficient to receive them. I wonder if we realize them and think about these things, brothers and sisters. If we do not have the enjoyment of the things we long for, it is because we do not have the faith, as I have said many times before. If you are not happy in your families, it is because you do not have enough faith. If you, brethren, are not happy in your relationship with your brethren, it is because you do not have faith in Priesthood, which is God. You do not have faith in promises. Believe me, there have been some great and mighty promises made for this people. If we are not enjoying them, you can see the reason why. Now giving some few examples of this faith:

17. ...He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter. ***

18. These sayings put together show the apostle's views most clearly, so as to admit of no mistake on the mind of any individual. He says that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given unto them through the knowledge of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. And if the question is asked, how were they to obtain the knowledge of God? (for there is a great difference between believing in God and knowing him -- knowledge implies more than faith. And notice, that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given through the knowledge of God) the answer is given -- through faith they were to obtain this knowledge; and, having power by faith to obtain the knowledge of God, they could with it obtain all other things which pertain to life and godliness.

We cannot be saved without knowledge. We have got to know some things. Some of these things, brothers and sisters, can only be obtained in the House of God. How we need them. We cannot pass by the Gods without knowledge. We cannot obtain this knowledge except through faith.

19. By these sayings of the apostle, we learn that it was by obtaining a knowledge of God that men got the knowledge of all things which pertain to life and godliness, and this knowledge was the effect of faith; so that all things which pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith.

20. From this we may extend as far as any circumstances may require, whether on earth or in heaven, and we will find it the testimony of all inspired men, or heavenly messengers, that all things that pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith and nothing else; all learning, wisdom and prudence fail, and everything else as a means of salvation but faith. This is the reason that the fishermen of Galilee could teach the world -- because they sought by faith, and by faith obtained. And this is the reason that Paul counted all things but filth and dross -- what he formerly called his gain he called his loss; yea, and he counted all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord. Philippians iii. 7, 8, 9, and 10. Because to obtain the faith by which he could enjoy the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord, he had to suffer the loss of all things. This is the reason that the Former-day Saints knew more, and understood more, of heaven and of heavenly things than all others beside, because this information is the effect of faith -- to be obtained by no other means. And this is the reason that men, as soon as they lose their faith, run into strifes, contentions, darkness, and difficulties; for the knowledge which tends to life disappears with faith, but returns when faith returns; for when faith comes it brings its train of attendants with it -- apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, teachers, gifts, wisdom, knowledge, miracles, healings, tongues, interpretation of tongues, etc. All these appear when faith appears on the earth, and disappear when it disappears from the earth; for these are the effects of faith, and always have attended, and always will, attend it. For where faith is, there will the knowledge of God be also, with all things which pertain thereto -- revelations, visions, and dreams, as well as every necessary thing, in order that the possessors of faith may be perfected, and obtain salvation; for God must change, otherwise faith will prevail with him. And he who possesses it will, through it, obtain all necessary knowledge and wisdom, until he shall know God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, whom he has sent -- whom to know is eternal life.

Now, brothers and sisters, if we have not obtained, it is because of lack of faith. We need to draw nearer together as brothers and sisters under the leadership of President Johnson and this order of Priesthood, sustaining it with all of our might, mind, and strength. There is a great principle of faith in the holy Priesthood. Why? Because Priesthood is God, and that is having faith in God. We have obtained knowledge and testimonies of the leaders and of the Apostles regarding the nature and the Being whom we worship as Father, and His Son, Jesus Christ. Our faith must take over from there to enable us to become like Them. We cannot see Them again until we become like Them. This I pray we might do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:329  January 5, 1964  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 5, 1964
Reprove Through Love; There Is No Neutral Ground

It is good to be with you again my dear brothers and sisters, and to mingle my voice with my brethren in praise to the Lord for His goodness unto us, and to speak the truth of heaven, which I desire with all my heart to do tonight, that I may be dictated by the Spirit of God.

I love this work and the truths of heaven more than life itself, because they are life to me -- life eternal. The Gospel and the blessings of the holy Priesthood I appreciate above all things in my life, for it has given me all the blessings I have desired from the time I was a child. The fulfillment that the Gospel has brought me, that the ordinances and blessings and sealings of the holy Priesthood have brought me, are indescribable. For these things I thank my Heavenly Father. My heart swells with gratitude in knowing that I am associated with His servant, who bears the keys of power in the earth, who hold the keys of my salvation, particularly President Johnson. I know, as we all should know, that I cannot get the Spirit of God and the blessings of the Holy Ghost except I be one with him. I can come to God only through His servants whom He has appointed and chosen, and through whom He gives His mind and will in the direction to His people.

Brothers and sisters, these are the choicest things we have, and we ought to be more humble. And I feel, myself, to be more humble and penitent in the sight of God and under the direction of His servant. I feel very keenly, more than I can describe, the terrible responsibility that is mine in raising up the family that God has given me, and in magnifying the Priesthood which He has given me to carry on in His work. I sometimes tremble when I think of these things because of the magnitude that they have in truth; and I stand helpless before God without His Spirit and without His Priesthood and power. I am grateful for these things and for the opportunity of serving Him and being associated with His servants.

I know that this work is true. I know, by the Holy Ghost, that Joseph Smith was and is a Prophet of the living God, that he serves under our Lord Jesus Christ and our Father Adam. And I know that Father's servant upon the earth today, who holds the keys, is Brother Johnson. I know that this is the only power and authority on the whole face of the earth that can give salvation to the souls of men; and I testify of these things to you, my brothers and sisters.

To me the greatest key, the greatest gift to enable us to raise up our families, our wives and children in light and truth is the gift of faith actuated by the power of love through the holy Priesthood. Brothers and sisters, have you ever thought of the tremendous power there is in that combination of faith and love? This is the power of the Gods, of course through the Priesthood. None of these things become a power unto salvation except it be by the Priesthood. And brethren, we can only hold our wives and children by magnifying and sustaining Priesthood, that which we bear ourselves -- and we cannot do that without being one with our file leader, the one that our Father has chosen to lead us.

I am sure, brothers and sisters, that we would do away with all the problems and troubles in our families -- and God knows they are multitidinous -- if we would rule with love and kindness and long-suffering, reproving betimes with sharpness when moved upon by the Holy Ghost, but afterward showing forth much love. Section 121 is still my guide, at least, in exercising the powers of the Priesthood in behalf of my family and my associates in this work. God is love. This is one of His characteristics, and He does all things by the power of the Priesthood through the principle of faith. And because He does this He expects us to do the same.

Sisters, are you shouting and screaming at your children? You will never get their love and confidence by any such course. Brethren, are you shouting and screaming and cursing your wives and children, losing your tempers? When you do, you have a thousand devils in your soul. You have invited false and delusive spirits, and you have lost the Spirit of God. The Spirit of God is in no such thing. Reproving betimes with sharpness is indeed an attribute of the Spirit of God, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost, because it is the Spirit of God. But let us be sure it is the Holy Ghost and not a thousand false and delusive spirits which we have invited in because of our loss of control.

Look at the life of the Savior. The thing that dominated His whole activity was His love for Father and His love for His brothers and sisters, for all mankind, for whom He brought the atonement. What greater love could a being have than this, that he lay down his life for his friends? And love dominated His whole life. Can we do less and become like Him?

I think nothing cuts me more than to see a person lose control. And when they do, they are actuated by the devil. It is just that simple. I have observed before -- the brethren have many times, brothers and sisters -- that when we accept this work and are baptized by the Priesthood of God, receive the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and receive the Priesthood and the blessings of the Priesthood, we can no longer get on neutral ground again, and we have begun then, to make war against Lucifer. He is making war against us, because it is his job to destroy our faith and to destroy our very lives. From then on, brothers and sisters, we are actuated either by the Spirit of God or the spirit of the devil. When we lose the one, the other will come in. When we lose the Spirit of God, it is most difficult to get it back again. The greatest attribute -- if one could be called the greatest -- of the attributes of the Spirit of God, is love. Put love and your faith together, the power of faith, and you will conquer death, hell, and the devil. You will save your children and your wives and you will be exalted in the heavens and become like God and see Him as He is. And I pray that we may do this, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:332  February 2, 1964  SLC

Salt Lake City Utah
February 2, 1964
Family Order of Heaven; Friendship Through Priesthood

I am grateful to be here, brothers and sisters, and feel keenly the responsibility in responding to this call. I pray for the Holy Spirit to guide my remarks that the word of the Lord may be given.

I feel to take a cue from Brother Johnson in any instructions that I am called upon to give this people, and I note that he has been bearing heavily on the matter of our training our children up in light and truth -- teaching and training our wives and children in light and truth. I suppose it has been a favorite subject of mine as well.

These family ties that God has called upon us to form are being formed under a law of the holy Priesthood, the law of Abraham; and we should be conducting our family responsibilities by the power of the Priesthood.
Brother Hammon mentioned here tonight that women should not be counseling their husbands. This is a matter of Priesthood, just the same as men are not authorized to write or do any other thing that is the prerogatives of this order of the Priesthood. It is a matter of Priesthood, sisters.

Brethren, it is a matter of Priesthood by which we have the right to hold these women and to bring these children into the world under the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage. If we will only bear in mind, brethren, it is only so long as we magnify this Priesthood that we are going to be able to do that which is required of us, and carry out the undertakings that God has called upon us to do.

We must realize constantly, brethren, that this is the Family Order of Heaven and a law of the holy Priesthood. It is the law by which our Father Michael has attained unto Godhood, and by which we, likewise, if we are to become joint heirs with Jesus Christ and heirs of God, will arrive at the same place. In this I fear, brothers and sisters, we treat lightly the things of God. Not only do we treat the teachings that we have received, but the very conduct of our family affairs and raising up our children and instructing and directing our wives, altogether too lightly. I am sure the same thing applies with regard to the Economic Law of Heaven, as well as this social law, as well -- and I suppose if any can be worse than another -- that is treating the Priesthood itself lightly.

While Brother Hammon was speaking, I was reminded of an item that Brother Joseph Musser once delivered to the saints as the word of God, and I would like to read it to you for the benefit of the sisters especially, as well as their husbands.

I say to the sisters, seek to have confidence in your husbands, and believe that they are capable of leading you; and when you seek instruction, believe them capable of giving it to you; and be faithful, humble, and obedient to them. Their feelings should not be concentrated in you, but your feelings should be in them, and theirs should be in those who lead them in the Priesthood. Their feelings are concentrated in the Lord their God and what is ahead, and there is where they should be. You should be glad to see them step forward and walk onward in the path of their duty, and not require them to devote themselves to you to the exclusion of things and duties of life which lie before them. As they progress and lead on, you will feel to travel in the same road. This is the order, and if order is maintained in this thing, you will see the beauty of it; and it will be a satisfaction to you and them to believe that your husband, he who is at your head, is progressing in the things of God. That should be a satisfaction to you, and it will be, if you are inspired by the right spirit and feeling. In this way you will have happiness, and see good times.

I remember many years ago, Brother Hammon speaking to the saints, making a statement that thrilled me then, and it has been a matter that has been quite prominent in my mind ever since. He expressed the feeling that Gladys was a friend as well as his wife. I wonder, sisters, if you know what this means. I think we should learn to appreciate what a friend really is. This brings to mind the statement of the Lord contained in Section 84, when speaking to Joseph Smith and six Elders who had met together and upon whom he confirmed the highest order of Priesthood on that occasion. He said, "You are my friends, and from henceforth I will call you friends." This means, putting it in as few words as we can, that he trusted them.

A real friend, brothers and sisters, is one in whom we can trust implicitly, or have confidence in -- one who understands us, and we understand him or her. In the loyalty that we have and the love that we have for the holy principles of eternal salvation, which we enjoy together, we can go forward under the gift and power of God and become the friends of God. Who is my brother and my sister? My brothers and friends, first and foremost, are my fellow brethren in the holy order of the Priesthood. These are truly my friends, and I love them above any other persons upon the earth. I feel to say, with Heber C. Kimball, I love them more than my wives. If this were not so, what I read to you here tonight certainly could not apply to me. If I am a true brother and friend to my brethren, I do not have much fear about how I am going to teach and instruct and have my relations with my wives and children. Above all, of course, I want to be a friend of God.

This is a most beautiful work, brothers and sisters, if we can only catch the spirit of it and try with all our heart, might, mind, and strength to indeed live as a family of heaven. Until we get to this point, Brother Johnson cannot use us. God cannot use us through him. We are not going to be that people that the Lord can trust, and to bring forward to endow and bless and sustain. Until we get into this very sacred relationship with one another and with our Priesthood head and with God, I cannot see how we are going to see this
I feel to not go further, but to ask the Lord to bless you with the spirit of the Family Order of Heaven. Above all, in this thing, let us remember the power of the Priesthood. The power of the Priesthood, brothers and sisters, is the Holy Ghost. We may have a calling and an ordination, brethren, but it is of none effect except it be administered, or accompanied, by the Holy Spirit. If it is not there, if it is not with us and being administered under that power, then it just is not done, and we are in trouble. We open the way for the devil to step in, and be led by false and delusive spirits. Bearing this authority and Priesthood and these sacred blessings, unless it be by the Holy Ghost, by the Spirit of revelation -- without which there is no salvation or exaltation -- we are lost indeed. May we catch this spirit. May we go forward in humility and with all diligence, seeking to obtain the confidence of our brethren and our Father in heaven, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 16, 1964
Blessings Offered and Rejected Turn to Cursings;
The Kingdom of God or Nothing

It is good to meet again, brethren and sisters, and enjoy the Spirit of God, which I pray will actuate my remarks tonight in concert with my brethren. I appreciate the remarks of Brother Jessop along the lines of repentance, which you know as well as I, we all need to do. I do not know whether we realize it, but this, too, is a gift of God, as is the glorious principle of faith which precedes it. I take it that we have had sufficient faith to come this far, and to be here tonight, and that we have come prepared to receive instruction and direction in the ways of God; and also to exercise this gift and receive it as the Lord may give it to us.

The Lord, as you well know, will take from those who reject His gifts and blessings when offered, all other light that we may have received. Another principle involved in this great gift, brothers and sisters, is not to keep repeating the offenses repented of. True repentance is a Godly sorrow for offenses committed, and a determination to never commit them again. The very nature of it is such, that if we repeat them, the former sins return, and we are in deeper trouble, if I can put it that way. So we cannot trifle with this glorious principle anymore than we can with faith, baptism, and the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost. Every one of these great principles, what we call the first four principles of the Gospel, are truly gifts of God. If we would only realize them, if we would keep this in mind, I think we would be more effectual in their exercise. While we are not baptized every day, yet we have the opportunity of renewing our covenants, occasionally I trust, through the sacrament, and through the spirit and gift of repentance, and above all, the gift of the Holy Ghost. If we would contemplate all of these glorious things in the light of gifts of God, I think we would be more humble, and be more effectual in their exercise, and receiving them, and honoring them, and determining never to treat them lightly. Gifts and blessings offered by the Lord, and rejected or trifled with, will be taken away, and then we are under the greater sin.

I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, to be associated with you as I am in this great cause of God. I feel nothing but gratitude in my heart for all that God has given me and mine, and to be associated with you and my brethren in this order of Priesthood.

It is inconceivable to me, brothers and sisters, how anyone can become associated with this work, which is the means of our salvation and exaltation, and trifle with it, and engage in it in a halfhearted manner. To me, it is all or nothing at all. I do not want any part of it unless I can give my full heart and strength to it. If we have the gift of the Holy Ghost, we have the right to revelation, to know these things, and to be diligently and earnestly engaged in the work of God. The greatest selfishness, as often said, is unselfishness. If we come into the work of God to serve and love it, love God and His principles with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, we are only serving ourselves. We are assuring ourselves our exaltation. If we can only save this one person, how great will be our joy in heaven, being able to do this. Along the way we can lead others into the same course, and how much greater will be our joy. If we come into it with all our heart, to serve God and our fellow man, to love Him and them with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, then we can be truly said to be servants of God.

Heber C. Kimball said: "The Kingdom of God or Nothing." He used to say a good deal about this. I think it is well to repeat it: "The Kingdom of God or Nothing." If we have any idea, my brothers and sisters, that we are going to get any vindication through the Church of Jesus Christ in its present state of apostasy, or any other way, we are going to be sadly mistaken and fall short of what we hope for. I am afraid altogether too many of us are clinging to this, either conscientiously or unconscientiously, subconscientiously, or whatever. If we are waiting around in any way to be vindicated in the eyes of our friends, of our relatives -- our outside friends, should we say -- or the Church, then we are still engaged in halfhearted measures. This is either the Priesthood of God we are dealing with, or it is not; and it is above and beyond the authority of the Church or it is not; and if it is, then we owe it all of our allegiance. The greatest sin in the eyes of God, my brothers and sisters, is the sin of disloyalty, to be a traitor to the work and to the covenants that we have entered into. Murder is not in it.

The last great charge they leveled against the Prophet Joseph Smith was the charge of treason. They could not make anything else stick, and they did not make this either. They charged him with it, and without a trial, took his life by the conspiracy of his former friends, every state of the union being represented in that conspiracy. The men that turned on him were traitors, guilty of the very thing that they were charging him with. When men turn traitor, they turn and fight against the work of God and go down to hell. Anyone who has received light and knowledge sufficient and turns altogether therefrom, becomes a son of perdition. That is why it is the greatest sin. We read in holy writ in many places, that a man is guilty of the unpardonable sin, and it need not necessarily be the shedding of another man's blood, but turning altogether from the light and knowledge which we have received, and crucifying Christ anew; this is the great sin of a traitor and disloyalty. Such a man cannot be trusted, of course.

So I say, it is all or nothing at all, brothers and sisters. I humbly pray that we may take greater comfort and strength and go forward with a greater determination to serve God and keep His commandments, to love Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. If we love Him we will obey Him and follow every word that proceeds forth from His mouth; and honor and sustain His servants, honor and sustain the covenants that we have entered into, abide in them unto the perfect day, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:339  March 5, 1964  SLC
Salt Lake City, Utah
March 5, 1964
Brought to a Test; Teach Our Children;
Must Have Testimony of Joseph Smith

It is good to be here, brothers and sisters, to partake of the Spirit that is here, and I pray it may continue in my behalf, and for the good and edification of you, my brothers and sisters. I happen to have with me my book here, and when Brother Jessop was speaking of the test, I thought of this that Brother Kimball gave. I think this is the one he had in mind and it might be well to read it here.

JD 4:375   Heber C. Kimball   Aug. 16, 1857

There will also be a day when you will be brought to the test -- when your very hearts and your inmost souls will melt within you because of the scenes that many of you will witness. Yes, you will be brought to that test, when you will feel as if everything within you would dissolve.

These are the things, I am sure, Brother Jessop had in mind. This condition is that which we will probably go through as we receive these tests that are involved, as described in "The Coming Crisis".

Then will be the time you will be tried whether you will stand the test or fall away.
I have not a doubt but there will be hundreds who will leave us and go away to our enemies. I wish they would go this fall: it might relieve us from much trouble; for if men turn traitors to God and His servants, their blood will surely be shed, or else they will be damned, and that too according to their covenants.

Brother Brigham would rather go to battle against the whole world with three hundred men filled with the Holy Ghost, than to have the whole of you, except you are united with us; and I am sure I would.

The day is to come when one shall chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. When that day comes, the Lord will make the enemies of His people flee as if there were thousands after them, when there is only one; and that is the way that God will deal with our enemies. The day of God Almighty is at hand, when He will show forth His power, and when He will deliver His people from all their enemies.
This has been the burden of Brother Johnson's counsel and instructions and his talks to us -- preparation for this day. He has promised us, as have other Prophets, that the Lord would send down fire from heaven if necessary to protect His faithful ones, His little ones, who I am sure we understand are His faithful ones, the saints.

How are we going to stand these tests? As always, brothers and sisters, the answer is very, very simple. To me this answer, or this principle, is the answer to all of our problems that we are called upon to solve, to change our character, by the servants of God; and that is to get and keep the Spirit of God. Sometimes when we think of tests we think of that which came upon Abraham and his brother. What a great contrast between the results of this test, as to these two men being cast into the fiery furnace. One was preserved and came out unscathed, the other was burned. Now what was the difference? Abraham had put around him the Holy Ghost, as Brother Barlow used to explain to us, as did the Three Hebrews who were cast into the fiery furnace. The difference was that the Holy Ghost surrounded them and preserved them against the fire of a furnace that was heated seven times hotter than usual.

This can be taken as a simile or an example as to the type of tests that we are going to be called upon to go through, if we have not already, when it would seem as if everything within us would dissolve. The sure power and strength that will enable us to pass the test is the Spirit of God. Make no mistake about it, brothers and sisters, the Lord is going to test us at our weakest points, in our weakest characteristics, to see if we will stand. No coward is going to enter into the Kingdom of God. It is going to take great courage. It takes great courage to go through the things that we are called upon to do.

Now, brothers and sisters, if we could get this one simple thing, and act upon it daily, how great would be our joy. There would not be the quarreling, and bickering, and the fighting that there is between husbands and wives, parents and children, between children in a family. How could there be any if the Spirit of God was in that house, and was upon that mother, and was upon that father when he comes home? Did you ever see anybody who had the Spirit of God upon them doing these things? The great injunction that the brethren have placed upon us is to become like God. Have you ever really realized, and tried to put it into practice, that the first step in becoming like God is to become like our file leaders, our head, to be one with him? Isn't this very simple, instead of reaching out here into the "ether" and thinking that we are like Him already? It is not done that way.

God places over us legitimate authority involved in the holy Priesthood, and the power of the Priesthood is the Holy Ghost. Sisters, remember that it is by virtue of the Priesthood of your husband that you are able to get the Spirit of God, and should have it to teach, and direct, and instruct your children. Oh, what a mighty work and mission there is, mothers, in shaping up the lives of these children. Brigham Young has told us very plainly that it is up to you. You are more or less the architects of their lives, of their characters, I should say. Train and raise them up under the gift and power of the Holy Ghost until they come to that proper age where they may be turned over to their father, and he will more or less finish their preparation, and turn them over to the holy Priesthood, or to their head, and place them where they belong. What a joy it should be in our lives to see these beautiful spirits grow up. What an opportunity, to train characters to become like God, and not require that they, when they come to the time of marriage to be sealed to their head, or for a young man to receive a wife or wives, to have to start all over and be trained by that person. There should be so ingrained in the lives of these children those characteristics that they will be able, then, to go forward and not have to waste the rest of their lives overcoming the terrible habits and the conditions of their youth, or their childhood. How much time is wasted and lost, because these children are not trained properly. Some are great and mighty spirits that the Lord will see that they have their place and opportunity, through their agency. It is a miracle to me how some of these children turn out, considering the background and the conditions and the environments out of which they have come. But believe me, brothers and sisters, we have a terrible responsibility, for these spirits were sent to us in this day and time to raise them up in light and truth.

Now as to ourselves. How can we teach our children unless we ourselves have those characteristics that are necessary? The matter of getting and keeping the Holy Spirit is a matter of skill. Have we realized this? If we become skillful, become proficient in getting it and keeping it, and having it with us always, we will overcome these old habits in our own lives that are necessary to overcome, if we are going to be like God. If we will continue day after day after day, having the Spirit of God will be a habit with us, that we will never lose it. What a wonderful habit this is. Even the Lord God will withdraw His Spirit from us to see what we will do. I cannot think of a greater test than this. But if we have the habit, if we have the character that is engendered by the habit of getting and keeping the Spirit of God, then we will be able, out of habit, more or less, to act on pure principle, pure naked principle, because it has become a part of our character.

The attributes of God are the Holy Spirit. If we will get and keep it then we will have His character and attributes. This is very simple. How simple and beautiful is the whole Gospel plan. The basic principle to all of this, brothers and sisters, I cannot help but repeat again and again, it is the holy Priesthood. Again I say, sisters, if you will honor and sustain and uphold your Priesthood head, and you know who it is, you will have the Spirit of God. This is fundamental. Brethren, if you will uphold and sustain your head, the Priesthood over you, President Johnson, you will have power in your Priesthood, namely the Holy Ghost. If we altogether can become such a people, we would rejoice forever more, under these glorious conditions.

While speaking upon the Holy Ghost, I cannot help but think of Joseph Smith, who acts in that office. How necessary it is for us to have a testimony concerning him, and how close he is to us, and that he is in the Godhead. Fundamental to our faith and the work of the Priesthood, and the basic doctrine of the holy Priesthood is that Adam, Michael, is our Father and God; that Jesus Christ was begotten by Him in the flesh, was the Firstborn in the spirit, and our Savior and Redeemer -- His Father being the Creator -- and that Joseph Smith was that third person mentioned, who made covenant with the other two before the population of the world was commenced by Father Adam, as to their various dispensations. We cannot subscribe to the doctrine that Adam is our Father and God, without acknowledging also that Joseph Smith is the Holy Ghost, or the Witness and Testator. If we will acknowledge him and cling to the doctrines and the teachings that he has given us, and remember that the Priesthood that is directing us has the right and the authority and the power to interpret and give us these same instructions today, and that they are still the same, this is one of the great joys and evidences we have of the truthfulness of this work. Let me read a thing or two on this subject regarding Joseph Smith again. He said this:

TPJS Page 363

He will make me be god to you in His stead,
Speaking of the Father.
...and the Elders to be mouth for me;
I will read this statement.

JD 5:179  Heber C. Kimball  August 23, 1857  SLC
...let me tell you, the Holy Ghost is a man; he is one of the sons of our Father and our God; and he is that man that stood next to Jesus Christ,

JD 6:95  Brigham Young  November 29, 1857  SLC
...the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost are one in essence, as the hearts of three men who are united in all things.
Isn't this a beautiful thing?
He [The Holy Ghost] is one of the three characters we believe in, whose office it is to administer to those of the human family who love the truth.

Brothers and sisters, I admonish you to speak often to your children regarding Joseph Smith, the Prophet. I had a little interesting experience in my family.
We had a lovely little boy come into our lives a few months ago, and we named him Joseph. I asked one of our other little boys, about three and a half years old, who this was. He said right quick, "The Holy Ghost." This rather pleased me in a way, giving the point in one way or another, that I know for myself, brothers and sisters, that I cannot think of anything, I cannot speak of anything that brings me more joy in instructing my children, than to tell them about Joseph, the Prophet; and about Jesus, and Father (from whence they came); and that they must learn to be like them -- yes, like Joseph Smith, like Jesus, and like our Father, who are one in all things, that they might go back to them; which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Be Anxiously Engaged

It is good to be here, brothers and sisters, and I would like to give you the word of the Lord out of the Doctrine and Covenants, too.

D.& C. 58

26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.

27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;

28. For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

I think this is the difference in the character of an individual, as pointed out by Christ. If a man asks you for a coat, give him two. If he asks you to walk a mile, walk two. He who is confining his obedience in the laws of the United Order to ten percent is a slothful servant, and doing only those things that he is barely commanded to do. This is not loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, for the power is in us. We have the holy Priesthood, we have the gift of the Holy Ghost, and the power is in us to step forth and do more than we are limitedly commanded to do.

We should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, supporting and sustaining the work of God, loving one another, sister wives; sustaining and upholding your children, sisters; and brethren, loving and cherishing your wives; and above all, sustaining and upholding the holy Priesthood, by which we receive all of our blessings. We are indeed slothful and ungrateful servants if we are not doing more than what most Mormons are doing.

It was pointed out very traumatically to me, brothers and sisters. There were a bunch of Mormons trying to live at plural marriage, and such type of lives, God will spew out of His mouth. Those characters who will become like Him are anxiously engaged in a good work, building up the Kingdom, establishing His Priesthood, and sustaining and upholding their covenants, abiding in their covenants all the day long with the Spirit of God upon them twenty-four hours a day. God help us to do this, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:346 May 17, 1964 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 17, 1964
Faith; Lecture Six

I, too, my dear brothers and sisters, pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, for your good as well as mine, and for the advancement of the work of God. I need the Spirit of revelation, as we all do, in order to do the work that Father has asked me to do, and that my file leader has directed me to do.

Each of you, my dear brothers and sisters, needs the Spirit of revelation in your particular jurisdiction. You mothers in the raising of your children, you fathers in the direction of your families, you are entitled to it. I think if we lack anything, it is this, along with sufficient faith to obtain it. I feel again to talk on this subject: Faith in God and in the Lord Jesus Christ, and in the divine mission of the Prophet Joseph Smith and his legal successors in the holy Priesthood.

The great object of our life and existence is to become like God. That promise of eternal life which He has given us is obtained through becoming one with Him, becoming like Him. I cannot do better than to refer again to the Lectures on Faith, by the Prophet Joseph Smith -- faith in God, whose character and attributes we have had enumerated so many, many times. But let us find out again. Let us be reminded again how this is done. Jesus,

Lecture Five

2. ...being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one.

Jesus prayed in behalf of His disciples that they might be one with Them as He was with His Father, that they might have the same love that He had for them, even the love of the Father. Then he shows how we can obtain this same oneness.

2. ...the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness.

If you please, brothers and sisters,

2. ...even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ;

In which we also must have faith, as Abel, Enoch, and all of the ancient patriarchs who were called upon to exercise their faith through the doctrine and principle and the ordinance of sacrifice.

3. ...through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Now, brothers and sisters, this is the way in which it is accomplished. We cannot obtain this oneness except through the power of faith, which is also a principle of action. And it is brought about through the love of the Father, through obedience. It is said that love is the fulfilling of the law. If we love God, we desire to become like Him, and we will keep His commandments. By obedience and by keeping the commandments, and by sacrificing all things of an earthly nature -- including our feelings and the old character that we have inherited from many generations back -- we then can know that our course of life is pleasing. I think it might be well to review again a little more on this aspect of this great subject.

Lecture Six

2. This knowledge

Concerning God that I have just spoken of.

2. ...supplies an important place in revealed religion; for it was by reason of it that the ancients were enabled to endure as seeing him who is invisible.

This is the very purpose we are sent upon the earth for, brethren and sisters, to walk by faith, as seeing Him who is invisible.

2. ...An actual knowledge to any person, that the course of life which he pursues is according to the will of God, is essentially necessary to enable him to have that confidence in God without which no person can obtain eternal life. It was this that enabled the ancient saints to endure all their afflictions and persecutions, and to take joyfully the spoiling of their goods, knowing (not believing merely) that they had a more enduring substance. (Heb. x. 34.)

3. Having the assurance that they were pursuing a course which was agreeable to the will of God, they were enabled to take, not only the spoiling of their goods, and the wasting of their substance, joyfully, but also to suffer death in its most horrid forms; knowing (not merely believing) that when this earthly house of their tabernacle was dissolved, they had a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. 2 Corinthians v. 1.

Can you picture, brothers and sisters, the faith of a people as described here?
He goes on to give a more complete picture, if you please.

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint;

Abel, Enoch, and others got to that point where they had this testimony by God Himself that they pleased Him. No doubt this brings us to a point of having had their calling and election made sure. But it took a pursuit of this course to bring them to that point.

4. ...for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost

Now listen to the description of those who have this faith:

4. ...they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it,

Not willingly because they have to, but because they love it!, brothers and sisters.

4. ...and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven, and of their having embraced the order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in him, necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

We see by this process that they have to overcome the world, to leave it and overcome it, and become one with the Priesthood which God has placed over us.

5. For a man to lay down his all, his character and reputation, his honor, and applause, his good name among men, his houses, his lands, his brothers and sisters, his wife and children, and even his own life also -- counting all things but filth and dross for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ -- requires more than mere belief or supposition that he is doing the will of God; but actual knowledge, realizing that, when those sufferings are ended, he will enter into eternal rest, and be a partaker of the glory of God.

This has been explained before about our Elder Brother, Jesus Christ.

6. For unless a person does know that he is walking according to the will of God, it would be offering an insult to the dignity of the Creator were he to say that he would be a partaker of his glory when he should be done with the things of this life. But when he has this knowledge, and most assuredly knows that he is doing the will of God, his confidence can be equally strong that he will be a partaker of the glory of God.
7. Let us here observe, that a religion that does not require the sacrifice of all things never has power sufficient to produce the faith necessary unto life and salvation;

No one needs suppose when he enters into this work that he is going to get off with anything less than the offering of all things; and if necessary to be peeled and peeled and peeled until he is humble enough to acknowledge the Lord, and go forward sustaining His work and Priesthood with all his heart, might, mind, and strength.

7. ...for, from the first existence of man, the faith necessary unto the enjoyment of life and salvation never could be obtained without the sacrifice of all earthly things. It was through this sacrifice, and this only, that God has ordained that men should enjoy eternal life; and it is through the medium of the sacrifice of all earthly things that men do actually know that they are doing the things that are well pleasing in the sight of God. When a man has offered in sacrifice all that he has for the truth's sake, not even withholding his life, and believing before God that he has been called to make this sacrifice because he seeks to do his will, he does know, most assuredly, that God does and will accept his sacrifice and offering, and that he has not, nor will not seek his face in vain. Under these circumstances, then, he can obtain the faith necessary for him to lay hold on eternal life.

I submit, brothers and sisters, that if we are not enjoying the blessings that God has promised the faithful, it is because we do not have the faith, or are not faithful. Joseph Smith said that all things must be obtained by this means. That which is not of faith is of sin, He said, as Cain proved when he offered something that was not according to the law, which did not look forward in faith to the future atonement and redemption to be wrought by the Only Begotten.

So we must obey every word, every law, every ordinance, and sacrifice everything that stands in our way of becoming like our Father. As Moroni said in the seventh chapter of Moroni, If we have this love, this pure love of Jesus Christ, it will be well with us. This love is to be obtained through faith, of course, and through our obedience. If we have it at the last day we shall see Him, Jesus Christ, as He is and become like Him, and enter into His presence as a joint heir with Him, and an heir of God; which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
You have to be up here, my dear brothers and sisters, to appreciate this sight. And I, too, feel that the servants of God on the other side, who have gone before us, are rejoicing. We should rejoice all the more knowing this, and knowing what exertions are being made in our behalf by them and those who lead us here at this time.

I just read a few of the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith. He said, "Examine your hearts and see if you are like God. As for me, I feel to repent of my sins and do better." I think we all should take a cue from these words. This is the burden of the message of the Prophet Joseph Smith, and all who have followed him since, in behalf of this people. I desire nothing less than the exaltation and salvation of the souls of Israel.

Abraham, Noah, Enoch, who yearned for this day when the earth should rest -- which time we are about to enter into -- and above all, Father Adam, Elijah and all of the others who have labored in behalf of the salvation and the redemption of this earth, are yearning over us; above all, the Lord Jesus Christ, who is our Mediator with God, and who has atoned for the original sins, and ours, if we will repent and obey Him.

In order to accomplish these things that are fundamental, we all understand, and I suppose it has become quite trite for us to keep repeating it, we must have the gift of the Holy Ghost. This is the greatest gift of all, which comes by the power of the holy Priesthood, which is the power of the Priesthood. If we would realize this, I think we would give greater heed to its directions and promptings. We would follow more carefully the instructions that are given us, if we would but realize that we cannot have it except through those who preside over us, husbands over wives and children, and the Priesthood over them.

We need above all, my brothers and sisters, the gifts of the Spirit, and above them, I would place the gift of revelation. The Prophet Joseph said that the
The Spirit of revelation is in connection with our having our calling and election made sure; that by cultivating this gift, remaining in the line of our duty and being obedient to the commandments of God that are given us; by cultivating this gift, we may have sudden intimation that they will be fulfilled now, or soon. Thus, by learning the Spirit of God, we come up unto life eternal, and become like Christ. Unless we do this we cannot enter into His presence.

The Spirit of revelation is very simple. The Prophet Joseph gave us a beautiful key through the revelations given in Sections 9 and 10, in which Oliver Cowdery was told how it operates. We were told there that it was by this Spirit of revelation, this burning in the soul, this speaking of the Spirit to our spirit, is the power by which Moses led the children of Israel through dry land through the Red Sea. This is the Spirit of calmness, the Spirit of love. It is a Spirit of purity. This Spirit, my brothers and sisters, cannot dwell in unclean tabernacles. These bodies we have been given are the tabernacles of God, the tabernacles of our own spirits, which is a child of God. We are to be saved, the spirit and body together constituting the soul of man, only by subjecting this physical body, which is born in this corporal world, to the power of the spirit within.

The Holy Ghost does not act upon the body. It acts upon the spirit within us. We are to bring this body up into that pure state, which we know is the Spirit of God. Then we come to that position that is spoken of in Section 93. We attain to a fullness of that Spirit, which is the mind of the Father and the Son; which, by getting a fullness of it, we become transformed exactly into the image of Christ, as body and spirit together -- which is within the power of all saints -- so that we may become heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Do we consider how glorious this possibility is for us to attain to, this wonderful thing that God has placed within our reach? His choice children, constituting the sons and daughters of Abraham, whose children we are, were born under the New and Everlasting Covenant, which has been restored through the instrumentality of the Prophet Joseph Smith.

These are the means, my dear brothers and sisters, by which we attain to a fullness of the Spirit, and thus become like God. The question is, are we willing to pay the price? What do you want, my dear brothers and sisters? The Prophet tells us in the Book of Mormon, that according to our desires, so shall it be, through the gift and power of faith and the Holy Ghost.
Are we still carrying two yokes? Do we want the spirit of the world and at the same time the blessings of this work and of this Priesthood? -- in which case you have eternal warfare within yourself. It does not constitute the war in which we should all be engaged, in overcoming satan and putting all enemies under our feet. When a man receives the holy Priesthood, it is his duty to put down all evil within himself and all others concerned who are arrayed against the Priesthood of Almighty God.

So, ask yourselves this day, my brothers and sisters, what do I want, really want; and am I willing to pay the price? It is a dear price. It takes great faith and power of the spirit, perfect obedience to the commandments of every word that proceeds forth from the mouth of God. We will be subjected to contradictions until we can hardly contain ourselves; but Jesus Christ suffered them more than any man can. Can we do or be subjected to less? If He is holy, let us be holy, and let us be willing to pay the price; subject ourselves to the laws and commandments of God, and submit ourselves to our head.

I would like to read something from Ephesians which I think will be for our good, particularly as relates to the duties of husbands and wives.

Ephesians 5

22. Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. Think carefully of these words: "submit yourselves unto your husbands, as unto the Lord." He is your lord, and if you will try and look upon him as such -- and if you men will try to conduct yourselves as such -- there will be great happiness.

23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.

24. Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;

26. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,

27. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
28. So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29. For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:
30. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.
32. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.
33. Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

Because he bears the Priesthood, may I add, the holy Priesthood. Let us reverence the Priesthood, and that power which gives us every blessing that we seek to attain, which is God. Let us get and keep the Spirit of God. I don't know of any greater example among us than that of President Johnson. I have never seen him at any time, or been in his presence, that he didn't have the Spirit of God on him. We have a beautiful example. Let us live likewise, and so go on to perfection, unto that glorious day when we shall enter into the presence of God, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:356  July 19, 1964  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 19, 1964
The Family Order of Heaven;
Ten Rules of Brigham Young in Raising Children

This is indeed a beautiful sight, my brothers and sisters, and I pray that the Lord will direct me in my remarks here tonight. I feel to follow the lead of President Johnson in speaking of our families.

The Prophet Joseph Smith was not too above the Lord calling him to repentance in this connection, in setting his family in order and teaching his children; along with those who presided with him -- President Williams, and President Rigdon. The brethren have been calling upon us to set our families in order, and this calls, of course, for a true leadership, as a son of God, by a man bearing the holy Priesthood, to set the pattern and to lead out. First of all, brothers and sisters, remember that God has called a man to be at the head. It was not his doings -- I mean the man's. It was God's. It is the eternal plan, and you sisters should realize this. I do not think I can do better than to read what Paul said to the Ephesians regarding this subject.

Ephesians 5

22. Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. I would like to analyze this statement a little, "As unto the Lord." Bear this in mind, this principle of your husband being your lord. The pattern was set very beautifully by Mary Magdalene, the wife of the Savior, and by His others, as they washed His feet in preparation for the coming sacrifice and the mission that He was to complete. Wives, submit yourselves unto your husbands as unto the Lord, as a vessel bearing the holy Priesthood of God. I think it would help us in our relationships, particularly sisters with their husbands.

23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body. 24. Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing. 25. Husbands, love your wives,...

Now listen to this carefully, brethren. 25. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it; 26. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word, 27. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish. This is what we are called upon to do, brethren, to sanctify and sustain with love, those whom the Lord has given us.

28. So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself. 29. For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church: 30. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones. 31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

32. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.
33. Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

Now, how is this to be done, brothers and sisters? If this order is maintained, it must be according to the pattern that has been given. I think Lorenzo Snow spoke of it in a very beautiful way when he said that the husband and wife should become pure element. This means getting and keeping the Spirit of God in this relationship.

The great and grand purpose of the Law of Celestial Marriage is to perfect a man and his wives, his dominion in this order under the Family Order of Heaven, and to bring forth and bear the souls of men. Brigham Young said that it is required of those entering into this order to bring forth as many as the Lord requires of them. What a terrible responsibility to see these children through this veil of tears, this lone and dreary world in which we are sent, and which is dominated by the devil, himself. He was sent forth to do this as his work and mission to tempt man, and try to divert him from the way that he should go. And a man having overcome, perfecting his flesh by the power of the Spirit, and bringing this body into submission, he presents that to the Lord, a perfect and a pure vessel without blemish. If we will think of these things with regard to our wives, brethren.

Now I said that it is a terrible responsibility bringing these souls into the world. It certainly is a great deal more than just breeding. It is true, as Brigham Young said, we believe in a perfect principle of breeding; but having brought them forth, what are you going to do with these tender souls, these innocent spirits that have been sent forth from the bosom of God?

I felt impressed to read to you here and discuss for a little time the ten rules that Brigham Young gave for the governing of children. I thought it might help to have had this published in the Truth Magazine, but I think we think too little of it. It might be well, as a suggestion, that you paste it on your bedroom wall, or some other convenient place to help you remember it. It is pretty well worn, carrying it around in my pocket.

RTJ Book of Quotes  Page 279

Governing Children

The following instructions on governing children were given by President
Brigham Young in the Salt Lake Tabernacle. He said, if followed, these rules would raise the children of the saints up in righteousness so God could use them. He said they were given in answer to his seeking these revelations.

This is something to remember:

...'Sow in the morn thy seed. At eve hold not thy hand."

1. THREATEN SELDOM AND BE CAREFUL HOW YOU THREATEN. NEVER LIE. Some parents tell lies. No wonder their children become liars.

One of the most destructive things that we can engage in, brothers and sisters, is deception. Women trying to deceive their husbands will make liars and deceivers of their children.

2. NEVER SCOLD YOUR CHILDREN NOR TELL THEM TO DO A THING (no, not the least trifle) UNLESS YOU INTEND THEM TO DO IT NOW.

I have seen so much lack of respect for the word of mothers where they do not follow up. They tell a child to do something and then forget it. What do you think a child is going to do the next time you speak to it? It will not pay any attention to you, and you know it. So when you ask that something be done, follow up with it, and see that it is done; always, my brethren and sisters, bearing in mind that the spirit behind all of these rules is free agency. Children have agency as well as we do. But in their tender years, their lack of understanding, it is for us to guide and direct them in this agency, being firm and loving and kind. And some other rules that can be mentioned as we go along.

3. NEVER GIVE THEM ANYTHING FOR THEIR CRYING. Some parents (very unwisely) endeavor to pacify their little ones by promising of sweetmeats, or sometimes telling them of witches, ghosts, lions or about bears, or the black man will catch them! Abominable!! Such impressions are often ruinous, lasting as eternity. Some children have actually been frightened to death.

4. NEVER ALLOW YOUR CHILDREN TO BE WASTEFUL. This evil will follow them to the grave.

You see it in grown-ups, don't you? as a result of this having been allowed when you were young.

4. ...Bread, pie, cake, and other fragments of food partially eaten, are often thrown away! Shameful! Thousands are now perishing for the crumbs that fall from your table. Christ said, when he fed the multitude miraculously, "Gather up the fragments that nothing be lost."

5. NEVER ALLOW YOUR CHILDREN TO CRY FOR MERE TRIFLES. Some acquire this habit very young and will cry, fret, whine or sniffle continuously until their little faces actually become wrinkled from crying. Stop this thing. Stop it now. Stop it forever. Your own happiness and those around you demand it!

I do not suppose there is anything that gets on my nerves more than this. Sisters, do you realize that you can save yourselves so much trouble and unhappiness if you will just anticipate the needs of your child? The breakfast table, for instance -- you let a child sit and whine the whole breakfast through while you take care of the others; or do you anticipate that this little one, I mean this one-year-old, or half-year-old, or whatever, where they need to be fed, that they should have their food first? Or do you just let them sit there and whine the whole meal through, or a whole morning through, not anticipating their needs? And from those little beginnings you will make a whiner and a boob of a child in his later years.

6. GOVERN THE APPETITES OF YOUR CHILDREN. Let their meals be regular, their diets plain and simple, always keeping in rein their age, circumstances, exercise. As self denial is the first and most important thing, the very essence of well being. Lay your hand here firmly, let self denial be first and last always.

In other words, do not indulge beyond reason. Let the food be simple, let the meals be regular, and you will be surprised how much security will engender in your children if meals and such things, their daily affairs, be conducted on a regular basis.

7. NEVER PERMIT YOUR CHILDREN TO BE TEMPTERS TO OTHERS. We know one family of children perfect tormentors to all around them. Impudent! Most intolerable!

We sometimes think it is cute for a boy or girl in our families, because of the way they tease and torment others. Well, I like a sense of humor, even in a child, but we can carry this far too far. When they become tormentors, then they become obnoxious and cause a great deal of unhappiness in the family circle.
8. DO YOU PUNISH SOMETIMES FOR WILLFUL DISOBEDIENCE?
CHASTISE CORPORALLY? Very well, this is correct.
Do you know what is meant here? It does not mean cruelty, or a box on the ears where hearing may be damaged, or breaking the skin, or becoming cruel in any manner. I have found most effective -- and I have had to use it very little -- a little willow on the leg, or a heavy hand on the bottom, where it cannot damage. But this does not mean that we beat children. And this punishment, believe me, is an art. Let a child know, as soon after an offense has been committed, what he has been punished for. Render the punishment according to promise, or according the threat, if you want to put it that way. Follow up religiously, and then after having administered the punishment, show forth much love, as Joseph Smith taught us in Section 121.

D. & C. 121

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
And you can make enemies with your children. You can even make them liars and deceivers. For undue and cruel punishment, they will lie and deceive to avoid that punishment. I have seen it, and I am sure you have if you will open your eyes. So let us be careful with these things.

9. NEVER LET IT BE SAID OR THOUGHT BY A CHILD, "I CAN DO SUCH AN SUCH; MAMA OR PAPA ISN'T HERE."
There is deception again. No child and no wife should feel that they can do anything that they would not do if the father was there. And if they are doing such things, they will become liars and deceivers, as sure as God lives. This is most abominable.

10. NEVER LET A CHILD KNOW HIS PARENTS DISAGREE ON ANY MATTER OF HIS BEHAVIOR.
In other words, you should never quarrel about the behavior of the child in front of that child. If there are any differences, you had better get them ironed out before you correct the child, or render a punishment; and let not one interfere with the other when it is being administered, or you will have a sense of the spirit of injustice that will harm that child as long as it lives.

And I would add an eleventh rule:

11. FOLLOW SECTION 121:41-46.
Shall we read it again?

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge,

Now remember, brothers and sisters -- and I say sisters advisedly -- this is an administration of the holy Priesthood. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the Priesthood, only on this premise. A wife is operating under the Priesthood of her husband. If she will remember this, I am sure it will help her in training her children. She must act by virtue of the Priesthood, the principles and doctrines of the Priesthood, and these principles we have been speaking of.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

And I say, especially the household of faith.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God; and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

God bless you, amen.
I cannot say this is a surprise to me. This is a delightful occasion and sight to me, my brothers and sisters. I feel very weak before the Lord and dependent upon Him in fulfilling this assignment, knowing that the saints of God are here to be fed and edified. But it is a two-way proposition, my brothers and sisters. You have got to do something as well as I do, and that is to exercise your faith that we may all be edified together. I pray the Spirit of God will be upon me as I speak to you tonight. I have felt that if I were called upon that I would like, with the help of the Lord, to explain and discuss one of the finest Sections in the Doctrine and Covenants regarding God and the Spirit of God, along with one of the Lectures on Faith. When we were in Colorado City on the 5th of July, President Johnson indicated he would like to have me speak on Section 93 a little further, and I pray that the Lord will help me to do so tonight. I felt constrained because of that, more than any other thing I think.

The Prophet Joseph Smith has told us in many times and places that to learn the Spirit of God, and thus to obtain the revelations of the Spirit of God will enable us to become perfect in Christ Jesus. I think that the most often asked question that comes to me, as well as to the other brethren, is how to get and keep the Spirit of God. This has been explained in many ways and different times and occasions. I do not know that I can add anything new. But sometimes the presentation of these truths by repetition may strike a responsive chord according to our needs at the time. If some of our questions and our faith may be answered through this means I will feel very much gratified in having fulfilled this assignment.

The best preliminary to this subject that I know of is Lecture Five, the latter part of which I will read and discuss.

Lecture Five

2. ...And he

Speaking of Jesus Christ,

2. ...being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

Brothers and sisters, I think if we will get this truth, this premise, very firmly fixed in our minds, we will begin to understand the necessity of this great gift and the means by which we will become like Him. I was struck by the remark of Brother Nielsen, that the greatest miracle that can be experienced in our lives is to change our character from a telestial to that of a Celestial being. This is verily true. This is the means by which it is done. The Holy Spirit, then, is the mind of the Father and the Son, and this is why They are one. It is the same means by which we will become one with Them, by getting the Spirit of God. But to proceed; this Spirit,

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father,

I call your attention particularly to this word "fullness" of the mind of the Father, which is the same as saying a fullness of the Holy Spirit, which is the mind of the Father and the Son.

2. ...or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;

Can you picture this state and condition, brothers and sisters, to become a joint heir with Jesus Christ? Now how is this done? By,

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed

Transformed, if you please, brothers and sisters,

2. ...into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

Jesus Christ prayed that His disciples, for whom He prayed prior to His crucifixion, would be one as He and His Father were one, those whom He loved and whom He strove to make perfect as He was; perfect in their sphere, of course.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ;

Think of this great gift, raising man from his fallen state; being raised upon the cross, shedding blood at every pore, by which means He took upon Himself the sins of mankind. In other words, all of those and only those who would keep His commandments and follow the dictates of the Spirit of God and the Priesthood of God as the Lord directed.

3. ...by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Partake of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit, this great gift that has been bestowed upon us by the laying on of hands of the holy Priesthood, the gift of the Holy Ghost; the most precious of all and the only means by which we can become one with Them and perfect, and obtain to the character of a God.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, Having set the pattern, in other words.

3. ...so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Who cannot see then, brothers and sisters, the all-important need of getting and keeping the Spirit of God? I mentioned particularly this word "fullness", fullness of the spirit. There has been made mention: "From grace to grace we obtain this gift and these blessings and unto this perfection," Christ, Himself, having done this and set the example. Here we have it in Section 93 to show how this was done. I call your attention specifically to this first paragraph. In it I see as complete an exposition of the plan of salvation as I have ever read in one verse.

D.& C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, Here is faith and repentance.
1. ...and obeyeth my voice,
Obeying all of the ordinances and receiving the same.

1. ...and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;
This is a wonderful introduction to that which follows. It is saying the same thing as the Prophet Joseph tells us in Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith.

2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;

3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --

I want to turn momentarily to Section 88. I will begin at the beginning, verse one.

D.& C. 88

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord unto you who have assembled yourselves together to receive his will concerning you:

2. Behold, this is pleasing unto your Lord, and the angels rejoice over you; the alms of your prayers have come up into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth, and are recorded in the book of the names of the sanctified, even them of the celestial world.

3. Wherefore, I now send upon you another Comforter, even upon you my friends, that it may abide in your hearts, even the Holy Spirit of promise; which other Comforter is the same that I promised unto my disciples, as is recorded in the testimony of John.

4. This Comforter is the promise which I give unto you of eternal life, even the glory of the celestial kingdom;

5. Which glory is that of the church of the Firstborn, even of God, the holiest of all, through Jesus Christ his Son --

And going on down to...well, I think I had better read them all.

6. He that ascended up on high, as also he descended below all things, in that he comprehended all things, that he might be in all and through all things, the light of truth;

7. Which truth shineth. This is the light of Christ. As also he is in the sun, and the light of the sun, and the power thereof by which it was made.

8. As also he is in the moon, and is the light of the moon, and the power thereof by which it was made;

9. As also the light of the stars, and the power thereof by which they were made;
10. And the earth also, and the power thereof, even the earth upon which you stand.
11. And the light which shineth, which giveth you light, is through him who enlighteneth your eyes, which is the same light that quickeneth your understandings;

Now here is the key point:
12. Which light proceedeth forth from the presence of God to fill the immensity of space --

This was the Comforter spoken of now. There was also, of course, the Second Comforter, which was the presence of Jesus Christ, Himself, to a man receiving his calling and election, or a fullness of it. I read this in connection with the verse: "I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world" -- and the means by which this is done is through the Holy Spirit, as described in Lecture Five.

D.& C. 93 (cont'd)

4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness,

There is this word "fullness" again.

4. ...and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.

5. I was in the world and received of my Father, and the works of him were plainly manifest.

6. And John saw and bore record of the fulness of my glory, and the fulness of John's record is hereafter to be revealed.
7. And he bore record, saying: I saw his glory, that he was in the beginning, before the world was:

8. Therefore, in the beginning the Word was,

Or Jesus Christ,

8. ...for he was the Word, even the messenger of salvation --

9. The light and the Redeemer of the world; the Spirit of truth, who came into the world, because the world was made by him,

Or by that office,
9. ...and in him was the life of men and the light of men.

10. The worlds were made by him; men were made by him; all things were made by him, and through him, and of him.

11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace;

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace,

Even Jesus Christ had to learn obedience by the things which He suffered, the same as we do. Again I say, having set the pattern, He is the Prototype of all saved beings, along with His Father who set the same example when He was upon the earth -- our Father Adam, in the beginning. Both came to set the example, and you might say that the third member of the Godhead came in the last Dispensation of the Fullness of Times to do the same thing; being Their Witness and Testator, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost. You will understand the meaning of this more perfectly as we gain in knowledge and understanding of the principles involved here and in the Gospel of Christ.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace,

14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

Having made the flesh His tabernacle and so forth.

15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.

How? Through the Holy Spirit, He having perfected Himself in all of the attributes of the Holy Spirit, grace for grace, line upon line, precept upon precept, which is what we must do.
18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

Won't this be a glorious thing? The Lord promised the saints that when they had the faith of the brother of Jared and of Enoch, and we now hear of John, we would receive the records that they had given. It will be a wonderful thing to receive this greater light and information. Now brothers and sisters, listen to this verse:

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

Now what is this fullness of the Holy Spirit, brothers and sisters? The way I understand it, it is a matter of attaining to the complete and full possession to the Holy Ghost, that it never leaves us. If we attain unto this, my brothers and sisters, being our constant guide and companion, we cannot help but have all of the attributes of Godliness: faith or power, knowledge, (without which we cannot be saved), justice, judgment, mercy, and truth, and love. If we abide in this, then we will become perfect in our generation, attaining unto a fullness of Godliness. By this means then, we will perform in our lives the miracle that has been mentioned. We will receive a fullness and a joint heirship with Jesus Christ, our Lord, and with our Father, and become one with Them.

Brothers and sisters, this is the means and the way that we get and keep the Spirit of God, through obedience to all of the commandments, by honoring and sustaining that which God honors, and sustains, and appoints, and calls, and chooses; by living by every word that proceedeth forth from His mouth. Thus we will attain to a fullness of His Spirit, line upon line and precept upon precept, grace for grace; and this is what is meant by the grace of God -- being saved by the grace of God. It is not without works. It takes all of the effort, the faith, repentance, and the obedience that man is capable of. If we can only come to that position, learning by our skill and our efforts, our labors, our faith, the workings of the Holy Spirit, bringing it continually into our lives and keeping it there, we will have perfect families and the order of heaven, the Family Order of Heaven in our families, and thus be made useful.
as a people of God. When we come to this state and station, or a degree or sufficient degree of it, then God will open the way for us to have the blessings of the holy temples, the endowments, or by whatever means God deems well for Him to give these things to us.

Why do we hold back, brothers and sisters? Why aren't we doing better along this line? We still cling to the traditions, the things, and the ideas of the world, the traditions of our fathers.

The Prophet Joseph, in Section 93, goes on to indicate as follows:

D.& C. 93 (cont'd)

37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience,

They have the Spirit of God, but through disobedience will lose it.

39. ...through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.
40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

All of this is preliminary to the injunction to raise up our children in light and truth. We are not going to receive that blessing and glorious state that has been spoken of if we have not done our part in teaching and raising these children up in light and truth. We are going to be called to account for them. Brethren, we are going to have to account for these good women who are given to us if we have not left them without excuse, both wives and children. It is the labor of this Priesthood Council to leave all of you without excuse in enjoining these truths upon you. Look to your children. Keep them close to the work and the Priesthood of Almighty God.

I was asked by several of you last time, brothers and sisters, where these ten rules are regarding the governing of children by Brigham Young to be found in Truth. It is in volume 10, page 306. You would do well to make a copy and abide in them. It will be a very great help to you as it has to me.

I pray for the Spirit of God to be upon you. I call upon you to exert yourselves in mighty prayer and faith to become one with the Priesthood of God, to obey every word that proceedeth forth from His mouth through His servants; and to go forward and become that people and prepare ourselves for that which is to come, which President Johnson has enjoined upon us through all the years. May we be one. May we love one another. May we be true and faithful and endure unto the end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:374 October 4, 1964 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 4, 1964
We Are Saved Only by the Grace of God; Faith

This is a beautiful spot and a lovely occasion indeed. The Spirit of God is here, and I pray that it will direct me and distill upon all our souls that we may be edified, and give the glory to Him. This is a beautiful sight. It is a wonderful privilege to be able to look into the faces of all of the saints at once. I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for the knowledge that God has given me, for the experiences He has given me, and for those that He has placed under my jurisdiction. Above all, I am grateful to be associated with my brethren, whom I love more than anything or anyone. My greatest desire is to be one with them, especially with President Johnson, and thus be one with God.

I am impressed how greatly dependant we are, brothers and sisters, upon our Father in heaven, and that we do indeed live by the grace of God. In the first place, He begat us in the life before, and then He created this earth which was created to fulfill a Celestial existence, as the word of the Lord tells us in the Doctrine and Covenants. I do not know how much we realize the importance of this great point, that parts of this earth have been taken away, and the headquarters of the Priesthood is here. Part of that earth that was taken away is the part upon which Enoch, after whom the High Priesthood has been named; being named the "Priesthood after the order of the Son of God, after the order of Enoch," and for common usage, the Melchizedek Priesthood. Enoch had a special dispensation to provide a place for terrestrial beings, operating under the principle of translation, and probably for resurrected beings. Part of the House of Israel, a great part of it, is upon another part of the earth, in the purposes of God, to preserve them to come in due time to fight the battles of this Priesthood in striking down the kingdoms of this earth so that the Kingdom of God might come.

And now, above all, we are indebted to God for His having come in the first place, to provide these bodies for those spirits to dwell in, that they might have the opportunity to bring the ascendancy of the spirit over this body, bring it into subjection; to perfect and purify it under the plan of salvation that we may become like Him; for it is the work and purpose of God to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of man. Secondly, in the meridian of time, the Savior of the world was sent, a God to redeem and to mediate between us and our Father, to overcome the bands of death, to atone for the original sin and for ours, if we would believe and obey. Thirdly, the great Witness and Testator, Joseph the Prophet, was raised up to restore the knowledge of God, the plan of salvation; and above all, the holy Priesthood for the winding up scene, in preparation for the second and glorious coming of our Savior and the coming of our Father Adam in Adam-ondi-Ahman. Now we are the recipients of this knowledge and of these blessings and these graces of God. God has set us up in business, so to speak, and for all of these things we are indebted to Him. Though we should give all, everything we have, our lives, we are all still indebted to our Father, and we would be unwise and unprofitable servants if we did not come to realize these things.

Now brothers and sisters, do we walk by the grace of God? I should say we do. The first and glorious principle of the Gospel is faith. This is a gift of God. Repentance, by which we change from the old man to the new, is a gift of God. The ordinance and blessings of baptism, administered by the holy Priesthood, the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost under the hands of the Priesthood, are gifts of God. The Priesthood, itself, and the great principle by which we were sent down into this world, this lone and dreary world, was the principle of faith by which we were required to walk, to lead us back into the presence of God. If we as a people are not what we should be, it is because we lack faith.

I feel impressed to go a little again into the Seventh Lecture on Faith, which I feel would help us as a people if we will listen to it and follow it, brothers and sisters. The sense of this whole Lecture and the principles that are set forth therein is that we are to become like Him.

Lecture Seven

1. In preceding lessons we treated of what faith was, and of the object on which it rested. Agreeable to our plan, we now proceed to speak of its effects.

I would suggest, my dear brothers and sisters, if you want to commit anything to memory in holy writ -- and I consider the Lectures on Faith holy writ -- if anything should be considered that came from the lips of the Prophet Joseph Smith, it is Lecture Five, on the Godhead. The more you read that, the more you remember it and think on it and pray about it, the more you will understand God, the nature of the Godhead, and our relationship with Him, for therein is the plan of salvation laid out in great plainness. This Godhead, led by our Father Adam, is the object on which our faith must rest. The attributes which He has are the attributes which we must lay hold on. By making every sacrifice that is required, we will know that our course is pleasing to Him and with this confidence we will then have the faith sufficient to lay hold on eternal life. Now here are the effects of faith, and we need to know this, else our faith is in vain.

2. As we have seen in our former lectures that faith was the principle of action and of power in all intelligent beings, both in heaven and on earth, it will not be expected that we shall, in a lecture of this description, attempt to unfold all its effects; neither is it necessary to our purpose so to do, for it would embrace all things in heaven and on earth, and encompass all the creations of God, with all their endless varieties; for no world has yet been framed that was not framed by faith, neither has there been an intelligent being on any of God's creations who did not get there by reason of faith as it existed in himself or in some other being; nor has there been a change or a revolution in any of the creations of God, but it has been effected by faith; neither will there be a change or a revolution, unless it is effected in the same way, in any of the vast creations of the Almighty, for it is by faith that the Deity works.

If it is faith by which He works, then how much more is it required of us?

3. Let us here offer some explanation in relation to faith, that our meaning may be clearly comprehended. We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion instead of physical force. It is by words,

Through mental exertion,

3. ...instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith.

Can you conjure up any idea, my brothers and sisters, except it be through the power of words? What a glorious thing it will be when we understand and can speak in the words of the language of Adam. Can you imagine what a great time that will be, when God finds a people worthy enough to teach them the language of Adam, by which the truths of eternity may be expounded, and explained and spoken? Then will faith be rendered perfect, and we will have come to a condition of faith sufficient, almost unto perfection, in order for that great language to be revealed to us. I don't think we think of this often enough either. When we can express the truths of heaven in the language of Adam, we will be a blessed people indeed.

3. ...God said, "Let there be light, and there was light." Joshua spake, and the great lights which God had created stood still. Elijah commanded, and the heavens were stayed for the space of three years and six months, so that it did not rain: he again commanded and the heavens gave forth rain. All this was done by faith.

It must be added, brothers and sisters, that these things were done, and all things may be done by faith, only unless it is agreeable to the will of God. By the power of the Holy Ghost are these things done, through faith. Faith is a principle of power and of action, as has been stated. Elijah did not speak, nor did the other great Prophets speak and perform the great acts of God except they were agreeable to the will of God, and the power of the Holy Ghost rested upon that Prophet by which it was accomplished. No man can stand forth and in his own power by his own will, and do the will of God, particularly if it be not agreeable with the will of God. The Priesthood of God can do nothing except by the power of the Holy Ghost agreeable to the will of God, because it is shed forth from His presence. When the servants of God speak, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost, it is the word of God, and only then. We as a people must be so sensitive to this Spirit and the Spirit of revelation that when that word is spoken, we will move and act and begin to walk by faith until it becomes knowledge.

3. ...And the Savior says, "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, say to this mountain, 'Remove,' and it will remove; or say to that sycamine tree, 'Be ye plucked up, and planted in the midst of the sea,' and it shall obey you." Faith, then, works by words; and with these its mightiest works have been, and will be, performed. ***
It goes on to say that all of the visible creation is an effect of faith, and in this we should give glory to God. The perfections of the seasons and all things that we see around us speak of the power and glory of God. These were the effects of faith. I suppose as far as we are concerned, the greatest of the effects of faith is salvation.

7. Therefore it is said, and appropriately too, that "Without faith it is impossible to please God." If it should be asked -- Why is it impossible to please God without faith? The answer would be -- Because without faith it is impossible for men to be saved; and as God desires the salvation of men, he must, of course, desire that they should have faith; and he could not be pleased unless they had, or else he could be pleased with their destruction.

8. From this we learn that the many exhortations which have been given by inspired men, to those who had received the word of the Lord to have faith in him, were not mere commonplace matters, but were for the best of all reasons, and that was -- because without it there was no salvation, neither in this world nor in that which is to come. When men begin to live by faith they begin to draw near to God; and when faith is perfected they are like him; ***

It follows, then, that if we are not like Him or drawing near to Him, we lack faith. On this score:

17. ...And through the whole history of the scene of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith --

You have blessings pronounced upon your head. According to your faith, so shall it be, in healing or in obtaining any other blessings, the laws and the ordinance and the covenants of the holy Priesthood.

17. ...according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it.

Nothing was withheld. By words through the power of prayer do we approach God in faith. Do you see how important words are? Giving examples:

17. ...He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter.

By faith, my brothers and sisters, we lay hold upon the attribute knowledge. By faith we obtain the attribute justice. By faith we obtain the attribute judgment. By faith we obtain the attribute mercy. By faith we obtain all truth and the attribute truth. By faith we lay hold upon love, which is the greatest of all. When we obtain these things, my brothers and sisters, then we are like God. May I close by reading the sixteenth verse, which we should all commit to memory.

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed; and on this hinge turns the door of salvation.

We will go on in eternal increase, or we will go back to dissolution, into native element, both the spirit and the body, if we fail to fill the measure of our creation. Those are the alternatives very simply and plainly stated. We go on into eternal increase, an increase of light and life throughout all the ages of eternity in the presence of our Father, becoming creators and Gods in our own right; or we go back, our spirit into its element, our body into its element, after having been resurrected; for all will be resurrected. What a prospect, my brothers and sisters. May we choose the former, going on unto life eternal, sustaining and living by every word of God, upholding His Priesthood and going forth as a people who can be used.

Brothers and sisters, I do not know if you realize it or not, and it would be well to ask yourself the question, are you in a condition to know when the One Mighty and Strong shall come, when he does come? Not all will know, I promise you. Are we going to be in a position then to be used? How God is going to accomplish His great and strange work we know not, the course of events or anything of that kind. But we do know that Joseph Smith, the One Mighty and Strong, is soon to come to set in order His House, including His Priesthood, His Church, and His Kingdom. May we be a part of them, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:381 October 18, 1964 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 18, 1964
Do Not Criticize the Prophet

The thing that has been going through my mind today, brothers and sisters, is the report that was made yesterday about the great deal of criticism now that is being made of the brethren, Brother Johnson, Brother Hammon, Brother Musser. I do not know if I can find it, what was going on in Zion when the Prophet read some letters that had come to him from there, and he wrote to the leaders in Zion, and told them if the things that had been reported to him did not stop, and mighty soon, that they would suffer affliction, but all came true. I tell you, this is the worst disease that could come upon a people -- to go after the very source of our blessings, and you know where they reside. It can do nothing but harm to yourself. You cannot hurt Brother Johnson! You cannot hurt Brother Hammon, or Brother Musser, with your criticism. You only hurt yourself! You hurt the work. We ought to be praying for the brethren, and not criticizing them. Seek to uphold and sustain them with everything that we have and are, and call upon our families and children to do the same.

I can find one thing that I want to read to you, and I will sit down.

TPJS Page 156

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

We can find ourselves in that position if we are not careful, and stop this disease if it is taking a hold of us. I pray God to help us to overcome it and to do better, to unite behind the leadership of a man who has been called and chosen of God to lead us, and he will lead us back into heaven, into the presence of God.

We have, brothers and sisters, it has been put together here by our printing group, bound in a beautiful binding, the Book of Jasher. It has been requested for a good many years. Many have said they would be willing to pay twenty dollars for one. Here is one for five. The Prophet Joseph Smith said, and we have it in the Doctrine and Covenants, that the Book of Jasher is mostly true, but we should read it by the Spirit of God; and we find great comfort and strength, and even the means of teaching some wonderful principles in the lives of great men to our children out of it. These are now available from Brother Musser. God bless you, amen.

RTJ 1:383  November 8, 1964  Canada

Calgary, Canada
November 8, 1964
How to Become Like God;
All Blessings Come to Us Through the Prophet Here on Earth;
Stay Close to the Source of Our Blessings; Charity

It is a great joy and privilege to me, my brothers and sisters, to be with you in company with President Hammon. I have noted that in every trip that I have made by appointment of President Johnson, the Spirit of the Lord has been made manifest, and His protecting hand has been over us in performing these missions and the work that He has sent us to do. The greatest evidence that I have of the truthfulness of this work is the approbations of God that are upon His servants, especially as I have observed the life and labors of President Johnson, as well as to myself and my families. As President Johnson has observed on more than one occasion, there are miracles and the hand of God made manifest in as great a way in this day and time, even now, as have been performed and manifested in any period in the history of the world.
The things of God are known and understood by the Spirit of God, brothers and sisters. Some of these things are not observed by many who may be critical of the work, or shall we say skeptical. I dare say that anyone who set out to disprove this work and the divinity of the Priesthood which Joseph Smith has established, and as it now exists, could easily do so to their own satisfaction. But there are keys and principles which the Lord has given us by which we may know and understand His work; and they are found in the fundamental principles of the Gospel, namely: faith, repentance, baptism for the remission of sins, and the laying on of hands for the imposition of the Holy Ghost. If a person will truly follow these first ordinances and principles, and come up to a point where he has sufficient faith, the manifestations of the Holy Spirit will make known the truths of the Gospel and the work and the divinity of the Priesthood of Almighty God. And the key to it all, of course, is Priesthood.

Men and women have come into this work, and have gone by the scores. I don't recognize the same group of people except for a very few, going back to the time when I first became acquainted with this work, at which time I was very active in the Church, having just a few years having returned from a mission to Great Britain. And so, brothers and sisters, we need to follow the example, the story we are told of Lehi and his vision to cling to the iron rod which leads up to the tree of life, step by step, line upon line, precept upon precept; Jesus Himself being the great Prototype of this important thing. Section 93 tells us -- I think I have gone into this before, brothers and sisters but repetition is sometimes very helpful.

D. & C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

There is the course of the Gospel of Jesus Christ stated in as few words as I have been able to find it.

1. ...It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me,

Through faith and repentance,

1. ...and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;
2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --

4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.

11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace.

Even the Son.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;
And this is the genius of the work of God.

14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.

18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

In Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith, brothers and sisters, we have drawn in most perfect form, the true nature of the Godhead; the Father and the Son being one, the Son having received a fullness of the Father, and the Holy Ghost or the Holy Spirit being the mind of the Father and the Son. And by this medium. They were one. And all of the saints may, likewise, receive of the fullness. These have here been drawn to our attention. Through the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, brothers and sisters, we may lay hold on these things until we come into the presence of the Father and the Son.

Brother Ray has called our attention to a grand principle by which we should be governed, and that is that this Holy Spirit can be obtained only through the medium of the holy Priesthood. This is important for us all to remember as regards our own particular sphere of action and jurisdiction. I think it might be well for us to go in some little detail as it effects each and every one of us.

As I stated before, the Holy Ghost is given by the laying on of hands of the holy Priesthood, even the highest Priesthood. This is the medium through which it came, speaking of this dispensation and in all other dispensations, of course; but looking at it from ours through the Prophet Joseph Smith, who was given the keys of the Apostleship from Peter, James, and John, who held it in former time and who had the last keys. And they had received their keys on the Mount of transfiguration as Moses and Elijah appeared transfigured with Christ before them. And thus it has descended from the time of Adam. This same order of Priesthood has come down to us from Joseph Smith in the orders of these men that we have pictured before us here down to the present. You all generally, I am sure, understand and know the order in which this has come, and I need not repeat it. But since the Holy Ghost in the first instance is imposed or given by the laying on of hands of the Priesthood by direct contact, it follows that anything that is done in the economy of God under the plan of the Gospel of Jesus Christ will have to come through the same channel. Unless an administration of the Priesthood is accompanied by the Holy Ghost, it is not done in the sight of God. This is the running nature of Priesthood and the Spirit. The holy Priesthood is imposed upon and given to others by the laying on of hands. The Melchizedek Priesthood is given in this way.

Now, speaking of our order of things under the direction of President Leroy S. Johnson, every man who bears the Melchizedek Priesthood is accountable to him. He is the head, and all things must come by appointment through him. Can any single man bearing the holy Priesthood, then, have the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost if he be not one with President Johnson? It is inconceivable. Now take it down the next step. The holy order of matrimony and the Celestial Law is an order of the Priesthood. It is the Patriarchal Order, or the Order of Abraham, who is the prototype for that great law. A man must hold the Melchizedek Priesthood in order to hold a wife or wives. And under that covenant children are born, and this sealing goes back to Adam. Now, can that family function unless it has the Holy Spirit and receives the Holy Spirit through the medium of the Priesthood? It cannot. Unless a wife is one with her husband, she cannot have the Holy Spirit. And I am sure all of you had examples of this in your own experiences, and so on with the children.

We need to stay close to the source of our blessings, and the source of our blessings is the holy Priesthood, brothers and sisters. I could no more function in the work of the Priesthood if I were not one with President Johnson than I could fly. And you sisters cannot function in your work to bear along with your husbands the blessings of the holy Priesthood unless you receive those blessings by that channel, and that from our Father, whom Brigham Young says is the source of all. He made the statement that the Holy Spirit issues forth from Himself. It therefore issues through Him to His servants whom He has called and chosen and appointed upon the earth. And it issues forth from them down through the channels of the work and Priesthood of God.

It is a beautiful thing, brothers and sisters. If we would only realize that when we cut ourselves off from that unity, that oneness that exists in this thing, then we are cutting ourselves off from the source of our blessings, from the strength and power that we need to carry on our labors in this lone and dreary world. We were anxious and willing and desirous to come here to receive these bodies and to be born under the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage, and we enter into the same for ourselves. That is why we came here, that we might receive these bodies, perfect them according to the Spirit of God, become one with our Father, and then come again into His presence.

These things are to be done through our making ourselves like our Father. We know who He is, being Adam, our Father and God. He is that close to us. We know what He is. What His character and attributes are is given us in such great plainness in the Lectures on Faith, particularly the Third and Fourth and Fifth. In them we are taught how to assimilate our character into that of God, and on this hinge turns the door of salvation. I think one of the grandest things that I have ever read, and I cannot help but keep on repeating it, is found in Moroni 7. The great and first important principle of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is faith, and then hope, and then love. The greatest of all, of course, is the last, as far as the character of God is concerned, love or charity.

Moroni 7

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

One of the grandest pictures I have ever had drawn to my mind is the one wherein Jesus Christ was about to sacrifice Himself and go on in His work saying farewell to His Apostles. He said, "I have loved you. And now I call upon you to love one another even as I have loved you, and to be one as I and My Father are one." What a beautiful thing. If we could all do the same, what power we would have with God -- power in the Priesthood, the power and the character and the faith that we would have.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

If we have this, brothers and sisters, we could not murmur or complain, but rejoice forevermore.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,

Let us remember this.

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

In other words, having faith in our prayers.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ;
In other words, if we make our character like His, we will be filled with this great thing, love.

48. ...that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

It is therefore the great purifying principle and characteristic and attribute of God, this principle of love which may we obtain, my dear brothers and sisters. May we go on in this work, sustaining and upholding the servants of God with all that we have and are. Draw near, brothers and sisters. I will never forget the statement Brother Guy Musser made as he spoke on this principle. In his younger years he felt that he would just as leave be strapped to his father's leg, that he might stay close to him, knowing the source of his blessings and that he could be led aright.

Let us hold to the iron rod, brothers and sisters, which leads to the tree of life, and be found possessed of this great principle of love at the last day.
President Johnson is pleading with this people day in and day out that they prepare themselves. If we set our families in order, if we set our individual selves in order -- you cannot set families in order unless individuals are first placed in order -- that when these days of tribulation come and they are upon us, we will be able to stand. Let us be prepared to go and do and say those things that we are commanded to do through His servants, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
November 22, 1964
Oneness Through Seeking Each Other's Interest; Faith and Love; All Things Are Spiritual

It is good to be here again, my dear brothers and sisters. I pray, as the others, for the Spirit of God to direct me in my remarks. We had a good time in Canada two weeks ago. The saints there are in good spirits, making considerable progress. They desired to be remembered to you.

It is a wonderful thing, brothers and sisters, to yearn after one another, as become saints. It seems to me also, that this is one of the ways by which we may become one. "If you are not one, you are not Mine," says the Lord. Until we obtain a semblance of this oneness through the order of oneness, which is the Economic Order of Heaven as well as the Priesthood order, we are not going to make that progress that God desires of us.

What a beautiful thing it would be, brothers and sisters, if we truly looked after the interest of one another. I suppose there is more criticism, there is more backbiting and ill feeling over these matters than any other. The spirit of criticism can take us out of this work if we are not careful. It matters not what the other brother actually is doing, if we will only do our part, seeking to increase the welfare of our brothers and sisters through the holy Priesthood. Believe me, this is the only way it can be done. If we are truly a part of this work, we must yearn after one another through correct principles, and to this end we must exercise the utmost faith.

We cannot have faith in God and in His Priesthood, and criticize it at the same time. Criticism is the element of fear. Fear is the opposite of faith. We are not going to get anywhere in this work -- and I am sure it can be said that too many of us are on the fringes of the work -- because we are not truly loyal, loyal to correct principles and to the holy Priesthood. A greater exertion of our minds and the principle of faith will bring us together. And we must do this through seeking after, and following, and being close to this order of the Priesthood which leads us.

Brothers and sisters, are we grateful? Are we grateful enough that we have in our midst the Priesthood of God? Are we grateful enough for the restoration, for the work and labors and the life of Joseph Smith the Prophet, for the work that he did? He is a God, the third member of the Godhead, who is ever so close to us if we will live and be one, that one people, and if we will only set ourselves and our families in order.

We cannot be one, brothers and sisters, unless first our families are in order. You brethren especially must realize that if you do not have your families behind you, and you in turn be fully supporting with your faith and your labors, loving the work and the Priesthood with all your might, mind, and strength, we are not going to be one.

This preparation that President Johnson reminds us of so often, is not going to be completed unless we are one. If we are not receiving the blessings that we desire in righteousness, if you have a feeling that there is not sufficient progress being made, then you will have to put it down that it is because of the lack of faith.

Joseph Smith makes it so plain, and we have repeated it so many times: "According to our faith, so shall our blessings be." This mental exertion on our part is not sufficient unless it is translated into action, into absolute loyalty and full support, with all that we have and are for this order of the Priesthood which God has placed in our midst.

The brethren on the other side, led by the Prophet Joseph Smith, are yearning after us. The Lord is waiting for sufficient preparation, sufficient numbers of men with a perfect faith, so that He can begin to shake the earth and set the House of God in order, every department of it, from the Priesthood on down. According to our faith, so shall be our blessings.

What is the nature of your faith, brothers and sisters? Is it just a mere mental assent to this work, or is it an active, powerful thing? If it isn't this, it is no faith at all. It is a mere belief. Faith is a principle of action, and it is a principle of a power as a result of the action that it leads us into. Until our faith is perfect -- our faith in God, the true and the living God, and in the truth that He has called and set apart and chosen His servants in the holy Apostleship; and that our sealings are of God, and that we are indeed His people -- then we are not going to make that necessary preparation so that the servants of God on the other side can come and instruct further. This is the thing that we should be yearning for, brothers and sisters, with all our heart, might, mind, and strength.

To God, all things are spiritual. Nothing is temporal; all of our affairs, these things that we are so critical of in our economic affairs. If we will only look upon them as part of the spiritual plan, part of the work of God as a spiritual growth and strength to us, then I think we will begin to get the picture.

May the Lord help us, and bless us to be that one people, one people from Canada to Mexico, and wherever else God is raising up a people. Let us yearn after one another, our welfare. Let us be that people that God desires us to be, through faith and love. I cannot separate these two principles, brothers and sisters: faith and love. If we love one another, we cannot have this bickering and criticism and all the rest of it that goes with it. If we have that pure love of Christ, you will love one another as Christ loved His Father, and as He loved those who followed Him. He admonished His followers to love one another, as He had loved them and His Father. May we be that people, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:393  December 6, 1964  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 6, 1964
Gratitude; Humility; Be Submissive to Priesthood;
Can Only Get the Spirit of God
Through Oneness with Priesthood

It is good to be here again, brothers and sisters, and I desire an interest in your faith and prayers. I wish that we could look into the faces of the whole congregation here. I think we would enjoy the spirit of the occasion much better. My brothers and sisters, we can enjoy the Spirit of God under any condition if we become skilled in it.

I am grateful for the spirit that was struck by President Hammon for this occasion, that we should have the spirit of gratitude. It has been said that this is another word for humility. If there is one thing that stands in the way of most of us, brothers and sisters, I think it is our lack of humility and the spirit of submission -- our lack of gratitude, if you please. I think it might be well to read for us again what King Benjamin had to say on this matter. I felt impressed about it.
Mosiah 2

18. Behold, ye have called me your king; and if I, whom ye call your king, do labor to serve you, then ought not ye to labor to serve one another?

19. And behold also, if I, whom ye call your king, who has spent his days in your service, and yet has been in the service of God, do merit any thanks from you, O how you ought to thank your heavenly King!

20. I say unto you, my brethren, that if you should render all the thanks and praise which your whole soul has power to possess, to that God who has created you, and has kept and preserved you, and has caused that ye should rejoice, and has granted that ye should live in peace one with another --

21. I say unto you that if ye should serve him who has created you from the beginning, and is preserving you from day to day, by lending you breath, that ye may live and move and do according to your own will, and even supporting you from one moment to another -- I say, if ye should serve him with all your whole souls yet ye would be unprofitable servants.

22. And behold, all that he requires of you is to keep his commandments; Simple, isn't it?

22. ...and he has promised you that if ye would keep his commandments ye should prosper in the land; and he never doth vary from that which he hath said; therefore, if ye do keep his commandments he doth bless you and prosper you.

23. And now, in the first place, he hath created you, and granted unto you your lives, for which ye are indebted unto him.

24. And secondly, he doth require that ye should do as he hath commanded you; for which if ye do, he doth immediately bless you; and therefore he hath paid you. And ye are still indebted unto him, and are, and will be, forever and ever; therefore, of what have ye to boast?

25. And now I ask, can ye say aught of yourselves? I answer you, Nay. Ye cannot say that ye are even as much as the dust of the earth; yet ye were created of the dust of the earth; but behold, it belongeth to him who created you.

26. And I, even I, whom ye call your king, am no better than ye yourselves are; for I am also of the dust. And ye behold that I am old, and am about to yield up this mortal frame to its mother earth.
That puts us pretty well in the proper light, my brothers and sisters. If you only submit yourselves to your husband as unto the Lord, sisters -- and brethren, if we would submit ourselves to the Priesthood over us as unto the Lord -- we would be one people. We are far from it. The thing that we need above all things is the gift of the Holy Ghost. Without it we are nothing -- we cannot magnify the Priesthood, or our callings, or our stations, and our families. If we would only realize that we are engaged, or supposed to be engaged, in building up the Family Order of Heaven, this holy Celestial Law of Marriage, and realize that all we say and do in this work and this order of things is a reflection upon the work and the Priesthood that has given us these blessings, I think we would come closer to doing the right things as we go from day to day.

I am grateful above all other things, my brothers and sisters, for the knowledge that God has given me of this work, and my associations with my brethren in this order, and for those that God has given me. They are upholding and sustaining me in this great responsibility that rests upon me, as far as I am concerned. And above all, I am grateful for the knowledge I have of God, and of His Son Jesus Christ, and of Joseph Smith the Prophet.

I was thinking as I was sitting here tonight, Joseph Smith, of all mortal men, from the beginning of time to the end, was called to be a God with the Father and Jesus, to be Their Witness. Father Adam was both divine and mortal. Jesus was both divine and mortal. And Joseph, born of mortal parents, was called among all the sons of men to be Their Witness and Testator, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost. He is that near to us, and has brought Father Adam and our Elder Brother, Jesus Christ, that near to us in this last dispensation of the fullness of times.

How grateful ought we to be for this knowledge and for the revelations of God to us through him. We are today receiving revelations through this same order of Priesthood which he received and passed on. We have been called out, a small handful of people, from all the nations and the conditions of the world, and are being tutored and taught from day to day. How grateful ought we to be. God has said, "I am not displeased with anyone except those who do not acknowledge My hand in all things."

Now brothers and sisters, let us begin by acknowledging to God our gratitude that we are where we are, in our families, and in our relationships with the holy Priesthood. Let us submit ourselves as unto the Lord, to be guided and directed in the ways of truth and righteousness by the holy Priesthood. Let us acknowledge God's hand in all things.

Let us learn to pray. "God, teach me to pray;" for through this medium do we get the Spirit of God; do we draw near to Him and His servants. We cannot get it except we be one with them. Sisters, you cannot get the Spirit of God except you be one with your husband, who is righteous. The Holy Spirit, the getting and the keeping of it, this great gift of God to us, should be the ultimate and complete aim of our lives. We should so create conditions in our homes, in our other affairs of life, that that Spirit can be with us always.

Our homes should be temples, and our families engaged in the Family Order of Heaven; working and laboring with our whole heart, might, mind, and strength, supporting the holy Priesthood; that we may become one in the hands of God, to be useful vessels; and to be endowed, and blessed, and sustained with power from on high, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:397 December 20, 1964 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 20, 1964
False and Delusive Spirits

It is good to be here and hear these wonderful testimonies, brothers and sisters. I pray we may live and abide by them. I have got what I consider to be a message worth repeating here, something I read a couple of years ago, which, with the help of the Spirit of the Lord I would like to remind you about again. This is from the Millennial Star, volume 14 page 278, in case I forget; and in Truth, volume 16 page 106. It is called "False and Delusive Spirits".

False and Delusive Spirits (Truth 16:106)

False spirits are more subtle, and more contagious than the small pox;

There is one message that President Musser, particularly, as well as the other brethren, have been trying to get over to this people. That is that there is a devil, and he has great power; and he has many servants and aids, to help him accomplish the thing he is trying to do. We are at eternal warfare with him and them. The more we begin to realize this, and act accordingly, I am sure we are going to get along better in this work.

...their number and diversity of operations cannot be counted by man; and the first moment the saints leave the path of duty, that moment they are subject to the influence of evil, false spirits, which once having taken possession of the soul, are difficult if not impossible to be removed, by the person so receiving them, without assistance from those who have more wisdom.

If you want to know what actuates you, brothers and sisters, when you lose the spirit of God, I think this will be a good lesson for us. The great object of evil spirits is to get bodies, and the only chance they have is to dispossess a soul of the spirit of the Lord, the light of eternal truth, and take possession of that body thus dispossessed; and when thus once in possession, it may truly be said there is a body possessed of the devil.

Jesus and his disciples in different ages, have commanded the unclean and wicked spirits to depart out of those of whom they had taken possession, and they have departed; but there are those spirits which are not easily dispossessed, and go out only by prayer and fasting. And again, there are those spirits that will hardly go out at any price, except it is by the will of those who harbor them. And of what class are they? They are invited spirits. Invited spirits? Yes; many spirits watch their opportunity to thrust themselves into a person when and where they are not wanted, and such are much more easily cast out than those who are invited guests.

For instance, a person for some real or supposed injury or neglect from a friend, wishes to retaliate, to be revenged, and of course opens the way, and invites the spirit of jealousy to take possession; and the moment jealousy enters the breast, there is a perfect hell of happiness. No scheme that hell itself can devise to torment, perplex, harass, disturb, vex, or mar the peace of friend, wife, or husband, is left untouched, or unmoved; and by that time the breast of the harborer is open to all the evil spirits of Pandemonium -- all have free access, and oh, what a world of glory dwells there!

And how shall that jealous spirit be removed? By the laying on of hands?
The Lord deliver us from such an ordinance, in such a case. Why? That spirit was invited to take up its abode there, and while that spirit is made welcome by that person, what right have we to dispossess it? It would be abridging the agency of the individual who invited the spirit, for anyone to cause that spirit to depart, without the person’s leave; and we choose that all should exercise their own agency and responsibility, and then they are subjects of accountability.

Other spirits, not particularly invited or desired, gain an easy access to those who are careless, heedless, and but too indifferent to the statutes, ordinances, and duties of God’s kingdom; So we can get these spirits through our neglect and spiritual laziness, and they will take the upper hand. The Spirit of God requires labor and alertness, constant faith in Almighty God and His servants. Those...who neglect their prayers, their assembling together, and doing as they would be done unto; and from these spirits arise contention, strife, evil thinking, evil speaking, evil surmising, detraction, revenge, lawsuits, and a host of such perplexing annoyances, sufficient to disturb a nation; but the man who is obedient to his God in all things -- who knows no will of his own, only to do the will of his Father in the heavens, is free from these spirits; the devil has no power over him, for he resists him, and evil spirits are compelled to flee at his rebuke.

Some may ask, "How shall I know when I am operated upon by a false spirit?" There are many keys by which the door of knowledge is unlocked to the Saints in relation to spirits, as well as other things pertaining to the kingdom; but one may suffice at the present time, for we have not designed this brief notice to cover all or any considerable portion of the ground which the subject includes.

The spirit of heaven is a spirit of peace, joy, comfort, consolation, and knowledge to its possessor; and all Saints who have enjoyed this spirit, (and all Saints have more or less), may know, when this peaceful spirit dwelling within them is disturbed, that something is wrong, that some false spirit is lurking within our about them, striving to enter; and if they will resist the first impulse of their disturbed feelings, and command Satan, in the name of Jesus, to depart, peace will instantly be restored to their souls.
Now that is very simple, isn't it, brothers and sisters? Note this:

_It is not the wrongdoings of others that destroy that peace within ourselves which the world can neither give nor take away; it is our own wrongs which cause that peaceful spirit to leave us; and would to God that this truth were indelibly imprinted on the heart and recollection of every Saint._

How often have you blamed someone else because you had a bad spirit -- something your husbands have done or said, sisters; brethren, something that you may have been disturbed by what has been said by those who preside over you. You blame it on to them.

_It is your own wrongs or evil spirits that destroy your peace, and not the wrongs of your friend or neighbor. Know ye, all ye Saints, if the peace of heaven and a foretaste of the blessings of the celestial world are not continually with you, there is something wrong within, some foul spirit has got possession of yourself, and the quicker you dispossess it the better._

_Carry out this principle, and what will be the result? Every Saint will live by his creed, and "mind his own business." Every dear wife will look with a zealous Not jealous,

...eye towards the happiness and welfare of her dear husband, and if she is tempted to think he is doing wrong, she will say, _Get thee behind me, Satan, that is none of my business, I will do right, that is enough for me, and I shall have peace in my soul._ And so continue to do, till he has done so wrong that forbearance is no longer a virtue, then give him a divorce and do better if you can;

But, you better not consider that till you know he has lost his Priesthood.

...but while you live with him, live in peace, and keep jealousy out of doors; if you don't you will always have hell within, and devils enough to carry it on. _The moment you are jealous that your husband is wrong, That is quite an expression, isn't it -- "jealous that your husband is wrong"._

..._that moment you are miserable; that misery is proof positive that you yourself are wrong, for it destroys your peace._

That is the reason. Now there is a principle involved here, brothers and sisters, a Priesthood principle. If the lesser places herself in a position to rebel against, or criticize the greater authority -- which is her husband, bearing the holy Priesthood -- you can put it down you are actuated by an evil spirit. That is the nature of Priesthood, and the order of things. The same applies to the brethren with their file leaders.

The greater had better be careful that they don't answer her according to her own folly, or he will be like her, actuated by the same spirit. Brethren, I believe you will be in the same position if they can get into that condition. You can put it down it is a false spirit which is dictating such a person. They stand in rebellion or in criticism to the greater authority.

Jealous husbands are quite as bad, and a little less excusable, (if there can be any excuse), than jealous wives. Husbands, if your wives do wrong, teach them better, if they are willing to be taught, and if they are not, keep out of their way till they are willing, and no quarrelling betwixt you.

It takes two to make a fight, doesn't it? That is what I thought.

You need not fret your soul because your dear wife does wrong. Don't let the devil destroy your peace and cause the Holy Ghost to depart from you, because your wife has given way to a bad spirit. Show yourself a man of God, be at peace with yourself, pray for her, and when she has been buffeted by the devil long enough she will get tired of him, leave him, and return to you.

That is quite a picture, isn't it? And there is a word here for husbands.

Some husbands are so mighty big because they are the head, that the wife has no room in the house; if she thinks, she thinks wrong; if she speaks, she speaks wrong; if she acts, she acts wrong; she can't do a right thing for the life of her; and do what she will, no matter, she is as likely to get a cuffed ear as anything else, and a little more so; and if she should ask forgiveness, she would meet with the consoling retort from her dear lord, "Yes, and you will do the same thing again next minute." Why all this? Because the dear husband, the great lord of the house, has got so many devils in him, they make him so big there is not room for anybody else in that house."

The sisters don't take a position to judge on that situation. (laughter) You do what it says before.

The things of which we speak are but too common among the nations of Christendom; and too much of them have been brought together among the Saints; but it is time for Saints to stop such things. Husbands, love and cherish your wives, as you ought; give them their place, their rights, their dominion, that they may act upon their agency, as you do on yours; and quit your fretting, and snarling, and quarrelling with them, if you ever did it. What! a man quarrel with himself? Yes, just as well as quarrel with his wife -- 'tis all the same.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 1:402  1965  Canada

Cardston, Canada
1965
Family Government

I feel today, brothers and sisters, to speak of wives and children, setting in order our houses. This has been a subject of discourses by this Priesthood since I became acquainted with the work, and it is still very, very needful. It is still critical, if you please, as far as the condition of this work and people is concerned.

Perhaps, as an introduction to this, it might be well to read the word of the Lord, so we have a firm basis for the discussion, which I pray the Lord will help me to do under the influence of His Spirit.

D.& C. 132

19. And again, verily I say unto you, if a man marry a wife by my word, which is my law, and by the new and everlasting covenant, and it is sealed unto them by the Holy Spirit of promise, by him who is anointed, unto whom I have appointed this power and the keys of this priesthood; and it shall be said unto them -- Ye shall come forth in the first resurrection; and if it be after the first resurrection, in the next resurrection; and shall inherit thrones, kingdoms, principalities, and powers, dominions, all heights and depths -- then shall it be written in the Lamb's Book of Life, that he shall commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, and if ye abide in my covenant, and commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, it shall be done unto them in all things whatsoever my servant hath put upon them, in time, and through all eternity; and shall be of full force when they are out of the world; and they shall pass by the angels, and the gods, which are set there, to their exaltation and glory in all things, as hath been sealed upon their heads, which glory shall be a fulness and a continuation of the seeds forever and ever.

This is Celestial Marriage. This is the Holy Order, the Family Order of Heaven with which we are dealing, brothers and sisters. Now I ask you, are we treating it lightly, or aren't we? A little further:

63. But if one or either of the ten virgins, after she is espoused, shall be with another man, she has committed adultery, and shall be destroyed; for they are given unto him to multiply and replenish the earth, according to my commandment, and to fulfil the promise which was given by my Father before the foundation of the world, and for their exaltation in the eternal worlds, that they may bear the souls of men; for herein is the work of my Father continued, that he may be glorified.

Now this is what we are dealing with, my dear brothers and sisters. He who treats it lightly is going to be dealt with, with the heavy hand of God. We cannot treat these things with impunity and escape. The Lord, by the word of our President Leroy S. Johnson, is trying to prepare a people, and this is the order through which it must be done, this highest order and law of the holy Priesthood. Under no other principle can it be done. A part of this law is the Holy United Order, as it has been called, the Order of Enoch, the order of oneness. By this means did Enoch, after three hundred years or so, bring up a people that they could be translated, taken up into heaven; and that portion of the earth prepared was a place for translated and resurrected beings.

In order for a people to be prepared, we must abide by this law, and only in the degree that we abide it will the Lord be able to obtain a people that can be used. The United Order is calculated in most minds to mean almost entirely an economic order. But I say unto you, it is more than this. It is oneness in all things. Of course, the Lord has said if we cannot be one in temporal things, we cannot be one in spiritual things. But let us combine them, for this is the truth of the matter.

Unless we are one in our families, brothers and sisters, we are not living the true order of unity, or oneness. I prefer to use the term Christ used -- "oneness" rather than "unity". This suggests to me a concept of being more closely bound together, this word "one" or "oneness". This then requires, my brothers and sisters, that a man bearing the holy Priesthood, standing at the head, must set the example, teach and act by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, which is the messenger and the power of the holy Priesthood, teaching his wives and his children by this means, that they may be pure element. I have read this statement of Lorenzo Snow many times, and I don't care to read it again particularly, except to refer to it as presenting a very beautiful picture of how we may be one in our families. It is only by having and keeping always, as our constant companion, the Holy Ghost. This is the key and the means by which this oneness is to be obtained. The more families that we have in order and are one, practicing the United Order, or the order of unity or oneness, will we have a people in the aggregate who can be used. I dare say that families who do not come up to this, when the time comes for God to act, and it must come; He may have postponed it because of His long-suffering; but there is a time beyond which it cannot go in the economy of God. Will you be among them? Or are you going to be demanding more time? Well, you can't. You will be in no position to.

I like to draw a picture as it is always appealed to me in this family order, brothers and sisters, how we can become one in our families. It has often been said in times past that the United Order is the hardest thing for men and brethren to abide, rubbing elbows with one another in economic affairs, and Priesthood affairs, because of jealousies and selfishness, covetousness, you name it. There are all kinds of means by which they find it very difficult to live the United Order, and it hasn't been practiced in full by a large enough group of people to even mention. But if we have this order of oneness in our families, I dare say a group of men will soon be prepared to live it together among brethren.

The foundation of the Holy United Order, of course, is equality, being equal in temporal things, as well as spiritual. This denotes also obedience and worthiness before we can receive like blessings. The foundation of the United Order is that each brother look after the interest of the other; seek, but not interfere with the interest of all of our brethren. Can you not see that if I am looking after Brother Quinton's interest and he is looking after mine, we are going to be one, and likewise among all of us? Now why can't this same principle apply in a family among sister wives? I give you this as a key, sisters, if you want to be happy. You will seek one another's interest rather than your own selfish interest. If they do this with full purpose of heart, they will have this oneness in a family, each of course, looking equally to the welfare and the comfort, the advancement in the holy Priesthood of their husband, not seeking to have him around any more than is needful because of the duties of their Priesthood. They should equally be desiring that their husband be laboring and advancing in the duties and the affairs of the Priesthood which devolve upon them in their obligations in sustaining the servants of God and the work of God in the earth. Here again is a desire for oneness, all desiring the same ends, forgetting self.

Certainly the law entitles us to certain blessings, but only through obedience. Sisters, let me tell you another secret. When you are sealed to a man, and I am assuming he is a good man, don't think that you are acquiring certain rights. There is no such thing. If he is a good man, your husband will love and cherish and sustain you. He is bound by his responsibilities to do this. But you don't acquire the right to it. That is his duty! You acquire, dear sisters, only duties, covenants and responsibilities, and that is all you acquire, the privilege, if you please, to come up to be a queen and a priestess to God, not the right to. You will acquire this through your obedience, through your humility and your submission, to law, to the law of your husband, if you please, who is lord and god over you. And a man should be so acting that he could be called a god over you.

If this order applied throughout all Israel, what a glorious picture -- each seeking the interest of his neighbor, each lady her sister wife, each brother his brother, all laboring together, sustaining and upholding this holy order of the Priesthood which presides over us. Then we would have a people who would be able to move as one man when God speaks through His servant, who holds the keys.

A man is bound in this holy order of matrimony to govern and control in righteousness. If a woman is entitled to any rights at all, it may be that she is entitled to be an independent being in her sphere as he is in his. Brethren, you cannot trifle with these women with impunity, and you take their virtue and this holy law; you are going to have to account for them at the bar of God, each and every one. If any of them leave, it must be because you have left them without excuse. I mean if they leave, you will have left them without excuse, and they will have no occasion against you. I have been through this, and pretty good company. I don't know what the future will hold regarding them. But, brothers and sisters, I regard it as a terrible responsibility when a daughter of God asks to come into my family to be sealed to me.
Next, brothers and sisters, the children, this continuation of the seeds through this principle. One brother put it, I think it was Brigham Young, speaking of sisters who were demanding so much of the time of their husbands, wondering where they were and what they were doing, why they were not ministering unto them, and he said, "Sisters, you wonder where you husband is and what he is doing. I ask you, where are your children?" Where are your children? He said further:

Sisters, do not ask whether you can make yourselves happy, but whether you can do your husband's will, if he is a good man. Teach your children; for you are their guardians, to act as father and mother...

Is this strange? I have heard some sisters complain that their husband wasn't a father. You have got to be both. But he has got to be father too. Let me tell you, at the peril of the salvation of your children and yourself, you must uphold that father to these children. I dare say, this one single thing, more than any other, may have been responsible for so many of the children of our former polygamist families not being in the work today -- the selfish desires of wives and mothers, carrying these sentiments and feelings over into the lives of their children, and they forever feeling to damn the principle and their father. A child's emotions and feelings will turn to the mother almost inevitably and regardless, unless she is cruel. It turns to the mother, and this is as it should be. She is their guardian. But you can do more for these children, sisters, by upholding and sustaining their father to them in everything, unless he does so wrong and so cruel that he has lost his Priesthood. Then you have a right to be released, when he has lost his Priesthood, and given to a man who can exalt you, but not until. So follow the Priesthood and the authority of the father and the husband of this family.

Teach your children; for you are their guardians, to act as father and mother to them until they are out of your care. The teachings and examples of our mothers have formed, to a great extent, our characters and directed our lives. This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood,

Sisters act by the power of the Priesthood indeed. You act under the authority and power of the Priesthood of your husband. When you teach them and direct them, as he teaches and directs you, you are acting under his Priesthood, and by the power of it, as Brigham Young says. But you don't hold it. Don't get the impression that you do.

...to direct the child until it is of a proper age, and then hand it over to the husband and father, and into the hands of God,

Don't cling onto it. You should be teaching your daughters that when the time comes for them to be sealed to a man, that it is necessary in the affairs of that man's conduct of his family, to not seek after her. She is gone out of your jurisdiction, both father and mother, and into the jurisdiction of her husband.

Fathers and mothers, in raising a son, you should teach them that when the time comes that they are worthy to bear the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, you are ready then and there to turn them over to President Johnson, to take direction from then on in the matters and affairs of the holy Priesthood. He may remain in your household and you may have some direction as to his incomings and outgoings, and he must follow the order of the house, if he is a righteous boy; and bearing the Priesthood he will do it because it is righteous. He need not think that he is above the jurisdiction of that family in their family affairs, but that boy should then be presented by his father to President Johnson to take direction from then on. "Here he is, Brother Johnson. He is yours."

Now surely, these sons will remain in the line if you are worthy in the patriarchal order. I don't mean to say that this isn't the case, but he becomes an agent, this son, subject to direction of his President in the Priesthood. He begins taking wives, building up a family. Then he has his own jurisdiction, and how beautiful it is. Don't be seeking him out to come back all the time to your house, necessarily. If he wants to come he will come and visit and honor his parents. But it seems to me that Brother Johnson has quite a job with some of these sons in bringing them up to be one with the Priesthood, too, the same kind of a job as with these daughters with their husbands.

Now if we will conduct ourselves this way, we will always have ever before us, brothers and sisters, the beauty and the order of the holy Priesthood. They will begin to understand it and how it functions, its rights and prerogatives and authority. I said to many of the brethren and the saints, "You show me a man who has apostatized and I will show you how and where he misunderstood, or failed to understand or to appreciate Priesthood. That is the foundation of his apostasy." If you instill these teachings into the lives of your daughters and your sons, what a glorious union we will have hereafter.
There is where the beautiful reunion will take place, not these family reunions we have, these silly gatherings of the clan.

I am only seeking for a reunion, my brothers and sisters, with those who love the same principles, abide by the same principles and laws that I love. In the day when I will receive an eternal inheritance with my Father and Elder Brother, and we will meet on the other side and fall on one another's necks and kiss each other -- that is the reunion I want, and none other.

I don't know what else to say, brothers and sisters, to give some affect and some motive in our lives to bring about this family oneness. We could spend hours on hours talking about all the details, but I seem to only be able to lay down general principles. The details you will have to work out for yourselves. If you need help, the brethren are always on hand to help. I trust, brethren, they shall not give any of these sisters the right and the occasion to appeal over your head to the Priesthood. God forbid! But they have this right if you don't conduct your family affairs properly, if you abuse them, if you are cruel to them, and prove incapable of governing them; they have this right to go to the man who sealed them, or to the President. But she shouldn't be running to them over every little affair of the family. God forbid that, too. It isn't always necessarily a reflection on a man when a woman does this, because she may be out of the way. She may be very definitely out of the way. But if a man is governing and controlling his family in righteousness, they will never have this occasion, will they? We have these things happening all the time, sisters coming to the brethren, brethren coming to the brethren over their family affairs.

Now, brothers and sisters, it is the business of this order of the Priesthood, when a sealing has been performed, to labor and see that those sealings are honored and upheld, and that they carry on in this holy family order. They are just as anxious to see you and your families exalted, almost as much, I should say, as God is anxious to see you, because they are acting for God. It is the work and the glory of God to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of His children. President Johnson in this order of the Priesthood is just as interested in you likewise, and we want to minister in righteousness and help you in every way we can. But don't take up their time with trifles. In this far-off place I think it is different from what we have down there where the Priesthood is around practically all of the time. If you have problems we are glad to help you.
So, brothers and sisters, let us all labor together in the order of oneness. Let the Spirit of God govern you, brethren, in governing your children and your wives. This last part of Section 121 bears repeating time and time and time again. It should be emblazoned in gold letters over your doors, over your mirrors, these last few verses of that wonderful Section. I add it to the ten rules that Brigham Young gave by revelation on the governing of children. Make it number 11, if you please. I don't think I go into the realm of adding to the revelations of God when I do it, because it is one. One was given to Brigham and one was given to Joseph.

If the Spirit will, I would like to read it if it will make an impression on you once again.

D.& C. 132

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood,
Bear in mind what Brigham Young said, sisters, about you acting under the power of the Priesthood, when this is read.

41. ...only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;
These are all part of love.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge,

42. ...which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;

Not in a fit of temper. When you do it in a fit of temper under your own aegis [your own determination or will], the Holy Ghost departs and false and foul spirits take over, and you are acting under that power. You are calling them to your aid, and this is as true as it is that God lives. If a wife gets one of these foul spirits, brethren, answer her not according to her own folly, or the same spirit will take possession of you, and you will have a perfect hell of happiness. I know by experience. When a woman gives way to jealousy and envy and selfishness, inviting foul, false, and delusive spirits, and then sets upon her husband, he has no right to answer that foul spirit, or it will take possession of him as sure as he does. It is better to be silent. Turn her over to the devil to be buffeted and she will come back. When she has got rid of it, and that is the only way it will be gotten rid of, is by herself. God forbid that hands of the Priesthood should be laid on her head to get rid of it, because they are invited guests. She has got to do the job herself.

So this is the way to deal with that sort of thing, brothers and sisters. So let us, as the word of the Lord tells us here: Reprove, even with sharpness. And Oh! how sharp the power of God, the Holy Ghost can be, without shouting, without screaming, in a calm and peaceful voice. I tell you, I would hate to be reproved by President Johnson when he reproves. He never raises his voice. How penetrating. It cuts like a two-edged sword. I have seen it. He is a mild man, but I have also seen him reprove by the power of the Holy Ghost. I consider it a very high compliment when my wives have told me that they would hate to be reproved in the same way, as they have been by me. They hate it. But when I have resorted to the other, it has been a perfect hell of happiness.

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

This is so necessary with a child, as well as with an adult. Let that child know what he is being reproved for. Let it be in righteousness, and if necessary, in order to gain your composure and be sure that you are reproving by the Holy Ghost, go to your closet and pray. Then come forth and do the job, and let that child know exactly why. If punishment is necessary, punish. It doesn't have to always be physical punishment. Brigham Young said corporal punishment is right under the right conditions and places and times. But Oh! Show forth love after. Let that child know that it hurts you more to administer it than it does that child to receive it. How that child will love you forever more. I know this, too, by experience. If this isn't the case, you are just as likely as not to drive the child away. It will lose confidence in you, and how tender are these feelings of children if they are not handled and governed according to this revelation. They can be driven away, and I have seen this, too. How much of that, then, will be your responsibility, I don't know. This is the judgment of God, not mine. If a child understands the Gospel and the principles and doctrines of the holy Priesthood, it is possible that he may be expected to render obedience and go on anyway, in spite of the weakness of the father and the mother, or the injustice, shall we say. I don't mean the weakness. It is really an injustice, an act of injustice, and lack of mercy and kindness and all of the other things that are products of the Holy Spirit.

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.
That is what results from this kind of treatment. They know that your faithfulness, then, is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,
These are our brothers and sisters, this household of faith, not necessarily my blood brothers and sisters, our father and mother. I have fathers in the Priesthood, and mothers in the Priesthood that I honor. But I thank God I had a faithful father and mother, whom I delight to honor. I am so grateful for all of their teachings and long-suffering with me, and I was brought up into this work by them. My father taught all of the principles of the fullness of the Gospel to me before I ever became acquainted with this work. When he finally became acquainted with this Priesthood, it wasn't necessary to change a single fundamental doctrine. Isn't this true? He only found the Priesthood, and he and I have been forever grateful for it ever since, and I delight to honor this great patriarch, patriarchal head over me.

So let our bowels be full of charity towards all men, and particularly the household of faith, those with whom we are trying to be one.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
In other words our course of life will be known to be pleasing to God, and we will have this testimony, such as Enoch and Abel had, that they pleased God. Then they had the faith and the power sufficient to lay hold on eternal life.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.
46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.
Which I pray may be the lot of this people, each and every one. The brethren desire your happiness. They desire to see you prepared for the things which are to come, and to be especially prepared right now, brothers and sisters, against the miracles and the workings of the devil, which are coming from within now, rather than from without; and they will be practiced upon us without impunity if we will let them in. Pray day and night from this time forth. I call upon you, my brothers and sisters, to obtain the gift of discernment of spirits, one of the many gifts of the Holy Ghost. Pray for discernment of spirits. Pray for wisdom, knowledge, and for the power to obey the counsels of the holy Priesthood. Submit yourselves, sisters, to your husbands. Brethren, submit yourselves to the Priesthood, children to your parents. We will be that one people, in Canada, in Salt Lake, in Colorado City, in Jerusalem, in Mexico, or wherever the saints are, over whom this Priesthood has jurisdiction. God bless you to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:415  February 7, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 7, 1965
Keep the Spirit of God; Lecture Five; D.& C. 93

I hope the Spirit of God will actuate what I may say tonight in connection with that which has already been given. To me, my brothers and sisters, the grand secret to accomplish these things is to get and keep the Spirit of God. He who is most skillful, most faithful in doing this will be like God, because the Holy Spirit is the attributes of God. Every Prophet who has counseled the saints and been sent forth to do the will of the Father and His Kingdom upon the earth has called upon the saints to get and keep the Spirit of God. When we are without that Spirit, then having once enjoyed it, there is only one other spirit and power that can take possession and direct us, and that is the devil. When we don't have the Spirit of God, we are going to be acting under the principles of the natural man, which is an enemy to God.

So, my brothers and sisters, if we will just get this grand key and secret and labor every moment of our lives through our faith, lay hold on this gift, which has been given to us by the laying on of hands of the holy Priesthood. We would do well to remember that more. It is a gift of God, and this, too, has come by the Priesthood. Then we will be perfect in our faith and be perfect as God has called upon us to be in our sphere. We will be one.

The Holy Ghost is the spirit of oneness. There is no other spirit by which we can become one. The Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit, the Spirit of God, call it what you will, is the mind of the Father and the Son. Can we understand this? The Son received not of the fullness at the first, but line upon line and precept upon precept, received a fullness of the Holy Spirit through His obedience, through His dependability, and through His great faith. These things that Brother Timpson so carefully laid before us is a matter of our faith.

I don't know how many times I have gone over this, but I feel impelled to do it again. And if the Lord will help me, I will go into Section 93 to help us further. Speaking of the Godhead:

Lecture Five

2. ...the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; There is the key. It is shed forth only upon all who believe on His name and keep all of His commandments. Obedience.

2. ...and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; There is only one heir of God, and that is Jesus Christ. Those who become like Him will be joint heirs, but even they will have to be adopted with Jesus Christ, to inherit the same glory and power.

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, I take this literally, brothers and sisters, being transformed or converted, changed into the same image or likeness, if you please, in character principally. But have you ever noticed how two people actuated by the same spirit, the Spirit of God, become almost alike in their countenance? Have you ever noticed this? I have seen it among living persons today and in times past.

2. ...even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Ghost are one.

Section 93 tells us further about this. If going over this a little more in detail, and I have before, will be of help to this, I pray the Lord will distill it upon our souls.

D.& C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;
2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --
4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness,
A fullness of what? The fullness of the Holy Ghost, the Holy Spirit, which is the mind of the Father and the Son.

4. ...and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.
5. I was in the world and received of my Father, and the works of him were plainly manifest.

11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.
12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace;
Again the pattern that we all must follow. He even being the Son, had to obtain it on the same principles.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;
14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.
Why? Because He was made flesh, and He was the Son because of the flesh. Mortality was put upon Him, as it is upon us, though He was also Divine. But He learned obedience by the things He suffered, and no one suffered greater contradictions and sufferings than He did, because of His greater capacity.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;
17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.
18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.
19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

Know what you worship. If anything was ever revealed to my mind, brothers and sisters, is that grand truth involved here. That which makes a man a God is a fullness of the Holy Spirit, which He received a fullness of as He went on. And this is the thing that we have got to come to understanding upon, brothers and sisters, if we are going to obtain the Holy Ghost and be governed and guided by it.

19. ...that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.
20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.
21. And now, verily I say unto you, I was in the beginning with the Father, and am the Firstborn;
22. And all those who are begotten through me are partakers of the glory of the same, and are the church of the Firstborn.
23. Ye were also in the beginning with the Father; that which is Spirit, even the Spirit of truth;
24. And truth is knowledge of things as they are, and as they were, and as they are to come;
25. And whatsoever is more or less than this is the spirit of that wicked
26. The Spirit of truth is of God. I am the Spirit of truth, and John bore record of me, saying: He received a fulness of truth, yea, even of all truth; Because of His obedience and fulfilling every law and becoming like His Father, and doing nothing but what He saw His Father do, and keeping every commandment that His Father gave; this is how He received a fullness.

27. And no man receiveth a fulness unless he keepeth his commandments.

28. He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things.

29. Man was also in the beginning with God. Intelligence, or the light of truth, was not created or made, neither indeed can be.

30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.

Jesus Christ, being one with the Father, obtained the greatest of freedom, because He was like Him, and the Father could depend upon Him. He was independent in His sphere. Everyone who attains unto this will be independent in his sphere. There is no greater freedom or liberty than the truth. In the truth we shall be made free. Why? Because we become like God, and He then can depend upon us in all things and at all times.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.

32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;

34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.

This is why, under the great plan, we came and received these bodies. The spirit that existed with God in the beginning rejoiced that he could receive it, and then was given the opportunity to become like the Father through His Spirit, or the mind of the Father, which emanates from Himself, and issues forth from Himself, as Brigham Young put it.

35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy
We are sent here, brothers and sisters, to perfect and purify and make this body into the image of God, the spirit having the ascendancy and being given the gift of the Holy Ghost by which to accomplish it. That which is defiled He will destroy. Here again is the doctrine of dissolution. If we come not up to receive that which was intended under the plan, we will have to go back. We will either increase or we will go back. That vessel which is not increasing sooner or later will have to be put back into its native element, into the source from which it came.

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth. This will be the glory of man, who becomes like God, by having a fullness of light and truth.

37. Light and truth forsake that evil one. That is the only way we can put down the devil, is to obtain a fullness of light and truth, and become like God through this great gift.

38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

We can obtain it, but we can lose it. We obtain it through obedience; we lose it through disobedience. It is just that simple. He who can continue and endure to the end, day in and day out, will obtain this fullness, line upon line and precept upon precept, grace for grace.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

Then he goes on to tell, after this marvelous preamble, an explanation of truth and light, that we are to raise our children in light and truth. Certainly we have got to save ourselves, exalt ourselves through our obedience and becoming like God. But we are going to be held accountable for the lives of our children, these who are born under the holy covenant of marriage, these choice spirits that are reserved to this time. If we do not set the proper example, teaching them by example and by precept, and leave them without excuse in every way whatsoever, we are going to be held accountable. Brethren, we have the same responsibility towards our wives.

The only way that this is to be accomplished is to get and keep the Holy Spirit. The gift of the Holy Ghost will be our constant guide and companion. These attributes of the Spirit again, I repeat, are set out very beautifully in Section 121.

D. & C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

This is the household of faith, and especially your own household, brothers and sisters. Let there be true love and charity there first and foremost, and brethren for one another in the bonds of the holy Priesthood. This is the household of faith for us.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;

This is the true secret of obtaining confidence, brothers and sisters, exercising this great gift of the Holy Ghost and having it as our constant companion, and through obedience we will obtain the confidence of God; and then this shall be the result:

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.
Ye shall become Gods, having the same mind with the Father and the Son; Goddesses, having the same mind with your husband and lord. Brothers and sisters, may we labor with our faith to obtain this great gift, and be prepared for the blessings to come for the faithful, that we may be endowed and blessed in the holy House of God, and become that great nucleus of a people that has been prophesied of, to be used in setting in order the House of God when Joseph shall be sent forth to do this great work. I pray that we may be one and be useful vessels of righteousness in the hands of God, through His servants, and I ask it in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:423  February 21, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 21, 1965
Testimony of the Godhead and Priesthood

I am grateful to be here again tonight, brothers and sisters, and to mingle my voice with my brethren in exhortation and in testimony of the truth. I pray that the Spirit of God will actuate my remarks.

I feel nothing but a spirit of gratitude and testimony tonight, and feel like bearing it. I am so grateful for the teachings of my father, as I have contemplated my past life, of the knowledge and teaching that were committed to me through him; and that he was the instrument in bringing me into the light of the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel; that he taught me the fundamental principles of life and salvation and the doctrines of the holy Priesthood. I am grateful to know that Adam, or Michael, is my Father and God, and that He made it possible for me, and all of us, to be here to receive these bodies, to redeem them and bring them back into His presence if we will but obey all of His commandments. I know that Jesus is the Christ, the Only Begotten and Firstborn of the Father, the Redeemer of my soul, the Author of my salvation if I will obey and keep His commandments. I am so grateful to know God when there is such ignorance and darkness upon the face of the land. I am grateful for the Lord having sent His servant Joseph Smith, Jun. I know he is a Prophet of God and a revealer of the knowledge of the Father and the Son, Their Witness and Testator, the Holy Ghost, if you please. And I am grateful that there was handed down through him to the Prophet John Taylor, who was reserved for a special purpose in God to become the instrument of a special dispensation of which we and this Priesthood are a part.

I am grateful that we had such a man as Lorin C. Woolley and his father John to bridge the gap and to bring forth, under the command of God, this latter time, this latter work in which we are engaged. I know these are Prophets of the living God, and that John Y. Barlow and Leroy Johnson are their legal successors. I am grateful for this knowledge, and I testify of their truth to you, and call upon you to repent, and myself likewise, to go forth in greater diligence in serving God and building up His Kingdom and establishing His Priesthood, which I bear in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:424  February 28, 1965  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
February 28, 1965
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Loyalty to the Prophet; D.& C. 88

This is indeed an inspiring sight, my brothers and sisters, and I am delighted to be here, and desire with all my heart to fulfill this assignment to our mutual edification. To this end I desire and require the Spirit of God, and an interest in your faith and prayers. I was equally moved and inspired last evening at the dinner for the High School students as I looked upon this group of young people. The words that came to my mind were that this is the Hope of Israel, Zion's Army. What a marvelous blessing and a privilege it is for you young people to come under the direction and instruction of the Priesthood in your daily school work in the process of learning.

I am sure that in the Academy the injunction that was given by Brigham Young to Karl G. Maeser is being carried out. You are all probably familiar with that story. When Brother Maeser was assigned to open the Brigham Young Academy in Provo, he went to the President for instructions, asking what he had in mind. He told him a simple and perfect truth, "Teach the young people of Zion by the Holy Ghost." I feel that that is being carried out in this fine Academy. The spirit and influence that I feel among these young people, I am sure, is a preparation which our Father is making for the further advancement of this people. Above all I would say to you young people, stay close to the source of your blessings that you are now receiving.
One of the grandest things I have heard of or read of is the blessing that was pronounced upon the head of Heber C. Kimball by the voice of the Spirit. He said, "Blessed art thou, Heber, for thou has followed the words of My servant Joseph." His great loyalty and deep friendship which was in the order of friends, of course, was a very great example for all Latter-day Saints and children of Israel to follow. That same love that existed between John the Beloved and the Savior must have existed between Heber and Joseph, and later that same spirit of loyalty and faith was seen in the character of that man as he followed the words and instruction and direction of the next legal successor in the holy Priesthood, Brigham Young. This, my dear brothers and sisters, is an example of the spirit of brotherhood and the spirit of the holy Priesthood which we should cultivate.

The same spirit and attitude should be in the families. As I have said many times, it would be greater love, unity, and loyalty in the family if each member would abide in their covenants and have themselves in their daily lives the sole object of magnifying the holy Priesthood from the man who stands at the head of that family. If all Israel would do the same with the one man who stands at the head, we would have a people who were indeed one. If this is not attained, we will not have such a blessed people. This seems so beautiful, and I wonder why we don't abide in it more; why we don't see this principle and follow it more perfectly.

The power of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, by which every bearer of the same must act and move and have his being in the governing of his family, as you see it manifest in the administration and labors of President Johnson to this people. I am sure this people do not realize the exertions that are made in their behalf by President Johnson and his Council, or I think they would do better.

Many of us need to get our loyalty straightened out. If we would do this at the inception when we make covenants in the bonds of holy matrimony and the bonds of the holy Priesthood, we would be able to follow through in the lines along which I have spoken.

I would like to read a little in Section 88, which I feel impressed would be of some help to us. In Section 84 we have the wonderful revelation on Priesthood, the preamble of which tells us that the New Jerusalem, the City of Zion, should be built in this generation. Not all this generation would pass until it was built. Section 88, which was designated by the Prophet, the "Olive Leaf", sent out to the saints, and more particularly those in Zion, we have these beautiful truths which should govern us:

D. & C. 88

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord unto you who have assembled yourselves together to receive his will concerning you:
2. Behold, this is pleasing unto your Lord, and the angels rejoice over you; the alms of your prayers have come up into the ears of the Lord of Sabaoth, and are recorded in the book of the names of the sanctified, even them of the celestial world.

What a wonderful thing, brothers and sisters, if we could have this word of the Lord come to this people. But we have these words of the Lord to comfort us and strengthen us and give us something to labor for and exert our faith toward.

3. Wherefore, I now send upon you another Comforter, even upon you my friends, that it may abide in your hearts, even the Holy Spirit of promise; which other Comforter is the same that I promised unto my disciples, as is recorded in the testimony of John.
4. This Comforter is the promise which I give unto you of eternal life, even the glory of the celestial kingdom;

This other Comforter I speak of is the promise of eternal life by the Savior Himself. In this revelation this promise was given to the saints and is still held out to the saints if they will be faithful.

4. ...even the glory of the celestial kingdom;
5. Which glory is that of the church of the Firstborn, even of God, the holiest of all, through Jesus Christ his Son --

6. He that ascended up on high, as also he descended below all things, in that he comprehended all things, that he might be in all and through all things, the light of truth;
7. Which truth shineth. This is the light of Christ. As also he is in the sun, and the light of the sun, and the power thereof by which it was made.
8. As also he is in the moon, and is the light of the moon, and the power thereof by which it was made;
9. As also the light of the stars, and the power thereof by which they were made;
10. And the earth also, and the power thereof, even the earth upon which you stand.
11. And the light which shineth, which giveth you light, is through him who enlighteneth your eyes, which is the same light that quickeneth your understandings;
12. Which light proceedeth forth from the presence of God to fill the immensity of space --

This is the Holy Spirit. In the words of Brigham Young, he said, "The Spirit centers in God Himself, and issues forth from Himself to all His creations, and is the light by which they are governed and the power thereof," and we are a part of it. We stand upon the Lord's footstool and enjoy these blessings which come to us from the holy Priesthood through the laying on of hands, the precious gift of the Holy Ghost, by which we are made one.

13. The light which is in all things, which giveth life to all things, which is the law by which all things are governed, even the power of God who sitteth upon his throne, who is in the bosom of eternity, who is in the midst of all things.
14. Now, verily I say unto you, that through the redemption which is made for you is brought to pass the resurrection from the dead.

15. And the spirit and the body are the soul of man.
16. And the resurrection from the dead is the redemption of the soul.

17. And the redemption of the soul is through him that quickeneth all things, in whose bosom it is decreed that the poor and the meek of the earth shall inherit it.
18. Therefore, it must needs be sanctified from all unrighteousness, that it may be prepared for the celestial glory;

This earth upon which we stand, my brothers and sisters, is what is being spoken of.

19. For after it hath filled the measure of its creation, it shall be crowned with glory, even with the presence of God the Father;
20. That bodies who are of the celestial kingdom may possess it forever and ever; for, for this intent was it made and created, and for this intent are they sanctified.

21. And they who are not sanctified through the law which I have given unto you, even the law of Christ, must inherit another kingdom, even that of a terrestrial kingdom, or that of a telestial kingdom.
22. For he who is not able to abide the law of a celestial kingdom cannot abide a celestial glory.
That is plain, isn't it, brothers and sisters? Zion cannot be redeemed on any other principle than the law of the Celestial Kingdom.

23. And he who cannot abide the law of a terrestrial kingdom cannot abide a terrestrial glory.
24. And he who cannot abide the law of a telestial kingdom cannot abide a telestial glory; therefore he is not meet for a kingdom of glory. Therefore he must abide a kingdom which is not a kingdom of glory.

25. And again, verily I say unto you, the earth abideth the law of a celestial kingdom, for it filleth the measure of its creation, and transgresseth not the law--
26. Wherefore, it shall be sanctified; yea, notwithstanding it shall die, it shall be quickened again, and shall abide the power by which it is quickened, and the righteous shall inherit it.

Will we be able to remain upon it in the presence of our Father?

27. For notwithstanding they die, they also shall rise again, a spiritual body.
28. They who are of a celestial spirit shall receive the same body which was a natural body; even ye shall receive your bodies, and your glory shall be that glory by which your bodies are quickened.

29. Ye who are quickened by a portion of the celestial glory shall then receive of the same, even a fulness.
30. And they who are quickened by a portion of the terrestrial glory shall then receive of the same, even a fulness.
31. And also they who are quickened by a portion of the telestial glory shall then receive of the same, even a fulness.
32. And they who remain shall also be quickened; nevertheless, they shall return again to their own place, to enjoy that which they are willing to receive, because they are not willing to enjoy that which they might have received.
33. For what doth it profit a man if a gift is bestowed upon him, and he receive not the gift? Behold, he rejoices not in that which is given unto him, neither rejoices in him who is the giver of the gift.
Now, let us put these same conditions and principles to ourselves. This revelation goes on to recite how every kingdom has a condition and law, and everyone who inherits those creations are bound by those same conditions.

Are we preparing to be quickened to inherit a Celestial Glory? Are we in a condition today to be called home? If not, let us repent. Let us go forward and become that choice people. Let us be prepared to redeem Zion — first of all to redeem this place, to redeem ourselves and our families — and become exalted in the presence of God; which I pray we all may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:430  March 7, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
March 7, 1965
Pruning the People; Confidence Earned Through Obedience; Test of Wealth

It is good to be with you again, my dear brothers and sisters, and bear my testimony of the nature and truth of this work in which we are engaged. I am so grateful for the associations I have in this work — family and true friends which constitute the greatest wealth, eternal riches. When I contemplate the tremendous blessings that are attached to the glorious principles of the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, I can't help but give glory and praise to God for His grace and mercies and great blessings unto me and mine, and that He always sees me through. And I know that He sees you and all of us through as we exercise our faith and show by our obedience that we truly love Him.

I was contemplating, as I sat here earlier, the make-up of this group of people, and recalled back in the early forties, the prophecy of my father, David. I remember so well as he spoke in the large living room at Lincoln Street when we were holding meetings there, he prophesied that a group of people, as it was then constituted, would greatly change, and that most of them wouldn't be there that he was speaking with that day. I am sure that others can recall this prophecy, and it has taken place. Within ten years a great test and trial came to the people — one in particular, of course, and took a great many — and the face of this group has indeed changed. But I am grateful to note that in the last ten or fifteen years it has remained rather stable. Some still come and some still go, and this process will continue; and out of those who come the Lord is indeed blessing where they endure in faith to the end; and I am grateful to see the work of the Lord progressing in this direction.

We have much much further to go, my brothers and sisters, and I am sure that it is true that this people have got to the point now where they can have it just as they want it, according to their desires. He has called and called and called, and He has given warnings after warnings, and it is now up to us. I think after a certain length of time, the Lord places us pretty much on our own. Certainly His grace and His love will reach out to those who endure in faith and in diligence as they obey the laws and ordinances of the Gospel.

I think, my dear brothers and sisters, one of the great principles that we need to bring into operation in our lives is the principle of confidence. Heber C. Kimball called it faith -- it is a synonym for faith -- but in its connotation and our relations, particularly in our families and with the Priesthood, let us consider the great importance of this great principle. In the first place, the Lord sets us up in business, so to speak. As we have received and accepted the Gospel and the Priesthood, given us our companions and begins to give us children, He has given us a solid foundation in having perpetuated the holy Priesthood and highest order of it, and granted this same power in the Priesthood to the head of the family. Now, here is something in which to have confidence. One of the great basis of our going forward in confidence is the fact that we have such men as President Johnson and those who preceded him in the Presidency of Priesthood, in whom we have full justification to give our entire confidence and faith, because their works and their words by the inspiration of the Almighty have borne fruit in our lives; and the thing we brethren need, above all else, is to obtain the confidence of President Johnson. The things wives need, above all else, is to obtain the confidence of their husbands. It must first be earned, my dear sisters, my dear brethren. It must be earned. As I say, God, in His mercy and in His grace, sets us up in business, and then the next move, the next order of things, is for us to render obedience to things that He has given us; and by this means, then, we obtain the confidence of our legitimate head; and this is the secret of a solid happy family life. This is the secret of a happy man engaged in the duties and obligations of the holy Priesthood -- staying close to our head, rendering obedience to all that is given to us by the inspiration of God through the Priesthood, whether it be the Priesthood above us, brethren, or whether it be the Priesthood of the head of a family.

I commend again to you dear sisters, to remember that it is Priesthood that holds you and binds you to the man that you have been given to. It is Priesthood which binds us together in the bonds of the holy Priesthood as brethren. God is Priesthood. The very essence of our labors is to become like Him, and if we exercise and magnify the holy Priesthood, then we will become like Him. All of this is included in the admonitions that we have been receiving for many, many years now, that we change the nature of our character. But, brethren, I want to commend to you the solid foundation upon which to accomplish this, and that is through our concept and understanding of the Priesthood and magnifying and abiding in it, and abiding in the covenants that we make by virtue of that Priesthood. Only in this way can we become one in our families and as a people. Only by becoming one can we be used, as the brethren have spoken of here before tonight. We shouldn't aspire to position, but we should wrestle with the Lord, as Jacob did of old to obtain his blessings, by the exercise of our faith and as the Lord has promised us. In the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, "According to our faith, so shall be our blessings." It is just that simple. We have got to be faithful to our husbands, sisters; and brethren, we have got to be faithful to the Priesthood over us. In this way we are faithful to God, because it is through that source that we receive our direction and counsel and all of our blessings. I cannot conceive of anybody coming into this work and not staying close to the source of the blessings that are offered. It just seems inconceivable that men can come in and then go out and become a law to themselves. But it goes on, this process.

I pray that this body of people that sits before me here tonight, together with all of the others in the other parts of the vineyards of the Lord, will continue faithful in building up the Kingdom of God, become that one people, that nucleus, that righteous nucleus of the Millennium. I can promise you that we have yet other tests. Brother Barlow used to say that besides the tests that would be brought upon us by the Priesthood, one of the greatest would be a test of wealth. That has partly taken a toll before this time, but I am satisfied we are going to have more of it. We are going to have a test that is going to divide this people again, I am certain, and I pray that we will stand firm and true. It is up to us now, brothers and sisters. How badly do we want our salvation and exaltation? How badly, how much of a price, I should say, are we willing to pay for the confidence of God through His servants and our legitimate heads? Let us continually ask ourselves this question, and let us do all that we do to the end, that we may magnify the Priesthood in our midst, abide in the covenants that we have entered into by virtue of that Priesthood, and come up to see the face of God through making ourselves like Him. May we do this I pray, in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 1:434  March 21, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
March 21, 1965
The Prophet Holds the Keys of Priesthood
Independent of the Voice of the People

It is good to be here again, brothers and sisters. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers in what I may say, and that the Lord will direct them. I have been impressed with the necessity of a repetition of something that has been read to this congregation, and other congregations before, which would bear repetition at this time, and feel to read from Brigham Young on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstones of the Salt Lake Temple, April 6, 1853. He digressed from the subject of the laying of the cornerstones in this wise, and I am glad he did, though he apologized a little later for having done so. As a preamble he makes the statement that when they laid the cornerstones of the Kirtland Temple, they had to take fifteen, sixteen-year-old boys and ordain them Elders. This was before they had a quorum of Twelve Apostles, or High Priests, or any of the other organizations of the Priesthood. He said Joseph presided over the Church by the voice of the people.

JD 1:133   Brigham Young  April 6, 1853  SLC

Perhaps it may make some of you stumble, were I to ask you a question -- Does a man's being a Prophet in this Church prove that he shall be the President of it? I answer, no! A man may be a Prophet, Seer, and Revelator, and it may have nothing to do with his being the President of the Church. Suffice it to say, that Joseph was the President of the Church, as long as he lived: the people chose to have it so. He always filled that responsible station, by the voice of the people. Can you find any revelation appointing him the President of the Church? The keys of the Priesthood were committed to Joseph, to build up the Kingdom of God on the earth, and were not to be taken from him in time or in eternity; but when he was called to preside over the Church, it was by the voice of the people; though he held the keys of the Priesthood, independent of their voice.

It is this power and independent order that is presiding over this people. Thank God it has been preserved and perpetuated for the purposes of the Lord.

I want the Elders of Israel to reflect upon this subject. I would be glad to teach you something, that you may not get into such snarls as heretofore. You make me think of a child that is trying to make rope of a parcel of old thrums, until he gets the whole into snarls. It is so with the Elders of Israel as touching their ideas of the Priesthood.

I have often said that the basis of a man's apostasy from this work is his lack of understanding of Priesthood. If we could just get this fundamental principle in our minds, brothers and sisters, I am sure we would render greater obedience and be more faithful, and have more progress in the work of the Lord. The main point is this, brothers and sisters:

Now hear me, and I will try to talk so that you can understand. I will presume to go a little further than I did, with regard to the President of the Church, and say to this people, a man might have visions, the angels of God might administer to him, he might have revelations, and see as many visions as you could count; he might have the heavens opened to him, and see the finger of the Lord, and all this would not make him the President of the Church, or an Elder, a High Priest, an Apostle; neither would it prove that he was even a Saint: something else is wanted to prove it. Why I mention this, is because of the frailty, weakness, and short-sightedness of the people. If a man should come and tell you he had had a vision, and could appear to substantiate his testimony that he had had the heavens opened to him, you would be ready to bow down and worship him; Ask yourselves if this is not the case in many instances.

...you would be ready to bow down and worship him; and he might be, at the same time, perfectly calculated to destroy the people -- one of the biggest devils on earth. He would appear to be one of the finest of men, to be honest and unassuming, and come with all the grace and generalship of the devil, which is so well calculated to deceive the people. Admit this to be the case.

If you ask me what will prove a man or woman to be a Saint, I will answer the question. "If you love me," says Jesus, "you will keep my sayings." That is the touchstone. If you love the Lord Jesus Christ, and the Father, you will keep the commandments of the Son -- you will do his will. If you neglect to do this, you may have all the visions and revelations that could be bestowed upon a mortal being, and yet be nothing but a devil. Why I use this expression is because when a man's mind is enlightened, and he turns from that light to darkness, it prepares him to be a devil. A man never knew how to be wicked, until light and truth were first made manifest to him. Then is the time for men to make their decision, and if they turn away from the Lord, it prepares them to become devils.

This is somewhat in keeping with the recent discussion by President Hammon from "The Coming Crisis". This is the sort of thing, my dear brothers and sisters, that is going to be brought to bear upon this people, and the Lord is going to put ways and means in the way of Lucifer to deceive, and to turn away; and so great will be these deceptions and illusions, and the Lord has said He would even put means in the way of the devil to delude the saints that they might believe a lie and be damned. But these are going to be the greatest deceptions that can be brought to bear by the cunning craft of the devil, as he is given a full trial of his power and strength. So beware, brothers and sisters, and cling to these correct principles. Stay close to our file leader, the source of our blessings, and we cannot go wrong. The Lord has said He would not permit His true servants to lead His people astray. Brigham Young said if they did, they would deserve to be, and that would be because of the people. The Priesthood has tried us, but if we will understand correct principles in connection with the doctrines and ordinances and the order of the holy Priesthood, then we can stand firm. And may we do so, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Canada
April 4, 1965
Family Order of Heaven

I have found and heard a great deal of inspiration here tonight, brothers and sisters, and feel to say amen. We are having a wonderful time, and if we will follow these counsels, we will come nearer to obtaining this perfection. I desire but to be an instrument in the hands of the Lord in speaking to you tonight. I feel very weak in standing in this position, and need the help of the Lord, and the faith and prayers that you may exert in my behalf.

I do not know why it keeps weighing on my mind so, as it has in recent weeks and months, this principle of the holy Priesthood in our families. If the Lord will give me utterance tonight, I would like to bear on it again in some detail, and pray that we may get the message and be edified. As a theme, I would like to read again Brother Lorenzo Snow's statement regarding family oneness.

JD 4:155  Lorenzo Snow  January 4, 1857  SLC

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, Only through the Holy Ghost, mind you, brothers and sisters.

...in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, Here is the touchstone.

...suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.
I do not know how to draw a more beautiful picture of an ideal family life and situation than that. But what do we have? Fighting, jarrings, lack of confidence, and the imparting of instructions as it is dictated by false and delusive spirits that we find in many families. There is nothing more important than our getting and keeping the Spirit of God. I am sure this is before most of us. We have it on cards, we have it in scripture, and we have it continuously and endlessly from this stand.

Now what is the means by which this is accomplished, brothers and sisters? As I have said before, the foundation of this obtaining a spirit of pure element, or this pure element in our families, is by honoring and sustaining and magnifying the holy Priesthood. Joseph Smith gave us a grand key when he said, "The Holy Ghost is God's messenger to administer in all these Priesthoods," after having described them, beginning with the greatest of all, the Priesthood of Melchizedek, which brings a man up to see the face of God, the Patriarchal Priesthood, and the Levitical Priesthood. The Holy Ghost is God's messenger in administering in all of these Priesthoods. The order and law of Celestial Marriage in this New and Everlasting Covenant in which we are engaged is an order of the Priesthood, brothers and sisters, the highest and most sacred law. Without it we cannot become Gods. Without it we cannot redeem Zion and build up the Kingdom of God. Unless we have families described as Brother Snow described it, we are not going to build up the Kingdom of God or establish His Priesthood in the earth, and God will have to go on and get another people.

We are warned, brothers and sisters, that if our Father cannot find enough people here in mortality, He can bring them from the other side to do His work. But we find a dishonoring of Priesthood, disobedience, lack of confidence. One of the things that I think we can lay as a great fault in this thing is drivings, bringing to bear oppressive measures upon wives and children, brethren, so that they cannot do anything right. John Y. Barlow spoke one of the grandest truths I have ever heard when he said, "Brethren, if you drive your families you will drive them ahead of you into the Kingdom of God, and you will wind up behind and outside." It is for a husband bearing the holy Priesthood to lead his family in love and light and truth, and bring them along behind him, with the Holy Ghost as his constant companion and guide and strength, with the power of love and faith to govern and control that family. By this means he will have the Holy Ghost as his constant companion, and his dominion will be an unending dominion in time and all eternity.

Disobedience and lack of confidence are the two most serious offenders in this thing, brothers and sisters. A father, if he is going to magnify his Priesthood -- and he cannot hold that family together without the Priesthood -- is bound to set the example. Sisters, remember that until he loses his Priesthood you are bound to follow and take direction -- and it takes a great deal to lose one's Priesthood -- with a cloak of charity around his weaknesses, and honor the Priesthood, sisters. Do you think that you are going to be magnifying any Priesthood with which you are connected, by going over his head to the brethren and the Council? Absolutely not, until he has gone far beyond. Then seek a divorce if you are worthy of it. But while you are bound to him, obey him. And brethren, teach and train them in love and faith; and then we will become pure element by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost.

I do not see how this people is going to set their families in order without applying these principles; and we are not going to be that people which will be the nucleus of the great Millennium. When our Father sees fit to send our brethren that have gone before to us to teach us, who will be worthy? For when they come, there can be no dissent, no contention. There can only be faith, a full and abiding faith in what the message is that may be given.

Brigham Young gives us another key, which I think will be worth repeating to you. This is something that we need to remember in this Celestial Law. I would first like to add another thought. We, engaged as we are in the New and Everlasting Covenant, heaven has everything to do with it, if we will be found worthy to receive it. But if we pander to passion, anger, oppressive measures, and this sort of thing, then heaven has to withdraw itself, and we are left alone to kick against the pricks; and it would be better that we had never entered into the law and received these sacred truths. Now what is the purpose of Celestial and Plural Marriage? Brigham Young says,

JD 4:56  Brigham Young  September 21, 1856  SLC

_I have told you many times that there are multitudes of pure and holy spirits waiting to take tabernacles, now what is our duty? to prepare tabernacles for them; to take a course that will not tend to drive those spirits into the families of the wicked, where they will be trained in_ wickedness, debauchery, and every species of crime. It is the duty of every righteous man and woman to prepare tabernacles for all the spirits they can; hence if my women leave, I will go and search up others who will abide the celestial law,

Heber C. Kimball once made the statement that if his wives would not obey and follow the Celestial Law, he would go wifeless before God, and receive hundreds and thousands. So, brethren, let us straighten up and understand what this is all about.

This is the reason why the doctrine of plurality of wives was revealed, that the noble spirits which are waiting for tabernacles might be brought forth. This is why it has been reserved to this time.

Sisters, do not ask whether you can make yourselves happy, but whether you can do your husband’s will, if he is a good man. Teach your children; for you are their guardians, to act as father and mother to them until they are out of your care. The teachings and examples of our mothers have formed, to a great extent, our characters and directed our lives. This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood, to direct the child until it is of a proper age,

Do you notice this, sisters? When they act by the power of the Priesthood, what Priesthood is raising up children? Yes, the Priesthood of your husband, not the Priesthood of President Johnson, though the husband receives his power and direction from President Johnson.

This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood, to direct the child until it is of a proper age, and then hand it over to the husband and father, and into the hands of God,

Doing all this as pure element. Is there a Doctrine and Covenants here? I would like to read what the Lord says is the purpose of this principle.

D.& C. 132

63. But if one or either of the ten virgins, after she is espoused, shall be with another man, she has committed adultery, and shall be destroyed; for they are given unto him to multiply and replenish the earth, according to my commandment, and to fulfil the promise which was given by my Father before the foundation of the world, and for their exaltation in the eternal worlds, that they may bear the souls of men;
That they may bear the souls of men.

63. ...for herein is the work of my Father continued, that he may be glorified.
64. And again, verily, verily, I say unto you, if any man have a wife, who holds the keys of this power, and he teaches unto her the law of my priesthood, as pertaining to these things, then shall she believe and administer unto him, or she shall be destroyed, saith the Lord your God; for I will destroy her; for I will magnify my name upon all those who receive and abide in my law.

So all through this, brothers and sisters, it is Priesthood -- the wife and mother acting in concert with her head, honoring his Priesthood, the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, if you please sisters, which is after the order of the Son of God -- obeying him as he obeys God. You do not have to obey and follow him if he is breaking the law of God, of course not. But learn to distinguish between weaknesses and sins in him. If he sins enough he will lose his Priesthood, and this is time enough to go to the brethren to receive a release.

But let us honor that which God has given us -- above all, these tender, lovely, beautiful spirits that God places in our care, for whom we have provided these tabernacles, as is spoken. Let us raise them up in light and truth by the power of the Priesthood, sisters, by the power of the Priesthood; and brethren you directing them by the power, and in the majesty, and the magnification of the holy Priesthood which you bear. We are our brother's keeper. And remember, brethren, you cannot with impunity bring reproach upon the order of Priesthood which has given you your blessings. Take care how you live day by day, lest you bring reproach upon this order of the Priesthood by your words and actions and conduct, and in failing to magnify this Priesthood which you bear, which is connected inseparably with the Priesthood which is borne by President Johnson in this order of the Priesthood in this Council. They all must work together. No man can hold you, sisters, who is not working and laboring and magnifying his Priesthood in concert with President Johnson and this order of Priesthood. What a wonderful, wonderful object we have in view, this glorious plan of the holy Priesthood in the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, this Priesthood after the order of the Son of God.
One more secret, sisters. There is nothing more destructive in the life of a child than your discouraging, or tearing down the character of their father, or expressing your jealousies, or the fact that you do not have this that another wife has, or that that another wife has, speaking against their father. Nothing is more destructive. And I suppose that that is probably the greatest reason we have not had as many come along in this order of Celestial Marriage from the older brethren in times gone by, because this was a great fault in so many of those old families. You should continually keep before those children the father-image. He may not be around so much if a man has a big family, but what a wonderful thing you can do for those children in continually upholding and sustaining their father, the only father-image they have until they come to a knowledge of God, our Father in heaven. And then we should teach them to so live that they will see Him one day. But never, never speak to your children against their father. You have them most of the time, and as Brigham Young says in what I have quoted, "You are, to the greatest extent, the architects of their character and training."

After a man has laid down the laws of the Gospel and the rules of governing and controlling children, by virtue of the holy Priesthood -- and I commend to you again the ten grand rules of governing children given by Brigham Young -- after he has done this, then it is for you to follow those instructions. Then, brethren, after she has brought them up to a point, surely you must continue through all the days of their lives, from the day they were born until this time; but to a much greater extent, fathers, to take them over and finish them off, so to speak, and present them before the Lord -- the girls to a worthy husband by the inspiration of God; and the boys, turn them over to President Johnson, feeling that you can recommend them; but not being blind to their faults and weaknesses, but help them all the day long. What a grand and glorious people this could be if we could keep this picture continuously before us. This people as a people will never be any better than its individual family dominions. God cannot use us until these families become pure element, which I pray we may be in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:444  April 18, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 18, 1965
We Lack Faith; Lecture Seven;
We Have Not Offered All in Sacrifice

RTJ 1:444 April 18, 1965 SLC

It is good to be here again, dear brothers and sisters. I again ask for your faith and prayers. I have to say that I sometimes find it difficult to draw inspiration from this people. I think it is because we are not united in our faith and our desires. I learned, too, that some of the other brethren have felt the same way and wondered if something was wrong with them. Let us come together as one people, brethren and sisters.

RTJ 1:444 - 445 April 18, 1965 SLC

I think the great lack, as always, and as ever must be, is in our faith. I would like to prove it again from the Lectures, which the Prophet Joseph Smith gave to the School of the Prophets in 1832.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and their great learned scribe, James E. Talmage, dispensed with the Lectures on Faith in the Doctrine and Covenants as not being revelations of God, therefore not of sufficient importance to the saints. As a matter of fact, they were dropped because they gave us the true and living picture of God, His attributes and the nature of the faith that is necessary to become like Him.

We will begin to see, as we study these Lectures, who God is, His attributes and character, and the very nature of the Godhead -- the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. Because they are not then praying to the true and the living God, how could they expect to be heard, and how could their faith be answered? Because they were not praying to their true God, they were praying to someone way out in the "ether," so that they could not acknowledge the truth that Adam was our Father and God, and the only God with whom we have to do.

RTJ 1:445 - 446 April 18, 1965 SLC

I did find it difficult in those early years of my experience in the Church, until my father taught me the Adam-God doctrine, to find any strength in prayer, or to exercise a true and living faith. Until I learned these sacred truths from my father, which were later confirmed by my association with this order of the Priesthood, did I find any true joy in worshiping the true and living God.

RTJ 1:445 April 18, 1965 SLC

Now brothers and sisters, a little more repeating and I think it might be well to comment upon some of these things again.

Lecture Seven

3. ...We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion instead of physical force. It is by words, instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith. God said, "Let there be light, and there was light." Joshua spake, and the great lights which God had created stood still. Elijah commanded, and the heavens were stayed for the space of three years and six months, so that it did not rain: he again commanded and the heavens gave forth rain. All this was done by faith. And the Savior says, "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, say to this mountain, 'Remove,' and it will remove; or say to that sycamine tree, 'Be ye plucked up, and planted in the midst of the sea,' and it shall obey you." Faith, then, works by words; and with these its mightiest works have been, and will be, performed.

The purpose of this Seventh Lecture is to show forth the effects of faith. If we are not receiving the proper effects of our efforts, or lack of effort, then I think our sins of omission far out number our sins of commission. It is our lack of faith, brothers and sisters, being the reason of our not enjoying the blessings and the growth and the progress that we should be having. It is our lack of faith that we do not sustain this order of the Priesthood as we should. It is because of our lack of faith that there are schisms, jarrings, and contentions, and fighting in our families. It is our lack of faith that is keeping us from being one in our families and as a people.

This can only be because we are mentally and spiritually lazy. I would like to prove this a little further. After showing forth that the visible creation was the effect of faith, and salvation is likewise the effect of faith, he goes on to say:

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed; and on this hinge turns the door of salvation.

8. ...When men begin to live by faith they begin to draw near to God; and when faith is perfected they are like him;

There is a world of truth in those few words.
8. ...when [their] faith is perfected they are like him; and because he is saved they are saved also; for they will be in the same situation he is in, because they have come to him; and when he appears they shall be like him, for they will see him as he is.

Some of the other effects of faith.

17. That it was a system of faith -- it begins with faith, and continues by faith; and every blessing which is obtained in relation to it is the effect of faith, whether it pertains to this life or that which is to come. To this all the revelations of God bear witness. If there were children of promise, they were the effects of faith.

Children of promise.

17. ...not even the Saviour of the world excepted. "Blessed is she that believed," said Elizabeth to Mary, when she went to visit her, "for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord." Luke i.45. Nor was the birth of John the Baptist the less a matter of faith; for in order that his father Zacharias might believe he was struck dumb. And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- "According to your desires so shall it be," is another way of saying the same thing. According to your faith so shall it be.

17. ...every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it. He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all,

If we lack these blessings, and I take it we are engaged in this work to obtain these blessings, then it is because of our lack of faith. First of all, it must be a living faith, which is a principle of power and action in all intelligent beings centered in the true and the living God, whose character and attributes we thoroughly understand; and knowing how that They are one, the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost. The two former being filled all in all by the fullness of that Holy Spirit, which makes them Gods; and the saints being abled by the same means that the Father and the Son became one and were one, they may be one in Them. If we are not that one people with one faith, one baptism, one Priesthood, then we are sadly lacking indeed. So great has been the information and the privileges that God has extended to this people, it is a wonder He has not spewed us out of His mouth, and gone and got another, having treated lightly so many things we have received.

Why is not our faith perfect? I submit, brothers and sisters, that basically we have not offered all in sacrifice. Not truly. I do not mean money alone, though many have withheld in their offerings. I do not mean in wives and children. Many have given them up and then gone on to apostasy. But I mean submit our feelings, this old character, this humanity in us; and be willing to change it and become converted, if you please. To become converted means to be changed over and assimilated, or begin to be in the character of God. We have not been willing to make the necessary sacrifices, giving up the spirit of the world, our old habits, desiring the things of the world above the things of God.

In this we are lacking in faith. Because our course is not pleasing to God, how can we go to Him with confidence? It is impossible. While we are at peace, we are lazy. When it comes to times of trouble and trial, God will not hear us. As He has told us, we should be anxiously engaged in a good work and not be commanded in all things. We do not have to go the brethren to be told every move to make. I count this a lack of faith, because we know what is required of us, we know what the Gospel and Priesthood entails. We have been informed, fully informed, through all these years.

Let us look inward then, brothers and sisters, and see why our faith is not going on to perfection, why we are not assimilating our characters into that of God, why we are not progressing and growing as God would have us do.

There are coming terrible tests and trials to this people. Speak of the judgments that are coming, they are going to strike at the House of God first, and then go out to all the generations and peoples and church and the nation. Will we be able to stand? We are going to be tried from within and from without, for God will have a tried people.
May we stand firm and true. May we get behind the Priesthood of God. As a principle, brothers and sisters, if nothing else, as a principle, let us have respect and not treat lightly this order of Priesthood. God will not be mocked and He will have a tried people, which we may be, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:449  May 9, 1965  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
May 9, 1965
Reported by Marjorie Holm
We Must Know Our Course Pleases God

It is good to be here today and see this inspiring sight, and I want nothing less than that which was prayed for by Patriarch Johnson. The words of the Savior seem to be in my ears: "O ye of little faith." This is, in general, the condition of the people, and in the light of the blessings and opportunities which our Father has offered unto us. I dare say the principle element of faith that is lacking is that our course of life is not pleasing toward God. The Lord has said, "If ye do what I say, or if your course of life is pleasing unto Me, I am bound. If ye do not this, then ye have no promise." I figure it might be well to read those words in full:

D.& C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.
2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads.
3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required; and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

This people has received great light these many years. It runs into generations now, brothers and sisters.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.

These refer to the saints.
5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all: Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;
6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.
7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

How many of us are there who console ourselves in the thought that God will forgive us this time, and we will go and do it again, and we expect He will do it again? Each time that performance is repeated we go by the wayside until our faith is lost entirely.

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;
9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.
10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

If it be the latter, how can we go before the Lord; how can we go to His servants and expect to have our prayers and desires answered with any degree of confidence whatsoever? But if it be the former, if we do what He says, what great power we may have with God, and what great joy our file leaders will have in us in giving us greater and greater blessings and more and more freedom because of our obedience, and the life and glory of the Lord upon us continually.

If our course is pleasing to our Father, we are told we must be willing, and will sacrifice all things of an earthly nature, our lives, if necessary, our possessions, if they are opposed to God and the course that you must follow. And after this and above all, it is required that we sacrifice our feelings, our traditions, and all things that are opposed to God and His way and commandments. These must be sacrificed, and we must come out of the world, leaving Babylon behind, and lay all at the feet of the Apostles, and be ready then to submit to all things that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God through His servants.

Heber C. Kimball, in speaking to the saints, told them he had brethren coming to Brigham Young asking if there was not something the Lord had for them by way of revelation, asking the will of God concerning them. "I will give you a revelation," he says, "that is the word and will of the Lord to you, that you seek to follow the counsels of President Young." This is unto all. Why do we have to be continually scolded, brothers and sisters, if it isn't because we are not doing this thing? If we would follow his counsel and directions, our course would be pleasing to God, our confidence would wax strong, and our faith become perfect. Walking in obedience to the commandments, our course would be pleasing to God, our character would become like Him, and we would be in the condition of having our calling and election made sure through the more sure word of prophecy, sealed with the Holy Spirit of Promise.

Brothers and sisters, I am afraid that one of the things that stands so much in our way is what we call "weaknesses", if not sins. Certainly God will not look upon sin itself with the least degree of allowance. I am afraid too many of us look upon what are really sins and disobedience to the commandments of God, and call it "weakness".

Surely, we are required to put a cloak of charity over one another's weaknesses. Do not fall back on the old thing that so many do, saying, "Oh, these are my weaknesses; you will have to put up with them." Believe me, brothers and sisters, the Lord is not going to put up with weaknesses forever, and we cannot go before the bar of God with our sins. A few words from Robert Louis Stevenson, which I think it would be well for us to memorize:

"You cannot run away from weakness. You must sometime fight it out or perish."

Think of it. That really is the truth. Sometime you must fight it out, give it up, or perish. If so, why not now? Failing to do this, in my mind, is spiritual and mental laziness, procrastination, and in time will result in the loss of our salvation.

Let us commence, my brothers and sisters, to set our houses, our families, ourselves especially, in order. Brethren, you cannot set your families in order until you, yourselves, are first put in order and can say to your families, "Come follow me." The same with mothers of their children. What a fearful responsibility is upon us. If our course is not pleasing to God, then we are not raising our children in light and truth, and the Holy Ghost is not upon us in our families. If we could be one in all things, one with our file leader and one with our God, through the Holy Ghost being our constant guide and companion in every walk and talk of life -- I can't conceive of God being able to use us until we come to this point and arrive at this condition. I would like to read a prayer, a revelation.

D.& C. 65
1. Hearken, and lo, a voice as of one sent down from on high, who is mighty and powerful, whose going forth is unto the ends of the earth, yea, whose voice is unto men -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

2. The keys of the kingdom of God are committed unto man on the earth, and from thence shall the gospel roll forth unto the ends of the earth, as the stone which is cut out of the mountain without hands shall roll forth, until it has filled the whole earth.

3. Yea, a voice crying -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, prepare ye the supper of the Lamb, make ready for the Bridegroom.

4. Pray unto the Lord, call upon his holy name, make known his wonderful works among the people.

5. Call upon the Lord, that his kingdom may go forth upon the earth, that the inhabitants thereof may receive it, and be prepared for the days to come, in the which the Son of Man shall come down in heaven, clothed in the brightness of his glory, to meet the kingdom of God which is set up on the earth.

6. Wherefore, may the kingdom of God go forth, that the kingdom of heaven may come, that thou, O God, mayest be glorified in heaven so on earth, that thine enemies may be subdued; for thine is the honor, power and glory, forever and ever. Amen.

RTJ 1:453  May 16, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 16, 1965
Faith, Hope, and Charity; Moroni 7

It is good to be here, brothers and sisters, and I feel like having Moroni talk to you tonight -- the seventh chapter. He gave his teachings right at the end of his writings before he closed up the record and hid them in the hill, which is a message, in my view, for all time to come. It is the fundamental principles of the Gospel. By the way, I was informed that not long ago,
Joseph Fielding Smith, in speaking to an audience in the Church, and in an effort to bring the people's minds to fundamentals, made the statement to a group to several hundred, of course, or maybe it was in the thousands, I don't know -- but he made the statement that he doubted that ten percent of those in that audience could tell him or even name what the first four principles of the Gospel are. He said he wasn't going to ask for the show of hands because he knew what the result would be.

Moroni 7

20. And now, my brethren, how is it possible that ye can lay hold upon every good thing?
21. And now I come to that faith, of which I said I would speak; and I will tell you the way whereby ye may lay hold on every good thing.

22. For behold, God knowing all things, being from everlasting to everlasting, behold, he sent angels to minister unto the children of men, to make manifest concerning the coming of Christ; and in Christ there should come every good thing.

Of course, we know that the devils were cast down into the earth to give opposition in all things, so that we would know good and evil, and that has its place. But, we are here to make that great battle again, which we made there, against the forces which would destroy our souls. Now we have the teachings of the Prophets of God regarding these things.

23. And God also declared unto prophets, by his own mouth, that Christ should come.

24. And behold, there were divers ways that he did manifest things unto the children of men, which were good; and all things which are good cometh of Christ; otherwise men were fallen, and there could no good thing come unto them.

25. Wherefore, by the ministering of angels, and by every word which proceeded forth out of the mouth of God, men began to exercise faith in Christ; and thus by faith, they did lay hold upon every good thing; and thus it was until the coming of Christ.

26. And after that he came men also were saved by faith in his name; and by faith, they become the sons of God.

How simple these statements, brothers and sisters, and in the simplicity, so often, we miss the great truths that would help us.
26. ...And as sure as Christ liveth he spake these words unto our fathers, saying: Whatever thing ye shall ask the Father in my name, which is good, in faith believing that ye shall receive, behold, it shall be done unto you.

27. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, have miracles ceased because Christ hath ascended into heaven, and hath sat down on the right hand of God, to claim of the Father his rights of mercy which he hath upon the children of men?

28. For he hath answered the ends of the law, and he claimeth all those who have faith in him; He claimeth all those who have faith in Him. He is our Advocate with the Father, Mediator between us and our Father. Believe me, brothers and sisters, Lucifer will claim his. He will have a perfect right with some, and with most, for that matter, because they listened to obey him rather than God.

28. ...and they who have faith in him will cleave unto every good thing; wherefore he advocateth the cause of the children of men; and he dwelleth eternally in the heavens.

29. And because he hath done this, my beloved brethren, have miracles ceased? Behold I say unto you, Nay; neither have angels ceased to minister unto the children of men.

If you doubt that this is not still the case, then your faith is not right.

30. For behold, they are subject unto him, to minister according to the word of his command, showing themselves unto them of strong faith and a firm mind in every form of godliness.

31. And the office of their ministry is to call men unto repentance, and to fulfill and to do the work of the covenants of the Father, which he hath made unto the children of men, to prepare the way among the children of men, by declaring the word of Christ unto the chosen vessels of the Lord, that they may bear testimony of him.

32. And by so doing, the Lord God prepareth the way that the residue of men may have faith in Christ, that the Holy Ghost may have place in their hearts, according to the power thereof; and after this manner bringeth to pass the Father, the covenants which he hath made unto the children of men.

33. And Christ hath said: If ye will have faith in me ye shall have power to do whatsoever thing is expedient in me.
It is astounding, brethren and sisters, when we stop and think what our situation is. Every day we find ourselves complaining, murmuring against those around us, yes. But, these represent our file leaders, who, in turn, represent those who can save us by the ordinances and blessings of the holy Priesthood. And if we do well, won't we be blessed? If we keep the commandments, won't Christ bless us and answer our faith? -- if we have enough faith. It keeps running in my ears: "O ye of little faith." This is the cause of our troubles: "O ye of little faith."

34. And he hath said: Repent all ye ends of the earth, and come unto me, and be baptized in my name, and have faith in me, that ye may be saved.

35. And now, my beloved brethren, if this be the case that these things are true which I have spoken unto you, and God will show unto you, with power and great glory at the last day, that they are true, and if they are true has the day of miracles ceased?

36. Or have angels ceased to appear unto the children of men? Or has he withheld the power of the Holy Ghost from them? Or will he, so long as time shall last, or the earth shall stand, or there shall be one man upon the face thereof to be saved?

37. Behold I say unto you, Nay; for it is by faith that miracles are wrought; and it is by faith that angels appear and minister unto men; wherefore, if these things have ceased wo be unto the children of men, for it is because of unbelief, and all is vain.

38. For no man can be saved, according to the words of Christ, save they shall have faith in his name; wherefore, if these things have ceased has faith ceased also; and awful is the state of man, for they are as though there had been no redemption made.

If we do not have faith in Christ, then it is as though there was no redemption made, so far as we are concerned individually. He died to not only atone for the original sin, by which man became mortal -- if it can be called a sin -- but He died and suffered for ours if we will believe and obey. We are always indebted unto Him. Though we render all that we have in our obedience unto the end of our lives, we are still indebted.

39. But behold, my beloved brethren, I judge better things of you, for I judge that ye have faith in Christ because of your meekness; for if ye have not faith in him then ye are not fit to be numbered among the people of his
And again, my beloved brethren, I would speak unto you concerning hope. How is it that ye can attain unto faith, save ye shall have hope?

And what is it that ye shall hope for? Behold I say unto you that ye shall have hope through the atonement of Christ and the power of his resurrection, to be raised unto life eternal, and this because of your faith in him according to the promise.

Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

Very simple isn't it?

And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

This is the power of love.

Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

Which, may we be, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Brother Guy suggested that possibly I ought to speak. He didn't say possibly. (Laughter) It is very good to be here, brothers and sisters, enjoying these testimonies and the spirit that has been here up to now, and I pray that I may be an instrument in continuing the same and adding upon it.

I feel deeply grateful for my association with this work and Priesthood, for the love and confidence of President Johnson and my brethren, and for the close association I have had with all of you good people. I feel very keenly for the progress of this work and desire only to fill my nitch -- first of all to find it -- and do only those things that God requires and reveals out of His holy mind and will.

I had an article come to my attention. I thought it might be well to pass on to you here tonight. This is a sermon in 1905 by Samuel W. Richards. You recall that Brother Richards was the editor of the Millennial Star at the time we received, from President Brigham Young, the revelations on the Adam-God Doctrine and Celestial Marriage in 1852. It has always been a matter of import, to me at least, that the first fundamental principle that he revealed to the saints, after they came out here, was the fact that Adam was our Father and God, and the only God with whom we have to do; and that Jesus Christ was literally His Son, through Mary -- the grandest truth that has been revealed to mankind in former as well as in modern times. He seems to have had a very great gift to understand Priesthood, and receive the gift of revelation in conducting his work in the mission and in writing. He seems to have been quite close to the Prophet, as we will read here. He was a Patriarch at this time, the 76th semi-annual conference of the Church.

My brethren, sisters, and friends, quite unexpected to me, prior to my coming into this meeting, I have been requested to say a few words to you on some matters touching my history and experience with the Prophet Joseph Smith. I am thankful that I can say that I was quite intimate with him while he was living upon the earth. There is a little experience I had with him that perhaps no other person living today could relate. In the winter of 1843 and 4, about six months prior to the death of the Prophet Joseph Smith, a messenger was sent to me from Nauvoo to ask me if I would be one of a company of pioneers to explore the Rocky Mountains and to find a place for the Church to go to. That request came from the Prophet Joseph Smith. At the time I thought it a little strange that I should be called upon a mission of this kind, as I was but a young man in my teens.

I recollect now, brothers and sisters, that it was only ten years after this that he was presiding over the British mission.

I was a young man in my teens, but I could not say no. I replied, "Yes, I will do anything that the Prophet Joseph Smith wants me to do, that is in my power to do." Consequently, I gave my name to be one of a company of twenty-four men who were selected to travel and explore the Rocky Mountains and find a place for the Church to go to, because the persecutions were getting so strong then in Nauvoo, that the Prophet Joseph foresaw that the Church would have to leave, retire from the civilized world and go into the mountains. This was then a wild country.

I am reminded that when I was in Europe, in the early '50's, it was reported to the British government that I was immigrating many people from Great Britain into a wild country, where they were libel to perish, and it was thought that this immigration ought to be stopped. Because of this, I was ordered to appear in London, and gave an account of what I was doing. I was then presiding over the British mission and immigrated many people to this country. I responded to this call, and spent about five hours before a committee of sixteen members of parliament, telling them what I was doing. I had been to this valley myself and knew what it was. I told them that I was sending people to a country where they could own a farm and be independent in their living as the lords and piers were here or there. I satisfied them and they all shook hands with me at the end of our interview and wished me well, and I was invited, by a number of them to come again to London and spend some time with them. I speak of this to show that the feeling of the people at that time was a wild country and we were coming here to perish.

It was the purpose of the Prophet Joseph to come here and locate with his people. He organized this company and held weekly meetings with his people, and when he had them sufficiently instructed, as he thought, to properly understand what was to be the character of their mission and fit out, he went across the river and made a start to go toward the mountains. It was his intention to go to the mountains with us, this company of twenty-five, as a company of pioneers, but he was followed by people that did not like the idea of his leaving, and while they were pleading with him to return, he told them, "If I go back, I go like a lamb to the slaughter." Nevertheless, they determined he should return and he went back to Nauvoo. From there he went to Carthage, and we all know the history of what followed.

Suffice it to say, I attended four meetings of this company, and at one of them, which was in the charge of Hyrum Smith, and three or four of the Twelve were also present, it was said that Joseph the Prophet had remarked that he wanted young men for that mission who could go upon the mountains and talk with God face to face as Moses had done on Mount Sinai. When I heard this, I felt in my soul that I was not the one to go, and just before the meeting closed I got up out of my chair for the purpose of going to Hyrum Smith and telling him that I was not the one to go, for I did not feel that I could meet the conditions. But as I got up there, a voice within me said, "Stop, rest awhile." I took my seat again, and instead of telling the Prophet Hyrum that I did not feel I could go, I went home, and before retiring I knelt by my bedside and prayed to my Heavenly Father. If I ever prayed in my life, I prayed then, that I might know before morning whether I was suitable to go on that expedition under the terms specified.

The idea of going into the mountains, and with God face to face as Moses did, was more than, as a boy, I could think of encountering. No one perhaps need wonder that I should shrink from such a consideration. I returned to my bed and remained there about four hours, and during that four hours, I got the answer to my prayer, and when I awoke, I was prepared to go upon that journey and do just as the Prophet Joseph wanted me to do. During that four hours, I saw all that I expect to see if I should live a thousand years. Someone came to me and told me where to go, and I performed that journey that night while I lay upon my bed. I came to this valley first. I don't know how I got there, but I went down through these valleys and into Southern California. It had been stated that possibly we might have to go that far. When I came here, I had to pass four sentinels, and in passing them, I gave a counter sign which I got direct from heaven at the time it was needed. I passed them all and went down into Southern California. Then I was prompted to go further, and I went into the Northern part of Mexico. I returned from there to Jackson County, Missouri and there I stayed and helped build the Temple. I saw the Temple completed. When this was done, the vision continued and I went and laid down my body in the ground and my spirit left this tabernacle. Then I traveled this continent from end to end. I saw the Garden of Eden as it was in the beginning and as it will be restored again. It was a land filled with vegetation, with all manner of fruits on which man was living. I saw it filled with cities, towns, and villages, and people happy living under the administration of divine providence; it was a Garden of Eden in very deed.

Then he goes on to express how these things had been fulfilled.

The Prophet Joseph had all this planned, and if he had been allowed to have had his way, I believe he might have been with us, even today. He would certainly have gone with that company to these mountains and have located the people. I was one of that company, and I think I have the names of the rest. However, the conditions became so severe at Nauvoo, that the people had to go and pick up and leave in a body before there was time for this company to make the proposed exploration. The Prophet Joseph and his brother Hyrum were martyred in Carthage, and the mob could not let the people remain in Nauvoo.

These are the facts in regard to this matter, and I am proud and thankful that I know of these things, and I am glad that the Saints are building up these valleys of the mountains as I saw them built up in vision. If the people of God will go on and keep His commandments, the time will come when this whole land will be filled with towns, cities, and villages, and the earth will bring forth all that is necessary for the comfort and sustenance of the people, in the name of Jesus, Amen.

This man had a notable gift for setting down in writing, in the Star and in other places, some grand principles, some of which we find of great use and benefit today, brothers and sisters. Willard Richards wrote the article that we have read in Truth and I have read here a couple times -- "False and Delusive
One of the gifts of the Holy Spirit, brothers and sisters, is the discernment of spirits, and this we must obtain, believe me, if we believe anything that was said in "The Coming Crisis", or anything that has been written on this subject. These false and delusive spirits are getting more active among this people, and we had all better beware. I feel as brother Guy has expressed on several occasions -- I resent, among any of my brothers and sisters, their calling upon foul and false spirits to their aid in the conduct of their affairs. I resent being set upon by them in any form, and we have got to learn to discern them, my dear brothers and sisters, and have the strength and the power to meet them and not answer them according to their folly; and learn to conduct ourselves as true saints of God, and particularly brethren bearing the holy Priesthood, to bear yourselves as men of God and be prepared to overcome these foul spirits that come among us in our midst. And they are from Canada to Mexico.

These spirits lead to contentions, strifes, jarrings, and every manner of evil, as the article says, and will eventually lead to murder; and we are going to see it. So I call upon you, my brothers and sisters, if I can give you some advice at this time, to obtain this great gift of the Holy Spirit, a discernment of spirits, the gift of wisdom, and above all, the gift of revelation. Of course, they are all together. One is not without the other. There is no salvation, my brothers and sisters, without revelation. If we don't have the Spirit of revelation, we are not going to get through this. The very elect, if it were possible, will be deceived; and if God doesn't cut short His work in righteousness, there would hardly be any faith left. These are the conditions that are in the offing, and we had better prepare ourselves. Go to your tents, all Israel, and be humble, and be still, and know that He is God, and that His Priesthood is leading us, and that this work will go on in spite of all who raise their hand against it, or in spite of all the efforts of the adversary to stop it.

With these few words I will close, and pray the Lord to bless us that we may get and keep the Spirit of God, and go to Him morning, noon, and night, and at all times, in mighty prayer and faith; that we may stand in holy places, and give glory to Him, and sustain and uphold His holy Priesthood, this order of the Priesthood, which is the source of all our blessings. Stay close to it brothers and sisters. Follow it with all your heart, might, mind, and strength, and you will be saved and become like God and enter again into His presence, which I pray may be all our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:465  June 20, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
June 20, 1965
Why We Are Not Good Enough -- We Are Not One

This is a beautiful sight, my brothers and sisters. Good to be able to see all of you, and I pray that the Spirit of God will dictate my remarks for the good of all and the advancement of the Kingdom of God.

As the brother was praying for us tonight, particularly President Johnson, I was reminded of the prayer of my little son's some years ago. We teach them to pray for the Priesthood Council and President Johnson. As he was learning he said, "Bless the Priesthood Council, and bless President Johnson in the head."

I love this order of Priesthood, brethren and sisters, more than my own life. My only great concern is for the advancement of this work and people. And I know that this is the prime object of President Johnson and this Council. If you could only realize the weight of responsibility that rests upon his shoulders, President Johnson's particularly as well as the others, in preparing a people that God can use; I think we would begin to do better. And we would not be hearing remarks such as came to my ears recently, "Oh I am not going to meeting tonight. All we hear is that you are a good people but not good enough." I was asked just last night, "Why are we not good enough?" I think it is a good question. I will ask a few questions in answer to that question. And maybe the brethren can add to it and give a more effective answer. Can you honestly say that you have the Spirit of God at all times, that it is your constant guide and companion, that there is no quarreling or jarrings or disobedience in your families, or disorder? Ask yourselves these questions. Can you say that you are ready for the blessings of the House of God? Are you ready to be endowed? Are your homes like temples? For they are real temples to us, but we do not have temples that the Prophets have directed to be built in this day and time. Unless we can make our homes temples, how can we expect to be worthy to go into the very house of God?

I think that it might be well to read a few words of the Prophet again. Before reading this, I would like to ask another question. If you think maybe you are good enough, that you are indeed a good people or a good family, I will ask, do you have the revelations of God continually with you? For there is no salvation or exaltation without the revelations of God. This is the greatest of the gifts of the Holy Spirit. Ask yourselves, are you able to keep out all false and delusive and foul spirits from your midst by having the Spirit of God at all times? When you can say this I think you can say you are good enough to be endowed and blessed as the Prophet speaks of here. This is the course that must be followed if we are to be used by the Lord. Speaking of the Comforter, the gift of the Holy Ghost, and the Second Comforter which we must be worthy of; speaking of the Holy Ghost:

TPJS Page 149

There are two Comforters spoken of. One is the Holy Ghost, the same as given on the day of Pentecost, and that all Saints receive after faith, repentance, and baptism. This first Comforter or Holy Ghost has no other effect than pure intelligence.

Think what we would have in our temples if they were, if we were all gifted with pure intelligence. Why, we would be able to move this nation into dissolution, and all others. The Kingdom of God would be set up and Zion would be redeemed if this people were indeed good enough, and we would be dictated by the Spirit of revelation and the Holy Ghost at all times.

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation.

Here is the course now, brothers and sisters.

After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God,

Do you do this?

...and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted. When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John, in the 14th chapter, from the 12th to the 27th verses.
Note the 16, 17, 18, 21, 23 verses:
"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;
"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him;
Speaking to the Twelve.
"17. ...for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.
"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.
"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.
"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."
Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions — Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.
This people will be a prepared people when they can be designated as members of the Church of the Firstborn. I mean truly prepared, a people that can be used with power endowed from on high that will be able to, by one man, chase ten thousand and drive them from the midst of Zion. Now the way we are going to get this is this way:

TPJS Page 151
The Spirit of Revelation
The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

We have got to come to this state; perfect in our sphere, attaining unto that character which we know is the character of God to such a degree that we can stand in the presence of those who have gone before who may be sent to teach us. There will not be one dissenting spirit, there will not be any possible spirit of contention. We can indeed be one. This is why we are not good enough, because we are not one, either in our families nor as a people. And we will not be one as a people until we are first one in our families; and all of these jarrings and contentions and foul spirits are driven from our midst.

So, pray to the Father for the Spirit of God -- nothing is more important -- that it may be your constant guide and companion. Then your dominion will be an everlasting dominion and without compulsory means it will flow unto you forever and ever, which I pray for us all in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:469 July 18, 1965 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 18, 1965
We Are Not Advancing Because We Lack Faith;
We Must Become Like God

I, too, pray that the elements will be stayed while we mingle together under the instruction of the servants of God, and pray that I may enjoy the Spirit of God unto this end.

I have impressed upon my mind the subject of faith again, and am reminded again, also, that our not having made the progress that we should by now, not being as well prepared as we should, as enjoined upon us by our President, is purely and simply lack of faith. Too many of us, brethren and sisters, think of this word, this subject, in the abstract and not as being a very vital and daily need in our lives.

The Prophet, in describing this great principle, described it as a principle both of power and of action. And there is nothing abstract about it. It is just as tangible as any principle or doctrine of the holy Priesthood that we can contemplate, and we do not actively bring it into our lives. In the first place, God has sent us His servants and given us, or planted into our minds, the true identity and the true nature and character and attributes of God -- this being the object of our faith first, last, and always. In the second place, we do not actively seek to bring these attributes into our own character. But we go along daily in the old routines of life, thinking that perhaps we can indulge a little here and indulge a little there and the Spirit may be available, and are daily going downward. If we are not going forward, brothers and sisters, we are going backward. If we are not going up, we are going down. There is no stationary place for any of us. We can't sit around and mark time. If we do not enjoy the blessings that Former-day Saints have had, it is because we lack faith. If we do not have confidence in ourselves and in those who preside over us, it is because of a lack of faith. If we are not growing daily, it is because of a lack of faith. It is just that simple.

Now I submit to you, brothers and sisters, that this is a gift of God. It must be sought by faith itself, as well as the gift of repentance. We have, through this means, gone so far as to obtain the blessings of baptism, and sealings in the holy Priesthood, and other ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ that we are failing daily to enlarge upon them, to add upon them, and to abide in these glorious principles.

Heber C. Kimball defined this subject very simply when he said, "Faith is confidence." Do we have confidence in God who created us, made us what we are and brought us where we are? Do we have confidence in His servants who lead us? We should, and if we do this, we will begin to have confidence in ourselves. We will obtain this confidence only through one means, and that is obedience. Faith grows and increases through obedience. First, we must offer all that we have and are as a sacrifice. Having done this and continued in obedience, our faith will grow until it becomes a principle of knowledge, through this power and this action that is called for. We do not, brothers and sisters, follow this course daily. We put off the day, we are procrastinating the day of our salvation. We are not repenting daily and growing in our faith, and I pray that we will look to this principle again. The object of it is to become like God, as the Seventh Lecture tells us in verse sixteen. Having found who and what a saved being is in the great Prototype of Father Adam and the Lord Jesus Christ, to assimilate our character into the color of God is to obtain salvation, and to not do so is to go into destruction or dissolution. This is just that simple.

We are unworthy servants if we are not daily growing into this condition. I pray that we will do this, praying to the Father. This power of prayer is the most immediate means, the nearest and the greatest power that we have to accomplish the object of our faith. Heber C. Kimball used to say, "I count a man an unworthy servant," or a worthless one, "who does not have the strength to go out after he prays and bring to pass the things he prays for," which is the same as faith. I pray that we may obtain the end of our salvation, which is our calling and election made sure, and become worthy to be endowed and blessed in the holy places of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:471  August 8, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 8, 1965
Faith Requires Revelation; False and Delusive Spirits

This is very delightful, my dear brothers and sisters, meeting under these very pleasant circumstances. And I trust that we are grateful enough to truly exercise our faith in behalf of the speakers to the end that your questions and faith may be answered, that we all together may be edified.

I truly miss the presence of President Johnson and the other brethren here tonight. It seems that on these occasions, when our brethren go to far places like Mexico and Canada, a part of me goes with them. I feel the need of their association in all the affairs of my life. But I desire to magnify the calling that God has placed upon me, above all else to the building up of His Kingdom and the establishment of His Priesthood in the earth. I desire only to fill my nitch, a work that Father has for me, and nothing else. I desire, with all my soul, for the advancement of this work and people. You little know, my brothers and sisters, how President Johnson yearns over each and everyone of you, the people as a whole, and for the advancement of this work. It is a continual work and prayer of his life that this people will indeed be prepared. But I am afraid these exhortations fall all together too much upon deaf ears, and this because of a lack of faith, faith in God, in whom that great gift should be centered.

It has been mentioned here tonight by two of the brethren, as I recall, something about faith in our prayers. I would like to speak a little bit of this and read to you what the Lord had to say about it in recounting what the ancient Nephites had in mind and desired for this time and people. It is found in Section 10.

You recall that Martin Harris had lost, through disobedience, the first one hundred and sixteen pages of manuscript, which had been prepared through the gift and power of God through the Prophet. The Lord now tells Joseph that he is not to retranslate that portion again, but another part of the plates of Nephi. The point is this matter of faith in their prayers.

D.& C. 10

46. And, behold, all the remainder of this work does contain all those parts of my gospel which my holy prophets, yea, and also my disciples, desired in their prayers should come forth unto this people.

47. And I said unto them, that it should be granted unto them according to their faith in their prayers;

48. Yea, and this was their faith -- that my gospel, which I gave unto them that they might preach in their days, might come unto their brethren the Lamanites, and also all that had become Lamanites because of their dissensions.

49. Now, this is not all -- their faith in their prayers was that this gospel should be made known also, if it were possible that other nations should possess this land;

50. And thus they did leave a blessing upon this land in their prayers, that whosoever should believe in this gospel in this land might have eternal life;

51. Yea, that it might be free unto all of whatsoever nation, kindred, tongue or people they may be.

52. And now, behold, according to their faith in their prayers will I bring this part of my gospel to the knowledge of my people. Behold, I do not bring it to destroy that which they have received, but to build it up.

So it was because of the faith in their prayers of an ancient people looking down to the time of the latter days, the times of the restitution of all things, that these things should come forth to the blessing and exaltation of His people in this time.

The principle I am trying to bring forth, brothers and sisters, is that our faith must be centered in our Father in heaven. I have heard many say they lacked faith. It was because of lack of faith that somebody may have become sick unto death and died, or because of lack of faith another thing wasn't received. Now brothers and sisters, it isn't for us to make up our minds what it is we want by our faith. This can extend in many directions, but the main point is that our faith should be that the will of God be done, not our will. This to me is a perfect faith, having faith in God who is perfect, who desires to bless and sustain and own His people.

I think for a further example, at this point, it might be well to read what the Lord has to say about administering and blessing of the sick.

D.& C. 42

43. And whosoever among you are sick, and have not faith to be healed, but believe, shall be nourished with all tenderness, with herbs and mild food, and that not by the hand of an enemy.

44. And the elders of the church, two or more, shall be called, and shall pray for and lay their hands upon them in my name; and if they die they shall die unto me, and if they live they shall live unto me.

45. Thou shalt live together in love, insomuch that thou shalt weep for the loss of them that die, and more especially for those that have not hope of a glorious resurrection.

46. And it shall come to pass that those that die in me shall not taste of death, for it shall be sweet unto them;

47. And they that die not in me, wo unto them, for their death is bitter.

48. And again, it shall come to pass that he that hath faith in me to be healed, and is not appointed unto death, shall be healed.

Now this is the nature of our faith in these things, and we can apply the same principle to others. Would you like to take it upon yourself to decide whether or not your loved one, or you yourself is appointed unto death, and that it is a lack of faith if a person dies? This is not the case. If our faith be perfect, it will be that the will of God be done. We must have the faith that God, who is the great Physician, can heal us and will heal us if it be His will. So it really resolves itself to the glorious fundamental principle: Thou shalt live and have faith in every word that proceeds forth from the mouth of God. We should have sufficient of the Holy Spirit with us that we will know His will, and then exercise our faith in this direction.

We are told in Lecture Seven of the Lectures on Faith that faith is the exertion of the mind, and it is by words that we act on faith. Then it goes on to recount that by words, through faith, Joshua commanded the sun to stand still; and a number of other things are recounted. Can you imagine for a moment that he called upon God for this thing to be done if he didn't know it was the will of God? Do you think that this came about simply because he decided that this should be? No! It was because it was revealed to him that this is what should be, and he had faith in God that He could do it. It centered in God, not in Joshua. Do you see the point, brothers and sisters -- what the nature of faith truly is? It centers in God. And we must live so that we may learn and know the will of God in all things by the Spirit of revelation, by the spirit of discernment; and then, having this information, we then exercise our faith in God to accomplish it. He is the one who does it by the power of His Spirit.

I was called upon on one occasion, at a drowning of a child, to come out and administer and bless. It was a little while before I was able to get there.
They called the county sheriffs office for a resuscitator and they come out and did what they could. One of the sisters came to me and said, "I feel that if you will do it, you can call her back to life." Now this is what she wanted.
But it was made known and shown to me on this occasion that this was not the will of God, and I would have gone against God's will had I tried to do this thing. Do you see the point, brothers and sisters? So don't feel there is a lack faith if we don't get some things, because God has only made manifest
His will in the matter.

By this means, centering it in our Father in heaven, having the gift and power of the Holy Ghost with us at all times, will our faith become perfect -- through obedience, through the sacrifice of all things -- first having a knowledge of the attributes and the character of God -- and knowing this, having a perfect Being, an omnipotent Being, an omniscient Being in whom to center our faith. And it should be centered, as the ancients did in our behalf, to the building up of the Kingdom of God and the establishment of His Priesthood.

Now there is another matter I would like to bring to your attention here tonight. A good deal has been spoken of, in recent weeks and months -- and very needfully so -- regarding false and delusive spirits; that satan is at work upon this people from within. He has tried by every artifice to destroy this work from without. It is true that he has always tried to work it from within too, but a key has been turned, as Brother Johnson has told us, as far as the law and the efforts of those outside are concerned. Now is the greatest test of all, the tests of the temptations of satan from within, as to our morals, as to our integrity, our faith and loyalty to this work. And we must above all, at this time, have the gift of the discernment of spirits in our families, in our work and in all of our labors, that we may be alert and know what is presented before us, or we are likely to fall.

I have read an article to you here before, a year or two ago, that I feel would bear repeating in connection with this admonition concerning false spirits, if you will bear with me. This article is on page 73 of the seventh volume of Truth if you would like to make a note of it. I would like to read a paragraph before the main part to indicate a point.

False and Delusive Spirits (Truth 7:73)

> *Believe not every spirit, but try the spirits, prove them, and learn whether they be God-like, and if so, receive those spirits, but, if not, reject them; for whatsoever is not of God is evil. It is no uncommon thing for a false spirit to assume a more plausible appearance, to the casual observer, than a true spirit would on the same subject; it was so formerly, it is so latterly.

We were forcibly reminded of these truths, when a sister remarked in a recent conversation, "What a happy thing it would be, if the writings of the clairvoyants and mesmerizers were true concerning the spirit world, for then all would be saved." * ***

Universalism is far too much prevalent, even among us. Certainly the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is getting very fast into this condition.

False spirits are more subtle, and more contagious than the small pox; their number and diversity of operations cannot be counted by man; and the first moment the saints leave the path of duty, that moment they are subject to the influence of evil, false spirits, which once having taken possession of the soul, are difficult if not impossible to be removed, by the person so receiving them, without assistance from those who have more wisdom. The great object of evil spirits is to get bodies, and the only chance they have is to dispossess a soul of the spirit of the Lord, the light of eternal truth, and take possession of that body thus dispossessed; and when thus once in possession, it may truly be said there is a body possessed of the devil.

Jesus and his disciples in different ages, have commanded the unclean and wicked spirits to depart out of those of whom they have taken possession, and they have departed; but there are those spirits which are not easily dispossessed, and go out only by prayer and fasting. And again, there are those spirits that will hardly go out at any price except it is by the will of those who harbor them. And of what class are they? They are invited spirits. Invited spirits? Yes; many spirits watch their opportunity to thrust themselves into a person when and where they are not wanted, and such are much more easily cast out than those who are invited guests.

Do you see the difference? Newel Knight, in the early history of the Church, became possessed of an evil spirit, and an administration of the holy Priesthood drove it out. This was not an invited spirit. This was an object lesson, I am sure, in the early history of the brethren in those days to indicate to them the nature of that kind of thing. But this is something else again, and it afflicts all of the saints, more or less, from time to time if we are not careful.

For instance, a person for some real or supposed injury Now, it may be real and it may be only a supposed injury. What difference? ...or neglect from a friend, wishes to retaliate, to be revenged, and of course opens the way, and invites the spirit of jealousy to take possession; and the moment jealousy enters the breast, there is a perfect hell of happiness.

That is quite an expression, a "hell of happiness", seeing that some people aren't happy unless they are quarreling and fighting and jarring.

No scheme that hell itself can devise to torment, perplex, harass, disturb, vex, or mar the peace of friend, wife, or husband, is left untouched, or unmoved; and by that time the breast of the harborer is open to all the evil spirits of Pandemonium -- all have free access, and oh, what a world of glory dwells there!

And how shall that jealous spirit be removed? By the laying on of hands? The Lord deliver us from such an ordinance, in such a case. Why? That spirit was invited to take up its abode there, and while that spirit is made welcome by that person, what right have we to dispossess it? It would be abridging the agency of the individual who invited the spirit, for anyone to cause that spirit to depart, without the person's leave; and we choose that all should exercise their own agency and responsibility, and then they are subjects of accountability.

Other spirits, not particularly invited or desired gain an easy access to those who are careless, heedless, and but too indifferent to the statutes, ordinances and duties of God's kingdom; who neglect their prayers, their assembling together, and doing as they would be done unto; and from these spirits arise contention, strife, evil thinking, evil speaking, evil surmising, detraction, revenge, law-suits, and a host of such perplexing annoyances, sufficient to disturb a nation;

I think this is probably more important than the other. The other affects us individually, but that is because of supposed injuries, these jealous spirits coming. But this other, our neglect of duty, disobedience, and so forth, will open the way for these false spirits, and they are just as invited under these conditions as in the other.

...but the man who is obedient to his God in all things -- who knows no will of his own, only to do the will of his Father in the heavens, is free from these spirits;

There is the touchstone.

...the devil has no power over him, for he resists him, and evil spirits are compelled to flee at his rebuke.

By the gift and power of the Holy Ghost and by Priesthood.

Some may ask, "How shall I know when I am operated upon by a false spirit?"
The strange thing of it is, brothers and sisters, that when one has an evil spirit you couldn't tell them for the world that they had one; and they don't know what they will do or say. That is the sad part of it. If you have such a spirit, you will set upon those who do you good and bless you. So, we can't say or promise what we will do or won't do if we get in possession of these spirits.

..."How shall I know when I am operated upon by a false spirit?" There are many keys by which the door of knowledge is unlocked to the Saints in relation to spirits, as well as other things pertaining to the kingdom; but one may suffice at the present time, for we have not designed this brief notice to cover all or any considerable portion of the ground which the subject includes.

The spirit of heaven is a spirit of peace, joy, comfort, consolation, and knowledge to its possessor; and all Saints who have enjoyed this spirit (and all Saints have more or less), may know, when this peaceful spirit dwelling within them is disturbed, that something is wrong, that some false spirit is lurking within or about them, striving to enter; and if they will resist the first impulse of their disturbed feelings, and command Satan, in the name of Jesus, to depart, peace will instantly be restored to their souls.

Now there is a very plain and simple procedure for us to know -- there is a key.

It is not the wrongdoings of others that destroy that peace within ourselves which the world can neither give nor take away; it is our own wrongs which cause that peaceful spirit to leave us; and would to God that this truth were indelibly imprinted on the heart and recollection of every Saint. It is your own wrongs or evil spirits that destroy your peace, and not the wrongs of your friend or neighbor. Know ye, all ye Saints, if the peace of heaven and a foretaste of the blessings of the celestial world are not continually with you, there is something wrong within, some foul spirit has got possession of yourself, and the quicker you dispossess it the better.

And I might add, what if someone has wronged you, truly wronged you? Is there any excuse, then, for you to lose the Spirit of God? You can't tell me there is, because this is not the Spirit of God.

Carry out this principle, and what will be the result? Every Saint will live by his creed, and "mind his own business." Every dear wife will look with a zealous eye towards the happiness and welfare of her dear husband, and if she is tempted to think he is doing wrong, she will say, Get thee behind me, Satan; that is none of my business. I will do right, that is enough for me, and I shall have peace in my soul. And so continue to do, till he has done so wrong that forbearance is no longer a virtue, then give him a divorce and do better if you can;

We don't believe in divorce, but if a man gets so far that he loses his Priesthood, then he can't hold you anyway. Then you had better be sure he has lost it.

...but while you live with him, live in peace, and keep jealousy out of doors; if you don't you will always have hell within, and devils enough to carry it on. The moment you are jealous that your husband is wrong, that moment you are miserable; that misery is proof positive that you yourself are wrong, for it destroys your peace.

And now brethren,

Jealous husbands are quite as bad, and a little less excusable (if there can be any excuse), than jealous wives. Husbands, if your wives do wrong, teach them better, if they are willing to be taught, and if they are not keep out of their way till they are willing and no quarreling betwixt you. You need not fret your soul because your dear wife does wrong. Don't let the devil destroy your peace and cause the Holy Ghost to depart from you because your wife has given away to a bad spirit. Show yourself a man of God, be at peace with yourself, pray for her, and when she has been buffeted by the devil long enough she will get tired of him, leave him and return to you.

That is quite simple, isn't it?

Some husbands are so mighty big
They call them "great big Elders".

...because they are the head, that the wife has no room in the house; if she thinks, she thinks wrong; if she speaks she speaks wrong; if she acts, she acts wrong; she can't do a right thing for the life of her; and do what she will, no matter, she is as likely to get a cuffed ear as anything else, and a little more so; And if she should ask forgiveness, she would meet with the consoling retort from her dear lord, "Yes, and you will do the same thing again next minute."

I think we have heard these cases. I have.

Why all this? Because the dear husband, the great lord of the house, has got so many devils in him, they make him so big there is not room for anybody else in that house.

The things of which we speak are but too common among the nations of Christendom; and too much of them have been brought together among the Saints; but it is time for Saints to stop such things. Husbands, love and cherish your wives, as you ought; give them their place, their rights, their dominion, that they may act upon their agency, as you do on yours; and quit your fretting, and snarling and quarreling with them, if you ever did it. What! a man quarrel with himself? Yes, just as well as quarrel with his wife -- 'tis all the same.

If there is one solitary case, such as we have supposed, among the Saints, we would venture a prescription. What, are you a doctor? We make no such pretensions, but men may say that we are. Let the husband who wants a quarrel with his wife go to some deep, remote canyon, where no human voice was ever heard or foot trod, there strip and fight till you are tired of it, then come home and behave yourself.

Let the wife who wants to pick a quarrel with her husband, retire to some dark room or cellar, which contains nothing but bare walls, and total darkness, and there fight till you are tired of fighting, then return to your family and behave yourself; and when husband and wife have got through with their fights they will each be willing to acknowledge that they had had as many devils in them as Mary Magdalene, or they would not have been such fools as to fight themselves at such fearful odds; and if they don't we'll make another gratis prescription. -- (Millennial Star 14:277)

Now brothers and sisters, we are trying, I trust, to assimilate into our character the attributes of God. And these things are not compatible with the Spirit and the attributes of God. We are supposed to be gaining knowledge, but there is much too much ignorance. We are supposed to be laying hold upon the gift of faith, but there is too much fear and worry and fretting, and these two cannot be in the same person. We are supposed to have justice and judgment, but altogether too much there is partiality, there is selfishness, and there is not an imparting of our substance to the Priesthood or to one another. We are supposed to be merciful and loving, but we see these pictures that I have drawn to your attention altogether too much before us. And, we are supposed to be truthful. There is altogether too much lying, cheating one another -- I mean morally, not in money -- but in our selfishness we are not living and telling the truth. There is too much hypocrisy.

So, brothers and sisters, let us look inward to ourselves and take stock, take inventory and see just where we stand. Let us go before the Lord as Joseph did after three years, after having seen the Father and the Son, and ask of our state and standing before Him. Wives, you might do well to ask of your state and standing with your husband; and brethren with the Priesthood.
might be putting somebody on the spot. At least, let us ask ourselves just where we stand. Where do you stand with regard to this work and Priesthood, with God, with Jesus Christ and with Joseph and his successors?

May God bless us and help us to do better, to become more like God. Joseph made the remark, "Have you asked yourselves, 'Are you like God?' I have asked myself and searched my soul and feel to repent," which I do indeed. I pray that we may all repent and do better and come up to see the face of God in due time and obtain the blessings that we desire so much, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I am delighted to be with you tonight, brothers and sisters. I rejoice in the goodness of the Lord, and my associations with the servants of God and the saints of God. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers. I rejoice in the remarks of President Timpson, particularly as it has to do with the principle of confidence, and in confidence there is true freedom -- I mean, when we enjoy the confidence of God, the confidence of the servants of God, and of our file leader, our immediate head, which is obtained through obedience. Heber C. Kimball was one to find confidence in faith or faithfulness as being synonymous with confidence.

I was struck in reading one of the Lectures on Faith today with greater force than ever before with another aspect of the principle of faith, which is power. One of the great elements of faith is to know and have the testimony that we please God, that our course of life is pleasing to Him. By thus ordering our lives, we can go to God in confidence, and when directed by the Spirit of God, know that our prayers, our petitions, and desires in righteousness will be answered. Now, this is having power with God, and especially a brother who bears the holy Priesthood. The power of the holy Priesthood is the Spirit of God, which is brought about through our having exercised faith and been obedient to God. I would just like to read that particular paragraph that I referred to, which I think will be helpful to us.

Lecture Four

12. And it is not less necessary that men should have the idea of the existence of the attribute power in the Deity;

Now, he is describing the principle of faith, or power, when he is further explaining this attribute of God in Lecture Three.

12. ...for unless God had power over all things, and was able by his power to control all things, and thereby deliver his creatures who put their trust in him from the power of all beings that might seek their destruction, whether in heaven, on earth, or in hell, men could not be saved. But with the idea of the existence of this attribute planted in the mind, men feel as though they had nothing to fear who put their trust in God, believing that he has power to save all who come to him to the very uttermost.

In this description he did not even use the term "faith". He used the word "power". Now, men in times past, coming into the Kingdom of God, into the work of God, have incorrectly sought through the evil of being aspiring men, to obtain power, and have gone so far as to call the Prophet of God a fallen prophet, aspiring to take his place. What a foolish way to go about obtaining power. It is so simple by obtaining it through the way that God has outlined - - by repenting, as the result of our faith in God; going into the waters of baptism, having hands laid on our heads for the gift of the Holy Ghost, which is the greatest gift of all. Then we are in line to obtain power with God through obedience to every law and commandment of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The most powerful man on earth is one who has the confidence of God. The freest man on earth is one who has the confidence of God, and has the testimony, in his humility, that he pleases God. The greatest compliment that was ever paid to a man, was one like unto Enoch, and I am sure Joseph Smith has the same. The Lord revealed to him, and he had this testimony that he pleased God. The same was said of Abel, and of all the great Prophets and Heads of Dispensations. These men had true humility, which is the strength, through faith, that they obtained by having power with God. The power of the holy Priesthood, brethren, is the thing that we should develop through our faith and faithfulness, pleasing God, being subject to the servants of God in all things, and thus having the confidence that will give us that joy and rejoicing, which we all seek.

Sisters, you should treasure above all other things -- after having received the gift of the Holy Ghost, and been sealed by the holy Priesthood -- you should treasure above all things the confidence of your husbands, and seek to obtain it above all other things. And in your bearing of children and raising them up, receive instructions from him and obey them, and by this means you will have all of the freedom and power that you can obtain in the sight of God. A woman has room and freedom when she has the confidence of her husband, and when she is disobedient she abridges her agency and her freedom. And it is the same with children; and it is the same with brethren, as far as the Priesthood is concerned.
Faith, or power, is the principle which will bring us into the presence of God; which will bring along in its trend all of the other attributes of God, and having and keeping the Holy Ghost as our constant guide and companion. The attributes of God spoken of are the Spirit of God, the Holy Spirit, which is the mind of the Father and of the Son.

May we obtain these and go on unto perfection, and become one people, through all having this great gift of the Holy Ghost as our constant guide and companion, and be used as that people, and prepared as that people who will be the righteous nucleus of the Millennium to go on into the redemption of Zion and building up of the Kingdom of God in the earth, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:486  October 17, 1965  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 17, 1965
Humility

I, too, desire an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters. I wish I could see all of your faces. I feel very keenly this responsibility. I think, brothers and sisters, the very spirit of this work, if we are abiding in it, is the spirit of dedication; because it is all bound up in the great commandment that the Lord Jesus Christ gave to His disciples, the Apostles, and in answer to questions that were put to Him, What is the greatest commandment? "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy might, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; and the second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Where we fall down is in failing to abide in this great commandment; and it takes a great amount of faith, and all of the other attributes of God to do it, getting and keeping the Spirit of God.

I cannot, in any instance that I can remember, when asked why am I not doing better, or what is wrong, I cannot remember an instance when I could not answer the question, "Get the Spirit of God and keep it," and if we have this, we are fully and completely dedicated, all that we have, all that we are -- our time, our talents, wives, children -- everything is dedicated and consecrated to the Lord. Will we still seem to persist in the feelings, when we think of the full law of God, or failure to think of it, in remembering this very basic foundation of our religion? We fail to remember that God has loaned us our breath. He has given us this life, and if we should be faithful every moment and every day of our lives, we are still indebted to Him, and ever will be. Some of us think that when we hand in our tithing to the Priesthood, we have done a great thing. If we would only remember that all that we have belongs to the Lord, and He has really loaned it to us. We cannot seem to be cognizant of this truth continually. We think, "I will turn over this tithing, and the rest is mine," when it is a matter of fact that it is all the Lord's, and He has loaned it to us. This is the very essence of humility, and the power of faith, and only in this do we have real power with the Lord, brothers and sisters. Of course, honoring and sustaining the holy Priesthood, which is the very light and life of this work, and of our lives, and especially of our family lives.

These children that the Lord sends to us are only loaned to us to raise up in light and truth, remembering always that they belong to God, they are His sons and daughters, not ours, they are loaned to us for a while, to train up so that they can enter into and abide in the same laws and covenants that we have been privileged to receive and obey. And we should ever be ready to turn them over to another dominion, or to the Priesthood, which is the same thing. Are you willing to part with any one or all of your children, should the Lord decide to take them? What would it do to you if this should happen? Could you praise the Lord yet, and give thanks that you had the privilege of having that child as long as you did? Or if we should lose homes, lands, and other things -- be called upon to sacrifice every earthly thing -- could we part with them with rejoicing, and take joyfully the spoiling of our goods, as the Prophet recites in the Lectures?

What really do we have that belongs to us, brothers and sisters? I wish you could name it. King Benjamin certainly set it out very beautifully when he told the saints then that he, who was their king, and hardly worthy to be such, was ever indebted to God; and he gave us this beautiful statement. I wonder if I can read it. I cannot help but feel that it would be a good thing.

Mosiah 2

19. And behold also, if I, whom ye call your king, who has spent his days in your service, and yet has been in the service of God, do merit any thanks from you, O how you ought to thank your heavenly King!

20. I say unto you, my brethren, that if you should render all the thanks and praise which your whole soul has power to possess, to that God who has created you, and has kept and preserved you, and has caused that ye should rejoice, and has granted that ye should live in peace one with another --

Certainly he is doing this.

21. I say unto you that if ye should serve him who has created you from the beginning, and is preserving you from day to day, by lending you breath, that ye may live and move and do according to your own will, and even supporting you from one moment to another -- I say, if ye should serve him with all your whole souls yet ye would be unprofitable servants.

22. And behold, all that he requires of you is to keep his commandments; and he has promised you that if ye would keep his commandments ye should prosper in the land; and he never doth vary from that which he hath said; therefore, if ye do keep his commandments he doth bless you and prosper you.

23. And now, in the first place, he hath created you, and granted unto you your lives, for which ye are indebted unto him.

24. And secondly, he doth require that ye should do as he hath commanded you; for which if ye do, he doth immediately bless you; and therefore he hath paid you. And ye are still indebted unto him, and are, and will be, forever and ever; therefore, of what have ye to boast?

25. And now I ask, can ye say aught of yourselves? I answer you, Nay. Ye cannot say that ye are even as much as the dust of the earth; yet ye were created of the dust of the earth; but behold, it belongeth to him who created you.

26. And I, even I, whom ye call your king, am no better than ye yourselves are; for I am also of the dust. And ye behold that I am old, and am about to yield up this mortal frame to its mother earth.

27. Therefore, as I said unto you that I had served you, walking with a clear conscience before God, even so I at this time have caused that ye should assemble yourselves together, that I might be found blameless, and that your blood should not come upon me, when I shall stand to be judged of God of the things whereof he hath commanded me concerning you.

So, brothers and sisters, in these prosperous times, these times of peace, let us seek God out, so that in times of trouble we may be justified. Let us be humble and acknowledge His hand in all things, for with only those who do not do this is He displeased. In humility there is strength. In humility there is the power of faith, relying on the arm of God, and not upon the arm of flesh.

Let us, with our might and main, sustain and uphold this work. You are called out of the world, brothers and sisters, to do this work and be prepared to be used to redeem Zion. How great is the work we are called to; and yet, we hear on every hand, "What is there for me to do? What can I do to further the work?" Well, brothers and sisters, if you would just simply, and if we would all simply abide in these holy laws that we have been called to obey, we would be furthering this work more than you can imagine. If we would, in our families, purify ourselves, render obedience to those over us, and raise up these children in light and truth, and bring these children up like calves in the stall, raising them up to a new generation, and certainly to do better than we have done, we would be doing God the greatest service.

These sweet spirits that are sent into our care belong to Him. They have been reserved to this time, if you please, and they are a terrible responsibility upon us. What a great thing that we can accomplish as a people if we will raise this new generation in such a way that they will render complete obedience to God and the Priesthood, and be the nucleus of the righteous Millennium, to redeem Zion, to receive the Ten Tribes and the remnant of Jacob, and overcome the kingdoms of this world, so that His Kingdom may come. It is just that great and important a work in which we are engaged, and we seem to lose this larger vision in our daily vicissitudes and troubles.

We should remember that we are vessels of God. We have had hands laid on us for the gift of the Holy Ghost, and we should be pure and clean vessels so that He may abide in us; and we, in turn, bring it into the lives of our children, our wives, and abide together in love and unity as one people. There is not a people in the north. There is not a people separate here or one in the south. It is one people, brothers and sisters, that the leaders of this work are trying to bring up to be used, and be prepared for the judgments to come. And I pray that we may make a renewed effort, exercise greater faith through the exertions of the mind, daily, momentarily, and go forth now and clean up our lives and set our houses in order, and do better and serve God and keep His commandments with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Sometimes when conducting I feel like it is a very nice position to be in, and have others do all the speaking. A month ago I was down in Colorado City with Brother Hammon. He asked me to conduct, but he also saw that I had something to say. But I do feel constrained tonight, brothers and sisters, to say something that has been on my mind this whole meeting, and as far as that is concerned, all day today -- regarding the United Order.

I hope, brothers and sisters, that you will be disturbed, as one of the brethren has indicated here tonight, and continue to be to the extent that it will cause a reformation, and cause us to really do something about the things that we are instructed about. I feel like prefacing my remarks by reading a little from Brigham Young on the subject; who was, I suppose, as great authority we have had in this dispensation, next to Joseph Smith, on this great law.

He said in the first instance that the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ is the law of the United Order, and of Celestial and Plural Marriage. I have always felt to add -- if it is in place, as a foundation of these doctrines and laws -- a knowledge that Adam, or Michael, is our Father and God; and that these orders are part and parcel, they are the very climax, the ultimate in the Family Order of Heaven, and in the exercise of the holy Priesthood among the Gods. Only by living and abiding in these laws are we going to be able to see the face of God, and His Son Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith, who is the Holy Ghost.

He frequently referred to the fullness of the Gospel in the light of organizing the people as a family, and isn't this true? It is the Family Order of Heaven. The United Order is part and parcel of the law of Celestial Marriage. One cannot be conducted or abided in without the other, truly abided. It is impossible. I wish we could get this very definitely into our consciousness. Can you imagine a patriarchal family existing without the United Order or the Spirit of it in that family? It is impossible, and that is where it has got to begin, if you please. If we are not doing it right within the confines of our families, we are surely not going to be able to do it in a community or in any other form, or as a people. Wives and children, they must submit themselves unto this order, to their head, in things temporal as well as in things spiritual. He says:

It will.
The time will come.

Do we know how? Yes; what was lacking in these revelations from Joseph to enable us to do so was revealed to me. Do you think we will ever be one? When we get home to our Father and God will we not wish to be in the family? Will it not be our highest ambition and desire to be reckoned as the sons of the living God, as the daughters of the Almighty, with a right to the household, and the faith that belongs to the household, heirs of the Father, His goods, His wealth, His power, His excellency, His knowledge and wisdom?

I will say, first, that the Lord Almighty has not the least objection in the world to our entering into the Order of Enoch.

Some think that we have no business trying.

I will stand between the people and all harm in this. He has not the least objection to any man, every man, all mankind on the face of the earth turning from evil and loving and serving him with all their hearts. With regard to all those orders that the Lord has revealed, it depends upon the will and doings of the people, and we are at liberty, from this Conference, to go and build up a settlement, or we can join ourselves together in this city, do it legally -- according to the laws of the land -- and enter into covenant with each other by a firm agreement that we will live as a family, that we will put our property into the hands of a committee of trustees, who shall dictate the affairs of this society.

Now, brothers and sisters, I have been in the community in the south, as well as here, as well as those in the north; and I do not find any more people, by percentage or otherwise, who are living the United Order in Colorado City than they are here. We do not have to particularly go to a separate community, though this may be desirable under certain circumstances. But it is just as possible for the people in Salt Lake City, or any other community where the saints are gathered, to live in the United Order as it is for those in the south. All of the property in the Colorado City community belongs to the United Effort Plan. Everyone living in homes upon it are living in homes that belong to the United Effort Plan. Are the people here under any less obligation to turn their properties into the United Effort Plan here? Not at all. They can and should be, particularly after they are paid for. But they can be subject to these things; they can go through the whole program.

In entering into the work, we should have first consecrated all that we had. It belongs to God in the first place. He has only loaned it to us. There is not a thing that we have that really belongs to us. It is just a matter of our going through the ordinance, if you please, of offering all in sacrifice to God and His servants, at the feet of the Priesthood.

Many, at this point, and after, if they have done this, have the idea that since they have turned all they have over, that this is all there is to it. Some have the mistaken idea that this does not require any tithing to be paid. I know of some, when a little extra money starts coming along, ask the question, "Where should it be put?" Somebody is asking for money here, some there, where shall it be put? They are glory seekers, and that is all you can say, because they want any credit for putting it here or there, where it will be recognized. This is not the Spirit of the United Order. The United Order requires first a consecration of all, and then turning in everything as we receive it.

Earlier in this work, a few of the brethren went to the Priesthood and started handing their whole check in, and received back according to their needs. As far as I was concerned, and many of the others, if they wanted the whole check, it was all right. It just became quite burdensome to the brethren. If we live in the confidence of one another, and in the true love and confidence that this order requires, then a man can be trusted to decide for himself what are his needs. He pays at least a tithing. This is the least that the Lord will accept, and a surplus besides, if there be any, being honest with God and with His servants.

Brother Johnson has told us this many many times. In this way, brothers and sisters, we are living in the Spirit of the United Order. Further, it calls for an accounting. If we are left in the confidence of the brethren to decide what our just wants and needs are, then we should be accounting and reporting, and accounting and reporting. This is the very foundation of the United Order, after we have made our consecrations. It is a law and order of consecrations and stewardships; to our jobs, our businesses, or whatever effort we are engaged in, it is a stewardship. If you will look at it that way, your salary is not yours, the net income of your business is not yours. It belongs to the Lord. Whatever we feel, in all honesty, is our just wants and needs, I am sure the Lord and the brethren will sustain us in it.

Do not let us get the mistaken idea, brothers and sisters, that we are exempt from, or there is a postponement of, the living of the United Order. We are trying to live Celestial Marriage, and this is a part of it. The brethren have told us in times past that we have been living at them, and I am afraid that this is altogether too true for most. But I do know, thank God, that there are some who are living this order -- Celestial Marriage and the United Order -- in the ways I have outlined here tonight; and I am encouraged. It can be done, it is being done, brothers and sisters. The United Order is not far off. It is here and it is now, and it is required.

I have said in times past that if we did not have this work and Priesthood -- and thank God for it, and I am thankful that I have been cut off from the apostate church -- nevertheless, even there in the Church, I say it is possible for a man, acting under the ignorance of his bishop, to live the United Order, if you will look at it the way I have said. The bishop does not need to know that he is paying more than his tithing, and he can go and offer his property to the trustee-in-trust. We have the fullness of the holy Priesthood, under whom we can take direction and guidance, and enter into these laws and ordinances and receive the blessings of them. By doing this, my dear brothers and sisters, we will hasten the day when we can enter into the holy temples, or some other sacred, designated holy spot to receive our endowments, without which these laws are not complete.

Let us get this into our realization, into our minds, and into our hearts, and prepare ourselves for these things. We are not going to be used, brothers and sisters, unless we are endowed. We should be crying unto God day and night to be released from the bondage of our sins and weaknesses. We are under bondage. We ought to be released from it, and go on unto perfection, which I pray we will do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:496 November 21, 1965 SLC
I pray the Lord will continue His Spirit upon us, especially upon me in the remarks that I might be directed to make. I am impressed tonight with the thought, my brothers and sisters, that -- what is there to say that hasn't been repeated a thousand times before? We simply need, my dear brothers and sisters, to get down to fundamentals. Too many of us are looking for the sensational, waiting for it at least, wondering why more revelation isn't given, something we might hang our hats on, you might say. But the longer I live, brothers and sisters, the more I find that true faith and progress of the work of God consists in unwavering steadfastness, endurance, and continuing day by day by every conscious effort that we could possibly make and by every conscious thought, to abide in the fundamental principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Are we weary in well-doing? This is the question. And I am afraid too many ask, or have a feeling at least, that the Lord delayeth His coming. Well, I am sure that He and the Prophets that He has called before are but waiting on us. If there is any delay it is because of us. But there is a time set beyond which I am sure that the Lord will not continue to delay on account of us.

As I was sitting here thinking tonight, I felt like there was one key that I could pass on to you, which I think would help us in our daily lives, and that is to fully submit ourselves to be led -- get rid of the mental and traditional reservations that we cling to continually. Think back to our childhood. See what childhood and childish traits are still holding us back. As I analyze some of my own, I see these things. I have even analyzed myself and I have seen them. We need to throw them off and take for our guide the Holy Spirit, and get rid of our traditions -- the traditions of our fathers, the traditions of the world, because they are intertwined.

True faith to me, my brothers and sisters, is to fully submit one's self to be led by the Lord and live by every word that comes from Him, from every source, whether it be written or whether it be by the living Priesthood. To you, sisters, the living Priesthood that is your guide and to which you submit yourselves, is the Priesthood of your husbands. To you, brethren, it is the Priesthood of this order with which we are familiar. Ask yourselves, sisters, "Would my husband really ask me to do something that wasn't for my good?" Would President Johnson, brethren, ask you to do something that wouldn't be for your good and your exaltation and your progress? Why do we hold back? Why do we have these reservations? I find that those who are slow in their progress are those who have failed to fully submit themselves to the Lord, to their lord. Find out who your lord is, and follow him. Get your loyalties straightened out, brothers and sisters. Faith is loyalty to truths that we obtained ages and ages ago, loyalty to the truths that are revealed to us from day to day -- loyalty to God. Do we even have faith in God, brothers and sisters? He has all knowledge. He has all power through faith. He is perfectly just and His judgments are true. He is loving, kind, and merciful, slow to anger, and He is truth. Brethren, have you these attributes, that your wives and children can have confidence in you? These brethren that lead us have these attributes. I can testify that they do, particularly our head. Confidence, then, is the key word. Sisters, have confidence in your husbands. Brethren, have confidence in your Priesthood head, relying on the Holy Spirit to be your constant guide and companion. You cannot obtain the gifts of the Spirit except through the Priesthood. I testify of this as a truth of heaven. True confidence, then, cometh by submitting ourselves to be led, obeying every word that proceeds forth from our legitimate head, and holding steadfast to the end. The battle is not to the swift nor to the strong, but he that endureth to the end shall be exalted and saved. It is an endurance contest, so to speak, my brothers and sisters.

If we cannot be happy day by day, if we cannot truly love our head and love the truths that are revealed unto us from day to day with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, then we are going to fail. Can you, dear sisters, continue to say that you love your husbands through the day's activities and through the trials of the day, as strongly and firmly as you tell him as you lay upon his arm? "I love you." "Then keep my commandments." Do we love the Lord? Then keep His commandments. This is the best way of showing it. It is the only way of showing our love for one another, to our legitimate head, and the Lord our God. If we govern, my brothers and sisters, in our families, and engage in our labors one with another in the Kingdom, my dear brethren, by the Spirit and the power of love, then I am sure we will begin to grow and progress and become that people that the Lord can use, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:498 December 19, 1965 SLC
Salt Lake City, Utah
December 19, 1965
Testimony of the Prophet Joseph Smith

The Prophet Joseph Smith is very much on my mind tonight, brothers and sisters, which led to choosing the song that we sang first. I feel to speak of him tonight and read a little about him.

My earliest recollection of the restored Gospel and the Priesthood concern the story of the Prophet Joseph Smith. How I love the memory and the story of his life. How greatful I am, and all of us should be, that he was the instrument through whom the holy Priesthood was restored to the earth; the Church and Kingdom of God in connection with it set up, including the Church of the Firstborn with all attendant blessings, endowments, and the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel of the Son of God. I know by the voice of the Spirit of God that he is the third member of the Godhead under Jesus Christ and Father Adam, or Michael; that he made covenants with Them relating to his dispensation, this last and full dispensation of the earth, as They entered in a covenant with him, to accomplish the work of Their dispensations.

John Taylor, I think, must have understood better than any other man of this dispensation who Joseph was, and what he was. With your permission I would like to read a poem that he wrote as he contemplated the life, and labors, and the mission of the Prophet Joseph Smith. It is called "The Seer".

The Seer

1. The Seer, the Seer, Joseph, the Seer!
   I'll sing of the Prophet ever dear;
   His equal now cannot be found
   By searching the wide world around.
   With Gods he soared in the realms of day,
   And men he taught the heavenly way.
   The earthly Seer! the heavenly Seer!
   I love to dwell on his memory dear;
   The chosen of God and the friend of man,
   He brought the priesthood back again;
   He gazed on the past and the future, too,
   And opened the heavenly world to view.
2. Of noble seed, of heavenly birth,
He came to bless the sons of earth;
With keys by the Almighty given,
He opened the full rich stores of heaven;
O'er the world that was wrapped in sable night,
Like the sun he spread his golden light.
He strove, O how he strove to stay
The stream of crime in its reckless way!
With a mighty hand and a noble aim,
He urged the wayward to reclaim:
'Mid foaming billows of angry strife,
He stood at, the helm of the ship of life.
3. The Saints, the Saints, his only pride!
For them he lived, for them he died;
Their joys were his, their sorrows too.
He loved the Saints; he loved Nauvoo.
Unchanged in death, with a Savior's love,
He pleads their cause in the courts above.
The Seer, the Seer! Joseph, the Seer!
O how I love his memory dear!
The just and wise, the pure and free,
A father he was and is to me.
Let fiends now rage, in their dark hour --
No matter, he is beyond their power.
4. He's free! he's free! the Prophet's free!
He is where he will ever be,
Beyond the reach of mobs and strife,
He rests unharmed in endless life.
His home's in the sky; he dwells with the Gods
Far from the furious rage of mobs.
He died, he died for those he loved.
He reigns; he reigns in the realms above.
He waits with the just who have gone before
To welcome the saints to Zion's shore.
Shout, shout, ye Saints! this boon is given;
We'll meet him, our martyred Seer, in heaven.

God bless you, amen.
It is good to be here, my dear brothers and sisters. I feel very keenly the responsibility as I stand before you tonight, and pray that the Holy Ghost shall be my guide. I do not know when I have felt weaker and in greater need of the Spirit and blessings of God. As I contemplate the warnings, the admonitions, and the teachings of President Johnson and the brethren to us, I verily tremble in my shoes for myself, and for this people. I have been thinking a good deal today, and I feel to say something about it here tonight on what it really is, my brothers and sisters, that will bring a man or woman to a point where God can trust him, and where the servants of God can trust him or her, or a husband his wives. Is it by rendering some "form" of obedience to the things that we are told? Are we satisfied, brothers and sisters, to say, "Well, I did what he said," and then feel that you have fulfilled your obligation and are on your way? Well, my version of it is quite different from this. As I see it, and it is couched in the words of the Lord in Section 58.

The background in this revelation is the dedication in Zion of the center place of Zion, in Independence. Joseph and the brethren were there and the Lord was giving instructions on how the saints should be called there to enter into the holy laws of God, particularly the United Order; for they should live according to the ancient law of Enoch. This is what the Lord said regarding them:

D.& C. 58

25. Wherefore, let them bring their families to this land, as they shall counsel between themselves and me.
26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.
27. Verily, I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;
28. For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?

31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?

32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.

This brings to mind the parable of the Savior, in which He said: If a man asks you for a cloak, give him two; if he asks you to go a mile with him to do something, go two. The difference then, my brothers and sisters, as I see it, is that extra mile, that extra cloak -- this yearning after the welfare of this work, after the welfare of this order of Priesthood, sustaining it and upholding it with all that we have and are.

Let us look at the lives of the bosom friends that Joseph Smith entrusted: Heber C. Kimball, Brigham Young, Willard Richards, John Taylor. These were men who tried under every circumstance, who understood Priesthood, the nature of Priesthood, and what it was in their lives. The test always came when it came through the Prophet Joseph Smith -- an acknowledgement that he was indeed a Prophet of the living God. And they went to it with all their might, mind, and strength to sustain him, and carry out the work in the Spirit of this revelation, whatever was given them to do.

Now, being engaged in a good work does not mean we can go outside of our jurisdiction and minding somebody else's business -- simply minding our own, and doing it with all our might, mind, and strength. These are the men that Joseph learned to trust, the ones who really came to know who and what Joseph was, the nature of his work and calling, the nature of the Priesthood under which he carried on in his work. Now this same thing holds true, sisters, with you and your husbands. If you understand the nature of Priesthood, and that it is Priesthood that governs, do more than just every little thing that you are told. You know the work that has to be done. You have an agency under yourselves. As the Lord said in the Revelation of 1886, "It is more pleasing unto Me that you should act on your agency."
me, to put it another way, brothers and sisters, it is this: It is walking in our own light, so filled with the Holy Ghost every hour of the day, in every activity, in all that we do, that we are able to walk in our own light, and not in the light of another. These are the women that can be trusted, and who are growing and increasing in the sight of their Lord, and it is the same with the men. We should not have to be commanded in every little thing. Such have to be carried, as it were. They are not adding strength to their head; they are not adding strength to the work of God.

So as I say, we should be yearning with every power that is in us, exerting ourselves for the advancement of this work. Perhaps some may feel that they are not doing an important enough work, that they are being neglected. Wives may feel that they are neglected. Men feel that they are neglected and that their talents are not being used. Well, bless your souls, brothers and sisters, I cannot think of any greater work, or more important for the advancement of the cause of God, than to raise up these children in light and truth; to teach and train up these wives in light and truth and honor, and praise the principles of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. I cannot think of a greater work, and it is right at our hands. The trouble is that we are being told almost daily that the examples we are setting our children, the lack of teaching that we are giving them, is a disgrace.

I wonder how true it is today, despite all that we have received, what Brigham Young told the Latter-day Saints in his day. He said, he would to God that he could get a people who could be organized according to the true order of heaven. But he had to conclude that they were incapable that he could get one ward in one stake who could be organized according to the true order of heaven; but he said they are incapable. After the concentrated teachings and direction that we have had, at least during the twenty-seven years that I have been engaged in this work, I think we all should have done better by now. I did not dream, as I entered into this work, but what a people would be ready within ten years. But we are still waiting for blessings that would redound to our eternal welfare and exaltation, simply because we cannot be trusted, we cannot keep the secrets of God, let alone our own secrets. To me this is one of the greatest tests. Can we keep the secrets of God, or do we run about telling them wherever we go, and bringing the work of the Lord in jeopardy, or some disgrace upon it?

What are we doing, my dear brothers and sisters, individually, to uphold and sustain this work, besides our tithing, our attendance at meetings, and our going back and forth to work? How do we really look upon this order of Priesthood? Is it the true order of God, or isn't it? How grateful are we for its influence and direction? Show me a man’s gratitude, I mean his true humble gratitude, and I think I can show you the nature of his faithfulness that he is manifesting toward the work of God. We need to be more humble. These are prosperous times, brothers and sisters. These are peaceful times, and oh, how we should be using these times for greater growth, and not have to have another persecution, or a raid, or something of such nature to humble us again, as it were, set the work back for ten years financially, or otherwise, when we could be using our means and our time and our talents for the accomplishment of the things that we have been asked to, and which we should be earnestly seeking to do of our own free will and choice.

You parents, look at the children. You husbands, look upon your wives. Are not the ones who can be trusted, who are growing, those who are anxiously engaged in their work, as against those who are just slothful, barely doing what they are told? My, what opportunities, what blessings, and glory lie before us. It is a shame that we are wasting our time as we are.

I know we are anxious to hear from the other brethren. I would like to give you the formula that the Lord has given us. I have read this several times before, but I hope it will be impressed upon our hearts tonight as never before. I feel that we are embarking upon a new year and in the service of God, in the service of the holy Priesthood.

D. & C. 4

1. Now behold a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

And we can make it a marvelous work, dear brothers and sisters, according to our faith.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;

You will be if you truly desire to serve God and keep His commandments in the ways that have been mentioned.

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.

6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.
7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Amen.

This is accomplished, then, by the power of faith. May I press on something I read from Brigham Young, which puts faith in a light we may never have thought of before. The beginning of faith is belief. Acting on belief we obey, and on obeying we then have the gift and power which is called faith, to become like God, to build up His Kingdom and establish His Priesthood in the earth. The gift of faith is a power, it is power, and until we have believed, then obeyed, we cannot have this power or gift of faith; which I hope we may have and obtain and use to the building up of His Kingdom, I ask in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 16, 1966
The Spirit Must Rule the Body by the Power of the Holy Ghost

I am indebted to Brother Wayne Horsely for the passage of Brigham Young that I think would be very helpful to us all. I thought I would pass it on to you tonight, brothers and sisters. It is found in the Journals of Discourses, volume 2, page 255 and 256. This is an item of instruction that I have been trying to find and pass on to you for some time, and I pray that you will hang on every word because it is the Gospel truth.

There is an item of doctrine that I will now present just as it occurs to me. You are aware that many think that the devil has rule and power over both body and spirit. Now, I want to tell you that he does not hold any power over man, only so far as the body overcomes the spirit that is in a man, through yielding to the spirit of evil. The spirit that the Lord puts into a
The tabernacle of flesh, is under the dictation of the Lord Almighty; but the spirit and body are united in order that the spirit may have a tabernacle, and be exalted; and the spirit is influenced by the body, and the body by the spirit.

In the first place the spirit is pure, and under the special control and influence of the Lord, but the body is of the earth, and is subject to the power of the devil, and is under the mighty influence of that fallen nature that is of the earth. If the spirit yields to the body, the devil then has power to overcome both the body and spirit of that man, and he loses both.

That is pretty tragic, isn't it?

Recollect, brethren and sisters, every one of you, that when evil is suggested to you, when it arises in your hearts, it is through the temporal organization. When you are tempted, buffeted, and step out of the way inadvertently; when you are overtaken in a fault, or commit an overt act unthinkingly; when you are full of evil passion, and wish to yield to it, then stop and let the spirit, which God has put into your tabernacles, take the lead.

That is very plain.

If you do that, I will promise that you will overcome all evil, and obtain eternal lives. But many, very many, let the spirit yield to the body, and are overcome and destroyed.

The influence of the enemy has power over all such. Those who overcome every passion, and every evil, will be sanctified, and be prepared to enjoy eternity with the blessed. If you have never thought of this before, try to realize it now. Let it rest upon your minds, and see if you can discover in yourselves the operations of the spirit and the body, which constitute the man. Continually and righteously watch the spirit that the Lord has put in you, and I will promise you to be led into righteousness, holiness, peace, and good order.

But let the body rise up with its passions, with the fallen nature pertaining to it, and let the spirit yield to it, your destruction is sure. On the other hand, let the spirit take the lead, and bring the body and its passions into subjection, and you are safe.

Now, what a glorious thought, brothers and sisters, when we realize that we have had hands laid on us for the gift of the Holy Ghost, to help the spirit in us obtain the ascendancy, and live continually under its power and influence and we will thus become perfect in the day of the Lord Jesus. But let the other course be taken, as has been pointed out, and we give the devil the advantage. This is when we lose. The gift of the Holy Ghost, brothers and sisters, is the most precious gift of life. The companionship of the Holy Ghost is the means by which we go on to perfection and become like God. This power that is given us to work upon the spirit that is within us, which came from the realms above -- a child of God -- will make us perfect. This is why we are here. God help us to do this, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:508  February 6, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 6, 1966
Light of the Spirit; Coming Tribulations; Present Salvation

It is good to be with you, my dear brothers and sisters. I feel keenly this responsibility. I felt very strongly impressed, as I read a sermon of Brigham Young, to the extent that it would definitely apply to us today. I ask the Spirit of God to be upon me as I read it to you, that it will rest upon you as though Brigham were speaking here tonight. It is found in Volume 8 in the Journals of Discourses. It is not as long as most of them are and I feel it will do us a great deal of good.

JD 8:121  Brigham Young  July 15, 1860  SLC

The words of eternal life, the holy Priesthood of the Son of God, with its keys, powers, and blessings, are committed to us. If they and the God who gave them are honoured by this people, great peace and joy are ours, through the Holy Spirit of this Gospel. Great peace have they who love the law of the Lord and abide in his commandments. This is the only peace that we can have.

It has been said this morning that those who turn away from the Lord are dark -- very dark and benighted. Every principle of true philosophy convinces a person who understands the spirit of the Gospel and has received the good word of life, that the darkness is in proportion to the light that has been forsaken. Rear a child in a cell which only admits a small glimmer of light, and the child will pass its time with some degree of satisfaction, when a person accustomed to the bright light of day could not at first see anything. And the greater the light bestowed upon an individual or upon a people, the greater the darkness when that light is forsaken.

The light of the Spirit reflects upon the understandings of those who have not passed the day of God's favour, and teaches them whether they are walking in the truth or violating the commandments they have received of the Lord. If persons reach a period when the Spirit of truth ceases to reflect upon their understandings, then they know nothing of the commandments of the Lord, but follow the lusts of the flesh and of the mind, and are bound to perdition. So long as persons are in a position that it is possible for them to return to the Lord, after having once received the love of Christ -- after having once been enlightened by his Spirit, there will be times when they will be taught whether they are walking in the truth or not.

Truth is the opposite of error -- it is a matter-of-fact -- no matter where it is found. A man, though he has not received authority from heaven, but is convinced by the light he has received that the nations have wandered far from God, and that his associates -- members of the same profession or community -- are not walking according to the revelations given in the New Testament, rises up and declares that he feels bound in his faith and conscience to go forth and raise up a pure church unto Christ. He goes forth and preaches to the people, calling upon them to be Saints of the Most High. He calls upon the people to return to the Lord with all their hearts -- to become truly the children of God by faith -- teaches many good and wholesome principles, many of the commandments of the Lord, and the revelations given in the New Testament, knowing nothing further. Revival after revival and seceder after seceder follow in the footsteps of the reformer. He professes to teach purer and holier doctrine than has been taught; and the question arises, Who is under obligation to obey that man's mandate? The Lord has not called him; Jesus has not appeared to him; Peter, James, and John have not met with him and conferred upon him the keys of the holy Priesthood; he has no communication with the heavens, only through the spirit of conviction.

Such is the situation of the Christian world. They are convinced by the traditions of their fathers, and by that portion of the light of Christ that lighteth every man that cometh into the world, that they are under obligation to a Supreme Being, and him they are naturally inclined to adore, reverence, honour, and worship. Under that impression they build up churches, professedly unto Christ, on their own responsibility. Who is under obligation to obey their words? When truth is presented, it matters not whether by a deist, atheist, professor of religion, or a person of no such profession, it belongs to the people of God. Were Lucifer to present a truth to this people, they have a right to take it, for it is theirs. But if he demands obedience to the truth, are people under obligation to hearken and obey through his word? Not in the least.

When a man merely from a spirit of conviction goes forth to build up the kingdom of God -- to reform the nations of the earth, he can go so far as morality operates upon and enlightens him; but he is without authority from heaven. Let such a person come here and teach one truth, or ten or a hundred truths, he is only handling that which does not legally belong to him unless he obeys the commandments of the Lord. That property is ours. It is for us to receive all truth. But we are under no obligation to obey any man or being in matters pertaining to salvation, unless his words have the authority and sanction of the holy Priesthood.

All truth belongs to the Saints of the Most High. They inherit it through obedience to his commands. It does not belong to the hypocrite -- to those who disobey the commandments of the Lord or turn away from them; it belongs to the faithful Saints -- to those who love and revere the name of God and keep his commandments. All truth, every good and holy principle, the fulness of the heavens and of the earth, and all time and all eternities that ever were, or are, or are to come, belong to the Saints of the Most High. Do those blessings belong to others, if they take an opposite path -- if they disobey the commandments of the Lord? No; but they, as well as the faithful, will reap the reward of their doings. If they take the road that leads to destruction, they may expect to be destroyed. If they take the road that leads to dissolution, they may expect to be dissolved. If they take the road that leads to ruin, they may expect to be ruined. The words given to us in the Bible and Book of Mormon, and the words of the Saviour, through his servant Joseph Smith, will all be verified and fulfilled. How do the Saints feel in regard to this matter? Is there faith and power among them? Do they feel grounded upon the Rock of ages? Do they feel that the words of Prophets will be fulfilled? There are times, perhaps, when men are measurably left to themselves, and when they are somewhat in doubt. But when they are active in the faith of their calling, are they sure and steadfast, and do they feel built upon the rock of eternal truth, the rock of ages, the rock of revelation? Do they realize that all the words of the Lord will be fulfilled? Those who read and hear, and do so understandingly, can comprehend for themselves. But how can people understand? They may read and hear the words of truth -- the words of life, and yet the natural man in his natural state cannot understand them. Mankind must have revelation, either through a preacher or some other source, and must enjoy the Spirit that should always attend the preaching of the Gospel, to enable them to understand what they hear.

"Do you think there is calamity abroad now among the people?" Not much. All we have yet heard and all we have experienced is scarcely a preface to the sermon that is going to be preached. When the testimony of the Elders ceases to be given, and the Lord says to them, "Come home; I will now preach my own sermons to the nations of the earth," all you now know can scarcely be called a preface to the sermon that will be preached with fire and sword, tempests, earthquakes, hail, rain, thunders and lightnings, and fearful destruction. What matters the destruction of a few railway cars? You will hear of magnificent cities, now idolized by the people, sinking in the earth, entombing the inhabitants. The sea will heave itself beyond its bounds, engulfing mighty cities. Famine will spread over the nations, and nation will rise up against nation, kingdom against kingdom, and states against states, in our own country and in foreign lands; and they will destroy each other, caring not for the blood and lives of their neighbours, of their families, or for their own lives. They will be like the Jaredites who preceded the Nephites upon this continent, and will destroy each other to the last man, through the anger that the Devil will place in their hearts, because they have rejected the words of life and are given over to Satan to do whatever he listeth to do with them. You may think that the little you hear of now is grievous; yet the faithful of God's people will see days that will cause them to close their eyes because of the sorrow that will come upon the wicked nations. The hearts of the faithful will be filled with pain and anguish for them.
How do you feel, Elders of Israel? Do you feel as though this tribulation would come soon? Would you like to have the scene commence this season, and have the vials of God's wrath placed at your disposal? Would you like to unstop those vials and pour their contents upon the heads of those who have afflicted you and driven you from town to town, from place to place, and from city to city, until you found a home in the mountains, and have even followed us here, believing that they yet have power to destroy the last Saint? Would you like to empty these vials upon the heads of the nations, and take vengeance upon those who have so cruelly persecuted you? Do you delight in the sufferings of your fellow-beings? Jesus died for those very beings. Have you ever realized that, the blood of Jesus, the Son of God, was voluntarily shed for those very characters as well as for us?

Do you not think that he has feeling for them? Yes, his mercy yearns over the nation that has striven for a score of years to rid the earth of the Priesthood of the Son of God and to destroy the last Saint. He has mercy upon them, he bears with them, he pleads with them by his Spirit, and occasionally sends his angels to administer to them. Marvel not, then, that I pray for every soul that can be saved. Are they yet upon saving ground? Many of them can yet be saved, if they will turn to the Lord.

If a person with an honest heart, a broken, contrite, and pure spirit, in all fervency and honesty of soul, presents himself and says that he wishes to be baptized for the remission of his sins, and the ordinance is administered by one having authority, is that man saved? Yes, to that period of time. Should the Lord see proper to take him then from the earth, the man has believed and been baptized, and is a fit subject for heaven -- a candidate for the kingdom of God in the celestial world, because he has repented and done all that was required of him to that hour. But, after he is baptized and hands have been laid upon him for the reception of the Holy Ghost, suppose that on the next day he is commanded to go forth and preach the Gospel, or to teach his family, or to assist in building up the kingdom of God, or to take all his substance and give it for the sustenance of the poor, and he says, "I will not do it," his baptism and confirmation would depart from him, and he would be left as a son of perdition.

That is how important baptism and the laying on of hands is, brothers and sisters. It does not necessarily take a man's having his calling and election made sure in seeing the face of the Savior and then turning against Him, to make him a son of perdition.

But if he says, with a willing heart and mind, "Here is my substance; I will not only pay the tenth of it, but the whole of it is at your feet; do with it as you please," does he not continue to be saved? Yes.

It is present salvation and the present influence of the Holy Ghost that we need every day to keep us on saving ground.

This is beautiful.

When an individual refuses to comply with the further requirements of Heaven, then the sins he had formerly committed return upon his head; his former righteousness departs from him, and is not accounted to him for righteousness: but if he had continued in righteousness and obedience to the requirements of heaven, he is saved all the time, through baptism, the laying on of hands, and obeying the commandments of the Lord and all that is required of him by the heavens -- the living oracles. He is saved now, next week, next year, and continually, and is prepared for the celestial kingdom of God whenever the time comes for him to inherit it.

I want present salvation. I preach, comparatively, but little about the eternities and Gods, and their wonderful works in eternity; and do not tell who first made them, nor how they were made; for I know nothing about that. Life is for us, and it is for us to receive it to-day, and not wait for the millennium. Let us take a course to be saved to-day, and, when evening comes, review the acts of the day, repent of our sins, if we have any to repent of, and say our prayers; then we can lie down and sleep in peace until the morning, arise with gratitude to God, commence the labours of another day, and strive to live the whole day to God and nobody else.

Whomsoever you yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are. Do not obey the lusts of the flesh, the lusts of the eye, and the grovelling grasping after property. There are those in this congregation who are so short-sighted, and so destitute of eternal wisdom and knowledge, that they believe that brother Brigham is after property -- after the things of this world. That is a false feeling, a false view, and a false faith in such persons. I am obliged to take care of what God puts in my possession, and to make the best possible use of it. I seek not for the world, nor for the things of the world; but God heaps property upon me, and I am in duty bound to take care of it. Do you think that I love the world? I do not. Where is the man who would more willingly give up his property than I would?

Do not gather to yourselves false notions. When you imbibe that which is not true, it tends to darken your understandings. I wish you to feel right and do right. Love not the world -- seek not the things of the world, but seek the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all things necessary will be added to us. Perhaps some of you think there is more added to me than is necessary. I do not think a single individual in this congregation knows how to take care of the things of life any better than I do.

You have been asked, to-day, whether you know how to save yourselves temporally. I have seen persons who were devoted, spirit and body, to their religion, and yet did not know how to hoe through a row of potatoes: they would be all over the field hoeing -- a little first in one row, and then in another. One of the brethren that brought the Gospel to brother Kimball, myself, and others, happened to be by when we were raising a loghouse. We then, as now, believed in men's making themselves useful in all places, and asked the minister to help us to roll up a log. He took the handspike and undertook to lift the log on to us, instead of on to the building. There are many just as ignorant as this man.

Though some persons do not know how to obtain the necessaries of life, they may know how to gain the kingdom of heaven. If the knowing ones are not faithful with the mammon of this world, who will commit unto them the true riches?

God bless you and all who love the truth! Amen.
have been repeated many, many times. Like Brother Guy indicated a few weeks ago, probably most people say, "Well, we will hear the same old things again." Well, bless your souls, brothers and sisters, we find that through this repetition, sometime, somewhere, a few souls get the message in a way that they had never thought of it before, and the truths finally bear in upon their souls and they begin to make a reformation. And reformation we, nearly all of us, need, if not all of us. Repentance is what we all need. These fundamental principles of the Gospel, if we would only apply them, we would begin to become like God. That is how simple, and yet beautiful the Gospel of Jesus Christ is. If we would only repent and obtain that great gift of power or faith, which God gives those who seek Him, we would begin then to make a reformation.

I would like to read a Lecture on Faith again that I have read a good many times. Other brethren have, too. I hope this message will get through. After indicating the nature of the Godhead, who They are, the Prophet tells us this:

Lecture Five

2. ...And he [Jesus Christ] being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments;

Now, we have all entered into the waters of baptism after having repented and exercised faith in the Father and the Son, and we have entered in a covenant to keep all of His commandments, all of them, as they proceed forth from His mouth through His servants. And this same Spirit, the gift of the Holy Ghost,

2. ...is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, Not all at once, but from grace to grace as the Lord Jesus Christ Himself did, as perfect as He was. But He obtained perfection through this same process.

2. ...from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

Did you note the word, "transformed", brethren and sisters? Put very, very simply, this is the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, being transformed into the express image and character of the Lord Jesus Christ and our Father Adam, through the Spirit. And there is no other way than through the Spirit, the Holy Spirit. And to repeat and summarize this thing, this principle, the Prophet goes on to say this:

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Which, remember, is the mind of the Father and the Son. And we will become of the same mind through the Spirit with them. We have this privilege.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

This is the lot of the saints, those that keep His commandments, all of them, obey the fullness of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Now, are we keeping the commandments? Obedience is the key, and through obedience we will be given the gift of the power of faith, which leads to knowledge. And only as we gain knowledge will we be saved, no faster. We must have knowledge of the holy Priesthood, key words, signs and tokens, all of the ordinances of the holy Priesthood. And we will not overcome death and the devil until we have more knowledge than he does, and this is the only way he can be put under our feet. This is the way Jesus Christ did, the great Prototype of all saved beings.

Do you have a Doctrine and Covenants? I don't know why it is that I delight to repeat these things, brethren and sisters. I guess it is because the modus operandi is so beautifully spelled out in these words of Joseph. Great are the words of Joseph, much greater than those of Isaiah, whom Jesus Christ commended to the Nephites.

D. & C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, Through faith,

   1. ...and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

Why? Because we will be like Him on no other basis. There is the Gospel of Jesus Christ, if you please, summed up in one verse of scripture, isn't it? Now he goes on to tell us what the means by which Jesus obtained this.

11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.
12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace.

As He rendered obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel, which is eternal as the Gods, He obtained one step after another, grace for grace, line upon line, precept upon precept, as we must.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;
14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

These same truths are in Lecture Five.
15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.
16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father;

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.
18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.
20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

21. And now, verily I say unto you, I was in the beginning with the Father, and am the Firstborn;
22. And all those who are begotten through me are partakers of the glory of the same, and are the church of the Firstborn.

And only through the glorious principle of faith can we lay hold on these things, my dear brothers and sisters. How do we obtain faith? Through obedience. We first believe, then we obey, and then power is given through faith, the power of faith to give us knowledge by which we shall pass by the angels and the Gods, until we come up to see the face of Jesus and Father Adam, which I pray may be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
March 6, 1966
His Expressions of Gratitude; Testimony of Joseph Smith

I humbly pray that the Spirit of God will direct my remarks tonight, for I have no preconceived notion of what I am going to talk about. As I have sat here, however, brothers and sisters, my mind went back to August of 1941, when I first set eyes upon Brother Guy and shook his hand, when he came up from California at the direction of President Barlow and the other brethren, when he called the saints home from California. He was the first, I think, to come when that word went out.

The thing that stands out in my mind and which has been confirmed through the years, was that first impression I had that he was a very dear and close kindred spirit, reunited here upon the earth to labor side by side in this Kingdom, under the direction of the Lord. It has been my happy lot, for which I am most grateful, that I have been called to labor at his side, along with my other brethren. If I ever knew a true brother in this life, it is Brother Guy. His father was a father in the Priesthood to me, as was John Y. Barlow. And I know as I know I stand here, that we have the same family in heaven. So I am grateful for the association I have had with him, for the teachings that he has imparted to me in that association, and for the many happy times we have had together as fellow laborers in the bonds of the New and Everlasting Covenant. I thank the Lord for him and my other brethren. And I feel nothing but gratitude here tonight for all that the Lord has given me, my wives and children. I suppose that that is the first time I have ever said "wives" publicly. Well, after all, I have had one or two that have gone, too. God bless them. But I have had promises concerning them.

Well, brothers and sisters, I am concerned that we generally are not grateful enough for our blessings. I know I don't show it enough. I am sure I would do better if I did, and we all would. How much, brothers and sisters, do we really care? How much do we care? Or in other words, how much do we truly love God, the Eternal Father, His Son, Jesus Christ, and Joseph Smith the Prophet, the Holy Ghost? How much do we love the brethren who have done so much and sacrificed so much for us in this work, who have gone before, and who are with us today? I know we little realize how much President Johnson and the others yearn over us as a people and over this work, for its progress and its development for the preparation of a people that the Lord God can use to shake the earth and to prepare for the redemption of Zion, the pure in heart. How much we are indebted to others for our place and station and for the faith that we have, whatever degree that may be. We are indeed our brother's keeper.

I am grateful for the parentage I have here upon the earth, for the faith and labors and the faithfulness of my father, David W. Jeffs, who has gone on and is laboring in the Kingdom on the other side. I am so grateful for his teachings, and that he taught me the things that are commonplace with us, if you want to put it that way, from my youth up, in spite of the teachings of the Church, in which I was very busily engaged in the wards and stakes and in the mission field. How grateful I am that my father handed me a Truth Magazine on the date of his birthday when I took him out to dinner in 1938, and told me of the glorious truths that he had been led to, as President Joseph Musser handed him a Truth Magazine on Main Street a year before. He had known Brother Joseph for many years previous when both of them had broken the law of the land and the rule of the Church in entering into Celestial and Plural Marriage in the early 1900's. I am grateful he had the courage to take my mother, and that she had the courage to go forward, going into hiding in those perilous days in order to fulfill her and his covenants.

I am grateful for my sisters, for my sister Leona, who has been faithful all the day long, and who has followed this Priesthood in spite of the wanderings of the man to whom she was given. It is mighty few women who have been able to do this. I have told my good folks that they were to stay with the Priesthood at the peril of their salvation, no matter what I might do. This is a correct principle, brothers and sisters. As those who have spoken before me tonight have said, the paramount thing in our lives is the Priesthood of the living God, which is the power by which we may be saved and exalted in the presence of God; for Priesthood is God.

Now I desire to repent of my shortcomings to do better. I think sins of omission are as great or greater than sins of commission, especially when we know better, brothers and sisters; for we are under condemnation, knowing better, if we do not live by it. So I say, show me your faith by your works; show me your love by your obedience. "If you love Me, keep My commandments," said the Lord. This principle applies among us, in our family orders and in our Priesthood orders. How much do we care? How much do we love? Our works and our faith will show this forth, and we need to obtain greater faith. The life and labors and the writings of such great men as Enoch, Abraham, Noah, of course Father Adam, Elijah, the Lord Jesus Christ Himself, Peter, James, and John, and in our day, Joseph Smith the Prophet -- all these things which they did was by the power of faith, and nothing short of it -- faith in the living God, and in the redemption and atonement of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is the central power and theme of our faith, the redemption of the Lord Jesus Christ. It was faith in this thing that enabled Enoch and those great patriarchs to accomplish the work that they did, teaching a city. And because they had taught them the laws and the plans of life and brought them up through faith to a state of relative perfection, he was then able to call upon the Lord, being agreeable to His will of course, to translate himself and his city. And he thus became the head of a special dispensation concerning translated beings.

So great was the faith of Elijah that he was the head of a dispensation, holding the keys of the sealing powers of the holy Priesthood, by which these family organizations and orders will be perpetuated throughout the eternities. It was through the faith of that humble boy, Joseph Smith the Prophet, fourteen years of age, able to bring the Father and the Son and witness Them, and thus go on obtaining the power to be the instrument through whom the Priesthood and the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ was restored to a lost and fallen world; and to be the instrument in this last Dispensation of the Fullness of Times, receiving the keys of all former dispensations to prepare, under the Holy One of Israel, this earth for its final redemption, its paradisiacal glory, and its celestialization. He is indeed the greatest forerunner of all -- Joseph Smith -- for he came to prepare the way for the return in glory of the Redeemer of the world, the Only Begotten and the Firstborn of Father Adam.

How I love the memory, the life and of the labors of Joseph Smith the Prophet, standing in the office of the Holy Ghost, the Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son. If we could only realize the nature of his work and mission, and that we have been the beneficiaries of that work and mission, I think we would do much better in following the directions and the precepts of his legal successors in the holy Priesthood.

For all of these things I am grateful for, my brothers and sisters; and I call upon you, with myself, to repent and do better, to be about the Lords business with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength, and thus show our true love for God and His Son and for His servants. Sisters, show your true love for your head by the way in which you obey him. Show your faith in the work of God by the measure of your obedience to the laws and ordinances and the commands of the holy Priesthood. And may we have a new sense of dedication, a greater and firmer determination to perfect our lives and serve God with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength, which I pray we may do, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
March 20, 1966
Growing Soft With Prosperity; Become Sweet and Sound

The few moments I occupy this position I, too, pray that the Spirit of God will direct the things that I may say. My mind has contemplated a statement yesterday by President Hammon, the truth of which has borne in upon my soul, and I felt like I should pass it on to you with a few comments. He said, "The way to salvation is a most humbling experience." And that is the only way we are going to get our salvation, is through humble obedience before God. Think of the truth of this thing, brothers and sisters.

I am also impressed with the fact that we are growing soft with prosperity and with the feeling that Christ delayeth His coming. The way is too easy, my dear brothers and sisters. And I think this is the great test that is upon us today. President John Y. Barlow told us that this day would come, and it is here, that we would be tested with money, with prosperity. We have been tested by the Priesthood and by a good many other means. I dare say this is the hardest it has ever been. The Book of Mormon is replete with historical facts to this effect where a people, through prosperity, have grown fat and soft and have given up the faith. It is true we have a great many people in this work today, but the greatest numbers of them, my dear brothers and sisters, are our children, if we were to count them up. And I pray God that we may raise them up in light and truth, to a full realization of the import of their heritage, and the covenant -- the fact that they are covenant children -- and a terrible responsibility rests upon us, my brothers and sisters, in this connection.

Are we truly raising them up in light and truth, or are we brainwashing them with T.V. and a lot of other things connected with modern life that prosperity has brought us, that machines and other things have brought us, that too much food and the wrong kinds of food have brought us? We are getting fat and lazy, I am afraid, my brothers and sisters, and we need to humble ourselves before God, because a greater test is coming yet, if it isn't already here, and that is the deceptions of the devil that will test the very elect, if it were possible.
Now, brothers and sisters, let us humble ourselves and remember the exhortations of the Sixth Lecture on Faith -- get to a place where we know that our course is pleasing to God. Acknowledge His hand in all things. Let us humble ourselves before the Lord, and pray unceasingly, as a family and in secret, for this is the means by which we reach God in the expression of our faith. I dare say, we are neglecting our prayers in this fattening process.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, my message to you and to me here tonight is that we become sweet and sound in the work of the Priesthood and the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Seek out the Lord in mighty prayer. Render strict obedience to all the laws and commandments that God gives us by holy writ or by the counsel of the brethren. And let us go before the Lord with broken hearts and contrite spirits, acknowledging our failures, our faults and our sins, and let us repent of them, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:526  April 3, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 3, 1966
Faith, Lecture Six -- Sacrifice All Things; Our Faith Is Weak

I have rejoiced, my brothers and sisters, in the presence of the Spirit here tonight and in the testimonies that have been borne, and in the truths that have been expounded to us. I pray the Father to continue that Spirit upon me in the few moments I occupy this position.

I am overwhelmed, my brothers and sisters, by the mercy of God and in His many gifts through the Holy Spirit, which we so little appreciate. Above all, I am grateful, after the knowledge of God and the Priesthood, for the gift that gives me these things and gives us all these things -- the glorious gift of faith, which I feel to talk upon for a little while here tonight.

Whenever President Johnson calls upon us to repent and to prepare ourselves as a people, and whenever he and the other brethren chastise and rebuke us for our dilatory attitude and for our lack of preparation, which is so important, I cannot help but think the only reason this is the case is because of our lack of faith. It is the very foundation principle of our existence. It is the power of God. It is the power of the holy Priesthood. It is the very essence of our existence. If we lack in these things that the brethren have called to our attention, it is because we lack faith. If the Lord will bless me, I would like to point out some ways and means by which we can strengthen our faith and go on to perfection.

Brother Hammon, last time, very beautifully pointed out to us the nature of the Godhead -- the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost, which is the mind of the Father and the Son, and the means by which we might be one with Them. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son, and it will be our mind with Them if we are one with Them. This is obtained only through the power of faith.

Brothers and sisters, it is a power. In fact, the Prophet Joseph in the Fourth Lecture, in speaking of the attributes of God and describing how the glorious principle of faith operates, called it a power. That is the only word he used in the paragraph. It is power. It is the power of the Priesthood. It is the power of the Gods, and if it abound not in us, then this is the reason for our dilemma and the condition that we find ourselves in. I submit to you, my brothers and sisters, that probably the reason for this lack is that we do not have the testimony that our course of life is pleasing to God. It is an insult to God for us to expect any blessings from Him if our course is not pleasing to Him. On the other hand, it is the very essence of faith that we have this knowledge, so that we can have the necessary confidence in Him to lay hold on eternal life.

The Prophet tells us:

Lecture Six

7. Let us here observe, that a religion that does not require the sacrifice of all things never has power sufficient to produce the faith necessary unto life and salvation; for, from the first existence of man, the faith necessary unto the enjoyment of life and salvation never could be obtained without the sacrifice of all earthly things. It was through this sacrifice, and this only, that God has ordained that men should enjoy eternal life; and it is through the medium of the sacrifice of all earthly things that men do actually know that they are doing the things that are well pleasing in the sight of God.

We should then ask ourselves, "Have we made the necessary sacrifice of all earthly things?" Not only of our money and our property, but have we sacrificed and given up the traditions of the world and conditions that we have existed in from our birth? Have we truly sacrificed in our minds these traditions of the world? This seems to be the hardest thing to give up. We can give up money, and we can give up possessions, but we will not let these traditions of the world go. This, I think, is what the Prophet meant above all other things, though he mentions character, houses, lands, wives, children, and all the rest. If we are lacking in faith, there is a reason for it, brothers and sisters, and I think the Prophet explains it in this way:

12. But those who have not made this sacrifice to God do not know that the course which they pursue is well pleasing in his sight; for whatever may be their belief or their opinion, it is a matter of doubt and uncertainty in their mind; and where doubt and uncertainty are there faith is not, nor can it be.

If there is some doubt about our course being pleasing to Him, there faith cannot be.

12. ...For doubt and faith do not exist in the same person at the same time; so that persons whose minds are under doubts and fears cannot have unshaken confidence; and where unshaken confidence is not there faith is weak; and where faith is weak the persons will not be able to contend against all the opposition, tribulations, and afflictions which they will have to encounter in order to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ Jesus; and they will grow weary in their minds, and the adversary will have power over them and destroy them.

That is the other course that is laid before us. If this people is not worthy of the blessings that must necessarily be ours if we are to come up to see the face of God and have our calling and election made sure, and be that people that are able to redeem Zion, and help restore the Ten Tribes and give them their blessings, it is because of a lack of faith. What else does the Prophet say?

Lecture Seven

3. ...We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion instead of physical force. It is by words, instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith.

Understanding, of course, that other fundamentals have been complied with, as outlined in the previous Lectures -- knowing that our course is pleasing and having a knowledge of the character and kind of Being that God is, so that we may have faith in Him. If we are lacking in faith, then, brothers and sisters, it is failure to exert ourselves. We are mentally and spiritually lazy, and that is about all we can say. It is just that simple, mentally and spiritually. We are not exerting our minds. We are not making the necessary sacrifices, and we are not reaching out to God through the power of prayer. This is part of this exercise of the mind, is to pray in mighty power before the Lord so that He can shed forth His Spirit and grant us these blessings.

There follows in these Lectures, as we well know, an explanation of the effects of faith. I think by reviewing some of these again, maybe we can understand better the nature of faith, so that we can exercise it in our behalf. We have had read to us so many times, "Be ye perfect as our Father in heaven is perfect," and we cannot do this without faith. The very essence of this process is faith. He goes on to say, as we well know:

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed; and on this hinge turns the door of salvation.

This, brothers and sisters, is the effect of faith. The greatest, the thing we seek most, is to become like Him.

17. ...And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith --

If we are not receiving, then our faith is weak. If we are not growing, if we are not becoming more like God every day, then it is a lack of faith.

17. ...every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it. He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect,
There is a principle that few of us understand and realize, to have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, as the Prophet described Judge James Adams after he had passed on.

17. ...of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter. Peter, in view of the power of faith, second epistle, first chapter, second and third verses, says to the Former-day Saints: "Grace and peace be multiplied unto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, according as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue." In the first epistle, first chapter, third, fourth and fifth verses he says: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time."
The greatest of the effects of faith is our salvation and exaltation in the presence of God.

18. These sayings put together show the apostle's views most clearly, so as to admit of no mistake on the mind of any individual. He says that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given unto them through the knowledge of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. And if the question is asked, how were they to obtain the knowledge of God? (for there is a great difference between believing in God and knowing him -- knowledge implies more than faith. And notice, that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given through the knowledge of God) the answer is given -- through faith they were to obtain this knowledge; and, having power by faith to obtain the knowledge of God, they could with it obtain all other things which pertain to life and godliness.

19. By these sayings of the apostle, we learn that it was by obtaining a knowledge of God that men got the knowledge of all things which pertain to life and godliness, and this knowledge was the effect of faith; so that all things which pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith.
20. From this we may extend as far as any circumstances may require, whether on earth or in heaven, and we will find it the testimony of all inspired men, or heavenly messengers, that all things that pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith and nothing else; all learning, wisdom and prudence fail, and everything else as a means of salvation but faith. This is the reason that the fishermen of Galilee could teach the world -- because they sought by faith, and by faith obtained. And this is the reason that Paul counted all things but filth and dross -- what he formerly called his gain he called his loss; yea, and he counted all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord. Philippians iii:7, 8, 9, and 10. Because to obtain the faith by which he could enjoy the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord, he had to suffer the loss of all things. This is the reason that the Former-day Saints knew more, and understood more, of heaven and of heavenly things than all others beside, because this information is the effect of faith -- to be obtained by no other means. And this is the reason that men, as soon as they lose their faith, run into strifes, contentions, darkness, and difficulties; for the knowledge which tends to life disappears with faith, but returns when faith returns; for when faith comes it brings its train of attendants with it -- apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, teachers, gifts, wisdom, knowledge, miracles, healings, tongues, interpretation of tongues, etc. All these appear when faith appears on the earth, and disappear when it disappears from the earth; for these are the effects of faith, and always have attended, and always will, attend it. For where faith is, there will the knowledge of God be also, with all things which pertain thereto -- revelations, visions, and dreams, as well as every necessary thing, in order that the possessors of faith may be perfected, and obtain salvation; for God must change, otherwise faith will prevail with him. And he who possesses it will, through it, obtain all necessary knowledge and wisdom, until he shall know God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, whom he has sent -- whom to know is eternal life.

We must obtain this knowledge, brothers and sisters, to be that chosen people. It may be obtained by only one means, and that is the power of faith. Let us consciously, through the power of prayer, through the sacrifice of our worldly traditions, and offering all else that we have failed to offer unto the Lord, and by drawing near to this order of the holy Priesthood, so that we may become that people that Brother Johnson, along with all of the other holy Prophets who have gone before, have labored so hard to obtain; only to the glory of God and Jesus Christ, whom He has sent.

My brothers and sisters, I know that we do not grasp sufficiently, perfectly enough, the picture of what lies before. I am afraid we are having it too easy. When the brethren begin to speak as they are now speaking, having a feeling of impending doom, I think we had better wake up, I mean doom of this people. We had better get on our knees and repent with all our hearts, and lay hold on faith, working through His servants and seeking to know God by means that are given into our hands, the glorious gifts of the Holy Spirit, which I pray we may have with us always, in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 1:534 April 17, 1966 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 17, 1966
The Priesthood of God, or Nothing

I am grateful to be here, my brothers and sisters, to raise my voice for the Lord and for the Prophet Joseph Smith, and for this order of the Priesthood that they have placed among us.

The statement of the Lord Jesus Christ has been burning in upon my soul this whole day, and I pray that it may be burned in yours. "If you are not for Me, you are against Me." Now this is the nature of God, Himself, His work and His Priesthood. There is no halfway house, there is no neutral corner, there is no half effort. It is the Kingdom of God, the Priesthood of God, or nothing.

The very nature of this work, my brothers and sisters, is a very positive one. It is not hanging around the fringes with one foot in and one foot out; it is not anything in the nature that is lukewarm, for God spews such out of His mouth. It is all or nothing at all. So, my brothers and sisters, if you are not for this order of the Priesthood, you are against it. And I think this calls for some analysis on the attitude of a good many of us.

It is said that the House of God is out of order, and verily it is. There are statements and contentions that the Priesthood is out of order, but I tell you in the name of the Lord, the Priesthood cannot be out of order; and I am not saying that the men who bear that Priesthood are infallible when I say it.
Whom God calls He will honor and uphold, and let no man set upon it, as He said in Section 132 of the Prophet Joseph Smith, whose successors this order of the Priesthood is. I tell you in the name of the Lord that anyone who raises his hand or her hand, his voice or her voice, against this order of the Priesthood will be wasted away. Anyone who cannot accept Joseph Smith the Prophet as the One Mighty and Strong to set in order the House of God, will apostatize as God lives, for the Lord has said it through His servants.

So, my brothers and sisters, shouldn't we have a very diligent and positive attitude about this great and glorious work that Brother Jessop has described to us? What glorious opportunities, blessings, and privileges are within our reach. No wonder the Lord says, "If you are not for Me you are against Me," because of that very nature of the thing that He described to us. Now let us, therefore, be diligent in our labors, in our offerings; make every sacrifice, for without sacrifice of all earthly things, all earthly feelings, the traditions of our fathers, everything that we possess that is contrary to the will and the Spirit of God, we cannot produce or have the faith sufficient to lay hold upon salvation and exaltation and eternal life.

The very nature of this work, then, brothers and sisters, is that we give all, that we get our loyalty straightened out once and for all, and go about in a very positive and a faithful way; remembering that faith is power with God to lay hold on salvation, to sustain and uphold that and those that God appoints; remembering this, the Lord will bless you, I promise you. And again, I say those who fight against that order of the Priesthood and that which God appoints, will be wasted away, which I testify to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 1:535  June 6, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
June 6, 1966
Nature of Priesthood

Your countenances are very bright. It is a delight to stand before you here today, brothers and sisters, to look into your faces. I know that you are hungering and thirsting after the truth, and I desire only to speak it with the help of the Lord. I feel, too, my brothers and sisters, deep gratitude for the sacrifices, the holding fast to the iron rod, the life and labors of my father.
As I was sitting here today, I could not help but think what he went through in the early 1900's, as he fulfilled the requirements that were made of him, both by instruction and by prophecy, and entering into the Celestial Law in the midst of terrible persecution at the time, on the part of publishers of the Tribune and also the terrible pressures that were brought to bear by the leaders of the Church. Father and mother and his other wives went into hiding. I am grateful that he has vouchsafed the truths of the Everlasting Gospel to me and to my sister, Leona, and that she is still with it, standing by the holy Priesthood above all other things.

I wondered, brothers and sisters, why we are constantly reminded that the saints are in the condition they are because of treating lightly the things of God. I have also wondered wherein this is the case mostly. I am sure we have had pointed out to us in many, many instances wherein we treat lightly the things of God, but I am impressed today that it must have most to do with the way we treat the authority of God, both that order which presides over us, as well as in failure to magnify that in our own lives, brethren, with our families; failure to realize the import of it, to walk in obedience to the laws and doctrines of the holy Priesthood. But I would like to treat a little more particularly today, very briefly, about the order of the Priesthood which presides over us, the nature of it, the lack of understanding, of which may be one reason for our being accused so often of treating lightly the things of God.

That which God ordains He will sustain. Through experience, I have seen how the Lord has sustained and upheld this order of the Priesthood, its labors in building up the Kingdom and establishing this Priesthood in the earth. Those who have raised their hands and their voices against it, God has dealt with summarily.

Now, what is the nature of this Priesthood, brothers and sisters? I would like to go to the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith, which may help us to get a deeper appreciation of it, I hope and pray, so that we may act as the Lord would have us act in the future.

There are three great powers of the Priesthood which are mentioned by the Prophet Joseph in a wonderful article we have in this book. The first is Elias, which is to prepare the way before those to follow.
That person who holds the keys of Elias hath a preparatory work. But if I spend much more time in conversing about the spirit of Elias, I shall not have time to do justice to the spirit and power of Elijah.

This is the Elias spoken of in the last days, and here is the rock upon which many split, thinking the time was past in the days of John and Christ, and no more to be. But the spirit of Elias was revealed to me, and I know it is true; therefore I speak with boldness, for I know verily my doctrine is true.

Mission of Elijah

Now for Elijah. The spirit, power, and calling of Elijah is, that ye have power to hold the key of the revelations, ordinances, oracles, powers and endowments of the fulness of the Melchizedek Priesthood and of the kingdom of God on the earth; and to receive, obtain, and perform all the ordinances belonging to the kingdom of God, even unto the turning of the hearts of the fathers unto the children, and the hearts of the children unto the fathers, even those who are in heaven.

Go a little further.

TPJS Page 338

Let us suppose a case. Suppose the great God who dwells in heaven should reveal himself to Father Cutler here, by the opening heavens, and tell him, I offer up a decree that whatsoever you seal on earth with your decree, I will seal it in heaven; you have the power then; can it be taken off? No. Then what you seal on earth, by the keys of Elijah, is sealed in heaven; and this is the power of Elijah, and this is the difference between the spirit and power of Elias and Elijah; for while the spirit of Elias is a forerunner, the power of Elijah is sufficient to make our calling and election sure; and the same doctrine, where we are exhorted to go on to perfection, not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of laying on of hands, resurrection of the dead, &c.

And here is his conclusion regarding this matter:

TPJS Page 340

The spirit of Elias is first, Elijah second, and Messiah last. Elias is a forerunner to prepare the way, and the spirit and power of Elijah is to come after, holding the keys of power, building the Temple to the capstone, placing the seals of the Melchizedek Priesthood upon the house of Israel, and making all things ready; then Messiah comes to His Temple, which is last of all.

The capstone. Now I read these things, brothers and sisters, to remind us of the nature of the order of Priesthood with which we are dealing. Failure to appreciate this, I think, is the cause of our treating lightly the things of God. To sustain and uphold and honor that which God has called and chosen and ordained is to do it unto the Lord; and when the blessings and powers are offered by the Lord and they are not accepted as He would have them accepted, and obeyed as He would have them obeyed, is an insult to the Lord, and that is why He has to tell us we are treating lightly these things.

What are we loyal to, brothers and sisters? Are we still loyal to the traditions and the ways of the world, or are we going to be loyal to this order of the Priesthood? Another way that we are treating lightly the things of God is in criticisms that are heard and made. If we are not careful and place our loyalties, our faith where they belong, through criticisms, we are going to be lost in a sea of criticism and finally lose our way. And we have seen it happen so many times, and it is still going on.

Now I commend to you, my brothers and sisters, this proposition, that we sustain with all our heart, mind, and strength the truths of heaven and that which God has ordained, both in the way of the Gospel and the holy Priesthood; and that we do everything in our power to build up the Kingdom of God by obeying and keeping our covenants in Celestial Marriage, teaching and training wives and children under the power and influence of the holy Priesthood, the power of which is the Holy Ghost.

Let us get and keep the Spirit of God, that it will help us to magnify the Priesthood, brethren. And you sisters, magnify it in your lives. You are a part of this holy order in being sealed to a man who bears the holy Priesthood, and you should honor and sustain that which enables you to act in concert together in this holy order, or the Family Order of Heaven, which I pray we may all do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
The Lord has been impressing me with these same things. They have been on my mind a very great deal, brothers and sisters, particularly as a result of some conversations I have had with some brethren, for they do indeed savor of life or death.

The very nature of this work, brothers and sisters, is that it is based on revelation. If this order of the Priesthood does not have the revelations of God, considering the nature of this order of Priesthood, then we are in a sad condition indeed. But, unfortunately, it is the individuals involved who are in a sad condition, because I testify to you that this is the order of the Priesthood descended from the Presidency and the administration of the Prophet Joseph Smith.

Because President Johnson or any other President is not continually saying that they are walking and talking with heavenly beings, the accusation is made that there is no revelation being given from the lips of these men. But I feel, if the Lord will help me, to point out a few things about the nature of revelation, the Spirit of revelation from the word of God, if you please, and the words of Joseph. All of the words of Joseph that we have are the words of God to me, whether in or out of the Doctrine and Covenants, the Pearl of Great Price, or the Book of Mormon.

Let us take an example of Oliver Cowdery. These things have been mentioned before, but I think we need, under these special conditions and circumstances, to be reminded.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

I think we can draw from this that God, Himself, was not there standing at his right side telling him what to do. He had the holy Priesthood, and the Spirit of revelation, by the power of the Holy Ghost, dictated his mind and the things that he said and did.

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.

5. Oh, remember these words, and keep my commandments. Remember, this is your gift.

Oliver Cowdery failed in this, and he had the gift taken from him. This is what the Lord had to say to him on this occasion shortly after:

D. & C. 9

1. Behold, I say unto you, my son, that because you did not translate according to that which you desired of me, and did commence again to write for my servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., even so would I that ye should continue until you have finished this record, which I have entrusted unto him.

5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.

6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

This is the Spirit of revelation, brothers and sisters, and if you have the Spirit of revelation in you, and the representative of the Lord speaks by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that is revelation and scripture; and that man or woman had better beware and give heed to such words.
The Prophet Joseph Smith gives us some very specific instructions on this matter, which I feel would help, regarding the Spirit of revelation. After having told what the nature of the advancement and the exaltation of man is, how he shall have his calling and election made sure and come up to see the face of God, he says this:

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. The blessings of exaltation, brothers and sisters, having our calling and election made sure, receiving the Second Comforter, which is the Lord Jesus Christ, Himself.

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

With this in mind, my dear brothers and sisters, I call upon you to judge whether revelation is being given through this order of Priesthood, and to beware concerning it; and I do it in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

Colorado City, Arizona
July 3, 1966
Testimony of President Johnson;
Our Priesthood Is Only Effective as We Are One With President Johnson

This is a very inspiring sight, my brothers and sisters, and I feel very insignificant and very needful for the Spirit and power of God to occupy this position. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, that the spirit of this Conference may continue, and that the word and will of the Lord may be made manifest to us.

I concur in the remarks of the brethren who have gone before, and I, too, feel to hail the Prophet who ascended to heaven, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost as Witness and Testator of the Father and Son. How I love his memory. How deeply grateful I am for his divine mission, and the work that was commenced through his instrumentality, under the direction of Father Michael and our Elder Brother, Jesus Christ; how grateful I am, and I know we all should be grateful that that power and authority has been preserved to this day, pursuant to the promises of Almighty God, that this work and Priesthood should never be thrown down or given to another people if we will believe and obey.

I know as I know I live, by the Holy Ghost, that this is indeed the work of God. The holy Apostleship leads us today as it did in the days of Joseph.
The ordinances of the holy Priesthood are committed through them for the benefit of the saints, and the highest and holiest law of them all, Celestial Marriage, is being preserved -- though not abided as it should be -- but according to the promises of God, it is being preserved and carried on. Those who will abide it will obtain eternal lives and an increase forever. This is the nature of the work of God to me, and I hope to you.

As I contemplate the majesty, the greatness, the power of God, His will and purposes, I feel very insignificant indeed. I want nothing more nor less than to be an instrument in His hands to do His work to further it, to build up His Kingdom and establish this Priesthood in the earth to His name's honor and glory. I know this is the desire of my brethren, to build this Kingdom to the glory of God; and they are willing to make any sacrifice, do anything, go anywhere to this end under the direction and power of God. I know that the revelations of God are with President Johnson. I testify of it to you. I have talked with men who are fearful, living in fear that this Priesthood is not led by revelation. I think the record so far is so complete that a wayfaring man, though a fool, should see it.

Some men are so fearful of walking in blind obedience that they are missing the boat, so fearful of walking in blind obedience that they are not receiving revelation themselves. One who brings any such railing accusation against this order of Priesthood, and especially against President Johnson, had better prove to me that he has the revelations of God before he has any right to speak in this manner. The Lord says we should not put our faith in the arm of flesh. I think Brother Jessop put it very beautifully the other day when he said we are in danger of putting our faith in the arm of flesh when we put it in ourselves. I think that is what the Lord was talking about.

I think there is nothing more foolish or foolhardy than for a man and woman to come to this Priesthood and get blessings, the ordinances of the holy Priesthood, and then refuse to follow its counsels and dictates, becoming a law unto themselves. There is nothing more foolish. I know that all my life and light and wisdom must come from the Holy Ghost, which was administered through the power of this Priesthood through the key man, Leroy S. Johnson. I cannot get it in any other way. Heber C. Kimball spoke the truth when he said, "How will you get the Holy Ghost except through us?" speaking of Brigham and the leading brethren holding the holy Apostleship. I don't expect to get it in any other way.

The power of my Priesthood is ineffective; the power of your Priesthood, brethren, is absolutely ineffective save it be in concert, and in following the leadership and counsel and direction of President Johnson. I tell you this in the name of the Lord. I cannot see any other way to get back to Father Adam except through those whom he has called and chosen, and who administer everlasting lives through the ordinances of the holy Priesthood. There is no other way.

I am constrained to continually keep before me, at least, the example of the experiences of the Camp of Zion. I think this story, this fact of history, this thing that we have before us is very typical of the people of God generally, even today. There are very few of that two hundred men who were able to go through standing at the side of the Prophet Joseph -- this "gigantic Apostle", this servant of God, standing in the office of Holy Ghost -- so very few men who went through those experiences (with a promise, mind you, ahead of them that they would redeem Zion if they would only obey and not murmur), very few got through without murmuring. Very few got through without walking in strict obedience to the counsel and direction of the Prophet. Those few were the ones that God chose, called and chose to lead His people. I am sad to say half of them, speaking of the Twelve, fell before they were through. I trust that this people as a whole will not fulfill that example.

My brothers and sisters, we need to be more diligent. We need to have greater faith. Faith is a gift of God. Repentance is a gift of God. The Holy Ghost, above all, is a gift of God. Let us honor it. Let us be blessed by it. Let us get it and keep it. Do you want happiness and joy? Get and keep the Spirit of God. Do you want eternal lives, and an eternal increase? Get and keep the Spirit of God and walk in obedience to the counsel and direction of those whom God has sent. I am constantly reminded of the example of Heber C. Kimball, how the Spirit of God came upon him one day as he was going through the trials of Missouri, and he was assured of the love and confidence of God Himself for this simple reason: "You have been careful, My son, to follow the words of My servant Joseph."

May we do this. May we follow the words of President Johnson. May we follow the counsel and direction of this order of Priesthood, which is life itself to all of us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Sermons of Rulon Jeffs  Volume Two
Volume Two

RTJ 2:1  July 12, 1966  SLC  Funeral
RTJ 2:4  July 17, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:5  August 7, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:9  August 21, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:12  September 18, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:13  October 2, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:23  October 16, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:26  November 20, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:31  December 4, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:34  December 18, 1966  SLC
RTJ 2:36  January 8, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:39  January 22, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:40  February 5, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:49  February 19, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:52  March 5, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:55  May 9, 1967  SLC  Funeral
RTJ 2:58  May 14, 1967  CCA
RTJ 2:64  June 4, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:67  June 18, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:71  July 2, 1967  CCA
RTJ 2:75  July 16, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:78  August 6, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:83  August 20, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:91  September 3, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:96  October 22, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:99  November 5, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:108  November 19, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:112  December 17, 1967  SLC
RTJ 2:115  January 7, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:118  January 21, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:120  February 18, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:125  March 3, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:128  April 7, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:131  April 21, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:133  May 12, 1968  CCA
RTJ 2:134  May 19, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:140  June 16, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:144  July 7, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:149  July 21, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:152  August 18, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:155  September 8, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:163  September 22, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:169  November 3, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:173  November 17, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:176  December 8, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:181  December 22, 1968  SLC
RTJ 2:185  January 19, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:189  February 16, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:194  March 2, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:197  March 16, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:200  March 23, 1969  CCA
RTJ 2:210  April 6, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:215  April 20, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:218  May 4, 1969  CCA
RTJ 2:224  May 18, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:225  June 8, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:228  June 22, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:236  July 20, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:237  August 3, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:242  August 17, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:246  September 7, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:249  September 21, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:252  October 5, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:255  October 19, 1969  SLC
RTJ 2:260  November 16, 1969  Sandy
RTJ 2:261  December 7, 1969  CCA
RTJ 2:266  December 21, 1969  Sandy
RTJ 2:270  1970's  Canada
RTJ 2:280  January 4, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:281  January 18, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:284  February 22, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:286  March 8, 1970  Hildale
RTJ 2:292  March 22, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:298  April 19, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:305  May 3, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:312  May 10, 1970  Hildale
RTJ 2:319  May 17, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:322  June 7, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:330  June 21, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:332  July 5, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:339  July 17, 1970  CCA  Funeral
RTJ 2:342  July 19, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:347  July 27, 1970  SLC  Funeral
RTJ 2:350  August 16, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:351  September 6, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:361  September 8, 1970  CCA  Funeral
RTJ 2:363  September 20, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:365  October 4, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:370  October 18, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:373  November 8, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:378  November 15, 1970  CCA  Funeral
RTJ 2:380  November 22, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:386  December 6, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:390  December 20, 1970  Sandy
RTJ 2:397  January 17, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:402  February 7, 1971  CCA
RTJ 2:410  February 21, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:415  March 7, 1971  CCA
RTJ 2:423  March 21, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:425  April 4, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:431  May 9, 1971  CCA  Conference
RTJ 2:432  May 16, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:439  June 6, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:443  June 20, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:447  July 4, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:453  July 18, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:458  August 8, 1971  CCA
RTJ 2:463  August 22, 1971  Sandy
RTJ 2:467  September 19, 1971  Sandy
Salt Lake City, Utah
July 12, 1966
Funeral of Guy Keate

I feel honored, my brothers and sisters, in being asked to make some remarks on this sacred occasion. And I desire an interest in your faith and prayers, that I may say only those things which will be in keeping with this occasion, and according to the will of the Lord.

I was deeply moved upon hearing of the passing of this dear little child, and it brings to mind many things concerning the Gospel of Jesus Christ. One wonderful thing about occasions like this is that we are brought nearer to the other side, brought to realize the necessity for repenting and doing better, each and every one of us. And as to this fine family, whom I have grown to love, I think they have set an example before us. It is well worth emulating. I have loved the spirit of humility, which is the essence of obedience to the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. I see it in the demeanor and the character that shines from the countenances of these children, and I have noted it particularly in young Guy. Brother Keate and his family have followed the old Mormon adage to "mind your own business". They go about their business, taking care of it quietly, and have set a noble example for all of us, and this is told in the lives of these children.

I am very closely associated with Brother Eldon in business and in spiritual affairs. I have grown to love and respect him very highly, and I cannot see but these children are being taught light and truth, and being raised up in it to obey the Gospel of Jesus Christ according to the admonitions of God.

I thought it might be well, brothers and sisters, to remind us of the words of Joseph the Prophet regarding the passing of children. I know it has always given me a great deal of comfort, and I trust that it may do so for Brother and Sister Keate and these fine boys and girls. He says:

\[
\text{TPJS Page 107} \\
\text{All who have died without a knowledge of this Gospel, who would have received it if they had been permitted to tarry, shall be heirs of the celestial kingdom of God;}
\]

Now, young Guy understands, for his age, the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I do not mean to infer that he did not, but what follows is significant.

\[
\text{...also all that shall die henceforth without a knowledge of it, who would have received it with all their hearts, shall be heirs of that kingdom, for I, the Lord, will judge all men according to their works, according to the desire of their hearts. And I also beheld that all children who die before they arrive at the years of accountability, are saved in the celestial kingdom of heaven.}
\]

\[
\text{TPJS Page 196} \\
\text{We have again the warning voice sounded in our midst, which shows the uncertainty of human life; and in my leisure moments I have meditated upon the subject, and asked the question, why it is that infants, innocent children, are taken away from us, especially those that seem to be the most intelligent and interesting.}
\]

And such was young Guy.

\[
\text{The strongest reasons that present themselves to my mind are these: This world is a very wicked world; and it is a proverb that the "world grows}
\]
weaker and wiser"; if that is the case, the world grows more wicked and corrupt. In the earlier ages of the world a righteous man, and a man of God and of intelligence, had a better chance to do good, to be believed and received than at the present day; but in these days such a man is much opposed and persecuted by most of the inhabitants of the earth, and he has much sorrow to pass through here. The Lord takes many away even in infancy, that they may escape the envy of man, and the sorrows and evils of this present world; they were too pure, too lovely, to live on earth; therefore, if rightly considered, instead of mourning we have reason to rejoice as they are delivered from evil, and we shall soon have them again.

The doctrine of baptizing children, or sprinkling them, or they may welter in hell, is a doctrine not true, not supported in Holy Writ, and is not consistent with the character of God. All children are redeemed by the blood of Jesus Christ, and the moment that children leave this world, they are taken to the bosom of Abraham. The only difference between the old and the young dying is, one lives longer in heaven and eternal light and glory than the other, and is freed a little sooner from this miserable wicked world. Notwithstanding all this glory, we for a moment lose sight of it, and mourn the loss, but we do not mourn as those without hope.

It has been a most beautiful example the way this family has taken this shocking news and this accident. It proves again to me that death is but a stepping stone into a higher and better sphere, like moving over into another room. We have cause to rejoice knowing that the will of God has been done, in that He has taken young Guy to Himself to carry on in his work and labors there. I am sure that the will of the Lord has been done in this instance.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ, when rightly lived and obeyed, can give us nothing but hope and love, and it should bring the spirit of repentance upon all those who remain, and cause us to become more serious about the Lord's business -- bringing up these children in light and truth, which is the greatest work we have to do. The very purpose of the marriage covenant, the Family Order of Heaven, is that God may have a continuation of the lives forever and ever. The most serious business we have is to bring forth children and to raise them up in the light of the Gospel, to a knowledge of the holy Priesthood and an understanding of its laws and ordinances and covenants, and in entering into them as we prove worthy.
Now I pray for the Spirit of God to rest upon this family, that they may continue as they have, and loving and understanding the Gospel of Christ and rendering obedience to it, that their hearts will be comforted and strengthened, and that they will be led to glorify the Lord God of Israel, which I pray we may all do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:4  July 17, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 17, 1966
D. & C. 133

It is good to be here, brothers and sisters, and see this beautiful sight. I love to be able to see the whole congregation. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct me in what might be said here tonight. I felt, brothers and sisters, that if I were called upon, that it would do well to consider the message of the Lord in the appendix to the Doctrine and Covenants, Section 133. This was given at the same time that the preface to the Doctrine and Covenants was given, which is now known as Section 1.

D. & C. 133

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the Lord your God, and hear the word of the Lord concerning you --
2. The Lord who shall suddenly come to his temple; the Lord who shall come down upon the world with a curse to judgment; yea, upon all the nations that forget God, and upon all the ungodly among you.
3. For he shall make bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of their God.
4. Wherefore, prepare ye, prepare ye, O my people; sanctify yourselves; gather ye together, O ye people of my church, upon the land of Zion, all that have not been commanded to tarry.
5. Go ye out from Babylon. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.

These are words of great moment, brothers and sisters, and involve the very thing that President Johnson has been talking to us all these years about. [He then read the remainder of Section 133.]

RTJ 2:5  August 7, 1966  SLC
I am grateful, brothers and sisters, for the spirit that has been here, and pray that the same spirit may actuate the few remarks that I may make. The thing that impresses me, brothers and sisters, is the terrible sin and wickedness all around us. It is frightening when we see the increase of violence that is taking place in various parts of the nation. Last time, Brother Hammon mentioned that violence would increase after the murder of those eight girls in Chicago, and we know what happened last Monday -- this man Hickman, deliberately going and shooting down all those people. I read another little item of a boy, fifteen, who killed another person, I do not recall the relationship. [Voice from the background: "A night watchman."] A night watchman. And when he was asked why he did it, he very calmly said, "Well, I thought it would be fun to do like these others have done." Imagine that.

I only mention these things, brothers and sisters, as an indication, a trend of what is going on in this nation, and what is going on all around us, and what our children are going to be subject to as they attend the schools, as they go about their affairs; what we ourselves, as adults, are going to have to meet as we go into the world to earn our living. And ere we are aware, brothers and sisters, we are liable to be drawn into the vortex.

Above all things now, we need to come out of Babylon, and not partake of her sins in any degree whatsoever. If ever we need the power of faith, it is now in these prosperous times. We see signs of economic troubles in the horizon, as well as the continual increase in crime, and we must be very careful as we walk upon the streets. A woman has no business being out on the streets at night, nor should children. The devil is ready to take us if we get on his ground, and he will. We only need to lose our faith, and pretty soon the Spirit of God is withdrawn and we are on the devil's ground, and we know not what we will do. We have seen it happen so many times.

The thing that I am trying to get over, brothers and sisters, is that we, the people, need to draw nearer together under the leadership that God Almighty has provided for us, for this is the source of all of our blessings. The means by which we will get the Spirit of God is through that channel which He has ordained and established. You mothers and children must realize that the source of the Spirit of God that you may obtain must come through your Priesthood head. You have need to draw near together under that head within your families and bring them in order.

Brethren, we must labor day and night to bring our families in order. They must live the United Order in that circle before they can live the United Order as a people, the order of unity. It doesn't necessarily include always the economic affairs of a family. It is the spiritual affairs that are far more important. Within the eyes of God, nothing is temporal, all things are spiritual. And we should so order our lives, in our so-called temporal affairs, that everything will be considered in a spiritual importance. All that we say, all that we do should be so ordered that we advance the work of God. Each of your families is a component part of this work. President Johnson, under the Lord, and his Council desires only a prepared people, the welfare of this people who will be prepared to meet God, to redeem Zion, to build up the Kingdom of God and establish His Priesthood in the earth. Everything that we say and do, every breath that we draw, should be done with this in mind, that we are advancing this cause of Christ in which we are engaged. But if we don't draw together willingly, we will be whipped together. The Lord tells us in Section 88, "Draw near unto Me while I am near, and I will draw near unto you. Seek Me out in times of peace and I will bless and prosper you, and not call upon Me only when you are in trouble."

So, brothers and sisters, let us rally around this work, around this Priesthood. Priesthood is the most important consideration in all of this work. All other things are helps and governments to it. And if we will sustain this order of Priesthood as such, regardless of the weaknesses of men, then I am sure the Lord is going to honor us. As I have said many times before, brothers and sisters, the Lord is going to judge us according to our loyalty to Priesthood. The Prophet Joseph Smith, and I think it bears repeating, said this to the Twelve Apostles, and he addressed it to the saints.

TPJS Page 156

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray
the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings,

And the Lord knows that we do plenty of it;

...see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

When we say brethren, we mean Priesthood. This is going to be the final judgment with which we will be judged, my dear brothers and sisters -- the degree of loyalty that we have for this work and Priesthood. We can show this by our everyday lives. My goodness, there is so much to be done. We need not aspire to position and places in Priesthood. There are children to raise and bring them up in light and truth -- these beautiful spirits that the Lord has reserved for this time to come forth in this dispensation for the very purposes for which we are engaged. We have the great job of perfecting our lives, becoming like God. This is done daily in our housework, in our relations with one another, in our business, if you please, and above all, in advancing the work of God.

Now let us have a new spirit of dedication, brothers and sisters, and bring ourselves together in our family circles and pray constantly day and night, that we may be one; that husbands and wives may be pure element having the Holy Ghost as your constant guide and companion; that you may impart it to your children in perfectness and peace and raise them up to become vessels of honor. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of God, that God will purge out those who are not clean and not able to receive the blessings of His holy House. The greatest judgment that has been brought upon the Latter-day Saints in this dispensation has been their being cut off from the ordinances of His House, the ordinance of His holy Priesthood. And the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is in terrible apostasy. The House of God will yet be set in order.

I testify to you that Joseph Smith, the Prophet, the Witness and Testator, is the One Mighty and Strong who shall come and set in order His House. And we should be so ordering our lives, brothers and sisters, that we will be found worthy to meet him and be instructed of him; for he will come, under the direction of the Holy One of Israel, and he will speak to His servants first, and then to those who are worthy. All may be His servants if they are perfect in Jesus Christ, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:9 August 21, 1966 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 21, 1966
Warning of Moral Sins; Train Our Children; Evils in Families That Must Be Overcome

President Johnson's remarks were indeed a key note to this gathering, and I pray God that we will all give heed. This has been the burden of President Johnson's message to this people since the day he became the head of this work and Priesthood, and it is about time we gave heed. I rejoice in the spirit of his remarks and stand in fear and trembling for what lies before us. I felt, brothers and sisters, with the help of the Lord, to point out a few things that surround us that will carefully lead us down to hell, particularly our children, if we are not aware. The Prophet Joseph and others of the Prophets have told us that God would put means in the way of satan and give him a full play of power, that the people might believe a lie and be damned if they were not careful, or if that is what they want.

There have been conditions surrounding all, every generation, brothers and sisters, that we have had to be careful of. But I see around us more insidious and more open and abominable practices, that, if we are not careful, we will be taken in a snare. I refer more particularly to the things we see on television that are going on in these programs, as well as in the dance halls and the night clubs, and every other form of entertainment that is now placed before the people. These dances are exactly like the ones that are being performed in darkest Africa, the Watusi. They are even called by the same name and they are calculated to cater to the sexual desires of men and women, boys and girls. They become literally possessed of devils. If anyone gets to participating in these orgies, for that is what they are, they will be taken in a snare. We must guard our children from this influence, and from anything that smacks of it.

The television is a medium that will appeal to our children if we are not careful, and we should be careful what they see and hear by this medium.
We should have some control, brothers and sisters, over what they see and hear. There are some good programs, but very few. I think that we ought to be careful that we don't allow unlimited and uncontrolled viewing of this medium of communication of which the devil has full control throughout the nation and the world.

Talk about temptation and giving the devil every means at his command; he certainly has it. He is buying up every means of communications. He is buying up armies and navies and government, and he has this government of the United States in tow. Now, where is our safety, brothers and sisters? It is in training up our children in the way that they should go, in light and truth. Keep them at home where you have jurisdiction and are able to teach them daily and hourly, momentarily. Guard them against the fiery darts of the adversary that exists in our schools. I am sure it can be done. We can find plenty of entertainment in our homes if we will seek to do so with the Spirit of God -- in classes, in home nights, and sitting down at night with the children, with stories, and a declaration of the principles of the Gospel and the doctrines of the holy Priesthood. And begin early, brothers and sisters, in creating respect and love for Priesthood in these little children.

I tell you, I know from experience what this will accomplish, looking to President Johnson as the head, as the leader of Israel in this day and time, teaching them to follow the example that he sets before us with him and his family, as well as the other brethren. This, to me, brothers and sisters, is the greatest responsibility that we have, teaching up and training our children in the way that they should go. Guard them from these hellish conditions that surround us. These things can reach the people of Colorado City as well as they can here, and they do. It doesn't matter where we live, the devil is there seeking by every means to take us in a snare; and he is becoming more powerful every day in the accomplishment of his purposes. If we are not careful, our children will go off like flies. So, brothers and sisters, I would enjoin upon you a very careful planning and setting in order of your homes, getting and keeping the Spirit of God there, doing nothing that will destroy that sweet influence and Spirit. It is the only protection we have.

As we move among the gentiles in our labors, in our social activities and any other contacts that we may have with them, our only protection is the Holy Ghost. The minute we step out of the realm of that Spirit, we get on the devil's ground, and he will take us. It is just that simple. So, brothers and sisters, we must be conscious every moment of our waking hours, and before we go to sleep, that we have the Spirit of God. Without it, as I say, we can be taken by the devil, and that is as literal as anything I could express. You have seen it and I have seen it. These children, once they get into bad habits, it is very, very, difficult to break. We ourselves should know that as we grow older. We are finding that some habits are almost impossible to break, but it can be done. We must get envy and jealousy out of our systems.

Brothers and sisters, let us not be blaming other people for the things we do and for our losing the Spirit of God. We ourselves are the only ones to blame. When we see that sweet Spirit leaving us, let us not charge it to somebody else who may be doing wrong. What if they are? This is no reason or excuse for us. They may be wrong and may have a bad spirit; and it is as true as life itself that when one has a false and delusive spirit, he is envious and hateful, loses his temper. If you answer them according to their folly, you will get the same spirit, and it will take possession of you. You know that as well as I do. These things will abound among our children if we are not careful, if we don't set the proper example to them. This bickering and fighting in families has got to stop, or we cannot have the Spirit of God. Hate and envy and jealousy must be weeded out because these are manifestations of false and delusive spirits.

So let us, brothers and sisters, not be taken in these snares that surround us on every hand. Let us look to our homes; let this be our temple, and build it up and keep it sweet and clean. Keep them orderly. I think one of the finest injunctions we can have is what the Prophet Joseph gives us in Section 88:

D. & C. 88

123. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.
124. Cease to be idle;

Oh, how important this is, for it is indeed the devil's workshop.

124. ...cease to be unclean; cease to find fault one with another; cease to sleep longer than is needful; retire to thy bed early, that ye may not be weary; arise early, that your bodies and your minds may be invigorated.
125. And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.
126. Pray always, that ye may not faint, until I come. Behold, and lo, I will come quickly, and receive you unto myself.
The Spirit of God, brothers and sisters, cannot dwell in unclean places or tabernacles. We can be unclean in many ways, both in our surroundings, our dress, our homes, and our minds, if you please. We have got to become a pure and a holy people, clean from the blood and sins of this generation, clean from filth and dirty houses, clean from every contact that the devil has set up around us, pure and clean in every sense of the word; which I pray we may be in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:12  September 18, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
September 18, 1966
Be One in Our Families and With the Prophet

I am sure, brothers and sisters, our cups are full and running over, and we have received enough. I pray we may digest it, make it a part of us, and become like God, that we may indeed enter into His presence.

Brothers and sisters, I want to remind you again of your obligations in our wheat fund. It has been falling down. This is the job of the sisters, who have generally been doing very well; but it has been falling off here, and I understand even down south. Our bin will soon be full here. They are all full in Colorado City, but it is not all paid for. Believe me, brothers and sisters, if these things are not full, and if we are not prepared and have stores laid away, we are going to wake up very sorry.

God help us to be true saints, to be indeed one. The Lord said "If ye are not one, you are not Mine". You fathers, remember this concerning your families. If your families are not one in an order, they are not His, our Father's. If you are not one with President Johnson, then you are not his. We need to be one. If we were indeed one, these brethren would not have to speak the way they speak today. God bless us, amen.

RTJ 2:13  October 2, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 2, 1966
Priesthood; Do Not Blame Others for Our Wrongs; Faith Is the Key to Our Success
I don't know that I am expected to occupy so much time tonight, brothers and sisters, but I do desire what time I do occupy, that it will be under the direction of the Holy Spirit, that we may be edified together under the direction of that Spirit.

I have enjoyed very much the remarks of the brothers and sisters that have spoken to us tonight, and I know that it comes from the heart. It is very strengthening to me to hear these testimonies, for it indicates that there is progress going on, that the work of God is advancing, and that there are honest souls full of integrity who are going forward in this work.

As I have listened to these things, my mind has gone back to my earliest experiences in this work. As I look at the picture on this back wall of President John Y. Barlow and Joseph W. Musser, I have longed in my heart to have them back again. Not that I am dissatisfied, not in the least, with my present Priesthood head. I had a worthy and a faithful father, my natural father, for which I am grateful beyond words to express; but I look upon Uncle John and President Johnson as my fathers in the Priesthood.

It occurred to me as I sat here tonight, brothers and sisters, that this principle of fatherhood is much greater than we realize. Fatherhood is the Patriarchal Order of the Priesthood. Fatherhood is Priesthood, and motherhood goes hand in hand with it in the Patriarchal Order of Heaven, the Family Order of Heaven; and someday we may have revealed to us a great deal more concerning Patriarchal Priesthood.

Joseph Smith, in speaking of the various orders of the Priesthood, named three, and I wonder if it might be well to read.

There are three grand orders of Priesthood referred to here.

1st. The King of Shiloam (Salem) had power and authority over that of Abraham, holding the key and the power of endless life. Angels desire to look into it, but they have set up too many stakes.

The sacrifice required of Abraham in the offering up of Isaac, shows that if a man would attain to the keys of the kingdom of an endless life; he must sacrifice all things. When God offers a blessing or knowledge to a man, and he refuses to receive it, he will be damned. The Israelites prayed that God would speak to Moses and not to them; in consequence of which he cursed them with a carnal law.

What was the power of Melchizedek?

Or Shem. He was the king of Salem, after whom the highest Priesthood was named, to avoid the too frequent use of the name of God. The holy Priesthood, the highest Priesthood, is called the Priesthood after the order of Enoch, after the order of the Son of God.

'Twas not the Priesthood of Aaron which administers in outward ordinances, and the offering of sacrifices. Those holding the fulness of the Melchizedek Priesthood are kings and priests of the Most High God, holding the keys of power and blessings. In fact, that Priesthood is a perfect law of theocracy, and stands as God to give laws to the people, administering endless lives to the sons and daughters of Adam.

This is the order of Priesthood with which we are dealing in this work, brothers and sisters, and I think we need to be more cognizant of it, and appreciative of it. Going on:

Abraham says to Melchizedek, I believe all that thou hast taught me concerning the priesthood and the coming of the Son of Man; so Melchizedek ordained Abraham and sent him away. Abraham rejoiced, saying, Now I have a priesthood.

Some have thought that he said, "I have a Priesthood of my own," but this is not so. We have a Priesthood after the order of the Son of God, and it is in connection with those who hold keys above us that we bear Priesthood, and we cannot bear it separately and singly. Part of this Priesthood is the Priesthood of Elijah, this highest Priesthood.

The Mission of Elijah

How shall God come to the rescue of this generation? He will send Elijah the prophet. The law revealed to Moses in Horeb never was revealed to the children of Israel as a nation. Elijah shall reveal the covenants to seal the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the children to the fathers.

The anointing and sealing is to be called, elected and made sure. These are the keys and powers of this Priesthood.

"Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but made like unto the Son of God, abideth a priest continually." The Melchizedek Priesthood holds the right from the eternal God, and not by descent from father and mother; and that priesthood is as eternal as God Himself, having neither beginning of days nor end of life.

The 2nd Priesthood is Patriarchal authority. Go to and finish the temple, and God will fill it with power, and you will then receive more knowledge concerning this priesthood.

In Joseph Smith's day, he held the keys of the Apostleship. He also held keys of Patriarchal authority, and he conferred that part upon his father, who became Patriarch to the Church and people of God. In a Patriarchal sense, his father presided over his son Joseph, but Joseph presided over his father as to the keys of Priesthood. Fatherhood and Patriarchal authority are very significant in our lives, and we should realize this.

The 3rd is what is called the Levitical Priesthood, consisting of priests to administer in outward ordinances, made without an oath; but the Priesthood of Melchizedek is by an oath and covenant.

Here is a grand key concerning the Priesthood, brothers and sisters.

The Holy Ghost is God's messenger to administer in all those priesthoods. The power of the Priesthood, brothers and sisters, is the Holy Ghost. No man can properly administer to his family, a man cannot administer in the keys of the Priesthood to the saints without the power of the Holy Ghost. If the Holy Ghost doesn't perform it and go along with it, it is not done in the sight of God. When hands are laid upon another by those having the Priesthood, the Holy Ghost confirms it and blesses it, and a man cannot administer the laws of eternal life to his family without the gift and power of the Holy Ghost. So, how great then is the necessity for our getting it and keeping it.

My mind often goes back to the article that we have heard and read quite often, "False and Delusive Spirits". One of the keys that I always feel very keenly to remember, after having discussed the troubles that husbands and wives have, fighting one another, blaming one another, it goes on to say, "When we lose the Spirit of God, why do we blame someone else?" This we cannot do. It doesn't matter to me what another person does or says, if we permit that, it is ourselves who do it, if we permit this to cause us to lose the sweet essence of the Spirit of God, the calm and peaceful and strengthening feeling of the Holy Ghost. It is our fault, and we cannot blame another for losing it. We cannot blame another for anything that we do wrong.
I was reminded of an item I read in the Newsweek Magazine, a week ago, and I brought the clipping along with me here tonight. You might be interested in the implications of it, at least. You know we have heard so much about psycho-analysis and psychiatry, or it would seem that many people need to be psycho-analyzed. This isn't the answer. The effort to improve our minds and learn the workings of the mind of man, which is a spirit, is done through the gift and power of the Holy Ghost. This is the answer to all of our problems. The psychiatrists have this to say about the shortcomings of psychiatry:

Newsweek Magazine

Many critics of psycho-analysis feel that the missing ingredient in this mind science might be religion. Hobart Myre, a professor of psychology at the University of Illinois, criticizes psycho-analysis. "I maintain that religion has great potential for serving and saving men and women in this world, which it has relinquished to psychiatry. As the clock of history has ticked off the decades of this century, we have gradually discovered that Freud's great postulate -- that all our behavior can be blamed on others and that the goal of life is not to act morally, but to free ourselves of guilt -- have dumped us from the frying pan into the fire."

That is all modern psychiatry is trying to do. They teach that it doesn't matter how guilty people are, just "free yourselves of the guilt feeling and you will be all right. You just go on doing what you want, but just don't feel guilty about it."

This is the modern philosophy and we just as well face it. Brothers and sisters, as sure as God lives, we have got to live innocent before God, or we are not going to see Him. We have got to live a perfectly moral life. We have got to go into the presence of God clean. If we are guilty, we should feel guilty and do something about it. There is a cleansing process available to us if we haven't gone too far, if we haven't turned against the light, betrayed the brethren, along the lines Brother Dallas has spoken of, and he spoke the truth when he mentioned these three steps to dissolution. That is God's truth. First faultfinding, criticizing the brethren; next, betrayal of the brethren; and finally, fighting against God, kicking against the pricks, and they become lost.

Now, brothers and sisters, why do we, in our family relationships, in our relationships with one another, in our business affairs, in our social affairs, why do we continually blame others for our own shortcomings, for our loss of the Spirit of God? We are going to have to answer for everything we do. We have got to, before we go into the presence of God, become free and clean from the blood and sins of this generation; and by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, which is the attributes of God, become like Him by having it as our constant companion, and get to a point where we are never without it. If we have it as we should, we cannot but have all the various named attributes of the living God, and become like Him. We will be filled with this pure love of Christ, without which we cannot see Him, as Moroni tells us in the seventh of Moroni. I commend it to your reading again, the last verses of chapter seven of the Book of Moroni.

Now, brothers and sisters, how are we going to obtain and keep this glorious gift, which is life eternal itself, which is the power of the Priesthood, which is the love of God? It is through faith. That which follows faith is perfect obedience; and through perfect obedience and the sacrifice of all earthly things, by offering them, we will know our course of life is pleasing to Him, and we can approach Him with confidence. Knowing that He approves, we can take joyfully the spoiling of goods, the loss of loved ones, and every earthly thing; and we will receive all things according to the will of God.

Faith is the answer. This is the power and the means by which we obtain the presence, the companionship, and the gifts of the Holy Ghost. Those attributes which are mentioned by the Prophet Joseph in Section 121, are the means by which the power of the holy Priesthood is to be exercised. By this means, then, he says, "The Holy Ghost will become our constant guide and companion, and our scepter an unchanging scepter of light and truth."

I love the Lectures on Faith. Brothers and sisters, I still say we are not conscious enough of the working power of the gift of faith. We are not conscious enough of its meaning and how it works, how we obtain it. We need to be daily conscious of this principle of faith, which is a principle of power, and secondly, a principle of action. "Show me your faith by your works." One who has fear, who permits fear to govern his life, is absolutely devoid of faith. It is the opposite of faith. We cannot, without impunity, disregard this glorious and first principle of the Gospel.

I would like to read the concluding verse of the Seventh Lecture on Faith, feeling that it might help us in this direction, and I preface it with one of the earlier verses.
Lecture Seven

3. We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion instead of physical force. It is by words, instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith. ***

This is synonymous to me with the power of prayer, by the words we utter in our prayers to God, calling upon His name, knowing that our course is pleasing to Him, that we can lay hold on anything that is for our eternal good and advancement.

I love the words of Paul, I think it was, who said, "I can do all things," anything in other words, "through Jesus Christ, which strengtheneth me;" -- faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, our Savior and Redeemer, our Mediator, who atoned for our sins as well as the original sin, bringing about the resurrection and a possibility of coming back into the presence of our Father -- "I can do all things through Christ, which strengtheneth me." This ought to be something that should be before us every living breath we draw.

We cannot be saved without knowledge, and we obtain knowledge, first, through a belief in correct principles; next, through faith, a principle of power and of action, which will finally bring us knowledge of the laws and the things of God. We are saved no faster than we gain knowledge, and:

Lecture Seven

19. By these sayings of the apostle, we learn that it was by obtaining a knowledge of God that men got the knowledge of all things which pertain to life and godliness, and this knowledge was the effect of faith; so that all things which pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith.

20. From this we may extend as far as any circumstances may require, whether on earth or in heaven, and we will find it the testimony of all inspired men, or heavenly messengers, that all things that pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith and nothing else; all learning, wisdom and prudence fail, and everything else as a means of salvation but faith. This is the reason that the fishermen of Galilee could teach the world -- because they sought by faith, and by faith obtained.

The goals that we seek, brothers and sisters, we must seek by faith, as a living principle, a principle of action. Joseph, in speaking of it, spoke of it as power that is synonymous with faith, power, power with God, power of the Priesthood. And by exercising this glorious principle, we have the gifts of the Holy Spirit, which testify of the Father and of the Son; and no man can say that Jesus is the Christ but by the Holy Ghost.

20. ...And this is the reason that Paul counted all things but filth and dross -- what he formerly called his gain he called his loss;

You remember how great a man he was in the law, a citizen of Rome, a great lawyer. He sat at the feet of Gamaliel and became a very learned man, and all of these things he said after he was approached in vision by the Lord Jesus Christ. Having obtained a knowledge of Him, through going through all of the necessary ordinances of the Gospel, and a training of some twelve years, when he went forth to preach, he found that all those things were but dross and a loss compared to the knowledge of Christ.

20. ...yea, and he counted all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord. Philippians iii. 7, 8, 9, and 10. Because to obtain the faith by which he could enjoy the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord, he had to suffer the loss of all things. This is the reason that the Former-day Saints knew more, and understood more, of heaven and of heavenly things than all others beside, because this information is the effect of faith -- to be obtained by no other means. And this is the reason that men, as soon as they lose their faith, run into strifes, contentions, darkness, and difficulties; for the knowledge which tends to life disappears with faith, but returns when faith returns; for when faith comes it brings its train of attendants with it -- apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, teachers, gifts, wisdom, knowledge, miracles, healings, tongues, interpretation of tongues, etc. All these appear when faith appears on the earth, and disappear when it disappears from the earth; for these are the effects of faith, and always have attended, and always will, attend it. For where faith is, there will the knowledge of God be also, with all things which pertain thereto -- revelations, visions, and dreams, as well as every necessary thing, in order that the possessors of faith may be perfected, and obtain salvation; for God must change, otherwise faith will prevail with him. And he who possesses it will, through it, obtain all necessary knowledge and wisdom, until he shall know God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, whom He has sent -- whom to know Nothing pertaining to our salvation, then, can be obtained except through the gift of faith; and let us emphasize that it is a gift. Repentance is a gift. Love, justice, judgment, mercy, truth -- all are gifts of God -- life itself is a gift of God; the Holy Ghost is a gift of God. I feel it would be well for us to bear this in mind also -- these are gifts, and without them we are nothing. If we should labor all the days of our lives, as King Benjamin said, rendering perfect obedience, yet we would be unprofitable servants, but for the gifts of God; which I pray we may all obtain, even the salvation and exaltation of our souls, with our families, our brothers and sisters, and co-laborers in the work of God, praying that it may roll forth and fill the earth, that the Kingdom of God may come. I feel to read, in conclusion, Section 65.

D. & C. 65

1. Hearken, and lo, a voice as of one sent down from on high, who is mighty and powerful, whose going forth is unto the ends of the earth, yea, whose voice is unto men -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

2. The keys of the kingdom of God are committed unto man on the earth, and from thence shall the gospel roll forth unto the ends of the earth, as the stone which is cut out of the mountain without hands shall roll forth, until it has filled the whole earth.

3. Yea, a voice crying -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, prepare ye the supper of the Lamb, make ready for the Bridegroom.

4. Pray unto the Lord, call upon his holy name, make known his wonderful works among the people.

5. Call upon the Lord, that his kingdom may go forth upon the earth, that the inhabitants thereof may receive it, and be prepared for the days to come, in which the Son of Man shall come down in heaven, clothed in the brightness of his glory, to meet the kingdom of God which is set up on the earth.

6. Wherefore, may the kingdom of God go forth, that the kingdom of heaven may come, that thou, O God, mayest be glorified in heaven so on earth, that thine enemies may be subdued; for thine is the honor, power and glory, forever and ever.

God bless you, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
October 16, 1966
All Things Are the Effects of Faith;
Doing the Father's Will Is the Essence of Faith

I sincerely ask, brothers and sisters, for an interest in your faith and prayers this afternoon. I desire an answer to the prayer that was offered in our behalf, and Brother Johnson's. My mind is a blank and I am going to need it; but faith always comes to mind, brothers and sisters.

The principle upon which we have been placed upon the earth is that we shall walk by faith. This is the sum and substance of our whole probation. Having kept our first estate, having seen the handiwork of God in creating this earth as a dwelling place for His sons and daughters, and singing songs of joy as the great plan of salvation was laid out before us; and the Lord Jesus Christ, coming forth with the plan of the Gods by which He should come and do the will of the Father, bring about the atonement and the resurrection, be a Mediator between God and man, after our Father should go through the great sacrifice of stepping down into mortality, bringing His children here upon the earth in mortal bodies by which their existence could become perfected. We sang songs of joy and contemplated the fact that we would have to come down here, be subject to temptation, know the difference between good and evil, and knowing that we would have to walk by faith. This is the very essence of our probation, as I said.

It was by faith that God created this earth. All creation that exists was brought about by faith, and salvation itself is the effect of faith. It is a principle of power by which we come unto God. So, brothers and sisters, we do not, I think, realize, as a principle, the nature of it and the power of it. Joseph Smith spoke of it as power, as he explained this glorious doctrine and principle by which we are required to go on as we seek the presence of our Father.

To me, brothers and sisters, one of the grandest things I can contemplate is the unbounded faith of a little child. This is what the Savior meant when He said we should become as a child if we are to enter into the Kingdom of God. He was speaking of the faith, the trust, the confidence of a little child in his parents and those he has set to follow; and if we can maintain this childlike faith, we will get through.

The greatest men that have ever lived, the Prophets of God, have had perfect faith. They have obtained those blessings and reached those places that they have through the exercise of faith. They are the humble men of the earth. God's children, His servants, who obtained the places that they were sent to fulfil, came by a humble faith. In humility is strength, and I can't contemplate that a man would ever become great in the eyes of God unless he was a humble man, acknowledging God in all things, walking by every word that proceeds forth from His mouth. No man was ever great who was conceited in his own strength. This was the beautiful example that was set by the Lord Jesus Christ, in that He said all that He said and did was according to the will of the Father. He came to do His will and not His own. This is, itself, the very essence of faith.

Joseph Smith was likewise a beautiful example. I often think of the statement he made when a man wrote him a letter offering to be his right-hand man. He said in reply, "Should I step down and pettifify myself in such a way?" He said, "God is my right hand Man." To some this would sound like it is conceit, but it is quite the opposite. He was relying continually and wholly upon his Father, reflecting His will. As he said, "Ask yourselves if you are like God. I have, and I feel to repent." And He said, likewise, "When I receive a command from God, I obey."

These are the powerful men of the earth, like the great Prophets of old who walked after the footsteps of Father Adam. Adam down to Enoch, Noah, and Abraham and Moses, Elijah -- what great faith they had; and the faith of the Lord Jesus Christ. All of these are beautiful examples and prototypes for us to follow. Brothers and sisters, if we are not enjoying the blessings that we are seeking, it is because we lack faith. I just desire to remind us again of these principles that we may humble ourselves before the Lord.

I think too many have become self-sufficient. Too many of us are, and thus cannot be aware of the fact that our course of life is pleasing to God; and therefore, we don't have power with Him. Because our obedience is not perfect, our faith is not perfect. I desire of our Father in heaven that I and mine shall follow in the footsteps of those who have set such a worthy example before us, and that all of us will do likewise. Let us take inventory, brothers and sisters; know where we stand in our faith, and do all things according to the mind and will of God, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:26 November 20, 1966 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
November 20, 1966
Ways We Lose the Spirit of God; Physical Cleanliness

I was thinking of something funny as I sat here today, not that I wasn't enjoying the wonderful things that were being said. My mind reverted to the day in England when I was speaking up on the stand in the bull ring and in a street meeting. There were other meetings going on around and I was speaking very loud, not that I was shouting or screaming at anybody. I was just enthusiastic and wanted everybody to hear. One of the Salvation Army boys came over and said, "Say, Elder, we'd like to hear our meeting, too." I wondered if he was speaking of the band, too. [Laughter] I'm not going to shout at you today. I just want the Spirit of the Lord to help me tell the truth.

The thing that has been on my mind, brothers and sisters, is the matter of getting the Spirit of God. The Spirit of God is the Spirit of peace and calmness, and I am sure we often wonder why we cannot get and keep it at all times. If the Lord will help me I would like to tell you a few things that you cannot do and have the Spirit of God; and one of them, I think, is to shout at your children, to shout at one another in your family affairs. I never saw the Spirit of God act in that way. I have seen righteous indignation at work even in President Johnson, who is a very mild man. I am sure the Lord Jesus Christ, when He drove the money changers out of the temple, had the power of God with Him as He did this thing; but I am sure He was not shouting at anybody and losing control of Himself.

It seems to me, brothers and sisters, that in order to have the Spirit of God, we must have absolute and complete control of our spirits, for the Holy Ghost is the power of spirit and works on spirit. One who is angry and has lost control of himself in his anger -- don't misunderstand, the Lord gets angry, too -- but if we lose control, the Spirit of God cannot be with us. So do not shout at your children, brothers and sisters, and especially you mothers. The spirit of calm, the spirit of peace, a spirit of love will beget far more obedience in them than you are ever aware of. We must be firm and we must even punish where it is due, as Brigham Young exhorted us in the "Ten Rules on the Governing of Children"; and I would commend these rules again to you sisters, particularly, in raising up your children in light and truth.

I cannot imagine, brothers and sisters, the Spirit of God dwelling in a filthy home. If anybody imagines that they can have it under these conditions, they are sadly wrong. The Holy Ghost can dwell only in clean tabernacles, in clean homes, in clean surroundings. To be clean means not only to be free from the blood and sins of this generation, but it is to be clean in body, in our habitations, and in our conversation. If anyone doesn't believe it, I take the Doctrine and Covenants. Maybe a few words of the Lord might help.

D.&C. 88
123. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.
124. Cease to be idle; cease to be unclean; cease to find fault one with another; cease to sleep longer than is needful; retire to thy bed early, that ye may not be weary; arise early, that your bodies and your minds may be invigorated.
125. And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.
126. Pray always, that ye may not faint, until I come. Behold, and lo, I will come quickly, and receive you unto myself. Amen.

And Section 93:
D.&C. 93
35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled,

Or shall we say unclean?

35. ...God shall destroy that temple.

And I mean clean all the way. No unclean thing can enter into the Kingdom of God. Brothers and sisters, let us remember that unless we are busily engaged in the work that we are called to do, we cannot be happy and we cannot have the Spirit of God. A mother cannot lay around in bed most of the day and expect her children to do all the work. She has got to be up and working with them and supervising them. Children need to learn to work, and they should carry a fair share of the work in the home and learn to work and stand on their own two feet. If there is anything I abhor, it is to see a woman laying around while her children are trying to keep things in order, in some semblance of order. If you can tell me that the Spirit of God dwells in these conditions, I would like you to prove it.

The Spirit of God cannot dwell in a spirit of selfishness. If we are not looking after the interests of our brother and sister, in your families, our sister wives and children, and of this work and the principle of Celestial Marriage, the Spirit of God cannot rest upon you. The Spirit of God cannot dwell in a deceitful person. Above all, we must be honest, honest with God and with one another. The Spirit of God cannot dwell with a covenant breaker or any of the other conditions that we may name. I wish I had an eleventh volume of Truth available. I would like to read you what some of the Prophets have to say about these things. Is there one in the back room there?

The thing that puzzles me, brothers and sisters, is which comes first? I mean what some people think comes first. Some think that they somehow latch on to the Holy Ghost and thereafter everything they do is just okay. They have accepted plural marriage, they have come to the Priesthood, they may even pay their tithing, and they think that from then on they have the Spirit of God. We have got to work with ourselves and change our character before the Spirit of God will come. I have said many times, if we had the Spirit of God we could not do the things that I have been talking about, and we would have the attributes of God. But we have got to labor with ourselves with these weaknesses, with these shortcomings we have in our character in order for us to get the Spirit of God, because it can only be compatible with us under those conditions.

I am going back to this matter of cleanliness. Jedediah M. Grant in 1855 and 1856, during the reformation, had this to say:

JD 3:60 Jedediah M. Grant July 13, 1855 Provo City

I would like to see the work of reformation commence, and continue until every man had to walk to the line, then we should have something like union; but you might as well cast little pebbles in the air to stay the wind as to undertake to make those walk right, pray right, and do right who are full of the devil. People must be right in their works, and be brought to know and practise their duties. You have got doctrine enough and revelation enough, and perhaps one difficulty is that you are too full of them. One doctrine which you need is to make your families, your streets, and every thing about you clean, and to prepare proper outhouses. Purify yourselves, your houses, lots, farms, and every thing around you on the right and on the left, then the Spirit of the Lord can dwell with you.

Do you suppose, when I go into a house that is filthy, that I believe that Saints of God dwell there? No, I believe that they are a filthy set of beings. Saints must practise cleanliness and purity, and show by their prayers, by all their works, and in their families, that they are reforming, and forsaking all and every kind and species of filthiness and evil practice, no matter what it is, no, not though it takes the hair off from your heads; no matter if it be high, low, rough, or smooth, the Almighty has given you a law to obey and reverence; and if you practise those doctrines which you have embraced, though all hell foam against you, by the power of God you will triumph and ask no odds of anyone.

Talk about the Saints coming up to the Church of the first born, to the state of perfection which Enoch attained; if men and women ever attain to this, they have got to be pure in all their habits, pure in their spirits as well as in their doctrines, for the Lord has told us what is right and required in those things.

It is your duty to keep clean. I have given the Teachers a new set of questions to ask the people. I say to them, ask the people whether they keep clean. Do you wash your bodies once in each week, when circumstances will permit? Do you keep your dwellings, outhouses, and dooryards clean? The first work of the reformation with some, should be to clean away the filth about their premises. How would some like to have President Young visit them and go through their buildings, examine their rooms, bedding, &c.?

That is a good question. How would you like President Johnson to come all of a sudden and see some things?

Many houses stink so bad, that a clean man could not live in them, nor hardly breathe in them. Some men were raised in stink, and so were their fathers before them. I would not attempt to bless any body in such places. You may inquire why I talk so. Can you talk in a better style about dirt, nastiness, and filth? If you can, I cannot, and at the same time make people feel enough upon the subject to put away their filth and be clean. If you want me to speak smoother, do better and keep cleaner. Were I to talk about God, heaven, angels, or anything good, I could talk in a more refined style, but I have to talk about things as they do exist among us.

JD 4:19 Jedediah M. Grant  August 3, 1856  SLC

If an angel (from heaven) of God should come to that village, he would say to its inhabitants, "Repent and wash your bodies, repent and clean up your dooryards, repent and cleanse your out-houses," all of which I seriously think that they have very much need to do.

I actually suppose that in the instructions which an angel of God would give, the very first lesson would be to teach cleanliness to the filthy, and then instruct them to keep themselves cleanly all the time.

Well, I think you know what I mean. Turn to page 141 of volume 11 of Truth and you will get quite a treatise on this subject. We have got to have clean minds, bodies, habitations. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of God. No unclean thing can enter into the Kingdom of God. These are basic truths that I don't think anybody can gainsay. The process of sanctification calls for not only these things, but strict obedience to every law, every ordinance, every counsel and direction given by the Priesthood of God. Ask yourselves if you are like God. I have, and I feel to repent, and call upon us all to do so, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:31 December 4, 1966  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 4, 1966
Do Not Justify Our Weaknesses

I solicit your faith and prayers, likewise, brothers and sisters, in the remarks that the Lord may lead me to make. It is always good to meet together and express our gratitude for the bounteous blessings of heaven, for we are indeed a blessed people.

I know as far as I and my family are concerned -- and it must be with the rest of you -- every day is a living miracle as we contemplate the conditions under which we live in the world, that we are, in effect, defiers of the law, defiers of the rules and regulations of the Church, of which we are actually members; defiers of the entrenched powers of Lucifer in the earth. And God has fulfilled His promises every whit, as we have gone through this veil -- shall we say this lone and dreary world?
We have had our trials in the past, but I expect they will be small compared with what we have yet to go through. And I know not what the Lord is going to have to do in order to make us one, or sufficient of us one, that we can be used. We have the promise, brothers and sisters, of becoming or being the righteous nucleus of the great Millennium. With this before us, we do so little to achieve it. God blesses us and brings us along far more and far better than we deserve.

I cannot escape the conclusion, brothers and sisters, that the paramount thing that is holding us back today, is that fact that we love our weaknesses. It is a peculiar thing that we are able to acknowledge that we have them. Too often we fail to pinpoint them as they really are, but the attitude seems to be, by and large: "I have this weakness. We are full of weaknesses. We are human. So be it. That is as far as we can go. I am weak."

But I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, the Lord is not going to take us in our weaknesses. Our attitude is that we have got to take each other in our weaknesses. Fine. We sure are required to put a cloak of charity around one another. But I am telling you, God is not going to receive and take us in our weaknesses. If we will acknowledge them, and then do something about it, then I am sure that we are going to make progress. I am satisfied that it is purely and simply a matter of spiritual and mental laziness. I know I have said this a lot of times before, and so have the brethren. But we have got to, my dear brothers and sisters, do something about these weaknesses, beginning today, not tomorrow or next week or next year, but today. Pinpoint them. Put them in categories if you like. Write them out. And then set about each day to overcome them.

I have been talking with a man in this group who had been fairly close to me, describing how all through his many years of struggle, it seemed a terrible battle in order to survive each day. But by continually struggling and struggling, he now finds it coming much easier, because he has persisted in accomplishing the ends that he has sought in overcoming his weaknesses. And it becomes a source of great joy and strength and satisfaction to him. And we have all got to get into this position.

If we are falling short of the glory of God, if we are not like God -- as we must inquire and repent if we find we are not -- then we are going to have to work every day, every moment, being fully conscious of what we are doing, instead of falling back, and falling back into these ruts we call our Another thing, brothers and sisters, I am sure, is the fact that we are not conscious of trying to help one another more in these things. We need to help one another more in temporal things. But above all, within our families, help one another to overcome these weaknesses. If we can be instruments of doing so, we should volunteer it -- mothers with their children, wives under their husbands. You brethren, remember that the Priesthood stands ready to help you; but you cannot stand out there alone and expect the help. The brethren are very, very busy. And some of the greatest advances in the world have come through calling upon the brethren and getting help. But remember above all other things, we have the gift of the Holy Ghost. This is the greatest help of all.

We have had all of the teachings time and time again, that the Lord has seen fit to give to us, but we are not following up on it. The only way that we can do this is to get and keep the Spirit of God. Now, the Spirit is going to flee from us if we fall back into these weaknesses and these faults, these imperfections. The Lord expects perfection of us if we are going to enter into His presence.

Now I feel, more than any of you, to repent at this time; to do better, to go forward on the way to perfection; for I desire nothing less than the presence of God, and the House of God being set in perfect order, and having a part in it, whatever humble part that may be. I desire above all other things to be worthy of the blessings of the House of God, the temple of God, for me and mine, and for all of you.

Until we are endowed, my dear brothers and sisters, we are not going to be able to be used. It is just that simple. And God is not going to give us these endowments until we have done a better job of perfecting ourselves, that we can keep His secrets. In this we have failed, my brothers and sisters. We cannot keep the secrets of the Lord. He has tried us and has proven us in this, and has had to draw back again, and again. Now, having been told these things by the brethren so many times, and for so many years now, why don't we do more?

Let us take inventory of our lives, our character, our attributes. Let us love one another with all our heart, might, mind and strength, after we have submitted ourselves to our Father in heaven, to Jesus Christ, and to Joseph Smith -- who is the Holy Ghost; and love Them and all They have done, because of all They have done for us, with all our hearts, might, mind, and strength. This is required of each of us, and we can do it in more than one way than to actually give up the ghost and lay down in death. We must give our lives to one another as the Gospel requires. And I pray that we may do this, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:34 December 18, 1966 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 18, 1966
Reported by Marjorie Holm
Endure Afflictions

One of the grandest things from the pen of Joseph Smith was written from Liberty Jail. For just a moment I feel like reading Section 122 to this congregation. The Lord speaking to him, said:

D.& C. 122

1. The ends of the earth shall inquire after thy name, and fools shall have thee in derision, and hell shall rage against thee;

2. While the pure in heart, and the wise, and the noble, and the virtuous, shall seek counsel, and authority, and blessings constantly from under thy hand.

3. And thy people shall never be turned against thee by the testimony of traitors.

4. And although their influence shall cast thee into trouble, and into bars and walls, thou shalt be had in honor; and but for a small moment and thy voice shall be more terrible in the midst of thine enemies than the fierce lion, because of thy righteousness; and thy God shall stand by thee forever and ever.

5. If thou art called to pass through tribulation; if thou art in perils among false brethren; if thou art in perils among robbers; if thou art in perils by land or by sea;

6. *If thou art accused with all manner of false accusations; if thine enemies fall upon thee; if they tear thee from the society of thy father and mother and brethren and sisters; and if with a drawn sword thine enemies tear thee from the bosom of thy wife, and of thine offspring, and thine elder son, although but six years of age, shall cling to thy garments, and shall say, My father, my father, why can't you stay with us? O, my father, what are the men going to do with you? and if then he shall be thrust from thee by the sword, and thou be dragged to prison, and thine enemies prowl around thee like wolves for the blood of the lamb;

7. And if thou shouldst be cast into the pit, or into the hands of murderers, and the sentence of death passed upon thee; if thou be cast into the deep; if the billowing surge conspire against thee; if fierce winds become thine enemy; if the heavens gather blackness, and all the elements combine to hedge up the way; and above all, if the very jaws of hell shall gape open the mouth wide after thee, know thou, my son, that all these things shall give thee experience, and shall be for thy good.

8. The Son of Man hath descended below them all. Art thou greater than he?

9. Therefore, hold on thy way, and the priesthood shall remain with thee; for their bounds are set, they cannot pass. Thy days are known, and thy years shall not be numbered less; therefore, fear not what man can do, for God shall be with you forever and ever.

One of the grand scriptures that I trust we will always remember is that "all things shall work together for good to them that love the Lord", which I pray we may do with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:36 January 8, 1967 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 8, 1967
Gratitude; Encouraging the Saints to Diligence

I feel very weak, but grateful for the opportunities that are mine, and to be with you here again today. I am grateful above all things, brothers and sisters, for the testimony I have of this work, and for my love and association with my brethren of the holy Priesthood; and I don't feel to glory in it. It is as though the Lord had led me by the hand as I contemplate my history, and I hardly feel worthy of it. I am grateful for the experiences that the Lord has given me, for by experience we gain knowledge, through faith. I am grateful for the life and labors of Joseph Smith, the Prophet. I know he lives and is directing this work from the other side. I know that Jesus Christ is the Son of the living God and that Father Adam is literally our Father and God, that all things pertaining to this earth are done under his direction. And I know that his legal representatives are here, and that the one man holding the keys is Leroy S. Johnson. And this is the people spoken of, if we will be, who will be the righteous nucleus of the great Millennium.

How great are our blessings and opportunities, brothers and sisters, and how little are we appreciative of them. To me, the spirit of humility is the spirit of gratitude and the acknowledgement continually of the hand of God and the blessings of God in all of our lives; for the Lord has said He is pleased with none except those who acknowledge His hand in all things. Blessings offered and rejected become cursings, brothers and sisters, and we can reject them in divers ways, in ways that we little realize. Simply, I think the most insidious thing that creeps into our lives is the rejection of blessings by our disobedience. We may not feel we openly reject them and say, "No, I won't have it," but we fail to render perfect obedience.

Now, brothers and sisters, we were sent here to walk by revelation, to walk as seeing Him who is invisible, to walk in perfect faith in the knowledge that God will reward us for our righteousness and obedience. We can make of our lives and obtain that degree of exaltation what we desire, and I am afraid, brothers and sisters, the promise made to us not too long ago, that we shall all have our desires, may not work too well for some of us. But if we love God and this work and the servants of God with all our might, mind, and strength, walking in obedience to all of the commandments which God has given, we shall come out all right.

I am grateful for all that the Lord has given me, and I pray that I may be able to increase them and multiply, that I may be a vessel of righteousness in the hands of God in bringing about much good in the earth. I desire only to fill my niche and to help others fill theirs. I cannot help feeling as the poem about Samuel, as given in the song, which I guess I have read a number of times before.

Hushed Was the Evening Hymn
1. Hushed was the evening hymn;
The temple courts were dark;
The lamp was burning dim
Before the sacred ark;
When suddenly a voice divine
Rang through the silence of the shrine.
2. The old man, meek and mild,
The priest of Israel slept;
His watch the temple child,
The little Levite kept;
And what from Eli’s sense was sealed,
The Lord to Hannah’s son revealed.
3. O give me Samuel’s ear,
The open ear, O Lord,
Alive and quick to hear
Each whisper of thy word,
Like him to answer at thy call
And to obey thee first of all.
4. O give me Samuel’s heart,
A lowly heart that waits,
Wherein thy house thou art
Or watches at thy gates,
By day and night, a heart that still Moves at the breathing of thy will!
5. O give me Samuel’s mind,
A sweet un murmuring faith,
Obedient and resigned
To thee in life and death,
That I may read with childlike eyes,
Truths that are hidden from the wise!

Brethren and sisters, let us seek these things and walk by the Spirit of God, that it may be a source of constant revelation to us. Joseph, Heber, John Taylor, and other great men arrived at that point in this life, showing that that is what we can do -- walking constantly by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, and thus becoming perfect as our Father in heaven is perfect. The attributes of the Holy Spirit are the attributes of God; and they are they that we must obtain to be like Him. May we walk in this light, I pray, my dear brothers and sisters, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 22, 1967
Wives Should Submit to Husbands

I will be very brief, my brothers and sisters. I will pass something on to you, which possibly some of the other brethren would care to develop. I have something here that was delivered by President Joseph Musser to the saints as the word of the Lord, and I commend it to you for your consideration. It is something that should help husbands and wives in their relations in seeing this work of God in its true light, in their families.

JD 4:256  Daniel H. Wells  March 1, 1857  S.L.C.

I say to the sisters, seek to have confidence in your husbands, and believe they are capable of leading you, and when you seek instruction, believe them capable of giving it to you, and be faithful, and humble, and obedient to them. Their feelings should not be concentrated in you, but your feelings should be in them, and theirs should be in those who lead them in the Priesthood. Their feelings are concentrated in the Lord thy God, and what is ahead, and there is where they should be. You should be glad to see them step forward and walk onward in the path of their duty, and not require them to devote themselves to you, to the exclusion of things and duties of life which lie before them. As they progress and lead on, you will feel to travel in the same road. This is the order, and if order is maintained in this thing, you will see the beauty of it, and it will be a satisfaction to you and them, to believe that your husband, he who is at your head, is progressing in the things of God. That should be a satisfaction to you, and it will be if you are inspired by the right spirit and feeling. In this way you will have happiness and see good times.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:40  February 5, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 5, 1967
Experiences of His Father; Testimony of Joseph Smith

It is a joy and a pleasure to mingle with you again, brothers and sisters, and I deeply appreciate the testimonies that have been borne, coming from the heart. When the Spirit of God speaks through anyone it is the same as God, Himself; we should remember this. The Prophet Joseph said that when the Holy Ghost dictates a man in giving the word of God, this is indeed the mind and will of God to us. So, whatever instrument the Lord chooses to give us anything, we should be able to receive it. I desire to be actuated by that Spirit today.

As I sat here I was reminded of some experiences of my father, which I thought might be faith promoting to you folks, while he was on a mission in East Tennessee along in 1896 or 1897. He had a wonderful mission that I have always appreciated reading about and hearing about. He walked five thousand miles throughout Tennessee bearing testimony of the restoration of the Gospel and of the holy Priesthood, and God was with him.

On one occasion, as he was tracting in the countryside, he and his companion -- and as you know, they are required to labor two by two. In my own mission I have seen terrible consequences of a man going out alone, against this law of the Priesthood to missionaries. He and his companion stopped at a home seeking a place to rest; and I might say that in all that time, about two and a half years, father never slept out, he was given a place to rest by friends and the saints. On this occasion, however, they were welcomed in the home, and they were taken to a separate room after the usual greetings and asked if they would like something to eat, which they said they would appreciate. Shortly they brought some bread and some milk and the man left the room. Father reached out to take a drink of the milk and he was able to bring his arm only up so far. He could not bring it any further. He set the milk down and his companion did the same. He tried three times to bring that glass of milk up to his lips and he was unable to. And then the Spirit revealed to him that it was poison -- it had poison in it. They immediately threw the milk out the window. The man came in to ask how they were, if they enjoyed their repast. They said, "Fine." But they decided to excuse themselves and went on to another home nearby and were told that these people had a history of poisoning people. So, the Lord surely looks after His servants.

On another occasion, he and his companion were tracting down the road and came to a house with a large fence all the way around it and a large sign in front that said "Beware of the Dog." His companion was on the opposite side of the street in this town, and he felt that he should go in and bear his testimony. They were entitled to it as well anyone else. He opened the gate and walked in. Sure enough, the dog came running around the house, and as he came up to father he reached out to pet it and it cowered down in front of him and wagged its tail, and he went on up to the porch and knocked on the door. When they came to the door they said, "My word, how did you ever get here?" He said, "Well, I am here, and I want to leave you this message."

On other occasions, as he spoke in schoolhouses and other places, he was shot at, thrown rotten tomatoes at, eggs, and the rest of it. The bitterest enemies they had were the preachers of the day in those various communities, and on occasion they would often say that the only mistake they made as they came to confound him, was that they let him open his mouth.

And so, this has been the history of this work from the beginning. I am reminded of what the Prophet Joseph Smith told the saints on one occasion. He said, "So long as there is anyone with a drop of the blood of Israel who will testify of the things that I have taught you, they will seek after my life." We have seen it in our day. They sought the lives of our Prophets. The Prophet Joseph, on one occasion, on the occasion of the last few weeks of his life, stood up before the saints in the open air in Nauvoo. He said, "Will you stand by me to the death, to see this work through?" And they all gave forth with one voice that they would. He said, "It is well. If you had not done so I would have gone out there," pointing to the West, "and raised up another people."

The genius of this work of the latter days is the foundation, my brothers and sisters, laid by the Lord through His Prophet, Joseph Smith. My soul swells as I contemplate him, this "gigantic Apostle" as Brigham Young referred to him. My brothers and sisters, I do not think we think or dwell upon this matter sufficiently for our own good. And we do not realize who and what he is, what he was to the people in his day. And if I may be helped of the Lord, I would like to read a few things that might help us to realize who and what he is.

I think you are all familiar with the statement that is given in one of the publications of the Priesthood, and is given by the Prophet Joseph Smith.

The Three Personages

Everlasting covenant was made between three personages before the organization of this earth, and relates to their dispensation of things to men on the earth; these personages, according to Abraham's record, are called God the first, the Creator; God the second, the Redeemer; and God the third, the witness or Testator.

It is a wonderful thing to contemplate who this Witness and Testator is, and that it is not beneath the place and the dignity of Joseph Smith to class him among the grand Presidency of this earth, the Godhead: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost. This great man who witnessed the Father and the Son together as a fourteen-year-old boy, and undoubtedly subsequent to this, stood in Their presence, and was indeed Their Witness and Testator, standing in the office of the Holy Ghost. Heber C. Kimball made the statement on one occasion: "Let me tell you, the Holy Ghost is a man." Now who is that man? Joseph Smith. The Holy Ghost is also that great spiritual power and essence, the foundation of all things, that emanates from the Father and issues forth from Himself throughout all His creations, and is the instrument of God in creating this earth and all of His dominions, and is the power and gift by which we are able to come back to Him. There is another very important thing that I think might be called to our attention, and that is something that the Prophet Joseph said himself, of himself, although he did not give it in so many words.

TPJS Page 364
The last time I spoke on this stand it was on the resurrection of the dead, when I promised to continue my remarks upon that subject. I still feel a desire to say something on this subject. Let us this very day begin anew, and now say, with all our hearts, we will forsake our sins and be righteous. I shall read the 24th chapter of Matthew, and give it a literal rendering and reading; and when it is rightly understood, it will be edifying.

I thought the very oddity of its rendering would be edifying anyhow -- "And it will be preached, the Gospel of the kingdom, in the whole world, to a witness over all people: and then will the end come." I will now read it in German [which he did, and many Germans who were present said he translated it correctly].

The Savior said when these tribulations should take place, it should be committed to a man who should be a witness over the whole world: the keys of knowledge, power and revelations should be revealed to a witness who should hold the testimony to the world. It has always been my province to dig up hidden mysteries -- new things -- for my hearers. Just at the time when some men think that I have no right to the keys of the Priesthood -- just at that time I have the great right. The Germans are an exalted people. The old German translators are the most nearly correct -- most honest of any of the translators; and therefore I get testimony to bear me out in the revelations that I have preached for the last fourteen years. The old German, Latin, Greek and Hebrew translations all say it is true: they cannot be impeached, and therefore I am in good company.

All the testimony is that the Lord in the last days would commit the keys of the Priesthood to a witness over all people. Has the Gospel of the kingdom commenced in the last days? And will God take it from the man until He takes him Himself? I have read it precisely as the words flowed from the lips of Jesus Christ. John the Revelator saw an angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth.

The scripture is ready to be fulfilled when great wars, famines, pestilence, great distress, judgments, &c., are ready to be poured out on the inhabitants of the earth. John saw the angel having the holy Priesthood, who should preach the everlasting Gospel to all nations. God had an angel -- a special messenger -- ordained and prepared for that purpose in the last days. Woe, woe be to that man or set of men who lift up their hands against God and His witness in these last days: for they shall deceive almost the very chosen ones!

Joseph Smith is that Witness. It is my testimony to you that everyone who has stood in his place since he was taken, has been able to speak with the same authority. They are not that Witness as he is; no one can take his place, or his kingdom, or his Priesthood. But this is the authority that we are dealing with, brothers and sisters. Joseph Smith stands next to Jesus Christ, Himself, as John Taylor wrote, as we have recorded in Section 135; and I thought it might even be well to read that if it be edifying to us today. Sometimes we have some of these scriptures before us that we never think to read, and we need to have them read to us from this stand occasionally, I think; learn to appreciate what we have and who these men are that God has raised up.

D.& C. 135

1. To seal the testimony of this book and the Book of Mormon, we announce the martyrdom of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and Hyrum Smith the Patriarch. They were shot in Carthage jail, on the 27th of June, 1844, about five o'clock p.m., by an armed mob -- painted black -- of from 150 to 200 persons. Hyrum was shot first and fell calmly, exclaiming: I am a dead man! Joseph leaped from the window, and was shot dead in the attempt, exclaiming: O Lord my God! They were both shot after they were dead, in a brutal manner, and both received four balls.

2. John Taylor and Willard Richards, two of the Twelve, were the only persons in the room at the time; the former was wounded in a savage manner with four balls, but has since recovered; the latter, through the providence of God, escaped, without even a hole in his robe.

3. Joseph Smith, the Prophet and Seer of the Lord, has done more, save Jesus only, for the salvation of men in this world, than any other man that ever lived in it. In the short space of twenty years, he has brought forth the Book of Mormon, which he translated by the gift and power of God, and has been the means of publishing it on two continents; has sent the fulness of the everlasting gospel, which it contained, to the four quarters of the earth; has brought forth the revelations and commandments which compose this book of Doctrine and Covenants, and many other wise documents and instructions for the benefit of the children of men; gathered many thousands of the Latter-day Saints, founded a great city, and left a fame and a name that cannot be slain. He lived great, and he died great in the eyes of God and his people; and like most of the Lord's anointed in ancient time, has sealed his mission and his works with his own blood; and so has his brother Hyrum. In life they were not divided, and in death they were not separated!

4. When Joseph went to Carthage to deliver himself up to the pretended requirements of the law, two or three days previous to his assassination, he said: "I am going like a lamb to the slaughter; but I am calm as a summer's morning; I have a conscience void of offense towards God, and towards all men. I SHALL DIE INNOCENT, AND IT SHALL YET BE SAID OF ME -- HE WAS MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD." -- The same morning, after Hyrum had made ready to go -- shall it be said to the slaughter? yes, for so it was -- he read the following paragraph, near the close of the twelfth chapter of Ether, in the Book of Mormon, and turned down the leaf upon it:

5. And it came to pass that I prayed unto the Lord that he would give unto the Gentiles grace, that they might have charity. And it came to pass that the Lord said unto me: If they have not charity it mattereth not unto thee, thou hast been faithful; wherefore thy garments are clean. And because thou hast seen thy weakness, thou shalt be made strong, even unto the sitting down in the place which I have prepared in the mansions of my Father. And now I bid farewell unto the Gentiles; yea, and also unto my brethren whom I love, until we shall meet before the judgment-seat of Christ, where all men shall know that my garments are not spotted with your blood. The testators are now dead, and their testament is in force.

6. Hyrum Smith was forty-four years old in February, 1844, and Joseph Smith was thirty-eight in December, 1843; and henceforward their names will be classed among the martyrs of religion; and the reader in every nation will be reminded that the Book of Mormon, and this book of Doctrine and Covenants of the church, cost the best blood of the nineteenth century to bring them forth for the salvation of a ruined world; and that if the fire can scathe a green tree for the glory of God, how easy it will burn up the dry trees to purify the vineyard of corruption. They lived for glory; they died for glory; and glory is their eternal reward. From age to age shall their names go down to posterity as gems for the sanctified.

7. They were innocent of any crime, as they had often been proved before, and were only confined in jail by the conspiracy of traitors and wicked men; and their innocent blood on the floor of Carthage jail is a broad seal affixed to "Mormonism" that cannot be rejected by any court on earth, and their innocent blood on the escutcheon of the State of Illinois, with the broken faith of the State as pledged by the governor, is a witness to the truth of the everlasting gospel that all the world cannot impeach; and their innocent blood on the banner of liberty, and on the magna charta of the United States, is an ambassador for the religion of Jesus Christ, that will touch the hearts of honest men among all nations; and their innocent blood, with the innocent blood of all the martyrs under the altar that John saw, will cry unto the Lord of Hosts till he avenges that blood on the earth. Amen."

Why I speak of Joseph as I do, brothers and sisters, has a direct meaning for us here today. I am often reminded of the remark of Joseph Musser when he said, "If you are ever called upon to speak and you do not know what to say, testify of Joseph; and in this way you will bring him ever closer to you."

Joseph Smith, we testify to all the world, is the One Mighty and Strong, spoken of in Section 85, who is to come and set in order the House of God, and I testify of it to you. And anyone who will not accept this doctrine and truth of the holy Priesthood will apostatize as God lives, as the Prophets have said. And no other man need take this honor to himself. He cannot, for it belongs to Joseph.

We should be praying, as we pray for deliverance from bondage, we should be praying daily for the coming of Joseph Smith the Prophet to do this work and all the other great works that he has yet to do in behalf of this work and people in the setting up of this last kingdom, preparatory to the glorious coming of the Master who is to be crowned King of kings and Lord of lords, in the great Millennium yet to come. We have this great promise, brothers and sisters, that out of the heart's core of this people will be that people who will be the righteous nucleus of the great Millennium. And we are yet to go through some of the worst scenes that have been seen upon this earth before that time. I trust we are being prepared for it. You talk about a work we have to do, brothers and sisters, and a persecution yet to be seen. We have seen nothing yet. I have been a few hours in jail, too, but I expect it to be nothing compared to what we have yet to go through. Our brethren have been imprisoned, and they have been driven, they have tried to take our children and separate them from their mothers, and put them out in homes of the gentiles to be destroyed -- thinking to destroy a whole town and this entire work. But, they will be thwarted time and time again. And the key has been turned in our behalf, I am sure.

But I am reminded again of what Joseph Smith said in the final hours of his life. Speaking of his having been mobbed and hounded since the day he announced the revelation concerning the Father and Son, "The time will come when they," the people of the United States, "will have mobs to their hearts' content." And we can see the fulfillment of this, as we see mob action going on from coast to coast in this great nation which is supposed to live under the Constitution inspired of God. Forces have been let loose that will continue until we do have mobs from one coast to the other, and this nation will yet be left without a responsible head, as it is broken in pieces. And this Priesthood will yet, under the direction of Joseph the Seer, save the Constitution of the United States and prepare this nation to be the place where the Kingdom of God itself will rise under its own true Constitution. This order of the Priesthood and those who will be faithful to it will be the means of saving that Constitution.

Now we have a great deal to be prepared for, brothers and sisters. This has been the burden and the message of President Johnson to us from the beginning, from the first day I knew him. This is on his mind constantly, to give every ounce of energy and of his blood, if necessary, to prepare a people. And we need to give greater heed and settle down to business. And above all, we need to get the Spirit of God, the gifts of the Holy Ghost, and realize that when we have the gifts of the Spirit, that Joseph is that third member of the Godhead, who stands in the office of the Holy Ghost; and I am not ashamed to worship him as such; not detracting one iota from the Godhood of Father Adam and of His Son, Jesus Christ, who stand above him. They stand together, these grand three Personages who preside over this earth. And we should be praying for Their coming, and preparing that we might have our characters so changed and so become like Them that we can stand in Their presence as Joseph did, which I pray we may ultimately do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:49  February 19, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 19, 1967
Prayer Is the Key to Getting Close to God

I felt, brothers and sisters, if I was called on to speak today, I would like to speak on prayer, which I am sure we all need as much as anything in our lives; to know how to pray and what to pray for, and to learn the power of prayer. I get a great deal of inspiration out of the hymn "Prayer Is the Soul's Sincere Desire", which I thought might be well for us to consider. So seldom do we pay any real attention to the words of a song as we sing it, that it bears some repetition.

Prayer Is The Soul's Sincere Desire

1. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire,
   Uttered or unexpressed,
   The motion of a hidden fire
   That trembles in the breast.
To me, brothers and sisters, the power of prayer is the essence of the power of faith. The Seventh Lecture on Faith tells us that faith is the exertion of the mind. It is not a physical exertion. It is an exertion of the mind, and it is expressed by words, the power of words. I do not know but what it might be well to refresh us on the actual words of that Lecture.

Lecture Seven

3. We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion instead of physical force. It is by words, instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith. God said, "Let there be light, and there was light." Joshua spake, and the great lights which God had created stood still. Elijah commanded, and the heavens were stayed for the space of three years and six months, so that it did not rain: he again commanded and the heavens gave forth rain. All this was done by faith. And the Savior says, "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, say to this mountain, 'Remove,' and it will remove; or say to that sycamine tree, 'Be ye plucked up, and planted in the midst of the sea,' and it shall obey you." Faith, then, works by words; and with these its mightiest works have been, and will be, performed.

Have you found, brothers and sisters, that when you have got into some rather by and forbidden paths, or found that you are getting in a little trouble with yourself or with your husband or your wife, your children, it is because you have not been praying? You have not been tending to your prayers. I have found it so, and I am sure you have. Finding ourselves in this condition, the way back is by prayer. Getting the Spirit of God is through prayer, through humbling ourselves in the spirit of repentance, going to the Lord with a broken heart and a contrite spirit; and so then, through the power of faith, restore our strength, coming unto Him by the words of our prayers.

The ancient Nephite Prophets expressed the great hope that the saints in the latter days, through faith in their prayers, would have these truths that were written by them in that day come forth, and the history and the record of their fathers should come forth in the last day to their salvation -- faith in their prayers. Do you see how closely allied this thing is, brethren and sisters, and what great power there is in it? Every ordinance, every covenant that we take, is in the power of prayer -- in the form of a prayer, if you please. It is done through words and through faith in these prayers.

To me, that man who is nearest God is he who knows how to pray and what to pray for. Section 88 of the Doctrine and Covenants even has this to say, which I think we should bear in mind at all times. The Prophet exhorts us, or the word of the Lord exhorts us, to ask the Lord to pray for that which is expedient, or in other words, that which is necessary for our good and growth and benefit. And he even suggests that we should ask the Lord to show us or tell us what to pray for. To me, and I am sure to you, this is the very essence of humility, and of submission with a broken heart and a contrite spirit to the Spirit of God, that we may draw near unto Him. One of the grand truths of the Gospel of Jesus Christ was that we cannot get and keep the Spirit of God except we know how to pray and what to pray for.

"O Thou by Whom we come to God," -- the Lord Jesus Christ set the glorious example for all saints and all people as He kneeled in the Garden of Gethsemane praying to God. And the Lord's prayer is a great example and a model for us, if we could get faith in that prayer and live by it. Almost every act of His life was accompanied by, or in the spirit of, prayer. And He called upon His disciples, at the last, to draw near to God in love for one another as He had loved them, in the spirit of prayer.

Now, brothers and sisters, are we, as families, attending to our prayers morning and night? Are we in our secret closet pleading unto the Lord in prayer for forgiveness, for strength, and for power by faith to become like Him? If not, then we should be getting busy with all the strength and power of our minds; seek unto God that we may become like Him, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I asked Brother Musser if there was anyone he would like to hear from here today, and he said, "You." [Laughter] That being the case, I sincerely pray for the Spirit of God to direct me in my remarks, that we may be edified, and that we may draw together in the bonds of brotherhood and in the work of the Priesthood. I deeply appreciate the truths that have been brought out here today, especially these plain and simple truths that Brother Draper has just been bringing out, a savor of life and exaltation.

I was reading to my folks this morning a very favorite piece from "The Life of Heber C. Kimball". I wish I would have brought the book along, but it was a very essence of the life and labors of President Heber C. Kimball to live by every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God. To him it came primarily by the words and the teachings of his very close and dear friend, Joseph Smith, Jun.

One time in Far West he was very lonely. The brethren had been driven, and the Prophet, as I recall, was in Liberty Jail. He was praying to the Lord for strength and comfort and was directed by the Holy Spirit to write, which he did. The Lord told Him, by the power of His Spirit, that he had been careful to live by every word that came from the Lord, and that he had hearkened so completely to the words of Joseph, to the teachings of Joseph. He was so completely in harmony with the Prophet that I am sure this is why the Prophet looked forward, in time to come, to his having an inheritance in Zion on the north of him. This is the same thing that characterized the life of John Taylor, of Brigham Young, and all of those great stalwarts of this dispensation who have made such a mark in the great latter-day work; and particularly the work of the holy Priesthood, which work we are engaged in here today.

It is the doctrines of the Priesthood that we are interested in and which this order of the Priesthood has been required to teach, that a people might be prepared for the redemption of Zion and for the continuation of the laws of the Priesthood: Celestial Marriage, the United Order, and every other law and ordinance and principle that God has revealed through the Prophet Joseph Smith. Essentially, brothers and sisters, it is the work and mission of this order of the Priesthood to keep alive these things. This is the embodiment, or the burden, of this great dispensation, this special dispensation, which was given to John Taylor in 1886; and this is all we have to do. How well it is being done is for God to judge, and how many people will truly hearken as Heber did to Joseph, and John did to Joseph, I do not know. But absolute love and loyalty, which characterized those men, is required today, and is the only basis on which we can be one.

Speaking of us individually, are we going to be numbered among this choice people that are to come out of the heart’s core of the Latter-day Saints? I mean really, it is up to us. Are we willing to pay the price? That is the question. There are not really very many. The price is, brothers and sisters, a complete offering in sacrifice of all things earthly and worldly on the altar, and a complete submission to the laws and ordinances of the holy Priesthood.

Where we lack strength, looking at us individually, is in the fact that our course of life is not pleasing to God; and lacking this, we do not have the power of faith. We should each day be asking ourselves, "Was my course this day pleasing to God?" If so, let us not take the honor to ourselves. Let us not be long-faced and sanctimonious, but give God the praise and the honor for all that we are able to accomplish, because it is by His Spirit that we do so, and nothing else. If our course has been pleasing to God this day, it is because we have had His Spirit as our constant companion; and we are, of all men, humble in the acknowledgment of the blessings of God, of His help and blessings and the accomplishment of our labors, and that we have been able to get through the day, another day with our lives preserved and being found faithful in the cause of truth. If we could only know and have this testimony as was revealed to Enoch, as was revealed to Joseph, to Heber, and to John -- this testimony that they pleased God -- then we would have the power with God to do His work, to perfect our character and to become like Him. We would have the constant companionship of the Holy Ghost, and our scepter would be an unchanging scepter of light and truth. We would then be worthy vessels in the hands of God to build up His Kingdom and establish His Priesthood.

Brothers and sisters, do we find that we are not being kept busy enough, we do not have something to do in this work? Do we complain of this? It is a very shallow thing to want such a thing. When we have all that we have to do, first to save and exalt ourselves, to remove out the characteristics of the world that we were born with; and secondly to raise up our children in light and truth, and train them up in the way they should go; this is the greatest service we can do for this work and for the Priesthood, to bring on these children that God has sent through us and make them worthy vessels, if they will be, in the hands of the Priesthood and of the Lord to carry on this work.
Some of us are getting along in years and it appears very largely this work is going to have to roll onto the shoulders of our sons, who I trust we are raising up as calves in the stall; but who must, at the same time, be subject to all of the trials and tribulations that they may be proven and show the Lord which way they would go if they would be vessels in His hands.
Now, brothers and sisters, let us seek this important key, to know that our course in pleasing to God, acknowledging His hand in the course of it. Then we will have faith sufficient to lay hold on eternal life, to become like Him, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:55 May 9, 1967 SLC Funeral

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 9, 1967
Funeral of Anna Carolina Olschewski

I feel very honored and grateful to be called on to speak at the services of our beloved Sister Olschewski. I desire an interest in your faith and prayers that I may say those things that are right in the sight of God. I feel highly honored in being asked to take part in these services because I have been so closely associated with this great family; intimately with some, generally with all. I cannot help but hark back to the similar occasion when my own dear mother passed who seemed to be such a kindred spirit of Sister Olschewski.

I have been trying to find words as I have sat here contemplating this assignment, and I can only say that I feel the same kinship, the same spirit with this beloved character as I had with my own mother. I don't know how I could say more -- a great and true mother in Israel, a true daughter of Eve, and worthy, as I see it, to be an Eve in the eternal worlds.

Brigham Young made the statement that the lives and characters of children are largely governed by the training and example of their mother, who, as she acts her true part, turns them over to the holy Priesthood to be directed in their final course in life, in the accomplishment of the work and mission they are sent to do. And this is what Sister Olschewski did. She taught them the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel. She received the Gospel as naturally as life itself. She was one of those great characters who received the Gospel in Germany without question, praising the Lord for having it come to her life as though she fully expected it, and I am sure she did; and then in New York to receive all of the Gospel, the fullness of the Priesthood in her life and to act accordingly. She was a true mother in Israel and a daughter of Israel.

I am grateful to have been so closely acquainted with her children, her sons particularly, in whose lives I have found the teachings of the Everlasting Gospel and the doctrines of the holy Priesthood. The doctrines of the holy Priesthood are the most important because Priesthood is God; and she taught her sons and daughters to emulate the character of God, to strive to become like God, and this is the essence of the doctrine of the holy Priesthood. I feel very honored in having known her as well as I did.

As I think of Sister Olschewski, I think of my own good mother. They were as kindred spirits, truly loving one another because they loved the same principles and doctrines, the same truths which became so much a part of their lives. I can't say more than to say that she was like my own mother, who accepted the fullness of the Gospel as though it were like breathing, who went on to raise her children up in light and truth, to a knowledge of the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel and of the holy Priesthood. The Priesthood was paramount in her life. The Priesthood was that which gave her everything that she hopes to attain throughout the eternities to come; and this was the thing that actuated my mother. I loved her as my own mother. The thing that appeals to me, brothers and sisters, is that great knowledge that comes as naturally as life itself into the life of a person who has been seeking to know the truth and found it, and she has played her great part.

I am grateful to know her sons and daughters and her grandchildren, a numerous posterity. Her character in life is seen in her children, and this is the greatest honor, I think, that we can pay to her. The life and teachings of a mother is to be found in her children who have carried on and done what was expected of them in building up the Kingdom of God and establishing the Priesthood of God in the earth. I am grateful for this privilege and pray for the blessings of heaven to rest down upon this family, that they may honor her all the days of her life and rise up and call her "blessed" in the day of their resurrection, for her exaltation is assured. I have no doubt of that, and pray God to bless and strengthen her family that they may remember her and emulate her and direct their lives according to the teachings and the pattern and the example that she left, and I do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:58  May 14, 1967  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
May 14, 1967
Church of Jesus Christ Is On a Detour;
How to Become Members of the Church of the Firstborn

I desire, my brothers and sisters, to continue in the same good spirit that has actuated these services so far. I trust that your faith and prayers may be exerted in our behalf in the continuation of the same. The great need of this work is unity behind an inspired and divine leadership which God has called and chosen, to the end that we may build up His Kingdom and establish His Priesthood in the earth. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was truly and verily organized on the 6th day of April, 1830, by direction of the Lord Jesus Christ through His servant Joseph, the head of this last and greatest dispensation.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is still organized and is the Church of God; but as we well know, the bride, the life of the Priesthood left it in 1890, and gradually lost the power of the holy Priesthood, and are now without the keys of the Priesthood. It is out of order, the wife has gone on a detour; but we have the promise that God will restore it, will set it in order through that same great Prophet, Joseph Smith, the One Mighty and Strong. In the meantime, the Lord provided a special work and dispensation of the holy Priesthood, through John Taylor in organizing and setting up a Priesthood, an order of Priesthood which would lead it on to the fulfillment of the purposes of God as He promised; for He did promise that He had restored these things, the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of Jesus Christ, never again to be thrown down or given to another people. Joseph, at one point, asked the saints, would they follow him to the death? And they said they would. In Nauvoo he said, "It is well. If you had not, I would have gone out there," pointing to the West, "and raised up another people," which eventually had to be done from among that people.

Now we are under the direct authority and direction of an order of Priesthood, brothers and sisters, that has followed in direct succession from the Prophet Joseph Smith, as has been pointed out. Now what is our goal? Do we want the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints above all other things? The Lord organized another Church in 1832, in Kirtland called the Church of the Firstborn. Heber C. Kimball testified of it; and I would like to read from the word of the Lord some few things about it, which I think may help us to realize just where we stand, and what we need to do.

D. & C. 76

50. And again we bear record -- for we saw and heard, and this is the testimony of the gospel of Christ concerning them who shall come forth in the resurrection of the just --

51. They are they who received the testimony of Jesus, and believed on his name and were baptized after the manner of his burial, being buried in the water in his name, and this according to the commandment which he has given --

52. That by keeping the commandments they might be washed and cleansed from all their sins, and receive the Holy Spirit by the laying on of the hands of him who is ordained and sealed unto this power;

53. And who overcome by faith, and are sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, which the Father sheds forth upon all those who are just and true.

54. They are they who are the church of the Firstborn.

55. They are they into whose hands the Father has given all things --

56. They are they who are priests and kings, who have received of his fulness, and of his glory;

57. And are priests of the Most High, after the order of Melchizedek, which was after the order of Enoch, which was after the order of the Only Begotten Son.

58. Wherefore, as it is written, they are gods, even the sons of God --

59. Wherefore, all things are theirs, whether life or death, or things present, or things to come, all are theirs and they are Christ's, and Christ is God's.
60. And they shall overcome all things.

61. Wherefore, let no man glory in man, but rather let him glory in God, who shall subdue all enemies under his feet.

62. These shall dwell in the presence of God and his Christ forever and ever.

63. These are they whom he shall bring with him, when he shall come in the clouds of heaven to reign on the earth over his people.

64. These are they who shall have part in the first resurrection.

65. These are they who shall come forth in the resurrection of the just.

66. These are they who are come unto Mount Zion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly place, the holiest of all.

67. These are they who have come to an innumerable company of angels, to the general assembly and church of Enoch, and of the Firstborn.

68. These are they whose names are written in heaven, where God and Christ are the judge of all.

69. These are they who are just men made perfect through Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, who wrought out this perfect atonement through the shedding of his own blood.

70. These are they whose bodies are celestial, whose glory is that of the sun, even the glory of God, the highest of all, whose glory the sun of the firmament is written of as being typical.

On these descriptions of bodies Celestial are those who are of the Church of the Firstborn. I have heard some intimate that this people are members of the Church of the Firstborn. It is not so. One must be designated. That Church was organized in this dispensation, but you can see for yourself, by this description of those who are to receive this highest order of the Celestial glory, they are those who are of the Church of the Firstborn, and we have a long, long ways to go.

Now, brothers and sisters, how grateful we should be that God in His great wisdom, and seeing to the promises that He has made to the Prophet Joseph and to this generation, that He has called out a people from the heart's core of the Church, which was nothing more nor less than a nursing mother, if you please, to prepare a people for the glorious coming of Christ who would arise in the first resurrection, as has been described here. Now brothers and sisters, it has been pointed out so many times that the Lord has placed the whole Church, even all under condemnation. But He did not leave us comfortless, without a way to come out from under that condemnation. I would like to read a little further what the Lord said in connection to that, reading a little ahead of it. To show us how that we can become members of the Church of the Firstborn, the Lord says:

D. & C. 84

33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthoods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.

34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;

36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;

37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;

38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.

Those of the Church of the Firstborn.

39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.

40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.

41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.

Now brothers and sisters, here is the crux of it, as far as we are concerned.

42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, This was Joseph and six Elders.

42. ...upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

43. And I now give unto you a commandment to beware concerning yourselves, to give diligent heed to the words of eternal life.
Speaking of that order of the Priesthood, He says further:

63. And as I said unto mine apostles, even so I say unto you, for you are mine apostles, even God's high priests; ye are they whom my Father hath given me; ye are my friends;

117. And verily I say unto you, the rest of my servants, go ye forth as your circumstances shall permit, in your several callings, unto the great and notable cities and villages, reproving the world in righteousness of all their unrighteous and ungodly deeds, setting forth clearly and understandingly the desolation of abomination in the last days.

This is the message of the Priesthood to us today. Now further,

118. For, with you saith the Lord Almighty, I will rend their kingdoms; I will not only shake the earth, but the starry heavens shall tremble.

119. For I, the Lord, have put forth my hand to exert the powers of heaven; ye cannot see it now, yet a little while and ye shall see it, and know that I am, and that I will come and reign with my people.

In the course of these things, the Prophet was told by the Lord that the whole Church was under condemnation, because they treated lightly the things of God.

D. & C. 84

57. And they shall remain under this condemnation until they repent and remember the new covenant, even the Book of Mormon and the former commandments which I have given them, not only to say, but to do according to that which I have written --

58. That they may bring forth fruit meet for their Father's kingdom; otherwise there remaineth a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.

That is what we are in for, brothers and sisters, if we do not come out from under this condemnation.

58. ...a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.

59. For shall the children of the kingdom pollute my holy land? Verily, I say unto you, Nay.

60. Verily, verily, I say unto you who now hear my words, which are my voice, blessed are ye inasmuch as you receive these things;

61. For I will forgive you of your sins with this commandment -- that you remain steadfast in your minds in solemnity and the spirit of prayer, in
Now this is what we are dealing with, my brothers and sisters. Thank God that He has set His hand to maintain this order of Priesthood for the blessing and eternal welfare of the faithful, to those who have been reserved to come forth in this day and time, and greater shall come forth yet to prepare the way for the Master.

I pray that we may be among this people, that we will unite together, that we will be one. Brothers and sisters, as you visualize the situation of one man chasing a thousand, and two ten thousand, how do you suppose that will be? It will be because those one or two will be united with sufficient number of others, under the power of the holy Priesthood and the revelations of heaven, to accomplish His work to the salvation and exaltation of the faithful, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

_Honesty in Keeping Covenants_

I was thrilled at the testimonies of the brothers and sisters and of the truths that the brethren have spoken here this evening. I was especially thrilled with the story that was told by Brother Roundy about preparation, the young man who is able to sleep through the storm because he was prepared. It reminds me of the parable of the virgins who had oil in their lamps and those who did not; and those who had oil were able to go into the feast with the Master. These are the issues that face all of us, brothers and sisters, especially on this great principle, this great need for preparation.

I pray the Lord will bless me for a few minutes as I speak on the subject of honesty. Perhaps the best introduction of this would be to read a covenant. I dare say most all of you have taken the sacrament that had it administered to you. Before this, you were all baptized, if you are of age, and you have received the laying on of hands of the Priesthood for the gift of the Holy Ghost; and you therein entered into solemn covenants. Those covenants are renewed from time to time in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.
Moroni 4

3. O God, the Eternal Father, we ask thee in the name of thy Son, Jesus Christ, to bless and sanctify this bread to the souls of all those who partake of it; that they may eat in remembrance of the body of thy Son, and witness unto thee, O God, the Eternal Father, that they are willing to take upon them the name of thy Son, and always remember him, and keep his commandments which he hath given them, that they may always have his Spirit to be with them. Amen.

Now, brothers and sisters, when you partook of that bread and of the water, you signified as a witness that you would keep all of the commandments of the Lord Jesus Christ, who bought us with a price. You have entered into other covenants in marriage and in receiving the holy Priesthood, the holy Melchizedek Priesthood.

I dare say, brothers and sisters, the thing that is holding this people back and makes it necessary for the brethren to indict us from time to time, is the fact that we are covenant breakers. We are dishonest in one way or another. When we covenant to keep all the commandments, when we covenant to make our consecrations, to pay our tithing, are we honest with the Lord in this? Thoroughly honest? Are we keeping our covenants with our wives, and wives with husbands? If we are not, we are covenant breakers and are dishonest.

God is a God of truth and cannot lie. I think the highest compliment that can be paid to a man is that he is a man of truth and his words can be relied upon, and he cannot lie. If we covenant to do something and then break that covenant, we are liars. We are dishonest. If we are withholding something, sisters, from our husbands, holding back, we are dishonest. Brethren, if we are withholding an accounting with the brethren over us we are dishonest, and we are covenant breakers.

If there is something in our character, brothers and sisters, that needs correcting, are we honest enough to face the truth and do something about it and go to our head for help? Reveal it where it should be revealed and nowhere else, so that we can have and receive help. If we do not do these things, we are holding back. We are dishonest.

Ananias and his wife were struck dead because they withheld when they were under a covenant to give all; and because of this dishonesty, this lack of integrity, they were struck dead. That was a serious situation under the circumstances that they were operating under, and serious enough that the Lord would strike them dead.

I am wondering what it is going to take to waken us up, brothers and sisters. Are we honest with our time? This television bit; we have an accounting to make to the Lord for our time and for our talents. I think we are dishonest when we waste it, when we waste them. We are dishonest, brothers and sisters, when we have these mental reservations about giving our all, our whole heart, might, mind, and strength. Anything less than this is dishonest and is not in keeping with our covenants. I wonder if we have thought of these things in this light. I think we need a serious reformation, brothers and sisters.

On the other hand, I would like with all my soul to encourage the saints. I wish we could do better. I wish, I would to God, that President Johnson had not found it necessary to warn this people that a judgment is in store, and that soon if we do not stop doing these things, these dishonest things that are not becoming saints -- sowing discord among brethren, criticizing Priesthood, backbiting, holding back. These things are an abomination in the sight of God, and they are dishonest.

Now, brothers and sisters, I hope and pray that we will take a new inventory of ourselves, find out where we are dishonest and correct it; and let us step forward now with full purpose of heart to keep all of the commandments of the Lord Jesus Christ. Abide in the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. Stop cheating these children that God has sent through the holy covenant of marriage in not training them up in the way they should go. You are cheating them if you are not training them in the way they should go under the direction of the holy Priesthood.

Brethren, you are Priesthood bearers as fathers and husbands, and the weight of responsibility upon you is almost incalculable. We cannot describe it. It is upon me, and I tremble from day to day, because I look at my children and my family, wondering where I am failing. I know some areas, and I have got to correct them. Let us all find out where we are failing one another, where we are failing God's servants, where we are failing the Lord Jesus Christ and our Father in heaven under the covenants that we have made with them.

Let us get down to business and do the honest thing, the truthful thing. Let us be men of truth who cannot lie. Let us be like God, who is love. Let us have the faith to become like Him. Let us go forward now and repent of our sins and rally behind the leadership of our President, who seeks nothing less than our salvation, and to obtain a prepared people to receive the glorious coming of the Savior, when the government of God shall be given to the saints of the Most High, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:67  June 18, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
June 18, 1967
Charity; Overcome Our Childish Ways

I pray that the Spirit of the Lord will direct me as I feel impressed to apply some of the words of Paul the Apostle to the doctrines of the holy Priesthood, which I feel will be helpful to us if we will be diligent in following. I read from a well-known chapter 13 of First Corinthians:

1 Corinthians 13

1. Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.
2. And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.
3. And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.
4. Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,
5. Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;
6. Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth;
7. Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.
8. Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.
9. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.
10. But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12. For now we see through a glass, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13. And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

I call your attention particularly to the last few verses: "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I acted as a child; but now that I am a man, I put away childish things." The doctrine of the Priesthood is that we are here to learn the character of God and become like Him. I think the great weakness of most of us is that we are immature. We are still children, acting like children, understanding like children; and we have not put childish things away. Becoming like God is a process of growing and maturing into Godhood. That is what we are here for. That is what the doctrines of the Priesthood are for. They are given us to enable us to become like God.

I think one man put it quite well when he said, "There is both child and man in all of us." He is speaking of the generality of man in that they have not matured yet. They are still thinking, acting like a child. It seems that the very nature of children, while they are born innocent -- they are lovely, we love them in every way we can -- but they are born selfish. The very need to survive is in them, and they are born selfish. It is our job to train these children up so that they become unselfish, so that they obtain all these attributes that are mentioned here as we discuss the glorious subject of love or charity, which is the pure love of Christ.

I think it might be well for us to look inward, brothers and sisters, and see how much like children many of us are still acting, with our jealousies, our envies. You know how a little child, when he gets hold of a toy: "It is mine! Mine!" You know what I am talking about, and are not grown-ups still saying and doing the same thing? I think it would be a real good study, at least, and a real project, if you please, if we would just analyze our actions from day to day and see how much like children we are still acting. I think Paul told volumes of truth when he said what he did in these verses. I think another Prophet, Moroni, puts it very beautifully this process of becoming like God; laying hold on these attributes of the Holy Spirit, which are, in general, embodied in the attribute of love; for God is love, as we find it in the seventh chapter of Moroni:

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,

This is faith.

48. ...that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God;

Grow up and stop being like children, and become the sons of God!

48. ...that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure.

So, these great attributes -- faith, hope, and charity -- are very closely allied, the greatest being charity. We can learn to overcome our childish ways and understandings, and our childish conversations. We should take as a project to look inward and accomplish these things, so that we may become like
If the Lord has a message for you here today through me, I most certainly must have His Spirit as my guide and director in doing so, or in delivering it. I pray I may have your faith and prayers to this end. Heber C. Kimball had engraved on the head of his cane, "The Kingdom of God or Nothing!" which I rather feel he must have borrowed from the Prophet Joseph Smith this motto, as all of the Prophets since have had to go back to this great source in this dispensation, from that man who occupied the office of the Holy Ghost, the third member of the Godhead.

The very nature of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, the plan of salvation, the doctrines of the holy Priesthood, which are all the same, is that it requires the whole heart of man, the sons and daughters of God. The first and great commandment is, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy might, and with all thy spirit." And the second is like unto it. There is no halfway house! It is the whole Gospel, all of the commandments, or nothing at all. The nature of it is that if we are an offender in one, we are guilty of the whole. The nature of this work is such that if we are not for it, we are against it!

With this in mind, brothers and sisters, I do not see how anyone can approach the work of God, the work of this Priesthood -- which I know to be the work of God -- by any half measures; paying a half a tithe to this Priesthood and a half a tithe to the Church; accepting one or two principles that are taught by the Priesthood order and stay outside halfway in the world. Brigham Young decried this thing so effectively; and he said that if we are half saint and half devil, or half of this work and half in the world, we are at eternal warfare, and there is no happiness in it.

Following this doctrine of the Priesthood as applied to the Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith and the Lectures on Faith, I would like to show how we come unto God, which is the very nature of this work. We are here, as the brethren have stated before, to become like God. He was once like us.
Lecture Five

2. notwithstanding all this,
   Of the contradictions and the sufferings that Jesus Christ suffered,
   2. he kept the law of God,
   Not a part of it, but all of it. He,
   2. remained without sin,**
   He was a Lamb chosen before the world without blemish to accomplish the great atonement.

2. ...and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one;

He said, "I come not to do my will, but the will of the Father." His will was swallowed up in the Father's; all of it, not a part. He became like His Father, for He said, "If you have seen me, you have seen the Father." Joseph Smith acted out the same grand principle in his life and set an example for all time to come in this dispensation, the last and greatest of all, over which he presides under the Holy One of Israel. Joseph Smith's whole life was an example to us.

2. ...and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

This requires our obedience to all of the commandments, one hundred percent. We learn that,

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

A fullness means all, all of the attributes of God embodied in the Holy Spirit, or contemplated in it; for the Holy Spirit is the attributes of God, which we may obtain in no other way than by having it all of the time. We gain perfection, brothers and sisters, in this course that we read about, by getting and keeping the Spirit of God, that it may be our constant companion all of the time; not just part of the time, not half of the time. We will gain perfection when we have it, a fullness of it, all of the time. This seems to be our great trouble. We do not have it all of the time. We have great examples before us of men, men of God who have done it, showing, as Christ did, that it can be done. We have Joseph Smith, Heber C. Kimball, Brigham Young, and John Taylor. It was said of Heber C. Kimball that the Holy Ghost was his constant companion, and he spoke and walked and acted by revelation, the greatest of the gifts of the Spirit, as far as enabling us to walk by it and perfecting us is concerned.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

This, brothers and sisters, by keeping all of the commandments, obtaining a fullness of the Holy Spirit by having it as our constant companion all of the time through our lives. I know, as far as I am concerned, this is the modus operandi. I can never hope to become like God unless I have a fullness of His Spirit, by which I attain to and obtain all of the attributes of God, which Joseph Smith has enumerated in these Lectures.

We have, my dear brothers and sisters, the sure word of prophecy given us, that our calling and election may be made sure. This is obtained by the means that I have outlined: Having the Spirit of God at all times, and having shown God that at all hazards we would serve all of His commandments. At such a time, He will say, "My son, thou shalt be exalted." I dare say when we have come to this point, we will have obtained those gifts and continued companionship of the Holy Ghost, so that the Lord can be justified in offering us this great blessing, and not until.
Now, brothers and sisters why and how can we be content with half measures? How can we be happy unless we give all? In Lecture Six we are told that it is required that we sacrifice all things, not just some things; all worldly things, including the worldly nature of our character, and that above all; that we must sacrifice all tangible things if need be, if they remain of the world. And certainly, our means and our talents should be offered to the Kingdom, to the Priesthood of God. If God requires wives and children to be sacrificed, let it be so; houses, lands, let it be so. But above all, let us sacrifice the character and nature of the world, that we may obtain the full gifts of the Spirit of God, all of them -- the spirit of discernment, the gift of faith and knowledge, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth, and love. May we have these attributes instilled in our hearts of the gifts of the Spirit, which I pray may be our constant guide and companion, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:75  July 16, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 16, 1967
The Gospel Is a Series of Covenants We Keep to Advance; We Must Become Like God Through Always Having the Holy Ghost

This is a new experience. I am delighted, my brothers and sisters, to be here and to mingle my voice with my brethren in support of the work of God, so that additional testimony may be given to enable us as a people to do better as we seek to carry on in the work of the Lord. I desire an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters, because my mind is a blank. I desire only to say those things that will be for the edification of you, my friends, and brothers and sisters.

I am grateful beyond words of expression for the light of truth that has come to me and to mine, and to be associated with my brethren and this great work; and particularly in this order of Priesthood, which is the source of all of our blessings. It is inconceivable to me that anyone could come and receive blessings at the hands of the servants of God, and then fail to render a full and complete support to that Priesthood, to the source of our blessings. When we realize that in order for us to go on in the ordinances of the Priesthood and the House of God, and that the Gospel of Jesus Christ is a series of ordinances, covenants, and blessings, predicated upon our fulfilling those already taken before we can receive additional ones, who can see but that we must stay close to the servants of God, who, in the final analysis, are the ones who will be those who will introduce us to the Prophets who have gone on before, and also to Joseph, and Jesus, and Father Adam, if we are to enter into the presence of the Father?

The Gospel of Jesus Christ is a grand plan and scheme that has been in existence through all eternity, and will continue through all eternity. It is a series of covenants that we enter into, even before we came into this earth. We made covenants with our Father, to come forth and do all that we could possibly do in order to come on to perfection; because the work of God is to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of His sons and daughters. Our covenants began there. Our birth was by covenant; and then, as we go on through life, baptism, the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, after we have had faith and repented, going on unto those covenants which are basic; and the violation of which Brigham Young said -- as I read it, I think in the eighth volume of Journal of Discourses -- the violation of which would make us sons of perdition.

So we do not have to go on to the greatest and the highest in order to lose everything. But the next, of course, is, for the brethren, the covenants of the holy Priesthood, Aaronic and Melchizedek; the covenants of the eternal order of heaven, the marriage system of heaven, by which we enter into the Family Order of Heaven. And then, going on unto perfection, we must show by our having kept these covenants -- receiving the endowments of the House of God, a series of them, by keeping them as we should and showing that we would serve God at all hazards -- finally the Lord will say by revelation, "My son, thou shalt be exalted." And by thus keeping all of these series of covenants of the Gospel by ordinance, administered by the holy Priesthood, we are then able to be ushered into the presence of God, which is the object of our birth and creation in the first place. I am grateful for the knowledge that I have of these things, and I walk in fear and trembling, lest I fail to keep those covenants which will enable me to go on unto perfection.

Now, brothers and sisters, this is not an easy way; the ways of the Priesthood are hard for those who find it difficult to render complete obedience. What the Lord requires through His Priesthood is perfection from His people.

At no time during my experience in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints did I ever hear such emphasis, if at all, placed upon our becoming like God; though we read in the Doctrine and Covenants and in the works of the Church that our object is to go back into the presence of God. But most people seem to have the idea, after all of these years, after having turned down the fullness of the Gospel in 1890, and following in its train, changing the everlasting covenant and breaking the law, the Latter-day Saints generally feel that they can go on in the world enjoying all of the approbation and the good words and the good will of the world, simply by going to church and paying their tithing; and going through the temple and receiving nothing really, they will finally be ushered into the presence of God. And this, brothers and sisters, in the final analysis is Catholicism. The administrations of the priests of the Catholic Church, baptism in particular -- and that is about all, and that by sprinkling -- if they go on rendering some kind of support to their church, they will go into heaven and enjoy eternal felicity. And this, my brothers and sisters, when we realize it, is the attitude of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, by and large.

From Joseph Smith down, as far as this dispensation is concerned, as we read the words of Joseph in his writings and in the history, as we read the writings of Brigham Young and John Taylor, and all of the Prophets right down to the present, perfection and nothing less than perfection is required if we are to enjoy the blessings of the Priesthood and enter into eternal rest; and this by having faith, living by faith, walking by faith, walking as by seeing Him who is invisible, keeping all of the commandments, learning the character and the attributes of God, and striving daily and hourly and momentarily to get and keep the Spirit of God, which is the attributes of God. Entering into these ordinances, obeying all of these laws, the way is pointed out to us to enter into the presence of God, for we must become like Him if we are to be with Him. The laws of affinity alone, attraction and affinity, would require this. How could anyone living in the world, as most do today, ever hope to walk into the presence of a perfect Being surrounded with eternal glory such as our Father has, and His Son, Jesus Christ, and Joseph, and all others who have gone on and are resurrected, and are living in a condition of glory? Unless we are like Them we could not enter into that element. It would be impossible.

So let us get around us, my dear brothers and sisters, this element, the Holy Ghost, administered by the third member of the Godhead as to this dispensation, and through this Priesthood, and through the Priesthood of every head of a family. The Holy Ghost is the power of God unto salvation. Unless we are in tune with those who are called to lead, those we have made covenants with to lead us in the Priesthood, we cannot have the Spirit of God, and the Holy Ghost cannot be our companion. All the more reason, my brothers and sisters, to continually have the Holy Ghost as our constant guide and companion. I pray that we may have it always, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:78  August 6, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 6, 1967
Learn the Spirit of Revelation

This is indeed a privilege and a blessing, my brothers and sisters, to meet with you under these very favorable circumstances, to receive instruction which we so badly need. I am grateful for everything that God has given me, above all for the holy Priesthood, which has enabled me to receive all that God has willed to give me. I am grateful to be associated with President Johnson and his associates in the Council. I know I need to do more to show that appreciation, and to be more diligently about the Lord's business. I think we all need to do this more, brethren, especially the heads of families, because the Lord's business, for most of us, is to save and exalt those that the Lord has given us -- wives and children, under the Celestial law, the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage in the spirit of the United Order -- these two crowning principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

No man need desire position or place in this work, so long as he has a family to direct and train and raise up under the instruction, and direction of the Priesthood of God. No man need to aspire in the least degree, only to do the will of God -- to learn it and to do it. Now brethren and sisters, the greatest of the gifts of the Holy Spirit is the gift of revelation, without which we cannot go forward; we cannot save and exalt those that God has given us.

With the Lord's help, I would like to, from the word of the Lord, explain a little about this gift of revelation, and its need, so far as we individually are concerned. It is one thing for the servants and the mouthpiece of God to receive and give revelation to us as a people. It is quite another thing for each and every one of us to have the Spirit of revelation to receive it, because that is what it requires. These things are not just handed to us, like on a platter. What good will it do receiving a gift if it is not done by revelation? Do you imagine for a minute that President Johnson could deliver you the word and will of God as it respects you personally, or as this whole people is concerned, except they, in turn, have the Holy Ghost with them as the Spirit of revelation in order to receive it? It would just be like running water off of a duck's back. It would not be assimilated unless you have the Spirit, unless each of us has the Spirit of revelation. And this, I think, is where we lack most. This is why we come Sunday after Sunday, meeting after meeting, and do very little about the things that are said here, about the admonitions of the brethren -- because we do not have the gift and Spirit of revelation for ourselves, and receive it and assimilate it into our character.

A question is sometimes asked of me -- and of all of us, I suppose, of the brethren who lead us -- "How do we know that we have the gift of the Holy Ghost? How do we know that we are being guided and directed by the Holy Ghost?" About the best answer that I can give is found in the Doctrine and Covenants, which I have read a good many times. One of the best examples we have is the case of Oliver Cowdery when he was given the gift of translation, and how he should know that he would have this gift by the Spirit of God.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

Imagine that, brothers and sisters. There was no great outward manifestation apparently, but the Holy Ghost dictated to him in his mind and in his heart what to do. And knowing then that he had the mandate, and the command of God through that gift, he commanded the elements by the power of faith through words, the same as with Joshua commanding the sun to stop. Other great Prophets have commanded, because they were directed by this gift, knowing that they had the mind and the will of God. They could go forward, then, knowing that their course was pleasing to God, with great power with the Lord to accomplish their work.

Now then, after this had happened -- that is, after this instruction -- Brother Cowdery failed; and this is why the Lord had to take the gift of translation away from him, because he had not done as he was commanded by this Spirit.

D. & C. 9

6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

This is the gift of revelation which the Prophet told should be a continuous gift with us; which, if we would follow its intimations and its direction, we would see things fulfilled by its direction, and it would then become a constant source of light and truth to us, until we come up to see the face of God. Without revelation there is no salvation, brothers and sisters. I am afraid too many of us just sit back without realizing that we must develop and learn the gift of the Holy Ghost. We have got to learn how it operates -- as we have to learn anything else -- to know when we have it, and to know when we do not. Having chosen what we have chosen to do, we are either on the devil's ground, or we are on the ground of the Lord by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost. When that departs through our sin and transgression, then false and delusive spirits take over, and we are giving ourselves over to satan; and believe me, he can give revelations. Of this we must ever be aware.
Whenever the Lord sets about to do something for someone -- when we enter into covenants to do better, or to enter into ordinances and laws of the holy Priesthood -- you can set it down that Lucifer will set about to overcome you, to bring discouragement into your minds, and to send in false and delusive spirits if they can be received, if there be found a place for them in our beings. I have found this to be the case, brothers and sisters, when we decide and determine to take steps forward in building up our character -- overcoming sin, getting and keeping the Spirit of God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength -- you can set it down that the devil will step in and try and stop you.

The most perfect example of this is when the Prophet Joseph, as a lad fourteen years of age, went to the grove to learn the will of God in the light of all the controversial claims of all of the religionists of the day. The devil, knowing full well what was about to transpire, tried to overcome him; and he almost despaired of his life. But he was overshadowed by the Holy Ghost to be able to receive the presence of the Father and the Son, and this by virtue of the Priesthood he had been given before he came here.

But this is a pattern, at least for me, brothers and sisters. You can put it down, too, that if you just go along day in and day out without any progress, without doing something positively, actively, to go forward and progress in this work, he is going to leave you alone. There is nothing to bother about. But the moment we set out to be very constructive and active in building our character and becoming like God, Lucifer is going to fight. That is what he is here to do. That is why he was sent and given dominion in this earth. That is his work and mission. We just as well recognize it first as last.

Now, brothers and sisters, the sum and substance of the whole matter of our salvation and exaltation, to become like God, is to have the gift and power of the Holy Ghost with us at all times. When we get to this station we will have all of the attributes of God. And after we have learned the workings of that Spirit and have it with us, learn to have it until it is a constant source of revelation and power with us, then I am sure we arrive at the point when the Lord will say through His servants, by revelation again, "My son, thou shalt be exalted," and his calling and election will be made sure; and he will go on and come up to see the face of God. And eventually, having been faithful and true in all things, he will enter into His presence, which I pray will be our lot, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
August 20, 1967
Faith; Lecture Six; Sacrifice All Things

I have certainly enjoyed the spirit of the remarks thus far, brothers and sisters, and pray that I may continue in the same, and that the Lord will bless me as I turn your attention to the subject of the power of faith.

It has been said that according to our faith, so shall it be. How are we, my brothers and sisters? What is our state and standing before the Lord? This is a question that presents itself to me continually. But, looking at us as a people, what is our state and standing before the Lord? Are we in a condition to be used by Him, in fulfillment of the prophecies and the promises that have been made by the holy Prophets from the beginning till now? I take it from this statement that if we are lacking, as clearly indicated, our faith must be weak. According as our faith is, so shall it be.

President Johnson recently made a remark that I think should be passed on to you in case you might overlook it; and that is, that if this people would truly study the Lectures on Faith, and apply them in the spirit and power in which the Prophet Joseph Smith gave it to the School of the Elders -- the School of the Prophets, as it was called in Kirtland -- that we would begin to grow in knowledge, wisdom, and understanding, and particularly in the power of faith, which we so greatly need.

I don't think I need to go into any great detail in laying a foundation for Lecture Six, which I would like to read and consider with us here today, except to say that if we want to become like God, as is the very foundation of this labor of the Priesthood, we must certainly know who He is, and the nature and character of His attributes and character; and also the nature of the Godhead itself. We cannot have faith in a God we do not understand and know. I thank the Lord for the correct understanding that Father Adam is indeed our Father and God. He is that near to us, His children, He being the Father of all living.

Joseph Smith, through these Lectures, has revealed to us what His character is and His attributes. They have been recounted to us many, many times. It gives me great comfort to know that Father Adam, who is a man like unto us, but glorified and celestialized, is as near as He is, and I can certainly have greater faith in such a being, than the concept even of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which has gone over to the doctrine of the devil, very similar to the doctrines that are extant in the world. He is etherealized and mystified so that He cannot be truly understood. He is so near to us that the Lord Jesus Christ has even promised that He would reveal the Father to those who should come up to see His face. This, of course, is the ultimate and the final goal that we have in being here, having our calling and election made sure, and having the Second Comforter, which is Jesus Christ.

The Prophet further revealed, as we see in Lecture Five, that the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost constitute the three members of the Godhead. The Holy Ghost is a power and Spirit, constituting the attributes of God; showing forth that Jesus, having obtained the fullness of it, became like God, like His Father, standing on the right hand of power with Him; and setting forth that His saints can likewise attain to these attributes, a fullness of the Holy Spirit, so that they, too, can be heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Now Lecture Six, my brothers and sisters, begins to show us the modus operandi, if you please, of how to apply our faith in the true and living God, and how we can obtain power with Him. May I call our attention again to the fact that faith is described as a principle of power, a principle of action. It is not mere belief or assent of the human mind. It is verily power, which leads us to knowledge, which, of course, is the means by which we exercise that power with God. We cannot be saved any faster than we gain knowledge, and faith brings us up to knowledge.

Lecture Six

1. Having treated in the preceding lectures of the ideas, of the character, perfections, and attributes of God, we next proceed to treat of the knowledge which persons must have, that the course of life which they pursue is according to the will of God, in order that they may be enabled to exercise faith in him unto life and salvation.

2. This knowledge supplies an important place in revealed religion; for it was by reason of it that the ancients were enabled to endure as seeing him who is invisible.

"Endure as seeing Him who is invisible," walking by faith. This was the requirement made of the children of God as they were sent down into the earth, that they walk by faith and endure, walking in obedience to all of the commandments as seeing Him who is invisible, who reveals them these things through His servants, the Prophets; for surely He will do nothing but what He reveals it to them, for the benefit of the saints.

2. ...An actual knowledge to any person, that the course of life which he pursues is according to the will of God, is essentially necessary to enable him to have that confidence in God without which no person can obtain eternal life. It was this that enabled the ancient saints to endure all their afflictions and persecutions, and to take joyfully the spoiling of their goods, knowing (not believing merely) that they had a more enduring substance. Hebrews x. 34.

3. Having the assurance that they were pursuing a course which was agreeable to the will of God, they were enabled to take, not only the spoiling of their goods, and the wasting of their substance, joyfully, but also to suffer death in its most horrid forms; knowing (not merely believing) that when this earthly house of their tabernacle was dissolved, they had a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. 2 Corinthians v. 1.

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint; for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it, and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven, and of their having embraced the order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in him, necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

5. For a man to lay down his all, his character and reputation, his honor, and applause, his good name among men, his houses, his lands, his brothers and sisters, his wife and children, and even his own life also -- counting all things but filth and dross for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ -- requires more than mere belief or supposition that he is doing the will of God; but actual knowledge, realizing that, when these sufferings are ended, he will enter into eternal rest, and be a partaker of the glory of God.

6. For unless a person does know that he is walking according to the will of God, it would be offering an insult to the dignity of the Creator were he to say that he would be a partaker of his glory when he should be done with the things of this life. But when he has this knowledge, and most assuredly knows that he is doing the will of God, his confidence can be equally strong that he will be a partaker of the glory of God.

How can we obtain this knowledge that our course is pleasing to God? The next verses tell us.

7. Let us here observe, that a religion that does not require the sacrifice of all things never has power sufficient to produce the faith necessary unto life and salvation; for, from the first existence of man, the faith necessary unto the enjoyment of life and salvation never could be obtained without the sacrifice of all earthly things. It was through this sacrifice, and this only, that God has ordained that men should enjoy eternal life; and it is through the medium of the sacrifice of all earthly things that men do actually know that they are doing the things that are well pleasing in the sight of God. When a man has offered in sacrifice all that he has for the truth's sake, not even withholding his life, and believing before God that he has been called to make this sacrifice because he seeks to do his will, he does know, most assuredly, that God does and will accept his sacrifice and offering, and that he has not, nor will not seek his face in vain. Under these circumstances, then, he can obtain the faith necessary for him to lay hold on eternal life.

8. It is in vain for persons to fancy to themselves that they are heirs with those, or can be heirs with them, who have offered their all in sacrifice, and by this means obtain faith in God and favor with him so as to obtain eternal life, unless they, in like manner, offer unto him the same sacrifice, and through that offering obtain the knowledge that they are accepted of him.

Brothers and sisters, do you suppose for a moment that the only thing that is being mentioned here, that these earthly things, these earthly substances, houses, lands; yes, even wives and children, good name among men; do you suppose this constitutes all that is required in sacrifice? This is the least. Indeed it is the least, brothers and sisters. When God knows that He has our hearts, these things will follow. But how do we get our heart right? It is by placing on the altar these earthly characteristics, these sinful doings, these bad habits, the things that are generated by false and delusive spirits in our beings.

All these must be placed on the altar and consumed, and I mean literally consumed, brothers and sisters. By doing this and putting in their place in our beings, our character, the attributes of the Holy Spirit -- knowledge, faith or power, justice, judgment, mercy, truth, and love -- not until we have sacrificed all these other things and put in their place these attributes, can we know that our course is pleasing to God. Why? Because we have the same character He has. Can you see the power of it? It will soon be revealed to us if we persist and endure as seeing Him who is invisible, and becoming like Him who is invisible, that we will obtain the testimony, by the Holy Ghost, and by the servants of God through revelation, that our course is pleasing, that we please God.

It was said of Enoch, as he perfected himself and a people in a city to be translated, he had this testimony that he pleased God. Can you see how he had power with Him, because he was like Him? This, my brothers, my brethren especially, I say to you, coupled with the power of the holy Priesthood, without which none of these other things can be obtained, will give us that power with Him, that will enable us to lay hold on eternal life and go on unto perfection.

Now we have a few examples:

9. It was in offering sacrifices that Abel, the first martyr, obtained knowledge that he was accepted of God. And from the days of righteous Abel to the present time, the knowledge that men have that they are accepted in the sight of God is obtained by offering sacrifice. And in the last days, before the Lord comes, he is to gather together his saints who have made a covenant with him by sacrifice. Psalm 1:3,4,5:

Again, I say, this is not entirely a matter of consecrating all of our earthly goods. It is consecrating all that is of an earthly nature in our characters. These blessings are to be obtained by those who make a covenant with Him by sacrifice.
9. ..."Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him. He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people. Gather my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice."

This is from Psalms.

10. Those, then, who make the sacrifice, will have the testimony that their course is pleasing in the sight of God; and those who have this testimony will have faith to lay hold on eternal life, and will be enabled, through faith, to endure unto the end, and receive the crown that is laid up for them that love the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ. But those who do not make the sacrifice cannot enjoy this faith, because men are dependent upon this sacrifice in order to obtain this faith: therefore, they cannot lay hold upon eternal life, because the revelations of God do not guarantee unto them the authority so to do, and without this guarantee faith could not exist.

This means, in making a sacrifice, an offering, we cannot hold back a part. Ananias and his wife were stricken dead because they lied to the Holy Ghost in withholding part of their substance, just their substance, when they were making a covenant by sacrifice. We cannot hold back in our characters, brothers and sisters. We cannot withhold anything. We must fully and completely submit ourselves to be led and to become like God.

11. All the saints of whom we have account, in all the revelations of God which are extant, obtained the knowledge which they had of their acceptance in his sight through the sacrifice which they offered unto him; and through the knowledge thus obtained their faith became sufficiently strong to lay hold upon the promise of eternal life, and to endure as seeing him who is invisible; and were enabled, through faith, to combat the powers of darkness, contend against the wiles of the adversary, overcome the world, and obtain the end of their faith, even the salvation of their souls.

When we speak of salvation here, it is an exaltation in the Celestial Kingdom.

12. But those who have not made this sacrifice to God do not know that the course which they pursue is well pleasing in his sight; for whatever may be their belief or their opinion, it is a matter of doubt and uncertainty in their mind; and where doubt and uncertainty are there faith is not, nor can it be. For doubt and faith do not exist in the same person at the same time;

Have you ever thought of that, brothers and sisters? They cannot exist together, or you have eternal war.

12. ...so that persons whose minds are under doubts and fears cannot have unshaken confidence; and where unshaken confidence is not there faith is weak; and where faith is weak the persons will not be able to contend against all the opposition, tribulations, and afflictions which they will have to encounter in order to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ Jesus; and they will grow weary in their minds, and the adversary will have power over them and destroy them.

It is by this means then, that we obtain power with God, through this faith produced by the sacrifice of all earthly things. Then we have that confidence to go before Him in mighty prayer and obtain the righteous desires of our hearts. God will not be able to withhold Himself, as with ancient Jacob, when he wrestled with the Lord, proving to the Lord that he would be faithful and true.

Now let us, brothers and sisters, wrestle with ourselves, that we may obtain this testimony that we please God. Faith is the exercise of the mind through words, and this is the means by which we approach Him. Then, by keeping the commandments, so that we become like Him, we may enter into His presence, and see Him as He is, and obtain that blessing that Moroni promises in the seventh chapter. May we seek for these things, and may we more diligently search out these things. I exhort you, my brothers and sisters, to follow the admonition of Brother Johnson, to read these Lectures over and over again. I promise you if you do, you will gain more meaning and more strength and power with God, by putting them into our lives and making them a part of us. I pray for these things in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:91 September 3, 1967 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
September 3, 1967
Faith

I have been delighted, my brothers and sisters, in the things that have been said here this morning. I think we have had a delightful time, and there has been much given to live by, if we will. Now with the help of the Lord, I would like to speak again of faith, and take up where Brother Hammon left off last time, in Lecture Seven.

We understand that faith is the exertion of the mind through words. It may be said, therefore, it is the expression of our faith. But faith is also a principle of action and of power. The last Lecture speaks of the effects of faith, primarily, and if we can dwell on a few points here, I think it might be helpful to us.

It was by faith that Father Adam created this earth, this visible creation. This is one of the great effects of faith. By faith he suffered, providing these bodies for his spirit children. He suffered, along with Eve, more than we know. And it was by faith he did this.

By faith the Lord Jesus Christ wrought the atonement, and was a Mediator between God and us, His brothers and sisters, and became the Author of our salvation. It was by faith that He became one with His Father, so that Their minds and wills were the same, and became the great Prototype of all saved beings, the Prototype for us to follow, the great Example.

It was by faith that Joseph Smith, a fourteen-year-old boy, went into the grove pleading to know the mind and will of God concerning his salvation, was visited by the Father and the Son, and became Their Witness. By faith he was the instrument for the restoration of the holy Priesthood in its fullness, the holy Apostleship, and of the Gospel plan. By faith he suffered martyrdom, and became the Witness and the head of the last dispensation.

It is by faith, my brothers and sisters, that we do more than merely believe. We obey. This is the principle of action involved, by receiving all of these things of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, and obeying them; and then we have power with God, so that we may become like Him and go where He is.

It was said here, something that I think will help us, and I would like to read from the last few verses of that Lecture, the last part of verse 17:

Lecture Seven

17. ...And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it.
We have said many times, if we lack the ordinances of the House of God, which we do; if we lack all of these other blessings that are designed for the salvation and exaltation of the children of God, the sons and daughters of God, then it must be that our faith is weak. There is a measure, and it is given here by the Prophet Joseph. If we lack these things, our faith, then, is not sufficient to receive it. If we are not like Him, or becoming like God, then our faith is not sufficient to accomplish it. Then He goes on to say:

17. ...He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith.

This means simply, brothers and sisters, that our minds and wills will become the mind and will of God. Then nothing is impossible because nothing is impossible with Him. Our faith should be in keeping, or agreeable, as one of the verses here says, with the mind and will of God, the object of our faith.

17. ...All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter.

Brothers and sisters, this should not be the object of our faith, to obtain visions and manifestation for their own sake. These are rewards of our faith, given by the will and desire of God. One man used to ask Brother Woodruff why it was that he could not obtain the ministration of an angel and obtain visions. He said, "My dear brother, if you will just keep the commandments of God, and seek and get and keep the Spirit of God, all things will be added according to the will of God." When the Lord desires to reward us with these manifestations, fine. This is the result of our faith.

17. ...Peter, in view of the power of faith, second epistle, first chapter, second and third verses, says to the Former-day Saints: "Grace and peace be multiplied unto you, through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord, according as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue." In the first epistle, first chapter, third, fourth and fifth verses he says: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which, according to his abundant mercy, hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, to an inheritance incorruptible and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, ready to be revealed in the last time."

18. These sayings put together show the apostle's views most clearly, so as to admit of no mistake on the mind of any individual. He says that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given unto them through the knowledge of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ. And if the question is asked, how were they to obtain the knowledge of God? (for there is a great difference between believing in God and knowing him -- knowledge implies more than faith. And notice, that all things that pertain to life and godliness were given through the knowledge of God) the answer is given -- through faith they were to obtain this knowledge; and, having power by faith to obtain the knowledge of God, they could with it obtain all other things which pertain to life and godliness.

19. By these sayings of the apostle, we learn that it was by obtaining a knowledge of God that men got the knowledge of all things which pertain to life and godliness, and this knowledge was the effect of faith; so that all things which pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith. This is the last and ultimate thing. Our faith, when it becomes perfect, turns to knowledge, through a knowledge of God.

20. From this we may extend as far as any circumstances may require, whether on earth or in heaven, and we will find it the testimony of all inspired men, or heavenly messengers, that all things that pertain to life and godliness are the effects of faith and nothing else; all learning, wisdom and prudence fail, and everything else as a means of salvation but faith. This is the reason that the fishermen of Galilee could teach the world -- because they sought by faith, and by faith obtained. And this is the reason that Paul counted all things but filth and dross -- what he formerly called his gain he called his loss; yea, and he counted all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord. Philippians iii:7, 8, 9, and 10. Because to obtain the faith by which he could enjoy the knowledge of Christ Jesus the Lord, he had to suffer the loss of all things. This is the reason that the Former-day Saints knew more, and understood more, of heaven and of heavenly things than all others beside, because this information is the effect of faith -- to be obtained by no other means. And this is the reason that men, as soon as they lose their faith, run into strifes, contentions, darkness, and difficulties; for the knowledge which tends to life disappears with faith, but returns when faith returns; for when faith comes it brings its train of attendants with it -- apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, teachers, gifts, wisdom, knowledge, miracles, healings, tongues, interpretation of tongues, etc. All these appear when faith appears on the earth, and disappear when it disappears from the earth; for these are the effects of faith, and always have attended, and always will, attend it. For where faith is, there will the knowledge of God be also, with all things which pertain thereto -- revelations, visions, and dreams, as well as every necessary thing, in order that the possessors of faith may be perfected, and obtain salvation; for God must change, otherwise faith will prevail with him. And he who possesses it will, through it, obtain all necessary knowledge and wisdom, until he shall know God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, whom He has sent -- whom to know is eternal life. Amen.

RTJ 2:96 October 22, 1967 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 22, 1967
Must Be Anxiously Engaged

Well, the shortest and most effective sermons I think that I could give would be to read Section 4 of the Doctrine and Covenants. Not that I want to be short, but this tells a world of truth.

D.& C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.
2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God,
   And I take it we all have or we would not be here.
2. ...see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.
If we do not do this with our might, mind, and strength, then we will stand blamed before God at the last day.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work; What are our desires, brothers and sisters? We have been told that we would be granted according to our desires, but desires, to me, mean more than just wishful thinking. It is a course of action, our desires, or our faith, if we want to put it in another word. It becomes a principle of action and a principle of power, because of our faithfulness, becoming like God.

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.

These are the attributes of God.
6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.

Diligence, with our might, mind, and strength.

7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Amen.

I would like to refer to a parable of the Master. He said, "If a man asked you for his coat, give him two. If he asked you to go a mile with him, go two." It is that extra mile. It is diligence. It is doing the thing with our might, mind, and strength that makes the difference between the ordinary man and one who is chosen.

The Lord says in Section 121 through the Prophet, "Many are called, but few have I chosen." All of you are called if you have desires in the work and desire to be obedient and humble and diligent. And I dare say the difference between those who are called and those who are chosen, is those who go the extra mile, who do not have to be commanded in all things; for the power is in us, as the Lord tells us in Section 58, which I would like to read again.

D. & C. 58

26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.
How many of us feel compelled in what we are doing here? How many of us are afraid that this might be right, that our eternal salvation might be found here, and are working nothing more nor less than around the fringes of this work, and feel compelled in all they do? Such the Lord spews out of His mouth. Lukewarm -- there is no virtue in them.

27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;
28. For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.
29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

You might do it under protest. How many of you women are living this principle under protest, this principle of Celestial Marriage -- and with a slothful heart, this eternal law of salvation and exaltation?

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.
30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?
31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?
32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.
33. Then they say in their hearts: This is not the work of the Lord, for his promises are not fulfilled. But wo unto such, for their reward lurketh beneath, and not from above.

God bless you, amen.
It is good to be here, brothers and sisters, and I desire but to be an instrument for good here among you. I felt that if I were called upon, I might bring to your attention the words of President Jedediah M. Grant. Perhaps the voice of an honorable character such as he might be of some help to us.

JD 2:10  Jedediah M. Grant  February 19, 1854  SLC

*I have been pleased with the remarks of Elder Hyde this afternoon. I am myself more or less familiar with the doings of the Spirit Rappers, having had an opportunity of becoming acquainted with them when I was last in New York and Philadelphia; and I am satisfied now, and was then, that they are manifestations of spirits; and startling are the sentiments, developments, and doctrines they have made known. It has been treated as a bubble upon the wave that soon would burst asunder; but I am satisfied the result of the manifestations of the spirits (wicked spirits) will be to combine their forces in as systematic an order as they are capable of, to successfully resist the Priesthood upon the earth.

It is rather remarkable that the sentiments here in keeping with what President Jessop has brought to our attention.

RTJ 2:99 November 5, 1967  SLC

*I am aware that even some of the Latter-day Saints are slow to believe in relation to the power of Lucifer, the son of the morning, who was thrust from the heavens to the earth; and they have been slow to believe in relation to the spirits that are associated with him; but from the first revelations of the Almighty to brother Joseph Smith, not only revelations in relation to the deep things of the kingdom of God, and the high things of heaven, and the depths of hell, but revelations showing him the power of Lucifer, the opposite to good, that he might be aware of the strength of his opponent, and the opponent of the Almighty -- I say, from perusing these revelations, I have always been specially impressed with the doctrine relating to the power of Satan, as well as with the doctrines relating to the power of God.

*I have always felt that no Saint fully comprehends the power of Satan as well as God's Prophet; And how much this is in keeping with the doctrine of the Priesthood, that it takes the Priesthood to detect the devil; and this is something we should keep in mind as we hear these things.

...and again I have thought that no Saint could fully understand the power of God unless he learn the opposite. I am not myself acquainted with any happiness that I have not learned the opposite of. You may perhaps enjoy a great deal, the opposite of which you know nothing of, you may be constituted different to me, your feelings may be different, you may have learned to enjoy without first experiencing the opposite; but I may say with safety, nearly all the blessings I enjoy and highly prize are most appreciated after I have learned their opposite; and I am of opinion that all Saints sooner or later will have to learn the opposite to good, they will have to partake of the bitter in order to properly appreciate the sweet, they will have to be impressed with pain that they may appreciate pleasure.

In relation to spirits, for it seems to be the subject introduced to-day, I have this idea, that the Lord our God absolutely gave Lucifer a mission to this earth; I will call it a mission. You may think it strange that I believe so good a being as our Father in heaven would actually send such an odd missionary as Lucifer. You may call him a missionary, or anything else you please, but we learn he was thrust out of heaven, the place where the Lord dwells, to this earth; and his mission, and the mission of his associates who were thrust down with him, and of those whom he is successful in turning away from God's children who have tabernacles, is to continue to oppose the Almighty, scatter His Church, wage war against His kingdom, and change as far as possible His government on the earth. He could take the Saviour upon the pinnacle of the temple, and show him the kingdoms of this world, and could perform many wonderful works in the days of Jesus. When the Priesthood of God is upon the earth, then the priesthood of the devil may be seen operating, for he has got one. When the kingdom of God is on the earth, you may expect to see a special display or manifestation of the opposite to the Gospel of the kingdom, or of the Priesthood of God.

If you read the Book of Mormon, the Bible, and the Book of Doctrine and Covenants, you read about the power of Satan upon the earth -- the manifestation of wicked spirits. When was this special power of Satan more particularly made manifest? It has always been when the power of the holy Priesthood and the kingdom of God were upon the earth. In the days of Moses, in the days of the Patriarchs, in the days of the Prophets, and in the days of Jesus and his Apostles, and while his Church remained upon the earth, the opposite of the principles of heaven were specially made manifest, causing a lull in the public mind. The world is more or less controlled all the time by influences that Lucifer evidently is not opposed to; he has little objection to the present organization of human society, from the fact that everything passes along in the wake that agrees with his religion, and rather tends to forward his purposes.

Now some suppose if they can see a miracle, as they call it, that is, something beyond that which is ordinary with man, they are bound to believe; but I am of opinion that Lucifer and his associates can show as many miracles as the people desire to see; they can show as many as were exhibited in Egypt in the days of king Pharaoh. I believe Lucifer has just as much power to make lice now as ever he had, he has just as much ability to display his power in making a serpent to oppose a Moses as ever. Has he lost his power during the last two, three, or four thousand years? We do not believe he has. If, then, he possesses the same power as he once did, why is he not able in this dispensation to make manifestations corresponding to those in previous ones?

I might go on with a long routine of manifestations of the power of God, and of the power of the devil; but you who have come from the old country, and some of the first Elders that went over there -- Presidents Young, Kimball, Hyde, and others, recollect manifestations of the spirits of the devil in that land. They attacked those brethren by hundreds and by thousands, and the spirits were actually visible. If you could call up brother Willard Snow, and converse with him, I have no doubt that he would tell you he was attacked by them, and they overcame his body.

I am not surprised to see these manifestations increased upon the earth; but where is the anchor to the faith of the Saints? Where is the surety of the Saints against these manifestations? Inasmuch as the world would not listen to the Prophet Joseph, and receive the word of God through him, I look for the Lord to fulfil His word, and send them strong delusion, inasmuch as they believe not the truth, and will permit them now to believe a lie, that all who have pleasure in unrighteousness may be damned. I anticipate seeing strong delusion among the wicked in the day in which we live, but where is the anchor for the faith of the Saints? I will tell you where mine is.

When Joseph Smith was alive, his declaration to me was as the voice of Almighty God. Why? Because he had the Priesthood of God on the earth;
the Priesthood that is without father, without mother, without beginning of days or end of years, which is God's authority, the eternal power and right of the government of God upon the earth. I was subject to that government in the days of Joseph. Men used to talk on this wise -- "But would you believe in the Prophet if he should demand all your property?"
Lucifer would suggest this idea to them. "No," says another, "I would not." "Suppose he should come to you, and tell you, you must sell your farm in the east, and go to Kirtland, and consecrate your property to the Lord, would you do it?" "No," answers his neighbor, "the Lord has no use for my property, I would not do it." "Well," says one, "do you think Joseph is right to dictate in temporal matters?" "No." There were quite a majority, I believe, in the days of Joseph, who believed he had no right to dictate in temporal matters, in farms, houses, merchandize, gold, silver, &c.; and they were tried on various points.

When the family organization was revealed from heaven the patriarchal order of God, and Joseph began, on the right and on the left, to add to his family, what a quaking there was in Israel. Says one brother to another, "Joseph says all covenants are done away, and none are binding but the new covenants; now suppose Joseph should come and say he wanted your wife, what would you say to that?"

I suppose he had the example of Brother Kimball.

"I would tell him to go to hell." This was the spirit of many in the early days of this Church.

If you maintain the fact that the Priesthood of God is upon the earth, and God's representatives are upon the earth, the mouth-piece of Jehovah, the head of the kingdom of God upon earth, and the will of God is done upon earth as it is in heaven, it follows that the government of God is upon the earth. I allude to the Church which it dictates; and then to the whole earth which it will dictate. Satan may succeed for a season to curtail the extent of this government, and the free working of its machinery, but if the Lord Almighty has organized a government upon the earth, and has committed the keys and Priesthood of it to His Prophet, that Prophet holds jurisdiction over the earth, the same as Adam did in the beginning. And righteous men in every dispensation since the creation, if they had any keys, had the Keys of the kingdom of God; and they extended over this wide world wherever God had a people and a government; and just as far as the Priesthood exercised its authority, just so far the rule of the Almighty reached.

If Joseph had a right to dictate me in relation to salvation, in relation to a hereafter, he had a right to dictate me in relation to all my earthly affairs, in relation to the treasures of the earth, and in relation to the earth itself. He had a right to dictate in relation to the cities of the earth, to the natives of the earth, and in relation to everything on land and on sea. That is what he had a right to do, if he had any right at all. If he did not have that right, he did not have the Priesthood of God, he did not have the endless Priesthood that emanates from an eternal being. A Priesthood that is clipped, and lacks length, is not the Priesthood of God; if it lacks depth, it is not the Priesthood of God; for the Priesthood in ancient times extended over the wide world, and coped with the universe, and had a right to govern and control the inhabitants thereof, to regulate them, give them laws, and execute those laws. That power looked like the Priesthood of God. This same Priesthood has been given to Joseph Smith, and has been handed down to his successors.

I do not care how many devils rap, it is no trouble to me. What would a man of God say, who felt aright, when Joseph asked him for his money? He would say, "Yes, and I wish I had more to help to build up the kingdom of God." Or if he came and said, "I want your wife?" "O yes," he would say, "here she is, there are plenty more."

There is another main thread connected with this, that I have not brought out. You know in fishing with the hook and line, if you draw out suddenly on the line when you have got a large trout, you may break your line; you must therefore angle a little, and manage your prize carefully. I would ask you if Jehovah has not in all ages tried His people by the power of Lucifer and his associates; and on the other hand, has He not tried them and proved them by His Prophets? Did the Lord actually want Abraham to kill Isaac? Did the Prophet Joseph want every man's wife he asked for? He did not, but in that thing was the grand thread of the Priesthood developed. The grand object in view was to try the people of God, to see what was in them. If such a man of God should come to me and say, "I want your gold and silver, or your wives," I should say, "Here they are, I wish I had more to give you, take all I have got." A man who has got the Spirit of God, and the light of eternity in him, has no trouble about such
I am talking now of the present day. There was a time when we could be tried pretty severely upon these points, but I now could pick you out hundreds of men that cannot be tried in this way, but they will hand over everything they possess.

If ever you are brought into the presence of God, and exalted to a seat in His celestial kingdom, it will be by virtue of the Holy Priesthood, therefore you have got to be proved, not only by being tempted by the devil, but the Priesthood will try you -- it will try you to the core. If one thing won't try you, something else will be adopted, until you are like the passive clay in the hands of the potter. If the Lord our God does not see fit to let the devil loose upon you, and mob you, He will employ some other means to try you as in a crucible, to prove you as gold is tried seven times in the furnace.

If Joseph Smith held the keys of the kingdom of God on earth, of the Apostleship, does not his successor possess the same? Does he not have a right to give laws, to instruct, to control and rule the people of God?

I might still go on, and explain to your understandings exactly what I mean by rule. If this Priesthood is upon the earth, and you are controlled thereby, and listen to its counsels, you will be united as one people. I know the time was that many of this people believed that if a man was adopted here and there, one man would hold this way, and another that; but the fact is, in the kingdom and Church of the Lord they are all in one pile. I do not care how many of you have been adopted here or there; that is the doctrine to me.

Let the devils rap, then, and let them talk, and mutter, and have their mediums; what do I care, so long as the Priesthood is upon the earth, and the Apostleship is upon the earth, and the government of God, and the light and influence of the Holy Ghost, are upon the earth? Can they shake the Saints? No. But let a man lose the Spirit of God, and depart from this Church, and from the men that hold the Priesthood of God on the earth, and I have no doubt that Lucifer will reveal a great many truths to him, and teach and advocate principles and sentiments that will agree with doctrines of this Church. And they will even imitate Joseph Smith's hand writing, and the hand writing of brother Hyrum, of Bishop Partridge, and of Bishop Whitney, and others; and they will give you flaming revelations, and the light they emit will blaze like a comet.

Now Lucifer has philosophy enough and religion enough to suffer his agents to run along with the truth hand in hand, and make himself appear like an angel of light, and teach hundreds of true principles, if he can only thereby get you to swallow one item of false doctrine. But the grand story is, the devil may rage as long as he pleases, and use all the cunning and craft that he may, yet he never can overreach those who hold the keys of the Priesthood, nor succeed in deceiving them. This Joseph taught the people, but they were slow to believe. But now the energies of the people move as one man; and if they want to build a Temple, they can build it, and whatever they want to accomplish they can do.

I wish this were the case.

The Priesthood is a power we should respect, reverence, and obey, no matter in whose hands it is. Let Lucifer mix in truths with error, and work great signs and wonders to deceive the very elect, but it is not possible. Why? Because they have learned the Priesthood, and they possess the power thereof that cannot be shaken. Let the Rappers go ahead, then, for it is not possible for them to deceive the elect of God; and let the witch of Endor, and all other witches and wizards, with the prince and power of the air at their head, do their best, if we keep the commandments of God we shall continually soar far above their power and influence.

I want to have nothing to do with Satan, I desire not to shake hands with him, nor to do anything that will bring me in contact with him, for he is powerful and if he once gets you in his grasp and shakes you, you will think you are less than a grasshopper. Let us rally round the standard of God, and when we are in the circle of truth, then let the devil and the enemies of the Church of God fire their loudest guns, and wage their war, and marshal their strength, yet, armed with the armor of righteousness, clothed with the Priesthood and generalship of the Almighty, we shall successfully resist, and triumphantly conquer Satan and all his allied forces of the earth and hell. They will then find out whether Joseph had a right to rule this earth by the power of the Priesthood. They will then find out that the "Mormons," notwithstanding their curious bumps, for they have got some curious bumps, are authorized to preach the Gospel of God, gather Israel, build up Zion, bind Lucifer with a chain, and establish the reign of peace on earth.

My prayer is that the Saints may understand that they are safe as long as they listen to the Priesthood authorized of heaven, are united in one, and not divided into clans, but become one great clan, under one head. Then let all the clanism of the world rally against us, and we are as firm as the rock of ages, that supports the throne of Jehovah.

May God bless you with the truth as it is in Himself, and save you in His kingdom, through Jesus Christ. Amen.

RTJ 2:108  November 19, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
November 19, 1967
Eternal Blessings Come Through This Priesthood; Faith Requires Obedience

I sincerely ask an interest in your faith and prayers this afternoon, brothers and sisters, for I desire nothing but to edify you and to speak the truth; and I do not desire to say anything but what is dictated by the Spirit of God. I am grateful beyond words of expression for the restoration of the Gospel and of the holy Priesthood, and that it is in our midst, and that we have the words of life revealed by the Prophet Joseph Smith, the instrument in the hands of God and one of the Godhead, to restore these things and to open the last dispensation of the fullness of times. How I love the memory, the life, and the labors of Joseph the Prophet, who gave us so much, and who is still leading this work from the other side. I know as well as I know that I stand here that he is directing the brethren, and that those who have succeeded him in their time and place have been doing the same. How I long for the day when I will be able to strike hands with him and be introduced by those who know him.

I do not know whether you realize it, brothers and sisters, but none of us will ever see the white locks of Father Adam, or Jesus, or Joseph, except we be introduced by those who know them. And we are going to have to start with those who preside over us today. We are going to have to go through them; today, President Johnson, and those who have preceded right on back. If we want a part and place in the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of heaven, if you please, we are going to have to get it through this source.
I am led to repeat the words of Heber C. Kimball when he said, "Where did you come from if you did not come from this Priesthood? What do you have if it did not come out of this Priesthood?" through Joseph the Prophet, the great Apostle. Brigham Young called him that "gigantic Apostle", who opened up this last dispensation. He is also the One Mighty and Strong. None other will do that work.

The setting in order process is already started. It started when John Taylor was visited by the Prophet Joseph and the Savior in 1886, to open up this special work and dispensation of which we are a part; this work having resulted from the great faith and integrity and the indomitable will to do right and to keep all of the commandments that John Taylor had. How grateful I am for him and those who have followed him.

Now brothers and sisters, I was reading last night the statement where Melchizedek gave Abraham the Priesthood. Abraham went his way rejoicing, saying, "Now I have a Priesthood!" Would to God that he could say, "Our Father, now I have a people!" We are that people, brothers and sisters, if we have the faith and integrity and will keep all of the commandments and follow the Priesthood, which is to be the nucleus of the great Millennium. This can be that people. But remember one thing. Joseph Smith in Nauvoo, as he stood talking to the saints then, said, "Will you follow me to the death?" He said, "They raised their hands in concert and said, 'Yes!'" He said, "It is well. If you would not, I would go out there," pointing to the west, "and raise up another people." Do not think it is beyond the power of God to raise up another people if this people fail to do what is required.

So, it is a matter of faith, brothers and sisters, when you get right down to it; faith being a principle of action and of power. I want to read something I have read a good many times before. See if we can get a little more meaning into it.

Lecture Seven

17. ...And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it. He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens;
women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter.

Now then, brothers and sisters, if we do not have the blessings that we seek -- endowments, the means of having our calling and election made sure -- then it must be that our faith is lacking. Since it is a principle of action, then we are not obedient. Obedience is action. Since it is a principle of power, the reason must be, then, that we cannot know or do not know that our course is pleasing to God; for if it were, it would be a principle of power with us. We could go to Him and ask, and it would be given, when we are ready for it, of course, all agreeable to the will of God. We should ask nothing but it be agreeable to the will of God and the right time and place and situation.

So, we are lacking in faith. Our faith is imperfect, brothers and sisters, because we are disobedient; and therefore, our course is not known to be pleasing to God; not known to us nor God either.

The great work of the Priesthood today, as you have been told many times, is the preparation of a people. Will we be that people? President Johnson has told the saints in recent times that there is going to be a division among this people. Are we ready for it, and will we be with the Lord when that takes place? We little know, brothers and sisters, what we will do if we are governed by aspiring, foul, and evil spirits. And these come when we are disobedient, and this is the reason for our lack of faith.

Now I pray that we will act on these things, brothers and sisters. Draw near to the Prophet Joseph Smith by mighty prayer to our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and to our Father -- faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and in God, the Father -- and I say faith in Joseph, who stands in the office of the Holy Ghost. We cannot receive the gifts and powers of the Holy Ghost except through him and through this Priesthood. Wives cannot receive it, children cannot receive it, except through their Priesthood head, by walking in obedience and in full submission to all the laws and ordinances and directions of those who stand over us. God help us to be that people, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 2:112  December 17, 1967  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 17, 1967
Faith of the Brother of Jared

I have greatly enjoyed the dissertations that have been given us here today, for they have been the word of the Lord to all of us. I am grateful for the testimony of Jesus, and of Joseph, the Holy Ghost, through whose Priesthood we come together today to enjoy the light and blessings of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I am grateful for the gifts of the Spirit, and especially the gift of faith.

I thought that if I were called on today I should like to give one simple and beautiful example of this glorious principle of faith, as it existed in the bosom of some of the servants of God. Joseph Smith saw the Father and the Son as a humble fourteen-year-old boy, as a result of faith as it existed in his mind and heart. Certainly it was the design of the Father that this man come forth and do the great work and mission he did, but everything that Joseph Smith received by way of revelation and instruction came as a result of faith, and nothing else. It was designed that man, every man, be he great or small, if he were to accomplish anything in this life it would be as a result of his walking as seeing Him who is invisible.

We have been told a great deal about the various conditions of this principle of faith, and I think it is more perfectly, very perfectly exemplified in the incident involving the brother of Jared. I would like to read the few verses involved in showing how he came to see the Lord and accomplished the things he did.

It must be assumed that he understood the character and the attributes of God, or he would not have approached the Lord in doing the thing he did. And he says this as he prayed to God:

_Ether 3_

- 3. Behold, O Lord, thou has smitten us because of our iniquity, and hast driven us forth, and for these many years we have been in the wilderness;
nevertheless, thou hast been merciful unto us. O Lord, look upon me in pity, and turn away thine anger from this thy people, and suffer not that they shall go forth across this raging deep in darkness; but behold these things which I have molten out of the rock.

He had gone ahead as he had been instructed, and now was presenting these things that he had put together for the purposes of the Lord.

4. And I know, O Lord, that thou hast all power, and can do whatsoever thou wilt for the benefit of man; therefore touch these stones, O Lord, with thy finger, and prepare them that they may shine forth in darkness; and they shall shine forth unto us in the vessels which we have prepared, that we may have light while we shall cross the sea.

Now listen to these next words.

5. Behold, O Lord, thou canst do this. We know that thou art able to show forth great power, which looks small unto the understanding of men.

6. And it came to pass that when the brother of Jared had said these words, behold, the Lord stretched forth his hand and touched the stones one by one with his finger. And the veil was taken from off the eyes of the brother of Jared, and he saw the finger of the Lord; and it was as the finger of a man, like unto flesh and blood; and the brother of Jared fell down before the Lord, for he was struck with fear.

7. And the Lord saw that the brother of Jared had fallen to the earth; and the Lord said unto him: Arise, why hast thou fallen?

8. And he saith unto the Lord: I saw the finger of the Lord, and I feared lest he should smite me; for I knew not that the Lord had flesh and blood.

9. And the Lord said unto him: Because of thy faith thou hast seen that I shall take upon me flesh and blood; and never has man come before me with such exceeding faith as thou hast; for were it not so ye could not have seen my finger. Sawest thou more than this?

10. And he answered: Nay; Lord, show thyself unto me.

11. And the Lord said unto him: Believeth thou the words which I shall speak?

12. And he answered: Yea, Lord, I know that thou speakest the truth, for thou art a God of truth, and canst not lie.

He knew His character and attributes.
13. And when he had said these words, behold, the Lord showed himself unto him, and said: Because thou knowest these things ye are redeemed from the fall; therefore ye are brought back into my presence; therefore I show myself unto you.

14. Behold, I am he who was prepared from the foundation of the world to redeem my people. Behold, I am Jesus Christ. I am the Father and the Son. In me shall all mankind have light, and that eternally, even they who shall believe on my name; and they shall become my sons and my daughters.

15. And never have I showed myself unto man whom I have created, for never has man believed in me as thou hast. Seest thou that ye are created after mine own image? Yea, even all men were created in the beginning after mine own image.

16. Behold, this body, which ye now behold, is the body of my spirit; and man have I created after the body of my spirit; and even as I appear unto thee to be in the spirit will I appear unto my people in the flesh.

Lorin Woolley was told that he had the faith of the brother of Jared, and we can well imagine the things that he saw and heard. When a people has been raised up to understand these things and to have the faith of the brother of Jared, we are told they are going to receive the things that he wrote, and that he saw and heard. These are promises that are made to the faithful, and unless we have this faith we will not receive these things.

Jared, his brother, appealed to this man, Mahonri Moriancumr, which was his name, because he had favor with the Lord, because he had perfect faith. These are they that Brother Hammon has spoken of who will come up to see the face of God, because they are like Him; and for no other reason and on no other condition will they come up, except they be like Him. And I pray that we may do this, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
It is good to get a breath of fresh air, brothers and sisters. I feel it a great privilege and blessing to be here. I have enjoyed the remarks of the speakers before, and pray that I may have the Spirit of the Lord in directing my remarks.

As I have contemplated my lot thus far, I cannot help but conclude that God has, as it were, had me in the hollow of His hand. Going back to a time I was on a mission in Britain, and even before, and more particularly after I returned and had some contact with the leading brethren of the Church, I recall how, on many occasions, how I wondered how the words of the Lord would be fulfilled -- I never doubted that they would -- but how His words would be fulfilled that this work and Priesthood had been restored through the Prophet Joseph Smith, never to be thrown down or given to another people. Because as I viewed the things, the people, the state of the faith of the Church, and the rank apostasy that was taking place from the head down as far as I knew of it, I truly wondered how and when and where the Lord was going to take a hand to fulfill those words.

How great my joy when father brought the word to me of his having met with Joseph Musser, obtained the Truth Magazine. He handed it to me and said, "Here, my son, is what I am sure you have been looking for." I naturally asked some questions, because the first thought that ran through my mind was, "By what authority?" And I was soon satisfied. It was not long before I obtained the Priesthood. Joseph Musser, in the company of my father, conferred the Melchizedek Priesthood and ordained me to the office of Seventy. Here I had been going through my married life and a mission without the Priesthood, as I was soon convinced. And to finally get it and be able to function in the fullness of the Gospel, and to receive blessings where it seemed others had been taken away, is more than I can express. How the Lord has multiplied me a hundredfold since, after having dear ones taken away, and all that I had, which I gave freely and gladly.

No one can tell me that this is not the work of God and the fullness of the holy Priesthood among us. God has indeed set His hand to do this great and last work, and the last Kingdom is established. The fullness of the holy Priesthood is here, brothers and sisters. I know it as I know I live! I know that John Y. Barlow, in whose day I came into the work, was head of Priesthood, indeed held the keys, and these others have succeeded.

I know as I know I live that this is the legitimate holy Priesthood. I sometimes feel we should not use the word "legitimate." It is the authority of God upon the earth. The fullness of the holy Apostleship is functioning in our midst, and how lightly, my brothers and sisters, are we treating it? This is the sad thing. We should be on our knees day and night, figuratively, thanking God for every breath we breathe under the direction of His Priesthood, and that we are able to receive wives and children in this holy law of matrimony, the Celestial order, the law of Abraham restored in its pristine perfection through Joseph the Prophet, and carried on and sustained through a special dispensation of the Priesthood to John Taylor, and this I know.

There was the turning point that God had provided that few ever knew or realized was going on. How grateful I am that my father received these things in his day, though he did not know the true mission and work of Lorin Woolley. There is something special about him, he said. But through that Priesthood, Matthias F. Cowley sent Judson Tolman, a Patriarch of the day, to seal my mother and Florence Rice to my father in plural marriage on the 2nd of March, 1909. My father often said that he knew that I was waiting for that union, and how grateful I am that my mother chose the better part in that day when the Church, itself, particularly the quorum of Twelve, were using every power in their means to discredit Joseph F. Smith, their President, and to get what they called the "goods" on him. And how grateful I am that my father and mother, while in hiding, carried on what they knew to be true, and the same law and principle of his father, and of his father before him.

I feel inadequate to the heritage that I have received, but God being my strength and helper, I pray that I may fulfill the work that I was sent here to do. That is all I want, brothers and sisters, just to do my work, and to raise my wives and children up in light and truth in the same glorious plan and work, to carry on into the Millennium when the Lord our Savior shall come and lead us. Indeed, this people can and should be the nucleus of the great Millennium. When we see the blessings and the glory that are within our reach, how humble we should be.

I pray that our prosperity and the conditions in which we live today will not turn us away, and that we will go on unto perfection, under the leadership of President Johnson in this day; for as sure as we sit here, we are going to have to find our way to the Prophet Joseph and all who have gone before through those who administer unto us in this day. I have come to fully realize this under John Y. Barlow and those who have succeeded. I am grateful for my fellowship with these my brethren, with whom I am under covenant to keep these principles alive until Christ comes. I love them and I love their principles more than life itself. It is these principles that bind us together, brothers and sisters, the laws and doctrines of the holy Priesthood, and this is all that matters.

We are acting under the Priesthood after the order of the Son of God. This I know. We are acting under the Priesthood after the order of Enoch. This I know. We are acting under the Priesthood of Joseph, that "gigantic Apostle", the Holy Ghost, the One Mighty and Strong, who shall soon return to set this House -- the Priesthood, the Church, and the Kingdom of God -- in order. This I know as I know I live, and I bear this testimony to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:118  January 21, 1968  SLC
Salt Lake City, Utah
January 21, 1968
We Have Either the Spirit of God or the Spirit of Evil; Abide the Celestial Law
I have greatly enjoyed what has been said here today and hardly feel capable of adding to it for our edification. I am grateful for the privilege of being numbered among this people and Priesthood, and for the blessings of the Lord upon me and mine. When I see how the Lord guides and directs and blesses us, it is a living miracle every day that we exist. Knowing the designs of the adversary, the powers that be in the earth and that are all around us, every day is a living miracle that we are able to go and come and do the work that God has given us to do, and for these things I am grateful.

I call to mind, brothers and sisters, the statement of the Prophet Joseph Smith, that there are three spirits -- the Spirit of God, the spirit of man, and the spirit of the devil. The spirit of man is embodied in these mortal tabernacles, and this is the one that we are concerned with; and it is actuated either by the Spirit of God or by the spirit of the devil. And particularly it applies to the saints of God who have tried to choose the better part and have taken a stand for God and His work and Priesthood. From then on, he is actuated by one or the other of these two spirits, and can never be on neutral ground. As Brother Musser has said, if he turns against the power of the Holy Ghost, which is administered by the Priesthood, he has nothing else to do or nowhere else to go but to become a vagabond in the earth. And so again we say, "Get and keep the Spirit of God," the injunction of the Prophets from the beginning down till the present.

I felt to draw to your attention here today a picture that President Lorenzo Snow drew in words for the saints as the ideal condition of a family. You know, the Lord had to rebuke even the Prophet Joseph Smith and his counselors because of their failure to teach and direct their children, particularly, in light and truth. Intelligence is the glory of God, and it is light and truth, and this is the power of the Holy Spirit. If we have this picture, I think we will have all that the Lord requires of us in living these holy laws. Let us always remember as we read this that we should be and are trying to live the Celestial Law.

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.

Isn't that beautiful if this could be the case in our families? But instead, there are jarrings, quarreling, contention, fighting in this Celestial Law, brothers and sisters, when we should have the Spirit of God. Joseph Smith made it quite clear that if we don't live by the Spirit of revelation, and learn, or become skillful in obtaining the gift of the Holy Ghost in our lives, that we cannot come up to be sanctified in the presence of Jesus Christ; or in other words, have our calling and election made sure and receive the Second Comforter. The Spirit of revelation, the power to get and keep the Holy Ghost, it is a skill that we must obtain; and the degree by which we obtain this skill will measure our degree of salvation and exaltation in the presence of God. I just felt to draw this picture before us today and pray that we may be this way. If we do not, we are not going to become that people that is to be prepared for the redemption of Zion and the building of the great city and temple to our God. God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I deeply appreciated the truths of heaven that have been set forth in this meeting. I am grateful for the spirit that is here and pray that it may continue with me. I pray that I may have a message that will be helpful and edifying to us all. I heartily concur in what the brethren have said, particularly President Timpson; and I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, that the thing he talked about, criticism and judgment that is taking place in this group, is like a cancer upon this body of people; and if it is not rooted out, it is going to have some very dire consequences. I think we can see the words of President Johnson beginning to be fulfilled regarding a division among this people, and it always centers around the principle that President Timpson spoke about.

I would like to speak about another matter, brothers and sisters, that is very simple and very fundamental, that is wrong with this people. I see it in the families of this group, including my own; and that is spiritual laziness. We seem to be drifting along, and it is because of our laziness and drifting that this cancerous thing starts to take hold, this criticism of the brethren.

Let us go back to the very first principle of the Gospel of Jesus Christ -- faith. I think most of us think of faith as mere belief or assent of the mind, but Joseph tells us in Lecture Seven that it is the exertion of the mind. Now, if we will exert our minds we will exert our bodies, our physical beings. We will exert ourselves to labor with our might and with all the zeal that is in us to advance this work and Kingdom, and to become like God. Now, this is what is lacking. We do not exert ourselves enough.

I think some of the strongest terms that God has used in scripture can be found on this subject, and I would just like to read a few of them. I have read this before, but I think it bears repeating.

D. & C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

And a marvelous work is about to come forth among this people, I want to assure you, and we had better be found on the right side of the fence.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind, and strength,
With all of your heart, not just a part; with all of your might, mind, and strength, not just a part.

2. ...that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.
Now if we do not give it all, it must follow that we are going to be blamed as we stand before God at the last day, it must follow.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;
This does not necessarily mean we have got to be given some big job in the Priesthood or by the Priesthood. When we enter into the Celestial Law, Celestial Marriage, when we enter into this Priesthood work, we undertake the two highest laws of the Gospel: Celestial Marriage and the Celestial Order of Heaven, the Economic Order of Heaven. And if there is not work enough to do in those two principles, I would like you to tell me what it is.

I think one of the sorest things that beset a people is their desire for sensational things. People run off to this and that group and they find some sensational things going on, and they grab hold of it right quick; and that is because they grow weary in well-doing. The very nature of the work of the Priesthood, the work of God, the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, is to endure as seeing Him who is invisible, to endure the daily routine of life in which we are constantly striving to become like God. These daily little jobs that we have, with them we are building for eternity. If we could only realize that in the work-a-day labors and problems of ours, we are either building or destroying a character.

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith,

Now here is the rub -- these attributes of God:

5. ...faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.

6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.
7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. Amen.

The greatest job we have, the greatest and most cherished thing that we have to contemplate is our salvation, our exaltation, and that greatest of all things cannot be obtained except through diligence -- our whole heart, might, mind, and strength.

Now, I would like to bring this down a little closer to our daily living, and introduce that by reading from Section 88. The Lord here was speaking to the Elders of Israel who constituted the School of the Prophets, but I cannot see but what it is applicable to each and every one of us and our families. After all, brothers and sisters, isn't our daily living within our family circles? It is not our running around and doing some glorious job that we might be called to do. It is in our everyday work-a-day living, and this is what the Lord has to say about that:

D.& C. 88

119. Organize yourselves; prepare every needful thing; and establish a house, even a house of prayer, a house of fasting, a house of faith, a house of learning, a house of glory, a house of order, a house of God;

Do we have these in our homes? Not nearly enough. I have seen it in some, praise God, and I see the results in the lives of the inhabitants of those houses. So, I know it works. But where you see lazy, dissident, filthy homes, you do not find the characters there that are spoken of here. You do not find the attributes of God exhibited in the lives of those inhabitants. It just cannot be any other way. So what does the Lord say to do?

123. See that ye love one another; cease to be covetous; learn to impart one to another as the gospel requires.

124. Cease to be idle; cease to be unclean; cease to find fault one with another; cease to sleep longer than is needful;

And that is a pretty sore spot with me. "Man alive, we are half dead!" one man said, "half dead."

124. ...retire to thy bed early, that ye may not be weary; arise early, that your bodies and your minds may be invigorated.

125. And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.
126. Pray always,
This takes exertion of the mind, getting on our knees often enough and with enough faith. Prayer is the operation of our faith, which, when we stand up, we set about to fulfill with our hard labor, through our diligence, with our whole heart, might, mind, and strength.

125. And above all things, clothe yourselves with the bond of charity, as with a mantle, which is the bond of perfectness and peace.
126. Pray always, that ye may not faint, until I come. Behold, and lo, I will come quickly, and receive you unto myself. Amen.

Will He be able to receive you unto Himself? Will He be able to receive me unto Himself? This is the question. This is what we are all laboring for, to have our calling and election made sure, after having proven at all hazards that we would serve Him and keep all of His commandments, living and abiding in the Celestial Law with our whole heart, might, mind, and strength. We will never see the face of Joseph, or of Jesus, or of Father Adam until we do these things and become like them; which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
March 3, 1968
D.& C. 101; Humble Ourselves; Sacrifice All Earthly Things

Brother Guy suggested maybe I ought to speak. I take this privilege, brothers and sisters, and express my gratitude for being one and a part of this work, to be associated with my brethren bearing the holy Melchizedek Priesthood. I am grateful for all that God has given me, for these blessings have been multitudinous and without number, and I feel to acknowledge His hand in all that He has given me and done for me. I am grateful above all that God led me to this work and Priesthood.

As I have sat contemplating the things that have been said, and I appreciate them, I was reminded of a passage from Section 101 of the Doctrine and Covenants, which I think it might be well for us to have repeated to us. The saints had just been driven out of Jackson County, Missouri. I sometimes wonder, as I contemplate this work and people, if we are going to have to go through the same thing in consequence of our disobedience, and lack of obedience. So He tells the Prophet, in consequence of their having been driven out, these things:

D. & C. 101

1. Verily I say unto you, concerning your brethren who have been afflicted, and persecuted, and cast out from the land of their inheritance --

2. I, the Lord, have suffered the affliction to come upon them, wherewith they have been afflicted, in consequence of their transgressions;

3. Yet I will own them, and they shall be mine in that day when I shall come to make up my jewels.

4. Therefore, they must needs be chastened and tried, even as Abraham, who was commanded to offer up his only son.

5. For all those who will not endure chastening, but deny me, cannot be sanctified.

6. Behold, I say unto you, there were jarrings, and contentions, and envyings, and strifes, and lustful and covetous desires among them; therefore by these things they polluted their inheritances.

7. They were slow to hearken unto the voice of the Lord their God; therefore, the Lord their God is slow to hearken unto their prayers, to answer them in the day of their trouble.

8. In the day of their peace they esteemed lightly my counsel; but, in the day of their trouble, of necessity they feel after me.

And then a word of encouragement.

9. Verily I say unto you, notwithstanding their sins, my bowels are filled with compassion towards them. I will not utterly cast them off; and in the day of wrath I will remember mercy.

10. I have sworn, and the decree hath gone forth by a former commandment which I have given unto you, that I would let fall the sword of mine indignation in behalf of my people; and even as I have said, it shall come to pass.

11. Mine indignation is soon to be poured out without measure upon all nations; and this will I do when the cup of their iniquity is full.

So I feel, my brothers and sisters, that, considering the many blessings that God has bestowed upon us, His long-suffering and His patience with us, that we should humble ourselves before Him. We should humble ourselves in connection with one another, striving with all our heart, might, mind, and strength to be one. We have only to look to the example of our Savior, the great Prototype of all saved beings, for such He was sent to be; and not only that, but to bring about the Mediation and Atonement, which would bring us again into the presence of God, through our obedience to His commandments.

We see in this perfect Character the very character of God, and They became one. How? Through His becoming first acquainted with His Father as He was, and then setting about to make the will of the Father His will, so that His was swallowed up in the Father's, and They were one. Now, how are we to become one so that we may be used to become a nucleus of the great Millennium, and to be that people that God will use to redeem Zion, to build that great city in preparation for the glorious coming of the Savior, whose right it is to rule, and who shall reign as King of kings and Lord of lords?

These are the things, my brothers and sisters, that we should be aiming for, to become first, individually, true saints, sons and daughters of God; and then labor together as one people, that we may have the power of the Priesthood working in our behalf, so that we might come up to see the face of God and have our calling and election made sure. We all know very well what is required in order for us to come to this point -- the sacrifice of all earthly things, the perfection of our faith.

I wonder how often we ask ourselves, "Are we indeed in this condition?"
There is no real sacrifice when you come right down to it; there is no such thing as a sacrifice, as far as giving up something is concerned. It is an opportunity and a blessing.

We know from the instructions of Joseph to the School of the Prophets, that unless we know that our course of life is pleasing to Him, we cannot have the faith sufficient to obtain life eternal and come back in His presence. And we cannot know that our course is pleasing unto Him unless we first offer in sacrifice all earthly things, both as to our earthly character as well as our possessions and all that may seem dear to us. The Lord enumerates, the Prophet enumerates the things that are required: Houses, lands, wives, children, our lives if necessary; but, more than this, the sacrifice of our feelings that are tied to this world, the love of things of the world, the spirit of the world. This is the hardest of all, and I fear that we still cling too much to these things, and they are holding us back.
Now, brothers and sisters, if we would only have the necessary desire, God would reward us more than we could receive. Desire, to me, is far, far more than a mere wish or wishful thinking. Desire is translated into action. If we desire things in righteousness, God will grant them through our faith. Our faith is exercised through the exertion of the mind translated into action, and then becomes a principle of power, power with God through His Priesthood. It all must come through Priesthood, brothers and sisters. Unless we are anxiously engaged in the good work of magnifying the Priesthood which is over us and submitting ourselves to it, we are not going to get very far.

So I think we have need to take inventory, and above all things, to submit ourselves in obedience to the authority which stands over us. These are the elemental things of our lives, and there are far too few of us who are accomplishing these things, the best evidence of it being the lack of the blessings that we are seeking. As the Lord tells us in these same Lectures, if we had that perfect faith, we would have all of the blessings and manifestations of His pleasure that we could receive, and more. What a wonderful thing if the Lord could send His servants to this people and tell them, "Well done," and offer us additional blessings and endowments. Is it worth the labor and the sacrifice? I should think it would be if we desire eternal life and the presence of our Father, and to be saved and exalted in His presence, one with another as families and friends of God, which I pray we may become, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 7, 1968
Testimony of President Johnson; Must Abide the Laws

Well, I made it into 3rd East this afternoon. [Laughter] I am sorry I missed the meeting last time; I just missed the road. It is indeed good to be here, brothers and sisters, to partake of the spirit that is here under the direction of President Johnson, for he does indeed bring a good spirit wherever he goes and is. I appreciate the things that have been said here this afternoon, and pray that I may carry on in the same spirit in which these things have been said.

I very much appreciate the life and labors of President Johnson. He has been a glorious example of faith and faithfulness that has been set before this people, one of strict obedience to the laws of God who has gone at the behest of his Priesthood head, President Barlow and the others, under the most trying and difficult circumstances. I always call to mind the wonderful work that was accomplished under his direction at the instruction of President Barlow while he was in Mexico, and it has stood out as a shining example of obedience and faithfulness to the direction and commands of the Lord through His servants. If we need examples, brothers and sisters, we do not have to go far to find them.

I see the same thing in the life of President Musser, as he stood close to the side of his father and of President Barlow from the day that I first met him as he came from California, and I will never forget that first meeting. What a wonderful kindred spirit that I came into the association of, and it has stayed with me to this day. And I am satisfied and know, brothers and sisters, that God knows who He wants and will have to do His work. I am satisfied that this work is in the hands of His true servants, those who have been called by revelation from the heavens to do the work that is required in preparing a people, and bring them up to a point where they can be used.

I do not know if we realize it, brothers and sisters, but there rests upon President Johnson's shoulders that great and important work of preparing a people, in association with his brethren, and I do not know why we do not do better and come along and do the things that are required. We profess to love him and to love God. Wives profess to love their husbands, I hope; but I wonder if we think as we say we love them, are we willing to keep their commands? "If ye love Me," Christ said, "ye will keep My commandments. If you do not, you are a liar, and the truth is not in you." It is just that simple.

Now, brothers and sisters, I think we need to get down to fundamentals and first principles, particularly and firstly in our families, and abide this holy law, this Family Order of Heaven. It is an insult to God to profess to take upon us His name and His order, the order of the Priesthood, the holy Celestial Law, and then go and mess it up, which so many do.

I wonder, as we go through our daily lives, if we bring to mind just exactly what is the Family Order of Heaven. Can the Spirit of God abide in your home? Is it clean enough to have the Spirit of God there? Is it orderly enough that an angel of God could come if it were needed? Yes, let us get right down to it. Is our home a temple? It is the only temple we can know right now, and it is too bad if we are not in that condition. The Family Order of Heaven must be lived under those kind of conditions and circumstances, or else it is not the Family Order of Heaven. So long as the Holy Ghost is not in that house, you cannot be abiding the Family Order of Heaven. It is just that simple. And it is not abiding the law of God if the Holy Ghost and the holy Priesthood are not operating in that home.

So how much do we care, brothers and sisters? I think this is the key. Just how much do we care? Or are we just wandering to and fro to work, back home, to school and back home, to meetings and back home without knowing really what we are doing and not caring much about it? To me, the very essence of faith is an active exertion of the mind, which will bring about active physical activity, mental activity in abiding the laws of God -- Celestial Marriage and the great Economic Order of Heaven, the Order of Oneness, of Unity, the United Order in our families. And we need to be more conscious of these things.

Now, I feel very keenly the responsibility for carrying these things out in my family, and to do away, once and for all, with the spirit of monogamy with the spirit of the world in every way, shape, and form, that it will have no place in the abode of my family. I am desiring by every means in my power to bring this condition about. I pray the Lord to bless me and to bless each and every one of you to this end, that we will knuckle down now and get busy, every day of our lives keeping these principles in mind, and stop the wrangling and jarrings and commotion that is taking place in our families, and let the Spirit of peace, the Spirit of the Holy Ghost, dwell there day in and day out, from morning to morning, from night to night. The moment it ever gets lost, we should not rest a moment until it is back, until we have made amends and corrected that which is wrong; and then go on, growing in the attributes of God that we may become like Him; which I pray we may do in Jesus' name, amen.

Brother Hammon and Brother Musser certainly set the tone for the messages for this day, and I am sure it has been on the mind of all of us. I just feel that it might be well to read the words of the Lord as to what this is all about, really, from His own revelation on marriage, Section 132.

D.& C. 132

18. And again, verily I say unto you, if a man marry a wife, and make a covenant with her for time and for all eternity, if that covenant is not by me or by my word, which is my law, and is not sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, through him who I have anointed and appointed unto this power, then it is not valid neither of force when they are out of the world, because they are not joined by me, saith the Lord, neither by my word; when they are out of the world it cannot be received there, because the angels and the gods are appointed there, by whom they cannot pass; they cannot, therefore, inherit my glory; for my house is a house of order, saith the Lord God.

19. And again, verily I say unto you, if a man marry a wife by my word, which is my law, and by the new and everlasting covenant, and it is sealed unto them by the Holy Spirit of promise, by him who is anointed, unto whom I have appointed this power and the keys of this priesthood; and it shall be said unto them -- Ye shall come forth in the first resurrection; and if it be after the first resurrection, in the next resurrection; and shall inherit thrones, kingdoms, principalities, and powers, dominions, all heights and depths -- then shall it be written in the Lamb's Book of Life, that he shall commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, and if ye abide in my covenant, and commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, it shall be done unto them in all things whatsoever my servant hath put upon them, in time, and through all eternity; and shall be of full force when they are out of the world; and they shall pass by the angels, and the gods, which are set there, to their exaltation and glory in all things, as hath been sealed upon their heads, which glory shall be a fulness and a continuation of the seeds forever and ever.

20. Then shall they be gods, because they have no end; therefore shall they be from everlasting to everlasting, because they continue; then shall they be above all, because all things are subject unto them. Then shall they be gods, because they have all power, and the angels are subject unto them.

21. Verily, verily, I say unto you, except ye abide my law ye cannot attain
22. For strait is the gate, and narrow the way that leadeth unto the exaltation and continuation of the lives, and few there be that find it, because ye receive me not in the world neither do ye know me.

23. But if ye receive me in the world, then shall ye know me, and shall receive your exaltation; that where I am ye shall be also.

24. This is eternal lives -- to know the only wise and true God, and Jesus Christ, whom he hath sent. I am he. Receive ye, therefore, my law.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:133 May 12, 1968 CCA

Colorado City, Arizona

May 12, 1968

All Blessings Come Through Priesthood

I think I could say nothing more than amen to what has been said, because all that has been said in this Conference, the Lord has dictated. But I feel constrained to add one more thing to what has been said here today from the word of the Lord regarding Celestial Marriage and the United Order.

D.& C. 132

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made

And entered into,

7. ...unto this end have an end when men are dead.

Heber C. Kimball put it this way, "Where did you come from if you did not come out of this Priesthood? What do you have? Who are you if you did not get it or become so through the medium of God and His anointed?" There are those who criticize the system of God in the holy order of matrimony in bringing souls together under this holy law which God, Himself, has dictated. You Elders, where did you come from if you did not come from this Priesthood? Where do you belong if you do not belong to this Priesthood? You daughters of Zion, who do you belong to if you do not belong to this Priesthood? And if any think that they can enter into this law except through this medium they will fall away sooner or later.

The daughters of Zion belong to the Priesthood. The Elders of Zion belong to the Priesthood. And through the Holy United Order they must live together to sanctify this Family Order of Heaven. I have seen it in operation this day, and all who raise their voice or their hands against this order which God has instituted, where He reserves unto Himself, through His servants, the right to place men and women in this holy order, will fall away and apostatize as God lives.

Now brothers and sisters, let us carry out the things that have been said here this day. They are true and faithful. God has dictated them, and you will disregard them at the peril of your salvation, which I testify of to you this day in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:134 May 19, 1968 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 19, 1968
Prophecies of the Judgments -- Matthew 24

I felt impressed, brothers and sisters, to read the new translation of the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew today, with the Spirit of God to help me; which I think should be of worth to us as we consider the things that Brother Johnson has just told us. The Savior was talking to His disciples, and He said:

Matthew 23 (Inspired Version)

39. For I say unto you, that ye shall not see me henceforth, and know that I am he of whom it is written by the prophets, until ye shall say,
40. Blessed is he who cometh in the name of the Lord, in the clouds of heaven, and all the holy angels with him.
41. Then understood his disciples that he should come again on the earth, after that he was glorified and crowned on the right hand of God.
Matthew 24 (Inspired Version)

1. And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple; and his disciples came to him for to hear him, saying, Master, show us concerning the buildings of the temple; as thou has said; They shall be thrown down and left unto you desolate.

2. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? And do ye not understand them? Verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here upon this temple, one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down. We know how that was fulfilled by 70 AD.

3. And Jesus left them and went upon the mount of Olives.

4. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be which thou hast said concerning the destruction of the temple, and the Jews; and what is the sign of thy coming; and of the end of the world? (or the destruction of the wicked, which is the end of the world.)

5. And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

6. For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

7. Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you; and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name’s sake.

8. And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

9. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many.

10. And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

11. But he that remaineth steadfast, and is not overcome, the same shall be saved.

Brother Hammon observed recently that we read in the newspapers fulfillment of scripture every day, and we certainly see it as the Savior describes the signs of His coming in the day we live.

12. When ye therefore, shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, concerning the destruction of Jerusalem, then ye shall stand in the holy place. (Whoso readeth let him understand.)

13. Then let them who are in Judea, flee into the mountains.
14. Let him who is on the housetop, flee, and not return to take anything out of his house.
15. Neither let him who is in the field, return back to take his clothes.
16. And woe unto them that are with child, and unto them that give suck in those days!
17. Therefore, pray ye the Lord, that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the Sabbath day.
18. For then, in those days, shall be great tribulations on the Jews, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem; such as was not before sent upon Israel, of God, since the beginning of their kingdom until this time; no, nor ever shall be sent again upon Israel.
19. All things which have befallen them, are only the beginning of the sorrows which shall come upon them; and except those days should be shortened, there should none of their flesh be saved.
20. But for the elect's sake, according to the covenant, those days shall be shortened.
21. Behold these things I have spoken unto you concerning the Jews.
22. And again, after the tribulation of those days which shall come upon Jerusalem, if any man shall say unto you, Lo! here is Christ, or there; believe him not.
23. For in those days, there shall also arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if possible, they shall deceive the very elect, who are the elect according to the covenant.
24. Behold, I speak these things unto you for the elect's sake.
25. And ye also shall hear of wars, and rumors of wars; see that ye be not troubled; for all I have told you must come to pass. But the end is not yet.
26. Behold, I have told you before, Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth. Behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.
27. For as the light of the morning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west, and covereth the whole earth; so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be.
That is the sign of the coming of the Son of Man, as Joseph once pointed out.
28. And now I show unto you a parable. Behold, wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together; so likewise shall mine elect be gathered from the four quarters of the earth.
29. And they shall hear of wars, and rumors of wars. Behold, I speak unto you for mine elect's sake.

30. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; there shall be famine and pestilences, and earthquakes in divers places.
31. And again, because iniquity shall abound, the love of men shall wax cold; but he that shall not be overcome, the same shall be saved.
32. And again, this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come, or the destruction of the wicked.

Joseph later corrected this to say, "Again, this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world, to a witness over all nations." That witness is Joseph the Prophet, that great Witness and Testator who filled the office of the Holy Ghost and stands in that office as to the Godhead -- the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, the Godhead of this earth. How blessed we are to have the message and the testimony and the witness of this great man in our day and time.

33. And again shall the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, be fulfilled.
34. And immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of heaven shall be shaken.
35. Verily I say unto you, this generation, in which these things shall be shown forth, shall not pass away until all I have told you shall be fulfilled.

Joseph tells us by the word of the Lord in Section 84 that this generation should not all pass away until the temple be built in the New Jerusalem, which would be Zion, the center place.

36. Although the days will come that heaven and earth shall pass away, yet my word shall not pass away; but all shall be fulfilled.
37. And as I said before, after the tribulation of those days, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken, then shall appear the sign of the Son of Man in heaven; and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn.
38. And they shall see the Son of Man coming in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory.

39. And whoso treasureth up my words, shall not be deceived.

40. For the Son of Man shall come, and he shall send his angels before him with the great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together the remainder of his elect from the four winds; from one end of heaven to the other.

41. Now learn a parable of the fig tree: When its branches are yet tender, and it begins to put forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh at hand.

42. So likewise mine elect, when they shall see all these things, they shall know that he is near, even at the doors.

43. But of that day and hour no one knoweth; no, not the angels of God in heaven, but my Father only.

How many times we have had men setting dates for the coming of Christ.

44. But as it was in the days of Noah, so it shall be also at the coming of the Son of Man.

We see very significantly this being fulfilled as the cup of iniquity is being filled and the world ripening for destruction.

45. For it shall be with them as it was in the days which were before the flood; for until the day that Noah entered into the ark, they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, and knew not until the flood came and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be.

46. Then shall be fulfilled that which is written, that, In the last days,

47. Two shall be in the field; the one shall be taken and the other left.

48. Two shall be grinding at the mill; the one taken and the other left.

49. And what I say unto one, I say unto all men; Watch, therefore, for ye know not at what hour your Lord doth come.

50. But know this, if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to have been broken up; but would have been ready.

51. Therefore be ye also ready; for in such an hour as ye think not, the Son of Man cometh.

52. Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?
53. Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh shall find so doing;
54. And, verily I say unto you, he shall make him ruler over all his goods.
55. But if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to smite his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken; the Lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of, and shall cut him asunder, and shall appoint him his portion with the hypocrites; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
56. And thus cometh the end of the wicked according to the prophecy of Moses, saying, They should be cut off from among the people. But the end of the earth is not yet; but bye and bye.

I thought it might be well for us to consider these things as we contemplate the preparation that we should be making. We should go to with our might to accomplish the same, which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:140 June 16, 1968 SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
June 16, 1968
Gratitude; We Sin When We Are Without the Holy Ghost; Draw Near to God by Drawing Near to His Servant;
Lecture Five

It is good to meet with you again, my dear brothers and sisters. I pray that the same spirit that has been upon the speakers thus far will continue. I am grateful, my brothers and sisters, for the association I have with this people under the direction of President Johnson and this Council. We, as a people, should never cease to be grateful enough that we are associated with those who have the keys of power under the leadership of the mouthpiece of God. If we were as grateful as we should be, my brothers and sisters, we would do better. It is because we treat these things lightly that God is not pleased with us as He would like to be. I am sure that He is pleased with some, and in general, I feel that the people are increasing in knowledge, wisdom, and understanding. But having received this, we are under greater responsibility to abide in it.
Brother Timpson spoke along the lines that I was likewise thinking of, and the Lord willing and blessing me, I would like to enlarge on a point or two. It occurs to me, my brothers and sisters, that this people, having been administered the ordinances of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, particularly the laying on of hands for the gift of the Holy Ghost, are under a terrible responsibility. It is incumbent upon us thereafter to have the gifts of the Holy Ghost with us at all times, and we sin when we are without it. We are actually in sin when we are without it. Have you ever thought of it in this way? Of course, we lose it by disobedience. So, therein we are in sin to begin with.

We should be everlastingly praying to the Lord to draw near to Him, and this we can do through our prayers and through our faith. This we must do by drawing near to the servant of God, whom He has placed in our midst to direct His work. It is only by staying close to them who are able to administer the Holy Ghost to us that we can have it ourselves. This is the only source. I wonder if we think of this enough, brothers and sisters. We cannot have it except we get it through them.

As Heber C. Kimball has told us -- if his saying is more authoritative to us, let me repeat it again -- "How can you have the Holy Ghost except you receive it through us?" The channel is there. It is established by God Himself, and if we cut ourselves off from those that He calls and chooses to do this for His people, then we are sinners, indeed.

The power of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, and no man can exercise that power except he be one with his file leaders through true loyalty and obedience, being ready to go and come and do all things that the Lord reveals through His servants. This is the means by which wives will have and keep the Spirit of God, by being obedient to their husbands, and children likewise. No home should ever be without it. When there are jarrings and contentions, fightings and quarrelings, it is because the Holy Spirit is lacking. It has been driven out, and that family is living in sin. It is just that simple, and it is that important, and it is that true.

So, what is our responsibility, brothers and sisters? It is to repent and do better, and draw near to the Lord, and He will draw near to us. Sisters, you draw near to your husbands, and they can draw nearer to you. Brethren, draw near to the leaders of this Priesthood, and they will draw near to you as they draw near to God and receive these blessings and gifts for our benefit.
It was mentioned that the mind of Jesus should be in His disciples. That mind is the Holy Ghost. Let me read again from Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith, if we need any proof of the subject.

Lecture Five

2. ...And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom,

And so forth. Then he goes on to say:

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation,

Brothers and sisters, the mind of the Father is the Holy Spirit, as it dwells in the Son, and must dwell in us; and it comes down through the holy Priesthood. Let us sustain the Priesthood that is in our midst, the head of the family. Let us sustain the Priesthood which presides over this work and which is trying, under God, to prepare a people to redeem Zion, to be a redeemed people to be used to go back to Jackson County, and there meet with the Ten Tribes, build a great Temple, and establish Zion. But we have got to redeem ourselves first, as a people and as a community, and we cannot do it unless we have and keep the Spirit of God. It must be upon us at all times. We have had men living among us as we do now who have that gift at all times. Heber C. Kimball had it, and it was a source of revelation and inspiration all the day long, every day of his life as he finished up his work.

Now, brothers and sisters, it is incumbent upon us; and we are sinners unless we get into this condition and remain in it and continue in it until we receive the smiles and approbation of our Father, our calling and election being made sure after having received the Holy Endowments of the holy Priesthood and able to see the face of God and live. This cannot be done without the Priesthood and the blessings of the Priesthood, and save we have the gifts of the Holy Ghost with us at all times, which I pray we may obtain in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:144  July 7, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 7, 1968
Faith; Lecture One; Must Become Like God

I rejoice, my brothers and sisters, in the truths that have been expressed in our hearing here today, and I pray the Lord to bless me in the things that I may be led to say for our continued edification. I love those words of President Taylor. He had the great gift, as did Joseph Smith, of putting in the English language the truths of heaven as few men have been able to do. President Taylor, a true representative of the Most High, was able to do this because he did those things that God sent him forth to do, principally to become like God. He was President of Priesthood, an Apostle of the Lord Jesus Christ. He became, indeed, a true representative of the Most High, because he became like God. He had power with God because he was like Him.

I cannot help but contemplate, in contemplating the Lectures on Faith, but realize that if we would study them more, brothers and sisters, we would understand better. We would obtain the means by which we can do this, through the power of faith. It is the only way it can be done, of course, as you well know. But the modus operandi, or the means, the way by which this can be accomplished is spelled out most beautifully if we would only study it and then carry it out. I think it might be well to read a few of the verses and analyze them for our benefit if the Lord will bless and help me to this end. After introducing the subject, the Prophet says, quoting Hebrews:

Lecture One

8. "Now faith is the substance (assurance) of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."
9. From this we learn that faith is the assurance which men have of the existence of things which they have not seen, and the principle of action in all intelligent beings.
Faith, therefore, brothers and sisters, is not a mere mental assent to the truths of heaven or the acknowledgement of the God of heaven. Faith has to center in an eternal Being such as God, if it is to be unto salvation. So, it is a principle of action, the very thing Brother Holm was talking about, requiring obedience.

10. If men were duly to consider themselves, and turn their thoughts and reflections to the operations of their own minds, they would readily discover that it is faith, and faith only, which is the moving cause of all action in them; that without it both mind and body would be in a state of inactivity, and all their exertions would cease, both physical and mental.

How many mentally lazy people we have, simply because of a lack of faith, as it is given here. I am going to skip through to hit the highlights of this to get to the point I feel we need to understand.

12. And as faith is the moving cause of all action in temporal concerns, so it is in spiritual; for the Saviour has said, and that truly, that "He that believeth and is baptized, shall be saved." Mark xvi. 16.

13. As we receive by faith all temporal blessings that we do receive, so we in like manner receive by faith all spiritual blessings that we do receive. But faith is not only the principle of action, but of power also, in all intelligent beings, whether in heaven or on earth. Thus says the author of the epistle to the Hebrews, xi. 3 --

14. "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God; so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear."

15. By this we understand that the principle of power which existed in the bosom of God, by which the worlds were framed, was faith; and that it is by reason of this principle of power existing in the Deity, that all created things exist; so that all things in heaven, on earth, or under the earth exist by reason of faith as it existed in HIM.

17. Who cannot see, that if God framed the worlds by faith, that it is by faith that he exercises power over them, and that faith is the principle of power?

Now then, if we are like Him, who cannot see, then, that we will have power with Him? The very principle that Brother Holm was talking about. He loves those most who are most obedient to Him, who have faith in Him. Of course, we will learn the ultimate object of all this a little later here.

19. Moroni, while abridging and compiling the record of his fathers, has given us the following account of faith as the principle of power. He says, page 597, that it was the faith of Alma and Amulek which caused the walls of the prison to be rent, as recorded on the 278th page; it was the faith of Nephi and Lehi which caused a change to be wrought upon the hearts of the Lamanites, when they were immersed with the Holy Spirit and with fire, as seen on the 443rd page; and that it was by faith the mountain Zerin was removed when the brother of Jared spake in the name of the Lord. See also 599th page.

20. In addition to this we are told in Hebrews xi. 32, 33, 34, 35, that Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel, and the prophets, through faith subdued Kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword; out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens, and that women received their dead raised to life again, &c., &c.

21. Also Joshua, in the sight of all Israel, bade the sun and moon to stand still, and it was done. Joshua x:12.

22. We here understand, that the sacred writers say that all these things were done by faith. It was by faith that the worlds were framed. God spake, chaos heard, and worlds came into order by reason of the faith there was in HIM. So with man also; he spake by faith in the name of God, and the sun stood still, the moon obeyed, mountains removed, prisons fell, lions' mouths were closed, the human heart lost its enmity, fire its violence, armies their power, the sword its terror, and death its dominion; and all this by reason of the faith which was in him.

23. Had it not been for the faith which was in men, they might have spoken to the sun, the moon, the mountains, prisons, the human heart, fire, armies, the sword, or to death in vain!

24. Faith, then, is the first great governing principle which has power, dominion, and authority over all things; by it they exist, by it they are upheld, by it they are changed, or by it they remain, agreeable to the will of God. Without it there is no power, and with out power there could be no creation nor existence!
Now we go on to learn that this faith must be exercised through the correct concept of the true and living God. We know who that is: Father Adam, who lived in mortality, laid down his life and took it up again. He sent forth His Well-Beloved Son in the meridian of time as our Advocate with God to become the Redeemer, to atone for the original sin of death and for our sins, if we would believe and obey. His life in mortality became the great Prototype for all men to follow, as it was with Adam in the beginning. Adam was a prototype for all who followed him. The character and attributes which he had, and the character and attributes which the Lord Jesus Christ had as He sojourned among His fellow men, became prototypes for us to follow. How glorious is the thought that we had another of the Godhead in the person of Joseph Smith, who has lived as near our time and day as he did, showing that all of these things can be done.

The great object of all of this, brothers and sisters, is that we become like Him, that we may, through the power of faith, be drawn into His presence. The ultimate faith of these great men -- Isaiah, Elijah, Moses, Jacob, Abraham, Enoch, and all of the Patriarchs -- was that they had sufficient faith that they could come up into the presence of God while in the flesh, through this one simple principle, that they became like Him.

The character of God is portrayed in Lecture Three. And remember, He is Adam, our Father and God. He is unchangeable, He is merciful and gracious, He is love, He is no respecter of persons, and He is truth. He obtained this character through the attributes that are named again by the Prophet Joseph: knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, truth, and love. These He acquired through the power of obedience to His Father and God over Him, and He has set the pattern for us to follow right here upon the earth, condescending to come in the flesh to become our mortal father, and sending forth His Son to redeem us and enable us to come into Their presence again. They obtained a fullness of the glory of Their Fathers before them, which is the Holy Spirit. The attributes of the Holy Spirit are these things that I have named, which, if we will lay hold on through faith, we will become like Him.

Now, I am sure that we are much too forgetful of these principles, brothers and sisters. God condescended to come among us -- Himself in the first place, and through His Son -- and then sending forth His great servant, the head of the last dispensation of the fullness of times, acting in the office of Holy Ghost as Their Witness and Testator. Joseph, John Taylor, and others, through their faith, the power of faith, obtaining the character and attributes of God, came up in the flesh to see the face of God, through having their calling and election made sure; because they showed, through their determination to serve God at all hazards, He would come to them. If we are not seeking this end, we are not really doing our duty, brothers and sisters; because the work and the glory of God is to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of us, His children.

We have been brought into the light. Let us not treat this light lightly. Let us, by our faith and our faithfulness, labor all the day long to sustain His work; be obedient, perfectly obedient to every word that proceeds forth from His mouth, through the inspiration and the revelation of the Holy Ghost through His servants.

You brethren, you are Elders in Israel, bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood. You, too, can be a spark struck from the eternal worlds, as John Taylor said, "a God in embryo." It is just as incumbent upon you to live and abide in these laws and principles as it is President Johnson or any others. Our appointments, our callings may be different, but we all bear the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, and should be vessels of righteousness in his hands to prepare a people to redeem Zion and bring again Israel, the last Kingdom; that we may come into the presence of Jesus Christ, King of kings and Lord of lords, to rule and reign in the great Millennium. It is your obligation and privilege to have the revelations of the Holy Spirit for you in the guidance and direction of your families.

The law of God is that the woman should obey the man as he obeys God. This is the covenant that you enter into in Celestial Marriage. Brethren, we should so live that these good women can look up to us in respect and love by the sheer living of perfect lives, laying hold on the attributes of God in our lives, that they cannot help but glorify Him because of our obedience and because of our character. We cannot draw a people after us anymore than God can, except through the principles of love and the power and attributes of the Godhead. God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:149  July 21, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 21, 1968
Testimony of the Prophet Joseph Smith

I do not feel like keeping you folks in this hot sun much longer. I felt impressed to read, near the 124th anniversary of the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph Smith, the testimony of John Taylor regarding Joseph Smith the Prophet -- Section 135. I do not think we appreciate Joseph enough, for we are still operating under his authority, who operates, of course, under the authority of Jesus Christ and Father Adam; and that his legal successors have come on down, and are leading us today in the person of Leroy S. Johnson.

D.& C. 135

1. To seal the testimony of this book and the Book of Mormon, we announce the martyrdom of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and Hyrum Smith the Patriarch. They were shot in Carthage jail, on the 27th of June, 1844, about five o'clock p.m., by an armed mob -- painted black -- of from 150 to 200 persons. Hyrum was shot first and fell calmly, exclaiming: I am a dead man! Joseph leaped from the window, and was shot dead in the attempt, exclaiming: O Lord my God! They were both shot after they were dead, in a brutal manner, and both received four balls.

2. John Taylor and Willard Richards, two of the Twelve, were the only persons in the room at the time; the former was wounded in a savage manner with four balls, but has since recovered; the latter, through the providence of God, escaped, without even a hole in his robe.

3. Joseph Smith, the Prophet and Seer of the Lord, has done more, save Jesus only, for the salvation of men in this world, than any other man that ever lived in it. In the short space of twenty years, he has brought forth the Book of Mormon, which he translated by the gift and power of God, and has been the means of publishing it on two continents; has sent the fulness of the everlasting gospel, which it contained, to the four quarters of the earth; has brought forth the revelations and commandments which compose this book of Doctrine and Covenants, and many other wise documents and instructions for the benefit of the children of men; gathered many thousands of the Latter-day Saints, founded a great city, and left a fame and name that cannot be slain. He lived great, and he died great in the eyes of God and his people; and like most of the Lord's anointed in ancient times, has sealed his mission and his works with his own blood; and so has his brother Hyrum. In life they were not divided, and in death they were not separated!
4. When Joseph went to Carthage to deliver himself up to the pretended requirements of the law, two or three days previous to his assassination, he said: "I am going like a lamb to the slaughter; but I am calm as a summer's morning; I have a conscience void of offense towards God, and towards all men. I SHALL DIE INNOCENT, AND IT SHALL YET BE SAID OF ME -- HE WAS MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD." -- The same morning, after Hyrum had made ready to go--shall it be said to the slaughter? yes, for so it was--he read the following paragraph, near the close of the twelfth chapter of Ether, in the Book of Mormon, and turned down the leaf upon it:

5. And it came to pass that I prayed unto the Lord that he would give unto the Gentiles grace, that they might have charity. And it came to pass that the Lord said unto me: If they have not charity it mattereth not unto thee, thou hast been faithful; wherefore thy garments are clean. And because thou hast seen thy weakness, thou shalt be made strong, even unto the sitting down in the place which I have prepared in the mansions of my Father. And now I....bid farewell unto the Gentiles; yea, and also unto my brethren whom I love, until we shall meet before the judgment-seat of Christ, where all men shall know that my garments are not spotted with your blood. The testators are now dead, and their testament is in force.

6. Hyrum Smith was forty-four years old in February, 1844, and Joseph Smith was thirty-eight in December, 1843; and henceforward their names will be classed among the martyrs of religion; and the reader in every nation will be reminded that the Book of Mormon, and this book of Doctrine and Covenants of the church, cost the best blood of the nineteenth century to bring them forth for the salvation of a ruined world; and that if the fire can scathe a green tree for the glory of God, how easy it will burn up the dry trees to purify the vineyard of corruption. They lived for glory; they died for glory; and glory is their eternal reward. From age to age shall their names go down to posterity as gems for the sanctified.

7. They were innocent of any crime, as they had often been proved before, and were only confined in jail by the conspiracy of traitors and wicked men; and their innocent blood on the floor of Carthage jail is a broad seal affixed to "Mormonism" that cannot be rejected by any court on earth, and their innocent blood on the escutcheon of the State of Illinois, with the broken faith of the State as pledged by the governor, is a witness to the truth of the everlasting gospel that all the world cannot impeach; and their innocent blood on the banner of liberty, and on the magna charta of the United States, is an ambassador for the religion of Jesus Christ, that will touch the hearts of honest men among all nations; and their innocent blood, with the innocent blood of all the martyrs under the altar that John saw, will cry unto the Lord of Hosts till he avenges that blood on the earth. Amen.

RTJ 2:152  August 18, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 18, 1968
Fatherhood and Priesthood; Turn Children to Their Father

This is a beautiful sight, my brothers and sisters, to see you all together, eager to learn and to be taught and instructed, I trust. I am grateful for this privilege, and for my association in this work, and especially grateful for President Johnson who presides over us. The Lord has indeed blessed this people, and I think if we would show our gratitude more, we would progress faster, if we would show our gratitude for the things that the Lord has given us, the blessings of the holy Priesthood.

I am grateful for Father Adam, that I know that he is our Father and God, and for my Elder Brother, the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, who has shown us the way and given us the fullness of the Gospel, which the Fathers before have given us -- I mean in worlds before. And I am grateful for Joseph Smith. I am grateful for all of the fathers -- Brigham, John Taylor, John W. Woolley, Lorin C. Woolley. I am especially grateful for the fathers in the Priesthood, my fathers in the Priesthood -- John Y. Barlow and Leroy S. Johnson. I am grateful for all of the fathers before in other dispensations; and we would do well, my dear brothers and sisters, if we would learn the true nature of fatherhood, and what it is, and that it is essentially Priesthood. We bear the holy Priesthood after the order of the Son of God, and I am grateful for such as Enoch, Abraham, and Father Noah -- the father of all living in his day, from whom we came, through Father Shem, who is Melchizedek. I am grateful for Father Elijah, who has restored the sealing keys to the holy Priesthood.
Now, my brothers and sisters, I want to point out, if the Lord will help me, how important it is that this word "father" be more appreciated in our families. I am reminded of how so many of the families, the wives and the children of the early leaders of the Church are not with this work today, and you will find that it is pretty largely because mothers, wives did not uphold and sustain the fathers of those children, because of their selfishness and jealousy -- one mother had more than another or did not get treated the same as another -- all of these silly, ridiculous little things that have destroyed the faith of children. You mothers would do well to sustain the fathers of your children, and I do not know but what I should say that if you are having them call him "daddy", you would do well to have them call him "father", and honor him as such, as the bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, the means by which you and they can have the Holy Ghost, and no other. And likewise, we as a people should honor the Apostles as our fathers in this work.

John and Joseph were fathers to me in the Priesthood. I do not know that anyone appreciates his father anymore than I did and do, my own father. I certainly do appreciate him, for the truths of the Everlasting Gospel that he conveyed to me, transmitted to me -- a heritage that I shall never forget or fail to remember as long as I shall live in time or eternity. Fatherhood is Priesthood, brothers and sisters, let us remember it. If a father is not abiding in the Priesthood and magnifying it, and if he gets to a point where he is not worthy of the Priesthood, the Priesthood over him will probably handle him, and until you are released, if this be the case, you are bound to sustain and uphold him and hold forever the father image before them.

These are true things, my brothers and sisters. If you think anything of the faith of these little children, these spirits that have been sent under the New and Everlasting Covenant, the Family Order of Heaven, you had better remember these things.

Let us think of the glorious importance of fatherhood, and of fathers. Likewise, my dear brethren, we should not destroy the faith of our children in not upholding mothers, glorious motherhood. This Priesthood sustains the right and the blessings of motherhood above anyone on the face of the earth. True motherhood and true fatherhood in the Family Order of Heaven, I pray we may abide in forever, that we may grow in knowledge, wisdom, and understanding, to become one people, of one mind and heart, through the power of the Holy Ghost, which should be our constant companion, and I do it in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:155  September 8, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
September 8, 1968
Gratitude; We Overcome Evil Through Faith;
Dissolution; The Prophets Suffered for Us;
Wealth Is the Greatest Test Yet;
The Setting in Order Is a Quiet Process

Again, I feel greatly blessed in being able to meet with the saints, and for the spirit that is here, which I pray will be with me in speaking and contemplating the things of God, that we may be mutually edified. The remarks of the brethren so far, and particularly those of Brother Jessop, whom I dearly love as a brother and a friend of God, almost overwhelm me in a feeling of gratitude for the blessings of God that have come to me, and for my association with good and true and Godly men, that I have been able to come out of the world. I consider, my brothers and sisters, that I came out of the world when I came out of the Church. True as it is, that it is the Church of God still, and has been; but realizing and knowing that it has gone over to the world, it loves the praise and the applause of men. It has put aside the fullness of the laws of God, and remains in a very disorderly and, shall I say, ungodly condition. I can still say I came out of the world when I came into this work, into the light of the fullness of the Gospel. I did not even have the Melchizedek Priesthood, being led to believe that I did have it when I was called on a mission for the Church -- and I am grateful for that experience. But at the same time, as I came to realize later, I had been on that mission without authority.

I cannot tell you how grateful I am to be numbered among this people, to be numbered among the bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, which gives me the right and the privilege and the blessing to receive wives and to bring forth children in the holy order of God. Having these blessings, my brothers and sisters, what a people we should be; and how far we fall short is a matter of great concern on the part of the brethren for this people.

I am grateful for the Priesthood above all other things, and the gifts of the Holy Spirit. I was impressed with the thought, while remarks were being made here this morning, that the thing that distinguishes the saints from devils, or distinguishes saints from the world, is the gift of the Holy Ghost, through the holy Priesthood. If we could only realize the importance of this thing, brothers and sisters, and take hold with all our might, mind, and strength. Having been blessed as we are, with the opportunities that we have, and the blessings of the holy Priesthood, we should be the most diligent, and faithful, and true, and perfect people upon the face of the earth. As John Y. Barlow used to say, "We are indeed the best people on the earth, but not good enough;" certainly not good enough in the light of the truth that we have, and the blessings and opportunities that are ours. Our gratitude and feelings of humility should so bring us into the light that we could go forth as the Prophet says, bringing greater light to those who surround us, and honor and glory to God.

The work and the glory of God is to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of man. The work of every Elder in this work should be to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of those God gives us, and of ourselves. If we save but one soul, how great shall our reward and joy be. That one soul is ourselves. How much more so, then, if we can bring others, or be an instrument in the same. This is our work, brothers and sisters, and it is not numbers that count. Greater emphasis must be placed on quality, on diligence, and faithfulness of those that come under our charge.

So, brothers and sisters, as we count the worth of the souls of men, and especially of these choice spirits that God sends through this order, we should be overwhelmed with the responsibilities that are ours, and do something about it. So, there comes into play again -- faith. Remarks were made about the Prophet, and how he would go forth with faith, unarmed, to meet the challenges that came before the saints, the afflictions that came to the saints; and this must be our great weapon -- the gift and power of faith; for it overcomes all. By faith God created the world. He became God through faith, and through faith overcame death, hell, and the devil, and made Himself God through the gifts of the Holy Spirit; of which He has a fullness, and of which His Son, who became like Him, also has a fullness. We, as saints of God, can likewise obtain that fullness of the Holy Spirit, which fills all in all, and makes of us true saints and servants of God.

Can we not see then, brothers and sisters, how important these things are, and go forth more diligently to serve Him, to keep His commandments? This is all Joseph wanted for us. This is all Jesus wants for us, is that we become obedient to the laws of eternity, to be among those that God will bring immortality and eternal lives to. This is all President Johnson wants for us -- eternal lives, the power to have eternal lives or bring forth eternal lives, spirits in eternity. This is the nature of this work, and we must either bring ourselves into a position to have eternal increase as Gods, or we will have to go back. This is the nature of the laws of eternity. Do we realize this, my brothers and sisters, or are we fast becoming universalists, who say all are going to be saved, maybe in one degree or another, but that they will go on in their particular degree through all eternity? This is not the case, for Brigham Young has made it very clear regarding the doctrine and law of dissolution, that we had better realize our true position if we want, and it is possible for us to obtain eternal lives. Just as sure as we are sitting here, when we reach our zenith, we will have to go back. First physical bodies will go back into dissolution, and then the spirit. This is a rather terrifying prospect, I suppose to some, but if we are truly keeping the laws of God, then how great should our joy be, our gratitude, and our faithfulness -- true and faithful unto the end.

I was thinking, as Brother Jessop made that statement here this morning, I do not know of a man more true and faithful through his life than he has shown as an example to us -- steadfast as the rock of Gibraltar, and that is not a really good comparison when you think of it; as steadfast as the heavens and the Kingdom of God, which shall roll forth and fill the whole earth. President Johnson is another. So we have examples before us, both living and dead; that is, dead to this physical life, for I know that Joseph and others are resurrected and going on with the work of God on the other side.

Brothers and sisters, are we mindful of these men who have gone before, and made such sacrifices for us, beginning with Father Adam, and Jesus? Father Adam, in taking upon himself mortality, for our sake suffered. Are we mindful of the suffering that Joseph Smith went through for us, for this work; becoming the one great Witness over all men, over the whole earth, of the Father and the Son, to this, the last and the greatest dispensation of all, of which we are a part? Are we mindful of the sacrifices and the labors of such men as John Taylor, Brigham Young, and the others who have gone before? None of us really fully realize the sufferings that John Y. Barlow and Joseph and others of our late predecessors have gone through for this work. We have not the least inkling by comparison with what really happened, and there are far too many of us who are not mindful of these things, and act accordingly.

I am grateful beyond words for the heritage that is mine, through my father, for his faith and faithfulness unto the end; entering into these things, the Law of Celestial Marriage at a time when the greatest persecution was going on from the Church, as well as the world. We have it very easy now, by comparison, because keys have been turned in our behalf. But I am afraid, brothers and sisters, in our wallowing, as it were, in the arms of luxury and ease, we are undergoing a greater test of our faith now than could possibly have happened had we gone through some of the things that our predecessors had gone through. And this is the great danger to this people today. Believe me! Ease and comforts of life, I consider to be the greatest tests that can come to the saints, and this is the thing that is taking a toll among us. Believe me! And this is why President Johnson is constantly warning us of the judgments to come, and that are already in process, warning us of the setting in order of the House of God, which began through the Prophet Joseph Smith, who is the One Mighty and Strong, in 1886. That is when the setting in order process began, brothers and sisters, and has been in course of operation since. Joseph Smith is there standing by, directing the proceedings yet, and we had better be mindful of it. He is directing his fellow servants who have succeeded him in the orders of the holy Priesthood, in carrying on this work and those things which are necessary for the redemption of the saints and of Zion. And I testify to you of these things -- that God is in His heaven, that Jesus is directing the proceedings of the great redemption through Joseph Smith, who stands at the head of this dispensation, in which has been gathered together all of the other dispensations of time since Adam. If we will prove true and faithful, brothers and sisters, I promise you that we will have the endowments and the blessings that are so necessary for our further advancement and growth in the Kingdom of God. Do not think for a minute that Joseph Smith is going to come out in great glory and power in the other activities involved in the setting in order of the House of God. It is going to be a very quiet and orderly process. It is a process now going on.

Now, do we want to be truly a part of these things? Are we able to keep secrets that are sacred, secrets of the holy Priesthood, the secrets of God? I dare say not, for most, because this is why we are not progressing further or more rapidly than we are. If we were endowed, if any of you were endowed, could you keep the secrets? Twenty years ago, a partial endowment was offered the saints, which was failed by many, and pretty much withdrawn. A little offering was given the saints, a taste, and they could not keep secrets.

Now I pray, my brothers and sisters, for the sake of this people, and for this work, that we will become more involved with greater strength and power of faith in seeking to become more like God, to draw near to Him through His Priesthood, and truly be one. The order of unity, of oneness, is an order and law of the holy Priesthood, which we need most today. When I think of the power that is vested in the Elders of Israel, of this people, the potential that is ours, how little it is being manifested, it makes one sick at heart.

The Gospel and the laws of the Priesthood can be expressed very simply and very briefly. But it takes constant repetition to truly teach, and this was the burden of the Prophet Joseph Smith, that great Prophet, teacher. The greatest work of a Prophet is to teach, and so it is necessary for the servants of God to constantly repeat and repeat and repeat again these principles by which we may be exalted and saved in the presence of God.

Now, may the Lord bless us as a people that we may become more humble, contrite. Make the sacrifice of a broken heart and contrite spirit. This is the attitude and the spirit that we are lacking, brothers and sisters. Sacrifice is necessary, the sacrifice of these old characters that beset us, these characteristics, the attributes of the devil, which have such a hold upon so many. This is the great sacrifice required. It is easy to sacrifice money and temporal things, but it is not easy, it is most difficult to sacrifice that old man of sin that is besetting so many. What a glorious thing, if there were sufficient of the saints that they could be called up and endowed to go forth and accomplish the redemption of Zion. It will be done. Every word that has been spoken by the mouths of the Prophets, the words of God, will be fulfilled every whit, in time and in eternity.

Now, I feel I have said enough. These, again, are repetitious things, but let us, my dear friends and brothers and sisters, set up a program, an orderly program of improvement and growth to get and keep the Spirit of God. This is a skill, brothers and sisters, something we must become proficient in.

I might just close by reading some of the words of the Prophet regarding this principle. I think it might be well to again repeat the process spoken of here by the Prophet, of getting the Spirit of God and obtaining the Second Comforter; the First Comforter being the Holy Ghost. The other one spoken of is as follows:

The Second Comforter

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation. After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God, and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted.

When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John, in the 14th chapter, from the 12th to the 27th verses.

Spoken in one paragraph here, brothers and sisters, is the process, the way, the truth, the life. And to quote John:

"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;
"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive,
There is the difference between us and the world, or should be.
"17. ...because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.
"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.  * *
"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.
"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions -- Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.

Here is the item I was leading up to:

The Spirit of Revelation

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, Learning, brothers and sisters. Thus it becomes a skill, through patient effort, and long-suffering, and overcoming.

...and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

Thus, the necessity for getting, keeping, and having as our constant companion, the Holy Ghost; whose attributes are the attributes of God -- knowledge, faith or power, judgment, justice, mercy, truth, and love. If we have this as our constant companion it will be as a scepter of righteousness unto us in life and all eternity, which I pray we may obtain, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:163  September 22, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
September 22, 1968
Prayer; Repentance; Faith Is Confidence;
We Must Give an Accounting
It is good to be here again today, brethren and sisters, to contemplate the things of God, and what He may have for us to learn here. I felt that if I were called on today, I would like to read a message from Heber C. Kimball. It is very germane to our growth and development, and our faith. It has to do with faith and confidence, primarily, and the concentration of our interests in being one.

A more sensitive man than brother Joseph Smith never lived, and that sensitiveness was in proportion to the light he had. So it is with brother Brigham, and so it is with brother Heber, and so it is with brother Daniel, and it will increase upon him as he presses his way forward, and works in the harness, and becomes used to it; and he will be just as good a team-horse as the Lord ever used, and I know it.

So our sensitiveness, brothers and sisters, is in proportion and in relation to the degree we have and keep the Spirit of God.

I will speak of brother Joseph Young, I often speak of him; he is one of the most sensitive men that ever walked on the earth, and that is in proportion to the light he has, and if the Lord had not laid His hands on him and said, "My servant Joseph, be thou sick and go to thy bed and rest, he would have been in his grave long ago.

There is a good principle.

His late sickness saved his life. That may be a curiosity to you, but the best days I ever had with regard to the happiness of my spirit, have been when I was prostrate on my bed, and in reality could not help myself. People will say, "O how I pity such and such brethren and sisters, because they are unwell." If persons would appreciate their blessings when they are on beds of sickness, and say, "Father, thy will be done, and not mine," there would be no room for that pity. When necessary in God's providences towards me, I would as soon lay on a bed of sickness as to do anything else, for we have got to learn that lesson. I have to struggle, and brother Brigham has to struggle to exist here on the earth.

I will say, not that I speak of these things to boast, that if this people, both men and women, would pray, and that devoutly before God in their secret places, one quarter as much as brother Brigham, and I, and brother Joseph Young do, you would see different days from what you see to-day. When Jesus came to his people on this continent, and appeared in their midst, they could not at first realize and appreciate him. They saw him and felt the wounds in his side, in his hands, and in his feet, and he talked with them and instructed them, and chose and instructed twelve disciples. And after healing their sick and blessing their children, he administered bread and wine to the people, and taught them to "watch and pray always." He could not heal their sick, until through prayer they had become humble, and got the power of God on them. And when he had done this he said, bring all your children, and he blessed them one by one, and the power of God rested on them, and angels descended from heaven and encircled them round about, and ministered to them before the eyes of the people.

Now, here is a particularly potent paragraph in this sermon, I suppose a good many have heard before, but we would do well to think on it.

What do you suppose we are going to do with you? Are you ever going to be prepared to see God, Jesus Christ, His angels, or comprehend His servants, unless you take a faithful and prayerful course? Did you actually know Joseph Smith? No. Do you know brother Brigham? No. Do you know brother Heber? No, you do not. Do you know the Twelve? You do not, if you did, you would begin to know God, and learn that those men who are chosen to direct and counsel you are near kindred to God and to Jesus Christ, for the keys, power, and authority of the kingdom of God are in that lineage. I speak of these things with a view to arouse your feelings and your faithfulness towards God the Father, and His Son Jesus Christ, that you may pray and be humble, and penitent.

When Jesus Christ came to this earth, he came to fulfill the law, and he taught the people to seek to the Father with a broken heart and contrite spirit, and then whatever they asked He would give.

Now there is the spirit that we need, brothers and sisters, this broken heart and a contrite spirit. This is the sacrifice that is required, and then we can begin to become like God.

If you so come unto Him, repenting and being sorry for your sins, then He will hear you and forgive you, and He will forgive this whole people. Why? Because brother Brigham never would have said to you that God would forgive you if you would repent, unless he had received some intimation of that kind from the Father and the Son, and the Holy Ghost. But brother Brigham told you the truth, and the Lord will forgive you, if you stop sinning now, and begin anew to-day to work righteousness with full purpose of heart. Then through continued faithfulness that Spirit, light, and glory will rest upon you, that brother Joseph has been talking about this morning.

I am speaking of these things to comfort you, for they comfort me. I am talking to you of nothing more than what I know, feel, and have experienced. What brother Joseph Young has said, is good. I feel very well in my body and in my spirit, that is, I feel well in regard to the things of God. I feel well, because there are some trying to live their religion, and worship their God in spirit and in truth. When they hear the servants of God declare the truth here, they understand it, and the seed springs up, and brings forth fruit to the glory of God, and that fruit will remain. But there are others who hear the word and do not conceive; they sit and hear the voice of God speaking through His servants, and like the sound thereof, but the moment they leave this place they forget it.

How often we have heard this.

Some say that they have not faith, that they cannot believe. What is faith? It is confidence. What is confidence? It is faith. Some people are striving and striving to get faith, when saving faith is simply confidence in God, flowing from walking in obedience to His commandments. When you have confidence in yourself, in any man, woman, or child, you have faith; and when you have not confidence, you have not faith. I believe they are co-partners, and the principle of faith and confidence is synonymous to me.

I am going to drop down a few paragraphs to items that I think are pertinent to us at this time.

I wish that this whole people would so get religion that brother Brigham and myself, and other good men could always freely and fully teach you all things pertaining to salvation, and show you your condition, even as the Lord views it. Here is the kingdom of God, here are the Prophet and the Apostles, the Patriarch, and all the leading men of Israel, and where is there a man in Europe, or in any other country, who sprung from this Church, but what sprung from the authority, the life, vitals, and power of this Church and kingdom?

Or shall we say, of this Priesthood.

If he has not got his power unto salvation in this Church, he has not any power towards an exaltation in the celestial kingdom of our God. And those who have power from the true source have not predominance over those who hold the keys in advance of them, for the kingdom of God is a kingdom of order. How can you become impregnated with the spirit and power of God, except you become impregnated through us?

Sisters, how can you become impregnated with the Spirit of God, except you get it through your husbands, and the children the same? This is the channel, brothers and sisters, by which we get and keep the Spirit of God, obtaining confidence in ourselves, in our brethren over us, and in our God. If we have confidence in Him, we begin to become like Him.

There is no true path, except to do as you are told by those whom the Lord has called and chosen, and placed to direct you.

I do not care so much whether you have faith or not, for if you have confidence in yourselves, I would risk the confidence you should have in us. And if you have lost confidence in yourselves, you will not have much confidence in your brethren; and in that case I want to know what confidence you can have in your God? The Lord often takes a course to try the confidence of His people, for He planted a branch of the olive tree in the poorest spot in all the land of His vineyard, and He caused it to yield much fruit that was good. That was considered a marvellous work, and one of His servants said, "How camest thou hither to plant this tree, or this branch of the tree? for behold it was the poorest spot in all the land of thy vineyard. And the Lord of the vineyard said unto him, counsel me not, but go to and do all things as I command you."

Regarding this matter of confidence as spoken of here, isn't he telling us the same message that Joseph gives us in the Sixth Lecture? If our course of life is pleasing to God, then we have power with Him. If we have confidence in ourselves, it is because our course of life is pleasing to Him. This is how we obtain confidence in ourselves, and thus in God. We can go to Him with full confidence, then, if our course is pleasing to Him, and call upon Him for blessings, and it will be answered upon our heads more than we will ever dream of. This is the way this faith works, this confidence.

You have got to render an account of everything you have, for we are all stewards. You Bishops, Seventies, High Priests, Elders, Priests, Teachers, Deacons, and members, where did you get the Priesthood and authority you hold? It came from this very authority, the First Presidency that sits here in this stand.

And you know what I am thinking as I read this applying it to ourselves.

There was an authority before us, and we got our authority from that, and you got it from us, and this authority is with the First Presidency. Now do not go off and say that you are independent of that authority. Where did you get your wives? Who gave them to you? By what authority were they given to you? Where did you get anything?

If you do not take the course you have been told to take, and as I am trying to tell you, viz., to render all you have on this earth, every man in this Church and kingdom will be as bare when he leaves this earth as he will find himself when he gets out of it for he cannot even take his shroud with him nor a pair of stockings. I do not care if he has forty wives and a thousand children, every soul of them will be taken from him. Your wives are given to you as a stewardship to improve upon in building up and establishing the kingdom of God, and your children are given to you as a stewardship. Where did their spirits come from? Did they come from you? No; they came from God. Who is the Father of those spirits? God, and He will require them of you, and those spirits have also got to give an account to their Father from whom they came; they have got to render up an account. Thus you see, that you have to render an account of your wives and children, of your substance, and everything that pertains to this earth, and you cannot avoid it, without suffering a loss.

I want to get you to live your religion, and worship our God. I am not troubled about our not prospering; I trouble myself about living my religion and being faithful to the things of God, and that leads me to confidence, if not in myself, in my leader. It is not so much matter about my trying to obtain confidence in myself, or in you. We are to be connected like a vine, and then when we receive any good thing we will become impregnated with God, with Jesus Christ, with the Holy Ghost, and with angels, and it is the only way in which we can become one.

I think that is enough to leave with us here today. I pray that we will get this message and live by it, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Salt Lake City, Utah
November 3, 1968
Attend Meetings to Partake of the Spirit of God; Happiness in the Family Order of Heaven Through the Spirit of God

My dear brothers and sisters, I have greatly enjoyed the spirit that has actuated this meeting today, and pray that it may continue, that the Lord will give me utterance the time I spend occupying this position. It occurred to me during the meeting today, brothers and sisters, that a good many of our number have absent themselves from these meetings with the thought in mind that they will just hear the same old thing over again anyway, and "I will stay home and do this or read this or that or the other." We have had a good time with the Spirit of the Lord in our midst today, and if we would only come to a meeting with the idea that we could be refreshed by being exposed to that Spirit. When we make those kind of expressions to ourselves or others, that is when we need the spirit of these meetings the most. That is when we should be at these meetings most, which leads me to the thing I feel impressed to mention here today. I would like to talk about happiness.

The work and the glory of God is to bring about the immortality and the eternal life of man. We sought to come here to obtain these bodies and we sang songs of joy, shouted for joy at the prospect of coming; because without the spirit and the body which we obtain here, we cannot have a fullness of joy. Man is that he might have joy.

Sisters, are any of you unhappy in this holy law, the Family Order of Heaven? Brethren, are any of you unhappy in your relationships with the brethren, your associates in this work? If you are it is because you lack the Holy Ghost. You put that measure on it and you will find that it is true every time, as sure as God lives. If we are unhappy in our family affairs, our relations between husbands and wives, wives among themselves, or children with their parents, it is because they have lost the Spirit of God. It is just that simple if we want to say it that way. I do not care how you cut it, how much the blame may be on someone else, you have lost the Spirit of God if you are blaming someone else; and you will find yourself, if you will properly analyze yourself, in disobedience. The Holy Ghost is given to us as the greatest of all gifts, next to our having obtained these mortal lives, our existence, particularly unto the New and Everlasting Covenant.
The Holy Spirit issues forth from our Father. This is the great Comforter. This is our great strength. This is the power of the holy Priesthood. This is the means by which we lay hold on eternal life and obtain a witness that our course is pleasing to God, this through the Holy Ghost. So if we are not happy, brothers and sisters, we do not have the Spirit of God, and you can put it down that way; and you have need to repent and get yourself in tune with that Spirit, which is the giver of all light and truth; by means of which we increase our faith, by means of which, when our hearts are pricked, we are called upon to repent and to change our ways and to acknowledge God and His authority over us. If we will only go on in this Spirit, we will be happy.

There is an item that appeared in the Millennial Star. It is called "False and Delusive Spirits", which I read on one or two occasions to the saints, that I commend to you again. You will find it in the Truth Magazine. Where is that, Leona? Volume 16 page 106. This discusses family problems, relation of husbands and wives in the holy order of matrimony.

Brethren, I want to give you a key. I learned it through my own experience. Does a wife come to you and correct you, counsel you? In this, do you lose your temper and strike back in the same spirit in which she comes to you? If you do, you get the spirit that she has and you are on the same footing, and there is a pandemonium of hell under those conditions. Each of these parties should strive in all conditions and circumstances to have the Spirit of God. And if one has not, there is no reason why you should lose it. You can continue to be happy, though you may be suffering. This is a key I have found to be true. When one party, no matter whether it is a child or a wife or a brother, in their relations with their file leader, seeks to counsel and direct in a way in which they are entirely out of order, you will find that they have been in disobedience and lack the Spirit of God.

Now, what if we are tried? What if someone has injured us, brothers and sisters? Does this give us any excuse to lose the Spirit of God and not be happy, to be unhappy? No reason or excuse at all. You brethren, are you injured by one of your brothers, as you suppose? Is this any excuse or reason for you to lose the Spirit of God? Not at all. Keep the Spirit and be happy, and go on and do well. Obey your file leader and not give any reason or excuse for those under you to lose the Spirit themselves. The Holy Ghost is the author of all light. It issues from our Father. It is the means by which we obtain light and knowledge and can go again into His presence.
The Holy Spirit, brothers and sisters, is the attributes of God. The power by which we obtain those attributes is through the Spirit and the holy Priesthood. If we would become like God, we must have His Spirit constantly with us. We know it can be done because there are those in this dispensation and in our own lives and experiences, as President Johnson exemplifies before us, where to them, this is a source of constant revelation and power and joy and happiness. Whatever we may be called upon to sacrifice, it should be done joyfully.

I commend again reading Lecture Six of the Lectures on Faith. The sacrifice of all earthly things is a matter of a daily sacrifice of our feelings, of these old characters of the world. That will enable us to continue in faith, love and understanding, to grow in wisdom and knowledge and the power of God. We should seek with all our heart, might, mind, and strength to obtain the power of God and the favor and the confidence of God; and this is obtained by obtaining the confidence of our file leader. Involved through all of this, brothers and sisters, is the principle of confidence, confidence that your husband has the power, the authority, and the means, and the ability to save and exalt you in his kingdom, and that the Priesthood over us all, brothers and sisters, can do this. And in this way we will obtain the confidence of God, and in no other way. In this way we will be happy and go on in the changing, the assimilating of our character into that of God, so that we may enter into His presence because we will be like Him; which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:173  November 17, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
November 17, 1968
Greatness of the Prophet Joseph Smith

I appreciate being here today and mingling my faith with yours, my brothers and sisters, that the Spirit of God will distill upon us and teach us the things that will help us progress in the work, and to go on to perfection. I appreciate my brethren, President Johnson who presides over us, his great faith and love for this work and this people. It reminds me, as I contemplate Brother Johnson, the great love of the Prophet Joseph Smith for all men and especially the saints, desiring nothing but their salvation and exaltation. He was sent at the head of the last dispensation to do the great work of the gathering, the bringing together of Israel, and to bring together all the former dispensations under the Lord Jesus Christ, preparatory to the coming of the Lord in glory, so that the great Millennium might be ushered in after the redemption of Zion. I desire, brothers and sisters, to read some of the words of Joseph, which I think might help us to appreciate him more as the One Mighty and Strong and the great Witness and Testator. You remember we have it said:

TPJS Page 190

The Three Personages

Everlasting covenant was made between three personages before the organization of this earth, and relates to their dispensation of things to men on the earth; these personages, according to Abraham's record, are called God the first, the Creator; God the second, the Redeemer; and God the third, the witness of Testator.

Acting, as Joseph did, in the office of the Holy Ghost. No man can say that Jesus is the Christ or that Adam is God but by the Holy Ghost. And no one can have the Holy Ghost as their companion and guide save he is in harmony with God's Priesthood upon the earth and acknowledges Joseph Smith for what he is and will be in the Godhead.

One of the last great sermons that he preached to the saints, at the last Conference before he died -- or rather, this was shortly after -- was the following, which I feel would help us appreciate him better.

TPJS Page 364

The last time I spoke on this stand it was on the resurrection of the dead, when I promised to continue my remarks upon that subject. I still feel a desire to say something on this subject. Let us this very day begin anew, and now say, with all our hearts, we will forsake our sins and be righteous. I shall read the 24th chapter of Matthew, and give it a literal rendering and reading; and when it is rightly understood, it will be edifying.

I thought the very oddity of its rendering would be edifying anyhow -- "And it will be preached,

He quotes now the correct rendering of the 24th of Matthew.

"And it will be preached, the Gospel of the kingdom, in the whole world, to a witness over all people: and then will the end come." ***

The way it reads in the Bible is to the effect that the Gospel of the Kingdom would be preached to the world as a witness over all people, to all people.

The Savior said when these tribulations should take place, it should be committed to a man who should be a witness over the whole world: the keys of knowledge, power and revelations should be revealed to a witness who should hold the testimony to the world. It has always been my province to dig up hidden mysteries -- new things -- for my hearers. Just at the time when some men think that I have no right to the keys of the Priesthood -- just at that time I have the greatest right.

There is a grand truth that we should remember, brothers and sisters.

The Germans are an exalted people. The old German translators are the most nearly correct -- most honest of any of the translators; and therefore I get testimony to bear me out in the revelations that I have preached for the last fourteen years. The old German, Latin, Greek and Hebrew translations all say it is true: they cannot be impeached, and therefore I am in good company.

All the testimony is that the Lord in the last days would commit the keys of the Priesthood to a witness over all people. Has the Gospel of the kingdom commenced in the last days? And will God take it from the man until He takes Him Himself? I have read it precisely as the words flowed from the lips of Jesus Christ. John the Revelator saw an angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth.

The scripture is ready to be fulfilled when great wars, famines, pestilence, great distress, judgments, &c., are ready to be poured out on the inhabitants of the earth. John saw the angel having the holy Priesthood, who should preach the everlasting Gospel to all nations. God had an angel -- a special messenger -- ordained and prepared for that purpose in the last days. Woe, woe be to that man or set of men who lift up their hands against God and His witness in these last days: for they shall deceive almost the very chosen ones!

Without saying so himself, we have this, then, to show that he is that Witness and Testator.

My enemies say that I have been a true prophet. Why, I had rather be a fallen true prophet than a false prophet. When a man goes about prophesying, and commands men to obey his teachings, he must either be a true or false prophet. False prophets always arise to oppose the true prophets and they will prophesy so very near the truth that they will deceive almost the very chosen ones.

Now brothers and sisters, I feel that there is a principle involved here that we should remember. As we draw near to the Priesthood of God, those who have succeeded the head of this last dispensation, that much nearer we will draw him to us, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and Father Adam. This is what we need; and I pray that we will live worthy to have Him come suddenly to His temple, and that we may be endowed and blessed as we all need to, to go forward in this great work; which I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:176  December 8, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 8, 1968
Our Faith Is Lacking and We Are Spiritually Lazy;
Be Anxiously Engaged; Story of His Parents

If I may be pardoned a little levity, I was thinking, as Brother Guy was speaking to us about getting wives, very much in agreement with John Y. Barlow when he said, "I am thankful to the Lord for those I did not get." I pray that the Lord will bless me in the few moments I stand before you, as I desire to continue in the same spirit that has actuated the remarks of those that have gone before, all of which I thoroughly agree with and say amen to.

I wonder, brothers and sisters, if it should be truly said to this people what Heber C. Kimball said to the saints in his day: "We are living at a poor dying rate." I surely pray that this is not the case and that we are going on now to greater progress, and that this people will draw together in the bonds of the New and Everlasting Covenant under the direction of this order of Priesthood with all our heart, might, mind, and strength to accomplish the work that God has given us to do. I know this is the sole desire of President Johnson, to see this people prepared for the blessings reserved for the faithful; and that we can be tried and tried and tried again, for we must be a tried people to receive His blessings, that we may merit those choice blessings of the holy House of God.
Our marriages, brothers and sisters, are not complete without the Holy Endowments, and I am sure that the Lecture speaks the truth when it says, "When the faith of the saints is sufficiently strong, they will obtain the blessing." Then there is something lacking with our faith. "Our faith is lacking," maybe is a better way to put it; because, as the faith of the saints is, so shall be their blessings. This is what Joseph told us. He told the saints in his day and it is for us, according to our faith so shall it be.

Faith is the exertion of the mind. If we are not coming up to our blessings, then it must be that we are spiritually lazy. If our faith is lacking we are spiritually, and I think resultingly, physically lazy. It carries over into that area as well. We are taking too much for granted. We are taking this Priesthood too much for granted. We are taking marriage relationships too much for granted, brothers and sisters. Wives are taking their husbands too much for granted. Children are taking their parents and this work too much for granted. It has been handed to them, as it were, on a silver platter, and I take it we are going to have to suffer if we are going to be tried; and I pray that we will be prepared for it, for the great trial.

Brother Johnson has told us that there is going to be a division. I do not know how this is going to come about, but I pray that we will be a watchman on the towers, as Brother Guy has said today, that we will watch and pray and labor with all our heart, might, mind, and strength for the redemption of this work and people, that we will be given all of the ordinances of the House of God, that we may be prepared to see the face of God and see and know that our calling and election is made sure. This is what we should be striving for, brothers and sisters, and I wonder how much we keep this goal in mind. I am reminded of what the Lord told the saints when they were engaged in redeeming, trying to redeem Zion in that day, when He said these things:

D.& C. 58

25. Wherefore, let them bring their families to this land, as they shall counsel between themselves and me.
26. For behold, it is not meet that I should command in all things; for he that is compelled in all things, the same is a slothful and not a wise servant; wherefore he receiveth no reward.
27. Verily I say, men should be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of their own free will, and bring to pass much righteousness;

Doing these things, of course, brothers and sisters, under our own jurisdiction and not another's, agreeable to the will of God. We know what the will of God is, what His commandments are. We have been set up in business and baptized by the holy Priesthood, and had hands laid on us for the gift of the Holy Ghost, the greatest of all the gifts of God next to life itself. We have been brought together in the bonds of this Priesthood, received the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage, and a knowledge of all the laws and commandments of God. Are we acting because we love these principles, brothers and sisters? I take it if we did, we would do better. He said, "If you love Me, you will keep My commandments." This is very positive and a very desirable thing along the lines spoken of here:

28. For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in nowise lose their reward.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded, and receiveth a commandment with doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

That is quite an indictment. How many of you sisters are living this law under protest? How many of you are staying together in your family circles under protest, waiting for the day to get away? Or how many are just going along, needing to be commanded in all things? That is very much the lower half of the scale, brothers and sisters. The upper half is those who do not have to be commanded in all things, and do these things for a love of the truth, because they love this Priesthood. They love the principle of Celestial Marriage, the law of consecration and stewardships, our family relationships, and everything connected with it. I say, if we indeed love these things, these principles, we would do better and we would be living more perfectly.

29. But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded and receiveth a commandment with a doubtful heart, and keepeth it with slothfulness, the same is damned.

This says he does it, but with a slothful heart, he is damned. It has to be a very positive, shall we say, aggressive thing on our part.

30. Who am I that made man, saith the Lord, that will hold him guiltless that obeys not my commandments?

31. Who am I, saith the Lord, that have promised and have not fulfilled?

32. I command and men obey not; I revoke and they receive not the blessing.

33. Then they say in their hearts: This is not the work of the Lord, for his promises are not fulfilled. But wo unto such, for their reward lurketh beneath, and not from above.

Because we do not receive the blessing through our slothfulness or laziness, we turn around and say that the Lord has not fulfilled His promises, or the Priesthood has not fulfilled its promises, and we are accusing the Lord. Sisters, are you accusing your husbands? Brethren, are you accusing the brethren? When God offers blessings, extends Himself for the benefit of His children, and they reject it, then He is most displeased, and there follows nothing but cursings as a result. The greatest crime that we can commit, of course, is the crime of treason, turning traitor; and if we are not careful we will be led off into these by and forbidden paths.

Now let us renew our covenants, brothers and sisters. Let us do better in the future, and draw near to the Priesthood and the principles that they teach us. Let us be very obedient. Let us live by every word that proceeds forth from the mouth of God and the Spirit of revelation that comes to us, and prove true and faithful in all things, that we may come again into the presence of the Father through the veil. I cannot think of a more glorious thing than for this people to be bound together, laboring for the redemption of Zion. We have to first redeem our Zion, the one that we are immediately charged with -- our families. Set in order our houses, our families, and all of our affairs, that the power of God may be exerted in our behalf through the Priesthood.

I pray that we may draw together as one people under the direction of our beloved and faithful President, Leroy S. Johnson. I know that the brethren -- Brother Barlow, Lorin Woolley and all the rest -- are watching and laboring in our behalf. They are very near, and I know that they are grieved with some of the things that they see. I know they are very pleased with some of the things they see, the progress that some are making, for the very great faith and labors of President Johnson and those who are laboring with him. I am grateful to be numbered among this people. I am grateful for the faith of my father. I was reminded of his great faith as he stood alone after the early turn of the century. He was told by the Patriarch in those Patriarchal meetings that were being attended and held by John W. Taylor and others in Farmington, Davis county -- my father was told it would be required of him to live this principle. In very private, of course, he was told this. Not in the meetings particularly. But he waited on the Lord, and my mother and another lady were provided.
Judson Tolman was sent to them, the Patriarch, to seal them. He did not have the Priesthood organization to go to that we have today. He knew Brother Tolman, of course, but how he got his authority, he had to go on faith. But I know he had the authority, in spite of all that A. William Lund and the whole historian's office had to say when they tried to dissuade me from this work, saying that Brother Tolman had no more authority than a lamppost when he sealed my mother to my father. I am grateful for the faith of that man and for his love of the truth. I would not be here today if it were not so. I would not be engaged in this work if it were not so.

I love these brethren and the holy principles of the Priesthood with all my heart, and I know I do not do well enough myself, and must do better. My family must do better. I want with all my soul to keep them in order and have them prepared to be used by the Lord through His servants; and I pray this may be the lot of us all, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:181  December 22, 1968  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
December 22, 1968
Faith and Love

It is good to hear these truths, brothers and sisters, and I rejoice in them along with you. I pray for the Spirit of God to continue with me. God so loved the world that He gave His Only Begotten Son. It is His work and His purpose to bring about the immortality and eternal life of His children, those who will; and the Lord Jesus Christ wrought out an atonement, not only for the original fall of His Father, which was necessary that we might be, but for our own sins as well, if we will obey and love Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength.

I have been thinking, brothers and sisters, about the relationship of the grand principles of faith and love. Paul, speaking of three grand principles said, "Now these three things abide -- faith, hope and love," or charity as he called it, and as Moroni called it, "and the greatest of these is love". And yet we are told that the grand principle by which God created all of the worlds and placed His children upon them -- and we speak of this one in particular, of course -- by the power of faith. But faith is of little consequence unless it is motivated by love. This is the connection as I see it, brothers and sisters.
God so loved His children that He provides a way that they may become like Himself, that His glory may be added upon through His children obtaining the same glory, the same power and authority that He Himself holds. And we obtain this with Him through our faith. Because of His love He has exerted this faith and made great sacrifices for and in our behalf. And in order to become like Him we must do the same thing.

The greatest evidence of our faith is that our course of life pleases Him. Our course of life pleases Him through our making the sacrifice of all earthly things, changing our character and giving up every earthly thing that would stand in the way of our progress and our becoming like Him. Obedience is the means by which we get into that course of life which pleases Him, and we obey in the degree that we love. Show me, brothers and sisters, how much you love God, and I will show you what kind of obedience and what kind of faith you have. This is the grand motivating power. God is love. Jesus Christ, by His life and labors, set the grand example as the great Prototype, showing how God is love. What He did for us, of course, is the central event, the central principle in all of the life of man, and the creation of man, and the advancement of man, so that he may come back into the presence of God. Show me how much love a woman has for her husband, how much she loves the principle of Celestial and Plural Marriage, and I will show you how true and faithful she is.

Now I am not talking so much about words as I am about actions. Our actions are brought about through faith. Many people profess certain things, express certain love that they feel that they have, but it does not amount to much, brothers and sisters, unless we act it out, unless we obey the object of our love. The first and grand commandment is that we love God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength; and the second is like unto it, to love our neighbor as ourselves. Who is our neighbor, brothers and sisters? It is those that God has given us or that we have been given to, whichever the case may be, in the light of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, under the direction of the holy Priesthood of God. We must love Priesthood, which is God, above all else in the world. And I feel like in bringing these things a little more closely to our attention, to repeat again the grand words of the Prophet Moroni in the final verses of chapter 8 of Moroni.

Moroni 7

42. Wherefore, if a man have faith he must needs have hope; for without faith there cannot be any hope.

43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart; and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

45. And charity suffereth long,

Notice these attributes connected with the grand principle of love. These are what make the man or the woman of God so that they are love, as God is love.

45. ...charity suffereth long and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own,

Unselfish, in other words; is not conceited and self-sufficient, envies not any other.

45. ...is not easily provoked,

One learns to keep his temper, to control himself.

45. ...thinketh no evil,

My, what a glorious condition that would be, for one to never think evil of one another, or of doing anything evil.

45. ...and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth,

He loves the truth and abides in it because he loves it. He will not live it in protest. That is quite the opposite of loving the truth, isn't it? And how many of us are living this principle of marriage under protest? More than we know about, I dare say.

45. ...beareth all things,

He is patient, long-suffering.

45. ...believeth all things,

He has faith in God and the truth.

45. ...hopeth all things, endureth all things.

He who endureth to the end shall be saved, and none other. These are all part and parcel of the grand principle of love which will lead us unto faith and hope.
46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ,
That same kind of love that He had for us. Can we attain unto it?

47. ...and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart,
There is faith again. See how interconnected they are. Faith is the exertion of the mind through words, brothers and sisters. Prayer is faith in action and exertion of the mind, and those who have faith in their prayers are those who please God because they become like Him.

48. ...pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

And through it all, brothers and sisters, the gifts of the Holy Ghost. The Holy Ghost is the attributes of God, that great power and influence, that great gift that issues forth from the Father throughout His creations, that special gift of God to His chosen children who love to obey the truth. Without the gift of the Holy Ghost and His continual presence in our lives, having it with us continually, none of these things are attainable. Love is one of the attributes of this Spirit -- faith, justice, judgment, mercy, and truth. God help us to have these things and become like Him, I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.
RTJ 2:185  January 19, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
January 19, 1969
Love for Priesthood; Nature of Priesthood

I rejoice in the instructions and teachings we have had thus far, brethren and sisters, and feel keenly the responsibility to carry on in the same spirit. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct me.

I love this work and people. And I love my brethren more than I love woman. I love God, our Father in heaven and His Son, Jesus Christ. And how I love Joseph the Prophet, his memory and what he did for us under the direction of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ and Father Adam. I know that he was a Prophet of God, and is, and is leading and directing this work from the other side in connection with those brethren who have gone before who succeeded him in the Presidency under those who hold the keys of the holy Priesthood.

Priesthood is all, brothers and sisters, because Priesthood is God. And that is why I love this Priesthood under the direction of President Johnson today. Joseph Smith is the One Mighty and Strong to come and set in order the House of God. I know this by the voice of the Spirit. And I know that He came with Jesus Christ on that night in September to John Taylor to commence that setting-in-order process, and to set up a special dispensation under his last and great dispensation of the Gospel of Christ, of which we are now beneficiaries, brothers and sisters. I know that the men who have succeeded from John Taylor -- John W. Woolley and the others down to the present -- have carried out and fulfilled the covenants that they made in connection with that great event; and that the refuge of lies is being done away, and the covenant with death and hell is disannulled through the labors of this order of Priesthood. I feel like reading a little about Joseph in the Doctrine and Covenants if I may. I would like to have you understand, brothers and sisters, the nature of the order of Priesthood which directs this work today.

D.& C. 84

40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.
41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.

42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

And He says further along:

77. And again I say unto you, my friends, for from henceforth I shall call you friends, it is expedient that I give unto you this commandment, that ye become even as my friends in days when I was with them, traveling to preach the gospel in my power;

78. For I suffered them not to have purse or scrip, neither two coats.

And so forth. Then at the end of Section 84 we have this:

117. And verily I say unto you, the rest of my servants, go ye forth as your circumstances shall permit, in your several callings, unto the great and notable cities and villages, reproving the world in righteousness of all their unrighteous and ungodly deeds, setting forth clearly and understandably the desolation of abomination in the last days.

118. For, with you saith the Lord Almighty, I will rend their kingdoms; I will not only shake the earth, but the starry heavens shall tremble.

119. For I, the Lord, have put forth my hand to exert the powers of heaven; ye cannot see it now, yet a little while and ye shall see it, and know that I am, and that I will come and reign with my people.

120. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. Amen.

Now I would like to read the words of Joseph as he wrote an epistle to the Church in September of 1842.

D.& C. 128

19. Now, what do we hear in the gospel which we have received? A voice of gladness! A voice of mercy from heaven; and a voice of truth out of the earth; glad tidings for the dead; a voice of gladness for the living and the dead; glad tidings of great joy. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of those that bring glad tidings of good things, and that say unto Zion: Behold, thy God reigneth! As the dews of Carmel, so shall the knowledge of God descend upon them!
20. And again, what do we hear? Glad tidings from Cumorah! Moroni, an angel from heaven, declaring the fulfilment of the prophets -- the book to be revealed. A voice of the Lord in the wilderness of Fayette, Seneca county, declaring the three witnesses to bear record of the book! The voice of Michael on the banks of the Susquehanna, detecting the devil when he appeared as an angel of light! The voice of Peter, James, and John in the wilderness between Harmony, Susquehanna county, and Colesville, Broome county, on the Susquehanna river, declaring themselves as possessing the keys of the kingdom, and of the dispensation of the fulness of times!

21. And again, the voice of God in the chamber of old Father Whitmer, in Fayette, Seneca county, and at sundry times, and in divers places through all the travels and tribulations of this Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints! And the voice of Michael, the archangel; the voice of Gabriel, and of Raphael, and of divers angels, from Michael or Adam down to the present time, all declaring their dispensation, their rights, their keys, their honors, their majesty and glory, and the power of their priesthood; giving line upon line, precept upon precept; here a little, and there a little; giving us consolation by holding forth that which is to come, confirming our hope!

22. Brethren, shall we not go on in so great a cause? Go forward and not backward. Courage, brethren; and on, on to the victory! Let your hearts rejoice, and be exceedingly glad. Let the earth break forth into singing. Let the dead speak forth anthems of eternal praise to the King Immanuel, who hath ordained, before the world was, that which would enable us to redeem them out of their prison; for the prisoners shall go free.

23. Let the mountains shout for joy, and all ye valleys cry aloud; and all ye seas and dry lands tell the wonders of your Eternal King! And ye rivers, and brooks, and rills, flow down with gladness. Let the woods and all the trees of the field praise the Lord; and ye solid rocks weep for joy! And let the sun, moon, and the morning stars sing together, and let all the sons of God shout for joy! And let the eternal creations declare his name forever and ever! And again I say, how glorious is the voice we hear from heaven, proclaiming in our ears, glory, and salvation, and honor, and immortality, and eternal life; kingdoms, principalities, and powers!

24. Behold, the great day of the Lord is at hand; and who can abide the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appeareth? For he is like a refiner's fire, and like fuller's soap; and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. Let us, therefore, as a church and a people, and as Latter-day Saints, offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness; and let us present in his holy temple, when it is finished, a book containing the records of our dead, which shall be worthy of all acceptation.

25. Brethren, I have many things to say to you on the subject; but shall now close for the present, and continue the subject another time. I am, as ever, your humble servant and never deviating friend, Joseph Smith.

And I pray that we may carry on in this Spirit and the power of God, and become one people in the hands of this order of the Priesthood to prepare a people for the redemption of Zion, and the establishment of His Kingdom and Priesthood in the earth, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:189  February 16, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
February 16, 1969
D.& C. 88

I feel like, brethren and sisters, reading from the word of the Lord today one of the grand revelations that Joseph received, which, when he sent it to the saints in Zion, he called it "The Olive Leaf", Section 88, which I feel would be as fine a sermon as could be given today, as far as I am concerned.

D. & C. 88

62. And again, verily I say unto you, my friends, I leave these sayings with you to ponder in your hearts, with this commandment which I give unto you, that ye shall call upon me while I am near --

63. Draw near unto me and I will draw near unto you; seek me diligently and ye shall find me; ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

There is a simple statement of the power of faith, which is basic for all of us.

64. WHATSOEVER YE ASK THE FATHER IN MY NAME IT SHALL BE GIVEN UNTO YOU, that is expedient for you;
65. And if ye ask anything that is not expedient for you, it shall turn unto your condemnation.

66. Behold, that which you hear is as the voice of one crying in the wilderness -- in the wilderness, because you cannot see him -- my voice, because my voice is Spirit; my Spirit is truth; truth abideth and hath no end; and if it be in you it shall abound.

67. And if your eye be single to my glory, your whole bodies shall be filled with light, and there shall be no darkness in you; and that body which is filled with light comprehendeth all things.

The Holy Ghost, our constant companion, which shall lead us into all truth.

67. And if your eye be single to my glory, your whole bodies shall be filled with light, and there shall be no darkness in you; and that body which is filled with light comprehendeth all things.

I am going to read this verse again.

67. ...shall be filled with light, and there shall be no darkness in you; and that body which is filled with light comprehendeth all things.

68. Therefore, sanctify yourselves that your minds become single to God, and the days will come that you shall see him; for he will unveil his face unto you, and it shall be in his own time, and in his own way, and according to his own will.

69. Remember the great and last promise which I have made unto you; cast away your idle thoughts and your excess of laughter far from you.

70. Tarry ye, tarry ye in this place, and call a solemn assembly, even of those who are the first laborers in this last kingdom.

71. And let those whom they have warned in their traveling call on the Lord, and ponder the warning in their hearts which they have received, for a little season.

72. Behold, and lo, I will take care of your flocks, and will raise up elders and send unto them.

73. Behold, I will hasten my work in its time.

74. And I give unto you, who are the first laborers in this last kingdom, a commandment that you assemble yourselves together, and organize yourselves, and prepare yourselves, and sanctify yourselves; yea, purify your hearts, and cleanse your hands and your feet before me, that I may make you clean;
75. That I may testify unto your Father, and your God, and my God, that you are clean from the blood of this wicked generation; that I may fulfill this promise, this great and last promise, which I have made unto you, when I will.

76. Also, I give unto you a commandment that ye shall continue in prayer and fasting from this time forth.

77. And I give unto you a commandment that you shall teach one another the doctrine of the kingdom.

78. Teach ye diligently and my grace shall attend you, that you may be instructed more perfectly in theory, in principle, in doctrine, in the law of the gospel, in all things that pertain unto the kingdom of God, that are expedient for you to understand;

79. Of things both in heaven and in the earth, and under the earth; things which have been, things which are, things which must shortly come to pass; things which are at home, things which are abroad; the wars and the perplexities of the nations, and the judgments which are on the land; and a knowledge also of countries and of kingdoms --

80. That ye may be prepared in all things when I shall send you again to magnify the calling whereunto I have called you, and the mission with which I have commissioned you.

81. Behold, I sent you out to testify and warn the people, and it becometh every man who hath been warned to warn his neighbor.

82. Therefore, they are left without excuse, and their sins are upon their own heads.

83. He that seeketh me early shall find me, and shall not be forsaken.

84. Therefore, tarry ye, and labor diligently, that you may be perfected in your ministry to go forth among the Gentiles for the last time, as many as the mouth of the Lord shall name, to bind up the law and seal up the testimony, and to prepare the saints for the hour of judgment which is to come;

This is the preparation that is being made today, brothers and sisters. Are we going to be prepared when the call comes from the Lord to send out Elders to bind up the law and seal up the testimony?

85. That their souls may escape the wrath of God, the desolation of abomination which awaits the wicked, both in this world and in the world to come. Verily, I say unto you, let those who are not the first elders continue in the vineyard until the mouth of the Lord shall call them, for their time is not yet come; their garments are not clean from the blood of this generation.

86. Abide ye in the liberty wherewith ye are made free; entangle not yourselves in sin, but let your hands be clean, until the Lord comes.

87. For not many days hence and the earth shall tremble and reel to and fro as a drunken man; and the sun shall hide his face, and shall refuse to give light; and the moon shall be bathed in blood; and the stars shall become exceedingly angry, and shall cast themselves down as a fig that falleth from off a fig-tree.

88. And after your testimony cometh wrath and indignation upon the people.

89. For after your testimony cometh the testimony of earthquakes, that shall cause groanings in the midst of her, and men shall fall upon the ground and shall not be able to stand.

90. And also cometh the testimony of the voice of thunderings, and the voice of lightnings, and the voice of tempests, and the voice of the waves of the sea heaving themselves beyond their bounds.

91. And all things shall be in commotion; and surely, men's hearts shall fail them; for fear shall come upon all people.

92. And angels shall fly through the midst of heaven, crying with a loud voice, sounding the trump of God, saying: Prepare ye, prepare ye, O inhabitants of the earth; for the judgment of our God is come. Behold, and lo, the Bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

93. And immediately there shall appear a great sign in heaven, and all people shall see it together.

The Lord goes on to state how the various angels shall be sent as the great judgments are sent forth upon the earth. These things are near and at hand, brothers and sisters. The great burden of a message of President Johnson to this people is that we prepare, that we cleanse our hearts, purify our hearts and cleanse our hands, that we may be ready when the Bridegroom cometh, which I pray we may be in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Follow the Words of Joseph Smith; There Are Schisms and Divisions Among Us

Brother Guy called on me to speak. I hope my voice holds out. I have had a little trouble with it lately. I pray that God will give me utterance, that I may speak words of truth, the words of Joseph, if you please. I am always reminded, when I use those words, of the blessing that Heber C. Kimball received in days of tribulation on the way from the Missouri persecutions over into Illinois, when the voice of the Spirit pronounced blessings upon him that I pray I may be worthy of. He said, "My servant Heber, thou hast been careful to follow the words of my servant Joseph," and he was given great and glorious promises regarding his future exaltation because of his having done this.

This is one of the great touchstones in the work of God, as far as I am concerned, to be careful to follow the words of Joseph, the head of this dispensation of which we are a part, the great restorer of the holy Priesthood, the servant of the Lord Jesus Christ and of Father Adam, with whom he stands in the Godhead over all this world, both in time and in eternity. He has his Priesthood, as his other brethren have had who have followed in his steps in the same power and authority of the Priesthood which he held. I am grateful to him as a father in the Priesthood, to Brigham, and John Taylor, who was the instrument of ushering in to this great latter-day work, this special dispensation of which this order of Priesthood is a part.

I thank God that He has preserved His work according to His promise, that this Priesthood and the Gospel of the Son of God should not be thrown down or given to another people. The Lord is fulfilling His promises, brothers and sisters, and has carried on and seen to it that this order of Priesthood should remain in the earth to preserve and maintain the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and particularly the responsibility to see that the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage should be kept alive. Their great work that they were commanded to do was to see to it that there were children born every year in this great and holy principle until Christ should come in glory, when He whose right it is to rule shall reign for a thousand years in the day of peace and rest. This is the day we are preparing for, my dear brothers and sisters.

The great burden that rests upon President Johnson, as with those who went before him -- Presidents Barlow, Lorin Woolley, John W. Woolley, and John Taylor -- is to preserve the faith of the saints, the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, which is the law of Celestial Marriage and the Holy United Order, the highest laws and ordinances of the Gospel, all others being but appendages or parts of these great principles. And brethren, if we would only realize that each and every one of you bearing the holy Melchizedek Priesthood are part and parcel of this, and we should stay lively branches of the vine of which Joseph Smith to us in this dispensation, and Jesus Christ and Father Adam, are the source of light and strength and power and authority. Brother Eldon, in speaking as he did, was simply saying these things. Cling on as branches to the vines; otherwise we will have nothing but to be cut off and burned. If the branch dies, what do we do with it? We cut it off and burn it so that the vine may thrive.

Now, brothers and sisters, these principles we hear in one form or another continually, and has been said we come and we go from these meetings and do very, very little about it. Somehow, the same old rut is followed, the same old ways of life. And there needs to be a renovation and a reformation in so many of our lives, brothers and sisters.

The thing that impresses itself so much on my mind lately as I have observed our people -- brethren in the Priesthood, groups of families, if you please -- there are schisms and divisions that exist in this people, the same ones, even, that come to our meetings, if you please.

You just search your hearts, brothers and sisters, and see how many different ideas and ways that are being contended for, compared with what the brethren bring before us week in and week out. How many of these things do we receive with reservations? Ask yourselves. It is because we maintain these reservations, brothers and sisters, that we are not making progress. We do not draw near to the vine.

Now, what is the means God has of us following and drawing near? It is through the living Priesthood. Are any of us living as men in the past? I can name a good many, and you know as well as I do, there have been men who have died with John and Lorin Woolley, with Brother Broadbent; they have died when John Y. Barlow and Joseph W. Musser died. They still make a pretense of coming around, but where are their hearts? In the dead past, too many, the dead past; when there is a living and vital and powerful Priesthood presiding over us! There are Salt Lake "ites" and there are Short Creek "ites", if you want to call it spade to spade, instead of Priesthood men supporting the living Priesthood whom God has appointed, called, and chosen to direct us!

I know there are men who say that Leroy Johnson does not do things right -- I have heard it from some of their lips -- that he does not have the revelations that Joseph Musser had or that John Y. Barlow had, from the lips of others.

I am speaking quite plainly, brothers and sisters, and I think we had better start taking stalk, take inventory and see just where we stand, how much faith we really have. True and living faith is the exertion of our minds on the things of God, sacrificing all earthly things and desires, offering all to the Lord, through His servants. Is there anyone here who imagines they can be offering them to Joseph Musser or John Y. Barlow now? I do not mean entirely money or things. I mean the character of the world that so many of us still carry as a burden. We are not sacrificing them. We are not drawing near! I cannot emphasize those two words "draw near" enough.

Let us acknowledge our sins and our imperfections. Let us repent and seek to do better and draw near to God through His Priesthood, for Priesthood is God. And Brother Eldon was not speaking idly when he said, as Joseph said to the saints, "Let the Elders be mouth for me, and I will be God to you."

Brother Johnson and the other brethren have their weaknesses of men, and they are not infallible, but I tell you in the name of Israel's God that when they speak under the power of the Holy Ghost, it is the word of God to us. The power and authority of the holy Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, which emanates from the Father and goes throughout His creations and to His saints through those He has called and chosen.

Now why, brothers and sisters, do we continue so many, so often being such hypocrites that we profess to love this work and the Gospel and the Priesthood and do not do as they say? "If you love Me," Christ said, "keep My commandments. If you do not, you are liars and the truth is not in you." Is the truth really in us, brothers and sisters? Search your hearts, and answer through good works and obedience, and draw near to Him through His Priesthood; which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I am again very happy to meet with you, brothers and sisters, and pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, as always, that I may be instrumental in speaking the truth. My mind is and has been upon Joseph Smith so much lately, and I feel again to bear testimony concerning him and the great work that he performed.

I am always reminded when getting up, that we have been counseled, if we do not know what else to say, we would never fail invoking the Spirit of God upon our remarks, if we bear testimony concerning the mission and the labors and the great Priesthood work done by President Joseph Smith, Jun., one of the Godhead who presides over this earth; laboring hand in hand, as he does on the other side, in behalf of this great and last dispensation under the direction of the Lord Jesus Christ and Father Adam; these three having made eternal covenant before the foundations of the earth were laid, for the accomplishment of their particular work and dispensation in the earth. God the First, the Father, the Creator, accomplished the great mission of falling from His exalted state to come upon the earth and to bring forth His children who were born to Him in the eternities before, that they might become like Him, and that His kingdoms might increase through all eternity. The Savior brought about the great redemption, the mediation and atonement by which those same children, having come into the earth and being required to die, to lay their bodies in the grave, might come forth, their sins being atoned for if they would obey Him, as well as the original sin of the Fall being atoned for, no one having suffered greater than He.

And then Joseph, the Holy Ghost, being provided to restore all things from every dispensation that had been given to the earth by Father; everyone coming to him to deliver their keys, to restore every law, every ordinance, and every means by which the children of men in this great and last dispensation, including the Millennium, when He whose right it is to rule will come and reign in righteousness, the great forerunner. John was a forerunner to Jesus in his day; but Joseph, an Elias, and acting in the power and the Priesthood of Elijah, having been restored to him through Peter, James, and John, goes forth to prepare the way for the glorious coming of Jesus Christ, to usher in the great Millennium.

This is a great work done by Joseph, who likewise suffered martyrdom and sealed his testimony with his blood. I do not think we appreciate him enough, brothers and sisters. I think if we could see the greater picture of which this work and this people are and should be a part, we would begin to do better. Here, we have one of the greatest intelligences of those spirits begotten by our Father, having lived among us as short a time as one hundred and fifty years ago; and having set the example for us, changing his character to become like Jesus and Father, and earning the right to go back and rule and reign with them as the grand Presidency of the Celestialized earth; for this earth was created to fulfill a Celestial existence. Section 88 makes this very, very clear.

Now, brothers and sisters, it has been prophesied that in this day there would rise up from the heart's core of the Latter-day Saints a people who would be the nucleus of the great Millennium. Dare we say this is that people? I do, and testify of it in the name of Jesus Christ. How well are we fulfilling that mission? We have been gathered together, brothers and sisters, for this mission. If you want a mission, you know what it is. It is to sacrifice all earthly things and become like God.

We have the earthly mission of Jesus Christ laid before us, the great Prototype of all saved beings; and following in His footsteps, Joseph Smith; and following him, such great lights and bearers of the fullness of the holy Priesthood as Brigham Young and John Taylor and all who have succeeded in that order of the Priesthood.

We are favored, brothers and sisters, in having that order of the Priesthood with us. To me it is a matter of honoring that Priesthood. It is God's business who calls them and appoints them and sets them on their course to do their work. They belong to Him, and the spirit of criticism is certainly not in order, as it is so rampant among us today. And when I speak of this order of the Priesthood -- I am speaking of the order organized and set up and restored by and through Joseph Smith, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost -- how will we get the Holy Ghost except we get it through that order? Anyone who is able to attain unto the attributes and the character of God through having with them constantly the companionship of the Holy Ghost, act as God to us by appointment and direction of the great Giver of all of these dispensations, these ordinances and these means of salvation that are offered to us today.

Let us be that people indeed, brothers and sisters. Prepare ourselves. Set our families, our houses in order. Come together. Draw near! I do not mean to use any words of President Nixon either. I say it in a larger context that we understand in the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. "Be ye one, as I and My Father are one." This is the thing that we need above all things, that we be one, struggling together to overcome our weaknesses, our sins, our imperfections; to get and keep the Holy Ghost, which is the attributes of the living God, offered to us to enable us to become like Him, the greatest gift of all; besides, of course, having been born under the covenant and being brought forth for this great opportunity and blessing.

Now let us make good on it, brothers and sisters. We have a mission, every one of us, and it does not have to be to foreign lands or to other peoples, but to our families. As soon as there are enough men whose families are in order and who have obtained to sufficient perfection, God will perform His great work; sending forth His Elders to bind up the law and seal up the testimony in preparation for the great destructions and judgments about to be poured out without measure upon the earth, and in preparation for the glorious coming of Jesus, which I pray we may be prepared for, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:200  March 23, 1969  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
March 23, 1969
Example of Heber C. Kimball;
Testimony of Celestial and Plural Marriage

I appreciate being here, brothers and sisters, under the direction of President Johnson, and to be associated with you in this great work. I am grateful for my testimony of the work and mission of the Prophet Joseph Smith, under our Lord Jesus Christ and Father Adam. I am grateful for the life and labors, and the special dispensation that the Lord instituted through John Taylor; that my Father has found this work, and taught and led me into it. And I am grateful that my good sister Leona, and Richard, James, and Margaret have been led in the same way, and are, I hope, inseparably connected with this work and dispensation. I am grateful for my mother, who against great odds and pressures from their family and friends, separated herself from them, went into hiding for a year in order to fulfill her work and mission, and provide the way for me to come.
I love this principle which my father espoused, lived and suffered for, as have all of the others -- the Woolleys, and those who succeeded them. It is wonderful, brothers and sisters, to know that I am home, for this is home, this work and Priesthood. I desire above all other things to go home in the heavens to be associated with them, and you, and my brethren in this holy order, in time to come.

As I sat contemplating some of these things this morning, I felt impressed to bring to the attention of those who may have not had it, and to remind those who have, of a period of history of one who was a great example in this order, a true son of Abraham, Brother Heber C. Kimball. Joseph Smith was in Liberty Jail with the brethren. Brother Heber and others who were out, and under great pressure in Far West, Missouri, and other places, stated the following:

Life of Heber C. Kimball, Page 241

"My family having been gone about two months, during which time I heard nothing from them; our brethren being in prison; death and destruction following us everywhere we went; I felt very sorrowful and lonely. The following words came to my mind, and the Spirit said unto me, 'write,' which I did by taking a piece of paper and writing on my knee as follows.

"Far West, April 6th, 1839.

"A word from the Spirit of the Lord to my servant, Heber C. Kimball:

"Verily I say unto my servant Heber, thou art my son, in whom I am well pleased; for thou art careful to hearken to my words, and not transgress my law, nor rebel against my servant Joseph Smith, for thou hast a respect to the words of mine anointed, even from the least to the greatest of them; therefore thy name is written in heaven, no more to be blotted out for ever, because of these things; and this Spirit and blessing shall rest down upon thy posterity for ever and ever; for they shall be called after thy name, for thou shalt have many more sons and daughters, for thy seed shall be as numerous as the sands upon the sea shore; therefore, my servant Heber, be faithful, go forth in my name and I will go with you, and be on your right hand and on your left and my angels shall go before you and raise you up when you are cast down and afflicted; remember that I am always with you, even to the end, therefore be of good cheer, my son, and my spirit shall be in your heart to teach you the peaceable things of the kingdom. Trouble not thyself about thy family, for they are in my hands; I will feed them and clothe them and make unto them friends; they never shall want for food nor raiment, houses nor lands, fathers nor mothers; brothers nor sisters; and peace shall rest upon them forever; if thou wilt be faithful and go forth and preach my gospel to the nations of the earth; for thou shalt be blessed in this thing: thy tongue shall be unloosed to such a degree that has not entered into thy heart as yet, and the children of men shall believe thy words, and flock to the water, even as they did to my servant John; for thou shalt be great in winning souls to me, for this is thy gift and calling; and there shall be no gift withheld from thee, if thou art faithful. Therefore, be faithful, and I will give thee favor in the eyes of the people; be humble and kind and you shall obtain kindness; be merciful and you shall obtain mercy; and I will be with you even unto the end. Amen."

I felt, brothers and sisters, that it was the great example of this testimony and blessing to him of the Lord that prepared him for the great test of his life that took place some years later in about 1841, a couple of years later.

_A Life of Heber C. Kimball, Page 321_

A startling innovation, a test designed to try, as never before, the faith and integrity of God's people now came upon them. Not in the shape of fire and sword, nor toilsome pilgrimage, nor pestilence, nor wealth, nor poverty. Ah! no; something far different from these, and far more difficult to bear.

A grand and glorious principle had been revealed, and for years had slumbered in the breast of God's Prophet, awaiting the time when, with safety to himself and the Church, it might be confided to the sacred keeping of a chosen few. That time had now come. An angel with a flaming sword descended from the courts of glory and, confronting the Prophet, commanded him in the name of the Lord to establish the principle so long concealed from the knowledge of the Saints and of the world -- that of plural marriage.

Well knew the youthful Prophet the danger of his task. Well knew he the peril and penalty of disobedience. Fearing God, not man, he bowed to the inevitable, and laid his life -- aye, was it not so? -- upon the altar of duty and devotion.
Among those to whom Joseph confided this great secret, even before it was committed to writing, was his bosom friend, Heber C. Kimball. Well knowing the integrity of his heart, so many times tested and found true, he felt that he ran no risk in opening to Heber's eyes the treasured mysteries of his mighty soul.

But why careful, among so many friends, to select only a few as the recipients of such a favor? Would not the Saints have died to a man in defense of their Prophet -- God's seer and revelator? Alas, none knew so well as Joseph the frailty of man, the inherent weakness and wickedness of the human heart.

"Many men," said he, "will say, 'I will never forsake you, but will stand by you at all times.' But the moment you teach them some of the mysteries of the kingdom of God that are retained in the heavens, and are to be revealed to the children of men when they are prepared for them, they will be the first to stone you and put you to death.

"It was this same principle that crucified the Lord Jesus Christ, and will cause the people to kill the prophets in this generation."

What! would even the Saints have so done? Did not some of those who were Saints then, so do?

Had not Joseph said many times -- are not men now living who heard him say: "Would to God, brethren, I could tell you who I am! Would to God I could tell you what I know! But you would call it blasphemy, and there are men upon this stand who would want to take my life."

"If the Church," said he, "knew all the commandments, one-half they would reject through prejudice and ignorance."

No wonder, then, that he should choose his confidants, for their sakes no less than his own. For these also are Joseph's words: "When God offers a blessing, or knowledge to a man, and he refuses to receive it, he will be damned."

Revelation is ever the iconoclast [attack on strong beliefs] of tradition, and such is the bigotry of man, his natural hatred of the new and strange, as opposed to his personal interests or private views, that the very lives of those whose mission is to introduce and establish new doctrines, though designed as a blessing to humanity, are ever in danger from those whose traditions would thus be uprooted and destroyed.
Joseph was not a coward. It was he who said that a coward could not be saved in the kingdom of God. But neither was he lacking in caution, especially when warned of the Lord of the necessity for its exercise. Therefore, was he now revealing, to a chosen few, whom God had prepared to receive what he should tell them, one of the grand principles of the everlasting Gospel, "unlawful to be uttered" to the multitude, yet one day to be thundered from the house-tops in the ears of all living, with many other mighty truths locked in the treasure house of future time, of which eternity still holds the key.

Before he would trust even Heber with the full secret, however, he put him to a test which few men would have been able to bear.

It was no less than a requirement for him to surrender his wife, his beloved Vilate, and give her to Joseph in marriage!

The astounding revelation well-nigh paralyzed him. He could hardly believe he had heard aright. Yet Joseph was solemnly in earnest. His next impulse was to spurn the proposition, and perhaps at that terrible moment a vague suspicion of the Prophet's motive and the divinity of the revelation, shot like a poisoned arrow through his soul.

But only for a moment, if at all, was such a thought, such a suspicion entertained. He knew Joseph too well, as a man, a friend, a brother, a servant of God, to doubt his truth or the divine origin of the behest he had made. No, Joseph was God's Prophet, His mouthpiece and oracle, and so long as he was so, his words were as the words of the Eternal One to Heber C. Kimball. His heart-strings might be torn, his feelings crucified and sawn asunder, but so long as his faith in God and the Priesthood remained, heaven helping him, he would try and do as he was told. Such, now, was his superhuman resolve.

Three days he fasted and wept and prayed. Then, with a broken and a bleeding heart, but with soul self-mastered for the sacrifice, he led his darling wife to the Prophet's house and presented her to Joseph.

It was enough -- the heavens accepted the sacrifice. The will for the deed was taken, and "accounted unto him for righteousness." Joseph wept at this proof of devotion, and embracing Heber, told him that was all that the Lord required. He had proved him, as a child of Abraham, that he would "do the works of Abraham," holding back nothing, but laying all upon the altar for God's glory.

The Prophet joined the hands of the heroic and devoted pair, and then and there, by virtue of the sealing power and authority of the Holy Priesthood, Heber and Vilate Kimball were made husband and wife for all eternity.

Heber's crucial test was in part over. Vilate's trial was yet to come. The principle of celestial marriage was now known to them, so far as their own eternal covenant was concerned, but the doctrine of plurality of wives which it involves, was yet to be revealed. How Heber and Vilate received and embraced this feature of the principle is thus tenderly told by their daughter Helen:

Who was later joined in marriage to the Prophet Joseph.

"My mother often told me that she could not doubt the plural order of marriage was of God, for the Lord had revealed it to her in answer to prayer.

"In Nauvoo, shortly after his return from England, my father, among others of his brethren, was taught the plural wife doctrine, and was told by Joseph, the Prophet, three times, to go and take a certain woman as his wife; but not till he commanded him in the name of the Lord did he obey. At the same time Joseph told him not to divulge this secret, not even to my mother, for fear that she would not receive it; for his life was in constant jeopardy, not only from outside influences and enemies, who were seeking some plea to take him back to Missouri, but from false brethren who had crept like snakes into his bosom and then betrayed him.

"My father realized the situation fully, and the love and reverence he bore for the Prophet were so great that he would sooner have laid down his life than have betrayed him. This was one of the greatest tests of his faith he had ever experienced. The thought of deceiving the kind and faithful wife of his youth, whom he loved with all his heart, and who with him had borne so patiently their separations, and all the trials and sacrifices they had been called to endure, was more than he felt able to bear.

"He realized not only the addition of trouble and perplexity that such a step must bring upon him, but his sorrow and misery were increased by the thought of my mother hearing of it from some other source, which would no doubt separate them, and he shrank from the thought of such a thing, or of causing her any unhappiness. Finally he was so tried that he went to Joseph and told him how he felt -- that he was fearful if he took such a step he could not stand, but would be overcome. The Prophet, full of sympathy for him, went and inquired of the Lord. His answer was, 'Tell him to go and do as he has been commanded, and if I see that there is any danger of his apostatizing, I will take him to myself.'

"The fact that he had to be commanded three times to do this thing shows that the trial must have been extraordinary, for he was a man who, from the first, had yielded implicit obedience to every requirement of the Prophet.

"When first hearing the principle taught, believing that he would be called upon to enter into it, he had thought of two elderly ladies named Pitkin, great friends of my mother's who, he believed, would cause her little, if any, unhappiness. But the woman he was commanded to take was an English lady named Sarah Noon, nearer my mother's age, who came over with the company of Saints in the same ship in which father and Brother Brigham returned from Europe. She had been married and was the mother of two little girls, but left her husband on account of his drunken and dissolute habits. Father was told to take her as his wife and provide for her and her children, and he did so.

Heber was told by Joseph that if he did not do this he would lose his Apostleship and be damned.

"My mother had noticed a change in his manner and appearance, and when she inquired the cause, he tried to evade her questions. At last he promised he would tell her after a while, if she would only wait. This trouble so worked upon his mind that his anxious and haggard looks betrayed him daily and hourly, and finally his misery became so unbearable that it was impossible to control his feelings. He became sick in body, but his mental wretchedness was too great to allow of his retiring, and he would walk the floor till nearly morning, and sometimes the agony of his mind was so terrible that he would wring his hands and weep like a child, and beseech the Lord to be merciful and reveal to her this principle, for he himself could not break his vow of secrecy.

"The anguish of their hearts was indescribable, and when she found it was useless to beseech him longer, she retired to her room and bowed before the Lord and poured out her soul in prayer to Him who hath said: 'If any lack wisdom let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not.' My father's heart was raised at the same time in supplication. While pleading as one would plead for life, the vision of her mind was opened, and, as darkness flees before the morning sun, so did her sorrow and the groveling things of earth vanish away.

"Before her was illustrated the order of celestial marriage, in all its beauty and glory, together with the great exaltation and honor it would confer upon her in that immortal and celestial sphere, if she would accept it and stand in her place by her husband's side. She also saw the woman he had taken to wife, and contemplated with joy the vast and boundless love and union which this order would bring about, as well as the increase of her husband's kingdoms, and the power and glory extending throughout the eternities, worlds without end.

"With a countenance beaming with joy, for she was filled with the Spirit of God, she returned to my father, saying: 'Heber, what you kept from me the Lord has shown me.' She told me she never saw so happy a man as father was when she described the vision and told him she was satisfied and knew it was from God.

"She covenanted to stand by him and honor the principle, which covenant she faithfully kept, and though her trials were often heavy and grievous to bear, she knew that father was also being tried, and her integrity was unflinching to the end. She gave my father many wives, and they always found in my mother a faithful friend."

Helen also refers in her narrative to the sensation caused in Nauvoo, one Sabbath morning, prior to the return of the Twelve from England, by a sermon of the Prophet's on "the restoration of all things," in which it was hinted that the patriarchal or plural order of marriage, as practiced by the ancients, would some day again be established. The excitement created by the bare suggestion was such that Joseph deemed it wisdom, in the afternoon, to modify his statement by saying that possibly the Spirit had made the time seem nearer than it really was, when such things would be restored.

He had to unpreach it.

These facts serve to show something of the nature and extent of the sacrifice made by the Saints, in accepting this principle, and likewise the pure, lofty, religious motives actuating both men and women who could thus heroically embrace a doctrine against which -- as is generally the case with the gospel's higher principles -- their traditions and preconceived notions instinctively rebelled.

Soon after the revelation was given a golden link was forged whereby the houses of Heber and Joseph were indissolubly and forever joined. Helen Mar, the eldest daughter of Heber Chase and Vilate Murray Kimball, was given to the Prophet in the holy bonds of celestial marriage.

I read this, brothers and sisters, with a hope that it will enable us to appreciate what our fathers in the Priesthood have done in establishing this order of the Priesthood, this order of Celestial and Plural Marriage, and all other sacred and holy principles of the Priesthood of God. I pray that we may espouse and establish these things in our faith to the end that we may find a place with these, our fathers who have gone before, and have done so much to vouchsafe these principles and truths to us, that we may have a part and place in that Kingdom with our Father, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:210  April 6, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 6, 1969
The Crucifixion

I have greatly enjoyed and been edified with the wonderful things that have been said here today, and I trust that this spirit may continue while I am on my feet now. It came to me, brothers and sisters, that we do not sufficiently look to and appreciate enough what the Lord, our Savior, has done for us. We are not given to annual celebrations of the various holidays, events of the life of Jesus Christ, and I do not mean to say and read what I am going to do here today because it happens to be Easter.

When we reflect after the greatest event that took place, the coming of our Father with Eve, one of His wives, to commence the making of bodies for His spirit children that they might come forth and, if possible, become like Himself -- His work and glory being to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of His sons and daughters. The grand central theme that was given Him by God, His Father, was a looking forward to the central event of the life of this earth, the atonement of the Lord Jesus Christ. To this end, the blood sacrifice was instituted and all things done in the name of the Only Begotten. Even the Passover, in captivity, was instituted for the Israelites when the symbol of the sacrifice to come was given them -- the blood of the Lamb without blemish that should be shed. Now, brothers and sisters, after the great event, we are called upon to renew our covenants and to remember this great work and sacrifice through the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

I felt, brothers and sisters, that no grander description of this central event of our faith and of our lives is penned and described better than that by John Taylor in the Mediation and Atonement. I ask the Lord to bless me as I read, that the real sense and grandeur of this writing will distill upon us.

The Mediation and Atonement Chapter 21 Page 148

_The Redeemer Himself, when tabernacling in the flesh, said to His disciples on the Eastern Continent, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein." [--Luke, xviii, 16, 17.]_

We see that innocently and humbly, that their pure faith was the pure faith of a little child.

_And after His crucifixion and resurrection He repeated this same admonition to His Nephite disciples: "And again I say unto you, Ye must repent, and be baptized in my name and become as a little child, or ye can in no wise inherit the kingdom of God." [--3 Nephi, xi 38]_

Without Adam's transgression those children could not have existed; through the atonement they are placed in a state of salvation without any act of their own. These would embrace, according to the opinion of statisticians, more than one-half of the human family, who can attribute their salvation only to the mediation and atonement of the Savior. Thus, as stated elsewhere, in some mysterious, incomprehensible way, Jesus assumed the responsibility which naturally would have devolved upon Adam; but which could only be accomplished through the mediation of Himself, and by taking upon Himself their sorrows, assuming their responsibilities, and bearing their transgressions or sins. In a manner to us incomprehensible and inexplicable, he bore the weight of the sins of the whole world; not only of Adam, but of his posterity; and in doing that, opened the kingdom of heaven, not only to all believers and all who obeyed the law of God, but to more than one-half of the human family who die before they come to years of maturity, as well as to the heathen, who, having died without law, will, through His mediation, be resurrected without law, and be judged without law, and thus participate, according to their capacity, works and worth, in the blessings of His atonement.

Again, there is another phase of this subject that must not be forgotten. From the commencement of the offering of sacrifices the inferior creature had to suffer for the superior. Although it had taken no part in the act of disobedience, yet was its blood shed and its life sacrificed, thus prefiguring the atonement of the Son of God, which should eventually take place. The creature indeed was made subject to vanity not willingly, but by reason of Him who hath subjected the same in hope. Millions of such offerings were made, and hecatombs of these expiatory sacrifices were offered in view of the great event that would be consummated when Jesus should offer up Himself. With man this was simply the obedience to a command and a given law, and with him might be considered simply a pecuniary sacrifice: with the animals it was a sacrifice of life. But what is the reason for all this suffering and bloodshed, and sacrifice? We are told that "without shedding of blood is no remission" of sins. This is beyond our comprehension. Jesus had to take away sin by the sacrifice of Himself, the just for the unjust, but, previous to this grand sacrifice, these animals had to have their blood shed as types, until the great antitype should offer up Himself once for all. And as He in His own person bore the sins of all, and atoned for them by the sacrifice of Himself, so there came upon Him the weight and agony of ages and generations, the indescribable agony consequent upon this great sacrificial atonement wherein He bore the sins of the world, and suffered in His own person the consequences of an eternal law of God broken by man. Hence His profound grief, His indescribable anguish, His overpowering torture, all experienced in the submission to the eternal fiat of Jehovah and the requirements of an inexorable law.

The suffering of the Son of God was not simply the suffering of personal death; for in assuming the position that He did in making an atonement for the sins of the world He bore the weight, the responsibility, and the burden of the sins of all men, which, to us, is incomprehensible. As stated, "the Lord, your Redeemer, suffered death in the flesh; wherefore he suffereth the pains of all men;" and Isaiah says: "Surely he hath borne our griefs and carried our sorrows," also, "The Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all," and again, "He hath poured out his soul unto death, and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sins of many;" or, as it is written in the Second Book of Nephi:  "For behold, he suffereth the pains of all men; yea, the pains of every living creature, both men, women and children, who belong to the family of Adam;"  whilst in Mosiah it is declared:  "He shall suffer temptations, and pain of body, hunger, thirst and fatigue, even more than man can suffer, except it be unto death; for behold, blood cometh from every pore, so great shall be his anguish for the wickedness and abominations of his people.

Groaning beneath this concentrated load, this intense, incomprehensible pressure, this terrible exaction of Divine justice, from which feeble humanity shrank, and through the agony thus experienced sweating great drops of blood, He was led to exclaim, "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me."  He had wrestled with the superincumbent load in the wilderness, He had struggled against the powers of darkness that had been let loose upon him there; placed below all things, His mind surcharged with agony and pain, lonely and apparently helpless and forsaken, in his agony the blood oozed from His pores.  Thus rejected by His own, attacked by the powers of darkness, and seemingly forsaken by His God, on the cross He bowed beneath the accumulated load, and cried out in anguish, "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me!"  When death approached to relieve Him from His horrible position, a ray of hope appeared through the abyss of darkness with which He had been surrounded, and in a spasm of relief, seeing the bright future beyond, He said, "It is finished!  Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit."  As a God, He descended below all things, and made Himself subject to man in man's fallen condition; as a man, He grappled with all the circumstances incident to His sufferings in the world.  Anointed, indeed, with the oil of gladness above His fellows, he struggled with and overcame the powers of men and devils, of earth and hell combined; and aided by this superior power of the Godhead, He vanquished death, hell and the grave, and arose triumphant as the Son of God, the very eternal Father, and Messiah, the Prince of peace, the Redeemer, the Savior of the world; having finished and completed the work pertaining to the atonement, which His Father had given Him to do as the Son of God and the Son of man.  As the Son of Man, He endured all that it was possible for flesh and blood to
I hope, brothers and sisters, this will help us to understand and appreciate better what the Lord our God and His Son, Jesus Christ, has done for us, and that we will strive, through this sacrifice and atonement, to become like Him, for we cannot see and be with Him, or Them, unless we are like Them, which is the sum and substance of the whole matter as it pertains to the work of the Priesthood and the labors of Joseph Smith the Prophet, through whom these two great Gods restored the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, preparatory to the glorious coming of the Savior as King of kings and Lord of lords. God help us to appreciate and live according to these things, I pray, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:215  April 20, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
April 20, 1969
Why Are We Here? We Must Be Submissive

I testify to you, my dear brothers and sisters, that you have heard the truth from these previous speakers, and charge you to give heed. And I desire but to tell the truth, and pray for your faith and prayers in my behalf.

As these brethren were speaking on this all-important subject, I wondered how many of our sisters are living at plural marriage under protest. I wonder how many of the brethren are coming to the meetings that are being called and held by this order of the Priesthood, that are coming under protest. Protest seems to be the order of the day in the world, but it certainly hasn't any place where we have the truths of heaven to live and deal with as we do. I wonder, my brothers and sisters, how many of us really and truly love this work for the truth's sake, or are we here because of some other individuals to whom we have made a contact, or we are related to? Or do we truly love this work for the truth's sake and submit to this order of the Priesthood because it is able to administer life and salvation to us?

It seems to be the hardest part of a man and woman's life to submit themselves, submit themselves to God and His truth and His servants, and to render perfect obedience to the same. This is the crux of the whole matter. I thought the Apostle describes very beautifully the matter of our submission to authority and to our head as it is in Ephesians.

Ephesians 5

22. Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. As unto the Lord! He is your lord. And there is some counsel here for husbands, too.

23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.
24. Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.
25. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;
26. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,
27. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
28. So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.
29. For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:
30. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.
32. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.
33. Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

Ephesians 6

1. Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.
2. Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise;
3. That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.
4. And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.
Then he goes on concerning others. So it is a matter, brothers and sisters, of true, loving submission. And how beautiful it is in this holy principle if we love one another as it described here. If a woman will look to her husband as a bearer of the holy Priesthood through whom she can receive the Holy Ghost, and that is the only way she can, he being a righteous man; and if men would look to the Priesthood through whom they will get the Holy Ghost and the power of their Priesthood, what a glorious people this could be. Zion would be here in heart and in place, and we would be that people that the Lord could use. It is a matter of sanctification and purification; first of all, qualification. Are we qualifying ourselves for these glorious blessings?

Brother Guy spoke a real truth yesterday. He said, "There are many, many people who come saying they believe in plural marriage, saying they believe in the United Order and all of the other doctrines of the Gospel of Jesus Christ; but how sad when many of them turn away when it comes to accepting the holy Priesthood." I have been talking to several people of late saying, "I have got to do something about plural marriage. I have got to do something about the United Order," but they have turned sadly away when the testimony concerning this order of the Priesthood is given. My goodness, brothers and sisters, there are scores of groups of people who believe in these principles, but what are we doing about it where we have the holy Priesthood? This is the touchstone.

I wish, brothers and sisters, we would take inventory of ourselves and submit ourselves to our true head with love and faith. All of these things are gifts of God, and we must seek unto God for love, faith, knowledge, justice, judgment, and mercy, and become like Him; which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:218 May 4, 1969 CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
May 4, 1969
Quotes from Brigham Young Concerning Education of Children in the Family Order of Heaven

This is a wonderful occasion and a very beautiful sight to me, brothers and sisters, and I feel very keenly the desire to continue in the same spirit that has permeated this Conference, for such, I am sure it is. I delight in the association and the meeting with the saints of God, the best people on the earth today, and the only people I know of, unless the Lord has some hidden away somewhere who have the holy Priesthood in their midst to instruct and direct them in the ways of eternal life. How fortunate we should feel, brothers and sisters, that this small handful of people, as it were, and even among those who are called Latter-day Saints throughout the world today, are the only ones who have the fullness of the holy Priesthood to administer to them, together with the laws and ordinances of that Priesthood after the order of the Son of God.

I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers and that I may be able to bring a message that will add strength to us and encourage us to go on to perfection, to acquire the attributes of God through the living of the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel in our lives. I felt, brothers and sisters, to present an extension of the remarks of the graduation exercises Friday night, from Brigham Young. I pray for the Spirit of God to accompany these words of Brigham, that we may be instructed along lines that we may never have thought so much about -- principally the responsibility of mothers and wives with their husbands in the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage. Brigham Young was talking on the occasion of a board of regents of the school that was being established at that time in Salt Lake City, and he was telling them where and how true education commences and proceeds.

I wish to impress my lecture more particularly upon the minds of mothers. Am I not continually exhorting the brethren to be kind to their families, and never to ill use a human being on the earth? I exhort you, masters, fathers, and husbands, to be affectionate and kind to those you preside over. And let them be obedient, let the wife be subject to her husband, and the children to their parents. Mothers, let your minds be sanctified before the Lord, for this is the commencement, the true foundation of a proper education in your children, the beginning point to form a disposition in your offspring, that will bring honor, glory, comfort, and satisfaction to you all your life time. To the mothers who may be here today, who have not the experience they will have, and young women who are perhaps just entering upon the stage of life, let me say, (and I wish you always to keep it in remembrance, even you younger females who have newly entered into the sacred state of matrimony,) fulfil the commandments of Eloheim, fill up the measure of your creation, that the joy of your hearts may be full in the day of the resurrection, in that you have done all you could to fulfil His law, and bring to pass the purposes of the Lord. Always keep your mindspure before the Lord. You may say it is impossible, because of your temptations, but let me inquire, Do you pray? Did you pray this morning, before you left your houses? Did you pray last evening, before you laid your bodies down to rest? Did you pray that the Holy Spirit might rest upon you, so that your sleep might be sweet and refreshing? Some of you may reply, that you have children, and have not time to pay attention to this duty in the morning. Some of you may have sick families, and others of you may be afflicted in other ways, and you will offer these facts as reasons for similar neglect. In these circumstances the mind must be centred upon the Lord, and upon His work, continually. When you embark to fill up the end of your creation, never cease to seek to have the Spirit of the Lord rest upon you, that your minds may be peaceable, and as smooth as the summer breezes of heaven. Never cease a day of your life to have the Holy Ghost resting upon you. Fathers, never cease to pray that your wives may enjoy this blessing, that their infants may be endowed with the Holy Ghost, from their mother's womb. If you want to see a nation rise up full of the Holy Ghost, and of power, this is the way to bring it about. Every other duty that is obligatory upon man, woman, or child, will come in its place, and in its time and season. Remember it, brethren. Let your hearts be pure before the Lord, and never cease to do anything you can for the satisfaction and comfort of your family, that all may enjoy the comforts of the Spirit of the Lord continually. If you do not come to this, your literary attainments will not exceed those of the world.

Then, on another occasion -- if you want that citation, brothers and sisters, that is in Journal 1, page 66. And from Journal 9, page 36:

JD 9:36 Brigham Young April 7, 1861 SLC

I will now speak a little in regard to people's making themselves happy. We heard something upon that subject to-day and yesterday; and we frequently hear people preaching about heaven, paradise, and Zion; and if there is a comfort, a felicity, and good feeling, I want to say a few words about them; and I shall begin upon the doctrine so much beloved by Saint and sinner, and that is the plurality of women. The Saints like a plurality of wives, and the sinners like a plurality of men and women. I will say to the sisters that I have heard but very few women, and not a great many men, ever talk sensibly upon the plurality of wives. When they begin to talk about it, they exhibit, almost without an exception, passion instead of principle. Were we to appeal to passions of the people, we should promote the doctrine of a plurality of men and of women. But when we address ourselves to the Saints of the Most High God, it is very different and in a different light. It is for my sisters to be mothers of holy men and holy women -- to receive and conceive in the name and by the power of the Holy-Ghost to bring forth their fruits to the praise and honour of the God of heaven. But what are the people doing here? "I want another wife," and almost universally passion is exhibited instead of principle.

If the plurality of wives is to pander to the low passions of men and women, the sooner it is abolished the better. "How far would you go in abolishing it?" I would say, if the Lord should reveal that it is his will to go so far as to become a Shaking Quaker, Amen to it, and let the sexes have no connection. If so far as for a man to have but one wife, let it be so. The word and will of the Lord is what I want -- the will and mind of God. He has revealed his mind and will. The time is coming when the Lord is going to raise up a holy nation. He will bring up a royal Priesthood upon the earth, and he has introduced a plurality of wives for that express purpose, and not to gratify lustful passion in the least. I would rather take my valise in my hand to-day, and never see a wife or a child again, and preach the Gospel until I go into the grave, than to live as I do, unless God commands it. I never entered into the order of plurality of wives to gratify passion. And were I now asked whether I desired and wanted another wife, my reply would be, It should be one by whom the Spirit will bring forth noble children. I am almost sixty years old; and if I now live for passion, I pray the Lord Almighty to take my life from the earth.

How will you be happy? Love the Giver more than the gift. Delight yourselves in your duties, mothers. Here are the middle-aged and the young. I am now almost daily sealing young girls to men of age and experience. Love your duties, sisters. Are you sealed to a good man? Yes, to a man of God. It is for you to bear fruit and bring forth, to the praise of God, the spirits that are born in yonder heavens and are to take tabernacles on the earth. You have the privilege of forming tabernacles.
for those spirits, instead of their being brought into this wicked world, that God may have a royal Priesthood, a royal people, on the earth. That is what plurality of wives is for, and not to gratify lustful desires. Sisters, do you wish to make yourselves happy? Then what is your duty? It is for you to bear children, in the name of the Lord, that are full of faith and the power of God, -- to receive, conceive, bear, and bring forth in the name of Israel's God, that you may have the honour of being the mothers of great and good men -- of kings, princes, and potentates that shall yet live on the earth and govern and control the nations. Do you look forward to that? or are you tormenting yourselves by thinking that your husbands do not love you? I would not care whether they loved a particle or not; but I would cry out, like one of old, in the joy of my heart, "I have got a man from the Lord!" "Hallelujah! I am a mother -- I have born an image of God!" Let your prayers ascend to God, and that continually, that he will overshadow the child by the power of the Holy Ghost before and after its birth -- that the Holy Ghost may attend it continually. The mother should inquire what her duty is. It is to teach her children holiness, prayer to God, and to trust in Him. Teach them the holy religion and the commandments that are calculated to sanctify the people and bring them into the presence of our Father and God. But no; too often it is passion. If my passion is served, I am in heaven. The fire will have to burn them up. We must live by principle; and if we do we shall attain to perfection -- to being crowned with crowns of glory, immortality, and eternal lives. I would rather be purified here than to live ten thousand years to attain the same point in another existence. The man that enters into this order by the prompting of passion, and not with a view to honour God and carry out his purposes, the curse of God will rest upon him, and that which he seems to have will be taken from him and given to those that act according to principle. Remember it.

Sisters, do not ask whether you can make yourselves happy, but whether you can do your husband's will, if he is a good man. Teach your children; for you are their guardians, to act as father and mother to them until they are out of your care. The teachings and examples of our mothers have formed, to a great extent, our characters and directed our lives. This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood,

What? Sisters act by the power of the Priesthood? Yes, by that which their husbands hold, acting in concert with them, being subject to them and receiving the gift and power of the Holy Ghost through that Priesthood, which is the only way you ever will, that Priesthood which he bears, if he is a good man. And remember this, brethren, all through this, that is the condition -- if he is a good man.

This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood, to direct the child until it is of a proper age, and then hand it over to the husband and father, and into the hands of God, with such faith and such love of virtue and truth, and with such love of God and its parents, that that child can never suppose that it is out of the hand and from under the control of the parent. Do not call it "mine." Let your maxim be, "This is not mine," whether you have one child or a dozen. "It is not mine, but the Lord has seen fit to let me bear the souls of the children of men. It is from my Father and God, and I will do my duty and hand it over to him," and have that faith that the child can never wring itself out of the hands of a good father and mother -- can never stray away, -- no, never. That is the privilege of mothers. It is you who guide the affections and feelings of the child. It is the mothers, after all, that rule the nations of the earth. They form, dictate, and direct the minds of statesmen, and the feelings, course, life, notions, and sentiments of the great and the small, of kings, rulers, governors, and of the people in general.

Brigham Young says in another place, "Education commences at conception," and if the Holy Ghost overshadows her, to direct her in the course of the life of that child in embryo and afterwards, we shall indeed then be able to raise up a royal Priesthood, a holy people to fill up the city of Zion and to become like God. Can't we catch this vision of pure and holy families of God in the holy plural order by which we may become like Him; which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Salt Lake City, Utah
May 18, 1969
Be Grateful and Obedient

We have had a wonderful time, brothers and sisters. The time is well spent and far spent. I would to God, brothers and sisters, we appreciated what we have, and would act like it, and if we would live these sacred and holy principles that are so precious in the sight of God, so precious in the sight of the righteous and the pure in heart. Now let us, brothers and sisters, rally around and be one, rally around President Johnson and this order of the Priesthood. Let us dummy-up, keep our counsels, and be quick now to follow the counsels that have been given here today, and become that people that God can bless and endow, call into solemn assemblies in the temples of our God. Let us be worthy of these sacred and holy blessings that we may be used to redeem Zion, become a holy and a righteous people, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:225  June 8, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
June 8, 1969
Gratitude; Let Go of Children When They Get Married; Hands Off Other Men's Families; We Must Become One

Forgive me. I am so overwhelmed, brothers and sisters, in the love I have for my brethren, President Johnson and all of the others of my co-laborers in this order of the Priesthood, and those who have gone before them, for the sacrifices and the labors that they have performed and given for the advancement of the work of God, the covenants and laws of the holy Priesthood, for the Family Order of Heaven. I am overwhelmed, brothers and sisters, at how lightly we treat them. These are giants in the land, these men who have been called by revelation to perform the labors they have.

I am overwhelmed with gratitude for the life and labors of President Barlow, under whose direction I came to a knowledge of this work; and of President Musser, who had more directly to do with that process. I know as I know I live who they are and what they are, and it breaks my heart sometimes to recall how those men were treated, and how President Johnson is very often treated and handled lightly.

Brothers and sisters, if there is one thing this people needs, it is gratitude, gratitude to God for sending these men, for revealing the truths of heaven to us through them. And sisters, you should be feeling the same way towards your husbands. What does it mean, in the light of what President Musser has depicted to us today, for a woman to have a good man, to be sealed to a good man, in the world we have around us today? A good man would be more precious than gold, it was told us, and harder to find. Be grateful for what you have, sisters, for your husband and children. Brethren and sisters, be grateful for the way the Lord has looked after us and provided for us, provided the truths of heaven, examples in their own lives of what can and should be done, that we may be blessed and exalted and sustained. I was glad to hear some of the other remarks that President Musser made as to our families, our in-laws, and I feel impressed to make some particular remarks concerning these things at this time.

Mothers, and some fathers, why don't you let your daughters go? Why don't you let your sons go to be the head of their families, and let your daughters be subject to their husbands, and stop interfering? That husband to whom you have given a daughter has as much right for the direction of his family as you had in yours. Why do you still call on them by phone, wondering why they do not come and see you? Let a man be the head of his family -- I mean the mothers of men, and sometimes fathers -- let them be the heads of their families, and stop interfering. I suppose this is one condition that is holding us back at this time, if I may be so bold as to say so.

There is a new order of things, brothers and sisters, that the Lord has made manifest to us, and I hope you are catching the picture; and that is that He is now requiring, as one of the final steps of the redemption of this people and of Zion, that these families get together and unite and be one under their head, and forever say good-bye to the spirit of monogamy, of Babylon that goes with it. I know this as I know I live. I know that the Lord is requiring this of me.

I recall on one occasion, and I suppose there are some here who may have remembered, when we were meeting at Brother Dockstader's in Murray, I called upon the people to "hands off" my family. Hands off my family. And every man sitting here today should say the same thing to those who are interfering in their families. A man has that jurisdiction. He is the bearer of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood. God has given him women, or a woman if he has not had others, to bring her up in the light of the Gospel, to make her like himself as he perfects his life and goes along the paths of obedience to the laws of the holy Priesthood.

Sisters, you should be glad and happy that your husband is in the line of his duty, supporting and sustaining the Priesthood over him. This should be your greatest joy, instead of asking, "Where is he, and why isn't he here? What is he doing?" You should be glad if he is sustaining the Priesthood, and working to that end yourself. I think every man bearing the Priesthood here today should look into his own situation and find out how many and what in-laws are interfering with his wives and his children, and call upon them to lay their hands off, so that you can go forward and stand by this order of the Priesthood.

Brothers and sisters, we are not going to be able to live the United Order as a people until, in our individual families, we have the spirit of oneness, of love for the truth for the truth's sake, every man standing in his place honored of God, in the confidence of the brethren holding the Priesthood over him, raising up a family in the light and truth of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He is supreme in that jurisdiction as head of a family, and until God has enough men for that same kind of dignity and love of the truth, and firm resolution to obey all of the laws of the Priesthood, laboring together under President Johnson, we will not make the grade.

We wonder why God does not seem to give more revelations, brothers and sisters. Do you know why? Because we are not one. He is giving them. They are being poured out from month to month upon this people, but what are we doing about it? Maybe you are thinking of something more spectacular. God works quietly, and when He sets His hand to cut off the wicked and to have the sword of truth cut both ways among this people to divide them, we will not wonder whether there is revelation or not.

That division is coming among this people, and I am bold to say so because President Johnson has said it. Which side will you be on? Where will you be found? The power of God, brothers and sisters, is found where there is perfect righteousness, where there is righteousness in a family. There is where the power of God is, and if we do not have it among us in our own families, it is because we are not righteous enough, we are not keeping the commandments perfectly enough, we are not standing by the Priesthood perfectly enough. Now, the Lord bless us, I pray, my dear brothers and sisters, to this end, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
June 22, 1969
We Are a Part of God Through Priesthood;
We Must Be One to Accomplish God's Purposes;
Faith; Sacrifice; Lecture Six

I pray, my brothers and sisters, that the Holy Spirit will give me strength and utterance to fulfill this assignment, for I feel very keenly the responsibility as I stand before my good friends, the saints of God; and I would be but an instrument in the hands of God in serving and blessing this people, and my family.

Sometimes I am overwhelmed by the responsibility of raising up my family as I look upon them from day to day, from class to class. And I marvel at what God has wrought, and the blessings that have been bestowed upon me and mine, feeling very keenly, being very grateful from the bottom of my heart for the love and association I have with my brethren in the holy Priesthood. I speak not only of this Council, but all of you bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, and of the Aaronic Priesthood.

I am keenly aware, my brothers and sisters, of the revelation which has not been made known to us in detail, referred to by Orson Pratt on one occasion, when he asked the question or questions: "What is the name of God?" "Ahman." "What is the name of the Son of God?" "Son Ahman." "What is the name of man?" "Sons Ahman." In each case, he referred to the Son of God, the greatest of the parts of God; and likewise, Sons Ahman, the lesser of the parts of God. I realize, my brothers and sisters, this is how Priesthood and the power of the Holy Ghost works, knowing most assuredly that God lives, that He is our Father Adam, Michael; that He is the Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, born in the meridian of time to bring about the atonement and redemption of His brothers and sisters, making the great sacrifice by which we might come again into the presence of our Father.

So brethren, you bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, if you will only realize that you are a part of God by virtue of your Priesthood. We are a part of God as we get, keep, and have evolve upon us the attributes of God, which is the Holy Spirit, the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of God, or whatever we may choose to call it. And I testify unto you that Joseph Smith is next to Jesus Christ as the greatest of the parts of God, standing in that great and mighty office of the Holy Ghost, the Witness and Testator of the Son of God and the Father. Do we see, my dear brothers and sisters, then, how glorious are the truths that have been vouchsafed to us through the revelations of the mind and will of God through Joseph in this day, the last and greatest dispensation in which we are privileged to live as the saints and the people of God?

Oh, how we ought to be one. And I want to tell you in the name of the Lord, unless we are one, truly become one, we will not accomplish the work, and be part of that work and the instruments in the hands of God to bring about the redemption of Zion. Zion will not be redeemed on any other principle than the oneness of the saints of God through His holy Priesthood, through which each and every one of us will and may obtain the gifts and powers of the Holy Spirit. So if we are a part of God, brothers and sisters, let us act it.

I thought I might go again to the principle of faith, brothers and sisters, with these remarks as a background. We come to knowledge and understanding of who God is, what His attributes are, His relation to us, as I have tried to describe here to you this morning. The first five Lectures on Faith are taken up in these things that I have briefly mentioned.

The Godhead is God the Father, His Son Jesus Christ, and the Holy Spirit, which is Their mind, by which Their glory and power and majesty are manifested in the world and onto His children; and especially to those who have chosen the better part -- the blood of Israel, the chosen ones, because of their faith and faithfulness before they ever came here. We profess to be those chosen ones that God has reserved in this day and time to bring about His great and holy purposes, and how great we know not.

The next thing that we have brought before us is our course of life. And the fundamental basis of this all-important thing, and this principle is the glorious principle of sacrifice. Brothers and sisters, we are told in one part, that as the blessings that the saints may enjoy are, so it is according to their faith. I think I would best read it.

Lecture Seven

17. ...through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it.

Then he goes on to describe the various situations in which faith played such a great part. So, according to our faith, so shall our blessings be. Are we enjoying the blessings that we desire so much? I say we are not. Why, brothers and sisters? Simply because we have not made the necessary sacrifice or sacrifices. And not having made them, our course is not pleasing to God. It is most unfortunate. I suppose we have it too easy, too much prosperity. It has been the course of the history of the saints of God, from the time of Adam to now, that when they had prosperous and easy times, their faith became weak, they lost it, and were turned over to the buffetings of Satan. How many of us are going to fall prey to this?

Again, brothers and sisters, let us consider some of the things connected with this principle, which I think we might read about.

Lecture Six

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint; for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to His revelations, receive the truth in the love of it, and submit themselves to be guided and directed by His will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven,

Or knowing that their course is pleasing to God,

4. ...and of their having embraced the order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in Him, necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

Therefore, brothers and sisters, it requires an absolute and complete dedication of our lives, and the sacrifice of all earthly things, to know that we are the favorites of heaven. How can we know that we are the favorites of heaven, simply by having embraced these things alone, if we have not made the necessary sacrifice and remade our character into the exact character of God? What power we could have if we knew that we were like God.

5. For a man to lay down his all, his character and reputation, his honor, and applause, his good name among men, his houses, his lands, his brothers and sisters, his wife and children, and even his own life also -- counting all things but filth and dross for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ -- requires more than mere belief or supposition that he is doing the will of God; but actual knowledge, realizing that, when these sufferings are ended, he will enter into eternal rest, and be a partaker of the glory of God.

This brings to mind such great characters as Enoch, as Abel, who were able to testify that they were accepted of God. Was this a matter of conceit? I should say not. Why? Because they acknowledged that it was the power and the gifts of God that made them so. When we know that our course is pleasing to Him, we are the most humble of men and women, acknowledging Him as the Giver of these things, and that He has made us so, and that it is not our own power and gifts that have done it. Why is this, brothers and sisters -- the same principle I mentioned at first -- we are a part of God? Because we have His Spirit in us, upon us, as our constant companion, whose attributes are the attributes of God.

7. Let us here observe, that a religion that does not require the sacrifice of all things never has power sufficient to produce the faith necessary unto life and salvation; for, from the first existence of man, the faith necessary unto the enjoyment of life and salvation never could be obtained without the sacrifice of all earthly things. It was through this sacrifice, and this only, that God has ordained that men should enjoy eternal life; now that is a simple proposition, brothers and sisters. This only, the sacrifice of all earthly things, by doing this only can we become like Him, by which we obtain the faith necessary to accomplish it.

7. ...and it is through the medium of the sacrifice of all earthly things that men do actually know that they are doing the things that are well pleasing in the sight of God.

And brothers and sisters, I want to assure you that it is a matter of revelation to come to know this; by the Spirit of God again, which is one of its greatest gifts. If one can be said to be greater than another, that would be it. Salvation comes by revelation.

7. ...When a man has offered in sacrifice all that he has for the truth's sake, not even withholding his life, and believing before God that he has been called to make this sacrifice because he seeks to do his will, he does know, most assuredly, that God does and will accept his sacrifice and offering, and that he has not, nor will not seek his face in vain. Under these circumstances, then, he can obtain the faith necessary for him to lay hold on eternal life.

8. It is in vain for persons to fancy to themselves that they are heirs with those, or can be heirs with them, who have offered their all in sacrifice, and by this means obtain faith in God and favor with him so as to obtain eternal life, unless they, in like manner, offer unto him the same sacrifice, and through that offering obtain the knowledge that they are accepted of him.

9. It was in offering sacrifices that Abel, the first martyr, obtained knowledge that he was accepted of God. And from the days of righteous Abel to the present time, the knowledge that men have that they are accepted in the sight of God is obtained by offering sacrifice.

10. Those, then, who make the sacrifice, will have the testimony that their course is pleasing in the sight of God; and those who have this testimony will have faith to lay hold on eternal life, and will be enabled, through faith, to endure unto the end, and receive the crown that is laid up for them that love the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ.

12. But those who have not made this sacrifice to God do not know that the course which they pursue is well pleasing in his sight; for whatever may be their belief or their opinion, it is a matter of doubt and uncertainty in their mind; and where doubt and uncertainty are there faith is not, nor can it be. For doubt and faith do not exist in the same person at the same time; so that persons whose minds are under doubts and fears cannot have unshaken confidence;

What a powerful deterrent is the feeling of guilt. With guilt there is doubt. And so we must become innocent, brothers and sisters.

12. ...For doubt and faith do not exist in the same person at the same time; so that persons whose minds are under doubts and fears cannot have unshaken confidence; and where unshaken confidence is not there faith is weak; and where faith is weak there persons will not be able to contend against all the opposition, tribulations, and afflictions which they will have to encounter in order to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ Jesus; and they will grow weary in their minds, and the adversary will have power over them and destroy them.
What are the sacrifices, brothers and sisters? A broken heart and a contrite spirit, to begin with. This is all that the Lord requires. In its train it will bring a sacrifice of all other earthly things, whether they be means, goods of this world, family and friends, or whatever. But most of all, the sacrifice of this old man of sin, this worldly character that we have been raised up in. This is the greatest and most important sacrifice that we can make. By doing so we get the power of the Holy Ghost and its attributes, which will make us like God. Do you see how sacrifice gives us the faith necessary to lay hold on eternal life?

Now, let us apply some of these principles to our daily lives, brothers and sisters. What sacrifices are each and every one of us making today? Do we feel like we have made them all, that there is no more to make? It is a continuous thing, believe me. Do you think that you have done all there is to do? I have not. Are you tried, brothers and sisters, by one another? You sister wives, are you tried with one another? Are you not living in love together? Do you know how you can overcome that? Make a sacrifice for her or him that you may have offended, or you think has offended you. Do something for them. Pray for them. That is the quickest and easiest way to overcome feelings. Make a sacrifice for and in behalf of them. Give up something for them.

Are we doing all that is required under the United Order? Brethren, are we making sacrifices above and beyond tithing? That is the least that God will accept, the very least. And it is the least part of the United Order, and it is a part of it. The Lord requires our surplus to go into the storehouse for the poor, for the building of churches, and the labors of the Presidency of the Priesthood. What are we doing, brothers and sisters, beyond the bare minimums? I do not call that sacrifice.

I am reminded of one of the grand stories that President Johnson tells us, of his marvelous experiences in Arizona, in 1953 and 1954, when our sisters, mothers, wives and children were kidnapped and placed in strange homes, strange surroundings. The Welfare Department of the state of Arizona was providing a certain amount of means to the would-be foster homes, but it was required that thirty dollars a month be paid into each of those homes for the sustaining of those families, by President Johnson. This was required of him. He went and made the necessary payments to the Welfare Department. That is where it was paid, and they in turn paid it to the foster homes. But, do you know, any number of those sisters saved and sacrificed and privately handed over to President Johnson that thirty dollars a month, as hard a time as they were having. God bless them.

This is the spirit of the principle I am trying to talk about and bring to our attention. What are we doing? Sliding along, most of us, just sliding along, doing the barest minimums, if that. The spirit of sacrifice, brothers and sisters, must evolve upon us every day of our lives; otherwise we are not sufficiently humble. In humility there is strength. It is a strange thing that the very nature of this is such that when we say we have humility, we have lost it. Why? Because we are not giving the honor and the credit to God. We are not acknowledging Him as the Giver of that gift. Let us love the Giver more than the gift, brothers and sisters. Let us learn to more perfectly make a sacrifice of our feelings, and of our means, and of our ways of life that are worldly, that we may draw together under the power of the holy Priesthood which directs us, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:236  July 20, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
July 20, 1969
Doctrine and Covenants Section 4

D.& C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.
2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.
3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;
4. For behold the field is white already to harvest; and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.
6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.
7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.
I am grateful, brothers and sisters, for this beautiful day, for my association with this work and people, and I know this order of the Priesthood. I am especially grateful for the Priesthood, brothers and sisters, which is life itself as far as I am concerned, and that of my family. I mean Priesthood in all of its administrations and ramifications as it affects our lives. I am grateful for the life and labors of President Johnson, who is such an inspiration and an example to us in the living of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. We should all be grateful for this, brothers and sisters. As I look upon this great and good man, I see one who has overcome, and this is the key word for us, if we will consider it.

I happened to run across, very recently, a sermon in which a revelation to John the Beloved was recited or taken as a text, and, if I may, as I feel impressed this morning, I would like to read a couple of verses of it on this subject.

Revelations 3

21. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.

Revelations 3

12. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.

Involved in this, of course, brothers and sisters, is having our calling and election made sure. If we are not conscious of this grand and glorious principle which the Prophet Joseph Smith spoke so much about in his sermons and in his writings, we should be. This is the aim and object of our existence, if we will realize it, for the Lord Jesus Christ has held out to us, His brothers and sisters, as the gift of His Father and our Father, this glorious promise and blessing, that as we overcome death, hell, and the devil and all that that implies, we can become joint heirs with Jesus Christ, heirs of God to all that He has. But I think we treat these things lightly. We lose sight of this glorious promise and blessing, and we need to have it before us every day of our lives. And this is not assuming or usurping or aspiring. This is simply clinging on to the promise of God that was given us as we left our sphere of existence before we came here, that we should have this blessing if we would but overcome death, hell, and the devil as we work out our salvation and our probation here upon this earth.

Now, what have we got to overcome, brothers and sisters? Ourselves, the earth in us. All things earthly must be sacrificed, given up and done away, until we have as our constant companion the Holy Ghost and all of the attributes of God, which this brings. I am always reminded in this connection of the glorious statement on this subject by Joseph Smith. He speaks of two Comforters and how we may obtain them.

TPJS Page 149

There are two Comforters spoken of. One is the Holy Ghost, the same as given on the day of Pentecost, and that all Saints receive after faith, repentance, and baptism. This first Comforter or Holy Ghost has no other effect than pure intelligence.

Don't we want pure intelligence, brothers and sisters, in order to lay hold on eternal life? It is the only way we can.

It is more powerful in expanding the mind, enlightening the understanding, and storing the intellect with present knowledge, of a man who is of the literal seed of Abraham, than one that is a Gentile,

Here is an important point, brothers and sisters. We should be grateful that we have been gathered together under the Priesthood as the sons and daughters of Abraham, Isaac, and Father Jacob, or Israel, and that we have been reserved unto this time to come forth and do the work that we are called upon to do.

...though it may not have half as much visible effect upon the body; for as the Holy Ghost falls upon one of the literal seed of Abraham, it is calm and serene; and his whole soul and body are only exercised by the pure spirit of intelligence; while the effect of the Holy Ghost upon a Gentile, is to purge out the old blood, and make him actually of the seed of Abraham.
So, we must be of Abraham.

That man that has none of the blood of Abraham (naturally) must have a new creation by the Holy Ghost. In such a case, there may be more of a powerful effect upon the body, and visible to the eye, than upon an Israelite, while the Israelite at first might be far before the Gentile in pure intelligence.

This gives us some understanding of the nature of the Holy Ghost and how it acts upon us. So we can see, particularly, that, as children of Abraham, we do not have to have some great manifestation of the power of the Holy Ghost at baptism or any other time. The Holy Ghost has the effect of bringing calmness, sereneness, pure intelligence upon us, if we only have it. Now, as to the other Comforter:

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation. After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God, and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted.

When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John,* * *

Here are the pertinent verses. There is so much meaning in these verses, if we will understand it.

"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;

"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. * *
"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Brothers and sisters, apply this principle to the line of Priesthood that we labor under. We cannot come to God except through those whom He appoints, calls, and chooses. We say we love President Johnson; but do we do the things he tells us, the words that he gives us as the word of God? If we do not, we cannot say truly that we love him.

Sisters, you say you love your husbands. Do you? Then keep his words. Keep his words. Brethren, keep the words of President Johnson, and you will be keeping the words of God and His Son, Jesus Christ. Let us see how we really love. This is the measure of our love, brothers and sisters, or the words of Jesus have no meaning or importance to us.

"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions -- Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.

Let me say in passing, brothers and sisters, beware of one who boasts that he has had the ministration or the presence of the Savior. He has no business mentioning it if it ever happened; but he will not mention it or talk about it or preach about it, unless he has had a false and delusive spirit or vision. Follow not after them, for such deceptions will be practiced upon us before we are through. The administration of the Second Comforter is for that man and him alone, and between him and Jesus Christ. This is the thing that he has been laboring and overcoming for.

Overcoming, brothers and sisters, then, is overcoming our weaknesses, this worldly character, and attaining unto the full attributes of God, being filled with a fullness of His Spirit, as Joseph said in the Lectures. When we arrive at this point, we will have a fullness of His Spirit, being filled with it all in all, and partake of His glory. Now, how do we come by this? Through the Spirit of revelation, and Joseph speaks of it in this wise:

TPJS Page 151

_The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon;_ How wonderful to have this gift every day of our lives, to be directed by it!

...(i.e.,) _those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus._

That is the modus operandi -- the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, which, if we obtain a fullness of it, we are filled and have all of the attributes of God, a perfect knowledge of Him; faith unto salvation, faith in Him, justice, and judgment, mercy, and truth, and above all, love, that perfect love, which will lead us into the presence of God when we are like Him, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:242  August 17, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
August 17, 1969
Faith; Lecture Five

This is a beautiful sight, brothers and sisters, and I am delighted to meet with the saints of God, to add my voice of testimony to the goodness of God to us and of the true nature of His work and His Priesthood in the earth. I am grateful for my association with this work and people, and for all of the experiences that God has given me and mine, and I desire to build up the Kingdom of God and establish this order of Priesthood in the earth.

One of the grandest truths that has ever been promulgated to the children of men is the knowledge of God, the true and living God, who is Adam, our Father. Brigham Young tells us He is the only God with whom we have to do. He is the Father of our spirits in the eternal worlds before we came here, and He is the Father of these mortal tabernacles that we inhabit as His sons and daughters in mortality. I am grateful for this knowledge above all other things, and to know of His character and attributes, and that the grand plan which He has given us from the eternal worlds is that we, His sons and daughters, can become like Him, even Gods, the sons of God and the daughters of God, priests and kings unto God, if you please.

Now, brethren and sisters, we fall very short of our goals, I am sure. But every day that we live is a living miracle, as far as I am concerned, as we try to abide these truths, the highest laws of the Gospel of Jesus Christ -- Celestial Marriage and the holy Economic Order of Heaven, the United Order. These are the crowning principles of the Gospel that we are called upon to live, the true Family Order of Heaven and the true Economic Order of Heaven; and how glorious the knowledge that things heavenly are patterns of things here.

We are called upon and required, if we are to come back into the presence of God, to obey those same laws and ordinances instituted in the eternal worlds before we came here. I cannot help but go to the teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith in this connection, in Lecture Five, which I would like to read. These Lectures on Faith were given by the Prophet Joseph Smith to a school of Elders, School of the Prophets, in 1834, beginning in Kirtland.

Lecture Five

2. There are two personages who constitute the great, matchless, governing, and supreme power over all things, by whom all things were created and made, that are created and made, whether visible or invisible, whether in heaven, on earth, or in the earth, under the earth, or throughout the immensity of space. They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness,

And this Being Father Adam.

2. ...the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be.

This because of His greater capacity, being literally the Son of God in the flesh; the Son offering Himself in the grand Council in the heavens before the world was ready to be inhabited, offering to be a propitiation for the sons of man and to bring man back into the presence of God after He should fall, in order that we might live.

2. ...But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin;

So you see, through the principles of the Gospel -- faith, repentance, paying the penalty for any sins committed -- we can go back clean into the presence of God, as Jesus did.

2. ...and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

And issues forth from Himself, may I add, our Father in heaven.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one;

Different personages, the Father and the Son, personages of tabernacle as we are; glorified, immortal Beings, the spirit a personage of spirit, being the mind of the Father and Son.

2. ...the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;

Think of being joint heirs with Jesus Christ of all that the Father has. This is the glorious plan of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Now these are the callings whereunto we are called, brethren and sisters. The gift of the Holy Ghost by the laying on of hands of Priesthood to us is the grandest gift of life, next to life itself. It is for us to cultivate this Spirit, to gain the skill to such an extent that it shall be our constant guide and companion and a scepter of power to us until we become like God, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:246  September 7, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
September 7, 1969
Prayer; The Test of Ease and Wealth

Brother Musser suggested I should speak, which I will do with the help of God. I do not want to say a word to this people that is not directed by the Holy Ghost, for that is the power that teaches us.

The Holy Ghost is the only means by which we can say that Jesus is the Christ, that Michael is our Father and God, and that the character that acts in the office of the Holy Ghost is indeed the Witness and Testator of the Father and Son. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son. The fullness of that great and glorious gift should be the great object of our existence. The gifts of the Spirit -- revelation, discernment, power in the Priesthood -- these are the precious ingredients of this great work, directed by our Father and God through His servants whom He has called and chosen. This power comes down from the head. It is a beautiful and glorious principle that we have taught to us, so simple, so beautiful, and so perfect in its application to our salvation and progress in the work of God. We should be so alert and so expert, brothers and sisters, that we offend not the Spirit of God, and thus lose it and begin to lose our way, that we should be praying always, as the Lord says.

Faith, brothers and sisters, is the exertion of the mind. I cannot think of a more effective way to exert and apply this power, for it is a principle of power, but through the ability to pray. The prayer of a faithful man, a faithful woman, and a humble child, availeth much. I think this is the grandest way to build our testimonies, brothers and sisters, to learn how to pray, and then to bring our prayers to a fruition through obedience to the Gospel of Jesus Christ, drawing near to the Lord through His chosen servants, and those who lead us in our families, and among our people as a whole.

We have been a blessed people, brothers and sisters, far beyond what we deserve, I feel. But yet I feel that we are presently going through one of the most trying experiences, trials, greatest trials of our faith that this people has been called upon to go through. And I will tell you why. We have got it too easy. Prosperity can kill the faith of a people quicker than any other thing. The Lord has kept the dogs of the law away from us for quite a considerable length of time now. Brothers and sisters, he who can hold on to his faith in times of prosperity and peace is the one that the Lord is going to use in the redemption of Zion and the building up of His Kingdom, and to bring to pass His purposes in the earth. We have more to overcome now than we ever had in our lives. The Lord is going to bless and use those who overcome, who have the power of faith and the strength to endure. This is an endurance contest, brothers and sisters, and I am afraid we do not realize it enough.

The devil is raging as he has never done before; but he is doing it through the most subtle, the most unnoticeable ways that he can possibly do it, and this is where we may be trapped. Great show of his power and miracles may be in the offing; I am sure they are. And our faith is going to be tried to the core through this means.

Our faith is being tried through the Priesthood, if you please, as well as by prosperity and money. President Barlow used to tell how these last great trials of the faith of the saints should come upon us, and they are here, I want to testify to you. In times of peace, when we are not called upon to labor too hard, we fall back upon our own powers and resources rather than relying upon the Lord and His Spirit.

The message that I am trying to get over to us, brothers and sisters, is that we humble ourselves and make a sacrifice, the great sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit. Get down on our knees and pray mightily. Call upon the Lord in mighty prayer for His Holy Spirit, that we may obtain a fullness of it, all of its gifts and powers and blessings; that brethren presiding over families, large and small, get and keep this Spirit, this power, in the direction of their wives and children. Without it we must fail.

We have bestowed upon us the gift and power of the holy Priesthood. The only way that that Priesthood can be exercised is through the Holy Ghost. Heber C. Kimball, we are often called upon to repeat. He said, "How will you get the Spirit of God except you get it through us?" speaking of Brigham at the head, and those of his associates who were laboring with him to bless and redeem the saints. I am sure you understand these things, brothers and sisters, and I am sure the Lord requires that they be repeated, that we forget them not and that we go on unto perfection.
I am grateful for the testimony of my fathers, my earthly fathers, for their teachings. And I am grateful for my fathers in the Priesthood -- John Y. Barlow and all of the others down to the present. They are indeed fathers to me, and the source of my blessings; and I cannot go before the judgment bar of God without passing them first, and having their approval and approbation. I do not expect ever to get to that place without first getting past John Y. Barlow and the others, in their place and turn.

You wives must understand that you are going to have to be brought before the bar of God by your husband. He, being a faithful man, will have to resurrect you. I expect to be resurrected by those who have presided over me, which I pray may be in the first, the resurrection by which we come up to see the face of God and be one with Him.

Brothers and sisters, I plead with you today to pray more effectively, with greater faith in your prayers. Sacrifice all that we have that is contrary to the gifts and powers of the Spirit. Learn to love and live with one another in perfect peace, that we may have celestial families, the Family Order of Heaven in our homes; and that we may grow as a people in power, understanding, and in love; that we may be owned and used by our Father in heaven, which I pray for in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I appreciate, brothers and sisters, being with you again today, and especially the good words that have been given us this morning. I desire with all my heart to abide in these things. And I desire, brothers and sisters, above all, to continue this spirit and edify you, my friends of this great work and of the Priesthood, which we have been called and in which we are laboring today. I love this work and Priesthood more than anything else in the world. I love my brethren more than I love woman. This is life to me, brothers and sisters. The Spirit of God, the Holy Ghost, is the means by which you and I may be able to perfect ourselves, along with one another, in gaining celestial life, eternal life.

Joseph Smith -- I cannot help but call him to mind in all of these things -- the great work and labor that was performed by Joseph Smith, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost, as Witness for God, the Father, and the Son, and what he has vouchsafed to us in this great and last dispensation. His memory is very dear to me. I know I have not seen him or met him in this life, but I know I knew him before I came here; and I long to see him again, to be worthy to be in his presence, and thus in the presence of the Savior and our Father Michael. I know that I cannot get to that place or condition without the approbation of my brethren who preside over me today, and who have in times past, those who have preceded.

I was thinking as I was sitting here this morning, how much we need them, and how we could be blessed by them if we were worthy enough to be called together and instructed by such as Lorin Woolley, John Y. Barlow, and all others who I know have an interest in our welfare, and the growth and progress of this work, in fulfilling the will and the laws of God.

When I think of Joseph, I think of John Taylor. How much I appreciate the great and marvelous work that he did and what he was reserved to perform in this special dispensation of which we are a part. I think of John with Joseph in Carthage and how he learned who Joseph really is, what he was at that time, and how John Taylor was called to go on the underground, away from the influences of even his brethren in the leadership of the Church, where he could perform this last great act of his mission and work in the earth, setting up this dispensation under Jesus and Joseph who visited him that glorious night. If that didn't happen, brethren and sisters, we have no business here. But I know that God is fulfilling His promise that this work and Priesthood should never be thrown down or given to another people, and it is for us to carry on. I love the words and the poetry of John Taylor, and feel like I would like to read the words he wrote in memory of Joseph the Prophet, in what he called "The Seer".

The Seer

1. The Seer, the Seer, Joseph, the Seer!
   I'll sing of the Prophet ever dear;
   His equal now cannot be found
   By searching the wide world around.
   With Gods he soared in the realms of day,
   And men he taught the heavenly way.
   The earthly Seer! the heavenly Seer!
   I love to dwell on his memory dear;
   The chosen of God and the friend of man,
   He brought the priesthood back again;
   He gazed on the past and the future, too,
   And opened the heavenly world to view.

2. Of noble seed, of heavenly birth,
   He came to bless the sons of earth;
   With keys by the Almighty given,
   He opened the full rich stores of heaven;
   O'er the world that was wrapped in sable night,
   Like the sun he spread his golden light.
   He strove, O how he strove to stay
   The stream of crime in its reckless way!
   With a mighty hand and a noble aim,
   He urged the wayward to reclaim:
   'Mid foaming billows of angry strive,
   He stood at the helm of the ship of life.

3. The Saints, the Saints, his only pride!
   For them he lived, for them he died;
   Their joys were his, their sorrows too.
He loved the Saints; he loved Nauvoo.
Unchanged in death, with a Savior's love,
He pleads their cause in the courts above.
The Seer, the Seer! Joseph the Seer!
O how I love his memory dear!
The just and wise, the pure and free,
A father he was and is to me.
Let fiends now rage, in their dark hour --
No matter, he is beyond their power.
4. He's free! he's free! the Prophet's free!
He is where he will ever be,
Beyond the reach of mobs and strife,
He rests unharmed in endless life.
His home's in the sky; he dwells with the Gods
Far from the furious rage of mobs.
He died, he died for those he loved.
He reigns; he reigns in the realms above.
He waits with the just who have gone before
To welcome the Saints to Zion's shore.
Shout, shout, ye Saints! this boon is given;
We'll meet him, our martyred Seer, in heaven.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:252  October 5, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 5, 1969
We Must Raise a People from Their Youth to Redeem Zion;
Family Government

I rejoice, brothers and sisters, in the glorious truths that have been given us here today. I was just thinking, using the vernacular of the day, he has told us "how it is". He has told it "how it is", brothers and sisters. Our youth today seems to be talking about being told "how it is". From the Priesthood source, this is the only source from which I want to get it, how it is, to be told the truth.

I have been greatly overwhelmed, as it were, brothers and sisters, by the awesome truth that we have to face from day to day as fathers and mothers in Israel, the awesome responsibility that fathers and mothers have in the House of Israel, under the direction of God through His Priesthood. I want to know how it is with God. We are required, and we knew we would be required in the spirit world, to live the Family Order of Heaven as He lives it, as He lived it there. We knew that we would have to come here and carry out things as He does.

I wonder how often we think of this awesome responsibility, brothers and sisters, receiving through our loins, through our wombs, these choice spirits that have been reserved to come forth in this day and time, as we knew we would. True, we have been raised up, generally, by worthy fathers and mothers. They had weaknesses and may have made many mistakes in raising us up. I am sure this is the truth. We are now, my brothers and sisters, raising up a people as calves in the stall from our own loins. President Barlow told us this many, many years ago, that we have about reached the end of receiving into this work men and women from the Church or any other source, to be gathered together to do this great and final work of preparation; that Zion might be redeemed and God would have a people. He said, "Now we are going to have to raise them up from our own loins, raise up a people to the Lord." Do you not suppose this is an awesome, a terrible responsibility? Now, how well are we doing this, this thing that President Barlow laid upon us through the instructions of the Lord to him? He knew what he was talking about.

Fatherhood operates by the power of the Priesthood; the Priesthood by the power of God through the Holy Ghost. A woman is a part of a man in this holy order. If women would only understand this. A man is a part of God by reason of his holding his authority and Priesthood, and having the Holy Ghost to give it power and strength and to carry out the responsibilities involved. We are all, then, a part of God. Then why do we not wake up to the responsibilities that God has laid upon us, and do the things He has told us to do, lo, these many, many years?

I was thinking of another thing as to how it is, brothers and sisters. There are many wives that would like to get rid of their husbands, and husbands their wives. I was thinking also of the awful jealousies that are generated within families because of the lack of the Spirit of God and a man and a woman living together as one. I would like to put it this way, if I may, sisters. You may be jealous or complain against a sister wife; you may go to your husband about her. I want to tell you how it is. When you complain against this woman you are complaining against me. She is a part of me. If you love me, you love her. If you love me, you love my children.

Here is another thing how it is, brothers and sisters. A man's children are his, the seed is in the man. A man may have a dozen wives. Those children are his that are born in this holy principle. If women and children were really one with their head, they would love one another without distinction of whose mother they were, speaking of the children. A mother would love another woman's children as her own. She would love her sister wives as she would herself, by loving her husband, all of whom are a part of him. Should not this help us to understand this principle, how God lives it? Then there would never be any room for anything but love and diligence, purity, kindness, and the pure love of Christ in the family, all if we would only sustain the head by the power of the Priesthood, and realizing that the man has the Priesthood. That man having the Holy Ghost can only have the character of God if he has it at all times, dealing justly and truly and perfectly with each and every one in that Patriarchal family. If we could only gather and catch the picture of a true, a Godly, Patriarchal family and live accordingly by the power of the Holy Ghost, we would know nothing but peace and joy. We would be endowed and blessed and prepared to redeem Zion, and become that people that God has required us to be.

Every question that I have ever been asked as to principle, as to "how it is", finally resolves itself in the grand and glorious truth above all, that we must have the Spirit of God. The Holy Ghost is the means by which we will accomplish all of these things. If we have it, we have the character of God. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son. It issues forth from the Father and the Son to us through the Priesthood.

We have our Priesthood fathers; this is another grand and glorious truth. We have our natural fathers and mothers, but how glorious the truth that we have our Priesthood fathers to look to. I look upon Brother Johnson and Brother John, whom I have known in my time, as my fathers in the Priesthood. If we could only understand true fatherhood brethren -- and mothers, true motherhood through the fathers -- then we would love one another as Jesus loved His brethren, and loves us. And through the grand and glorious principle of love, we would have all of the other attributes, for it is the greatest of all. If we truly loved our husbands, if our children truly loved their parents, we would have perfectness and peace. And we could become perfect as He is perfect. We would be with Him because we would be like Him.

RTJ 2:255  October 5, 1969  SLC

Now, brothers and sisters, I pray that we may, as families, from this time forth, try to see the true order, the Family Order of Heaven. We are going to have to live the United Order, this order of unity, of oneness, in the families first, and then as a community. It is on its way, believe me. Now who is going to be found faithful and true and carry out these commandments? Those who are will be endowed and blessed and will go into the presence of God. We will go into this room of a higher order, living with Him in His mansion; which I pray we may all be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:255  October 19, 1969  SLC

Salt Lake City, Utah
October 19, 1969
D.& C. 1

It is good to be here, brothers and sisters, partake of the spirit that is here and to be edified by it. I am grateful for the message of President Johnson to us today, as well as the others, and pray for the same spirit to actuate what I may be led to say.

RTJ 2:256  October 19, 1969  SLC

I don't know, brothers and sisters, if this people really gets the message sometimes that President Johnson gives us; so simple, direct, honest, and true that sometimes we miss it because of its great simplicity. President Johnson has time and time again read to us from Section 1 of the Doctrine and Covenants, the preface to the Book of Commandments. We can say what we want about applying it to the people of the world at the time when it was first given, but President Johnson has applied it to this people now and we should understand it because it does apply to us. It applies to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. It is a voice of warning, a voice of counsel. And if President Johnson would feel good about it, I would like to read the whole Section again to us.

D.& C. 1

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the voice of him who dwells on high, and whose eyes are upon all men; yea, verily I say: Hearken ye people from afar; and ye that are upon the islands of the sea, listen together.

2. For verily the voice of the Lord is unto all men, and there is none to escape; and there is no eye that shall not see, neither ear that shall not hear, neither heart that shall not be penetrated.

3. And the rebellious shall be pierced with much sorrow; for their iniquities shall be spoken upon the housetops, and their secret acts shall be revealed.

4. And the voice of warning shall be unto all people, by the mouths of my disciples, whom I have chosen in these last days.

We see how this was directed to His Church and people.

5. And they shall go forth and none shall stay them, for I the Lord have commanded them.

6. Behold, this is mine authority, and the authority of my servants, and my preface unto the book of my commandments, which I have given them to publish unto you, O inhabitants of the earth.

7. Wherefore, fear and tremble, O ye people, for what I the Lord have decreed in them shall be fulfilled.

8. And verily I say unto you, that they who go forth, bearing these tidings unto the inhabitants of the earth, to them is power given to seal both on earth and in heaven, the unbelieving and rebellious;

9. Yea, verily, to seal them up unto the day when the wrath of God shall be poured out upon the wicked without measure --

10. Unto the day when the Lord shall come to recompense unto every man according to his work, and measure to every man according to the measure which he has measured to his fellow man.

11. Wherefore the voice of the Lord is unto the ends of the earth, that all that will hear may hear:

12. Prepare ye, prepare ye for that which is to come, for the Lord is nigh;

13. And the anger of the Lord is kindled, and his sword is bathed in heaven, and it shall fall upon the inhabitants of the earth.

14. And the arm of the Lord shall be revealed; and the day cometh that they who will not hear the voice of the Lord, neither the voice of his servants, neither give heed to the words of the prophets and apostles, shall be cut off from among the people;

We have seen evidences of this. It has happened in our time. And one of the anointed of God sacrificed, in agony, the last years of his life, to bring about a separation and a division, those who would not heed.

15. _For they have strayed from mine ordinances, and have broken mine everlasting covenant;_

The Lord is speaking to His people, not to the nations of the earth, the Catholics, or anyone else.

16. _They seek not the Lord to establish his righteousness, but every man walketh in his own way, and after the image of his own god, whose image is in the likeness of the world, and whose substance is that of an idol, which waxeth old and shall perish in Babylon, even Babylon the great, which shall fall._

17. _Wherefore, I the Lord, knowing the calamity which should come upon the inhabitants of the earth, called upon my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and spake unto him from heaven, and gave him commandments;_

18. _And also gave commandments to others, that they should proclaim these things unto the world; and all this that it might be fulfilled, which was written by the prophets --_

19. _The weak things of the world shall come forth and break down the mighty and strong ones, that man should not counsel his fellow man, neither trust in the arm of flesh --_

20. _But that every man might speak in the name of God the Lord, even the Savior of the world;_

21. _That faith also might increase in the earth;_

22. _That mine everlasting covenant might be established;_

23. _That the fulness of my gospel might be proclaimed by the weak and the simple unto the ends of the world, and before kings and rulers._

Isn't this how God has done all of His work? The weak things of the earth, He has made great. There probably was not a more humble and unknown man ever raised up than Joseph Smith the Prophet, and look at the great things that have been accomplished. He has become the head of the last and greatest of the dispensations, who is now looking over the work that is being carried on today. Such a man we have in President Johnson, the very essence of humility, in whom God gives great strength. And this we see before us now.
24. Behold, I am God and have spoken it; these commandments are of me, and were given unto my servants in their weakness, after the manner of their language, that they might come to understanding.
25. And inasmuch as they erred it might be made known;
26. And inasmuch as they sought wisdom they might be instructed;
27. And inasmuch as they sinned they might be chastened, that they might repent;
28. And inasmuch as they were humble they might be made strong, and blessed from on high, and receive knowledge from time to time.
29. And after having received the record of the Nephites, yea, even my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., might have power to translate through the mercy of God, by the power of God, the Book of Mormon.
30. And also those to whom these commandments were given, might have power to lay the foundation of this church, and to bring it forth out of obscurity and out of darkness, the only true and living church upon the face of the whole earth, with which I, the Lord, am well pleased, speaking unto the church collectively and not individually --
31. For I the Lord cannot look upon sin with the least degree of allowance;
32. Nevertheless, he that repents and does the commandments of the Lord shall be forgiven;
33. And he that repents not, from him shall be taken even the light which he has received; for my Spirit shall not always strive with man, saith the Lord of Hosts.
34. And again, verily I say unto you, O inhabitants of the earth: I the Lord am willing to make these things known unto all flesh;
35. For I am no respecter of persons, and will that all men shall know that the day speedily cometh; the hour is not yet, but is nigh at hand, when peace shall be taken from the earth, and the devil shall have power over his own dominion.

We are in the midst of that. The devil has power in his dominion. We are in the midst of the world, called upon to live and abide the Celestial Law, and who can abide it?
36. And also the Lord shall have power over his saints, and shall reign in their midst, and shall come down in judgment upon Idumea, or the world.
And this is true.

37. Search these commandments, for they are true and faithful, and the prophecies and promises which are in them shall all be fulfilled.
38. What I the Lord have spoken, I have spoken, and I excuse not myself; and though the heavens and the earth pass away, my word shall not pass away, but shall all be fulfilled, whether by mine own voice or by the voice of my servants, it is the same.
39. For behold, and lo, the Lord is God, and the Spirit beareth record, and the record is true, and the truth abideth forever and ever. Amen.

RTJ 2:260  November 16, 1969  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
November 16, 1969
The Meeting House Belongs to the Priesthood

All I feel like saying in conclusion here today, brothers and sisters, is thanks to my brethren, and above all to our Father in heaven for what He has done for us. I certainly don't desire to claim anything for myself or for mine. As I said, this [Priesthood home in Sandy, Utah] belongs to the Priesthood. Whatever President Johnson and the brethren desire to do with this place is strictly at their pleasure. All that is in it, all that is connected with it, is subject to the direction of the Priesthood. I have called upon my family time and again, as we have been building this place, that they were not to glory in it, but glory in the Lord and give praise to Him whose right it is to receive it, acknowledging the hand of God in all things. We desire to make this a pleasant and a delightful place in which the saints can meet.

Essentially, in building this place, we have desired and have done so, built a meeting house and have built a home around it, as President Johnson and the brethren have directed. First and foremost in our planning and the direction of this work has been for this one facility in which you are now sitting. All other things have been secondary.

I felt like I should say this. I don't desire to boast, for all things are God's, and feel to praise Him, therefore. I desire now to again dedicate myself, my wives and children, and all that I have to the work of God, withholding nothing, holding nothing in reserve. I pray that you, my friends and saints will help me to do so, and that God will help me to do so, which I ask in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:261  December 7, 1969  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
December 7, 1969
Spirit of Revelation;
Encouraged the Saints to Faithfulness

I rejoice, my dear brothers and sisters, in being with you here today in the company and presence of President Johnson. I am grateful for my association with him, and I, too, appreciate his great leadership of this people. Would to God I was more like him. We, as a people, do not appreciate this leadership, my brothers and sisters. We treat him and his authority far, far too lightly. As a people, I am afraid we treat this order of the Priesthood far too lightly, and from this stems our treating all of the things of God too lightly, for which we are under condemnation, and still remain, as has so frequently been pointed out to us.

I feel to repent, and call upon this people to repent and do better; draw near to the servants of God; and especially each and every one draw near to your Priesthood head, the heads of families, and they to the brethren over them, that we might be one people in the hands of God to accomplish His purposes. He has been long-suffering, merciful, and gracious with this people, and we little realize it. And we little realize how time is pressing on us to a point where we may be found wanting in that day when we may be called to sit down at the supper with the Lamb of God, with our lamps untrimmed and unready, not prepared.

The sum total of the faithfulness and faith of this people is that of its individual members. A collection of people banded together in true faith and love and loyalty to God and His Priesthood would be unconquerable, and the Lord could accomplish so much if we were in that condition. The Lord is not going to continue in His long-suffering indefinitely. There is a day and a time of reckoning, which I pray we may be prepared for.

I am grateful for those that the Lord has given me, and I contemplate it with awesome responsibility which devolves upon me in teaching and training and directing them in the ways of God, to fill the measure of their creation and accomplish the things they were sent to do. I pray for strength, wisdom, revelation, and understanding, to teach and guide and direct them, that my skirts may be clean at the day of judgment, and their sins may not be required at my hands. I pray that this people, so far as I have any right and authority and power to administer to them, may have no cause to point to me with an accusing finger, righteously, and say, "He has not set a proper example."

I pray, my dear brothers and sister, that we may draw near together; sustain and uphold the power and authority of the Priesthood which leads us, that we will be humble and submissive, and submit ourselves to the Lord through His servants and our head. We should, in sackcloth and ashes, approach this thing and reform ourselves, brothers and sisters. The only way and time to do it is here and now, not think about going to do it tomorrow or a week from now or a month from now, but now, tonight, tomorrow, and continue endlessly until we become that people that God can use.

Now the Spirit of revelation is what we need, brothers and sisters. There is no salvation without revelation. It is in the power and the scope of the Priesthood borne by each family head to receive revelation through the power of the Holy Ghost, which has been bestowed upon us by the laying on of hands, to lead and guide and direct those under us, and to guide us in our labors in sustaining and upholding this great work of which we are a part.

We need the power of faith, which will give us power with God and power in the holy Priesthood. We lack power, if you please. The potential of this people and the powerful means that are at our disposal through the gifts of the Spirit and the power of the Priesthood, we can little contemplate. At least we do little contemplate it, or we would be doing better.

We need the gift of discernment, discernment of spirits, which so beset us in our families. We need to recognize them for what they are and deal with them accordingly; deal with them in love and understanding, but with firmness, and not let them overcome us. These foul, these false and delusive spirits are real things, my brothers and sisters, and we should recognize them for what they are, and handle them accordingly. Rebuke them through our righteousness, through repentance and in overcoming.

The grand thing that we are here for, brothers and sisters, is to overcome death, hell, and the devil. It is his mission to try to overcome us. It is our mission to overcome him. We have the power of the Priesthood, the gifts of the Holy Ghost to help us to do it, which is far greater than anything that we could contemplate. We certainly have the advantage, brothers and sisters. Why don't we use it, instead of following in our desires after the things of the world, our desires for things rather than the Spirit of God? The gifts of the Spirit are the most precious that we can obtain, and we are not using those things which are available to us.

Now, brothers and sisters, we need to start right at the beginning with faith, repentance, and a renewal of our covenants, which we may obtain through the holy sacrament, like unto that which we receive in baptism. This is available to us. Do you know the importance of this great and glorious ordinance, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper? And how lightly do we treat it? It is a shame that we will sit together with people, bearing feelings toward one another, and partake of the sacrament. It is a shame that we don't have the spirit of repentance when we partake of the sacrament, as we should, and take this new opportunity to renew our covenants and to do better and to overcome all of the evil natures of our spirits and of these bodies.

We are here, brothers and sisters, to sanctify these bodies that we were born with, that were given to us under the New and Everlasting Covenant, to make them pure and holy, vessels of righteousness in the hands of God. That is what we are here for. "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." This "purity" is one of a complete and pure life. It calls for sexual purity. It calls for a purity of our daily activities, acting under the gifts and powers of the Spirit, which cannot dwell with us if we are not continually striving to keep His commandments all the way from the top to the bottom. We cannot neglect any of them. We are told if we are an offender in the least of these commandments we are an offender in all. I wish we could realize this, brothers and sisters.

Now, the Lord tells us if we will do what He says, He is bound; if we do not what He says, then we have no promise. I wonder how many of us are deluding ourselves, measured by this measuring rod, thinking, "We have had good parentage. We were born of so and so and our salvation is assured." Some are working under this delusion. But each and every one of us stands with our bare souls before God. Are we becoming more like Him day by day? If we haven't accomplished something toward that end each and every day, we are failing in our labors. Have we counted the labors of every day, each night when we present ourselves before the Lord, and determined whether or not we have made some progress in this direction? We need to do it in just this way, brothers and sisters. We will never make any progress unless we can count what we have done every day, make an accounting to the Lord each night for our time, our means, our activities, what we have said and done. Are they amiss in the sight of God, or are they unto His honor and glory? This is what we need to ask ourselves every day.

Have we offended any of our family, our loved ones, our friends? Have we offended the Priesthood over us? Then, before that day is closed, we should make restitution so that we can go to sleep with a free and a wholesome conscience, able to awake the next morning cheerful and bright to accomplish the labors of another day which the Lord may lend us. None of us know but what we might be taken in the night or some other time, and we should be so living, we should have such a character that if Christ were to come tomorrow, or today, we would be ready.

The Lord wants to bless this people, and He is willing to send messengers to do so, to instruct us. Are we ready for that? We are not. But I pray that there may be enough who could be brought together at the proper time and place, that the Lord could so bless and instruct and direct, so that there would be enough to bring about His purposes. He is going to get them, we can be very sure of that. Will we be numbered among them? This is what we need to ask.

Now I am grateful again for the life and labors of these brethren who lead us. I am grateful for my father and mother, who chose the better part and led me into this great latter-day work. I am grateful for the part the Lord has given me in it. I haven't done as well as I should in it. I pray Him to give me strength and the power to do so, that I might bear off that responsibility honorably, faithfully, and well, that the time may come when the Lord can say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." How glorious that day would be.

May God help us in these things, my brothers and sisters, to draw near. Let us spiritually repent in sackcloth and ashes. Acknowledge before the Lord our weakness and go about overcoming. We have many weaknesses to overcome. Do we have faith? Do we have sufficient knowledge, which is power? So is faith. Do we have sufficient judgment and justice in our character to deal with those with whom we labor? Are we merciful, loving and kind? Do we love the truth for the truth's sake? Are we love? These are the attributes God has enjoined upon us to attain to, that we may become like Him, which I pray we may accomplish through our diligence and labors to the end, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:266  December 21, 1969  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
December 21, 1969
History of the Building of the Meeting House in Sandy, Utah; Stay Close to President Johnson

I can't express in words, brothers and sisters, the feelings that have been going through my bosom, through my mind, the spirit that is within me. It is thrilling to see this concourse of people sitting in this room. For the last year and a half, we have been laboring, looking to these occasions when we could meet together in one place. This has been the prime object of our labors, and the brethren have felt that we should add quarters for the family. I cannot express in words the deep and terrible responsibility that rests upon us as we live in this house. There are many curious people who have passed by here, who have stopped in, in their overbearing curiosity to find out what it is. Our children have entered these schools here. It is hardly necessary to say that they know now what it is. But I feel and my family feels the terrible responsibility of setting an example worthy of this Priesthood, of the grand principle of Celestial and Plural Marriage. We know we are on the spot, but God being our helper, we will go forward with all the faith that God can give us to fulfill the assignment and the responsibilities that devolve upon us.

Now brethren and sisters, I hope and pray that you will not be instruments for broadcasting the nature of this thing for the one simple reason that it is sacred to us. It is sacred to this order of the Priesthood. "Be still, brothers and sisters, and know that I am God," says the Lord, and go about your business quietly, unobtrusively, doing the will of the Lord, keeping the commandments, abiding in the law in your several homes as you expect us to do here. Sustain and uphold this order of the Priesthood under whose direction this has been built and under which we shall continue to act, and labor, and strive to do the will of God; that we may magnify this order of Priesthood, magnify this glorious principle of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, and give no man, friend or foe, any occasion to bring disrepute or shame upon this principle. We know very well that wicked men cannot look upon this principle without thinking evil. I don't care about them. I only care about those who know and love the truth, and desire to sustain and uphold it with all that I have and am. I call upon my family, again, to sustain me in these things, and all of you to sustain and uphold these glorious principles of the Gospel.

I feel to divert our attention somewhat here and feel that I should acknowledge, with the deepest gratitude in my heart, and the brethren likewise do, the labors of those who have contributed their time and services in the construction of this place. I may miss some, but I have endeavored to set them out here and want to acknowledge them before this people. Wayne Horsely was in general charge of the basic construction of this place, the building of the superstructure. He is unable to be here today. He is on another construction assignment in California. But his son John labored at his side unstintingly all that he could in off-school hours and time. John Williams and Roger Williams, and later Joel, were assigned as missionaries to come and labor; and these were the basic crew, along with my sons, Alan and Ward.

In the original planning and arrangement of this building, I can't acknowledge enough the fine services of Samuel Musser in drawing up the plans. He did a beautiful job. And Lloyd Wall, Erwin Fischer, did a great deal in helping to plan it and contributed much labor; Richard Fischer, David Johnson, Alma Barlow, and his helper on the plumbing. Henry Orullian, Alma Burnham, Joe C. Jessop, and Sterling Jessop, Don Cox have worked unstintingly in doing the electrical work here; and there were others who helped them. Ronald Darger and his crew in the wallboard, the sheetrock, the taping, including, if I can remember them all, Dan Barlow, Nephi Barlow, Lee Darger, the Barlow boys, other Barlow boys -- all did a very beautiful job here. Leo Pledger, and Vaughan Fischer, Mayo Stubbs, Allen Steed did a great work in laying up this massive roof, along with these others laboring on that crew. We had wonderful help from David and Merrill Steed. The Steed family has provided these drapes in here. The use of the truck was never withheld in our needs here.

Brother Draper, Wendell, Ivan Nielsen, and Clarence Wayman are doing great work here on these carpets. Clayne Wayman prepared and laid up this beautiful rock on the south and the tile in the place, and is working on the fireplaces. Bruce Wight is responsible for our public address system, planning it and setting it in. Brother Eldon Keate and his boys responded on many occasions in the labors necessary here. I remember those who responded when we were laying on the decking here in a great emergency, laying the cement floor in the basement and in unloading the sheetrock when it had to be done in very short time. Many responded at the request to come and help. If there are any others I have failed to mention, forgive me. I wish to acknowledge and thank you from the bottom of my heart, all who have helped here in the accomplishment of this work. My other boys are continuing here in the finishing work and it seems like it never will end. A little more is accomplished each time we meet here and I appreciate more than words can tell their continued and unstinting labors.

Now brothers and sisters, as we try to make a temple out of this place, I hope you will, too. I long for the time when we shall be worthy of a visit from Joseph Smith, our beloved Prophet, and all who have followed, as the Lord wills, agreeable to His will. We have need of further instruction, although I think this people has had all and more than they deserve. It is a matter, now, of repeating and repeating, as Brother Holm says, hoping and praying. The brethren hope and pray that by constant repetition, we may bring enough together as one that the Lord can use to redeem Zion, to build a Zion down south or wherever the saints may be called to labor. We have got to show that we are able to, before we are going to be called back to redeem the center place in Missouri. You know very well that this is the work that President Johnson desires, above all other things, to prepare this people. Why don't we respond better, brothers and sisters?

I am reminded again of the great example of Heber C. Kimball, a man most faithful and dear and true to Joseph, our beloved Prophet. The Lord told him in the midst of the terrible Missouri persecutions -- I think it was in 1838 -- by the whisperings of His Holy Spirit that his salvation was secure, his blessings were granted and he was most blessed because he had been careful to follow the words of Joseph; and this was his grand and great virtue. He loved and understood Priesthood, who Joseph was and is. The same can be said of John Taylor, who stands so close and dear to Joseph. They were careful to follow the words of Joseph.

Brethren and sisters, whether you realize it or not, sustaining and upholding our head now, who stands in succession in that same authority and order of Priesthood, is the same as following the words of Joseph, because he teaches the same truths, and his brethren along with him. It has never changed from the days of Joseph till now, which is the greatest and strongest testimony that there is before this people, before the Latter-day Saints, that God has preserved His Priesthood. He is seeing to it that the highest laws and ordinances of the holy Priesthood are kept alive until Christ comes. In sustaining and upholding these men, we sustain and uphold Jesus Christ, whom God sent to save and redeem us, and who came with Joseph that night in September, 1886, to set in motion the setting in order of the House of God; which had got sadly and unmistakably out of order by that time. And we are in the process, and have been since then, in setting in order the House of God. There are parts of it that are going further and further, have already gone as far as they can go, it would seem, in getting out of order. The cup is getting full. The iniquity of the people is going to be visited upon their heads. A terrible and great trial and division is going to take place, and who will survive it?

Now brothers and sisters, let this be a time of renewal, a time of dedication anew to the principles and laws of the holy Gospel of Jesus Christ and of the Priesthood. I call upon you again, in the name of the Lord, to draw near together under the leadership and direction of President Johnson, that we may go forward, progressing in the Holy United Order, in the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage, the highest laws of the Gospel of Christ, along with all others that are companion to it, unto perfection; that we may enter again into the presence of God and come under the influence and power and direction of Joseph Smith and this order of the Priesthood. The Lord bless us all together, that we may be one, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:270 1970's Canada

Canada
1970's
Get the Spirit of God; Do Not Run After Money; Mothers Should Turn Children's Hearts to the Fathers;
Lecture Five

I am very delighted to be here with you on this occasion, brothers and sisters, under the appointment and direction of President Johnson. It is good to see your faces and mingle with the saints of God who have, we trust, come out of the world to render obedience to the Gospel of Jesus Christ and obey the laws and principles of the holy Priesthood, which has been vouchsafed to us through the medium of our Prophet, Joseph Smith.

I call upon you at this time to exercise your faith that God's will shall be done, and His mind and will revealed to us for our good and progress in this great work. You can have it just the way you want it, brethren and sisters. According to your faith, so shall it be. We should bear this in mind as we meet together under these conditions, under the auspices of the Priesthood of God. And remember, we are here by appointment of President Johnson.

I cannot tell you how much I love and appreciate my co-laborers in this Priesthood Council, especially President Johnson, for his great faith and integrity, for the leadership that he is giving us under God. I especially appreciate the burden of his labors, which is to prepare a people for the redemption of Zion. And to this end he has called upon all of the saints, and especially the bearers of the holy Priesthood, to clean up their minds, clean up our minds, brethren and sisters, which is nothing more nor less than to get the Spirit of God and keep it.

A great deal has been said of late about the redemption of Zion and a prepared people for that purpose. In order to accomplish it we must be one. "Save you are one," the Lord says, "you are not Mine." We are to be one in our families. We are to be one, brethren, as bearers of the holy Priesthood, with the Keyholder. This is the way the channel will be kept clear and free for us to obtain the Spirit of God. Heber C. Kimball once made the remark, and this is profoundly true as anything that was ever said; and this is very much in line with what Brother Ray has said here this morning, "How can you get the Spirit of God except through us?" speaking of this Presidency -- Brigham and Heber, and their associates.

So we have to keep that channel clear. Brother Jessop here, President Richard Seth Jessop has been a wonderful example in following this course. I do not know of anyone who has been more obedient to the counsels and directions of the Priesthood over him than he has. "When the Lord speaks, I obey," said the Prophet Joseph Smith. When the Lord speaks through His servant, Richard Jessop obeys. He spoke here of a desire to be an orator, desiring to speak. I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, he is and has been. You will find his sermons to the saints have been profound, and he has a marvelous command of language; and that is an orator to me. And he is sweet and sound; humble, submissive, and sound; loving and living the laws of the holy Priesthood, and thus loving God with all his might, mind, and strength. I love and appreciate him for these things and his wonderful example.

Now brothers and sisters, this message of President Johnson to get and keep the Spirit of God, and to stop running after money -- what he is speaking of is running after money for its sake. Certainly we are going to have to sustain ourselves, and we have to earn the means of our livelihood. It is the love of money that is the root of these evils, for its own sake, when we should be loving God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. And our labors should be to build up the Kingdom of God and obtain the means -- and the Lord will grant them to us to sustain these families, brethren -- for the purpose of building up our families, making them one in the hands of the Priesthood to make a prepared people. All things should be working to this end.

I would like to mention one great principle in the matter of the conduct of our families, brethren and sisters, fathers and mothers. Turn the hearts of your children, mothers, to their fathers. This is a living principle of the holy Priesthood -- to turn the hearts of your children to their fathers. There have been more children destroyed for failing to abide this law than we realize. Mothers hold the power of life and death over their children. Brigham Young said as much on several occasions. You can turn them any way you want, practically, sisters. And I dare say that is probably one of the reasons that our early brethren do not have children in this work today, because mothers, jealous of one another, jealous of their husbands, did not turn their children to their fathers as they should. And it was over silly things -- jealousies, envyings, covetousness -- the very things that destroyed the saints in their being called to redeem Zion in the early 1830's. These are the things that destroyed unity and oneness, and they must be done away.

Read that Section of the Doctrine and Covenants where the Lord gives the reason why the saints were driven out of Jackson County. It was because of covetousness; there were jarrings and contentions, envyings and hate, and for this they polluted their inheritances. By this means they polluted their inheritances, and by these means we may pollute the minds and the hearts of our children if we do not get them out of our characters and beings. These jarrings, these contentions, they must be done away, brothers and sisters, or we are not going to be worthy to receive the instructions that the Lord has for us from our Priesthood fathers. Can you imagine one of them coming into a group of men to instruct them if they are not one in their hearts and in their minds? If they came and they found this, they would quickly disappear. There is just no question about it. And that is what was behind these instructions that President Jessop has spoken of that were given by Lorin Woolley, to get together, be one together. These are the families that the Lord can use to redeem Zion.

Now I think I spoke of this principle last time I was here. Can you imagine any set of men going to redeem Zion who are not like Jesus Christ, going as a Camp of Israel, going up to redeem Zion? That is why they failed in that Zion's Camp of 1834. There were jarrings and contentions. The Lord God called upon the Camp of Israel to go up to Zion without murmuring, without complaining, without contention, to be one with His servant Joseph in heart and mind. Can you imagine the power that two hundred men would have if every one of them was filled with the Holy Ghost, the character of Jesus Christ, and of the Father? That is how it is going to have to be when it is done in power. Not only His angels will go up before them, but His own presence also, that of the Lord Jesus Christ. They will not have His presence unless they are one in mind and in heart.

I would like to review with you again, brothers and sisters, the modus operandi of these principles. In order for us to know who we worship and what we worship, the Lord gave us, through the Prophet Joseph Smith, this Lecture Five. Jesus Christ was verily the Son of God, the Only Begotten in the flesh, and He had humanity in Him. And He had to learn obedience by the things He suffered. He is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer, because He had greater capacity. He also had the divinity of the Father in Him, and thus had power to lay down His life and take it up again. Nevertheless, He was subjected to greater contradictions, stronger temptations of the devil, as you well know those great temptations that He suffered as He came out of the wilderness, fasting and visiting with His Father, and then became subject to the great power of Lucifer, to see if He would carry on with His work in the earth. He was exposed to more powerful contradictions than anyone can be.
2. ...But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins.

So He set the example and was the great Prototype.

2. ...And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome,

Having overcome. He did it; He had to do it; and we must if we are to become like Him. Overcome what? The weaknesses of the flesh, and finally death, hell, and the devil. We are here subject to these temptations. There is none that will be free from it. We must suffer these temptations even as He did, and we must overcome as He did. Because He did, He:

2. ...received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

The Holy Ghost. The mind of the Father and the Son is the Holy Spirit, the third member of the Godhead, these Three. And it is verily true that Joseph Smith acted in the office as a man, now a glorified being, as the Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son, acting in that office of the Witness and Testator. How marvelous it is that we are that close to this third member of the Godhead, our head in this dispensation. That same power and authority which he had and conferred upon others has come down to us today. So we are not without every means to accomplish the things here spoken of, the glorious rewards that come as here spoken of. This Holy Spirit,

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things;the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father,

The Holy Spirit centers in our Father, and issues forth from Himself throughout His creations.

2. ...or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments;
There is the key word. It is shed forth only upon those who believe on His name and keep His commandments. How do we get the commandments? We get the commandments through His mouthpiece. God cannot be here Himself. He has His servants, and He has told us on many occasions in holy scripture and otherwise, "If ye do it unto the least of these My servants, ye do it unto Me." If we do it unto His servants, we are doing it unto Him. That is how the word comes down. That is how this Holy Spirit comes down through the channel, that channel, through the holy Priesthood to us. It must come on down through the head of the family. As he is one with his file leader, that family will receive the Spirit of God through the Priesthood bearer at the head of the family.

2. ...and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ;
From grace to grace; every minute, every hour, every day, every month in the years of our existence, we grow up from grace to grace and receive this reward; and thus:

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all;
Have you ever seen two individuals who looked exactly alike because they had the Holy Ghost filling them? I have.

2. ...transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all;
We will have the same likeness as Jesus Christ in other words, and become joint heirs with Him. He is the only Heir. Jesus Christ is the only Heir. We become joint heirs with Him by adoption, through obedience to the commandments.

2. ...being filled with the fullness of his glory,
We will have the Second Comforter.

2. ...and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.
Can you see any so-called "independence"? Here, the will of the Son was the will of the Father, as these brethren have so beautifully expressed here today. Ours must likewise be -- all filled with the Holy Ghost; and thus having that upon us, we are one with Them, and it must be done through the channel.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Can reap a fullness of the Spirit, brethren and sisters.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, The Holy Ghost.

3. ...so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they The saints.

3. ...are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Without reading it to you, may I commend Section 93 to you, except to read one or two key verses here that are in line with this Lecture Five. I would ask you to study these two together, and learn how it is, how to get and keep the Spirit of God. In one verse here we have the plan of salvation laid out:

D.& C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --
4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, The Holy Spirit.
4. ...and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.
Speaking of John, whose record we are to receive.

11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, neither do any of us. But even He did not.

12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at the first, but received grace for grace.

13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;

14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father.

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.

18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

Now here:

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

The brethren become one with the Priesthood, as they are one with God. We must keep under control at all times, not to lose our tempers and thus let in these false and foul spirits to beset us -- these laughing spirits, these lying spirits. Loud laughter the Lord counsels us against. Can you imagine having the Spirit of God and having loud laughter? We are called upon to be sober, and above all to love one another. Can we truly love one another and still have jarrings and contentions, quarrels, name-calling, if you please, and taking of the name of God in vain? These things must be done away in our families. Clean up our minds. This means we are to become pure in heart, filled with the Holy Ghost, for such will inherit the earth; and meek, we must become meek and lowly of heart, as we find our President and head -- meek and lowly of heart, having made the great sacrifices that are necessary, the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit, fully submissive to the gifts and powers of God through the Holy Ghost.

Brothers and sisters, let us remember these things and go on now to perfection. We are called upon to become perfect as Christ is perfect, as God is perfect in His sphere. We cannot become one with anything short of this. We cannot be called upon to redeem Zion save we become one, which I pray God we may do, serving Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, giving our all, sacrificing life, if necessary, become fully committed, fully engaged; not to go around bearing two yokes, seeking the earth, the world and its riches and rewards, but seeking God and the riches of heaven, eternal life, the power of God unto salvation.

May we be fully obedient and thus lay hold upon the Holy Ghost as our constant guide and companion. Heber C. Kimball is cited as a glorious example of this. He was a walking revelator, daily, hourly, every minute, as was Joseph. He had the revelations of God with him constantly, in all of his daily affairs, as well as in his administrations in the Priesthood and his labors for the Church and Kingdom of God. Jedediah M. Grant gave his life, in what turned out to be a vain attempt to reform the saints. He just literally gave his life as he went up and down Zion among the saints, calling upon them to repent and reform their lives, to clean themselves up -- their minds, their houses, their habitations. The Spirit of God cannot dwell in unclean places. We are the tabernacles of God, brothers and sisters, and we must clean them up in order for the Spirit of God to dwell in them, our minds and our bodies, our habitations, and in all the things that we have to do.

God bless us to this end and help us to serve Him with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and our neighbors as ourselves. Who are they? They are our families. As one of the Prophets put it, "They are they who have entered into the covenant to obey the Gospel." These are they, our neighbors, who desire to serve God and keep His commandments as we do, who have taken hold of the rod, the iron rod. Let us lay hold on it and hang on for dear life that we may be saved in the presence of God and be exalted therein, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:280  January 4, 1970  Sandy
We have had a feast of heavenly things, my dear brothers and sisters, and I pray God that these truths will not fall on deaf ears in this congregation of fundamentalist people. I only want to add my testimony to what has been said, that these things that have been given you this day are the truths of heaven, dictated by the Holy Ghost, by the holy Priesthood, the order of Priesthood which has been vouchsafed at the hands of Joseph the Prophet. I testify to you that Michael is our Father and God and is directing this work to His Son, Jesus Christ, His Only Begotten -- Adam's, Michael's Only Begotten, the Lord Jesus Christ; and that Joseph Smith, Their Witness and Testator, has restored this New and Everlasting Covenant, which has been vouchsafed down to us in an orderly way, through the instrumentality of Joseph Smith and Jesus Christ in September, 1886, down through the fathers of the Priesthood, who have suffered more than we know to bring these beautiful truths and ordinances of the holy Priesthood to us. I know these things by the revelations of Jesus Christ and testify of them to you in His name, amen.

RTJ 2:281 January 18, 1970 Sandy

How to Become One

We have had a good time thus far, brethren and sisters, and I sincerely pray that the same good spirit will attend my remarks. For I desire to tell and teach the truth.

The brethren have been pleading, lo, these many years, for unity with this people. We are not going to be that people that God can use unless we are one. Not long since, a brother came and asked, "How can I be one with such a man as so and so, who is dishonest in his dealings?" or apparently had wronged him, being under covenants that they should be one. I just want to very briefly explain, brothers and sisters, how we can be one. We have spoken a great deal about becoming one, but how?

There were times in the past when a certain few brethren would get together and decide they were going to live the United Order together. They may even have come and approached the President about it, just decided among themselves they were going to live the United Order together; they were going to be one. It lasted a couple of months because they were acting on incorrect principles. I have seen occasions when two plural wives would get together and decide they were going to be one. They would get together and pray together. It wasn't long before they were quarreling like cats and dogs. Now something was lacking in these things, brothers and sisters. I hope you can see the correct principle involved. In neither case that I have cited did they go to their head. In neither case did they get together with their head and be one with him. It is just that simple.

Each and every one of you brethren should get together with your head if there is any getting together to be done. Each one individually should become one with President Johnson, brethren, no matter what the other man that you may be associated with does. It is up to that other man to likewise come and be one with President Johnson. You get enough men one with President Johnson, truly in heart and mind, offering all that he has, making every sacrifice of worldly things, offering them on the altar, each and every one individually working with the head, then you will have a group of men bearing the holy Priesthood who will be one.

Each of you wives truly become one with your husband and you will be one together. You can't help yourselves. That is the way for families to become one. There is no other way. Jehovah decreed it in the beginning when He told Eve, "In sorrow shalt thou bear children; and thy desires shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee." Sisters, let your desires truly be to your husbands and then you will be one with him.

Brethren, let your desires be to your Priesthood head with all that you have and are, withholding nothing; no reservations of mind or of things. Unite together in this fashion and we will have a people who will be able to live the United Order as a people.

Let this be so in a family and they will be living the United Order, first in spiritual things. The goods, the temporal things will follow. Brother Brigham Young told the saints when he was talking about the United Order, "We don't want your gold and silver. We are not asking for that. We want your hearts. We want you to be one with us."
Heber C. Kimball talked time and time again about his love and fidelity, and loyalty to Brother Brigham Young, and he set an example to all Israel. We have a few men like that among us today, setting such an example, being one with their head. Lorin Woolley was reputed to have said, and I have no doubt he did, "Give me twelve good men and true, whose hearts we have, who are serving and being one with the head with all their heart, might, mind and strength, and God will shake the earth and bring about His purposes." The Lord wants enough men who are truly one with the man that He has chosen and reposed keys of power and blessings in order to accomplish His purposes. It will be done sooner or later. If we are going to be one in spiritual things, one spiritually, brothers and sisters, it is then a matter of getting and keeping the Spirit of God. The Holy Ghost is the binding, tying power. When that is not in evidence, then false and delusive spirits take its place, and there is a pandemonium of hell in families and among brethren. Get and keep the Spirit of God. Be one with your head, and then God will have His people. Lorenzo Snow painted such a beautiful picture of oneness in a family. I feel like reading it again to this people, for what good it may do.

JD 4:155  Lorenzo Snow  January 4, 1857  SLC

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, Let him be that first.

...that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, Brothers and sisters, pure element! How? By the Holy Ghost!

...suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God,
The Kingdom of God will be the sum total of a number of families, great or small, that the Lord can use; families that are like this.

...that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.

I am afraid, brothers and sisters, that there are too few who recognize the truth in the fact that there are false and delusive spirits that enter in when there is quarreling and fighting. If I had time, I would like to have read the article that Samuel W. Richards wrote in the Millennial Star, which I will put over to another time, about these false and delusive spirits, and in which he also describes the oneness and beauty and purity and love that there is in a family actuated by the Holy Ghost. God bless us to this end, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 2:284  February 22, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
February 22, 1970
Charity Comprises All the Laws of the Gospel

I was reading the words of Moroni, and I would like to briefly read them to you, these last verses of Moroni 7.

Moroni 7
43. And again, behold I say unto you that he cannot have faith and hope, save he shall be meek, and lowly of heart.

44. If so, his faith and hope is vain, for none is acceptable before God, save the meek and lowly in heart;

In other places He calls upon us to offer a sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit. That is the grand sacrifice.

44. ...and if a man be meek and lowly in heart, and confesses by the power of the Holy Ghost that Jesus is the Christ, he must needs have charity; for if he have not charity he is nothing; wherefore he must needs have charity.

We have hope, and a grand principle of faith must operate within us; faith in God, who is a God of knowledge, faith, justice, judgment, mercy, truth, and love.

45. And charity suffereth long, and is kind, and envieth not, and is not puffed up, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, and rejoiceth not in iniquity but rejoiceth in the truth, beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

Brothers and sisters, if we would remember these things and act accordingly, inculcate these attributes into our lives, there would be none of this quarreling, and fighting, and bickering, and criticizing of the brethren. We would be able, then, to abide the holy Celestial Law of Marriage and be added upon, have our calling and election made sure, and abide in the presence of Jesus Christ and His Father.

46. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, if ye have not charity, ye are nothing, for charity never faileth. Wherefore, cleave unto charity, which is the greatest of all, for all things must fail --

47. But charity is the pure love of Christ, and it endureth forever; and whoso is found possessed of it at the last day, it shall be well with him.

48. Wherefore, my beloved brethren, pray unto the Father with all the energy of heart, that ye may be filled with this love, which he hath bestowed upon all who are true followers of his Son, Jesus Christ; that ye may become the sons of God; that when he shall appear we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; that we may have this hope; that we may be purified even as he is pure. Amen.

This is the continual, unceasing message of this Priesthood to this people. "Be ye perfect as He is perfect." If there is one thing lacking, my dear brothers and sisters, it is this grand attribute of God. Love, with all that it implies, in substance, comprises all of the laws of the Gospel, for He said the greatest commandment is to love God with all thy heart, might, mind, and strength; and love one another, your neighbor, as yourself. On these two laws hang all the law and the Prophets. If we have this grand attribute, brothers and sisters, all other things would fall in their place. Every problem that we have would be taken care of. You notice that this is one of the attributes of God, the Holy Spirit, which issues forth from Him, along with all of the others. If we had this, all the others would fall in their place.

If we would serve God with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, we would not have to be commanded in all things. We would not be slothful. We would be clean. We would be pure, as He is pure, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus, amen.
I am grateful, my dear brothers and sisters, to be here today in association with President Hammon and President Jessop and mingle my voice with theirs in testifying of the goodness of God and His blessings to me and to all of us, for I do feel to acknowledge the hand of God in my being here today.

I have been led carefully along -- yes, as the brethren have said, "because I wanted to" -- to this place in the work and economy of God. I love this Priesthood, and this is my way of saying that I love God with all my heart, might, mind, and strength. The only way I can express it is to uphold and sustain it and labor with my might in behalf of this order of the Priesthood. There is an undeviating, correct principle that, in order to do it unto God, we must do it unto him whom He has called and chosen. Brothers and sisters, this is a principle which should guide our lives. I cannot understand how any person, man or woman, can receive blessings at the hands of this order of the Priesthood and not feel grateful from the bottom of their souls, and give every ounce of energy and faith and life that is in them, to sustain and uphold that power and authority, and be anxiously engaged in a good work, in building up the Kingdom and establishing this order of Priesthood in the earth, and be a part and parcel of this great work of redeeming and preparing a people for the redemption of Zion. The way this is done is for each and every one of us in our separate family units to live by every word of God that comes through this order of Priesthood, living every law and principle of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. That is where it begins and ends for every one of us, brethren, who hold the Priesthood.

Now, the brethren who have spoken before have spoken about why we are here. It is odd that I was thinking of this thing right from the moment I sat on this stand this afternoon, and looked out into the faces of you people. I ask myself, as I go visit in the homes of the saints, and I ask myself as I look into your faces here, picking out individual ones for some reason -- why are you here? What is it that makes you tick? Are you where you are because you were jostled into it, as Brother Musser has spoken about occasionally; because you are a certain man's son or daughter -- merely that? Are you here because you sort of got caught by some circumstance or condition and you just feel like you have to keep going along; or are you here because you love Priesthood, which is loving God, and because you love to do His will? Love your husband because he is a righteous man. Love your Priesthood head because this is the source of your blessings, and love to do it all, to build up the Kingdom, to become the righteous people fit to go into the temples of the Most High God and be endowed with power from on high, to redeem Zion, to build up the waste places of Zion, to purify Zion and make it a fit place for the saints of God. Zion is the pure in heart. It is a condition, and it is a place. It is a people, and we should be striving for the welfare of Zion with all our heart, might, mind, and strength.

I want to tell you, brothers and sisters, if you don't love Priesthood and understand it, and obey it and follow it -- and I say again, love it with all your heart, might, mind, and strength -- the time will come under some circumstance or condition when you will leave this work, as the hinge on which the door of your faith will turn. This is what takes men out of the work, what brings about apostasy. They begin to criticize, in the first place, because they don't have certain things, haven't been blessed with certain things; or they have been trampled upon, or some other silly reason. Or they may aspire. A person may aspire to a place in the Priesthood, or to lead it.
All of these things take a man or woman out, particularly a man. You have seen many cases for different reasons that men have left, but you tie it always down to Priesthood.

Now, I would like to talk a little directly to you sisters. There was a particular thing running in my mind as I sat down here today. You wives, sealed to men who bear the holy Priesthood, the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, what is your faith in Priesthood? In the first place, this order of Priesthood, the keys of which are held by President Leroy Sunderland Johnson -- or if it goes back to one of his predecessors who held the keys -- was the power and authority that gave you to your husbands for time and all eternity, to bring forth God's spirit children in Zion, the cities and the places of the saints. Shouldn't that be reason enough for you to stay with this work and love it and build it up through teaching your children, bringing them forth in purity and in love and raising them up in the light of truth to a knowledge of it so that they, too, will love it as you should, and as I hope you do? You should look then, first of all, to the Priesthood of your husband. He must hold the holy Melchizedek Priesthood to hold you, and he must magnify and honor it and sustain it. It is required of you, dear sisters, to obey him as he obeys God, which he does by obeying his Priesthood head. You will understand more of these things when you go into holy places. But it goes further than that, dear sisters. You must also have faith in the one who has the keys to your blessings, who holds the keys of the Priesthood, so that if anything happens to the faith and faithfulness of your husband -- if he should leave and break his covenants and turn all together therefrom -- you do not have to go down to hell with him, if that is where he is going; and you cling to this order of Priesthood.

I rejoiced in the example of my beloved sister, Leona. She did just this. I am not going to talk about what happened to her husband except that he did break his covenants. He aspired and he went his way, performing and doing things that you probably understand and appreciate. But she had such faith in President Johnson that she stayed with this work and is still with it. Do you have this faith, dear sisters, and this testimony that you would go in that same direction? If you don't have that kind of faith in this Priesthood, then you had better be looking to it and seeing just exactly what is making you tick and do the things you do -- why you are staying here now. Are some of you dear sisters here because you just want the man you got as a male person? You don't have much faith if that is all you are here for. Why are you hanging around?

I can't see how a man can have a family of wives and children and have them one with him, if they all don't have the same testimony and love of the Priesthood, which I hope he has, which should be the way that I have spoken of here today.

Now, brethren and sisters, our faith turns on Priesthood. Our course of life should be such that we can lay hold on eternal life. We must so live and order our lives day by day as we build up a record, that we can have confidence and come to a knowledge and understanding that we please God. Enoch had this testimony, that he pleased God, the scriptures tell us. So did Abraham, so did Isaac and Jacob; and Jacob was visited by an angel. He knew that he had been a weak man in times gone by, but he had followed the commands of his Father and his God and had reached a point where he knew that his course was pleasing to God; and he wrestled with this angel all night, even receiving an injury to his thigh, knowing that his course was pleasing, until he received the blessing that he knew he was worthy of. No doubt this was revealed to him. All these things must be done agreeable to the mind and will of God by the revelations of God through the Holy Ghost. All things that are done, these great and marvelous and miraculous things, are done agreeable to the mind and will of God, or they are not done. They must be to the honor and glory of God and to the building up of His Kingdom.

Now, these are feelings I have about this work, brothers and sisters. I have been through a few fires. I was devoted in my labors in the Church as a young man. I thrilled at my first hearing the story of Joseph Smith, Jun., the Prophet of God, as a young man; and that feeling has ordered my life from that day to this, knowing that he had been visited by the Father and the Son and stood at Their side. I went on a mission to England and did my best there; stood faithful to my mission president and grew to love him. He was a faithful man, but I knew he erred in some doctrines, regarding the Adam-God doctrine and some others. Of course, he stood full square on the doctrines of marriage that the Church espouses and all the rest of it. But I came home, and as I may have recounted before, got an honorable release from my mission, went to see President Grant. I was disappointed in the spirit by which I was received and spoken to, but I kept on faithful in my ward and Church activities, and I was ripe for this work when my father brought me the Truth Magazine. As I went on, I was called up to see Brother Lund, my former mission President, in the Church Historian's Office and he brought pressures to bear from the Church records, trying to prove to me that this Priesthood and work was all wrong, was apostate and was as dark as midnight, bringing to bear the full story concerning Wilford Woodruff and all the rest of it. I went home that night and went to my bed alone, and I came to feel the power of the adversary there and then, and I know what it is, brothers and sisters. I wakened in the night out of a dream in which I had seen A. William Lund standing before me, offering me a doll, during which time he turned black as midnight. As I woke up from that dream, I felt all the powers of hell at my throat and it was as though I would perish; but I slipped out on my knees and prayed to God for power to overcome it. That sweet, peaceful influence and power of the Holy Ghost did come upon me and I couldn't wait to get to the side of my father that morning; and then and there got a testimony of the power of the adversary. I am grateful for the experience.
I know as I know I stand here before you, brothers and sisters, that this order of the Priesthood holds the keys of our salvation, the keys of the holy Apostleship; the same keys that Joseph Smith, Jun., received at the hands of Peter, James, and John and confirmed upon him by the Lord Jesus Christ. I know by the revelations of Jesus Christ that it has been handed down in regular succession to men in my experience, beginning with John Y. Barlow, then to the present in the hands of Leroy Sunderland Johnson. In that order of Priesthood rests all the blessings that I hope to obtain in this life and in the life to come, and for these things I am willing to lay down my life and sacrifice all earthly things for the excellence of the knowledge of Jesus Christ, whom I wish to obey and desire to serve with all my might, mind, and strength; and desire to become like Him as He became like His Father and God; and desire again to be in Their presence, which I pray may be our lot as a people, as we learn to serve Him and keep His commandments, and become one people in the hands of our Priesthood head, President Johnson, the one man, as he proceeds under the voice and power of God to lead us and prepare us for the blessings that we desire with all our hearts, which I pray for in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 2:292  March 22, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
March 22, 1970
False and Delusive Spirits

It is delightful to stand before you here today, see all of your faces together, and the feel of the Spirit that is here to direct what has been said, and I appreciate them. I felt that if I were called upon here today I would say something regarding false and delusive spirits. The brethren have had a great deal to say about it. Sometimes we need reminding. We are having to deal with them every day in one form or another. They are under the direct control and dominion of satan, whose work it is to try and stop us. Having, then, entered, my brothers and sisters, into the waters of baptism, having received the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, repented, had faith and hands laid on us for the gift of the Holy Ghost, under the hands of the true and living Priesthood, we have only one course -- to keep all the commandments of God. So long as we do so, walking in obedience, having the Spirit of God upon us in all that we say and do, it shall remain and we will grow and increase and become like God; because the attributes of God are in the Holy Ghost, which gift is given to us to enable us to become like Him. This is why we are here. It is the work of the adversary to try to prevent us from attaining unto that goal. So, here is what I am getting at. When we are not actuated and directed by the Spirit of God, inevitably that other spirit, which takes many, many forms, will actuate what we say and do. That is the premise on which we entered into the work of God.

I felt it would be profitable if I were to read to you again what the editor of the Deseret News wrote, Willard Richards, in 1852. He draws very carefully the picture of how they work, and enables us, brothers and sisters, to recognize them if we will. But the sad thing is that when they are upon us, we cannot even be told that they are upon us. We don't believe it, so powerful is it when they take possession. He says,

False and Delusive Spirits  (Truth 7:73)

False spirits are more subtle, and more contagious than the smallpox; their number and diversity of operations cannot be counted by man; and the first moment the Saints leave the path of duty, that moment they are subject to the influence of evil, false spirits, which once having taken possession of the soul, are difficult if not impossible to be removed, by the person so receiving them, without assistance from those who have more wisdom.

And remember, the Priesthood is the only means by which they can be detected and controlled, so says the Prophet Joseph Smith. He made the grand observation that there is nothing more destructive to a person or a people who are actuated upon by false and foul spirits than to think they have the Spirit of God upon them. That is a horrible thing.

The great object of evil spirits is to get bodies, and the only chance they have is to dispossess a soul of the spirit of the Lord, the light of eternal truth, and take possession of that body thus dispossessed; and when thus once in possession, it may truly be said there is a body possessed of the devil.

Jesus, and his disciples in different ages, have commanded the unclean and wicked spirits to depart out of those of whom they had taken possession, and they have departed; but there are those spirits which are not easily dispossessed, and go out only by prayer and fasting. And again, there are those spirits that will hardly go out at any price, except it is by the will of those who harbor them. And of what class are they? They are invited spirits.

They are invited spirits. Invited spirits? Yes; many spirits watch their opportunity to thrust themselves into a person when and where they are not wanted, and such are much more easily cast out than those who are invited guests.

For instance, a person for some real or supposed injury or neglect from a friend, wishes to retaliate, We may think they have not been done right by. And the spirit of such a person is one of utter selfishness.

...to be revenged, and of course opens the way, and invites the spirit of jealousy to take possession; and the moment jealousy enters the breast, there is a perfect hell of happiness. No scheme that hell itself can devise to torment, perplex, harass, disturb, vex, or mar the peace of friend, wife, or husband, is left untouched or unmoved; and by that time the breast of the harborer is opened to all the evil spirits of Pandemonium -- all have free access, and oh, what a world of glory dwells there!

And how shall that jealous spirit be removed? By the laying on of hands? The Lord deliver us from such an ordinance in such a case. Why? That spirit was invited to take up its abode there, and while that spirit is made welcome by that person, what right have we to dispossess it? It would be abridging the agency of the individual who invited the spirit, for any one to cause that spirit to depart, without the person's leave; and we choose that all should exercise their own agency and responsibility, and then they are subjects of accountability.

Other spirits, not particularly invited or desired, gain an easy access to those who are careless, heedless, and but too indifferent to the statutes, ordinances, and duties of God's kingdom; who neglect their prayers, their assembling together, and doing as they would be done unto; and from these spirits arise contention, strife, evil thinking, evil speaking, evil surmising, detraction, revenge, law suits, and a host of such perplexing annoyances, sufficient to disturb a nation: but the man who is obedient to his God in all things -- who knows no will of his own, only to do the will of his Father in the heavens, is free from these spirits; the devil has no power over him, for he resists him, and evil spirits are compelled to flee at his rebuke.

Some may ask, "How shall I know when I am operated upon by a false spirit?"

That is a fair question.

There are many keys by which the door of knowledge is unlocked to the Saints, in relation to spirits, as well as other things pertaining to the kingdom; but one may suffice at the present time, for we have not designed this brief notice to cover all or any considerable portion of the ground which the subject includes.

The spirit of heaven is a spirit of peace, joy, comfort, consolation, and knowledge to its possessor;

That should be easy to understand.

...and all Saints who have enjoyed this spirit, (and all Saints have more or less), may know, when this peaceful spirit dwelling within them is disturbed, that something is wrong, that some false spirit is lurking within or about them, striving to enter, and if they will resist the first impulse of their disturbed feelings, and command Satan in the name of Jesus to depart, peace will instantly be restored to their souls.

A female can do that in the name of Jesus Christ if she catches herself soon enough.

It is not the wrongdoings of others that destroy that peace within ourselves which the world can neither give nor take away;

Now note this key, brothers and sisters. It is so true in all of our relationships one with another.

It is not the wrongdoings of others that destroy that peace within ourselves which the world can neither give nor take away; it is our own wrongs which cause that peaceful spirit to leave us; and would to God that this truth were indelibly imprinted on the heart and recollection of every Saint. It is your own wrongs or evil spirits that destroy your peace, and not the wrongs of your friend or neighbor. Know ye, all ye Saints, if the peace of heaven and a foretaste of the blessings of the celestial world are not continually with you, there is something wrong within, some foul spirit has got possession of yourself, and the quicker you dispossess it the better.
Carry out this principle, and what will be the result? Every Saint will live by his creed, and "mind his own business." Every dear wife will look with a zealous eye towards the happiness and welfare of her dear husband, and if she is tempted to think he is doing wrong, she will say, Get thee behind me, Satan, that is none of my business, I will do right, that is enough for me, and I shall have peace in my soul. And so continue to do, till he has done so wrong that forbearance is no longer a virtue, then give him a divorce and do better if you can; but while you live with him, live in peace, and keep jealousy out of doors; if you don't you will always have hell within, and devils enough to carry it on. The moment you are jealous that your husband is wrong, that moment you are miserable; that misery is proof positive that you yourself are wrong, for it destroys your peace.

Jealous husbands are quite as bad, and a little less excusable, (if there can be any excuse), than jealous wives. Husbands, if your wives do wrong, teach them better, if they are willing to be taught, and if they are not, keep out of their way till they are willing, and no quarrelling betwixt you. You need not fret your soul because your dear wife does wrong. Don't let the devil destroy your peace and cause the Holy Ghost to depart from you because your wife has given way to a bad spirit. Show yourself a man of God, be at peace with yourself, pray for her, and when she has been buffeted by the devil long enough she will get tired of him, leave him, and return to you.

Some husbands are so mighty big because they are the head, that the wife has no room in the house; if she thinks, she thinks wrong; if she speaks, she speaks wrong; if she acts, she acts wrong; she can't do a right thing for the life of her; and do what she will, no matter, she is likely to get a cuffed ear as anything else, and a little more so; and if she should ask forgiveness, she would meet with the consoling retort from her dear lord, "Yes, and you'll do the same thing again next minute." Why all this? Because the dear husband, the great lord of the house has got so many devils in him, they make him so big there is not room for anybody else in that house.

The things of which we speak are but too common among the nations of Christendom; and too much of them have been brought together among the Saints; but it is time for the Saints to stop such things. Husbands, love and cherish your wives, as you ought; give them their place, their rights, their dominion, that they may act upon their agency, as you do on yours; and quit your fretting, and snarling, and quarrelling with them, if you ever did it. What! a man quarrel with himself? Yes, just as well as quarrel with his wife -- 'tis all the same.

If there is one solitary case, such as we have supposed, among the Saints, we would venture a prescription. What, are you a doctor? We make no such pretensions, but men may say that we are. Let the husband who wants a quarrel with his wife go to some deep, remote canyon, where no human voice was ever heard or foot trod, there strip and fight till you are tired of it, then come home and behave yourself.

Let the wife who wants to pick a quarrel with her husband, retire to some dark room or cellar, which contains nothing but bare walls, and total darkness, and there fight till you are tired of fighting, then return to your family and behave yourself; and when husband and wife have got through with their fights, they will each be willing to acknowledge that they had had as many devils in them as Mary Magdalene, or they would not have been such fools as to fight themselves at such fearful odds; and if they don't, we'll make another gratis prescription. (Mill. Star, 14:277)

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:297 March 22, 1970 Sandy

Sandy, Utah
April 19, 1970
Procrastination; We Will Be Brought to a Test;
The Fullness of Celestial Marriage Requires Plurality; Preparation

I am delighted to meet with you here again today, brothers and sisters, and feel with the other brethren to thank God for our blessings and the pleasant surroundings under which we are meeting here today. I desire with all my heart to speak the truths of heaven for my own edification as well as yours. I desire to abide them; and I want to call upon you, my brothers and sisters, to abide them.

I was impressed with the spirit of Brother Jessop's talk here on procrastination. The great Prophets of the Book of Mormon spoke very strongly against procrastinating the day of our salvation. Whole chapters have been written upon it by the Prophets and all of the holy writ. It is the sense of many of the remarks of the Prophet Joseph Smith. One man I read about, writing upon this subject, called it the "great middle sin", always procrastinating what we know must be done.

I have had on my mind some remarks of Heber C. Kimball. Regarding our being brought to tests, brothers and sisters, the Lord deliberately tests us in many ways to see if we will stand up under every and all circumstances to see what we will do. This is how the Lord sifts out the men that He can use. He used the Zion's Camp experience to bring to the fore the men that He could trust and lead in the councils of His Church at that time. We are daily being tested, brothers and sisters, if we would only realize that this is what we are really doing every day -- being subjected to tests to see what we will do. Heber C. Kimball, speaking of the Latter-day Saints, said:

JD 4:375 Heber C. Kimball August 16, 1857 SLC

There will also be a day when you will be brought to the test -- when your very hearts and your inmost souls will melt within you because of the scenes that many of you will witness.

I believe we are upon those times.

Yes, you will be brought to that test, when you will feel as if every thing within you would dissolve. Then will be the time you will be tried whether you will stand the test or fall away.

I have not a doubt but there will be hundreds who will leave us and go away to our enemies. I wish they would go this fall: it might relieve us from much trouble; for if men turn traitors to God and His servants, their blood will surely be shed, or else they will be damned, and that too according to their covenants.

Brother Brigham would rather go to battle against the whole world with three hundred men filled with the Holy Ghost, than to have the whole of you, except you are united with us; and I am sure I would.

The day is to come when one shall chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. When that day comes, the Lord will make the enemies of His people flee as if there were thousands after them, when there is only one; and that is the way that God will deal with our enemies. The day of God Almighty is at hand, when He will show forth His power, and when He will deliver His people from all their enemies.
I firmly believe that day is upon us. Heber C. Kimball was also the author of, I suppose -- at least he had it upon the head of his cane -- the short statement, "The Kingdom of God or Nothing." I don't know, for the life of me, brothers and sisters, how anyone can live by and with half measures, procrastinating daily until the day of our salvation is gone. The Lord wants a man's heart, his whole heart -- not a half a heart, or a quarter of a heart, but his whole heart, his whole mind, his whole strength. If he will give that, God will give him the power of faith which will lead to knowledge, which will bring salvation and exaltation in His presence.

I would like to apply these principles to the Celestial Law, the Lord willing. Section 132 has been divided by the leaders of the Church as comprising first, the eternity of the marriage covenant; and secondly, speaking incidentally of plural marriage. They went to the trouble in June of 1933 to change the meaning of Section 132 by official proclamation, saying that a monogamist marriage performed in the temple is Celestial Marriage. I would like to read as good an authority as Joseph F. Smith on that subject.

Some people have supposed that the doctrine of plural marriage was a sort of superfluous, or non-essential to the salvation or exaltation of mankind. In other words, some of the Saints have said, and believe, that a man with one wife, sealed to him by the authority of the Priesthood for time and eternity, will receive an exaltation as great and glorious, if he is faithful, as he possibly could with more than one. I want here to enter my solemn protest against this idea, for I know it is false.  The marriage of one woman to a man for time and eternity by the sealing power, according to the law of God, is a fulfillment of the celestial law of marriage in part --  But this is only the beginning of the law, not the whole of it. Therefore, whoever has imagined that he could obtain the fullness of the blessings pertaining to this celestial law, by complying with only a portion of its conditions, has deceived himself. He cannot do it.

I understand the law of celestial marriage to mean that every man in this Church, who has the ability to obey and practice it in righteousness and will not, shall be damned, I say I understand it to mean this and nothing less, and I testify in the name of Jesus that it does mean that.

Brigham Young on several occasions went on to say, "If we would be Gods, we would be polygamists," to use the short term. I would like to read a little from Section 132 so we will understand directly from the word of God just what is involved. Maybe I don't need to talk to this congregation in this way. Perchance there may be some who can be helped. After having told of the necessity of abiding in the law of Abraham, the Lord says this:

D. & C. 132

15. Therefore, if a man marry him a wife in the world, and he marry her not by me nor by my word, and he covenant with her so long as he is in the world and she with him, their covenant and marriage are not of force when they are dead, and when they are out of the world; therefore, they are not bound by any law when they are out of the world.

Now we know what His law is, and by whom.

16. Therefore, when they are out of the world they neither marry nor are given in marriage; but are appointed angels in heaven, which angels are ministering servants, to minister for those who are worthy of a far more, and an exceeding, and an eternal weight of glory.

17. For these angels did not abide my law; therefore, they cannot be enlarged, but remain separately and singly, without exaltation, in their saved condition, to all eternity; and from henceforth are not gods, but are angels of God forever and ever.

18. And again, verily I say unto you, if a man marry a wife, and make a covenant with her for time and for all eternity, if that covenant is not by me or by my word, which is my law, and is not sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, through him who I have anointed and appointed unto this power, then it is not valid neither of force when they are out of the world, because they are not joined by me, saith the Lord, neither by my word;

He speaks of marrying a wife. But we know what that means. It means wives, as He goes on to say.

18. ...then it is not valid neither of force when they are out of the world, because they are not joined by me, saith the Lord, neither by my word; when they are out of the world it cannot be received there, because the angels and the gods are appointed there, by whom they cannot pass; they cannot, therefore, inherit my glory; for my house is a house of order, saith the Lord God.

19. And again, verily I say unto you, if a man marry a wife by my word, which is my law, and by the new and everlasting covenant, and it is sealed unto them by the Holy Spirit of promise, by him who is anointed, unto whom I have appointed this power and the keys of this priesthood; and it shall be said unto them -- Ye shall come forth in the first resurrection; and if it be after the first resurrection, in the next resurrection; and shall inherit thrones, kingdoms, principalities and powers, dominions, all heights and depths -- then shall it be written in the Lamb's Book of Life, that he shall commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, and if ye abide in my covenant, and commit no murder whereby to shed innocent blood, it shall be done unto them in all things whatsoever my servant hath put upon them, in time, and through all eternity; and shall be of full force when they are out of the world; and they shall pass by the angels, and the gods, which are set there, to their exaltation and glory in all things, as hath been sealed upon their heads, which glory shall be a fulness and a continuation of the seeds forever and ever.

20. Then shall they be gods, because they have no end; therefore shall they be from everlasting to everlasting, because they continue; then shall they be above all, because all things are subject unto them. Then shall they be gods, because they have all power and the angels are subject unto them.

21. Verily, verily, I say unto you, except ye abide my law ye cannot attain to this glory.

22. For strait is the gate, and narrow the way that leadeth unto the exaltation and continuation of the lives, and few there be that find it, because ye receive me not in the world neither do ye know me.

23. But if ye receive me in the world, then shall ye know me, and shall receive your exaltation; that where I am ye shall be also.

24. This is eternal lives -- to know the only wise and true God, and Jesus Christ, whom he hath sent. I am he. Receive ye, therefore my law.

25. Broad is the gate, and wide the way that leadeth to the deaths; and many there are that go in thereat, because they receive me not, neither do they abide in my law.

Then He goes on to say what is the law, speaking of Abraham being commanded to take Hagar to wife. All that follows goes on to explain the fullness of that law. When I speak of these things I think mainly with the idea in mind that we abide the whole law, brothers and sisters. Go all the way. Come all the way, if you want to put it that way, in receiving God's servants and rendering obedience. The Lord tells us in another place, "If we are guilty of one," the infraction of one law, "we are guilty of the whole." That sounds hard, but we are required to live the whole law, brothers and sisters, if we will only receive it. Section 4 again, how I love it. And I wish that I and mine and all of you would remember it daily.

D.& C. 4

1. Now behold, a marvelous work is about to come forth among the children of men.

2. Therefore, O ye that embark in the service of God, see that ye serve him with all your heart, might, mind and strength, that ye may stand blameless before God at the last day.

3. Therefore, if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;
That doesn't mean that you can just pick up this book and go to preaching the Gospel because you desire to serve God. You don't get authority that way. But this is applicable to all.

3. ...if ye have desires to serve God ye are called to the work;
The call is to all to repent, to be baptized, to receive the gift of the Holy Ghost and to obey Jesus Christ in full, all the way. There is no halfway house in this work.

4. For behold the field is white already to harvest;
Our lives are as a field, white, ready to harvest, to overcome, to perfect.

4. ...and lo, he that thrusteth in his sickle with his might, the same layeth up in store that he perisheth not, but bringeth salvation to his soul;
And here is the character and the attributes that are necessary to come under perfection, to become like God:

5. And faith, hope, charity and love, with an eye single to the glory of God, qualify him for the work.

6. Remember faith, virtue, knowledge, temperance, patience, brotherly kindness, godliness, charity, humility, diligence.

7. Ask, and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.
God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:304 April 19, 1970 Sandy

RTJ 2:305 May 3, 1970 Sandy
Sandy, Utah
May 3, 1970
Dissolution; Tests Are Coming on This People

It is good to meet with you again, brothers and sisters. I am deeply grateful for the faith and faithfulness of this people, a degree of it, which needs to be increased, I am sure, as some of the other brethren have said here today. Faith is the power of God unto salvation. Faithfulness is the carrying out and the acting upon our faith. This is the life that we build.

Which direction are we going, brothers and sisters? Brother Jessop pointed out that we are either growing, increasing, progressing, or we are retrogressing and going back. We never stand still, even if we may think that we have come to a certain point. If you have felt to stand still there, there are those who will be going on and increasing and enlarging, coming to a point where the Lord will say, "My son, thou shalt be exalted," going on, ever increasing through all eternity.

I am reminded of some items spoken of particularly by Brigham Young and Heber C. Kimball, that I thought might be well to bring to our attention. I sometimes feel that we are not cognizant enough of our real situation, which way we are going, whether we actually are enlarging and increasing through our obedience, through our faith and our faithfulness. Brigham Young said this:

\[ \text{JD 1:349  Brigham Young  July 10, 1853  SLC} \]

\[ \text{To choose life is to choose an eternal existence in an organized capacity: to refuse life and choose death is to refuse an eternal existence in an organized capacity, and be contented to become decomposed, and return again to native element.} \]

Someone mentioned here today what a fearful thought this is, and it is, but we are faced with it. It is the law of existence through all of the eternities of the Gods.

\[ \text{Death in reality is to decompose or decrease, and life is to increase.} \]

Now understand, to choose life is to choose principles that will lead you to an eternal increase, and nothing short of them will produce life in the resurrection for the faithful. Those that choose death, make choice of the path which leads to the end of their organization. The one leads to endless increase and progression, the other to the destruction of the organized being, ending in its entire decomposition into the particles that compose the native elements.

JD 4:31 Brigham Young August 17, 1856 SLC
Everything that is opposed to God and His Son Jesus Christ, to the celestial kingdom and to celestial laws, those celestial laws and beings will hold warfare with, until every particle of the opposite is turned back to its native element, though it should take millions and millions of ages to accomplish. Every possession and object of affection will be taken from those who forsake the truth, and their identity and existence will eventually cease.

Heber C. Kimball illustrated this grand principle by reciting the parable of the potter and the clay. He,

DHC 4:478
...preached at the house of President Joseph Smith, on the parable in the 18th chapter of Jeremiah, of the clay in the hands of the potter, that when it marred in the hands of the potter it was cut off the wheel and then thrown back again into the mill, to go into the next batch, and was a vessel of dishonour; but all the clay that formed well in the hands of the potter, and was pliable, was a vessel of honor; and thus it was with the human family, and ever will be: all that are pliable in the hands of God and are obedient to His commands, are vessels of honor, and God will receive them.

These are they who are ever increasing, rendering perfect obedience to all of the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, being obedient to Priesthood, which is being obedient to God.

JD 5:54 Brigham Young July 19, 1857 SLC
What liberty is there in anything that will be dissolved and return to its native element? What liberty can any intelligence enjoy that is calculated to be destroyed? There is no liberty, no freedom there.

The principles of life and salvation are the only principles of freedom; for every principle that is opposed to God -- that is opposed to the principles of eternal life, whether it is in heaven, on the earth, or in hell, the time will be when it will cease to exist, cease to preserve, manifest, and exhibit its identity; for it will be returned to its native element.
Never serve God because you are afraid of hell; Serve God because you love to.
...but live your religion, because it is calculated to give you eternal life. It points to that existence that never ends, while the other course leads to destruction, to dissolution, where they will be destroyed from the earth and from the eternities, and return back to the native elements.

We will maintain the kingdom of God, living; and if we do not maintain it, we shall be found dying not only a temporal, but also an eternal death. Then take a course to live.

We place the principles of life before you. Do as you please, and we will protect you in your rights, though you will learn that the system you have chosen to follow brings you to dissolution -- to being resolved to native element.

And then to see people running after this and that which is calculated to destroy them spiritually and temporally -- to bring upon them the first death, and then the second, so that they will be as though they had not been -- is enough to make the heavens weep.

The first death is the death of the body. All will die or go through a similar change; but all will be resurrected and stand before the judgment seat of God. Now, what kind of a resurrection are we preparing for? What kind of a resurrection will we have through our faith and obedience, or lack of faith and disobedience? Those who are partakers of the second death will be those whose resurrected body and finally their resurrected spirit will go back to native element. How fearful the thought. But it will happen. Brother Heber C. Kimball explains our situation in this way. I think it is beautiful.

I will refer to brother Morley's words. He says, "The mind makes the man." That is true. What is the mind? It is that character that was made and fashioned after the image of God before these bodies were made, -- that is, our spirits. What is the mind? It is the spirit that was made before this body. Do you know it? Well, now let me tell you, it is that spirit that makes the man. I care not how humble he is -- if his nose is three feet long and all his body was disfigured -- I will tell you, if there is a good spirit in that man, and that spirit cultivates wholesome doctrine and lives to God, you love him. It is the spirit that is in the man that makes the man, which is the mind that you were speaking of, father Morley. Well, you did.

Well, our change from this state of existence does not change our character. The character must be made and formed before it goes through the vail, if he is going to continue with the servants of God, the Prophets.

And Brigham Young said it this way:

JD 4:54  Brigham Young  September 21, 1856  SLC
There are principles that will endure through all eternity, and no fire can obliterate them from existence. They are those principles that are pure, and fire is made typical use of to show the glory and purity of the gods, and of all perfect beings. God is the Father of our spirits; He beget them and has sent them here to receive tabernacles, and to prove whether we will honour them. if we do not, we shall be destroyed; one of the two-dissolution or life. The second death will decompose all tabernacles over whom it gains the ascendancy; and this is the effect of the second death, the tabernacles going back to their native element.

Heber C. Kimball:

JD 8:240  Heber C. Kimball  November 25, 1860  SLC
Let us honour our tabernacles;
Here is a beautiful thought, brothers and sisters, let us honor our tabernacles.
These are temples of God, if we only realized it.

...let us honour the earth, and let us honour the heavens, that we may enjoy the blessings that flow therefrom; for the man who dishonours his tabernacle and the earth upon which we dwell will not inhabit them again for some time to come. It will be with them as President Young was talking this morning about a certain class of individuals: there will be a dissolution, not only of the tabernacles, but of the spirits; for the body is not accountable to the spirit, but it is rendered accountable for the acts of the person that dwells in it -- that is, to some extent. But, in reality, it is the person who dwells in the house that will have to pay the debt. I am now speaking about the spirits that dwell in our bodies. I know that these things will be as I say.
I have seen the time when I did not know the meaning of the phrase, "second death," but I now comprehend it to my satisfaction. There will probably be thousands

He could have said millions,

...who will be brought forth, in the resurrection, in their sins, and their conduct in life will have rendered them worthy of the second death.

This is a principle that is not very often spoken of, brothers and sisters, but I think we need to be cognizant of it. To be ever enlarging and increasing is to be more perfect in obedience to the Gospel and receiving of the ordinances of the House of God, rendering obedience to every law and principle and ordinance of the holy Priesthood. That is the only way that we can insure our being enlarged, so that in time, as I said before, the Master will say, "My son, thou shalt be exalted." He shall then have the Second Comforter, who is Jesus Christ, and who will reveal the Father; and they will come and dwell with him, whether in this life or the life to come.

Now, brothers and sisters, we need to be sober, and we need to offer an offering and a sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit. We need to be more humble. I am afraid we are far too prosperous. We see ominous forebodings in the scenes before us as they are now approaching, the terrible judgments and destructions that are coming upon us, and we need to be preparing, brothers and sisters, to follow the words of the Prophet when he shall call forth, "To your tents, O Israel." It is the labor of President Johnson to prepare this people, to prepare a people to redeem Zion and to build up her waste places, and to prepare a spot on the earth that it may be sanctified, that God could come or send His Son or His servants to instruct and teach us, and to endow us with power from on high in holy places.

The only way, brothers and sisters, that we can sanctify a place on the earth to accomplish this is through our sanctifying our lives, purifying our lives. The earth is defiled under the inhabitants thereof, the whole earth. And God has called us together in various places to sanctify and purify a place and prepare a Zion where the pure in heart can dwell. How many of us here today are prepared to uphold the arms of President Johnson in all things, I wonder? That is what we are going to have to come to, brothers and sisters. Are we prepared to receive every test that the Lord will place upon us? I want to read again and repeat to my brothers and sisters that there are tests coming that we know not of, tests of the Priesthood, tests of wealth, tests of persecution and mobocracy. We have not seen anything yet in persecutions, brothers and sisters, though we have been through a great deal. But wait until the mobs come upon this people. The picture that I would like to have painted to us is in these words of Heber C. Kimball.

JD 4:375  Heber C. Kimball  August 16, 1857  SLC

_There will also be a day when you will be brought to the test -- when your very hearts and your inmost souls will melt within you because of the scenes that many of you will witness. Yes, you will be brought to that test, when you will feel as if every thing within you would dissolve._

Can't we see it coming, brothers and sisters?

_Then will be the time you will be tried whether you will stand the test or fall away._

I have not a doubt but there will be hundreds who will leave us and go away to our enemies. I wish they would go this fall: it might relieve us from much trouble; for if men turn traitors to God and His servants, their blood will surely be shed, or else they will be damned, and that too according to their covenants. Brother Brigham

Brother Johnson,

...would rather go to battle against the whole world with three hundred men filled with the Holy Ghost, than to have the whole of you, except you are united with us; and I am sure I would.

_The day is to come when one shall chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. When that day comes, the Lord will make the enemies of His people flee as if there were thousands after them, when there is only one; and that is the way that God will deal with our enemies. The day of God Almighty is at hand, when He will show forth His power, and when He will deliver His people from all their enemies._

So we should be standing upon holy ground and make the ground upon which we stand holy; first of all, our homes being our temples. The place is set by the Priesthood to gather and to live and to build up the Kingdom of God and establish this order of Priesthood in the earth. Let us uphold the arm of President Johnson by our faith and faithfulness and purity of lives. Then we will have power with God, power in the Priesthood, through the unity and the oneness of a whole people, the Elders of Israel, sustained by their faithful wives and children, standing and upholding the arm of our President and Prophet, which I pray we will do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:312  May 10, 1970  Hildale

Hildale, Utah
May 10, 1970
Priesthood; How to Become Like God

This is a thrilling sight, brothers and sisters, and I rejoice at meeting with you here today in company with my brethren. I was thrilled this morning, as I always am, in looking out over a concourse of bearers of the holy Melchizedek Priesthood. The lesser Priesthood is an appendage to the Melchizedek. There is only one Priesthood, and that is how I look upon it. Priesthood is God with us. Priesthood is God in us.

We should be laboring, my dear brothers and sisters, with all our heart, might, mind, and strength to live unto God. We are vessels of God. He is the Father of our spirits, the Father of our bodies. The work and glory of God is to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of His sons and daughters, whom He fathered in the eternal worlds as well as this one; and this is but a moment in eternity. You brethren who bear the holy Priesthood should have in mind constantly the magnifying of that Priesthood which you bear, which is the authority and power of God with you. You sisters should be laboring day and night, every waking hour, to magnify the Priesthood of your husband. And in magnifying this Priesthood, brothers and sisters, we would be magnifying God, coming to a point where we may lay hold on eternal life, immortality, increasing and enlarging as Father is increasing and enlarging, thus adding to His glory and His dominions.

The power of the Priesthood is the Holy Spirit, the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of God, whatever you want to call it. This is the grand secret of our lives. Thus we can see why the Prophets have been called upon by the Lord to call upon the saints -- and themselves, of course -- to get and keep the Spirit of God. The process of our lives is laying hold on that great and glorious gift -- eternal life through the means that God has provided, the mediation and atonement of Jesus Christ, the love of the Father, and the gift of the Holy Ghost. Hence, ask me any question, my dear brothers and sisters, ask the brethren any question regarding the problems involved in your lives, and it always resolves itself into one answer -- the Spirit of God; or it has been lost, and there has been quarreling, and fighting, and a multitude of things inviting foul and false and delusive spirits into your midst through disobedience. This is where it begins -- disobedience, through which we lose the Spirit of God, and invite, actually invite foul spirits into our midst; and then there is a pandemonium of hell.

The brethren have stressed so often, so many times the problems of our social lives, our married lives. Those problems arise from losing the gift that has been placed upon us, losing the presence and the power of the Spirit of God. It is a skill, brothers and sisters. It is something we must learn from day to day, until it becomes our constant companion. Then we are vessels of honor. I would like to read again, and go over again, my brothers and sisters, the means by which these things are accomplished, and what we are about, and what it means "having and keeping the Spirit of God," how it will sanctify us, purify us, and make us like Him, and then enter into His presence.

One of the grandest scriptures we have is Section 93 of the Doctrine and Covenants. Now, in the first place, let us see what we are.

D.& C. 93

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy.
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.
35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.

This is what is behind the sermons of Brigham Young -- we are either enlarging and going on unto life, or we are retrograding and going to dissolution, destruction of both the body and eventually the spirit. Destruction means dissolution.

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.

The great Prototype for our lives, for all that we do, for obedience to the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ and the laws of the holy Priesthood, is our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Now let us see how He did. In this first verse of Section 93, the Lord tells us our whole duty, all that is required of us.
1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;
2. And that I am the true light that lighteth every man that cometh into the world;
3. And that I am in the Father, and the Father in me, and the Father and I are one --
4. The Father because he gave me of his fulness, and the Son because I was in the world and made flesh my tabernacle, and dwelt among the sons of men.
5. I was in the world and received of my Father, and the works of him were plainly manifest.
6. And John saw and bore record of the fulness of my glory, and the fulness of John's record is hereafter to be revealed.
7. And he bore record, saying: I saw his glory, that he was in the beginning, before the world was;
8. Therefore, in the beginning the Word was, for he was the Word, even the messenger of salvation --
9. The light and the Redeemer of the world; the Spirit of truth, who came into the world, because the world was made by him, and in him was the life of men and the light of men.
10. The worlds were made by him; men were made by him; all things were made by him, and through him, and of him.
11. And I, John, bear record that I beheld his glory, as the glory of the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, even the Spirit of truth, which came and dwelt in the flesh, and dwelt among us.
12. And I, John, saw that he received not of the fulness at first, Even Jesus Christ.
12. ...but received grace for grace;
13. And he received not of the fulness at first, but continued from grace to grace, until he received a fulness;
14. And thus he was called the Son of God, because he received not of the fulness at the first.
15. And I, John, bear record, and lo, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the form of a dove, and sat upon him, and there came a voice out of heaven saying: This is my beloved Son.

16. And I, John, bear record that he received a fulness of the glory of the Father.

A little later in Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith, we will get an explanation of this fulness.

17. And he received all power, both in heaven and on earth, and the glory of the Father was with him, for he dwelt in him.

18. And it shall come to pass, that if you are faithful you shall receive the fulness of the record of John.

19. I give unto you these sayings that you may understand and know how to worship, and know what you worship, that you may come unto the Father in my name, and in due time receive of his fulness.

20. For if you keep my commandments you shall receive of his fulness, The fullness of the Father,

20. ...and be glorified in me as I am in the Father; therefore, I say unto you, you shall receive grace for grace.

He states that He was called the "Son" because He came in the flesh. In speaking of the Godhead, whom we are to imitate and become like, we have this set out in Lecture Five as to how we do this and what we receive, finally, so that we may glorify God, and enlarge His Kingdoms and His glory.

Lecture Five

2. ...They are the Father and the Son --

These two grand Personages,

2. ...the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be. But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin; and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, This is what He calls upon us to do -- to overcome.

2. ...received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,
Which issues forth from the Father, and is that great gift that He gives us to help us to become like Him, to enable us to become like Him.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind,
Keep in mind, brothers and sisters, this is how we are going to have to do it.

2. ...possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father;
Which is the Holy Spirit.

2. ...or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, As Jesus did.

2. ...and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind,
He is speaking of the saints now.

2. ...being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Get the Spirit of God and keep it.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

These things are within our grasp, brothers and sisters, if we will but obey, by getting and keeping the Spirit of God, and never let it leave. By having it continuously can we not see that the attributes of God will be our attributes? The character of God will be our character, as this continues, as a constant companion and a guide, until we come unto perfection -- become like Him and enter into His presence in the eternal worlds to become Gods, Goddesses, Kings, Queens, Priests, and Priestesses unto God, ever enlarging, ever growing and increasing, adding to the glory of the Father, which I pray we may do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:319  May 17, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
May 17, 1970
D.& C. 84

I have another testimony as of now of how the minds of the brethren work along the same channels. At the beginning of this meeting these very same things were going through my mind, and Section 101, which brother Musser has just read to us so beautifully, was upon my mind to read. So anything I could add would be superfluous. I do feel impressed though, to read some of the words of the Lord from the grand revelation on Priesthood, which I feel would be for our good and benefit.

D.& C. 84

1. A revelation of Jesus Christ unto his servant Joseph Smith, Jun., and six elders, as they united their hearts and lifted their voices on high.
2. Yea, the word of the Lord concerning his church, established in the last days for the restoration of his people, as he has spoken by the mouth of his prophets, and for the gathering of his saints to stand upon Mount Zion, which shall be the city of New Jerusalem.
3. Which city shall be built, beginning at the temple lot, which is appointed by the finger of the Lord, in the western boundaries of the State of Missouri, and dedicated by the hand of Joseph Smith, Jun., and others with whom the Lord was well pleased.
4. Verily this is the word of the Lord, that the city New Jerusalem shall be built by the gathering of the saints, beginning at this place, even the place of the temple, which temple shall be reared in this generation.
5. For verily this generation shall not all pass away until an house shall be built unto the Lord, and a cloud shall rest upon it, which cloud shall be even the glory of the Lord, which shall fill the house.

After giving the lineage of the holy Priesthood, He says this:

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;
36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;
37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.
39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.
40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.
41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.
42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

43. And I now give unto you a commandment to beware concerning yourselves, to give diligent heed to the words of eternal life.

44. For you shall live by every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God.

45. For the word of the Lord is truth, and whatsoever is truth is light, and whatsoever is light is Spirit, even the Spirit of Jesus Christ.

46. And the Spirit giveth light to every man that cometh into the world; and the Spirit enlighteneth every man through the world, that hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit.

47. And every one that hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit cometh unto God, even the Father.

48. And the Father teacheth him of the covenant which he has renewed and confirmed upon you, which is confirmed upon you for your sakes, and not for your sakes only, but for the sake of the whole world.

49. And the whole world lieth in sin, and groaneth under the darkness and under the bondage of sin.

50. And by this you may know they are under the bondage of sin, because they come not unto me.

51. For whoso cometh not unto me is under the bondage of sin.

52. And whoso receiveth not my voice is not acquainted with my voice, and is not of me.

53. And by this you may know the righteous from the wicked, and that the whole world groaneth under sin and darkness even now.

54. And your minds in times past have been darkened because of unbelief, and because you have treated lightly the things you have received --

55. Which vanity and unbelief have brought the whole church under condemnation.

56. And this condemnation resteth upon the children of Zion, even all.

57. And they shall remain under this condemnation until they repent and remember the new covenant, even the Book of Mormon and the former commandments which I have given them, not only to say, but to do according to that which I have written --
58. That they may bring forth fruit meet for their Father's kingdom; otherwise there remaineth a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.

And now concerning this Priesthood:

117. And verily I say unto you, the rest of my servants, go ye forth as your circumstances shall permit, in your several callings, unto the great and notable cities and villages, reproving the world in righteousness of all their unrighteous and ungodly deeds, setting forth clearly and understandingly the desolation of abomination in the last days.

118. For, with you saith the Lord Almighty, I will rend their kingdoms; I will not only shake the earth, but the starry heavens shall tremble.

119. For I, the Lord, have put forth my hand to exert the powers of heaven; ye cannot see it now, yet a little while and ye shall see it, and know that I am, and that I will come and reign with my people.

120. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. Amen.
Prayer of Gratitude; We Must Overcome Even as the Savior Overcame

The song that we have sung, brothers and sisters, brings to mind some very wonderful words of the Lord which I would like to read to us.

D.& C. 59

7. Thou shalt thank the Lord thy God in all things.
8. Thou shalt offer a sacrifice unto the Lord thy God in righteousness, even that of a broken heart and a contrite spirit.

We speak of sacrifice of all earthly things. Brothers and sisters, if we would but do that one simple thing, all the other things would follow, the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit.

9. And that thou mayest more fully keep thyself unspotted from the world, thou shalt go to the house of prayer and offer up thy sacraments upon my holy day;
10. For verily this is a day appointed unto you to rest from your labors, and to pay thy devotions unto the Most High.

11. Nevertheless thy vows shall be offered up in righteousness on all days and at all times;
12. But remember that on this, the Lord's day, thou shalt offer thine oblations and thy sacraments unto the Most High, confessing thy sins unto thy brethren, and before the Lord.

And I am grateful, brothers and sisters, that there has been such a outpouring of the spirit of gratitude here today. I have often remarked that if a prayer that we offered unto God did nothing but to thank Him for all that we have and are, we would gain far greater strength, and would be a complete and a beautiful prayer unto the Lord. In this, we acknowledge our weaknesses and our need for help and our need for increased faith, which we can get up from our knees and go on and do, rendering complete obedience to the commandments of God and doing all things as they are given by the mouth of God through His servants.
13. And on this day thou shalt do none other thing, only let thy food be prepared with singleness of heart that thy fasting may be perfect, or, in other words, that thy joy may be full.

14. Verily, this is fasting and prayer, or in other words, rejoicing and prayer.

A prayer of gratitude is a rejoicing prayer. And I think there is no greater sin than the sin of ingratitude.

15. And inasmuch as ye do these things with thanksgiving, with cheerful hearts and countenances, not with much laughter, for this is sin, but with a glad heart and a cheerful countenance --

The Lord delights in the joy and the cheerful countenance of His saints. We can have that joy and cheerful countenance when we know that we please Him.

16. Verily I say, that inasmuch as ye do this, the fulness of the earth is yours, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the air, and that which climbeth upon the trees and walketh upon the earth;

17. Yea, and the herb, and the good things which come of the earth, whether for food or for raiment, or for houses, or for barns, or for orchards, or for gardens, or for vineyards;

18. Yea, all things which come of the earth, in the season thereof, are made for the benefit and the use of man, both to please the eye and to gladden the heart;

19. Yea, for food and for raiment, for taste and for smell, to strengthen the body and to enliven the soul.

20. And it pleaseth God that he hath given all these things unto man; for unto this end were they made to be used, with judgment, not to excess, neither by extortion.

21. And in nothing doth man offend God, or against none is his wrath kindled, save those who confess not his hand in all things, and obey not his commandments.

There is the key.

22. Behold, this is according to the law and the prophets; wherefore, trouble me no more concerning this matter.

Now, brothers and sisters, there has been going through my mind lately, and particularly today, the words of the Savior and the promises that He gave and still gives to those who overcome. This is why we are here, brothers and sisters. This is a day of our probation, this little moment in eternity, having fulfilled our first estate, found worthy to come through goodly parents, and to come forth upon the Lord's footstool to fulfill our second estate, and to prove wherewith we would serve God and keep His commandments and come back into His presence filled with His fullness, to enjoy His presence forever. Speaking of the glorious redemption and atonement of the Lord Jesus Christ, John Taylor says this:

The Mediation and Atonement Chapter 25 Page 179

The next question for us to examine is, How, and in what manner are men benefitted by the atonement and by the resurrection? In this, that the atonement having restored man to his former position before the Lord, it has placed him in a position and made it possible for him to obtain that exaltation and glory which it would have been impossible for him to have received without it; even to become a son of God by adoption; and being a son then an heir of God, and a joint heir with Jesus Christ; and that, as Christ overcame, He has made it possible, and has placed it within the power of believers in Him, also to overcome; and as He is authorized to inherit His Father's glory which He had with Him before the world was, with His resurrected body, so through the adoption, may we overcome and sit down with Him upon His throne, as He has overcome and has sat down upon His Father's throne. And as he has said, "I and the Father are one," so are the obedient one with Him, as He is one with the Father, even as He prayed:

"That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us; that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; that they may be one, even as we are one;

I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me." -- John, xvii, 21-23.

Being the sons of God through the atonement and adoption, and through faith in Jesus Christ, they rise to the dignity and the glory of the Godhead, even to be Gods; as it is promised:

"Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. -- Rev., iii, 12.

Again, "To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne." - - Rev., iii, 21.

Yet again, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son." -- Rev., xxi, 7.

Hence, through His atonement, believers in Christ, and those who obey His law, partake of His glory and exaltation, and are inheritors of the Godhead; whilst those who do not obey His law although resurrected cannot inherit this exaltation; they are raised from the dead, but cannot inherit a celestial glory without being obedient to a celestial law, and thus we come again to a scripture quoted before. Jesus said, "Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day: and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem."

Having noticed the great blessings, privileges, powers and exaltations that are placed within the reach of man, through the atonement of Jesus Christ, it next becomes our duty to enquire what is required of man to place him in possession of them.

And that is to overcome all that is worldly, overcome all evil, overcome death, hell, and the devil; to remake our characters by possession of the Holy Ghost at all times, so that we may be like Him. I love the words of the Lecture that shows how Christ overcame. Speaking of the two personages of the Godhead:

Lecture Five

2. ...They are the Father and the Son -- the Father being a personage of spirit, glory, and power, possessing all perfection and fullness, the Son, who was in the bosom of the Father, a personage of tabernacle, made or fashioned like unto man, or being in the form and likeness of man, or rather man was formed after his likeness and in his image; he is also the express image and likeness of the personage of the Father, possessing all the fullness of the Father, or the same fullness with the Father; being begotten of him, and ordained from before the foundation of the world to be a propitiation for the sins of all those who should believe on his name, and is called the Son because of the flesh, and descended in suffering below that which man can suffer; or, in other words, suffered greater sufferings, and was exposed to more powerful contradictions than any man can be.

Why? Because of His greater capacity. Of what have we to boast, or to say that we have it any harder than any other man, or than Jesus Christ Himself; how a man could do and say as Sidney Rigdon and Amasa Lyman, that Jesus Christ was a fool in suffering compared with what they had gone through?

2. ...But, notwithstanding all this, he kept the law of God, and remained without sin, showing thereby that it is in the power of man to keep the law and remain also without sin;

He showed that it can be done and that man can do it. And how can man do it though he is born in sin? Through the glorious principles of the Gospel of Jesus Christ -- faith, repentance, repentance working to overcome, and through the waters of baptism to be washed clean of the blood and the sins of this generation. It is then up to us to remain clean from the blood and sins of this generation, and to overcome death, hell, and the devil, so that we may inherit all things as the scripture says.

2. ...and also, that by him a righteous judgment might come upon all flesh, and that all who walk not in the law of God may justly be condemned by the law, and have no excuse for their sins. And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit, that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things;

Then he goes on to show how we may become like Him, in these words which I have read many times, and which are a source of great strength to me, and I hope and pray they will be to you.

2. ...and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness,
Transformed, if you please, brothers and sisters. How?

2. ...even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

Now it is necessary, brothers and sisters, to take our own earthly characters, characteristics or ungodly attributes and to overcome them by making them like the attributes of God through prayer, through faith, through works, good works, laboring all the day, with these things in mind. The prayer of faith is so great a strength to us, brothers and sisters. And when we are in trouble, we need to get on our knees and pray with our might, then get up and bring them to pass, as Heber C. Kimball often said. And if we slip and fall back a little, stand up as men and women of God and resolve to go on unto perfection. Be not discouraged, brothers and sisters. The goal is in view. The day of the resurrection will come when we can arise in a Celestial glory to receive these blessings which have been laid before us, by overcoming while in the flesh, so that we may be worthy to be called up into the presence of God and have our calling and election made sure.

How the Lord loves a repentant and a faithful son and daughter. We are His children, called to be His sons and daughters through the Priesthood of God, which we should never cease to be grateful enough for. You sisters, be grateful for the Priesthood of your husbands. You brothers and sisters, be grateful for the Priesthood that God has sent in the earth to administer salvation unto you, unto us all. Let us be grateful for one another as families, family heads with men determined to serve God and keep His commandments.

Build your husbands up, sisters. Do not tear them down. The only way you can get strength from your husband is to build him up. You will never get strength by criticizing and coming forth with foul spirits. You children remember these things, you who are here today. Love to serve God and keep His commandments. Sustain and uphold your parents. Stand firm and true by your father, especially, who has the Holy Ghost, the power of the Holy Ghost to bless and save and sustain you. And let us all, brothers and sisters, as a family of people, as families of God, strive more perfectly to serve Him all the day, every day. Never lose sight of the goal, no matter what you may be doing. Never lose sight of these things that I have read and outlined to you here today. And then we will be called up, as has been written. God bless us to this end, I pray in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 2:330  June 21, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
June 21, 1970
Humility; Gratitude Through Submitting

I felt like reading, brothers and sisters, some words of good King Benjamin.

Mosiah 2

18. Behold, ye have called me your king; and if I, whom ye call your king, do labor to serve you, then ought not ye to labor to serve one another?

19. And behold also, if I, whom ye call your king, who has spent his days in your service, and yet has been in the service of God, do merit any thanks from you, O how you ought to thank your heavenly King!

20. I say unto you, my brethren, that if you should render all the thanks and praise which your whole soul has power to possess, to that God who has created you, and has kept and preserved you, and has caused that ye should rejoice, and has granted that ye should live in peace one with another --

21. I say unto you that if ye should serve him who has created you from the beginning, and is preserving you from day to day, by lending you breath, that ye may live and move and do according to your own will, and even supporting you from one moment to another -- I say, if ye should serve him with all your whole souls yet ye would be unprofitable servants.

22. And behold, all that he requires of you is to keep his commandments; and he has promised you that if ye would keep his commandments ye should prosper in the land; and he never doth vary from that which he hath said; therefore, if ye do keep his commandments he doth bless you and prosper you.

23. And now, in the first place, he hath created you, and granted unto you your lives, for which ye are indebted unto him.

24. And secondly, he doth require that ye should do as he hath commanded you; for which if ye do, he doth immediately bless you; and therefore he hath paid you. And ye are still indebted unto him, and are, and will be, forever and ever; therefore, of what have ye to boast?

25. And now I ask, can ye say aught of yourselves? I answer you, Nay. Ye cannot say that ye are even as much as the dust of the earth; yet ye were created of the dust of the earth; but behold, it belongeth to him who created you.

26. And I, even I, whom ye call your king, am no better than ye yourselves are; for I am also of the dust. And ye behold that I am old, and am about to yield up this mortal frame to its mother earth.

27. Therefore, as I said unto you that I had served you, walking with a clear conscience before God, even so I at this time have caused that ye should assemble yourselves together, that I might be found blameless, and that your blood should not come upon me, when I shall stand to be judged of God of the things whereof he hath commanded me concerning you.

28. I say unto you that I have caused that ye should assemble yourselves together that I might rid my garments of your blood, at this period of time when I am about to go down to my grave, that I might go down in peace, and my immortal spirit may join the choirs above in singing the praises of a just God.

Brothers and sisters, I just want to leave this thought. We take altogether too much for granted; we commit this grievous sin, the sin of ingratitude, daily. We do not submit ourselves sufficiently to be led by Priesthood, by the Spirit and power of God. We do not acknowledge our God in all things. This is one thing that God has said that He requires. None offend Him except those who do not acknowledge His hand in all things. That is quite a broad statement. But I dare say that if we would do this, we would be very obedient, and have no need in any other way to offend Him. If we were very obedient we would become like Him. He could then trust us. Our course of life would be pleasing to Him. He would call us up and say, "My son, thou shalt be exalted." All these things work together, brothers and sisters, from the spirit of gratitude and acknowledgement of the hand of God in all things; which I pray we will do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:332  July 5, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
July 5, 1970
Love of Brethren;
How to Raise Children in Light and Truth;
Grades of Apostasy; A Division Coming

It is good to meet again, brothers and sisters. And I appreciate the testimonies and the remarks that have been given from this stand today. I truly appreciate my co-laborers in this kingdom, especially the wonderful leadership, the great example of President Johnson. I love this work. I love my brethren. Above all, I love the Lord, my God.

I have been made acquainted with His attributes. As these attributes are found in my brothers and sisters, I love and appreciate them because of it. Who is my brother, or who is my neighbor? The second commandment, like unto the first, is to love my neighbor. My neighbor is that person who loves the truth, who seeks to obey the truth and to become like God, who upholds and sustains the holy Priesthood, the authority of God given to man to lead us unto life eternal. These I love. Heber C. Kimball is quoted as having said, "I love my brethren more than I love woman." He was simply saying that he loved God, he loved Priesthood, which is God. But I am sure that Brother Kimball loved woman and appreciated her as any man can. I love and appreciate those who God has given me more than I can say.

I love the simple and beautiful faith of mothers. Dear sisters, I wish to God that you would realize the truth that was promulgated by Brigham Young, by God Himself to Joseph first and foremost. The way you raise up your children, the character of your children is largely in your hands. There is where the education of our children begins and ends. How beautiful is the love of mother for child and child for mother as these dear children are raised up. How important it is that we raise them up in light and truth. God reprimanded Joseph in one of the revelations, and his brethren, for their neglect of their children in raising them up in light and truth. How incumbent it is upon us. I would like to read the words of Brigham Young in this regard.

But when we address ourselves to the Saints of the Most High God, it is very different and in a different light. It is for my sisters to be mothers of holy men and holy women --

Talk about a destiny and a mission.

...mothers of holy men and holy women -- to receive and conceive in the name and by the power of the Holy Ghost -- to bring forth their fruits to the praise and honour of the God of heaven. But what are the people doing here? "I want another wife," and almost universally passion is exhibited instead of principle.

If the plurality of wives is to pander to the low passions of men and women, the sooner it is abolished the better. "How far would you go in abolishing it?" I would say, if the Lord should reveal that it is his will to go so far as to become a Shaking Quaker, Amen to it, and let the sexes have no connection. If so far as for a man to have but one wife, let it be so. The word and will of the Lord is what I want -- the will and mind of God. He has revealed his mind and will. The time is coming when the Lord is going to raise up a holy nation. He will bring up a royal Priesthood upon the earth, and he has introduced a plurality of wives for that express purpose, and not to gratify lustful passion in the least. I would rather take my valise in my hand to-day, and never see a wife or a child again, and preach the Gospel until I go into the grave, than to live as I do, unless God commands it. I never entered into the order of plurality of wives to gratify passion.

I know the weaknesses of humanity, and I understand the passions of men and women. I am sorry for them. I wish they had grace according to their day, creating such fortitude in them that they would determine to suffer unto death rather than violate a holy command of the Almighty, or transgress the bounds God has set. "Is that the way you have lived?" It is. It is the example I have set before my family from the day the Lord opened my mind to see the Gospel. Ask these sisters (many of them have known me for years,) what my life has been in private and in public. It has been like the angel Gabriel's, if he had visited you; and I can live so still. But how are we to be made happy? There is one course -- love the Giver more than the gift; love Him that has placed passion in me more than my passions. Let passion lie at the feet of judgment, and let every attribute that God has bestowed on me be devoted to the righteous cause he has commenced upon the earth. This, and this alone, produces happiness. He has brought us forth, and we live and see this day that Prophets, kings, and millions of great and good men have prayed to see, but died without the sight. When they looked at it in vision, it cast a halo, around which was like the dawning of heaven to their souls, and they shouted, "Hallelujah!" beholding the spirit and glory of these times that we now live in. And we yield to passion? I say, Shame on the individual that says passion has anything to do with his life. It is crucified. It lies, as it were, at the foot of the cross. That is my faith, and it has been my life.

How will you be happy? Love the Giver more than the gift. Delight yourselves in your duties, mothers. Here are the middle-aged and the young. I am now almost daily sealing young girls to men of age and experience. Love your duties, sisters. Are you sealed to a good man? Yes, to a man of God. It is for you to bear fruit and bring forth, to the praise of God, the spirits that are born in yonder heavens and are to take tabernacles on the earth. You have the privilege of forming tabernacles for those spirits, instead of their being brought into this wicked world, that God may have a royal Priesthood, a royal people, on the earth. That is what plurality of wives is for, and not to gratify lustful desires. Sisters, do you wish to make yourselves happy? Then what is your duty? It is for you to bear children, in the name of the Lord, that are full of faith and the power of God, -- to receive, conceive, bear, and bring forth in the name of Israel's God, that you may have the honour of being the mothers of great and good men -- of kings, princes, and potentates that shall yet live on the earth and govern and control the nations. Do you look forward to that? or are you tormenting yourselves by thinking that your husbands do not love you? I would not care whether they loved a particle or not; but I would cry out, like one of old, in the joy of my heart, "I have got a man from the Lord!"  "Hallelujah!  I am a mother -- I have borne an image of God!"  Let your prayers ascend to God, and that continually, that he will overshadow the child by the power of the Holy Ghost before and after its birth -- that the Holy Ghost may attend it continually.  The mother should inquire what her duty is.  It is to teach her children holiness, prayer to God, and to trust in Him.  Teach them the holy religion and the commandments that are calculated to sanctify the people and bring them into the presence of our Father and God.  But no; too often it is passion.  If my passion is served, I am in heaven.  The fire will have to burn them up.  We must live by principle; and if we do we shall attain to perfection -- to being crowned with crowns of glory, immortality, and eternal lives.  I would rather be purified here than to live ten thousand years to attain the same point in another existence.  The man that enters into this order by the prompting of passion, and not with a view to honour God and carry out his purposes, the curse of God will rest upon him, and that which he seems to have will be taken from him and given to those that act according to principle.  Remember it.

Sisters, do not ask whether you can make yourselves happy, but whether you can do your husband's will, if he is a good man.  Teach your children; for you are their guardians, to act as father and mother to them until they are out of your care.  The teachings and examples of our mothers have formed, to a great extent, our characters and directed our lives.  This is their right, when they act by the power of the Priesthood, to direct the child until it is of a proper age, and then hand it over to the husband and father, and into the hands of God.

To be holy men and holy women.  This is the object of Celestial Marriage, the holiest law of our religion, the holiest law of the Priesthood; which, coupled with the United Order, the Order of Consecrations and Stewardships, constitutes the highest laws of the Gospel; and which, if lived and properly abided -- and remember there are many who enter; but those who abide are those who will be exalted -- and if these be lived truly, every covenant and ordinance of the House of God will be administered to us; which, if kept one upon another -- for the Gospel and the laws of the holy Priesthood the ordinances of the holy Priesthood are a series of covenants one upon another -- which, if lived and abided will bring us back into the presence of God.  Every one is an ordinance.  Being ushered into His presence, having our calling and election made sure, is an ordinance of the holy Priesthood.

This is what we should be striving for, brothers and sisters. Is it worth the price? I say it is. Any price. If it takes our lives it is worth it, and more. Are we ready, then, as the scriptures said, to offer in our capacity what Jesus offered for us for the salvation of mankind and the exaltation of the sons and daughters of God?, which I pray we may obtain through faith unto the end with joy and rejoicing in our posterity.

I pray, brothers and sisters, that we may indeed earn the blessing that will be placed upon our heads from our posterity, that we live true and faithful and make it possible for them to come forth according to these covenants that we made before we came here, that we may live up to them to our full potential, abiding in full the Gospel of Jesus Christ, obeying every word that proceeds forth from the mouth of God, remembering who God is to us.

I pray, brothers and sisters, that we will not be victims, anyone here within the sound of my voice, to the things that have been spoken from this stand of late regarding apostasy. It is rampant, the spirit of it, in this work -- in this people I should say, not in the work. The work is perfect because it is God's work, it is the work of the holy Priesthood. The Priesthood and God are perfect, as principles and those truths that are promulgated by it. It is human beings that are imperfect. Let us stand true and faithful to the covenants that we have made. I think I should read another item on apostasy.

Degrees of Apostasy

There are grades of apostasy. The person embraces the Gospel, rejoices in the sunlight of truth for a season, and then, through cold indifference, falls asleep as to the things of God, is an apostate in the incipient sense. Having received but a glimmering of light, he has not had a great deal to apostatize from. His case is the mildest form, from which he is susceptible of being aroused, when the expiring spark of the Gospel in his bosom is fanned to a glow by a genial breath of the Spirit of truth.

There are degrees from that moderate condition all the way to the culminating point. When that is reached, the doom of the apostate is sealed beyond the reach of redemption. This is the situation referred to by the Savior, when he said a certain class of persons should not be forgiven in this world, neither in the world to come. They commit the blasphemy or sin against the Holy Ghost. In a revelation given through Joseph the Seer, in September, 1832, 84th Section,

...the Lord instructed the prophet and six elders on the nature and duties of the Aaronic and the High Priesthood. The following passage occurs: "Therefore all those who receive the Priesthood receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved; but whoso breaketh this covenant, after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world, nor in the world to come."

The highest point of apostasy can only be reached by those who fall away and turn against the light after having much considerable advancement in the work. Such become the sons of perdition, vessels of wrath, the only beings on whom the second death shall have power. They sin away the day of grace, never more to return. The Lord has said, "My Spirit shall not always strive with man." When that Spirit eternally forsakes an individual, woeful is his condition. Even repentance is beyond his reach, for that process is the result of the workings of the Spirit of God in the heart of man.

I am reminded that President Johnson told this people in the south that there would be a division in the people of this work. I pray that it may not take too heavy a toll, but if need be done, it needs to be done for the work to advance. God bless us, my dear brothers and sisters. Let us be faithful and true. Let us call upon God daily for an increase of faith that we may overcome death, hell, and the devil, that we may overcome as Jesus overcame, which I pray in the name of Jesus, amen.

RTJ 2:339 July 17, 1970 CCA Funeral

Colorado City, Arizona
July 17, 1970
Funeral of Melvin Johnson and David Broadbent

I, too, feel it a great privilege and an honor to be asked to speak on this sacred and solemn occasion, and I likewise need and desire an interest in your faith, that I may say something that will strengthen those here, and particularly the families of these beloved brethren who have been called to pass to the other side, to receive a just reward for a life of faith and integrity -- being called together, we know not why, but I have full faith and confidence that the will of God has been done, and I am sure that the families of these men look upon it the same way.

I felt to preface my remarks by a few thoughts that were expressed by the Prophet Joseph Smith on the demise of James Adams.

TPJS Page 324

All men know that they must die. And it is important that we should understand the reasons and causes of our exposure to the vicissitudes of life and of death, and the designs and purposes of God in our coming into the world, our sufferings here, and our departure hence. What is the object of our coming into existence, then dying and falling away, to be here no more? It is but reasonable to suppose that God would reveal something in reference to the matter, and it is a subject we ought to study more than any other. We ought to study it day and night, for the world is ignorant in reference to their true condition and relation. If we have any claim on our Heavenly Father for anything, it is for knowledge on this important subject. Could we read and comprehend all that has been written from the days of Adam, on the relation of man to God and angels in a future state, we should know very little about it. Reading the experience of others, or the revelation given to them, can never give us a comprehensive view of our condition and true relation to God. Knowledge of these things can only be obtained by experience through the ordinances of God set forth for that purpose. Could you gaze into heaven five minutes, you would know more than you would by reading all that ever was written on the subject.

We are only capable of comprehending that certain things exist, which we may acquire by certain fixed principles. If men would acquire salvation, they have got to be subject, before they leave this world, to certain rules and principles, which were fixed by an unalterable decree before the world was.

The disappointment of hopes and expectations at the resurrection would be indescribably dreadful.

And this key:
The organization of the spiritual and heavenly worlds, and of spiritual and heavenly beings, was agreeable to the most perfect order and harmony:
their limits and bounds were fixed irrevocably, and voluntarily subscribed to in their heavenly estate by themselves, and were by our first parents subscribed to upon the earth. Hence the importance of embracing and subscribing to principles of eternal truth by all men upon the earth that expect eternal life.

The thing that I desire to say in connection with these two faithful brethren is that they subscribed themselves, unalterably, to living the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, desiring their eternal salvation. They were faithful and true, and I can testify to the Lord that they have done so. I was better acquainted with David than Melvin, but I can certainly say that all who knew them, that they chose the better part; they subscribed themselves to obey every word that proceeded forth from the mouth of God.

The Prophet Joseph Smith said that the hinge of the door of salvation turns on our becoming like God. We cannot see Him, we cannot be with Him unless we become like Him. How are we going to become like Him? By obedience to every law and ordinance of the Gospel of Christ, every law and ordinance of the holy Priesthood, if you please; and none can be left out. If we are offender in one, we are guilty of the whole. We become like God by subscribing ourselves to His plan, to His laws and ordinances, without fear or failure. We become like Him by overcoming death, hell, and the devil, by overcoming every earthly thing that is within us, becoming pure, even as He is pure. We become like Him by sacrificing every earthly thing contrary to the character and attributes of God. We become like Him by having the companionship of the Holy Ghost, given to us for that purpose, the attributes of which are those of God.

If we can become skillful in obtaining this great blessing, having the Holy Ghost as our constant companion, day in and day out, until our character is formed in such a way that when God deems it proper, and as a test, He can withdraw that Spirit, and the man will still do as Job, will do as Heber Kimball, and as Joseph Smith, if you please, and, of course, as Jesus Christ did. Their character was so formed that God could have full confidence in them in any circumstance and time that they might be found.

I humbly pray, my dear brothers and sisters, that we as a people may go on unto perfection, that we will be as ready to go as these two brethren. I pray for the comforting influence of the Holy Spirit to rest down upon the families of these two faithful brethren, that we can lift up our hearts in rejoicing in the contemplation of these truths, which I say to you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:342  July 19, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
July 19, 1970
God Will Sustain His Servants;
Testimony of Joseph Smith

I appreciate the remarks that have been made and the spirit in which they have been made, and I hope they have sunk deep into the minds of you young people as well as the old. They certainly can do us all a great deal of good. I appreciate meeting with you again today, and the association of my brethren whom I dearly love. I love the doctrines and the laws of the holy Priesthood. I felt impressed, as Brother Jessop was saying what he did, to read an item here that I think will stand us in good stead. First of all I think I will read something that Brother Pratt said regarding Priesthood.

Parley P. Pratt  Millennial Star 6:93

Brethren, no one's claims need any support. Those who hold the keys of the kingdom of God will be supported by the spirit of God, and by his angels, and also by the aid and prayers of the Saints. And they will say nothing about their 'claims,' nor will they need the talents of men to advocate them.

If men hold the keys of the kingdom of God, they are not dependent upon men to support their claims; but the church and all the world is dependent on them and on the keys committed to them for the ministration of salvation. They can shut and no more open, or open and no more shut. And to these authorities all must bow, so far as to be ministered to, and governed in the things of salvation, or else remain without the blessing of the kingdom.

I think the saints will find that this order of the Priesthood has not been prone to set forth claims as to the authority that has been given. The Spirit and power of God will do that, as we have had hundreds and hundreds of testimonies to bear witness. You will find as you look back in your own lives that this is true.
It makes me tired to hear so often -- not particularly among this congregation, but we have had it time and again -- statements made by men who are supposed to know better, limiting the power of the Priesthood, setting stakes for God as the Priesthood. God will be His own advocate through His ministrations through His servants. Some statements have been made that this order of the Priesthood, those who bear it, are limited to performing plural marriages, giving only what they themselves want and no more, having no further prerogatives, if you can imagine anyone talking like this, saying at the same time that the authority was not in the general authorities of the Church; saying in one breath that these brethren had the power to perform marriages, which is the keys of Elijah, and in another breath that they cannot receive the contributions of the saints in obedience to the law of God, the Economic Law of Heaven and a lot of other things.

I would like to read to you now what Joseph Smith said on the subject, which should settle it for all time for all men.

TPJS  Page 337

Now for Elijah. The spirit, power, and calling of Elijah is, that ye have power to hold the key of the revelations, ordinances, oracles, powers and endowments of the fulness of the Melchizedek Priesthood and of the kingdom of God on the earth; and to receive, obtain, and perform all the ordinances belonging to the kingdom of God, even unto the turning of the hearts of the fathers unto the children, and the hearts of the children unto the fathers, even those who are in heaven.

Now comes the point. What is the office and work of Elijah? It is one of the greatest and most important subjects that God has revealed. He should send Elijah to seal the (heart of the) children to the fathers, and the fathers to the children.

I do not know what more powers you can think of that God grants to His servants whom He has called and chosen than this list of powers that is given by the Prophet Joseph Smith. And again, speaking of keys of the Priesthood of Melchizedek:

TPJS  Page 322

What was the power of Melchizedek? ‘Twas not the Priesthood of Aaron which administers in outward ordinances, and the offering of sacrifices. Those holding the fulness of the Melchizedek Priesthood are kings and priests of the Most High God, holding the keys of power and blessings. In fact, that Priesthood is a perfect law of theocracy, and stands as God to give laws to the people, administering endless lives to the sons and daughters of Adam.

Abraham says to Melchizedek, I believe all that thou hast taught me concerning the priesthood and the coming of the Son of Man; so Melchizedek ordained Abraham and sent him away. Abraham rejoiced, saying, Now I have a priesthood.

I do not read these things, brothers and sisters, trying to prove any point regarding the brethren whom you know. I am trying to speak for God by the words coming out of the mouth of His servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., under the grand Presidency. And I felt, brethren and sisters, to further upon this occasion, with the recent anniversary of the martyrdom of the Prophet Joseph Smith, to read the grand words of John Taylor, Section 135. It has been a wonderful thing to me to contemplate the beautiful relationship that existed between Joseph and John, Joseph Smith and John Taylor, who was with the Prophet the night before his martyrdom. And he was eminently qualified to write these words.

1. To seal the testimony of this book and the Book of Mormon, we announce the martyrdom of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and Hyrum Smith the Patriarch. They were shot in Carthage jail, on the 27th of June, 1844, about five o'clock p.m., by an armed mob -- painted black -- of from 150 to 200 persons. Hyrum was shot first and fell calmly, exclaiming: I am a dead man! Joseph leaped from the window, and was shot dead in the attempt, exclaiming: O Lord my God! They were both shot after they were dead, in a brutal manner, and both received four balls.

2. John Taylor and Willard Richards, two of the Twelve, were the only persons in the room at the time; the former was wounded in a savage manner with four balls, but has since recovered; the latter, through the providence of God, escaped, without even a hole in his robe.

3. Joseph Smith, the Prophet and Seer of the Lord, has done more, save Jesus only, for the salvation of men in this world, than any other man that ever lived in it. In the short space of twenty years, he has brought forth the Book of Mormon, which he translated by the gift and power of God, and has been the means of publishing it on two continents; has sent the fulness of the everlasting gospel, which it contained, to the four quarters of the earth;

In the short space of fourteen years. The last words I have added.

3. ...has brought forth the revelations and commandments which compose this book of Doctrine and Covenants, and many other wise documents and instructions for the benefit of the children of men; gathered many thousands of the Latter-day Saints, founded a great city, and left a fame and name that cannot be slain. He lived great, and he died great in the eyes of God and his people; and like most of the Lord's anointed in ancient times, has sealed his mission and his works with his own blood; and so has his brother Hyrum. In life they were not divided, and in death they were not separated!

4. When Joseph went to Carthage to deliver himself up to the pretended requirements of the law, two or three days previous to his assassination, he said: "I am going like a lamb to the slaughter; but I am calm as a summer's morning; I have a conscience void of offense towards God, and towards all men. I SHALL DIE INNOCENT, AND IT SHALL YET BE SAID OF ME -- HE WAS MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD." -- The same morning, after Hyrum had made ready to go -- shall it be said to the slaughter? yes, for so it was -- he read the following paragraph, near the close of the twelfth chapter of Ether, in the Book of Mormon, and turned down the leaf upon it:

5. And it came to pass that I prayed unto the Lord that he would give unto the Gentiles grace, that they might have charity. And it came to pass that the Lord said unto me: If they have not charity it mattereth not unto thee, thou hast been faithful; wherefore thy garments are clean. And because thou hast seen thy weakness, thou shalt be made strong, even unto the sitting down in the place which I have prepared in the mansions of my Father. And now I...bid farewell unto the Gentiles; yea, and also unto my brethren whom I love, until we shall meet before the judgment-seat of Christ, where all men shall know that my garments are not spotted with your blood. The testators are not dead, and their testament if in force.

6. Hyrum Smith was forty-four years old in February, 1844, and Joseph Smith was thirty-eight in December, 1843; and henceforward their names will be classed among the martyrs of religion; and the reader in every nation will be reminded that the Book of Mormon, and this book of Doctrine and Covenants of the church, cost the best blood of the nineteenth century to bring them forth for the salvation of a ruined world; and that if the fire can scathe a green tree for the glory of God, how easy it will burn up the dry trees to purify the vineyard of corruption. They lived for glory; they died for glory; and glory is their eternal reward. From age to age shall their names go down to posterity as gems for the sanctified.

7. They were innocent of any crime, as they had often been proved before, and were only confined in jail by the conspiracy of traitors and wicked men; and their innocent blood on the floor of Carthage jail is a broad seal affixed to "Mormonism" that cannot be rejected by any court on earth, and their innocent blood on the escutcheon of the State of Illinois, with the broken faith of the State as pledged by the governor, is a witness to the truth of the everlasting gospel that all the world cannot impeach; and their innocent blood on the banner of liberty, and on the magna charta of the United States, is an ambassador for the religion of Jesus Christ, that will touch the hearts of honest men among all nations; and their innocent blood, with the innocent blood of all the martyrs under the alter that John saw, will cry unto the Lord of Hosts till he avenges that blood on the earth. Amen.
1914 in Provo, Utah. Of this union, three children were born: his son Henry Moroni Orullian, still living; a daughter Lucille, born March 13, 1913, in Provo, who died July 6, 1913, in Provo; a son Peter born March 4, 1914, died the same day. Brother Orullian's parents received the Gospel in their native land of Syria about 1895. The family records were destroyed by the Turks, who raided and massacred the Christian people in that land, destroying all records and religious literature that they could find.

You can see here, brothers and sisters, the trying conditions, the great sacrifices that were made to receive and obey the Gospel of Jesus Christ on the part of his parents and this boy.

James Orullian and his older sister, twenty years old at the time, he at about age fifteen, immigrated to Utah by themselves with the help of the Mormon Elders in 1901.

I will never forget the heart warming experiences that he has related to me about this great journey which was taken under the spirit of gathering of Israel to come to Zion and obey the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

They labored at any work that they could get, His sister and Brother James.

...saving their money which they sent to their parents, and thus brought them to Utah and all of the family. They were very trying times and they made great sacrifices and went through great hardships. Since coming to Utah, Brother Orullian has been very active in the Church. He was faithful to his convictions, he has done home missionary work, worked with the adult Aaronic groups, was a visiting Elder, and he did a great deal of Temple work as he was able to do so. As a boy in the land of his birth, he worked at the looms weaving. In Utah, he worked at many traits. In Riverton, he took care of the Page Ranch with sheep, cattle and other farming. He worked in the mines at Tinnic, also in the Woolen Mills at Provo. He has been a farmer and a gardener.

It is a pleasure to see the gardens that he has raised.

He worked about thirty years at the Interstate Brick Company as a crusher operator, and he was also a night watchman at the Eimco Corporation plant. Brother Orullian was a peace loving man. He always tried to keep peace in his family and among his friends, often at his own
He was a generous man. And I can testify of this.

He gave of himself and his means to all who needed his help, and when asked, he often gave his last dollar to help someone, even to strangers. He was a very independent man. He worked hard all his life with very few pleasures. He enjoyed the outdoors and loved the canyons. He gave up his own time to take care of his parents as long as they lived. He never remarried after his wife’s death. He fought for what he believed in. He was faithful to his religion and a very prayerful man. You could hear him pray and sing almost anytime you were near him if he thought he was alone. He was the last member of his father’s family to pass on.

The thing that impressed me about the life of this humble man was his humility -- a deep and abiding faith in the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, which he felt to live and abide in. I am sure that this man will be added upon as he goes into his third estate. He was faithful and true in his first estate, before he came here, making covenants to live and abide the Gospel of Christ, and to come forth in this day and time as an example to his family and loved ones and to his friends; to receive the Gospel and obey it and to go on in faith to his second and his third estate, having earned a glorious resurrection.

There is something about the life and labors of a man like Brother Orullian that thrills me through and through, the love that he bore for God, the love he bore for the Gospel of our Father Adam, and Enoch, and Noah, and Abraham, and Moses, Elijah, and Joseph Smith the Prophet whom he loved and delighted to honor and obey. He loved the Priesthood, he loved the saints, he loved and trained and taught his family and did everything he could to abide in the Gospel and to live a true saint.

God bless his memory, and may the Lord bless brother Henry and his family and all who bore true relationships with him, of the family that remain. I pray the Lord to bless and sustain and strengthen them and bless the memory of this great and good man to our good and benefit, that we may follow in like manner, the spirit and the path of humility, in abiding the law of God and the Gospel of Jesus Christ, which I ask in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:350 August 16, 1970 Sandy
Sandy, Utah
August 16, 1970
United Families

I rejoice in what has been said here today, and I trust that it will sink deep into our hearts. I desire to leave only one thought with you today in the words of Lorenzo Snow.

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, Through the Holy Ghost.

...suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:351  September 6, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
September 6, 1970
Must Abide the Laws of Celestial Marriage and the United Order; True Freedom Is Obedience to the Celestial Law; Rebellion Against Legitimate Authority; Oath of the Priesthood

I am grateful, brothers and sisters, for the spirit that is here today and trust that it will continue as I make some remarks. The Spirit of God will direct the same to our mutual edification. I truly desire an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters.

I am impressed with the great importance of our becoming like God. This is the burden of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. This is the burden of the laws of the holy Priesthood, brothers and sisters, which are designed specifically to make us like God if we will only abide those laws. Truly, the initiatory ordinances of the Gospel are the foundation for these things -- faith, repentance, baptism by immersion, and the laying on of the hands of the Priesthood for the gift of the Holy Ghost; the reception and the magnifying of the holy Priesthood by the brethren and their wives and their children -- all of these things together, abiding in the crowning principles and laws of the Holy United Order and Celestial and Plural Marriage, the Family Order of Heaven. These laws were given to us specifically to make us like God, for it is His work and His glory to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of His children. It is His glory that we become like Him, that we might receive of those things that He has and is.

The great lack of this people is that we are not abiding these laws, and the reason that we are not receiving more. But there is a time coming, brothers and sisters, whether we will go along and be ready or not, when the Lord will have His strong men, His young men, middle-aged, to redeem Zion and to prepare a place and people that He can use as a nucleus of the great Millennium, in preparation for the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ in power to rule and reign in the earth with the saints. Whether each and every one of us are ready or not, these things are going to be accomplished in the due time of God. The question for each and every one of us to answer is, will we have a part in it? We will not have a part in it unless we have made the necessary sacrifices and rendered perfect obedience to the laws and ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, to the laws of the holy Priesthood, if you please. They are one and the same. Perhaps the preamble to the law of Celestial Marriage might be a worthy review at this point.

D.& C. 131

1. In the celestial glory there are three heavens or degrees;
2. And in order to obtain the highest, a man must enter into this order of the priesthood [meaning the new and everlasting covenant of marriage];
3. And if he does not, he cannot obtain it.
4. He may enter into the other, but that is the end of his kingdom; he cannot have an increase.
The New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage is that which is outlined and given of the Lord in Section 132, which not only gives us the nature of the eternity of the marriage covenant, but the necessity of the plurality of the marriage covenant. What does the Lord say?

D.& C. 132

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord unto you my servant Joseph, that inasmuch as you have inquired of my hand to know and understand wherein I, the Lord, justified my servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, as also Moses, David and Solomon, my servants, as touching the principle and doctrine of their having many wives and concubines --
2. Behold, and lo, I am the Lord thy God, and will answer thee as touching this matter.

3. Therefore, prepare thy heart to receive and obey the instructions which I am about to give unto you; for all those who have this law revealed unto them must obey the same.
4. For behold, I reveal unto you a new and an everlasting covenant; and if ye abide not that covenant, then are ye damned; Or, you are stopped in your progress.

4. ...for no one can reject this covenant and be permitted to enter into my glory.
5. For all who will have a blessing at my hands shall abide the law which was appointed for that blessing, and the conditions thereof, as were instituted from before the foundation of the world.
6. And as pertaining to the new and everlasting covenant, it was instituted for the fulness of my glory; and he that receiveth a fulness thereof must and shall abide the law, or he shall be damned, saith the Lord God.

7. And verily I say unto you, that the conditions of this law are these: All covenants, contracts, bonds, obligations, oaths, vows, performances, connections, associations, or expectations, that are not made and entered into and sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise, of him who is anointed, both as well for time and for all eternity, and that too most holy, by revelation and commandment through the medium of mine anointed, whom I have appointed on the earth to hold this power (and I have appointed unto my servant Joseph to hold this power in the last days, and there is never but one on the earth at a time on whom this power and the keys of this priesthood are conferred), are of no efficacy, virtue, or force in and after the resurrection from the dead; for all contracts that are not made unto this end have an end when men are dead.

The thing I want to emphasize here, brothers and sisters, is this word "abide". It is one thing to enter into it. It is another to abide it, to live the law; not live at it and thus live at a poor dying rate, which so many are doing. How is it brethren, with your families? Are you truly leading them by the power of the holy Priesthood you bear, by the authority of the Priesthood you bear? How is it with you sisters? Are you upholding and honoring and sustaining the Priesthood of your husband and head?

We hear a lot in the nation today about a liberation movement of women. I want to tell the world and anybody who is interested, the only true freedom of woman is in the abiding of the holy Celestial Law of Marriage, submitting herself to her husband and head, and living his law as he lives and abides the law of God. In this there is the only freedom and liberty for a woman to have, in filling up the measure of her creation. Of course, we know the ridiculous ends that they are making their contentions today. It is not even worth mentioning because you all know what it is all about. What we are interested in is abiding the law of the holy Priesthood embodied in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Speaking of free agency and obedience:

JD 24:158 Erastus Snow June 24, 1883 Parowan

The Latter-day Saints have not been gathered from the different nations of the earth, and brought together in these mountains to worship man, nor to serve man, to be their slaves, nor to be obedient unto man, and if anybody has such an idea or intention they have got hold of the wrong people. The people who are gathered here are not the people calculated to do such a thing. The faith we teach throws everybody upon their own responsibility; they are at liberty to act and choose for themselves, and all will be held responsible before God for their faith and conduct. The free agency of man is and always has been a prominent doctrine in this Church, and no one advocated it more strongly than the Prophet Joseph Smith. The free agency of man is inseparably connected with intelligence, as the revelations of God in the Doctrine and Covenants plainly and explicitly declare, that all intelligence is independent. Without this agency there would be no self-existence. And because of this agency, which existed in eternity before the worlds were, with intelligent beings, with our spirits when they existed in the spirit world -- through the exercise of this agency Satan fell, and all those who clung to him and rebelled against our Heavenly Father. Brother Cannon has impressed us with the idea that obedience to correct principle, believing in the truth and living it and obeying it, is as good an evidence of independent thought and character -- and perhaps a little more so -- than to be disobedient;

The attitude of the world today is that the only freedom they have is in disobedience, when all of the time they are binding themselves by satan.

...that no man, woman or child will be more independent by rejecting the truth, by disobeying correct laws and correct principles, than those who receive and obey the truth with contrite hearts  Brother Cannon speaks of President Young and President Taylor, and other good men, our leaders, being led, as it were, by a hair in obedience to the Priesthood, which implies simply obedience to truth and to correct doctrine, and to righteousness. This is the explanation the Prophet Joseph Smith gave to a certain lawyer in his time who came to see him and his people and expressed astonishment and surprise at the ease with which he controlled the people, and said it was something that was not to be found among the learned men of the world. Said he: "We cannot do it. What is the secret of your success?" "Why," said the Prophet, "I do not govern the people. I teach them correct principles and they govern themselves."

So, only in obedience is there true freedom, brothers and sisters. Only in obedience, dear sisters, to the law of your husband will you indeed be free, knowing and abiding, obeying the truth as it is given to you by the revelations of God and the power of the Priesthood. Brother Musser gives me something really fine on this matter.

Millennial Star 18:227, 228 (Truth 16:215)

There is one cardinal sin -- "rebellion against legitimate authority."

That is what took place in the great Council of heaven before we came on the earth. The great sin of Lucifer was rebellion against Him whose right it was to rule.

All other sins are merely the results and modification of this capital one. There is only one fountain of evil. -- "rebellion against legitimate authority.

One fountain.
All other forms of evil are not primitive sources, but are simply streams derived from this parent source. The ten thousand directions into which crime branches are only channels through which rebellion manifests itself in its mission of misery, corruption, degeneracy, and extinction. Strike out of existence this parent sin, and it at once exhausts the material from which all others are manufactured, and destroys the mould in which they are manufactured. Dry up this fountain of evil, and a deadly, withering influence no longer feeds those channels, but the spirit of life, happiness, and exaltation will flow freely through the veins and arteries of universal beings.

Upon the heart of every member of the Holy Priesthood we would have engraved, that rebellion in you against that authority with which you are clothed will, if continued, inevitably lead to sin against the Holy Ghost, and you will become sons of perdition. Yea cherish but as much of the spirit of rebellion as will stand on the smallest conceivable point, and it will fester and fester until you are, in the most literal sense, naturally and spiritually, masses of mortified corruption, at which stage decomposition takes place, and you will be altogether extinct."

You will be dissolved into native element.

If mankind will choose the opposite to life held out in the gospel, it will lead them to dissolution, to decomposition, to death; they will be destroyed." So says the Prophet Brigham Young.

This is in the Millennial Star 18, page 228. I am grateful for this. So if you want to go into that path, brothers and sisters, be guilty of disobedience, and altogether, eventually, it will lead you to turn altogether away from the holy Priesthood.

I mentioned the word "submit". Brethren must submit to legitimate authority. Wives must submit to legitimate authority, their husband and head, as says Paul to the Ephesians.

Ephesians 5

22. Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord. Meaning, as he is your lord, as he submits himself to the Lord Jesus Christ.

23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.

24. Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.

25. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;
26. That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,
27. That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
28. So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.
29. For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:
30. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.
32. This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.
33. Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

Now, how to do this, brothers and sisters. The same principles apply to the man and to the woman, one as much as the other. He submits himself to the Lord, to the holy Priesthood, his legitimate head over him in all things; and she to him. She covenants, through the marriage covenant, to obey him as he obeys the law of God. This is beautiful. So it is all couched in this word "submission", "obedience", her whole being, being centered in him; his whole being centered in God. And his wife should be happy, gloriously happy, to see her husband doing so, spending his time in building up the Kingdom of God and establishing the holy Priesthood in the earth.

The same principle applies in the Holy United Order as in the law of Celestial Marriage, and vice versa, one as much as the other, each one seeking the interest of his neighbor, his brother; each one seeking the interest of her sister wife, through the head. Be interested in the welfare of your husband first and foremost, sisters, and in that of your sister wives, and not seeking your own interests; and brethren, not seeking your own interests, but the welfare of the Kingdom and the establishment of the Priesthood of God in the earth. You made those covenants when you received the holy Melchizedek Priesthood; and you sisters made those covenants when you received the law of marriage. We are under oath and covenant. I cannot think of anything more binding as pertaining to this principle than the grand and glorious revelation on Priesthood, found in Section 84:

D.& C. 84

33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthoods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.

34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.

 Isn't that what we are all seeking?

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;
36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;

When I get down a few verses we will find out what Priesthood is, what He is talking about.

37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.

39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.
40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.

41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom,

That is what I was talking about, or what is being said in this matter of legitimate authority. Any spirit of disobedience will lead us ultimately to turn altogether therefrom.

41. ...shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.

Or in other words, become sons of perdition. That is what we are dealing with.

42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.
This was unto Joseph and six Elders gathered together to receive the word and will of God; and these men were truly His Apostles.
42. ...and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

43. And I now give unto you a commandment to beware concerning yourselves, to give diligent heed to the words of eternal life.
44. For you shall live by every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God.

45. For the word of the Lord is truth, and whatsoever is truth is light, and whatsoever is light is Spirit, even the Spirit of Jesus Christ.
46. And the Spirit giveth light to every man that cometh into the world; and the Spirit enlighteneth every man through the world, that hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit.

47. And every one that hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit cometh unto God, even the Father.
48. And the Father teacheth him of the covenant which he has renewed and confirmed upon you, which is confirmed upon you for your sakes, and not for your sakes only, but for the sake of the whole world.

49. And the whole world lieth in sin, and groaneth under darkness and under the bondage of sin.
50. And by this you may know they are under the bondage of sin, because they come not unto me.

51. For whoso cometh not unto me is under the bondage of sin.
52. And whoso receiveth not my voice is not acquainted with my voice, and is not of me.
53. And by this you may know the righteous from the wicked, and that the whole world groaneth under sin and darkness even now.

That which follows is what the brethren have been saying to this people so many times -- we have treated lightly these things and are under condemnation, and we will not be out from under this condemnation until we repent and live and abide the whole law, not a part, but the whole of it. If we are guilty of one, we are guilty of the whole. That is the nature of this work.
That is the nature of the law of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, which I enjoin upon you in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:361  September 8, 1970  CCA  Funeral

Colorado City, Arizona
September 8, 1970
Funeral of Jeremiah Johnson, Son of Orval Johnson

I feel honored, my brothers and sisters, in being asked to take part in this beautiful service, in memory of Brother Jerry.  I am very glad to be here as his spirit yet lingers in the duration of these ceremonies in which a beautiful and clean body is being laid away in Mother Earth.  It seems to me that all has been said that should be said on this occasion.  I have rejoiced in the things that have been done and said here.  The beautiful song and poem reveals to me the deep spirituality, the sensitive spirit that this young man had, that he has, and goes on to the other side with.  He was very sensitive to the direction and Spirit of God, this is very evident.  He had completed his work; his time had come.

I rejoice in the remarks Brother Musser has given us in this connection, but I would add one more thought.  It is a glorious thing to die -- to leave this probation, it should be said -- in full fellowship and faith, as contrasted to some of which I had occasion to witness, those who have died in their sins.  What a beautiful contrast in the life of this young man, who died full of faith, who departed a true son of the Priesthood, a child of the Priesthood, having been diligent, faithful and true all the days of his life, and has come to the fulfillment of his life in this beautiful occasion.

There should be no mourning, but rejoicing; and I am sure there is.  I rejoice in his parents and all who knew him, rejoice in the beautiful life that he has lived, the example he has set, the diligent and faithful obedience to the Gospel of Jesus Christ until his time came.  He is going to be worthy of a glorious resurrection and perform a great work on the other side, I am sure, in doing all things necessary that are in his power and according to his appointments and office; for he held the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, to carry on the work on the other side, assisting the great worthies who have presided over us before in accomplishing the great work that Joseph Smith has under his direction in preparing a people; and doing all things that are going to be necessary to be done over there, in the redemption of Zion, and preparing for the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. Talk about a great work!
I am sure that his work is there and not here; and in this I rejoice, and pray that we may all rejoice as we contemplate this beautiful memorial service, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:363  September 20, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
September 20, 1970
Experiences of His Father;
This Priesthood Can Administer the Fullness of the Gospel and Ordinances

I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, brothers and sisters, that I may be led as Brother Jessop has, and these others, by the Spirit of God. I have been thrilled with the account that President Jessop has given us here, and I think you should all take serious note of what has been testified of; and I adjure the young men, particularly, to take note and to remember these things the rest of their lives. I want my sons to do so at least. These truths ring as true as anything that has ever occurred in my life. I am grateful to hear them. I am grateful, too, that my father was personally acquainted with Lorin Woolley, though it was at a time before the time spoken of here in 1929, when they were under injunction to be quiet, when they were on the underground so to speak. But he was the beneficiary of many instructions from Lorin Woolley at a time when my father was about to enter into this principle of Celestial and Plural Marriage. He, having been told by the Patriarch of the Davis Stake, as well as his Bishop as late as 1901, eleven years after the Manifesto, that it would be required of him to live and abide in the plural relationship and Celestial Marriage.

Father had received as his first wife, Phoebe Woolley, a daughter of Samuel
W. Woolley, who was a brother of John W. Woolley. Her sister Nettie Woolley was married to John W. Taylor, and father was very well acquainted with him, and attended many Patriarchal meetings in the Davis Stake that were called, to call upon the saints to dedicate their homes. And in many of these meetings these testimonies were given. Father saw John W. Taylor testifying to the fullness of the Gospel, and he likewise raised 12 to 18 inches from the floor, and his countenance shone with the Spirit of God. He was given similar testimonies. I am grateful that my father stood forth and received my mother after a year of hiding on her part, on the 2nd day of March, 1909; and the next day Sister Florence Rice, Patriarch Judson Tolman having been sent to them by these men through the instrumentality of Matthias F. Cowley, to seal those marriages; and father went into hiding. I guess he did a good enough job of it, so that his name did not appear in that 1910 list in the Salt Lake Tribune. But names were changed and he went forward.

I am grateful that my father fulfilled the requirements that were laid upon him, and that he has taught me likewise. I am grateful that my mother had the courage to go forward with great sacrifice in those times, to receive this law and abide it. And I am grateful beyond measure that father met Joseph W. Musser in 1937. He was handed a Truth Magazine some two years after it was commenced as a publication of the Priesthood, and was then and there informed through his instrumentality of all of the things that had taken place in 1929, as we have it here, and the things that had transpired since then, the work having been brought up to date. It was a year from then that father brought these matters to my attention. I am grateful that I received them with full purpose of heart, with a desire to live the fullness of the Gospel, to abide the laws and doctrines of the holy Priesthood. I love this work and this Priesthood more than life itself, and I feel to testify to you that this is indeed the work of God.

President Johnson holds the keys in association with these brethren, and the holy Apostleship to sustain and uphold the work commenced on that day in 1886; and it has been carried forward without cessation. These brethren, every one has fulfilled his covenant to see that children were born under this covenant, that Celestial Marriages were performed, of course, by which these children could come under the covenants of the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage. And I am grateful to know and to be a participant of these laws, all of the laws of the Gospel. These brethren not only have the right and authority to solemnize Celestial and Plural Marriages, but to receive tithing, and to administer to the saints all of the laws of the Gospel of Jesus Christ; yea, to enter into and observe the Holy United Order, of which tithing is the least part that is required of us to abide.
As Brigham Young said, the Holy United Order and the holy law of Celestial Marriage are the crowning, fulfilling principles of the Gospel, and the doctrines of the holy Priesthood; and if we abide them not we will fall short. As Brother Johnson has told us and repeated from scripture many times, if we fail to abide in any one, or in other words, if we are guilty of one law, failing to abide it, we are guilty of the whole. There is no halfway house, brethren and sisters, in this work, in the work of God. It is the Kingdom of God or nothing! There are no half measures by which we can enter into the Kingdom of God and the presence of God. It is all or nothing at all.

I am grateful for the testimony of such men as these, of Heber C. Kimball, who had the inscription on his cane: "The Kingdom of God or Nothing." It is that way with me, and I pray it will be so for you, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:365 October 4, 1970 Sandy

Sandy, Utah
October 4, 1970
All Things Must Come From the Head; Example of Heber C. Kimball's Obedience

I deeply appreciate meeting with the saints again under the direction and appointments of President Johnson. We must always remember, brothers and sisters, that all of these meetings and things that we engage in come by appointment and direction from the head.

I appreciate President Johnson. The Lord has placed him at the head of this work, the marvelous example that he has set us and is setting us, and in the way in which he administers the keys of the holy Priesthood in behalf of the saints. I feel as these other brethren do, and have expressed here today. How much strength and virtue goes out from him and the brethren in behalf of this work and people. This is the work of God. It is not the work of man. Let us never forget this. President Johnson is an instrument in the hands of God, and so are the rest, to administer the blessings of eternity to us. Knowing that this is the source of our blessings, brothers and sisters, how can we afford to do anything that will offend God by offending His servants, in failing to render perfect obedience to the commandments of God that come through them? Don't you know, brothers and sisters, that before you can be administered or admitted into the presence of Joseph, of Jesus, and Father Adam, we will have to be introduced by those who know them? How can we receive blessings at the hands of the servants of God and not remain close to them, draw near, sustain, and uphold them, and add strength to them? Certainly we, as weak mortals, need to draw strength and power from the Priesthood of those who preside over us. What a marvelous thing, as Brother Draper has said, when we can get to the point where we can give strength to them through our oneness and our perfect love, our perfect faith, if you please.

One of the grand examples I have delighted in citing to my family and this people is the example of Heber C. Kimball. I have brought here the "Life of Heber C. Kimball," in which we have recorded a revelation given to him in connection with these things, that I felt it would be profitable to read to you the exact words as they came by the Holy Spirit to him. I think it is well to give the background of these things that sometimes properly leads into the incidents that we speak of, and the principles that are spoken of. Joseph and the brethren were in Liberty Jail. The saints were at large, so to speak, between one place and another, having been driven out of Zion. They were in Far West, I think, at this time and about to be driven again. As I say, Joseph and his friends were incarcerated in Liberty Jail. He speaks of having returned to Liberty.

Life of Heber C. Kimball, Page 240
...
...where we arrived on the 30th and made Joseph and the rest of the prisoners acquainted with the result of our mission, through the grate of the dungeon,
Joseph and his friends were in a dungeon in this prison.

...as we were not permitted to enter the prison. Joseph told us to be of good cheer, for the Lord would deliver him and his brethren in due time; he also told us to tell the brethren to be of good cheer, and get all the Saints away as fast as possible.

"In company with Brother Turley, I visited Judge Austin A. King, who was angry with us for presenting his illegal papers to the Supreme Judges. He treated us very roughly. I returned to Far West, April 5th.
"My family having been gone about two months, during which time I heard nothing from them; our brethren being in prison; death and destruction following us everywhere we went; I felt very sorrowful and lonely. The following words came to my mind, and the Spirit said unto me, 'write,' which I did by taking a piece of paper and writing on my knee as follows:

"Far West, April 6th, 1839.

"A word from the Spirit of the Lord to my servant, Heber C. Kimball:
"Verily I say unto my servant Heber, thou art my son, in whom I am well pleased; for thou art careful to hearken to my words, and not transgress my law, nor rebel against my servant Joseph Smith, for thou has a respect to the words of mine anointed, even from the least to the greatest of them; therefore thy name is written in heaven, no more to be blotted out for ever, because of these things; and this Spirit and blessing shall rest down upon thy posterity for ever and ever; for they shall be called after thy name, for thou shalt have many more sons and daughters, for thy seed shall be as numerous as the sands upon the sea shore;

This is before Celestial and Plural Marriage had been revealed to him.

...therefore, my servant Heber, be faithful, go forth in my name and I will go with you, and be on your right hand and on your left and my angels shall go before you and raise you up when you are cast down and afflicted; remember that I am always with you, even to the end, therefore be of good cheer, my son, and my spirit shall be in your heart to teach you the peaceable things of the kingdom. Trouble not thyself about thy family, for they are in my hands; I will feed them and clothe them and make unto them friends; they never shall want for food nor raiment, houses nor lands, fathers nor mothers; brothers nor sisters; and peace shall rest upon them forever; if thou wilt be faithful and go forth and preach my gospel to the nations of the earth; for thou shalt be blessed in this thing: thy tongue shall be unloosed to such a degree that has not entered into thy heart as yet, and the children of men shall believe thy words, and flock to the water, even as they did to my servant John; for thou shalt be great in winning souls to me, for this is thy gift and calling; and there shall be no gift withheld from thee, if thou art faithful. Therefore, be faithful, and I will give thee favor in the eyes of the people; be humble and kind and you shall obtain kindness; be merciful and you shall obtain mercy; and I will be with you even unto the end. Amen."

Another grand example was set when the test was given to this great man who was so dear to the Prophet Joseph, and later to Brigham Young, when it was revealed to him regarding the necessity of abiding the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage. I suppose you have all read the account in this book. I don't think it is necessary to read it, but recount how Joseph Smith told him that it was required of him to live this law, that upon revealing to him this principle, he said, "The Lord requires you to bring your wife, Vilate, to be given to me in this holy law." He told him the Lord had revealed this to him.

He went home and fasted and prayed for three days. He was warned not to reveal this principle to Vilate, and Vilate wondered what was going on. She told him, after her suffering through many hours and days, that all was well, and she was ready to do whatever was required of her. Heber took her then to Joseph, "Here she is." He said he knew he was the Prophet of God, and whatever God required through him should be done. "I am here to do it." And Joseph, with tears in his eyes, said, "It is enough. This is all that God required of you." He then put her hand into his and sealed them for time and all eternity, and she lived to be a great blessing and a power in his family, giving him many wives, and seeing many, many children raised up to him. I understand it was sixty-five, and about forty-five wives.

This man lived and abided the holy laws of God in their fullness. Because he stayed so close to Joseph, he was given the powers of the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of revelation; the attributes of God thereby that enabled him to make his faith perfect and his love perfect so that the Holy Ghost was his constant companion, as it was promised to him. He lived daily, hourly, by the moment, if you please, by the revelations of God through the Holy Ghost.

He became Brigham's prophet, as it was spoken of, and he uttered many, many prophecies that have been fulfilled before this, and are yet to be fulfilled. He was indeed a true Prophet of God, a great Apostle alongside of Brigham Young after Joseph left. He knew who Joseph was and is. I would like to read a very short statement regarding this thing. This is in the Journal of Discourses, volume five, page 179.

JD 5:179 Heber C. Kimball  August 23, 1857  SLC

...let me tell you, the Holy Ghost is a man; he is one of the sons of our Father and our God; and he is that man that stood next to Jesus Christ.

Don't you suppose he knew, as John Taylor knew likewise, after being in Carthage Jail that night and receiving four balls and standing as his witness, a witness of Joseph Smith?
All right, brothers and sisters. If this order of Priesthood which has brought us together and from which we have received all of these glorious blessings and opportunities, if this be the case, can we afford to be anything but perfectly obedient, as Brother Draper said? Why don't we straighten up and round out our salvation, and become united as a people behind this order of Priesthood, behind President Johnson, and not make his work so difficult and arduous? Let us sustain him and this order with our means, our time, our talents, all that we have, and be one with him, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:370  October 18, 1970  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
October 18, 1970
True Virtue Is Obedience; Honesty in Keeping Covenants

I have been greatly edified by the spirit of the remarks that have been given so far, and desire to continue in the same. I was reminded of an item I have in my notebook here on virtue. If Brother Timpson will forgive me, I will add that to his remarks, perfectly in keeping, by Brigham Young.

JD 2:123   Brigham Young  April 17, 1853  SLC

What I consider to be virtue, and the only principle of virtue there is, is to do the will of our Father in heaven. That is the only virtue I wish to know. I do not recognize any other virtue than to do what the Lord Almighty requires of me from day to day. In this sense virtue embraces all good; it branches out into every avenue of mortal life, passes through the ranks of the sanctified in heaven, and makes its throne in the breast of the Deity. When the Lord commands the people, let them obey. That is virtue.

I wanted to speak on this grand principle of honesty, which Brother Hammon has spoken of so very fluently. I think it would be well to read the Section out of which that was spoken. It was instruction given to Oliver Cowdery when he desired to translate, and when he was given the privilege of translating.

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart, believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.

The things that have been spoken of here, I can apply assuredly on this grand principle of being honest. We enter into the waters of baptism, we make a covenant with Almighty God, with the Lord Jesus Christ particularly, that we will obey all of His laws and commandments. Elders receive the holy Priesthood by oath and covenant, and they covenant again to obey God and obey every word that proceeds forth from His mouth. A man and a woman stand before the Priesthood sealed in the holy Celestial Law, and they enter into a covenant to obey every law, and right, and ordinance of this order of holy matrimony, the laws of the holy Priesthood; and so on and on, one covenant upon another.

The greatest act of dishonesty is to break one's covenants, and the ultimate, of course, is one who turns traitor. That is the supreme act of dishonesty, and the penalty for that, of course, is the second death. The penalty for disobedience is ultimately death, the first death, and then the second for those who become sons of perdition.

So actually, brothers and sisters, receiving and obeying the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, is a matter of being honest with God, honest with one another, honest with the legitimate authority that we have undertaken to come under. This principle of honesty runs through every act of our lives, our association with one another; being honest and true; sisters with your husband, and you husbands with your legitimate Priesthood head; being honest with our tithing, with our surplus, being honest enough to make sacrifices, to put as much as we can into the Lord's storehouse. There is nothing, brothers and sisters, that will destroy confidence like an act of dishonesty, or a lie. We can tell lies and we can act lies.

Joseph Smith expressed it when he told how he hated hypocrisy. He said,
"God, how I hate hypocrisy." He was just simply saying he hated dishonesty. God loves His children, but He has not the least degree of allowance or respect for sin, for dishonesty, as it exists among some of us.

Now brothers and sisters, do you have little and big liars in your families? We should detect these acts of dishonesty because they can have a tremendous effect in after-life, in the kind of character that they are going to be. I would rather have a son or a daughter of mine come and tell me the honest truth about how they feel about this work, but do not lie about it, and do not act a lie about it. This is the thing that hurts most of all.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, our whole course -- if we can put it this way, and I think we can -- is a matter of being honest with God in the keeping of our covenants. It means that we act with a whole heart, not a half a heart, with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. Because it is a covenant we enter into, anything short of this is an act of dishonesty, in a degree. It is a matter of degree. All of these things are a matter of degree. So our faith may be measured by our honesty, can't it? -- the degree of honesty that we have in our hearts.

Now dear brothers and sisters, let us try to be more honest in our dealings one with another. Let us pay our honest and just debts. Let us keep our covenants and our promises one with another. If you promise something to your children, keep it; or to your wives, brethren, keep it. If you promise something to your legitimate Priesthood head, keep it.

You may enter into a legal contract, and there are penalties attached for a breach of contract, and these things are dishonest acts if done intentionally. Sometimes a contract cannot be kept because of physical circumstances that make it impossible, but we can be honest about it and tell why, and do something about it. So then, in the ultimate sense, it is not dishonest, even in breaking a contract, if it has to be done through some physical or impossible means by which it can be kept. But we can act honestly in it.

After all, brothers and sisters, aren't we entering into solemn contracts when we go into the waters of baptism? When we enter into the oaths and covenants and receiving of the holy Priesthood, when we enter into the holy Celestial Law of Marriage, and the Holy United Order, the Economic Law of Heaven, aren't we making solemn promises and covenants? Let us keep them, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I have enjoyed the beautiful spirit that has been here today, and the time we have spent in listening to the fine testimonies of these brethren who have spoken to us. There is a remarkable spirit of humility running through all of these things that we have heard. I desire to be obedient. I desire to do better and to become perfect, for this is the burden of the teachings of the brethren. This is what the Lord has told them to tell all of us, to get the Spirit of God and keep it, and to become like God. This is to be done by the workings of the Holy Ghost through the Priesthood upon each and every one of us, which is the gift of God through the gift of faith and repentance, and a desire in our hearts to render obedience.

Our Father in heaven, my dear brothers and sisters, has found it expedient in His sight, ages and ages ago, to institute the means by which we could become like Him. He desires our happiness. It is His work and His glory to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of His sons and daughters, and He desires us to become like Him. This is the order of heaven, and as things are a pattern there, so are they here. The Lord has seen fit to give us fathers in the Priesthood, here in the flesh; and this is the means by which we are to lay hold on these things, through the great gift of faith.

I was impressed in some of my reading recently about this principle of happiness. There is only one way to be happy in this earth. We are sent here into this dominion where satan, Lucifer, has been given control to see what we will do, and we are given the right and the blessing to make choices. The brethren have told us many, many times, when we have made our decision to serve God and to keep His commandments, that is the last decision we need ever make, and it is easy. The burden is light if we will seek God and His help, and use the gifts that He has given us.

My dear brothers and sisters, I think one of the greatest sins that is among us is the sin of ingratitude and taking things for granted, the things that He has given us, treating them lightly. I suppose this is the greatest sin of this dispensation, for the condemnation is still upon us, as President Johnson keeps reminding us.

Now, brothers and sisters, are we happy? If not, why? I can tell you in a very few words. Because you are living in a spirit of disobedience, having taken hold of these plain and precious truths. If there is a spirit of rebellion and disobedience, you are asking for nothing but unhappiness. The reason is, you are bearing two yokes: the yoke of the devil and the yoke of the Lord Jesus Christ. There is no greater hell on earth than that; clinging onto the world and the spirit of the world, and at the same time trying to render obedience to the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the laws of the holy Priesthood. There is nothing compatible about them, those two yokes. So, there is a hell of happiness, if you want to put it that way, as one of the writers has put it.

I would like to read a few of the words of Joseph the Prophet on this subject, which I think will help us. It is to be found on page 255, of the Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith.

Happiness is the object and design of our existence; and will be the end thereof, if we pursue the path that leads to it; and this path is virtue, uprightness, faithfulness, holiness, and keeping all the commandments of God. But we cannot keep all the commandments without first knowing them, and we cannot expect to know all, or more than we now know unless we comply with or keep those we have already received.

I suppose this is one of the elements of unhappiness on the part of some -- unhappy that we do not receive more -- but unfortunately they are not abiding and obeying the ones that we have already received. Then he goes on to say: That which is wrong under one circumstance, may be, and often is, right under another.

In this thing we find unhappiness, in setting stakes for the Lord; not His will but ours, and setting standards of our own; not abiding in the Spirit of revelation and taking direction from the Lord through Priesthood. To illustrate, he says:

God said, "Thou shalt not kill;" at another time He said, "Thou shalt utterly destroy." This is the principle on which the government of heaven is conducted -- by revelation adapted to the circumstances in which the children of the kingdom are placed. Whatever God requires is right, no matter what it is, although we may not see the reason thereof till long after the events transpire. If we seek first the kingdom of God, all good things will be added.
There is a grand principle. If we seek first the Kingdom of God, we will find happiness, and only in that.

So with Solomon: first he asked wisdom, and God gave it him, and with it every desire of his heart, even things which might be considered abominable to all who understand the order of heaven only in part, but which in reality were right because God gave and sanctioned by special revelation.

A parent may whip a child, and justly, too, because he stole an apple;
Remember this beautiful example.

...whereas if the child had asked for the apple, and the parent had given it, the child would have eaten it with a better appetite; there would have been no stripes; all the pleasure of the apple would have been secured, all the misery of stealing lost.
That is interesting, isn't it? Then, let us apply this to our spiritual life and the work of the Priesthood.

This principle will justly apply to all of God's dealings with His children.
Everything that God gives us is lawful and right; and it is proper that we should enjoy His gifts and blessings whenever and wherever He is disposed to bestow; but if we should seize upon those same blessings and enjoyments without law, without revelation, without commandment, those blessings and enjoyments would prove cursings and vexations in the end, and we should have to lie down in sorrow and wailings of everlasting regret. But in obedience there is joy and peace unspotted, unalloyed; and as God has designed our happiness -- and the happiness of all His creatures, he never has -- He never will institute an ordinance or give a commandment to His people that is not calculated in its nature to promote that happiness which He has designed, and which will not end in the greatest amount of good and glory to those who become the recipients of his law and ordinances. Blessings offered, but rejected, are no longer blessings, but become like the talent hid in the earth by the wicked and slothful servant; the proffered good returns to the giver; the blessing is bestowed on those who will receive and occupy; for unto him that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundantly, but unto him that hath not or will not receive, shall be taken away that which he hath, or might have had.

Do we see the answer to our question regarding that parable? It is because they will not receive and obey, and so that which they had is taken away.

Be wise today; 'tis madness to defer;
Next day the fatal precedent may plead.
Thus on till wisdom is pushed out of time
Into eternity.

Our heavenly Father is more liberal in His views, and boundless in His mercies and blessings, than we are ready to believe or receive; and, at the same time, is more terrible to the workers of iniquity, more awful in the executions of His punishments, and more ready to detect every false way, than we are apt to suppose Him to be. He will be inquired of by His children. He says, "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find;" but, if you will take that which is not your own, or which I have not given you, you shall be rewarded according to your deeds; but no good thing will I withhold from them who walk uprightly before me, and do my will in all things -- who will listen to my voice and to the voice of my servant whom I have sent; for I delight in those who seek diligently to know my precepts, and abide by the law of my kingdom; for all things shall be made known unto them in mine own due time, and in the end they shall have joy. (Aug. 27, 1842.) D.H.C. 5:134-136.

So, brothers and sisters, what the Lord requires of us is the whole heart, the whole mind, all of our strength, every fiber of our being; and then we shall be His. There is no halfway house and there are no halfway measures in the work of God and in the work of the Priesthood. It is the Kingdom of God or nothing. Only in the Kingdom of God is there to be found happiness, through perfect obedience, which is the end of our faith, or the modus operandi of our faith.

What do you desire, my dear brothers and sisters? According to our desires and our faith, so shall it be. This is the promise of God. If our desires be unto Him, He will add unto us eternal life, and that everlasting. If our desires be unto the world, we can have that, too, which will lead us down to hell, and there is no happiness in that course.
So, my dear brothers and sisters, the Lord is still waiting for a people who will be joined together in perfect obedience to the laws of the holy Priesthood, which He reveals to His servants, the Prophets, joined together in perfect faith. When our faith is perfect, then He will send His messengers, and we will even have the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ, having proven ourselves acceptable unto Him, having made our calling and election sure, being endowed with power from on high in His holy house, or wherever the Lord may choose.

Are we working and laboring to this end, my brothers and sisters? That is the only end that will bring happiness, which I pray we may obtain in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:378  November 15, 1970  CCA  Funeral

Colorado City, Arizona
November 15, 1970
Funeral of Elizabeth Johnson Carling Colvin (Aunt Lizzie)

My dear brothers and sisters, I feel highly honored in being called upon to have a part in this sacred service and ordinance, in the laying away of the earthly remains of this great pioneer mother, Aunt Lizzie, as we all loved to call her. I pray that the Spirit of God will direct me in what He would have me say. I feel wholly inadequate, actually, to do justice to this task -- I should not call it a task -- this privilege in speaking of the life and labors of this dear mother, for I felt she was so to me. From my earliest experience, one of the most thrilling experiences I have had in meeting with one of the saints of God was meeting Aunt Lizzie here in Short Creek in 1942, as I recall it. The grandest feeling came over me, as I felt that I was in the presence of a true saint, a kindred spirit that I immediately recognized. I know that I knew her over there. She reminded me, as with Brother Jessop, of my own dear mother, one who had struggled long and hard to bring herself into the status of a saint of God.

I was thrilled to hear how she had built her own home, very largely, the one in which I met her here in Short Creek, and I am sure this is typical of her life and labors from the beginning, as long as she could lift a hand to do anything for herself and for others, and especially for others. I was thrilled to hear how many children she has. What a great and glorious posterity stands to her credit, and how incumbent upon them it is to show their love and appreciation for her and what she has done for them by following her glorious example. The greatest tribute that we can pay to such a personage, one who has truly lived the life of a saint, is to live likewise, and more particularly to follow his or her teachings, as dictated by the Spirit of God, and according to the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, which she loved above all things, and lived accordingly.

I feel honored, and my life bettered for having known her and talked with her, which I did on many occasions when I came to this community, ate at her house, and associated with her on various occasions. I love her memory, and it shall always stay with me; for I am sure that we can all agree on this one thing, she lived truly the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. She kept her covenants and stands blameless before God, and is worthy of a resurrection into the eternal Celestial glory, to go to her husband and head, and to go on in the eternities at his side, as a goddess, as a prophetess, and one worthy to bear eternal posterity unto her lord and head. This is how I view these things, according to eternity, and we would do well to do likewise, my dear brothers and sisters. Consider all of these things as a part of eternity, for such it is. I pray that we will follow her example more perfectly, and go on unto perfection, building a life like unto hers that is worthy of emulation, and honor her accordingly, which I ask in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:380 November 22, 1970 Sandy

Sandy, Utah
November 22, 1970
Priesthood; Spirit of Revelation

It is wonderful to mingle with you again, brothers and sisters, and receive light and intelligence through our head. That is the wonderful thing about Priesthood. Everything begins and ends with it, brothers and sisters. Let us never forget that this is the source of the Spirit of God to us all, as Elders or heads of families, or in the conduct of our family affairs.

One of the grand principles that governs Priesthood that is connected with our salvation, which I am sure we are all seeking -- that is why we are here -- is that the Holy Spirit is the power by which all things are done. God authorizes and bestows authority upon those whom He calls and chooses, and has set in motion the great work of the latter days, beginning with our beloved Prophet Joseph Smith, Jun.

The Lord has set His hand for the last time for the salvation of the saints in preparation for the glorious coming of Jesus Christ, and the setting up of the Kingdom of God for the redemption of Zion, for the preparation of the earth in a paradisiacal glory, and finally in celestial glory for the dwelling place of the saints and of the Gods. That is why we are here. But all this, my brethren and sisters, is to be accomplished through Priesthood and the power of the Holy Ghost.

There is no salvation, none of these things can be realized without revelation. We have the scriptures -- all kinds of writings about spiritual things, but particularly the scriptures -- but let us bear in mind, my dear brothers and sisters, they, while they are the written word of God and are given for all to profit withal, they must be interpreted and understood by the Priesthood. They cannot be otherwise, because otherwise there is confusion and private interpretation to suit the ends of different individuals seeking gain, which is altogether too prevalent everywhere in the world.

So, my dear brothers and sisters, the Spirit of revelation, the Holy Ghost being the revelator, the source by which the gift of revelation comes, is absolutely necessary if we are to lay hold on eternal life, if we are to govern our families and live together in love and peace and joy. The Holy Ghost is the source of all good, dispensed by our Father through His servants, the Prophets, in an organized capacity in His Kingdom in the earth, which is made up of Celestial families.

This is what is incumbent upon us, brothers and sisters, that we live the Celestial Law in this telestial world. I would like to read again, brothers and sisters, what the Prophet has told us regarding the gift of revelation. After having discussed so beautifully the principles involved in having our calling and election made sure, receiving the Second Comforter, which is surely the ultimate object of our faith, he says this:

TPJS Page 151

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings.

In other words, we cannot lay hold on this grand and glorious end of our faith and of our living in these holy orders without revelation.
The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

What is the foundation of laying hold on the Spirit of revelation? First, know God, who He is, and what His character and attributes are. Have faith in Him because of His attributes. One of those attributes is faith, or power. You cannot lay hold on this blessing except by faith. It becomes a principle of action, and finally of power. I cannot emphasize that principle enough. We do not realize it enough, brothers and sisters, that faith is power, a principle of power; and by it, we lay hold on the Spirit of revelation and all the gifts and attributes of the Holy Spirit, and thus learn to become like God. And we cannot do it except through revelation. Lecture Five gives us the modus operandi.

Lecture Five

2. ...all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all; being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ; by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit. As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit,

This source of revelation,

3. ...so the saints are, by the same Spirit, to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them. Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

So, my brothers and sisters, by rendering perfect obedience through faith, and the power that it brings through the Holy Ghost, we may know that our course of life is pleasing to God. That is what gives us power, knowing, not believing merely, that our course is pleasing to God. Enough of the saints having this Spirit and power of revelation upon them, knowing that their course is pleasing to God, will give the Lord a people to redeem Zion. When He can get enough like this, He will begin to accomplish His work.

The Lord has given us the means, a very beautiful illustration in His revelations of how this principle and Spirit of revelation works. I think it would be helpful for us to review that for a minute. Oliver Cowdery wanted to, in his feeling of being equal to the Prophet Joseph Smith, wanted to translate. He was an educated man. Joseph was uneducated. It had been his lot to write for the Prophet Joseph, but he was not quite satisfied with it. So the Lord tried him and taught him a great lesson that he should have profited by for the rest of his life, which unfortunately he did not. But in the course of this experience, which the Lord in His love and kindness and mercy for this man who had taken up his lot with the Prophet Joseph, said, "Yes, Oliver, you may translate." And so He tells him:

D.& C. 8

1. Oliver Cowdery, verily, verily, I say unto you, that assuredly as the Lord liveth, who is your God and your Redeemer, even so surely shall you receive a knowledge of whatsoever things you shall ask in faith, with an honest heart,

Were his motives honest? Are yours when you ask in faith? If they are honest you will receive; if they are not you will not.

1. ...believing that you shall receive a knowledge concerning the engravings of old records, which are ancient, which contain those parts of my scripture of which has been spoken by the manifestation of my Spirit.

2. Yea, behold, I will tell you in your mind and in your heart, by the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you and which shall dwell in your heart.

3. Now, behold, this is the spirit of revelation; behold, this is the spirit by which Moses brought the children of Israel through the Red Sea on dry ground.
And may we add, this is the Spirit by which Nephi was led to slay Laban, that he might lay hold upon the records of his fathers of the Priesthood.

4. Therefore this is thy gift; apply unto it, and blessed art thou, for it shall deliver you out of the hands of your enemies, when, if it were not so, they would slay you and bring your soul to destruction.

Brother Oliver failed in this, I think because it was not with an honest heart. The Lord had called him to do one thing, and that was to write, but He gave him the opportunity. So after having tried, the Lord had to withdraw it. In Section 9 following, He said this:

D.& C. 9

1. Behold, I say unto you, my son, that because you did not translate according to that which you desired of me, and did commence again to write for my servant, Joseph Smith, Jun., even so would I that ye should continue until you have finished this record, which I have entrusted unto him.

2. And then, behold, other records have I, that I will give unto you power that you may assist to translate.

3. Be patient, my son, for it is wisdom in me, and it is not expedient that you should translate at this present time.

4. Behold, the work which you are called to do is to write for my servant Joseph.

5. And, behold, it is because that you did not continue as you commenced, when you began to translate, that I have taken away this privilege from you.

6. Do not murmur, my son, for it is wisdom in me that I have dealt with you after this manner.

Here is the way he did not carry out what he was instructed to do in the Spirit of revelation.

7. Behold, you have not understood; you have supposed that I would give it unto you, when you took no thought save it was to ask me.

8. But, behold, I say unto you, that you must study it out in your mind; then you must ask me if it be right, and if it is right I will cause that your bosom shall burn within you; therefore, you shall feel that it is right.

9. But if it be not right you shall have no such feelings, but you shall have a stupor of thought that shall cause you to forget the thing which is wrong; therefore, you cannot write that which is sacred save it be given you from me.

10. Now, if you had known this you could have translated; nevertheless, it is not expedient that you should translate now.

Notice the mercy and the love and kindness of the Lord for him.

11. Behold, it was expedient when you commenced; but you feared, "You feared." Fear is the opposite of faith. He had not the faith, therefore.

11. ...and the time is past, and it is not expedient now;

12. For, do you not behold that I have given unto my servant Joseph sufficient strength, whereby it is made up? And neither of you have I condemned.

13. Do this thing which I have commanded you, and you shall prosper. Be faithful, and yield to no temptation.

14. Stand fast in the work wherewith I have called you, and a hair of your head shall not be lost, and you shall be lifted up at the last day.

Can we see, then, my dear brothers and sisters, this is a principle to be learned? It is a skill, shall we say. Brother Guy has mentioned this many times, that it comes about through faithful living, abiding in our covenants, rendering perfect obedience to every command that comes from the mouth of God, and staying close to the source of our blessings, the Priesthood. Children, stay close to your parents, your faithful parents. Elders, stay close to the Priesthood that blesses you, and you will have that Spirit of revelation for your families. And remember how it works. First, you have been obedient and come to understand that your course is pleasing to God. Then this gift of revelation will be distilled upon you as the dews from heaven. And we shall be one grand united people and in the hands of God to redeem Zion, which I pray we may have a part in, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
After I came into this work in 1939, when I was studying to become a CPA, I got rather busy in the work and didn't seem to be able to find the time to continue studying in order to finish up the examination. So I went to Brother Joseph, Joseph Musser. I said, "Now what do you want me to do about this professional activity? Does the Lord want me to have it or shall I forget it?" because it was required I pass it by that time, November of 1942, or else start all over again. Brother Joseph said, "I want you to get that examination over and the Lord will bless you, and do this work a great deal of good." This is all I wanted to hear. The Lord saw me through and I passed the examination without hardly a word of review. And I feel to acknowledge the hand of God in this and in all things connected with my life and labors in this Kingdom.

I owe all things that I have and am to the Lord. Nothing I have is mine. I am only desirous of being a good steward and a faithful servant of God, and I desire to serve and bless and help this people in every way that I can.

I am particularly grateful for President Johnson who leads us in this Priesthood work, who has been a constant source of inspiration and blessing to me and mine. He has been a wonderful example, and he is to all of us, brothers and sisters. And I trust, and I am sure all of you thank God every day as you get on your knees for His blessings to us through this servant of God.

I am grateful for Brother Guy. It seems that our labors, our association have run quite parallel in this work. I appreciate the deep devotion and the perfect faith in the life and labors of this humble and true servant of God. His life, likewise, has been a source of great inspiration and blessing to me. I am grateful for all of my brethren and for all of you, my dear brothers and sisters, who have set your hand to the plow, desiring to serve God, to keep His commandments, to build up the Kingdom of God and establish the holy Priesthood in the earth. I know most of you are striving to do the things that President Johnson, the brethren, constantly admonish us to do and be, especially to be like God. But we have so much more to do, so much further to go, it seems, to be that people, the nucleus of the great Millennium that the Prophets have prophesied a people would be.

You know as well as I do the burden of President Johnson’s message to us. His directions, his instructions are to prepare ourselves that we may be perfect before God, perfect as He is. This is the only way that a people can be prepared, a people who are one in the hands of God, who have the Spirit of God upon them continually. For this is the only way that we can be one, by having the Holy Ghost as our constant companion, that the doctrines of the holy Priesthood shall distill upon our souls continually, and that we shall have this gift as our constant companion in the Spirit of revelation, the Spirit of discernment, that we may overcome all evil; indeed, that we may overcome even as Jesus Christ overcame. Though He was perfect, let us always understand, brothers and sisters, as the Prophet Joseph has told us -- and no one was better qualified to tell us so -- Jesus suffered greater contradictions and greater sufferings than man can. And He overcame death, hell, and the devil, and remained perfect and without sin; showing that we, likewise, can be so if we will follow all of the laws and commandments and the ordinances of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, through faith, through repentance, entering into the Kingdom through the door, and the gifts of the Holy Ghost, receiving and abiding in and magnifying the holy Priesthood.

I cannot emphasize enough, brothers and sisters, the importance of this great principle of magnifying and abiding in the holy Priesthood, because that is the central theme of our existence as families -- abiding in the laws and magnifying the Priesthood of the head of a family, and of the Priesthood that leads us, following examples of such men as Heber C. Kimball and John Taylor, Brigham Young, John and Lorin Woolley and all of our fathers in the Priesthood. We have had such a multitude of evidences, such a multitude of examples for us to follow that we have no excuse. There are none of us that have any excuse. We are left without one, absolutely, my dear brothers and sisters; and if we go about complaining and criticizing, that is perfect evidence of our disobedience and losing the Spirit of God; knowing that God has moved again in this last day and dispensation to restore the holy Priesthood for the last time, the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, in preparation for the final redemption of Zion and the ushering in of the great Millennium and the appearance again of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, to rule as King of kings and Lord of lords. What great hope and faith and strength we should entertain in our hearts, daily and hourly and momentarily as we go about our daily labors.

I think the greatest sin that we may be guilty of is the sin of ingratitude, brothers and sisters. This is the very sum and substance of humility, without which it is impossible to please God, the spirit of gratitude. And if we are truly grateful enough, the least that we can do is surrender perfect obedience to the laws and commandments of God and every word of God that comes forth from Him and His servants. This is the truest and best way to show our gratitude.

So I am grateful for my brethren, and you, my brothers and sisters; grateful for the heritage that I have received through my faithful and true father and mother, through his fathers who abided and lived the fullness of the Gospel. I am grateful for the holy Priesthood and the blessings that it gives me and mine. I humbly pray, my dear brothers and sisters, that we all may labor together.

When we have so much, so much to look to through the leadership and the Spirit of revelation that is leading us, I don't see how we can be so slow to hearken, to build up our most holy faith, to the end that we may become like Him, and go on to perfection. My brothers and sisters, do we realize that the great principle of faith is, above all, a principle of power? By cultivating it, obtaining that gift from our father through the Holy Spirit, we may become perfect in Him to such an extent that we know that our course of life is pleasing to God; and in this we have power with God, power in the Priesthood, power in our families, through faith, to become like Him.

I wish we could understand this principle of faith more perfectly, what it embraces as a principle of action and a principle of power, a principle of humility, a principle of love, justice, judgment, truth, and mercy. Faith will bring us all of these things. So, this is why the Prophet Joseph tells us that faith is probably the greatest attribute of God; that coupled with love. Paul tells us that love is the greatest of these three: faith, hope, and love. But it seems to me that without faith, we cannot lay hold on any of the others of these attributes of God to such an extent that we may indeed know that we please God, and thus have power with Him, which I pray we may do and be in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.
I have enjoyed the remarks that have been given us so far, brethren and sisters, and trust that we may profit withal. I felt like having President Heber C. Kimball talk to us from the Journal.

This people here are the people of God.
And I think we may say the same of this people here.

Here, in the Territory of Deseret, is the kingdom of God,
And we have that. Where you find the holy Priesthood functioning, there is the Kingdom of God.

...and here are all the officers pertaining to that kingdom; and here is an organization that is organized after the order of God, and it is organized after the order of the Church of the First Born.

Let me explain what the Church of the First Born is. It is the first Church that ever was raised up upon this earth; that is, the first born Church. That is what I mean; and when God our Father organized that Church, He organized it just as His Father organized the Church on the earth where He dwelt; and that same order is organized here in the City of Great Salt Lake; and it is that order that Joseph Smith the Prophet of God organized in the beginning in Kirtland, Ohio. Brother Brigham Young, myself, and others were present when that was done;

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was organized April 6, 1830, a corporate body, a nursing mother to bring in believers and raise them up to greater things, for which the Church of the Firstborn is designed to do.

...and when those officers received their endowments, they were together in one place. They were organized, and received their endowments and blessings, and those keys were placed upon them, and that kingdom will stand for ever.

My goodness, brothers and sisters, don't you see what we have under the Priesthood of God? That Kingdom is with us. I testify of it in the name of Jesus Christ, if you will receive it.

Now mark it -- that kingdom will never be overthrown; although they may kill, that is, if they can, brother Brigham and me, and brother Daniel H. Wells, and they may kill the Apostles, if they can, and so they may keep on from this time to all eternity and they never can obliterate this work.

As a little background, I may interpolate here. Johnston's Army was without at this time in 1857, having been sent there by President Buchanan. Feelings were rather high, and so the brethren -- President Young, President Kimball, and President Taylor, notably -- stood up as Prophets and giants under God and defied them, and they were handled. They had the Kingdom of God, not recognized, small in its incipient stages, for it still is, and when God shall speak and do His great work, that Kingdom shall rise under the holy Apostleship.

They may kill, and destroy, and waste a great many limbs that are upon this Church; but let me tell you, they never can kill the tree nor destroy the root from whence we have sprung; for our Father and our God is that root, and Jesus Christ, the Son of God, is the tree or vine, and we spring out of that vine; and if we keep His commandments and receive the Spirit of God, the Holy Ghost, it is that nourishment that comes down directly from the Father, from Jesus Christ, the true vine.

And as President Buchanan, the President of the United States of America, holds the keys of the government of this whole nation, so Brigham Young holds the keys pertaining to this Church and people. President Johnson holds the keys pertaining to the Church of the Firstborn and this people.

Well, do I suppose, when I reflect, that troops are being sent here without President Buchanan's permission? No, not for a moment: he has permitted it. We are a poor, isolated people, driven over one thousand miles from our native land, and many of us have been driven and broken up five times; and he and his coadjutors have acknowledged it and have said pointedly there could nothing be done for us as a community: and here we are, after sending forth our men, the Elders of Israel, and redeeming this land from Mexico.

The Mormon Battalion, while they were suffering on the plains, on the way
They are now designing to come with troops to break us up and to kill our Prophets, and our Apostles, and our Elders.

Brethren, I will tell you one thing, and you may be sure of it, as the Lord God lives, and as my soul lives, that nations that raise the weapons of war against this people shall perish by those weapons. Every nation, every tongue, and every people shall perish, and every man and woman that gives consent to it. (Voices: "Amen.") You may "Amen" to the whole of it, for it is true. Go and read the Book of Mormon, the Prophets, and the revelations given to Joseph the Prophet; and you will learn that God has said that every nation and every people on this earth that will not serve Him shall be destroyed.

We add, then shall the Kingdom of God arise in majesty and power under a perfect theocracy.

This is the kingdom of God. When they fight us, they fight God, and Jesus Christ, and the Holy Ghost, and they fight all the Prophets that have been from the creation down to the present time. Why? Because Joseph was the last Prophet; God spoke to him, placed the keys upon him, by Peter, James, and John. Do you suppose they did it without having authority from Jesus? No; Jesus told them when to do it, and told them who the man was; and Joseph, the Prophet of the living God, placed those keys on brother Brigham.

The Father told Jesus when to go and again commit these keys to men on the earth; Jesus told the Twelve when to do it; Joseph told Brigham when to do it. Now, look at it naturally, and you will see that every man and woman that raise their hands against this people will be destroyed, and that without remedy.

Set your heart at rest, then: you need not be troubled, nor frightened at all: for as the Lord liveth, and we live, we will prosper, and we will come off victorious. You know we have to stick in an if -- if you live your religion, and will do as you are told, and become like the clay in the hands of the potter.

He was the author of that beautiful parable of the clay and the potter, which he enlarges on here, which I think will do us a great deal of good if we will listen and receive it and do something about it.
Who are you to be subject to? You say you are willing to be subject to God -- to Jesus Christ. You are willing, if Peter came along, to listen to him. Well, Peter is here, John is here, Elias is here, Elijah is here, Jesus is here, and the Father is here. What! in person? If not in person, their authority is here, with all the power that ever was or ever will be to seal men and women up to everlasting life -- seal them on earth and in heaven, by the power of Elijah, which is upon brother Brigham; and it is on every man he authorizes.

Joseph had those keys and powers directly from those men, and we received them from Joseph; so you see we are legal heirs to the kingdom of heaven. You have got to be subject to these powers that be; for there is no power only that which is ordained of God. You have to listen to that. Can we be Saints by having our own will, our own way? Brother Elias has been talking about that this morning, how he has felt that will that was in him. Gentlemen, he has not been easy to handle and place upon the wheel; if he had been, he would have been filled with almighty power, even the power that was upon Joseph and Brigham, and upon every other good man in this Church; but he is going to walk up henceforth; he isn't going to stand back any more. He is akin to brother Joseph, and Joseph is ashamed of his own kindred that will not step forth and be valiant, and God is ashamed of them.

Be passive in the hands of God, in the hands of His servants, as clay in the hands of the potter. How is that? How can the servants of God mould you, fashion you, and prepare you to become moulded and fashioned after the likeness of God, unless you are passive? Submit yourselves, in other words.

If you go into the adobie yard, you may see men engaged in the business of adobie making, and you can see them moulding adobies out of the elements. Suppose that clay would not be passive, but would have its own will, and not be subject to the moulder of the adobies, he could not mould them, because the adobie would not let him mould it.

When I carried on the pottery business, I used to take a good deal of pains to get good clay, and hauled it a long distance, and then I always immersed it before I put it into the mill to grind it. Why? To make it passive; and I mould, grind, and grind it again, until it becomes passive; then I took it out of the mill, and carried it into the shop, where it was kneaded as you would a cake, and then put on to the wheel and turned into a vessel unto honour.  Did I ever design to turn a vessel unto dishonour? No.  If I did, I did not get any reward for it: I only got reward for those I moulded and fashioned according to the dictation of my master; and I presented them to him that he might receive them, as Jesus says -- "Father, I have lost none of those thou gavest me, except the son of perdition."

Go into the blacksmith's shop, on this block, and you will find brother Jonathan Pugmire, the foreman.  I go to him and say, "Brother Jonathan, make me an axe." He goes to work with a piece of iron that, the moment he tries to shape it, flies into a thousand pieces.  "I can do nothing with that," says he; "I must get a piece of iron that will be passive, and then I will make you an axe that will be as keen as a razor." He gets another piece, and that begins to fly.  It is not the fault of the blacksmith.  "But," says the iron, "don't you handle me in this manner." He throws that aside: that has got to go back to the furnace again, to be melted and made into a loop, and that turned out into iron again, because it was not passive; and then it becomes passive by getting the snappish stuff out of it: it runs out with the dross.  The dross, you know, is very brittle and snappish.

When you find a man or woman snappish and fretful, and not willing to be subject, you may know there is a good deal of dross in that character, because dross is brittle.  That dross has got to come out.

This is good thinking, brothers and sisters.  We are here under and subject to Priesthood direction to get the dross out of us and to be molded into children and the character of God.

Talking about trials, brother Elias says he did not come here with the pioneers.  It was pretty hard and laborious, I admit; but it was one of the pleasantest journeys I ever performed.  Still there was a great deal of care and anxiety, especially on brother Brigham and those that helped him.  Did we persevere?  We did.  We came here to the Valleys of the Mountains, and you have followed us.

Let me tell you, gentlemen, you have got to learn to be passive and be like clay in the hands of the potter, or be like a talled wick before a hot fire: it becomes limber and passive, and you can tie it into a thousand knots, and it will not break.

Are you of that nature that you will not break and fly as though there were a hundred convulsions in you? You have got to come to that standard, as true as you ever become the true subjects and heirs of the kingdom of God. And let brother Brigham take a hundred men of that character, and I would give more for them than ten thousand people who are stiff in their own way; and he would take that hundred men and go into the mountains and whip out the world.

We read that one shall chase a thousand, and two shall put ten thousand to flight. We read that in the Bible. You have always heard it from the days of your youth to the present time. Do you appreciate it?

We will refer to Gideon, the Prophet of God, when his host was so numerous that he went and made a selection of three hundred men to put all his enemies to flight. That is in the Bible. For heaven's sake, believe that, if you won't believe me.

Now, there is the secret, brothers and sisters. Brother Heber C. Kimball was not saying a thing about becoming slaves. The true independence of heaven, brothers and sisters, is becoming passive, submissive, and obedient to the commandments and the will and the word of God. If we will prove ourselves as having that kind of a character, God will repose in us all the confidence and love that we could possibly desire, and we will be able to move and have our freedom, true freedom. Know the truth, and it shall make you free. Live the truth, in other words, and you shall indeed be free and happy, and be at peace with God.

In true obedience we build our faith. Our course of life becomes pleasing to God, and then we can have any righteous desire of our hearts, even the presence of God in time and in eternity. God bless us, my brothers and sisters, that we will be truly obedient, love and live the truth, love one another.

Wouldn't you like, my brothers and sisters, to be part of a small band of two, three, four, five hundred men and women, one with the Priesthood of God, under God, to be used as the nucleus of the great Millennium, who would put all enemies to flight, and the wicked destroyed from off the face of the earth? When God gets that many, however many He wants or must have, then He will be ready to destroy the wicked from off the face of the earth and His Kingdom shall rise.

So this nation and all the nations of the earth are in for a terrible time. I pray that we may be ready and worthy to come under the direction of the servants and the holy Priesthood of God, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:397 January 17, 1971 Sandy

Sandy, Utah
January 17, 1971
Joseph Smith Is Near to Us Through President Johnson;
D.& C. 84

It is good to be with the saints again in this place. I love to welcome you here to hear the good things of the Gospel of Jesus Christ from the mouths of the servants of God. I love to hear the truths of the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ as they fall from the lips of President Johnson and these brethren, and recall with fond memories the like teachings of our Priesthood fathers before them. As I contemplate these things, brothers and sisters, as I look upon Leroy Sunderland Johnson, I see and feel Joseph the Prophet. That is how near I feel the presence of Joseph in this work.

Brother Joseph Musser used to say that when you get up on your feet to speak when called upon, you will always find that testifying and speaking of Joseph the Prophet will give you strength and words of truth to speak upon. And that is all I can think of at this time, to speak of Joseph. To me, he is the God and head of this dispensation under Jesus Christ and Father Michael.

He is mindful of what is going on today. He is laboring as a head of this last and greatest of all dispensations, to bring to pass all things whatsoever the Lord his God placed upon him, both here and on the other side of the veil. I know as I know I live, by the Spirit of God, the Holy Ghost, whose office Joseph stood in and stands in today, that these are the truths of heaven. And the legal succession in that order of Priesthood, the fullness of which was placed upon Joseph and Oliver and David and Martin in the first place, has been carried on down to this day -- legitimate, true authority, without which the Gospel could not be administered, the ordinances thereof could not be given or received as a way unto life and salvation, to exaltation, if you please.
The nature of these things are such, my brothers and sisters, that having received them, having been taught them, and having given allegiance to the Prophets of God to turn altogether therefrom, constitutes a fall from which we can never rise.

D.& C. 84

33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthoods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.
34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.

This is what Priesthood does for us, my dear brothers and sisters.

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;
36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;
37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.

What promises, my dear brothers and sisters, we have to live for, having this Priesthood in our midst.

39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.
40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.
41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.
42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.
43. And I now give unto you a commandment to beware concerning yourselves, to give diligent heed to the words of eternal life.
44. For you shall live by every word that proceedeth forth from the mouth of God.
45. For the word of the Lord is truth, and whatsoever is truth is light, and whatsoever is light is Spirit, even the Spirit of Jesus Christ.
46. And the Spirit giveth light to every man that cometh into the world; and the Spirit enlighteneth every man through the world, that hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit.

47. And every one that hearkeneth to the voice of the Spirit cometh unto God, even the Father.
48. And the Father teacheth him of the covenant which he has renewed and confirmed upon you, which is confirmed upon you for your sakes, and not for your sakes only, but for the sake of the whole world.

49. And the whole world lieth in sin, and groaneth under darkness and under the bondage of sin.
50. And by this you may know they are under the bondage of sin, because they come not unto me.

51. For whoso cometh not unto me is under the bondage of sin.
52. And whoso receiveth not my voice is not acquainted with my voice, and is not of me.

53. And by this you may know the righteous from the wicked, and that the whole world groaneth under sin and darkness even now.
54. And your minds in times past have been darkened because of unbelief, and because you have treated lightly the things you have received --

55. Which vanity and unbelief have brought the whole church under condemnation.
56. And this condemnation resteth upon the children of Zion, even all.
57. And they shall remain under this condemnation until they repent and remember the new covenant, even the Book of Mormon and the former commandments which I have given them, not only to say, but to do according to that which I have written --
58. That they may bring forth fruit meet for their Father's kingdom; otherwise there remaineth a scourge and judgment to be poured out upon the children of Zion.

59. For shall the children of the kingdom pollute my holy land? Verily, I say unto you, Nay.
60. Verily, verily, I say unto you who now hear my words, which are my voice, blessed are ye inasmuch as you receive these things;
61. For I will forgive you of your sins with this commandment -- that you remain steadfast in your minds in solemnity and the spirit of prayer, in bearing testimony to all the world of those things which are communicated unto you.

And then they were told to go out and preach the Gospel to all of the ends of the earth. And this is the nature of the Priesthood with which we are dealing.

117. And verily I say unto you, the rest of my servants, go ye forth as your circumstances shall permit, in your several callings, unto the great and notable cities and villages, reproving the world in righteousness of all their unrighteous and ungodly deeds, setting forth clearly and understandingly the desolation of abomination in the last days.

118. For, with you saith the Lord Almighty, I will rend their kingdoms; He is speaking to these brethren whom He had confirmed the holy Priesthood upon by His own voice out of the heavens.

118. ...I will not only shake the earth, but the starry heavens shall tremble.

119. For I, the Lord, have put forth my hand to exert the powers of heaven; ye cannot see it now, yet a little while and ye shall see it, and know that I am, and that I will come and reign with my people.

120. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. Amen.

Joseph Smith acted in the office of the Holy Ghost, the third member of the Godhead. And when I hear the truths that were revealed to him and preached and carried on by those who succeeded him, I hear Joseph, the voice, and the mind, and the spirit of Joseph the Prophet. That is how near I feel Joseph is to this work. And the Lord said unto him in this wise:

D.& C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments, shall see my face and know that I am;

We obtain this, my dear brothers and sisters, by getting and keeping the Spirit of God, the Holy Ghost, if you please, which is the power of the Priesthood that administers everlasting life unto us. We cannot get it except through that channel. Sisters, I repeat again, you cannot get and keep the Spirit of God, except you keep the channel clear through your husband who bears all the Melchizedek Priesthood, without which he cannot hold you, and without which he cannot administer to his family. Authority, my dear brothers and sisters, is all -- authority from Almighty God, which He restored through Joseph the Prophet and on down till this present day, to that one man standing at the head. "Draw near to Me," God says, "and I will draw near to you."
How can we draw to Him? Through His Priesthood. Draw near to your husbands, sisters. And brethren, draw near to those who administer eternal lives unto you. I pray that we will do this in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:402  February 7, 1971  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
February 7, 1971
Judgments; D.& C. 133

I am grateful to be here with you, brothers and sisters, and to hear the good things we have heard from the brethren today. I hope and pray we will profit withal. I also ask for an interest in your faith and prayers to be guided of the Spirit of God for our mutual edification.

I was thinking along similar lines that Brother Hammon has been speaking of. They are talking about controlling and limiting the population. I am sure that God is arriving at the point that He did in the days of Noah: "And it repented Him that man had been created," and He could not permit anymore of those spirits to come through the corrupt and foul channels that were then in existence. There is going to be a limitation, most certainly, but God will do it in His own way. When the Lord's judgments begin to roll forth, there is going to be a limitation, most surely, because this earth has got to be prepared for its paradisiacal glory. All of the judgments by lightnings, thunders, earthquakes, floods, and the like, will only be the beginning; and they are on the way, and we see them before us now. But what of the destructions that will take place when it comes time for the glorious coming of the Lord Jesus Christ, for the City of Enoch, when the righteous saints will be caught up to meet them, while He destroys the rest of them, and a partial burning, and the wicked will be swept from off the face of the earth? There will not be anymore room for the kind of talk we hear today. The channels of life are being corrupted so fast, it is most sickening to even think upon it.
I am reminded of the appendix that the Lord revealed to the Prophet Joseph Smith in Section 133. I felt like reading something from it for our edification here today.

D. & C. 133

1. Hearken, O ye people of my church, saith the Lord your God, and hear the word of the Lord concerning you --

2. The Lord who shall suddenly come to his temple; the Lord who shall come down upon the world with a curse to judgment; yea, upon all the nations that forget God, and upon all the ungodly among you.

3. For he shall make bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of their God.

4. Wherefore, prepare ye, prepare ye, O my people; sanctify yourselves; gather ye together, O ye people of my church, upon the land of Zion, all you that have not been commanded to tarry.

5. Go ye out from Babylon. Be ye clean that bear the vessels of the Lord.

6. Call your solemn assemblies, and speak often one to another. And let every man call upon the name of the Lord.

7. Yea, verily I say unto you again, the time has come when the voice of the Lord is unto you: Go ye out of Babylon; gather ye out from among the nations, from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

8. Send forth the elders of my church unto the nations which are afar off; unto the islands of the sea; send forth unto foreign lands; call upon all nations, first upon the Gentiles, and then upon the Jews.

And the Lord has sent the Elders out. This Priesthood is not called upon to go at this present time to preach the Gospel, but from among us the Lord is going to call forth Elders to deliver the last great warning to bind up the law and seal up the testimony. We will have a part in that great work, my dear brethren, and we should be preparing for it. Who will be worthy? Who will have the power of faith? Who will be clean vessels that God can call upon to go forth and deliver that last great warning and message to bind up the law and seal up the testimony, preparing for these last great judgments?

8. ...call upon all nations, first upon the Gentiles, and then upon the Jews.

9. And behold, and lo, this shall be their cry, and the voice of the Lord unto all people: Go ye forth unto the land of Zion, that the borders of my people may be enlarged, and that her stakes may be strengthened, and that Zion may go forth unto the regions round about.

10. Yea, let the cry go forth among all people: Awake and arise and go forth to meet the Bridegroom; behold and lo, the Bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Prepare yourselves for the great day of the Lord. That is the last great warning.

11. Watch, therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour.
12. Let them, therefore, who are among the Gentiles flee unto Zion.

13. And let them who be of Judah flee unto Jerusalem, unto the mountains of the Lord's house.
14. Go ye out from among the nations, even from Babylon, from the midst of wickedness, which is spiritual Babylon.

15. But verily, thus saith the Lord, let not your flight be in haste, but let all things be prepared before you; and he that goeth, let him not look back lest sudden destruction shall come upon him.
16. Hearken and hear, O ye inhabitants of the earth. Listen, ye elders of my church together, and hear the voice of the Lord; for he calleth upon all men, and he commandeth all men everywhere to repent.

17. For behold, the Lord God hath sent forth the angel crying through the midst of heaven, saying: Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his paths straight, for the hour of his coming is nigh --
18. When the Lamb shall stand upon Mount Zion, and with him a hundred and forty-four thousand, having his Father's name written on their foreheads.

19. Wherefore, prepare ye for the coming of the Bridegroom; go ye, go ye out to meet him.
20. For behold, he shall stand upon the mount of Olivet, and upon the mighty ocean, even the great deep, and upon the islands of the sea, and upon the land of Zion.

21. And he shall utter his voice out of Zion, and he shall speak from Jerusalem, and his voice shall be heard among all people;
22. And it shall be a voice as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder, which shall break down the mountains, and the valleys shall not be found.

24. And the land of Jerusalem and the land of Zion shall be turned back into their own place, and the earth shall be like as it was in the days before it was divided.
25. And the Lord, even the Savior, shall stand in the midst of his people, and shall reign over all flesh.

26. And they who are in the north countries shall come in remembrance before the Lord; and their prophets shall hear his voice, and shall no longer stay themselves; and they shall smite the rocks, and the ice shall flow down at their presence.

27. And an highway shall be cast up in the midst of the great deep.

28. Their enemies shall become a prey unto them,
29. And in the barren deserts there shall come forth pools of living water; and the parched ground shall no longer be a thirsty land.

30. And they shall bring forth their rich treasures unto the children of Ephraim, my servants.
31. And the boundaries of the everlasting hills shall tremble at their presence.

32. And there shall they fall down and be crowned with glory, even in Zion, by the hands of the servants of the Lord, even the children of Ephraim.
33. And they shall be filled with songs of everlasting joy.

34. Behold, this is the blessing of the everlasting God upon the tribes of Israel, and the richer blessing upon the head of Ephraim and his fellows.
35. And they also of the tribe of Judah, after their pain, shall be sanctified in holiness before the Lord, to dwell in his presence day and night, forever and ever.

36. And now, verily saith the Lord, that these things might be known among you, O inhabitants of the earth, I have sent forth mine angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel, who hath appeared unto some and hath committed it unto man, who shall appear unto many that dwell on the earth.
37. And this gospel shall be preached unto every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people.

38. And the servants of God shall go forth, saying with a loud voice: Fear God and give glory to him, for the hour of his judgment is come;
39. And worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters --

40. Calling upon the name of the Lord day and night, saying: O that thou wouldst rend the heavens, that thou wouldst come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence.

41. And it shall be answered upon their heads; for the presence of the Lord shall be as the melting fire that burneth, and as the fire which causeth the waters to boil.

42. O Lord, thou shalt come down to make thy name known to thine adversaries, and all nations shall tremble at thy presence --

43. When thou doest terrible things, things they look not for;

44. Yea, when thou comest down, and the mountains flow down at thy presence, thou shalt meet him who rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, who remembereth thee in thy ways.

45. For since the beginning of the world have not men heard nor perceived by the ear, neither hath any eye seen, O God, besides thee, how great things thou hast prepared for him that waiteth for thee.

46. And it shall be said: Who is this that cometh down from God in heaven with dyed garments; yea, from the regions which are not known, clothed in his glorious apparel, traveling in the greatness of his strength?

47. And he shall say: I am he who spake in righteousness, mighty to save.

48. And the Lord shall be red in his apparel, and his garments like him that treadeth in the wine-vat.

49. And so great shall be the glory of his presence that the sun shall hide his face in shame, and the moon shall withhold its light, and the stars shall be hurled from their places.

50. And his voice shall be heard: I have trodden the wine-press alone, and have brought judgment upon all people; and none were with me;

51. And I have trampled them in my fury, and I did tread upon them in mine anger, and their blood have I sprinkled upon my garments, and stained all my raiment; for this was the day of vengeance which was in my heart.

52. And now the year of my redeemed is come; and they shall mention the loving kindness of their Lord, and all that he has bestowed upon them according to his goodness, and according to his loving kindness, forever and ever.

53. In all their afflictions he was afflicted. And the angel of his presence saved them; and in his love, and in his pity, he redeemed them, and bore them, and carried them all the days of old;

54. Yea, and Enoch also, and they who were with him; the prophets who were before him; and Noah also, and they who were before him; and Moses also, and they who were before him;

55. And from Moses to Elijah, and from Elijah to John, who were with Christ in his resurrection, and the holy apostles, with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, shall be in the presence of the Lamb.

56. And the graves of the saints shall be opened; and they shall come forth and stand on the right hand of the Lamb, when he shall stand upon Mount Zion, and upon the holy city, the New Jerusalem; and they shall sing the song of the Lamb, day and night forever and ever.

57. And for this cause, that men might be made partakers of the glories which were to be revealed, the Lord sent forth the fulness of his gospel, his everlasting covenant, reasoning in plainness and simplicity --

58. To prepare the weak for those things which are coming on the earth, and for the Lord's errand in the day when the weak shall confound the wise, and the little one become a strong nation, and two shall put their tens of thousands to flight.

59. And by the weak things of the earth the Lord shall thrash the nations by the power of his Spirit.

60. And for this cause these commandments were given; they were commanded to be kept from the world in the day that they were given, but now are to go forth unto all flesh --

61. And this according to the mind and will of the Lord, who ruleth over all flesh.

62. And unto him that repenteth and sanctifieth himself before the Lord shall be given eternal life.

63. And upon them that hearken not to the voice of the Lord shall be fulfilled that which was written by the prophet Moses, that they should be cut off from among the people.

64. And also that which was written by the prophet Malachi: For, behold, the day cometh that shall burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.

65. Wherefore, this shall be the answer of the Lord unto them:

66. In that day when I came unto mine own, no man among you received me, and you were driven out.

67. When I called again there was none of you to answer; yet my arm was not shortened at all that I could not redeem, neither my power to deliver.

68. Behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea. I make the rivers a wilderness; their fish stink, and die for thirst.

69. I clothe the heavens with blackness, and make sackcloth their covering.

70. And this shall ye have of my hand -- ye shall lie down in sorrow.

71. Behold, and lo, there are none to deliver you; for ye obeyed not my voice when I called to you out of the heavens; ye believed not my servants, and when they were sent unto you ye received them not.

72. Wherefore, they sealed up the testimony and bound up the law, and ye were delivered over unto darkness.

73. These shall go away into outer darkness, where there is weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth.

74. Behold the Lord your God hath spoken it. Amen.

And so we see how it will be, my dear brothers and sisters. The word of the Lord is to us to sanctify ourselves, purify ourselves, in all diligence go forth in the perfection of our characters. We will never see the face of the Lord Jesus Christ except we be like unto Him. It is for us now to overcome; overcome death, hell, and the devil; overcome our weaknesses, overcome every temptation that presents itself to us that we may be vessels of righteousness, clean vessels in whom the Spirit of God can dwell to save and glorify the name of God; which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:410  February 21, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
If I can get my feelings under control. I am so deeply impressed with the remarks of President Jessop -- this principle of repentance, and what a terrible responsibility rests upon each and every one of us to make an individual preparation. We are so prone to blame others for our own guilt, leaning on others when we should have the faith that is expressed in the song we just sang -- faith in God and the Lord Jesus Christ, to see us through; faith in God and not in man, and preparing ourselves for the coming of the Son of Man.

This community of people is not going to get any further than the composite of the individual preparations that are made. So it behooves each and every one of us to get on our knees, express our gratitude to God, and live so as to let the Spirit of God be our constant companion, as is set out in that Section that Brother Jessop read.

We are not thankful enough, brothers and sisters, for what we have. If we were, we would do better. And we are not repentant enough for our failures, our sins of omission as well as our sins of commission. We are not loving enough. We are not pure enough. We are not faithful enough to merit this blessing that we need so badly. Why don't we rely on the arm of Jehovah and become more like Him? Why don't we have that perfect faith that will lead us to life eternal? Why? Because we are too guilty of the sins of omission and commission.

I love the words that the Lord gives us in Section 59.

D. & C. 59

7. Thou shalt thank the Lord thy God in all things.

8. Thou shalt offer a sacrifice unto the Lord thy God in righteousness,

A sacrifice in righteousness.

8. ...even that of a broken heart and a contrite spirit.

Our hearts need to be broken, brothers and sisters. I don't know what the Lord is going to bring upon us to bring that about. We have got to offer everything, everything on the altar that is contrary to the character and the attributes of God. We have got to repent and offer an offering of a broken heart and a contrite spirit.

9. And that thou mayest more fully keep thyself unspotted from the world, thou shalt go to the house of prayer and offer up thy sacraments upon my holy day;

10. For verily this is a day appointed unto you to rest from your labors, and to pay thy devotions unto the Most High.

11. Nevertheless thy vows shall be offered up in righteousness on all days and at all times;

12. But remember that on this, the Lord's day, thou shalt offer thine oblations and thy sacraments unto the Most High, confessing thy sins unto thy brethren, and before the Lord.

Especially before the Lord.

13. And on this day thou shalt do none other thing, only let thy food be prepared with singleness of heart that thy fasting may be perfect, or, in other words, that thy joy may be full.

14. Verily, this is fasting and prayer, or in other words, rejoicing and prayer.

Thankfulness and prayer, rejoicing in the blessings of God, rejoicing for those that God has given us, rejoicing that we have the holy Priesthood to lead us. The Lord requires a cheerful countenance, not a melancholy one, not a depressed one. Let us lift up our hearts, brothers and sisters.

14. Verily, this is fasting and prayer, or in other words, rejoicing and prayer.

15. And inasmuch as ye do these things with thanksgiving, with cheerful hearts and countenances, not with much laughter, for this is sin, but with a glad heart and a cheerful countenance --

16. Verily I say, that inasmuch as ye do this, the fulness of the earth is yours, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the air, and that which climbeth upon the trees and walketh upon the earth;

20. And it pleaseth God that he hath given all these things unto man;

After having recited the things He has provided for us.

20. ...for unto this end were they made to be used, with judgment, not to excess, neither by extortion.

21. And in nothing doth man offend God, or against none is his wrath kindled, save those who confess not his hand in all things, and obey not his commandments.

In Section 82, brothers and sisters, we ought to commit to memory:
D. & C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.

2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads. I think this is very apropos today.

3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required; and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.

5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all: Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth; Oh, how dark is that darkness all around us, and how alert and aware we must be of the cunning craftiness of the devil as he seeks to weave his way into our lives and destroy us.

6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.

7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; How forgiving He is, merciful.

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.

10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

I love Section 65 as a closure.

D. & C. 65

1. Hearken, and lo, a voice as of one sent down from on high, who is mighty and powerful, whose going forth is unto the ends of the earth, yea, whose voice is unto men -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

2. The keys of the kingdom of God are committed unto man on the earth, and from thence shall the gospel roll forth unto the ends of the earth, as the stone which is cut out of the mountain without hands shall roll forth, until it has filled the whole earth.

3. Yea, a voice crying -- Prepare ye the way of the Lord, prepare ye the supper of the Lamb, make ready for the Bridegroom.

4. Pray unto the Lord, call upon his holy name, make known his wonderful works among the people.

5. Call upon the Lord, that his kingdom may go forth upon the earth, that the inhabitants thereof may receive it, and be prepared for the days to come, in which the Son of Man shall come down in heaven, clothed in the brightness of his glory, to meet the kingdom of God which is set up on the earth.

6. Wherefore, may the kingdom of God go forth, that the kingdom of heaven may come, that thou, O God, mayest be glorified in heaven so on earth, that thine enemies may be subdued; for thine is the honor, power and glory, forever and ever. Amen.

RTJ 2:415  March 7, 1971  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
March 7, 1971
Faith Becomes a Power Through Sacrifice

I am delighted, my brothers and sisters, to be here with you again in association with my brethren, and to hear the fine testimonies of these young men. When we look into the faces of these young men who go out to represent the work of God and the Priesthood, I feel much hope for the future of this work. I see the faith and the integrity and the love of the work of God in these young people, for surely the work is going to be rolled onto their shoulders in due time, and there is much work to do, much knowledge to obtain, much faith to be exercised in behalf of the work of God, in order for a people to be prepared for the things that the Lord has in store for His people.
I am certain, my brothers and sisters, that this is that people spoken of in the prophecies that would be the heart’s core of the Latter-day Saints that would come forth and be the nucleus for the great Millennium. I am sure you know, as well as I do, that the great work of this order of Priesthood -- and it falls very heavily on the shoulders of President Johnson, as you well know -- is that a people be prepared against the day of visitation, visitation of the destructions; and ultimately the visitation of the Lord Jesus Christ, who will lead Zion's Camp to go back to redeem Zion, by His presence as well as the angels of heaven, when it will be redeemed by power, by the power of faith, brothers and sisters. I cannot emphasize enough that element of faith that is spoken of by the Prophet Joseph Smith in the Lectures and elsewhere. Everywhere it is spoken of it is spoken of as a principle of power. The faith needed to generate the unity of a people who can act in concert under the direction of the Prophet of God, will shake the earth, will bring to pass the promises of God in the endowment and blessing, and the glorification of a tried and faithful people, who will be used to redeem Zion, and to continue in the great work that will remain to be done in these valleys of the mountains.

Faith, or power, is spoken of as one of the grand attributes of God. This leads to knowledge, without which no man can be saved. He cannot go forward and unto perfection and to become like God without knowledge and all of these other attributes of God that are spoken of.

Now how does faith become a principle of power in our lives, brothers and sisters? To put it very simply and effectively, the only way it can become a principle of power in our lives is by sacrifice, the law of sacrifice, by which we may know that our course is pleasing to God. The great examples of Enoch and Abel, who obtained the witness that they pleased God, are examples of proof of what I am speaking about. Enoch had such power with God through the faith that he exerted and the knowledge he obtained through knowing God, and having the revelations necessary for him to come up and see the face of God, that this enabled him to redeem a city, become the head of a special dispensation, provide a place for translated and resurrected beings, and a place of the abode of the Lord Jesus Christ, while the earth continued on in its growth and development, until it should become itself, all parts gathered together -- the throne of the Lord Jesus Christ and our Father Adam. This was done by Enoch and by Abel through the power of faith and the knowledge they had that they pleased God; and they obtained this knowledge by the sacrifice of all earthly things.

I would like to, with the help of the Lord, go into this law of sacrifice as it relates to the principle of faith and power, and every other way by which it may enable us to come up to see the face of God, to have our calling and election made sure first, and to go on unto perfection. I would like to get some of the fundamentals of this matter before us by reading the Prophet Joseph Smith as he speaks of the law of sacrifice in connection with the offering of Abel.

TPJS Page 58

But that man was not able himself to erect a system, or plan with power sufficient to free him from a destruction which awaited him is evident from the fact that God, as before remarked, prepared a sacrifice in the gift of His own Son who should be sent in due time, to prepare a way, or open a door through which man might enter into the Lord's presence, whence he had been cast out for disobedience. From time to time these glad tidings were sounded in the ears of men in different ages of the world down to the time of Messiah's coming. By faith in this atonement or plan of redemption, Abel offered to God a sacrifice that was accepted, which was the firstlings of the flock. Cain offered of the fruit of the ground, and was not accepted, because he could not do it in faith, he could have no faith, or could not exercise faith contrary to the plan of heaven. It must be shedding the blood of the Only Begotten to atone for man; for this was the plan of redemption; and without the shedding of blood was no remission; and as the sacrifice was instituted for a type, by which man was to discern the great Sacrifice which God had prepared; to offer a sacrifice contrary to that, no faith could be exercised, because redemption was not purchased in that way, nor the power of atonement instituted after that order; consequently Cain could have no faith; and whatsoever is not of faith, is sin.

There is something to ponder, brothers and sisters.

...whatsoever is not of faith, is sin. But Abel offered an acceptable sacrifice, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God Himself testifying of his gifts. Certainly, the shedding of the blood of a beast could be beneficial to no man, except it was done in imitation, or as a type, or explanation of what was to be offered through the gift of God Himself; and this performance done with an eye looking forward in faith on the power of that great Sacrifice for a remission of sins. But however various may have been, and may be at the present time, the opinions of men respecting the conduct of Abel, and the knowledge which he had on the subject of atonement, it is evident in our minds, that he was instructed more fully in the plan than what the Bible speaks of, for how could he offer a sacrifice in faith, looking to God for a remission of his sins in the power of the great atonement, without having been previously instructed in that plan? And further, if he was accepted of God, what were the ordinances performed further than the offering of the firstlings of the flock?

So by his righteousness, fulfilling all of the laws and ordinances of the Gospel, of the holy Priesthood, he obtained the testimony of God Himself that he pleased Him, and thus he was able to perfect his life and come up into His presence, and nothing could be withheld.

Now brothers and sisters, this is what we have to come to. Do we want to be endowed? Do we want to be part of that people that will be brought forth to go back and redeem Zion? Do we ultimately desire to come up to see the face of God? If so, then we must make the necessary sacrifice. The law of sacrifice is for us first believing and accepting in the great atonement of the Lord Jesus Christ, Himself, and obtaining testimony that that remission of sins will be given us by the great atonement that He performed for us in our behalf, as well as making it possible, opening the door for us, to go back into the presence of Father -- faith in that great atonement brought about by the sacrifice of the Lord Jesus Christ, Himself, and then the faith added to our own life, by making every necessary sacrifice of all earthly things.

How deep does this go, brothers and sisters? It is not money or property or anything else that the Lord wants. They are all His anyway. What is the sacrifice then? It is the sacrifice of a broken heart and a contrite spirit, basically. The Lord wants our hearts, our whole heart, might, mind, and strength. He wants the sacrifice of all of these earthly feelings. It is no great thing to give money and property. The thing we sacrifice in connection with that is our feelings. The feelings connected with giving it are the most important thing. Is it done with a whole heart? Do we pay our tithing joyfully; and do we go further and pay our surplus joyfully, with full purpose of heart? If God has our heart, He has all of us, everything. And without the sacrifice of all of these feelings, connected with the traditions of men, our old family traditions, and everything contrary to the laws of the holy Priesthood and the way that they should be lived; unless these things are sacrificed, the Lord does not have us, and we will never obtain that testimony that our course is pleasing to God.

I cannot think of any better way to put it than to read some of the verses of the Sixth Lecture on Faith, which bears these things out so beautifully for us, and by which we can learn to act. Joseph Smith had the great gift of bringing the laws of the Gospel of the holy Priesthood down to the understanding of ordinary men -- faithful, humble men. And we should listen carefully, and follow the words of Joseph.

Lecture Six

3. Having the assurance that they were pursuing a course which was agreeable to the will of God, they were enabled to take, not only the spoiling of their goods, and the wasting of their substance, joyfully, but also to suffer death in its most horrid forms; knowing (not merely believing) that when this earthly house of their tabernacle was dissolved, they had a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. 2 Corinthians v. 1.

4. Such was, and always will be, the situation of the saints of God, that unless they have an actual knowledge I want to emphasize this word "knowledge", brothers and sisters. This comes by revelation.

4. ...that the course they are pursuing is according to the will of God they will grow weary in their minds, and faint; for such has been, and always will be, the opposition in the hearts of unbelievers and those that know not God against the pure and unadulterated religion of heaven (the only thing which insures eternal life), that they will persecute to the uttermost all that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it, and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; I love this description of the people of God, the kind they are supposed to be. Those...

4. ...that worship God according to his revelations, receive the truth in the love of it, and submit themselves to be guided and directed by his will; and drive them to such extremities that nothing short of an actual knowledge of their being the favorites of heaven, and of their having embraced that order of things which God has established for the redemption of man, will enable them to exercise that confidence in him necessary for them to overcome the world, and obtain that crown of glory which is laid up for them that fear God.

Those who overcome the world and sacrifice the traditions of the world and all feelings that we have connected, of these things we cling to our breast that are destroying us, clinging on to these old traditions and ways destroy us, brothers and sisters. We should just submit ourselves to be led by the revelations of God, dedicating ourselves, and laboring with our might, mind, and strength to build up the Kingdom, to sustain the holy order of Priesthood which leads us, and become one with them. As we have overcome in this way, and become one with the Priesthood, all in sufficient number doing this, God will have a people, but not until -- until we can come up to this description that I have just read to you.

5. For a man to lay down his all, his character and reputation, his honor, and applause, his good name among men, his houses, his lands, his brothers and sisters, his wife and children, and even his own life also -- counting all things but filth and dross for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ -- requires more than mere belief or supposition that he is doing the will of God; but actual knowledge, realizing that, when these sufferings are ended, he will enter into eternal rest, and be a partaker of the glory of God.

There is the modus operandi.

6. For unless a person does know that he is walking according to the will of God, it would be offering an insult to the dignity of the Creator were he to say that he would be a partaker of his glory when he should be done with the things of this life. But when he has this knowledge, and most assuredly knows that he is doing the will of God, his confidence can be equally strong that he will be a partaker of the glory of God.

Therein is power, as exemplified in the example of the brother of Jared, who cried out to the Lord, reciting how he had been weak before Him, but also knowing that his course was pleasing, and that he had done whatsoever the Lord had commanded him. He was able to go and call forth the presence of the Spirit of Jesus Christ, and the similitude of the body that He would yet obtain when He came into the world to fulfill His mission. So great was his faith, because of the confidence he had in God, and knowing that his course had been pleasing to God, that God could not withhold Himself, and showed Himself to him; this, of course, being agreeable to the will of God, and a righteous purpose accomplished.

7. Let us here observe, that a religion that does not require the sacrifice of all things never has power sufficient to produce the faith necessary unto life and salvation; for, from the first existence of man, the faith necessary unto the enjoyment of life and salvation never could be obtained without the sacrifice of all earthly things. It was through this sacrifice, and this only, that God has ordained that men should enjoy eternal life; and it is through the medium of the sacrifice of all earthly things that men do actually know that they are doing the things that are well pleasing in the sight of God. When a man has offered in sacrifice all that he has for the truth's sake, not even withholding his life, and believing before God that he has been called to make this sacrifice because he seeks to do his will, Seeks to do His will.

7. ...he does know, most assuredly, that God does and will accept his sacrifice and offering, and that he has not, nor will not seek his face in vain. Under these circumstances, then, he can obtain the faith necessary for him to lay hold on eternal life.

And so basically, brothers and sisters, we first need to repent with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. We need then to submit ourselves wholly, with all our might, mind, and strength, and then do the will of God, and sacrifice all necessary things that stand in the way of our growth and progress and of our true standing with God as we would desire to have it, in the doing of the will of God. Who cannot help but see that if a sufficient number of men with their faithful families -- and I emphasize this -- men bearing the holy Melchizedek Priesthood, each part of the body of this order of Priesthood standing as one at the side of President Johnson, having the power obtained by this means, the law of sacrifice and knowing that their course was pleasing to God, having had it revealed to them; knowing, not merely believing -- God would have His people then to redeem Zion, and to do all other things necessary preparatory to the coming in glory of the Lord Jesus Christ -- the ushering in formally and fully the great Millennium, when temples will dot the land, and the work for the dead, and all other things preparatory for the Celestialization of this earth, with all its parts brought together under the dominion of the Lord Jesus Christ, the King of kings and Lord of lords, and the government being given into the hands of the saints of the Most High God.

Are we on our way, brothers and sisters, or are we just fooling around, resting on our oars, taking things for granted, expecting everything to be done for us? Or are we going to come forth with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, and labor day and night for the advancement of this Kingdom and the work of this Priesthood, sustaining President Johnson with all that we have and are? Take your choice, brothers and sisters. Where do you want to be? I want to be right up there with you with President Johnson, and whoever else presides over this people in time to come. I want to be worthy to see the face of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and to stand at his side with other brethren who have gone before. I pray God that He will be merciful unto us, brothers and sisters. I pray that we will repent and do better, and the Lord will accept our repentance, and give us strength and power through faith to go on to perfection, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:423 March 21, 1971 Sandy

Sandy, Utah
March 21, 1971
We Are No Better Today Than in Joseph's Day; According to Our Faith, So Are Our Blessings

I was struck, my dear brothers and sisters, with the remark of President Johnson, and I cannot get it off my mind. And I feel it is worth repeating and urging upon us. He said, "The saints today," after one hundred twenty-five years or so, "are no further along than they were at the beginning, and perhaps less well-off." We do not have the ordinances of the House of God; and I am wondering, after He told us that we must have the ordinances of the Celestial Law to become that prepared people, what price we are willing to pay. A price must be paid. No blessings are given unless we obey the law upon which they are predicated. That is an immutable and an eternal law. Therefore, are we going to obey them or not?

The Lord, through the Prophet Joseph, told us that to have the power of faith sufficient to lay hold on eternal life, we must sacrifice all earthly things. And I dare say this is where we are lacking. We have not obeyed the law of sacrifice, or we would have the faith that the ancient saints had; which I am reminded as recounted in Lecture Seven.

Lecture Seven

17. ...And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it.

If we do not have them, then we do not have the faith sufficient to receive them. It is just that simple. And then He tells us what the ancient saints, by faith, were able to do.

17. ...He could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter.

In the previous Lecture, the Lord tells us, in order to have faith sufficient to lay hold on these things, we must sacrifice all earthly things, and thus have this testimony that we please God; not merely believing, but knowing that we please God. My feeling, brothers and sisters, is that I stand ready, here and now, to receive whatever the Lord desires to put upon me and mine, to lay hold on these things; to give me the faith, the power with God to lay hold on these blessings, which I pray we may all do, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Brother Guy thought I ought to speak. I will be glad to respond, and pray that the Lord will bless me with words, with light, that we may be edified and strengthened in our faith.

President Johnson has emphasized recently, as he has, of course, for many years; but greater emphasis, I think, is being placed on a call upon this people to repent and prepare themselves. You cannot imagine, my dear brothers and sisters, without being in his presence and speaking as he often does, the weight of the responsibility that rests upon him, as he calls for this preparation. And I think it is about time that we responded, as a people.

The Lord is going to carry out His purposes. There is a set time, I am sure, for the redemption of Zion and for the accomplishment of all of these purposes. His arm is not shortened. And He can and will provide a people to redeem Zion and to set in order the House of God, or be the nucleus of that people who will be set in order and used to build up the Kingdom, to bring the Church into order, our mother; the Priesthood, in all of its departments, be set in order, preparatory to the coming of the One Mighty and Strong, who will precede the glorious coming of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Let us remember, brothers and sisters, that they both have already come and commenced the setting in order process on that night of September 26th and 27th of 1886. This key date is the reason for our being. And we are the recipients of the blessings that were offered, and the means set in motion at that time, for the holy Priesthood to be preserved in its fullness, to keep alive the fullness of the principles of the Gospel of Christ and the doctrines of the holy Priesthood. We little realize the preparation that has been made by those leading brethren, from John Taylor to this time. How concerned and anxious they are for our welfare, and that we will be a part of that great work. But make no mistake, brothers and sisters, it doesn't depend on each and every one of us. God will have His people. Do you want to be a part of it? That is up to you.

Now, the Prophet Joseph Smith set down a proposition for a study and a development of understanding of the principle of faith. He outlined it in the Lecture, as first, the existence of a God, our Father; and second, a correct idea of His true attributes and character, by which we may exercise faith in a Supreme Being, our Creator and our Father; and third, a knowledge that our course is pleasing to God -- knowledge, brothers and sisters, so that we may come up to see the face of this Supreme Being whom we worship and love.
Now, this is the way in which we are going to be perfected, brothers and sisters, and no other way. The very essence of the power of faith is our having a knowledge that we are accepted of God, as Enoch, Abel, the brother of Jared, and the others who came up to see His face.

The preparation that we must make is to become worthy of being endowed and blessed in the covenants and ordinances of the holy Priesthood. Brothers and sisters, these marriages are not complete without the Holy Endowments. We shouldn't go complacently on thinking we have everything when we don't. And we are not going to receive them until we are worthy, because the saints in times past have proven incapable and unworthy of receiving and administering in these things.

So, if we are going to have the faith necessary to lay hold on eternal life, it is going to be by the perfection of the attributes of God in our character, and no other way. The law of Celestial Marriage is designed to do just this. The Holy United Order is designed to do just this -- the two together. There is no law against our abiding in the Holy United Order because our people have failed in times past. There is no law against sacrifice, the holy law of sacrifice. On the contrary, there is a law for it, and without it we cannot be blessed and exalted. So here is what the Lord has said to us, brothers and sisters. And this is the goal we should be striving for:

Psalms 50

3. Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.
4. He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.
5. Gather my saints together unto me; those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.

I can't get off my mind this law of sacrifice, which is an integral part of the thing that is required of this people. Are we offering in sacrifice all earthly things? And most important of all, are we laying on the altar of sacrifice this worldly character that comprises our being today? Are we giving up our feelings concerning our families and friends who won't come along? Are we concentrating our feelings in the holy Priesthood and in our Priesthood head? Are you sisters turning your children to their fathers? The brethren are trying to get you brethren to turn to them with all your heart, might, mind, and strength. They are trying with their might. Now, are we going to respond, brothers and sisters, or are we going to lag behind? The fact that we are not enjoying these blessings is a perfect indication of the lack of faith on the part of this people.

So, is the Lord going to have to strike us with judgments, and cause suffering, and teach us the hard way? Or are we going to learn by the experiences of others, and by history, and by what the saints have gone through before, whether we will accept and abide these laws and principles, and come unto Him? I am afraid the Lord is going to have to whip us into line.

It reminds me of what Brigham Young said of the saints in coming out west and making the terrible sacrifices they did in coming over the plains to the valleys of the mountains. In spite of all they had suffered, he had to tell them: "You came out here willingly because you had to. You have done these things 'willingly' because you had to."

When are we going to get in a place, brothers and sisters, where we love these principles, where we do them because we love them, not because we have to? There is the essence of this thing, this great principle of love, is to love correct principles, the laws and ordinances of the holy Priesthood; that we love the Priesthood, and so express our love for God that we love Him and our neighbor with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. And now abide these things, said Paul -- faith, hope, and charity. The greatest of these is charity, or love, which Moroni characterized as the pure love of Christ.

Brothers and sisters, I want to promise you that if you will pray for it and seek for it, you will learn what the pure love of Christ is. The very essence of His life is that He became like His Father. He and His Father were one. "He who hath seen Me," He said, "has seen the Father." And we have had examples, men who have abided in the fullness of the law here in this dispensation, whose lives have been sufficient for us to follow as an example. We have seen men, kings and priests unto God in our midst, worthy of emulation. We are left without excuse, my dear brothers and sisters. We are not left without examples and the means to lay hold on these things.

The Prophet Joseph Smith stands behind the scenes ready to go forward when there is a people ready. Oh, how I love his appearing. How I love his memory, standing at the head of this dispensation, and the head of the Priesthood in this dispensation under Christ and our Father Michael; these three constituting the Godhead, standing ready when a people is ready to go forward in accomplishing the mighty things of God.

Now brothers and sisters, I can't think of a better means to encourage us than to read what the Prophet Joseph wrote to his brethren, as recorded in Section 128. After having reviewed the work for the living and the dead, the great responsibilities that were enjoined upon the saints under the keys and powers of Elijah, turning the hearts of the fathers to the children and the children to their fathers -- this is really the essence of our responsibilities in our family lives; it applies there, too, you know -- this is what he was inspired of God to write to his brethren, to encourage and strengthen them:

D.& C. 128

19. Now, what do we hear in the gospel which we have received? A voice of gladness! A voice of mercy from heaven; and a voice of truth out of the earth; glad tidings for the dead; a voice of gladness for the living and the dead; glad tidings of great joy. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of those that bring glad tidings of good things, and that say unto Zion: Behold, thy God reigneth! As the dews of Carmel, so shall the knowledge of God descend upon them!

20. And again, what do we hear? Glad tidings from Cumorah! Moroni, an angel from heaven, declaring the fulfilment of the prophets -- the book to be revealed. A voice of the Lord in the wilderness of Fayette, Seneca county, declaring the three witnesses to bear record of the book! The voice of Michael on the banks of the Susquehanna, detecting the devil when he appeared as an angel of light! The voice of Peter, James, and John in the wilderness between Harmony, Susquehanna county, and Colesville, Broome county, on the Susquehanna river, declaring themselves as possessing the keys of the kingdom, and of the dispensation of the fulness of times!

21. And again, the voice of God in the chamber of old Father Whitmer, in Fayette, Seneca county, and at sundry times, and in divers places through all the travels and tribulations of this Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints! And the voice of Michael, the archangel; the voice of Gabriel, and of Raphael, and of divers angels, from Michael or Adam down to the present time, all declaring their dispensation, their rights, their keys, their honors, their majesty and glory, and the power of their priesthood; giving line upon line, precept upon precept; here a little, and there a little; giving us consolation by holding forth that which is to come, confirming our hope!

22. Brethren, shall we not go on in so great a cause? Go forward and not backward. Courage, brethren; and on, on to the victory! Let your hearts rejoice, and be exceedingly glad. Let the earth break forth into singing. Let the dead speak forth anthems of eternal praise to the King Immanuel, who hath ordained, before the world was, that which would enable us to redeem them out of their prison; for the prisoners shall go free.

23. Let the mountains shout for joy, and all ye valleys cry aloud; and all ye seas and dry lands tell the wonders of your Eternal King! And ye rivers, and brooks, and rills, flow down with gladness. Let the woods and all the trees of the field praise the Lord; and ye solid rocks weep for joy! And let the sun, moon, and the morning stars sing together, and let all the sons of God shout for joy! And let the eternal creations declare his name forever and ever! And again I say, how glorious is the voice we hear from heaven, proclaiming in our ears, glory, and salvation, and honor, and immortality, and eternal life; kingdoms, principalities, and powers!

24. Behold, the great day of the Lord is at hand; and who can abide the day of his coming, and who can stand when he appeareth? For he is like a refiner's fire, and like fuller's soap; and he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness. Let us, therefore, as a church and a people, and as Latter-day Saints, offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness; and let us present in his holy temple, when it is finished, a book containing the records of our dead, which shall be worthy of all acceptation.

God bless us to this end, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:431 May 9, 1971 CCA Conference

Conference
Colorado City, Arizona
May 9, 1971
Repentance

Now, brothers and sisters, these words have cut like a two-edged sword. I hope it has with you. The Spirit of the Lord has told me to read you these, His words.

D. & C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.
2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads.
3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required; and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

We are in this position, my dear brothers and sisters, with great light.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.
5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all: Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;

6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.
7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge;

Speaking to these brethren entering into the Holy United Order.

7. ... go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.
8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;

9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.
10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

Let this be our faith, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:432  May 16, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
I appreciate these fine sentiments of the brethren who have spoken before. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, that we shall be edified and the Spirit of the Lord made manifest; for I desire but to be an instrument in His hands to do good, to speak the truth, to teach it, and to bring others to the knowledge of the same. I am grateful for the Priesthood. I love it as it exists in the person of President Leroy S. Johnson. I love the principles that he gives us, that he calls upon the saints to abide by, for they are the truth. They are life and salvation to us. I love his associates in the Priesthood as a body representing the authority which was given through and by Joseph Smith the Prophet.

My mind has been dwelling upon this great character and his place in the great scheme of things as instituted by God, our Father. Contemplating some of the remarks of Brother Helmut regarding Priesthood took my mind back to what Joseph suffered at the hands of some of his closest brethren, as well as many of the saints; but of course, particularly by the enemy of all righteousness.

I was reading some of his remarks last night as he told of the Twelve who were associated with him; when he saw them in a circle in a foreign land tattered and torn with their heads bowed, and Jesus standing in their midst and they not knowing that He was there, and He wept for them; and how He must have wept for Joseph, as well as the Father, for the great work and the sacrifice that he made for the saints of God, for the work of God, and for the establishment of the Priesthood upon the earth; the establishment of this great and last dispensation upon the earth, which he heads as the one in whom all other dispensations are gathered together, standing next to Jesus Christ; and the One Mighty and Strong who is yet to come, and for whom we look and are preparing, I pray God.

I hope we keep this grand character in mind, brothers and sisters, as we prepare ourselves, and as President Johnson tries to prepare this people; for he is working to prepare the way sooner or later for the coming of this great character, the one who stands in the office of the Holy Ghost, as Father, Son, and Holy Ghost stand together. He is one of those three characters spoken of when the foundations of this earth were laid and when the morning stars sang together for joy at the contemplation of bringing forth all of these sons and daughters of God to receive the probation of mortality, to work out their salvation and have the opportunity of becoming like our Father; for this is His work and glory, to bring to pass the immortality and the eternal life of His sons and daughters.

I felt, brothers and sisters, to bring a greater appreciation of who Joseph was and is. We might read some of his remarks in a sermon just a little over a month before he gave his life in martyrdom as a testimony of his work which was required of him, as it was required of the Savior, but not for the same purpose, of course. But their careers were remarkably paralleled in accomplishing the missions they were sent forth to do. Joseph, the great Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son, was required to spill his blood as an everlasting testimony of his being that Witness, and bringing forth the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, and standing at the head of this last and greatest of all the dispensations under Jesus and Father Michael. There are some aspects of this sermon that some of us, I think, have not understood and appreciated. He says:

TPJS Page 364

_The Savior has the words of eternal life. Nothing else can profit us. There is no salvation in believing an evil report against our neighbor. I advise all to go on to perfection, and search deeper and deeper into the mysteries of Godliness. A man can do nothing for himself unless God direct him in the right way; and the Priesthood is for that purpose._

The last time I spoke on this stand it was on the resurrection of the dead, when I promised to continue my remarks upon that subject. I still feel a desire to say something on this subject. Let us this very day begin anew, and now say, with all our hearts, we will forsake our sins and be righteous. I shall read the 24th chapter of Matthew, and give it a literal rendering and reading; and when it is rightly understood, it will be edifying.

I thought the very oddity of its rendering would be edifying anyhow -- "And it will be preached, the Gospel of the kingdom, in the whole world, to a witness over all people: and then will the end come." I will now read it in German [which he did, and many Germans who were present said he translated it correctly].

_The Savior said when these tribulations should take place, it should be_ committed to a man who should be a witness over the whole world:
Over the whole world.

...the keys of knowledge, power and revelations should be revealed to a witness who should hold the testimony to the world. It has always been my province to dig up hidden mysteries -- new things -- for my hearers.
Just at the time when some men think that I have no right to the keys of the Priesthood -- just at that time I have the greatest right. The Germans are an exalted people. The old German translators are the most nearly correct -- most honest of any of the translators; and therefore I get testimony to bear me out in the revelations that I have preached for the last fourteen years. The old German, Latin, Greek and Hebrew translations all say it is true: they cannot be impeached, and therefore I am in good company.

You remember the Bible has it that the Gospel should be preached as a witness to all the world and then should the end come. The correct rendering:
It should be preached to a witness over the whole world.

All the testimony is that the Lord in the last days would commit the keys of the Priesthood to a witness over all people. Has the Gospel of the kingdom commenced in the last days? And will God take it from the man until He takes him Himself? I have read it precisely as the words flowed from the lips of Jesus Christ. John the Revelator saw an angel flying through the midst of heaven, having the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth.

The scripture is ready to be fulfilled when great wars, famines, pestilence, great distress, judgments, &c., are ready to be poured out on the inhabitants of the earth. John saw the angel having the holy Priesthood, who should preach the everlasting Gospel to all nations. God had an angel -- a special messenger -- ordained and prepared for that purpose in the last days. Woe, woe be to that man or set of men who lift up their hands against God and His witness in these last days: for they shall deceive almost the very chosen ones!

And I testify unto you that Joseph is that Witness -- God the Third, the Witness and Testator.

My enemies say that I have been a true prophet. Why, I had rather be a fallen true prophet than a false prophet. When a man goes about prophesying, and commands men to obey his teachings, he must either be a true or false prophet. False prophets always arise to oppose the true prophets and they will prophesy so very near the truth that they will deceive almost the very chosen ones.

The doctrine of eternal judgments belongs to the first principles of the Gospel, in the last days. In relation to the kingdom of God, the devil always sets up his kingdom at the very same time in opposition to God. Every man who has a calling to minister to the inhabitants of the world was ordained to that very purpose in the Grand Council of heaven before this world was. I suppose I was ordained to this very office in that Grand Council. It is the testimony that I want that I am God's servant, and this people His people. The ancient prophets declared that in the last days the God of heaven should set up a kingdom which should never be destroyed, nor left to other people; and the very time that was calculated on, this people were struggling to bring it out. He that arms himself with gun, sword, or pistol, except in the defense of truth, will sometime be sorry for it. I never carry any weapon with me bigger than my penknife. When I was dragged before the cannon and muskets in Missouri, I was unarmed. God will always protect me until my mission is fulfilled.

I calculate to be one of the instruments of setting up the kingdom of Daniel by the word of the Lord, and I intend to lay a foundation that will revolutionize the whole world. I once offered my life to the Missouri mob as a sacrifice for my people, and here I am. It will not be by sword or gun that this kingdom will roll on: the power of truth is such that all nations will be under the necessity of obeying the Gospel. The prediction is that army will be against army: it may be that the Saints will have to beat their ploughs into swords, for it will not do for men to sit down patiently and see their children destroyed.

My text is on the resurrection of the dead, which you will find in the 14th chapter of John -- "In my Father's house are many mansions." It should be -- "In my Father's kingdom are many kingdoms," in order that ye may be heirs of God and joint-heirs with me. I do not believe the Methodist doctrine of sending honest men and noble-minded men to hell, along with the murderer and the adulterer. They may hurl all their hell and fiery billows upon me, for they will roll off me as fast as they come on. But I have an order of things to save the poor fellows at any rate, and get them saved; for I will send men to preach to them in prison and save them if I can.

There are mansions for those who obey a celestial law, and there are other mansions for those who come short of the law every man in his own order. There is baptism for those to exercise who are alive, and baptism for the dead who die without the knowledge of the Gospel.

I am going on in my progress for eternal life. It is not only necessary that you should be baptized for your dead, but you will have to go through all the ordinances for them, the same as you have gone through to save yourselves. There will be 144,000 saviors on Mount Zion, and with them an innumerable host that no man can number. Oh! I beseech you to go forward, go forward and make your calling and your election sure; and if any man preach any other Gospel than that which I have preached, he shall be cursed; and some of you who now hear me shall see it, and know that I testify the truth concerning them.

In regard to the law of the Priesthood, there should be a place where all nations shall come up from time to time to receive their endowments; and the Lord has said this shall be the place for the baptisms for the dead. Every man that has been baptized and belongs to the kingdom has a right to be baptized for those who have gone before; and as soon as the law of the Gospel is obeyed here by their friends who act as proxy for them, the Lord has administrators there to set them free. A man may act as proxy for his own relatives; the ordinances of the Gospel which were laid out before the foundations of the world have thus been fulfilled by them, and we may be baptized for those whom we have much friendship for; but it must first be revealed to the man of God, lest we should run too far. "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive;" all shall be raised from the dead. The Lamb of God hath brought to pass the resurrection, so that all shall rise from the dead.

God Almighty Himself dwells in eternal fire; flesh and blood cannot go there, for all corruption is devoured by the fire. "Our God is a consuming fire." When our flesh is quickened by the Spirit, there will be no blood in this tabernacle. Some dwell in higher glory than others.

Those who have done wrong always have that wrong gnawing them. Immortality dwells in everlasting burnings. I will from time to time reveal to you the subjects that are revealed by the Holy Ghost to me. All the lies that are now hatched up against me are of the devil, and the influence of the devil and his servants will be used against the kingdom of God. The servants of God teach nothing but principles of eternal life, by their works ye shall know them. A good man will speak good things and holy principles, and an evil man evil things. I feel, in the name of the Lord, to rebuke all such bad principles, liars, &c., and I warn all of you to look out whom you are going after. I exhort you to give heed to all the virtue and the teachings which I have given you. All men who are immortal dwell in everlasting burnings. You cannot go anywhere but where God can find you out. All men are born to die, and all men must rise; all must enter eternity.

In order for you to receive your children to yourselves you must have a promise -- some ordinance; some blessing, in order to ascend above principalities, or else it may be an angel. They must rise just as they died; we can there hail our lovely infants with the same glory -- the same loveliness in the celestial glory, where they all enjoy alike. They differ in stature, in size, the same glorious spirit gives them the likeness of glory and bloom; the old man with his silvery hairs will glory in bloom and beauty. No man can describe it to you -- no man can write it.

When did I ever teach anything wrong from this stand? When was I ever confounded? I want to triumph in Israel before I depart hence and am no more seen. I never told you I was perfect; but there is no error in the revelations which I have taught. Must I, then, be thrown away as a thing of naught?

I enjoin for your consideration -- add to your faith, virtue, love, &c. I say, in the name of the Lord, if these things are in you, you shall be fruitful. I testify that no man has power to reveal it but myself -- things in heaven, in earth, and hell; and all shut your mouths for the future. I commend you all to God, that you may inherit all things; and may God add His blessing. Amen.
Obedience to Priesthood; Why Do We Not Set Ourselves in Order?

I am grateful, as I know you are, my brothers and sisters, for what we have heard here this day; and I pray God we will cherish it, and take these things to our hearts, and put them into our lives, and let our bosoms burn with the fervor that we should have, to get and keep the Spirit of God to change our characters to become like Him and fill the measure of our creation. I will be brief, but I will give you the word of the Lord from His own written word. A great deal has been said here about our Father and our God, the Lord Jesus Christ -- who and what They are, Their character, and our dependence upon the holy Priesthood, through which the Holy Ghost comes to us. I would like to read to you what the Lord says about our dependence, and what our duties and our obligations are to Priesthood.

D.& C. 84

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;
36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;
37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;
38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.
39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.
40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.
41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.
42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, Joseph and six Elders.

42. ...by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

These were great Apostles, which he confirmed upon them that day. And the Lord says, 'Wo unto those who come not unto this Priesthood which ye have received," and which I testify to you, my brothers and sisters, has continued to this day. No Elder can have the power of this Priesthood, or the power of the Holy Ghost through that Priesthood, except he be one with his head, with the one whom God has sent. And no wife can be saved and exalted except she abide the law of her husband, and her desires be unto him, that first great law that God gave to Eve after He gave His law to Father Michael, Adam, our Father and our God; how can we be independent?

Now, brothers and sisters, I feel constrained to read the word of the Lord further to this people, which I feel is incumbent upon us. It applies to us as it did to a group of men who were then entering the Holy United Order, and which we must yet abide; along with Celestial Marriage and all of the other holy laws of the Gospel. Let me first read you what the Lord said in one verse what is the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

D.& C. 93

1. Verily, thus saith the Lord: It shall come to pass that every soul who forsaketh his sins and cometh unto me, and calleth on my name, and obeyeth my voice, and keepeth my commandments,

I read you the key commandments that He has given.

1. ... shall see my face and know that I am;

And now, to these brethren and to us:

D.& C. 82

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, my servants, that inasmuch as you have forgiven one another your trespasses, even so I, the Lord, forgive you.

2. Nevertheless, there are those among you who have sinned exceedingly; yea, even all of you have sinned; but verily I say unto you, beware from henceforth, and refrain from sin, lest sore judgments fall upon your heads.

3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required;

How much we have been given, my dear brothers and sisters, and how lightly it has been treated, as the Lord recited further in Section 84, from which I first read.

3. For of him unto whom much is given much is required; and he who sins against the greater light shall receive the greater condemnation.

4. Ye call upon my name for revelations, and I give them unto you; and inasmuch as ye keep not my sayings, which I give unto you, ye become transgressors; and justice and judgment are the penalty which is affixed unto my law.

5. Therefore, what I say unto one I say unto all: And that is why I feel justified in reading this to us.

5. ...Watch, for the adversary spreadeth his dominions, and darkness reigneth;
And oh, how great is that darkness that reigns upon the earth today, in the midst of which we are called upon to obey the Gospel of Christ, magnify the holy Priesthood, and save and exalt ourselves in the midst of hell in all of its glory. This is what we are called upon to do, and we shall do it, God willing and God blessing us through our faith and our faithfulness.

6. And the anger of God kindleth against the inhabitants of the earth; and none doeth good, for all have gone out of the way.
7. And now, verily I say unto you, I, the Lord, will not lay any sin to your charge; go your ways and sin no more; but unto that soul who sinneth shall the former sins return, saith the Lord your God.

That is a terrible thing to contemplate isn't it? And now these key words:

8. And again, I say unto you, I give unto you a new commandment, that you may understand my will concerning you;
9. Or, in other words, I give unto you directions how you may act before me, that it may turn to you for your salvation.
10. I, the Lord, am bound when ye do what I say; but when ye do not what I say, ye have no promise.

Therein is the great power of faith. "When you do what I say," we know our course is pleasing; we know we shall be accepted; we have sacrificed all earthly things. We then shall know that we are accepted, and have power with God, power in the Priesthood, power to save and exalt ourselves, to go forth and onward unto perfection. These great blessings are ours, my dear brothers and sisters. We have in our midst the holy Priesthood. We have the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel vouchsafed to us through it. We have been baptized, we have been ordained, we have been sealed by the power of this Priesthood in holy families, if we will make them so. And I pray God that we will now unite ourselves as a people, first in our families, set ourselves in order. Oh, brothers and sisters, why do we not set ourselves in order? We know the way. It has been given us thousands of times. Set ourselves in order that we may lay hold upon these promises that God has given, the Lord Jesus Christ has given. "When ye do what I say, I am bound." We must not be doing what He says, because we are not enjoying the blessings that we should and must have if we are to be exalted in His presence and see Him as He is; which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:443  June 20, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
June 20, 1971
Testimony of Joseph Smith

I pray for the Spirit of God to direct me while I stand before you today. I am grateful that this song was just sung. My mind is upon our beloved Prophet, Joseph. I am grateful for the grand Presidency of this earth -- Michael, our Father and God; for our Lord Jesus Christ, the Holy One of Israel, who suffered and died for us -- each of Them in Their time setting a grand and glorious example for the sons of Adam to follow. And I am grateful for the Holy Ghost in the person of Joseph Smith, the Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son, following the example of the Lord Jesus Christ; and he, likewise, becoming a martyr, shedding his blood as a testimony of the Father and the Son, whom he witnessed, the only man on earth who witnessed them both at the same time to accomplish the work that he was sent forth to do in the last dispensation of the fullness of times. And I am grateful that the heads of all the other dispensations came and delivered their keys to Joseph.

What a wonderful thing, brothers and sisters, that we have the example of the life and labors of our dear Prophet, Joseph Smith, Jun.; and we are now beneficiaries of his labors and sufferings, and have been brought together in this great and dreadful day of the Lord, to bring to pass much righteousness, to be the nucleus of the great Millennium, if you please, my dear brothers and sisters, if you will. God will have His people whether you and I go along or not; He will get His people. He will bring righteous things to the fore. He will be prepared to redeem Zion, to receive the remnant of Jacob in the gathering of Israel, and to receive the Ten Tribes who are now in another place, to build that grand, and glorious, beautiful city Zion of our God, in the center place now known as Independence, Missouri, while Judah shall be gathered to the old Jerusalem, where Christ shall come in His glory first, and then to Zion.
Now, regarding our Prophet Joseph. I know as I know I stand here, that he is directing the affairs of this work at this time, as he has in all times past, since he made his sojourn upon the earth and accomplished so gloriously the mission he was called to perform; and so are those who succeeded him, our fathers in the Priesthood, for whom I am also most grateful, and I am pleased and happy to call them my fathers.

It is one hundred twenty-seven years ago next Sunday that our Prophet Joseph shed his blood for the testimony of the Father and the Son, and I feel constrained to read the glorious words of John Taylor as he wrote about that great event. It is recorded in Section 135, which I am sure you are all familiar with. I thought it appropriate in this month of June to call attention to these things.

D.& C. 135

1. To seal the testimony of this book and the Book of Mormon, we announce the martyrdom of Joseph Smith the Prophet, and Hyrum Smith the Patriarch. They were shot in Carthage jail, on the 27th of June, 1844, about five o'clock p.m., by an armed mob -- painted black -- of from 150 to 200 persons.

Painted black. The adversary certainly identified himself very well, didn't he?

1. ... Hyrum was shot first and fell calmly, exclaiming: I am a dead man! Joseph leaped from the window, and was shot dead in the attempt, exclaiming: O Lord my God! They were both shot after they were dead, in a brutal manner, and both received four balls.

2. John Taylor and Willard Richards, two of the Twelve, were the only persons in the room at the time; the former was wounded in a savage manner with four balls, but has since recovered; the latter, through the providence of God, escaped, without even a hole in his robe.

3. Joseph Smith, the Prophet and Seer of the Lord, has done more, save Jesus only, for the salvation of men in this world, than any other man that ever lived in it. In the short space of twenty years, he has brought forth the Book of Mormon, which he translated by the gift and power of God, and has been the means of publishing it on two continents; has sent the fulness of the everlasting gospel, which it contained, to the four quarters of the earth; has brought forth the revelations and commandments which compose this book of Doctrine and Covenants, and many other wise documents and instructions for the benefit of the children of men; gathered many thousands of the Latter-day Saints, founded a great city, and left a fame and a name that cannot be slain. He lived great, and he died great in the eyes of God and his people; and like most of the Lord's anointed in ancient time, has sealed his mission and his works with his own blood; and so has his brother Hyrum. In life they were not divided, and in death they were not separated!

4. When Joseph went to Carthage to deliver himself up to the pretended requirements of the law, two or three days previous to his assassination, he said: "I am going like a lamb to the slaughter; but I am calm as a summer's morning; I have a conscience void of offense towards God, and towards all men. I SHALL DIE INNOCENT, AND IT SHALL YET BE SAID OF ME -- HE WAS MURDERED IN COLD BLOOD." -- The same morning, after Hyrum had made ready to go -- shall it be said to the slaughter? yes, for so it was -- he read the following paragraph, near the close of the twelfth chapter of Ether, in the Book of Mormon, and turned down the leaf upon it:

5. And it came to pass that I prayed unto the Lord that he would give unto the Gentiles grace, that they might have charity. And it came to pass that the Lord said unto me: If they have not charity it mattereth not unto thee, thou hast been faithful; wherefore thy garments are clean. And because thou hast seen thy weakness, thou shalt be made strong, even unto the sitting down in the place which I have prepared in the mansions of my Father. And now I....bid farewell unto the Gentiles; yea, and also unto my brethren whom I love, until we shall meet before the judgment-seat of Christ, where all men shall know that my garments are not spotted with your blood. The testators are now dead, and their testament is in force.

6. Hyrum Smith was forty-four years old in February, 1844, and Joseph Smith was thirty-eight in December, 1843; and henceforward their names will be classed among the martyrs of religion; and the reader in every nation will be reminded that the Book of Mormon, and this book of Doctrine and Covenants of the church, cost the best blood of the nineteenth century to bring them forth for the salvation of a ruined world; and that if the fire can scathe a green tree for the glory of God, how easy it will burn up the dry trees to purify the vineyard of corruption. They lived for glory; they died for glory; and glory is their eternal reward. From age to age shall their names go down to posterity as gems for the sanctified.

7. They were innocent of any crime, as they had often been proved before, and were only confined in jail by the conspiracy of traitors and wicked men; and their innocent blood on the floor of Carthage jail is a broad seal affixed to "Mormonism" that cannot be rejected by any court on earth, and their innocent blood on the escutcheon of the State of Illinois, with the broken faith of the State as pledged by the governor, is a witness to the truth of the everlasting gospel that all the world cannot impeach; and their innocent blood on the banner of liberty, and on the magna charta of the United States, is an ambassador for the religion of Jesus Christ, that will touch the hearts of honest men among all nations; and their innocent blood, with the innocent blood of all the martyrs under the altar that John saw, will cry unto the Lord of Hosts till he avenges that blood on the earth. Amen.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:447 July 4, 1971 Sandy

Sandy, Utah
July 4, 1971
Great Deceptions of Satan; The Coming Crisis

I delight in the truths that we have heard, brothers and sisters, and this spirit of humility and submission. I pray for the Spirit of God to be upon me that I may teach the truth, defend it, sustain it, uphold it with all that I have and am. The Gospel of Jesus Christ and the holy Priesthood which administers it are dearer than life itself to me; for they are life, a life and light that will lead to eternal life and eternal lives. I appreciate the sweet humility of President Johnson and his great steadfastness, the great integrity of his soul and the example that he lives and gives us.

Brothers and sisters, we are going to be subjected to great deceptions. There have been many trials that have been prophesied of for this people. Some of them were mentioned as money, prosperous times, and I feel we are certainly in the midst of that. Others would include the trials by the brethren. The brethren would try us. And we have seen many of these.
I dare say the worst trial is the devil working from within, having seen that he couldn't destroy us from without by government and by church fiat [decree] and all other things that have been combined to destroy this work and people. There are deceptions that are being practiced now from within, not only in our personal family lives -- things that come over the media, television, radio, newspapers, through the schools and especially the educational system -- but there are going to be great deceptions from the inside of this work and this people. So we call upon you to beware. Be very, very careful who and what you listen to. Understand correct principle and Priesthood, and you cannot be led astray.

The Spirit of God is given us, brothers and sisters, to enable us to become like God, because the attributes of the Holy Spirit are indeed the character and attributes of God. He has a fullness of it and it issues forth from Himself. It is distilled upon us through our obedience and our desire to be humble and to follow the directions and counsels of the Priesthood. One day that Spirit may be withdrawn from you, brothers and sisters, to see if you have arrived to that point where that character is so much a part of your being that you cannot be led astray, as was Job under the great stress and trials that came upon him -- till he was covered with boils, and even his wife called upon him to curse God and die -- but he knew by correct principle, he knew the correct doctrine of the holy Priesthood and he had had overshadowing him continually the Holy Ghost. For satan had complained to the Lord in his inquiry of him and his goings and comings that he had had His Spirit around him, and he couldn't get near him. And so the Lord withdrew it and the man was able to stand up and withstand all of the deceptions and powers of that great adversary of righteousness.

Satan is being revealed in greater and greater power today from inside and out. He will be sitting in the temple as God as it has been prophesied, and by other various means. I thought it might be well to remind us again of some of these things as were given in "The Coming Crisis".

The Coming Crisis
Strong Delusions

The ways of the God of Jacob are easily recognized in these days of general wickedness. It is true, that they are clearly revealed in the Scriptures of truth, and by a living Priesthood of inspired men, yet they have been so long and so grossly perverted by the precepts and opinions of a hireling ministry, that doubts and contentions have sprung up in every land, and the plainest and simplest truths are denied, abrogated, or accounted obsolete. God is not allowed to speak from the heavens by the mouths of Prophets as in former days. Notwithstanding there is much preaching and praying, still there is a virtual acknowledgement amongst all nations that God, as He was known unto the Patriarchs and Prophets of old, has forsaken the earth. And men are left to discover the way to heaven by the light of nature, or the misty nebulae of a hireling Priesthood. And it is a fact, undeniable, that infidels in the school of nature have more true piety towards the living God, than the hireling ministry of Christendom have.  Ye perhaps marvel that the great men and governors over one hundred and twenty-seven provinces in ancient Babylon, with a brave monarch at their head, should have been such firm believers in the astrologers, magicians, and interpreters of dreams, in their days! But marvel not, for when the greater power of the like class of persons, under the direction of Satan, shall be brought to bear in your own day, the delusion will be so much stronger that Princes, Presidents, Governors, and chief Captains, will be constrained to bow to it. Their credulity will be taxed beyond the power of resistance. The workers of these mysterious and supernatural arts will bring to their aid both natural and supernatural causes that will challenge and defy disputation. The senses and judgment of men cannot withstand such imperative facts as will arrest their observation. For it cannot be denied that facts and truths will constitute such a measure of the ingredients of these mysterious and wonderful arts as to give them an irresistible strength of conviction to those who are unenlightened by the spirit of God. And so far as facts and truths are mingled, it must also be acknowledged that God, the true and living Sovereign of heaven and earth, will contribute to produce the delusion.

Why? Because people ask for it. They ask for delusions and they are given.

He has said that "HE WILL SEND THEM STRONG DELUSIONS THAT THEY MIGHT BELIEVE A LIE." He gives His reason and apology for acting after this strange manner--because, knowing the truth, they do not love it unadulterated. And knowing God, they do not choose to glorify Him as God. Therefore their foolish hearts become darkened, and God suffers Satan to compound and mix up truth and error in such proportions as to be captivating and strongly delusive. As a snare, this composition will be ingeniously mixed and administered to all nations, by skillful and practiced hands.
And these kinds will come among us, brothers and sisters.

Revelation Necessary

And who shall be able to withstand? Do you think that your great sagacity and the compass of your pro-found, philosophical turn of mind will enable you to detect the error and delusion of these arts? Oh, man, this is a vain hope. Your mind will not be competent to detect the delusion. God Himself will allow Satan to ply your scrutinizing eye with powers and sophistications far beyond your capacity to detect. Do you say then, I will stand aloof from investigation, I will shun all acquaintance with these mysterious workings, in order that I may not be carried away with their delusive influence? Vain hope. Oh man, you cannot be neutral.
You must choose your side and put on your armor. Those that come not up to the help of the Lord in the day of battle, will be sorely cursed. The captive Hebrew Daniel stood up boldly against all the governors and whole realm of Babylon with their monarch at their head. Daniel readily acknowledged that it was not from any wisdom in him, above other men, that he could surpass the astrologers and magicians. But holding intercourse with the God of heaven, he became endowed with a supernatural comprehension that effectually shielded him against supernatural delusion. Thereby he escaped the snare that entwined around the great statesmen and governors of that immense empire of Babylon. Thereby those who take refuge in the name of the Lord and in immediate revelation from heaven, will be safe, and no others. He that is not for God and the principle of immediate revelation, will inevitably be ensnared, overcome, and destroyed. Because he that is not for Him must be against Him. No man in any age was ever for God or even a friend of God, that did not hold intercourse with Him personally, and receive for himself the revelations of His will. The rock of revelation, by which Peter knew Jesus Christ, is the only basis upon which any man can escape the strong delusion which God will send among the nations, through Satan and his mediums and coadjutors. Reader, if you live long, you will be compelled to take a side for God or for Satan. Satan was allowed to try a compulsory process upon as good a man as Job. The whirlwind and tempestuous elements, with disease and death, were put into Satan's hand that he might compel Job to abandon his integrity. Had not Job possessed the key of revelation from God, he would have been compelled to have made peace with Satan and forsake the Lord. His wife urged him to do so -- says she, "Curse God and die"; or, in other words, take the side of Satan against God.

Now, reader, if you have ships of precious merchandise, floating at sea, the time is fast coming when Satan will destroy those ships, unless you bow down to his power and become a co-operator with him. And if you do bow down to him, to work wickedness and say, no eye seeth me -- then God will destroy those ships and you, too, and peradventure He will destroy your family also, and make a clean end of you, and blot out your name under heaven. Your beautiful mansion and flourishing family still have to be consecrated to God or to Satan, whichever you may choose. The controversy is begun and the war will never end till the victory is complete and universal, and there shall not be found so much as a dog to move his tongue against the Lord, and the immediate revelations of His will.  For the time has come that God will write His law upon every man's heart, that will receive it, not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God. And against him that hath this law, the gates of hell never have prevailed and never will prevail. Heaven and earth shall pass away before a jot of this law shall be made to succumb to wicked men or devils. The heavens have been shaken once when angels rebelled, and they are destined to another shaking even with the earth. Do you say you don't need any more revelation from God. Then the Devil will be allowed to give you some which you don't need. And by the time that he has revealed himself to you, and buffeted you, and trained you under his rigorous discipline to fight in this awful crisis against the heavens, peradventure you will not then feel so rich and increased in goods, but that you can take a little counsel from the Lord, and feel a little of your extreme poverty and destitution.

How are we going to withstand these things, brothers and sisters? By a spirit of complete dedication -- our time, our talents, our means, our wives and children, brethren, all dedicated to the proposition that God lives and His servants are over us; and that He is calling upon us now to become one as a people, to be like Him; that we can draw near to Him and call upon Him in great faith, with that perfect faith that comes from knowing our course is pleasing to Him; to overcome death, hell, and the devil. This is what the Savior constrained the saints to do in His day, and does now today through immediate revelation at present, to overcome. Those who overcome will be made pillars in His temple, He says. Those who overcome will become like Him. Those who overcome will be with Him in the temple and receive their blessings that we so much need at this present time.

I pray God to bless us to this end, to keep us faithful, keep us humble and bring upon us anything that stands in our way of becoming perfect in His sight. Let us all submit ourselves, truly submit ourselves to the workings of the Spirit of God, that it may be our constant guide and companion, and stand by the holy Priesthood, he who is at your head in your families and these brethren presided over by President Johnson, who lead us. Let us not be hearers of the word only, but doers, brothers and sisters, and keep faith for the things that we have received, and indeed receive them and obey them, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:453  July 18, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
July 18, 1971
Under Condemnation For Treating Lightly the Things of God; How to Become Like God

I am delighted in the things that have been directed of the Lord to be said here today, for these messages of faith and hope, and the strength that they will enable us to go on with greater faith and courage and determination to serve God and keep His commandments. And I, too, am grateful for our Priesthood fathers and for my father who went through similar conditions and persecutions and circumstances to those of Joseph Musser. In fact, they were friends in those days. My father was acquainted with Lorin Woolley, and with John W. Taylor, who was his brother-in-law. I am so grateful that he has vouchsafed to me the testimony and knowledge of the Gospel, and appreciation for the holy Priesthood that has enabled me to go on and do whatever work the Lord has for me to do.

I am grateful for President Johnson and these my brethren. I love them as brethren more than I know how to love anyone. I know that they were sent to do this work, and President Johnson is the right man to lead the work at this time, upheld and strengthened and blessed of the Lord with revelation and the power and the Priesthood to do this work. This I know as I know anything.

Now, brothers and sisters, we are most blessed above all other people on the face of the earth. More light and knowledge and understanding has been given to this people than any other people in this dispensation, if you please. Therefore, more is required of us. I hope, brothers and sisters, we realize this awful, this terrible responsibility that we are under in being given the light and knowledge that we are being given daily almost, weekly, monthly; but, unfortunately, too many treat these things too lightly and we are still under condemnation.

I don't know what further to say except to call upon you to get and keep the Spirit of God. The gift of the Holy Ghost is ours, brothers and sisters, each and every one of us who have entered into the waters of baptism and had hands laid on us for the gift of the Holy Ghost by the servants of God, who have been raised up and sustained as legal administrators in the ordinances and laws of the holy Priesthood and the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. This is the burden of the message of all the brethren. I remember it most particularly and most gratefully as it came from the lips of John Y. Barlow, during whose administration I came to a knowledge of this work, and who was truly a servant of God, a man of God, as were those who followed him, and as is Leroy Sunderland Johnson.

Don't you realize, my brothers and sisters, you cannot, to save your soul, you cannot have the gift of the Holy Ghost except you receive it through the medium and power of the holy Priesthood which presides over you? What a marvelous thing it is, the getting, the keeping as our constant companion of the Holy Ghost, is the means by which we perfect these characters that make us like God. Can we not see this picture and abide in it, overcoming each of our weaknesses and our follies, the characteristics that are derogatory to the Spirit of God, one by one? I think if we would look at the larger picture, see what really it is that enables us to overcome, is to have the Spirit of God with us and never do or say anything that would grieve it and cause us to lose it. Whatever may come along to threaten you this way by the power of evil and foul spirits -- the devil himself, if you please -- say, "Get thee behind me satan! I will not lose the power and Spirit of the Holy Ghost!" Then we will overcome, brothers and sisters.

I do not feel that salvation consists in trying to point out one little thing after another and fool around with them. Success in becoming like God consists in an all-pervading, all-purposeful determination to serve God and keep His commandments, to stand by the Priesthood which He has set up. All other things will be swept away in its mighty current as we become like God. That is what we are here for. By abiding and keeping the commandments of God, then, we get and keep the Spirit of God; entering into His gate, entering into His laws and abiding them, Celestial Marriage and the Holy United Order being the capstone of the Gospel of Christ. If we would but abide these two laws and principles, every attribute of the Spirit of God would be ours; and we cannot abide it without the Spirit of God. You would have pandemonium, hell on wheels, if you want to put it that way. We cannot abide these principles without the Holy Ghost as our constant guide and companion. And those who are most successfully living and abiding it are those who have the Spirit of God in their families. If there is any other picture standing in the way in your families, it is because you don't have the Spirit of God there. It is so simple when we really see the picture, brothers and sisters; and why can't we see it? We cannot see the forest for the trees. Let us look at the forest, the mansions of God, and be able to abide therein in the Celestial Kingdom of our God.

We are called upon by the very nature of this work to abide Celestial Laws in the midst of hell, in the midst of a telestial world. It can be done. It has been done. It is being done. I testify of that to you. They may be few, but this seems to be the history of the work of God. There are a few shining examples among us, so we are not left without proper examples to abide by. So, my brothers and sisters, if we would just keep in mind getting the Spirit of God and keeping it, by loving and serving God with all our might, mind, and strength; and our neighbors as ourselves with all our might, mind, and strength, we would have these things, and we would grow until we would come to that point where a people can be used and sent to redeem Zion.

Have you ever contemplated the things that have been said about that great journey that is to come by power when Jesus Christ, His presence -- not only His angels, but His presence -- would be in that great concourse of Latter-day Saints, whose righteousness would be so great that the trees would clap their limbs together, brothers and sisters! because of their perfection, because of the attributes of God which they had? I worship God because of the attributes He has; and they are all bound up in the Holy Ghost which issues forth from Himself to us through the Priesthood. It is just that simple. God help us to get it, to keep it, abide in it. I think it would be timely if I were to conclude by reading those last verses of Section 121, which summarizes these things so beautifully to the word of God.

D.& C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood,
This we should honor in our families. The power of the Holy Ghost comes through it.

41. ...only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;
True love, charity, the pure love of Christ.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --
43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost;
Yes, even by the power of the Holy Ghost, rebukes and reproofs are due. Sometimes they are mistaken by those who don't have the Spirit of God as anger inspired of the devil. Remember, brothers and sisters, Father gets angry, too, at His children who are so foolish in many things.

43. ...and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;
What a beautiful way to administer chastisement and reproof. How the Lord has marked the way for us to live and abide in these holy laws.

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.
45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,
Which we are together as brothers and sisters.

45. ...and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;
In other words, our course of life will be pleasing to God. Then we can go to Him with mighty faith and receive the blessings that we are entitled to.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.
46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion,
For having acted this way, the Holy Ghost will be our constant companion.

46. ...and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

And may I add, we will become Gods, Goddesses, the family of heaven, which I pray we may labor towards with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:458  August 8, 1971  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
August 8, 1971
Oath and Covenant of the Priesthood

I am glad to be of some benefit. I love the rain, too. We could use a little more out there today. I am very happy and grateful to be here in association with these brethren under this assignment, and to hear the testimonies of these young men who have spoken from their hearts with true understanding and appreciation for the blessings of the holy Priesthood in their lives.

I am grateful to hear the encouraging words of Brother Draper, a very dear friend in this work. I appreciate his life, and I watched him from the time he first contacted this work. He has been a true and a beautiful example of how the Priesthood can work in a man's life, and how, from following the example, receiving of the Spirit and blessings of the Priesthood over him, his life has been enriched, his character has grown, and he truly walks in the shadow of the Priesthood, as we all should, dear brothers and sisters.

I am grateful for my beloved father, who chose the better part and received of the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage, Celestial or Plural Marriage, for I know that I was born under that covenant. I am most grateful for it and that I have been called to do the same. It has been the utmost desire of my heart to abide in that covenant and to have my family as a living example of it.

I am grateful for my wives, for these sons and daughters that the Lord has sent through this covenant that I have entered into, with the Priesthood brethren who preside over me. The covenants that I have made are inseparably connected with those that I have made with President Barlow and President Johnson. They are inseparably connected, as the Priesthood is inseparably connected with the powers of heaven.

RTJ 2:459 August 8, 1971 CCA

I have contemplated quite often the sacrifice that was made by my father, my mother, in entering into this holy law, and I hope he is listening now as I bear testimony of the truth of these things. I have not heard stronger or more true testimonies from any man than I have heard from my father, because he truly had a testimony of the work of the Priesthood, and he loved it with all his heart and desired to obey it. He honored and sustained the brethren over him, and I am grateful for his example and that of my mother in following him in this holy order.

RTJ 2:459 August 8, 1971 CCA

I am grateful to be a part of this work, and whatever part the Lord desires me to perform, it matters not. Whatever God wills, I desire to do; and I desire with all my soul to have the confidence of President Johnson, to stand close to him, sustain him in his arduous and great and important labors. I would like to continue to live in his shadow and do the work that is required of me, faithfully and true unto the end. I wish this same thing for each and every one of you, and of my brethren, whom I dearly love.

RTJ 2:459 - 460 August 8, 1971 CCA

This is a Gospel of love, dear brothers and sisters. The work of the Priesthood is a work of love. They labor because they love God, the Eternal Father, Father Michael; and their Head, the Lord Jesus Christ, under Father; and of our beloved Prophet Joseph Smith, the One Mighty and Strong, standing in the office of the Witness and Testator, his love of these eternal Beings who came and sacrificed, made the supreme sacrifice. Yes, Father Adam did. Who knows the great suffering that he went through in coming into mortality to make it possible for his sons and daughters to come from the heavens upon his footstool, and to work out their salvation and exaltation. I am grateful for the mediation and the atonement of the Lord Jesus Christ, as my brethren are, and that He became like His Father, and that it is required of us that we become like Him and Father.

RTJ 2:460 August 8, 1971 CCA

I am grateful for the glorious example of Joseph the Prophet, the Witness and Testator of the Father and the Son. Joseph is, to me, as though I had known him in life. I feel him that close as I read of his life and labors and of the testimony and the great work of redemption that he performed for us; for he sealed his testimony with his blood and made the supreme sacrifice also. His testimony is in force and will continue through time and eternity. And it is upon us, and we are under the responsibility of carrying on.

I cannot help, when I talk or think of Priesthood, to think of the verses in Section 84 of the Doctrine and Covenants, which I feel may be edifying at this time.

D. & C. 84

33. For whoso is faithful unto the obtaining these two priesthoods of which I have spoken, and the magnifying their calling, are sanctified by the Spirit unto the renewing of their bodies.

34. They become the sons of Moses and of Aaron and the seed of Abraham, and the church and kingdom, and the elect of God.

35. And also all they who receive this priesthood receive me, saith the Lord;

36. For he that receiveth my servants receiveth me;

37. And he that receiveth me receiveth my Father;

38. And he that receiveth my Father receiveth my Father's kingdom; therefore all that my Father hath shall be given unto him.

Do you see, dear brethren, the terrible responsibility that rests upon us in the receiving the Priesthood of Melchizedek?

39. And this is according to the oath and covenant which belongeth to the priesthood.

So it is by oath and covenant that we receive it, dear brethren.

40. Therefore, all those who receive the priesthood, receive this oath and covenant of my Father, which he cannot break, neither can it be moved.

41. But whoso breaketh this covenant after he hath received it, and altogether turneth therefrom, shall not have forgiveness of sins in this world nor in the world to come.

My dear brethren, to shed innocent blood is not even mentioned in this verse, where it is in Section 132.

42. And wo unto all those who come not unto this priesthood which ye have received, which I now confirm upon you who are present this day, by mine own voice out of the heavens; and even I have given the heavenly hosts and mine angels charge concerning you.

How do we abide in this covenant? It is by becoming like Jesus Christ, the Lord, who became one with His Father and set the example for all time to come, and before. Have you ever noticed in your reading of the scriptures and the history of times before Christ came upon the earth and wrought the mediation and atonement, how they were required, from Adam to His time, to have faith upon the Lord Jesus Christ and His atonement to come, as though it had already happened, as it has happened as a matter of history to us? That is how close this glorious principle of the mediation and atonement of Christ was in the minds of the Patriarchs, the Apostles, and Prophets who went before, and the people who were able to obtain such great things through their faith, so great was their faith on the Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten of the Father. As it was in those times in future to them, it was as though it had already happened. So they were able to accomplish greater things than we have seen in our time, possibly. Now, dear brethren and sisters, here is how we magnify this Priesthood and become like God:

D. & C. 121

41. No power or influence can or ought to be maintained by virtue of the priesthood, only by persuasion, by long-suffering, by gentleness and meekness, and by love unfeigned;

The Priesthood is a work of love.

42. By kindness, and pure knowledge, which shall greatly enlarge the soul without hypocrisy, and without guile --

43. Reproving betimes with sharpness, when moved upon by the Holy Ghost; and then showing forth afterwards an increase of love toward him whom thou hast reproved, lest he esteem thee to be his enemy;

44. That he may know that thy faithfulness is stronger than the cords of death.

45. Let thy bowels also be full of charity towards all men, and to the household of faith,

Love, the pure love of Christ is charity.

45. ...and to the household of faith, and let virtue garnish thy thoughts unceasingly; then shall thy confidence wax strong in the presence of God;

And, may we add, having made a sacrifice of all things, knowing that our course is pleasing to God. Then, indeed, we will have the confidence of God.

45. ...and the doctrine of the priesthood shall distil upon thy soul as the dews from heaven.

46. The Holy Ghost shall be thy constant companion, and thy scepter an unchanging scepter of righteousness and truth; and thy dominion shall be an everlasting dominion, and without compulsory means it shall flow unto thee forever and ever.

Let us remember these things, dear brothers and sisters, and remember especially that the very nature of this work of Priesthood, is that it calls for the exercise of faith until it becomes perfect, with all of our heart, might, mind, and strength; loving God in this way and serving Him and keeping His commandments, and loving our neighbors as ourselves, who are our brethren and sisters under the same covenants. God bless us all that we may be one under the Priesthood of God, to go forward to the redemption of Zion and the building up of the Kingdom of God, the establishment of this order of Priesthood in the earth, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:463  August 22, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
August 22, 1971
Gratitude for Blessings of Priesthood; First and Second Comforter

It is good to be with you again, dear brothers and sisters, and hear the testimonies that have been borne. I pray for an interest in your faith and prayers, for I know not what to say, except the Lord direct it. I do know as I know I live that this is the work of God, that the keys of the holy Priesthood are in our midst, and we are directed by that Priesthood through revelation, with President Johnson at the head. I do know that we are engaged in living the fullness of the Everlasting Gospel, these grand truths and the knowledge of the Godhead, the true and the living God, and His Son, Jesus Christ, and Joseph, Their Witness and Testator. The crowning principles of the Gospel are Celestial or Plural Marriage, and the Holy United Order. These, with all of the ordinances, all of the doctrines of the holy Priesthood that accompany them, I know will take us into the presence of Father again, having been redeemed by the atoning blood of the Lord Jesus Christ, and making it possible to go back again where we came from.

I know that I was born under the New and Everlasting Covenant, and I am most grateful for it. It is the most earnest desire of my heart, of my life, to abide in that covenant. I am grateful for the heritage vouchsafed to me.
through my natural fathers, and more particularly from the Priesthood fathers who have gone before, and my Priesthood father who directs me at this time, President Johnson.

I know that I am weak and I fail in many things to accomplish the things I should, but my heart is in this work. It is my life and the light of my life, and I desire but to be a good example and to live the life of a saint. I appreciate the testimony of my son, Hyrum, when he was but a small lad. He was asked, "What do you want most to be?" He said, "A Priesthood man." I had similar expressions from mothers of my sons, and I am most grateful for this beautiful family the Lord has blessed me with. I desire to save and exalt them with all my heart, and I desire to do the same for all of the saints, the Lord giving me help and strength and inspiration and direction; for I love the saints and I love the institutions, the doctrines of the holy Priesthood.

Brothers and sisters, what are our desires? The Lord has promised that He would grant them unto us according to our desires. If we want them sufficiently strong enough, He will grant them to us, and this by the power of faith. Faith is a gift of God, being an attribute of God. It is part of the attributes of the Holy Spirit, which is granted unto the faithful who have entered into the waters of baptism, repented of their sins, and determined to serve God and obey the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, this great gift of God to us. How we should seek for it, the most important thing in our life! "Nothing is more important than my getting and keeping the Spirit of God," should be kept before us as a motto to be watched and looked to every day of our lives.

One of the grand statements of the Prophet Joseph Smith -- I read it and read it and read it -- I would like to read again to you, because in this thing we have the key to our progress and salvation and going into the presence of Father. He speaks first of the two Comforters spoken of. First is the Holy Ghost, this gift of God that I speak of.

...the same as given on the day of Pentecost, and that all Saints receive after faith, repentance, and baptism. This first Comforter or Holy Ghost has no other effect than pure intelligence. It is more powerful in expanding the mind, enlightening the understanding, and storing the intellect with present knowledge, of a man who is of the literal seed of Abraham, than one that is a Gentile, though it may not have half as much visible effect upon the body; for as the Holy Ghost falls upon one of the literal seed of Abraham, it is calm and serene; This is the effect of the Holy Ghost in all of our lives and activities.

...and his whole soul and body are only exercised by the pure spirit of intelligence; while the effect of the Holy Ghost upon a Gentile, is to purge out the old blood, and make him actually of the seed of Abraham. That man that has none of the blood of Abraham (naturally) must have a new creation by the Holy Ghost. In such a case, there may be more of a powerful effect upon the body, and visible to the eye, than upon an Israelite, while the Israelite at first might be far before the Gentile in pure intelligence.

The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation. After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God, and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted."

When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards, then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John, in the 14th chapter, from the 12th to the 27th verses.

Note the 16, 17, 18, 21, 23 verses:
"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;

"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. * * *

"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."
Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions -- Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.

We have that described so marvelously in Section 76 of the Doctrine and Covenants. Now this, my brethren and sisters, a key for all of us to lead us to these things: "Without revelation there is no salvation." This is what we lack so much, is the Spirit of revelation, of discernment and these other gifts of the Holy Spirit.

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

This is a skill, as Brother Guy has told us many times, this getting and knowing and living by the Holy Ghost. Let us get it and keep it. This is indeed the attributes of the character of God. By having it continually we will become like Him, which I pray we may be, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
I feel very weak and inadequate at this occasion, brothers and sisters. I am very dependent on the Spirit of God. I desire an interest in your faith and prayers, for I know that it is up to the congregation, speaking collectively, how much of the Spirit of God can be manifested through the speakers, in your desiring to know and understand and be taught, strengthened, and encouraged. That is my desire in behalf of you, my dear brothers and sisters, that you indeed get strength and additional courage to go on.

I was reflecting along the same lines that Brother Jessop has just spoken, namely, this matter of discouragement. The story is often told, that the devil was told that he should be shorn of all of his tools that he might work with, and he asked that he be left with but one, and that was the tool of discouragement with which he could work with the children of men. I suppose that is probably the most powerful one that he has, working from within, which brings to mind the scripture and the injunction that is so often given us; do not weary in well-doing. I would like to speak along the vein that we, each and every one of us, have been given us a glorious gift to give us strength, to give us power; and one of its gifts is the gift of repentance; another one, the gift of faith, the gift of discernment. All of these are glorious gifts of the Holy Ghost, which has been given us by the laying on of hands by authority of the holy Priesthood. None of us ever need to be discouraged, knowing that we have these gifts available. I know it is because of our weaknesses that beset us that we become discouraged. But if we would only seek unto the Lord in the spirit of gratitude, all discouragement would be wiped away, and we would settle down in humility, acknowledging the great gifts and blessings that He has bestowed upon us, knowing that we are connected with the vine, the Priesthood of God, the Priesthood after the order of the Son of God; and the power of that Priesthood is the Holy Ghost, with all of its gifts and blessings.

So, if a dear husband or one of the brethren with whom we may be associated, brethren of the Council, may seem to neglect us, know this, brothers and sisters, that the Lord has given us this great gift, and we need never be discouraged or weary in well-doing. And after all, we are children of God, and we have been called into this great work. We have everything in the world to live for, to work for, and to die for, if necessary; and we should be willing to do so in the spirit of sacrifice, for only in this spirit can we attain under that condition which is called "knowing that our course is pleasing to God."

I know discouragement besets us in feeling that our course is not pleasing, and perhaps a guilty conscience is besetting us. This is usually the case. But power is given us, brothers and sisters, to overcome, and great promises are given to us if we are able to overcome. We are here for the specific purpose of knowing good and evil, and overcoming, as Jesus Christ overcame, as Joseph Smith overcame, and others who have followed him. We have our Priesthood fathers, and we have a living Priesthood, the oracles of God to go to, to seek counsel and advice, and obtain strength. If you heads of households bearing the holy Priesthood, brethren, will honor and magnify your calling, the Spirit and power of the Holy Ghost will operate through you in strength, to give strength to your wives and children and all those with whom you have to do in performing your labors.

It seems to me, then, dear brothers and sisters, the greatest strength that we can obtain, encouragement if you please, then, is to acknowledge our weaknesses through the gift of repentance and the gift of faith, and go on -- keep on keeping on. There is no halfway house. There is the ultimate goal of perfection. One of the grand keys that I find in this work is the fact that this Priesthood has been called upon to teach the way to perfection. I do not suppose you hear in the Church the admonition to become like God; and I do not suppose there is much incentive for it since the greatest and most complete laws of the holy Priesthood have been given up. I do not suppose there is any desire to.

So we have these great gifts and blessings offered to us, brothers and sisters, and we need only submit ourselves to legitimate authority -- the holy Priesthood as it applies to each and every one of us -- our legitimate Priesthood head, through whom the gifts of the Spirit come. We are admonished to get and keep the Spirit of God at all times, that it may be our constant companion, and this is done by knowing that our course is pleasing to God. And we will go on, then, until we obtain a fullness of that Spirit, as is spoken of in Lecture Five of the Lectures on Faith. Then we will become like God and see Him as He is. Jesus Christ, the Second Comforter, will be manifested after our calling and election has been made sure, and then we can dwell in the presence of God.

I am grateful for this order of the Priesthood that God has provided in having provided for this special dispensation. How great, my dear brothers and sisters, was that event on the night of September 26th and 27th when the Lord Jesus Christ and Joseph Smith came to John Taylor. How great that event was in this dispensation few realize, and how important to the accomplishment of the designs of God for this last dispensation; and how grateful we should be that we have come to a knowledge of it. I do not think we appreciate it enough. If we appreciated that single thing enough, alone, we would be encouraged and strengthened, because that event, had it not transpired, the failure of it would have brought this dispensation into the same condition as all of the others. But how grateful we should be to know that God has provided it in fulfillment of His own promises, that this work and Priesthood should never be thrown down or given to another people, and that we are called under this great work.

It is marvelous to see the different ways the Lord has used in bringing each and every one of us in, either through birth or through having come to a knowledge of it by various means, if we were not born in the work, shall we say. But we can see now the handiwork of God in raising up a people out of our loins, and that is how it is going forward now. Let us, therefore, be grateful for these great gifts of God and the things that He has done to perpetuate His work, to perpetuate the holy Priesthood, that we may be the beneficiaries thereof. Therefore, let us not grow weary in well-doing.

Love the truth for the truth's sake and obey it for the truth's sake, between you and your God. Encouragement -- let us just be grateful. I think that the spirit of gratitude is in essence the very spirit of a true saint. In that gratitude, he acknowledges God, submits himself to Him and His Priesthood authority, and goes forward in the perfection of his life, getting and keeping the Spirit of God, that it may become our constant companion, which I pray we may all have in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.
Brother Musser said he desired I should speak, and I pray that the Spirit of God will be with me to direct the remarks that I shall make. I feel very keenly the responsibility that rests upon one in this position to counsel the saints so the gift of faith may be answered upon our heads. I pray His Spirit to be with me.

There is something that has been on my mind that I feel applies to all of us as a people and upon each and every one of us as families among this people. My mind reverts to the great call that was made of the Lord upon the saints through Joseph in the winter of 1834. The saints of God had been driven out of Jackson County. In the worst of deprivations, they were living in another part of Missouri (and I am sure Joseph’s heart bled for them), and the call was made for five hundred men to go up and redeem Zion. As we learned later, there was a set time for the redemption of Zion, if the saints would be one, if the brethren bearing the holy Priesthood would be one. The Lord finally narrowed the call down to one hundred, and Joseph was able to find two hundred. They went forth under the injunction, the law of God, that they should go as one man under His servant Joseph, and that there should be no murmuring.

The very nature of that mission called for those men to walk and talk and travel as one man under the gift and power of God, through His servant Joseph. They were not able to do it, of course, as we read the history. There were murmurs of such a nature that Joseph was called upon to reprimand them. He had to invoke the penalties that were attached to the law that was given, and so cholera broke out. In his great feeling of mercy, he tried to stay the hand of this judgment upon them, and he, himself, was stricken. Several died as a result of their failure to meet his call.

This turned to the good of the work, however. It was not wasted. The men who were faithful and true were called up into the Quorum of Twelve of the Church, and the First Council of Seventy, and others; and they were commanded to return to Kirtland and wait upon the Lord for an endowment from on high, and to go forth and to finish the temple, the Kirtland Temple, and there they would receive their blessings. The set time was September, 1836, for the redemption of Zion, but the Temple was finished in March. The great dedication and manifestations of the Lord took place for the benefit of the people; and thereafter, it was not long until there was a great apostasy in Kirtland in 1837, the following year, after so great blessings were poured out upon the saints, and many, many were lost.

I recite these things, brothers and sisters, because I feel that this portends a great deal for us. I am not saying how far or to what extent, but I think we had better take a lesson from it. Lo, these many years the brethren have been calling upon this people to set their families in order, that they might be one, to put into practice the principles of the Holy United Order in those families, to get and keep the Spirit of God continually, so that in time the Lord would have His people that can redeem Zion. It is upon this people under the direction of this order of the Priesthood to fulfill that great work yet. Now, how many are going to be able to stand?

In calling upon men, groups of men in the days of Joseph, to abide in the Holy United Order and under bonds and covenants that could not be broken, the abiding principle involved was their being one. One after another of those orders failed. It is the only way God is going to be able to accomplish His purposes in redeeming Zion, is to get a people, sufficient number, who will be one. How do we become one? Through the Spirit of God, the power and gift of the Holy Ghost, and no other way. We have got to have it in family units, and they collectively, together, sufficient number of them, will be called forth to go back to Jackson County after the House of God is set in order. How many will be able to stand, my brothers and sisters? Great judgments have been decreed, and think not that they will not have effect upon many of us. Why? Because covenants have been broken. Homes have not been kept dedicated. The spirit of love and oneness has not been obtained. Jealousies, envyings, hates, these things God hates, dear brothers and sisters, and they will be answered upon our heads if we do not wake up and do something about it, here and now! Not a week from now, a month, or a year, or two years, or ten from now. The injunction is upon us now, brothers and sisters, and these counsels that have been given by President Johnson will not return unto God void, believe me. There is little time left. Believe me when I tell you this. It has come from the mouth of President Johnson and all of our fathers in the Priesthood, and the time is getting shorter and shorter. What we are going to have to suffer to bring us to this point, I do not know; but I know it is coming, and soon.
Now, I do not want my family to come to these conditions out of fear of judgments. I would to God that they, and all of us, dear brothers and sisters, would do these things out of sheer love, out of sheer love of principle, sheer love of the truth, and not out of any fear of the consequences of our failures. That is the only acceptable spirit in which God will receive these offerings and sacrifices. The spirit of sacrifice must be obtained first and foremost, or we are not going to be approved of God. We must sacrifice our personal feelings, our selfishness, our pride. I feel like reading the words of Joseph to the Twelve, for I think they pertain to us.

TPJS  Page 155
Beware of Pride

Ever keep in exercise the principle of mercy, and be ready to forgive our brother on the first intimations of repentance, and asking forgiveness; and should we even forgive our brother, or even our enemy, before he repent or ask forgiveness, our heavenly Father would be equally as merciful unto us.

Again, let the Twelve and all Saints be willing to confess all their sins, and not keep back a part;

How we cling onto our ways, our feelings, dear brothers and sisters. How we keep back a part.

...and let the Twelve be humble, and not be exalted, and beware of pride, and not seek to excel one above another, but act for each other's good, and pray for one another, and honor our brother or make honorable mention of his name, and not backbite and devour our brother.

These things can be obtained in our families. They must be obtained, dear brothers and sisters. For one individual instruction, here it is:

Why will not man learn wisdom by precept at this late age of the world, when we have such a cloud of witnesses and examples before us, and not be obliged to learn by sad experience everything we know. Must the new ones that are chosen to fill the places of those that are fallen, of the quorum of the Twelve, begin to exalt themselves, until they exalt themselves so high that they will soon tumble over and have a great fall, and go wallowing through the mud and mire and darkness, Judas-like, to the buffetings of Satan, as several of the quorum have done, or will they learn wisdom and be wise? O God! give them wisdom, and keep them humble, I pray.
When the Twelve or any other witnesses stand before the congregations of the earth, and they preach in the power and demonstration of the Spirit of God, and the people are astonished and confounded at the doctrine, and say, "That man has preached a powerful discourse, a great sermon," then let that man or those men take care that they do not ascribe the glory unto themselves, but be careful that they are humble, and ascribe the praise and glory to God and the Lamb; for it is by the power of the Holy Priesthood and the Holy Ghost that they have power thus to speak. What art thou, O man, but dust? And from whom receivest thou thy power and blessings, but from God?

Then, O ye Twelve! notice this Key, and be wise for Christ's sake, and your own soul's sake. Ye are not sent out to be taught, but to teach. Let every word be seasoned with grace. Be vigilant; be sober. It is a day of warning, and not of many words. Act honestly before God and man. Beware of Gentile sophistry; such as bowing and scraping unto men in whom you have no confidence. Be honest, open, and frank in all your intercourse with mankind.

O ye Twelve! and all Saints! profit by this important Key -- that in all your trials, troubles, temptations, afflictions, bonds, imprisonments and death, see to it, that you do not betray heaven; that you do not betray Jesus Christ; that you do not betray the brethren; that you do not betray the revelations of God, whether in Bible, Book of Mormon, or Doctrine and Covenants, or any other that ever was or ever will be given and revealed unto man in this world or that which is to come. Yea, in all your kicking and flounderings, see to it that you do not this thing, lest innocent blood be found upon your skirts, and you go down to hell. All other sins are not to be compared to sinning against the Holy Ghost, and proving a traitor to the brethren.

I will give you one of the Keys of the mysteries of the Kingdom. It is an eternal principle, that has existed with God from all eternity: That man who rises up to condemn others, finding fault with the Church, saying that they are out of the way, while he himself is righteous, then know assuredly, that that man is in the high road to apostasy; and if he does not repent, will apostatize, as God lives. The principle is as correct as the one that Jesus put forth in saying that he who seeketh a sign is an adulterous person; and that principle is eternal, undeviating, and firm as the pillars of heaven; for whenever you see a man seeking after a sign, you may set it down that he is an adulterous man.

Then the Prophet gives some wonderful instructions on the Priesthood. So, Priesthood is paramount, my brothers and sisters. Honor the Priesthood which presides over you in your families. Magnify it, dear brethren, you bearers of the holy Priesthood, and render obedience to the counsels of God that are given us, as unto God. Let us be humble. Let us submit ourselves to be led by the Spirit of God in all things. Let us rally round our President, and help him to do the tremendous work that he has to do. Let us respond by the gift and power of God through faith and repentance, and come up and receive the blessings which God has prepared for the faithful, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:476  October 17, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
October 17, 1971
Men Control Families Through Priesthood; Become Perfect

Again, I ask for an interest in your faith and prayers, dear brothers and sisters, that the Spirit of God will come down upon us, that we may have a time of rejoicing together as we hear the things of the Lord. I am grateful, above all other things, for a knowledge of the truth. This truth includes a great variety of things, of course -- the grand truth that our Father Michael lives, that Jesus is the Christ, and that Joseph is the great Witness and Testator, acting in the office of the Holy Ghost. I am grateful for our fathers in the Priesthood, and particularly for the great work and labors of John Taylor, who was an instrument in the hands of the Lord Jesus Christ and the Prophet in setting up this special dispensation of which we are beneficiaries.

We are a handful of people, but we have seen fulfillment of the prophecies of John Taylor that were uttered at that eight hour meeting on the 27th of September, 1886, when he said that he doubted that ten percent of those who thought they held the Priesthood in the time of the seventh President would hold it. We have seen a great apostasy, and the Lord has set His hand to fulfill His promises. I testify again to you that John Taylor did receive that great and glorious visit by which the holy Apostleship was perpetuated that has come down to us today, and that Leroy S. Johnson now holds those same keys in behalf of this great work that we are engaged in. I am grateful for Brother Johnson, for his leadership, and I desire to draw nearer and nearer to him, that I may receive light and the gifts of the Spirit through the channels of the holy Priesthood.

Dear brethren, again I call upon you to be mindful of what you hold, you heads of families. You cannot direct and control them without the benefit of the Priesthood and the gift of the Holy Ghost, which is its power; to magnify this Priesthood by setting our families in order, that we can be used, the Lord willing. I do not know what it is going to take, but I have a very foreboding feeling, if you want to call it that, that something is in the offing to shake us up. I think we are taking things too much for granted, brethren and sisters, which is the same thing as saying what the Lord told Joseph Smith in 1832. We are taking too lightly the things of God. We are not taking seriously the responsibilities. We are not acting upon the knowledge and the light that we have been given, and God knows we have been given more than any other people in this dispensation.

So, I call upon myself and all of you to repent, to receive these things very seriously which are given us from Sunday to Sunday. You brethren, the instruction you receive from the Priesthood, take them very, very seriously. It is a matter of life and death, nothing short of it. There have been placed in our charge choice spirits who have been reserved to come in this time. I wonder if we realize this; and are we living up to the responsibilities that devolve upon us by virtue of the Priesthood and our Priesthood callings?

Do we realize, dear brethren and sisters, that in abiding the law of Celestial and Plural Marriage, we abide a higher law, and that this is only for those who come under the law of the Priesthood. It is not for the world. Only those who come under the law of the Gospel and come to the Priesthood of God and submit themselves to be led thereby, and obey every law and ordinance of the Gospel that has been revealed by the Lord Jesus Christ, are subjects or candidates for this holy law. The same can be said of the Holy United Order, which is the law by which we abide Celestial Marriage. This is not for everyone. So we are called out. How grateful we should be by whatever means the Lord used to bring us to this place, to this order of the Priesthood. We are called now to abide these laws, to keep them perfect, to become perfect as God is perfect in His sphere, to become like Him.

Let us seek to get and keep the Spirit of God at all times, that we may lay... hold upon the higher blessings of the Priesthood which are held out for us as we may become worthy. I pray that we may abide this holy law, dear brothers and sisters, and labor with our might, mind, and strength to set aside, to nullify the agreement with death and hell, which was entered into some eighty years ago. We have a great work and mission. Let us treat it solemnly as a matter of life and death, and to go forward.

I love the words of the Prophet Joseph Smith in Section 128, as he rejoiced in the hand of God with him in sending His messengers for the benefit of the saints of God, who were then in great travail.

Now, I humbly pray, dear brothers and sisters, that we will be ready for whatever may be in the offing. Be prepared. The great work that Brother Johnson has is to prepare a people, and we all together should support and strengthen his hand with all of our faith. The fact that we do not have the blessings that we should have is a mark of a lack of our faith; and according to our faith, so shall it be. I promise you this, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:479  November 7, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
November 7, 1971
Nature of the Holy Spirit; Lecture Five;
We Must Be Adopted Into the Kingdom of Heaven;
The Comforter

It is good to be with you, my dear brothers and sisters, and I call again for an interest in your faith and prayers, that I may be an instrument for good in the hands of the Lord in edifying and instructing all of us. I am grateful for the blessings of God upon this people. I am grateful for this place in which the saints can meet, and I give glory to God. I am grateful for the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the power of the holy Priesthood, the order of the holy Priesthood which administers it in the lives of this people. I am grateful to know, as I know I live, that this is the true order of God, and His Priesthood, and authority, and power. This faith has been delivered to the saints. The word of God has been delivered to us, lo these many years, brothers and sisters, and I wonder how much longer the Lord is going to do as He said in the 1886 Revelation. He has been patient with us, and He desires this people to do all things of their own free will and choice, to use their agency to abide in His holy law, that great and holy law of Celestial Marriage, the Family Order of Heaven; and if we would, the Holy United Order, which is the foundation of the first.

The Lord keeps on repeating and repeating to us that we are not going to acquire that station that was spoken of in this reading by President Timpson until we go and walk and labor with one heart and one mind; and that must start in the family. The power of the Holy Ghost, the gift and power of the holy Priesthood, if you please, administered through an Elder of the Lord Jesus Christ, is the only way it is going to be done.

Do we understand the nature of the Holy Spirit, what it is, and who acted in its office as the Witness and Testator of the Lord Jesus Christ, and our Father Michael? This "gigantic Apostle" of the Lord Jesus Christ, Joseph Smith, has vouchsafed these things to us in his instructions in the Lectures on Faith. I would like to remind us again about this thing, this unifying power, the only means by which we can be one in our families, be one as a people, of one heart and one mind as a people; preparing, I hope and pray, to be endowed with power from on high.

I want to again describe in the words of Joseph, the Godhead -- Father Michael, Jesus Christ our Lord, His Only Begotten, our King our Savior, and the Holy Spirit.

Lecture Five

2. ...And he being the Only Begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth, and having overcome,

He set the example. He was the great Prototype. He overcame against greater contradictions and suffered greater sufferings than we are capable of suffering. He had greater capacity, of course, but even in this, He overcame. That is what we are here for, to overcome the perplexities, the sins, the inclinations of the flesh, where satan was given dominion in the beginning over all things earthly. We were sent here to overcome him, and death, and hell.

2. ...having overcome, received a fullness of the glory of the Father, possessing the same mind with the Father, which mind is the Holy Spirit,

Just that simple. The Holy Spirit is the mind of the Father and the Son, issuing forth from Them, through the power of the holy Priesthood delegated to men, Their chosen servants. The power of that Priesthood is the Holy Spirit. It is God with us.

2. ...that bears record of the Father and the Son, and these three are one; or, in other words, these three constitute the great, matchless, governing and supreme power over all things; by whom all things were created and made that were created and made, and these three constitute the Godhead, and are one; the Father and the Son possessing the same mind, the same wisdom, glory, power, and fullness -- filling all in all; the Son being filled with the fullness of the mind, glory, and power; or, in other words, the spirit, glory, and power, of the Father, possessing all knowledge and glory, and the same kingdom, sitting at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man,

Having atoned for our sins and overcome the Fall, in the first instance, both working to our eternal exaltation and salvation, and He bought us with a price, and He now sits:

2. ...at the right hand of power, in the express image and likeness of the Father, mediator for man, being filled with the fullness of the mind of the Father; or, in other words, the Spirit of the Father, which Spirit is shed forth upon all who believe on his name and keep his commandments; and all those who keep his commandments shall grow up from grace to grace, It is not expected in a moment, overnight, but grace for grace.

2. ...and become heirs of the heavenly kingdom, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ; possessing the same mind,

We must have the same mind as the Father and the Son, through the Holy Spirit, which is the Spirit of God, which issues forth from Them, from the Father.

2. ...possessing the same mind, being transformed into the same image or likeness, even the express image of him who fills all in all;

How?

2. ...being filled with the fullness of his glory, and become one in him, even as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit are one.

Now again He repeats how we do this, how we may become joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

3. From the foregoing account of the Godhead, which is given in his revelations, the saints have a sure foundation laid for the exercise of faith unto life and salvation, through the atonement and mediation of Jesus Christ;

How grateful we should be.

3. ...by whose blood they have a forgiveness of sins, and also a sure reward laid up for them in heaven, even that of partaking of the fullness of the Father and the Son through the Spirit.

Which the Priesthood of God having joined upon us week after week, month after month, year after year, to get and keep, that we might be one.

3. ...As the Son partakes of the fullness of the Father through the Spirit, so the saints are, by the same Spirit, This mind of the Father and the Son.

3. ...to be partakers of the same fullness, to enjoy the same glory; for as the Father and the Son are one, so, in like manner, the saints are to be one in them.

Let me remind you what John Taylor has told us about that. We must be adopted in as an heir of Jesus Christ. He was the only Heir. We must be adopted. He paid for it, and we must be adopted; and we can only do that by obedience to all the laws and commandments, and become one with Him, through the Spirit.

3. ...Through the love of the Father, the mediation of Jesus Christ, and the gift of the Holy Spirit, they are to be heirs of God, and joint heirs with Jesus Christ.

The Lord has told us that He would not leave us comfortless, walking through this lone and dreary world, in which we are pilgrims. He gave us this First Comforter in the Holy Ghost, bestowed upon us by authority by the laying on of hands; sealing us in family units, family organizations, also by the power of the holy Priesthood. Then He has told us through the words of Joseph again, about the other Comforter, which involves our making our calling and election sure, which cannot be done except through the means that I have just read to you in the Lecture. The Second Comforter -- he lays it out very simply here again.
The other Comforter spoken of is a subject of great interest, and perhaps understood by few of this generation. After a person has faith in Christ, repents of his sins, and is baptized for the remission of his sins and receives the Holy Ghost, (by the laying on of hands), which is the first Comforter, then let him continue to humble himself before God, hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and living by every word of God,

Let me add, the word of God comes through the holy Priesthood. In our diligence, walking in obedience, standing close to the brethren, to President Johnson, if you please, supporting him, upholding him, honoring him, blessing him, and obeying him;

...and the Lord will soon say unto him, Son, thou shalt be exalted.

When the Lord has thoroughly proved him, and finds that the man is determined to serve Him at all hazards,

Have we? Are we determined to serve Him at all hazards?

...then the man will find his calling and his election made sure, then it will be his privilege to receive the other Comforter, which the Lord hath promised the Saints, as is recorded in the testimony of St. John, in the 14th chapter, from the 12th to the 27th verses.

Note the 16, 17, 18, 21, 23 verses:
"16. And I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you forever;
"17. Even the Spirit of Truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him; but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.

This is within our reach, this group of people, who are supposed to be the saints of God, the best people on the face of the earth; but, as President Barlow always had to add, not good enough, not advanced far enough for these things. But these things must be held out to us. That is why we are here.

"18. I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you. * * *
"21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.
"23. If a man love me, he will keep my word:

Oh, if we could only learn that one lesson and apply it to our Priesthood head here, families and as a people; the brethren to the Priesthood as they love and serve God.

"23. "...and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

Now what is this other Comforter? It is no more nor less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself; and this is the sum and substance of the whole matter; that when any man obtains this last Comforter, he will have the personage of Jesus Christ to attend him, or appear unto him from time to time, and even He will manifest the Father unto him, and they will take up their abode with him, and the visions of the heavens will be opened unto him, and the Lord will teach him face to face, and he may have a perfect knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of God; and this is the state and place the ancient Saints arrived at when they had such glorious visions -- Isaiah, Ezekiel, John upon the Isle of Patmos, St. Paul in the three heavens, and all the Saints who held communion with the general assembly and Church of the Firstborn.

How can we do this? By the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of revelation, which must abide in each and every one of us -- men, women and children. And children can be brought up to such a perfect state that they can have the revelations of heaven, too.

The Spirit of Revelation

The Spirit of Revelation is in connection with these blessings. A person may profit by noticing the first intimation of the spirit of revelation; for instance, when you feel pure intelligence flowing into you, it may give you sudden strokes of ideas, so that by noticing it, you may find it fulfilled the same day or soon; (i.e.,) those things that were presented unto your minds by the Spirit of God, will come to pass; and thus by learning the Spirit of God and understanding it, you may grow into the principle of revelation, until you become perfect in Christ Jesus.

Brothers and sisters, if we could only see, and understand, and desire, with all our heart, might, mind, and strength, the great power of oneness, obtained through faith on the Lord Jesus Christ, through obedience to all of His commandments; coming to know, by revelation from heaven, that our course is pleasing to God, being one with His servants, being one in families with their head -- the Lord God would endow us with power from on high in His holy temples. Then He would have a people, the great camp of Zion, which is yet to be, to go back and redeem Zion with power, when not only His angels, but His presence also should go before them; when those people would be so righteous that the limbs of the trees would clap together in the presence of perfect righteousness, and none could withstand them.

We would not rest, my brothers and sisters, if we could see the vision of this, the heavenly vision of this power of oneness. So let us not rest. Let us be diligent and labor with all our heart, might, mind, and strength. Stand in your homes. "To your tents, O Israel!" -- a perfect family of oneness. We little know the tribulations and trials that are to be upon us, and that are upon us as it were now. The only safety is going to be in this power of oneness, in our homes, against the fiery darts of the adversary, who is laboring and drilling and burrowing from within; and we must get him out, and stop calling upon him to aid us, which is so often done by so many; but call upon God and His mind, His Holy Spirit, to be with us always, and be one, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:486  November 21, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
November 21, 1971
Family Oneness

I will be brief, my dear brothers and sisters, and give you a very choice thing from Lorenzo Snow, Journal of Discourses, volume 4.

JD 4:155  Lorenzo Snow  January 4, 1857  SLC

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife may be pure element, suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.

God bless you, amen.

RTJ 2:487  December 5, 1971  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
December 5, 1971
We Must Raise a Righteous Generation in Light and Truth; Chastisement for Lack of Progress

The time is far spent, brothers and sisters, and the great deal of restlessness that I see, with the rather bad headache I have got, I wondered if we shouldn't dismiss. But I think I have something to say, the Lord helping me.

The message that President Johnson delivered to this people here three weeks ago came up to us in Salt Lake as a rather shocking thing. I am sure most of the brethren realize this anyway, but it was told us by the Prophet of God. I do not know whether we realize it, brothers and sisters, but it is one of the truths of heaven that if we are not going forward, progressing, then we are retrogressing; and I do not think we can take from what President Johnson said, that we have been standing still. There is no such thing in the economy of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. If we are not progressing, gaining more light and truth and abiding it, going on unto perfection, then we are going backward. It is just that plain and simple. And that is a terrible indictment upon this people as a people.

I cannot get it off my mind. We have been given more light and truth than any people have ever been given, in this dispensation at least, if not all of the others. And we have, thank God, the promise that this work and Priesthood shall never be taken from the earth again, and hopefully not given to another people. But I hear ringing in my ears the rousing statement made by the Prophet Joseph as he stood on the stand in the presence of the Nauvoo Legion, and of all of the saints gathered together there, "Will you stand by me to the end?" And they rose as with one voice and said, "Yes." He said, "It is well. If you had not, I would have gone out west and raised up another people." And that is what the Lord is having to do.

President Barlow made the statement that we are going to have to raise up a people out of our loins. In the light of what President Johnson said, what are we doing with our children? We should have a righteous generation, the most righteous in this dispensation, ready to receive the Lord Jesus Christ in His glorious coming, ready to be the nucleus of the great Millennium, as has been promised, that a people would come out of the heart's core of the Latter-day Saints to become the nucleus of a righteous generation in the Millennium.

Light and truth is what we need. It is the life blood of the holy Priesthood, the power of the Priesthood, along with faith, faith or power. The Holy Ghost is light and truth, which is the power of the Priesthood and the light that God has spoken of to us, by which we should raise up our children. I would like to read from the Doctrine and Covenants, what the Lord had to say about it. I am sure we are all familiar with what He said in Section 93. After having taught very beautifully what constitutes our getting a fullness and how we can obtain it, and to know who and what we worship and how to worship, the Lord says these things:

D. & C. 93

23.  Ye were also in the beginning with the Father; that which is Spirit, even the Spirit of truth;

24.  And truth is knowledge of things as they are, and as they were, and as they are to come;

25.  And whatsoever is more or less than this is the spirit of that wicked one who was a liar from the beginning.

So we must be giving in to that wicked one, who is a liar from the beginning, if we are not progressing.

26.  The Spirit of truth is of God. I am the Spirit of truth,

This is Jesus Christ speaking.

26.  ...and John bore record of me, saying: He received a fulness of truth, yea, even of all truth;

27.  And no man receiveth a fulness unless he keepeth his commandments.

We must not, then, be keeping the commandments, brothers and sisters, if we are not filled with light and truth.

28.  He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things.

There is the way.
28. He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things.
We would have had the education Brother Holm has spoken of, educated by the Holy Ghost through the written and the spoken word of God through the Prophets.

29. Man was also in the beginning with God. Intelligence, or the light of truth, was not created or made, neither indeed can be.
30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.
In other words, we have treated lightly these plain truths, and are still under condemnation. What about man?

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, Or the body,
33. ...inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;
34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy;
35. The elements are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.

Are our bodies filled with light and truth, the Holy Ghost? Do we have that great gift and power with us at all times? Unless we do, we cannot progress, we cannot attain unto these things. And then this grand truth:

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth. Knowledge of things as they are, as they were, and as they are to be.
37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.
38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.
39. And that wicked one
Mark this, brethren and sisters:
39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of
Why are we not raising up a righteous generation? Because we have not got rid of the traditions of the fathers, and we have become disobedient because of the wicked one who takes away light and truth. And then this terrible thing that was spoken of by the Lord to His servants, the Presidency:

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

What a wonderful foundation to lay, to teach them this great lesson, that they were to bring up their children in light and truth, to raise up a righteous generation.

42. You have not taught your children light and truth, according to the commandments; and that wicked one hath power, as yet, over you, and this is the cause of your affliction.

This to Frederick G. Williams.

43. And now a commandment I give unto you -- if you will be delivered you shall set in order your own house, for there are many things that are not right in your house.

And Sidney Rigdon was given the same indictment, "First set in order thy house," and Joseph, even.

45. Verily, I say unto my servant Joseph Smith, Jun., or in other words, I will call you friends, for you are my friends, and ye shall have an inheritance with me --

46. I called you servants for the world's sake, and ye are their servants for my sake --

47. And now, verily I say unto Joseph Smith, Jun. -- You have not kept the commandments, and must needs stand rebuked before the Lord;

48. Your family must needs repent and forsake some things, and give more earnest heed unto your sayings, or be removed out of their place.

Have you thought that that might be possible with you and yours?

49. What I say unto one I say unto all; pray always lest that wicked one have power in you, and remove you out of your place.

Brothers and sisters, this wicked one, who has power through false and delusive spirits that are his servants and imps, Lucifer's, these spirits have power over us. Having been given the gift of the Holy Ghost, having left neutral ground, having accepted the fullness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ and covenanted to obey the holy Priesthood, we are, from that point on, either led by the Spirit of God, by which we obtain the gift by the laying on of hands, or by that wicked one, who has power over us, dear brothers and sisters. This is why traditions of men still predominate. We are still carrying two yokes, the yoke of the devil and the yoke of Christ, saying, "Good Lord," and, "Good devil." That is what we are doing.

So when are we going to wake up? How much is it going to take from President Johnson and our leaders in the Priesthood? How much is it going to take to wake us up? Or are we going to have to learn by that which we suffer? I pray God that we will wake up and that we will not have to learn by sad experience, but learn the word and the will of God, and do it with all our might, mind, and strength. The Prophet Joseph himself said, "Have you asked yourself if you are like God?" He said, "I have, and I know that I need to repent." So let us all repent, dear brothers and sisters. Let us look inward and see what is making us tick or failing to make us tick. How are we letting in these evil spirits that take possession because of some imagined injury?

I have brought along here a statement, an editorial by Willard Richards, and I do not know whether to take time to read it to you or not. How many of you have read "False and Delusive Spirits" that has appeared in "Truth"? Well, go to volume 16 of the Truth Magazine, page 106 and read it, and profit thereby; which tells us what the Spirit of God is, a Spirit of peace and love and joy; and how we let in these foul spirits which take possession. These are the things that beset us, brothers and sisters, and it is simply, then, a matter of our getting and keeping, at all times, the Spirit of God, so that it will become with us a constant companion, a constant guide, a Spirit of revelation, a Spirit of love, the Spirit of truth, the Spirit of light; which I pray we may obtain in fullness, in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:493  December 19, 1971  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
December 19, 1971
This People Has Not Advanced Any Further Than Thirty Years Ago; Why We Are Under Condemnation; Family Oneness
It is good to be together again, dear brothers and sisters, and enjoy the associations of my brethren and of you, my dear friends, in this common cause in which we are engaged; and I pray for the Spirit of God to direct my remarks here today. I have enjoyed the admonitions we have received here from the other brethren, and I hope we will take heart, take encouragement in the fact that we enjoy the greatest blessings that God has bestowed upon man, the greatest gifts -- the holy Priesthood, and the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, by which the He has brought us together as a people; and if we will, we can become the nucleus of the righteous Millennium, as has been prophesied. If not, the Lord will get another people.

There is still ringing in my ears the statement of President Johnson, that this people had advanced no further than they were thirty years ago. And there is still ringing in my ears the statement of John Y. Barlow, which I heard him make on several occasions, speaking of the Priesthood. He said, "We are going to have to raise up a people out of our own loins," because it is very clear that there are none coming out of the Church, to speak of, a small dribble. And so we are in that position right now, brothers and sisters, of being under the necessity of raising up a righteous generation to fulfill the requirements that God has laid upon us, and especially has He laid it upon this order of the Priesthood, under President Johnson, and those who have gone before. So it gets right back again to our families, dear brethren. Why are we no further now than we were thirty years ago? I felt impressed to go into this matter in Colorado City a couple of weeks ago, and feel the same way here now.

We have been given the gift of the Holy Ghost after having repented through faith, been baptized and received the great gift by the laying on of hands. This is the wonderful thing by which God operates. The Holy Spirit issues forth from Him, our Father, to us and His creation here. And the Lord said:

D.& C. 93

29. Man was also in the beginning with God. Intelligence, or the light of truth, was not created or made, neither indeed can be.

Intelligence is this Holy Spirit.

30. All truth is independent in that sphere in which God has placed it, to act for itself, as all intelligence also; otherwise there is no existence.

31. Behold, here is the agency of man, and here is the condemnation of man; because that which was from the beginning is plainly manifest unto them, and they receive not the light.

Or as has been mentioned so many times, having received it, it has been treated lightly, and here is the condemnation.

32. And every man whose spirit receiveth not the light is under condemnation.

33. For man is spirit. The elements are eternal, and spirit and element, inseparably connected, receive a fulness of joy;

These two things.

34. And when separated, man cannot receive a fulness of joy.

35. The elements

These bodies,

35. ...are the tabernacle of God; yea, man is the tabernacle of God, even temples; and whatsoever temple is defiled, God shall destroy that temple.

36. The glory of God is intelligence, or, in other words, light and truth.

37. Light and truth forsake that evil one.

38. Every spirit of man was innocent in the beginning; and God having redeemed man from the fall, men became again, in their infant state, innocent before God.

Now, here is what I am coming to:

39. And that wicked one cometh and taketh away light and truth, through disobedience, from the children of men, and because of the tradition of their fathers.

40. But I have commanded you to bring up your children in light and truth.

Dear brothers and sisters, are we going to raise up that righteous generation or are we not? And because of this we are still carrying two yokes -- the yoke of Christ and the yoke of the devil. "A little God and a little devil," is what we are asking for, and we are still existing under these condemnations. So we are enjoining continually to get the Spirit of God and keep it. The power of the Spirit of God is the power of the Priesthood, brethren, in the conduct, and direction, and the government of our families. I would like to read again Brother Lorenzo Snow.

JD 4:155 Lorenzo Snow January 4, 1857 SLC

The men who are sitting here this day ought to be, when in the presence of their families, filled with the Holy Ghost, to administer the word of life to them as it is administered in this stand from sabbath to sabbath. When they kneel down in the presence of their wives and children they ought to be inspired by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, that the husband may be such a man as a good wife will honor, and that the gift and power of God may be upon them continually. They ought to be one in their families,

One in their families! "If ye are not one, ye are not Mine," says the Lord. Do you want your families to be of the Lord, the Family Order of Heaven? Then this is the way.

They ought to be one in their families, that the Holy Ghost might descend upon them, and they ought to live so that the wife through prayer may become sanctified, that she may see the necessity of sanctifying herself in the presence of her husband, and in the presence of her children, that they may be one together, in order that the man and the wife

Or wives,

...may be pure element, suitable to occupy a place in the establishment and formation of the kingdom of God, that they may breathe a pure spirit and impart pure instruction to their children, and their children's children.

So we have got to get rid of the traditions of our fathers and of the world, and get the yoke of the devil off completely, once and for all, and settle down to living as God's children. These spirits are imparted, or placed in our care, dear brothers and sisters, as a charge. Now we are going to have to account for them. And how important is this Family Order of Heaven? It is everything. That is what is involved in Celestial Marriage. That is why it is the greatest and highest law that God has given to man, because He is sending forth spirits to be raised up in light and truth under the gift and power of the Holy Ghost continually. One of the grandest pictures I have ever read, painted, of the great importance of the family order, as penned by the author of the Truth Magazine. I want to read it to you. It is in volume 13 page 309.

Truth 13:309

The foundation of man's glory in eternity is laid in time. His heavenly kingdom must be commenced on earth. That kingdom and the glory thereof are comprehended in his family. Therein is the beginning of his dominion as a king and a priest unto God.
In the endowment, one is blessed to become a king and a priest unto God, and this in connection with his sealing in the holy bond of matrimony.

If the foundation is laid aright, who can tell the extent and magnificence of the superstructure? With wives sealed to him for time and eternity, by the most holy authority of that Priesthood which is "without beginning of days or end of life", with children who, by virtue of his marriage blessings, are legitimate heirs to that Priesthood in its fulness, nothing but unfaithfulness to his sacred covenants can stop the everlasting multiplicity of his generations and increase of his government, and thrones, principalities, and crowns of immortality are within his reach, raising him to the majesty and fellowship of the Gods.

That is what we are engaged in, dear brothers and sisters. Why have we treated it so lightly? You answer, and I will try to answer, and then let us to do something about it, here and now, from this day forward, I pray in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

Sandy, Utah
January 16, 1972
A Virtuous Person Is an Obedient Person;
Miracles and Visions Do Not Guarantee Faithfulness

After hearing this wonderful message, I hardly feel like I have anything to add. So many things, brothers and sisters, have been repeated. As Brother Musser has had to repeat again of these things, I sometimes wonder if you do not get tired; but it is your own fault because not much is being done about it. I thought perhaps if I were called on, that I would call on Brigham Young to speak to you. Maybe that will be acceptable.

What is virtue? We consider ourselves a virtuous people, I suppose; but Brigham Young, I think, simplifies this problem for us in these words, which I will read to you.

Treasure up in your hearts that which tends to virtue. You say, "I want an explanation upon virtue." I wish I could so give it to you, that you could understand it when I am done talking; I will do my best to do so.
the will of God, keep His commandments and do His will, and you will be a virtuous person.

That is simple isn't it? But who does it?

Can you understand that? If you can know the will of God and do it, you will be a virtuous person. You say, "Perhaps I should be led to do that which is contrary to my former traditions, and to do that which is really wrong." No matter anything about that; if you can know the will of God and do it, you will be a virtuous person, and will receive knowledge upon knowledge, and wisdom upon wisdom, and you will increase in understanding, in faith, and in the light of eternity, and know how to discriminate between the right and the wrong. I know the people say that that they do not understand, that they do not know what the Lord requires of them.

We hear this all the time.

I say keep the commandments of the Lord. We were taught that the commandments of the Lord were this, that, and the other, in our former lives, but when we can know and understand, by the revelations of Jesus Christ, the will of our Father in heaven and do His will, He will make us pure and holy, and fit for the society of angels and Himself. Will we not be virtuous then? yes, in the highest sense. Many say, "I don't know the will of the Lord, I wish I did. I do really wish I knew what the Lord requires of me, but I do not know, and do not know how to find out."

We have had the will of the Lord delivered to us, year in and year out, month in and month out, week in and week out; and we have the written commandments; and bless your souls, you have the gift of the Holy Ghost, which is the Spirit of revelation, in consonance with your remaining true, and faithful, and loyal to the Prophet of God who leads us. But he goes on to say:

I will now refer you to the scripture where it reads that we shall be judged according to the deeds done in the body. If I do not know the will of my Father, and what He requires of me in a certain transaction, if I ask Him to give me wisdom concerning any requirement in life, or in regard to my own course, or that of my friends, my family, my children, or those that I preside over, and get no answer from Him, and then do the very best that my judgment will teach me, He is bound to own and honor that transaction,

Have you ever heard that before?
...and He will do so to all intents and purposes. I have often reflected, with regard to people knowing the mind and will of the Lord by revelation. My thoughts turn within me in a moment, in my reflections upon what has hitherto been, and that which actually now comes before me, concerning the Saints in the last days and in the former days. For instance, Jesus, when upon the earth, called twelve men to be witnesses that he was the Christ.

Brother Brigham is going to give us some wonderful keys here, and I think it is something we should be very much aware of, for what is about to come upon the world and the people -- the revelations of satan; and these are things that we should avoid.

For instance, Jesus, when upon the earth, called twelve men to be witnesses that he was the Christ. Then, there were a great many others who believed that fact, but he showed to those twelve men things that he showed to none else; he convinced them in a degree that he convinced no other person, that is, in some instances.

My mind then reflects, in a moment, did Jesus have the power to make his disciples believe that he was the Son of God by raising the dead, by laying hands on the sick, by walking on water, by multiplying the particles of bread and fish set before the multitude, or by any other miracle? Did he convince, and prove to twelve men that he was the Christ, by the miracles he performed? He did not. He did not convince them by one or all of the acts, which were called miracles, that he performed upon the earth. I know that many think that they are a great proof, that it is astonishing that people will not believe, when they read over the history and miracles performed in the days of Jesus and his Apostles. Let me tell you that if his Apostles were here in this our day, travelling through the country, raising the dead, laying hands on the sick, casting out devils, walking upon the water, or doing whatever they might be able to perform, it would all be no proof to the people that they were sent of God.

And yet, people are constrained to fall down and worship such men.

I know that some of you think this is strange, and if so, I have strange views upon these subjects. It is no proof to me, it is no proof to any person else, and often serves to throw persons, relying upon it, into temptation, and to cast them still further into darkness. "Have you any proof of this?" Yes, right here in our midst. Men who have professedly seen the most, known and understood the most, in this Church, and who have testified in the presence of large congregations, in the name of Israel's God, that they have seen Jesus, &c., have been the very men who have left this kingdom, before others who had to live by faith. I have a witness right before me, and I am fearful every time that a man or woman comes to me and relates great visions, saying, "I have had a vision, an angel came and told me thus and so; the visions of eternity were opened, and I saw thus and so; I saw my destiny; I saw what the brethren would do with me; I foresaw this and that. Look out for that man or woman going to the devil.

In the first place, they had no business telling about seeing Jesus, if they did; for satan is able to give revelations, and never forget it, brothers and sisters. And they are being given all around us by various incendiary peoples, through them.

I ask, is there a reason for men and women being exposed more constantly and more powerfully, to the power of the enemy, by having visions than by not having them? There is and it is simply this -- God never bestows upon His people, or upon an individual, superior blessings without a severe trial to prove them, to prove that individual, or that people, to see whether they will keep their covenants with Him, and keep in remembrance what He has shown them.

Therefore, the Lord blesses through the proper channels, and by the gift and power of the Holy Ghost, men with any worthiness, because they have been tried and proven first. And yet there are men abroad who come about and deliver their revelations and their visions, and so forth, who have never been tried or proven, and, of course, do not have the Priesthood in the first place.

Sidney Rigdon sat with Joseph Smith who saw the vision that we have recorded in Section 76. He finally wound up saying that he had suffered more than Jesus Christ. He had suffered a great deal, but what was the trouble with Brother Rigdon, finally cursing God, and leaving Joseph? The trouble with him was that he was an aspiring man, and he was not following the order of Priesthood; and he did not have the order of Priesthood that others had, in spite of his having seen a vision of the Savior and other things - - the Celestial, Terrestrial, and Telestial worlds.
Oliver Cowdery, given the holy Priesthood, the Apostleship, with Joseph, by Peter, James, and John, sat with Joseph in the temple in Kirtland when the heads of other dispensations came and he saw a vision of Jesus Christ on the breastwork of the temple; denied and accused Joseph Smith, and lo, all kinds of other examples that we could give.

Then the greater the vision, the greater the display of the power of the enemy. And when such individuals are off their guard they are left to themselves, as Jesus was. For this express purpose the Father withdrew His spirit from his Son, at the time he was to be crucified. Jesus had been with his Father, talked with Him, dwelt in His bosom, and knew all about heaven, about making the earth, about the transgression of man, and what would redeem the people, and that he was the character who was to redeem the sons of earth, and the earth itself from all sin that had come upon it. The light, knowledge, power, and glory with which he was clothed were far above, or exceeded that of all others who had been upon the earth after the fall, consequently at the very moment, at the hour when the crisis came for him to offer up his life, the Father withdrew Himself, withdrew His Spirit, and cast a vail over him. That is what made him sweat blood.

He had to do it by Himself -- this great sacrifice, atonement, and suffering.

If he had had the power of God upon him, he would not have sweat blood; but all was withdrawn from him, and a veil was cast over him, and he then plead with the Father not to forsake him. "No," says the Father, "you must have your trials, as well as others."

So when individuals are blessed with visions, revelations, and great manifestations, look out, then the devil is nigh you, and you will be tempted in proportion to the vision, revelation, or manifestation you have received. Hence thousands, when they are off their guard, give way to the severe temptations which come upon them, and behold they are gone.

You will recollect that I have often told you that miracles would not save a person, and I say that they never should. If I were to see a man come in here this day, and say, "I am the great one whom the Lord has sent," and cause fire to come down in our sight, through the ceiling that is over our heads, I would not believe any more for that. It is no matter what he does, I cannot believe any more on that account. What will make me believe? What made the Twelve Apostles of Jesus Christ witnesses? What constituted them Apostles -- special witnesses to the world? Was it seeing miracles? No. What was it? The visions of their minds were opened, and it was necessary that a few should receive light, knowledge, and intelligence, that all the powers of earth and hell could not gainsay or compete with. That witness was within them,

The witness of the Holy Ghost, if you please.

...and yet, after all that was done for them, after all that Jesus showed them, and after all the power of the spirit of revelation which they possessed, you find that one of them apostatized, turned away and sold his Lord and master for thirty pieces of silver, in consequence of his not being firm to his covenant in the hour of darkness and temptation. Another of them was ready to say, "I do not know anything about the Lord Jesus Christ," and denied him with cursing and swearing.

But not after he got the witness of the Holy Ghost, after Christ was taken. Peter, yes, denied that he knew Jesus Christ, but he did not deny Him as such. But after he got the witness and power of the Holy Ghost, which came upon him and the Twelve, as they tarried in Jerusalem, they all were true witnesses for Jesus Christ. No man can say that Jesus is the Christ but by the Holy Ghost, and this is our sure rock of salvation and exaltation -- the gift and power of the Holy Ghost within us, remaining true to our covenants, learning the commandments, learning the gift of revelation, and then abiding by it, by them, and serving God, and keeping His commandments with all their might, mind, and strength. This is the only way unto life and salvation, and God has sent forth His servants to teach and help us, and to administer to us. Stand by them, dear brothers and sisters. Stand by our Prophet, Leroy S. Johnson, for from thence comes the blessings, the gifts and powers of the holy Priesthood, the gifts of the Spirit, by keeping the channel open, through them, through him; which I pray we may do in the name of Jesus Christ, amen.

RTJ 2:504  February 6, 1972  CCA

Colorado City, Arizona
February 6, 1972
How to Work by Faith; Faith in Your Prayers

It is good to meet with you again in association with my brethren here, and we should be mindful of our congregation of saints here, and Canada, and Salt Lake as we meet today, where our other brethren are laboring. When I got up this morning, I opened up my mouth to speak and nothing came out. I got a little improvement now. With the Lord's blessings we will be able to carry on. We will open our meeting today, brothers and sisters, by the choir and congregation singing, "Lord, Accept Our True Devotion".

The Lord blessing me, I would like to consider the subject of faith again for our good and advancement, and turn again to Joseph Smith's Lecture on Faith. Our faith in God -- who He is and what He is, especially what He is, His attributes and character in perfection, our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, who is one with Him -- is not sufficient for us to lay hold upon the things that God has promised us, or promised the faithful, or we would be further along than we are.

We are trying to live the Celestial Law. That is the earmark of this people. The real earmark of this people is the Priesthood, without which that law cannot be lived or entered into. One of the requirements of the Lord is that we have faith in a living Priesthood. Are we following that Priesthood in faith, dear brothers and sisters? But I would like to get right down to basics, if I can for a few minutes, and find out what is true faith; how do we operate by it?

Having come to a knowledge and understanding of the character, the attributes of God, the necessity for sacrifice of all things earthly, and of our feelings, making a true sacrifice daily for the excellency of the knowledge of Jesus Christ, what are the effects of faith, and how does it work?

Lecture Seven

3. Let us here offer some explanation in relation to faith, that our meaning may be clearly comprehended. We ask, then, what are we to understand by a man's working by faith? We answer -- we understand that when a man works by faith he works by mental exertion

That is where it begins, brothers and sisters, by mental exertion and not physical force. If our faith is insufficient to lay hold upon the things that God has promised us, then we must be very lazy in our mental exertions. And then he goes on to say, and we get to the very basics of our exercising of faith:
3. ...It is by words, instead of exerting his physical powers, with which every being works when he works by faith. God said, "Let there be light, and there was light." Joshua spake, and the great lights which God had created stood still. Elijah commanded, and the heavens were stayed for the space of three years and six months, so that it did not rain: he again commanded and the heavens gave forth rain. All this was done by faith. And the Saviour says: "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, say to this mountain, 'Remove,' and it will remove; or say to that sycamine tree, 'Be ye plucked up, and planted in the midst of the sea,' and it shall obey you." Faith, then, works by words; and with these its mightiest works have been, and will be, performed.

Now if we are to become truly a faithful people, full of faith, we have got to begin with our prayers, with words and mental exertion, with a firm determination, and asking God for blessings, that we will pay the price for them, through obedience to that which He commands. Therefore, I submit to you, dear brothers and sisters, are you attending to your prayers? Are you operating by faith in your prayers? For it is by faith in our prayers, we are told that the greatest works have been performed by the ancient as well as by modern saints.

7. ..."Without faith it is impossible to please God."  Why? The answer would be -- Because without faith it is impossible for men to be saved; and as God desires the salvation of men, he must, of course, desire that they should have faith; and he could not be pleased unless they had, or else he could be pleased with their destruction.

It is the work and glory of God to bring to pass the immortality and eternal life of His children, and so it is not pleasing to God when we lack faith. By faith the mightiest works have been performed, and the most important work that we are concerned with is our eternal salvation and exaltation. Are we asking God in faith daily, morning and night? And then are we, like Heber C. Kimball used to say, getting up from our knees and going about to bring those prayers to fruition, to a realization in our lives, by our works, by obedience, by abiding in a perfect course of life, so that our course shall be pleasing to God through offering everything in sacrifice to Him? Then we can have firm confidence that what we ask for will be granted. "Ask and ye shall receive; knock, and it shall be opened to you." Are we asking? Are we knocking, dear brothers and sisters? And are we walking in perfect obeidience so that our course may be pleasing to God? Why aren't we any further along than we were thirty years ago? Because we lack faith. Because we are not obedient, and our course is not pleasing to God, speaking of us as a whole; and Brother Johnson was speaking to us as a whole.

16. These teachings of the Saviour most clearly show unto us the nature of salvation, and what he proposed unto the human family when he proposed to save them -- that he proposed to make them like unto himself, and he was like the Father, the great prototype of all saved beings; and for any portion of the human family to be assimilated into their likeness is to be saved; and to be unlike them is to be destroyed; Which is ultimate dissolution.

16. ...and on this hinge turns the door of salvation.

17. ...And through the whole history of the scheme of life and salvation, it is a matter of faith: every man received according to his faith -- according as his faith was, so were his blessings and privileges; and nothing was withheld from him when his faith was sufficient to receive it.

There is the grand promise, dear brothers and sisters. If we are not receiving those blessings, then our faith must be weak and insufficient. Now, what did these Former-day Saints do? I am not recommending that we go out and try to do these things, because these things are done agreeable to the will of God, and according to the need of the time as it relates to salvation.

17. ...he could stop the mouths of lions, quench the violence of fire, escape the edge of the sword, wax valiant in fight, and put to flight the armies of the aliens; women could, by their faith, receive their dead children to life again; in a word, there was nothing impossible with them who had faith. All things were in subjection to the Former-day Saints, according as their faith was. By their faith they could obtain heavenly visions, the ministering of angels, have knowledge of the spirits of just men made perfect, of the general assembly and church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, of God the judge of all, of Jesus the Mediator of the new covenant, and become familiar with the third heavens, see and hear things which were not only unutterable, but were unlawful to utter.

Now, we live here in this community and in other communities under the most blessed conditions. We have offered to us, from time to time from the President of Priesthood, light and knowledge and understanding; and calls to repentance, and still, not much is being done -- some individuals, yes, great progress -- but as a people. I know these things weigh heavily on President Johnson's mind -- the preparation of a people. Why don't we get with it? And I call upon you now, in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, to attend to your prayers, and with faith in your prayers, that your life may be pleasing to Him, that you may have full confidence of Him, and Him in you, unto your eternal life and salvation, which I pray may be our lot, in Jesus' name, amen.

RTJ 2:508  February 20, 1972  Sandy

Sandy, Utah
February 20, 1972
Why the Saints Were Driven; Why Zion's Camp Failed; We Must Become One

That remnant thing, I have heard that it takes a Jew to beat a gentile, and it takes a Mormon to beat a Jew. [Laughter] Well, we have seen it work.

Without the help of the Lord I do not feel adequate to this position, dear brothers and sisters. I have been stirred in my feelings as I have listened to things we have heard, and I do not know what I can add unless the Lord helps me do so. These things that Brother Guy has spoken to us about here today are very close to my heart, because I have a family; and believe me, I listen to these things and ask myself how they apply to me; and I hope you are doing the same thing.

I am reminded, brothers and sisters, of the way that the Lord works in accomplishing a great spiritual objective in His work and Kingdom. I find that there is no way under heaven that His purposes can be accomplished with His people except they be one. I would to God that we could all understand the true meaning, the great import of those few words that God has given to His children, generation after generation, dispensation after dispensation: "Unless you are one, ye are not Mine." And we, I am sure, want to be the people owned by God, blessed and owned by Him. It seems that the only way the Lord can bring a people to be one is to bring about dire judgments, suffering, and terrible experiences, as He had to do with the Nephites in destroying the wicked, so that the people then were ready to receive their Savior, and learn to be one, as they did for one hundred sixty-
